Showers Benefit Some of Crops

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday marked the return of scattered showers for Hall County with amounts varying from an inch in Memphis to a few spots to more than an inch in others.

On farms around Estelline scattered showers hit Monday morning with an inch of rainfall, while that vicinity received at that time. Tuesday morning series of showers hit with farms between Memphis and Parnell benefitting.

It is reported that his farm received an inch of rainfall Monday, and that a mile away a light shower fell Friday morning, rain fell in the Parnell community. Theorists, who lives in that area, that he received two inches Tuesday and one inch Wednesday, to give his farm an inch of moisture.

The amount for the show-ers in Memphis, one Sunday morning, one Monday morning, and one Wednesday morning, was only .05 of an inch.

Though the showers were not enough here, other Panhandle counties reported fairly heavy rain. Potter County Armstrong County apparently received general rains the first of the week (continued on page 4)

Memphis Downed By Childress 10-6 In League Play-Off

Local Nine Eliminated; Quannah and Childress To Play Series for Title

The Memphis ball club hit "another one of those days," but failed to hit the ball often enough, and was downed by the Childress nine Sunday afternoon at Childress to eliminate the local team in the play-offs in the Red River valley league. The score was 10 for Childress, 6 for Memphis.

By winning, Childress gained the right to meet Quannah in the two of three series for the league championship. Quannah reached the finals by eliminating Wellington with a score of 5 to 4.

The first game of the series will be played in Quannah Sunday afternoon, with the second game on the following Sunday at Childress. Quannah will be slightly favored, having finished on top of the league with 10 victories and 4 losses. Childress finished in a tie for third with Wellington, with 8 victories and 6 losses.

In the Childress-Memphis game last Sunday, Memphis took a four run lead in the first two innings, and kept that lead until the 4th inning. Childress picked up two runs in the 4th, one in the 5th, and another in the 7th to even the score.

Memphis then went ahead again in the 8th by scoring two runs. In the last of the 8th, however, the Childress sluggers came out with blood in their eyes, removed O. B. Hoover with several hits, and scored six runs. Hoover was relieved by H. Stewart who walked his first two men to allow one of the scores.

Wayne Butler, pitching for the Childress nine, was the big man of the game. Butler, in addition to holding the Memphis batters in the pinches, hit safely four times in four trips to the plate. He hit a triple, a double, and two singles. For Memphis, Foster Watkins socked out two singles and a homer in five trips to the plate, and scored two of Memphis' six runs.

C. of C. Directors Decide to Retain Full-Time Manager

Committee Appointed To Work Out Details Of Financing Office

J. B. Crockett will be retained as manager of the Memphis chamber of commerce, directors of the organization decided at a called meeting Thursday afternoon of last week.

The question arose when the city council voted to discontinue paying the salary of a city industrial engineer. Crockett has been serving as both manager of the C. of C. and the city engineer.

Arrangements are now being made whereby the manager's salary can be paid. Horace Tarver, president of the C. of C., said this week. Tarver has named T. J. Dunbar, Tommie Potts, Temple Deaver, and James F. Smith as a committee to work out the details for financing the pay for a manager.

"The chamber of commerce must of necessity have an active manager if the city is to continue to progress," Tarver said. "We were without a manager for several years, and the results were extremely bad for the city in general. There is much work now being done, in addition to that already accomplished since the employment of the present manager, and we cannot allow this work to be dropped or dragged out. Memphis must have and will have a full-time chamber of commerce manager."

Voting Is Expected To Be Relatively Heavy in County

Nominees for Two Local And Four State Offices To Be Chosen Saturday

A relatively heavy vote for a second primary, yet not nearly so large as in the first primary slightly less than a month ago, is expected to be cast in Hall County Saturday when voters trek to the polls to determine the remainder of their public officials.

Highlighting the interest in county politics is the campaign for that of Hall County sheriff. Two veterans, Joe L. Mothershed and Earl E. Hill, are seeking the office. Mothershed led the ticket in the first primary, with Hill second, and Forrest L. Hall third.

The only other county office being sought is that of commissioner of precinct 4, where I. R. Twilla, incumbent, is opposed by J. B. Bush. Bush led the ticket in the race in the first primary, with Twilla second, and Gordon Hedrick third.

The Democrat will have an election party at the office Saturday night, with returns being posted as soon as they are phoned or brought in by the election judges of the various precincts.

The party is expected to get underway shortly after the polls close at 7 o'clock. H. H. Montgomery, co-publisher of The Democrat, said James E. King, county Democratic executive committee chairman, will be in the office, and has requested all precinct judges to phone their reports in as soon as the votes are tallied. Election judges are requested to call The Democrat, No. 15, collect and give the reports to the person answering the telephone.

In the state races, Beauford Jester, who wound up top man in the first primary, is in the run-off with Homer P. Rainey. Jester is at present one of the railroad commissioners of the state, and Rainey is well-known as the deposed president of the University of Texas.

For lieutenant governor, Allan Shivers of Jefferson County, for 12 years a member of the Texas Senate, is seeking the office; his opposition is Boyce House of Tarrant County, the well-known author and newspaperman. Shivers was top man in this race in the first primary, when five candidates were campaigning.

J. E. McDonald, incumbent, who has held the office of commissioner of agriculture for a number of terms, is seeking reelection; to add to the confusion, voters chose R. E. McDonald of Travis County to run against J. E. in next Saturday's primary.

The other race is that between Jesse Owens of Wilbarger County and Tom L. Beauchamp of Smith County, who are in the run-off in the race for judge of the court of criminal appeals. Beauchamp now holds that office.

ist Groups Camp Property Camping Site

Grounds Near Wellington Purchased; S. J. Hamilton Named as Director

The North Fork and Panhandle Agricultural Associations has voted to purchase the old country club property, located approximately 1 mile northeast of Wellington, to be used as a permanent camping site by churches of this district. The First Baptist Church of Memphis is a member of the Panhandle association.

Final negotiations for purchase of the camp site were made at a meeting of church representatives of the two associations in Quail. Rev. Edward C. Derr, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Shamrock, was elected as camp director for the coming year, with Dan Belta, Lefors Baptist Church, as associate director.

Secretary-treasurer chosen was Rev. Guy Killian of Quail; delegate at large and chairman of the board of trustees, Rev. Henry Davidson of Wellington; trustees, Sam J. Hamilton, Memphis, R. A. Smith, Turkey, from the Panhandle Association, Duward Price, Shamrock, and O. B. Raburn, North Fork Association.

The grounds are well shaded and covered with grass, while the swimming pool used by the club is still in good condition. The pool was cleaned out this summer, and provided a popular form of recreation for the youthful campers.

A tentative contract has been drawn up with the owners, Pink Sullivan and Gene Lewis, both of Wellington, who bought the tract after the club was dissolved as an organization several years ago.

William Wiseman, the father of Mrs. Joe Miller and Mrs. Bill Miller of Memphis, died at Claude August 10. Wiseman was 68 years of age at the time of his death and a pioneer resident of Claude, having lived there for 39 years.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Claude August 12, with Wiseman's former pastor, Rev. Jeff Moore of Memphis officiating, assisted by Rev. Aubrey C. Haynes, pastor of the Methodist Church of Memphis.

Wiseman had visited in Memphis a number of times with his daughters and is known to many people here.

Wheat Insurance Applications Due

August 31 is the deadline for applying for government insurance on the 1947 wheat crop, Lynn L. McKown, Hall County ACA secretary, reminded farmers this week.

This year, the county's wheat crop of about 9,000 acres was the largest ever produced here, and the crop turned out as one of the best ever produced.

STINNETT RESIGNS POLICE CHIEF POSITION; NO SUCCESSOR NAMED

H. M. Stinnett, who has been serving as chief of police in Memphis since March 14, resigned that position, effective August 16, members of the city council have announced.

Stinnett, who succeeded the late Ed McCreary in the office, stated in his resignation to the council that he planned to enter private business.

City Secretary D. L. C. Kinard stated Tuesday that no successor to Stinnett has as yet been named by the council.

Stinnett, who served as night watchman here for several months before being appointed as chief of police, has been a resident of this area for the past 28 years. He spent a period of four years, however, in Antlers, Okla., where he served as deputy sheriff, and returned to Memphis from Oklahoma in 1943. He was appointed chief of police here when the late Ed McCreary resigned to devote his entire time to his candidacy for sheriff. McCreary died suddenly a few weeks after his resignation.

Four Memphians To Attend CAA Meet in Childress

Official to Outline Aid Government Will Give In Developing Airport

Four Memphians will attend an area meeting called by the Civilian Aeronautics Administration in Childress Tuesday morning of next week, and will hear governmental plans for airports throughout the U. S. outlined.

The four to attend the meeting are Lewis Foxhall, James F. Smith, Wendell Harrison, and J. B. Crockett.

J. D. Church, head of the state's western division of the CAA whose office is in Big Spring, will be in Childress to address the group, it was announced. Between five and ten counties are expected to send representatives to the meeting.

It is planned now by the CAA to accept claims from the various towns and cities for federal aid in the construction of the airports. The amount of aid to be given by the government will be outlined.

Survey of the airport land was completed this week, and officials expressed the belief that the bonds would arrive back from Austin this week. The bonds were sent to Austin to be counter-signed by the comptroller general of the state.

Two or three applications for leasing the land have been received, officials said, although no definite action has been taken on any of the offers. The plan is to lease the land to qualified flying instructors, with the provision that the field will be maintained by those leasing it and that it will remain open to all air traffic.

Those to lease the land will aid in the construction of the runways and the necessary buildings, and will conduct a flying school. The school will be open to the public, but will be set up mainly for World War II veterans, who may obtain the flight training through the government education program of the GI bill of rights.

Free Will Baptist Revival Success

The meeting at the Free Will Baptist Church in Memphis is meeting with great success, Rev. S. M. Ziegler, pastor, said this week.

The revival is being conducted by Rev. Gwynn of Oklahoma City. Services are being held each evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Trade at Home Campaign Gets Underway; Buy Here Is Theme

The "Trade at Home" campaign began on schedule last Thursday and is now well underway, J. B. Crockett, manager of the Memphis chamber of commerce, sponsors of the drive, said this week.

"Merchants of the city are getting behind the movement," Crockett said, "and we believe the campaign will be of great benefit to Memphis and Hall County."

Signs have been posted in the windows of the business houses to remind all citizens of the campaign. The drive to keep Hall County and Memphis dollars in Hall County and Memphis will continue for one month.

The campaign is the result of an effort by the C. of C. to aid in building up the city. It was explained. Many citizens have been down to do trading at other cities, mainly through thoughtlessness on the part of most of them.

"In Memphis and the other towns of Hall County, our citizens can find practically the same merchandise as that in other places," Horace Tarver, president of the C. of C., said. "We

Memphis to Have 3 School Bands

Three bands will be formed for the regular school year in the Memphis public schools, Perry I. Keyser, band director, said this week.

Keyser explained that there will be a junior high beginning band, a high school beginning band, and a regular high school band. All of the bands will hold their rehearsals in the bandhouse on the high school grounds.

Two First Bales Bring in Premium Of $115 to Owners

A purse of $115 was divided between the owners of the first two bales of cotton ginned in Hall County, one of which was brought in Tuesday of last week and the second Wednesday.

First prize of $69 went to Homer Bell of Estelline, and second prize of $46 to Barney Burnett of near Memphis. In last week's Democrat, it was stated that W. F. Stevens was farming the land which produced the second bale, but Stevens merely brought in the bale for Burnett, who is farming the H. E. Tarver place.

The premium money was raised by Clyde Fowler, and was donated by the Memphis chamber of commerce and a number of other business men.

Rotary Governor To Be in Memphis

W. A. Stephenson of Abilene, district governor of the 127th Rotary Club district, will speak before members of the local group Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, it was announced this week.

The night meeting will take the place of the regular Tuesday noon meeting, members said.

Stephenson is now assistant dean at Hardin-Simmons University, and served there as an associate professor of government for a number of years.

The Advantages

S. S. Montgomery, pioneer Hall County citizen who is now chairman of the board of the First National Bank in Memphis, made the following statement this week in regard to trading at home:

"Does the outside fellow help you when misfortune comes to you? Does he sympathize with you and help you bury your dead? No!

"Your local friends come to your assistance, your local merchants help to pay the taxes and make the subscriptions which build our churches and schools and town. If he wasn't here to serve you, it would be extremely unhandy and costly to go away from home to get the merchandise you need.

"Help the fellow who helps you build a community in which you live, and of which you can be proud."

Peace, Sweet Peace

Are you tired and worn out? Do you feel drowsy and non-cooperative? Is getting up nights getting you down? Etc.

If so, then take heed of this article, one of many which reaches The Democrat often each week, but one this time which tells us how not to get tired.

The article, written by Charles Davis of Cape Cod, Mass., tells us that our emotions can be divided into two classes; those that disturb us (a), and those that satisfy us (b).

Now those which disturb us (a) are anger, sadness, fear, anxiety, ambition, envy, malice, jealousy, vanity, avarice, hate, worry, annoyance, sorrow, seclusiveness, faint-heartedness, pedantry, servility, moodiness, hard luck, and boastfulness, and all of these things are based on unworthiness, unsocial goals, and cause us to get tired.

But those which satisfy us (b) are cheerfulness, joy, laughter, smiling, sympathy, understanding, modesty, love, affection, and being a fellow-man, any of which are based on worthwhile, social goals, and thus cannot cause one to get tired, for they are pleasing and peaceful.

Now all we have to do, says Mr. Davis, is to reduce the times and lengths of (a) to longer and longer intervals and thus reduce the number of times we are tired. We can increase (b) as much as we want and never get tired.

In other words, he says, we can eliminate (a) to such an extent that we will never be tired, and here's how:

First we must understand the above (editor's note—which we don't already), we must be fully convinced of its truth (editor's note—which we aren't) or we won't understand, and we must want to attain the goal set forth above (editor's note—not sure that we do), and we must train, train, train (editor's note—now he calls for more work).

But Mr. Davis says that he has trained himself to the point where he seldom ever is disturbed by (a), thinks only of (b), with the result that no matter how long nor how hard he works, he is never tired.

The more we think about what Mr. Davis says, the more wonderful—about Mr. Davis, that is.

TIRED? SO ARE WE NOW

NO APPLICATION FORMS FOR LEAVE PAY RECEIVED YET BY POST OFFICE

No application forms for veterans to use in applying for terminal leave pay, recently authorized by Congress, have been received by the local post office as yet, officials said this week.

Some of the larger cities have received the forms, according to stories in newspapers, and the forms are expected to arrive here within the next few weeks. Wichita Falls received the forms Tuesday according to a report from that city.

Here's some questions and answers on how veterans will collect the terminal leave pay:

Q. Who is eligible?

A. Discharged enlisted men and women who served after September 8, 1939; former officers part of whose service was in the ranks; and officers and enlisted men still in service who on September 1, 1946, have between 61 and 120 days leave to their credit.

Q. How do they apply?

A. Obtain application forms from local post office, fill out and notarize, mail along with discharge certificate to one of paying offices designated in instruction sheet.

Q. How will payment be made?

A. By mail.

Q. In what form?

A. If less than $50 total, by treasury check. For larger amounts, by bonds in multiples of $25, with the balance by check.

Q. When will forms be available?

A. Probably within 45 days.

Q. When must applications be filed?

A. By September 1, 1947.

Q. Are the bonds negotiable or transferable?

A. No, but they may be used to pay premiums, loans or conversion costs on government or national service life insurance.

Q. Must original discharge certificate or certificate of service be submitted?

A. No. A true copy certified by an authorized state or local official or a photostatic copy will suffice.

Q. Suppose the original has been lost or destroyed?

A. A "certificate in lieu of discharge" may be obtained from one of the following: Adjutant General of the Army, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis, Mo.; Chief of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, 25, D. C.; Director of Personnel, Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, 25, D. C.; or Commandant of Coast Guard, Washington, 25, D. C.

Q. Can a veteran who served both as an enlisted man and an officer collect for leave time accumulated when in the ranks?

A. Yes, within the overall maximum of 120 days.

Q. When may the bonds be cashed?

A. Five years from date they bear. This will be the first day of the quarter following the quarter in which the individual was separated from service.

Q. If a veteran held several different ratings when in service, which governs the rate of payment?

A. Payment will be at the rate in effect at the time of last separation from service. Those still on active duty will be compensated for at the last enlisted grade or rating held.

Q. If a veteran has died since leaving service, may his survivors collect?

A. Yes, they will be paid in full by check.

Q. How about those adjudged insane or otherwise incompetent?

A. Their guardians may collect entire amount by check.

Q. Who will help fill out forms?

A. Any of 3,000-odd veterans community information or advisory centers, or any state or county veterans service officer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ferrel Sr. attended the Golden Wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kelly in Childress Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lee and family, who have been in Memphis for the past month working at the White Auto Store while the Carl Lees were on vacation, returned to their home in Coleman, Okla., this week.

Wyatt, national housing expediter and administrator of the national housing agency, displays the sign which will identify for veterans and servicemen all construction under the veterans emergency housing program. The placards will be posted within five days after construction begins and for a "specified" period after construction.

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

Jesus and Pure Living. Lesson for August 25: Exodus 20:14; Proverbs 4:14-23; Matthew 5:8; Philippians 4:8.

Memory Selection: Proverbs 4:23.

With the commandment against adultery are given in the present lesson references to other forms of immorality. We are to avoid the path of the wicked. We cannot always escape temptation, but we can keep as far as possible from the way of temptation. Do not visit places of evil and court temptation.

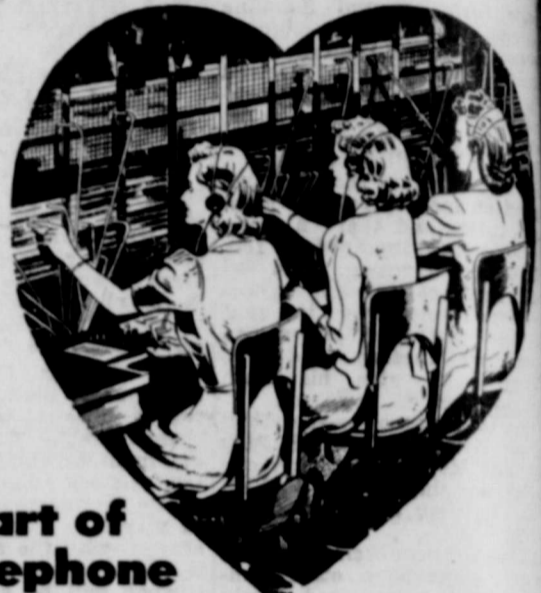

It is better to learn of wicked things from a distance. Hear the words of the wise man of old concerning the insidious nature of vice. "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." The writer saw an old-time watering trough filled with muddy water. Nearby a hog was lying supinely in the spring from which the water came. Cleanse the fountain of life and the stream that issues will be pure and clear. As a man "thinketh in his heart, so is he."

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Nothing can better prepare a man to see God and know Him than purity of motive with regard to all things. And with age will come not a dimming of sight but a growing perception of the good.

In the great passage of Paul in Philippians we find practically all the things requisite to lofty Christian character. If we think on these things we can attain unto them by the grace of God. If we follow the lesson text, we shall come into the joy and happiness of temperate living.

FAMILY MAKES HOME IN JAIL... When Sheriff Lyman D. Chaplin, Appletton, Wis., had to evict Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brunette and their nine children, he invited them to stay in the Outagamie county jail until they could find another place to live. They are shown in their new "apartment."

Heart of Telephone Service

The vital spot of all telephone service is the highly complex central office equipment. Much of this equipment will continue to be scarce for some time. This is the principal reason why we still cannot provide telephone service for everyone still waiting. However, we will provide service just as speedily as equipment becomes available to us.

Survey Indicates That 17 Per Cent Of Teaching Positions in State Open

The Texas State Teachers Association has just completed a survey to determine the number of teaching positions now vacant that must be filled by September 1 if schools are to open with a full staff of teachers.

Replies were received from 813 superintendents representing 35,958 teaching positions or approximately 75 per cent of all the teachers in Texas. Out of this number, it was disclosed that there are 4,324 positions now vacant or 12.7 of the total. The picture is much worse for rural schools. The survey disclosed that in these schools there were more than 17 per cent of all positions vacant. The larger cities were affected the least by vacancies. Most of them have been able to provide salary increases for teachers this year due to the increased per capita apportionment for the coming school year.

It is evident that unless salaries are increased substantially by increased local and state support that the schools of Texas may soon find one-tenth of their classrooms vacant, association officials said.

The legislative program of the Texas State Teachers Association for 1947, according to President Elizabeth Koch of San Antonio, would be to secure better state support for the purpose of increasing teachers' salaries. She said, "This is a must on our legislative agenda. The program should be supported by every citizen in Texas because our situation is more acute today than at any time since 1941, and it appears that the situation is growing worse each year."

Here's Right Way To Preserve Eggs

Fresh eggs, now seasonally abundant, can be frozen successfully for future use if a few simple steps are followed in preparation and packaging. Gwendolyn Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College extension service, offers the following suggestions to homemakers:

Use fresh clean eggs. Break them into a clean bowl and beat or churn them thoroughly until the yolks are broken and well mixed with the whites. Beating prevents gumminess of the yolk during storage. However, be careful not to whip in air. Whites may be separated from the yolks and packaged without churning, but the yolks should be slightly.

If eggs are to be used for cakes or sweets, add one teaspoon sugar, corn syrup, or honey for each cup. If they are to be used for scrambled eggs or salad dressing, add one teaspoon salt for each cup.

Plain tin is the most desirable container for eggs. Air-tight and leak proof paper cartons also may be used. Freeze in small amounts so that they can be used soon after thawing. One good way to have small amounts of frozen eggs is to use a refrigerator tray. Put about three tablespoons of the egg mixture in each cube section. Quick freeze, then wrap each cube in cellophane. Several wrapped cubes may be packaged in one carton or bag. Small paper cups may be used as molds instead of the ice cube tray. After wrapping and freezing, store at zero degrees Fahrenheit. When using: one tablespoon yolks equals one egg yolk, one and a half tablespoons whites equals white from one egg.

Here's Some Information About The Boys Who Fired Rainey----

The Board of Regents that fired Dr. Homer P. Rainey was dominated by Texas Regulars and one Republican—all of whom represent large corporate interests in Texas.

Here is the background of those who voted to fire Rainey as President of the University of Texas:

ORVILLE C. BULLINGTON of Wichita Falls. Leader in the Republican Party. Candidate for governor on the Republican ticket in 1932. Manager and one of the principal heirs of Kemp & Kell properties, with interests in railroads, banks, flour mills, and other businesses. President of the Kemp Hotel Company. Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Wichita Falls and Southern Railroad, etc.

D. FRANK STRICKLAND of Mission. Lawyer and professional lobbyist for Interstate Theaters, the largest theater chain in Texas. Legal council for many other corporations. Active in 1944 as a Texas Regular.

DAN J. HARRISON of Houston. Big-time independent oil man and cattle baron. Sold large holdings to the Magnolia oil company in 1944 for a reported $27,000,000. Supporter of Republican presidential candidates Landon and Wilkie and of the anti-Roosevelt Texas Regulars.

W. SCOTT SCHREINER of Kerrville. Another Texas Regular. Merchant, capitalist, banker, ranch owner. Owner of Bluebonnet Hotel. President of Schreiner Wool & Mohair Company. Director of San Antonio National Bank of Commerce and the Frost National Bank of San Antonio. Director of the Longhorn Portland Cement Company.

H. H. WEINERT of Seguin. A Texas Regular. Banker, oil operator, ranchman, corporation executive. President of H. H. Weinert, Inc. President of Seguin Bank and Trust Company. President of Texile Oil Company, Trio Oil Company, and Diamond Half Oil Company. Director of Burrus Mill and Elevator Company.

H. J. LUTCHER STARK of Orange. Multi-millionaire capitalist and financier. President of Sabine Hotel Company. President of Lutchter and Moore Lumber Company. President of First National Bank of Orange, and an officer or director in at least nine other lumber, oil and finance enterprises.

The only woman member of the Board of Regents, MRS. I. D. FAIRCHILD of Lufkin, voted to keep Rainey as president. She is a housewife, widow of a former state senator. She has no corporate connections.

The chairman of the Regents at that time—JOHN H. BICKETT of Dallas—also voted not to fire Rainey. He is general council for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The ninth member of the board, the late DR. K. H. AYNESWORTH of Waco, was ill when the Regents met to fire Rainey. He did not attend the meeting and no vote was recorded for him.

NO Buy New Pressure Cooker? Here's Some Ideas

With pressure cooker sauce pans coming to the market, housewives may find it hard to decide what type to buy. Myrtle Murray, home industries specialist for the Texas A. and M. College extension service, offers the following suggestions:

The advantages of cooking with steam are well known, says Miss Murray. It saves fuel, and meat and vegetables cooked under steam pressure can be cooked in about one-fourth the time it takes to cook them by other methods.

In buying a pressure sauce pan ease of operation is a primary consideration. It depends largely on the seal—on the way the cover is closed so that it's steam-tight.

In one type of pan on the market, the flexible lid is sealed with a spring. In another type a flexible band is used to clamp the lid to the pan. A third seal is a bayonet type of lock. For sealing this type the handles must be brought into parallel position and locked with a slight turn.

Miss Murray says that either aluminum or stainless steel is satisfactory for a pressure cooker sauce pan. Any construction that makes the sauce pan hard to clean should be avoided. Where there's a rubber gasket, it should be resistant to cooking oils and fats.

If a utensil in which an entire dinner can be cooked at once is desired, a four-quart cooker will be adequate for the average family of four. If it will be used for meats alone or vegetables alone, a three-quart or smaller size will do.

Showers Benefit—

part of this week, and Tuesday Cottle County was benefitted by about three inches of moisture.

Accompanying the showers in Hall County was generally cooler weather, giving cotton and feed at least a breathing spell from the hot days of the past few weeks.

Low temperature for Memphis was hit Tuesday night, when the thermometer dropped to 67 degrees. High for the past four days was on Sunday afternoon, shortly before a light shower fell, when the thermometer rose to 106 degrees, according to a report from J. J. McMickin, local weather observer.

Most of the nights this week have been pleasantly cool, and the temperature during the usually hot afternoons was pleasant both Monday and Tuesday. Clouds have hovered over the county most of this week to make conditions a bit more optimistic over crop prospects, but practically all farmers agree that from three to five inches of moisture is needed now for all types of crops.

Survey Reveals One of Three Cars In Texas Faulty

Approximately one out of every three cars on Texas' streets and highways is being operated with dangerous mechanical defects which are placing thousands of lives in jeopardy, it was announced this week by the Texas Safety Association.

This condition was revealed by the police traffic safety check conducted from May 15 to June 30 under the direction of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. More than 38 thousand vehicles were examined by police in Texas. Of these, 37.2 per cent, more than one-third, had obvious and hazardous defects.

Faulty lights, both front and rear, accounted for approximately one-third of the total defects reported by type, and inadequate windshield wipers were the next commonest type.

A total of 38,565 vehicle checks, primarily of vehicles involved in traffic violations or accidents, were made. Of this number, 14,378 had one or more defects. The total number of defects reported by type was 29,249—almost one dangerous defect for every car examined.

Scholarship Given To Childress Girl

IN ATOMIC WILDERNESS . . . The only atoms that concern this young man are those of food he hopes to get as he sits and waits among the ruins of Hiroshima, nearly a year after the bomb that was heard around the world exploded there.

Miss Virginia Sue Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Gibson, Childress, has been awarded one of the 17 Fannie Breedlove Davis scholarships to Mary Hardin-Baylor College in the final selection. The scholarship is valued at $160.

Miss Gibson is a 1946 graduate of Childress High School, where she has been active in many phases of school life. She plans to work toward the vocational certificate of approval in bookmaking at Mary Hardin-Baylor College so that she can take home economics on graduation. The Fannie Breedlove Davis scholarships are given annually in competition to outstanding graduates of high schools who have been recommended by their school principals and people in their communities for character, scholarship, and ambition. They are named in honor of the late Mrs. Fannie Breedlove Davis, former student of Mary Hardin-Baylor College, who was instrumental in founding the Woman's Missionary Union of Texas and who was prominent in the south-wide organization.

Jap Photos Just Released Show Horrors of Nagasaki 20 Hours After A-Bomb Hit

Woman air warden stands near burned body. Flash burns caused third of deaths; radiation, a fifth.

This was Nagasaki's main street 20 hours after blast. First official U. S. damage report, made public last month, concluded that most of our cities could not stand up to atomic bomb much better than Nagasaki.

Red Cross worker treats burn case on spot. Almost every living thing within 2 miles of burst died.

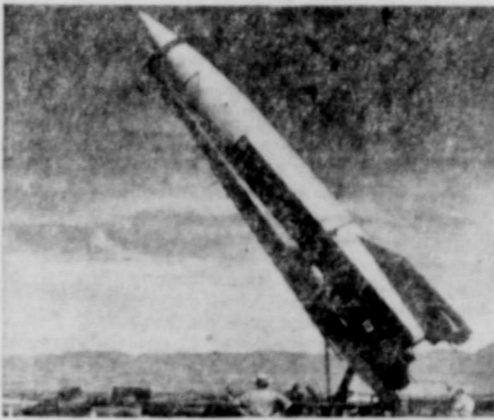

Nagasaki mother, with bad wound on face, nurse dying child. Casualties totaled 80,000.

Pictures Show Highlights of Atomic Year One

The atomic age opened July 16, 1945, with the New Mexico test of the bomb (1). A few hundred picked observers saw it. A year ago, at Hiroshima (2), the first war bomb left 160,000 dead and injured. At Nagasaki (3) a few days later casualties were 80,000. Only other atomic explosions have been in two Bikini tests (photo 4 shows first one), scored by atomic scientists as long on showmanship, short on science. Along with others, scientists are observing Hiroshima anniversary with pleas for controls to end all use of bomb.

The most lethal way to deliver an A-bomb is by rocket. Army trials of German V-2 type (above) brought assurances by the end of Atomic Year I that the day of long range atomic rockets is almost here. Scientists know of no defense.

All through the year scientists emerged from their laboratories to speak up on political aspects of atomic energy. Photo (from August March of Time) shows Albert Einstein with Harold Urey (left) and Leo Szilard, all active in fight to control the bomb.

Biggest issue of Atomic Year I was international control. U. S. plan, presented to UN Atomic Commission by Bernard Baruch, drew counter proposals from Russia's Andrei Gromyko (shown above reading his plan; Baruch at right). Most observers expected final compromise.

Drive for civilian control of atom in U. S. was led by Sen. Brien McMahon (D., Conn.).

After directing Los Alamos bomb laboratory, Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer helped draft State Dept. proposals.

Pantex Site Sale To Be Held Soon

With the War Assets Administration's site sale program gathering momentum, the latest such sale toward bringing the program into full swing is one scheduled at the Pantex Ordnance Plant, Amarillo, for August 26 through September 9.

The sales method is similar to that employed by a manufacturer's representative, in that samples are displayed, with all prospective purchasers thus given the opportunity to inspect prior to purchases. But, contrary to the established commercial policy, WAA insists that, in cases where there is more than one of any item, the least desirable piece be put on display as a sample, assuring the buyer that when he buys in quantity, he will receive merchandise in no worse condition than that shown him.

The merchandise to be sold at Pantex includes textiles, electrical equipment, hardware, paper products, furniture, office equipment, and furniture and machinery. The textiles range from mattress covers to asbestos suits. In the electrical line, buyers will find everything from switches to power plants; and if you're interested in carpenter tool sets, scales, ice-chests, manure forks or sand blast cabinets, they can be found among the hardware. There is the usual assortment of furniture and office equipment, and the machinery includes such items as chlorinators, concrete mixers, balling machines, and portable conveyors.

Lakeview Revival Attracts Crowds

The meeting at the Lakeview Baptist Church got off to a good start last Sunday, Rev. L. M. Clements, pastor, said this week. "Good crowds are attending the services, and we are hearing good gospel preaching and good singing," the pastor said. "The pub-

He is invited to attend all services." The revival, scheduled to open August 11, was postponed for one week, opening August 18, due to the fact that the evangelist, Rev. L. S. Ginkins of Wink, was unable to be in Lakeview on the earlier date. Services are being held each morning at 10:30 o'clock, and at 8 in the evening. The revival will close September 1. Mrs. Roy McCraw and son Frank returned Friday from Ponca City, Okla., where they visited with Mrs. McCraw's sister, Mrs. A. J. Russell.

Price Decontrol Board Restores Ceilings on Meat Products

Dairy Products, Grain to Remain Free of Control

Restoration of price ceiling on all meats will go into effect Friday, following the decision made by the price decontrol board created in recent legislation which also revived the once-dead OPA. The board announced its decision Tuesday night.

Dairy products and nearly all grains will remain free of ceiling prices, the board decided, but price controls were restored on soy beans and cottonseed products.

The OPA and the department of agriculture will determine the ceilings on the re-controlled items, it was announced. The decontrol board members stated, however, that the ceilings will be "at or close to June 30 levels."

Many authorities condemned the action of the board, stating that this action will merely cause the black market in meat products to flourish once more. Memphis meat dealers went on record early in July as opposed to the price ceilings, stating that permanent price removal was the only solution to combatting the black market.

The board also authorized the revival of June 29 subsidy payments on meats and livestock.

Grains which will be free of ceilings are wheat, rye, corn, oats, feed oats, mixed feed oats, barley, and grain sorghums, as well as any livestock or poultry feed made entirely from any one or more of the basic grains.

The board directed re-establishment of ceilings on flaxseed and by-product grain feeds.

In the case of each item on which ceilings were ordered, the board found that:

1. Prices have risen unreasonably above June 30 ceilings, plus any subsidy which was being paid then.
 2. Supply is short.
 3. Price control is "practicable, enforceable, and in the public interest."
- In ruling against re-establishment of ceilings on most grains, the board said it had not found that recontrol would be in the public interest.
- Supply of grains, the board reported, "will be adequate when crops are harvested to meet anticipated demands."
- In the case of dairy products, the board stated that it will watch the prices on these products; should they reach a level very much above the June 30 cost plus the subsidy then paid, the board will re-consider these products.

Warning Against Disease Inflation Made by Dr. Cox

In discussing the possible danger of inflation to the American way of life, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, has declared that he believes one phase of this menace which should not be overlooked is the danger of inflation in the incidence of disease.

"Just because we have won a war is no reason why we should allow the disease and death rates in the country to become higher than in recent peacetimes," Dr. Cox said. "Indeed, it is an urgent reason why we should sharply reduce these rates among our people and use every effort to keep the health levels among our civilian and military population at their highest possible peak."

The state health officer emphasized once again, as he has often done in the past, the necessity for using the more easily accessible, common-sense safeguards of health. Immunization against several of the more killing diseases is available to all, at little or no cost. Such protection should not be neglected and the person who allows himself or his family to suffer from a preventable illness is, whether he realizes it or not, actually handicapping the nation's reconversion effort. Another health precaution which can and should be practiced in every home and community is careful sanitation: clean clothes, a clean body, and clean home environments do much to prevent the appearance of illness in the home and the same sanitation practiced throughout the community will help to insure the good health of that community.

"Good, wholesome, nourishing foods, home and community sanitation, and the protection afforded by immunization can do a lot to prevent the needless inflation of the disease and death rates in this country," Dr. Cox asserted.

Audra Williams and Janice Morgan were Pampa visitors over the week-end.

Correct Diet, Sleep And Exercise Help Prevent Diabetes

Despite the fact that modern medicine can do much to help the diabetic live out a normal life span, nevertheless diabetes took a toll of several hundred lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"While the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and smallpox are annually causing a decreasing number of deaths in this country, diabetes is still taking a tragic number of human lives each year, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem, but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed."

Dr. Cox said that diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack the white collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions are factors, since it seems a fact that those who do not indulge in luxurious living and whose occupation calls for manual labor are not frequently affected.

Dr. Cox stated that simple, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes, and an annual physical examination, especially in middle aged persons, is important so that if the disease is present, competent treatment can be instituted while the disease is in its early stage.

Navy Will Retain Hospital Corpsmen

The navy will retain all male hospital corpsmen who have completed less than 18 months of active duty regardless of eligibility for discharge, 8th naval district headquarters has announced.

"The navy regrets that because of the large number of war casualties remaining in naval hospitals it is necessary to retain these men," the announcement said. The action will result in an additional one to six months of duty for some hospital corpsmen to provide service urgently needed for navy sick and wounded.

A report of the navy's bureau of medicine and surgery revealed that on July 31 there were 33,000 naval personnel in navy hospitals.

Hormone Chemical May Put Bindweed Where It Belongs

The bindweed has become one of the most pernicious pests against which farmers of the Southwest have to contend. A hormone chemical has been developed to control and eradicate this pest. It is known as 2,4-D, and agricultural experts agree that it is the best method yet devised for control of the weed, which in the past has claimed the productivity of thousands of acres of rich farming lands.

Though not entirely fool-proof, the action of 2,4-D is far superior to routine techniques in killing the weed, these experts say.

First glimmering of the vast potential in the chemical was announced in August, 1944, when an obscure technical magazine described results of a preliminary test with bindweed.

Bindweed was chosen as subject for the first tests because of its tough character. Scientists developed the growth-regulating substance wanted to pit it against a plant which had defied routine efforts at eradication.

Action of the chemical is an excessive stimulation of plant tissues which in effect causes a quick and abnormal over-growth. Normal circulation of life-sustaining substance breaks down after the plant exceeds nature's limitations in size and normal development.

After a dilute solution of the chemical has been applied to bindweed, it literally curled up and died, the first magazine report said.

Later experiments with other garden pests, such as dandelions, were acclaimed as preeminently successful in first tests. Again, the hormone stimulated growth either of root systems or leaves to an extent where the plants went through a series of contortions, in which vein systems broke down because of the overload.

"The plant, it appeared, at first showed no ill effect, but within a few days the leaves twisted inward, the petioles curled and the stems went through acute convulsions which, had the plant been an animal, might have been described as mortal agony," reported L. W. Kephart of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

After the first public announcement, news of the action of 2,4-D spread over agricultural regions with whirlwind publicity. Dissemination of the report was rivaled only by that of the famous insect eradicator, DDT.

But more careful investigation began to reveal flaws in original claims. Observant farmers, who had seen all outward manifestations of bindweed disappear, began to find live, white roots in the soil.

Vertical root systems had disappeared, it was true, but the horizontal root systems still clung to life. It is from the horizontal roots that new plants of bindweed spread.

Before the end of the summer, some farmers were reporting a second spraying of 2,4-D over ground previously denuded of bindweed.

Still later in 1944, additional tests were made at experiment stations in Beltsville, Md., Hays, Kans., and Moscow, Idaho. In general the results were good on most types of troublesome perennials, such as bindweed, Canada thistle, whitetop and dandelions.

Officials who conducted the tests said vertical roots were destroyed to a depth of 3 feet, but lateral roots remained less damaged.

"Results from spraying with hormone chemical were usually best when the plants were in active growing condition at the time of treatment. When growth was dormant, injury was less severe," a report on the experiment at Beltsville indicated.

methods was spraying with sodium chlorate. However, the cost of this method is significantly higher than that of 2,4-D. Some years ago a survey indicated sodium chlorate spray costs $30 to $40 an acre.

Estimates on the 2,4-D method run between $4 and $6 an acre, depending upon the type of solution used.

Another factor which tended to increase cost of sodium chlorate was a recommendation that several plowings a year be made on infested land as an aid to the killing effects of the spray.

The sodium chlorate method has inherent potentialities which make its use less desirable than 2,4-D, or one thing, the sodium treatment is a fire hazard, particularly in hot dry weather. Stubble treated with sodium chlorate and matted grasses may catch fire on extremely hot days.

Allan Shivers Runs For Lt. Governor On Qualifications

Senator Allan Shivers, leading candidate for lieutenant governor, is seeking election to that office solely on the basis of his qualifications of wide training and experience.

In every way, Allan Shivers, the legislator, lawyer, farmer and World War II combat veteran, is exceptionally qualified for the No. 2 state office. As a state senator for a number of years, he established an excellent record of public service. A loyal Democrat and native Texan, he is a man of highest character and splendid personality. The majority of Texans believe he will reflect credit and honor on the State of Texas.

Shivers, a war veteran of two years overseas, during which time he earned 5 battle stars, did his best to make this a free country for a free people. He will continue that course as lieutenant governor.

He has conducted a dignified campaign, free of mud-slinging and personalities. His platform appeals to every Texan: Better farm-to-market roads, better salaries for school teachers, enlarged public safety facilities, a thorough public health program, redistricting of the state for legislative purposes, greater aid to the aged, real assistance to war veterans, reorganization of the pardon and parole system, a first class university for the colored, and equal responsibility from both labor and management. He is against a sales, state income, or any other form of new taxes.

Allan Shivers will be the lieutenant governor of all the people. In addition to integrity, sincerity and ability, he has a background of training and a record of public service already performed which gives him the right to ask for promotion. —Pol. Adv.

I Want To Be Your Next Sheriff

JOE L. MOTHERSHED

Since arriving here two weeks ago I have been driving over this county trying to see as many voters as I could. There are many, many people I failed to talk with, and take this means of making my final appeal for your vote and support in the election next Saturday.

Again I want to say that I expect to receive my discharge from the Marine Corps this winter. When I return to civilian life here, I would like the chance to serve as Sheriff of Hall County. I believe I am qualified to fill this important office. And if I should be fortunate enough to win next Saturday's election, I promise to enforce the law fairly and impartially.

I want to ask all my supporters and friends to make a special effort to cast their vote Saturday. I will need every vote I can get. I really received lots of help prior to the first primary for which I am grateful. To win this office I seek, I still need help from the citizens of this county.

Too Good To Throw Away

THE writer is in Colorado—sitting on a nice soft rock 9724 feet above sea level and looking up at half a dozen great rocky peaks all over 14,000 feet high and some of them partly covered with snow the year around. It is just an ordinary scene in the massive Rocky Mountain range which splits our country from Canada to Mexico.

Over thousands of miles of fair to fine roads one may traverse this mighty structure; through valleys as red as blood with only the fir trees and little green meadows to break the constant color scheme; up through black fearsome gorges to the top of cold, windy passes ten to twelve thousand feet in the air—we'll above timberline and into the snow; down again along precipitous mountainsides amid scenes of unbelievable beauty and grandeur.

The Swiss Alps are magnificent; the Italian Dolomites of a majesty indescribable—but—except for the picturesque little mountain villages which dot these ranges—the Rockies seem to have everything they have and a great deal more.

What a country to inherit, to own, and to leave to one's children! It is endowed with every value a man could desire; and for that very reason others beside its owners do desire it—evil people, mostly from foreign lands, people whom we have welcomed over here and who would rob us of the greatest inheritance the world has yet known. These evil people have banded together for the purpose of destroying our government, our happiness, and all those things we are accustomed to—and hold most dear; and upon those ruins they hope to build the same type of brutal state which their "brothers in horror" have inflicted and are inflicting upon those tragic peoples of Eastern and Middle Europe.

Some day we may lose this Pandora's Box through our short-sighted custom of reducing our armed forces beyond the danger point—between wars. Up to now we have muddled through; but atomic energy doesn't muddle—and our next venture in the "playing of politicians" may be our last. This would be "passive stupidity."

Far more frightening, however, is the chance that we will vote ourselves out of our inheritance; that we will set by while a hard working, hard spending organization like the CIO-PAC talks voters into electing so many self-will candidates to office that we will awake after our not distant election day to find ourselves well on the road to socialism—the forerunner of the slave state. This would be "active stupidity."

"Darned if I know!"

Urge Hog Owners To Combat Disease

To help prevent feed waste in the face of today's shortages, livestock authorities today urged a special effort this month to combat enteritis in the state's swine herds.

Hogs afflicted with "necro" are unable to utilize feed properly and do not gain weight in proportion to the feed consumed, even though they may otherwise appear to be in normal health, the American Foundation for Animal Health pointed out.

Farmers were urged to take these three steps to combat enteritis among their swine:

"1. When new feeder pigs are purchased, segregate them from the home herd until they are proved free of disease.

"2. When pigs develop digestive troubles, variations in temperature or loss of weight, move well animals away from them, and obtain a veterinary diagnosis at once. This diagnosis is extremely important because the symptoms of enteritis may otherwise be mistaken for those of hog cholera or other diseases of swine.

"3. Practice rigid sanitation. Do not pasture pigs on ground where there has been an enteritis outbreak. Provide individual, movable houses. Concrete floors, thoroughly washed each day, are a great help in controlling this disease."

Medical treatment for enteritis has proved more generally satisfactory, when preventative sanitation and segregation are applied in control of this often-fatal disease, the American Foundation reported.

Navy Offers Vets Recruiting Duty

Authorization to recall navy veterans now in inactive reserve status for duty in naval reserve recruiting units in each of the eight states of the eighth naval district has been issued by Capt. Arthur A. Agerton, USN, district director of naval reserve.

The recruiting units, to consist of one officer of the rank of Lt. (jg) or above and four enlisted men, will tour their states to enlist naval reservists for the 46 naval reserve units now being activated in the district, Capt. Agerton said. At least one of the enlisted men in each unit will be a rated yeoman.

Full pay and allowances will be paid during their tour of duty, which will not extend beyond June 30, 1947.

Navy veterans who desire the recruiting duty should submit their requests, with full information as to rank, rate, service or file number, age, education, civilian employment, navy service, three letters of recommendation, and other pertinent information, to the district director of naval reserve, eighth naval district, Federal Building, New Orleans. Local naval reserve steering committees and local assistants to the district director are also authorized to accept applications.

Aw, You're Crazy—Maybe It's Me—Someone Surely Is

But How Can Anyone Call This Softball And Not Be A Liar?

We had intended to write a story about the softball (?) game between the Memphis Lions Club and the Lakeview Lions Club which was held here Tuesday night.

But now we aren't sure about it.

The game started off something like softball. The Lakeview bunch were first at bat, and scored seven runs in the initial inning. But Paul McCanne, Lakeview team manager, confused us by bringing out a pistol and threatening first one person then another. Personally, we thought the pistol was a fake gun—but we weren't sure and didn't argue with McCanne.

The second inning resembled softball, too, and Memphis, after getting one run in the first, came through with eight in the second to get ahead.

Then everything went "floey." Lakeview scored three runs in the first half of the third, but not before Memphis' manager George Hayden enlarged home base to a width of about three feet so that Pitcher Pete Smith wouldn't toss too many bad balls.

Then Lakeview tried out one of its "secret" weapons. The visiting pitcher threw over a "ball," but when Hayden—a pinch-hitter—struck at it, the ball collapsed, and turned out to be a cantaloupe, pie melon, or something Hayden then hit at the real ball and ran to third instead of first. Tom Posey, who was already on first, ran to third, and Hayden came into home from second. Ted Myers, scorekeeper, was very confused than the spectators. It was Joe Durham, the Lakeview catcher.

From then on, confusion reigned. The Lakeview players brought out a large wooden swatter affair to avoid missing the ball, but it proved ineffective and was discarded.

At the end of six innings everyone appeared tired. The scorekeeper said Memphis was ahead by a score of 12 to 11. But Lakeview had another chance at batting if a 7th inning was played.

The 7th wasn't played. Managers McCanne and Hayden flipped a coin to see who would be the winner.

We don't know who won, we don't care—all we wanted to do was go to bed and rest.

Incidentally, the game, if it was for a good cause. Proceeds from the "ticke" sales will go to the local Boy Scout troop.

An impressive ceremony solemnized the marriage of Miss Ruth Akins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Akins of Memphis, and Walter Gwynne Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Owen of Hereford, at the First Baptist Church in Hereford Sunday, August 4.

Vows were exchanged at 2 o'clock in the afternoon before an altar banked with greenery, daisies, and gladioli. White tapers in two seven-branched standards gave candle lighting. Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony in the presence of close friends and relatives. Tapers were lighted by Nell Cassels and Lawrence Owen.

Wayne Evans played the wedding marches on the organ and accompanied Gerald Wilson, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Miss Ann Sealy was maid of honor and Bobby Owen, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Miss Sealy wore a pale blue frock accented with a gardenia corsage. Ushers were Wendall Akins and David Owen.

The bride was married in a white dotted swiss dress with eyellet embroidery trim and a white picture hat. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Miss Della Stagner poured punch and Mrs. Malcolm Cassels served the two-tiered wedding cake from a table centered with an arrangement of daisies and white tapers. Mrs. Gerald Wilson presided at the guest book.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip to Carlsbad and other points in New Mexico, the bride wore a lime suit complemented with white accessories.

Mrs. Owen graduated from Memphis High School and attended school in Springfield, Mo. She has been manager of Western Union office in Hereford since January.

Mr. Owen attended Hereford High School and served four years in the U. S. Navy, with 38 months overseas duty. He is now employed at the Acme Cleaners. The couple will make their home in Hereford.

THE LOGICAL CHOICE

UP UNTIL NOW, The Democrat has refrained from making any statement in any of the political races. In doing so now, it is not with the intention of attempting to tell any voter how to cast his ballot, but merely to state our choice in the race for lieutenant governor and ask that you consider him in the second primary Saturday.

The choice of this newspaper for lieutenant governor is Boyce House, the Fort Worth author, newspaperman, and Texas' greatest booster. The fact that Boyce House is an author, newspaperman, and state booster, however, does not necessarily make him the best qualified man for the office, but the fact that he will do all in his power for the state and particularly for this section of the state does make him the logical choice.

Boyce House has traveled throughout this state of ours, and has studied the problems and needs of the people in every section. He has spent a great deal of time in the Panhandle and realizes that this section of the state is different in its needs and problems. He has spent considerable time here in Hall County, knows many people here personally, and will help Hall Counties as much as he possibly can.

In the first primary, Boyce House received 1,298 votes—his four opponents received a total of 1022 votes—giving him a sizeable majority in Hall County.

This candidate is a man's man. He has made himself what he is today, and claims no connection with power groups. His home-spun philosophy is well-known throughout Texas and the Southwest, and this same simple, yet intelligent, philosophy is needed in our present condition of uncertainty.

Boyce House is for full payment of pensions; he is for adequate pay for teachers, to enable our youngsters to have the best of training to prepare them for the world of tomorrow; he is for a square deal for veterans on housing, employment, and all other matters; he is for better farm-to-market roads, to provide a means whereby our farmers may bring to market their products faster and more economical.

The state of Texas needs an intelligent man to lead the state Senate through its present trying times. As the lieutenant governor, Boyce House would be that leader. We recommend him to the voters of Hall County and this area for consideration in Saturday's primary.

VOTE SATURDAY

PERHAPS your favorite candidate is not in the run-off primary, and you are not particularly interested in any of the races which will be on the ballot in the second primary Saturday.

But Hall County's vote should be just as heavy in this second primary as it was in the first. Although it likely will not be.

There are only two county races involved, the sheriff's race and that of commissioner of Precinct No. 4. These two races will undoubtedly attract a large number of voters, but still the balloting will probably be light compared to that of the first primary.

That is the reason for this editorial—to remind you to cast your ballot Saturday. We repeat that a truly representative vote can be attained only by all eligible voters casting their ballots. Regardless of dis-interest, we urge you to cast your vote in the second primary. It won't take you long, and you'll have your say in the chosen candidates.

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Property a Liability
 The Quannah Tribune-Chief: Property that has always been kept in a state of good repair is deteriorating each day and owners have little incentive to keep up a property that the OPA has made a liability. Rent control in Quannah has become so outmoded and uncalled for during the past year that there seems little excuse for its existence other than to supply jobs to the few who administer it in the district.

Boyce House
 The Canyon News: The voters of West Texas gave a wonderful vote to Boyce House for lieutenant governor in the first primary. Mr. House has written The News thanking the voters of Randall County for the fine support he received in the July primary. We believe that the voters will go to the polls again on August 24 and support Boyce House in the second primary.

Whiskey and Bread
 The McLean News: It begins to look as if the grain crop will allow more drinking whiskey and better bread. We don't know anything about the taste of whiskey; observation would lead one to believe that men will drink anything, so potato whiskey should be just as intoxicating as grain. But we do look hopefully toward the time when bread will have a more pleasing taste than a last year's wasp nest.

Crack of the Week
 The Paducah Post: Jim Dalton was asked why he was driving the new Hudson instead of the Ford. "Oh, I entered a Hudson dealer's office, to use his telephone, and hated to leave without buying something."

Washington Irving's classic of Ichabod Crane and the Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow has a counterpart in Texas lore—a story equally as fantastic in many ways as that which came from the pen of Rip Van Winkle's creator. About 1850, Texas was overrun with rustlers and marauders, and among the most infamous of these was a man named Vidal who had deserted the army of Mexico and had become one of the most feared horse thieves in the border country.

A small man, shrewd and observant, he collected a band of thieves unequalled in the "profession," and with local branches strung out along the Rio Grande, he reaped a good profit in the "horse-trade"—at the same time making it appear that Indians were responsible for some of his own deviltry.

One summer, he and several of his gang made a raid along the San Antonio river, with enormous losses to the settlers. He struck at a time when most of the men were away pursuing Comanches, but it so happened that two men were at home, and they immediately gave chase.

The story goes that, before three rolled up in blankets.

When they were reasonably certain that the desperadoes were asleep, the pursuers decided to attack. One shot the man guarding the herd, while the other two sprang upon the sleeping men. The scrimmage was over in short order. The horse guard, though apparently badly wounded, escaped but the three in the camp were killed outright.

Upon examination of the bodies, it was discovered that one of them was the leader, and the legend goes that one of the avengers conceived the idea of be-

This Week in WASHINGTON

What Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson can or will do to restore dignity and decorum to the United States supreme court is a subject of interesting conversation in Washington and in judicial circles throughout the nation.

The return of Justice Robert H. Jackson from Nuremberg where he has been prosecuting Nazi war criminals has added to the conjecture as to the final outcome of the open feud between Justice Jackson and Justice Hugo L. Black. And the Jackson-Black feud is not the only difficulty which faces the new chief justice, who replaced the last of the "Nine Old Men" who were the objects of the purge plan of the late President Roosevelt. There is a complete set of new faces on the bench, with an average of 56 as compared to an average of 71 when the late president sought liberal decisions on his great legislative and social reforms back in the 1930's.

There are rumors of other deep rooted differences between the court members and there also is considerable gossip concerning activities of one or two members of the body. All of which tends to lessen respect for the court and has an effect on the efficiency of the court itself. It is said there is a large backlog of cases which the court has not decided due to its internal bickerings.

The new chief justice has held many big jobs which required administrative ability of a high nature. He says he comes from a country where it is dangerous to be afraid. He has no more authority on the court than any other member since he has only one vote. But as chief justice he fixes the docket and perhaps has the authority to guide the court at least to a judicial attitude.

For the sake of the court and also for the sake of the country, let's hope that Chief Justice Vinson can use his courage and his administrative ability, his judicial knowledge and his reputation for settling major disturbances among conflicting personalities, to bring back once more a smooth working, dignified United States supreme court.

The last days of the 79th Congress brought to light some new and bizarre examples of the use of riders attempting to defeat legislation favored by a majority or to obtain approval of measures opposed by a majority or by the President. And probably for the first time the filibuster and the rider were combined to force a new parliamentary weapon.

This combination was used first by Senator Wayne Morse, (R-Or.) when he threw the senate into an uproar by introducing the filibustered anti-poll tax bill as a rider on the Tidewater Lands bill then under consideration. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel also threatened a comparable filibuster-rider tactic when, as a bitter foe of the OPA he threatened to tack the Fair Employment Practices bill, also a filibustered bill, as a rider on the OPA bill to defeat it.

As a result of these tactics, Senator William F. Knowland, (R-Cal.) introduced two resolutions into the senate seeking to prevent riders by forbidding amendments not germane to bills under discussion. He also sought, in another resolution, to amend the 30-year old cloture rule to permit limitation of debate by a mere majority instead of the two-thirds rule. Of course no action was taken on these resolutions.

heading him, mounting him on his own horse—a fine stallion—and, after tying the man to the saddle, let the horse loose.

This was done and, as the horse was freed, it galloped off like a streak in a cloud of dust.

Soon afterward, stories began circulation—even faster than the beautiful horse and its gruesome load could travel. Soldiers, scouts, Indians, and other travelers told of seeing a man without a head mounted on a superb stallion galloping around the country and frightening the settlers half to death.

It was said that after several weeks the horse was finally killed at a watering place where it had gone to quench its thirst, and the headless rider was still sitting in the saddle where he had been tied.

Veterans Quitting Training to Notify Officials of V. A.

Veterans who fail to notify the Veterans Administration when they interrupt their training education and continue to accept government allowances are subject to severe penalties, VA has warned.

Eldon F. Fuller, chief, vocational rehabilitation and education, Lubbock VA regional office, cautioned veterans that VA training officers are making regular investigations to prevent such practices.

Beginning September 1, a blank form will be with each check mailed to veterans in training.

These forms must be returned to the disbursement office that mailed the check, whenever the veteran's training or education is interrupted. This notification will enable VA to discontinue payments.

Veterans who accept checks under the servicemen's readjustment act to which they are not entitled will be ineligible to receive any further benefits under the act. They also may be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Dr. Rainey has definitely lined up with the best people for civic righteousness and progress.

Local Red Cross to Help Vets Fill Application

Former servicemen and women eligible for terminal leave pay provided under recent Congressional legislation for World War veterans of the army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard will be furnished assistance with applications by the Hall County Red Cross chapter, Mrs. T. D. Weatherly, chapter home service chairman, has announced.

Besides helping veterans to obtain the application forms to be available soon through post offices, chapter workers will arrange to have the completed forms notarized.

Mrs. Weatherly advises that a veteran's application must be accompanied by the original discharge certificate or certificate of service, by a photostatic or certified copy, or by a certificate in lieu of a lost discharge certificate.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

EVEN AT 60 M.P.H. NEW TIRE OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Now you can order these tires for your car
Here is your answer to "Will today's tire stand up under a long grind at high speed?"
In a test of the new B.F. Goodrich tire, test cars were driven steadily at sixty miles per hour, hour after hour, averaging over a thousand miles a day in all kinds of weather. Side by side on the wheels of these cars were prewar tires and the new B.F. Goodrich tire. Tires were shifted from wheel to wheel so that both took the same beating. The new B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns outran the prewar tires—showed less wear—were good for thousands of extra miles.
Why? One reason is because the new tire has a wider, flatter tread that puts more rubber on the road, spreads the wear over a greater surface. The tire body, or carcass, is stronger too . . . made that way by using tougher cords and more of them.
We are receiving regular shipments of these new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown tires. See us today.

WAS IT REALLY SOFTBALL?

Editor's Note: The following are excerpts from a story appearing in the Childress Index as the write-up on the softball game between the Childress Lions Club and the Memphis club. The story was written by Morris Higley, publisher of the Index and a member of the Rotary club.

The score was 19 to 17 in favor of Childress. No, it was 19 to 17 in favor of Memphis. Maybe there wasn't a score. Yes, there was.

Let's stop and start over again. We are trying to report the Memphis and Childress Lions softball game played here last night.

But there were so many secret weapons, so many trends off into everything that has never resembled softball, it's a little difficult.

The game opened when Mayor H. C. Prosser tossed the ball to opening pitcher, Vernon Eubanks, who had his head covered with his daughter's pert hat. . . . Base Umpire Bill Chandler was dressed in his baseball uniform of 25 years ago but in addition carried a pistol.

The Memphis boys (a few were slightly gray and one or two bald) started hitting Pitcher Eubanks.

IS GETTING UP NIGHTS GETTING YOU DOWN?

Thousands say famous doctor's discovery gives blessed relief from irritation of the bladder caused by excess acidity in the urine bank regularly and he walked a man. Then the Childress Lions brought out their first secret weapon. A large home plate. They wanted one that surely the pitcher could come somewhere near throwing over.

Why suffer needlessly from backaches, run-down feeling from excess acidity in the urine? Just try DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT, the renowned herbal medicine. SWAMP ROOT acts fast on the kidneys to promote the flow of urine and relieve troublesome excess acidity. Originally created by a practicing physician, Dr. Kilmer's is a carefully blended combination of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams. Absolutely nothing harsh or habit-forming in this pure, scientific preparation. Just good ingredients that quickly act on the kidneys to increase the flow of urine and ease discomforts of bladder irritation. All druggists sell Swamp Root.

The second inning ended with the score 5 to 4 in favor of Childress. That's about as far as the official score ever went.

It was then that the Memphis boys got into the game for the first time. The first man up to bat ran the bases backwards and then the next man ran them right.

O. R. Saye of Memphis then came to bat and knocked one to center field and Tom Posey tore out for second base and then home. Then Dr. P. R. Jeter and Rush Record brought Joe Pitman out to cover second base in a wheel chair.

To add to the now definite confusion, Chester Huffstetler brought out his surveying crew to check one ball that went down the third base line. The drive was made by a Memphis man and the betting was that the ball would be declared foul. It was.

At one time the fire department was called to cool off the situation but was stopped from ever reaching the field by an actual fire call.

Childress, apparently, was behind along around the last of the game, because everytime a Childress man hit the ball the lights went out so that he would be assured of getting to first base.

It's official that three runs were made. If others were made, they weren't counted. It's unofficial how much money was made. But it is said that will be made official at the next meeting of the Lions.

Women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Winning Essay— DIVERSIFIED FARMING PAYS

Editor's Note: The following is another in a series of the winning essays in the diversified farming contest held for 4-H Club members of Hall County. This essay was written by Richard Salmon of Brice.

Every progressive farmer has a cow, sow, and hen to help bear the expense of the main crop. Farmers who buy their milk, meat, and eggs for home use will find themselves in debt at the end of the year.

A cow on a farm does many things for the farmer. She furnishes him milk, butter, and cottage cheese for his home use and some to sell. She gathers her own food and thus saves the farmer from hiring it gathered. She fertilizes the land and makes it more productive. She consumes material that would be wasted. With the surplus skimmed milk she feeds the hogs and chickens. From the sale of butter and cream she furnishes money to buy groceries.

The sow also helps on the farm. She uses up the waste slop and garbage to raise her pigs that furnish meat and lard for the family. She also furnishes some extra money for the purchase of other things. She gathers the waste grain from the fields. This saves the farmer from hiring it gathered. One sow can raise eight pigs. The farmer can fatten them on skimmed milk, slop, and waste grain. Four of the pigs will furnish meat and lard enough for home use, the other four may be sold at a profit. Besides the sow and her pigs will add fertilizer to the soil.

The little hen with her merry cackle is also necessary in a farmer's home. She furnishes the family with nice fresh eggs. She uses up the waste grain about the barn. She gets the scraps from the table and the skimmed milk. She raises her brood and furnishes fried chicken for the family, besides a few extra ones to sell. Perhaps there will also be a few extra eggs to sell. She can in this way feed herself and help feed the farmer. She also furnishes valuable fertilizer for the farmer.

Nature's Forces Hold the Rings Around Saturn... and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

No one knows just why Saturn is the only planet to have rings around it. We do know, however, that mighty forces of gravitational attraction hold them there. Through extensive research into the forces of attraction between molecules of liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring America's motorists the benefits of new and better oils.

Using the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. In fact, so strong is this attraction that cylinder walls are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

- added protection during the vital periods when you first start your engine
- added protection from corrosive action when your engine is not in use
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why you'd be safer to OIL-PLATE your engine now... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company

Flour 'Stretching' May Be Obtained By Variety Baking

Stretching wheat flour in home baking can bring a variety in taste and texture to home baking. Possible extenders include rye flour, oatmeal or cornmeal, potatoes and sweet potatoes. But Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College extension service, cautions housewives that for good results they must know the correct amounts to use and the best method of mixing.

Yeast bread may be made entirely from rye flour. The German bread, pumpernickel, is a familiar example. All-rye bread is darker, more moist and heavier than wheat bread. A lighter loaf may be made by using half rye and half wheat flour. In extending with oatmeal or cornmeal, only a third as much finely ground oats or fine cornmeal as wheat flour is recommended. Oatmeal bread is slightly coarser and darker than white bread but excellent in flavor.

These flours or meals are sifted or mixed with the wheat flour and then the bread is made by the standard method for white bread offered in any reliable cookbook.

In using potatoes in bread, both the proportions and the method of mixing are different. Only a small quantity of potato can be used—about one cup of mashed potatoes to five or six cups of flour. The mashed potato is thinned with potato water, then mixed with the softened yeast cake before the flour is stirred in to make a dough or sponge. Mashed sweet potatoes may be added to the sponge with the flour.

Germers are colorless.

WHO ASKS FOR YOUR SUPPORT AND VOTE
SATURDAY, AUGUST 24

Earl E. Hill, a veteran of World War II, is a married man, and has lived all of his life—with the exception of the time he served in the army—in Hall County. He knows the problems which a law officer must face, and is fully capable of discharging all of the duties of the office. To aid a man who sincerely wants, needs and appreciates the office of Sheriff of Hall County, cast your ballot Saturday for Earl E. Hill.
