Funeral Rites Held Here Tuesday For Guy Kercheville

Funeral services for Guy Kercheville, 57, former manager of the Farmers Union store in Memphis, who died early Monday in a local hospital, were conducted from the First Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Interment was in the Fairview Cemetery with funeral arrangements under the direction of the Murphy-Spicer-Estes Funeral Home.

Guy Kercheville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Burr Kercheville, was born in Bexar County, Texas, February 15, 1890. He was married to Miss Ann Watson December 27, 1911, at San Marcos, Texas.

He united with the First Christian Church of Memphis at the age of 23 years, where his membership remained until death.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ann Kercheville of Memphis; two daughters, Miss Ella Mae Kercheville of Memphis and Mrs. Grady Phillips of Dumas; one son, Wilburn Kercheville of Pampa; two grandchildren, Donald and Edna.

COTTON DEFOLIATION IS SUCCESS HALL COUNTY COTTON FARMER SAYS

The harvesting of cotton in this section of country is likely to be hastened this fall and the succeeding fall seasons by the use of a heretofore untried defoliant in this area, if first reports are borne out in later experiments.

Tom Spry on October 9 spread the "aero defoliant," furnished by the American Cyanamid Corporation, which had one of the most interesting displays here at the cotton carnival, over his cotton field and after ten days set his mechanical stripper to work.

"With the stripper I gathered 2,200 pounds of cotton in one and a half hours, brought it to the gin, and it turned out 510 pounds of lint. I sold it to the Whaley Cotton Company, along with several hand-pulled bales for 30.25," Spry said, "and Mr. Whaley said he could not tell any difference in the two kinds of harvested cotton."

SWEETHEART OF FFA—Shown above is Miss Joan Lockhart, who was named "Sweetheart" of the Memphis chapter at a meeting held in the high school October 9. She will be the guest of honor at the annual Father and Son banquet as well as the District FFA banquet, and will receive many other honors throughout the year. Her picture will appear in the state Future Farmer magazine.

Three Boy Scouts To Receive Bronze Palm Awards Soon

Three Eagle Scouts of Troop 35 are now completing their merit badge work toward obtaining the Bronze Palm award in Scouting.

Requirements to secure the bronze palm are that Scouts must pass five merit badges and complete six months in scouting after they are awarded the Eagle Scout badge, besides they are to help train younger scouts in the troop and help obtain new members for their troop.

After these Eagle Scouts complete their merit badge work and the work is approved by the Adobe Walls Council executive committee at Pampa, the approvals will be sent to national headquarters at New York City for final approval.

The awards should be received by the three Eagle Scouts early in December.

Fire Prevention Program Given Before Lions Club

Fire Prevention was the theme of the program which members of the Memphis Fire Department presented at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday.

Chief Thomas Clayton was in charge of the program, and gave the Lions and guests statistics of fire losses in the city of Memphis, the state, and the nation.

He followed with an explanation of the insurance penalties which property owners pay when fire losses occur, then pointed out how fire prevention could save the people in money paid out for insurance protection.

After Chief Clayton's talk, a demonstration was given showing dangers of different kinds of candles and light bulbs.

The number of bales of cotton of this year's crop in Hall County ginned prior to October 1 was 5,567 bales, according to Ace Gailey, special agent of the Bureau of the Census.

Only 1,482 bales were ginned to the same date last year. The difference was brought about by the dry weather causing an earlier opening of cotton.

With a few exceptions, cotton harvesting has had little delay and all gins are operating day and night. Lack of pickers has kept a number of farmers from having their cotton practically all harvested, it is reported.

Cotton guessers have raised their estimates since the farmers report a better yield than at first was believed possible.

MASS MEETING TO BE HELD AT QUAIL

A mass meeting will be held in Quail at 8 p. m. November 6, according to an announcement made this week by officials of the Greenbelt Highway Association.

Every person in this area is extended an invitation to attend the meeting, which will be held for the purpose of planning active steps toward completing the formulation of the Greenbelt Highway Association and lay plans which will materially affect Hall County.

Hardware and Implement Dealers of Panhandle Hold Group Meeting Here Tuesday

Cyclone to Meet Lefors Pirates There Friday

Although Lefors lost last week to Shamrock, they are not out of the running in the district and are hoping to take the Cyclone in a conference game at Lefors Friday night.

Lefors lost to Shamrock by a score of 19 to 13. Sims, a 155-pound Lefors back, is reported to be a triple-threat man and very fast. Powers, a 177-pound tackle, is a standout linesman.

Local coaches report the Memphis team is almost full strength since the first game against Quail.

Reserve seat tickets may be obtained at any drug store in Memphis for the Lefors game to be played at Lefors Friday night. The price is $1. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Pampa Residents Injured in Hiway Accident at Giles

Mrs. W. F. Yeager, her daughter, Mrs. Mickey Rafferty and 6-month-old daughter of Pampa were injured when their car overturned several times on highway 287 near Giles Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Yeager, who was driving a 1947 Pontiac, swerved to dodge a truck which was turning off the highway, received an injured hip, while Mrs. Rafferty and small daughter escaped with only minor injuries.

MELTON LEE MILES
6-Year-Old Boy Breaks Record Pulling Bolls

A challenge is issued by a six-year-old boy of Memphis to a boll-pulling contest. Melton Lee Miles recently pulled 178 pounds in one day—a record probably not surpassed by any other 6-year-old in this section of country.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

WHEREAS, farming and ranching activities in Texas afford the principal income of a vast majority of its inhabitants; and, WHEREAS, the farming and ranching business income leads all other industries of Texas; and, WHEREAS, the farmers and ranchers of Texas have, through their various organizations, crusaded for recognition, representation, and economic equality through democratic procedures; and, WHEREAS, the farm and ranch groups recognize the necessity and supreme importance of having an educated, prosperous, and organized agricultural husbandry in this State; NOW, THEREFORE, I, Donaford E. Jester, Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of October 25 - 30, 1947, as TEXAS FARM AND ORGANIZATION WEEK.

I urge our citizens to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week so that special attention can be given this important phase of our Texas life.

The Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association held its first group meeting in Memphis Tuesday night. Carl Harrison and Billy Thompson acted as co-chairmen. Thirty-four dealers were here from Amarillo, Quanah, Wellington, Childress, Clarendon, Canyon, Levelland, and Pampa.

Representatives of jobbers, distributors and brang houses were also present. A dinner was served at the high school cafeteria at 7 o'clock and a business meeting followed, at which Carl Harrison, newly-elected president of the Panhandle association, introduced the services of the association.

The meeting dealt with management problems which are confronting hardware and implement dealers throughout this area.

Travis Lively of Pampa discussed "Sales Training." W. T. Richey of the International Harvester Company, Amarillo, spoke on "Credits and Collections"; and "Inventory and Stock Control" were discussed by E. W. Brash of Levelland and J. J. McDaniel of Memphis.

Following the talks by the above-named men, a general discussion was had by the members present.

Clarendon to Brice Highway Has Been Opened for Traffic

The new highway route to Brice is now open to traffic all the way and the part of the road which lies inside Donley County has been hard surfaced from the county line back this way to meet the old paving. This leaves approximately three miles on into Brice which is not paved and this stretch of road lies in Hall County.

The all-weather road is considered quite an asset to the residents of Brice, Antelope, and other surrounding communities as it gives them another good road outlet to the north.

Residents of Clarendon are very proud of the road also as it will give their friends from that section more inducement to come up this way for more frequent visits and the old-timers down that way can come back and renew old acquaintances.

The business men of Clarendon are ready to welcome trade from that area and will do their utmost to treat everyone as they like to be treated. A good cotton market has been built up here.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W. This has been an ideal fall for cotton harvesting. Also ideal weather for one's comfort and pep. I think we ought to have Congress pass a law against having any other kind of weather the year round.

Once in a while flower growers display some beautiful dahlias which have been grown in their yards. Right now is a good time to start next year's flowers by proper planning and planting. Let's make Memphis a beautiful as well as a friendly little city. As an aside remark, a few places still display weeds.

When Senator W. Lee O'Daniel and son Pat were here during the cotton carnival, Pat made a remark that makes one wonder if he wants to follow in the footsteps of his father. He said, "Since I have been in Memphis (Continued on Page 12)"

This Emblem Identifies Great Trucks

Yes Sir! We're sincerely grateful to our Customers and Friends

Demand for International Trucks has been greater than supply. Our customers and friends know that. And our customers and friends have been patient and cooperative.

But a few people seem to think that what is called a seller's market is a bed of roses for the seller. Believe us that just isn't so. Our business is in this community; and when things pile up so we can't take care of our customers and friends as fast as they'd like to be taken care of, we're not in a spot that we enjoy at all.

But there are two things we're proud of: One is the service maintenance we've been able to furnish to keep International and other trucks on the job and to hold operating costs down.

The other is the fine cooperation we've had from customers and friends. Our customers and friends have been mighty understanding; and we want to say, publicly, right now, that we deeply appreciate the fine spirit they've shown.

We urge truck operators now to do two things:

1. To continue to use our truck maintenance service for trucks now in operation. That way they'll get best results until new trucks are delivered.
2. To place with us promptly the specifications for the new trucks they need. That way they'll help us make the earliest deliveries possible.

Speers Heads Program Assist Texas Vets

Many Texas veterans are by law to get their old but can not? No one it is an unknown prob-to help veterans return to their rightful place in our economy. The VRRD field representative said he felt sure that Texas veterans and Texas employers would work out their reemployment problems under the planned program of arbitration by volunteer reemployment committeemen throughout Texas.

Since August 1, Speer has been working to set up a volunteer organization to take up where the draft board reemployment committeemen left off. The 80th Congress kept alive the reemployment rights provisions of the old Selective Service Act and placed administration in the hands of the U. S. Department of Labor.

At present the VRRD field representative has 241 contested reemployment rights cases, and there are 30 more now in the hands of the U. S. district attorney at Dallas. Most of the 241 came directly to Speer's office from the Dallas area. An unknown number of veterans throughout Texas either have rights they do not know about or do not know how to exercise their rights, Speer said.

In the Wednesday ceremony at the governor's office, heads of four agencies, which will cooperate with the U. S. Department of Labor in the program, were named honorary reemployment rights committeemen. They were: Dwight Horton, member of the Texas Employment Commission. The TEC's 105 local offices will act as information centers for veterans who may have reemployment rights.

Jimmy Jones, director of the State Veterans' Affairs Commission. He will cooperate on the state level and most of the county service officers have agreed to serve as volunteer committeemen.

Tom L. Ward, state veterans employment representative. His veterans employment service representatives throughout Texas will advise the unknown number of veterans.

Col. D. B. Burns, chief, State Office of Selective Service Records. Col. Burns will make available to the Veterans Reemployment Rights Division such records from the Selective Service files as will help in establishing a veteran's rights.

Under the extended phase of the Selective Service Act, a veteran is entitled to reemployment at his old job if he applies for it within 90 days after his discharge or after he leaves the hospital. He may not be laid off without cause for a year after he returns to work. The law applies to veterans who served after May 1, 1940.

Many elements contribute to make the extent of the reemployment problem unknown. Texas veterans are being discharged at an undetermined rate, supposedly somewhere between 2,000 and 3,000 a month. Some of them, no one knows how many, have reemployment rights from jobs they left as far back as 1940 when they went into the services.

At present Speer is naming volunteer reemployment rights committeemen of outstanding citizens in every city in Texas. These committeemen will act as volunteer arbitrators between veterans and their former employers. If by negotiation they can not successfully settle any case, they will refer it to Speer at the VRRD headquarters in Dallas. The final step, providing the veteran himself so desires, is action thru the federal courts by the federal district attorney.

Suggested Foods In Place of Meat

Homemakers are as anxious as anyone else to help out in the government's food conservation program, but when it comes right down to planning menus for meatless days, the questions that are hard to answer are "What will take the place of meat? Will the family like it?"

Louise Mason, food preparation specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, says that meatless Tuesdays may develop into more of a problem in the home than poultryless Thursdays, because most families plan two and sometimes three meals a day around meat. Take the meat away and the gap that is left in the menu is mighty hard to fill.

Wholesome menus for meatless days are not impossible, however, and to prove her point, Miss Mason has several suggestions. Irish potato pancakes can be substituted at the breakfast table for the usual main dish—they are delicious with either honey or syrup, and take the place of toast, flour pancakes, or bacon or ham-and-eggs. For a noon-day meal, there's macaroni ring with creamed salmon. The 8-ounce can of salmon will serve six, which is an important thing to remember in these days of high prices. For supper, few people can resist the sight of a fluffy, piping hot cheese omelet.

The addition of fruit, fresh and cooked vegetables to each of these main dishes will provide appetizing as well as nutritious meals.

Navy, to young men who can qualify, reports Chief L. D. Burgess of the Naval Recruiting Service.

This training is open to young men of 17 and under 31 years of age who meet the regular Navy physical standards, and pass the Electronics Technician Selection Test. Applicants who pass this test may choose to be either an electronics technician which, after training, will involve duty on surface craft, submarines, and shore stations wherever electronics equipment is located; or an aviation electronics technician with duty in aircraft, with pilotless aircraft, guided missiles, and at air bases wherever electronics equipment is located.

Young men who are selected for training will be graduated from school with a petty officer rating. It's the fastest advancement in the Navy.

Chief Burgess will be at the

Fire-Packed Bale Is Scourge of Cotton Industry

The boll weevil is a deadly enemy of the cotton industry, each year consuming millions of dollars worth of cotton, and is consequently the object of a mighty battle on the part of the farmers.

But another deadly enemy who gets only a fraction of the industry's attention compared with the weevil, is the "fire-packed" bale, according to John H. Todd, spokesman for the National Cotton Compress & Cotton Warehouse Association.

The "fire-packed" bale is one in which a spark or bit of fire is accidentally encased at the gin.

In the 1945-46 season, 90,894 bales of cotton were damaged by fire. At today's prices, that would be more than 14 million dollars worth of cotton. This staggering loss brought about a drive throughout the cotton belt to fight cotton fires and particular emphasis was placed on the "fire-packed" bale. Results of the drive were reflected in the fine record of the 1946-47 season, when in the first half of the season the number of cotton fires were reduced by 40 per cent and the total number of bales involved in fires by 79 per cent.

Records of the Cotton Warehouse Inspection Service show that for the most recent period studied (the first half of the 1946-47 season), 47 per cent of all cotton fires were definitely caused by "fire-packed" bales. On top of this it is believed that the majority of the 39 per cent of cotton fires attributed to "unknown causes" also resulted from fire-packed bales.

It is reasonably believed that approximately 87 per cent of all cotton fires occurring during the first half of the 1946-47 season were attributable to "fire-packed" bales, Mr. Todd stated.

Again this year the drive is being pushed against cotton fires by the Compress-Warehouse Association, the National Cotton Council, the National Cotton Gin-

Retail Trade Shows Gain in September

Retail trade flourished in Texas during September, ushering in autumn on a new wave of promise, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported this week.

Sales of independent stores in Texas scored a 10 per cent August to September advance to conform to the seasonal pattern, according to preliminary tabulations. Most cause for jubilation among merchants was the 9 per cent gain tallied over sales in September last year, but a sobering feature was the fact that prices have risen steadily since that time and the number of unit sales is down despite the climbing dollar sales figures.

Durable goods stores, recovering from late summer setbacks, registered a 4 per cent monthly sales hike to exceed September 1946 sales by 15 per cent. Nondurable goods dealers followed up August sales gains, reporting a 17 per cent August to September jump in dollar sales and bettering year-ago marks by 3 per cent.

Apparel trade displayed a seasonal outburst in sales to log the greatest monthly sales advance of any kind of business. Dollar sales took a 36 per cent August-to-September leap, but businessmen looked askance at the gain of only 1 per cent over September 1946 sales in the apparel trade. Men's and boys' clothing stores chalked up the greatest single gain in the apparel business, as sales skyrocketed 59 per cent above August totals. Other increases in the apparel trade were in the 29 to 39 per cent bracket.

Department stores came in second in the nondurable goods stores, marking up a 25 per cent monthly increase. Filling stations, eating and drinking places and some grocery stores reported a monthly slump in sales but all other nondurable goods dealers saw sales move upward.

Why Good Wheat Should Be Sown

Charles Sheldon, Panhandle wheat farmer, went to Ft. Worth to sell wheat off his Moore county farm and came home with a story which County Agent J. B. Waide, Jr., thinks every Texas grower ought to hear.

The story gives a good answer to the question: why plant high quality wheat seed?

Sheldon, contacting a big Fort Worth mill, was told by the manager that the mill wasn't too interested in buying Moore county wheat. It seems that there were several carloads of wheat in the railroad yard at the time, all it from a county near Moore, but none of the millers would bid on it because of its poor-baking quality.

The manager then took Sheldon through a laboratory where the mill had installed a considerable and costly amount of equipment recently. In order to meet competition, the manager said, the mill had to run baking tests on each car of wheat to see that the quality was good enough to use in making domestic flour. The company also had wheat experts who were able to identify different wheat varieties and who were training elevator operators in grain identification. Sheldon was told that poor quality wheat was always detected and that the only outlet for it was the export trade. The company had its own figures on Moore county, and the manager told Sheldon that 15 per cent of the wheat in his county was of poor-milling quality.

Fortunately, says County Agent Waide, Sheldon's wheat was not among the 15 per cent, and he got a good price for it.

Bindweed Problem Is Probably Solved

A farmer in the Bell community of Gray county believes he has the Panhandle bindweed problem solved.

And Gray County Agent Ralph R. Thomas, after seeing the evidence, thinks it's worth a try, at that.

The farmer is Hubert Keathey, and his method of eradicating the bindweed, which causes many thousands of dollars worth of crop losses in the Panhandle each year, is simple. He plants Western Wheat grass.

Keathey took County Agent Thomas to his farm and showed him how the wheat grass was crowding out the bindweed. "Bindweed was growing right up to the edge of the Western Wheat grass, but there was none thriving in the grass," says Thomas. On the strength of that showing Keathey has sowed all the bindweed patches on his farm with the grass, and many of his neighbors are following suit.

"There are possibilities, all right," says County Agent, "because Western Wheat grass starts its growth in late winter and is generally from six inches to a foot high before bindweed starts growing in the spring. And the grass produces great masses of roots that offer some real competition to bindweed. At any rate, the grass will provide a lot of pasture and even a good hay crop . . . so it's worth a try."

Growing Highway Use Increases Road Needs

With this year's registered motor vehicles setting a new record of 37,164,405—approximately 8 per cent more than our pre-war high of 1941—"increasing demands upon our inadequate highway system can only be met by a continuous program of highway construction and modernization throughout the nation," J. T. Callaway, president of the American Road Builders' Association, points out.

Registrations in 1941 were 34,472,145, according to the Public Roads Administration. Since 1941, the number of passenger car registrations has increased 3.5 per cent. The largest increase—43.5%—is in buses. Buses will total 127,405 this year compared with 88,800 registered in 1941. Truck registrations will reach 6,492,000, an increase of 33.6 per cent over the 1941 total of 4,859,244, the PRA report shows. Truck registrations reached 5,725,692 in 1946.

of its trucks are found on American highways," Mr. Callaway added. "The upward trend in travel per vehicle, temporarily halted by the war, is being resumed. Highway travel, which has reached astronomical proportions, continues upward.

"Depreciation of our roads is a serious economic factor," he said. "Our traffic demands have increased far beyond our facilities, and they will continue to increase for years to come. The availability of good roads and streets is of vital importance in our economic activity. Wartime arrears must be made up. Traffic congestion must be relieved, for it is a national tremendous economic factor."

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †
Religion in Practice.
Lesson for October 26: James 1:22-27; 2:14-20.

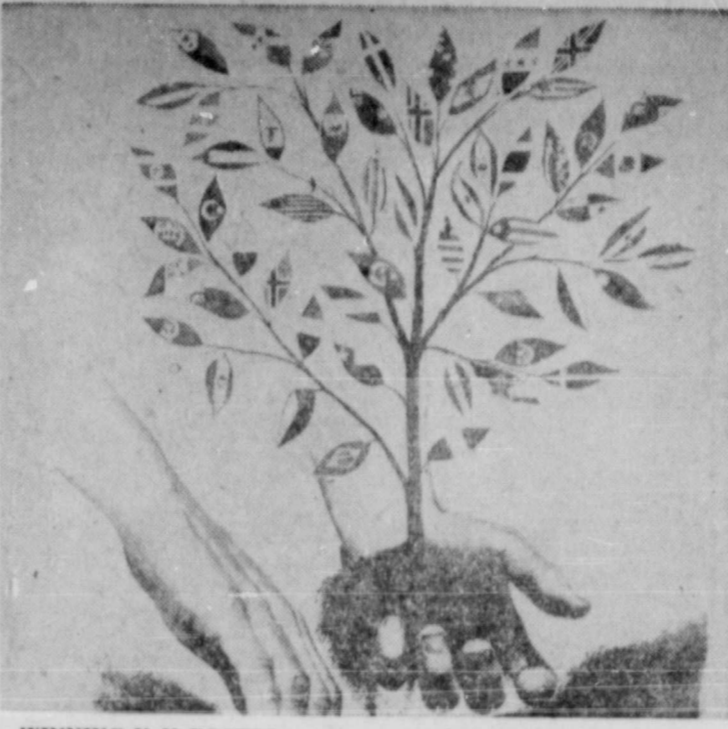

Memory Selection: James 2:17.

In today's lesson the emphasis is placed upon faith as that which must lead to service. Men are exhorted to be the doers of the word and not hearers only. Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty is a doer of the word. The way of life revealed in Christ is the way to liberty. The rigorous training of the athlete brings him to the full development and control of his physical powers. The complete submission of a man to the law of Christ brings him into the liberty to do and to be the best possible for him.

Self-righteousness has no place in faith. The man who thinks himself to be something, but does not control his tongue and order his deeds aright, deceives himself. His religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled concerns service and character. Good things must be done (examples are given) and at the same time a man must keep himself unspotted from the world.

Some have found a contradiction between Paul and James in their teaching of faith. Faith alone, Paul writes, is necessary to salvation, but he affirms that faith does not make void the law. It establishes the law. James writes that faith without works is dead. Where, then, is the contradiction? Both Paul and James emphasize the fact that faith must lead, if it be true, to all good works. Cheering talk to hungry men, without giving them bread, means nothing to them. So we are to prove our faith by our works. This is the only way we can confirm our profession—to show it in the way we live and the way we serve.

Mrs. Yarborough Reviews Book By Grace Erdman

The Delphian Club met Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Clarence Stroehle. Mrs. C. C. Hodges, president, conducted the business discussion.

Mrs. J. L. Barnes read a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Hal Goodnight, a club member and past president who died recently.

Mrs. P. E. Yarborough reviewed Miss Loula Grace Erdman's novel, "The Years of the Locust," which won the Redbook's award for 1947 of $10,000. Miss Erdman was guest speaker at a tea given by the club on October 7 honoring members of the federated clubs of Memphis, and because of this personal appearance of the author, the review held unusual interest for club members. The time of the story is from 3 a. m. on Thursday when old Dade Kenzy died to Saturday after the funeral. Because of the influence of his powerful personality on the lives of those about him, the mind of each character takes the individual back through the years when the news comes of Dade's passing. Mrs. Yarborough presented the characters in a most interesting manner.

Club members present were Mesdames Sidney Baker, J. L. Barnes, Jack Boone, W. C. Davis, W. C. Dickey, J. O. Fitzjarrald, Calvin Draper, Gordon Gilliam, Henry Hays, C. C. Hodges, V. L. McGlocklin, Lynn McKown, J. S. McMurry, O. R. Saxe, Clarence Stroehle, J. W. Stokes, Annie Stone, R. H. Wherry, Harry Womack, and Misses Maud Milam and Zady Belle Walker.

Wind Erosion Threat Eminent

The biennial report of the State Soil Conservation Board is worthy of study on the part of landowners and operators. Under heading, "The Blow Threat", the report points out that heedless tillage of the lighter soils have produced conditions favorable to serious wind erosion damage in this and other sections of the Panhandle next year.

Wide-scale real estate promotion on the heels of several favorable seasons has resulted in the plow-up of such land likely to blow under cultivation. The tendency, too, has been to continue cultivation of much more of this type of land which is not suited to row-cropping year after year.

Lack of adequate rainfall during the growing months left large areas without proper cover and made production of emergency cover crops impossible. Dunes have been forming in the area.

Rains have helped to ease the situation to some extent, but the threat remains in much of the High Plains area.

Deep tillage by listing or flatbreaking to tie the soil down is being practiced in some areas of the High Plains. However, this measure is not felt to be of major importance and can be, at best, only of a temporary nature. Most boards of district supervisors are placing emphasis on cover crops and the proper use of crop residue.

In some sections, members of district boards are recommending use of rye as a cover crop but an adequate supply of seed is not in sight. In the wheatlands, with a good depth of moisture in the soil, prospects for a protective early stand are good; but livestockmen in some sections are inclined to permit their stock to graze the wheat too heavily. This applies also to the practice of leaving sorghum stubble intact after the harvest.

H. H. Finnell, wind erosion specialist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, repeatedly has warned against disregard by farmers and the public of "danger signals" in the High Plains and Rolling Red Plains. He pointed out that the expansion of cultivated acreage in war years could not be continued indefinitely without eventual wind damage.

He declared that farmers must prepare a year in advance against the threat of blowing, that the only effective measure to combat wind erosion must be the use of erosion resistant cover crops on the exposed land and the practice of leaving crop residue on the land's surface.

An estimate of the number of acres in danger in the Texas High Plains is as follows:

Dallam County, 100,000 acres; Hartley, 30,000; Sherman, 25,000; Lipscomb, 10,000; Deaf Smith, 25,000; Parmer, 25,000; Bailey, 50,000; Lamb, 25,000; Cochran, 50,000; Hockley, 25,000; Yoakum, 20,000; Terry, 200,000; Lynn, 20,000; Gaines, 60,000; Dawson, 25,000; Andrews, 40,000; and Martin, Howard and Midland combined, 50,000.

Some of the land in the adjacent Rolling Red Plains also is in critical condition. Estimates are: Hemphill County, 10,000 acres; Wheeler, 100,000; Donley, 10,000 Collingsworth, 50,000; Hall, 25,000; and Childress, 10,000.

Every resource of the soil conservation districts is aimed at the earliest correction of the above conditions with the means at hand.

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

A Sure Thing

The most uncertain thing in a farmer's world is the weather. The second greatest hazard is his income from year to year since it depends on the weather and on prices for his products. Both uncertainties have so far been unsolvable, but there is a way for the farmer to weather the storms of both the weather and the dirth of income: Wise investment during the fat years in U. S. Savings Bonds.

This year while farm incomes are the highest in history in most instances, is the year of years that the farmer should invest his surplus income. U. S. Savings Bonds offer him the safest investment in the world's history and at the same time insure him of a fair return for his invested money.—McLean News.

The farmer, if he employs help these days, has to compete in the matter of wages with industry. Fast as it becomes available the farmers will equip their farms with power equipment. This is also true, as long as farmers have to compete with industry in the matter of wages, the price of farm products will remain high.—Foard County News.

Government Buying

Government is in the market again in a big way and we know little about what is going on. But government is buying steel, automobiles, refrigerators, some paper products, khaki, woolens, and a host of other items again causing a slowdown in civilian receipts of such goods.

Few profess to know why. Are we buying for war or are we buying for European relief? Few know and there seems no way to make government frank with its people.—Moore County News.

the right to run a train every minute."

And that reminds me of the story of the young ranchman who was strolling along with a pretty girl when they saw a calf on one side of a fence thrust its head through the fence and rub its nose against its mother's face, in the adjoining pasture. The rancher sighed romantically and said, "I wish I could do that." The girl said, "Well, why don't you? It's your cow, isn't it?"

Man has conquered the sea and the air; he has harnessed the lightning and compelled it to work for him. Who shall say that he can not evolve a means of bringing lasting peace to a world whose people want peace.

This Week in WASHINGTON

WHEN THE EXPECTED SPECIAL session of congress convenes probably the first week in December, the question uppermost in the minds of official Washington is, What will thick-necked, red-faced, stentorian-voiced John Taber (R., N. Y.), powerful chairman of the house appropriations committee, do about appropriations amounting to some 580 million dollars to implement aid to Europe over the winter months? Will this request be too big a strain on our bi-partisan foreign policy and will the house appropriations committee, in effect if not in fact, take over and become the determining influence on foreign policy?

CHAIRMAN TABER DECLARED WHEN HE RECENTLY RETURNED FROM EUROPE AFTER TOURING SIX COUNTRIES THAT HE SAW NO SERIOUSLY UNDERFERED PEOPLE AND THE TROUBLE WITH EUROPEANS WAS THEY DIDN'T WORK ENOUGH. OF COURSE THIS IS AT VARIANCE WITH ALL STATE DEPARTMENT UTTERANCES AND WITH REPORTS OF MANY OTHER TOURING CONGRESSMEN AND SENATORS.

WHATEVER POLICY IS ADOPTED by the congress on foreign affairs, it must be implemented by money and all money bills originate in Mr. Taber's appropriations committee. And the record of congress shows that Mr. Taber and most GOP members of his appropriations committee have differed both with the administration and with the republican foreign policy spokesman, Senator Vandenburg, on many key issues in the foreign affairs field. On the other hand the senate appropriations committee of which Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N. H.) is chairman has been in close agreement

Each Legionnaire is vitally interested in seeing the farmer produce more premium crops, a wider variety of crops and each member of the American Legion will work untiringly to secure new payrolls for this region.

International affairs are at the lowest ebb of confidence in the history of the world today as nation vies with nation for the spotlight of recognition. Whatever nation is involved, its eye is turned to America for its very existence. We are being called upon to produce more food and more textiles to feed and clothe a hungry and disillusioned world.

West Texas is one of the world's greatest producers of cotton. Within the Panhandle are grown some of the nation's finest millers variety of wheat. Our grain sorghums have revolutionized the row crop history. And, today as well as in the future we are assured of even more irrigated land upon which still more food and fiber may be grown. In short, West Texas is setting a pace for other regions to follow in crop production. Yet we still have far to go to utilize all of our rich soil, our good-growing climate and our irrigated facilities. It is for such purpose as this the Cotton, Chemurgic, and Ceramics Carnival idea was born.

Memphis is to be congratulated in being host for this occasion. Each man, woman and child here

Funeral Is Held For Sparks Infant Son At Clarendon Sunday

Augusta Marion Sparks Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sparks of Clarendon, passed away in a Memphis hospital Saturday, October 18, 1947.

Funeral services were held at the graveside in the Clarendon cemetery Sunday. Funeral arrangements were by the Murphy-Spicer-Estes Funeral Home.

Surviving are the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Blair and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sparks of Clarendon.

in Memphis and hose at home assisting in this West Texas cooperative gesture, should also be commended for the effort.

The nation has heard much about this Carnival program. Many newspapers have written glowing editorials about the virgin Empire of West Texas cooperating to exploit its resources.

We of the American Legion dedicate ourselves toward carrying on this objective. We hope to have the continued cooperation of each of you in attaining the goal of new business enterprises, textile mills, grain, and cotton mills, new payrolls using our people and our products. Then and then only will West Texas truly show the world its ability to achieve the utmost in production. Then only will we begin to use the resources and facilities at our command.

The Legion has seen service in two great world wars, a conflict which tore down not only the human race but its production. Today you people gathered here are paving the way for similar celebrations throughout America and thus not only advertise our needs for increased production but to do our pro-rata share in rebuilding confidence of a disillusioned world. We of West Texas are being tossed a challenge to produce more food, more fiber, and more grain.

We of the American Legion dedicate our efforts toward that goal.

Ceramic Engineer Discovers Process To Improve Brick

Manufacturers of building brick clay and sewer pipe will benefit from a discovery made by a University of Texas ceramic engineer.

F. K. Pence, chairman of the department of ceramic engineering has discovered that the addition of cheap, abundant Texas volcanic ash to brick clay and sewer pipe will improve the quality and lower the price, it has been reported. Further, the ash increases water resistance of heavy clay products.

Ash is adaptable only to heavy clay products, Pence pointed out, because its color is dark. It is virtually non-absorbent, and therefore ideally suited for heavy materials.

The number of living American war veterans grew to 18,413,000 on September 1, 1947, of whom 14,513,000 were from World War II according to latest VA reports.

Texas farmers bought 252,098 tons of fertilizer in the first six months of 1947, as compared with 212,858 tons for the same period in 1946.

Approximately 396,000 farm families and other rural consumers in 44 states and Alaska will loans approved by REA during get electricity as the result of 1947.

Birthday Surprise Awaits November 7 90-Year-Oldster

Will you be 90 years old on November 7, or thereabouts? A substantial birthday surprise awaits any Texan, or Texans, now residing within the state and whose birth date was November 7, 1857, the date from which stems the coming 90th anniversary of establishment of Sanger Bros., in Texas, according to E. P. Simmons, president of the firm.

Information should be sent immediately to Eli Sanger, Sanger Bros., Dallas 2, Texas, and must arrive not later than Saturday, November 1, Simmons stated. Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gable were in Dallas last week to attend the fair. They also attended the TCU-A&M football game in Fort Worth Saturday. In the first four months of 1947, 124 million pounds of peanuts were exported by the United States.

William Johnson Is Released From Veteran's Hospital

William Pinkey Johnson, who was born and reared in Hall County and is the nephew of Mrs. T. M. Craig of Memphis, has recently been released from the Veterans' Hospital in Amarillo after spending the last 34 months in Navy and Veterans Administration hospitals. He is now making his home in Littlefield with his mother, Mrs. Willie L. Johnson.

Johnson, who during the war was in the Navy but attached to the Marines, was critically wounded by Japanese mortar fire on Guam July 26, 1944. Previously, he had been wounded in the arm by a Jap sniper on Guadalcanal. Until recently the veteran had been unable to lie down on a bed to sleep. Suffering with an internal spinal injury, he wears special braces and has a special built wheel chair. Now with time to reflect on what he would like most to do in life, Johnson has decided that he would like to engage in park management and reforestation. And since the government offers veterans courses in these subjects that's the ticket Johnson has written for himself. And he hopes that he is soon able to start his studies.

B Squad to Play Childress Tonight On Home Field

Earlier in the season the Childress team won over the home team by a score of 45-31, but this time the Memphis team is out to even the score and are optimistic of victory, it was stated. The B team tied the Wellington Firecrackers 14-14 last Thursday night.

Official Lists Requirements Under New Law

How you can help prevent accidents by having one yourself was explained this week by Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, Austin.

The new Uniform Traffic Code, effective September 5, requires any motorist having an accident to:

1. Stop and give any necessary assistance.
2. Identify himself to others involved. If he has struck a parked car whose owner is not around, he must leave a note under the windshield wiper or somewhere identifying himself.
3. Notify the police; or the sheriff or highway patrol if in a rural area.
4. If anyone is hurt or killed, or if damage amounts to $25, the driver must make a written report of the accident to the Department of Public Safety within 24 hours.

These reports from drivers, Garrison said, are vitally important to the state's accident prevention program. "We will never have an effective accident prevention program until we know where, when, and why accidents are happening," he said.

"These reports from drivers are confidential, under the law. They are not used to get evidence against anybody, but to show us what needs to be done to prevent future accidents."

"The driver must make his report whether or not an officer investigates the accident," the safety director emphasized.

Zeb A. Moore Club Qualifier

A telegram from W. E. Bixby, president of Kansas City Life Insurance Company, has just notified Zeb A. Moore of the company's Texas agency that he has qualified for the 1948 President's Club. This group, composed of the company's leading producers, will meet next May at the Drake Hotel in Chicago.

The telegram was not exactly a surprise. Zeb Moore has received one of the same kind each year since the club was organized. In addition he has been a member of the App-A-Week Club for 860 weeks, signifying 16 1-2 years of consecutive weekly production.

Outside his own company, Mr. Moore has been a constant qualifier for the Texas Leaders Round Table, and was honored by the National Association of Life Underwriters and Agency Management Association in each of the past three years when these organizations jointly named him to receive the National Quality Award for outstanding service to his clientele.

Total farm real estate in the United States on January 1, 1947, is estimated at $11,978,850,000.

Cotton GOES INTO SAFEKEEPING

Like your refrigerator protects the quality of food, your cotton warehouse safeguards the value of cotton. Unless properly protected, cotton deteriorates . . . the grade goes down and so do your profits! Cotton stored in a warehouse is not subject to damage from rain, mildew, mud and the hazards of open storage. When it is covered by an insured warehouse receipt the holder is completely protected from loss by fire. Keeping your cotton safe . . . protecting it against costly deterioration . . . is another of the important services your cotton warehouse provides for America's major agricultural crop.

Comments-

It has been suggested by several people here that I run for governor of Texas.

This is the time of year when most subscriptions to The Democrat expire. Newsprint is still a scarce item, and we get enough each month to cover mail subscriptions plus a few extra copies which are sold over the counter and at drug stores. Some weeks the supply for counter sales runs short, and may have to be cut out entirely due to newsprint scarcity. Why not have your name placed on the regular mailing list to insure your getting the paper each week?

Last issue under the "Lost and Found" heading, the following was run: "FOUND—Purse with some money. Owner identify. Call at Democrat office." Early Friday morning a lady came in and made the proper identification. She said the money in the purse belonged to her little daughter who had picked cotton to earn the money so she could buy some needed articles. Since that time, at least three others have called to see if the advertised purse belonged to them, as they had lost theirs. I believe people should be careful to the extent that their names be placed in their purses, so any honest person could return to them when found. A dishonest finder would not return it, but every time he saw the loser his conscience might get a twinge.

Another proof that it pays to advertise: Last week The Democrat offered 25 cents for each September 4 copy brought in to the extent of five copies. No less than 12 were brought the next two days.

with several individual buyers in addition to the gins.

Another item concerning this road is the notification here of the highway department to prepare for the changing of the road number which will do away with the Texas 18 and instead be a continuation of Texas Highway No. 70 which joins 18 at Spur. This will give a direct highway number from the south and cause less conflict for motorists when the entire road is completed.

Cotton Stands Up Under Blowtorch

Laboratory experiments by the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers have produced further conclusive evidence that cotton can be rendered flame-proof, according to a news release.

The flame-proofing formula released by the National Cotton Council was tested on both felt and ticking in the association's laboratory.

Processes included application of a blowtorch at 1,800 degrees fahrenheit, saturation with gasoline and combination of a flame-proofed mattress with an inflammable sheet.

Lighted cigarettes and matches consumed themselves, but did not start combustion.

dust. Assisted by Firemen Bill Vardeman and Harry Aspreen, Clayton used apparatus which the firemen had made to prove the fact that dust from different types of industries, as well as everyday household products could start fires. They also demonstrated the danger of using water where contact could be made with live electric wires.
