STAMPS ALL STAR QUARTET WILL SING HERE THURS.

Lovers of quartet singing will have the opportunity to hear the Stamps All-Star Quartet of station KWFT, Wichita Falls, in person here on the evening of October 24, at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock, under auspices of the local Boy Scout Troop 35.

It has been several years since the Stamps quartet appeared in Memphis, and Scoutmaster Ted Myers says that he thinks the people of Memphis and surrounding area will enjoy a program of this type. He says that from advance reports of ticket sales, a large crowd will be in attendance.

Myers suggests that the people expecting to attend should buy tickets before the evening of the concert in order that the scout troop may get a larger percentage of the profits. The troop is to get a larger commission if tickets are sold beforehand than they will if tickets are bought the evening of the program.

Many Were Called, But Few Responded— Cemetery Working

—Had Usual Lack of Interest

Several hundred local citizens were expected to be on hand at Fairview Cemetery last Friday for the first (intended-to-be) community-wide cemetery working held here in a number of years.

Several hundred citizens and lot owners who had loved ones buried in Fairview did not show up. A few lot owners did show up and helped in the work.

Two score or more members of FFA clubs of Hall County and several Boy Scouts showed up brightly and early and manfully helped to cut weeds, fill in graves, and in many ways made their efforts show. Very few of these young fellows had folks buried there.

Practically every member of the Memphis Lions Club, sponsors of the work, were on hand some time during the day, and few of

EUGENE WORLEY

Congressman Eugene Worley will be the honor guest and speaker at a noon luncheon Tuesday of next week. The affair will be a joint-meeting of the Memphis Rotary Club and the Memphis Lions Club and will be held in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

Worley, who is maintaining a temporary office in Amarillo during the recess of Congress, has been kept busy during the past several weeks, it has been reported. He accepted the invitation to speak here, since it will give him an opportunity to meet not only the club members at noon, but a lot of citizens during the day.

It is expected he will give a detailed report of the work done by Congress and of the trends and complexities of government at home and abroad.

Rotarians and Lions have been at work for some time arranging a speaking date for Mr. Worley.

TIME EXTENDED ON WAR BOOKS

The time-limit for turning in information for the Hall County War Book has been extended a few days to give more time to those who have sons and daughters living away from here to get the necessary information.

While those are being waited for, others who have not yet turned in information and pictures are invited to do so in order that this history of the part played by Hall County service men and women may be recorded for future posterity. Forms have been mailed to every GI whose address was obtained from the Selective Service Board.

The publishers are very anxious that a picture and service record of the nearly two thousand Hall Countians appear in the book, for it would then be a treasure that would be coveted by the present and the future generations.

The copy and orders for books must be in the hands of the Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, (Continued on page 8)

You Take It— Weather

—You Like It or Not

Following a week's rainy spell which ended last week, cooler weather and frost helped to clear away the clouds that had beset anxious farmers. The weather began to turn cooler Friday, and on Saturday morning the thermometer dropped to 35 degrees and a heavy frost was noted on roofs and vegetation. No damage resulted from the frost. In fact, very little vegetation showed any effects.

The sun came out Saturday and clear weather continued until Tuesday when clouds began to threaten. Wednesday was mostly clear with only a few scattered (Continued on page 8)

GIVE ORDERS FOR ROSES FOR ROADS

Orders may be given to local florists and nurserymen for the Paul Scarlet rose to be planted along the highways, in the yards, and on public building grounds, Mrs. Landrum Stanford, county chairman of the road beautification committee announced this week.

These roses should be planted during November, and everyone interested in more beautiful homes and highways should have a part in the beautification program. By planting the roses this fall they will be blooming next year, and Hall County will get the credit for helping in the noble work of having a living memorial throughout the state to keep alive the memory of brave Texans who made the great sacrifice for their country, Mrs. Stanford said.

The road development program, sponsored by a state-wide organization, urges that flowers and shrubs be planted at the homes, public building grounds, and entrances to towns along the highway, and along the highways, believing such will not only be attractive to visitors, but be a living honor to Texas men and women in service.

Mrs. Stanford urges that citizens of this county not delay but order the roses now.

Memphis Will Have Hiway Warehouse

The State Highway Commission Tuesday authorized the building of a section warehouse in Memphis at a cost of $9,870.00.

The local crew of the district has been using a small warehouse here for several years, and the building of a section warehouse, as outlined above, will give the crew better quarters in every sense of the word.

The dispatch concerning the authorization did not state when the building of the warehouse would start.

Fire Threatens Business House

Fire Tuesday noon threatened the Wherry building at 6th and Noel streets, and the whole business block, but was soon extinguished after minor damage to the building.

Workmen were engaged in repairing the roof of the building when a barrel of tar, to be used on the roof, caught fire while it was being heated. The tar was at the rear of the building. Plenty of smoke and fire resulted, but the fire was extinguished before it had eaten into the ceiling of the roof.

One of the firemen had a nar- (Continued on page 8)

Peacock, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, has extended a special invitation to members of the Oddfellow Lodge to attend the 11 o'clock services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, C. R. Sargent, noble grand, announced this week. All Oddfellows are requested to meet outside the church and be there not later than 10:50, Mr. Sargent said.

Two Election Days Here Next Month

Voters are reminded that there will be two elections held in the state and county next month.

The general election which includes the election of all state, county and precinct officers and amendments will be held Tuesday, November 5.

On Thursday, November 7, an election will be held to determine the adoption or rejection of the following amendment to the Constitution of the state of Texas by the addition of a new section to be known as section 49-b, creating a Veterans Land board, and providing that the legislature shall provide by law for the issuance of said board of not to exceed $25,000,000 in bonds or obligations of

A meeting was held in Memphis Monday following the appointment of a Hall County Good Roads amendment campaign committee with James E. King as chairman, and plans were laid for an intensive campaign from now until the general election on November 5 when the amendment will be up to the voters.

A brief summary of the aims and intentions of good roads proponents in regard to the matter is given herewith in order that voters may have a complete understanding of the proposed amendment.

Launching a three-year construction program, the Federal Aid Highway Act, signed by the President December 20, 1944, provides $500,000,000 in federal funds in each of the first three post-war years, to be matched by the states, on a fifty-fifty basis, and divided among three classes of roads. Annual expenditures of federal funds will be divided as follows: $225,000,000 for regular federal aid roads, $150,000,000 for farm-to-market roads, $125,000,000 for urban projects on federal aid system. (The above amounts must be matched dollar for dollar with state funds.)

For Texas, the three-year program will total $172,593,600 of which $86,296,800—or half—will be state funds; the other half will come from federal funds.

The program provides for work on the primary federal aid highway system, highway routes through cities and farm-to-market roads. Texas now has on hand $30,000,000 in bonds to start its post-war building program. With the anticipated revenues, it is expected that the program can be financed by efficient and economical supervision of funds, thus necessitating no addition taxes.

Plans have been completed or are in the process of completion to meet in full the federal aid highway program in Texas. This means that funds must become available as anticipated and be wisely expended in order that this program will not suffer. Major road projects which will require long-range planning and financing, probably over the next five to ten year period, already are under consideration.

The farm-to-market phase of the program is of vital interest to the 43 per cent of the state's inhabitants engaged in agriculture and ranching, the state's largest single industry. Under this program the state will build some 7,500 miles of new, surfaced farm-to-market roads. Selected after collaboration with county road officials, this proposed system will bring 62 per cent of the state's rural dwellings to within one mile of a paved road and 74 per cent within two miles.

When these roads are constructed, the state assumes responsibility for their continued maintenance. It would be poor economy and a grave error to build these roads if they are not (Continued on page 8)

Apple Tree Starts Crop Number Two

Mrs. A. G. Kesterson has an apple tree in her yard at 9th and Noel that is putting on its second crop this year. The first crop came on during the summer—the apples maturing to a good size. Recently, following the fall rains, the tree started blooming, and now small apples are forming.

The tree evidently thought it was springtime again and started another crop. Prior to this year the tree, which is old, had not been maturing the fruit; but this year the apples grew to maturity, Mrs. Kesterson said.

Two Caterpillar Graders Ordered By Hall County

Hall County will have two new caterpillar graders as soon as factories can make delivery, according to an announcement by M. O. Goodpasture, county judge, following the regular meeting of the commissioners court Monday.

Orders were placed by the court with the understanding that delivery would be made as soon as possible. Judge Goodpasture said, although a definite date could not be set. One of the large graders will be used in Precinct 2, and Precinct 3 will receive the other. About six months ago the county placed a new grader in Precinct 1, and the one being used in Precinct 4 is in excellent shape.

This county already owns full equipment for all purposes, Judge Goodpasture said. He went on to explain that due to the erosion characteristics of the soil in Hall County, more road maintenance machinery is necessary, and the county now has a much larger investment in this type of machinery than most counties in the state.

"The Second Man" To Be Played Here By West Theatre

West Theatre, whose initial production, "The Second Man," is playing at the high school auditorium on Friday night, October 18, under the sponsorship of the Memphis Little Theatre, is an idea which came into the minds of Charles Thomas and Leslie Walker as they walked down Fifth Avenue, New York City, is now a touring company which holds promise of bringing new life to the theatre of the West.

West Theatre begins its tour this season with the production of "The Second Man," which is a gay and sparkling comedy from the pen of one of the most brilliant playwrights, S. N. Behrman. This comedy is being sponsored by the Memphis Little Theatre in order to bring something to Memphis worth seeing, but seldom seen in smaller towns.

People of this entire area are invited by the Little Theatre to attend this show, believing the admission charge will be money well spent, and that all who attend will be well repaid by seeing something worth while.

Cotton Ginnings To October 1, 1,482 Bales

A total of 1,482 bales of cotton were ginned in Hall County from the crop of 1946 prior to October 1. Ace Gailley, special agent for the Bureau of the Census of the Department of Commerce, reported this week.

Last year at the same time a total of 1,179 bales had been ginned. (Continued on page 8)

Motion Pictures Aid Instruction, Say Students

By SCHOOL REPORTER
Did you know that our public schools are equipped with one of the most modern and effective teaching devices it is possible to secure? It is one which gets a big hand from the students because it puts variety into their work and is praised by the faculty as a powerful medium of instruction. Yes, it is our motion picture machine which we are praising.

It has long been a known fact that even a still picture is much more effective than word description. Even more can be said for a motion picture.

The conditions which must necessarily exist during the showing of a film makes for effectiveness as a teaching device. The audience sits in a darkened room where they lose contact with those about them. They are not aware of the presence of people and so become interested observers of the lighted images on the screen.

Almost all of our neighboring colleges and universities maintain up-to-date film libraries from which we can secure films on any subject offered in our curriculum.
Another machine which we are proud to possess is an opaque lantern. This machine magnifies a picture several times and throws the image on a silver screen. Since the picture is still, it may be kept in position for an indefinite time while the instructor stresses the important points of the diagram.

These two machines are used daily and have proved successful as a tool of instruction.
Let's hear what the student body has to say about these training films.

Jackie Davis: "I like the training film because I can remember things that I see in a picture longer than I can when I read them out of a book."

Scharlean Pyeatt: "I like the films because it is presented in an interesting way and also a way which you won't forget."

Marion Posey: "I say 'Oh, Boy' when we're going to get to see a film. It puts variety into our work and still teaches us what we have to know."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest thanks and appreciation to all of our many friends for each act of kindness and thoughtfulness during our recent hour of sorrow and sickness. Life's burdens are made lighter with friends such as you have proven to be. May the Lord bless each of you.

Amendment Rally Starts Campaign For Good Roads

AUSTIN — An important step toward establishing a sound financial policy to provide for the farm-to-market roads and primary highway needs of Texas was taken here recently when the State's road leaders launched a campaign on behalf of the Good Roads Amendment to the Constitution.

Approximately 500 advocates of better roads for Texas heard Governor-Nominee Beauford Jester, Lieut. Governor-Nominee Allan Shivers, Congressman O. C. Fisher, San Angelo, State Representative Neveille Colson, Navasota, and John S. Redditt, Chairman of the State Highway Commission address the huge kick-off rally and urge the adoption of the Good Roads measure in the November 5th General Election. Col. Ike Ashburn, Houston, served as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers and other outstanding personalities present.

Jester, whose campaign platform stressed more and better roads, declared, "We face a critical need for more farm-to-market roads, a need we propose to meet. The roads Texas needs cannot all be built in a day. And if they were all built today it would not be long before the normal growth of Texas and the obsolescence of our road system would require still more roads.

"We must," the Governor-Nominee asserted, "recognize the fact that road building is a continuous, never-ending operation which must be planned and financed on a long-range basis if our road system is to approach the minimum needs of a growing Texas."

Author of the Good Roads Amendment, State Representative Neveille Colson told the gathering that schools and roads are of paramount importance to Texas. The only woman in history of the House of Representatives to successfully sponsor an amendment to the State Constitution, Mrs. Colson declared that the Amendment not only will advance Texas in roads but also in the cause of public education.

"Transportation is the key to a successful rural school program but Texas cannot have an adequate road system," the Representative from Grimes and Montgomery Counties charged. "In my studied opinion, roads and schools go hand in hand and head the list of the people's needs."

Lieut. Governor-Nominee Allan Shivers, sponsor of the measure in the Senate, recalled, "During the war, mobility on the home front meant mobility on the battlefield. War added to road deficiencies at home. Construction virtually stopped. To meet the needs of postwar traffic is a huge job—and this traffic is mounting faster than roads can be built to serve it. I am convinced that Texas will never have a well-planned system of paved state and farm roads unless we establish a sound, permanent financial policy."

Congressman O. C. Fisher, San Angelo, member of the House Roads Committee explained the effect of the amendment upon Federal Aid apportionments for

Over Three Million New Families Since 1940 Causes Housing Woes

A net increase of three and a quarter million new families in the United States since 1940—almost half again as many families as there are in all six New England states, and 700,000 more than the peacetime marriage rate would have formed—aggravates the severity of our postwar housing shortage, according to an analysis by a life insurance company.

Since 1940 the soaring marriage rate has formed nearly seven and a half million new families, while some four and a quarter million families were being terminated by death or divorce. Only a sharp rise in divorces, which reached a record total of slightly more than half a million in 1945, has kept the number of new families from climbing still higher, the report points out.

A correspondingly rapid rise in the birth rate yielded a banner crop of 16 1-4 million babies in the years 1940-45; this is 2.4 million more babies than would have been born in this period had the average birth rate of the 1935-39 period prevailed.

When babies arrive, young couples find it much more difficult to find crammed quarters with families or "doubled up" other couples. Thus the re-creation of the birth rate, the report says, intensifies the pressure for additional housing. The increase in total population in continental United States since 1940 has been approximately eight million persons. This increase, in a period of extremely low housing construction, necessarily puts terrific pressure on existing facilities. Due to the jump in the marriage rate, however, there has actually been a greater increase in the number of new family units than would ordinarily accompany an eight-million growth in total population. Thus the need for additional housing units is aggravated still further, the report says.

A Peek at the Stars

By LYN CONNELLY
NWNS Radio-Screen Editor.

"AMERICA has everything." Thus, in four words, Phyllis Calvert, popular British actress in Hollywood for her first American movie, summed up her reaction to this country. "I'd love to see Texas," she continued. "So far we (she and her husband, Peter Murray Hill) have seen New York and Chicago and they're wonderful."

Miss Calvert's biggest thrill in New York was shopping "without coupons." "I bought as many clothes as I could afford," she admitted.

They also saw a baseball game, the Yankees vs. the Senators. "I loved it, though my team lost, but Peter thought it too slow-moving. He thought every time a man got on base the next man up was supposed to hit a home run and when he didn't he was frightfully disappointed." Are you listening, Yankees? Other memorable occasions in New York were her first visit to the Stork Club, the races and seeing "Voice of the Turtle."

A Conservative Girl

Miss Calvert is a slim, lovely girl with that enviable English complexion, red hair and brown eyes. She's perfectly at ease speaking movies or politics and she submitted many interesting views on England's change of government. She dresses very conservatively, unlike American actresses, and doesn't wear nail polish because, "It always gives me the impression the wearer is trying to hide dirty nails." She wore a brown and white checked suit and aqua blouse with brown accessories.

There are bobby-soxers in England, too, she said, but they do not scream. English favorites of Hollywood include Bing Crosby, who is tops, Bob Hope, Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman. Her personality is charming and unaffected and though she is here to make only one picture, "Time Out of Mind" for Universal, she will undoubtedly be a hit with American movie-goers who already have acclaimed her performance in "The Man in Grey" with James Mason.

Espionage the Keystone
WE Americans are making five dreadful mistakes, any one of which could—and may—some day cost us more dearly than we would care to contemplate.

First, we are allowing our army to so deteriorate, that—by the time we get through whittling it down—it will scarcely constitute a nucleus around which to build an efficient fighting machine—at least within a reasonable length of time. And we must remember, that if any nation attacks us, it will be in a sudden and devastating manner which will require on our part immediate, and superbly organized defense.

Second:—What we are doing—or not doing—with our navy, is even more frightening. It is true that we are putting a large number of fighting ships "in cellophane," and that these ships can be dragged out and put in commission much more rapidly than we could build new ones. But you can't fight battleships without personnel, and this branch of our Service is being "shrunk" all too rapidly.

Third—and almost more serious—is the fact that we are not maintaining an overwhelming air force, and are not spending all the money which we could—and should—spend in experimentation with rockets, and so forth.

Fourth:—Every voter in this country should insist upon Congress appropriating sufficient funds for the enlargement and upkeep of the F. B. I. so that in the event of trouble with other nations we would be safeguarded against the frightful damage which large groups of saboteurs could inflict upon us. The federal bureau of investigation in the early days of this last war did a fantastic job in preventing sabotage by Hitler's agents. But if, for illustration, we ever had trouble with Russia, it is not hard to imagine what the sworn Communists in this country could do to our industries, shipping facilities, etc., unless they were quickly apprehended.

Fifth:—We are not maintaining an efficient espionage force with which to keep our government informed of trends and activities outside of the United States. During the war the Office of Strategic Services under General William J. Donovan did a magnificent job after it was developed. But if the United States, British, and French governments had known beforehand what was going on in Germany, Italy and Japan, it is quite conceivable that they could have handled the situation without bloodshed simply by meeting Hitler's armament program with one just three times as great. Even crazy Hitler would not have dared attack something thrice his size. It would have spared the lives of millions, the agonies of hundreds of millions, and the expenditure of untold billions of world's wealth.

Congressional Group to Hold Hearing In Lubbock on Cotton Legislation

Congressman George Mahon announced from his Lubbock office this week that on October 24 a Congressional committee would hold a hearing in Lubbock in regard to future policies and legislation affecting cotton and cotton producers.

The purpose of the hearing is to get the views of cotton producers with respect to legislation to be considered by the next Congress. A portion of the AAA law, including that part which enables producers to establish national and local cotton acreage quotas will expire next year.

This will be a very important meeting, County Agent W. B. Hooser said. "We are hoping that a large number of Hall County farmers will be able to attend the Lubbock meeting."

The committee is coming to West Texas upon the invitation of Representative Mahon. The committee will be headed by Congressman Steve Pace of Georgia, author of the well-known Pace Farity bill. Pace is an influential member of the House Committee on agriculture. Six other members of this important committee are scheduled to accompany Pace to Lubbock for the hearing. In the group will be Congressman Bob Poage of Waco, well known in farm circles.

Mahon said that the committee would hold two hearings in Texas, one at Cameron in Central Texas and the one at Lubbock on October 24.

The exact place in Lubbock where the meeting will be held is yet to be announced.

Mahon emphasized the importance of cotton to the future prosperity of West Texas and expressed the hope that each county in this district would have at least one representative at the Lubbock meeting. The committee is seeking the viewpoint of the cotton farmer as to support prices, loans, parity, acreage restrictions, and numerous other questions of concern to cotton producers.

to be kept in good repair at all times, it has been pointed out.

But before road building agencies can assume the burden of constructing and maintaining this increased road mileage, road funds must be stabilized on a long-range basis.

This can be done only with the guarantees that are assured in the proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on November 5.

The federal aid law provides for withholding one-third of the federal aid appropriation from those states which permit diversion of road user funds to uses other than road purposes. Texas will never be penalized a cent under this requirement if its voters cloak road user taxes with the special protection of the Good Roads Amendment.

A Peek at the Stars Court Asks—

By LYN CONNELLY

NWNS Radio-Screen Editor.

WHENEVER radio and screen folk convene these days the conversation just naturally swings around to the fabulous contract Bing Crosby signed with Philco. . . There's a perceptible shake of the head and a sigh of envy and amazement at his rare achievement—all with due cause. Under the terms, he need make 39 half hour recordings and then, while his program is heard all over the nation, each week via transcription, he can be fishing comfortably in Canada. . . and collecting $30,000 each week for what amounts to actually a month's, or less, work. All Philco wants in return is a 15 Hooperating, and with Der Bingle's present popularity that should be a cinch.

Memphis Cyclone Defeats Lakeview Eagles 45 to 0

The Memphis Cyclone went on a rampage here Friday night—rather Jimmy McElreath did—and downed the Lakeview Eagles by the lopsided score of 45 to 0.

Outweighed in almost every position, the Eagles were never able to threaten the Cyclone, and even the Lakeview passes failed to click.

But the game was McElreath's chance to show local fans some fancy running. Using an amazing change of pace, combined with excellent twisting, he clicked off long runs, scored five touchdowns, and passed a nice, clean toss to Olin Jenkins for another tally.

The Cyclone scored in every quarter. Larry McQueen chalked up the final marker when he went over from the one-yard stripe after carrying the ball from the Lakeview 19 to the one-yard marker.

Three extra points were kicked by Bill Davis out of seven tries. The local team has had little success in extra points this year, and in the game with Lakeview, all attempts at conversion were made with Davis kicking.

McElreath scored twice in the first quarter. The Cyclone, starting their initial drive from the Lakeview 43, worked the ball down to the two-yard line, with McElreath and McQueen carrying the pigskin. McElreath fumbled, and the ball was recovered on the Lakeview 8. From there McElreath carried it over.

Shortly after, McElreath from the Memphis 25 rounded the right end and dashed through the Lakeview secondary for 75 yards and the second touchdown. Davis' kick failed on both of the first touchdowns.

In the second quarter, it was McElreath again. This time he went around right end again from the Memphis 32, carrying the ball 68 yards for the third marker. Davis kicked the extra point, to give the Memphians a 19 to 0 advantage.

Still in the second quarter, the Cyclone worked the ball to the Lakeview 22. From there McElreath shot a perfect pass to Jenkins over the goal, and Davis again made a successful kick.

Early in the third period, McElreath again hit the right side of the line, skipped through would-be tacklers, and raced 37 yards for another touchdown, and Davis made the kick good. The score was then 33 to 0.

Still in the third quarter, Mc-

Elreath slammed through the center of the line and over from the Lakeview 23-yard stripe, but the ball was called back and Memphis penalized 15 yards for holding. McElreath picked up ten yards, and on the next play went through the line and over the goal line from the 28-yard stripe. Davis' conversion failed.

In the fourth period, T. J. KJ. Gore carried the ball over from the Lakeview 45, but it was again called back, and the Cyclone penalized another 15 yards for holding.

Following this penalty, the Cyclone on a series of running plays got the ball to the Lakeview 17. McQueen went around left end to the 1-yard line, and on the next play he crashed through the line for the final marker. Davis failed to kick the goal, and the score was 45 to 0.

Despite being outweighed a cut-manned, the Eagles lived to their name of the "Fightin' Eagles." Bob Laird, K. D. Nallers, and David DuVall sparked the backfield, but the line was unable to open up sufficiently-large enough holes for them to go through. The Eagles tried the

Veteran Students Must Notify of Address Changes

Veteran students who fail to notify the Veterans Administration of all changes of address will encounter serious delays in receiving their subsistence checks, VA warned this week.

Changes of address must be reported to VA over the veterans own signature or their subsistence checks will be undeliverable, Eldon F. Fuller, VA's chief of vocational rehabilitation and education in the West Texas regional office at Lubbock said.

The regulation is a treasury ruling and is not subject to action by VA. In a survey recently completed, most veterans complaining about not receiving their checks were in the group which had changed address without notifying VA, Fuller said.

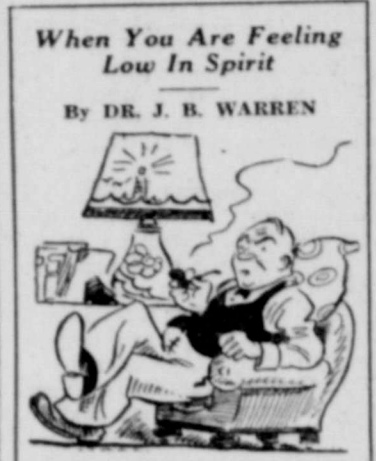

Forms forgiving all information required can be secured from VA offices or training officers on the campus. Telegrams or telephone calls are not sufficient since the notification must bear the veteran's signature.

In frequent cases where VA is not informed of moves, training officers must make difficult and often lengthy investigations to locate veterans before their subsistence checks can continue, Fuller said.

"VA is anxious to get these checks out promptly," he added. "With a little cooperation from veteran students in this matter, a big handicap to quick service will be removed."

SPECIAL SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

To the membership, friends and members of the Odd Fellows lodge who will attend the 11 o'clock service in a body Sunday, October 20, the pastor will bring a special message entitled "The Christianity of Christ." Special music will be presented by the choir. The public is invited.

If you are feeling low and your physician and dentist can find no reason for your feeling so miserable, sit down and try to think the matter over quietly. Ask yourself about your food, the regularity of your meals, your bowels, your hours of sleep, whether everything is all right at home with all your family, whether it is some financial loss preying on your mind. Be honest with yourself and you may soon put your finger on the cause of your symptoms.

Hey... all I said was I didn't mind waiting for the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

Our customers are just about the most patient people we know. With so many car owners insisting on the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown... the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES... even the factories' outstanding production hasn't been sufficient to catch up with demand. But we're playing it straight... filling each order in its proper turn. Meanwhile, if your tires are smooth, see us today. We'll do our best to keep your car rolling somehow.

We've never had a tire that sold as fast as the new... B.F. Goodrich Silvertown

The better the tire, the faster it sells... that's why we've had such a hard time keeping the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown in stock. There's extra demand because these tires are built with a wider, flatter tread that spreads the wear over a wider area. The cords are of an entirely new and stronger type with more of them, with greater resistance to "road shock." It's a proven tire of extra toughness and durability with millions of test miles on police cars, taxis and special test cars behind it. These features make it the tire that's well worth waiting for.

So he's an electric eel, so watt? All right, then, he re-el-y isn't an eel at all, if you want to be technical. His name's Electrophorus (Gymnotus) Electricus—Jim for short. He's a South American cousin of the carp and catfish. Maybe Jim does pack a wallop of 600 volts when he's hungry or annoyed (and he has a shocking temper)—BUT— Can he wash 3 tubs of clothes? Or tell the correct time for 4 days? Or light a hundred-watt bulb for 3 hours— for a penny? You bet he can't. He's not usefully eel-ectrified. Frankly, you'd better flip a switch if you want convenient, dependable electricity—all you need—at low cost. And speaking of low cost—did you know that the average family is getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago? That's no accident—like Jim and his temperamental voltage. Folks in this company have done a good job under sound business management. That's why your electric service is lower in cost—and higher in efficiency—than ever before.
