How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, and digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

January 3
Dearest Vonda:
Sitting here next to the radio writing. It's cold outside, but nice and cozy in here. Received quite a few packages yesterday from your mother, my sister, my uncle and Marian, also received the beautiful card you sent. Sure is nice honey. I ate so much candy and cookies I can't look at anymore. Have been getting a lot of mail of late, but it is quite old most of it six weeks to two months old. But regardless of age, I am glad to get it. Sure gives me an uplift in morale especially when I receive one from you.

How is everything on the home front?? And most important of all, how are you? I have had a fairly bad cold but am almost over it now. I guess I got it from sleeping on the ground. Ground was frozen and it snowed quite a bit at that time. I would wake up mornings with snow covering my bed. Am inside now with steam heat, if you can imagine such a thing. Have a hospital bed with a thing to raise the head. I am not a patient, it's just that the building is so equipped. Also radio, seems like home once again to hear a radio.

Holland seems a nice place, although I have not as yet seen much of it. I am fully content to remain just where I am for the present. Many changes have taken place since our arrival overseas. But can not tell you of them for security reasons. Some day perhaps, I shall have a few stories to tell you of my experiences and roamings. Some funny, some tragic.

Wish you could see this place darling. It is truly beautiful. I am here with my platoon. Alone and lonely. Well, darling, I can not think of any more news.

Glad you received and liked the bracelet. Will try and pick up something from Belgium and Holland and send to you. Must close for now. All my love, Your husb and,

Walt Jan. 1

Dearest Vonda:
Second letter to you today don't ask me where I got all the vitality. I don't know myself. The other was a V-Mail I wrote this morning. Just got back from lunch, delicious roast beef, potatoes, asparagus tips, gravy and pie. Sort of resting now.

I took a bath, last night, was really swell. One of these Dutch bathtubs. Sort of combination affair half swimming pool and bath tub. I had water clear up to my chin, laying back sort of soaking it in, when one of my sergeants came in and said someone wanted me on the phone. I figured Gen Eisenhower was calling to ask some advice so I went flitting down stairs, shirt tails flapping in the breeze, but it was just Lt. Mandhenk with a poor connection. After I puzzled out what he wanted, I dashed back up to finish the swim. But all the enjoyment was gone from the occasion and I didn't have heart enough to get back in the tub. Besides, the water was cold. It will be next spring before I get up enough nerve to get that near water again. How about that? I told you I was all alone up here, with my platoon didn't I?? Anyway, I am. Along with a couple of million other G. I's.

Still a lot of snow and ice. I get a big kick out of thresing through the snow each day for a walk. I stay out till my nose and ears look like a New York stop light then proceed in a wild rush back inside. I am a great outdoorsman, inside. I do a lot of hunting and fishing, in Field and Stream magazine.

I get a kick out of these Dutchmen. You can tell them anything and they just grin at you. That is most of them do, some of them speak English. I found out much to my embarrassment. I was standing by the Gate yesterday afternoon, when one approached me. I got a big smile on my face and stuck out my hand and greeted him with a little of my best English. He didn't get mad, but spike in perfect English and I'm afraid he understood what I said. Live and learn. On the whole though these people are O. K. I believe to Belgians are a little friendlier and just a little cleaner.

France was the country though. Reminded me of the deep south. South Carolina and what not. Paris was fairly clean, especially the parks and buildings. I have not gotten around too much either in Belgium or Holland, all that I am basing my opinions on are hearsay evidence and from what I can see as we roll by in the Dubios.

I did stay with a nice family in Belgium. Elderly couple, about forty. Swell home, clean, nice furniture. Lots of our products here. Cars and machinery. As I visit these foreign countries, I study their furniture and get some ideas for when I get back home, O. K.?

I got another letter from dad. He seems to be holding down the old home stead for us. If things don't start shaping up soon, I'll be drawing old age pension when I get home. Be a thirty year old man with only a few months to go. I don't think I can stand it all. My love, your husband,

Medals Presented 4-H Club Boys at Rotary Meeting

Twenty one medals out of a possible 23 were presented to 17 4-H club boy winners of Hall County at the Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon.

The medals were awarded the Hall County club boys by the state extension service for outstanding work last year in competition with club members of the state.

Medals were won in the safety rural electrification, garden, livestock and general achievement fields, and the record made by the club boys resulted in Hall County being declared the outstanding 4-H club county in the state. The state plaque on rural electrification has been awarded County Agent W. B. Hooser in behalf of the work in this field by the 4-H clubs.

Top winner among the 17 county club boys was Laddie Sloan of Estelline, who was state winner in the safety contest and won a trip to the Chicago 4-H National congress, in addition to a $25 award and a medal.

SUPPOSE THAT YOU COULD FLICK A SWITCH AND GET A SIZZLING STEAK!

Be wonderful, wouldn't it? Sizzle... sizzle... m-m-m... a-a-a-h!
"But," you say, "steaks are scarce and expensive. Steaks are rationed. Steaks have gone to war."
That's right—and there are good reasons why.
But it is any less wonderful that you CAN still get electric service at the flick of a switch—without shortage or rationing—at low pre-war prices—when vast amounts of electricity have gone to war plants?
Our folks have done their war job so quietly and well it's easy to take 'em for granted. We hope you won't—that you'll remember their hard work as you use radio, range refrigerator, washer, cleaner and other electric servants that make wartime living so much easier.
What you can take for granted is the fact that your friends in this company will provide plenty of low priced electricity to run the mechanical marvels in your post-war home.

David Frisbie and members of the Scout council committee. He believes the Scouts could gather a car load of waste paper monthly here, and that such a collection would net the organization in excess of $200 for its operations fund. Scrap paper has a market value of $10 to $11 per ton and it can be sold readily to any of a number of paper mills he declared.

The government does not expect that the paper be gathered and donated. It wants the scrap material sold to the paper mill which need it to turn out cartons and other products needed for the shipment of foods and supplies to the men in the service.

Boy Scouts in San Angelo last month collected 130,000 pounds or 65 tons of salvage paper, thus netting almost $700 for the Scout treasury, Mr. Cavite reported.

Participating in a paper salvage drive is the most patriotic endeavor now open to the Scouts he declared, and it is the means for them to build up their local troop or council funds.

Mr. Cavite also was interested in getting merchants in Memphis to co-operate in the "paper hol-day," which has been inaugurated throughout the country. By a "paper holiday" is meant the practice of not wrapping any item for customers when paper is not necessary.

Grocery stores are adopting the plan of wrapping only items for their market, he said.

Some additional prisoners were assigned to the compress work this week and the number employed is 35. The men are hauled to and from the McLea camp daily but plans are being made to have them quartered at the Childress Army Air field to save the long haul.

given a five-year suspended sentence in Wellington in a similar case.

The men were taken to Childress Thursday and turned over to Army authorities at the Air Field after an FBI agent from the Amarrillo office came to Memphis Wednesday and checked the evidence. The FBI had sent out a notice on the pair since they escaped from Drew Field stockade on Feb. 6, but the men said that they had not been questioned by anyone until Sheriff Anderson "got inquisitive" in Memphis.

The men were wearing civilian clothes, which they said they had taken from suit cases stolen in railroad depots at Jackson Miss., and Fort Worth, and from the Childress bus depot.

Papers in the car indicated it belonged to a woman in Lakewood and she was notified that it was being held. A report also was sent to the railroad companies and the bus line as to the stolen suitcases.

Eldrew Childress And Collie Dog Go Round and Round

Eldrew Childress and a Collie dog belonging to Mrs. Webster "both are under observation," neighbors reported following an unheeded bout with no holds barred over at Mr. Childress' store and service station on East Noel street the other day.

Dr. O. R. Goodall is treating Eldrew and is hopeful there won't be any complications; the neighbors are watching the Collie.

With a bandaged thumb and finger, and lacerations on his arm from his wrist to his elbow Mr. Childress describes the encounter as one of the toughest he ever got into, and which didn't come off at all like he planned.

He tied a tin can to the tail of the Collie and poured a little high-life onto the animal. That would be sufficient to cause it to leave his place forth with, and thereafter stay at home—he thought.

The Collie had different ideas. It turned on Mr. Childress, snagging him in the hand and arm time after time, before Mr. Childress finally got the animal pinned down to the ground, by sitting astraddle of its body and holding its mouth closed with both hands.

Neighbors said it was a first rate contest.

Hall County Falling Down on Regular Monthly Bond Purchases; People Are Asked To Buy on Consistent Basis

The people of Hall County are falling down on the regular monthly purchase of War Bonds, Chairman O. V. Alexander has been advised by C. M. Smith of Plainview, regional chairman. The January quota was $54,900 and bond purchases totaled only $16,631.

The quota for February is $36,300 and in a letter to Mr. Alexander the regional manager urged that the public buy the Series F and G bonds on a consistent basis.

His letter follows:

A great deal more emphasis is going to be put on meeting the monthly quotas hereafter. Since only the people themselves can buy bonds during the month in sales of E, F and G bonds, we feel that it is very important that every county meet its monthly quota. We have been asked not to get every possible campaign

T-Sgt. Emmett Neal Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ray of Hedley, has been missing in action on the Western Front since Jan. 19. A member of the 145th Infantry Sgt. Ray had been in France since last November. The family lives in the Lesley community before moving to Hedley.

OPA Changes Are Being Made To Assist Veterans

In connection with a recently announced program for assisting veterans of this war to return to business or employment affected by Office of Price Administration regulations and for veteran participation in the work of price control and rationing, District OPA Director Howard R. Gholson has announced the appointment of W. A. Robertson as Veterans' Advisor.

The job of Veterans' Advisor will include the establishment of an OPA Veterans Advisory Committee to discuss and plan with ways of making price and rationing more effective, ways of meeting special veterans problems, and increased employment for returned servicemen in the OPA in full cooperation with the Civil Service Commission, Gholson said.

Robertson is already a member of the District Price Division staff, is familiar with the OPA set-up, and is a veteran of the last World War.

In referring to the new program, Gholson said that OPA price and rationing regulations affect veterans as businessmen or potential business men. Some price regulations have clauses in them that restrict the field to those who were in it before a certain date. Several rationing regulations, especially in the case of sugar, fats and oils, have a similar effect.

The national office is in the process of amending the price and rationing regulations to meet this problem, he stated.

Morgan Baker Is Named Justice for Coming 2 Years

Morgan Baker, justice of the peace since last August, Monday was named to fill the place for the next two years by county commissioners in regular meeting.

The office was vacant by reason of the fact that L. G. Perkins did not resign last year until after the primary election and he was the nominee for the coming two year term. He tendered his resignation, or rather failed to qualify for the new term, thus leaving the office vacant for the regular two-year term. Mr. Baker will serve by appointment until the end of 1946.

Descending planes always have the right of way at an airport. The theory is that those on the ground can never know how important it is for a plane to effect a speedy landing.

At the same time, one battalion was thrown against the Germans. Machine guns to the fore, they assailed the enemy in heavy fighting. Fire fights raged along the entire line. At some points, hand-to-hand combat was punctuated by point-blank shooting frays.

At the same time, 200 men, the second prong of the German attack, struck in from the south, severing the supply line of one battalion momentarily. While two companies, covered by heavy supporting fire from another company's machine guns, were engaged in a bitter struggle with 500 Germans, the battalion had to turn and face an attack that had gained momentum. One company led a drive to free its route to the rear, while the rest of the battalion tenaciously battled to stop up and halt the enemy.

Along the front, the Germans continued to attack. The larger group which struck from the west was thrown back with over 100 of the men left dead. Towards morning the attack had been slowed considerably. German units had taken the larger part of Mileanwehr, as well as hills to the south. Here, the tired doughboys halted them for an entire day before launching an attack to retake the lost territory.

The Germans threw everything in the book at the infantry. They didn't miss a chance; it was fought out from under them by the dirty, fighting men of the 36th.

Received your letter yesterday and sure was glad to hear from you. How does this find you to night? Fine I hope. For myself, I'm fine. Mom, I'm working in a Red Cross canteen now. I sure like the work. I don't know how long I'll be there.

Mom, Karra sent that picture that she got out of the Wichita paper and it has me almost believing it's me. But I'm sorry to say that it isn't me. I sure wish it was. I'd be the happiest man on earth.

Well, mom, I hear Elmer had gotten his I-A card.

Have you heard from R. C. yet? I'd like to hear from him.

I got those pictures back and I will send you some, they aren't very good. Did you get the other ones I sent?

I sent two pictures to Karr and told her to let you have one of them.

Does J. C. still live at Crisco? I wrote him a letter in November and they returned it to me—said the place was unknown.

Have you heard from Ray yet and where is he?

Mom, I had better close for this time. So take care of yourself and tell everyone hello for me. So long, love,

OPENING OF NEW WOODWORK AND FURNITURE REPAIR SHOP

I have just opened my new shop at the corner of North 6th and Brice streets, and am prepared to do all kinds of woodwork and furniture repairing. In the woodwork department of this shop, all kinds of heavy sawing, planing, etc., will be done. The equipment includes a heavy duty band saw, big heavy planer and miscellaneous woodworking equipment. These machines and tools have been set up and are now ready for use. Wagon hounds, wagon tongues and wagon felloes will be made, as well as some forms of wagon rims. Among other items to be manufactured here are chair rockers and wooden toys.

Bring your furniture here for repairs. Also wooden toys. If the toys can't be repaired, a new one will be made. Plans are now complete for making a line of wooden toys, as well as certain types of woodwork which can only be produced in a well equipped shop.

NEW TAX BILLS DON'T MAKE SENSE

Just why farmers as a class should be singled out for special taxation isn't clear to us, but that seems to be the case with the present legislature.

Governor Stevenson and members of the legislature have assured the people of Texas that state funds are in better shape than they ever have been and that no new taxes are necessary. Yet, at this time there are three bills pending which would tax gasoline used in non-highway motors, such as farm tractors and stationary engines.

Each bill offered has its usual "lure" or "bait," with the sponsors telling the farmers that the proceeds of four cents a gallon on tractor gasoline will build farm-to-market roads to every farm, raise salaries of rural teachers, finance school buses and pay old-age pensions.

A bill offered by Harley Sadler would tax tractor gasoline two cents—one cent to go to schools and one cent for county roads. Ennis Favors has sponsored a four cent tax, one fourth to go to schools and three-fourths to old age pensions, while Durwood Manford would tax tractor gas four cents, with one cent going to schools and the other three to farm roads.

The claims of what could be done with this extra tax are ridiculous. Furthermore, the farmers already are paying their proportionate share of the cost of farm roads, pensions and school maintenance. It seems to be a mania with any and all legislatures to assess new taxes—but as we said above we don't understand why the current session has singled out the farmers.

REVITALIZED POST-WAR CHURCH

Churches in the United States must undergo a militant change if they are to satisfy the demands of our returning war veterans, is the opinion of chaplains who have been serving with our armed forces.

While a great many of our millions of men and women in uniform have been awakened spiritually through the war, they will not be satisfied with churches which face the past rather than the future.

Inspired with a new conception of religion they are prepared to demand that the churches assume leadership in social and political fields hitherto explored by comparatively few clergymen, according to an article in the February issue of Cosmopolitan magazine by the Rev. James W. Fifield Jr., entitled "The Boys Are Ready for the Churches—Are the Churches Ready for the Boys?"

"They who have lived dangerously want the churches to be bold, to take risks and face the future, rather than the past," Dr. Fifield states. "They expect the church to champion the cause of the common man, to assume both its responsibilities and its rights. To satisfy them the church must exalt and enrich family life, must develop and fight for a practical program for permanent peace, and must regain its authoritarian voice by returning to absolute truths and standards."

Unless there is a religious revival in the world there will be moral depravity, in the opinion of Dr. Fifield, who believes the war has prepared the world for a possible religious renaissance.

"The war is plowing up the earth and making it ready for new crops, one of which may be a great religious renaissance," Dr. Fifield states. "It will require energies and devotion comparable to those being poured into the war. It will require a revitalized and rededicated church which conquers the religious illiteracy of its members and makes them recognizable as Christians."

"Such an end depends on sound religious revival which has to develop within individual people, common people, soldiers and civilians alike. When that impulse develops, God blesses it and by the alchemy of His spirit makes it fruitful as a new crop."

JOBS POSTWAR PROBLEM No. 1

Question: Where will the millions of needed jobs come from? Answer: From business. Question: How can business provide those jobs? Answer: By being allowed and encouraged to function under the free-enterprise system. Question: Where will business get the money it needs for conversion and expansion? Answer: From America's 15,000 banks, also operating with individual freedom of action, free from government domination and control. Free banks, free business, free men—all go together.

Press Paragraphs

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGE

The proposal of Congressional legislation for peacetime military training is opposed by educators and appeals have been made that Congress postpone any action until the war ends. Whether compulsory military training would lead to regimentation and suppression of free thought enjoyed in a democracy, whether a year of training before college would change plans for college afterwards, are arguments against it. Military heads can't influence those against such training. They suggest that disciplined standing armies didn't save Europe and would it offer us security. It is stepping aside from traditional methods, it is a challenge to pacifism, but for those who wish for preparedness forever henceforth view it as necessary. —Wheeler Times.

Do it today! The trouble about waiting to do big things is that the years pile up and nothing is ever done. The day is not far away when one's powers of accomplishment will not be equal to one's ambitions. Each dream is left to rot in the hands of the dead. To sit by the dead embers of un-realized dreams is poor comfort for old age. The secret of getting big things done is simple. Do it today! Do the little things that must be done... Now. Success is merely the accumulation of little things faithfully done. Today is a momentous day in your history. It will never come back. Tomorrow brings its own work. Give it a chance. Do it today! —Ochiltree County Herald.

F.D.R. stated kicking Henry Wallace around to get rid of him as a running mate for the vice-presidency. Now it appears that the President fired Jesse Jones Secretary of Commerce, to even up an old grudge. Then he nominated Henry for Jesse's post to pay off a political debt, possibly realizing that Henry has small chance of being confirmed by the Senate. Thus possibly ushering Wallace out of the Washington picture. Inasmuch as Wallace was the CIO's candidate for V-P, this nomination to the commerce post may be part of the pay-off. —Higgins News.

A suggestion to Chamber of Commerce is not to have their sights set too high when it comes to the matter of other industries locating in the community after the war. Our guess is that the industry situation is going to continue in the post war world just about the same as it has been in the past. The towns that appear to have the best things to offer are the towns that offer no advantages will be passed up by industries seeking a new location. The first and best thing a community can do in the matter of industry is to go all out for the industries that it already has. Treat them well that others seeing their treatment will want to come and share it. Show by example and good treatment that the town is a good place for an industry to locate. —The Foard County News.

Purple Heart for Pfc. Walton Bragg Sent to Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Bragg of Estelline have received the Purple Heart, which was awarded their son, Pfc. Walton E. Bragg who was wounded while fighting in France in December. He is serving with the medical detachment in the Army.

Lester S. Grimes Is Made Sergeant

Lester S. Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Grimes, 121 North 7th St., Memphis, was promoted to the grade of Sergeant by order of Colonel Joseph C. Moore, Commanding Officer of Hammer Field, Fresno, Calif.

Sgt. Grimes was inducted into the Army October 28, 1942 and attended service school at Truxa Field, Madison, Wisconsin. He reported to Hammer Field December 13, 1944, and is serving as radio mechanic.

Sgt. Grimes has two brothers in the service, Sgt. Chester Grimes of the Engineers and Lt. Cecil Grimes, Air Corps.

WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

Mrs. C. C. Cunningham of Plaska has brought in a knitted sweater, three helmets and a nice lap-cover. Mrs. Cunningham has resigned as chairman of the Plaska Red Cross auxiliary after serving since the work of Red Cross production began in Hall county. Much nice work has been done since that time. Hundreds of garments have been made under her leadership and all appreciate her efforts to the fullest.

The Plaska ladies did a nice job last year, but they are just now telling me about it. They donated the material and made 781 triangler bandages, 10 quilts and many other things. Mrs. E. E. Foster, who was in charge of the bandages, also knitted 3 sweaters, 14 pairs of gloves and 23 pairs of socks. Her aim was 25 pairs of socks but the yarn gave out at the Red Cross rooms and she made only 23. But she has started early this year and feels sure of reaching her aim. We'll watch these ladies this year, for they are really planning a good work.

The following girls from Memphis and nearby are now in nurse's training: Gwendolyn Coursey Margie Chappell and Coleen Baker, at Houston; Winifred Crow and Joe Mitchell at Lubbock; Betty Bell at Abilene; Dorothy Ray and Mildred Kesterson at Amarillo. Perhaps there are others.

There is still much yarn to be made into socks. The rooms will be open each Saturday afternoon or if you want yarn some other day I shall be glad to go with you any time.

Care of Ration Books Is Urged

Ration books are the property of the government and care should be taken by all holders to see that they are not mutilated, warns Chairman C. L. Sloan of the county board.

Loose stamps should be pasted back in the books, he said, and merchants should not send customers with mutilated books to the local board to ask for a replacement.

Such practice only adds to the work load of clerical help, he pointed out.

Mrs. Huggins Has Purple Heart for Sgt. Jack Crabtree

Mrs. Lester Huggins has received from the War Department the Purple Heart recently awarded her brother, Sgt. Jack Crabtree, who was seriously wounded on Nov. 15 during the invasion of Leyte. Sgt. Crabtree was recovering in a hospital when he last wrote his sister here and advised her that he had been listed for a furlough to the states in the near future.

When Your Back Hurts -

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, earaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and smelly urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wise than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.
