2 NEW GRANDDAUGHTERS IN ONE WEEK ENOUGH TO SWELL OTTIE'S CHEST

"Grandpa" Oattie Jones had a much bigger chest measurement this week!

Two new granddaughters came into his family last week. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Johnson of the Piggly Wiggly firm on Tuesday, March 8. Mrs. Johnson is a daughter of the Oattie Jones. The little lady is Elizabeth Dee.

Then, early Friday morning, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones. She has been named Kathryn Cornelia. Her daddy travels for the local Waples-Platter firm.

Grandad Jones has another charming granddaughter, Vicki, born last November to Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Jones of the Plaska community.

"Three lovely granddaughters, in less than five months is enough to swell any man's chest," declares Oattie. "You see, we already had a fine grandson, Hubert Jones Jr., better known as 'Hoot' who is 21 months old."

Mr. Oattie Jones is the local manager for the Waples-Platter wholesale grocery company. He was busy passing out cigarettes this week at the Rotary club.

Mad Race Now On To Get More Terracing

OVER THREE MILES OF NEW TERRACES A DAY are being built this week by Nat Bradley, contractor, on the Old Blades farm, southwest of Eli, which was bought this winter by Dr. R. E. Clark. The first machine in the above photo is the big elevating grader which is being operated by Barney Floyd, who has helped Mr. Bradley for several years. The second machine is a whirlwind disc tractor with L. G. Rasco sitting on the driver's seat. The third machine is a maintainer grader which is used to finish the terrace. Secretary Lynn McKown of the ACA office is at far left, talking to Mr. Bradley, while Nugent E. Brown, news editor of The Democrat, is standing atop the terrace. Photo by Wise

Twenty Miles A Day Being Built Now In Hall Co.

The Hall County ACA office has been issuing approvals for standard and diversion terraces at the rate of 20 miles a day this month. At the present time they are being built at that rate, says Secretary Lynn McKown.

Mr. McKown reports "tremendous interest" in building of new terraces since the winter's bad weather broke about February 1.

Nat Bradley, Memphis terracing contractor, has built 50 miles of new terraces in the last 60 days. He can average over three miles a day with his machinery. And he is only one of about 12 such contractors now building terraces on farms in this county.

"In fact, assistance has been given by the ACA for building about 500 miles of new terraces this year already," points out Secretary McKown. "This financial assistance amounts to about 1 1/2 cents a foot. It is what we call the share the cost plan."

Back to Bradley's record. He came out of the Army in 1945 and began terracing work immediately. He had worked with the State highway department before going into the service. He contracted for and built 345,068 feet of terraces in 1945, increased it to 715,791 feet in 1946, then had a total of 1,268,065 feet of terraces in Hall County alone, besides doing a lot in Donley and Collingsworth Counties. In 1948, his record shows 965,411 feet built in Hall County.

Hall County farms now have a total of 5,335 miles of terraces which have been constructed during the past 12 years. Yet the county's tillable land is only 40 percent terraced.

"Hall County stands at the top of all Texas counties in the progress of its terracing program," says McKown. "One reason for this is the fact that it has more land adapted to terracing. The county does have some soil, known as the 'blow sand' type, that is not adaptable to terracing. This type of land must have cover crops to protect it. About 20 percent of the land in the county has this blow sand soil on it."

"The present terracing program cannot last much longer because listing time is here and, if the farmer cannot get his terracing done immediately, he will have to give it up until later in order to start his crop," added the ACA secretary.

Milam Says Firms Enthusiastically For Dollar Days

It remained for Clyde Milam to be first of four retail committee-men for the chamber of commerce to report Monday that he had a "100 percent list of boosters for the Dollar Day program" on the East side of the square.

Byron Baldwin, who has the merchants on the west side extending all the way to the city limits, reported Tuesday he had definitely turned down by only one merchant when he approached his group to get support for the Dollar Day program.

Carl Harrison was working on the north side of the square Wednesday, checking his list, while John Fowler was working his list on the south side.

Mr. Fowler reported later he had gotten the South side 100 percent.

Manager Clifford Farmer was enthusiastic over the prospects for putting on the Dollar Day programs at least once a month.

"We believe every retail merchant in town will fall out with the idea once they find out that" (Continued on page 8)

Weatherly, Parnell First With Quotas On Red Cross Call

Weatherly and Parnell communities were the first two outside of Memphis to bring in their Red Cross quotas on the 1949 Red Cross roll call, reports Gene Lindsey, drive chairman for the county. They came in Monday.

Mrs. Bruce Dameron, community chairman for Weatherly, brought the money in for both places, $40.50 for Weatherly and $45.00 for Parnell. Mrs. Carl Hill had raised the Parnell quota.

Mrs. Tom Lenoir of Pleasant Valley brought in $52.50 for that community Tuesday. It was $2.50 over the quota.

Cal Holland brought in $45.00 for the Brice community quota Wednesday afternoon.

Chairman Lindsey reports that the city of Memphis committees have turned in a total of $240 up to Wednesday afternoon.

J. W. Coppedge, county tax collector, was first to report he had completed his list. Heydon Hensley and J. M. Ferrell Jr. also completed checking their lists by Wednesday and turned their quotas in.

"But the whole amount, so far, is only $423.00," points out Lindsey, "and the month is over half gone. A number of other committee chairmen have sent word they will get their quotas in this week."

Fast Talker Gets Away With Money In Making Change

That old quick-change artist dropped into Memphis Monday about noon.

At least, Deputy Sheriff W. P. Baten reports he was called to the Pounds Cafe by Mrs. W. W. Dunn after she found she had been made a victim of this demon money changer.

"He was a fat man, about 45, who was dressed in khaki," Mrs. Dunn said later. "He came in and asked for two cigars and presented me with a $20 bill to be changed. It was just after the lunch hour and I was getting ready to leave the cafe. After I had counted him out the change, he suddenly told me he had forgotten but he had the change already so would I please give him his twenty back. He counted back to me a five, four ones and the necessary change so quick that I forgot he didn't give back the ten-dollar bill. In fact, he said something about having change for a ten, so I had handed him the extra ten as well as the original twenty he had given me."

Mrs. Dunn said later that she had a hunch the man was trying to cheat her but she started home before she decided he had done just that. She came back to the cafe then and checked the register and found she was short ten dollars.

The officers sent out warnings to Clarendon and Childress, with a description of the man.

$75,000 Being Spent In Memphis Now for Residence Building

With the coming of nice weather the past few weeks, a number of new residences are either under construction or just being completed in Memphis, with a total cost of approximately $75,000.

One new church building also is now under way with cement blocks on location and the foundation being started. This is a building for the "Church of God" congregation and will be located on the northwest corner of 16th and Main streets.

Dr. Jack Baldwin, dentist, has just completed a fine modern residence on the southwest corner of 15th and Main streets. He is moving into it now. It has a full basement. The home will have an air-conditioning unit and the entire house also will be heated in cold weather.

Frank Goffinet has just completed a nice modern home in the 1300 block of West Main street and has moved in. It has five rooms and bath.

Ernest Godfrey this week started construction on a cement-style garage on a lot on the West side of 9th street, just north of Main street. He plans erection of a modern brick veneer residence as soon as he completes his garage.

Bud Godfrey has moved an old building to a lot on the east side of (Continued on page 8)

Great Magician To Be In City Next Monday, March 21

Possibly the most popular show of the school year will be the appearance here of the magician, Birch, who will put on two shows in the Memphis high school auditorium next Monday, one at 2:30 for the school children, and another at 8 p. m. for the general public.

The magician's show is being sponsored by the Memphis Lions club which also sponsored his appearance here two years ago when he played to a large audience.

This show is the largest magic production now on tour in this country. Equipment, scenery and effects valued in excess of $25,000 are carried and will be used at the local performances.

Slicing a beautiful girl in four parts, shooting a live canary into a burning light bulb, causing a live pony to vanish in mid-air and many other startling mysteries will be presented by this company in a magic pot-pourri of thrills and fun.

Heading the Birch staff as assisting artist is Mabel Sperry, hailed by critics as the world's greatest girl xyphonist.

A new gavel, made from native black walnut for the head and native cedar for the handle that was milled at Valley Creek, Fannin County, in 1879, will be used for the first time by Van Pelt. His mother donated the timber and Edgar Jouett made the gavel.

A new Zenith record-played machine has been installed in the remodeled Legion Hall which will be used Friday night to furnish music for the dance which will get under way at 10 o'clock. Noel Clifton has charge of the music.

Friday night's program will be the first since the remodeling of the $30,000 hall. It will be a sort of dedication affair.

For You To Feel Well

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging back-ache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

350 COWS FROZE TO DEATH IN 1889 BLIZZARD, SAYS UNCLE BEN PREWITT

By NUGENT E. BROWN

Most of the stories about early days in West Texas tell how folks came from the east but this story tells how Uncle Ben Prewitt, 79, now living in Estelline, helped bring a herd of 3,000 cattle from the western part of Texas, near Pecos, to the Mill Iron ranch in Hall and Childress Counties.

"I had been working a couple of years on the Running W Ranch, then located near where the town of Pecos is now," says Mr. Prewitt, better known as "Uncle Ben." "The ranch was owned by the Mill Iron Ranch folks. That Pecos country had a bad drought in the summer of 1889. The cattle got in bad condition, so it was decided to move all of them to the ranch down here. We started with 3,000 head but lost some of them every day of the 30 days we were on the trail.

as it fell. We threw the herd on the trail, directly into that wind. Those cattle spread out, walking abreast. They would walk either into the wind or away from it but wouldn't have walked cross wind.

"We had to leave some of the older cattle there on the Yellow House as they were too exhausted to go any further. We pushed them hard all day that day, still into that freezing rain. The grass was tall and lush but we didn't let them stop. We finally sighted the Blanco canyon that night. We got down into it, south of the Hank Smith stone house. We bedded the cattle down, many of them climbing up the sides and lying down just under the cap. During the night, the rain had turned to snow. It got much colder. And some of the cows froze. We could hear one of them roll down the hillside after it had died. That happened several times during the long night. Next morning, it was still snowing hard. We turned the cows loose in the canyon where there was water. When the boys came in from rounding up the herd and driving them down to water, five of the horses had their saddles removed by their riders. I didn't take the saddle off my horse. The other horses froze to death in a short while because they had gotten warm in the exercise. My horse did not freeze. However, I was sure glad to lose one of those horses, a bad horse named Cat Ham. He had been in a named devil. He froze still while it soon started to rain, freezing

Rogers-Fowler Wedding Plans Are Revealed At Pretty Informal Party

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rogers announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Louise, on her birthday, to Dick Fowler, at an informal party given by Mrs. Rogers, Friday afternoon, March 4th, at the family home, 517 South Sixth.

The wedding is to take place on Friday, April 15, at 7:30 in the evening at the First Christian Church in Memphis with the Rev. Bedford W. Smith officiating.

Pink roses and other cut flowers were used as floral decorations.

Mrs. Gayle West presided at the guest register. Thirty three guests were present.

Mrs. Anna Dickson invited the guests into the dining room. The table was laid with a white linen cut-work cloth. A cherub on a musical birthday plate, entwined with fern and baby's breath, centered the table, flanked by long tapered white candles with flower chain design and sprays of white roses, orange blossoms and green leaves. A tiny blue bird was perched on the base of each candle. A crystal lyre at the back of the table held pink roses.

The two-tiered birthday cake was a large heart on a square base, iced in shell pink and decorated with hand made calla lilies, Easter lilies, lilies of the valley and pink roses. Music notes fashioned of small rosebuds covered the heart.

Calla lilies on a silver tray announced the wedding plans, the stems of the lilies being small

For the program that followed, Billie Jean Stroehle gave the reading "Boys", that Louise gave at Billie Jean's mother's announcement party in 1936, showing the framed "Shirley Temple" dress that Louise wore on that occasion.

A recorded autobiography of Louise up to and including her junior year in high school, was introduced by Miss Ira Hammond. Mrs. Clyde Milam, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bedford W. Smith, sang, "Easter Parade."

The bride-elect graduated from the Memphis High School with the class of 1947 and attended Texas Christian University. Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fow-

The Same Medicine

Some time ago, in testimony before a Senate committee, Dr. Edward H. Ochsner, a former president of the Illinois State Medical Society, told of his experiences under socialized medicine in both Germany and England.

Dr. Ochsner described what was happening in England in these words: "As the doctor stepped into the waiting room he said to more than 40 patients seated there, 'Will those of you who are troubled with headache please stand up?' Six stood up. He then reached into his desk and took out six identical printed prescriptions and handed one to each of the six standing patients and dismissed them. . . . The six might have had six different causes for the headache. They got the same medicine. . . ."

Describing the standards of medical practice in Germany, where a comparable system prevailed, he said: "The treatments were mostly palliative, rarely curative; and no time was spent in personal hygiene and preventative medicine. The doctor's time was so taken up with forms and like trivialities that none was left for the more important problems, such as careful personal histories and general examinations."

It can be argued that the character and ability of the individual doctor do not change when free medicine is turned into political medicine. But the point is that the doctor is so burdened by red tape and bureaucratic rules that he just can't give each patient the attention needed. On top of that, much of the time he has left is absorbed by people who come for treatment whether they are sick or not—on the grounds that the government is giving it to them and they might as well get it. It's happened abroad. And it would happen here.

This Week in WASHINGTON

THE LOWLY "spud" moved into the big time here in Washington when announcement was made that the National Potato Council has opened a Washington office to "serve as an educational bureau to promote greater use of Irish potatoes."

Actually, however, observers say it is obvious that the new organization is a lobbying organization and that its main objective will be a proper price support for potatoes. The organization in its initial announcement said in part: ". . . support prices should serve as insurance against price collapse rather than as an inducement to growers to over produce. They (the farmers) believe the 60 per cent support program for this year will materially reduce the incentive for overplanting."

The council says folks are not eating enough potatoes and producers are raising more potatoes per acre so the thing to do is to boost consumption. In the meantime, the battle between the southern senators who oppose the Truman administration civil rights program has been joined and the fight to a finish on cloture and against the filibuster assumed the proportions of a real grudge fight. Whether or not the so-called states rights will become sufficiently mollified, or whether a split of such durability has been created that little legislation can get through this congress, remains to be seen.

Some old political observers declare the President was right in attempting to force the cloture rule in the senate, others disagree declaring that unlimited debate, no matter who it hurts or what happens, was a more or less inalienable right in such a democratic forum as the United States senate.

Unless the congress gets busy, it will find itself up against the deadline for rent control since the present rent control law expires March 31. Every organization interested in rent control, either for or against, has a different proposal to make to the congress, so it will be a matter of judgment as to what will finally come out of the legislative mill on this subject.

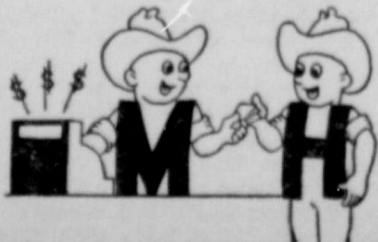

The various reports of the Hoover commission which are being made to the congress piece-meal, according to observers here, constitute an outstanding job of proposed governmental reorganization. President

Truman has declared he is in favor of many of the proposals. Old-timers in the government, however, are skeptical that the proposals will do the job intended, namely, to streamline the federal set-up into more efficient, less costly agencies. These old-timers point out that the would-be reorganizers have overlooked one objective of government and that is "public service." Public service, for instance, such as the postoffice department gives and for which the taxpayers pay a subsidy, likely will never be placed on a paying basis for the reason that the rates would be prohibitive to the average user. The National Farm Cooperative association charges that the hardware dealers through their national officers are being used as "front line shock troops for the promoters of the National Tax Equality association" in their fight against co-ops. NFCA points to a speech by Seth Marshall, chairman of the National Wholesale Hardware association's committee on cooperatives, as evidence backing their charge. In his speech Mr. Marshall is quoted as having said: "There is only one way this fight can be won and that is by convincing the millions of federal taxpayers, particularly taxpaying businessmen, that tax equality is fair; that tax equality is necessary for them to survive; that no legitimate co-op is going to be put out of business because it will have to pay federal income tax on its earnings. When we fight for tax equality we are fighting for the heart and soul of free enterprise. . . . But to really obtain tax equality, business men, big and little, must, in my opinion, face the fact that the success of tax subsidized business will surely destroy the profit system that is enjoyed by millions of people and place it in the hands of a few who easily become dictators."

Incidentally, Congressman Robert W. Kean (R., New Jersey) has introduced a bill which would prevent tax-exempt non-profit educational and charitable institutions from avoiding taxes on some of their enterprises. The New Jersey congressman would protect "legitimate charitable and educational organizations" in their tax exemption, but would hit at the practice of some non-profit organizations or institutions of purchasing various business institutions, manufacturing establishments or real estate which supply tax free revenue.

Ed Simpson's degree team from Khiva Temple Shrine of Amarillo put on the Master Mason's degree for the local Masonic lodge last Friday night with 175 Masons present, many of them from surrounding towns.

The team brought their robes with them and put on a colorful ceremony. Head Coach Chuck York of Memphis high school was the candidate for the degree. W. M. John McCauley and J. R. Mitchell Jr., local Shrine club president, headed the welcoming committee.

Prior to the program, a banquet was served in the dining room for the visitors. W. B. Wilson Sr. and W. B. Hooser bought the groceries, prepared the whole meal and served it tempting hot, with some assistance later from various individuals.

After the lodgeroom was filled, about 7:30, the Shrine potentate, S. Wayne O'Keefe was introduced for an address, his subject being "Crippled Children's Work." He told of the 16 hospitals which the Shrine has in this country and Canada, including one in Hawaii. He also announced a clinic will be held at the temple in Amarillo on April 30 for diagnosing of crippled children under the age of 15. A movie, showing the various hospitals, was shown at the conclusion of his talk.

Visitors were present from Turkey, Estelina, Childress, Wellington, Hedley, Lakeview, Clarendon, Dallas, Canyon and New Mexico as well as from Amarillo.

Press Paragraphs—QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

WE, THE WOMEN

A New York restaurant owner claims that burned toast and bad coffee for breakfast have ruined more business deals than most wives know.

She may be right on the point, but there are other things besides burned toast and poor coffee that can and often do send a husband off in the morning in a bad humor.

There's having no toast at all, in some cases hubby having to get up alone and cook his own breakfast while the wife who kept him out late the night before catches up on her beauty sleep.

There are also, in many cases, too many late evenings out every week. No wife sends her husband off to work in the best frame of mind possible unless she sees to it that he gets the sleep he needs.

Then there are the homes that are in complete confusion in the mornings because Mama is a poor manager. She fails to make preparations the night before to feed her family and get them all off without a lot of last minute rushing around.

And probably as much as any other one reason for a bad morning start is the mistaken notion that 15 minutes extra sleep is more important than a leisurely breakfast. The grab-a-cup-of-coffee-and-run-for-the-bus husbands certainly don't start the day off in a calm, collected and pleasant frame of mind.

How a husband's day goes probably depends more than most wives realize on how it starts before he leaves his own house.—Childress Index.

Miscellaneous Shower At Estelline Honors Mrs. Ted Bruce Saturday Aft.

By MRS. E. F. KENNEDY
Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church of Estelline entertained Mrs. Ted Bruce, recent bride, at a miscellaneous shower in the church parlors on Saturday afternoon, March 12, at three o'clock.

The cleverly arranged program was modeled after the radio program "Queen for a Day", and the "Bride for the Day", Mrs. Bruce, was presented by Mrs. C. O. Gregory. Junior girls accompanied the bride to the white chair on the platform and sat near her. Mrs. Leslie Bruce, mother of the groom, and Mrs. D. T. Eddins, mother of the bride, were escorted to her side.

Mrs. Gregory read an appropriate selection and placed the white bridal veil on the head of the honoree. Mrs. Walter Whaley accompanied a girls quartet, consisting of Mary Brumley, Tommie Travis, Doris Chaudoin, and Wanda Bell, while they sang, "Floating Down The River." Karen Eddins, cousin of the honoree, played "Hawaiian Dreams." Kay Morgan and Perry Phillips presented a novelty dialogue and tap dance number, accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson. Gerry Kennedy read "Getting Married."

Mrs. D. E. Davis, read "Tribute to Annis," and the junior girls, Carletta Berry, Billie Lois Walker, Mary Lee Baskin, and Ernestine Rea presented Mrs. Bruce with a new 1949 Jeep. They pulled in the miniature blue jeep, in which was seated a costumed doll bride and doll groom. The jeep had signs proclaiming "Just Married", and old shoes tied to it. The jeep was filled with many gifts. Others were carried in by the girls. After the gifts were unwrapped and admired, Mrs. Bruce thanked her friends for their love and friendship.

Delicious punch and cake were served to the following: Mesdames Jim Berryman, Katie Phillips, L. E. Cobb, Vernon Phillips, N. B. Doughty, Bula Adams, Ada Jones, Garland Gardenhire, F. E. Leary, Frank Cooper, Bill Holland, M. E. Chandler, C. O. Kennedy, Bessie Coppedge, John Tucker, L. V. Bruce, C. E. Wilkinson, D. E. Travis, A. J. Famous Redheads To Play Memphis On April First Advance announcement was made this week by Coach L. E. McColloch of Memphis that the famous "Redheads" basketball team will be in Memphis on Friday, April 1, for a game against the famous Cyclone squad.

The State champs are reported to be "up in the air" about this coming game! Coach McColloch has refused to say whether or not he will let the regular Cyclone squad play or will collect an all-star group to meet the famous girls from Missouri.

The Red Heads play men's teams only, playing straight men's rules.

"Your fans have never seen any show like the show these girls will put on," says C. M. Olson, manager-owner of the club. "These famous girls are really clever comedians. They pull everything in the books. Its the baseball play, under legs dribble acts, piggy back stunts, finger ball spinning, many other cute stunts."

"One girl on this club, Red Mason, is known as the 'Red Skelton of the courts,' a comedian ball handler. Mason will play your fans when she puts on her two-minute act of imitating a 'blind' referee; she will have your referees playing with the girls in her place."

Both Pete Smith and J. W. Copeidge have "considered" an offer to referee this game with the famous Redheads, it was reported Wednesday when they first heard of the coming game.

of the club will take the "girls" parts. The town's most popular young photographer is one of them. Another rumor is that the associate publisher of The Democrat will be all-dressed out! Ben Alexander is wondering why they didn't give him one of "them female parts"! A certain handsome minister in town drew the part known as the "hired hand." Wonder what part Cliff Farmer will get!

Democrat Want Ads P-A-Y!

Three of the city's most eligible bachelors, J. R. Mitchell, Jr., Eddie Foxhall and Ben Wilson Jr., outdid themselves last Friday night in washing several hundred dishes for the Masonic supper! By the way, Herb Curry was the man who actually did most of the work in getting that supper ready!

Talking about good fellowship, the Masonic hall in Memphis exudes it in big chunks. Last Friday night's program, when Khiva Temple's degree team came down from Amarillo, was only the climax of a week of good work in the lodgeroom. There are some mighty good leaders in that group. And, among all of the lodges in Texas the writer has visited, none is any better than Irvin Johnsey when it comes to giving the various lectures in the work. That man not only has a fine command of English, he is also an orator. We simply enjoy listening to Mr. Johnsey. Some people are born to it, you know. That man could have been a great political leader if he had wished to go down that path. In fact, he would be good on any platform when it comes to making a speech.

The Amarillo chamber of commerce may not know it, but that delegation from Khiva Temple sure created a lot of goodwill for the Panhandle metropolis on their trip here last Friday night.

Incidentally, three of the hardest working men around the Masonic lodge hall last Friday afternoon were none other than W. B. Wilson Sr., W. B. Wilson Jr. and W. B. Hooser. All three have the same initials, by the way. And all three have the kind of energy it takes to do things. Not a lazy bone in those three men. They helped others take care of feeding those 30 or more visitors from Amarillo.

And there are three more who helped out tremendously Friday night. Glynn Thompson, besides being secretary and able to fill any post in the lodgeroom, is the "old reliable". Glynn helped serve that dinner. Jimmy Jeffries and John Martin came in and helped with the dish-washing.

Cal Farley, the man who built "Boy's Ranch", says:

"All boys are born with a certain amount of devilment in them. Whether they become community problems or community assets depends largely on the first 10 years of parental association. Folks, the next time you are tempted to criticize those youngsters when they raise a lot of heck at an event at school just stop and consider for a minute whether you, as a parent, started your child off right at home. Did you teach him any discipline? We realize teachers do have a lot of influence on the public conduct of children. And some teachers are failures just like there are failures in other professions. If a parent has fallen down on the job and then the teacher falls down on the job, the result is a juvenile problem. Those same kids are likely to be caught out on an all-night drunk by the time they reach the age of 16 or 17. Who is to blame? You immediately say, if you are honest, both the parents and teachers. Cal Farley says, "If you want your 'on to drink, do your guzzling in front of him." That will apply to anything interperate, not drink alone. If children are taught to mind, there'd be no delinquency, adds Cal Farley. The boy who has done just as he pleases for 12 or 14 years isn't easy to saddle and bridle, also from Cal Farley. This applies to the boys here at home as well as to those in Amarillo.

350 Cows Froze—

Married in 1902 It was on December 23, 1902, that Uncle Ben married Miss Ethel Boyd, who had come to Estelline as a music teacher and who stayed with her aunt, Mrs. R. D. Green. Mr. Green was manager of the Mill Iron ranch. The minister was a famous pioneer Indian fighter and historian as well as minister, Rev. Emanuel Dubbs.

"We invited all our friends and the cowboys just about set us up in house-keeping," says Uncle Ben.

Today, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pre-witt live quietly at their modern home in Estelline where they have been for 41 years in the same house. Incidentally, they also own the Bridle Bit Ranch of 1,094 acres where he spent those six winters camping with Horace Wilson during the '90's. They also have 184 acres of farm land adjacent to their home in Estelline. They have two sons, Joe Bob Pre-witt of Odessa and Ben Tom Pre-witt of Clarendon, and two daughters, Mrs. Daisy Carter of Childress and Mrs. Charlotte Nuhn of Washington, D. C., as well as four grandchildren.

As to those far-off days, Uncle Ben says: "When I was out on the Pecos,

I heard of Judge... all those taken... now are pure... amount to much... went. As for... night, I have seen... in Clarendon and... As for those... who were with... in November of... he does not know... are still living as... most of the out-
