JAMES F. SMITH
James F. Smith Named Treasurer Of Bankers Assn.

James F. Smith, president of the First State Bank of Memphis, was elected treasurer of the Texas Bankers Association last Thursday at the 63rd annual convention in Houston.

A Houston city councilman who is executive vice president and chairman of the executive board of the First National Bank of Houston, William A. Karkland, was elected president of the organization.

The association selected San Antonio as its convention site for 1948. The convention adopted a number of resolutions concerning Texas trade and agriculture. The resolution concerning cotton production is reprinted in part: "Cotton continues to be one of the chief economic assets of Texas. It contributes something of practical value to each and every individual. While there are limited substitutes for cotton, nothing has been found yet, either natural or synthetic, to take its place in our economy. The world needs cotton, and lots of it. . . . Texas bankers will do well to continue their active cooperation with the cotton farmer, especially those who are seeking and using improved methods of production. Particularly, the small cotton farmer should be encouraged."

Summer Program Starts June 9

The summer recreation program will get underway June 9 under the direction of Ray Newton, new assistant coach, it was announced this week by Supt. W. C. Davis. He said that regular classes in summer school would also start June 9. A definite schedule for the program had not been set this week, but a wide variety of athletic, musical, recreational, and entertainment activity has been planned for the youth of Memphis. All boys interested in swimming are urged to meet at the swimming pool at 2 p. m. June 9 for a swim and the organization of a swimming course for the summer. A free picture show will be held at the high school at 9 a. m. Wednesday of each week for grade school children. A camping trip will be arranged for boys who participate in the summer program. Last year around 100 boys made an overnight trip to Lake McClellan. Boys will meet at the high school gym at 9 a. m. four mornings each week for basketball, volleyball, tumbling, and other indoor games. Softball diamonds will be arranged in each section of the city for boys who are not in high school. There will be a team in each section of the city registered in the boys' league, and matched games will be played under lights at the softball field, it was announced. Arrangements for softball diamonds will be completed next week, Newton said. High school boys will either play on the FFA baseball team or register with other teams in the city. Softball league play will start June 9, and games played before that date will count only as practice games, it is reported. Five teams have registered in the league to date, and it is expected that several more will register. A complete musical program is being planned, under the direction of Perry Keyser, high school band instructor. Meetings will be scheduled for girls choral groups. The band will meet two days each week, and sessions are also being set for the beginners band. Private lessons will be given to those who wish to play in the first band next year. Keyser will offer individual lessons in instrumental music. An open air program is being planned for July, to be held at the city park, to include baseball, track, recreational hours, basket picnics, band concerts, choral singing, and a free picture show at the amphitheater, Davis said.

Memphians Asked To Report Housing To C of C Office

Only a few calls were received, reported Pat Flynn, Memphis chamber of commerce manager, when Memphians were polled this week as to the number of rooms, apartments, houses, or emergency accommodations to be counted upon for out-of-town visitors. The Democrat asked readers to report any such accommodations to the chamber office which might be used for emergency guests of the city when field surveying crews came to Hall County and for use during the October 3-4 Cotton Carnival. Flynn said Memphis could expect thousands of visitors for the (Continued on page 4)

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.
We have in this county many natural resources, which, if brought to the attention of manufacturers and capital, may be developed to the point where all will benefit. If industrialists can be persuaded to set up for business in the county, all will profit. More people will move to the county and more money will be spent therein. Better markets for products means better conditions for all concerned. Along with the betterment of conditions comes that ever-to-be-desired thing called money. If and when better prices and better markets can be obtained for products, real estate (Continued on page 8)

7-Step Cotton Program Gains Impetus Here

Interest in the "seven-step cotton program" is gaining among farmers all over Hall County. W. B. Hooser, county agent, said this week. Agricultural meetings in many communities during the past month and earlier have spotlighted this interest in better cotton farming and crop practices, Hooser said. "Cotton will be facing foreign cotton, rayon, paper, burlap, and other products, together with a possible cotton surplus. But the farmer can help himself and the cotton situation right on his own farm," Hooser emphasized. The seven steps which promote better cotton farming are, briefly, as follows: 1. Take care of your soil. Rotate row crops and sod crops, use land according to its suitability. Farm on the contour to conserve soil and water. Use terraces and other mechanical measures when needed. Replenish needed plant food.

2. Fit cotton into balanced farming. Balanced farming provides for efficient use of land, labor, and machinery. 3. Select and grow one variety of cotton in the community. Cotton mills need uniform cotton and pay more for it. One-variety communities get free government grading and attract buyers. (Hall County has been a one-variety community for seven or eight years.) 4. Make labor count. Study every job. Use labor saving machinery and labor saving methods. 5. Control insects and diseases. (The county has gone a long way in the use of seed treatments and germination tests. All the grasshopper poison that will probably be needed this year is already on hand. Four-H crop reporters work with the county agent and with College Station to spot insect and crop disease immediately.) 6. Pick and gin for high grade.

Pull cotton as dry as possible, keep trash out, control insects. Keep good cotton separate. Cooperate with ginner to protect quality. 7. Sell for variety, grade, and staple. If you produce good cotton get it classified. Handle seed so it will yield high grade oil, feed, and lint. Because of the short growing season, a medium staple is best suited to this area, Hooser said.

1913 Study Club Honors Members At Tea in R. S. Greene Home Tuesday

Honoring Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, president of the Seventh District of TFWC, and Mrs. R. S. Greene, playwright, the 1913 Study Club concluded the year's activities with a seated tea in the home of Mrs. R. S. Greene Tuesday afternoon.

Decorations throughout the entertaining rooms featured the club colors, white and gold. Floral arrangements of mock orange blossoms, coropsis, daisies, and amouiriver blossoms banked with greenery in the living room and sun room formed an appropriate background for the beautifully appointed tea table, which was laid with a Cuban lace cloth over gold satin. A garland of spring flowers surrounded the punch bowl which was on a mirror reflector. The buffet was centered with white roses in a low crystal bowl. Crystal candelabra bearing lighted yellow tapers completed the decorative appointments. Trays of lily-shaped sandwiches, decorated cake squares, and fan mints, all in white and yellow, completed the table arrangement. Mrs. Wendell Harrison, Mrs. Ray Childress, Mrs. Ace Gailey, and Mrs. Gayle Greene presided in the dining room.

Mrs. R. C. Walker greeted the guests and introduced them to the honorees, Mrs. Greene and Mrs. Kinard. All three, charter members of the club, were presented with corsages. The club has one other charter member, Mrs. M. McNeely, who was unable to attend. She is also the outgoing president.

Mrs. Ace Gailey and Miss Mary Foreman played informal music during the afternoon. "Finesse," a one act play written and directed by Mrs. R. S. Greene, was presented. The play was well written presenting four well balanced leads, which offered ample dramatic opportunity to the cast, according to reports. The scene was laid in the west and the author used a good deal of finesse in bringing her characters out of some serious domestic dilemmas.

The cast according to their appearance follows: Aunt Margaret, Peaches Harrison; Betty Barnett, Eulala Burks; Peggy Barnett, Charline Greene; and Myra Stanley, Jewel Stanford.

More than 100 guests called during the receiving hours.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. This is a blade pot-roast of beef.
Q. Where does the cut come from, and how is it identified?
A. The blade pot-roast comes from the regular chuck or shoulder section of beef. It lies between the rib roast and the neck. It may be identified by the thin blade bone and the back-bone.
Q. How should this cut be prepared?
A. Blade pot-roast is a less-tender cut which should always be braised to produce tender and juicy meat. For additional flavor, the meat is browned evenly in 2 to 3 tablespoons of lard or drippings. After the pot-roast is browned a small amount of liquid (1/4 to 1/2 cup) is added, the meat is covered and allowed to simmer 3 to 4 hours or until it is tender.

SPENDS 30-DAY LEAVE HERE WITH PARENTS

Robert M. Lee SK 3, of the U. S. S. Estes, has been spending a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee of the Salisbury community. Bob's ship docked in San Francisco April 21. He returned to Bremerton, Wash., Tuesday of last week, where his ship will be in dry dock for some two or three months. He reported that the flying was rough nearly all the way to Burbank but the trip up the coast was smooth and enjoyable.

The Bookshelf

New books at the local Carnegie Library, as reported by Mrs. W. V. Coursey, librarian, are:

THE TIN FLUTE

By Gabrielle Roy
"The Tin Flute" tells the story of the large Lacasse family who live precariously and in poverty in the Saint Henri quarter of Montreal. Florentine is the oldest child. Working as a waitress in Woolworth's, she gets attentions from many men, some flattering, some insulting. When Jean Levesque makes teasing advances, it seems that perhaps her dreams of an escape from her sordid life will come true. The reader follows with tense sympathy, if not always with approval, her brave struggle to reconcile her own happiness with Jean's inflexible ambition.

MRS. PIGGLE WIGGLE

By Betty (Egg and I) McDonald
Betty McDonald used to tell Mrs. Piggie-Wiggle stories to her own children—stories which became family treasures through the years. Now the story of dear funny Mrs. Piggie Wiggle is to be shared with everyone. The vast public which has laughed over "The Egg and I" will laugh over the little woman who understands children and the hilariously funny stories of the children she understood.

DOUBLE TREASURE

By Clarence Budington Kelland
In his latest novel of adventure and romance, Clarence B. Kelland tells the thrilling story of four men and a beautiful girl in search of pirate treasure on the peaceful shores of Long Island Sound.

Who was the wealthy newcomer on whose estate the hidden treasure was supposedly buried? What did the Cullener twins have to do with his past?

How Jane Teach, the streamlined girl with the ready wit, and William Popple, the serious-minded research student, were confronted with forces so evil, mysterious and sinister that their very lives were endangered—how their rivalry developed into a surprising love affair—is all part of a fast and exciting tale which takes its place with the best work of a master story teller.

THE WALL BETWEEN

By Elsie Oakes Barber
This is the love story of attractive and earnest, but very human Mark Gardner, pastor of a church on the edge of a Connecticut city slum, and of his gay, rich wife, Christy.

Mrs. Barber has the true novelist's flair for telling a good story. In "The Wall Between," her theme is a universal one—that of two people's adjustment of the problems of marriage.

and holdings of all kinds will become more valuable—thus increasing each man's financial worth as a citizen.

There are some who may say that the chamber of commerce is for only a few individuals' profit. Others may say, what's the use. No worthwhile thing has ever been obtained without an outlay of money, work, and brains. Hall County has an opportunity to get some worthwhile things that will mean better conditions for the entire citizenship just by putting out some effort, sympathetic understanding, and cooperation. If I believed that all efforts to better conditions would be in vain, I would be the first to say "Aw, what's the use?" On the other hand, I believe in Hall County and its people. Nothing is too good for it and them, and improvement is worth fighting for in every way possible. For once, let's all fall in line and see what can be accomplished, now that the golden opportunity is here.

I would call attention to the cotton show (named carnival) to be held here October 3 and 4. Textile people, cotton men, spinners, and others have already promised to assist in every way possible to bring to Hall County machines and information that will prove of invaluable benefit to growers and marketers alike. Memphis on the Mississippi has an annual cotton carnival. Memphis on the Red can make as good a showing, even if the population is many times smaller. Hall County is to be very fortunate indeed to be host to such an event, and will be congratulated and aided by every other cotton county in West Texas—an area that produces one-twelfth of all the cotton in the world. We have the resources. At a cotton carnival these resources can be peddled to the outside world. A big attempt, but a mark to shoot at with all the ammunition in our reach.

Pat Flynn is the man who knows how to bring about some improvements in Hall County, provided he has the full cooperation of the citizenship. Agriculture and other valuable resources can be profitably expanded if properly handled. Forward, Hall County!

Since the chamber of commerce is going all out in the development of cotton, chemurgic, and ceramic industrialization for all of the county, I would like to see the name of the organization changed from Memphis chamber of commerce to Hall County chamber of commerce, or Hall County board of development. The name then would imply the scope or area served.

Vets' Vocational Class At Turkey To Begin June 2

A veterans' vocational class will begin June 2 at Turkey, Mary Foreman, county school superintendent, announced this week.

All veterans interested in attending the class are urged to be present at the Turkey High School at 8 p. m. June 2 for enrollment, Miss Foreman said.

C. W. Vineyard of Quiaque will be the instructor for this new class, it was announced.

A vocational class had been scheduled for Lakeview, to be started around the first of June, but this class has been postponed until a qualified instructor can be secured, Miss Foreman said.

Applications for this position are being accepted at the county superintendent's office. Qualifications are that the teacher have a B. S. degree with at least 27 hours of technical agriculture. The same salary is paid as is normally paid to vocational agriculture teachers, plus an amount for expenses, Miss Foreman said.

A discussion will be held there relative to a permanent 4-H Club camp in Hall County and other matters important to farmers of this area.

Hooser and Flynn may continue to Austin to meet with state officials before returning here next week.

Dignitaries and celebrities in each city will be invited to attend the Cotton Carnival in Memphis October 3 and 4.

work-outs, batting practice, and actual games will comprise the program. Each player will be given a thorough trial under direct supervision of Yankee scouts—scouts who have picked up Phil Rizzuto, Joe DiMaggio, Charlie Keller, Spud Chandler, and a host of other Yankee greats, it is announced.

Although all players must pay their own expenses to the camp, any player signed to a contract will be reimbursed for expenses incurred, Purpose said. Players should bring their own uniforms, glove, sweatshirt, and shoes. No uniforms will be furnished. Players should report in good physical condition so that their major league possibilities may be properly evaluated.

All players wishing to try out are urged to report at the Memphis ball park in time to start working out at 10 a. m. June 10. Purpose said written application was not necessary, personal appearance sufficing for admittance to the camp.

Industrial engineers of the West Texas Utilities Company, Abilene, have notified chamber officials of their willingness to make such clay tests and otherwise work with Memphis in ceramic developments.

After the Sunday shoot, teams will be selected to represent Memphis in tournament competition in cities over the southwest.

Committee members besides Thomson are Sheriff Earl Hill, R. G. Patrick, Ed Foxhall, and C. L. Sloan.

'Train of Tomorrow' Takes the Rails

A "TRAIN OF TOMORROW" that is packed full of mechanical marvels, new-as-tomorrow interior decoration and many postwar features for the comfort and safety of passengers, has just been launched by General Motors, its designer, for a six-month exhibition tour of the country. Powered by a GM Electro-Motive Diesel locomotive, the cars are of an entirely new design, permitting an Astra Dome atop each (see above) for unrivaled view of landscape, and a depressed car floor beneath, resulting in four floor levels in every car. (Below) Among the first to enjoy a meal in the luxurious Astra Dome-Diner were Alice Faye and Phil Harris of movie and radio fame.

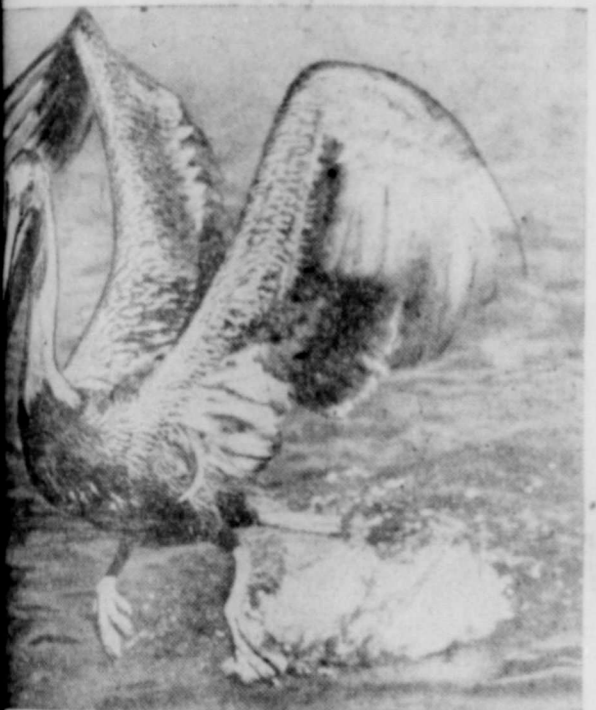

CHICKEN-OF-TOMORROW . . . Dr. R. George Jaap, Ohio State University, left and Dr. Cliff Carpenter, president of the Institute of American Poultry industries, compare models of an ideal meat-type chicken which is the goal of the national Chicken-of-Tomorrow program, in which breeders from 44 states are competing for $10,000 in awards offered by A & P Food stores.

GREAT SCOTT!! Barbara Scott, who recently won the world's figure-skating championship in Stockholm, registers surprise and delight when residents of Ottawa, Canada, made her a present of a luxury automobile. Followed the groom, Avery Brundage, head of U. S. Olympic committee says the gift may bar her from the Olympic games next year.

SPRING TIME IN HOLLAND (MICH.) . . . The tulips are blooming in Holland, Mich., and residents once again prepare for the annual tulip festival.

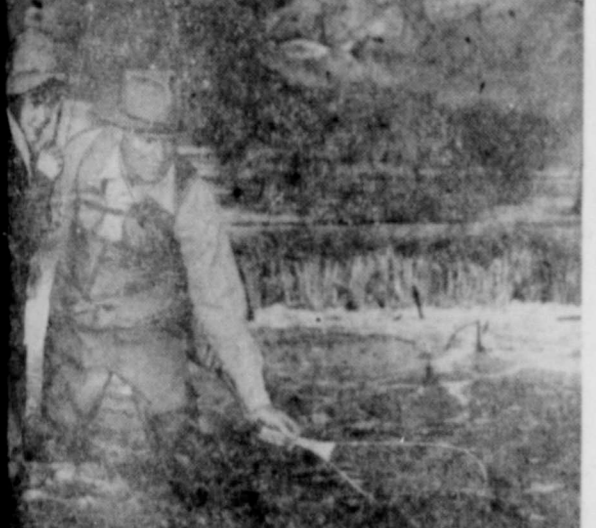

PELICAN . . . It takes a lot of "poosh" for the awkward bird to get off the water. This photo taken by Joseph Janney won top honors in the Florida photo contest.

BEST ACTOR . . . Absent from the scene of academy award presentations in Hollywood, stage and screen star, Fredric March, who was chosen best actor of the year for his role in "The Best Years of our Lives," is shown looking at photographic reproduction of the reward he received.

REPUBLICAN HEADS OF HOUSE COMMITTEES . . . These are the chairmen of the house committees, responsible for all bills considered by its members.

WAYS ARE HERE AGAIN . . . John Hightower, sports columnist, breaks trout fishing season on the Bronx river, New York. Betty Montgomery's companion seems to be enjoying the catch.

War nurses now serving in home-front hospitals are being honored by Mary Hatcher, right, star of Paramount's "The Women in uniform." Nurses, left to right, are: Lt. Comm. Helen E. Hatcher, Conn.; Lt. Harriet Hook, Dayton, O.; and Capt. Margaret E. Patton, Pa. "We want 2,000,000 Americans," said Hatcher. Members send $1 each to the Nurses National Home, 1225 Woodward Building, Washington, D. C., to build a permanent home as a practical way of saying thanks for their wonderful work.

YOUNG BUSINESS MAN . . . One of the unfailing signs of spring in Paris is the opening of the annual junk fair on the Boulevard Richard Lenoir. Everything that Parisians don't want goes on display.

TEACH MINING IN FRANCE . . . To combat child delinquency and overcome the skilled labor shortage, France has opened schools on theory and practice of coal mining. These schools have been started in all large coal mining districts. Students get a well-rounded education along with their technical training. Photo shows a class of students watching an instructor demonstrating on a mine model.

SANCTUARY FOR ROYALTY . . . The little Alpine country of Switzerland at various times has served as sanctuary for most of the crowned heads of Europe. Former queens now enjoying the country's hospitality are (left) former Queen Victoria Eugenie of Spain and (right) former Queen Amelia of Portugal.

Atalantean Club Closes Year With Spring Luncheon in Morgensen Home

Climaxing a successful and interesting year, the Atalantean Club held its spring luncheon Wednesday of last week in the home of Mrs. D. J. Morgensen, 721 South 7th street.

Mrs. Morgensen and members of the social committee were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Claud Johnson, who was leader of the program "Flower Pageant of America," decorated the entertaining rooms and tables with formal, informal, and miniature arrangements of flowers. These arrangements were made by club members, who vied for honors in beauty, perfection, originality and simplicity of arrangement. Mesdames Dickey, Howell, Johnson, Morgensen, Norman, Highower, Odom, Anthony, and Webster received honorable mention from the judges, who were Mesdames T. J. Dunbar, L. B. Merrell, and Wylie Whitley. Place marking were in keeping with the decorative theme.

Mrs. W. C. Dickey, president, welcomed the members and one guest, Mrs. Joe Allen of Los Angeles, a former Memphis resident, and a house guest of Mrs. H. B. Estes. Mrs. N. A. Hightower gave the invocation.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Dickey called for reports from officers and various committee chairmen. Roll call was answered by members with a legend of a flower, and Mrs. N. A. Hightower gave the history of the club year.

Mrs. Dickey installed the new officers, using as her theme "Service to Your Club." Taking over their official duties were Mrs. J. A. Odom, president; Miss Imogene King, vice president; Mrs. H. J. Howell, second vice president; Mrs. T. M. Isham, recording secretary; Mrs. Bentley Page, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. B. Estes, treasurer; Mrs. Edwin Smith, reporter; and Mrs. C. R. Webster, historian.

Gifts were given to Mrs. Myrtis Phelan and Mrs. C. R. Webster for perfect attendance during the past year.

In attendance were Mrs. Joe Allen, guest; members, Mesdames T. C. Anthony, C. W. Broome, W. C. Dickey, H. B. Estes, N. A. Hightower; H. J. Howell, T. M. Isham, Claud Johnson, C. N. Kinslow, D. J. Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—the life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backaches, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. An endorsed the country over. Issued on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

PLEASE DELIVER AN INCH OF RAIN AT MY HOUSE AT 5 O'CLOCK

MAN-MADE "RAIN"
--delivered to order

The equivalent of an inch of rain on the average 50-foot city lot costs only 96c on the local irrigation rate

During the hot dry months of summer, what would you give for the power to conjure up a good shower to relieve your parched lawn? Of course, you don't have that power over Nature, but you can accomplish the same result with water from your city water system—at extremely modest cost. Three thousand gallons of pure, life-giving water—the equivalent of a one-inch rainfall on the average 50-foot lot minus buildings, walks and drives—costs only *96 cents on the local summer irrigation rate. And that small cost includes collection, pumping, storage and purification as well as delivery from distant wells to your faucets. Although it's easy to take for granted, there's more to water service than meets the eye. It takes a trained organization and a large investment in plant and equipment to make pure water instantly available around the clock. Yet it remains today as always one of the smallest items in the average household budget.

Hardin College President Addresses Estelline Seniors At Commencement

Dr. James B. Boren, president of Hardin College, addressed the graduating class of Estelline High School at their commencement exercises Wednesday evening of last week.

The speaker urged the young people to build beautiful lives by thinking "high," acquiring an ambition, being religious, working diligently, facing defeat bravely, and being happy. He used an Indian legend as the foundation of the address, but the clever wit, the natural ability as a speaker, and his deep thinking will always be remembered by his hearers, it was reported.

After the processional, "Triumph March from Aida" by Verdi, Rev. J. D. Coleman gave the invocation. Miss Pat Sloan sang "Serenade" from "The Student Prince." The graduating class gave a choral reading of "The Builder" by Foley. Miss Jewell Smith played a piano solo, "The Butterfly" by Grieg. These were followed by the commencement address. Supt. J. B. Riddle introduced the speaker.

Following the address, many awards were presented to the students by Supt. Riddle. First, 19 pupils who had finished grammar school were given certificates. Three perfect attendance records were acknowledge: Charles Hood and Wanda Reed, seniors, and Jimmy Duncan of the third grade. Double awards were made for the outstanding girl of the year: Jewell Smith and Aleck Russell. Charles Hood received the medal for outstanding boy. Scholarship awards for the highest ranking students in each high school class were given to the following: freshman, Gene Gardenhire; sophomore, Jimmy Hayes; junior, Aleck Russell.

It was announced that Jewel Smith, senior valedictorian, in addition to her medal had won the Pepsi-Cola scholarship tests. She placed in the highest ten per cent of all Texas entries. Miss Smith was presented with a scholarship to NTSC at Denton, a certificate entitling her to a year's subscription of Readers Digest, given by that company, and a copy of the book "I Dare You," by the Danforth Foundation.

Fae McLean, second ranking girl, was given a scholarship to Mary Hardin Baylor. Jack Helm, class salutatorian, was given a scholarship to Hardin-Simmons. Bill Hayes also received a copy of the book "I Dare You."

Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson, president of the 1932 Culture Club, announced that the club was beginning a fund for the improvement of the high school stage equipment. The club has set aside one hundred dollars for this fund and plans to add to it until the stage is re-curtained.

Mrs. E. F. Kennedy, class sponsor, announced that the senior gift will be a new trophy case for the building.

The entire assembly stood a moment in silent tribute to the one high school student who died during the year, Billie Ruth Gardenhire.

The principal of the high school,

Rev. W. H. Colson Gives Estelline Baccalaureate

Rev. W. H. Carlson, Baptist pastor of Childress, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the 17 graduates of Estelline High School Sunday evening, May 18.

The stage was decorated with cut flowers and lighted with cathedral tapers in fluted candelabra. The choir, seated on the stage, was attired in white vestments. Rev. A. D. Moore gave the invocation, and the response, "Saviour Hear Us" by Brahms, was sung by Jake Morrison of Estelline, and Buster Helm, T. E. Noel, and V. L. McGlocklin of Memphis. Mesdames C. E. Wilkinson and J. E. Masterson sang "Saviour Like" a Shepherd Lead Us" by Wildmerer. Rev. J. D. Coleman read as scripture the Beatitudes. The choir sang "Come Unto Me" by Franz Schubert. T. E. Noel sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" by O'Hara.

Rev. W. H. Colson delivered the message, and J. A. Ballard, mayor of Estelline and former principal of the high school, gave the benediction.

The music was arranged and accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Sloan. Ushers were Yvonne Moore, Ted Bruce, Jerry Johnson, and R. J. Gilbert Jr.

Peyton Legg, presented the class to Supt. Riddle who recommended them to G. H. Gardenhire, president of the Estelline board of education. Mr. Gardenhire presented the diplomas.

After the benediction by Rev. A. D. Moore, the seniors retired to the recessional "March of the Priests," played by Mrs. C. L. Sloan.

phis shortstop.

McKnight, Memphis fielder, pitcher, and heavy hitter treated the fans to some fine work at first base in both the Saturday night and Sunday games. Every thing near first base was handled.

... And the groom came back from New Orleans. J. W. Cop pedge and Mrs. C were back from that honeymoon Friday, and J. W. was on hand at shortstop last week-end after being out of the play for the past two or three games. Of course he was in for plenty of ribbing... his team mates accused him of using a honeymoon as an excuse to invade the Southern Association for a try-out with New Orleans.

We don't know exactly how it happened, but some baseball en thusiasts were misinformed this week concerning the Yankee try outs to be held here June 10 and 11. An Amarillo paper carried material two days, one of them the Sunday edition, saying that several baseball greats, including DiMaggio, would be here at the try-out camp. According to a Yank representative in Memphis this week, the release sent the Amarillo paper said only that scouts who had discovered Di Maggio, Rizzuto, etc. would be here. That is what the release received here said. If the Ama rillo paper received the same re lease it must have been either a misinterpretation or a slip with a typesetter or proofreader.

At any rate, Memphis will be host to a great number of fine baseball players from all over this region June 10 and 11. This is an opportunity for young players, those in the 16 to 22 age bracket, that does not come every day. We know there is plenty of young tal ent in this area. We would like to see some of them under the Yank banner.

Editorial

WHAT IS VALUE?

Our reaction to the price of any commodity is naturally conditioned by past experience. Anyone who compares today's prices, for example, with those of 1941 or 1936, is due for a shock. And it is very easy to get into the habit of thinking that "normal" prices, to which we will some day return, are those of a vanished year in which a five-dollar bill would do a job that it takes a ten or twenty to accomplish now.

The hard truth of the matter is that prices are not going to return to the remembered lows, short of an economic debacle of the utmost severity. We have, for example, some $260,000,000,000 worth of Federal debt, which in itself is an inflationary factor. We are paying record wages to all classes of labor, and in many important fields, output per manhour has declined while costs have risen. We are fastened with the highest taxes, corporate and individual, in our history, and these are reflected inevitably in all prices. We are, in short, living in a high-priced economy, and there can be no valid comparison of the present with the past.

The best we can hope for is honest value—which is simply the lowest prices, quality for quality, commensurate with the conditions of the times. The American merchant, whether he operates a little crossroad store or an outlet for a national chain system, is the consumers' most dependable friend in giving us that. He is the man who pares his operating costs in order to hold price raises to the minimum, and to lower prices when he can. He is the man who buys with care, so that the customer will get the most for his money. He can't perform the impossible—but he can and does do all in his power to protect the purchasing power of that green folding stuff you carry in your wallet.

Most farmers who borrow do all of their financing at the bank, where they get prompt service without red tape. It's economical, too. Finance your next truck or car with a bank auto loan through us, and see for yourself.

No Boll Weevils

No boll weevils or punctured squares were found in 75 cotton fields in Valley counties recently inspected by U. S. and State Department of Agriculture entomologists, according to an announcement by the Texas A. and M. experiment station. Although flea hoppers are not as abundant as last year, growers are dusting liberally. The college advised use of sulphur or sulphur mixtures for the hoppers, rather than DDT alone. Use of DDT alone is likely to result in an increase in aphids or plant lice because it kills the beneficial insects which prey on aphids.—Hidalgo County News.

Moore Wheat Co-Op

A move to form a cooperative company to take over ownership of Farmer's Elevator Company at Dumas is definitely underway. The company, at present under private ownership, has been hard pressed to maintain help for operation, as the stockholders are all large wheat farmers, who are unable to devote time to elevator operation, while at the same time being rushed with their own harvest.—The Moore County News.

BOYCE HOUSE

Oddest news lately came from Rhode Island, from Pawtucket. The very name of that place is odd, isn't it? They arrested a man for laughing—and fined him, too.

Doesn't look like a man has much freedom left if it's against the law to laugh, does it? What his old world needs is more laughs. With all the high prices, high taxes, strikes, and world problems, they ought to pay a man a bounty for laughing.

Like the two men who were talking; one said, "A man who hides behind a woman's skirt is a coward" and the other said, "A man who hides behind a woman's skirt these days is a magician." A man who can find anything to laugh about these days is really good!

There ought to be a law that he has to tell us what he's laughing about, so we can laugh, too. Like the man who was poor in purse and in physique. He went to a doctor and the doctor said, "I'll examine you for $10." He said, "All right, I'll help you look for it and, if you find it, I want half."

Rhode Island is so little it would just make a watchfob for Texas. Why, Rhode Island is so little a man has to step over into Connecticut to have room to change his mind.

I read somewhere that Rhode Island is the most densely populated state in the Union and, judging from the Pawtucket happening, the people of Rhode Island really must be dense!

We invite that Pawtucket man to come to Texas where there is plenty of room. He can go out into the great open-spaces of some of our Western counties where, if the inhabitants were placed in a line an equal distance apart, the human voice wouldn't carry from one man to the next one in line. Or he can come to one of our Texas cities where he can laugh to his heart's content and nobody will even hear him. We have so many car horns honking, ambulance sirens sounding, fire bells ringing, and six-shooters firing that Gabriel will have to blow his horn a second time just especially for the cities of Texas.

Fine a man for laughing, indeed! Wouldn't it be more sensible to fine a fellow for being grouchy, grumpy and fault-finding? Give me the person who can see the silver lining in the clouds that overhang life.

The line of the poet will have to be changed to read, "Laugh and the world laughs with you—except Pawtucket."

Am I going to Pawtucket? Brother, don't make me laugh!

Responsibility For Consumer Prices

A RASH of oratory recently broke out in the senate led by Senators Young, Aiken, Eastland, and Hatch of New Mexico, in defense of the farmer and agricultural prices and a denial that government or the farmer was responsible for the high consumer price of agricultural products.

Said Senator Aiken: "It is my belief that at the present time a well-organized campaign to prejudice American consumers against American farmers is being indulged in simply for the purpose of diverting attention from the real profiteers in the food and clothing markets, the speculators and commodity gamblers, and also to prevent farmers and working people from knowing the truth about each other."

Senator Eastland said: "It seems to be that a conspiracy is being engaged in by the great industrialists in this country to try to lead the American people to believe that farm prices and the government support program are responsible for the present high prices in the United States. The manufacturers had a great deal to do with abolishing the OPA (Editor's note: Senator Eastland voted to abolish OPA), but now they indict American agriculture with the statement that the farmers are responsible for the high prices. I think the facts will show that the cause of the present high prices in industrial goods is the discontinuance of OPA."

Said Senator Young: "The industrialists are trying to put agriculture in a bad light; they are trying to throw out a smoke screen behind which they can hide; they are also trying to destroy the soil-conservation program and all other programs which are needed by the farmers of America. If farm prices are driven down I believe a depression would follow shortly."

Senator Aiken: "I have been satisfied all the time that as quickly as that mad leadership of industry in America had seen their attention to agriculture next."

Senator Morse: "The harvest at present (American industry beginning to become about a tendency of millions of American engage in a buyers they are beginning to card in the book, to see whether they lower prices a little responsibility for the scionable high cost the American farmer."

SENATOR HATCH: "We never learn through distress and hence. For instance, campaign to remove from farm prices, down, to attempt to ers of America import eventually when the mal it will succeed, go down and down done before, how prices remain where will it not eventually has before, result in hard times?"

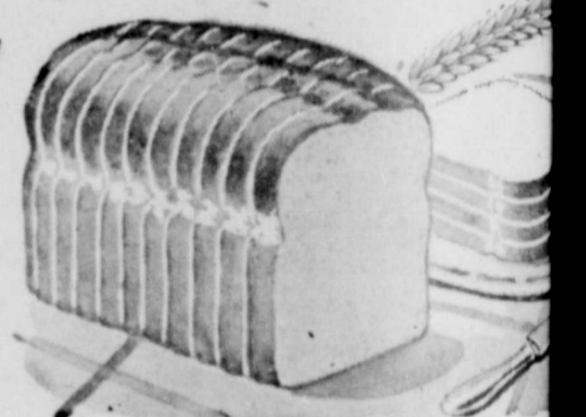

Senator Kilgore of "The agricultural state is suddenly wonderful trimming say to them that it will be established want it. The business and conquer economy too far. This is being taught to have just returned west. I talked with sors and officials who the vicious official against the working being spread even children. The bold weekly newspapers in the daily press at same line... that sible for all our same time, the taught that the farm sible for our high we see played up in at some market, for for wheat. Find received $3.15. That er's profit."

Six-Inch Sermon

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Religious Reforms in Judah
Lesson for June 8: 11 Kings 22: 10-11; 23: 1-5, 21.

Memory Selection: Psalms 119: 34.

Mannasseh, son of Hezekiah, was a wicked monarch who did all he could to undo the works of his father. His son, Amon, was no better. But Hezekiah's grandson, Josiah, was one of the most pious kings of history.

At twenty-six Josiah began the renovation of the temple. Then was discovered a book, probably Deuteronomy, which had escaped the efforts of Mannasseh to stamp out the religion of Jehovah. The reading of the book had a profound effect upon Josiah.

With all the chief men of Jerusalem about him, the young king made a covenant before Jehovah "to keep his commandments," and "all the people stood to the covenant." The abominable things of pagan worship were removed from the temple, burned in the fields of Kidron, and the ashes taken to Bethel. Finally Josiah ordered a great passover to be kept.

Great as was the zeal of Josiah, the reforms he inaugurated did not last, due, no doubt, to their being enforced by royal decree and to their failure to change the hearts of the people. The young ruler could not bring his people to conversion.

Many today so neglect the Bible that it is a lost book to them. Let them rediscover it as the word of life. Let them put down the modern idols that have separated them from God, and offer unto him the sacrifices of broken and contrite hearts.
