Jester To Head Carnival Guests

Memphis will be packed by celebrities and dignitaries October 3-4 when it commemorates its first annual Cotton, Ceramics, and Chemurgic Carnival, according to county agent W. B. Hooser and chamber of commerce manager Pat Flynn.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester will head the host of dignitaries attending the natural resources show. Despite a crowded calendar for fall, Governor Jester has agreed to attend the Memphis and Hall County celebration, flying here from Tyler for the occasion. Ed and Lewis Foxhall, managers of the Memphis airport will fly planes to Tyler to pick up the governor, and to Austin to pick up additional State officials.

Hooser and Flynn returned yesterday from an eight-day tour through Texas seeking dignitaries for the carnival and seeking industrial surveys for the county.

Ted Malloy, Dallas representative for several textile and cotton companies, told the local men he would not only attend the carnival but would recommend an industrial survey here this summer.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner, promised to be in Memphis for the show as did Senator Grady Hazelwood, Rep. Sheffey Mahan who also has entered a resolution into the House of Representatives acknowledging this first such carnival in West Texas and inviting all Texas senators and representatives to attend.

L. D. Ransome, secretary to Governor Jester and a brother-in-law of Dick Watson of Memphis, will also be here for the celebration.

Col. E. V. Spence, chief of the State Board of Water Engineers, V. M. Ehlers, department of health's director of sanitary engineering, Dr. George W. Cox, chief of the department of health, Dr. Edward Taylor, chief of the dental division of the department of health, and a representative of the U. S. Geological Survey, also

County To Have Water Survey

The Texas Department of Health in conjunction with the State Board of Water Engineers will make an extensive survey of water conditions in Hall and surrounding counties beginning in the near future, state officials told W. B. Hooser and Pat Flynn in Austin this week. These departments will be assisted by the U. S. Geological Survey in making the regional tests.

Crew members will be sent here

Yank Try-outs Open Tuesday

All boys between the ages of 16 and 22 aspiring to play professional baseball are urged to report to the baseball field in time to start working out at 10 a. m. June 10, and let these experienced baseball men judge their capabilities. Running, throwing, infield

Citizens Meet To Discuss Plans for Proposed Building

At a meeting of representatives of several civic organizations held in the city hall Thursday evening of last week a program was mapped whereby all citizens of Memphis would have a part in working out details of a proposed community building.

The meeting was called by Clyde Milam, member of the city council, who presided, and followed the first step in the proposed building project which was started May 6 when members of the American Legion and VFW presented a petition to the city council requesting that body to look into the possibilities of the building. Besides council members, members of the Legion, VFW, Rotary Club, and Lions Club were

Memphis School Eligible for Transport Pay

The school Equalization Aid Bill, recently signed by Governor Jester carries a provision that will mean $4.50 per month in school transportation revenue for each student who lives over two and one-half miles from the Memphis schools, due to the fact that the scholastic population of the county is less than three per square mile, Mary Foreman, county school superintendent, said Wednesday.

In order to be eligible for this equalization pay, in addition to the population requirement, the evaluation of the school must not

Ballard Named Coordinator of Vets' Schools

Joe Allen Ballard of Estelline has been named coordinator for Hall County veterans' vocational schools, Mary Foreman, county school superintendent, announced this week. His offices will be located in Estelline.

July 1 Ballard will assume the duties of coordinator. The county superintendent has been acting coordinator since January 1, and five vocational schools have been started during that period.

Ballard, a native of Hall County, is a former principal of the Estelline High School.

Deaver Presides At Panhandle Bankers' Meet

T. H. Deaver, vice president of the First National Bank of Memphis, retiring president of the Panhandle Bankers Association, presided at the forty-second annual convention of the association in Amarillo Tuesday.

The business session featured an address by W. A. Kirkland, of Houston, newly-elected president of the Texas Bankers Association. He defined the chief problem of the banking business as a personnel problem. "We can't compete with the oil and gas industry on salaries, so we must furnish a dignified way of life and security to attract a high quality personnel," he declared.

New officers elected were C. Ray Brock, cashier of the American National Bank of Amarillo, president; Guy H. Walden, executive vice president of the Clovis National Bank, vice president; Vern Wisdom, vice president and cashier of the First National

AAA Work Halted Pending Action By Senate

No more applications are being taken at the AAA office for approval of farm practices until further notice, because of the prospective cut in farm appropriations, Lynn McKown, ACA secretary, announced this week.

All work that has been begun will be carried on through, McKown said. If the farm appropriations are cut 50 per cent, then practice payments will probably be cut 50 per cent, he said. In that event farmers might be required to refund 50 per cent of payments recently made.

There is a possibility of a compromise at less than a 50 per cent cut in the senate, McKown said.

Mrs. Leggett died in a Memphis hospital Monday. She was 73 years old.

Interment was in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Lakeview, with Womack Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Leggett was born November 17, 1873, in Limestone County. She was married to G. B. Leggett in 1891. She had been a member of the Baptist church since childhood.

Survivors are four sons, Horace of Memphis, Lloyd of Hedley, Lance of Lakeview, and Jake of Pampa; four daughters, Mrs. Lee Blanks of Lakeview, Mrs. Lake Sachse of Childress, Mrs. Haskell Strygley of Dumas, and Mrs. Fan Kirk of Lakeview; two sisters.

Softball Play Starts Tonight, Managers To Meet

A meeting of softball team managers will be held at the Memphis High School office Monday at 8 p. m. Ray Newton, assistant coach and summer recreational director, announced this week. Game schedules and rules and regulations will be set up, Newton said.

League play will start tonight, and other league games will be played Friday and Monday night.

Seven teams have registered, and anyone else interested in softball league play should contact Newton, it was reported.

MORE RODEO PLANS ARE MADE, PRIZE LISTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Parades, horseback square dances, old settlers' activities, and a host of other events are being scheduled for July 24-26 as the entire town and populace decks out in colorful bunting and cowboy regalia for the rodeo and old settlers' reunion.

Further rodeo plans were discussed at a meeting of the VFW, representatives from the Lions Club, chamber of commerce, old settlers, and other organizations held last night at the city hall.

A parade will be held during the first day of the rodeo, with bands, rodeo performers, varied local groups, and visiting groups, including a number of riding and roping clubs taking part in the gala exhibition, it is announced.

Old settlers registration will take place the first day, the old settlers to hold their reunion the second day of the three-day event.

Invitations are going out to a great number of prominent riding and roping clubs all over the area, and a number have indicated they will be on hand, it was reported.

A rodeo prize list was announced by the steering committee, with $1,500 in prize money plus entrance fees to be offered.

Estelline Man Is Seriously Injured In Auto Accident

Ralph McColloch of Estelline was seriously injured Sunday evening when he was pinned underneath his car as it turned over three miles east of Estelline, according to a report by a Democrat correspondent.

He was rushed to a Childress hospital by a passer-by, and is reported to be in a grave condition.

The shipping outlook for the record wheat crop here, to be harvested around the 15th is improving considerably, according to J. J. McMickin, local agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railway. Around 2,000 available cars had been reported in the Amarillo District, which includes this area, several days ago, and as more cars are rolling on to side tracks in the area the total should now be around 2,500 available, McMickin said. As these cars will make three or four trips to terminals, this will make close to 12,000 cars ready for harvest use.

Final Week for Donations To Cancer Fund

The cancer fund drive in Hall County will end next week, N. W. Durham, county chairman for the drive, said yesterday.

Few donations have come in, and the amount to be forwarded to the fund drive headquarters will be far short of the assigned quota, Durham said, unless response is made during the next few days.

He reminded people of Hall County that persons in this community die every year of cancer, to help add up to an enormous national total of deaths that might be avoided if needed facilities could be made available for the treatment and study of this dread malady.

Donations may be made at The Memphis Democrat, Durham Pharmacy, or to Pete Smith, treasurer for the drive, at the First State Bank, Durham said.

VFW Nine Will Go To Quitaque Sunday

The VFW nine has slated a return match with Quitaque there Sunday, team manager C. B. Hickey reports.

The vets lost to Quitaque last Sunday 3-0, as Womack, the Quitaque hurler, held the visiting locals almost hitless.

The VFW had beaten the team, using much the same line-up, in the contest here three weeks ago.

Vandevanter and Hancock will probably pitch for the vets Sunday, Hickey said. Hancock and Clark pitched last Sunday.

Rev. W. M. Webb Opens Revival Here At Assembly of God

Rev. W. M. Webb of New Mexico opened a revival at the Assembly of God Church here Sunday. The revival will continue for two weeks, according to an announcement by Rev. Floyd Schaeffer, pastor.

Rev. Webb will be speaking on such subjects as "Who Has the Keys to Heaven," "Where Are the Dead?," "Is the Baptism of the Holy Ghost for Believers Today?," and "Prophecy," it was announced.

Those interested in viewing these films are urged to telephone the local chamber office to learn time and place of showing as arrangements had not been completed at press time.

County Schools Are Classified

County schools were classified at a meeting of the county school board in Memphis Wednesday, according to Mary Foreman, county school superintendent. The board also voted to call an election in Estelline and Newlin for voting on the grouping of these two districts, at the request of the Newlin and Estelline boards.

The date for the election was not set, but will probably be within the next month, Miss Foreman said.

The board voted down a motion to group Lakeview, Lesley, Deep Lake, Webster, Brice, and Pleasant Valley, because of opposition expressed by the smaller districts, it was reported.

Eli, Deep Lake, Gammage,

McMickin said that many "battleship" coal cars were being rigged with tops for use as wheat transports. He said, however, that when these cars are used an agreement must be made with the buyer and elevator operator to be sure that unloading facilities are available, as these cars unload from the bottom rather than the side.

A major difficulty, McMickin noted, arises from the fact that dates of maturity in wheat crops from Wichita Falls north in Texas will probably vary not more than 10 days. It is feared that even a large supply of cars will not be adequate for the immediate transportation of all these crops, the near-simultaneous maturity giving little time for car returns from terminals.

However, terminals at Fort Worth and Galveston, main shipping points from the area, are nearly empty at present, it is reported, and this should speed unloading considerably, in turn speeding return of cars to this area.

Experiment Farm Brief Will Be Prepared Here

The Memphis chamber of commerce has been asked to prepare a brief showing reasons why an experimental farm in this region would benefit farmers and the public, following conferences in College Station this week between officials there and Pat Flynn, local chamber manager, and county agent W. B. Hooser.

The local men learned that appropriations for additional experiments have been cut to the bone and only emergency or extremely important additions may be expected.

A similar brief is being prepared asking for a permanent 4-H Club Camp to be established within the county.

West Texas Motion Pictures To Be Shown Here June 10

W. B. Elliston, Hereford, member of the Texas Chemurgic Council has notified the Memphis chamber of commerce he would be here June 10 to present a series of motion pictures on West Texas development.

Those interested in viewing these films are urged to telephone the local chamber office to learn time and place of showing as arrangements had not been completed at press time.

Schedule Set For 8-Week Summer Music Program

The summer school music program will begin June 9 and continue for eight weeks, Perry Keyser, high school band instructor, announced this week.

Rehearsals are to be held in the Memphis High School band house, and there will be no fees to students for participation, Keyser said.

One of the objectives of the advanced band will be to form a rodeo band. The band will probably participate in Fourth of July activities and rodeo booster trips.

Miss Janice Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Murphy of Memphis, and G. W. Lockhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lockhart, also of this city, were united in marriage Saturday, May 31, at the Baptist parsonage in Memphis. Rev. C. R. Tennon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the marriage vows at 6 p. m.

The bride chose for her wedding a blue linen dress complemented by white accessories and a corsage of pink-rosebuds. She was a member of the Memphis High School spring graduating class.

Louise Rogers and E. L. McQueen were in attendance.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of the Memphis High School, having finished with the class of '46. He is an employee of the McDaniel Implement company.

Following a week's honeymoon trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the couple will be at home in Memphis.

promised attendance. Burrus Jackson, Hillsboro, head of the Cotton Congress and Texas Cotton Growers Association, not only promised to attend but said, "We'll have more exhibits than Memphis can handle." He will be accompanied here by Dr. D. T. Killough and John Leahy of the Cotton Congress.

The Texas Chemurgic Council also promised to have "all available exhibits" in Memphis for the carnival. Victor Schoffelmayer of the Dallas News who is devoting his life to chemurgy said "this is the type of celebration we welcome. It will be a pleasure to assist."

Texas A. and M. officials also promised to storm Memphis for the show. President Gib Gilchrist said he would be here if humanly possible as did J. D. Prewitt, assistant director of extension service, and D. A. Anderson, chief of the Texas Forestry Department. Several district agents indicated they would attend.

Fort Worth and Denver officials in both Fort Worth and Denver have promised to aid local committees in planning the elaborate program.

Approximately 47 counties of this area, each interested in cotton, agricultural, and clay developments, will be invited to participate in the carnival.

President James F. Smith of the Memphis chamber of commerce is expected to name a host of committee chairmen this week to launch plans for the gigantic program.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

The bridal party entered the church to stand before an improvised arch formed by arrangements of white gladioli, carnations, fern, and palms, flanked by candelabra bearing lighted white tapers.

Mrs. T. K. Treadwell played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional and accompanied T. E. Noel who sang "Because."

For her wedding the bride chose a traditional blue two-piece frock of silk crepe with which she wore an off-face felt hat trimmed in white and pink flowers, and a corsage of white gardenias.

Ruth Jones, sister of the bridegroom, lighted the candles. She was attired in a pink eyelet dress fashioned with a low scalloped neckline and peplum. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Hubert Jones attended his brother as best man and Gene Lindsey and Harold Ayers served as ushers.

Mrs. Kilgore, mother of the bride, wore a gray crepe dress with black accessories, and Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom, wore an aqua mesh dress complemented by black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The bride graduated from the Memphis High School with the class of '44 and at the present time is employed by the First National Bank of Memphis.

Co-operative Vacation Church School Formed

A vacation bible school, starting at 9 a. m. Monday will be held jointly by the Presbyterian and Christian churches, it was announced this week by Rev. B. L. Peacock and Rev. Charles E. Boatman, new pastor of the First Christian Church.

All children from five years old up are invited, it is announced. The school will be held from 9 to 11:30 a. m. at the First Christian Church and will be conducted by Mrs. Grace Haynes of Canyon, who is a commissioned worker under the Board of National Missions.

The school, which will be conducted for one week, will feature singing, study, story telling, games, fun, and fellowship, according to the announcement.

present and discussed several phases of the proposition. The group was in agreement as to the need for a building of the type proposed. It was also brought out that there was sufficient public demand to cause the city to go ahead with plans prior to calling an election.

Chairman Milam appointed a committee to work out detailed plans for the proposed community building, such as the inclusion of a banquet room, auditorium, etc. In all probability, city offices will be included in the building plans, it was pointed out. Members of the planning committee are Roy L. Coleman, chairman, Doyle Bunch, Bob Queener, John Deaver, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, and Mrs. Candler Hawkins. The committee will meet sometime soon, and submit their suggestions to the city council.

to make chemical and bacteriological tests as initial steps, Dr. Edward Taylor and Dr. George Cox, health department heads declared. Samples of water will be taken from each well within the county, they said.

Col. E. V. Spence, chief of the State Board of Water Engineers and the U. S. crew members will seek additional data on irrigation and industrial possibilities with water supply in this area to determine rate of flow and the quantity of underground water available for expanded development.

Industrial engineers in Dallas told the local men such surveys would prove of untold value to the region and possibly mean hundreds of thousands of dollars in increased property values if an adequate supply of water is certified.

clubs. He was one of the last big league pitchers to legally use the now "out-lawed" spit-ball, it is reported.

Wattie Holm spent most of his playing years with the St. Louis Cardinal organization, serving with the parent Cardinal club in the outfield from 1924 to 1929. He played with the pennant winning 1926 and 1928 aggregations, and was also a member of the International League pennant winning Rochester club of 1931. Wattie completed his active playing in 1933 and has since devoted his scouting and teaching talents to discovering and developing young players, the announcement said.

Residents of Texas are no doubt already well acquainted with Dutch Lorbeer who, as playing manager of the Beaumont club during 1934, 1935, and 1936, established the all-time fielding record for catchers in the Texas league. In 1938 Dutch became president and business manager of the Sporters and inaugurated his scouting activities. Previous to his association with the Yankees Dutch scouted Texas and Oklahoma for the Detroit Tigers. As the New York Yankee scout covering the Texas-New Mexico area, Dutch will be in charge of signing players in the Memphis camp.

All players must pay their own expenses to the camp and provide their own uniform, glove, and shoes. However, those players signed to a contract will be reimbursed for expenses incurred, according to the release.

founders, J. C. Montgomery, it served as the family home for many years.

The residence then passed into the hands of Mrs. Mary Arnold, daughter of the Montgomeries. When Mrs. Arnold moved from Memphis in 1933, Dr. R. Ernest Clark established offices in the building, later developing his first hospital there.

When Dr. Clark moved his hospital and offices to his present site in 1941, the building then became bank property.

The county had acquired some property in the west part of the county. More space was needed for a ration board, social service, and other offices. A trade was made with the bank.

Now that the war years are past and the county does not need the additional space for offices, the old building will be offered to the highest bidder at a public auction at 2:30 p. m. June 9. The old structure, built nearly forty years ago, has been the scene of birth and death, and the daily drama of a hospital. It has been a family home. The business of a county has gone through its doors in emergency years.

How next will it serve? James E. King returned from Dallas last week after spending several weeks there following an operation. He is able to be about town some now.

Rev. Charles E. Boatman, minister of the First Christian Church, went to Missouri Sunday night to bring his wife and children to Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hill left Wednesday on a vacation to Marlin and other places of interest. They plan to be gone about a month.

On 20-Year Soil Study Yields Increased by Spur Station

The following report from a report of M. Spur Experiment Station which was released by County Agent gives a conclusive answer to the case for to be a little less than one-half as effective in increasing cotton yields as were closed level terraces.

The average yield of lint cotton from straight rows was 119 pounds and from closed level terraces 175 pounds. The value of the lint and cottonseed produced with closed level terraces for the 20-year period was $191.41 per acre more than where rows ran with the slope. Saving all the water resulted in an increased return of $9.57 per acre per year, or 46 per cent. Reducing run-off by one acre-inch gave an increased yield of 20 pounds of lint, which together with the seed, had a value of $3.48; or the value of one acre-foot of water saved was $41.52.

The plant food lost with the 75 tons of soil eroded with the 55.01 inches run-off and with the crops removed was six times greater than the plant food removed in crops on closed level terraces.

The Spur station has prepared a complete table of statistics, comparing yields and run-off of rows with the slope, rows on the contour, and closed level terraces, from 1927 through 1946. Some representative years from this study:

In 1930 rainfall was 18.50 inches. On rows with slope run-off was 1.49 inches; on rows with contour, .72-inch; on closed level terraces, none. The acre value of lint and seed, on rows with slope, $1.08; on rows with contour, $4.07; on closed level terraces, $12.47.

In 1946 rainfall was 18.75 inches. On rows with slope runoff was 2.75 inches; on rows on contour, 1.97 inches; on closed level terraces, none. The acre value of lint and seed, on rows with slope, $42.48; on rows on contour, $49.82; on closed level terraces, $64.85.

A comparison of totals for the 20-year period shows, on acre value of lint and seed, for rows with slope, $415.09; on rows on contour, $483.94; on closed level terraces, $605.50.

There have been a number of times when temptation to drain the closed level terraces was pressing. In no case did failure to drain these terraces reduce crop yields.

On the heavier clay soils, having a relatively slow infiltration rate, it is doubtful whether land having over one per cent slope should have the terraces closed.

The ease of securing uniform stands, a resultant uniform growth of young plants for first cultivation, and protection from wind damage is more than sufficient to justify contoured rows.

The experiment on the closed level terrace has special value in that it covers a relatively long period of years. It is recommended without reservation for similar soils, slopes, and rainfall. The survey covered mostly Abilene clay loam with small areas of Abilene clay and are considered droughty. The slope of the land is 0.5 per cent.

Vocational Dept. Added To WTSC

Broadening its scope of service to students of the Panhandle, West Texas State College is adding a wholly new department to its curriculum at the beginning of the fall semester. A two-year course of vocational education will form the new offering, according to a disclosure by President J. A. Hill of the Canyon college, made last Monday.

Designed to appeal to students who are more interested in mechanical pursuits than in literary study, the new department also will give college credit up to 60 semester hours when taken in conjunction with certain requirements of English, mathematics and other courses.

Four outlines of materials to be included in the courses tentatively arranged cover work in: General metals; general building trades; farm shop; and automobile, tractor and internal combustion engines.

Under general metals, students will pursue such phases as machine shop, welding, foundry, sheet metal and forging. General building trades areas will embrace carpentry, mill cabinet work, masonry, plumbing, electricity and interior and exterior decorating.

Farm machinery repair and general shop will furnish the field for the farm shop course. Arrangements for the new department have been made by Dr. Hill for the college and representatives of the State Department of Vocational Education, under whose direction the work will be pursued.

First of the two new instructors necessitated by the new offerings has already been employed. He is W. T. McGregor, who will head the department. Now teaching similar courses in Tyler High School, Mr. McGregor will report for work in September after spending the summer in graduate study at Texas A. and M. College, from which he holds a bachelor's degree.

An ex-GI, Mr. McGregor is 25 years old and will move his wife and small child to Canyon.

A. L. Grossland, already a member of the college faculty in the department of agriculture, will teach the farm shop work; while the third member of the group will be named later, says Dr. Hill.

Almost all machinery for the new shops is on the campus, having been obtained from the War Assets Administration. A few lathes and hand tools yet are to be secured, but the State Department of Vocational Education promises that they will be available by the time the college opens.

Win Wellington Game 19 to 4 In Leaguer Sunday

Memphis was a favorite in the RRV league game with Wellington here Sunday, but not by the final 19-4 score.

The Memphians bunted, sacrificed, and played a good brand of heads-up baseball to bring in 11 men in the second inning.

Aided in part by five Wellington errors, the locals had brought in 15 runs by the end of the fourth.

Moyer, Hoover, and Gibson got three-base hits; Barton, Wellington first baseman, hit a double.

A double play in the first of the third from Moyer to Coppedge to McKnight caught a Wellington man out at second and first. Each team collected four strikeouts.

Hoover, going in to pitch for Memphis in the fourth, held the visitors to three hits.

Game Schedule
Quannah here Saturday night, Pampa here Sunday afternoon, Kirkland here Tuesday night.

When Quannah meets Memphis in a league game during the second half of the Red River Valley League schedule, local fans will be treated to a double-header. The story behind this event is an interesting one.

On May 25, Memphis nudged Quannah in a league game played at Quannah, 4-2. The game was a torrid pitcher's duel with the score standing 1-1 going into the last half of the seventh when Quannah came to bat. With two men out, men on second and third, and Doc Saxe of Memphis umpiring the bases, an unusual play occurred which led to a protest of the game, the protest being sustained, and a re-scheduling of the game beginning with the seventh inning when the two teams play in Memphis.

The play: A Quannah player hit a roller toward J. W. Coppedge, Memphis shortstop. The Quannah runner on second is reported to have done an Indian war dance in front of the ball and as a result was called out by the base umpire. Incidentally, the ball went through Coppedge, but as the runner was called out the Quannah team went scoreless for the inning. In the ninth inning, Memphis ran its total to four runs, then fought off a Quannah rally to win 4-2. On Monday, notice was served that a hearing would be held on the protest in Childress, the final result being that the game has not yet gone into the win or loss column.

Manager Hutcherson, members of the Memphis team, and members of the Lions Club who are interested in the local team believe that the protest was unjustly sustained by league officials.

Primary reason for disagreement is the belief that the decision of the chief umpire in a game is not subject to change. Memphis takes the stand that if the umpire's decision is subject to change by the officials, that the burden of paying umpires should be dispensed with and that the league officials should be used to start with.

Those eligible to vote on a protested game include the president, vice president, and secretary of the league, plus the managers of the two teams. All were present at the hearing with the exception of the vice president. While an official vote on the decision was not given, it is assumed that the vote was 3-1, as it is known that Hutcherson did not vote to sustain the protest. This means that the president secretary, and manager of the opposing team voted to sustain the decision.

Boil it all down, and it all amounts to the fact that the Memphis team feels that a game has been taken away from them that they fairly and rightfully won. When the two teams meet later in the season you can be certain that the two teams won't be handing each other bouquets.

by the Attorney General of Texas and when so approved shall be incontestable."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at a special election to be held throughout the state on the fourth Saturday in August, A. D. 1947, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For The Amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, adding Sections 17 and 18 providing for the levying of a state ad valorem tax on property in lieu of the present state ad valorem tax of Seven (7c) Cents for Confederate pensions in order to create special funds necessary for the payment of Confederate pensions and for the financing of the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning, in the amounts of Two (2c) Cents and Five (5c) Cents respectively; providing for a Five Cent reduction of the maximum allowable state tax on property, making such tax not to exceed Thirty (30c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation; providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of improvements and buildings at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and The University of Texas."

"Against the amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, adding Sections 17 and 18 providing for the levying of a state ad valorem tax on property in lieu of the present state ad valorem tax of Seven (7c) Cents for Confederate pensions in order to create special funds necessary for the payment of Confederate pensions and for the financing of the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning in the amounts of Two (2c) Cents and Five (5c) Cents respectively; providing for a Five (5c) Cent reduction of the maximum allowable state tax on property, making such tax not to exceed Thirty (30c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation; providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of improvements and buildings at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and The University of Texas."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this state.

Sec. 4. The sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury of the state, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Panhandle Starts Bindweed War

Panhandle farmers and agricultural workers have an organized movement on foot to control bindweed, one of the state's biggest farm and pasture land weed pests.

Eighty-one farmers, county commissioners, ACA committeemen, county agricultural agents and other agricultural workers met in Amarillo recently and voted to set up a Panhandle Bindweed Control Committee to request assistance in using latest research information and to organize a Panhandle-wide effort to combat bindweed.

Art Bralley, Potter County agricultural agent, reports that more than 60,000 acres of the best Panhandle farm land is overrun with bindweed. Infestations have spread rapidly in recent years, he says, due in part to combines which travel over the state and spread the seed. Bralley also states that Texas is being made "a dumping ground" for bindweed seed, as there is no restriction on use and movement of grains infested with the seed.

Wortham Seale, district PMA fieldman, reported at the meeting that the 1947 PMA farm program provides a $5.00 per acre payment for bindweed control, and urged interested farmers call at their county ACA offices for details.

The group meeting at Amarillo set up a temporary executive committee, with D. F. Osborne, Gray County farmer, as chairman. Each Panhandle county is being invited to select a person to serve as director of the permanent Panhandle Bindweed Control Program.

to grow in the alley or on the curb where I live, not because I feel it's my duty, but for the reason, I don't want to look at them.

I know four widow women who pay tax for the upkeep of Memphis. They work hard for their support, then clean the city alley and curb. It is not their duty to do this, but they want their homes to look decent.

This town has not always been like this. The grader can cut the weeds of all the alleys in a few days each month. If one machine is not sufficient, get another one. Get the money from the citizens who own property in their town. Put labor to work. Money is of no value unless it is put to use. Put it into labor. They will give it back to Memphis trade as quickly as they earn it.

Somebody said money makes the mare go, so it does if you put it on the mare. If plenty of taxes are collected and put in labor it will make business go. Once I visited a city in another country and while there, I strolled about noting the streets and alleys. The alleys had tall weeds, blackberry vines and small orange bushes in them. We are supposed to hold our pride above such. Of course, our alleys don't produce such, but I am bound to say we are degrading some in some ways. The weeds and wild rye is tall enough to hide the loafing dogs and spotted cats.

Every one's business is no one's business. City managers alone can do more than all the people will do.

We have heard of the man who bathed once a year, whether he needed it or not. Memphis is getting funny that way.

All signed letters will be printed here upon request, so long as they carry clean, unbiased, material. The following should be considered the opinion of the writer, in no manner reflecting on the editorial policies of the newspaper.

I don't think we should do away with the stock law and turn the cattle loose to eat the wild rye and rag weeds. Our city dads should enact a law with teeth in it that would destroy all filth that accumulates or grows in the alleys and on the front curbs.

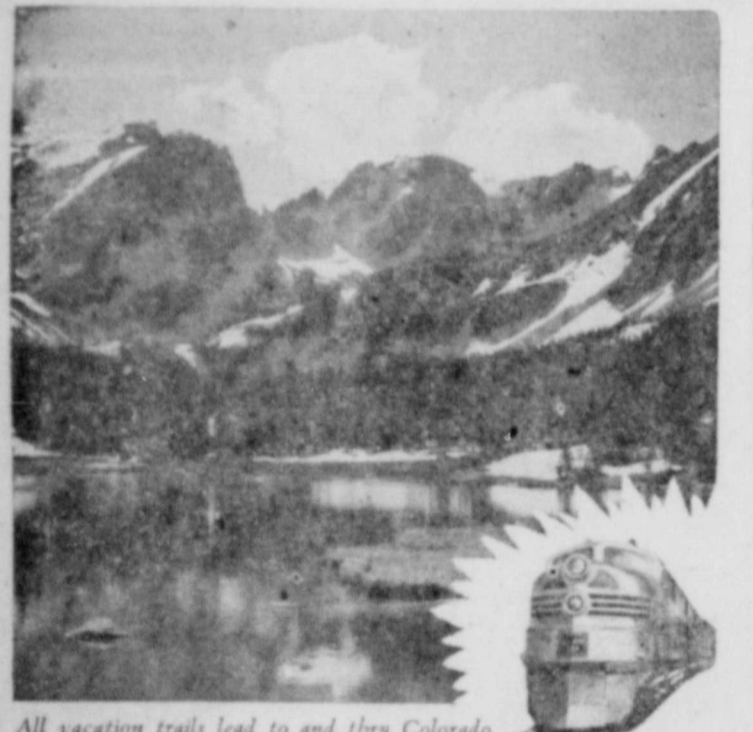

If the city doesn't have money enough to pay men to clean the town 12 months in each year why not raise the taxes sufficiently to get money to do all that really needs to be done. The alleys, streets, and curbs to side walks are public property, and should be taken care of by a tax collected from the public, (the citizens of our town).

There is no one that would refuse to pay a tax to clean the alley on his vacant lot. But there are plenty of Memphis citizens who will not do this with their own free will. I don't allow weeds

Farmers in the county are now following up the strychnine and 1080 with cyanide crystals, placed in the prairie dog holes. They are working for a 100 percent kill, and Waide believes that the cyanide will finish off the remaining 15 percent. Bert Barnes, son of Mrs. Lola Barnes of Clarendon, has won first prize—a trip to Europe—for his essay on "The American Merchant Marine and World Commerce."

The Houston Propellor Club sponsored the contest, which drew entries from almost every section of the United States. The trip, to be made aboard a ship of the United States Lines, probably will be made this summer.

Formal presentation of the award was made recently at a dinner at the Golfcrest Country Club in Houston.

The young writer graduated from Clarendon High School this semester.

New books at the Carnegie Library, as reported by librarian Mrs. W. V. Coursey, are:

INSIDE USA

By John Gunther

"Inside USA," the fourth volume in the spectacularly successful "inside" series, continues Mr. Gunther's bold and unique attempt to map the known political world of today. He has explored every nook and cranny of all 48 states, has talked to almost everyone. And now he has put it down for a whole nation to read. There has never been a book on America like this one. What Gunther does is to show this country to itself, examining it state by state.

ALL THE KING'S MEN

By Robert Penn Warren

This novel won the Pulitzer prize for fiction in 1946. Robert Penn Warren's finest and most powerful novel is the interlocked stories of three men and a woman. At its center is Willie Stark, a young back-country lawyer in a southern state who discovers that he has the gift for power, and follows his star to become political boss of his state. His compelling vitality draws to him Jack Burden, Anne Stanton and her brother Adam. These three are childhood friends of aristocratic background, who live under a sense of their own completeness.

STEPPENWOLF

By Herman Hesse

This novel was originally published in Germany in 1927, and in the U. S. in 1929. The fact that Herman Hesse, German by birth but a Swiss citizen by choice, won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1946, makes a re-sue of "Steppenwolf" desirable for American readers. It is the story of Harry Holler, a man of 50 who considers himself half man, half wolf of the steppes. In Harry Holler as in intellectual Germany, and as in civilized man of all ages, there is the conflict between nature and spirit. The characters include Hermine who befriends Holler; Mana, a young girl; Pablo, a saxophonist; and Mozart, who listens to Handel on the radio. The book is beautifully told and maintains a sense of narrative even though it has clear philosophical undertones.

A HOME IS BURNING NOW

Somewhere, as you read this, a home is burning. Irreplaceable possessions are being swiftly turned to ash. There is a strong likelihood that someone is dying the most horrible of deaths—cremation alive.

It may be trite to say that your home can be next on the grim list of these disasters. But that is true. And if that happens, the chances are the fire will begin from one of four causes. Check your own habits and premises and answer these questions:

First, are you careless with matches and smoking materials? This accounts for 50 per cent of all fires.

Second, is your heating equipment—stoves, furnaces, chimneys, etc.—faulty? Twenty four per cent of all fires begin here.

Third, are you careless in using kerosene, gasoline and inflammable cleaning materials? They give 12 per cent of all fires their start in life.

Fourth, is there anything wrong with your electrical wiring and appliances? Failure to make repairs in time to this equipment causes 10 per cent of all fires.

If you can answer no to all of the questions asked above, your home is relatively safe from fire. But think, look and inspect before you make that answer. In the case of heating and lighting equipment, have an expert make a periodic check. Don't guess—remember that the owner of that home which is burning to the ground this minute probably thought it was safe too—and he was horribly wrong.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Dairy Show Winner

Jimmy Blasdel of Wheeler and J. B. Christner of Shamrock, carried off most of the honors in the Second Annual Wheeler-Collingsworth County Dairy Show held in Shamrock last week. A small but enthusiastic crowd attended the show which was sponsored by the Shamrock chamber of commerce. Cash prizes totaling approximately $100 were awarded the exhibitors on a classification basis. Blue ribbons carried a $4.00 cash award, red ribbons $3.50, and white ribbons $2.00.—The Wheeler Times.

Weaker Sex?

The usual procedure, since the days of Sir Walter Raleigh, has been for the so-called head of the house to protect and to perform the disagreeable and sometimes dangerous tasks of the household. This, however, was not the case with the Barber Eubanks recently when the bread winner of the family encountered a coyote prowling about the premises, presumably in search of fresh meat, chicken or otherwise. After learning the true state of affairs from her slightly pale and shaken spouse, Mrs. Eubanks set forth with the family shotgun cradled in her arm. With the assurance of protection from her husband, who followed at a safe distance, Mrs. Eubanks stalked and blasted the life from the bold intruder with a well-placed charge from the shotgun. After killing the coyote Mrs. Eubanks assisted her protector back to the house where he is recuperating from a harrowing experience.—The Castro County News.

Biggest Gamble

"The farmer is sitting on the razor's edge of fortune just now. He is hoping against rain, hail, wind, and bugs. Prospects one side are for the best wheat crop in this era in history. . . on the other side, his wheat crop can be ruined by the elements. The farmer takes the biggest gamble of any businessman we have. He shakes dice with the Almighty all year long, and it is seldom he throws a natural—and at times he is almost led to believe loaded dice are being used against him.—Electra Star.

Some cynic said he'd rather know less than to know so many things that aren't so.

I spent 12 years in school learning things and a good deal of the time single un-learning them. I was taught that the way to pronounce Nevada was "Ne-vah-duh"; Colorado, "Col-o-rah-duh"; and "Hel-een-uh" for Helena, Montana. But talking to folks who come from those places, I find they are called "Ne-vad-uh," "Col-o-ray-do" and "Hel-enuh," respectively.

A bill introduced in the legislature proposes to claim the Gulf of Mexico as part of Texas for 65 miles out from shore. This is all right but it doesn't go far enough. Why be a piker? Let's annex the entire gulf, renaming it the Gulf of Texas of course—and let Alaska come as a state if she wants to—Texas will still be the biggest.

This Week in WASHINGTON

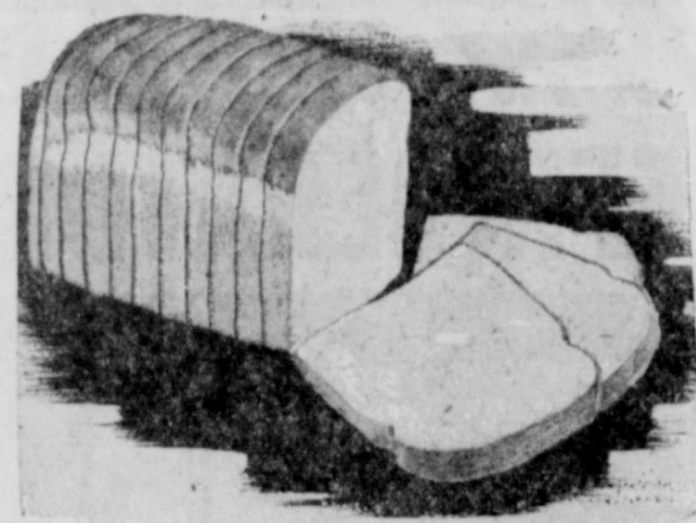

HOW high priced farm land is playing its part in the inflationary picture was depicted by I. W. Duggan, governor of the Farm Credit Administration in testimony before the senate agricultural committee. Mr. Duggan testified in favor of permitting federal land banks to make loans to farmers, on a similar plane as land bank committees.

Many veterans and others are buying farms today, the FCA official said which will be worth less than the loans granted for purchase in ten years. He said that recently a veteran purchased a farm for $25,000 paying $10,000 cash. Then he asked for a $15,000 loan. Three appraisers were sent out to look at the farm by the government and reported value of the farm not more than $10,500. He cited many other instances.

Is the action of President Truman in approving the portal-to-portal pay bill any indication as to his action upon the labor bill which will be presented to him, probably late in June? Despite the fact that he signed the portal-to-portal pay bill, the odds here are that he may veto the labor bill, particularly if the conferees make it any tougher than as it passed the senate.

The department of justice has finally started its anti-trust suit proceedings against the Association of American Railroads and other combinations of financial and industrial railroad interests charging them with "the most far-reaching concentration of monopoly power known to law." Defendants include 47 western railroads, western association of railway executives, J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and 89 officials of railroads and railway associations. The government says these groups maintain a non-competitive rate system and suppress competitive transportation in the western area and have prevented western railroads from reducing rates and improving services. Differentials in class rate scales show a discrimination varying from 112 per cent to 190 per cent against the west in favor of the east, the government charges. And in the meantime, the United States Chamber of Commerce presses for enactment of the Bulwinkle bill to exempt railroads

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

Judah's Last Days

Lesson for June 15: Jeremiah 36:2-3, 28-31; II Kings 24:1-4.

Memory Selection: Proverbs 10:27.

Jeremiah, native of Anathoth, a suburb of Jerusalem, through the reigns of five kings tried to arrest the downward course of Judah.

When his prophecy, denouncing the people for the sins of the time, was read before Jehoiakim, the king who misruled Judah, the monarch cut off and burned a portion as it was read until the whole roll was consumed. Did the foolish king imagine that in burning the roll he could halt the doom prophesied? As well might one think to stay the dawn by strangling the cock.

Jehoiakim did not even prevent the writing of a second roll in which Jeremiah predicted the king's death and the nation's ruin. This prophecy was literally fulfilled.

Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, made Jehoiakim a vassal. But after three years the wretched king rebelled. Bands of Chaldeans, Syrians, Moabites, and Ammonites were sent against Judah. Some of the Jews were taken captive, as all were destined to be in time. Jehoiakim soon died.

As with a nation, so will it be with an individual. One man cannot sin and long "get by." Every man can control his destiny if he starts in time. But let him once begin a wrong course and it will be difficult for him to stop it. Like the widening ripples started when a boy throws a rock into a pond, an evil course will go on and on. Choose for God now and shape your destiny for good.

Winning 4-H Essay

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of prize-winning essays, from the contest conducted in the county recently. Leon Martin of Route 2, Memphis, wrote the following paper on "Diversified Farming."

Diversified farming is very important in farming. The first step is to take care of your soil. Taking care of your soil to prevent erosion you have to put a cover crop on the places that blow such as wheat, barley, and build terraces to prevent washing of the soil.

The next step is rotation. The next step is selection of your seeds. Get the best seed that can be bought. The next step is to know when and where to plant them. Have a different variety of crops such as for this climate in this country as grain sorghums and wheat, barley, rye, and cotton. But a farmer should have enough cattle, hogs, and poultry to take care of his waste land and yet not over-stock. He should have some beef cattle and milk stock and enough brood sows to supply his demands and be sure always to keep good blooded stock. Always keep them vaccinated against diseases and your chickens the same way. The next step in diversified farming is the garden. It too should have a variety of foods adapted to the climate. From this garden you should can enough vegetables for the year's supply for your family, and if you have more than you need do not waste it but put in on the market.

The same thing applies to your stock and poultry. Be sure to keep enough grain sorghums and good feed to supply your demands for the year around. Arrange to where you can keep green pasture the year around for your cows and poultry. Watch your vegetation on your land and keep the weeds and grass and things from hurting your crops.

FIRST WOMAN . . . The first woman to become a member of the Swedish government, Prof. Karin Kock, has been seated as consultative minister at a council held in the Royal Palace, Stockholm. Professor Kock is shown as she signed her name in the book of members of the government.

Because they take the moisture your crop would need. Keep your soil well cultivated and stirred. You should know how many pounds per acre and to space your plants to the nature of the soil and then take care of your crops after you make them by gathering the mwhen they are ready to be gathered.

Have the right kind of equipment to make and harvest your crops. It is always a good policy to keep books on your farming so you will know how much you have spent and how much you have got and accomplished during the year.

You should keep your machinery in good condition and ready to use at all times. You should have good clean buildings to store your implements in to prevent deterioration. You should have clean and warm buildings for your poultry and stock. This is an essential to prevent losses among stock and fowls from pests and diseases.

If I would be lucky enough to win a pig I would feed him shorts and give him lots of feed. I would give the 4-H club one of my pigs. I would try to have a fat and good breed pig. I would make a pen of good planks and put it in the wheat. I would have a good trough and shed to keep them in.

How United Gas Helps Conserve Texas' Resources

PEOPLE OF TEXAS want to conserve natural resources. But resources are like water in a river . . . they have no value unless they can be made to perform a service. True conservation, therefore, is in putting natural resources to use for the benefit of all mankind.

Take the situation in the Conroe field, in Montgomery County, where United Gas, back in 1934, built a 1600-horsepower compressor station to take low-pressure casinghead gas produced in conjunction with oil, compress it and deliver it to a market where it could be put to use.

United Gas gave value to this natural resource, provided royalties to leaseholders, provided tax revenues for the State, and provided another source of dependable service for United Gas customers.

This is only one example of many in which United Gas seeks to conserve Texas gas by making it available for use.
