Around Muleshoe

Friday night, the Muleshoe area recorded its first official freeze, when the temperature dropped briefly to 32 degrees.

Some small, tender vegetation was expected to have been affected by the freeze.

Rick Copp, vo-ag advisor from the Lazbuddie FFA, said the FFA is starting its annual sausage and peanut sale.

Corn Gold sausage is available for $7 for either three pound boxes of patties or two-and-a-half boxes of links.

Peanuts are on sale for $7 for a five pound box of shelled, raw peanuts; $7.50 for a five pound box of roasted, salted peanuts; $6 for a three pound box of shelled, roasted and salted peanuts; $4 for either a one and a half pound box of shelled, roasted and salted peanuts or for shelled, hot and spicy peanuts.

According to the Muleshoe school administration, the next four weeks are very special weeks in regards to the amount of state funding the school district will receive this year.

Under the provisions of House Bill 72, student accounting for state funding purposes is determined by taking the best attendance during four weeks in the fall and four weeks during the spring. The four week period for the fall has been designated as October 7-November 1.

Superintendent H. John Fuller said all students are encouraged to be in regular attendance during the entire school year, but especially during the four week period beginning this Monday.

Fire Prevention Week Underway

October 6-12, 1985 is Fire Prevention Week in Bailey County and across the nation, with the theme "Fire Drills Save Lives!"

According to Sam Harlan, president of the Bailey County Farm Bureau, everyone should not only conduct a fire drill periodically, but develop and practice a year-round fire prevention program.

Harlan said, "We are reminded each year by the National Fire Protection Association that careless smoking and faulty home heating systems are two of the leading causes of needless fire losses."

Fall signals the start of the home heating season. Check your heating equipment before the heating season gets too far along.

*Check furnaces, fireplaces, stoves and portable heaters. Service as necessary to avoid fire risk, excessive energy consumption and breakdown.

*Check flues and chimneys. If you burn wood, your chimney may need cleaning more often to remove creosote build-up.

*Provide adequate heaters away from combustibles and where they won't be bumped or tipped.

Careless use of smoking materials is a major cause of fire, causing many related deaths and injuries. These losses can be prevented:

"Do not smoke in bed, nor even while sitting on a chair or couch when you are sleepy.

"Many smoker-related fire victims or "starters" were intoxicated, causing them to drop a lighted cigarette onto a bed, upholstered furniture, rug, clothing, newspaper, etc. Refrain from smoking if drinking enough to affect alertness.

"Choose fire-resistant or treated upholstery, bedding, carpeting, clothing, etc.

"Have plenty of large ashtrays strategically placed--and use them. Make sure your smoke is "out" when disposing of it. Make sure, too, that butts are "out" before dumping an ash-tray into a waste-basket.

"Do not smoke in buildings or places containing burnables such as fuel, dry weeds or grass, hay, straw, chemicals, trash, etc. Make sure your smoke is "out" when you are in a woods or forest. Never toss away a lighted cigarette or match.

*Keep lighters and matches out of children's reach. Use the electric cigarette lighter in your vehicle rather than a match or pocket lighter as the flames can distract or momentarily blind

Circus Coming To Muleshoe October 27

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry!

The gigantic Ford Bros. Circus, said to be America's largest 5-ring Performing Wild Animal Circus is coming to Muleshoe with internationally known superstars presented in a widely varied program of almost two hours duration, according to Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

She said the circus will erect the huge canvas tent at the Boy Scout Grounds and shows are scheduled for 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, October 27, under the sponsorship of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

To make this program possible, a large number of skilled and accomplished performers and trained animals have been recruited from throughout the circus world.

Some of the acts and attractions lined up for this all-new production include Princess Angela and her trained but untamed jungle beasts; Captain Harry Locker and the performing black bears; the Dunderdales' unique balancing on the rola-bola; the world famous Flying Marquez Family on the trapeze; wire walkers; daring acrobats; the beautiful girls of the aerial ballet; and, of course, those masters of merriment, the Circus Clowns, along with herds of ponderous performing pachyderms.

"In all", added Mrs. Eagle, "the performance includes many feature displays that are packed with action from start to finish."

Special reduced-rate tickets are available from members of the Chamber board now through the day prior to Circus Day.

Whirlwinds Down Mules At Floydada

It was a beautiful night for football at Floydada on Friday night, but the Muleshoe Mules watched another possible victory go down in defeat.

Taking the opening kickoff, the Whirlwinds drove for 70 yards in nine plays, ending up with Hector Flores making a 23 yard ramble to paydirt in the end zone. The time was 8:11 of the first quarter. Quarterback Shannon Barbee booted through the PAT, and the Whirlwinds were on the scoreboard with a 7-0 score.

In the second quarter, just after the quarter began, a costly fumble by the Mules on their own five yard line, ended up with Wind Clay Lowrance making it into the end zone for the Whirlwinds second and final TD of the game.

Going into halftime, with a comfortable 13-0 lead, the Whirlwinds were elated, as they had broken a 20 game losing streak, as well as put their first points on the scoreboard for the year.

Mule defense tightened up even more in the second half, and following some outstanding plays by Sergio Leal and David Vela, including several hefty 'sacks' of quarterback Barbee, held the 'Winds out of the end zone for the rest of the game.

Mistakes continued to plague the Mules, however, until the final 38 seconds of the game, when Mule Quarterback Mike Holt connected with Todd Bessire in the end zone on an eight yard pass for the Mules second time to score this season.

An attempted pass for extra points failed.

A good sized crowd made the long drive to Floydada, and again the coaches and players expressed their appreciation to the local people who continue to back their efforts this year. "It means an awful lot to the players to see people in the stands backing them," said one of the coaches.

Next Friday night, the Mules will be hosting the Idalou Wildcats, who last Friday night, handed the Littlefield Wildcats a 20-14 defeat in a surprise upset.

Fine Arts Boosters Change Festival

According to Melba Irvin of the Muleshoe Fine Arts Boosters, during the past several years, the Fine Arts Boosters have sponsored the annual November event known as the "Harvest Festival."

She said the festival has been changed, effective this year, to be celebrated in February, with a Valentine theme, and has been renamed the "Sweetheart Festival."

"By holding this popular event in February, it is hoped that students and other interested persons will have more time to participate," added Mrs. Irvin. "Each fine arts department, including band, speech and art, will compete as they have in the past."

The boosters encourage other community groups, individuals, and civic organizations to become involved by entering a booth in the festival, for food, games, and entertainment. Their goal is to make this the biggest event ever, and to fill the Civic Center. The evening of family fun and good food will be concluded with a sweetheart coronation.

Early reservations for booth space will require a deposit of one half of the $25 rental fee. The Sweetheart Festival is scheduled for Saturday, February 1, 1986. For booth rental or any other information, contact Sherry Barrett at 946-3647.

Every year, the month of October is membership month for the Lions Club International, including the Muleshoe Lions Club. Muleshoe Lion Boss Chuck Smith said that in conjunction with the membership month, recent activities of the Lions Club are outlined for possible new members.

During recent months, according to Smith, the Lions Club has conducted a very successful broom sale, which is an annual event. This year it was headed up by Lion Ron Montgomery.

More recently, the Lions Club elected to break away from the annual fish fry at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria preceding the first football game, and change to chicken-fried steak. Lion Brock Sanders headed up the project which left all the Lions Club members smiling with the amount of funds raised from this event.

Currently, Lion James Atwood is heading up the annual shotgun giveaway. It will be presented to some lucky winner in December at the annual Pheasant Hunt breakfast, headed up by Lion Carroll Precure.

Muleshoe Lions conduct fund raising events for local and district projects, including the Muleshoe Fire Department, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. They

New Mule Cards

Going On Sale

At Muleshoe CofC

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture manager, Toni Eagle, has announced the arrival of 'Mule' occasion cards, just in time for the month of October. She commented, "October is a very important month for the Mule because it marks the 200th anniversary of the mule in the United States."

She added, "These cards are a direct product of Muleshoe and proudly declares the sender as a Muleshoe supporter."

"Each card was designed with a small mule as the central focal point, participating in a holiday-like activity."

"The idea originated in the Chamber. From an idea, came artist sketches from the GRAD Agency. Hellen Adrian and Neva Gray did an outstanding job on the art work. Bob Stovall did all the printing of the cards. The finished product is something that the Chamber is very proud of and invites everyone to see.

"At present time, the chamber has received the Birthday and Halloween greeting cards. Soon to be on hand are Anniversary, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine, St. Patrick's Day and note cards with the same type art."

"They will be on sale in the near future, concluded Ms. Eagle. "Take time to drop by the Chamber office and look at these very unique cards."

Lazbuddie's Longhorns were ready to play Friday night, when they tangled with the Clovis sophomores, and soundly defeated them, 22-12.

Trickle Irrigation Is Recommended For All Windbreaks

"The Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District is interested in the windbreak planter having a good survival rate and growth rate of the trees planted. The best way to insure this is with a trickle irrigation system," stated Carl Bamert, Chairman of the District. A trickle irrigation system applies a small, measured amount of filtered water, at a low pressure on top of the ground directly beside the tree through outlets called emitters. These emitters are calibrated to apply from one to four gallons of water per hour to the tree. Water requirements for new windbreak plantings are: 5 gallons per week per tree and 20 gallons per week per tree the third and fourth growing season. By this time the windbreak should be established.

Some of the advantages of trickle irrigated windbreaks are: 75% savings over conventional watering methods; less weeds because smaller area wetted; more uniform growth rate because there is no plant stress; and substantial savings in time and labor. The Blackwater Valley SWCD is concerned about water conservation and feel this is the best way to water windbreaks. We have entered into a dealer-ship with Submatic Irrigation of Lubbock and are able to provide a 20% discount to the windbreak planter. We also will have available irrigation kits for gardens, flower beds and shrubs. For more information about trickle irrigation systems contact the Blackwater Valley SWCD at 272-5124, 111 E. AARP Gives Support To State's Water Plan

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) today announced its support of the water resources financing referendum on Texas' November ballot, calling it "an important step to improved quality and conservation of our water supply."

Speaking for the Texas State Legislative Committee of AARP, James Lilly of Waco said, "AARP supports the approval of House Joint Resolution 6 and House Bill 2. This legislation addresses one of the most critical issues facing our state by authorizing additional state financing for the preservation and control of water resources. These measures are needed to maintain the quality of life for all Texans."

House Joint Resolution 6 --Proposition Nos. One & Two on the November 5, 1985 ballot --allows Texas voters to amend the Texas Constitution to allow for the sale of bonds, which would be used to finance various water projects throughout the state. House Bill 2 implements the provisions of the ballot measure if it is approved by the voters.

Mr. Lilly, the Chairman of AARP's State Legislative Committee in Texas, pointed out that "this legislation will provide financial assistance to water users in Texas and ensure water conservation, water quality protection, and flood protection. This financial assistance will be in the form of loans at the lowest possible interest rate."

"The tremendous growth that chance to maintain the quality of life in our state while allowing for our economic boom to continue. In the interests of all Texans, AARP urges a 'yes' vote for Proposition Nos. One and Two." SLC Chairman Lilly said.

The American Association of Retired Persons, a nonprofit organization, is the nation's largest aging group with over 19 million members nationwide and over 1 million members in Texas. AARP's 35,000 volunteers across the country run numerous programs and services for older persons.

Miss Isaac, Fitzgerald United In Marriage

The Immaculate Conception Catholic Church was the scene of a formal wedding ceremony Saturday, Sept. 28 at 5 p.m. uniting Miss Cynthia Isaac and Bryan Wayne Fitzgerald. Father Patrick Maher officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Isaac of Muleshoe and Dr. and Mrs. D.W. Fitzgerald of Albuquerque, N.M.

Cathedral tapers were placed on the altar and ribbons of burgundy and mauve flanked the altar. A kneeling bench, in front of the altar, was covered with a white cloth and decorated with green foliage. Bows of the bride's chosen colors, accented with miniature burgundy carnations and fern, marked the pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore an ivory gown of antique silk satin and English net trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace, Venice lace and schiffli embroidery, designed in a semi-buffant silhouette.

The satin and lace bodice was fashioned with a Victorian neckline enhanced with a lace cameo medallion adorned with pearls and crystal teardrops. The basque waistline of Alencon lace was outlined with tiny seed pearls and sugar beading. The renaissance sleeves featured handclipped lace medallions sprinkled with seed pearls and sugar beads to a petal point cuff. Epaulets of pearls and crystal teardrops were set at the mid arm of the sleeves.

The full satin skirt hemmed in Alencon lace and schiffli embroidery flowed into a cathedral veil with double blusher was attached to a hand rolled satin and Alencon lace tiara jeweled with beaded trim and crystal teardrops.

Her bouquet was a cascade of rubrum lillies, sweetheart roses, fresa, and alstroemeria, encircled with lemon leaf and ming fern.

In keeping with tradition, something new was her wedding gown, something blue was the traditional blue garter, something old were pennies with their birthdates, and something borrowed were pearl earrings from her mother.

Elizabeth Isaac was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Christine Isaac of Dallas, Debbie Isaac of Muleshoe, both sisters of the bride; and Cindy Barnes of Lazbuddie.

The bride's attendants wore cranberry gowns of Matte taffeta and schiffli embroidered English net. The bodice featured a Victorian neckline outlined in a dyed-to match schiffli embroidered yoke and collar with a natural waistline and layered petal ruffled short sleeves. The slim skirt with a shirred draped peplum at the back complimented their attire.

Their headpieces were pointed pillboxes covered in cranberry matte taffeta trimmed with Russian veiling and silk rosettes.

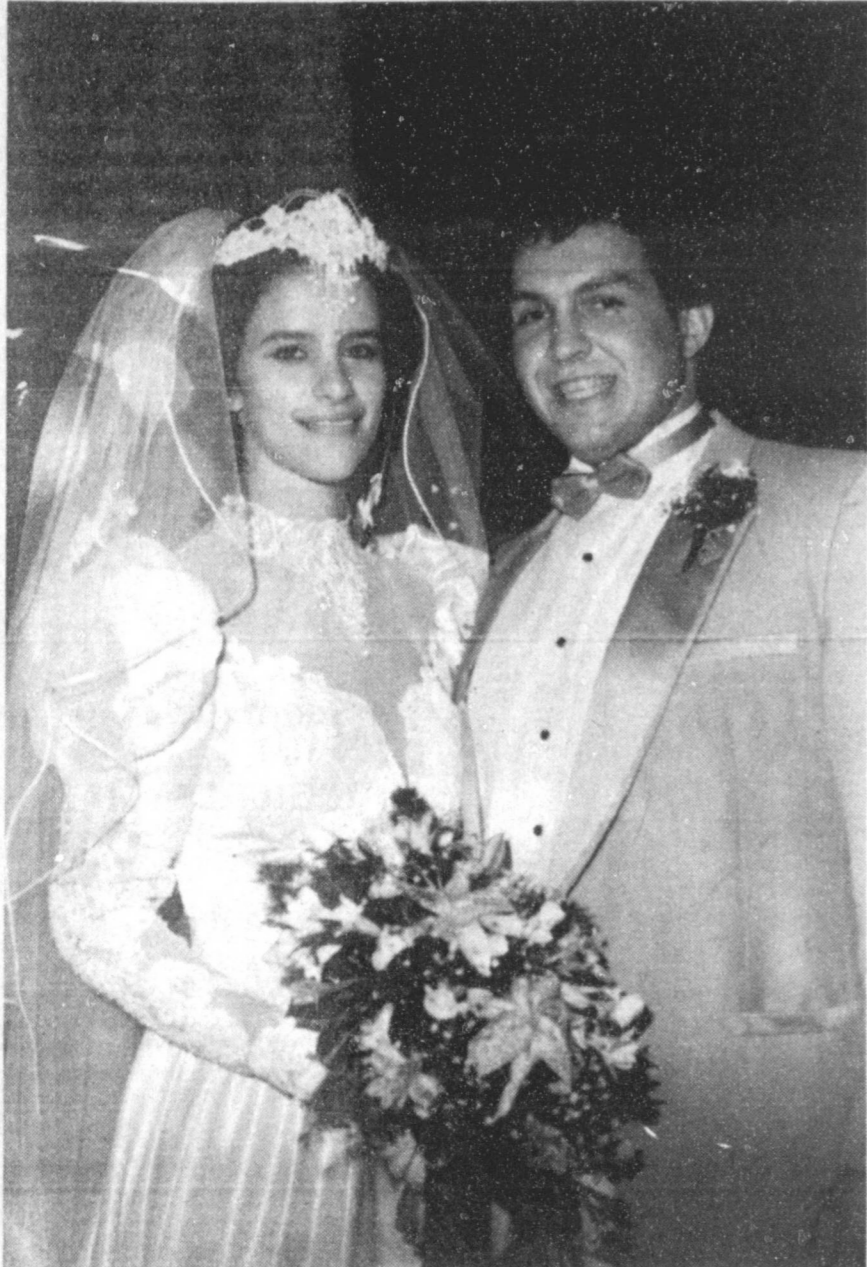

They carried cascades of dephne rose mums, American beauty roses, fresas and lillies trimmed with babys breath and satin streamers.

Jamile Hand of Friona, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore an antique ivory silk taffeta and Alencon lace gown fashioned in a full silhouette. The bodice was trimmed in lace forming the rounded neckline and petite lace edged puffed sleeves. The full skirt was in a shirred tier effect over a circular ruffle hemmed in Alencon lace. A taffeta sash with a butterfly bow was attached to the waistline.

She wore an ivory rose halo with silk satin streamers and carried a lace basket with petals and green fern.

Dr. Steven Fitzgerald of Chicago, Ill, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Isaac of Austin and John Isaac of Houston, brothers of the bride; and David Nufer of Albuquerque, N.M.

The bride's parents entertained wedding guests with a dinner reception at the Catholic Center following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white satin and held an arrangement of alstroemeria lillies, miniature burgundy carnations, star burst mums and gypsophilla in a silver and crystal epergne and candelabrum. The same flowers adorned the four tiered cake.

The broom's table was covered with an ecru cloth. Brass candelabra with swags of lemon leaf and fresh fruit extended to a copper tray holding the groom's cake, surrounded by fresh fruit and foilage.

The head table held an arrangement of rubrum lillies, white mums and burgundy apples, flanked by mauve tapers and crystal votives.

Burgundy and mauve satin tapers and votives enhanced the reception suite. On the guest book table was a hand embroidered cover with an arrangement of fresh flowers of mauve and burgundy carnations and star burst mums.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Dallas.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom on Friday night at the Civic Center. The bride graduated from Muleshoe High School and attended Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Lazbuddie FFA Youth To Receive National Honor

Sean Mason of Lazbuddie has been nominated to receive the American Farmer degree, highest degree presented by the National FFA organization. Sean was nominated for the degree by the Texas FFA association. The nomination was approved at a recent meeting of the National FFA Board of Directors in Alexandria, Va., virtually assuring the awarding of the degree.

One of 658 FFA members nominated for the American Farmer degree, Sean will receive the degree in a special ceremony on Friday, November 15, at the 58th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., pending a final vote of 114 student delegates representing nearly half a million FFA members.

Travel awards will be presented to American Farmer degree recipients to offset their travel expenses to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City. At the convention, each American Farmer degree recipient will be presented a gold key and certificate.

The American Farmer degree is much sought after because it is only presented to approximately one member in 600 of the 434,090 member organization. It is presented only by the National FFA organization to members who have demonstrated exceptional agricultural and leadership achievements.

Sean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mason of Lazbuddie and is currently farming in partnership with his dad and two brothers, Shane and Sheldon.

He earned the American Farmer degree on the basis of his supervised farming program which consisted of breeding sheep, breeding cattle, show lambs and swine and other farming operations. He was also very active in judging contests.

WJH Twirlers Receive Honors During Fair

Last weekend, Carren Gibson took her six twirlers from Watson Junior High to twirling competition at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock. Her twirlers brought home two first places: having won first in the dance team competition and first in the twirling competition.

Mrs. Gibson said the judge's comments included "nice routine, cute costumes, good tosses and nice personality projection."

According to the teacher / sponsor, only three of the girls had twirled before this year and this was the very first year for any of the girls to enter competition.

The twirlers also found only three minutes before the competition that they could not use the music they were used to and would have to do their routine to marching music. She grinned and said, "They won, anyway."

Twirlers included Sheila Garner, Amy Turner, Lupita Pineda, Michelle Dent, Michelle Gutierrez and Michele Holmans.

The twirlers perform at all home football games for the seventh and eighth grade, as well as pep rallies. They will be performing at home for the Idalou and Tulia football games.

expectant and nursing mothers about nutrition, care for themselves, and care for their newborn during and after pregnancy. One of the reasons I came to WPMC is because I wanted a chance to experience a whole realm of things and this is the place to do it. How many other places could you experience a birth, take care of an accident victim, an elderly person, a surgical patient, and handle a few emergency cases all in one eight hour shift???: I've learned a great deal about medicine, people, life/death, and myself since coming here in July, and I love it!" Rhonda commutes each day from Clovis so you might not see her around town much. You just might catch a glimpse of her grabbing a coke at Allsup's on the return trip home from work!

grass farm on Sandy Acres discusses the cost of ex-Presidents this week.

Dear editor:
According to an article I was surprised to run across the other day, the three living ex-Presidents cost the taxpayers $26 million last year.

In addition to the $86,200 pension each one gets, the government pays their office rent, telephone bills, postage bills, travel expense, Secret Service protection, and the cost of running their Presidential libraries.

One item especially caught my attention. Each ex-President last year spent an average of $9,000 for stamps. That'd cover about 40,000 letters. Most ex-Presidents, their power gone, don't wind up with 40,000 friends. They must have answered every one of those million-dollar give-aways from magazine subscription outfits everybody's mail is cluttered up with.

In addition to the $9,000 for stamps, one ex-President's telephone bill was $30,281. This is understandable. He had to call to see if each of his 40,000 letters arrived.

Moreover, it costs $20 million a year to operate the Presidential libraries now on hand. Have you stopped to think that if this country survives for a thousand years and every ex-President insists on having a library of his own, how many Presidential libraries there'll be scattered around the country, all at taxpayers' expense?

If the three ex-Presidents are costing $26 million a year, you can see what a mistake it was to pass that Constitutional Amendment limiting each one to two terms. It ought to be repealed. Let 'em serve as long as they can. A President in office costs less than one out of office.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Water Act Affects Farmer, Homeowners

Farmers and ranchers as well as homeowners have a direct stake in the 1985 Texas Water Act and the upcoming constitutional amendments.

The two amendments on water resources will be placed before Texas voters at the Nov. 5 general election.

The 1985 Texas Water Act focuses on water conservation in cities and in agriculture, water supply development, protection of bays and estuaries, flood control and the creation of ground water districts," points out Dr. John Sweeten with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Sweeten, an agricultural engineer in waste management and chairman of the Extension Service's major program committee on water utilization and conservation, notes that Article 1 of the Act calls for cities that apply for state water development funds to establish water conservation programs that can include education, drought contingency plans, lawn watering restrictions and plumbing codes. Municipal education and technical assistance programs would be provided by the Texas Water Development Board as well as other local and state agencies.

Article 2 outlines financial assistance programs and expands the existing water loan assistance program to allow expenditures for water conservation, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, chloride control and desalination in addition to water development and to allow direct appropriations as well as revenue bonds. State loans administered by the Texas Water Development Board could be used to guarantee local water bonds or pay the local share of federal cost-sharing projects.

According to Sweeten, Article 3 of the Act creates a $10 million Agricultural Soil and Water Conservation Trust Fund. Half of the interest on the principal is to be appropriated among various state agencies for agricultural water conservation programs, including technical assistance, education, demonstration, equipment, grants to underground water conservation districts, research, desalination and weather modification. A pilot farm loan program ($5 million for two years) will be used for improved irrigation systems that conserve water.

If voters approve Proposition 1 on Nov. 5, the state of Texas could issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds. Approval of Proposition 2 would mean that the state could issue $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds for low interest loans to farmers subject to legislative review of the $5 million pilot loan program and approved by two-thirds vote of both houses of the legislature. Technology for improving irrigation water use efficiency from about 60 percent on the average up to 80 to 95 percent is available to farmers, but capital costs generally present an economic obstacle to its adoption, says the agricultural engineer.

"The passage of the 1985 Texas Water Act would provide for a statewide commitment to water conservation and development programs that would have far-reaching effects on farmers and ranchers as well as homeowners," Sweeten points out. "It would open the door for more concentrated educational and research projects aimed at more effective municipal and agricultural use of the state's present limited water resources as well as the development of additional resources. Also, the current statutory limitations on interbasin transfer of water are maintained."

"Water problems have plagued many areas of the state in recent years due to drought conditions, population growth and increased per capita consumption," notes the engineer. "A year ago, towns and cities with two million Texans had to impose either voluntary or mandatory water use restrictions. Thus the need for a workable statewide water plan is paramount."

Experience is the mother of all things.
-John Florio.

Double License Plates Needed For All Vehicles

Some states require only that a vehicle have a rear license plate, but Texas law requires both front and rear plates.

The fine for not having both plates on your vehicle can range as high as $200.00, according to Department of Public Safety Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of Lubbock.

The DPS considers compliance with this law important, since it enables law enforcement officers to more easily identify your vehicle if they are attempting to locate you in case of emergency. Having both plates on a vehicle also will make it easier to locate if it has been stolen, Major Cawthon said.

If a person only has one plate, a new set of plates must be obtained from the local office of the county tax assessor-collector. The fee for a new set is $5.30. To get the new set of plates, the old single plate must be surrendered.

Some people once believed they could stop a rainstorm by throwing burning sticks into the air.
