RANCHERS OF PRECINCT 3 REPORT SUCCESS IN COYOTE POISONING

Farmers and ranchers of precinct 3 of Hall County have reported to Judge John Russell that they are well pleased with the results of the coyote poisoning program going on in that precinct. Numerous coyote carcasses have been seen since the campaign began February 1, Judge Russell reported this week.

There have been several reports of rabid coyotes in that territory in the past few months, and since coyotes can cause rabies among livestock, livestock raisers asked the county to help kill the coyotes, Judge Russell said.

Annual Father-Son Banquet Is Held for Gridmen Tuesday

Frank Kimbrough, new WTSC football coach, former Baylor mentor, and brother of "Jarrin John" of Texas A. and M. fame, addressed the 1946 Cyclone football squad at their annual father and son banquet at the high school gym Tuesday night.

"If all a coach can do is teach a boy to win, then that coach is failing in his job," Kimbrough said. He told the boys that football could do many things for an individual—that the work, sacrifice, and cooperation the boys put into football would pay dividends in self control and the ability to see a job through in future life.

He said many years ago all the emphasis was too often placed on having a winning team, and too little on the many benefits of a sound athletic program; that many school leaders were formerly thought unsound if they placed too much emphasis on athletics. But school leaders and the general public are changing their minds. (Continued on page 5)

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS
 By J. C. W.

The members of the Lions Club for some weeks have been proposing various things that Memphis needs in the way of improvement and the part that the membership can play in aiding those activities. Suffice it to say that all favor a community center; supervised activities for the teenagers and oldsters as well; beautification of homes, parks, cemetery, and business section; hard-surfacing streets that are now graveled and graveling those that do not have gravel; and a lot of other just as important civic activities.

Memphis has always been known as a friendly city, and in times past as a clean and progressive city. If each citizen would take an interest in beautifying the place over which he has control, and make it a point to add shrubbery, flowers, grass, and a little paint and repair on run-down property, it wouldn't be long until visitors would begin to take notice and the folks at home would get to liking their town that much more.

Pending Tax Bills Won't Help Much By March 15

H. E. Arnold, acting collector of internal revenue, cautioned taxpayers today not to confuse pending tax legislation in congress with the 1946 income tax returns which must be filed not later than March 15 by every person who had $500 or more income last year. The collector pointed out that, if any changes are made in the tax laws, the changes will apply only to 1947 and therefore will not alter in any way the filing of last year's return due by March 15.

For 1946, a return is required by March 15 from every person who had $500 or more income, regardless of all other circumstances (except, of course, members of the armed forces still overseas). Returns are required even though part or all the tax has been paid by withholding.

Tax-Paying Hints For Withholding Statement Users

For the thousands of wage earners in the 2nd Texas district who plan to fill out their withholding statements as their income tax returns, H. E. Arnold, acting collector of internal revenue, this week offered the following helpful suggestions:

a. On the back of the form, watch the instructions under lines 2 and 3 to make sure you are eligible to use this form.

b. Be sure to fill out every line on the back of the form that applies to you.

c. If you had more than one job where tax was withheld last year, you should have a statement from each employer. In that case, fill out only one of the statements, but attach all the other statements to it. Add up your wages and write the total on line 1.

d. If husband and wife are filing together, do same in preceding paragraph.

e. If single, disregard line 4. If married, answer the question in line 5 very carefully to assure proper exemptions for yourselves.

f. List only dependents in upper right hand spaces (not self and wife).

g. Be sure to sign in the lower righthand space. If husband and wife are filing together, both should sign.

h. Don't make any deductions from your income. When you file on this form, the collector will give you both your exemptions and an automatic allowance equal to about 10 per cent of your income, before figuring the tax. Then, he'll give you credit for the tax which was withheld from your wages, and send you either a bill or a refund for the difference.

i. Make sure your correct address is shown on the front of the form.

j. Mail your return to "Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas" before March 15.

Mr. Arnold emphasized that filing on Form 1040 rather than using a withholding statement as a return has the following advantages for the taxpayer:

1. The taxpayer knows at once how much his refund will be, or how much tax he owes, without having to await notices from this office.

2. Overpayments disclosed on Form 1940 are processed much faster, thereby making it possible to schedule refunds more promptly.

3. There is less chance of errors being made or of an incomplete return being filed.

4. It is to the advantage of the taxpayer in many cases to compute his tax by use of long Form 1040.

Lakeview Girls Win County Title

The Lakeview girl cagers won the county title when they played Turkey Monday and Tuesday. In the Monday night game Lakeview won 45 to 23, with only four players left to finish the game, each of those with four fouls each, it was reported. They were Avylee Weddel, Frances Brewer, Grozella Hagins, and Edith Driver.

Tuesday night Turkey played at Lakeview, with Lakeview winning again, 34 to 14. This entitles the girls to attend the district tournament at Panhandle, Friday and Saturday.

Students at Texas Technological College are finding group hospitalization insurance valuable, it is reported. Since the service was started early in December, some 57 hospital cases have been reported covered. More than 1,000 students have enrolled in the program, which is offered on a voluntary basis.

WEATHER

Memphians were a little surprised when snow began falling Wednesday shortly before 6 a. m. The temperature reached a low of 30 degrees, but after the snow stopped a rising temperature that reached 60 in the afternoon melted all traces of the snow, according to J. J. McMicken, government weather recorder.

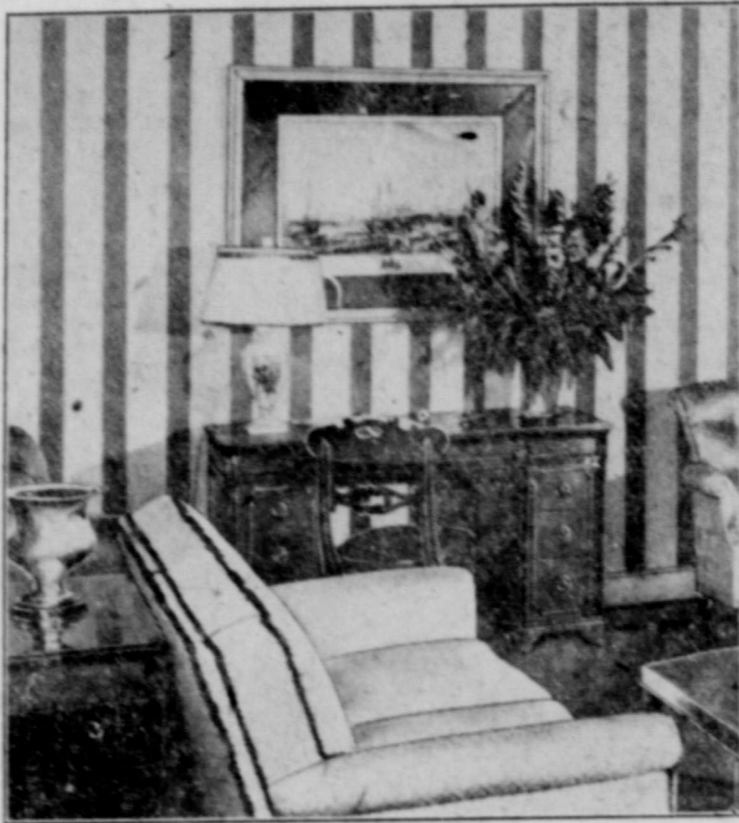

Thursday morning was slightly colder, with a low of 26 degrees, lowest since last Friday, when a low of 22 was recorded.

Highest temperature for the week was Sunday's 75 degrees. Temperatures for the remainder of the week have been consistent, with highs in the 60's and low temperatures in the 30's.

Thirty per cent of the full time employees of Texas Technological College are veterans of wars in which the United States has participated, according to a recent survey. In addition, 62 per cent of the part time college employees are veterans.

Smart Rooms Wear Stripes

FASHIONABLY important and drawing special recognition in today's scheme of decoration is wall paper. Whether you are furnishing a new home or redecorating ways to start out is to settle the wall problem. Once this has been decided, it is smart to coordinate the rest of your furnishing plans to the background the walls provide.

For example, choose a stripe in a wide, rich green and white, to accent the mood of a living room. This type of wall paper furnishes a dramatic background for the classic simplicity of the decor.

There are variations on the stripe theme—the width and coloring should keynote the desired formality or informality you want to emphasize.

Striped paper can be utilized in a myriad of ways—use it on all four walls—use it in combination with plain papered walls, either just one wall of the room, or on all but one wall. Stripes can be used most effectively coordinated with floral print paper.

There are so many stripes available today, in all sizes and colors, that it is possible to choose the one which will contribute the most to your room's charm and livability.

1913 Study Club Entertains Husbands And Guests With Dude Ranch Party

A "Dude Ranch" party was the theme for the annual gentlemen's evening of the 1913 Study Club Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baldwin, 321 North 12th street.

Assisting Mrs. Baldwin in her role as hostess were members of the social committee, Mesdames L. W. Stanford, Horace Tarver, T. W. Harrison, and Al Burks.

The western motif was used throughout the party carrying out the ranch idea in a modern way. Guests arrived at 7:30 o'clock arrayed in ranch style costumes which added color to the atmosphere of the occasion.

Yellow daffodils were placed at vantage points in the home and added a note of gaiety to the entertaining rooms. To further carry out the chosen color scheme the tables were laid with yellow linen luncheon cloths appliqued with cowboy designs. An old-fashioned oxt tail holding a bouquet made of vegetables formed a unique center piece for the dining table, and the foursome tables were centered with similar bouquets representing pot plants. Colorful fiesta ware and place cards denoting brands of the early west completed the table appointments. The guests found their partners by matching brands.

The menu consisted of barbecue, ranch-style red beans, potato salad, dill pickles, hot rolls, pie, and coffee.

Immediately following the dinner, Mrs. M. McNeely, club president, offered a toast to the club woman's husband, presented as an example of a club husband's efficiency, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, candidate for president of the Seventh District of T. F. W. C.

Mrs. Ace Gailey, chairman of entertainment, read a clever and appropriate poem, "Down Where the Vest Begins," in the form of a parody. She then led the group in singing cowboy songs with mandolin accompaniment, assisted by D. L. C. Kinard with the french harp. Mrs. R. S. Greene, costumed to represent Santa Fe Sue, dance hall girl, gave a review of "Maverick Town" by John McCarty. Santa Fe Sue was one of the characters represented in Mr. McCarty's book.

Highlighting the gentlemen's part on the program with the response by guests to "Cowboy Yarns" was Frank Finch, who read an original poem "Ox Bow Headquarters on Shoe Bar Ranch" written when he was 17 years of age. Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, program chairman, specified yarns that would do to print and most of the gentlemen stayed within these specifications.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe DeBerry, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Toney, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rev. Goodman Moves to Jarrell

Members of the Lesley Baptist Church and the Lesley community met Wednesday night in the Lesley Baptist Church for a Valentine party honoring Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Goodman and family. Rev. Goodman is transferring to the church at Jarrell.

The social hour was spent playing games directed by Mrs. Bryan Adams, Mrs. Dudley Adams, and Arlan Miller. Then a valentine game was played, and Retha June Kinnard dressed as a "live" Valentine, in a red and white, heart-frilled costume, presented gifts to the honoree. Sandwiches, pie and coffee were served to more than 75 guests.

Church members said they felt the church had improved there during Rev. Goodman's two years of work with them, and they wished to express their regret at losing him, and their best wishes as he went to his new pastorate.

are the playgrounds for not only folks in Memphis but for the people of surrounding areas. It wouldn't cost much, but would take a lot of attention.
I am glad the City of Memphis has taken over Fairview Cemetery. For a dozen or more years I have striven to get the cemetery improved. First, through donations a well and water pipes were installed. Later, just about time the war came on donors had furnished sufficient money to buy a power mower for the cemetery, but could not get one because of the war. Now, I am glad to state, a power mower will arrive this week for the cemetery if the dealer sends it like he promised.

"In our civic work, let's keep in mind that a civic-minded public through co-operation can do anything the populace sets its mind to do. As one body, let's all join in the effort to make the city beautiful, clean, progressive, and desirable.

AN OLD TIMER
Monday, February 17, was the birthday anniversary of W. P. Dial, one of the county's oldest settlers from the standpoint of age and citizenship of the county. He first came to Hall County in 1889 and the next year moved his family here. Very few other 1889-settlers of the county are now living, and none who have taken a more active interest in the development of this section of country.
Mr. Dial first tried growing wheat, and later began farming and stock raising, now owning land not only in this county, but in Wheeler and Gray counties also, as well as a lot of other interests that keep him physically and mentally occupied.
For years he conducted a feed and grain business in Memphis and other towns nearby, and was at all times actively identified with the town's business circles, serving as president of the chamber of commerce, and at present is chairman of the board of stewards of the Methodist church, which place he has held for more than a score of years.
His has been a life of activity, and an intensive and sympathetic interest in mankind, and in the sunset years of his life he continues to hold that same active interest in his town, community, and citizenship. May William Pitt Dial have many happy returns of the birthday!

that it could not grow into a city unless it became a center of transportation," Foxhall said. "Our city fathers met that problem by soaping the tracks of trains that did not stop here. But Memphians know now that it is time to build an airport, with an eye to the future, to airlines, airmail stops, and all the advantages being ushered in with the air age."
Foxhall also pointed out that Flying Farmers in Tahoka had built up a fine, well-known organization, in a town of only 2,000, in a county half the size of Hall, and he said that he looked forward to the time when the same type of organization could be found in Hall County.
He said that enrollment at the newly organized flying school had been encouraging, and that any veteran was eligible for instruction if he was not already enrolled in another type of training. He emphasized that students were taught the limitations of flying, and the importance of weather and good maintenance as factors in flying, as well as mechanical information.
T. E. Noel was in charge of the program, and W. B. Hooser and J. B. Crockett made short talks about the Tenth Annual 4-H and FFA Livestock Show which is to be held March 1.
Rev. C. R. Tension became a member of the Memphis Rotary Tuesday, having transferred his membership, and Ed Foxhall resumed his membership, having returned permanently to Memphis.

Jones added that the Federal Land Bank, which is owned entirely by the 144 national farm loan associations in Texas, is celebrating its 30th anniversary this spring. Local farmer- and rancher-owned national farm loan associations "are the foundation of the land bank system and the meeting in Houston was featured by discussion of the operations of these organizations which are set up for providing safe, long-term credit at low cost, to suit the needs of landowners."
Reports at the Houston meeting showed that 164,717 land bank and land bank commissioner loans for a total of $477,650,000 have been made in Texas during the past 30 years, many thousands of these having already resulted in debt-free ownership of farm homes.

VETERANS' QUESTION BOX

Ed. Note: This newspaper has arranged with the Washington Bureau of National Weekly Newspaper Service, 1616 Eye St. N. W., Washington 6, D. C., to answer questions pertaining to servicemen and veterans. These questions will be answered in this column if addressed as above. No replies can be made by mail, but this paper will print answers to all questions received.

Q. Can you please tell me where I can write to obtain the home address of a couple of buddies of mine. I knew them when we were overseas together, but I lost track of them when being transferred home. It's been a year, but I have their serial numbers. Can they be of any help to me?—P. H., Madeira, Ohio.

A. Send the full names and serial numbers to the Office of Enlisted Personnel, Adjutant General, War Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Q. Would you please give me some information on the whereabouts of my brother? It has been a little over three months since I heard from him. He has been in the army almost 15 months. His address is Pfc. A. M. G., 10th Supply Sqdn., 10th Air Depot, APO 231, Postmaster, New York. Serial number, 44163596.—Mrs. A. B., Newton Grove, N. C.

A. As of November 30 your brother, A. M. G., was with the 42nd Air Supply Squadron, APO 231, Postmaster, New York City.

Q. I understand a veteran's pension is for his own use and law protects him so that no one can claim any part of it. Is this true?—G.F.S., Buffalo, N. Y.

A. Yes, generally speaking, a veteran's pension is for his own use and is free from creditors and taxes. However, the veteran is not free from the laws of his state and in a case where he is legally bound to support a wife or children, a court could order the veteran to contribute to the maintenance of his family from his pension.

Q. What taxes and how much percentage of same, are veterans of World Wars I and II exempt from on real estate and property, owned by the veterans?—E. R. B., Hudson Falls, N. Y.

A. There are no federal laws which exempt veterans from taxes on real property. However there are some states in which specific laws have been passed to give veterans certain tax benefits. Suggest you consult your local tax officials

Friendly Thoughts
by HARRY G. WOMACK

FRIENDLY TALKS
The greatest of all natural laws is the law of love. Noisy conventions of hatred cannot destroy the good works of love. Sly sophistry persuades, and for one dark night domineering force rules through fear, but in the morning love floods the land with sunshine and men are again at their appointed tasks. Hatred, greed, envy are life's nightmares—love is life's reality.

If a director's publicity is to ring true, his public service should be of such a sincere nature as to be continually convincing.

JAP UNDERWATER WEAPON REVEALED . . . The Japanese planned to send battalions of suicide divers in special self-contained diving suits in final effort to repel the anticipated invasion of their homeland. The Jap navy was fast developing submerged "foxholes" and underwater torpedo launchers built into sunken hulks of vessels in Tokyo Bay. The self-contained diving suits were equipped with tanks of oxygen and a liquid food which enabled the men to stay under water over eight hours.

Cars Collide on Farm Road South Of City Monday

A 1940 Ford, driven by M. C. Martin, collided with a Texaco gas truck, driven by Charlie McBee, Monday afternoon on a farm road about four miles southeast of Memphis, according to O. H. Jones who was in the car driven by Martin, and who is owner of the car.

Jones said that no one was hurt except for minor cuts and bruises received by Martin.

Martin was returning home from town, Jones said, and McBee was returning to town after making a gasoline delivery. Jones said the collision occurred when McBee crashed into the side of the Ford driven by Martin, as Martin attempted to make a turn onto a sideroad.

First Six Weeks of Garden Beauty is Due to Bulbs

In selecting fall bulbs to plant in the home garden, the flowering time of the various kinds should be known, since their value depends much on their earliness.

The tiny white snowdrop flowers would hardly be noticed in a June garden, but when they peep through the melting snow, the very first blooms of spring, they give us a thrill which the most gorgeous peonies can hardly equal later in the season.

Snowdrops blossom when the ground first thaws in spring. A small group visible from a window will richly reward you. After blooming, they soon disappear, and if the bulbs are not disturbed they will bloom for many years without attention.

Next after the snowdrops, how long depending upon the weather, scillas (blue squills) and glory of the snow (chionodoxas) appear, both blue, and flowering so freely they carpet the ground with color. Scillas spread by self-seeding. Weeks earlier than violets, they are far superior for gardens, because their foliage quickly disappears after they flower, and their tiny bulbs offer no competition to companion plants. These early bulbs are often planted in locations which later in the season would be shaded but because trees and shrubs are not yet in leaf, are in sunshine when they bloom.

Crocuses blossom after the scillas, and of all the early bulbs are the most difficult to keep with you. All bulbs are harmed if they are cut before they turn yellow, which is a sign that new bulbs have been matured for the following season. When crocuses are planted in grass, which is cut before the leaves have yellowed, the bulbs seldom live until another year. So plant them in a bed or border, where they can ripen undisturbed, and be sure they are in a well drained place. Even under the best conditions you will probably have to plant some new bulbs annually in order to maintain a display. They come in white, blue and purple, and a most pleasing effect.

From the time most until the crocuses bloom, a period of three to four weeks depending on the weather, called "minor" bulbs are in bloom. These are small, but precious because they are the earliest to bloom, and some are the most beautiful.

Soon after the crocuses, daffodils, first "major" spring, and with them the earliest wild flowers bloom, and some gardeners are not surprised to find them to follow.

SERVICE when Cable is able Sometimes people get a telephone ahead of their friends who have been waiting a longer time. The reason for this is that cable facilities are open in some locations, while not in others. Lack of cable facilities is a major cause for the delay in expanding telephone service. For this reason we must make full use of existing cable capacity to meet as many demands for service as possible.

- Grind 100 to 500 pounds of grain, depending on kind and fineness of grinding
- Shear 25 sheep
- Saw one cord of wood
- Turn a grindstone for 3 hours
- Pump 1,000 gallons of water
- Run a sewing machine for 30 hours
- Run the washing machine for the largest family washing
- Milk 20 to 25 cows with a portable milking machine or 10 to 15 with a pipe line machine
- Cool 100 pounds of milk

NEWS-LETTER

By EUGENE WORLEY
The gravest danger which has menaced the livestock industry of the United States, the dread foot and mouth disease, has cropped up in Old Mexico. The importation of several hundred head of bulls from Brazil into Mexico last year brought the disease and unless prompt and effective action is taken by the United States and Mexico, it could and will undoubtedly spread to Texas and all over the United States.

This disease, according to competent testimony taken by us as members of the special group of the committee on agriculture of the House, attacks and can be transmitted by cattle, hogs, sheep and goats, and other cloven-hoofed animals and is highly infectious. In addition, the germs may be carried on the shoes, clothing, or bodies of persons, feet or bodies of poultry, birds, dogs, cats, or other animals which may have been in the immediate vicinity of infected animals; also by insects, particles of straw or litter which may be carried by the wind; and in many other ways. For example, a tourist could fly overnight by commercial plane from Mexico to New York and be a carrier of the disease, and infect the dairy cattle in New York, thousands of miles from the infected cattle. It can spread like a prairie fire.

The United States has had seven outbreaks of the foot and mouth disease since 1900, which have cost the state and federal governments in excess of two hundred million dollars. The most serious occurred in 1914, spreading to 22 states and the District of Columbia. In that year it was necessary to slaughter 172,222 head of cattle, hogs, and sheep in this country to eradicate the disease. Only by herculean efforts and tremendous financial costs was it finally stamped out. Should it again spread to this country, it could cost multiplied millions of dollars in losses to both our livestock and farming industries.

So serious is the threat of this disease that the House Committee on Agriculture last week promptly reported to congress measures which would provide full cooperation between this country and Mexico in taking any steps necessary to completely eradicate the disease. We hope to have immediate and full approval of the congress and President in order to begin a quick attack on the infected cattle in Mexico. The Mexican border has been closed to cattle shipments into the United States but it is impossible to effectively close the border to human beings and other carriers of the dread disease. Especially is this true of buzzards and other birds which are probable carriers. The foot and mouth virus is so tiny it can hardly be seen under a microscope and to date no quick and positive remedy except prompt slaughter and burial of infected livestock is known. Since this virus has no respect for international state lines it is imperative this country fight it where it exists and not wait until it reaches our own animals.

In the proposed legislation congress has asked for thirty day progress reports from the Department of Agriculture so we may be kept informed as to exactly what is being done to exterminate and prevent the spread of this disease. A group of Texas congressmen, together with representatives of the Cattle Raisers' Association, called on President Truman to enlist his active support. We found him thoroughly familiar with the facts and seriousness of conditions in Mexico and their probable danger to our own livestock industry. He promised his full support in every respect.

As a matter of precaution, I most earnestly suggest to any owner of livestock that he immediately contact his local veterinarian or his county agent should any of his livestock show any symptoms of foot and mouth disease. May I also urge further that such owner, veterinarian, or county agent immediately contact me by wire or long distance telephone at the capitol in Washington.

The college will be the first ever held by the Department of Texas. It will for the most part be dedicated to the thousands of World War II veterans in Texas who have come into the American Legion and who desire to become better acquainted with the organization's program, Bertram E. Giesecke, Austin, department commander, has announced.

President of the college will be George Berry, Lubbock, attorney and department vice commander as head of the fifth division. Dean will be G. Ward Moody of Austin, department adjutant.

The Bookshelf

Two Dallas men, C. Blackmon and D. H. Plackard have co-au- thored "Blueprint for Public Re- lations," a book that can be a helpful text for any organization, whether it be a social club or a corporation.

The authors point out many ways to gain more cordial re- lations with employers, stockhold- ers, and the general public, both directly and through communi- cations mediums. They wisely ad- vise public relations men to keep themselves in the background, quoting Joe E. Cooper, veteran of many a winning Texas political campaign: "When the public is in- fluenced by a publicity campaign without realizing that publicity has swayed them, then that cam- paign is a success."

In a review in the Dallas News Wayne Gard said, "Today every federal agency thinks it must have a battery of publicity men—and women. Private clients of the public relations counsels, as many of them now call themselves, in- clude nearly every industry and profession. Evangelists and fight promoters, laundries and tele- phone companies—all are eager for favorable attention in the newspapers and over the air."

This informative book is packed with useful advice, suggestions, and warnings of genuine help to anyone concerned with any phase of publicity.

New books at the Carnegie Li- brary, as reported by Mrs. W. V. Coursey, librarian, are:

TATOOSH

By Martha Hardy

"Tatoosh" is a vigorous, au- thentic and lively account of an- other world, another way of life. It is a first hand story of a Seat- tle school teacher who spent three months in the summer of '43 as a "lady lookout" for the United States Forest Service. Her post, Tatoosh, is one of the highest peaks in the Cascade Mountains of Washington. There, on its lofty height, she lived alone in a little glass-walled hut, her duty to keep fire watch on the timber of the Columbia National Forest. Her summer on Tatoosh, in spite of hardships and loneliness, was a rich and rewarding experience which she shares with you.

HIGH STEPPER

By Helen Orr Watson

When Zan Cramer found on the range a dying colt whose mothtr had been killed by a mountain lion, he took it home in a wheel barrow. His careful nursing and affection for it saved its life and gave Zan, who called it Midnight Star, a companion to fill his lone- ly days. He later trained him for trick riding and finally as a cir- cus performer. The story is full of excitement and interesting characters.

ANIMAL FARM

By George Orwell

The animals on Mr. Jones' farm stage a successful revolution and take the place ovtr. Their hopes, their plans, and their achieve- ments for the subject of "Animal Farm." About this little book there is the same kind of reality one concedes in "Alice in Won- derland." It lives in the heart as a direct story. As a story for its own sake, and yet, although the author never intrudes a moral, it also takes on meanings from what we have all noticed in the affairs of the world. To read it is an experience out of the ordi- nary, for it goes at a bounce into that region where the heart and the head join together in enjoy- ment.

AN ASSET TO THE TOWN

WE TAKE the American merchandising system for granted—as we do most of the institutions that serve this country. And so we tend to lose sight of the fact that no other nation has a system of distribution remotely comparable to it.

In normal times, we expect the merchant to offer an extremely wide selection of goods of known quality at reasonable prices—and that is precisely what he does. In abnormal times, we expect him to redouble his efforts to give us what we want in the face of shortages, and to equitably distribute scarce items among his customers—and he does that too. At all times, we expect him to take an aggressive interest in the affairs of the community—and that expectation is fully realized.

This is true of all kinds of merchants—the independent, the manager for a chain, the dealer in low-priced goods, the dealer in luxury items, and the rest. They compete vigorously among each other for our trade—and they hold in common the same general principles of service to the public and to the community in which they live and work.

People who travel abroad return with a new understanding of the superiority of the typical American retail store. It is one of our most dependable and stable community assets.

BAD MEDICINE!

"SOCIALIZED MEDICINE—Bad Medicine for You!" That is the title of an extremely effective article by Michael Wright appearing in Better Homes & Gardens.

Mr. Wright describes how socialized medicine works in Britain, where a single, disinterested doctor will dispose of as many as 40 patients in two hours. He points out that in most communities there are agencies, clinics and hospitals that provide free or low-cost care for the needy. He observes that under socialized medicine, where there is no direct cost to the patient involved, hypochondriacs will swamp the doctors whether there is anything wrong with them or not, thus depriving people who really need treatment of the proper attention, and discouraging the physician. Then, in conclusion, he lays down in words a philosophy that should be the solid foundation of medical care legislation and policy.

"A person who needs help should have it," he writes. "But not in a manner that will tear down the quality of medical care for the rest of us."

"Not in a manner that will destroy private practice."
 "Not in a manner that will destroy the voluntary hospital system."

"Not in a manner that will give one man control over medical research and education."

"Not in a manner that will bind the physician to political slavery."

There can be no more effective argument against socialized, regimented, or bureaucratized medicine than that. Let the nation remember it.

Contributors' Note

The Herald always welcomes contributions of news from our readers, whether it be a club report, a local, or the account of some social activity. By following a few simple rules, contributors would find that we could handle this news much more acceptably. For instance, get it to us while it is news and before it becomes history. Recently we received the report of a club which had met exactly 28 days before. Then it always helps to get news as near the first of the week as possible. If you have access to a typewriter, always double or triple space, and leave sufficient space at the top for a head to be written. If you write the article in longhand, write on alternate lines, and also leave space at the top. When you mention names, be sure to give the complete name, and not the surname only, such as "Mrs. Wearybottom."—The Tulsa Herald.

Juvenile Sets Record

A 13-year-old Mission lad accomplished something in the way of a crime record when his arrest by Sheriff Ben Grimes of Brooks County and his subsequent delivery to Sheriff George Ingram of Hidalgo County resulted in an intensive investigation by Hidalgo officers—the list of his offenses would be a credit to a hardened adult criminal, and ranged all the way from petty theft to burglary, from theft of horses to breaking into homes in search of articles he wanted. The offenses included 16 burglaries of homes, cafes, schools, stores, fruit stands; numerous horse thefts; all in recent months, and most of them in Hidalgo County.—Hidalgo County News.

McLean Legion Home

Formal opening of the new and elaborately-decorated home of the Andrew H. Floyd Post of the American Legion in McLean is being held February 20, members of the organization announced. . . . The building, which has 3,000 square feet of floor space, was cut in two parts in order to be moved from the McLean POW camp where it was used as a mess hall.—McLean News.

Motorists Ignore Siren

From the Womack News: Many a time when we go out on emergency calls, motorists ignore the voice of the siren and the glare of the red light, both of which are asking for immediate clearance. Persons driving on the streets and highways do not move over and clear an immediate passage for the ambulance, thereby causing delay. Sometimes ambulances are delayed as much as 20 minutes in reaching the scene of a car wreck, or arriving at the home of someone critically ill. If it takes a minute to pass or get by a car, and we pass or meet 20 cars—this means that ambulances will arrive 20 minutes late. It is known that in some instances 20 minutes may mean the difference between life and death for someone. . . .

Think it over. And the next time an ambulance is asking for clearance, you will give a minute for a life. It might be a member of your own family who is in immediate need of medical attention.

Scouts Suggest Clean-Up

Clean up the town in general, said City Sanitary Inspector-for-a-day Merrill Blakely, when asked what he would do about the threat of a rabies epidemic in Childress. "Just a general clean-up of the city would be sufficient to curb not only rabies but other epidemics as well," said the Boy Scout city official.—The Childress Index.

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, stinging or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

All of us have run across some little poem or article whose sentiment struck us as being of such an appealing nature that we have clipped it out and kept it.

Your columnist never thought that anything which he might write would be worthy of such regard, but a few days ago an old-time friend, J. LeRoy Arnold of Eastland, pulled from his billfold a clipping that was yellow with years, having appeared in the paper when I was editor there about 1922. Perhaps you would like to read it!

This Week in WASHINGTON

As the 80th congress neared the end of its fourth week with the Republican majority in complete control, action had slowed down to a walk and the course of leadership has veered, gee and haw, on the two important subjects . . . labor legislation and taxes.

Facing a rebellion within its ranks, the GOP steering committee now is giving its announced policy of a 20 per cent tax cut across the board the "brush-off" and instead is approaching the tax question in a more common sense attitude to determine first the amount of the budget and the amount of debt retirement, and then cutting the appropriation cloth to fit the pattern. This is as provided in the new congressional reorganization law.

On the labor question there now seems to be no doubt but that the congressional leadership is ducking away from any so-called punitive legislation and that some measure which tallies up with the provisions of the Case bill may be the sum total of labor legislation. And the Case bill as now written is radically different from the same measure which passed the last congress and was vetoed by the President.

Congressman Case says he has broadened his measure and has removed the features which President Truman found objectionable, mainly that the former bill left the door open for injunctions against labor by private employers. It no longer does that.

In connection with the labor question, those interested here are full of conjecture on the metamorphosis which has taken place in the thinking of Senator Ball of Minnesota. He came down here, a former newspaper writer, as a liberal and a disciple of former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota. He was considered a champion of labor. He now is fostering the most radical of all punitive labor measures to outlaw the closed shop, to provide for compulsory limitation in industry wide bargaining and other features distasteful to labor. And he is being continually needled on the floor of the senate by the liberal bloc, headed by Senators Pepper of Florida and Morse of Oregon.

The outlook for early farm legislation is more or less confused and the prospect now is that any farm legislation may be postponed until late in the summer. There is even some likelihood that it may even go over until next year. There are several reasons for this picture agricultural situation. One is the farm groups themselves are united on just what they want in production control and price support, and although Secy. Anderson recently appeared before both senate and house agricultural committees to urge action, his plea fell on deaf ears. The agricultural secretary wants early action because he feels the farmers know now what they can expect in price support for next year and in production control. He reasons that much of the price support will not be marketed until January 1, 1949.

He further wanted congressional authority, specific authority, current production control. But the Republicans are looking up to the secretary to propose own stop-gap program until legislation comes along. They that to open discussions on a program at this time might be disturbing to farmers in the year's planning and might some curtailment in production outside chance that price controls will be cut. And then the 1948 elections, which play in this as in every other legislation which comes before congress.

With the situation as it is in good shape, and likely to rest of this year, the Republic according to well informed believe that the farm situation 1948 may grow more serious that legislative relief provided to the date of elections will more effect on the vote question. As a matter of fact, some few agricultural bills have been introduced. One, HR 956 by Congressman Harold Hagen, Minn., promote markets for agricultural products . . . one by Congressman Gillette, Ind., to provide for eradication of the cattle plague by Congressman Stephen Ga, and a companion measure by Sen. Richard Russell, Ga., to support for basic agricultural products . . . one by Congressman Pace to reduce labor costs in parity price . . . one by Congressman Lemke, N. D., to establish minimum price for agricultural commodities based on cost of production . . . one by Congressman Landis, Ind., to support farm at 90 per cent of parity.

Jesus Sums Up His Claims
Lesson for March 2: John 12: 12-16; 20-32.

Memory Selection: John 12:32.

On the day of the triumphal entry, Jesus came as King into Jerusalem. And the day ever speaks of His claim to the royalty of heaven and the right to rule over men's hearts.

Later, as Jesus approached the cross, the Greeks at the temple gate must have cheered His heart. Evidently converts of the gate, they were not allowed to enter the sacred places of the sanctuary. But Jesus was soon to give entrance to all the Gentiles, even through the riven veil to the Holy of holies.

The Greeks were directed to Andrew, who seemed to be known as one who could introduce men to Jesus. Can you do that? Personal work is needed in the churches. In what ugly contrast with the Greeks were the scheming and disappointed Pharisees when they saw how the world had "gone out after" Jesus.

Following the request of the Greeks, Jesus began his last words as a public teacher, perhaps first addressing the Greeks. But after the voice from heaven was heard, and some said it thundered and others that an angel's voice had spoken, the Lord spoke to the multitude of the world's judgment, His own sacrificial death, and the drawing power of His cross.

The lesson shows how Jesus summed up His claims to be the King who would establish a reign of righteousness (which will certainly preclude war) and as the King crowned with thorns and hanged on a cross that men who believe in Him may have victory over sin and death.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

GOVERNOR JESTER URGES TEXANS TO AID PUBLIC HEALTH PROGRAM

"Health education is a must if we are to raise the public health standards of Texas. Equally as important is the enforcement of public health and sanitation laws throughout the state," said Gov. Beauford H. Jester, in a recent address to the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

"I am strongly in favor of expanding our State Health Department so it can carry out a statewide health-education and health-law-enforcement campaign.

"Enforcement is best achieved through education. The recent outbreak of poliomyelitis struck fear into the heart of every parent. When people are shown, for example, that many polio cases are the result of poor sanitation, they will want to take the necessary steps to remedy poor water supplies, inadequate sewerage disposal facilities, and other menaces to public health.

"A large appropriation for an adequate state health program is necessary if Texas is to raise its public health standards to levels comparable with those of other states. While Texas leads in many fields, she is far behind in matters of public health.

"Tuberculosis is taking a heavy toll in Texas. There has been a heavy incidence of this disease upon our Latin-American and Negro populations. Here is where education and prevention can do much to curb the "white plague" in Texas.

"I recommend an appropriation of $3,000,000 a year for our State Health Department. This would be about $2,270,000 more each year than we are now spending. I suggest that half a million dollars of this amount be earmarked for research and the development of preventive measures to combat communicable disease and disease hazards.

"The three million dollar appropriation for the health department would represent an expenditure of approximately 50 cents per capita—little enough for public health insurance.

"For some time I have been concerned about the inadequacy of our Texas Public Health Program, about the in-roads that typhus is making across the state, about the high tuberculosis rate, about the consternation caused by polio, and the rejection of large numbers of our young men for military service because of physical impairments.

"After a study of records with our state health officials, I found that venereal diseases are taking a tremendous toll in Texas, and are partly responsible for increasing the patient load at our eleemosynary institutions. Some of our crime can be charged to diseased minds or diseased bodies. Some of the 'isms,' discontent, and poverty are chargeable to human ills.

"It seems to me that spending money to prevent mental disorders, epilepsy, blindness, and crime would be far more economical than constructing and maintaining hospitals to care for patients as wards of the state.

"I have had the benefit of advice from medical friends who have gone on record for a preventive health program. These doctors confirm my belief that Texas can progress most rapidly with a physically fit and mentally sound population. A sick man is a non-producer and a liability; and it takes a well person to care for a sick one.

"This reminds me of an old Swiss story. A tourist was injured in a fall on the side of a mountain. Three hikers came to the rescue. The first hiker spoke up, 'We should erect a first aid station here so we can render aid to the injured.' The second hiker spoke up, 'some that fall are killed, so we should put a cemetery here.' But the third said, 'You are both wrong. Let's put up a fence so no more will fall.'

"I am in favor of erecting a public health fence to guard our people from disease and reduce the need for hospitals. I am in favor of closing the door against preventable disease. Medical knowledge and sanitary science have shown how we can prevent about thirty diseases.

"Texas now is losing approximately 15,000 lives each year, paying the cost in dollars and in tears for 15,000 deaths that could be prevented. Medical men estimate that preventable diseases are costing this state in unnecessary deaths and sickness, hospital and drug bills, jails, penitentiaries, court trials, and absenteeism at least one hundred fifty million dollars a year.

"Industry coming into Texas is looking for healthy communities and healthy, efficient workers. The industrial nations of the world are the most prosperous nations. Industrial nations have the highest standards of living and the highest family incomes. Texas is most fortunate, for it can support both an agricultural and an industrial economy, the happiest combination obtainable.

"Some farming communities in Texas have been handicapped by suffering from the malaria mosquito, the typhus rat, the contaminated well, and the lack of rural sanitation. Pellagra is still taking its toll in our rural areas. Industry also needs help in the solution of industrial hygiene and industrial waste problems.

"As a member of the Texas Railroad Commission, I learned of the damage that can be caused by stream pollution. Brine from oil-fields, improperly treated sewage, and industrial waste of our cities are detrimental to fish and oyster beds. Close supervision is necessary to insure that city water supplies are to be free of disease germs. Water used for irrigation of vegetables must be free of sewage contamination.

"Greater use is being made of water than ever before. Rayon, rubber, tin, and lead plants, paper mills, cellanese plants, tanneries, wool-scouring plants, packing plants, all need water—large volumes of quality water—for processing purposes. If we are to progress industrially, we must protect our water supplies.

"The United Nations have recognized the basic need for human health, in their plan to set up a world health organization. I appreciate the importance of this meeting and your desire to take part in creating a healthier Texas. I am gratified to have your support, along with that of doctors, public officials, industry, members of the legislature, and many thousands of plain citizens.

"I am looking forward to the time when public health service will be available to every one of the 254 counties in Texas. Only a few counties are receiving it now.

"I want to see good sanitation at all the schools.

"I do not want our farm or dairy products questioned because of inadequate safeguards.

"The legislature has promptly and wisely provided funds to combat foot and mouth disease if it should enter Texas. We should keep-out bubonic plague, and prevent prairie dogs and ground squirrels from spreading this dread disease. We should act to prevent the spread of infection from mosquitoes carrying yellow fever and other tropical and Asiatic plagues that can be brought through the air from the far corners of the world.

"We should help industry in the treatment of its atmospheric wastes, so that industry will be welcomed instead of being accused of lead poisoning, and eye, nose, and throat troubles.

"We should make the positions in our State Health Department attractive enough that our trained health workers would stay in Texas instead of migrating to better jobs in the northern and eastern states.

Finally, we should provide research facilities for the State Health Department so that cures might be developed for many diseases about which we are still groping in the dark.

"The recent war demonstrated what can be accomplished through full time, coordinated, intelligent research. Research gave us penicillin. Research gave us streptomycin. Research gave us DDT. Research gave us 1080, a deadly rat poison, and many other discoveries. All this was accomplished during the war. You can well imagine what might be accomplished if similar talent were utilized in peace time to combat disease.

"I ask your help to achieve such a public health program. I ask every Texan to assist in striving for a safer, healthier, and thus a happier and more prosperous Texas."
