Arrangements Complete for Patriotic Rally At City Park August 29

Plans are complete for the patriotic rally at the City Park Wednesday evening, August 29, when Congressman Gene Worley will address the people of this county and surrounding territory. He will discuss what the nation faces following surrender of the Japanese, give a first-hand account of his recent trip to Europe, and outline legislative matters facing Congress when it convenes in Washington September 5.

Horace Tarver, chairman of the arrangements committee said late Wednesday that they were unable to secure the band from the Childress Army Air Field. But the field will furnish their public address system, which will make it possible for all people to hear Rep. Worley's address.

The program at the rally will start at 8:30. "Minister Wallace is a forceful and inspirational preacher," members of the congregation said. "We believe that the gospel sermons he will deliver will be of benefit to all who hear him."

The annual summer revival for the Newlin Methodist Church at Newlin is scheduled to begin Sunday, August 25. Rev. R. S. Watkins of Crowell will do the preaching.

Thicker clothing was needed here Wednesday morning, due to the norther that blew up during Tuesday night. By noon, however, summer was in full sway once more.

Early Tuesday morning the Brice sector received 1.5 inches of rain, but none was reported anywhere else in the county. Cloudy weather prevails, and rain is expected over the area.

Home after 27 months in action in the Pacific is T-Sgt. Clyde E. Messer to spend a 30-day furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Messer and his wife, Mrs. Helen Messer. He arrived from the Philippines at San Francisco August 14 and entrained for El Paso where he was given the furlough, arriving home Saturday, August 18.

Sgt. Messer was with the First Cavalry Division (Custer's Brigade) and took part in four major campaigns, including New Guinea, Admiralty Islands, Leyte and Luzon, and helped liberate 3700 prisoners from Santo-Tomas camp at Manila. His division spearheaded these four invasions, and he was wounded Feb. 28 in the battle for Manila for which he received the Purple Heart. He was shot through the body just above the heart.

Sgt. Messer also wears the Spearhead with four campaign stars, and the Good Conduct Medal. He has been in service five years, 27 months of which he spent in the Pacific Theatre of operations. He has 103 points to his credit and at the end of his furlough will report to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for assignment. He talks freely of his experiences and is glad to be back home.

Memphis schools will open the morning of Sept. 3, Supt. W. C. Davis announces. "We always start on Labor Day and this year will be no exception. All concerned are looking for a great school year," Davis declared.

Following the article published in last week's issue of The Democrat concerning an altercation at the Pastime Swimming Pool and Skating Rink on Sunday night, August 12, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wilson, owners and operators of the Pastime, issue the following statement:

"We did not open the skating rink until after the flash surrender report was reported a false alarm, and then only to give some out-of-town visitors an opportunity to skate. Jack Roach appeared at the rink after the flash was reported false, and disturbed those trying to skate. It was only after he made derogatory remarks, that he was slapped, and that only twice with the open hand.

"We told Jack and those present there would be no celebration until the surrender actually came, and we would then be glad to help celebrate. We have always tried to conduct an orderly business so that families and friends might come and enjoy themselves without fear of being molested, and that parents might send their children and feel they were safe. And it was because we were trying to keep the pastime of skating orderly that night, that the event mentioned above was brought about.

"We have always tried to be good and patriotic citizens, and feel that we are justified in preventing any untoward conduct on the premises where our business is conducted. And as American citizens we feel that we are entitled to free enterprise and to see that it is conducted properly.

"We will always welcome anyone and will do our best at all times to protect our customers from annoyance."

Vote Saturday On Amendments To State Constitution

Saturday, August 25, is the day set all over Texas for voting on proposed amendments to the constitution of Texas. In this county the election will be held at each of the voting precincts.

Four amendments to be voted upon are as follows: 1. To permit Texans in armed service in war time to vote without payment of poll tax if they are otherwise qualified as voters, and have not been out of service more than 18 months. 2. To provide continuous per diem pay for all legislators—both the senate and the house of Texas. 3. To increase the state supreme court from three to nine members. 4. To provide additional state allowances to persons above 65 years of age.

Much has been said for and against these proposed amendments. It is up to the voters to decide by ballot at the polls Saturday.

A revival meeting will begin August 26 at the First Free Will Baptist Church, 413 Montgomery street, it has been announced. The meeting will be conducted by Rev. Gwinn of Shawnee, Okla. Rev. S. M. Ziegler, local pastor, says an invitation is extended to everyone to attend the services.

Free Will Baptists To Hold Revival

The regular monthly singing will be held Sunday, Aug. 26, at the First Methodist Church beginning at 2:30 p. m., it has been announced by Bill Monzingo, president of the Hall County Singing Club. Crowds continue to fill the auditorium at each meeting, and an exceptionally large group of singers and a bigger crowd than ever before is expected here Sunday.

Singers from Lockney, Plainview, Childress and from other parts of the Panhandle are expected. Also the O. L. Barham Quartet of Amarillo, and quartets from Borger and Hollis, Okla., will be here. Vice-president Jake Morrison received a letter from Frank Stamps, a member of the famous Stamps quartet, this week which stated that if at all possible, they would be on hand for the singing.

Mr. Monzingo extended an invitation to all who like singing with the assurance that they will be thoroughly entertained the entire afternoon.

Former Pastor's Son To Preach Sunday at Presbyterian Church

Rev. Robert L. Swaim will occupy the pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday, August 26. He is the son of Rev. Will T. Swaim who was pastor of the church more than 25 years ago. A cordial invitation is extended friends to join in welcoming Rev. Swaim back to his childhood home.

Miss Myrtle Wolford of Chickasha, Okla., will do the preaching at the Assembly of God Church revival which is to begin Sunday, Aug. 26, and continue for two weeks, Rev. C. A. Strickland, local pastor, announces.

Miss Wolford has been in the evangelistic work for a number of years and has the reputation of being a real evangelist and soul winner. An invitation is extended the public to attend and all meetings, the pastor said. Services will be held twice daily at the church on North 11th Street, mornings at 10:30 o'clock, and evenings at 8:30 o'clock.

Pastime Owners and Operators Declare Their Attempt to Keep Order Caused Altercation at Skating Rink August 12

NO RAISE IN PAY FOR LAWMAKERS UNTIL PANHANDLE GETS EQUAL VOICE

The following article by Lewis Nordyke appeared in the Amarillo Daily News a few days ago, in which the status of representation of the Panhandle country is set out, and the likelihood of the proposed salary raise amendment being defeated Saturday, Aug. 25, because of that unfair representation. AUSTIN, Aug. 17—The Panhandle and West Texas have very little say in legislative matters of the state. Moreover, we'll never have a voice in the state government if the legislators are granted the $23,650 a year salaries as provided in a proposed constitutional amendment to be decided upon at the polls on Aug. 25. The state has 150 house districts, and 31 senate places. These districts are supposed to be laid out on the basis of population; the present ones were fixed on the basis of the 1920 population. Since that time, the population in West Texas and the Panhandle has just about doubled, while the population in most of the districts in eastern and southern Texas has remained static or dwindled. Take the Panhandle senatorial district of 30 counties for example. The population in 1920 was 114,557. In 1940 it had jumped to 227,663. By now it is very close to 300,000. But we still have just one senator—just a single vote in the senate. Then take District No. 1, which is usually known as the Texarkana district. In 1920, the population of the district's five counties was 124,199; in 1940, the population had dropped to 108,816. It is probably below that now. But that district still has one senator—one vote in the senate. General Unfairness Thus there are 108,000 persons with one vote in the senate in one district, and in the Panhandle we have 300,000 persons with but a single vote in the senate. This unfairness extends pretty well over the state in the senatorial and representative districts, and the thing is in a deadlock that apparently cannot be broken. The legislators in the small East Tex. (Continued on Page 12)

 J. K. Brooks, operator of cotton lands in Kaufman and Dallas counties, looks with optimism on the future. He believes re- lieved labor shortages will put idle spindles in the textile mills back to work, creating a demand for more lint, and will enable farmers to produce cotton at less cost.
 Dairy farmers are due for a break, too, in the opinion of Arthur Dietrich, Dallas county dairy- man. Increased labor here will help considerably, he says, and feed costs will go down before the price of milk does.
 Cattle feeders, however, are less confident, with what may be the worst protein shortage in years coming this winter. Efforts are being made to bring soybeans into this area for crush- ing cotton oil mills, and crush- ers are dickering with Commod- ity Credit Corporation officials for a revised soybean crushing contract with terms more suit- able to them.

 August 31 is the last day wheat growers may file applications with the county AAA committees for wheat insurance on the 1946 crop. Crop insurance, suspended by congress in 1943, has been rein- stated on wheat, cotton, rice flar and tobacco. Two policies are available on wheat—one covering 75 percent of the crop and one covering 50 percent. Premiums, payable in wheat or in cash, vary in different sections.
 Laboratories devoted to finding new industrial uses for Texas- grown cotton will be established at Texas A. and M. College, Tex- as University and Texas Techno- logical College. They are author- ized under a $2000,000 appropria- tion bill passed by the legislature this year.
 CHIPS: Bans have been lifted on state and regional fairs, con- ventions, trade shows and similar group meetings, however, many fairs will ship this year because of too little time left to plan them. . . Mills county livestock as- sociation held an 80-mile tour of Hereford ranches last week. Buf- falo and grama grasses are doing well there with much superphos- phate being used. . . Ceiling price of $1.75 per cwt on cotton pick- ing has been established in nine coastal bend counties, request- ed by a majority of growers. . . Some picking crews already are seeking jobs elsewhere. . . Much needed radio parts should be available be- fore long.

Torn Franklin Refuses To Die

The U. S. S. Franklin, huge Es- sex type carrier has come back from the most terrible U. S. ship disaster in this war—and will fight again.
 For 15 hours in the Pacific ocean she was a funeral pyre for heroes. She left more than 1,000 casualties—832 dead and missing—as the price of her survival. It was the heaviest price thus far paid by an American fighting ship in this war.
 An hour after dawn on March 19, as she stood 60 miles off Jap- an, she was as proud and trim a war ship as ever rode the waves, says the United Press.
 A few minutes later, because one Jap dive bomber got through, she was a volcanic chaos of burst- ing bombs, flaming gasoline and exploding rockets and gun am- munition.
 "Men were blown off the flight deck into the sea, burned to a crisp in a searing white-hot flash of flame that swept the hangar decks, or trapped in compartments below and suffocated by smoke. Scores drowned in the sea. Other scores were torn by jagged chunks of shrapnel.
 By nightfall she counted her heroes high in the hundreds, her dead at 341, her missing at 431, and her wounded at more than 300.
 Big Ben's story can be told now because she came back. After steaming 12,000 miles under her own power, Big Ben, unrecogniz- ably seared and battered and man- gled, is home at long last in a berth at the New York navy yard in Brooklyn. There she will be made whole again.
 The Jap bomber, its approach undetected, caught the carrier at the moment of greatest vulnera- bility when its planes were being launched, its gasoline lines were full and flowing, and its bomb and rocket stores exposed.
 Heroic rescue work, brilliant seamanship, and incredibly effi- cient damage control operations saved many hundreds.
 But at least 706 of the crew survived to sail the carrier from the scene of disaster, and other hundreds of sailors and airmen were removed and kept in the Pacific.
 The Japs reported Big Ben sunk and the navy admits that "she should by all accounts have gone to the bottom."
 But Big Ben refused to die.

For seven hours packed with deeds of heroism unrivaled in this war she lay dead in the water. For nine hours she had no com- munications, no electricity, no drinking water. For 15 hours fires burned—in niagaras of flam- ing gasoline at first; in smoulder- ing, fume-generating pockets at the last.
 Before Big Ben came to life again and shook off the tow lines of friendly ships, she had drifted within 38 miles of the Jap home island of Shikoku.
 But Big Ben refused to die— because her skipper, 47-year-old Capt. Leslie E. Genres of Coron- ado, Calif., said "I won't abandon this ship," because her crew would not be cowed by death; because her officers and men, those that lived, did all the right things at the right times.
 Prehistoric animals that lived in Texas were elephant, maste- don, tapir, horse, camel, bason ground sloth, giant wolf, giant armadillo and saber-toothed tiger.
 Texas school children have been furnished free textbooks since 1918.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and ner- vous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:
 1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid diges- tion, thus help build resis- tance for the "time" to come.
 2. Started 3 days be- fore "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely func- tional periodic causes. Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

A PATRIOTIC VACATION AT HOME

War-time travel has convinced most West Texans that the only place to get a real vacation is at home. Creeks and lakes in this vicinity are full of fish and some of us are learning for the first time the beauties of our own immediate outdoors. A few days out in the country doesn't disrupt the household as it did some years ago. You don't have to throw out all the food in the house. Now folks just leave their electric refrigerator on "medium" and when they get back—day or night—cold and inviting foods await them.

Servicemen need every bit of traveling space available for the next ninety days, and by your staying at home this summer a little extra room will be left for these returning heroes.

Rediscover the vacation spots in our vicinity. Reddy Kilowatt guarantees that you'll write to your friends, "Having a wonderful time—wish you were here."

Wanda L. Brown of Memphis Crewman On Seaplane Tender

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC—Wanda L. Brown, Coxswain, USNR, of Memphis, Texas, is a crew member of the USS Tangier, a seaplane tender, which has long served as one of the Navy's most important floating airbases.

Veteran of Pearl Harbor, where she was one of the first American ship to open fire on Jap carrier aircraft, the tender has returned to the United States only twice since the outbreak of war—both times to undergo necessary repairs. At present she is in the sixteenth month of her current tour of Pacific duty under the command of Aircraft, Seventh Fleet.

As the "mother ship" of scores of Navy seaplanes she has, since March of 1944, taken part in the admiralty islands, New Guinea, Morotain and Philippines campaigns. In the Morotain and Philippine campaigns alone, marine and catalinas based aboard her sank or destroyed 116,000 tons of Jap shipping and damaged another 56,500 tons.

All of these "kills" were chalked up by the famous Black Cat tactics—patrol seaplanes ranging far over Jap harbors and shipping lanes in lone, vigilant night-hunts for enemy targets; black-painted Marines and Catalinas taking a heavy toll of Jap vessels in bold, low-level attacks.

This bag of 172,500 tons included the sinking of destroyer and destroyer-escort type warships, as well as the damaging of major naval units.

Recently, a lone Marine operating from Brown's tender wiped out an entire Jap convoy of five ships in an 80-minute attack off the northern coast of Formosa. The ships, two medium freighter-transport, a small freight-transport and two merchantment, totaled 17,000 tons.

The Mariner was flying a routine night offensive mission when its crew sighted the convoy on a southerly course 15 miles north of Kiurun, Formosa. Despite intense anti-aircraft fire, the twin-engine seaplane made 17 bombing-strafting runs, leaving only scattered debris in its wake. Then three Jap fighter planes appeared; but they were too late and to wary. Only one Nip made a pass as the Navy bombers broke off the attack and continued its patrol, before returning to the tender.

In addition to these offensive operations, seaplanes attached to the tender have made numerous open-sea rescues of downed Allied aircrews; conducted important scouting and evacuation missions, and kept a constant vigil for Jap underwater raiders while on anti-aircraft patrol.

All in all these varied duties, it is aboard this tender that Intelligence and Operations officers lay the groundwork for the flights. It is aboard this tender, too, that Service Units do the work of maintaining and repairing aircraft worn from long hours in the air or damaged by Jap plane or anti-aircraft fire.

More times than not, the officers and men of the tender have carried out their duties in waters in the most forward areas, without the support of other Naval vessels, where enemy air attacks have been frequent. Scores of times Nip planes have dropped their bombs over the ship, but the tender's accurate anti-aircraft fire has always unsteadied the pilot's aim. And three times the tender's gunners have sent Jap aircraft crashing into the water.

Brown reported aboard in October 1943. His daily duties are in charge of the ship's Boatswain Locker, and when in action against the enemy he was a member of an anti-aircraft gun crew. His mother, Mrs. Hettie L. Brown, resides at Memphis, Texas.

Visual Aids Help In Teaching, Say Texas Educators

Visual aids are definitely no longer "new-fangled" ideas, Texas educators agreed in conference here recently, at a two-day study of the production and utilization of visual aids in public schools held at the University of Texas.

The use of pictures, film strips, moving pictures, graphs, charts, maps, and other visual aids is now accepted almost as a necessity for supplementary teaching purposes, according to Dean F. E. Grossnickle, visiting professor from New Jersey State Teachers College, Dr. C. M. Reinehl, visiting professor from the University of Arkansas, and Capt. Dudley S. Moore of Camp Hood, formerly superintendent at Lampasas.

"The time has come when visual aid is a legitimate expense which taxpayers should bear in the support of the educational system," Dean Shelby said. "Public education can be more effective by the use of visual aids, and school boards should recognize the handsome returns which will come from money invested in materials and equipment."

Practical application of the use of visual aids in teaching science was demonstrated by T. V.

Livingston, principal of elementary schools at Seminole, Texas, and by Miss Eva Stapleton of North Texas State Teachers College, and Miss Hazel Floyd of Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College.

Manila Wonderful
After New Guinea
Cpl. Newman

Cpl. Henry Newman writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Newman: "Dear and Dad dearest: A wonderful trip up the coast of New Guinea to Hollandia—a very short stop-over in the Lagoon at the Island of We then wound our way through many of the seven thousand islands of the Philippines until we dropped anchor in Manila. Yes, a very memorable and trip and I believe it to be the nicest that the Army has offered me. We rode aboard a Navy Landing Ship Tank, rather a slow vessel. Accommodations were good for the three meals a day were for the palate of a King. My latest regret is that the ship didn't dock at the shores of America. But returning to civilization, seeing tall office buildings, cement, electric lights, autos, parks with trees and signs like coca-cola and gasoline was indeed a pleasant sight. Yes, there's all of this and more in Manila in spite of the destruction by the Japanese as they retreated from one part of the city to another. You may see all torn, mangled, gutted buildings, apartment houses, homes, small business places in almost every direction but amid the debris is a soothing mass of activity in the work of building the city back to life. Manila was once named the 'Pearl of the Orient' and that it will be again in the coming of a few years. This is only a sketchy note this time, but there are a thousand things that are in my mind to tell you. Believe it or not, we had all waiting for us here at APO. We live a considerable distance from the heart of the city, so I imagine that my sight seeing will be few and far between. On one occasion, however, on the way out, we saw the Filipino rice paddies and the men working with enormous water buffalos. This, with the remainder of the rolling countryside makes a memorable picture—a score of shades of green against the blue skies and blowing white clouds. Yes, even with water buffalos, this is indeed civilization. There are numerous Filipino families living down the road from our tent. Several of the men have visited our abode. They speak English fluently, are clean as pins, and always show their appreciation for what the Americans have done for them. My present duties are assisting another station hospital with a honor of war camp. What I'll be doing for certain is beyond me, so I'll have to give you this information at some later date. Until another time, do be good to yourselves and know that I'm thinking of you. With all my love,
HENRY

Queer Animal With Back Like a Sail
Lived in Texas—200 Million Years Ago

Over two hundred million years ago, in North Texas, a queer animal with a black like a sail, a pin head, a body ten and a half feet long, and weighing 400 pounds, lived around lakes and other bodies of water. This odd reptile, say the University of Texas geologists, was called an Edaphosaurus Pogonias Cope. Today, under the direction of Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University's Bureau of Economic Geology, Dr. H. J. Sawin, Bureau geologist, and others, are making a study of petrified bones of such a reptile, and the fossil will be placed on exhibit in the Texas Memorial Museum when the study is completed. The bones were found on the shores of Lake Kemp in Baylor County, Dr. Sawin said, and the study is being made to learn more about early animal life in Texas. "We don't know why the reptile should have a tail resembling a multiple-masted sailing vessel of a primitive ship," Dr. Sawin said. "Various answers have been given but the most logical explanation is that the Edaphosaurus lived in cool water, and the protruding sail-like surface provided a surface for heat absorption during active daylight life in the water." The second unusual feature about the Edaphosaurus is the skull, which was extremely small in proportion to the large body and long tail. Because the skull was so small, it indicates that the animal thrived on plants, the geologists say.

MARE ISLAND LOCATION

August 14, 1945
Dear Mr. Wells:
I thought I would drop you a line and tell you that I really enjoy the paper. It really helps to get news from home. Today we got word that the war was over so I don't guess it will be too long before the boys come home again. I hope so. I don't think I will be here for over a year as I will be sent to a base hospital, I think.
To tell you of Mare Island, I should first tell you where it is. It is just off the shore from San Francisco. It is really a nice place. I share a room with only one other boy. Inner spring mattress, good chow and really a lot of good "liberty" cities. It is a paradise to any enlisted man. Mare Island is an amputation center. The boys here that have a leg or arm gone are really in the best of spirits. They really take it swell. I was planning on going on liberty today but had so much washing to do, I just couldn't make it. The boys in the service will make some girls' good husbands. Well, I guess that is enough hot wind out of the hospital now. Keep sending the papers.

We are making our postwar plans now—and returning veterans are included in those plans. Our plant will continue to grow, and our services will continue to expand. But it will be with the help of some of these veterans.

We are getting set for the day when our veterans come marching home. They all have a place in the life of our community. And for our part, we shall make every effort to aid them in finding that place. Truly there's a great day coming for over 2,000 of our county citizens.

TELEGRAMS SENT TO HALL COUNTY S WHO ARE PRISONERS OF JAPS

Memphis Lad Makes Progress in Time Service

Six telegrams were sent Friday by and for the parents of sons in Jap prison camps, Mrs. T. D. Weatherby, Hall County Red Cross home service chairman, announces. These telegrams had to be in San Francisco Saturday in order to be transmitted to the boys who are held as prisoners.

Messages were sent as follows: Pvt. Rayford Harris, Prison Camp 3 Thailand, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Harris of Memphis.

Cpl. Benjamin A. Rusk, Fukuoka Prison Camp, Japan, by Mrs. Maud Rush Lyles of Turkey.

Pvt. James P. Drake, Prison Camp 5, Moulmein, Burma, by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Drake of Memphis.

Pvt. J. M. Stanley, Prison Camp 1, Philippine Island, by Mrs. Mattie M. Stanley, Lakeview.

Pfc. Jacob Rex (Rusty) Sanders, Osaka Camp, Japan, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sanders of Temple.

Pfc. W. T. Slements, Fukuoka Prison Camp, Japan, by his parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Clements, Lakeview.

The relatives and friends of the above listed prisoners of the Japs are hopeful they will be liberated soon. Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright and hundreds of other Americans were liberated a few days ago from a Jap prison camp and it is believed it will not be long until the thousands of other prisoners will be set free. These boys have been prisoners since the early months of the War with Japan.

Meredit, son of Mrs. Caviness of Memphis, enlisted in the U. S. Maritime Service June 2, 1945, and was sent to Avalon, Calif., for duty after five weeks he was chosen from a group of 600 boys, and was sent to Staten Island, N. Y., where he entered Radio School as a cadet. Last week he was made a cadet officer.

He graduated with the class of Memphis High School.

He served with the Fifth Army in Italy as sergeant major for the 91st Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron, part of the Fourth Corps.

Members of State Guard To Attend 3-Night School

Members of the Memphis State Guard unit will attend a training school at Childress next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 29, 30 and 31. This announcement was issued following their regular meeting Wednesday, when plans were laid for the school, which will be held for members of the 41st Battalion.

In former years State Guardsmen went to Camp Bullis for their mobilization training, but the Eighth Service Command has announced that this year the instructors will come to each battalion. Instructors will be regular Army personnel, and will be under the direction of Col. Donald Henley.

The school at Childress will terminate with field mobilization training when they journey to Amarillo and join the 14th Battalion.

The purpose of the three nights of schooling is to prepare officers and enlisted personnel for the State Guard security mission and to qualify them as better instructors upon their return. The control of civil disorders will be the theme of instruction, and will cover every phase of training on what a Guardsman should know. They will learn how to patrol, make arrests, place obstacles and road blocks, and traffic control. Also to be covered is the use of the machine gun and rifle in controlling riots.

Transportation will be furnished all members of the local unit who plan to attend the three-night school.

Members desiring more information concerning the school and field mobilization training should contact either Capt. Monk Wheat or Lieut. George Thompson.

Chamberlain Case To Jury Thursday

The case of Will Chamberlain, who has been on trial in Clarendon for killing his neighbor, John Naylor, was slated to go to the jury about noon Thursday. Judge Luther Gribble recessed court Wednesday afternoon until 9 o'clock Thursday morning, at which time summation was scheduled to begin. Tuesday Chamberlain took the stand in his own defense. His plea was self-defense.

Previously he had made no statement in connection with the slaying of Naylor at the Chamberlain farm home on July 18, and described the scene and admitted the slaying.

He told the jury that he, Chamberlain, was approaching Naylor to tell him not to come back to the Chamberlain home when Naylor made a move toward his hip pocket. Then, Chamberlain testified, he fired in what he thought was defense of his own life.

Army Answers Your Questions

Your questions on allotments, insurance, legal problems or other matters as they relate to Army personnel and their dependents will be answered in this column or by letter. Write Headquarters Eighth Service Command, Dallas, 2, Texas.

Q. My son is an Air Corps officer. His father just died and I am now dependent on him for support. He has no other dependents. Would it be possible for me to get a family allowance?

A. Dependents of officers are not entitled to family allowance. However, since your son is now head of a household, he is entitled to receive rental and ration allowances, which can be used to house and feed his dependents. Proceeds from these allowances would be paid directly to him, but he could allot a portion of his salary to you, in which case you would receive the money by check.

Q. I know that gold stars, blue service stars and honorable discharge emblems may be placed on the service flag I have in my place of business. Is there any special order in which these are to be placed on the flag?

A. Yes, Gold stars are placed above the blue when the flag is displayed in a vertical position, and to the left when the flag is horizontal. Discharge emblems are placed below the blue stars when the flag is vertical and to the right when it is horizontal.

Q. My son was listed as missing in action nearly a year ago. He went down in a plane over Germany. Now that the war in Europe is over, what action can I, as next of kin, take to determine if he was taken prisoner?

A. You are at liberty to write The Adjutant General concerning your son's status at any time. However, the first action of the War Department, on receiving information which changes the status of a soldier missing in action is to notify immediately his next of kin.

America's cotton crop is the largest in the world. Copper was one of the first metals used by man. Lead is found generally throughout the world.

Wheat has been promoted to the rank of captain, and one of his first duties will be to make final arrangements and accompany his unit to Childress next week where they will attend a training school for Guardsmen.

Capt. Wheat has alerted his unit following a communication from Gov. Coke Stevenson, who is commander-in-chief of the Texas State Guard.

In the official communication sent out to guard personnel, the governor said:

"History has proven to us that the aftermath of every war has brought unrest, discontentment and turmoil to the home front. Our job is to prevent such conditions. In order to keep faith with the returning soldiers, we must continue our efforts to prepare ourselves for any emergency. 'Keep your guard up.'"

Newlin Couple In Car Wreck Escapes Serious Injuries

Cpl. Joe Miles Kinard and Miss Wanda Jo Marcum, both of Newlin, suffered painful injuries Tuesday night at Newlin when their car was badly wrecked.

Both were brought to a local hospital for first aid and released Wednesday. Kinard then went to the Childress AAF hospital for check-up. He suffered a broken wrist and some cuts and bruises, none serious. Miss Marcum also suffered cuts and bruises which were painful but not serious.

The accident occurred in Newlin when they reached a bridge at a turn in the road. The steering wheel locked and the turn could not be made. The bridge railing failed to hold the car and it plunged head-on into the creek, badly wrecking it and injuring the occupants.

Those who have seen the wrecked car wonder how the couple escaped fatal injury.

Trustees Start Move to Pay for New Roof for School Building by Gift

A new roof must be placed on the Newlin school building. No funds are available to do this.

This dilemma faced the trustees recently when they met to lay plans for the opening of the 1945-46 school year. It will cost $500 dollars to get the new roof, and the school has only about $100 to be used for this.

Each of the trustees decided to start the movement of raising the money by personally subscribing $5.00. Patrons of this district will follow their leadership, and it is hoped that enough money will be raised to make the necessary repairs.

Members of the school board who have started the movement are Claud Fowler, Lloyd Fowler, Clarence Moore, Trilton Davis, B. O. Jones, Tom Collins and M. L. Burnett.

The reason there is no money available to make the necessary repairs on the roof is the fact that only $410 is allowed the school for current operating expenses. This amount isn't enough to pay the insurance, utility bills, janitor expenses, buy supplies, and the numerous miscellaneous items which arise monthly.

The trustees also decided that the school lunch room will be operated again this year. They also personally contributed $5.00 each to a lunch fund. The school has the equipment for operating the room, and the charge which will be made students who eat their meals here will about meet expenses, patrons of the school feel.

Money taken in by taxation is budgeted to pay salaries and retire the bonded indebtedness of the school district.

It is felt that the patrons of the Newlin school district will go along with their trustees, and that subscriptions of enough money will be made to re-roof the school building.

Most gas wasted in Texas is casinghead gas produced with oil. In most cases this gas is burned in a flare in the oil fields. It has been stated that this waste amounts to as much as a billion cubic feet a day.

Employment Plans Released by U. S. Civil Service

Dallas, August 20—Until further notice the United States civil service commission will not receive any applications for employment in the federal service except from those veterans who have the right to have examinations reopened for them.

The commission has taken this step, according to a statement issued today, in order to make sure that any vacancies which develop in the federal service will be filled either by returning veterans or by persons who are about to be or have been separated from other positions in the federal service.

"The federal government as an employer," stated the commission, "must set the example in providing the members of the armed forces who are coming through our separation centers today with the maximum possible opportunities for employment."

"Also, the federal government is determined not to put itself in a position where it is discharging persons in one part of the federal service and, at the same time, hiring persons from the outside to fill similar positions in another part of the federal service."

Where the supply of returning veterans and the supply of persons involved in reductions in force in the federal service are not sufficient to fill vacancies the commission's regional directors have been authorized to lift the ban on receipt of applications. In certain occupational areas such action will be taken very promptly after the commission's field officials have had the opportunity of appraising the situation which confronts them as a result of the cessation of hostilities.

"It would be a complete waste of time, energy and money for the commission to continue to receive applications for limited appointments from persons who are outside of the federal service and who are nonveterans, if the needs of the service can be met by returning veterans and those who are now on the federal payroll," the commission pointed out.

"All of our resources must be available for the orderly handling of reductions in force, the prompt transfer of persons who are laid off to other agencies which may be looking for persons with their qualifications, and the administration of the veterans preference act of 1944."

Dairy Specialist Warns of Losses In Texas Herds

Dairy calves are particularly susceptible to stomach worms infestation and dairymen with calves on infested pastures may incur substantial losses if control measures are not administered, according to G. G. Gibson, dairy specialist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Gibson believes that it will pay dairymen to treat stock regularly under the advice of a veterinarian if their calves suffer from parasitic infestations. Not only should the visibly affected animals be treated, but others, as well, if pasture infestation is to be kept at a minimum, he said.

Phenothiazine can be used to good advantage in dairy cattle, but should not be given lactating animals since it causes the milk to be discolored for several days following its use.

While it is reasonable to suspect poor, unthrifty calves and yearlings of worm infestation, poor feed or other conditions may be responsible. Therefore, it is advisable to obtain a diagnosis by a competent veterinarian to determine the actual cause of the condition, the advisability of treatment, and dosage.

Calves succumb to these parasites more readily than adult stock, especially at weaning time, in the fall and spring, Gibson said. Grass in infested areas carries the immature form of the parasite which the animal swallows as it grazes.

Since moisture favors the development of stomach worms, well drained pastures are preferable. Pastures which are impossible to drain should be used for mature cattle only. Pastures should not be overstocked, and should be rotated or rested insofar as practicable, Gibson said.

The Texas A. and M. College Extension Service has published a new circular, C-222, "Control of Stomach Worms in Cattle," by G. W. Barnes, A. L. Smith, and

IN THE HOUR OF TRIUMPH

Behind us lie 3 1/2 years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

So, today, we celebrate a victory.

After the celebration, what lies ahead? For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise . . . the materials and resources . . . with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned-up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, men with hurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them is the duty of every citizen of this nation.

Far away from America today are millions of Americans. As we would be, they're on fire to get back—to their wives, to the children some of them have never seen, to their jobs.

These men also need our help.

This is our day of triumph. But it's theirs too—the injured men, the men who are still far away.

Let's not forget them, in our just rejoicing. And let us pledge ourselves to do everything in our power to help care for our wounded . . . to bring our veterans home . . . to give them a fresh start in the country they fought for . . . to care for the families of those who died before victory was won.

Former Memphis Publisher and 2 Sons Made Eagle Scouts at Court of Honor

The father and sons were residents of Memphis in 1945-6. Russell Middleton Sr. was publisher of The Democrat during that time and took an active part in Scout Work. He is now comptroller for Texas Textile Mills, Dallas, Waco and McKinney. Photo and the following story appeared in the Dallas News Friday, August 17: A Dallas father and two sons were elevated to Eagle Scout rank Thursday night at a Northern District Boy Scout Court of Honor in Lee Park—the first such family trio ever to be honored for high scouting achievement in the district.

The father is Russell Middleton Sr., 2930 Love Field Drive. Middleton's sons are Billy Joe, 18, now a seaman 1-c in the Navy, San Diego, Calif. home on furlough, and Russell Jr. 14.

Also receiving the Eagle Scout award Thursday night was Robert Young, patrol leader, Troop 65. The Middletons are in Troop 52.

Middleton was scoutmaster of Troop 52 for two years, was neighborhood commissioner for one year and for the past year has been northern district commissioner. He also organized the Scout Club, Park 3,052 which has a membership of ninety.

Billy Joe, now taking radar training in the Navy, came up through Troop 52. Russell Jr. was patrol leader and scribe and is now senior patrol leader in Troop 52.

The awards were made by Ted Teel, chairman of the northern district. Aubrey Martin, chairman of the district's court of honor presided.

Sheets and Towels May Be Protected By Proper Methods

Some simple ways to protect precious sheets and towels from hot-weather wear this summer are suggested by Mrs. Claytor, home improvement specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. These household linens are expected to continue on the scarce list at stores for some time.

The specialists advise airing beds with extra thoroughness in warm weather. After washing dry sheets and pillow cases in the sun to whiten and sterilize them. Sunshine is one of the best and safest bleaches. Hang sheets and pillow cases straight on the line, smoothing carefully so that they will need little or no ironing. On windy days, take them from the line as soon as they are dry, because flapping in a stiff breeze may whip out hems.

Increased use of towels in hot weather means more frequent laundering. Hang towels straight on the line rather than by a corner. After using bath towels, spread them out on racks to dry instead of folding or bunching them. Never pile wet towels on the floor or in a laundry bag. Soggy towels mildew overnight in hot weather, says Mrs. Claytor.

Sugar Scarcity is Problem War's End Does Not Solve

Today the United States has the least sugar she's had since the last war. Our sugar reserves probably can't be rebuilt until 1947.

As you probably know . . . only about one-fourth of our sugar is grown in the 48 states. So when the war started our sugar troubles began, too. Not only the United States, but our allies were cut off from sugar in the Pacific areas . . . except Hawaii. And likely many more months will pass before most of the Pacific producers will ship sugar to us again . . . even from the Philippines.

In the meantime, our allies who were formerly dependent on home grown sugar and on sugar from the Pacific have had to obtain some of their sugar from the Caribbean area . . . That means less sugar for the United States. With less sugar to buy on the world market and more people to buy it, our national supplies have gradually dwindled.

In the face of that, we used 450,000 tons more sugar for home canning purposes last summer than we actually needed for the food we put up. With the money to buy it and the appetites to eat it, we probably used some of that canning sugar for cookies, lemonade and the like.

Now we have practically no reserve stocks of sugar to fall back on. Unfortunately Cuba has suffered from the worst drought in 87 years. . . The sugar crop in Cuba was 900,000 tons short of expectations.

Fortunately, more sugar beets were planted in the United States this year . . . but not enough to balance other shortages and we can't expect much improvement in supply for many months.

Home Makers Told How to Speed Up Dish Washing

Rinsing and soaking speed the dish washing as every home maker knows. Here are some tips on rinsing and soaking, says Mrs. Claytor, home improvement specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

When you're washing pans that have been used for milk . . .

eggs . . . cereal or dough mixtures . . . use cold water to rinse or soak them.

For equipment that's had sugar . . . syrup . . . icing and the like in it . . . hot water is the most efficient.

And for the greasy pots and pans that are hard to wash . . . use hot soda water to soak them. The soda gets the grease off in a hurry.

Did you know you can clean an egg-beater quickly if you'll give it a few turns in cold water . . . a few turns in hot water . . . and finally a few turns in the air? Of course, you'll need to be careful to keep the cogs and wheels out of the water. They're hard to get dry and they're likely to rust if they aren't dry, Mrs. Claytor says.

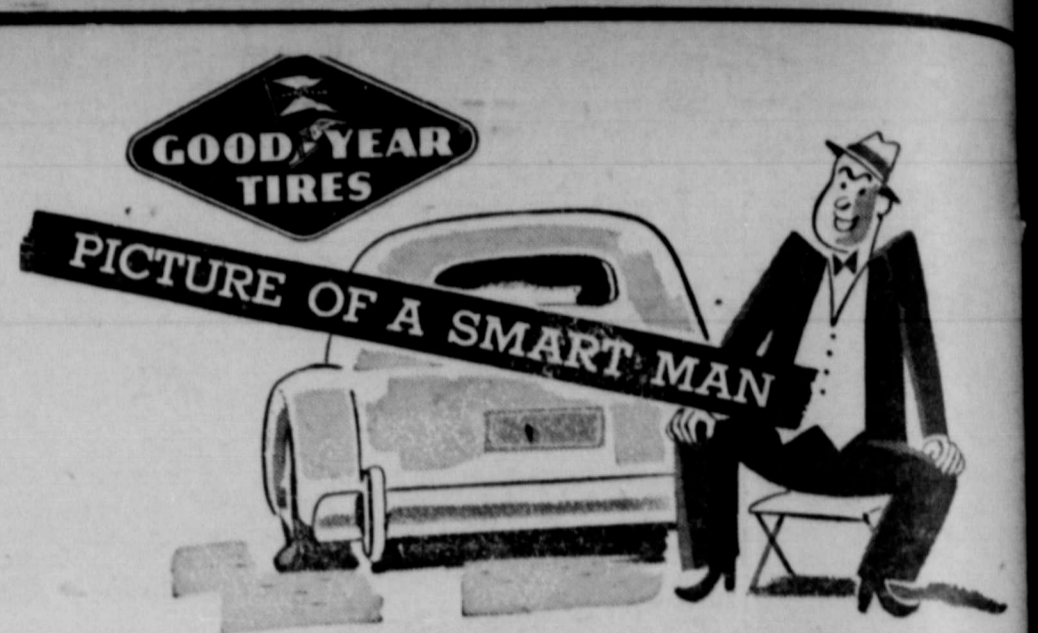

If you have trouble cleaning strainers . . . orange and lemon using a stiff little brush on them. Get as many of the food particles off as you can with the brush. Then rinse the grater in cold water and then in hot water. It's clean in no time at all.

You can make time when you're doing the dishes . . . if you'll take time to do a little advance work . . . to clean and put away cooking equipment as soon as you've used it, says Mrs. Claytor.

The national drink of Japan is sake, distilled from rice.

Improved Rural Health Indicated New Program

Shortage of health facilities as rural people may be in part if indicated plans for organizing health centers are enacted.

Enactment of the rural law by the last Texas Legislature of many Texas health centers, according to M. J. O'Connell, Organization and Cooperative Marketing specialist for M. C. College Extension Service, is a big hurdle in the way of most persons in this type of cooperative health care. It is believed that educational programs will take care of this handicap, O'Connell believes.

Organizing a community health center will require real community effort and organization, he says. The procedure will be different in every community, but the following is recommended: (1) Community leaders should see if conditions warrant the health needs of the community. (2) Discuss the health needs of the community in clubs, church organizations and other groups to determine the interest in cooperative health service. (3) Call a meeting, if public interest is shown, to discuss the benefits of a cooperative health center. (4) If the public is interested, it should elect a board of directors and instruct them to prepare a charter. The plan of the center will vary with the size of the community and the size of the area which the costs will be covered. The plan is for the members to contribute as possible on lending. If the people who are not prepared to contribute to a cooperative health center, it is doubtful whether the project should be undertaken, Jaynes said.

Inflation Looms As Farm Hazard, Leaders Declare

Farmers will be heading toward financial disaster after the war if price controls are relaxed now. This warning is embodied in a statement prepared by the post-war agricultural policy committee of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

According to Director Lee P. Trotter of the A. and M. College Extension Service, this anti-inflation statement has been approved by the executive committee of the Association, of which Clarence A. Dykstra, provost of the University of California, Los Angeles, is chairman, and represents the consensus of leading college authorities through the United States. The policy committee consists of 18 members representing different major phases of Land Grant College's activities in all parts of the nation.

When mixed with sparkling water. Sugar syrup is best for sweetening cold beverages since it makes a smoother drink, there is no waste and it goes further than sugar. Honey is an excellent sweetener, too. For the numerous occasions when a long, cold drink is needed, keep a supply of flavors on hand and have a bottle or two of a high quality sparkling water in the refrigerator ready for use and your drinks will be made in a jiffy. For the blueberry season, here's a good drink to try.

Sparkling Hawaiian Flip

1/4 cup cooled grated pineapple
1 teaspoon lime juice
Sparkling Water
Combine chilled blueberries and pineapple, slightly sweetened in cooking, and lime juice in tall glass. Fill glass with ice cold sparkling water. Serves 1.

disaster for many farmers when the inevitable reaction sets in. Many returning war veterans, it adds, would be among those victimized by exorbitant land prices. Observing that no one contends that the control of prices and wages has been perfect, the post-war policy committee expressed belief that "fair-minded citizens will agree that the job has been reasonably well done considering the difficulties involved."

"As rapidly as the war effort permits," the committee's statement concludes, "the threat of inflation should be tempered by speedy expansion and resumption of production to meet civilian needs. But continuing controls are needed until supplies again are adequate to meet requirements at reasonable prices. Additional controls, especially to limit and discourage land speculation, are in order."

How Roosevelt Was Protected, Is Now Told Nation

Just how much President Roosevelt was protected during the war years after Pearl Harbor, when the threat of enemy air attack was considered real and immediate can now be told, says the United Press.

The safety of the chief executive, who was also commander-in-chief of the armed forces, was so important that the most extraordinary precautions were taken to see that he was kept out of danger. At the same time he had to be in a position to keep in constant touch with events.

Relaxation of the voluntary censorship code now permits disclosure that there were huge, concrete-walled shelters built beneath the White House, anti-aircraft guns on the roof above and heavy concrete slabs over White House ventilators to stop shell fragments.

Within a matter of hours after the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, construction began on a special network of air raid shelters beneath the White House.

This led to the construction of a new east wing on the executive mansion. A heavily protected tunnel also was dug from the White House into the lower recesses of the nearby treasury building.

The walls of the east wing at their base were built of 9-foot-thick concrete and steel. Two floors below the ground level a de luxe air raid shelter was constructed, heavily shielded with steel rods and reinforced concrete.

In this shelter the President had a private compartment made of steel 1 1/2 inches thick.

Around this shelter was a large room where members of the family and household staff could seek safety. The underground chambers ACTS ON THE KIDNEYS To increase flow of urine and relieve irritation of the bladder from excess acidity in the urine.

made available for the President under the treasury and under the White House had ample facilities for storage of food and water. Provision was made for extensive communication facilities in the shelters. Other shelter facilities were provided for lesser White House personnel. Reporters for the three press associations had special telephones in a basement room—heavily protected by thick concrete walls—under the west wing of the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt's principal shelter was directly under the White House movie projection room and offices occupied by the head of the White House. The gunners stationed on the upper portions of all sections of the executive mansion were relieved from duty late last summer. The President's home at Hyde Park, N. Y., was protected with equally elaborate care. Army planes, however, were kept on constant alert at nearby air fields to protect him should enemy planes ever break through coastal defenses. Small but speedy and well armed coast guard craft patrolled the Hudson river in front of his estate when he was there.

A battalion of military police was quartered on property adjoining his and they maintained constant patrol throughout the Roosevelt property. To augment these facilities there were elaborate scientific devices scattered heavily through the Hyde Park estate.

Annual Labor Day Golf Tournament At Wichita Falls

Wichita Falls, Aug. 22.—Post-war history of the annual Labor Day Golf Tournament of the Country Club of Wichita Falls is billed for a flying start when the 18th annual edition of that regional event is staged Sept. 1-4.

Inaugurate in 1928, the annual tournament has been held without interruption since that time. Because of the large assembly of this area's outstanding golfers, and the high caliber of competition which has been maintained consistently, the Labor Day meet has become one of the really top sporting classics in all Texas.

It was in the fifth Labor Day turn of the Wichita Falls Club in 1932 that Bryon Nelson, now top-ranking pro in probably the entire world, first wrote his name in bold letters across the golfing firmament. Nelson was one of the seven visitors to cop the annual joust here, two of them winning twice successively, leaving members of the host club with only eight victories in the 17 tournaments thus far played.

While the 1944 meet drew 125 entries, fully twice that total are expected this year. Better balls, improved caddy service, and better transportation facilities have been assured. The entire course, one of the most beautiful anywhere, is being groomed to the best possible condition. The annual tournament dinner followed by dancing, complimentary to all entries, will be given Saturday night, Sept. 1, at the club house.

All qualifying rounds must be finished by Sept. 1, since first round play is to begin Sept. 2. The entry fee is $5.00. A professional tournament director is being employed to direct the tournament in uptown style.

Callahan Says Book Required to Describe Rome

This is the last installment of a letter written by T-Sgt. A. G. Callahan to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McMickin, in which he tells of the Sights of Rome.

Going back into the time before the birth of Christ and the first and second centuries we visited the places that brought forth the history of those times. In the heart of the City one might see within the area of one mile most all of the structures. The Flavian Amphitheater or the Colosseum where the Christians were fed to wild animals to the delight of the public of the courts, of those times. The Roman Forum lies only two blocks away where the Roman Baths were located. Here the Public Officials of those times gathered for their baths and to pass the latest gossip of the day. Trajan's Column and Forum is located a few more blocks away and stands near the ruins of the Palace of Caesar's. Near here stands the Arch of Constantine through which the triumphant Roman Legions marched when they returned from battle during the grand days of the Greater Roman Empire. Overlooking all of this is Nero's Tower and Palace. We climbed the steps of this tower (287) to the height of nearly three hundred feet to view all of Rome. It was from this tower that Nero, according to history, sat and fiddled while Rome burned. Located in another part of the city far detached from this one finds the Castle Saint Angelo which has lasted the ages but is almost in ruin.

I mentioned before that all streets begin and end in a Piazza and usually you find either a monument or a fountain in the center of them. To name or describe all of the fountains one by one is too much to ask but Rome has always been noted for its many and lovely fountains. They represent the era when Rome was flowing with Gold and the culture of art was hers to offer to be copied to the world. Some of the monuments or fountains that one sees as they enter some of these Piazzas are: the Monument of Victor Emanuel II which is one of the largest memorials to one person in the world. In 1929 this monument was changed to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, but is remembered better by the first name. Popolo's Square and Monument is located near the center of town and most of the main streets of Rome begin at this point. Walking along the street for several blocks you run into the Column of Marcus Aurelius (an Egyptian monument) and the Portico Vetii. Most of the OLD WALL still stands with its Pias or Gates.

Vatican City and Saint Peter's Cathedral is a place of interest in many ways to anyone who enters this independent state. Vatican City is to the Catholic what Mecca is to the Mohammedan but to those who do not profess this denomination of faith there is still beauty, a splendor, and a feeling that is hard to state in facts. Saint Peter's Cathedral is one of the most majestic and artistic creations which I have witnessed in my travels through the old world. Since the liberation of Rome, the Pope has granted audience to the G. I.'s every day just about noon. He gives his blessings on the G. I.'s of Catholic faith and blesses their rosaries. He talks for a few minutes with all the G. I.'s there gathered no matter the faith. He speaks very good English and seems to be quite understanding though he gives the impression of being a lonely man.

Leaving the historical sights and the places of interest and talk of Rome as a City for a few minutes. War has hardly touched this City. Only has war shown its ugly face in the shortage of some types of food and the high prices (these I will quote later.) It is a beautiful city as a whole and very clean. It is the closest to a City in the States that we shall get to before returning home. The people dress identical to those in the States, their ways and manners are the same. Many of them speak English excellently and most of them have seen or lived in the States. It is not unusual to meet many of the social class which have sought refuge here from the war in Northern Italy. All of the stores are open, their shelves full and their windows with lavish display. The prices, a sad thing to quote, are out of this world. Bolts of dry goods are displayed in the windows of the stores with the prices ranging from $30 a yard for printed cotton material to $150 to $250 a yard for silk material. Dresses from $100 to $500 dollars, ladies sweaters suits from $70 to $150 each. Shoes for ladies which we would not pay over $5.00 are priced at $25.00 to $60 with men's shoes ranging in the same price range. Eggs are selling for 24 other food stuff is plentiful but high in cost. There are very few civilian cafes and restaurants in business in the City.

Rome is the rest city for all Allied troops both ground and flying. For the American G. I. there have been provided all the entertainment that he has been away from and has longed for so long. The Special Service Division of the Army is operating and supervising G. I. restaurants and Night Clubs. In these G. I. restaurants which there are over 20, one can get a complete meal minus the "C" rations for 10 cents served in the best style of any restaurant back home with dinner music provided to ease the nerves and rest the mind. Throughout the city there are G. I. Night Clubs equal in entertainment and music as well as the beauty and splendor of the above average night clubs at nome. The night clubs fall in two categories. Those for couples only and those where one is not required to escort a lady. There one might attend a lovely floor show with the highest of talent in the entertainment world providing excellent shows, the music is usually furnished by an Italian band but who rate in music playing along with their American brothers. The best of mixed drinks are served by waiters which surpass their American brothers in service and politeness. The average Roman girl possesses an alert mind which has enabled her to learn the American way of dancing and have proven to be excellent partners for the G. I.'s who love to dance.

This has been a brief and skippy description of five days in another world and what it looks like to someone who has been out of it. To many that have seen these sights both of the Air Corps and the ground troops that was the closest they got to being home again before they departed for another distant world.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging headaches, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, pinpoints under the eyes—hot tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Inset on Doan's, Sold at all drug stores.

5 Good Country Tricks for Saving More Used Fats

THIS year our domestic supply of fats and oils will be approximately one and one-half billion pounds less than last year. Right now, we are facing our worst fat shortage since the war began. To make up for this staggering loss, the government is depending on the women of America—and particularly women on farms and in smaller cities.

Every spoonful, every drop of fat is needed to help make battlefield and homefront essentials. So roll up your sleeves and do an all-out job, won't you? Clip this checklist and pin it up in your kitchen as a reminder.

- 1. FRIED SALT PORK—with milk gravy. Salt pork yields so much grease, you won't need it all for gravy. Pour the rest into the salvage can.
- 2. DEEP FAT FRYING—use the fat over and over, but when it's too dark and smelly to use any more, don't forget Uncle Sam wants it!
- 3. ROASTS AND CHOPS—save all trimmings (scraps from plates, too.) Keep them in a small bowl; once a week melt them down.
- 4. SAUSAGES—they're better if you parboil them first. Skim the fat off the cooking water—scrape the fat from the frying pan.
- 5. CHICKEN SOUP—chill it before you use it. Scoop off the hardened grease (soup tastes better, too!)

When the salvage can is full, take it to your butcher promptly. He will give you 2 red points and up to 4c for every pound of used fat you turn in.

Ever See Your Car BOTTOM-SIDE-UP?

Chances are, you haven't seen your car from this revealing position since the last time your modest Aunt Nellie lifted her skirts above her knees!

Brother, if you want to know the shocking facts of car-life, just sneak a look at your bus from underneath-up! And don't let a shiny hood fool you. It's what you usually can't see that can hurt you!

For instance, take that spring shackle, crummy and crusted with the mud and grime of miles of dusty roads . . . or that dry, rusty spring . . . or that rattled muffler, just hanging on by a thread . . . or that worn, bone-dry tie-rod.

There's plenty more you could see—plenty your Phillips 66 Service Station Man sees all the time. That's because it's part of his job to look underneath as well as over your car . . . to check and lubricate all those important mechanical parts that are so often out of mind because they're out of sight.

And he knows, probably better than anyone, just how important over-all, underneath lubrication is today! He knows that a loose nut, a broken pin or shackle, can often mean the loss of your car—and it may mean the loss of your life!

An awful lot of cars are going to wind up on the junk heap in the next few months. Don't let yours be one of them! Care for your car for your country! Wherever you see the Orange and Black Phillips 66 sign—drive in and let an expert take that added ounce of precaution which can mean so much to you.

as districts do not intend to vote themselves out of jobs. The people in those small districts like their representation and have no idea of voting it away. The boys in West Texas and the Panhandle can yell their heads off, but they can't muster enough votes to do anything. The result is that East Texas can have any legislation it wants. West Texas can be voted down every time.

There's enough population in West Texas for a new senatorial district between Amarillo and Lubbock and fully four representatives districts in Northwest Texas. That would even things up on votes in the house and senate. But the East Texas boys, who got established because they had the big population a few years ago, won't give up.

Approval Would Slam Door
 In the vast, borsome and ridiculous legislative session, which, of course, was dominated by the small East Texas districts, the legislature submitted a proposed constitutional amendment which would raise the pay of legislators from $10 a day for the 120 days they are in Austin every two years to $10 a day for 365 days of each year. This thing is up for a vote at the special election Aug. 25. We are to decide whether to pay our legislators approximately $600 a year each or $3,650 a year each.

If this amendment is approved, the legislators in East Texas will never allow the state to be redistricted. They will keep the balance of power and use it as they desire. The boys in that part of the state would certainly be in nice puddin' if we decided to pay them the handsome wage for managing things for us.

The only way we can ever get the state redistricted is to defeat the salary amendment and hold it over the heads of the legislators. We'll have to say: "No pay until the state is redistricted on a fair and honest population basis."

Give the Boys a Jolt

For 10 to 15 years there could be no legislation favorable to West Texas and the Panhandle unless it was sort of doled out as a token favor from the powerful East Texas bloc. The old war-provoking thing of "taxation without representation" was never more pronounced anywhere in the world than it is at the moment in the Panhandle and West Texas. And all we can do is raise our feeble voice against the unfairness. An overwhelming vote against the salary amendment could give the boys a jolt. But if they go to drawing $3,650 a year for 60 days of confusion in Austin—making it $7,300 for the term for representatives and twice that amount for senators—there won't be a chance to spread out the representation on a population basis.

Former Pastor To Conduct Revival

Rev. C. L. Bounds, former pastor, will conduct revival services at the Methodist Church in Estelina starting Sunday, August 26. The meeting will continue through Sept. 2, according to announcements this week by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Hawkins.

Mrs. Fern Payne will be in charge of the song services. Rev. Bounds was pastor at the church at Estelina in 1933 and 1934.

"We solicit the presence and cooperation of everyone," Rev. Hawkins said. "His message will prove inspirational, and I want to extend an invitation to all to attend this revival meeting."

Morning services will start at 10:30, and those in the evening at 8:30.
