In connection with the news release from the Memphis High School the following statement was added concerning Edison and the Edison Centennial:

"February 11 marks not only the centenary of the birth of a great American, Thomas Alva Edison, but also the end of a century of progress like of which the world has never known. The past 100 years could well be called the Edison Era, because no other person contributed so mightily to the changing scene.

During February, professional societies, industries, and individuals will pay tribute to Edison's memory. Major radio networks and many independent stations will dedicate one or more programs to Edison. National magazines will feature Edison stories in word and picture. Special ob-

Final Rites Held For J. A. Brewer, Former Resident

He came to Memphis as a young man and after engaging in private business for a number of years, joined the Memphis Electric and Ice company in February 1921. TWENTY veterans have enrolled at Turkey in the third veteran's vocational agriculture class to be started in the county, Mary Foreman, county school superintendent, announced this week.

W. E. Helm of Quitaque, who has a B. S. degree in agriculture, will be the instructor, it was announced.

Other classes will be organized in this section as instructors are available, Miss Foreman said.

It is believed that the average flight trainee will receive around half of the maximum subsistence payment. The average course consists of 5 hours of training and 5 hours of ground training per week; and since flight training is counted at twice the time of ground school work, this averages 15 hours per week, which can be counted toward subsistence payments.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

One of the best columnists in the Texas Panhandle, bar none, is T. E. Johnson, editor of the Amarillo Daily Times. His column, These Times, is read avidly by a large number of Memphis citizens who knew T. E. when he served two years as news editor of The Memphis Democrat before going to Amarillo one year ago. The reason people like his column is because it gives an unbiased review of matters concerning the general public.

Congratulations to L. M. Thornton who will celebrate his 76th birthday anniversary Friday, February 7. I believe he was born in the great state of Arkansas.

Hotels, Motor Courts Must File Rent Reports

Hotels and motor courts in this area cannot qualify for decontrol of daily rates for their transient rooms until they fill out completely and properly the required form, Wilmer R. Mauldin, area rent director in Childress, said this week. Unless all of the required information is reported the establishment remains under control, he said.

Two requirements are necessary for automatic decontrol of transient rooms on or before February 15. These requirements are:

1. The establishment must have filed the supplemental registration requested by OPA in November and December of last year, and
 2. It must submit to its OPA area rent office a decontrol form, properly filled out.
- The supplemental registration must have been filed, he explained, because through that registration the establishment receives from the area rent office its classification as either a transient hotel, a residential hotel, a motor court, or a rooming house.
- Classification as one of the first three of these categories is necessary before decontrol of daily rates is possible because rooming houses are not included in the decontrol action.
- A listing of the classification that has been approved by the OPA rent office is the first item of information required by the decontrol form. This form is available in the area rent office at 129 1-2 Commerce street, Childress.

City Acquires New Hydraulic Loader

The city acquired a tractor three weeks ago, and a new hydraulic loader arrived and was attached to the tractor Tuesday, Mayor C. C. Hodges stated. This loading equipment will speed up street repairs and afford a substantial saving in man-hours for the city, he said. The equipment was ordered and installed by the McDaniel Implement Company.

We are at present handicapped because we have only one truck, Mayor Hodges said. We are trying to do a great deal of needed work, but we will be unable to do all the city work that needs to be done until we get the new truck which we have had on order for some time.

This one truck must collect trash and garbage, haul gravel, follow the street sweeper when it is in operation and do many other odd jobs, Hodges said. He pointed out that the street sweeper could not be kept in operation as much as was needed at present, because it is necessary that a truck collect the trash as soon as it is swept; otherwise it will immediately be blown over the streets again.

Record Supply of Fertilizer for Current Year

Almost a record supply of fertilizer is on hand now for the current fiscal year of American agriculture, but demand is still higher than the supply, according to a statement released from Texas A. and M. College extension service.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that present American fertilizer supplies are more than double the amount used in prewar years, but the needs of agriculture cannot be fully supplied by the fertilizers on hand. Nitrogen fertilizers are especially short.

Shortage of railroad cars is a bottleneck for all phases of the fertilizer industry. USDA reports. Tank cars for the shipment of nitrogen and boxcars for phosphate and potash are among the particularly short items.

Only slightly larger quantities of phosphates and potash are expected to be available during the current fiscal year than were available last year, while nitrogen supplies will be slightly less than last year. Various set-backs, such as the coal strike, have prevented production from reaching goals set for the year, but most of the loss in production is being made up by the export program run by the farmers.

Texas, with its 250,000 head of cattle, sheep and goats, chickens, turkeys, hogs, mules, has only about 300,000 in-animals engaged in private

"Health" Is Theme Of Study for Delphian Meeting

The Delphian Club met for a regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. Anisman.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Harry Womack, Mrs. C. C. Hodges, president-elect, named committees for the coming year.

Mrs. O. R. Saye and Miss Maud Milam gave an interesting program on "Health."

Mrs. Saye discussed an article entitled, "Do You Know What Your Medicine Cabinet Contains." She pointed out that it is important for each person to know his blood type. With modern drugs doctors rely more every day upon blood tests and blood counts in diagnosing illness.

"Get Up and Live," a recent article on abdominal operations, was given by Miss Milam. She explained the modern theory ad-

HOMELESS STRIKE... "Homeless demand remedies" hundreds of ex-GI's marched into MacArthur park, Los Angeles, tossed blankets on the ground and spent the night in a mass demonstration against the southland's housing snafu. In the rear the placards tell their own story.

Cash Products From Waste Is Research Goal

A three-way drive to turn the South's waste materials into valuable commercial products is being pressed this year by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with leading industries and universities, according to a news release from New York City. Such familiar and hitherto worthless by-products as corn cobs, grain stalks and husks, cottonseed hulls, buckwheat blossoms, and chicken feathers are already finding wide usage in important industries, and the department's southern laboratory at New Orleans will devote 1947 to exploring the commercial applications of many others including peanut shells, sweet potatoes, and cotton fibers.

Potentialities of the far-reaching research program are found, it was pointed out, in the uses now being made of corn cobs. One company reports use of approximately 48,000 pounds of ground cobs annually to burnish and clean ball and roller bearings.

Hardly a leaf is being left unturned by researchers, the report said.

The University of Pennsylvania medical school is experimenting with the lowly buckwheat plant, traditional griddle cake ingredient, to extract rutin needed for high-blood pressure victims. Other experts hope to develop a strong synthetic fibre from the 175,000-000 pounds of chicken feathers thrown away annually.

In southern Florida a $17,000-000 factory has been erected for large-scale production of starch from sweet potatoes, and construction-board manufacturers are buying up straw, stalks, and husks as raw materials. Peanut and cottonseed hulls are providing synthetic motor fuel at the rate of 90 gallons to the ton.

To increase the yield of penicillin, chemists and scientists are feeding the drug-producing mold a $234,000 yearly diet of 6,000-000 pounds of sugar obtained from milk. Three agriculture research stations are producing tannic acid, essential for curing hides, from wild sumac leaves, while off-shaped lemons, once discarded, are now producing profits in the form of lemon oil, citric acid, and pectin.

C of C Committee Gives Health Hints

The health committee of the Memphis chamber of commerce this week issued the following health suggestions:

"Just wishing for good health is not enough," said a spokesman for the health committee. "It is essential to follow some of the common sense rules of which your own doctor and your health department are constantly reminding you."

Here are a few valuable health suggestions, compiled by the health advisory council of the U. S. chamber of commerce, recommended by the local health committee:

Get enough exercise—in accordance with the requirements of your age, physical condition, and occupation.

Rest and sleep enough to prevent mental and physical fatigue.

Eat enough food to fill your dietary requirements, but do not overeat; see that your daily eating habits provide you with food of good quality and variety including whole grain or enriched cereal products, milk and milk products, meat, fish, eggs, fresh fruits and fresh vegetables in season, and for variety and interest such canned, frozen, dried, or other processed food products as you may desire.

Avoid self-diagnosis and self-medication—any illness or discomfort serious enough to warrant self-medication is serious enough to discuss with your doctor; if you are one of the millions addicted to self-prescribed remedies, you may be heading for trouble—see your doctor at once.

If you are well now, help yourself keep well by calling on your doctor at least once a year for regular physical checkups.

See your dentist twice each year.

If you are worried, depressed, or unhappy or have unusual fears or anxiety, talk over your troubles with your family physician, a psychiatrist, or a doctor at a mental hygiene clinic.

Be sure that you and all members of your family, especially the children, have received all the vaccinations or other immunizations recommended by your doctor or the health department.

Actively support and participate in health programs sponsored by your local medical society, health department, tuberculosis association, social hygiene society, chamber of commerce, and other recognized voluntary or official organizations.

Bad Teeth and May Cause Underweight in Children

By Dr. J. B. Warren

If a child does not have enough weight there is some reason. Most of us would like to have our children be fat, but it is not enough food or enough sleep. Very often the cause is underweight is infected teeth or infected tonsils. Pull a youngster's teeth if he isn't interested in play or anything else. His tonsils should be removed or removed at any time if the repeated attacks of tonsillitis...

HOUSE and HOME

By MARY E. DAGUE

Author of Sister Mary's Kitchen.

WHEN you purchase pork chops what do you ask for—loin, rib, shoulder. There is usually a difference in the price and a decided difference in the quality of the meat. So, when you order, it's well worth while to know which you want and why.

The loin chop is the choicest of them all, because it contains as the name implies the tenderloin on the underside of the bone. It is juicy and tender and of excellent flavor. Furthermore it contains less waste in bone and fat than the other two cuts. For these reasons, loin chops are often somewhat higher in price than rib and shoulder chops.

Next in desirability is the rib chop. It also is juicy and tender and of good flavor but has no tenderloin on one side of the bone.

Then comes the shoulder chop which is larger and of darker colored meat than the loin and rib chops. The texture of the meat is coarser than in the other two and there is more bone through the chop.

The rib and loin chop can be cut single or double as you prefer. Double chops are especially nice for baking and stuffing. Naturally, on account of the thickness of the meat they take longer to cook than the single chop.

And here are some suggestions for cooking pork chops.

Panned chops are cooked in the butter and oil on top of the stove. Trim enough fat from the edges of the chops to lightly oil the frying pan. In other words rub the bit of fat over the surface of the warm spider until it looks very shiny but there is no surplus fat. Add chops and sear slightly first on one side and then on the other. Sprinkle salt and pepper on both sides after searing, allowing 1/4 teaspoon salt for each chop—1/4 to a side. Now cover the spider, reduce heat and cook slowly until done. It will take about twenty-five minutes for single chops and forty minutes for double chops. Chops cooked this way will not be dry and chippy but juicy and tender and deliciously flavoured.

Choose double chops for stuffing and make a slit through the center toward the bone, with a sharp knife. Rub each chop with 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and less than 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard thoroughly mixed. Put from two to four tablespoons celery and bread crumb stuffing in each chop and fasten cut edges with wooden toothpicks if tiny skewers are not at hand. Sear in a hot frying pan as in preceding recipe for ten minutes. Cover closely and bake in a moderate oven for one hour. 350 degrees F. is a good temperature to maintain during the baking.

Pork Chops in Tomato Sauce
Four chops cut 1/4 inch thick, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 small onions, salt and pepper.

Trim fat from chops and try out in frying pan. Remove crisp pieces of fat. Roll chops in flour seasoned with salt and pepper and brown on both sides in hot fat. Add tomatoes, onion finely minced, cover closely and simmer over low heat for an hour or until chops are very tender. Serve on a hot platter with sauce poured over chops.

VETERAN UNEMPLOYMENT CLAIMS DECLINE

Veterans of World War II drawing unemployment allowances, after hitting a peak of 1,808,000 last April, had declined to 1,027,300 by the end of October, according to reports by various State Unemployment Compensation Boards to the Veterans Administration. Each figure in the above pictograph represents 200,000 claims.

agent and apply to him for farm work, return to the employment office to file a second application for work, and then file a claim for readjustment allowances. From then on he may draw his $20 a week payments because the employment service can not refer him to an agricultural job and there is no system of control by which the Unemployment Compensation Commission may be advised should the veteran refuse suitable agricultural work. McKinley pointed out that the present county agent system creates a number of absurd artificial barriers. For instance, the employment service can refer an individual to a job in a cotton gin, but cannot place him on a job to plow the field surrounding the gin. The employment service can get a job for a worker at a packing shed, but at the end of a packing season cannot refer him to a job with a fruit or vegetable grower just across the road. Commissioner McKinley went on to say that for a smaller community to have a balanced economy it was necessary that there be a normal, seasonal flow of workers between in-town, especially rural, industries and farms surrounding the town. The artificial barrier of the TUCC's not being able to handle farm placements in many instances often shuts off half the local labor market. This causes excessive payments of unemployment insurance which may affect local employers' taxes as well as payments of GI readjustment allowances to individuals from whom the employment service division of the TUCC could find agricultural jobs if allowed to do so. This artificially divided program is costing taxpayers thousands of unnecessary dollars each year, McKinley concluded.

MEMPHIS WINS 'B', LOSES 'A' GAME IN WELLINGTON MATCH TUESDAY

Memphis eaglers met Wellington here Tuesday night for two games before a larger than usual Memphis audience. Memphis took the B game 32 to 21, and lost the A game 31 to 25. Wellington held the Cyclone down to a 2-11 score in the first quarter, and to 8-21 at the half. Memphis gained a little during the third to end the quarter 14-25. At four minutes to play, Memphis had 18, Wellington 27. The Cyclone found the basket a little more often in the final minutes, but the ending score still gave the Wellington team a 6-point lead.

Wellington kept the ball most of the first half, but during the second took over more and more frequently. High point man for Memphis was Charles Morrison, with 9 points. Green was second with 6, Hickey and West having 4 each. Stewart, Rasco, and Don Morrison rounded out the A squad.

Wellington's high pointer was McPherson, with 10 points, Johnson and Winter racking up 8 points each. Williams, Bolen, Hunter, and Ingram filled out the Wellington team. The B squad game was like the A squad game played in reverse. The Memphis squad handled the ball all the first half, with Wellington slowly gaining on them. At the end of the first quarter the score was Memphis 10, Wellington 6; at the half it was Memphis 20, Wellington 10; at the third quarter, Memphis 30, Wellington 15. But in the last quarter, Wellington held the home team to one point, while they gained six, for the ending count of Memphis 31, Wellington 21.

Jenkins and Charles Morrison tied for high point honors with 8 each, and Greene followed close with 6 points. Other B squad men were Crooks, Gardenhire, Kilgore, Don Morrison, Childress, and Stewart.

Wellington high pointer was Hunter with 9, followed by Keller, with 3 points. O'Neill, McClain, McCutcheon, Williams, and Melton rounded out their B squad.

In the pre-freshmen encounter, the Gold team trimmed the Whites 22 to 9.

Farm Planning Aid Published, Yearly Guide

"Farm and Home Planning," a booklet offering rural families an outline by which they can write down and carry out plans during 1947, has been published by the Texas A. and M. College extension service. The booklet, Extension MS-776, can be obtained by writing to the Texas A. and M. College extension service, College Station, or by calling at the local county agricultural agent's office. Farm and home management specialists of the extension service who compiled the material in the booklet say that it is a simple means of putting down on paper the family's ideas of what they want to do on the farm and in the home. Such plans should be written down, the specialists say, so the family will have a guide in carrying out ideas. A farm and home plan can help the family provide for such things as a farm or ranch free of debt; a comfortable house and farm buildings supplied with labor saving equipment; comfort and security in old age; adequate food for the family; improved soil fertility, and a high production level.

Spaces are provided in the booklet for setting down ideas to be carried out in the future, and jobs done as plans are completed. Instructions are given and sealed pages provided for making maps helpful in rearranging the layout of the farm and farmstead.

Auto Owners Must Have Current Registration

If your Texas auto license has expired before March 1, or if you have established a business or residence in Texas from out of state, you must have a current Texas registration in order to qualify for a 1947 license, the highway patrolman's office emphasized today. Car owners should check their registration papers, and automobiles should be checked. A number of accidents have been caused in this area recently by automobiles not in proper operating condition, the highway patrolman said. A Texas dealer's license is restricted for use only by a demonstrator, or by a purchaser of a new car, who may use the license to drive to his home county for registration, the patrolman emphasized.

The tax collector's office now has 1947 license plates, and these may be purchased at any time, but may not be attached before March 1, it was announced.

TEACHERS WILL ASK MINIMUM BEGINNING SALARY OF $2,000

Editor's Note: This is the 4th and last article in a series submitted by the Texas State Teachers' Association.

A minimum beginning salary for degree teachers of $2,000 per year in Texas that will be requested by the Texas State Teachers Association of the 50th Legislature is not out of line with what is being done in other states and with the ability of Texas to pay.

November 5 the citizens of California, a state that already ranks second among the states of the country in school support, voted almost 3 to 1 to raise the minimum teachers' salary from $1,800 to $2,400. The proposal was in the form of a constitutional amendment. Beginning with the school year September 1, 1947, no California teacher, rural or city, will receive less than $2,400 per year.

Michigan voters, on November 5, approved a constitutional amendment allocating $30,000,000 additional revenue from state sales taxes to local school districts.

Oregon voters approved an initiative measure which provides for a basic state school fund sufficient to produce $50 per capita for each person in the state between the ages of 4 and 20.

Utah voters approved a constitutional amendment which will provide an estimated $4,000,000 increase in state aid schools. This will make it possible for the state of Utah to pay not to exceed 75 per cent of what the entire school program cost. Utah now pays 45 per cent of the total school costs.

The state of Arkansas, next to the lowest in the family of states in the amount spent on a per capita basis for school support, is launching a program to in-

Gay Window Boxes Best Home Beauty Treatment

To effect a striking improvement in the appearance of a house, at small expense, no better way can be found than to decorate it with window boxes full of flowers.

In congested city locations no less than in garden suburbs, window boxes can be used to grow beautiful flowers, and when they are planned to harmonize with the house, and accent its good points, they will delight the owners as well as all who pass.

Think of them as a decoration of the house; make them of a suitable size and a color to match the house color or trim. The flowers should be chosen to furnish a contrasting yet harmonious color accent. There is a wealth of suitable varieties from which to choose.

Construction of the boxes is simple and can be done this winter. The diagram which accompanies this article shows how to build them. For a standard single window, a box 3½ feet long, 8 inches deep and 10 inches wide is a good size. But measure your windows and make boxes to fit. Where larger, or multiple, windows demand greater length, the other dimensions must be larger in proportion, or single boxes may be provided for each window in a group.

Rich soil, of the type which florists call potting soil, must be used for window boxes. Because there is so little of it to feed the flowers, it should be well fertilized. A tablespoonful of chemical plant food for each square foot of soil should be used.

For the annual flowers, full sun is best; at least six hours of sun a day is necessary. The best subjects are those of dwarf or trailing habit, the latter dropping festoons of bloom from the boxes. Petunias of the balcony type are excellent, as are the tall nasturtiums, the giant morning glories, Dwarf petunias, marigolds, ageratum, calliopeus, annual pinks, lobelia, dwarf morning glories, phlox, and zinnias can be grown. Petunias have a great advantage in the fact that faded flowers need not be picked off before they make seed; since only a small proportion are pollinated and the production of flowers continues. Other annuals must have their flowers removed, to keep others forming.

Boxes which spend most of the day in shade offer a special problem. If the shade is that of a building, perhaps only foliage plants can be grown, such as ferns, fancy leaved caladiums, crotons, rubber plants and other florists' subjects.

If there is some sun, begonias will probably do well. Impatiens, the Zanzibar balsam, bearing flowers of salmon or rose on bushy plants 18 inches tall, are excellent in semi-shaded places. Violas thrive in partial shade, and the list of flowers which will do well increases as the amount of sun is enlarged.

crease the salaries of teachers in 1947 by $300 each.

Washington state has on its legislative program a proposal to increase the minimum salary from $2,200 to $2,400.

The state of New York ranks first in per capita expenditure among the states of the country. Yet, they propose at their forthcoming session of the legislature an emergency appropriation sufficient to give each New York teacher outside of New York City not less than $2,400 effective this year with comparable legislation to meet the needs of the teachers of New York City.

Hundreds of school boards throughout the country have already, during the course of the school year, provided substantial salary increases for teachers. Texas is no exception in this instance. Records of the State Teachers Association show that 278 independent districts have granted salary increases from local sources for the current school year, but 3,000 school districts in Texas coming under the provisions of equalization or rural aid are prohibited by law from increasing teachers' salaries from local funds. The maximum salary of some 16,000 teachers in these schools with a Master's degree and 10 years of experience is only $1,458.

Denver recently raised the minimum salary from $1,200 to $2,280 for teachers without experience. The maximum for teachers with Bachelor's degrees was increased from $2,880 to $3,650, and the maximum for teachers with a Master's degree was raised from $3,080 to $3,850.

A comparison of salaries of teachers in Texas with the average earnings per full time employee in private industry and other professional activities discloses some interesting facts. The average salary of classroom teachers in Texas in 1945-46 was $1,593. The average earnings per full time employee in private industry in 1945 was $2,242. The average annual salary of civilian federal employees in 1945 was $2,595. The beginning salary in the professional and scientific services of the federal civil service is $2,645 for the college graduate without experience. Salary studies have shown that the median professional employee in the federal service is classified in grade 3 with a basic salary of $4,150. By 1945, per capita income in the various states of the country had increased 113 per cent while the teachers' average salary had increased 31 per cent.

Tech Stadium to Be Completed by Fall

The new football stadium for Texas Technological College, with a permanent seating capacity of 15,000, is expected to be completed by next fall, according to present plans reported by school officials. Construction bids will be accepted until 10 a. m. February 26.

Addition of temporary stands in the north end zone area will give a total capacity of 17,500 for 1947 Red Raider home games if construction is as rapid as anticipated.

Building plans adopted by the Tech Foundation fund directors, headed by Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Tech president emeritus, provide for possible eventual enlargement of the stadium to accommodate 45,000. The new stadium grounds will provide parking facilities for more than 2,300 automobiles in addition to the parking space already in use at the present stadium.

Feeding the Five Thousand
Lesson for February 9: John 6:26-35; 56-58

Memory Selection: John 6:48.
In Matthew's account of the feeding of the 5000 we read that the disciples came to Jesus and said, "Send the multitude away," in modern slang, "Let us call it a day." But Jesus replied, "They need not depart; give ye them to eat." Then the disciples began to hedge with excuses—they had only five loaves and two fishes. Such a small provision would not feed many. Yet Jesus said, "Bring them hither to me," and He multiplied the loaves and fishes until all had eaten.

But it was the Master who did that. Certainly. Mark the lesson for us—it all depends upon what is done with a thing whether it has value or not. Consecrated to Jesus anything takes on an infinite value. And when Jesus commands, bring what He requires and in faith leave the use to Him.

The next day, when the people found Jesus on the other side of the sea, He told them they sought Him for the loaves and the fishes. Perhaps He was ready to pardon them for that. But He used the opportunity to teach them of the Bread of Life. The soul as well as the body must be fed. They who partake of Jesus through faith will receive spiritual life, for He is infinitely better than the manna of old, which nourished only the body, He is the gift from heaven to be the life of the soul.

May this be our plea, as we feel the hunger of the soul for righteousness and rich and abundant life now and always, "Lord, evermore give us this bread."

Nearly 2,000,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Senior Scouts will observe the 37th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7th to 13th. Through their World Friendship Fund of voluntary gifts the Boy Scouts of America have given $110,464.36 to help Boy Scouts overseas rebuild their organizations.

GOVERNOR JESTER MAKES REPORT ON VITAL NEEDS OF TEXAS TO SESSION OF FIFTIETH LEGISLATURE

Editor's Note: The following article is a summary of some of Governor Beauford H. Jester's remarks on needs of Texas in his report last month to the 50th Legislature.

TEACHERS—"... I have long advocated that we should bring the salaries of our public school teachers up to an average of $2,000 per year. It has been estimated that the average salary being paid during this school year is $1,785. Therefore, it would require an additional $215 to make the average salary $2,000 per year.

"Fortunately, many of our teachers are receiving adequate salaries. Certainly it would be a rank injustice to raise the salary of any teacher in this category before adequate provision is made for those in the lowest pay brackets."

"For the next biennium, I recommend that an additional $10,000,000 of the surplus money available in the general revenue fund be appropriated for payment of salaries to school teachers. This amount is, of course, in addition to the present $14,000,000 equalization appropriation from the general fund."

"Many school administrators have deplored the excessive number of school districts in Texas. Consolidations would make for economy and efficiency. Let me recommend that serious study be made of proposals for the administration of schools by county units."

Expansion of Professional Education for Negroes—"... Let us build for the Negro youth of this state a university worthy of the name Texas. This is an emergency matter, and under the authority of Section 5, Article III, of the Constitution, I respectfully submit this project for your consideration. An emergency appropriation of $750,000 from the general revenue fund is recommended to initiate the proposed expansion of professional education for the Negro youth of Texas.

"I also recommend that the additional sum of $2,000,000 be appropriated for this development in the next biennium. State Employees Salary—"The employees of the state government are urgently in need of a 'cost-of-living' adjustment in their salaries for the remainder of this fiscal year. We are losing many efficient employees because we are not paying enough. It is a sound business practice to keep good employees who are trained to do a particular job. Accordingly, I recommend an emergency appropriation of $1,100,000 to raise the salaries of the state employees during the remainder of the current fiscal year."

Public Safety—"... To provide at least 200 more highway patrolmen and 100 more police patrol cars, I recommend an additional appropriation of $1,300,000 per year to the State Department of Public Safety during the next biennium. The additional highway police force will greatly aid in curbing crime and in apprehending law breakers. Adequate highway policing will do much to hold the post-war crime wave in check."

Farm to Market Roads—"There is no problem more important in Texas today than the need of farm-to-market roads. Farm-to-market roads are more than an economic aid to farmers and a convenience to our rural citizens. Impassable roads lower school attendance in rural areas. Good roads will bring hospitals and medical service within convenient reach of our rural citizens."

Labor—"... No thoughtful person can begrudge the recognition and dignity to which labor is entitled, but I say this: Labor can have no dignity without responsibility. The dignity of the free man is that he stands equal with all others before the law, without special privileges or immunities. Is it asking too much that labor be made to stand equal before the law with capital? ..."

Welfare—"The increased cost of living has imposed severe hardships upon our indigent old people, dependent children and needy blind. Action to alleviate this condition should be taken immediately. I recommend that the legislature make an emergency appropriation of a sufficient amount to bring the current welfare appropriations up to the constitutional maximum of $35,000,000."

THE FARMER'S ROLE IN HALL COUNTY

THE BROTHERHOOD of the soil is the mightiest fraternity on this earth. Men who draw their living directly from the land have a bond and a community of interest seldom found in the derivative occupations. People come to realize that the life essence is the mother soil. Living on and with the land itself gives a deep appreciation for independent thought and action as well as the communal force: the reason being that a mistake with the land is not easily erased.

This points to the fact that farming is a slow process: a plan is not executed in a day; it requires months or years. Nature demands that a farmer make a sound decision and carry his considered judgment through with constant work and attention. It requires a mature mind that works best in terms of years.

Farmers of Hall County didn't say much about it, but they were indignant at an editorial published in Life magazine last year. The article accused the American farmer of hoarding, gorging himself on the fat of the land, waiting for more profit while his brother starved in the city. Elsewhere much was said about the get-rich-quick farmer who mined the soil for quick profits and moved on, leaving the soil exhausted. Instances there might have been, but basis for generalization, none. Kenneth Dixon proved this quickly. He did it by touring the land that he was already in touch with, looking at the farms and talking with the farmers, not sitting behind his desk in a magazine office.

Our forests and farm woodlands came in for the next barrage of wordage. England charged that we were using up one-third of the world's paper supply. One nation told us that Democracy must be a fragile institution if it took the lion's share of the world's printed pages to maintain it. And we had started around 2000 new publications with the close of the war. Our national experts told us we were cleaning our land of timber. One of the most influential writers denouncing our national ravage was Paul Sears, a University of Oklahoma scientist. He brought home the fact that in large areas we were committing economic suicide by a careless waste of land and timber. All of these were answered. We embarked on programs of reforestation and conservation on a scale never before thought possible.

About this same time that the American farmer was being pilloried by the critics, the farmers of Hall County were being named as one of the top groups in the nation in attention to the soil. Yes, land improvements cost during the war. Makeshift equipment had to be constructed. Commercial fertilizers were scarce and expensive. Labor was hard to get. Farmers were tired from long hours and many complex problems. It costs to keep land up during periods of scarcity and inflation. It was a temptation to let the land go—to take care of it next year. But the farmers of this county were mentioned as outstanding in the nation in long-term soil planning.

At the recent soil conservation meeting here in Memphis the visiting speakers were impressed with the extensive and intelligent soil building and soil conserving work done in this county. The large attendance of the farmers proved their superiority in conservation matters but an incentive to still better thinking and planning in living with the soil.

This nation is entering a new era of intensive, scientific farming, and Hall County is in on the ground floor.

Refinery Discussed

There will have to be a lot more development in the Dallas County shallow water irrigation belt, which so far as known now lies principally east of Texline and in the Coldwater community, before this area could even expect to get a sugar beet refinery.

President H. E. Knapp of the American Crystal Sugar Company of Rocky Ford, Colo., told a meeting of farmers and businessmen in Texline that a refinery cannot be justified till it is assured production of from 15,000 to 17,000 acres of fully developed sugar beet land. He said a refinery costs from 3 to 5 million dollars, and that the operating cost of his company's mill at Rocky Ford was $4,000 every 24 hours.—The Dalhart Texan.

Kimbrough Assistant

Clark Jarnigan, past assistant coach under Kimbrough at Baylor, has signed a one-year contract for duty at West Texas State. Frank Kimbrough, former head coach at Baylor University, signed a contract January 24 to coach the Maroon and White football team.

Kimbrough is well known in this area, having coached the Amarillo College Badgers through four seasons. His 1933 and 1934 Amarillo teams captured the state junior college championships.

After leaving Amarillo, Kimbrough moved to Hardin-Simmons and gained fame as a coach with several undefeated elevens. In 1941, he signed to coach the Baylor Bears. While serving with the navy, the new mentor added more prestige to his coaching career by tutoring the powerful North Carolina Pre-Flight gridgers. When the war ended he went back to Baylor.—The Canyon News.

The Republicans have backed down on their original intention of reducing the luxury taxes. The folks back home protested against the tax being lowered on fancy baggage, perfumes, furs, and whisky before the income tax on all of us is reduced.

—THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON—

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Much of the steam has been let off by victory-flushed members of the new congress, statements that made good reading back home, and they have now settled down to face the reality of the responsibility which is theirs.

Already there is some hedging and back-tracking on some of the earlier statements on both labor and tax questions. Congressman Knutson got out over his head on the question of repealing war-time excise taxes and is now treading water with a bill to continue these taxes after the dead-line date June 30. On the question of the national budget, the consensus of opinion is that the figure of 37½ billion as fixed by President Truman will be cut some, likely down to 34 or 35 billion, but not the 29-billion-dollar figure as demanded by Representative Taber of New York.

And the thinking is that individual income tax cuts, if any, will likely be around the 10 or 12 percent mark, far short of the 20 percent across-the-board goal as set by Congressman Knutson.

The supreme court hearing on the John L. Lewis appeal, while of high interest here, has had the edge taken off somewhat by the fact that no matter what the court's decision, this congress seems determined to amend the Norris-LaGuardia Act, to make certain the government will have authority to use the injunction in emergencies declared by the President as affecting the general public.

The proposal of the President for a compromise merger of the armed forces has met with almost universal approval on Capitol Hill and legislation to carry out the merger to create a single agency of national defense with separate arms of army, navy and air, likely will be passed.

There has been considerable favorable comment from both sides of the aisles in congress over the President's economic report on the state of the nation as prepared by his economic advisers under the terms of the full employment act. There was considerable comment over the fact that the thinking of the non-partisan committee follows closely in many respects the report of the committee on economic development, a committee of small business leaders, which was filed a few days ago.

The unique value of this does not lie particularly in the recommendations and warnings of which have been made before in the fact that its analytical conclusions are linked up with recommendations for legislation which the President is obligated under the take action.

This latter fact was brought before this week by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, of Wyoming. Under reorganization act there was a joint economic committee composed of seven members from both parties. It is the job committee, under the terms of the law, to prepare an economic report supposed to be based on the of the President's economic policy.

Senator Mahoney called a meeting of this committee, of which the retiring chairman, this week pointed out that the law is that the report must be made by February 1. Furthermore the committee is required to make a continuing study of matters set by the President's report and means of coordinating the programs to further the policy of full employment act. Senator Mahoney said he intended to prod the senate until the bill to bring into being legislation carry out the terms of the law.

The President's first meeting at the White House, after his promise of non-partisan operation of the executive and legislative branches created good will in the congress, course, the GOP members are bound to carry out any of the proposals discussed "off the record" these conferences. The White House has indicated that Mr. Truman call these meetings of the committee both parties to the White House whenever he deemed it advisable.

Ham Puff Adds Taste Enjoyment to Everyday Menus

The planning of nutritious meals day after day presents perplexing problems to some homemakers. And, to make the best use of foods to satisfy keen appetites, takes some ingenious planning.

If ham is to be included as one of the meats during the week, it is wise planning to have some leftover. Then later in the week, or the following week, a delicious deviled ham puff can be served.

Let bread dry out and toast lightly. Cut crusts from bread and place crusts in a greased, baking dish, 9x9x1 1/2 inches. Combine ham, mustard, and horseradish and spread evenly over crusts, then arrange the whole slices, cut in half diagonally, on the top. Mix eggs, milk, salt, and pepper and pour over bread so as to saturate the top slices; allow to stand for 1 hour; bake at 325° F. for 1 hour. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

Antinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!

The kidneys do a big job. Their task is to keep the blood stream free of an excess of poisons. The act of living—life constantly producing waste—the kidneys must remove from the body. If good health is to endure, the kidneys fail to function as intended, there is retention of waste. This may cause body-wide disease, attacks of dizziness, headache, swelling, puffiness of eyes—feel tired, nervous, all the time.

Severe, or burning passages, sometimes further evidence of kidney trouble.

Recognized and proper treatment with medicine to help the kidneys rid the body of excess poisons. They have had more years of public approval. Are sold in the country over. Insist on the name at all drug stores.

The Bookshelf

Two Texas poets have come in for a prominent share of publicity during January—David Russell, poet laureate of Texas, and Grace Noel Crowell, poet laureate in 1935. Both are light, lyrical and more given to clarity than to artistic experiment and pure expressionism; but both have an increasing following.

David Russell, assistant speech professor at SMU, has just published a new book, "The Silver Faun." His previous works are "There is no Night," (1942) and "Sing With Me Now," (1945) which won the 1945 book award of the Texas Institute of Letters.

Grace Noel Crowell, who got her first check from a publisher some 40 years ago, has just had her sixteenth book published. Harper Brothers announce "The Wind-swept Harp." Next fall Augsburg Press will publish "The Little Boy Down the Lane," and about the same time the fourth in her series of "Songs for Comfort" will be issued.

WOMAN AS A FORCE IN HISTORY

By Mary R. Beard

This book is a revolutionary study of the traditions which have grown up concerning the relationship between men and women from the earliest times to the present. The author tests these traditions as no other writer has done, in the light of what history can show of the way in which men and women have actually lived and worked together. Some of these powerful traditions which are still prevalent are that woman was a subject sex throughout the long ages of the past; that the world has always been and still is a man's world; and that equality is the perfect escape for woman from the historic "tyranny" of man. This is a forthright and extremely readable survey.

CHLOE MARR

By A. A. Milne

This is how the author describes his book: "A portrait of a gay, young woman in a year between wars, done from the outside, so that the reader must form his own judgment of her; as do her friends in this book, and all of us of each other in real life. Of her friends the reader will learn something from the inside, which may enable him to know them better, and so to see Chloe more clearly through their eyes. If, in the end, she still remains something of a mystery, he should not be surprised; for every human being is a mystery and nobody knows the truth about anybody else."

HAPPY THE LAND

By Louise Dickinson Rich

Happy the land that has no history. The lakes, forests and mountains of western Maine where Louise Rich makes her home are without formal history in the school book sense, but not without meaning, as this book demonstrates. It is an account of life in the woods, full of wit and wisdom and high enthusiasm.

THE SAFE BRIDGE

By Frances Parkinson Keyes

A dramatic romance of New England in this story. It has grace and charm and proves the author's talent for creating real and vivid scenes. It tells the story of Elizabeth Burr, blithe Scotch lass with a sweet face and pretty eyes, who was sent secretly from her home in England to Vermont because her father objected to her romance with Basil Keith, dashing young English officer. In her new home she meets, falls in love with and marries James Anderson, whom she considers her "safe bridge." But her original sweetheart appears and the complications that follow hold the reader's attention.

County Schools Get Letters From Italian Children

Last year the school children of Hall County made up a fund of $75 to be sent to school children in Italy through the Red Cross. Monday the county superintendent's office received several letters of appreciation from school children there who had received food and necessities bought with the money, Miss Mary Foreman said.

The letters were written in Italian and had been translated by the Red Cross. Some of the children had never tasted chocolate candy until they received candy bought with the fund, the letters stated. The letters are being sent to the schools, Miss Foreman said.

Baptists Will Make Survey Sunday

Workers from the First Baptist Church will attempt to call at every home in the city Sunday to obtain information for the churches of Memphis, providing the weather is favorable, according to an announcement by church officials.

Those making the survey will ask residents if they are church members, where their membership is, the local church they prefer, if they have ever taught a Sunday School class, and if so what age; if they are enrolled in Sunday School, their age and birthday, their name and address, if they are single or married, and if they are Christians.

Pastors of other churches are cooperating in the move, and information will be forwarded to the respective churches after completion of the census.
