TU Laboratory Tests Show Pumicite Is Abundant Here; Commercial Tests Cited

The opinion of Earl Ferris that deposits he has found in Hall and adjoining counties were volcanic ash which has a high commercial value, have been proven by tests made by the geological department of the University of Texas.

Samples of the deposit, discovered on the D. L. Harris farm on Buck Creek, eight miles northeast of Memphis in Collingsworth County, were sent to the University for laboratory analysis.

A report has been received by Mr. Ferris from E. H. Sellards, director of the bureau of geology, stating that the samples are a pure form of pumicite, or volcanic glass.

It is a product which forms the base of scouring powders and abrasive soaps, among many commercial products, and is mined principally only in the states of Kansas and Nebraska.

A report from Dr. Sellards states that it is also used in the manufacture of insulating materials and probably most important of all, that when mixed with slake lime it produces what is known as Roman hydraulic cement. This type of cement, the report stated, was used in the construction of the great Roman buildings, such as the Pantheon, and the famous Roman aqueducts, which have stood for 1,500 years.

Mr. Ferris, who is chairman of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, believes that the deposits could result in far-reaching industrial expansion for Memphis and this area.

The outcroppings of the volcanic ash are extensive, he reports. On the Harris farm he says the outcroppings are visible for a quarter of a mile, and probably are that wide. The extent of the deposits could only be determined by test borings, however, he is positive there are thousands if not millions of tons available in this area.

"It is all over this county, and this whole section of the country," said Mr. Ferris. He has gathered many samples from various parts of this area.

It is a highly commercial product and one which he believes the chamber of commerce should exploit to the industrial world.

From the University's report on its possibilities as a quick and a cheaply-mixed type of cement, Mr. Ferris visions a new building material in this section which would revolutionize the construction of farm homes and other improvements. He will make a full report to the chamber of commerce directors at their next meeting.

Band, War Veterans From Childress, Cal Farley Auctioneer

With one-half of the Memphis quota of $215,000 set as the goal of Chairman O. V. Alexander for the Thursday night bond rally and auction, everything was in readiness Wednesday night for the big public program which will give the Sixth War Loan drive its official opening in Hall County.

All bond purchases will be credited to the community quota where the purchaser resides. Prizes galore, ranging from cigarettes to a saddle horse, have been tendered the committee to be used in stimulating the sale of bonds at the rally. Cal Farley of Amarillo, who was auctioneer at the big rally held here in July, again will be on the platform Thursday night.

A band from the Childress Army Air field will be on hand, two overseas heroes who are now at Childress field will appear on the program and relate their experiences at the front and the Pantex sound truck and exhibit of ammunition manufactured there will be stationed in front of the building where the rally is to be held.

All towns and communities in the county have been invited to participate in the rally, Chairman Alexander announced.

"We expect a lot of buyers from the other points in the county", he said. "They have the same right to compete for the valuable prizes being offered as do the Memphis people and I hope they will take a big part in the program. Their purchases will be credited to their own quotas."

The county's quota is $425,000 and the people of Memphis have been assigned $215,000 of that amount. Serving on Mr. Alexander's local committee are Hollis Boren, M. C. Allen and Tommie Potts and they are determined that one half of the local quota will be subscribed at the rally.

The rally will be held in the Hollis Boren building next door to the J. C. Penney store and is scheduled to get under way at 7:30. The band from Childress will entertain for 30 minutes before the speaking program and the bond auction start.

The Pantex sound truck and exhibit will be on display on the court house square Thursday afternoon and will be moved to Noel street in front of the site of the rally an hour before the program starts.

The local committee is enthusiastic over the list of valuable prizes which has been donated by merchants and business men. Two of the unique prizes will be a "good looking" horse and a fat pig.

There'll be no automobile tires this time, but many other valuable and scarce items have been offered. Gasoline, motor oil, rugs, rocking chairs, groceries, and items of clothing are on the list of 75 different prizes to be awarded bond buyers.

25 German War Prisoners Are to Work at Compress

Arrangements have been made by the Memphis Compress company for the use of 25 German prisoners of war at the local plant. The men are from the McLean camp.

The acute labor shortage at the compress, which has seriously hampered operations, caused M. C. Allyn, manager, to make arrangements with the Army for the employment of the war prisoners.

They will be transported to and from the camp daily and will be paid prevailing wages and for two hours travel time.

The compress is short at least 50 men for normal operations, Mr. Allyn said. Use of the war prisoners will cost more than the employment of local labor "but we are forced to give it a trial", he said.

Armed guards will accompany the men here and remain with them while they are on the job.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

So far this has been an ideal fall. The weather has been just right and the conditions such as to produce greater yields of cotton and feed and to make gathering of crops easier. While the cool and damp weather of the past week has delayed crop harvesting, it was not harmful to crops and grades. Frost of the past two or three mornings will hasten the maturing of both cotton and feed, as well as make boll pulling much easier and faster.

Not only has it been a fine season for crops, but gardens have been producing more vegetables than this country has grown in years. If turnip and mustard (Continued on Page 12)

Lakeview Lions Club Is One of Biggest in Area

The Lakeview Lions club, which received its charter last Thursday night from District Governor Lee Johnson, already is one of the biggest clubs in this area. It was organized in August, and President E. E. Davenport announced at the charter meeting that it has 45 members.

Delegations attended the banquet from Clarendon, Redley, Memphis and Childress. State Secretary Roy Koston of Austin, deputy district governor Joe Gibson of Childress and Zone Chairman Ralph Howe of Memphis, all so appeared on the program. Ladies of the Lakeview members prepared the dinner which was served in the High School gym.

"WILL I COME MARCHING HOME TO A WORTH WHILE JOB?"

"I'm just a G.I.—fighting for you... for a decent world... for a sound America.
Some day, I hope, I will come marching home.
What will I find?"

Will he find a strong America where he will have a chance to go to work and earn dollars which are worth while? Or will he just march from wartime hell to peacetime hell?

That depends, to a large extent, on YOU... on how you spend the money and save the money you are now earning.

If we on the Home Front plan our spending and our saving... if we spend less, save more... then we may reasonably expect post-war America to be O.K. But if we blow in our money... if we try to spend it as fast as we make it... then we're bidding up prices, pulling down the buying power of the dollar, crippling business, heading toward trouble.

Planning is the answer. Take a pencil and work out your own plan for spending and saving. Out of your figures will come a sensible method for spending. Then, too, you can determine how much to save. Put your surplus dollars into War Bonds and into your bank account. Then we'll head toward victory on the Home Front, too!

As a matter of loyalty, it is up to each and every one of us to have a sound, worth while American dollar when our fighting men return.

Beat with spoon until smooth and elastic (batter will fall from spoon in "sheets").

Beat it . . . . . 6 tsp. shortening (melted and cooled)

Work in with like hands . . . . . 2 to 3 more cups (2 1/4 to 2 1/2 qts.) sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour (enough to make a dough that no longer sticks to mixing bowl and is possible to handle)

Turn dough onto lightly-floured board, cover, let stand 10 minutes to tighten up. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Cover with damp cloth. Keep dough at 80° to 85° until double (about 2 hours). Punch down dough. Round up and set to rise again until not quite double (about 45 minutes). Punch down dough. Divide into 6 equal parts. Round up each part on board, cover, let rest 15 minutes (to make it easy to handle). Mold each part into a loaf, and place in greased bread loaf pan (8" x 4"). Cover with damp cloth. Let rise 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until dough has reached top of pan and center is well rounded above. Bake 15 minutes in a hot oven (450°); then 20 to 30 minutes in a quick moderate oven (375°). When baked, bread has hollow sound when tapped and comes away from sides of pan. Makes six 1-lb. loaves.

Your baker sells delicious yeast bread . . . but if you want . . . try this superb Betty Crocker recipe for better results.

ON TO TOKYO!

Let's all get behind the greatest march in history—the march to Tokyo—and victory!

On countless invasion fronts, thousands of your fighting men are taking up the battle cry: "On to Tokyo!" We've got to back them up with what it takes for complete victory. Remember, the supply lines in the Pacific are long and your fighting men will need more materiel than was required for the entire European invasion to crush the Jap foe.

Let's Echo that cry with BONDS!

Our boys won't quit until they've reached their goal. Let's not stop buying Bonds until we've reached ours! In this 6th War Loan Drive, the Nation's goal is $14 billions... our individual job is to buy at least an extra $100 Bond... another and then another... let's keep on going... let's keep on buying... let's keep on saying it with Bonds... "On to Tokyo!"

Cable Forms for Philippines Are Received Here

Communications with American forces in the Philippines have been established from America it was announced last week and early this week cable forms for sending messages there were received by M. J. Draper of the local Red Cross office.

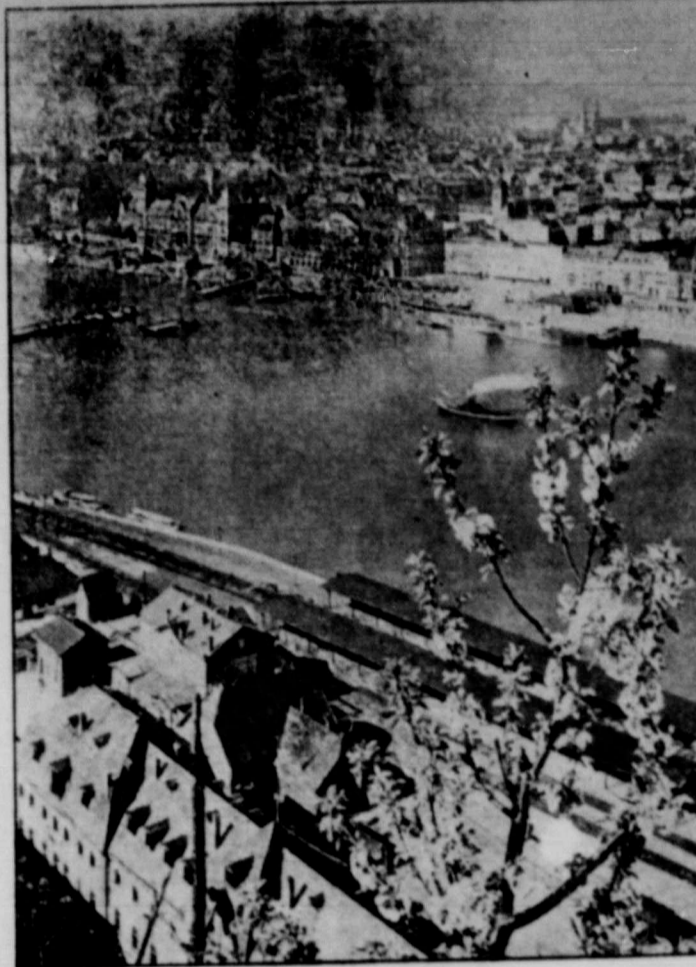

The cablegrams may be sent through the local Western Union office. Mr. Draper also advised that messages to American troops in German prison camps now are being accepted by the International Red Cross. Previously no messages could be accepted unless the sender knew the name of the prison camp where the service man was interned. This, however, is not required now.

Ivan Graham of Amarillo visited here last week-end with his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moreman.

Billy Thompson went to Dallas Monday on business.

Memphis Man Builds Ice Box In Marianas

Be it the icy blasts of Attu or the sweltering heat of the Marianas, leave it to the aviation engineers to adapt themselves to any particular environment.

A 7th AAF Engineer Battalion in the tropical Marianas recently acquired an ice machine capable of producing 1,000 pounds daily. That's not much ice in this climate and so, to Technician Fourth Grade Eugene Johnsey, 32, of Memphis, a battalion carpenter and two assistants, fell the job of making a little go far.

Using salvaged materials the men, within a few days, built a sturdy 27-cubic foot ice box. They used sawdust for insulation and constructed the refrigerator so that ice could be placed at either end and foodstuffs in the center, thus giving it maximum protection.

Sgt. Johnsey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Johnsey. He attended Memphis high school and before induction into the service in April, 1943, was employed as a carpenter for the Municipal Engineering Department of the Panama Canal, Balboa, C. Z. He has been in the Pacific since last December.

Red Cross Is Given Big Boost by Hulver Man

The local chapter of the American Red Cross was the recipient of a surprise donation the other day when John Russell walked into a grocery store where M. J. Draper was and stuck a check in his pocket saying, "Here's a little help for the Red Cross fund." Draper glanced at the check and thanked Mr. Russell. The next day he took it to the bank for deposit, and was agreeably surprised to learn that it was for $100. He thought it was for $10.

Announcement

The Miller Mattress Factory recently moved across the street from the Postoffice to 709 West Main street.

We ask all who plan buying a new mattress to look over our stock before buying. Please notice carefully the tag on the end and see if you are buying what you think you are. All mattresses should have exactly what they are made of on the labels.

Beware of peddlers from other towns. If they could make mattresses they would get plenty of business in their home town. I want every one to compare my prices and workmanship with any factory in the west. I have visited several shops and they haven't got a thing on my building a mattress. I bar none. We have, or can make any size mattress you want.

That old mattress can be made new at half the cost of a new bed. We guarantee our renovating machine to take dirt and trash to a certain extent out of your mattress, and the cotton will be in your mattress without any knots in it. You don't have to leave Memphis to get the best renovating in the Panhandle.

County Men in the Armed Forces

from the place I left about 18 months ago to serve in the armed forces.

I can see no reason for such discrimination for men and women who wear the uniform of our country. Surely the fact they are serving our country doesn't make them outcasts of society. Of course, I am not sure that this isn't the rule, but the fact remains that there is ONE place that feels that way makes my blood boil.

I read almost every day in the newspaper of the attitude of people in the States toward the war and soldiers. People aren't interested in hearing of the so-called duller side of the war—of the sweat and work of transportation battalions, the engineers, quartermaster and all the "unromantic" corps who help the war effort. What they want to hear is Hollywood versions of how one man captured a whole division without even getting his hair mussed up. Those things happen only in the movies, and this war is sweat and death. Of long hours in a foxhole in a driving rain with agonizing inch by inch gains paid for by the lives of those same men in uniform that the cafe couldn't serve because there was "no room for military personnel".

I have an idea that the soldier on the front lines would gladly enlarge his foxhole to accommodate some of the folks who made that rule, and would share his K rations with them.

Let's give those soldiers a break, because when they are traveling like that it may be their preme price.

Well, I think that is sufficient on the subject. I'll not say anymore because there's very little that is printable that one can say about anyone that feels that way about service men and women.

How are things around Memphis? I get the paper every now and then and it seems you have about all you can take care of with the labor situation like it is.

I'm getting along okay and feel good. Don't care for all of the moisture over here. It rains almost every day.

Tell Mrs. Wells to keep out of your workshop. Fingers don't grow back. Give all the force my best regards and tell them to keep up the good work. Best of Luck.

TOMMY
Dear Tom:
I read the article in Liberty at the time it came out, and felt as you did about it. However, don't lay that or any lack of appreciation of servicemen to a native Texan. I'll wager the cafe owner was from some far eastern state—not Texas. I'll wager, also, that the people of Temple have changed things up since the article was published. I believe you can still be proud of Texans. Thanks for the letter, and would like to have more from you. People at home are hungry for news from the boys on the fighting fronts, what they are doing and what they are thinking.

WELLS.
LOCAL PARENTS ARE GREETED BY OFFICER

Cpl. Paul Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Wells of this city, received recently greetings from the commanding officer of the Fifth Army Ordnance, of which Corporal Wells is a member. The greetings follow:
A year ago today the Fifth United States Army landed on the Salerno beaches. To us fell the honor of being the first Americans to strike a blow for the freedom of the world on the mainland of Hitler-dominated Europe. We met there a strong and confident foe and for twelve months we have engaged him in the bitterest kind of fighting under vigorous climatic conditions and over arduous terrain. Much depended on those landings. A large number of Nazi divisions were engaged of which almost one half have been destroyed. Enemy casualties and prisoners are numbered in the hundreds of thousands. German soldiers and critically needed supplies have been diverted from other fronts—the present successes of our armies in France were born on the beaches of Salerno.
As Fifth Army Ordnance Commander I chose this first anniversary of Salerno to tell you whose sons, husbands, fathers, brothers, and sweethearts make up Fifth Army Ordnance Service how much pride you may feel in the job they are doing. I have seen them in sleet and mud performing miracles of mechanical skill, miracles which have enabled our Army to keep fighting. I have seen them calmly carrying on work in the supply depots and ammunition dumps during the dark days when enemy shelling and bombing was at its height work which was indispensable in preventing the enemy from driving us off the beach into the sea. I admire their skill and efficiency but above all I admire their spirit—the spirit which keeps them working in the face of continual and seemingly insurmountable difficulties and which never allows them to admit defeat. I congratulate you for imbuing your men with this spirit.

There are indications that your efforts on the home front and ours on the fighting front are no without results. The day of Victory is approaching and with it the day when your Fifth Army Ordnance men will return to you to enjoy the peace which they have worked so well to win.

Sincerely,

Deep in the Heart of Taxes

heard the song "Deep in the Heart of Texas." Today are deep in the heart of taxes. A bad pun good point. Last year America's tax-paying electric and power companies footed a tax bill of more than a hundred million dollars. One-fourth of the electric goes for taxes of one kind or another.
Taxes are necessary in modern war, and seven hundred million dollars or any fraction thereof will buy a lot of guns, medical supplies, tanks and ammunition. Business-managed companies which pay the taxes are contributing to this fight for freedom. But a lot of people wonder how can the electric companies pay these increased wartime costs and still keep the price of our electricity so low? For the truth is, if you're getting home electricity, you're getting about twice as much for your money as you were getting, say, a year ago. To do this takes the utmost operating economy, and constant engineering research and business-management. You can be sure that business management will keep your electric service dependable and low-priced.

War forced closest attention to every motoring detail. And this fine habit of thoughtfulness has grown on car owners.

You'd only be testing human kindness by changing to a half-flat spare and setting out for the next air hose. Where a forgetful man actually tries it, a good Samaritan generally drives up alongside, pointing a helpful warning. America has become as thoughtful as all that toward her indispensable cars. And of all the examples of car-care the greatest single one you can follow is to have your engine OIL-PLATED. In that way—by changing to Conoco Nth motor oil for Winter—by changing to this patented oil that OIL-PLATES—you'll give your engine's insides the nth degree of protection from acid corrosion.
All engine combustion creates corrosive acids. They're bad enough even when "exhaled" fairly well, but from now on they won't be! Winter's extra-low mileage and cool operation mean acids at their worst. Patented Conoco Nth oil, however... thanks to costly pioneer research... brings the special ingredient whose magnet-like action OIL-PLATES the fine inner engine finish, to cope with corrosion. Attached as closely as protective chrome plating could be, the internal OIL-PLATING keeps up its steadiest possible hindrance to direct contact between acids and engine parts... Then down go the chances of corrosion, just as soon as you change to popular-priced Nth oil for Winter, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

MAGIC IN OIL

Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies reveals that the United States petroleum industry plans to spend more than $352,000,000 on domestic and foreign refining facilities as soon as materials become available. It was announced further that the figure does not include rebuilding or rehabilitation of facilities in areas now occupied by the enemy.

No country in the world has even remotely approached the performance of the United States in oil production. Both world wars have been fueled by the American oil industry. American oil men have been called upon to help other nations in the development of their oil resources. American oil companies and American oil holdings are scattered throughout the world. During World War II our oil companies have done more than get out oil. They have turned it into fuel for planes so powerful as to smack of sheer magic.

After the war they will continue to do far more than merely get oil out of the ground. Some inkling of what they expect to do can be gained from their expressed intention to spend over $300,000,000. That money is to go into facilities to create more magic from oil. It will help to make possible smoother running, more economical cars. It will help to make productive jobs for men who will be conscious of real accomplishment in their work.

The plan of the oil industry to enlarge its activities as soon as possible is true to a greater or lesser degree of every basic industry in the land—mining, transportation and power. After all is said and done, the future of the country rests to a large extent upon the progressiveness of these industries. And one thing is certain, as long as they remain as competitive private enterprises, they will be progressive.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF MEDICINE

The illogical charge is occasionally made that physicians have a "vested" interest in maintaining the medical system as is. Dr. John H. Fitzgibbon recently had a word to say about the guiding philosophy of medical men: "Those who begin the study of medicine," he said, "with the profit motive, are rare exceptions and usually they do not complete the course. It should be apparent to all that equal time and effort devoted to almost any other occupation would be more profitable. The qualities that make a good physician are only partly acquired by training. No amount of training will compensate for lack of native ability and love of the science and art of medicine. Very few physicians retire except on account of disability, and nearly all die 'on the job' because of interest in their work. Many older physicians who should have retired because of disabilities are carrying on during the war emergency and many have died prematurely because of the excessive load of work. Does this sound like protecting a vested interest?"

"If we have any interest to protect other than that of our patients, it is our heritage of American medicine, which is the best in the world today, and which we take pride in maintaining. . . . Our responsibility as physicians is to wholeheartedly participate in the solutions of the various problems of medical care. We can escape neither the responsibility of ordinary citizenship nor those of medical citizenship which are far greater."

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGE

The theory that the re-election of President Roosevelt ends all difference on national matters and welds all Americans into one purposeful unit, extends only so far as prosecution of the war and direction of the peace effort is concerned.

In fairness, the President has won a terrific mandate of approval on these two grave and vital forms of national endeavor. The President's war record and his determination to use all of the force of America, in process of formulating a permanent peace were great binding ties that held his administration in favor with American people.

Never his isolationism received a more deserved and thorough beating than in the November 7 election. It was great, not only because of the final outcome but because hundreds of Republicans inwardly protested isolationism, even as they voted for Dewey. The isolationist element of the Republican party, who managed to strangle Wilkie in the early part of the campaign, had to be relegated as far backwards as possible, by Dewey, before the campaign ended.

On domestic issues however, an analysis of the Roosevelt vote indicates only what was known before the campaign, viz. that the President was tops, with union labor but that he had slipped with white collar workers, independent business men and farmers. — Moore County News.

Do you know that the Floydada boys who have been a way from home a year or two have some question marks in their minds about us? They are wondering just what is the matter that we let the town that they call home look ragged and run down at the heel. We hate to say this but we know it is true. And if you don't know it you had just as well.

We are their pas and mas and their big brothers and sisters. They don't want to hurt anybody's feelings and so they don't talk much. But you get down to the heart to heart basis with them and you'll find out. They know we are short-handed and have this and that handicap, that we can't do first and last all the things we'd like to do. Fact is, are we not careful to give them that picture somewhat eagerly and before they ask? Even in a bragging manner to an extent to give them proof that we are in the war, too.

They know you're the facts but they would be harder on other communities to the west coast. Floydada, of all towns that looks ragged at the heels?

We don't offer a cent. If you want them might give it to us. I don't understand and that will be hurt.—Floydada perian.

100 OCTANE GASOLINE

won't grow wings on a car

EXPECT NO MIRACLES from your present car if the tank were filled with 100-octane gasoline.

Its motor was engineered specifically for the gasolines which were available at the time you bought your car. To secure the benefits of very high octane fuels, post-war motors will have much higher compression ratios, will be smaller and lighter, and will deliver greatly increased power and extraordinary mileage.

All this will be possible because of the super gasolines to be made available for motorists in the post-war period. And you have every reason to expect that Phillips will be among the first to offer these vastly improved motor fuels soon after victory.

Why? Because Phillips is today one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline. Phillips is also one of the leaders in the war production of butadiene for synthetic rubber.

These achievements are a direct result of Phillips long years of peacetime research to extend the frontiers of knowledge concerning hydrocarbon chemistry. Other accomplishments, which cannot now be told for security reasons, flow from Phillips wartime exploration of the limitless possibilities of chemical production of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum.

This is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils . . . are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

There are no shortages of men and transportation growing out of the war early mailing. The Postal has given 50,000 experienced employees to the armed forces and 300,000 railroad workers to war. ### Col. Van Meter, New Childress CO Is Veteran Flyer Command of The Childress Central Flying Training command bombardier-navigator school has been taken over by Colonel W. Van Meter, veteran command pilot of the Eastern Defense Command, former member of the staff of the Commanding General of the CFTC, and ex-Cavalry man with fifteen years of flying behind him. Col. Van Meter succeeds Colonel John W. White, one of the AAF's pioneers in the development of the science of modern aerial bombardment, who left Sunday two years after his arrival here to become commanding officer of Midland Army Air Field, Central Instructors School. Under Col. White's leadership, CAAF attained a record that has made it known as the best school of its kind in the CFTC.

Originally commissioned in the Cavalry following his graduation from West Point in June, 1926, Col. Van Meter was transferred to the Air Corps in 1929. After winning his wings, he served 2 years with the 16th Observatiop Squadron at Fort Riley, Kansas. He spent the next six years at Brooks Field and Randolph Field as primary pilot instructor. In 1936 he was assigned to the Philippines, where he served as adjutant and Commanding Officer of the Third Pursuit Squadron at Clark Field.

Returning to the United States in 1938, Col. Van Meter was stationed at Maxwell Field, Ala., graduating from the Air Corps Tactical School there in 1940. That same year he served with medium bombardment units at Mitchell and Langley Fields, taking command in January, 1941, of the Third Reconnaissance Squadron, activated at Langley.

A month after Pearl Harbor his unit moved to Mitchell for anti-submarine patrol operations. He continued as co of the squadron until July, 1942, when he was assigned to an Eastern Defense Command unit in Bermuda, Kindley Field, of which he was Co.

Col. Van Meter came back to America only last May, returning to the Training Command as a staff officer in charge of personnel inspection of the processing system of the CFTC.

CAAF's new CO, rated a command pilot and aerial observer, is a polo player of note, a sports accomplishment begun in his Cavalry days. Born in Beaver Dam, Kentucky, 42 years ago, he is married and has two children.

Comments—

greens and other vegetables contain vitamins, then the entire population should not have to take vitamin pills for many months to come.

Matilda Upstart of West Noel street says "If accidents continue to increase, the postwar car is going to have to have its speedometer marked off in kilometers."

Today is Thanksgiving Day in America. In thinking about what we have to be thankful for in this year of war and sacrifice, it comes to me that we have cause to be thankful for our cities, towns and homes remaining unharmed, that we are on the road to Victory, that through it all we have upheld the ideals we have been fighting for and have kept the heritage of freedom—the freedom to print and read what we choose, to voice our opinions and listen to those of others, to worship and pray and go to the church of our faith, to vote for those we wish to have represent us in our government, the freedom to work and play in the way that will make us happy and most successful. And God grant that we will never have to fight again to maintain the heritage of freedom.

When you sit down to dinner this Thanksgiving Day, give thanks from the depths of your heart, even though the dinner may not come up to those you had before the world became involved in the greatest war of all times. It is far better than millions of servicemen are eating. While eating yours, you are not being shot at, and while they are eating theirs (if they are not too busy fighting to eat) they are under fire and in fox holes. True they may have a turkey dinner today but under entirely different conditions. They would gladly trade the dinner they have for a glass of milk and piece of cornbread if they could eat at home.

Be sure to attend the War Bond Rally and Auction Sale in Memphis this Thursday night. Not only should every one attend, but they should buy War Bonds to the limit of their pocket books.

Let's complete the big job of winning the war, and at the same time let's keep America the kind of country it was when the boys left it to fight on foreign soil—Free and Democratic.

Bill Prieuger of West Main

To the People of this Community

Five billion dollars of the 14 billion dollars our country needs to press the war against our enemies must come from individual investors. That sounds like, and is, a lot of money. Actually success or failure of the Sixth War Loan is up to each individual American.

Every war loan has been oversubscribed because Americans have shared its responsibility. Americans such as you have recognized the need of extra War Bond purchases over and above their normal payroll savings.

There is no such thing as a little fellow in a War Bond drive. Your War Bond purchases, multiplied by the War Bond purchases of your friends and neighbors, become fighting power which saves lives of Americans on the battlefronts and brings us nearer our common objective.
