Bobby Crooks, Memphis One-Man Track Team, In State Meet Friday

Memphis will be represented by a strong contender in one of the main track events, the 440 yard dash.

Bobby Crooks who set a new regional of 52.7 will enter the preliminaries Friday morning, April 6th. If he wins, there, he will be in the finals, and will give other contenders a hard race.

The finals of the meet will be broadcast over Station KGNC in Amarillo.

This is the first time in many years that Memphis was represented in the State contests.

Bobby Crooks has been in six meets this year, and has not been lower than third in any race. He won five first place ribbons and one second in District and Regional meets.

Bobby's record posted 2nd best in state Class "A" state meets, and at other region meets.

Bobby has represented Memphis in football, basketball and track, and is a standout tennis player.

He is not only a good athlete but is a fine student. His overall grade average in high school is 84.6.

He is vice president of the Junior class, assistant editor of the year book, and next year, he will be editor in chief of the year book.

He is a recognized leader in all of his school activities.

Clifford H. Compton, one of Memphis' prominent business leaders, died in a local hospital here Monday, May 2, after a short illness.

He was a member of the firm of Compton-Sisk Motor Company, Memphis Buick dealer.

Funeral services were held from the First Methodist Church in Memphis, Tuesday, May 3rd at 4 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. C. C. Armstrong officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery Memphis, under the direction of Murphy-Spicer Funeral Directors.

Mr. Compton was born on a ranch near Colorado City, Texas, Jan. 28, 1898. He grew up on the ranch and worked for his father.

Later he learned the mechanic's trade and became one of the best in the business. In 1920 he came to Memphis and went to work for his brother, C. S. Compton.

After two years he returned to Colorado City and again worked for his father on the ranch.

On Sept. 27, 1923, he was married to Miss Ruby Beights.

In 1927 they returned to Memphis where he worked for his brother and later they formed a partnership in the auto repair business.

In 1947 he and Herbert L. Sisk formed the partnership, Compton and Sisk and became local distributors for Buick automobile, in which business he was engaged at the time of his death.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Ruby Compton; three daughters, Mrs. Ted Cates, Childress; Mrs. Richard Ayers, Borger and Miss Edith Compton, Memphis. Two brothers, C. S. Compton, Memphis and M. E. Compton, Colorado City. One grand-daughter, Carol Ann Cates, Childress.

Funeral services were held at 11:25 p. m. a test of endurance as well as spelling ability for the youngsters.

The big event began with a banquet at the Herring hotel.

High compliments were paid to the Estelline entrant, Miss Smith, by many of her friends throughout Hall County, especially her school superintendent, Mr. Bates.

This is one of the best school years we have had as far as attitude is concerned," Supt. Davis added. "This includes both our teachers and the student body as a whole. And I appreciate the cooperation I have received."

All teachers elected for the next school term are subject to assignment, it was pointed out. All regular members of the faculty were elected at state-scheduled salaries.

In the high school, the following were elected: Francis M. Baker, Verna T. DeBerry, Gloria Gosch, Elsie Guthrie, Ira Hammond, Jeanette Irons, Perry I. Keyser, Lawrence E. McColloch, Weldon McCreary, Raymond C. Newton, Bonnie Jean Smith, Bonnie Jean Smith, Pansy A. Srygley, Bell Sweatt and Charles D. York.

Junior high school teachers listed were: R. A. Burk, George F. Childress, Ann Coker, Mattie Lou Compton, Sarah Gilliam, Minnie Hall, Ethel Hillhouse, Clara Pyeatt and Zady Belle Walker.

Those elected for West Ward include Alma Bruce, Mattie Lou Davis, Linda Estes, Ollie G. Foxhall, Dorothy Gurley, Maud Mi-

Rebecca Smith, Hall County Girl, Wins Spelling Contest

In a brilliant performance in a spelling contest where 34 other Panhandle counties were represented, Miss Rebecca Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Smith of Newlin, an 8th grade pupil in the Estelline public school, "spelled down" all contenders and will go to Washington to represent the Panhandle counties in a National spelling bee.

She was the winner in the Amarillo Globe-News annual spelling bee.

In addition to her mother, Mrs. Sam L. Smith, Rebecca was accompanied to Amarillo by Superintendent of the Estelline school Mr. L. Bates, Miss Mary Foreman, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Smith of Memphis.

An elaborate write-up was given and high compliments paid Miss Smith, by the sponsor of the event.

It was played pretty tight, but when it narrowed down to the last three spellers, things became cramped indeed. Flanked by two boys, who flung a mean syllable themselves, Rebecca kept doggedly at it. Finally her break came. Jimmie Davis, entry from Childress County, went down.

Then only one opponent was left against Rebecca, Richard Tucker from Hereford, carrying the colors for Deaf Smith county. Words flew thick and fast and the youthful spellers rattled them off in staccato succession. Then Dick hit "caricature". He missed it. By the National rules, it was Rebecca's turn to try. She missed it, too. So neither of them disqualified. She got another word, "peremptory" which she spelled without hesitation. AND SHE WON!

Rebecca also set another record that night in Amarillo. She is the first Amarillo district winner. The very first entry to go to the National meet from Amarillo district.

In winning this event, Rebecca will receive a trophy which will keep as her own property, as a permanent memento of her spelling prowess, also a $25.00 cash prize from the sponsors, the Amarillo News-Globe.

In addition to these, she and her mother will be sent, all expenses paid, to Washington, D. C. where she will spell against entries from every state in the Union. Her school will receive a large plaque to keep until someone else wins the district bee next year.

The spelling bee lasted three hours and fifteen minutes, ending at 11:25 p. m. a test of endurance as well as spelling ability for the youngsters.

The big event began with a banquet at the Herring hotel.

High compliments were paid to the Estelline entrant, Miss Smith, by many of her friends throughout Hall County, especially her school superintendent, Mr. Bates.

Bill D. Hart Named Manager Of Lumber Co.

Bill D. Hart was named manager of the Cicero Smith Lumber Company in Memphis May 1, succeeding J. G. Brown, who had served in that position for the past 44 years.

Mr. Brown was retired from the active list of the organization's managers on the same date.

Beginning his services with the Cicero Smith Company 20 years ago, Mr. Hart first worked in Estelline, and later was transferred to Crowell. In 1931 he was transferred to Memphis, and has served since that time as assistant manager.

Mr. Hart is a native of this section, and has been with the company continuously since 1929 except for nearly three years service with the Army during World War II. While in the army he was in the signal corps, and spent most of the time in the South Pacific.

At present he is on the board of directors of the Memphis Baseball Association, and holds the office of field secretary. He has engaged in various civic activities during the past several years.

Other personnel of the Lumber company are Mrs. Hart, who will perform the duties of office manager, and Sam Prather.

Board Announces Names of 1949-50 Faculty Members

Election of the faculty of Memphis schools for 1949-50 term was announced this week by Supt. W. C. Davis, following the regular monthly meeting of the school board last Monday evening.

At the same time, the superintendent expressed his appreciation and that of the board for the services of several substitute teachers during the past term.

"These ladies have helped in keeping our schedule running smoothly," Davis said. Mrs. Alice Hill and Mrs. G. N. Duren were listed as regular substitute teachers. Other ladies were included in the official's statement of appreciation.

"This is one of the best school years we have had as far as attitude is concerned," Supt. Davis added. "This includes both our teachers and the student body as a whole. And I appreciate the cooperation I have received."

Map Three-Day Events For Hall County Rodeo

Complete plans for the Hall County Rodeo, in which contestants will compete for $1200 in prize money were completed by the Hall County Rodeo Association yesterday.

With the committee planning the rodeo was R. L. Pointer, Elgin, Okla., resident, who has a wide experience in these events. The full details of events and admission prices were decided at the meeting.

Besides the contestants all of Hall County visiting the rodeo were requested to dress in full "Western" regalia for a full week preceding the big event as well as during the three-day rodeo.

The Lions Club has agreed to take charge of decorating Memphis for the event. The Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of accepting entrance fees from the contestants. Bids for concessions from local groups and business men should be submitted to the Hall County Rodeo Association.

List Rodeo Events
The Rodeo events and entrance fees are:

Calf roping, entrance fee $25; bull riding, entrance fee $10; bronc riding, entrance fee $10; doggers, entrance fee $15. The entrance fees for these events should be sent to the Chamber of Commerce office not later than 10 a. m. June 2nd.

Due to the fact that the Booster trip will use the High School band no date was set for their visit to other cities. Two complete committees were named. They are:

Booster trip committee, A. W. Howard, chairman, T. D. Weatherby and H. J. Howell.

Parade committee, T. D. Weatherby, chairman, A. W. Howard and H. J. Howell.

The ticket sales will be handled by the Rotary Club. Admission, including tax will be $.60 for school children and $1.50 for adults.

After lunch in the college cafeteria, most of the visiting band members watched the twirling contest, held in front of the Speech Arts building.

Memphis twirlers placed high in this event with Leota Studevant winning superior; Muriel Jo Cochran, superior; Dorothy Deavener, superior; Joyce Daniel, excellent; Billie June Sturdevant, excellent; and Monalee Ellis, excellent. All contestants receiving superior ratings were awarded medals.

Two solos entering the contest from the Memphis band were Eudine Gable, snare drum, and Jeanne Way, trombone. Eudine received a good rating and Jeanne a superior rating.

At 8:18 the Memphis band completed in the marching contest. Ratings received by the Memphis participants were: concert, good rating; sight-reading, fair rating; and marching, excellent.

The Memphis aggregation arrived at Canyon at 10:15 a. m. The brass sextet went directly to the auditorium to play its contest number, "Memories of Stephen Foster," and won an "excellent" rating.

The concert of the Memphis band's contest was scheduled for 12 o'clock sharp, and then the band went to the band house for the sight-reading contest.

The importance and necessity of crop histories are explained in more detail in the following statement issued by Mr. Lynn McKown, Secretary of Hall County ACA:

Some farmers do not fully understand the importance of reporting their crop history and are neglecting to report the acreages of crops planted on their farms for the years 1945 through 1949.

The work now being done is at the request of the United States Department of Agriculture, which request that crop history be established for every farm in the United States to assist the local ACA in issuing allotments of cotton and wheat in the event marketing quotas and allotments are needed in future years.

The farmer who cooperates with the Local AAA Office and supplies the crop history will be in a much better position to obtain a correct allotment of cotton and wheat when allotments are issued than the man who has not supplied this information, because crop histories will be estimated on all farms on which it has not been supplied, and an estimated acreage can never be as correct as the acreage reported by the man who planted the crop.

The local AAA office has no definite information regarding the method which will be used in establishing allotments. Any opinions expressed on this subject is purely a guess, for any law regarding the establishing of farm allotments of cotton and wheat is subject to the action of the Congress of the United States and no information on this subject has been furnished yet.

Time for completing the acreage reports in Hall County May 13, 1949. Only one week away and all persons who have an interest in any farm land as a tenant or landlord would make it their business to see that this report is in before the closing date.

This crop history is positively necessary for the farmer to benefit by establishing allotments. The Government insists, and less than a week remains to get them in.

The State Highway Commission has given most careful consideration to the request and recognizes the merit of further improvement on this highway and I am requested to inform you of their desire to authorize further construction on the road at such time as funds can be made available.

State Highway 70 is one of the many State Highways on the system which must be supported entirely from State revenue sources. Since all maintenance and betterment as well as the matching of Federal funds for construction must come from State fund sources, there is a very small balance at the disposal of the Highway Commission which can be used for construction on the State routes. The Commission is heavily involved in attempting to finance construction on this highway in Gray, Roberts and Ochiltree Counties and is not in position at this time to finance additional sections of construction. You may be assured of their interest, however.

Hornflies, Ticks Are A Couple To Watch

Hornflies and Lone Star ticks are a couple of pests Texas stockmen ought to be on the lookout for, warns James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

Both are showing up on the cattle along about this time of the year, Deer says, and both of them should be controlled in order to keep up beef and milk production. Insects keep cattle in a nervous condition and often cause wounds that come infested with screw worms.

The most effective control for hornflies is DDT. Animals sprayed or dipped with eight pounds of 50 percent DDT wettable powder in 100 gallons of water will be protected from hornflies for at least 10 to 15 days. Two or three treatments of DDT in the spring and early summer and one more in the fall usually kills the hornflies for a year.

Dipping or spraying at two week intervals will put a stop to the Lone Star tick. Control should be started in the spring as soon as the ticks are found and continued until no more are seen, Deer says. A combination of BHC and DDT is recommended for tick control. The same amount of DDT is used here as in the hornfly remedy. Mix this with four pounds of 6 percent wettable gamma BHC in 100 gallons of water. Mix the chemicals first in a small amount of water, then add this mixture to the spray tank or dipping vat.

But whether you're chasing away the hornflies or getting rid of ticks, Deer reminds the cattle owners not to use DDT on dairy cows nor beef cattle that will be slaughtered within 30 days.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK
 National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Sighting

Gun sights are used to point the rifle at the target and it is important to learn to sight perfectly. An error of 1/10 inch in sight alignment will place the bullet two inches from the center of a target only 50 feet away—a bad miss.

gets you aim at the bottom of the bull rather than at the center. That is because you are likely to lose sight of the black post within the black bullseye.

Aiming and shooting at bullseye targets is not only a great sport with many thousands of adherents throughout the world, but it is also the finest training for any kind of shooting. If you can't hit a bullseye that is standing still how can you expect to hit a live target that is moving?

(This instruction based on the booklet, "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Newspapers Have Huge Interest In Forest Products

If all the trees harvested last year to make newsprint were planted in one area they would almost cover the State of Rhode Island, W. F. Jibb, editorial director, American Forest Products Industries, said at the National Editorial Association meeting New York on April 23.

"Over five billion cords of wood went into the production of more than five million tons of newsprint," he stated, "and so you can see that forestry is important to your business."

American Forest Products Industries, Washington, D. C., is a non-profit organization supported by the lumber, pulp and paper, and plywood industries of the United States.

"Our primary purpose is to encourage tree growing, forest management, and forest fire prevention in the United States. Also we are interested in developing a public awareness of the importance of our forest resources through the use of educational publicity," Jibb added.

AFPI in its educational program furnished 845,000 pieces of forest literature to 56,000 schools last year. It also supplied pictures from its photo library, forestry facts, and material for publication in newspapers, magazines and on radio stations.

"Because we are vitally interested in tree growing in the United States we are particularly concerned with three programs we sponsor on a national basis," he declared. "They are the American Tree Farm System, Keep America Green, and More Trees for America programs."

The Tree Farm System is designed to encourage woodland owners to practice good forestry management, and to give recognition to those who do. Since it was launched in 1941 the system has spread to 23 states and nearly 18 million acres have been certified as tree farms in the program.

Keep America Green seeks the cooperation of the public to prevent forest fires on our woodland areas. It is a direct approach to people who are responsible for 90 out of 100 of our forest fires, seeking their cooperation in order to stop the careless fires. Also launched in 1941, this program is now adopted in 25 of our states.

The More Trees for America is the latest of the AFPI programs. It was launched in Alabama on January, 1948, and has since spread to Virginia, New Hampshire, and the State of Washington. This program goes one step farther by not only interesting woodland owners in protecting, managing, and harvesting their trees but also in showing them how. It points up the fact that trees can usually be harvested as a profitable yearly cash crop.

Cotton Classing Is Without Cost For 1 Of Every Two Bales

One out of every two bales of cotton ginned in Texas the past season was classed without cost for nearly 97,000 farmers in Smith-Doxey improvement groups.

This same service will be available again this year, John L. McCollum, southwest area manager, Production and Marketing Administration's cotton branch, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dallas, announced.

Participation in Texas was higher last year than at any time since the program went into operation 11 years ago and prospects indicate it will be even higher this season, McCollum pointed out.

Latest count shows farmers ginned over one and a half million bales on which they received classification and market news service, both without cost. Total ginnings for the state amounted to more than 3 million bales.

Any organized improvement group which adopts a variety of cotton files application, arranges for sampling and meets certain other requirements is eligible for this service on the coming crop.

Applications should be filed as soon as members have planted their cotton, but not later than July 1 for all counties lying entirely or for the most part east of the 100th meridian, and July 15 for those lying entirely or for the most part west of the 100th meridian. Latest date which applications may be received is August 1 for the eastern block of counties and August 15 for the western block.

Instructions and application blanks may be obtained from county agricultural agents, offices of Production and Marketing Administration, the area cotton branch office, or cotton classing offices in Austin, Dallas, Galveston, Lubbock and Abilene, McCollum explained.

It Takes Mowing, Care, To Keep Lawn Looking Its Best

It takes mowing, watering and fertilizing to keep a yard looking its best.

That's the word from Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College. Regular mowing with a sharp, properly adjusted mower keeps your lawn looking neat and helps the grass grow and spread.

How high the grass is mowed depends on what grass you have. Bermuda, St. Augustine or centipede grass can be mowed closely if the yard is well fertilized. The fescues and bluegrass should be mowed at one and a half inches or higher, Miss Hatfield says.

Now about watering the lawn. If you have the water supply to do this during the hot, dry weather, it's best to soak the ground thoroughly now and then—just soak long enough to keep the plants alive.

Here's a point to remember,

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Fly casting is easier to learn than plug casting, insists Jason Lucas, and the man should know, since he's one of the country's best known angling authorities. That is, it's easier if you get good equipment.

The "good enough to learn with" won't work in casting a fly. Even an expert can't do anything resembling good fly casting with a poor rod, so why should a beginner think he can learn properly on one?

Get a rod that is at least reasonably good. See that it has true "dry-fly action"—quite stiff in the lower parts with action mainly toward the front. This is much the best for wet-fly too.

And remember this: you don't and can't cast the fly; it's far too light to go anywhere. In fact, the smaller and lighter the fly, the farther and more easily you can cast. You cast the line, so it must have weight enough to carry itself out. Always dress your line with a good floatant, even for wet-fly fishing, or you can't pick

Anna Jarvis Spent Life In Mother's Day Crusade

Mother's Day will be celebrated for the first time this year without the active blessing of its founder, Miss Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia.

Miss Jarvis, who almost single-handed created the nation's most sentimental holiday 42 years ago, died last November in a Pennsylvania sanatorium. She was 84, weak with the infirmities of age and almost forgotten by the public.

Anna Jarvis grew up in Grafton, W. Va., where her mother taught Sunday School in St. Andrew's Methodist Church. Each year Mrs. Jarvis conducted a celebration honoring the mothers of her Sunday School pupils.

In 1905, when Anna Jarvis was 41, her mother died. Anna spent the rest of her life in a great crusade to establish the second Sunday in May as a memorial to her own mother and to mothers all over the nation.

She arranged the country's first Mother's Day service in May, 1907. Held in St. Andrew's Church, it was dedicated to Mrs. Jarvis and all the mothers of Taylor County.

The next year, Anna Jarvis persuaded Philadelphia to proclaim the first city-wide Mother's Day. At her urging, West Virginia made Mother's Day a State-wide holiday in 1912, and Pennsylvania followed suit the next year.

With single-minded tenacity, Anna Jarvis made innumerable speeches before men's and women's clubs and meetings of all kinds. She carried on extensive correspondence with governors, statesmen, clergymen, and editors.

Public response was enthusiastic. Congratulatory letters piled so high that she purchased an adjoining house for storage purposes.

In 1914, Anna Jarvis' persuasive pen won over President Wilson himself. He signed a joint Congressional Resolution lauding the American mother as "the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration." It established Mother's Day permanently and authorized federal display of the flag "as a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country."

In the succeeding years, Miss Jarvis spent every penny of the moderate fortune left by her mother in establishing Mother's Day as a deep-rooted American tradition. During these years, too, she cared for her younger sister Elsie, blind since birth.

The carnation was suggested as official Mother's Day flower by Anna Jarvis because it had been her mother's favorite. Gradually the custom developed of wearing red carnations to honor living mothers, and white boutonnières for deceased mothers.

In 1943, a small group of her friends and admirers was shocked to discover that Anna Jarvis was penniless, ill, and nearly blind. They immediately placed her in Marshall Square Sanatorium in West Chester, Pa., where she was comfortably cared for during her declining years.

Devoted sons and daughters will be honoring more than their own mothers when they shower them with gifts and affectionate Mother's Day greeting cards on Sunday, May 8. They will be paying tribute to the idealism and it up cleanly from the water—and an awkward pickup of a long "drowned" line can easily break a good rod.

A level line will do at first, but a double taper is better—a three-diameter is best. With either of these last, cut off the level front to about three feet. And begin with a tapered leader of six feet.

The best way to learn fly casting, when no coach is available, is for two beginners to practice together, one to observe while the other casts. The chief faults to watch for are these: starting the upswing too high; bringing the rod tip too far back; and poor timing on the backcast. In the last, a whiplike crack means the timing is too fast; line falling or going dead means the timing is too slow.

Before starting your cast, get about 20 feet of line out—any way. Hold the rod level or parallel with the water, thumb extended on top of the grip. Pull the line in with your left hand to straighten it raising the rod no higher than 30 degrees from its horizontal position.

Then without pausing and with increasing speed, sweep the rod up, trying hard to toss line straight up. (You can't but you'll avoid, a low backcast.) Then stop the rod suddenly so the tip is just barely back of your head. Now pause until the line is almost straight behind you. Then "shoot" your line—sweep the rod out and upward a little; this movement begins slow and ends fast. Aim several feet above your mark so the line will straighten in the air and not splash on the water or roll out on it.

Practice diligently, and pretty soon you'll have that fly landing exactly where you want it to land.

Make Plans Now For Chickens In Freezer

We all want plenty of chicken on the table every season of the year, and the foods specialists for the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College tell us that putting them in the freezer is a good way to insure this.

"Chicken in the Freezer" is the name of a leaflet from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which gives directions for freezing stewing hens as well as the younger birds. If your county home demonstration agent doesn't have an extra copy, then write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. for this leaflet, number AIS-74.

The leaflet gives directions for handling broilers, bakers and stewing hens, and also for the unit and the commercial locker plant.

Check Premises For Parasite Pests

The parasite causing coccidiosis is so small to see, but the symptoms it causes in poultry, sheep and cattle are easy to spot.

The disease affects the intestinal tract of many animals as well as chickens, says Dr. W. C. Banks, extension veterinarian of Texas A. & M. College. The passage of this droppings sometimes mixed with blood is one of the first symptoms noted in coccidiosis. The animals are listless and eat very little, becoming lean and weak in a few days.

The disease is common to most parts of Texas, and it is commonly believed that most cases occur in animals confined in unsanitary pens or lots. However, it may show up in animals on pasture, too. Generally, a contaminate water hole is responsible for such attacks.

Sometimes called red dysentery, this disease is best handled through prevention, Dr. Banks says. When large herds of cattle are fed outdoors, muddy wet ground around haystacks, feed troughs and watering places becomes a problem. Fill in the low spots and provide sufficient drainage so the ground will dry out from time to time. Remove barnyard fertilizer to the fields. This helps prevent coccidiosis and builds crop and pasture yields at the same time. A change in the feeding place sometimes is a good idea.

Since this disease hits the younger animals — from four months to two years of age—it is advisable to separate this age group from the older animals. This is especially true for the calves under four months of age. Infected animals should be penned off to themselves and left alone as much as possible.

Treatment of diseased animals is best accomplished with drugs, mainly sulfaguanidine, says Dr. Banks. This drug is more effective if given four times a day. One grain of the drug per pound of animal is the recommended dosage. For example, a 500 pound calf might need 500 grains a day, or roughly one ounce.

The treatment should be divided into four doses, so one-quarter ounce at a time is recommended. It isn't difficult to treat coccidiosis in animals, Dr. Banks concludes.

Of each dollar received by American farmers, 31 cents came from the sale of meat animals.

Muddled Confusion Over Use of DDT In Dairy Disinfection

Texas dairymen seem to be over-alarmed about the recent reports on the use of DDT, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

So, let's get straightened out on the DDT situation right now.

Nobody has died from effects of DDT in milk. In fact, there aren't even any recorded cases of sickness caused by milk produced from DDT-sprayed dairy cows. When cows are sprayed, or when DDT is used to spray dairy barns, small quantities can sometimes be detected in the milk supply. It hasn't hurt anybody so far, but the food specialists feel that such an important food item as milk should be free of any trace of this material. So the recommendation against the use of DDT is merely a precautionary measure, says Deer.

That's why methoxychlor or pyrethrum insecticides have been recommended in place of the DDT for insect control both on the cattle and in the dairy barns as well.

And the warning about feeding

Ida Red, Kentuckians At Eli School May 10

The Eli Mothers' Club is sponsoring a noted radio band at the Eli school, next Tuesday, May 10th.

It is "Ida Red and Her Kentuckians" of radio fame. The show will start at 8 o'clock, and admission charge will be 50c for adults, 25c, students. Everybody invited.

The total number of employed during 1948, according to the U. S. Census Bureau, was 59,500,000, a record-breaking year.

Juvenile delinquency has increased materially since the woodshed gave way to the gas tank.

DDT sprayed forage is dairy cattle or animals being finished for slaughter still holds. It isn't a good practice, says Deer, since traces of the insecticide may show up in the finished product.

Don't give up the DDT altogether though, the entomologist continues. It's still recommended for livestock other than dairy animals and many crop pests as well. If there's still any doubt about what insecticide to use, see your county agent, advises Deer.

Plan Campaign To Sell Butter

Advertising dairy products is getting the hearty endorsement of Texas farmers who will contribute $60,000 to the $1,500,000 being raised through the nation.

Dr. A. V. Moore, State ADA President, reports they are backing this belief by enthusiastic endorsement of their own product promotion program to bolster sagging dairy markets.

Everywhere in this state, farmers are joining their neighbors across the nation in the June ADA drive to set aside funds for 30 days to provide for 365 days of advertising activities on dairy products.

Rallying to their own cause, dairy farmers point out that "advertising and merchandising work for others in building sales, and they'll work for us" through the business action program of the American Dairy Association.

Dr. Moore says the per capita advertising expenditure every year for beer is 10 cents, soft drinks invest 7 cents per person, cigarettes spend 24 cents per person for advertising. Soap leads them all with 39 cents per capita

Former Memphis Girl Is Proud Mother

The Democrat has received the news that Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Triggs, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., are the proud parents of a five pound, six ounce daughter, born Friday, April 29.

Mrs. Triggs will be remembered by her friends in Memphis as Miss Muffet Merrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Merrell. The newcomer's name is Muffet Ann.

invested in the power of advertising.

Most striking, he says, is the sharp contrast in advertising expenditures between butter and its competition, oleomargarine. Last year margarine interests spent 4 cents per capita for advertising while butter's total promotion bill amounted to less than one-fifth of a cent per person. In other words, he said, margarine spent 20 times as much for advertising as did butter.

Fire Department Will Send 2 Men To State Meeting

Two members of the Memphis fire department will attend the annual convention of state firemen in Galveston June 14 through June 16.

Selected as delegates to represent Memphis are Bill Vardeman and Don Jenner. While at the meeting they will have a chance to study modern methods of fire fighting and see the latest equipment.

Fireman Vardeman stated that expert fire fighters from Texas as well as other states will attend the meeting. There will also be representatives of both mechanical and chemical firms to explain the latest developments in improved fire fighting equipment.

Teachers' Sales Show Slight Gain

AUSTIN—Texas wholesalers showed a 2-per-cent increase in sales from January to February, matching the rise in inventories for the same period, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

In comparison with a year earlier, sales of Texas wholesalers rose 6 per cent, while their inventories stepped up 18 per cent from February 1948.

will need nearly twice as many teachers as the present number, she said.

During the war years, systems were forced to teach standards due to shortage of teachers.

estimated nearly 52,000 teachers is a minimum number indicated by Miss Walker of Texas' tremendous growth industrially.

"Texas is growing industrially far more rapidly than the average person realizes," she said.

"Should the state continue to attract industry as successfully as it has during the last seven or eight years, our schools will have thousands of more pupils than any of the surveys indicate."

Those factors made the future of great concern, especially in Texas, Miss Walker declared, because most schools in the state are now badly overcrowded.

"It is impossible for our schools to absorb additional pupils in any number," she said. "Another recent survey disclosed that nearly half of the schoolrooms are already overcrowded."

"Texans have every right to expect high standards in education, but we cannot improve it as long as our teachers are not fully qualified and they are required to teach over-size classes. It is not fair to the pupils."

"Finding tens of thousands of new teachers is a problem of concern to everyone and a problem to which our colleges are giving considerable thought. This year there were twelve teaching positions open to every student who graduated from one of our colleges trained to teach school."

Yes, We Do Have A West Texas Brogue

You don't have to see a West Texan walking to tell him from his East Texas brother—his speech habits will mark him almost every time.

That's the conclusion of Dr. E. S. Clifton, North Texas State College English professor who is conducting a research project to study speech habits of Texas. Usage of certain words almost conclusively draws a line between an East and West Texan, he says.

Chances are that a West Texan has never heard of "blinky" milk; whereas almost any East Texan knows that it is soured milk. The words "where" and "nor" tend to come out as "whur" and "nur" when West Texans use them, Dr. Clifton points out.

Dr. Clifton's study, to be published upon completion, includes material on what people call objects, what forms of words they use to express their thoughts, and how they pronounce them.

Students and Guests Enjoy Elaborate Junior-Senior Banquet At Estelline

Featuring one of the most elaborate and beautiful banquets in the school's history, the Estelline Junior Class honored the Estelline Junior Senior Class and other friends with a banquet on Friday evening, April 21.

The affair was held in the basement of the First Methodist church which was decorated for the occasion. Banquet tables were encircled with streamers of royal blue crepe paper dotted with shining assorted sizes of stars, and the half moon gleamed in the west. It was a veritable candle lighting time.

Placed at intervals on the tables were bouquets of snapdragons, yellow roses and tulips on mirror reflectors and flanked by tall lighted tapers. Circling the flowers, which were arranged in low containers, were floating lighted candles. Marking each place was a program booklet, the covers of which were beautifully decorated with hand painted candles. Mint cups were yellow and pink tulips filled with multi-colored mints. Favors were four leaf clovers on which were glued good luck pennies.

The menu included chilled fruit cocktail, Virginia baked ham, potato ring with corn, golden wax beans, candle salad, rolls, fruit sundae and assorted cakes. On each dessert plate was a miniature candle and each candle was lighted during the after dinner speech.

Gene Jouett served as toastmaster for the evening and under his direction an excellent program was presented. Junior girls in an impressive candle lighting service, lighted the candle representing her color and gave the characteristic each person should develop. Carleta Berry, Joan Crawford, Ernestine Rea, Billie Lois Walker, Annis Bruce, Mary Baskin used the following: orange, ambition; pink, tolerance; white, truth, blue, loyalty; yellow, perseverance; silver, temperance; green, courage. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. L. Sloan. Gene Gardenhire played a violin solo, "Berceuse" by Godard accompanied by Mrs. Sloan. Mrs. W. M. Whaley accompanied Ernestine Rea who sang a solo, "Far Away Places," and the junior girls who sang "Galway Bay" and "Cruising Down the River."

Gerald Fowler brought the address of welcome to which Edward Butler responded. To furnish humor on the program the junior class gave a gift, a miniature toy, to each senior. In response, Nita Jean Trapp read the last will.

Reverend Carl Hudson, who was the principal speaker of the evening, entranced his listeners with his dynamic personality and with the pertinence of his remarks. He urged the young people to send their light through the world, to accept responsibilities and to develop qualities brought to mind in the candle lighting ceremony. Rev. Hudson is the pastor of the Methodist Church of Kirkland.

Those present included: Seniors, Harold Burk, Joan Burnett, Edward Butler, Louise Chaudoin, Gerald Fowler, Bill Gilbert, Jimmie Hayes, Wayland Marcum, Nell McLean, Allen Spruill, Thelma Spruill, Nita Jean Trapp and Frank Wheeler; juniors, Mary Baskin, Carleta Berry, Joan Crawford, Annis Bruce, Gene Gardenhire, Bobby Helm, Charles May, James Misenhimer, Ernestine Rea, Clifton Smith, and Billie Lois Walker.

Faculty members and their husbands or wives included Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. B. Doughty, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bourns, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Britt, and Mrs. Daisy Kennedy; board members, Mr. and Mrs. Hulen Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Bruce, others; Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Cooper, Ted Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gardenhire and Mr. and Mrs. John Chaudoin.

Junior mothers furnished and prepared the delicious food. C. O. Gregory and his wife and sponsors of the junior class, Mrs. Gregory was in charge of banquet plans. Waitresses were Emma Lou Sibley, Monna Burk, Novella Weddill, Bobbie Davis, Joan Bean, Betty Richerson, Helen Jouett, and Athelen Jones. They were dressed in pastel colored organdy ballet length dresses. The formally dressed young ladies with colorful corsages and the handsomely attired young men added much to the attractiveness of the occasion.

J. C. Penney Co. To Hold Style Show; Public Is Invited

Featuring the first style show to be held in Memphis in recent years, the local J. C. Penney Company will present cotton creations from the four leading style centers of the world on Monday afternoon, May 9 at 2:30 o'clock in the Ritz Theatre.

Haskell J. Howell, manager of the store, extended an invitation to the women throughout this section to be present for his showing.

"A wide variety of styles ranging in age from four years up and featuring the latest in cotton materials will be shown," Mr. Howell stated.

"We are giving this show as part of our store's Cotton Carnival merchandising program for the month of May," Mr. Howell added.

Local models who have been selected to appear during the show include: Dorothy Vandeventer, Mary Dru McCallum, Ella Mae Kerschville, Joe Fowler, Hickey, Fleta Dennis, Natalie Edmondson, Shirley Foster, Jean Vallance and Joy Baten.

EVER WATCH A PHARMACIST FILL A PRESCRIPTION?

Each drug the pharmacist uses was produced by a responsible pharmaceutical or chemical company in which he has implicit confidence. He knows that every medicinal substance on the shelves of his prescription room has been subjected to strict tests and analyses to insure its purity, quality, and strength. He would use no drug which hadn't been so tested. Even with this knowledge, however, the pharmacist fills every prescription with a deep sense of personal responsibility. He checks and rechecks every ingredient he uses and every step in his compounding technic. He examines the contents of each bottle carefully as he takes it from the shelf. He looks at it critically, he may take the stopper out and smell it, he may even taste a bit of it. He fills every prescription with the exacting care he would exercise if the medicine were for a member of his own family.

1948 Was Good Hog Year; 1949 Offers Better Prospects

COLLEGE STATION—Last year was a good year as far as the hog raisers were concerned. They set an all-time state record for the number of pigs saved per litter. The average was 6.4 pigs per litter, far above any previous year. Great progress is being made in improving the quality of hogs raised in Texas, says E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman of Texas A. & M. College. Hogs of excellent breeding are found in all sections of the state. More than 15,400 adults and 4-H club members conducted hog demonstrations last year, using improved breeding stock and following recommended practices in carrying out their swine improvement programs. Good green pastures are pretty valuable to have in the hog raising program, and most producers know how the costs of gains can be lowered if these pastures are available. Last summer's drought taught others the real meaning of deficiency diseases. Good grazing crops generally supply all the vitamin requirements necessary in a ration. They also supply most of the mineral and about one-half of the protein requirements of the ration as well. When the dry summer parched Texas pastures, the result was an increase of the deficiency diseases of swine. The effect of this on the hog producers was strong. Minerals and vitamins have taken a new meaning, and hog raisers now know their value in a prop-

Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World

The theme of national home demonstration week, May 1-7, will be "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World" and the forty thousand members of nearly two thousand clubs in Texas will give recognition to leaders and achievements in their own communities. Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration agent, and vice-director for women for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service has announced that the Texas Home Demonstration Association and the Extension staff will join in the observance this year. Through special events, news stories and radio the home demonstration club women will tell their friends and neighbors of the objectives and activities of home demonstration work. They will let families tell of their achievements and have group discussion of problems that affect rural families today. The relationship of the home demonstration work to the entire extension program will be clarified, and recognition given to volunteer local leaders whose services in the communities have resulted in the better understanding of public problems on a local, state, national and international scale. Miss Hearn says that clubs are planning special skits to be presented at meetings where leaders will be honored. Regular radio programs by the agents and club members will tell the story of home demonstration achievements, and special broadcasts will dramatize these developments. In a special message to home demonstration club women, she says, "In observing this week in various ways as each community demands, I hope that you, as well as others who are not members of home demonstration clubs, may realize the scope and flexibility of your organization. You are probably the largest organization of rural women in America. Besides mastering the many phases of home living that are available to you, you work as any organized group for man things, that are beneficial to our communities, such as scholarship funds, libraries, health, safety, 'exchange programs' with other countries. "Your responsibility to your communities, to your nation, and to other nations, is to help those who are not acquainted with the demonstration club work to benefit personally through it, and that you may benefit by the growth of your organization."

Hospital Drive On Mother's Day Plan of Baptists

Memphis Baptists are expected to cooperate with the Texas State group to observe Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8, by giving funds to help the six Baptist hospitals in the state.

According to information received here:

Each year the hospitals sponsor the Mother's Day offering program in Texas Baptist churches. The money is used solely for giving free hospitalization to those who are ill but unable to pay for treatment.

Sunday School classes, Woman's Missionary unions, men's Brotherhood groups and church congregations will participate. The money is to go to Hendrick Memorial hospital, Abilene; Baylor hospital, Dallas; Valley Baptist hospital, Harlingen; Memorial hospital, Houston; Hillcrest Memorial, Waco; and Southeast Texas Baptist hospital, Beaumont.

Free Service Given

Last year the Baptist hospitals in the state cared for 68,000 patients. They treated 13,500 charity patients on a free or part-pay basis. Total cost of the free service, exclusive of the free time given by physicians, amounted to almost $400,000.

Of the total spent on charity in the hospitals, the 1948 Mother's Day fund provided $51,000. This was applied to the accounts of 256 of the needy persons. Patients are accepted under this program from all over the state, regardless of denomination. They must be recommended by three officers of a Baptist church.

Upon discharge, the patient cared for under the Mother's Day plan receives a statement marked "Paid by the Baptist Churches of Texas."

Directing the observance are the hospital administrators E. M. Collier, Abilene; Lawrence Payne, Dallas; John Dudley, Houston; K. P. Walker, Harlingen; Julian Pace, Waco; and L. E. Staff, chairman of the hospital board, Beaumont.

Memorial Shelf Of Books At Memphis Carnegie Library

A most attractive contribution to the Memphis Carnegie Library has just been made by Mrs. James Norman.

It is the memorial shelf in memory of her mother, Mrs. Annie Stone, and is called the "Annie Stone Memorial Shelf."

The books are in a beautiful cabinet made and contributed by Mr. Robert Queener. It is a real work of art.

The books so far consist of the Adam Clark Bible Commentary of six volumes, and a set of eight volumes of travel books, called the "Look at America" set, published by the publishers of "Look" Magazine.

Volumes already received are "New York City," "The Midwest," "The Southwest," "The Far West," "Central Northwest," and "South."

The books are profusely illustrated.

County Voc. Ag. Class Visits Potts Hereford Ranch

Last Saturday, April 30, the Hall County Vocational agriculture took out for a field day at the Tomie Potts Registered Hereford ranch, near Hedley.

The purpose was to study the beef cattle breeding business and what a ranch of high-class registered cattle is like.

The class demonstration began early in the morning and lasted till noon, with Mr. Potts himself conducting the study, and explaining the points of the business in detail.

The instructor of the class is U. F. Coker, and it meets in the evenings on Tuesday and Thursday at the Memphis high school. On alternate Saturdays there is shop and demonstrations.

Members of the class who were on the trip were:

SOIL MEET IN W. B. HOOSER'S OFFICE MAY 10th: OTHER NEWS OF DISTRICT

Local Team, Magnum, Play Today

An exhibition game between the powerful Magnum team and the Memphis Owls will be played tonight in Estes Park.

Magnum is the team which defeated the Owls last year in the final game which put the Owls in second place in the Red River Valley semi-pro baseball league.

On Saturday night the Owls will play Wellington in another exhibition game. The regular Sunday league game will be held in Estes Park against Aldis, Okla.

Smarting from a 3-0 defeat from the Mobeetie team, the Owls are out from revenge. A win from the team which robbed them of the league title last year is what the Owls are going to try for tonight.

In last Sunday's game the Mobeetie team, strengthened by a powerful group of players from the Pampa Club, defeated the Owls 3-0. Doc Pittman, Owl pitcher, held the Mobeetie players to five hits.

Bating against Chetoviced, the pitcher the Mobeetie team acquired from Elk City, Okla., the Owls garnered four hits but could not score. Metz LaFollette, right fielder, led with a triple and double. Bus Gorman, Owl first baseman, clouted a triple and Leslie Pruitt hit a single.

Other league games scheduled for this week are between Shamrock, Childress and Mobeetie, Dumas. This week Wellington is in the lead.

The Supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District will hold their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, May 10 in the office of W. B. Hooser, County Agent, J. L. Brooks, Chairman of the Board will preside over the meeting.

Ross Gentry, who is a cooperator of the District has just completed planting 1 1/4 acres Blue Panic and 2 acres King Ranch Bluestem grass on his farm in the Eli community. Gentry plans to turn this land back to permanent pasture. The King Ranch Bluestem seed was furnished by the Hall County District. The Soil Conservation Service furnished help in planting the grass.

A. G. Martin, District cooperator of the Newlin community, overseeded 14 acres of pasture with sand lovegrass this spring, on the Gussett farm. Martin is also spraying for weed control along the fence lines on the portion of the Vera Dial Dickey ranch he is farming 7 miles South of Memphis. Mrs. Dickey and all her tenants are working with the District.

Nelson Combest planted 35 acres of Austrian winter peas on his farm 2 miles South of Memphis last September. He reports he has grazed 25 head of cattle on these peas for 2 months. Combest planted the peas when the land was dry. Some came up the last of September and in October. They survived through the ice storm in January and he began grazing in March.

L. A. Richards, Jr., 3 miles West of Memphis on Indian Creek, planted approximately 5 acres of grass mixture consisting of Sand Love, Bermuda and Alfalfa. The planting was done on sandy land which had a dead growth of weed covering to help prevent wind erosion.

O. L. "Buster" Helm has completed a system of terraces on his farm in the Gilpin community. Helm has been working with the District since he purchased this farm in 1947 and reports "it sure looks better."

Bees Start The Job, Farmer Finishes It, And Reaps A Profit

The bees start the job of harvesting the clover seed and the farmers finish it.

It's up to the bees to pollinate the clover blossoms. Then three weeks later, the seed matures, says Robert R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist of Texas A. & M. College. When about 75 percent of the heads are brown, the clover crop is ready for harvest. One beehive per acre or in near a patch of white clover will increase seed production.

A very satisfactory method of harvesting is to cut the white or hop clover with a mower when the seed is mature, but before shattering starts. Rake it at once with a side-delivery rake, or use a buncher attached to the mower cutter-bar.

A dump rake doesn't work very well with clover, says Lancaster, but may be used if light dumps are made. Cure the hay in the windrow and turn it over if rain comes. After two or three days it should be ready to hull. A combine with pick-up attachment is recommended for hulling. A threshing machine with huller attachments, or a clover huller may also be used.

Otherwise, clover seed can be saved in the chaff by cutting and curing, then thrown roughly from a wagon onto the floor or a clean space on the ground. Beat it with forks and shake it as the straw is thrown off. This leaves the chaff behind, and the seed in the chaff can be handled in large bags and seeded by hand or mixed with barnyard fertilizer and spread.

Lancaster says the simplest method of saving clover seed is in the hay. The crop may be raked or bunched as for threshing, then scattered as thinly as possible over the land to be seeded.

Or, the hay can be cured and stored in the barn for spreading out later on in the early part of the fall, concludes the pasture specialist.

Now, getting back to bees. What they mean in the pollination clover crops is fully explained above, that they earn for the farmer in increased clover seed production more than their own value on every acre for which there is a colony of bees.

State Health Dept. Inspector Sees Grade 'A' Dairies In Hall

A long-delayed State inspection of dairies and dairy farms was made Friday of last week when two inspectors from the State Health Department spent the day and part of Saturday, checking Grade "A" plants in Hall and surrounding counties.

With only minor exceptions, the inspectors reported, they found all Grade "A" dairy farms in this area in splendid condition and complying with all regulations.

They made a thorough check-up of the new processing dairy plant of the Hall County Dairy in Memphis and found it "as modern as a dairy plant can be, and an outstanding example of a Grade 'A' plant."

There has been great progress, the inspectors indicated, in the production of milk and dairy products within the past few years in Texas. They find, they said, that a large majority of Texas farmers are eager to produce clean dairy products, and make every effort to comply with State regulations.

To qualify for Grade "A" rating, the inspectors explained, the first step is the premises, the milking barn and milk room in particular, which must be built by State Health Department specifications. Plans and blue prints may be obtained for Grade "A" buildings by writing to the Department in Austin, or seeing the county farm agent of any county.

There are several plans of Grade "A" buildings, and the cost varies with the size of the building, and differences of modern conveniences which may be installed, and the cost of the milk-handling equipment.

Grade "A" milk will always be found under the label, Grade "A" on the bottle cap, or container, if it is a fiber container, but never without the label.

The label Grade "A" can not be used by any dairy or creamery unless the plant has been approved as Grade "A", since the label is protected by strict state laws which make it a misdemeanor, punishable upon conviction, by a heavy fine.

When milk is offered for sale with plain bottle caps, which do not state that it is Grade "A", it is almost certain that the milk so offered is not Grade "A", and usually does not even reveal the name of the producer.

"Thus, the consumer may protect himself and family against inferior milk if he wants to," the inspectors emphatically insisted, "by observing the bottle cap for the Grade 'A' label. All such milk comes from Grade 'A' dairies where all the cows have been TB

Sue Ann Roberts Is On Tech Honor Roll

Miss Sue Ann Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Roberts of Memphis, is one of the 178 students of Texas Tech who received recognition for outstanding scholastic service. She is a student in Arts and Sciences.

A special service was held for the group in connection with annual Parent's Day on the campus, Sunday, May 1.

This year 168 students have qualified. The upper three percent of each class (freshman, sophomore, junior, senior) in each of the five divisions, arts & sciences, home economics, engineering, business administration, agriculture, is included in the service. Those students included in recognition are listed below by towns, alphabetically. For your convenience.

Stewart's Bear Cubs Win Softball Game Over Eighth Grade

Stewart's Bear Cub softball team played Mr. Childress' team, the 8th Grade last Friday at the City Park, and won by a score of 14 to 3.

In the second game of the double header, the Cubs were defeated.

These High School class teams play Wednesdays and Fridays at the city park, after school is dismissed.

Dr. O. L. Power visited here a short while Monday morning with Mrs. George Cullen. Dr. Power was en route to his home in Wichita Falls from Clarendon, where he preached Sunday at the First Baptist church.

Mrs. T. E. Wright of Albuquerque, N. M., spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Prather. She returned home Tuesday.

And Bangs tested, and the milk produced on clean premises, and under clean conditions. Watch the under clean cap," the inspectors concluded, "and be sure you are using safe milk."

Polio Cases Almost Tripled Same Time Last Year; Doctor Warns to Be Careful

During the first seventeen weeks of 1948 there were only 55 cases of poliomyelitis reported to the State Health Department, while in this same period for 1949, there have been 142 cases reported from different sections of the State, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Seven cases were reported in the past week, with three from one county.

"Poliomyelitis is one of the most dreaded of all diseases," Dr. Cox said, "and justly so. It is more often a crippler than a killer, but in either case it takes a heavy toll among young Texas citizens, and is a health menace against which our children should be carefully guarded."

Immaculate cleanliness of person and homes is urged as a precautionary measure against polio, and community hygiene assumes a place of major importance when the disease makes its appearance. Clean communities, clean homes, and strict personal hygiene all play a part in helping to prevent the spread of diseases, and Dr. Cox advises close inspection of home screens for keeping out flies, and unremitting efforts in rodent control, and the extermination of roaches.

"Until it is definitely understood just how polio is transmitted, it is well to guard against all household pests and eliminate all insanitary conditions," Dr. Cox said. "We do not know with certainty how polio may be spread, and filth, which affords a breeding place for germs, should not be tolerated."

Landscaping of Farm Homes by 4-H Clubs Steadily Increases

The annual number of Texas boys and girls enrolled in the National 4-H Home Grounds Beautification program has steadily increased, and the 1949 figure is expected to follow suit, according to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. On a national scale, enrollment has more than doubled in the last five years.

4-H Club members start out by mapping the farmstead grounds and making plans for improvement. They learn to use flowers, plants, shrubs, trees and grasses in landscaping. Sometimes dad and mother lend a hand in the job, and share the satisfaction of turning the farm home into a beauty spot. "Before" and "after" photos are taken to show results.

For the 12th consecutive year, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago is providing merit awards for 4-H'ers having the most outstanding records of accomplishment in the project. County winners will receive a gold-filled medal of honor, and the state winner a 17-jewel gold watch. Judged on a national basis, eight state winners will be selected to go to the National 4-H Club Congress next fall, all expenses paid.

Texas named 22 county medal winners in the 1948 program. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the activity.

Adrian McDaniel In Phi Alpha Delta

Adrian A. McDaniel son of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. McDaniel of Memphis, was initiated Friday into Phi Alpha Delta, honorary Legal Fraternity at the University of Texas.

Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership and service to the School of Law.

Among the initiates was Governor Beauford H. Jester, member of the Texas Bar and graduate of the Texas Law School class of 1920. Governor Jester was welcomed into the Fraternity by one of their more outstanding members, Judge J. E. Hickman, Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

After the initiation at the Travis County Courthouse a banquet and dance were held at the Austin County Club, honoring the initiates, their wives and guests.

Minister's Wife Is In Dallas Hospital

Mrs. B. L. Peacock, wife of Rev. Peacock, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who has been undergoing treatment at Baylor hospital, Dallas, is reported to be improving.

She has been in the hospital for the last four weeks. Rev. Peacock has been with her during that time. On Sundays he has regularly returned to Memphis to hold services.

Mrs. Peacock expects to leave the hospital in the near future.

Sr. Choral Club Has 2nd Season Concert

The Sr. Choral Club of Memphis High School will present its second concert of the year this coming Tuesday night, May 10, in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p. m. During the first semester the Choral Club gave a concert that was very successful. In the regional competition festival, which was held at Canyon this year, the choral club made an excellent plus rating.

Feature on the program will be the vocal quartet and sextet. Instrumental solos will be given by Roddy Patton and Beverly Snell.

Tickets will be sold by members of the choral club and other school organizations. The student ticket is 25c, adults 50c, and the family ticket $1.00.

Dairy Products In Texas Increase Over Last Year

Texas manufacture of dairy products in March, amounting to 43,429 pounds, milk equivalent, increased 26 per cent from February and rose 10 per cent over March of last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

After adjustment for seasonal variation, the Bureau's index of dairy production gained 6 per cent from February to 64 per cent of the prewar (1935-39) base period.

Manufacture of all types of dairy products was higher in March than it was in February. Reflecting seasonal trends, ice cream production advanced 65 per cent to 1,125,000 gallons in March.

Creamery butter and American cheese output increased 6 per cent from the preceding month. From a year earlier, March production of creamery butter stepped up 19 per cent, while ice cream and American cheese manufacture lagged 2 and 13 per cent, respectively.

May is the month when hens usually are at their peak of production and when, because of big supplies, egg prices are lowest for the year.

HE HELPED RAISE MEMPHIS FROM A PUP, NOW HE IS READY TO RETIRE

"I moved to Memphis in 1906, and as I recall, the town had been incorporated just about two years," asserted J. G. Brown, retiring manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Company.

"So, dating from its official birth, it was a mere two-year old baby, although it had struggled along as a real 'wild western' village since its founding in 1890."

Mr. Brown came to Memphis from Decatur, Texas, where he had gone to work for the lumber company May the first, 1905.

"This year in Decatur was just about as tough from a business standpoint as I ever saw. We sold lumber at $16.50 per thousand feet for the complete house pattern, exclusive of doors, windows and shingles.

J. G. BROWN

"What a contrast when I came to Memphis. The great West Texas boom was just starting, and it lasted at least twenty-five years. In fact, we did not experience any hard times to speak of until after the start of World War II, when it became all but impossible to get any kind of lumber or any other kind of building material. Our normal stock was from a half to a million feet of lumber, and we sold as much as 150 car loads of coal a year.

Saturday, April 30, Mr. Brown completed his full 44 years' service with the Company, to the day, and officially severed his connection with it.

"I went to work for the Company on May 1st, 1905 at $40.00 a month. Since that date, I have never had another working contract with the company. At no time during that 44 years' service has there ever been a word of disagreement or misunderstanding between the company and me. I can't think of a better company to work for. There couldn't be a better one. And in all that time, I never had disagreements with more than two or three customers."

Not one day's work, or pay, did he ever lose doing that service, Mr. Brown said.

The Cicero Smith Lumber Company was originally founded by Cicero Smith, J. L. Johnson and W. E. Connell, then President of the First National Bank of Fort Worth, all of whom lived in Ft. Worth. All of them have passed on to their reward, and J. Lee Johnson, Jr., son of J. L. is now president of the company, and Mrs. W. E. Connell, widow of the founder, is Honorary Vice President. None of the original founders or stockholders is living now.

Mr. Brown especially likes to talk about Memphis and its interesting history. He had been here only about two years when he was elected a member of the city council, and during his administration, the town made great progress.

"It was about that time the first sewerage system was built," he said, "and the start toward a real modern city with electric lights, paved streets and city water system was made."

Mr. Brown has no hesitance in telling his age. He was 75 years old last February. He was born at Kentucky Town Settlement, Grayson County, February 7th, 1874 and christened James Grinnan Brown. Before he was a year old, his family moved to Wise County near Aurora. Shortly afterward the Brown family moved to this new location, the last Indian raid took place in Wise County, and a white family north of Decatur was massacred by the Comanche Indians. His father was one of the settlers who drove the Indians out of the country.

At the age of fifteen Mr. Brown and his family moved to Decatur where he attended school one year. When he was sixteen, he entered Grayson College at White-wright and attended that school for the term of 1891-92. In 1892 he went back to Decatur and worked in the county clerk's office under his father who then held that office.

During this time he also worked for the two following county clerks and served as deputy sheriff and jailor.

January 17, 1898 he was married to Miss Mary Rector of Decatur who died at their home in Memphis Feb. 13, 1936.

In 1898 he quit his sheriff-jailor job and spent 18 months in the county clerk's office and then spent several years in a dry goods store as cashier and bookkeeper.

When he quit that job, he went to work for the Cicero Smith Lumber Company at Decatur as bookkeeper, which was the beginning of his long and faithful tenure which terminated last Saturday.

Mrs. Milam, Church Pianist 50 Years, Named Honoree at Surprise Luncheon

To add spice and flavor to the graciousness of living, a surprise luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. Cicero Milam, when the Woman's Council met for its regular monthly meeting, Monday, April 25, at one o'clock in the banquet room of the First Christian church.

Fifty years ago, as Miss Lena Fore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fore of Memphis, Mrs. Milam started playing for the church. At that time the Christian and Presbyterian congregations met together. Mrs. Milam states she then played an old fashioned organ.

Mrs. Milam played continuously for 50 years and has only recently turned this part of the service over to others.

Mrs. Milam has not only been pianist for the church but has also been its Historian. She has kept a complete record of the church since its beginning.

Preceding the luncheon, Mrs. Milam gave a short history of the church.

After commenting on the history, the president of the council stated she had something to add to it, and then proclaimed Mrs. Milam not only queen for a day, nor a week, but "queen" for all times in the hearts of her co-workers. She then presented her with a china, electric clock and a corsage as tokens of appreciation from the Council.

The following tribute to Mrs. Milam was then given: Gratitude is love's favorite daughter. We all know this to be true, Yet why do we neglect to give praise, When we know that praise is due!

We have in our midst today, A co-worker who long has trod, In the path of His commandments, Walking hand and hand with God!

Following the footsteps of her mother, Her love she has tried to impart, By giving her time and her talent, To the Church so close to her heart.

She is the Historian of this Church, Every event she has diligently kept, And in recording many of the items, We know she has silently wept!

Her unwavering loyalty and service, Is stamped on every mind, She's never been known to criticize, But always so charitable and kind.

We all respect and adore her, This lovely mother and wife, Who has exemplified in this Church, How to live a Christian life!

Her face radiates His purity, Her music, His imprint so true, Her deeds are in His likeness, His love shines through and through!

We feel she knows we love her, Yet very deep down inside, We want her to have a little gift, In which she'll take joy and pride.

So for this gift we've selected, Something to remind her each day Of all the hours and minutes, Not one has she wasted away!

In working for her Lord and Master, She's made every moment count, In inspiring others to live, By the "Sermon on the Mount."

Fifty years of service in music, Is a record of which to be proud, And we name her "queen" today, With praises long and loud!

It's for her we have this corsage, With the hope and old belief, Autographed in its sweetness she'll find, Our love in each petal and leaf!

The Missionary program, under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Roberts followed the luncheon. Those

Good Crops In Sight

Down around Fort Worth and Dallas farmers are crying about too much rain, fields under water, and planting time upon them. It will take two or three weeks, they say down there, for the ground to be dry enough to plant corn and cotton.

Here in Hall County and this particular section of West Texas, we don't often have too much rain. Even we are thankful for small favors in the way of moisture. A half-inch rainfall will make the front page of most newspapers, and if it goes over an inch, the natives think they really are being blessed.

Within two weeks, ending at 10:30 a.m. last Thursday, this area had received 1.78 inches of rainfall, and most of the farmers and ranchers were jubilant.

The wheat crop in this area is looking better than usual, and farmers say it is practically made, even without any more rain, and probably the best crop they have had in years.

Thousands of acres of cotton land are ready, and the rainfall of the past two weeks makes the ground just about right for planting. Within a few days, the planting will start.

This country could use a little more rain than it usually gets, but most of the land is in such condition as to conserve all that it receives. That is, by proper terracing. The average for the state in terraced land is 33 percent participation, yet Hall County is 75 percent, according to Lynn L. McKown of the Hall County ACA.

Scarcity of anything tends to make us take care of what we get. In rainfall the same rule holds.

UNIVERSAL PRAYER ON MOTHERS' DAY

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Another Meany—There was a man who lived by the side of the road and he sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put signs up on the highway, telling how good they were. He stood on the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And the people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove, to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him. But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?" Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Everything's going to pot." Whereupon the father thought "Well, my son's been to college, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know." So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right, Son," the father said to the boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."—Floyd County Hesperian.

BOYS' RANCH

During the past ten years, many fine people have helped make Boys Ranch a home for what are now a lot of splendid citizens. Some have helped by giving horses, cattle, groceries and many other articles essential to maintaining the Ranch. Other people have given money to help pay salaries of the teachers and staff members necessary to supervise over one hundred boys.

But when a man who's been blind since he was three years old, gives you a ten dollar bill, and insists you keep it because he wants to do his part in helping the boys, you take the money—when in reality, you don't feel that you should, but you don't want to offend. Then, as you walk away, you cannot help saying to yourself, "And I thought that I was giving something."

This is what happened in the lobby of the Amarillo Post Office a few Sundays back, when Darrell Webb, the blind gentleman who operates the concession stand, insisted that he have a part in raising other people's boys. We say other peoples, because Darrell has a five-year old son of his own.

When Darrell was a boy of three, he accidentally stuck a knife in one of his eyes, and eventually lost the sight of both. But he hasn't allowed the loss of his sight to hamper his determination to succeed in business. He and his family have their own home in a nice residential district of Amarillo. They are just as much a part of the community as anyone else, simply because Darrell Webb couldn't be whipped.

In dealing with boys who have lost their fathers through divorce or desertion, we so frequently find a youngster who's defeated before he starts—the world to him seems to be revolving in the wrong direction. Our big problem at Boys Ranch, with this type of boy, is to first get his head up and convince him that he does have a right to exist. It's the hopelessness of the future to the youngsters, that causes them to start picking up things that do not belong to them. To them, there's no security—there's nothing ahead but a big stone fence, blocking their every move. What a fine example Darrell Webb has set, not only for boys, but for all of us. Blind at three, never to see again, but fortunate not to be able to see that stone face that blocks the determination of so many. Darrell kept on trying, until today he's a successful businessman if there ever was one. He has a family, a home, and is now wanting to have a part in proving to boys that there is a way around that stone fence, even without your sight, if you keep trying. "It's not hard to hang on—if someone shows you how."—Boys' Ranch Roundup.

This Week in WASHINGTON

WHAT THE members of this congress heard from the grassroots when they went home over the Easter vacation likely will be reflected in the voting within the next few days. It was considered good strategy on the part of Speaker Sam Rayburn to adjourn the house for the vacation and let "the boys" get an earful from their constituents in the home towns of the country. The senate, however, was kept on the job.

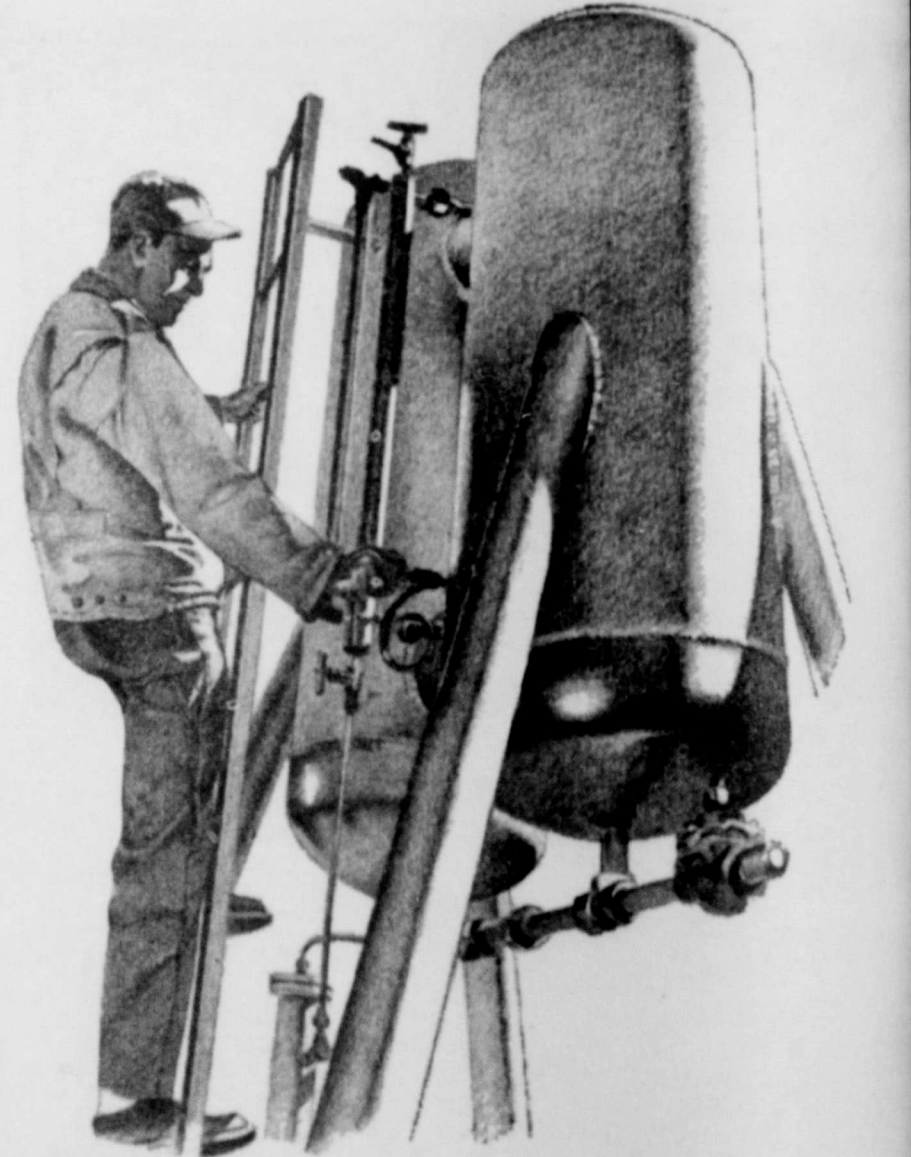

Before their adjournment, however, despite the headlines made by the administration opponents, the votes showed that the administration had won out by large majorities on several important measures. The house had put its approval on a 16-billion-dollar appropriation for national defense, which, by the way, is an increase of a half billion over the budget figures; it gave its support to the air force as against naval aviation as it listened to an unfortunate speech by Appropriations Chairman Clarence Cannon of Missouri and it had approved a $2,500,000 appropriation for a steam plant for the TVA at New Johnsonville, Tenn., the latter a direct reversal of its action in the 80th congress.

Observers here declare that Congressman Cannon's speech which said in effect that it would be the air force which would carry the atom bomb to Moscow, would have its reverberations around the world and would add nothing to the country's position in our race with Russia in the cold war.

Congressional Quarterly, an unbiased congressional reporting service, which keeps track of the voting records in congress says that despite the noise made over the so-called southern Democratic and Republican coalition and desertion of some Democrats from the administration ranks, the record in the senate at least shows that there is a better record of party unity among senate Democrats than their Republican brothers.

Congressional Quarterly says that 20 Democrats as against six Republicans had records of supporting the majority of their party 100 per cent of the time on party line votes. Those six Republicans were: Bridges, New Hampshire; Butler, Nebraska; Jenner, Indiana; Malone, Nevada; Schoeppe, Kansas, and Wherry, Nebraska. The 100-per-cent Democrats were

ADDING THE Smell THAT MEANS SAFETY

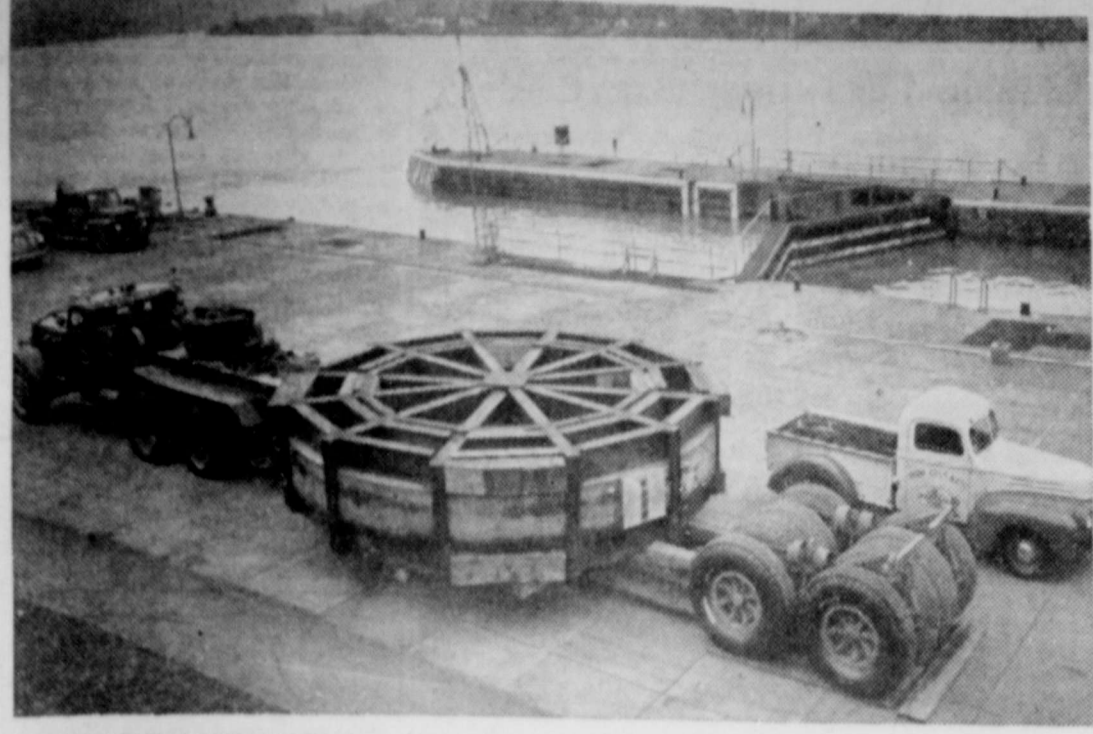

You can't see it...you can't smell it. Natural gas is odorless and colorless as it comes from the well. In the interest of safety, a telltale odor must be added to your gas as it enters the local distribution mains. Small quantities of a special type of liquid are added to the gas, so even the smallest leak may be discovered.

The odorization of gas is one of many functions of the United Gas system...all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued safe, dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

THIS ATOM-SMASHING coil may also have its place in trucking history, too. After many months of controversy because of its weight—97 tons—the coil was delivered to Carnegie Institute of Technology's Nuclear Research center at Saxonburg, Pa. The coil was wound in Brooklyn Navy Yard as the Bureau of Naval Research's contribution to the atomic research program. But highway commissioners blocked overland delivery, forcing a 3600-mile water voyage via the Gulf of Mexico, the Mississippi, Ohio and Allegheny rivers.

A Change is in Order...

Change to OIL-PLATING!

Like New!
 ... Keep your car in showroom shape. OIL-PLATE the engine with Conoco Nth Motor Oil. It protects against wear ... preserves that power. An additive, exclusive in Conoco Nth, fastens an extra shield of lubricant right to cylinder walls. That's pep-preserving OIL-PLATING!

Holds Fast! ... OIL-PLATING holds fast to metal parts. It can't all drain down, not even overnight! Already lubricated at the touch of the starter.

Holds Up Longer! ... Conoco Nth is tough, because it's made from top-quality paraffin-base crude oil. It stands up under hard driving in searing summer heat.

Holds Down Cost! ... An OIL-PLATED engine means fewer repair bills. An OIL-PLATED engine means fewer quarts between drains. An OIL-PLATED engine purrs for years and years.

Oil-Plate today at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's!

Rogers Bill Passes; Counties May Buy Road Machinery Through Board Control

House Bill No. 587, by Andrew J. Rogers of Childress, has passed both Houses of the 51st Legislature, and awaits only the governor's signature to become law. Primarily the bill provides as follows:

"The Commissioners' Court of each county . . . is hereby authorized to purchase any road machinery, equipment, tires and tubes to be used by the county through the State Board of Control."

Leaving out details and legal wording, what this law really does is to permit counties to purchase their road equipment on a competitive bid basis, and possible save money on the centralized buying through one large agency. Representative Rogers, in a letter to The Democrat, accompanying a copy of the bill says: "I believe it will save the coun-

Stray Dogs Doomed In Memphis; 100 Have Been Killed

Sad indeed is the fate of the dog-about-town in Memphis which doesn't wear a tag showing that he has been vaccinated for rabies. Early in the year, Police Chief Jack Peabody, began his campaign to rid the community of dangerous, un-vaccinated dogs, and he has been relentless in dealing with homeless strays which seem to be able to forage a pretty good living.

Up to April 1, the Chief had killed 56, and during April, 36 more were destroyed. In all that number he was not able to find an owner for one who wanted to save it. However, during his drive, in response to his warning, quite a few un-tagged dogs were seen wearing the required label around their necks.

And, strange to say, most of the dogs that met the executioner were in good physical condition, showing that they were securing an abundance of food from some source.

But there is one type of dog not reached by the campaign against strays. That is the playful little pet that takes a bite out of the leg of the paper boy or the milkman.

The chief of police has issued a warning that vicious dogs, no matter how tagged and vaccinated, can not run at large in Memphis, and they will be shot, just as if they did not wear a tag.

In several instances paper boys have been bitten and reported the complaint to the police department and the dogs in question are under observation, and after another offense or two, the offending dog will be captured and summarily shot. Owners of these vicious dogs have been warned and will not be warned any more.

Mrs. Tucker Quits Principal Job, Will Teach Grade

Mrs. L. A. Tucker, who has been teaching in Estelline Grammar School since 1922, and who has been principal of the grammar school since 1941, submitted her resignation to the Estelline Board of Education and after giving the matter due consideration, it was announced this week.

In the resignation Mrs. Tucker stated that she accepted the position when teachers were very scarce and a man principal could not be secured. It is her belief that the board will be able to replace her with a capable person and she wishes to be relieved of this responsibility.

Mrs. Tucker, in giving her resignation, expressed her sincere appreciation for cooperation of her teachers, students and patrons. She accepted the position of second grade teacher in Estelline

Public School for next school term.

Mrs. Tucker is considered one of the best teachers in this section of Texas. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from West Texas State College in Canyon. She is zealous, industrious, and capable. She has been an excellent grammar school principal and it is with regret that her resignation has been accepted, Superintendent Bates stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Prather, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Prather, and Mrs. T. E. Wright of Albuquerque, N. M., spent Sunday in Borger with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Marvin Crone and Mr. Crone.

Mrs. L. B. Madden visited in Amarillo Friday and Saturday of last week.
