FAMOUS MEMPHIS RODEO TO BE REVIVED THIS YEAR

Many Near Towns Agree To Join In Making Big Event

One enterprise of a few years ago which made Memphis and Hall County famous throughout the Southwest was a three-day rodeo each year. It is recalled by a number of Hall County citizens that this rodeo was one of the major events of the year for this section, and all who are familiar with that bit of past history are unanimous in opinion that it is now time to revive that attractive enterprise.

Following that idea, a meeting of business men of this section was called and met in Memphis Tuesday evening, and organized the Hall County Rodeo Association, with a full quota of officers and directors, who have pledged themselves to revive the rodeo, starting this year, the dates being June 2, 3 and 4.

Officers of the organization are T. B. Rogers, president, Clyde Milam, vice-president and Homer Tucker, secretary-treasurer.

The directors are J. E. Barnhill, Turkey, Arthur Eddleman, Estelline; Arthur Gidden, Plaska; Peto Davis, Estelline; Bob Head, Clarendon; Roy Allard and Don Grady, Brice; J. P. Montgomery and B. E. Davenport, Lakeview; W. G. Ward, Palo Duro; Eddie Smith, Wellington; and the following from Memphis: O. L. Helm, E. A. Smith, H. J. Howell, A. W. Howard, Clyde Milam, Homer Tucker, T. D. Weatherly, T. B. Rogers, J. A. Anthony, Carl Harrison, and C. C. Meacham.

The rodeo will be put on by R. L. Pointer of Elgin, Okla. The rodeo will be held at the High school stadium and the school will receive ten percent of the gross receipts for use of the property, which will be used in repairs to the stadium.

The rodeo will be strictly a civic enterprise, and all profits above actual cost of production will be retained by the rodeo association and spent for a larger and better rodeo.

The president and Mr. Pointer were authorized to set up a list of prizes, with the aid of a committee to be appointed by the president. The maximum total of prizes authorized for this year was set at $1,500.00. The same committee will determine the admission prices.

The date of this year's rodeo was set for June 2, 3 and 4.

Booster trips to surrounding towns and communities will be made. The dates of those trips, also names of working committees, will be announced in the Democrat next week.

J. E. King Resigns Democratic Post

James E. King submitted his resignation as chairman of the Hall County Democratic Executive Committee at a meeting of the executive board here Saturday.

After consideration of Mr. King's reasons for resigning, the board accepted his resignation and appointed J. C. Wells to fill out the unexpired term.

Ed Drake was appointed as precinct chairman of Lesley precinct in place of Paul Montgomery who moved to another part of the county.

Following is the list of precinct committeemen: Precincts 1, O. B. Jones; 2, W. E. Watson; 3, W. B. Stargel; 4, Ed Drake; 5, J. A. Ballard; 6, Wade Davis; 7, F. E. Trapp; 8, C. E. Edgar; 9, O. E. Bevers; 10, J. H. Gattis; 11, A. Gidden; 12, A. D. Britt; 13, Allen C. Dunbar, secretary; 14, C. T. Weatherly; 15, G. W. Blewer, and 16, Ray Harlan.

King has served as county chairman for many years faithfully and well, it was pointed out, and it was with regret that his resignation was accepted. His letter of resignation follows as well as the Executive Committee's letter of acceptance:

I hereby tender my resignation as chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee effective as of this date.

It is impossible for me to look (Continued on Page 12)

Do Hall County Pioneers Desire Reunion In June?

Do the pioneers of Hall County want a reunion this year?

Do they want to hold the reunion on one day of the June rodeo?

These are questions needing an answer right away. The Hall County Rodeo association would like to have a day of the three—June 2, 3 and 4—set aside for honoring the pioneers. Since the time is short, the pioneers must decide immediately.

Old-timers please write, phone or personally contact J. C. Wells at The Democrat office your wishes in the matter, he urges.

Memphis Pioneer, Mrs. Sarah Bishop, Buried Monday

Services were held Monday afternoon, April 25, at 3:00 o'clock for Mrs. Sarah Alice Bishop from the First Methodist Church with Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor, officiating. Graveside services were conducted by Order of The Eastern Star, Memphis Chapter No. 351. Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery under the direction of the Murphy-Spieker Funeral Directors.

Sarah Alice Stroup was born in Asheville, N. C., October 10, 1856 and passed away at her home in Memphis Saturday evening, April 23 at the age of 92 years, 6 months and 13 days. She and J. J. Bishop were married November 24, 1878 at Asheville, N. C. The family moved to Hall County in 1909. Mr. Bishop engaged in farming near Memphis until a few years before he passed away October 22, 1928, at which time they had moved to Memphis.

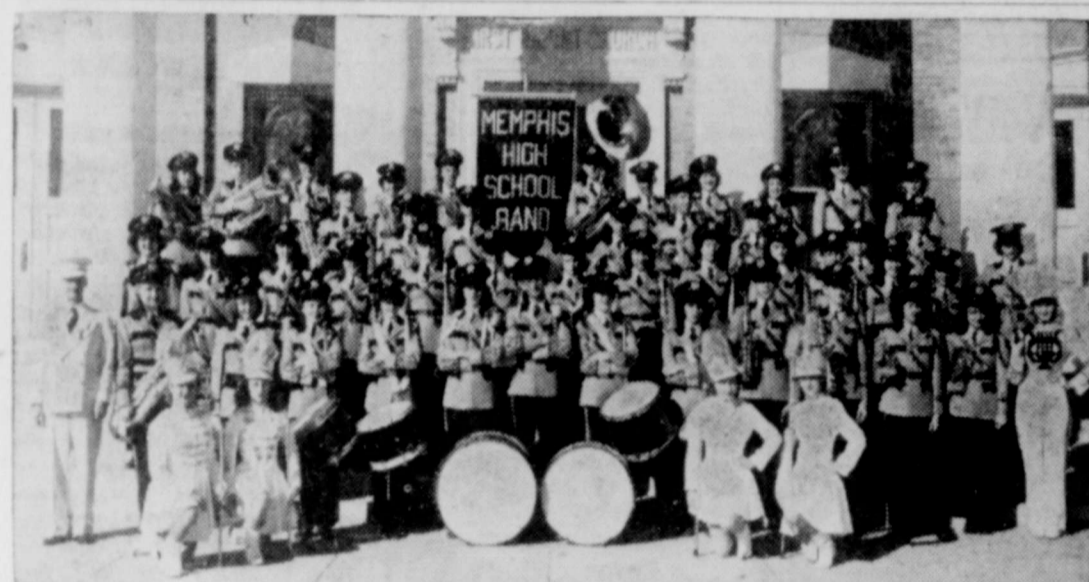

Mrs. Bishop was one of the oldest members of the local Methodist church, and was also a member of the Eastern Star.

Pallbearers were Lloyd Phillips, W. B. Hooser, Ben Wilson Sr., Byron Baldwin, W. R. Scott and M. D. Gunstream.

Hall County Sends Representatives To Highway Commission To Get Bridge

Judge M. O. Goodpasture and Clifford Farmer are in Austin attending the hearing of the Texas Highway Commission.

The Hall County representatives were on the docket this morning (Thursday) to present arguments for a new quarter of a million dollar bridge across the Prairie Dog Fork of Red River in west Hall County, also for additional paving between the new Mulberry creek bridge and the river as well as new paving south of the river.

This bridge, when built, will serve as a crossing for two cross-country highways—No. 70 north and south from Canada to Mexico, and the east-west highway now number 256.

It is the hope of local highway boosters to have the east-west road made a Federal highway when this bridge is built and the gap finished west to Silverton.

Such an east-west road could be from coast to coast and carry a great amount of traffic. It would serve to relieve some of the congestion at present on highway 66. It is believed that this east-west road would become a heavier-traveled route than now carried by the north-south 287.

This is the third time Farmer has appeared before the highway commission at Austin in an effort to get this new bridge. That some progress is being made was indicated when the state highway engineer, Dewitt Greer, and chairman of the state highway commission, Fred Wemple, visited Memphis and viewed this road two months ago.

This all-day meeting will be a working, business meeting, dinner on the grounds, and a general get-together occasion. Everyone is invited to attend, bring lunch, and spend the day.

A few songs and talks by former residents are scheduled for the noon hour, it was stated.

The meetings are held every year—in the spring and in the fall.

Memphis Second Dollar Day Is Set For Next Monday, May 2nd

Big bargains are again offered everywhere in Memphis on the second Dollar Day, Monday, May 2nd.

Everybody saved money on the big bargains offered by Memphis merchants four weeks ago, and many expressed a desire to have a Dollar Day at least every month.

Although the day was fine for working in the fields, many farmers and their families took advantage of the special offers to come to Memphis to get caught up on their shopping.

Speaking for the merchants of Memphis, R. C. Lemons, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce retail committee, said everybody with whom he talked was well pleased, and were in favor of making Dollar Day a regular monthly attraction.

Clifford Farmer, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the Dollar Day, expressed satisfaction with results, and believed it was a great thing for people of Memphis and the trade territory.

Fished Three Days, Two Days Without Hooks, Caught Few

Many and varied are the fish tales told by returning fishermen to their friends. The latest was reported to this officer by a good friend, Otho Fitzjarrald, and concerns five Lakeview citizens, all friends of Otho.

His story goes something like this:

"Five Lakeview citizens, R. S. Spruill, O. E. Bevers, Otho Gardenhire, Lloyd Robertson and J. B. Duren, journeyed to Pumpkin Hollow Creek, below St. Jo, last week for a little fishing.

"Fishing was not so good at first. Mr. Duren spent most of his time in an effort to protect wild life—especially jack rabbits. However, only one eel was eaten.

"On the third day, the members of the party discovered they had no hooks."

But all is well that ends well—so the story continues:

"Near the end of the trip, they acquired some hooks and caught several 6-inch bass and some smaller ones."

Grass Judging Contest At Childress, May 7: Conservation District News

The District Supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District have just received the team banners and individual awards they are presenting to winners 4-H and FFA boys next week. The awards are prizes in a grass judging contest sponsored by the District. Judging will be Saturday, May 7 at 1:00 P. M. at the Childress Fair Park. The Hall County District covers all of Hall and Childress and a part of Cottle Counties. Entries are being made from all the Panhandle territory in this contest.

J. J. McDaniel, Supervisor of the Hall County District, is spraying his wheat for weed control. T. H. Gattis, of the Brice community, recently started irrigating from his new well. Gattis is following a farm plan he made with the Hall County District. As a part of the assistance given by the District, the Soil Conservation Service furnished an irrigation engineer to design and lay out the system.

C. D. Lee of Friendship recently planted 3 acres of Blue Panic and Sand Lovegrass. This planting is part of his plan to utilize some steep land not suited to row crops.

A spreader terrace system was completed last week on the Sam Foxhall farm in Brice community, farmed by Herley Moreman. Foxhall has been working with the Hall County District for several years.

E. U. Perkins, a District cooperator of the Webster community, was in the Soil Conservation Service office, across the street from the Bus Station, the other day. He reported that the Sand Lovegrass he planted two years ago is furnishing lots of grazing this spring. The District furnished Perkins help in planting the grass.

The April meeting of the District Supervisors was held in Paducah instead of Memphis. The Board usually meets in the office of W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agent. They met in Paducah this month to attend the special Conservation Day Program sponsored by the Upper Pease District Board.

E. E. Silk, a District cooperator of the Gilpin community, will attend the Convention at Plainview May 3. This convention will elect a State Board member to represent the Texas Panhandle and surrounding territory for the next 5 (Continued on page 12)

173-Year-Old Bible Of Historical Note, University Library

AUSTIN—The 173-year-old family Bible of Mrs. Stephen Austin, aunt of the Texas Republic statesman, Stephen F. Austin, has been added to the University of Texas Library.

A gift of Henry Meigs of New York, an Austin family descendant, the 8 1/2-by-10 1/4-inch Bible has been placed in the University Archives.

On the yellowed leaf at the back of the two-and-one-half-inch thick Bible are listed the names of Stephen and Huldah Hopkins Austin's six children and in front of the book is a cut-out silhouette of Charles Austin, the only son.

Librarian Alexander Moffit pointed out that this Bible belonged to the wife of Moses Austin's brother, Stephen, and does not contain the Moses Austin family names. It was this brother in whose honor Stephen Fuller Austin was named, and the Charles Austin in the silhouette was the cousin, Charles, that Stephen F. frequently mentioned in his writings. Charles, who was born February 22, 1778, according to the family Bible, was near the same age as his illustrious cousin, and it is probable, says Moffit, that the two were playmates.

The Bible is bound in a hand-tooled leather-covered cardboard back and Oxford printers stamped the date 1776 in the King James translation.

Loss of Topsoil Can Be Expressed In Huge Figures

During the next 12 months, 798,746,000 tons of topsoil will wash and blow off Texas.

It would cost a billion, 250 million dollars to ship this amount of soil from Temple to Galveston in 16,000 hundred-car Santa Fe freight trains.

Lykes Brothers Steamship Lines would charge 95 million dollars to move the soil from Galveston to Havana in 8,967 ships.

These figures were given by Representative J. A. Luedemann of Brenham, sponsor of legislation in the House that appropriates 10 million dollars as a capital fund for soil conservation work in Texas.

The money will be allocated by a five-man state soil conservation board to 175 soil conservation districts, there to be administered by district supervisors.

Supporting the appropriation measure is the Association of Local Firm to Take Part in Industrial Meet At Ft. Worth

Western Cottonseed Company, whose Memphis plant manufactures formula feeds, will be one of the exhibitors at the Southwestern Industrial Exposition in Fort Worth May 8-15.

The company will exhibit dairy, poultry, rabbit, range livestock and dog feeds and cottonseed meal and pellets at the Exposition, which will be staged by 11 regional chambers of commerce and manufacturers associations to emphasize the industrial might of the Southwest.

This display will be one of hundreds from industries over Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana, to be featured at the event, which is restricted to products made, processed or assembled in the Southwestern region.

In discussing the firm's participation in the event, L. L. Adams, assistant manager of the formula feed department of the West Texas division, declared: "We believe this type of Exposition will help to bring the people of this particular section closely in contact with manufacturers and acquaint them with products, produced in their locality. This acquaintance will help them realize the possibilities that now lie in this area and will give them some idea as to where they may obtain the various types of materials and equipment. We think such an Exposition as this will promote better relations between industry, labor and the consuming public. By displaying the products produced here in the Southwest, we think it will tend to give people visiting this Exposition or visiting this area an idea what the Southwest is capable of doing, and show them the extensive development made in this area."

West Texas will be represented in the hundreds of interesting exhibits which will include the newest items for farm, ranch, home and industry. One of the regional sponsors is the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Memphis Golfers To Attend Senior Meet In Amarillo

Members of Memphis' golfing fraternity who plan to attend the Amarillo's Tri-State Senior Golf Tournament are R. S. Greene, J. H. Morris and E. M. Wilson.

This tournament is surpassed by no other event of its kind in total entries, number of prizes colorful contestants or fun. It will be held in Amarillo for the fifteenth consecutive year, July 26th to 30th.

Fran Day, Plainview, attorney, has been elected to head the association, largest senior golfing fraternity in America, for 1949. Members are golfers 50 years old or older from 70 cities in seven Southwest and Western States.

More than 150 evergreen athletes, ranchers, wheat farmers, cowboys, bankers, merchants, former professional athletes, retired representatives of every trade and profession, have been making the pilgrimage here yearly in quest of fun, good golf, good fellowship. They always find it. Some come from as far as California.

Anyone 50 years old with the passion to ram a third shot up close to the pin and get down a putt for a par is eligible. The tournament's average age is 60 years. There are at least 15 who are 70 or above, including Elmer Winn, 86 year old, featured in Ripley's "Believe it or Not" cartoon.

Home-Grown Feeds Make Economical Livestock Rations

Southern foods—ranging from fried chicken to the chili of the Southwest—have long been famous. Now, typically Southern feeds are making economical and efficient and adding to the fame of the Cotton Belt as a livestock region.

Some of these feeds of the Southland, such as cottonseed meal and hulls, are old time favorites of the livestock producer. Others, such as citrus pulp and sweet potato meal, are relatively new. They are combining their feeding values in rations that give excellent results.

Cottonseed meal and cottonseed hulls are senior partners with the newer feeds just as they long have been with older and better-known feeds. The high protein of meal and the desirable bulk of hulls are the keys which make the most profitable use of other feeds. Molasses, sweet potatoes and citrus pulp are all much lower in protein than grains and more protein concentrate is needed to balance rations when they are used.

Sweet potato meal is almost equal to corn for cattle and sheep. Molasses has 80 to 85 per cent of the value of corn when forming not more than 20 per cent of the concentrate mixture for cattle and 10 per cent for hogs. Dried citrus pulp is nearly equal to corn when replacing not more than 25 per cent of the grain in the ration of cattle. Fresh citrus pulp or cull citrus may often economically replace up to 25 per cent of the grain for hogs and up to 50 per cent for fattening cattle.

New legumes and pastures improved with older legumes, properly supplemented with protein and roughage, are of increasing importance in lowering costs, providing adequate nutrition and aiding sanitation.

A good sweet potato concentrate mixture for dairy cows eating cottonseed hulls or grass hay for roughage is 300 pounds of sweet potato meal; 200 pounds ground oats, wheat bran or rice bran; 350 pounds of cottonseed meal; 17 pounds of calcium supplement and 8 pounds of salt. A good citrus pulp concentrate mixture for dairy cows eating cottonseed hulls for roughage is 200 pounds of dried citrus pulp, 500 pounds of ground grains, 400 pounds of cottonseed meal, 22 pound of calcium supplement and 11 pounds of salt.

When dairy cattle are on excellent green pasture, or when the roughage is good quality legume hay, the cottonseed meal in these dairy mixtures may be reduced enough to make a concentrate mixture of 12 to 14 per cent protein.

Breeding beef cattle are maintained well on mixtures of 20 per cent cottonseed meal and 80 per cent cottonseed hulls and yearlings or older cattle may be fattened on such mixtures. Addition of 4 to 8 pounds of molasses, per head daily, to this mixture for fattening cattle will increase gains and finish. Addition of sweet potato meal to the mixture will have practically the same effect as addition of the same amount of corn. Additional protein is needed when these feeds replace grain.

Hogs do not make as effective use of sweet potato meal, molasses or citrus as cattle and sheep. Hogs make best use of fresh sweet potatoes when they "hog-off" the potatoes. However, 25 per cent of the grain may be replaced by sweet potato meal if the protein concentrate ration is increased. Molasses should form not more than 10 per cent of the swine ration. Fresh citrus pulp or cull citrus may be profitably fed to hogs near processing plants when these products are considerably cheaper than grains.

Cottonseed hulls find an important place in combination with any of these feeds for cattle or sheep. Hulls make an ideal feed for use with molasses. Hulls also add to the value of pasture forage by preventing scours and bloat on young and "washy" forage and by providing needed additional dry matter.

Egg production on the Thompson Turkey Farm north of Clifton reaches more than 2,000 eggs a day. The 6,800 turkey hens on the farm are expected to lay over 3,000 eggs a day during the spring laying season.

People who worry about the "next war" might give a few thoughts to driving carefully.

It's the yearly round up of the golfing pioneers of the great Southwest. They're all invited. Entries should be addressed to J. S. Evans, 920 Austin, Amarillo. Membership fee to join the Association is $1.00 and tournament fee is $5.00 additional.

Building Permits In Texas Decline

Despite a 33-per-cent rise over February, building permits issued in Texas during March were 17 per cent below year-earlier levels, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

After adjustment for seasonal factors, the Bureau's index of building permits slipped 3 per cent from February to March. The index stood at 460 (1935-100) in March as compared to 474 in February, 550 in March a year ago, and 601 in February 1948. This downward movement of the Bureau's index indicates that the peak of building activity in Texas has been passed.

Permits issued in Texas City during March were more than 13 times as high as the dollar value granted in the preceding month. Other sizable increases over February were recorded by Bryan, Paris, Tyler, Austin, Longview, and Plainview.

February-to-March declines ranged from 3 per cent in San Angelo to 59 per cent in Galveston. On the other hand a number of cities reversed the downward trend from March 1948. Permits issued in March were substantially above their year-earlier levels in Cleburne, Bryan, Gainesville, Austin, Corpus Christi, Longview and Sherman.

Totaling $7,420,522, Austin turned in the greatest amount of building permits in March. Permits amounted to $5,491,847 in Dallas; $4,434,250 in Houston; and $2,699,722 in San Antonio.

KEY TO A CABINET

Of the several keys your pharmacist carries with him at all times, one is in particular that he guards more carefully than any other. It is the key to a cabinet in his prescription department . . . a cabinet which holds his stock of narcotic drugs . . . opium, morphine, cocaine, etc.

These drugs are among the most important in pharmacy. They are the ones your physician prescribes to provide relief from ailments of insufferable pain. Their quieting, comforting, pain-relieving action is truly a blessing to mankind.

But, unfortunately, these drugs are also a scourge to society when wrongly used. If they fell into the hands of unprincipled "dope peddlers" they would become part of an illegitimate traffic which wrecks the lives of countless addicts each year.

The pharmacist's key is society's key to narcotic control. It opens the door to the pain-relieving benefits of these drugs but locks the door against their abuse.

Great is the pharmacist's responsibility in safeguarding society against the careful control of narcotic drugs . . . and enviable is his high degree of performance in living up to his responsibility. —Reprinted from copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit, Michigan.

Goldfish Are Big Business; King May Locate In Texas

AUSTIN—In the course of 113 years the public domain of Texas has been sought for all kinds of purposes, but Land Commissioner Bascom Giles believes a modern-day potential customer must be reckoned as the most unique.

Giles was visited recently by E. C. Shireman of Martinsville, Indiana, who was wondering if any of the public school land would be suitable for building goldfish ponds.

Or for several goldfish ponds. When Mr. Shireman builds goldfish ponds, he builds them. At his present hatchery in Martinsville, Indiana, Shireman has some 400 acres of goldfish breeding grounds. His present stock of goldfish is about 25 million, of nine different varieties, including the Calico Telescope.

Shireman has no intention of removing his headquarters to Texas, not at present, though he is considering testing the Texas weather and climatic conditions.

Goldfish, explains the man who sells about 15 million per year, start laying eggs when the temperature rises to 60 degrees. In Texas that would mean they lay most of the time, though it remains to be seen what effect the "blue" northerners would have upon their schedule.

As a 14-inch goldfish (Shireman claims they grow 'em that big in Indiana) will lay some 75,000 eggs per spawning season, a few more weeks of warm weather could produce results.

Shireman, the "goldfish king of the world," started his unique industry as a hobby. Now he employs 125 "goldfish nurses" and sells his products in 48 states. His hatcheries require some 20,000 pounds of fish food daily and specially built trucks deliver fish to jobbers in all sections of the country. Fish are also shipped by express.

Some 10 per cent of his production is used for bait by sportsmen, as about that many of the newly spawned never turn "gold". Interested in acquiring Texas land, Shireman explains that he does not contemplate such operations in this state.

"However," he smiled, "if the college kids will go back to eating goldfish, we may have to expand."

Bascom Giles, who has leased state land for jackrabbit and rattlesnake ranches, and shore properties for inventors of perpetual motion machines, promised to inform Mr. Shireman if and when any public school land is up for sale.

"And if they grow 14 inches long in Indiana," the Commissioner assured the "Goldfish King," they'll really be whoppers in Texas. They'll be big enough to fight off all the cats in the neighborhood."

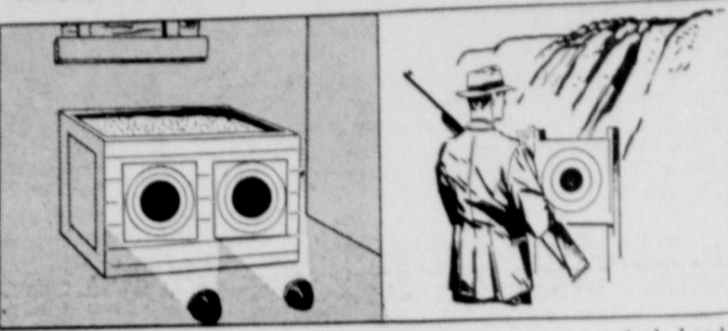

If two stacked glasses become stuck, there's a way to get them loose without breaking them. Pour cold water in the top glass while the lower one stands in warm water. And if a stopper sticks in a bottle, try running warm water over the neck of the bottle.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK

National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Where To Shoot

Finding a safe place to shoot is most important. A safe shooter is a skillful shooter—he knows where every bullet is going and he has a backstop behind his target to stop the bullet. This applies both to hunting and target shooting. And no matter what kind of shooting you intend to do, get your practice on the target range. It is the only good way to learn the basics.

For beginners I recommend firing at 50 feet, the standard indoor distance. Later you can increase to 50 and 100 yards, the standard outdoor distances. The illustration at left above shows a safe bullet stop for a 50-foot range in your basement or shed. Fill a large packing box or crib with sand and place it in front of a solid brick or masonry wall. Board-up all windows.

Never point your gun muzzle at anything you do not intend to shoot!

Reinforce the front of the box and arrange lights as shown. Sané about eighteen inches from front to back will stop .22 caliber bullets, but remember to repack it regularly.

Outdoors select a steep hill or bank which is free from rocks and hang your target in front of it. Build a simple frame to hold your target; don't tack it to a tree or the bullets will ricochet dangerously.

Best of all join or form a rifle club in your community or school and build a real range. You will quickly become safe and skillful.

(This instruction based on the booklet, "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Overgrazing Range Is Costly Practice For Texas Stockmen

COLLEGE STATION—In many areas of Texas, range lands were overstocked last year, and the bad effects from this practice will last for several years, says A. H. Walker, extension range specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

Overgrazing not only makes it harder for the valuable range grasses and plants to grow and make seed, but it also causes the soil to pack. This means less pore space in the soil and a lighter covering of litter on top of the ground. Ranges in this condition receive little benefit from the hard, dashing showers that are common to Texas during most of the year. On the other hand, reminders Walker, ranges that have been only moderately grazed have a turf that will slow down the run-off and will give the water a chance to soak into the soil. Such range land will soak up water from two to four times as fast as overgrazed ranges.

Less run-off means less erosion and more water in the soil. The increase in the stored water supply in the soil and the saving of valuable topsoil makes range plants grow larger and better. And any ranchman will tell you that more grass means a larger calf crop, heavier calves at weaning time, lower feed costs and better conditioned breeding cows in the herd.

It is always well, says Walker, to think in terms of future effects on the range when you're stocking a pasture. It is better still to make a close check on the amount and kinds of forage plants growing on the range and then stock in proportion to the amount of vegetation available. Light to moderate stocking will give the more desirable plants and grasses a chance to reproduce.

It is a slow and often trying process to bring back into production a badly overgrazed pasture, but it can be done. Walker says it's more profitable and better management to base the stocking rate on the ability of the range to produce desirable forage over a long period than to put too many livestock on the range when it looks good.

To insure good stands of peanuts, 25 to 34 pounds of chemically treated shelled seed or 45 to 60 pounds of chemically treated unshelled seed per acre should be planted.

Postal Receipts In Texas Show Gain

Postal receipts in Texas climbed 14 per cent from February to March, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Receipts for 57 Texas cities amounted to $3,834,325 in March, gaining 20 per cent from a year earlier. Nacogdoches registered the highest gain over February, 39 per cent. Postal receipts rose 29 per cent in Beaumont; 28 per cent in Palestine; 27 per cent in Texas City; 24 per cent in Laredo and 20 per cent in Houston and Snyder.

On the other hand postal receipts declined from 1 to 15 per cent from February to March in Lubbock, Pampa, Wichita Falls, Lamesa, Borger, and Jacksonville. In comparison with March 1948, postal receipts climbed 20 per cent over a year ago, with all reporting cities except New Braunfels, Port Arthur, Seguin, and Texas City registering increases over a year earlier. March to-March gains ranged from 1 per cent in Cleburne to 31 per cent in Greenville.

March receipts totaled $1,024,990 in Dallas; $688,724 in Houston; $394,578 in Fort Worth; and $200,000 in San Antonio, Austin, and El Paso followed in that order.

After adjustment for seasonal variation, the Bureau's index of postal receipts stepped up 4 per cent from February to 288 per cent of the prewar (1935-39) base period in March compared to 276 in February and 236 in March of last year.

Uplift For Outside Jobs, But Be Careful!

"When warm weather comes around, we like to do as much work out-of-doors as we possibly can," Mrs. Bernice Clayton, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College recently pointed out. "But don't forget that comfortable working heights are just as important outside as they are in the kitchen and laundry."

A sturdy bench or table conveniently near the back door or in the garage can take the stoop out of many spring jobs which too often are done uncomfortably and inefficiently on the ground, she said.

For example, window screen and garden furniture can be painted more easily when set up at a convenient working height. Refinishing furniture, unholstering and putting furniture into condition for the season can be pleasant jobs when done out in the sunshine and at a level where they are convenient to handle as well as to see.

"The principles that hold for indoor work apply outside, too," Mrs. Clayton concluded. "Indoors or out, work is easier, faster and pleasanter when done without stooping."

Good Storage Need For Benefit, Grain Price Supports

What about the price of grains? Nobody knows exactly what price wheat will bring Texas growers this season. But if they can get enough rain at the right time, they'll likely get a heavy crop. The outlook is about the same with grain sorghums, corn and other feed grains.

C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says there is one thing that looks pretty certain. That is, that the market prices at harvest time will be below the government support price level. How much below will depend on a couple of things. First, is the total production or prospective national crop, and the second, is the amount of storage facilities available for placing the grain under government loan.

Grain must be properly stored before the farmers will get the full benefit of the guaranteed price support loans. Late reports indicate that about two-thirds of all elevator capacity still holds last year's crops, Bates says. And it doesn't look as though this grain will move into export channels very fast during the next few months.

It is a case of a pretty heavy carry-over of grains. Government storage facilities will probably not be able to handle more than average production, Bates says. So, farmers will have to take the storage business into their own hands on the farm.

Any grain storage building must be weather tight and strongly built to qualify for a crop loan. The type selected will depend on the farmer's need, and the cost per bushel of storage will depend on the size building erected. W. S. Allen, extension agricultural building engineer of Texas A. & M. College, says that a small 500-bushel bin costs around 50 to 60 cents per bushel of storage. Larger storage bins—the 40 thousand bushel size—may be built for 15 to 20 cents per bushel of storage.

Many farmers are building facilities that can be used for other things when not needed for the storage of grain, Allen points out. With a bumper crop this year, wheat producers might pay back a large amount of the first cost of granaries on the spread between the market price and the

Cub Scouts Play 8th Grade, Lose 15 to 14

The Stewart Cub Scouts played the annual soft ball game with the 8th grade Tuesday, April 26, and scored nine runs in the first inning.

But the eighth grade swatters got loose and hammered the ball out of the lot and won over the cubs 15 to 14, on account the cubs made four errors when they cost runs.

Ted Myers called balls and strikes and Freddy Vinson called bases.

The teams are due to play another game Friday, April 29, if it doesn't rain, and the cubs say they are going to cut down on their errors, and see if there won't be a different story to tell after the game is over.

• Shadows of the mountains and valleys on the moon cause the face of the "Man in the Moon."

loan price this year. If the extra storage is needed, Bates says, it might be wise to build it in time to cash in on this extra dividend in 1949.

Looks like a case of being able to raise the price while raising the crop, he concludes.

Save Pigs, Calves, Lambs, Farmers Told By Experts

Save the "barnyard baby!" This spring crop of calves, lambs and pigs is more valuable than ever, and farmers must take precautions to save every one of them, points out Nels H. Dahlquist, assistant live stock specialist of the Wyoming Agricultural Extension Service.

Especially this year, the demand for meat will be heavy and the price high—probably direct results of recent storms. But that should give farmers more reason for salvaging the forthcoming live stock crop.

According to the American Foundation of Animal Health, the following suggestions will insure against many losses:

1. Feed the mother animals a complete ration, providing animal proteins, vitamins and minerals, including lagume hay.
2. Keep brood sows, cows and ewes comfortable and clean-free from lice, mites and filth.
3. Have the new animals born or clean pasture, in clean, dry, well-bedded quarters, free from chilly drafts.

4. Toward the end of the gestation period, be alert to assist at birth of necessary. Disinfect the navels of the young.

5. Be sure new-born animals are nursing properly. Calves need colostrum (first milk after calving.) Have clean sod accessible to pigs up to three weeks old.

6. Watch for scouring—it may be a sign of improper feeding, over-feeding or disease.

7. Around weaning time, have pigs vaccinated against hog cholera and also check with the veterinarian on the need of vaccination for other diseases.

8. At the first sign of ailing health in brood or young stock, obtain a diagnosis. Find out whether disease, parasites, or faulty nutrition is responsible. Corrective action, started promptly may prevent costly losses.

• A small flock of turkeys on any farm is almost clear profit. Now is the time to see about getting poult, if you haven't already done so. A turkey will eat its weight in grasshoppers several times while it is growing up, and help keep down the hopper menace. Don't fail to raise turkeys as a side-line on your farm.

Make Plans Now for 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstrations

Plans for the 1949 National 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program are under way in Texas, according to the State Extension Service. This is the only nationally sponsored 4-H Club program devoted entirely to demonstrations. Members enrolled in a 4-H Foods project may participate.

Last year Texas named the following county winners: Melba Boeker, Atascosa; Mary Jo Gattis, Tommie Ruth Gattis, of Grayson; Ynell Egger and Helen Hasley of Mills. Based on a survey of 41 states conducting the 1948 program, an average of 32 persons attended the 3,758 dairy foods demonstrations given by 4-H'ers. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

The program seeks to show the value of dairy products to general health. Uses of dairy foods and skill in preparing tasty dishes are demonstrated. Subjects relate to the preparation, manufacture or use of dairy products including fresh or evaporated milk, malted milk and ice cream.

Eight new awards based on demonstration records and general achievement are offered by the Carnation Company, this year. They are trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 27 to December 1. County winners will again receive a gold filled medal, while individual and team champions in each state will get a 17-jewel gold watch.

Federal Revenue Is Up 14 Percent From Last Year's Record

The University of Texas will manufacture its own weather next Fall in an electrically-operated experimental laboratory for plant research.

Dr. W. Gordon Whaley, Plant Research Institute director, says the first absolutely-controlled plant experiments will be possible in the laboratory where air conditioning and lighting alone cost $25,000.

Completion of the laboratory in September will mark culmination of attempts by research institutes all over the world to develop laboratories in which they can control temperature, light, nutrition—all the things that affect plant life, Dr. Whaley explains.

To the layman unfamiliar with basic botanical research, the laboratory will mean for the future—information about grasses that may help farmers and ranchers increase their cattle profits; and information about farm crops which may mean greater production for the farmer and more food for the world.

The researcher will find the laboratory utopia for original research, says Dr. Whaley.

In addition to utilizing the laboratory to continue its present grass research project and its fundamental plant research, the Plant Research Institute will expand plant experiments involving radioactive materials.

Business Failures

The number of business failures in Texas almost doubled from February to March, Dun and Bradstreet reports to the University of Texas showed.

Business fatalities totaled 22 in March, as compared with 12 in February, 6 in March a year ago, and 4 in February 1948.

Liabilities per failure averaged $51,000 in March, $35,000 in February, and $46,000 a year earlier.

For the first quarter in 1949, 40 Texas business firms failed as compared to 18 for the comparable period in 1948.

Road Building Lags Despite Record 1948 Expenditures

Washington—More money spent on highway construction in 1948, with less results than in any prewar year since 1924, with the exception of 1935, point up the need for raising the country's sights in the so-far losing battle to provide roads commensurate with population and traffic increases.

This was emphasized here today by Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of the American Road Builders' Association, in a statement based on a National Industrial Conference Board study using U. S. Department of Commerce figures showing that expenditures in 1948 totaled $1,540,000,000 but based on the 1949 $682,000,000 of highway construction.

Even in the depression years, when the highway program suffered a sharp decline and partial recovery, the average volume of highway work accomplished was higher than that done in any year since the war," Mr. Upham said.

The figures also reveal that in terms of actual amount of work done, the postwar highway program, theoretically supposed to take care of the increased traffic flow—10 million additional vehicles registered since war's end—and our increasing population—25 million since 1930—has not yet equalled that of the immediate prewar years.

"When it is remembered that these prewar years failed miserably in keeping pace with increasing traffic, and the added fact of war-imposed highway deficiencies is considered, it becomes obvious that we are on the threshold of the largest program in roadbuilding history. Inflationary results stemming from today's 'half-dollar' dollar must be borne in mind when we plan our highway program, just as much as when, as individuals, we go marketing.

"For example, it is of no use to marvel at the fact that in the three years since World War II we have spent $3,545,000,000 on highways, when the amount of highway construction done in terms of 1939 dollars amounted only to about one-half of this, or $1,768,000,000."

Asserting that lower price trends undoubtedly will give impetus to a highway program "when has shown signs of easing," Mr. Upham pointed out that if this trend follows the pattern set by World War I, a gradual decline could continue for several years as it did through construction trend moved steadily higher.

"The highway industry and profession, which obviously has a long way to go and needs public and official support if it is to meet the demands which continue to accumulate, would do well to follow the pattern of that period, but aim higher," Mr. Upham de-

Early American History Course Offered, Tex. Tech.

An interdepartmental major in American civilization planned by English, history and economics departments at Texas Technological college will be offered next year, 1949-50.

Dr. W. B. Gates, professor of English, is to supervise the new major. He said the addition of this course at Texas Tech, which crosses all departmental lines to give a view of America from history, economics and culture standpoints, brings to three the number of schools offering such a major.

Requirements for the first two years of college for those students following the new major will be practically the same as those for any other major leading to a degree of bachelor of arts, Dr. Gates said. The junior and senior years will emphasize American literature, American history and anthropology.

Two courses in the English department, American life and literature to 1860 and American life clared. "While prices can decline, any idea that they will reach prewar levels is erroneous. In the meantime, delay is proving costly, and it is clear we must proceed at once with a step-up highway program to accommodate our growing population and the increased number of motor vehicles."

and literature since 1860, have been added as requirements for the first time next year. At the end of 2,104,000 people Government lines in the preparation and dispensing of foods.

The health authorities cannot maintain daily inspection of cafes and other food handling places, and if the public is careless in accepting insanitary conditions, dozens of infectious diseases can be transmitted to the public from insanitary food and utensils.

"Food handlers schools are being taught constantly throughout the state," Dr. Cox said, "and every cafe owner should take advantage of these schools to see that his personnel is trained in the sanitary methods of preparing, storing and dispensing food to the public. If that is their profession, they should qualify themselves to do the work safely. This is the restaurant owner's responsibility to his patrons."

The public should insist upon a cafe being free from roaches, flies, and other insects; cracked dishes should never be used; tables and linens, as well as dishes

Motor vehicle accidents now head the list of causes of fatalities to rural people, 7,300 of whom were killed due to collisions, blowouts and other highway mishaps in 1948.

In an all-out attempt to reduce these staggering figures, 4-H Club members throughout the nation are already engaged in the 1949 National 4-H Farm Safety program, reports Guy L. Noble, director, National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work.

Daily safety practice is stressed in farm buildings and yards, in use of farm machinery, handling livestock and in driving or walking on highways. Through county extension agents and local 4-H Club leaders, rural boys and girls are encouraged to check and remove conditions likely to cause accidents and fires, and promote safety practices in farm life. They are also taught to co-operate in community safety activities. The entire program is under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

As added incentives to produce good safety records, General Motors is again donating awards. Five sterling silver medals of honor are presented members in each county for best safety achievements. The state winner is given an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, and also an opportunity to be selected for national honors and one of the eight $300 scholarships. The county reporting the most outstanding safety program in each state receives an engraved plaque of merit.

Appreciation of Your Patronage

I wish to take this means of expressing my thanks to all the people who have done business with us during the time Kermit and I operated the business known as Monzingo Bros. My relations with the public during this time were very congenial, and I appreciate the customers we had during the several years.

As was announced last week, Kermit bought my interest in the Chrysler-Cadillac and Minneapolis-Moline dealership and will operate that business under the name of Kermit Monzingo in the same location on Noel Street. In the same transaction I bought Kermit's interest in the appliance store, located on the east side of the square, and will devote my full time to this business.

It is my desire that all my former customers continue to go to Kermit Monzingo for their tractor and automobile needs. I will appreciate it if all the people will give your patronage to that firm.

4-H Safety Workers Striving to Reduce Farm Accident Toll

More than 1 1/2 million farm residents took enforced vacations last year due to accidents. In short, one out of every 17 farm people suffered a disabling accident.

The annual economic toll due to all types of farm accidents is now nearly one billion dollars!

As added incentives to produce good safety records, General Motors is again donating awards. Five sterling silver medals of honor are presented members in each county for best safety achievements. The state winner is given an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, and also an opportunity to be selected for national honors and one of the eight $300 scholarships. and silverware should be scrupulously clean, and milk should be served in the original container, with the cap intact. They should note whether or not a cafe displays a placard stating that its standards of sanitation have been approved by local or State Health officials.

"Obviously the best in sanitation can be had only through close cooperation between the public, and health officials. As long as the public approves and accepts insanitary conditions in eating establishments, they will continue to exist," Dr. Cox said.

Farm Co-Op Business Last Year Exceeded Best Expectations

Last year farm business was good as far as the farm cooperatives were concerned. So good, in fact, that 53 Texas farm cooperatives paid back their loans in full to the Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

Many others made pretty good-sized payments to reduce their debts to the bank, says M. C. Jaynes, extension specialist in organization and marketing of Texas A. & M. College.

During 1948, the Houston Bank for Cooperatives lent more than 28 million dollars to 173 farmers cooperatives serving 114 thousand farm and ranch families. These associations are set up to perform a variety of off-the-farm services which only a few farmers can provide for themselves.

Earl Duke Has Plan Check Grasshopper

Earl Duke, who farms near Deep Lake, south west of Lakeview reports a proven method of grass hopper control which he ers can provide for themselves. For example, says Jaynes, farmers use their cooperatives to gin their cotton, handle and market grain, rice, fruit, vegetables, livestock, poultry and dairy products, to crush and market cottonseed, manufacture feed and buy supplies needed on the modern mechanized farm.

Eighty-nine new cooperatives were chartered last year. More than 95 percent of the 1,000 active cooperatives in the state serve local groups of around 200 farmers each.

has used on his farm for a number of years. Mr. Duke's plan requires first that all fence rows be kept clean of all weed and brush, then a six-foot strip should be left unplanted around the outer edges of the cotton field which must be kept clean of all vegetation until summer, when it can be planted to sorghums.

This form of natural barrier is an economical and sure way to control grass hoppers according to Earl, W. B. Hooser, County Agent reports that his service is prepared for war against the hopper, with the old reliable poison bran and that mix-stations will be set up at Memphis and Turkey amply supplied to serve the farmers of Hall County.

Mulberry Bridge Is Completed and Open For Travel

The bridge across Mulberry near Brice has been completed and was opened for travel this morning, was the news brought to the Democrat at noon today by John Nabors, district highway engineer.

The structure is well built and the contractors have done an excellent job, Mr. Nabors said. Several months' time has been required to complete the badly-needed bridge, due to having to shut down work a few times waiting for material.

During that time people south of Mulberry have been crossing on the stream bed, as well as that across Red River. This new bridge will serve a good many people, and should the state highway department see fit to let a contract for a Red River bridge all will be thankful.

Contracting firm on the Mulberry bridge was Bell, Braden, Barker & Gilvin of Amarillo.

$65,000 Ask of Hall County in 'E' Bonds, 'Opportunity Drive'

The people of Hall County are being asked to invest a total of $65,000 in Series E Savings Bonds during the Treasury Department's "Opportunity Drive," May 16 through June 30.

This quota was announced Saturday by O. V. Alexander, Hall county Savings Bonds chairman, after he had received the figure in a letter from Nathan Adams of Dallas, chairman of the Treasury's advisory committee for Texas.

Announcement of quotas for this and all other Texas counties followed a dinner given in Houston Tuesday night by Governor Beauford H. Jester and at which volunteers from all sections of the state were honored for their work in the Savings Bonds program.

The Texas quota in the drive is $36,950,000, and the national quota is $1,040,000,000.

"All quotas, including ours, apply only to the sale of Series E Savings Bonds," the county chairman said. "In this drive we want to place more Savings Bonds in the hands of average people, who, with the proceeds of their thrift, can enjoy opportunities and advantages not otherwise possible. At the same time, by their investments, in Savings Bonds, they are helping to manage our national debt in such a way as to more nearly assure a strong economy in this country. The Series E bonds—popularly called the 'people's bonds'—are ideal for individuals."

He said that Series F and G Savings Bonds would be sold as usual throughout the drive, but that their sale would not be counted against the quota. The Series F and G bonds, he explained, are normally preferred by business concerns, organizations and individuals of larger means.

"I urge the people of this county, and all of its communities, to participate to the full of their ability," he said. "The county Savings Bonds committee can always use citizens who can devote a part of their time to work in the drive, and I invite them to contact me. To others, I sincerely urge that they buy Savings Bonds and, if possible, to do so regularly through the Bond-A-Month plan at their bank. This kind of thrift is the kind that pays dividends to the individual, the community and the nation."

Acreage Reports Coming In Local AAA Headquarters

Rapid compliance with the instructions for acreage reports are most satisfactory, announced Lynn L. McKown, Secretary of Hall County ACA, who made the following announcement:

The signing of farm acreage reports began at the local AAA office, Monday, April 25, with the farmers from Lesley and Lakeview communities reporting this week.

To be able to devote more time to individual farmers, the AAA office has scheduled the acreage sign up for over a period of three weeks. The farmers of Lesley and Lakeview reporting the week of April 25, Plaska and Memphis reporting the week of May 1, and Estelline and Turkey reporting the acreage for their farms the week of May 9. The crops history of all Hall County farms are scheduled to be completed not later than May 13.

It is of personal interest of every one having an interest in a farm as a tenant or landlord to see that the crop history of their farms are reported to the AAA office. The records concerning crop history must be complete within a few weeks and all farms on which no crop histories are supplied will be estimated by the AAA farmer committeeman.

In the event crop controls are returned to in 1950 which with the present crop prospects is a definite possibility, all farms will have an allotment of cotton or wheat which must be complied with to be eligible for price support and avoid marketing penalties.

76 Third Graders Ride Zephyr From Childress, Memphis

A new experience came to many of the seventy-six children of the third grade of West Ward school last Friday afternoon when they were taken by bus to Childress for a train ride back to Memphis on the Zephyr.

These pupils had made a study of the Transportation Unit for several weeks and the "good will" trip was a culminating activity of the unit studied.

After the students and their teachers reached Childress, they went immediately to the KCTCX broadcasting station to make an appearance on the air. A musical program was presented under the direction of Miss Esta McElrath, principle of the school, with Mrs. B. B. McMillan as accompanist. The program was interspersed with a number of personal interviews of the pupils, on the air.

After the children left the radio station, they were welcomed as guests of Hotel Childress for elevator rides, which was another thrill to them.

A delegation of parents met the youngsters at the depot on their arrival. Every youngster proclaimed that it was the most exciting and enjoyable experience he had ever had, and one never to be forgotten.

The children were under the care of their teachers: Mrs. W. C. Davis, Mrs. Clarence Stroehle, and Mrs. Herbert Estes.

Three mothers, Mrs. J. R. Stewart, Mrs. Barney Burnett, and Mrs. Hank Hankins accompanied them on the trip.

The pupils making the trip were:

Keith Adeock, Winford Akins, Charles Anderson, John Clay, George Freelen, Jackie Don Hankins, Ernest Lee Hearn, Bobby Lee Jackson, Douglas Jones, Kenneth Dale Jones, Sanford Smith.

Eldrue Thomason, Donald Townsend, Pike Orand, Arthur Maddox, Frankie Phelps, Clifford Short, Audrey Beth Burnett, Ruth Ann Jackson, Sylvia Lou King, Bobbie Lemons, Beverly Lund, Dorothy Moore, Helen Shackelford, Cora Ann Sheen.

Carolyn Collins, Clifford Davis, Mattie Lou Copeland, Barbara Widener, George Archer, Wanda Isaacs, Charlene Potter, Darrel Phelps, Monroe Edwards, Thomas Staten, Myrna Loy Lambert, Willie, Mae Green, Ted Wheeler, Maribeth Wynn.

Miss Mazie Perkins of Los Alamos, N. M., spent the week-end here with her father, L. G. Perkins.

KNOW YOUR WEATHER

Frosts frequently occur when the average temperature of the air over a wide area is several degrees above freezing. An example of frost's odd behavior is the fact that the air at the top of a tree may be considerably warmer than the air at its base.

Memphis Owls

 water from the time they go out on the lot.

To start off the agony, there is Coble B. Ross, former manager of the Amarillo Goldsox, who will be Mobeetie's star catcher, and will make it tough on the Owls trying to make it in home.

Then, there is Tony Range, Pampa's hot third baseman, who won't overlook any bats on our Owls stealing third. And don't overlook Bob Bailey, Pampa's star first-sacker, and utility pitcher who is going to cause the Owls plenty of trouble, no matter where they put him. So, you can write it down, if the Owls come home with Mobeetie's hide hanging in their belt, you can be assured of some mighty good baseball on the home lot this season. Of if the Owls don't defeat Mobeetie, but play them a good game, you still can mark them up as plenty good.

Thursday evening, May 5, our Owls will engage the Mangum, Okla., team in an exhibition bout at Estes Park, which should be a good exhibition of baseball.

The game played in Estes Park last Sunday, April 24, was a good game, as far as it went, but it didn't go but five innings when old Jupe Pluve sent down a little irrigation and drove the gladiators to shelter.

However, the Owls took the game, 3 to 1, as a league opener. LaFollet pitched the first four innings and allowed only two hits, while Pittman finished the tilt and allowed one hit.

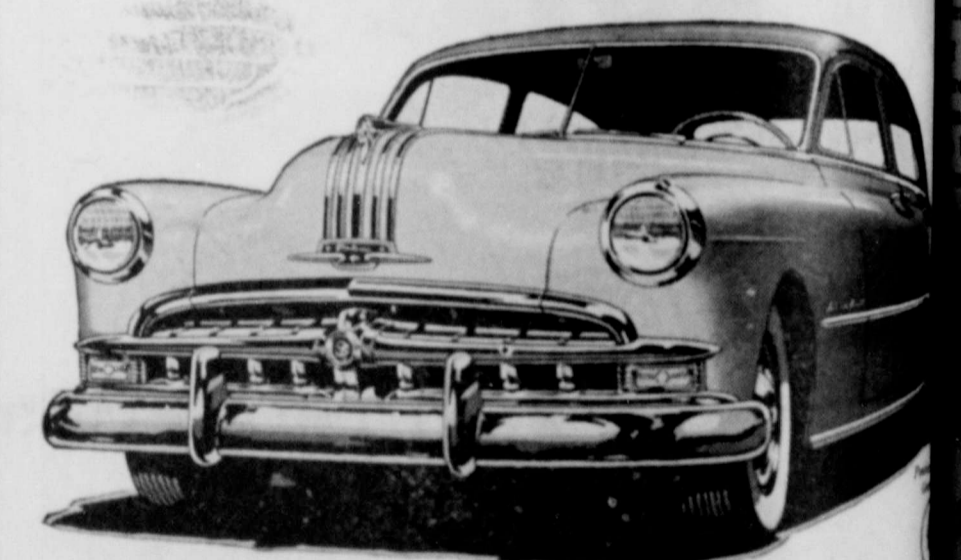

"Southpaw" Jones from Childress went the full session on the mound and allowed only three hits. For the Owls Hambrick got a hit, stole 2nd, and scored on an error.

Even Better than it Looks

When you observe its fresh and fleet new beauty, it might seem unbelievable when we say that the 1949 Pontiac is even better than it looks. But after you've experienced its really exciting performance, we're sure you, too, will agree that in basic goodness, it surpasses its own good looks!

It's hard to believe a car so low-priced could combine the flashing sleekness of Pontiac's new styling... the gracious comfort of Pontiac's new Vision-Aire interiors... and the almost smoothness of Pontiac's exclusive Ride. Add to those unique attributes "zing"... the economy and power of Pontiac's famous improved straight six cylinder engines... and the driving enjoyment of GM Hydramatic (at extra cost) and you've got something irresistible! Included in the cities between Fort Worth and Denver City Railway, Fort Worth, to be the present need for maintaining fast, thru schedules, with continuing important connections at junction points and terminals. "These fast schedules cannot be maintained unless some time can be saved at intermediate stations where traffic relatively is very light," Hoyt said.

The conditional stop plan projects all long haul travel for junction points and terminals originating or destined at the intermediate stations affected. For example, the northward Texas Zephyr beginning May 1st will stop at Decatur, Bowie, Henrietta, Electra and Chillicothe to discharge passengers from Fort Worth or beyond, or to receive passengers destined Amarillo and beyond; at Clarendon and Claude this train will stop to discharge passengers from Wichita Falls and beyond, and at Clarendon to receive passengers for Amarillo and beyond. TOP, READING DOWN, TWO HIGH-PRODUCING Jersey cows of the dairy farm of L. A. Center: Another tightly-sealed fixture, the milk aerator and cold storage tank in the steel and concrete milk room, which keeps the milk temperature at about 34 degrees. Bottom: The barn doesn't make much of a show from the outside, but it has everything, as modern a Grade "A" dairy barn as is possible to build, from specifications from the State Health Department at Austin. CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

Who is it that isn't enjoying the weather? For several days real spring weather has prevailed, and vegetation is greening up and growing. Stockmen are letting up on feeding cattle and are turning them out to make their own living on the green pastures. Farmers are giving the last finishing touches to the land preparatory to planting. In fact, I understand a few have planted cotton—a little early some say. Wheat is booting and some heads are showing. Harvest ought to be some earlier than usual, provided sufficient moisture falls to mature the crop.

Perry Robinson, the plant specialist of North Seventh, had some tomato vines that lasted through the winter. He says some children pulled ripe tomatoes from the vines and ate them while snow and ice covered the ground. He may, like Burbank, develop a variety that will assure fresh ripe tomatoes in the dead of winter.

People must believe in the efficacy of my comments. Frequently, I am called upon to convey messages to wrong-doers, willful disregard for other people's property, and uncalled for mutilation of flowers and shrubs. Growers of flowers wonder why it is that children—up to 16 years of age—will deliberately trample flower beds, take blooms from plants and carry them home for bouquets? Surely, it is done unthinkingly, and surely parents ought to find out how their children secured bouquets, when they bring them home. I am led to believe a lot of parents just don't give a darn what their children do. Disregard of other people's rights seems to be in the makeup of some people.

Thursday, May 5, is the semi-annual cemetery working day at Lakeview and Odd Fellows cemetery. Hundreds of people take part twice a year in making this occasion worth while. Many people who once lived here and have loved ones buried in that cemetery, show up and take part in cleaning up the grounds. Then a caretaker takes over for the summer, and again in the fall another working is held to get the cemetery ready for the winter. It is an occasion when people take lunches, tools and disposition to do some manual labor. At noon, an hour is spent in eating and some form of entertainment. This year, I understand some special music will be furnished along with a few talks by former Hall Countians who plan to attend. An invitation is extended by the cemetery officials to the public to attend and take lunches.

From light to heavy showers Sunday provided moisture to a fairly large area from Memphis west to beyond Lakeview, and north a few miles. North of Lakeview, the amount was some two inches; Eli had an inch or more; Memphis, half an inch, and just west of town N. A. Hightower reported an inch. This adds up to a good start for part of the county.

Bill Phleguer of West Main street: A flat pocketbook has the same effect on a man that a flat tire has on a car. . . The Bible says to multiply, but many couples divide. . . No one is ever quite so sure he is right as the fellow who is entirely wrong.

Those who missed the Foxhall Motor Co. formal opening Saturday certainly missed something. With a new Ford at the main show, and surrounded by bouquets of cut flowers, newly painted walls and fixtures, and a new plate glass front, visitors were all pleased with the setting and the treatment accorded them by Edd Foxhall and others of the company.

A small Memphis lad asked his dad, "Did you go to Sunday school when you were a boy?" Dad, "Yes, son, I went regularly." Son, "Gee, Pop, I'll bet it won't do me any good either."

Soft Ball League May Be Organized Next Monday Night

A soft-ball league will be formed Monday night at Lakeview if enough players are interested, Frank Smith Jr. told a Democrat reporter Tuesday.

A game has been scheduled between Lakeview and Memphis beginning at 8 o'clock at Lakeview, and if enough boys show up, two games will be played, Smith said.

Following the game, or games, a business meeting will be held to determine if a league will be formed.

All boys who are interested in playing soft-ball are requested to be present at Lakeview.

E. J. McKnight and Ector Anthony of Lakeview are also working to get out a good attendance and to secure good players to make the games interesting, Smith said.

Another Car Load Canadian Jerseys Soon to Be Shipped

County Agent W. B. Hooser reveals that orders for the famous Canadian registered Jersey heifers are steadily coming in, and that the full car of fifteen head will be sold and ready for shipment almost anytime now.

This car will be the same blood line as those previously imported into Hall County, the same which made such a sweeping record at the Plainview dairy show just recently.

It may be yet time to get an animal in this car, if the order is placed immediately with County Agent Hooser, but it will be too late very shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Pounds and sons visited his uncle in Levelland over the week end.

"This dairy herd saved us from ruin, and that isn't just a guess," asserted L. A. Richards emphatically. "It has kept us going when drouth struck and practically wiped us out, and it has helped us finance our farming operations so that when we sold our crop it didn't all have to go to pay production debts."

The Richards farm consists of about a section of good average land, about ten miles southeast of Memphis, just over the line in Childress County. The farm "firm" consists of Mr. Richards, his son, Mack, and son-in-law, Clifford Jester.

Mr. Richards is a county commissioner of Childress County.

You may search any dairy community in Texas, and you will not find a more up-to-date and sanitary plant than the Richards layout. While milk from this plant is not sold in Childress county, the Childress city dairy inspector makes regular inspections of this place, just as if the product were being sold in the city of Childress in compliance with the Childress Grade "A" dairy ordinance. No milk may be sold in that city except from a Grade A dairy plant. An inspection of this plant and premises was made by the Childress inspector within the past week.

A representative of The Democrat inspected this plant Friday, with a photographer, and the photographs are shown herewith.

In the first place, the barn is a "Grade A" barn, built from specifications furnished by the State Health Department in Austin. It has concrete floor, scientifically engineered for drainage and sanitation purposes. The building is double-walled and stuccoed on the outside and plastered on the inside, with steel stanchions.

Note photograph of the milking barn. The mechanical milkers are tightly sealed so that it is impossible for any impurities to get into the milk during the process of milking. Then, note the milk room where the milk is being poured directly from the sealed milking bowl into the sealed milk cooler, which lowers the temperature of the milk almost instantly.

IRRIGATION WELL NEAR PLASKA PROVES PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

A little over three months ago, January 20, to be exact, The Democrat carried a story of a well drilled by A. L. Hall on his farm in the Pleasant Valley community, about two miles west of Plaska. The purpose of the well was to test the possibilities of irrigation in that section.

Now, a partial report is available on the results of the well.

From an alfalfa plot of three and a half acres, Mr. Hall brought in samples of the plant 31 inches tall, just beginning to bud. It will be several inches taller before the blooms appear, and it is estimated that the first cutting will go well over a ton of hay to the acre. There should be three more cuttings, easily, perhaps four. The well is sixty feet deep and has a 25-foot water level, and furnishes 250 gallons of water per minute.

Mr. Hall is carrying on extensive experiments with irrigation from this well, and plans to drill another within 100 or 150 feet from the first one. He says that the capacity of this well will take care of about twenty acres of land, and the new one is expected to do about the same.

He plans to increase his alfalfa acreage to ten and to plant ten acres of permanent pasture, to irrigate, and will experiment with different kinds of alfalfa and grasses.

Farmers of this community are watching Mr. Hall and his irrigation experiments with great interest. It has long been the belief that a large area of the land in this section could be irrigated from wells, and thus increase many fold the income from farming operations. Other farmers are planning to drill similar wells in the near future.

Public Speaking Class, Memphis Hi, In Lubbock Meet

On Saturday, April 23, the public speaking class of the Memphis High School sent representatives to Lubbock to participate in the regional one-act play contest.

FARMING is our BUSINESS too!

It's our job to help make farm work easier better paying. That means doing a lot more just selling tractors and implements; it means we must make farming our business, too.

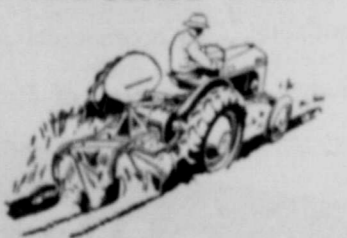

Why we like to spend as much of our time we can out visiting our farmer friends. Now we learn why and how one farm is ahead from another . . . and see how the many present problems can be licked.

We haven't been around to see you lately, we're hoping to do it soon. We'd like to get better acquainted . . . both with you and your farm. The better we know you, the better we'll be able to help you.

Zeke Brown To Edit S. W. Plainsman On Amarillo Times

Genial Zeke Brown, recently with The Memphis Democrat, is now the editor of "Southwest Plainsman," agricultural supplement of The Amarillo Times. In making the announcement, a staff writer of that paper, Al Dewlin says:

Zeke Brown is a fellow who chews a cigar right down to its waist, flogs a typewriter with an estimated 30 per cent of his available fingers, and is so designed that he is just about as much bone as meat.

He pounds out "Zeke Sez," the editorial column for Panhandle folks, and has assumed editorship of The Southwest Plainsman, farm supplement of the Amarillo Times.

Zeke is a Texas newspaperman with a Texas outlook. He knows, and trades in, tall stories with a twist; he is as much at home in a pair of cowboy boots as any $30-a-month puncher in the Panhandle.

He was editing one of the state's finest weekly newspapers, The Memphis Democrat, published by J. Claude Wells, when he joined the Amarillo Times staff.

Zeke wears a broad grey Stetson; can fly an airplane or milk a cow; can judge a wheat crop and performs various and sundry other chores not unhandy to a farm and ranch news editor. His wife is not so sure about the ability to milk a cow.

He is married and the father of a son, Forrest, a sophomore at the University of Texas.

Zeke has a heavy traveling schedule mapped out for visiting farmers and stockmen in the Panhandle area.

Strawberry Time In Texas, Could Mean Every Home

Whether you eat them in preserves, on ice cream, on a strawberry shortcake, or fresh, it's strawberry time in Texas.

Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College, suggests putting away several gallons in the home freezer, if you select only the red-ripe berries. This type hold their color better than the almost ripe berries.

Strawberries can be put into a container whole, or cut into halves and allowed to stand in dry sugar until it is all dissolved. The sugar—or sugar-syrup—helps keep the berries in their fresh texture, color and aroma.

They develop an off-color and off-flavor very quickly after they are defrosted if the sugar is not used. So, when you are using the dry sugar method, mix the berries until each one is well coated with sugar, Miss Shultz says.

Crushed berries used for toppings for shortcake and ice cream will hold their natural flavor better and longer than the whole or sliced berries. Here are Miss Shultz's suggestions for preparing the berries for freezing. Wash, drain and cap them; weigh them and pack, using one part sugar to three or four parts of berries. If you are using the sugar-syrup, mix three cups of sugar and four cups of water. Fill the containers with berries and cover them with cold syrup, put the cover on and place them in the quick freezing compartment at 20 degrees . . . to freeze at once.

If further directions for freezing are needed, the county home demonstration agent has information on her Extension Service bulletin shelves, says Miss Shultz.

The miscellaneous causes of farm fires are explosions, sparks from pissing locomotives, trash fires, ignition of grease and oil, hot irons left on, gas, fireworks, and defective flues.

Many States Take Active Part In 4-H Soil Conservation

When Miles Standish came to America the topsoil averaged about nine inches in depth. Today the national average is six inches. Moreover, nature must work 300 to 1,000 years to rebuild each lost inch. In an effort to help save the hundreds of millions of productive acres endangered by erosion and gullying, Texas has accepted the National 4-H Soil Conservation program for 1949. During the past year an increase of more than 9,000 4-H'ers participated in the nation-wide project, reports the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

4-H members learn to successfully conserve soil and prevent wastage and deterioration. Because of its wide scope, parents cooperate in a farm-family soil conservation plan. Some of the activities are: to establish a farm nursery; sow fall cover crops; test for limestone, phosphate or potash; construct checks in gullies; sow grass; plant windbreaks; build a dam to hold water for livestock. The Cooperative Extension Service directs the program.

Although individual awards cannot be given all 4-H youth for their work in the project, what they accomplish is a vital contribution to the country's future. However, to those with outstanding records, Firestone Tire and Rubber company presents the following: gold filled medal of honor for county winners; $50 U. S. savings bond to six top-ranking members in the state; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for 16 selected state winners, and eight $300 scholarships.

Is The Huey Long Empire Taking Over Again In Louisiana?

"LOUISIANA HAYRIDE," by Harnett T. Kane, is the authentic account of the Huey Long political regime in Louisiana, one of the most amazing political experiences in American history. The book is in the Memphis Carnegie Library, and available for borrowing.

The book is of especial interest at this time, since two of the late "Kingfish's" relatives have been elected by the Louisiana voters to the two highest political positions of the state, his brother is

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feeling tired, nervous, all worn out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

Girl Scouts of Memphis Attend Easter Pageant

Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 were in Lawton, Okla., April 16 and 17, where they attended the Easter Pageant and visited other points of interest in that section.

While there they went to Craterville Park, Medicine Park, and to the top of Mt. Scott. They also made a tour of the church used in the pageant. Made of rock, the church features many hand-painted pictures of the Saints of Christ and other pictures. Also noted in the church was a statue of Mary and Jesus.

The group left Memphis at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Two distinct patterns, "Romance of the Range" and "Romance in the Heart."

A program of recreation and general get-acquainted will start the three-day session off on Thursday night. Elmer Sanders Attend Birthday Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sanders recently returned from Alba, Texas, where they went to attend a birthday dinner honoring Mr. Sanders' mother, Mrs. Ada Sanders, who celebrated her 76th anniversary.

Mrs. Sanders, who was born in Brazil, South America, came to Texas with her parents at the age of eight years. Mrs. Sanders' parents went to South America following the Civil War with a group of other people from this country. En route they were ship wrecked and spent many months on an island. Finally arriving in South America, they settled on the edge of the jungle and many hardships were endured by the group. Later the group bought a plantation and moved to a more thickly populated section of the country, where they resided until they returned to the states.

En route to Alba Mr. and Mrs. Sanders visited in Fort Worth with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrie Sanders.

If all the smart alecs in the world were buried today there would be a new crop by sunrise tomorrow.

Every nation has its wise men but they haven't said anything about how an election will turn out.

Bobby Crooks Sets New Record In 440 Yard, Region Meet

Memphis' Bobby Crooks chalked up a new record in the 440 yard dash in the Region One track and field meet at Lubbock Saturday, winning first in that event. He breezed over the quarter-mile course in a flat 52.7 seconds, to lower the record from that of 53.6 held by Baker of Seminole.

In the mile relay Memphis took second, which, of course, doesn't help any in the state meet. The Memphis team was composed of Harvey Jarrell, Leroy Green, Randolph Messer and Bobby Crooks. However, Bobby Crooks will go to the state meet to represent the Memphis High school. The Memphis high school took eight points in the regional meet.

Bobby Crooks is making an impressive record for himself and his school in high school athletics. In a feature story, a sports staff writer on the Amarillo Times, Bill Brown, paid our athletic leader some very nice compliments. The following is quoted from Mr. Brown's story in the Times:

A carrot-thatched high school junior with the endurance of a Model A Ford and limousine speed is pulling a "Jim Thorpe act" all over District 2-A this school year.

Climaxing one of the finest sports years enjoyed by Memphis in over a decade, red-haired Bobby Crooks figures to carry the Cyclone track team to the Regional track meet in Lubbock Saturday and perhaps even to the State meet later in the month.

Bobby's "Thorpe act" really broke into the open when he captured three first in track and tied for a first in the field events at the District 2-A track and field meet held in Childress last week. At that time he knotted 19 of the Cyclones 66 title winning points by polishing off the 100 yard dash in 10.1 seconds. He stepped the 220 yard dash in 23 seconds to win that event, then toe-danced around again to win the 440 yard dash with a time of 53 seconds. After this, he sailed five-feet, ten-inches to tie Joel Combs of Lefors in the high jump.

The strange part of it was that Bobby is a broad jumper instead of a high jumper. He had not actually taken part in the high jump activities until this meet. For a boy who stands only a shade taller than five-feet, ten-inches and who has never before done any high jumping, that in itself is quite a feat. At the 2-A meet, however, he failed to place in the broad jump.

Don't measure his athletic accomplishments solely by his track record. In addition to being literally the fastest man in District 2-A, Bobby was first string half-back on the Cyclone football team, and a first string guard on the Cyclones State championship Class A basketball team.

Bobby's preference, however, remains on the gridiron. "I like football best," he said, "then come track and finally basketball."

He is a shy unassuming boy with every attribute of an excellent high school athlete. "He is a born cutup, but on the athletic field he is all business" is the description offered by head football and track coach Charles York.

Other than his excellent participation in athletics, Crooks was elected vice-president of the junior class this year, was appointed assistant editor of the annual and next year will be Editor and Chief of the school year book.

Fine Jersey Bull Moved to Wesley Waites' Near Eli

The Canadian registered Jersey bull, Don Head Design Sultan Basil, formerly located at the farm of Charles Williams and son, seven miles Southeast of Memphis, has been moved to the farm of Lesley Waites, one mile west and one-half mile north of Eli.

He is available for service at that farm in the future.

This is the bull purchased for the Hall County Jersey Cattle breeder's organization by the First State Bank of Memphis.

This is one of the best blooded Jerseys ever brought into Hall County. He is 26 months of age and in tip-top condition.

His background shows him to come from a fine blooded line. He is sired by Brampton Standoff Basil, a silver medal superior sire, with 23 tested daughters with an average of 519 pounds of butterfat per lactation and five daughters with average of 575 lbs. fat, 30 daughters with 85 per cent classification.

He is the great-grandson of Brampton Basilus, World's record Jersey cow with 1,313 pounds of fat in one lactation and 6,367 lbs. fat in six lactations.

It is noted that this is one of the best record strains of Jerseys to be found anywhere. The service fee is $5.00, half of which goes to the Association and half to the custodian.

Lamb, Abandoned By Roadside to Die, Is Grand Champion

Good blood will show under any circumstances.

A lamb that was abandoned to die by the side of the road in July recently won the grand championship purple of the sheep division of the 14th annual Plainview Fat Stock Show.

Jimmy McClure, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure of Lockney, showed the winner, one of around 200 head of beef cattle and swine.

Jimmy was driving a wheat truck for his father one blazing July day, when he saw a scrawny, bleating lamb by the roadside. He stopped and placed the lamb in the truck. A few miles down the highway, the young 4-H Club boy came upon the herd of sheep being driven by the owner.

Jimmy stopped and told the sheepman about the lamb. The owner told the boy: "You may have it. It won't stay with the herd."

The young man took the lamb home and raised it on a bottle, along with a puppy. "We called

The Farmers' Voice

In the Southwest, and Texas in particular, the farmers are a quiet, peace-loving tribe, and easy to get along with.

They go to the polls on election day and select their public officials, feeling that the public servants will render a fair service to all alike. They don't ask special favors, merely fair treatment.

Every two years the Texas legislature holds its regular session and adjourns when the farmer usually forgotten.

It has been noted here before that the farmers' interior highway situation is deplorable. For nearly two decades, Texas has had a huge highway program for cardinal roads, and the farmer has contributed his portion of the gasoline tax to build these cardinal highways, and made only modest demands that something be done about his lateral roads that lead to these main highways.

But little has been done about it. In the present legislature bills have been introduced to appropriate a modest sum for these lateral highways. These bills are meeting the usual obstructionist tactics. Some members want one plan, other members want another.

Some say there is no money without new taxes. Others say no new tax is needed, that the situation can be remedied some other way.

Out of the turmoil will come defeat for the farmers, as usual, the farm leaders say, unless the farmers get busy and make their voices heard in unmistakable volume in Austin.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

TEEN-AGE DRIVERS
We are the nation's worst drivers. We are the nation's worst drivers. We are the nation's worst drivers.

We should be the nation's best drivers. Good physical fitness is ours. Yet we are the ones who are found to have the majority of accidents—while driving. Some day our careless handling of a car may kill our best friend.

Here's what we do—and what we must stop!
We pile into a car in numbers far above its seating capacity. Thus we hinder the driver at all times.

We get those "stars" in our eyes while scotching along at sixty—romance and driving do not mix, especially when it comes to that old "one-arm driving" stuff. Thus craving to "invade" the other lane will never do! Suppress that urge and stay on your own side.

Let's ignore all of those inner-urges and go strictly by the driving laws. Instead of letting people say, "they should be the nation's best drivers," let's take measures to make them say, "They ARE the nation's best drivers."—A. G.—From the Dumas High School section of Moore County News.

THE PRESS CONVENTION

The 40th annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association at Amarillo last week was a most enjoyable occasion. It brought together many editors whom this writer has known for more than 30 years in the Panhandle of Texas.

Sam Braswell of Fort Worth, then publisher of the Clarendon News, was present in 1920 when this writer attended his first convention. The association has changed officials from year to year, but the friendship with the press family has been much enjoyed.

The surprise is the way that the years are piling up on all the old time members of the Association. Frank R. Jamison of Denver, publisher of the Canadian Record when he organized the association

40 years ago, confessed to 73 years at the Amarillo meeting.

Hilton R. Greer, editor of the Daily Panhandle and the Amarillo Daily News, many years ago, left this area in 1941 to join the new publication, the Dallas Journal, an afternoon edition published for many years by the Dallas Morning News. Greer, who retired Jan. 1 from his long association with The News, admitted that he is now 69 years of age. His five years of service in the Amarillo newspaper field in those pioneer days have left him many fond memories.

J. C. Estlack, Clarendon postmaster, who published the Donley County Leader for many years, counted 67 years, but didn't quite look it. Back in those rough days in New Mexico, he was convicted of criminal libel because of the Fall—Teapot Doome episode, but he was met at the gates of the prison with a pardon from an honest governor.

What stories one could get from these editors who really pioneered the young west of 40 to 60 years ago.—Panhandle Herald.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

One of the most brilliant plans advanced in this century to redound most to the happiness and well-being of the people, is this plan of rural electrification into which the federal government, through an agency, has spent millions of the taxpayers money and will spend millions more. Call it whatever you may, socialistic government in business, invasion of the field of private industry. The plan is too gigantic for private financing but the time was overdue for it to come about. The fact there has been shortage of materials has been a hindrance and a drag. But the idea is a good one. It is one of "eminent domain," the greatest good for the greatest number. Rural electrification is bringing a great good to a great people. Those who can't see it, who can't go along now, we think, will in turn of a generation realize that it was and is good. The fact that the people are using the electrical energy and repaying the government for the money loaned, seems at the moment to be proof of what is said here. We have no figures but we assume the bill is perhaps 25 per cent more than it should be for rural electrification in America. On the face of it it looks that way. Certain arbitrary rules seem to be responsible. But this is a world we live in where you can't have your way entirely and we can't have the thing done exactly as we believe it should. Meanwhile, let there be light and energy and more abundant living for now. The Muscovites may be clouting the heads of our kuzacks a generation or two hence in the name of good government, in the name of the right of eminent domain. Let us have the real thing while we can. We do not think that private enterprise is being raped. We do not think the utilities people are being mistreated. And they'll feel the same way as soon as they adjust their thinking and as they continue to grow and prosper and make money off of rural electrification.—Floyd County Hesperian.

THE MOST noticeable factor in the operation of the 81st congress, according to observers here, is the smoothness which which the house of representatives operates and, at the other end of the Capitol building, the jerky and unpredictable operation of the United States senate. This is just the opposite of the 80th congress wherein the house ran away from its leadership and the senate acted as a balance wheel.

According to the old-timers, the experienced leadership of Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, of J. Percy Priest of Tennessee is paying off in discipline and action. Whereas on the senate side, although Vice-President Alben Barkley of Kentucky is president of the senate, the leadership devolves upon the senate majority leader, Scott Lucas, and the comparatively inexperienced Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania, majority whip.

The vote on the Marshall plan extension is an indication of how the senate "went haywire." From the speech-making and noise in debate on this measure, there was every indication that the senate was "out of hand." The vote, however, showed only seven senators against the measure. So it was the sniping and the "stalling" tactics used by those few which Lucas could not control.

The ECA plan went through almost as it came from the hands of the senate foreign relations committee and those seven negative votes were from only five states—Senators Capehart and Jenner from Indiana, Wherry and Butler from Nebraska, Langer of North Dakota, Kem of Missouri—all Republicans—and Ellender of Louisiana, the lone Democrat.

The administration's new "fair income" bill sponsored by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, faces a fight from those Republicans who are committed to the Hope-Aiken law now on the statute books, but which does not become operative until January 1, 1950. The only indication of progress from about that body, by a vote of 70-20, was the passage of a bill to amend the Taft-Hartley law which would repeal the law's provisions for the payment of a fine to a union which refused to disclose the names of its members.

Here is how one of the Democrats predicts the Democratic leadership actually repeats the taking of the vote. Then they will take the bill after the and substitute the bill. The word is almost a dead end. Hartley law provisions which were agreed upon. The repeal of the law is the Wood bill of the Taft-Hartley act.

"Their reports show that the home freezer will do a better job for the family if it is given a place in the home that suits it," Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. Some of the conditions to be avoided in locating the freezer as listed by Dr. Earl McCracken, USDA physicist, are: A hot spot—the higher the room temperature, the more the motor must run. Dampness—moisture is likely to condense on the freezer's outer walls and may even drip to form pools on the floor. It may

MUSTANGS Wild Horses of the Plains!

BY J. EVETTS HALEY ILLUSTRATED BY H. D. BUGBEE

MUSTANGS! WILD HORSES! Magic words to men of imagination! Hence, it is that stories of the mustangs—that lost breed of history—still intrigue all men who love good horses. Back of the story of mustangs, however, is one of the wildest odysseys in history. It is now generally held that the horse originated in America, that he spread throughout the world in prehistoric times, and that he then died out in the land of his origin. Scattered diminutive fossil remains throughout the southern Plains point to his beginnings here. Aeons later, and in historic times, hundreds of thousands of mustangs, sweeping across the Southwest in spirited and colorful bands, marked his return. The very sight of a good horse used to be—in fact still is—a challenge to bold adventure. Nothing is impossible to men who really believe in horses. History seems to prove the point. The horse of the Moors came to the Indies of the New World with the explorers from ancient Spain in the 1490's. He reached the mainland and played a vital part in the fantastic conquest of Mexico by Cortez in 1521. He crossed the Plains with Coronado in 1541, escaped from numerous later Spanish exploring expeditions, reverted to the wild state, and spread, with tossing mane and flowing tail, expanding girth and hardening hoofs, from the hot valleys of Mexico and the rocky ranges of the Montezumas clear across the continent to the Arctic plains of Canada—all in less than a hundred and fifty years. Thus this marvelous bundle of muscle and nerve, and of sense and stamina, returned in wild and prolific vigor to reclaim the land of his origin, and to revolutionize life in the western half of the New World. For some three hundred years he reigned free and supreme. Meanwhile, Indians mounted on mustangs that they had caught and gentled, battled with fair-faced warriors who rode hard to meet them, while men actually grown to the shape of saddles moved their longhorned cattle upon the lands the Indians lost. Eventually, other men with horses killed off the buffalo herds, and for one brief moment, as time is measured, the great and grass-grown Plains were little more than a wild horse range. These horses, usually in bands of from twenty to forty head, jealously and dangerously ruled by a single stallion, swept out from their waterings in circuits of several miles to graze their favorite range. They congregated in great herds and pawed their feed from the snow in the breaks of winter, and by hard fighting among themselves, the stallions again cut their mares and struck out in individual bunches as grass rose in the spring. For some time, both red men and white levied on this vast reservoir of horse flesh without touching the supply. But in the late 1870's, as men moved farther west and demanded more grass for their cattle, other men mounted on grain-fed horses began catching mustangs in droves and trailing them off to the settlements to market. They became the mustangers, and their work developed into a sort of a science, or at times an art, that was known as mustanging. They either "walked down" the wild horses by keeping after them for days, or trapped them in bunches by hazing or stampeding them into the wide, converging wings of hidden corrals. After trapping, they forefooted them and attached a clog to a fore-leg of each, which tripped the horse whenever he broke to run, and then trailed them off in bunches for trade or sale. Yet the mustangers made little impression upon this immense herd that still covered the open face of the Great Plains. Only the invention of barbed wire, and its cutting of the range to pieces, brought an end to the wild horse. But wherever his recumbent mares peacefully slept on the clean turf beneath his watchful eye, wherever his colts pitched about and cut their capers in sheer joy of living, and wherever he tossed his noble head as he scented danger and snorted his challenge through resonant nostrils from afar, there he will never be forgotten. For in a way the mustang made the Western World, and grateful men never forget their horses.

 your nose out of other people's business... The best way to save face is to keep the lower end of it closed... And soft soap is the best thing for dirty looks.

Double-E Roberts, of the Memphis Lumber Co., is a man who smiles every time a visitor shows up at the company's office on North 6th. Reason: He is proud of the new arrangement of the office which is quite a departure from that of the old place of business.

If it were not for the pessimists and rabble rousers, this would be a great old world. And it is great now, but our people are kept stirred up by those who would make us believe that a war is necessary, and that conditions must be changed or we'll all go to the dogs. Another thing one hears frequently that I think is a misstatement of facts, is that the world is growing worse with each generation. I heard that when a lad, and have heard it ever since, and I guess it was a common statement back as far as there has been a civilization. When I came to Memphis 24 years and one month ago, some people thought the school children had deteriorated and would never amount to anything. On every hand I see those same children, now grown with families, holding down good places in the business and professional world, and are leading citizens of their respective communities.

Recently I heard a remark that the children of today are rattle-brained and careless, without a serious or constructive thought or action. Any one attending any kind of school activity these days knows the children are as ambitious, studious, sober-minded and dependable as of any past generation. In the music world, a lot of the pupils are outstanding in their performances, as was attested at the school band concert Monday night, and the school orchestra at Rotary luncheon Tuesday. Perry "Kay" Keyser is doing a fine work as music instructor, and he would get nowhere if he did not have real talent to take his instruction. No, I think the youth of today will do a better job of running the country when they take over than we have done.

 On the same date the southward Texas Zephyr will begin stopping at Channing and Claude to discharge passengers from Trinidad or beyond, or to receive passengers for Fort Worth and beyond. Stops will be made at Clarendon, Chillicothe, Electra, Henrietta, Bowie, and Decatur to discharge passengers from Amarillo and beyond, or to receive passengers for Fort Worth and beyond.

It is explained by Hoyt that the conditional stop plan will not deprive any community of any phase of the railroad's passenger service which its people have been patronizing. The Zephyrs will stop at any of the affected stations for passengers traveling to or from terminals or junction points where connections are made with other railroad's thru trains.

"The railroad management feels that in the public interest it must operate its passenger trains so that the greatest number of people will receive the best possible service. If a thru, high-speed train stops at intermediate stations where there is no traffic for the train, and schedules thus are slowed down to the extent that the train no longer becomes attractive to travelers, then the unhappy result of a discontinuance of unprofitable service is all that can be expected. We do not believe the people want to impose such a condition as that on our railroad, nor that the majority of the people along the Texas Zephyr route between Texas and Colorado would be willing to give up the thru service these trains perform. Moreover, so long as we continue to provide a service acceptable to our friends and customers who do travel and ship with us, we feel that the people of the territory we serve will understand the need for the slight modification of our passenger train service to become effective on Sunday, May 1st," Hoyt said.

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST McMURRY

Anderson-McMurry Nuptials Are Read In Impressive Service in California

In a beautiful double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in San Francisco, Calif., Dorothy Ann Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Anderson of San Francisco, became the bride of Ernest Ray McMurry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McMurry of this city, on Saturday afternoon, March 12, at 4:00 o'clock. Dr. Lewis J. Julianel performed the ceremony.

The church was decorated with tall baskets of white stock, with candelabras on either side of the altar. White candles tied with white satin ribbon and flowers formed an archway down the center aisle of the church.

The soloist, Edward Tracy, sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "Because." Before the ceremony, the organist played soft music and the traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and the recessional.

The bride's sister, Miss Virginia Anderson, who was maid of honor, wore a pale pink formal trimmed in lace and carried a bouquet of red roses.

The three bride's maids were attired in green, orchid and yellow marquisette and lace formal styles similar to that of the maid of honor. They wore matching mitts and carried old-fashioned spring bouquets. Their hats were made of nylon net, trimmed with matching ribbons.

The flower girl wore blue and pink and carried a miniature old-fashioned bouquet.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was gowned in ivory satin which was designed with long sleeves, a high neckline, and a marquisette yoke, trimmed with lace. The full length veil was fastened to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, centered with a white orchid.

Jack Lund served the groom as

Mrs. Frank Monzingo and daughter Carrol Ann, Katherine Wright, Mrs. Allen Monzingo and son Jerry, Mrs. Matthew Allen and daughter Barbara and Mrs. Alice Crawford and daughter Mary were Amarillo visitors Saturday.

 to about 34 degrees. When the ten-gallon can of milk is filled, the can is lowered into the cold storage tank, seen in the picture, where the temperature is kept at about 34 degrees.

Human hands do not come any nearer the milk than is seen in the picture of the milk going from the milking bowl to the aerator, until it is delivered to the modern processing plant of the Hall County Dairy in Memphis, where it is pasteurized and homogenized and bottled for the retail trade.

The most significant feature of the Richards farm is the scientific manner in which it is operated. Long ago, Mr. Richards discarded the "one-crop" system for a perfectly co-ordinated system of a balanced program. He has three major departments in his program, dairying, wheat raising and cotton raising.

At the present time he has 100 acres of wheat, about as good as any you'll see anywhere. He has 300 acres of land ready for cotton seed, just as soon as planting is safe.

"After all," Mr. Richards said, "this is a cotton county. We can't get away from that, even if we wanted to, and I certainly don't want to. That is our major crop, and I have no reason to believe it will change soon, but we have got to have other things to fit into the program if we are to survive and prosper. Hence, the dairy and our balanced farming program."

Mr. Richards has about 35 head of registered Jerseys and uses 100 acres of land for feed crops and another hundred or more for pastures. And another thing, the Richard residence is almost new and just as modern as any home in any city. He has had this farm, or part of it, for about thirty years.

Milk from this Grade "A" dairy farm is sold exclusively to the Hall County Dairy, Memphis.
