Mrs. Claud Johnson Salvage Chairman For Hall County

Mrs. Claud Johnson was named salvage chairman of Hall County last week, and will be in charge of the gathering and disposal of critical materials. Now she is emphasizing the collection of waste paper, and later will start a campaign to salvage waste fats.

At this time, she has made no definite plans for the over-all program, but hopes to outline for the public full details at the earliest possible moment.

Mrs. Johnson has been a resident of Memphis for 18 years. During this time she has been active in church and club work, and is well known to all citizens here. "I want to serve in any capacity I can," she said. "At the present time, information in my possession is not complete, but as I receive it plans will be made which I am sure the people of this county will want carried out. We know that waste fats will be converted into life-saving sulfa-drugs and other uses, and that waste paper will be used to make paper-board to pack the shells and supplies to be shipped overseas."

If the collection of waste paper continues for the next few weeks as it has been in the past, a carload will be shipped from Memphis. This is the reason Mrs. Johnson is emphasizing the gathering of this vital material now.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

In spite of the freezing weather which this country experienced a few weeks ago there will be some fruit. Different people report that while most of the fruit was killed there will be a sprinkling of peaches, pears and plums. It was thought at first there would be none.

For several years the publishers have been taking copies of The Democrat to the hospitals in Memphis for the patients to read. We have frequently been thanked by individuals in person, but this week Mrs. J. M. Ray of Clarendon sent a thank-you card in appreciation for the paper while she was in a local hospital.

Last week I told all of my twenty-seven and one-half readers that the women of the town had entered in a contest and that we men would have to get busy and sharpen the hoos so the women could do the work a lot easier. It has come to my attention that the men will not get off that easy. It is expected that we will have to do some of the manual labor ourselves and the women will follow suit. This is one of the most important moments attempted in Memphis in a number of years and it behooves every man, woman and child to get busy. Let's not fall down on this job.

Brothers See Action In Germany and Philippines

PVT. ARTHUR CLARK

CPL. QUILLA CLARK

CPL. ROBERT CLARK

Three sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Clark of Brice are now in action overseas. They are: Corporal Robert Lee Clark and Pvt. Arthur C. Clark, who are taking part in the Philippine invasion, and Corporal N. Clark, who is with the First Army in Germany.

Cpl. Robert L. Clark
Cpl. Robert Clark entered the Army Feb. 5, 1942 and received his training at Camp Wolters, near Mineral Wells. He sailed overseas June 1, 1942, and saw many months of fighting in New Guinea.

In the 24 months he has been overseas, most of the time he has been in action, and as a member of the 21st Infantry Division, 6th Army, is now serving under Gen. MacArthur in clearing out the Japanese from the islands in the Western Pacific.

The following account was carried in a front line bulletin, which members of his division read recently when they invaded Leyte:

"When Japanese strong-points held up the advance of units of his regiment in one section on Leyte Island, Corp. Robert L. Clark of Brice was called upon to serve as escort for tanks which knocked out the position.

"Clark and other members of the escort patrol advanced with the tanks, while under heavy fire from Jap positions, to keep enemy infantrymen from hurling land mines at the tracks or covering the vehicles with inflammables. The escort took the tanks down a slope of one ridge and up the slope of an adjoining one and to almost pointblank range of the Jap positions.

"Clark's regiment, one of the oldest and proudest in the veteran 'Victory' Division, fought the Japanese in one furious action after the other, for a period of 10 days, for control of strategic ridges flanking Leyte Valley."

Pvt. Arthur C. Clark
Entering service Aug. 2, 1944, Pvt. Arthur C. Clark was trained at Camp Hood, Tex. After five months intensive training he sailed from San Francisco in the early part of February. He is with a casual company of the Army, and went into action immediately after landing in the Philippine Islands.

Cpl. Quilla N. Clark
Cpl. Quilla N. Clark is another of the brothers who has been in uniform for over three years. He was inducted March 14, 1942, and received his training at Camp Cooke, Calif. He sailed for the European theatre of operations in January, 1944.

As a member of a tank battalion in the 1st Army, he has fought through France, Belgium, Luxembourg, and is now with this Army somewhere in Germany.

Last winter Cpl. Clark spent 46 days in front line action. During this period he wrote his parents that he neither shaved or bathed, and his feet were frozen severely while they struggled in the snow against the enemy.

His wife, Mrs. Ozella Clark, and son, Rodney, now reside in Amarillo.

Singleton, commanding officer of the 80th Airborne Antiaircraft Battalion of the 82nd Airborne Division, who in the past has confined his airborne activities to gliders, recently qualified for parachutist's wings by completing day and night training jumps and a program of rigorous physical training.

Col Singleton is a veteran of Sicilian, Italian, Normandy, Holland, Belgian and German campaigns. He recently received an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Bronze Star Medal, the second award he has received for heroic conduct against the enemy. His unit holds the Distinguished Unit Citation ribbon for its outstanding work in Normandy.

At Nacogdoches, Texas, the will of a Civil War veteran is chiseled on his tombstone.

WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

All American women will mourn for Ernie Pyle. His column each morning was not details of losses and gains, but a letter direct from the foxholes. A letter such as any son might have written home to his mother. When we read his column the thought would come to us: That boy, with whom he shared his K rations last night, the one with whom he laughed and talked, the one who slept with him in a foxhole and shared his blanket, perhaps that boy was mine.

He made us share with our boys in their individual victories and sufferings, he took us across the beachheads with them. We laughed when he told us of pranks they played on each other, of how they met hardships with a joke, of their tenderness to little starving children. "Now, isn't it just like our boys to do that," we would say. And somehow we felt just a little better, knowing he was with them over there.

Sleep well, Ernie Pyle, on that little island far away in the Pacific. You have earned your rest. In the hearts of American women there is a memorial to you, greater than any marble shaft.

Don't worry, Mary—pop doesn't really give the bride away. If he did, none of the girls would never get married.

Peanuts Major Crop in Meeting War-time Needs

Peanuts, which have been among the foremost war crops since Pear Harbor, are even more important to the nation's food and feed needs in 1945. Growing as many peanuts per acre as possible is a public service since the wartime demand for peanuts and their products is virtually unlimited, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Indicating this demand, Miller says it is estimated that 75 per cent of the farmers' stock peanuts produced in 1944 will be cleaned and shelled for food uses. To endeavor to meet the expected larger demand in 1945, the nation's suggested production goal was raised one per cent above last year's harvested acreage. Texas' acreage goal was fixed at 820,000 in the nation's 3,212,000 acres which is believed to represent about the largest practicable peanut acreage. Accordingly says Miller, the way to make reasonably sure of meeting probable requirements from the 1945 crop is to obtain greater acreage yields.

As the most direct way to obtain this with little increase in labor or investment, Miller endorses this nine-point program developed by the Federal Extension Service, the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, and others: (1) use good seed of known high germination; (2) shell planting seed; (3) treat planting seed; (4) space close and aim for a perfect stand;

(5) use the soil best adapted to peanuts; (6) plant reasonably early and cultivate according to approved standards; (7) dust vines with sulphur if leaf spot or leaf hopper show up; (8) use approved harvesting methods; and (9) follow peanuts with approved winter cover crop.

Treating shelled peanut seed with a fungicide preparation immediately after shelling is one of the most effective ways of getting better germination and stands, and higher yields. If treated immediately, seed can be shelled in advance of planting time without reducing germination or yields. Treatment consists of carefully and thoroughly mixing the seed with about two ounces of arasan, spergon or two per cent cerasan per hundred pounds of shelled seed. But Miller cautions against using the improved or five per cent cerasan. It may cause injury.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation from the depths of our hearts to our many friends for their kind words of sympathy and loving deeds, in the death of our beloved husband and father. Trouble and trials some time in life must come to us all, and when that time comes to you we pray that each of you may be shown the same love and kindness by such dear friends. Especially do we thank those who contributed to the many beautiful floral offerings. May God bless each one.

Put your car on a pedestal!

THE LADIES, bless 'em

... so frequently placed on a pedestal themselves ... are playing a most important part in seeing that the family car gets regular lubrication and maintenance service.

American wives, experts in balancing the family budget, know that the war effort requires careful budgeting of every mile remaining in both cars and tires. They realize that "Care for your car—for your country" is more than a slogan; that it is an absolute must, if the threatened breakdown in homefront transportation is to be prevented.

That is why they so regularly remind Friend Husband to change oil, to check tires, to get regular and complete chassis lubrication.

And we'd like to remind you that your Phillips 66 Service Man is waiting and ready to do his patriotic part to help make your car and tires last longer and go farther.

His Phillips Tire-Saving Service includes checking air pressures ... inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises ... crisscrossing with the spare every three thousand miles ... examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary.

His Phillips Car-Saving Service includes inspection of battery, air filter, radiator, and oil-level ... regular lubrication of every friction point specified by the maker of your car.

So drive in at the Orange and Black 66 Shield ... the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil ... a good sign that you've come to the right place for car-saving and tire-saving service.

Ceiling Prices On Hogs Will Not Be Lowered Soon

The new support price on hogs of $13 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, and OPA's pledge current prices will not be lowered between now and September, 1946, should make heavier fall pig fattening possible, according to Dan L. Boyd, district representative, WFA's Office of Supply.

Chicago ceiling price on live butchers now is $14.75 and $14 for hogs remaining effective until September 1, 1946 while the support price, recently upped from $12.50 to $13, continues through September.

War Food Administrator, Marvin Jones calling on the nation's hog producers this week to meet the new fall pig goal of 37,000,000 head, an increase of 18 percent over the number farrowed last fall, said producers have an assured market, adding "This, together with prospects for adequate feed supplies in major hog producing areas, places hog producers in a very strong position."

Saying that "for some time to come there will be demand for every pound of meat that can be produced," Jones explained "increasing pork production is the quickest way to increase the nation's meat supply."

Schools of Texas Need $33,364,000 For Construction

Texas will need to spend an estimated $33,364,000 in immediate postwar years for new school buildings and for repairs to present structures to adapt its school system to anticipated heavier enrollments and to educational changes, according to a survey just released by the American Association of School Administrators. This is a conservative figure, the survey reveals, as many communities have not yet ascertained future school requirements.

The report bears out U. S. Bureau of Census figures, which show that wartime births in Texas are running 31 per cent above peace years.

Larger enrollments, as well as wartime developments, will greatly influence future school design, it is predicted by Reginald E. Marsh, nationally known school architect and member of the postwar planning committee of the American Institute of Architects, New York chapter.

"Such facilities as cafeterias and lunchrooms will be designed for general educational purposes and installed in many more schools," Marsh says. "Floors and wainscoting of tile will make them attractive and easily cleaned for use before and after lunch as study halls, music rooms, meeting places."

Marsh also foresees accent on physical education, vocational training as a Selective Service finding. Lettle facilities, he believes, will be increased and where community and school needs served little swimming pools be installed.

Nursery schools will be made part of the school according to Marsh. "Some war plants, they have mothers for work and at time proved of educational fit to children," he says.

Census figures highlight school problems of Texas show 444,700 births in 43 period, 31 per cent above in 1933-35, when 339,200 were born. Population easing pressure on some will intensify it for others, as children of 1933-35 leaving elementary grades bumper 1941-43 crop knocking at school doors mission.

Large Quantities of Texas Grains Will In Storage

A recent survey indicated an estimated 45,000,000 bushels of the Texas 1944 wheat and grain sorghum crops remain in farm storage and country terminal elevators in the southwestern part of the state on April 1. According to D. A. Adkins, farm labor field assistant in charge of the Texas cooperative grain program for the A. and M. College Extension Service, who conducted the survey, more than one-third of the 23,678,985 bushels of wheat represented in the total in the Panhandle area.

Adam said that approximately 10,000 cars would be needed to store the stored grain before the harvest which is only about 30 days ahead. Otherwise, he said, farmers will have to plan construction of more farm storage if the 1945 small grain crops are not to go on the ground. The state USDA War Board has made an effort to obtain 250 carloads of lumber to be distributed for that purpose, but the survey showed that this amount would be less than one-half of the need.

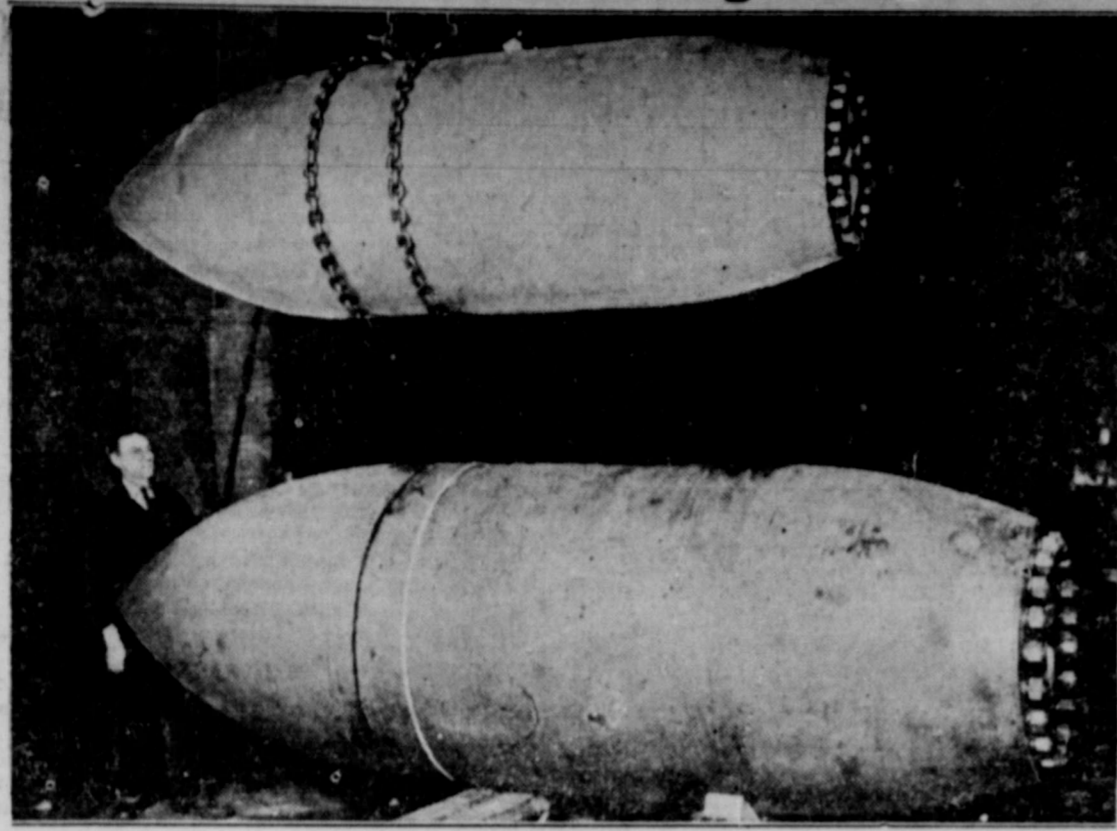

The probable large acreages of all grains to be harvested in 1945 emphasize the urgency of the situation, Adam said. Reports of county planning committees working with the cooperative combine program through Plainview office indicate that planting of about 5,000,000 acres of wheat, 1,500,000 acres of barley, and 500,000 acres of sorghum in the northwest, north, and central areas will commence within the next two months.

Powerful New Air Bomb Scourges Our Enemies

Rabies Is Reported Increasing In Texas

Rabies is on the increase, and last year Texas was one of the seven high states in the number of cases recorded, the Bureau of Animal Industry has reported. Dogs are still the most frequent victims of this dreaded disease, but reported cases of cats with rabies have doubled in the last seven years. Increase in the number of cases where rats were affected was 85 per cent in the same period.

Cattle, horses, sheep, swine, goats, as well as human beings, sometimes contract rabies, but in lesser numbers, the BAI report to the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service shows. Total reported cases in 1944 for the nation as a whole were in excess of 10,000.

BAI veterinarians point out that vaccination alone will not control rabies, since many dogs, especially strays, go untreated.

Flies that feed on sugar alone never lay eggs.

Cpl. Willie B. Wilson Is Member of Bomber Group Flying B-25

With a 12th AAF B-25 Group in the Mediterranean Theater.—Flying as a member of a B-25 Mitchell bomb group, Cpl. Willie B. Wilson of Memphis has flown his first combat mission assigned as a tail gunner. He trained for his combat assignment for three years, leaving for overseas duty in March, 1945.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilson, live in Memphis.

Corporal Wilson has taken his place with a B-25 bomb group that has been participating in the famous "Battle of the Brenner" in northern Italy. This intensive and continuing air operation is bleeding frontline German troops in Italy of supplies by slashing the Brenner railway line. His group and other 12th Air Force units have also blocked other important transport routes in Italy, besides bombing fuel, ammunition and supply dumps.

Prior to his entrance in the Army in July, 1942, Corporal Wilson attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, from where he was graduated.

Frontline Stories Of Texas Men With The Seventh Army

WITH THE 36th "TEXAS" DIVISION, SEVENTH ARMY, GERMANY—"The 142nd Regimental Combat Team Presents A View Of Germany", reads the sign high on the arch spanning the road leading from Alsace into Ober Otterbach. To those who follow, it is just another sign along the highway, but to the men of the "I'll Face You" Regiment it means more—it signifies the beginning of one of the hardest battles these doughboys have ever encountered, for not far from the arch is the Siegfried Line.

They were tired men as they hit the highly-vaunted defense line. For three days, from south of the Moder River, they had gone without rest or sleep to keep after the fast fleeing Boche. The 142nd had taken Wissembourg and then moved in on Ober Otterbach. Charlie Company of the first battalion spearheaded the attack.

As the doughs closed in on the town, deadly cross-fire from the well camouflaged pill-boxes on the ridge to the west rained torrents of hot steel on the advance-ing infantrymen. And from behind the pillbox area came the unmistakable cranking that doughboys have heard many times before—screaming meemies. More than 100 nebelwerfers were used against the advancing troops. Round after round came crashing into the town, but the 1st Battalion stayed in town that night and all the next day until all was clear. They had been the first in the regiment to feel the power of the Siegfried Line, and in spite of the odds, had successfully won the first move.

In the meantime, the 2nd Battalion which had been following the 1st swung out to the left to flank the town and destroy the pillboxes that were sending the deadly fire.

It was no ordinary job that the 2nd Battalion undertook. The pillboxes were constructed to take the best that the Americans had to offer. Bazooka shells kept the Krauts bottled up inside, the engineers crawled and sneaked up to the pillboxes and placed "beehives" (a TNT charge that drives all of its force downward) on top of the defenses. On most occasions it required from three to eight of these charges to force out the enemy. Only then did the Krauts, blackened and dazed, surrender. Sixty-five of these strong points were accounted for.

The third Battalion, swinging wide to the left, pulled a "sneak" play and came in behind the defenses. The move worked but it took skill and coordination on the part of the entire battalion.

With Item Company as spearhead, the 3rd Battalion pushed out across an opening to capture and secure the strategic hill known as Grass Berg. When the Germans realized what had happened, they fired everything they had on the hill, but Item company was there to stay.

To silence the German fire, the 2nd Battalion smashed through strong defenses to take the neighboring summit of Hohenberg. The stage was now set for the final breakthrough of the Siegfried line. The Anti-tank company took over the 1st Battalion's positions and the latter followed the 3rd Battalion's route of advance to pass through them.

Baker Company was the first unit of the 142nd to pass through the Siegfried Line. Driving down the thickly wooded slopes, they took the town of Dorrenbach and cleared it in a few hours. Yet, much depended on the 3rd Battalion who opened and kept open the supply line leading into the town.

The 142nd doughs were tired. Casualties had been heavy although light in comparison to what had been accomplished. They had cracked one of the strongest parts of the Siegfried line. All that remained was to mop up a demoralized and highly disorganized enemy.

SALVAGE YOUR CLOTHES—TO SALVAGE THEIR LIVES

Salvation for millions of suffering war victims is to be found in the closets, attics, drawers and trunks of the American people. Discarded clothing—outgrown, outmoded, long-forgotten and unworn, can bring untold relief to the stricken people of war-ravaged lands—millions of whom are literally naked. A concerted drive is now under way, by the United National Clothing Collection for War Relief, to make it easy for you to give help where it is most needed.

In Europe alone, men, women and children, totaling more than the entire population of the United States, are in dire need of aid. When the ruthless Nazis overran defenseless countries, they left destruction and desolation in their wake. Many of their hapless victims were left only with whatever clothes they happened to be wearing. These meager coverings have long since worn threadbare.

Reports that have come out of war-devastated countries are heart-rendering. Confirmed stories tell of countless deaths due to exposure . . . of seven people sharing a single shirt . . . of feet wrapped in newspapers for lack of shoes . . . of children ravaged by illness and disease due to inadequate clothing for their emaciated bodies. All are in desperate need of clothing, shoes and bedding. Unless these needs are filled, the indiscriminate visitations of weather will take a greater toll of human health and human lives . . . adding to the huge total attributable to sadistic oppressors.

These people are our friends and allies. By extending help to them now, we not only give them warmth of body, but also the inner warmth of heart that comes with the knowledge that they have not been forgotten. By helping them, we help ourselves . . . for with adequate clothing and regained self-respect these fellow world-citizens can go on to rebuild their part of a war-shattered world.

The drive is set for the entire month of April. The goal is 150,000,000 pounds of clothing. This quota can be reached only if everyone pitches in. Go to it now. Pack your contributions in a bundle so that yours will be ready when your neighborhood receiving center opens.

Durable, wearable clothing; shoes; clean bedding; infants' and children's wear; knitted caps, everything usable will be welcomed as heaven-sent.

Get that bundle to the used clothing depot now. The drive closes first of next week.

Early Thursday evening while the Scotts were getting the Turkey Enterprise off the press, Mr. Scott happened to a pretty serious accident. He caught his left hand in the cylinder press, mangling it badly. Dr. Garner was called from Turkey to give first aid and the editor was taken to the Plainview sanitarium immediately for attention. P. P. Rumph took him over to Plainview and Mrs. Scott accompanied them. The force at the news office is Mr. and Mrs. Scott and the inexperienced helpers, so publication stopped until Mrs. Scott returned to Quitaque Friday morning and Mr. Hahr, so considerably came down from Silvertown to help—Turkey Enterprise.

Roy Gaither Made Vice President of Wm. Cameron & Co.

Announcement was made at the office of E. R. Bolton, president of Wm. Cameron & Co., Inc., of the election of Roy Gaither as executive vice-president in charge of the retail division. He succeeds E. P. Hunter in this capacity, whose recent death ended a career of 45 years with the company, the last 31 of which were in the position of vice-president and general manager of retail division.

Gaither has been associated with Wm. Cameron & Co. since 1908 when he started as yardman at Chilton, Texas, his home town. He has held the positions of bookkeeper, cashier, store manager, assistant district manager and, for the past 20 years, district manager in the northern retail division of the Company, with headquarters in Altus, Oklahoma.

Pvt. Bobby Jones Is Awarded Combat Infantryman Badge

With The Third Infantry Division, Seventh Army, France.—Pvt. Bobby J. Jones, Route 1, Newlin, Texas, of the 3rd Infantry Division has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge.

This badge, for "exemplary conduct under fire against the enemy," is awarded only to front-line infantrymen who have distinguished themselves in combat. It is considered the ground forces equivalent of the Air Medal.

The local soldier's division is adding to the success and glory that has been recorded in its history since July, 1918, when on its first combat assignment of World War I it successfully defended the Marne River against two divisions of picked German shock troops. Since making their initial landing on the beaches north of Fedala, French Morocco, November 8, 1942, the men of the Third Infantry Division have participated in every campaign fought in this theater.

Commanded by Major General John W. O'Daniel, the 3rd made its fourth amphibious landing of the war on the beaches of southern France. Striking north into France the men covered 150 miles in the first ten days of fighting, taking more than 4,000 prisoners and setting a pace that has brought them to threshold of Germany in record time.

For the final clearing of the Colmar pocket south of Strasbourg, the 3rd Division has been awarded the French Croix de Guerre with palm.

Women's Society for Christian Service of Clarendon District Conference Meet

Clarendon District Conference of the Society for Christian Service met at the First Methodist Church Monday morning, April 23, at 10 a. m. The district president, Mrs. L. E. DePau, of Carroll, presided over the meeting with Mrs. Byron Rich of Lakeview as recording secretary.

Interesting reports and discussions of women's work in the Methodist Church were given throughout the day by conference district officers. A special session was conducted for those interested in children's work by Uel D. Crosby of Seymour, looking forward to the daily vacation schools. Solos by Mrs. Tarver of Memphis were enjoyed during the morning and afternoon sessions.

Two life memberships in the S.C.S. were presented, one to L. E. DePau, by the Clarendon District for her faithful service as president, and one to Mrs. T. McElreath by the Memphis district. Mrs. McElreath was a charter member of the Memphis Society, organized in 1898, and has been a continuous member since that time. How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. It should stimulate appetite, aid digestion. Thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Chlorinator System Installed Here By Water Company

Installation of an automatic chlorinator on the water transmission main just north of Memphis city limits has recently been completed by the Community Public Service Company. The new equipment will provide a further safeguard for Memphis' city water supply, since the chlorine treatment will destroy any bacteria which might be present, it was announced.

The equipment is fully automatic and the amount of chlorine fed into the water will vary directly as the flow changes. A master meter, installed at the same location, will record the total rate of flow and total amount of water used. All this equipment is housed in a tile block and stucco building, constructed under the direction of E. W. Godfrey, local contractor.

Work on the installation of the automatic chlorination system got under way some time ago, but delays in receipt of materials retarded the completion of the job.

The water company has also completed some additional test drilling on its property north of Memphis, according to W. V. Coursey, manager, and has another permanent well under contract to the Layne-Teras Company. It is expected that the new well will be completed before June 1.

Brother of Local Woman Freed from Prison in Germany

Pvt. Malcolm C. Henley, brother of Mrs. D. S. Miller, was freed from a German prison camp by the advancing American armies when they swept past Nuremberg. He was one of 3,400 American prisoners which were liberated the first week in April. The camp was known as Bad Orb, and was located north of Nuremberg.

Pvt. Henley, an infantryman, was captured December 16 some where in Belgium. He has been in service for about two years.

The following letter, dated April 10, was received by his sister this week:

Dear Sis and family,

Just a few lines to let you know I am well, and free again. I guess I am about as happy as a soldier could be, just being free again. I am now somewhere in France. The worst thing I can't control is my eating, but I am sure enjoying it. I will be there soon and see all of the folks. Sure will seem nice to be back in the good old U. S. A. I will tell you all about it when I get back. Will write you soon as I get an address. As ever,

Bub.

State's 4-H'ers to Receive Honors for Poultry Production

Four-H Club boys in this state who contributed to the war effort by raising poultry for meat and eggs will receive special recognition this year for outstanding achievements. This is disclosed in the announcement of the new National 4-H Poultry Achievement Activity, in which numerous merit awards are offered on county, state and national levels.

Awards comprise sterling silver medals to five top ranking entrants in each participating county, and National 4-H Club Congress honors to the state champion as well as $25 War Bonds to the four next highest scoring members, all provided by Swift & Company. In addition, $200 college scholarships will be presented to ten selected from the state champions. The activity is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Among the new activity's objectives are to encourage 4-H'ers to study scientific developments in poultry production and to apply new findings to their own flocks. Also, to acquire a knowledge of poultry grading, marketing and merchandising methods.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Turkeys Under WFA Set-Aside Order For Fighting Men

Turkeys for the holiday dinners of the United States armed forces this year will be obtained under a one hundred per cent War Food Administration set-aside order which became effective April 8.

A statement by the WFA received by the A. and M. College Extension Service says that the 1945 procurement program will operate under War Food order 106 which was in force until the 1944 requirements for the armed forces were filled. Now reinstated, the order is revised to include procurement of hen turkeys normally marketed in April, May and June, as well as 1945-crop turkeys marketed in the late summer and fall. It will remain in effect until the full quantity of turkeys needed is bought by the U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps for all of the armed forces. While most of the supply will be used to provide holiday dinners, a part of the overall requirement may be used under the current military program for canned poultry.

Home Safety Hand-in-Hand with Conservation

COLLEGE STATION.—Now spring work is in full swing. You should do a little refresher on farm and home safety, according to reports of safety experts who say accidents increase with heavier and increased simple gardening tools.

Some hazards, points out Bernice Claytor, specialist in improvement for the A. and M. College Extension Service, are rough or broken handles, turning forks and other tools result in infections from dirt, although rough places easily be smoothed with sandpaper. Split, broken, or sharp-

Here are some other safety edged handles should be replaced, of course.

Carry cutting tools with the blade facing downward.

Never leave a hoe, rake, or fork lying or standing with the head pointing up.

Do not use any substitute for a hammer.

Never leave a scythe or sickle hanging in a tree.

Apply first aid to any cut or scratch, no matter how slight.

Along with these safety suggestions, Mrs. Claytor recommends good care of tools. Rusty spades and the like should be brightened with kerosene and steel wool or emery cloth. Tools should be sharpened and kept that way, but digging tools should not be sharpened to too thin an edge. Dirt should be cleaned off digging tools each time they are used.

Well, Where Do We Go From Here?

Frozen Foods In Texas Plants Show Big Gain

Amounts of food frozen by Texas homemakers has multiplied several times in the past decade and it's important that the progress in quality keep step with the enormous increase in quantity, says Mrs. Winifred J. Leveranz, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Using high quality fresh food is the first step, she says, but wrapping, preservation methods, quick freezing, and storage temperatures, all are factors in obtaining A-1 products. All foods to be frozen should be stored in moisture- and vapor-proof paper or packages, and experts consider a cellulose film best for this purpose.

For meats and poultry, Mrs. Leveranz says two wraps are recommended, with string or gum tape used to hold the wrap secure. The "drugstore" wrap for meats is considered better than the "butcher" wrap because it takes less paper and is more nearly air tight. Vegetables must have a heat treatment before packaging and freezing in order to stop enzymatic or chemical changes which impair color, flavor, texture, and food value. Fruits do not have to be treated, but should be packed in sugar syrup or dry sugar for freezing.

A Duke ranks higher than an Earl in British peerage.

Farmers Design Home-Made Tools

Farmers are showing a great deal of interest in a series of field days of interest in a series of field days at which labor-saving devices are to be exhibited and demonstrated, the A. and M. College Extension Service reports. Many of the field days will be held at Agricultural Experiment sub-stations, and the other agricultural agencies are cooperating in the program.

In addition to the field days the Extension Service will continue to make available to farmers plans for valuable and helpful labor saving devices. These are prepared by M. R. Bentley, Extension agricultural engineer and distributed through county agricultural agents.

Extent of the use of home-made devices is indicated in reports from county agricultural agents. About 362 slides were in use in Crosby County during the cotton harvest, and County Agent W. R. Kimbrough said one blacksmith had made 37. In Tom Green County Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Paenick of the Veribest community were able to gather one and one-half bales a day with a two-row cotton stripper made by Mr. Paenick. The cotton graded the same and sold for the same prices as three bales which he hand-pulled, the farmer reported to H. C. Atchinson, Jr., Tom Green County agricultural agent.

Farmers and ranchers in Armstrong County have been using a seaman tiller in soil preparation. A trailer built for his combine enabled I. M. Kline of Dumas, Moore County, to save roughage from combine-type maize for winter feeding. Using pieces from old combines and discarded farm machinery he built a trailer which could be dumped when a load was accumulated.

I know what it means

I know what it means for a war plant to plead for a vital repair part... for a wounded boy to phone his mother from a military hospital... for an expectant mother to search frantically for her doctor... for a whole town to cry out in distress when flood waters bring disaster.

These appeals are a pattern of the telephone service flowing through my finger tips. Now, when wartime brings the largest telephone traffic in history, your cooperation and understanding will help us give you better service.

IS THE OCEAN DUSTY?

Like a giant broom sweeping China, the Asiatic wind shoots a blinding fog of dust over the Yellow Sea. Gosh, the pranks of wind and weather are endless... often dangerous! But Spring weather's most dangerous threat to your car dies down the minute you change to fresh motor oil that will OIL-PLATE your engine—bringing new high resistance to wear—helping to keep up mileage and power, while holding down carbon and sludge.

A feat of research—a special Conoco Nth ingredient that supplies magnet-like energy—is responsible for keeping your engine's delicate finish OIL-PLATED as long as you use Conoco Nth oil. This oil's high-strength liquid film, plus OIL-PLATING besides, means multiplied safety from wear, breakdown and expense. You will be glad you paid a bit more—to get Conoco Nth motor oil. a part of the invasion, and were in combat eleven days. His ship was bombed by Jap planes, and one plane came straight down into the hatch of the ship, landed in 20 feet of the engine room where Shearer was working, and bombs of the plane exploded, started fires in the ship's hold, wounded Shearer in neck and leg, and the ship sank shortly after.

Shearer was taken to an emergency hospital and given treatment. That night a raid was made and the wounded were carried from the tents and left in ditches for protection. While lying there something hit Shearer in the back. When asked what was the matter Shearer told them a coconut had fallen and hit him in the back. When the doctor examined him, they found that a Jap bullet had ricocheted from a tree and hit him in the back. The bullet was extracted, and soon the wounded were put aboard ship bound for a base hospital.

"When I saw many of the boys with their legs, arms, jaws, and body wounds and not able to turn their heads, taking their pains without murmuring, it made me feel like surely I could stand the pain of my wounds without grumbling. The blood plasma given to us which was donated by American civilians saved many of our lives, and for which we are grateful," Shearer said.

He said his experience of having two ships shot out from under him, had been duplicated many times over by many other American boys.

overalls you wore when a young man out on the fishing trip. There is the cut work summer dress with the long leg-o-mutton sleeves and the wide flaring long-pleated skirt that reached to the high-buttoned shoe tops (and a man was lucky when he saw the trim ankles beneath). Then there is that old sweater you wore under your coat on the cold days you went sparring your sweetheart. Those things bring back happy memories. Here are some that bring sad but sweet thoughts: The long white baby dress; the little cap touched with fur and with ribbon streamers to form a bow underneath the chin; the little Sunday dress that was worn when mama and daddy took the child to church or on a visit; the little shoes scuffed by mud running up and down the sidewalks and the little Sunday shoes bright and shiny that were worn only on special occasions; the little parasol that she so proudly carried on special occasions and her little toys and keepsakes you have cherished all these years. Many years have passed since the childish prattle has been heard, but time has not effaced or dimmed the lovely picture of the dear one long since departed. The children of the liberated countries can use any and all used clothing you may have if you can make up your mind to part with them and the precious keepsakes.

Men are like steel. When they lose their temper they are useless. A dollar may not go very far, but usually it travels far enough so that it never finds its way back. Mosquitoes, contrary to popular belief, do bite more than once.

Labor Problems Are Surveyed by A. & M. Officials

The Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, which has the responsibility for recruitment and placement of farm labor in Texas, has adopted two courses in an effort to bring about more effective distribution and better utilization of migratory farm labor in 1945.

According to Caesar Hohn, Extension farm labor supervisor, the parallel action is directed toward (1) trying to create a better understanding of the farm labor problem by migrant Latin-Americans, and (2) attempting to persuade farmers who use this labor to recognize and remove hazards which have hampered maximum utilization of it.

The first step in this program, Hohn said, was to divide the Lower Rio Grande Valley, the area in which the majority of the migrants live, into eight districts based upon the residences of crew bosses who operate trucks.

At the same time contact men, including Latin-Americans, were assigned to explain to migrants, individually and in groups, that the Extension farm labor office is endeavoring to obtain suitable housing and reception centers wherever they may be employed.

Along with this they are telling the laborers what they can and should do to make more effective use of their time and to become better American citizens.

In West Texas, Hohn said, county agricultural agents in cooperation with the district farm labor office at Plainview and Extension district agents, have held meetings with commissioners courts, farmers, and town people to explain the problems. Farmers, businessmen and others concerned have promised cooperation in correcting the conditions which have interfered with the best use of migrant labor in the past.

During a recent survey in South Texas, Hohn said that contact men reported a growing confidence among Latin-American migrants in the Extension farm labor program and appreciation of the service it is endeavoring to render them. He added that county agricultural agents are finding that migrants prefer not to have West Texas farmers ask them to go to their farms sooner than is necessary.
