Twister Leaves Great Tragedy In It's Wake

BY DAVID LESLIE

It seemed like many hours ago that I was not among screaming people, houses smashed to match-wood, cars bashed against each other, screaming ambulances taking hurt-bleeding people to hospitals. The actual time was about fifteen minutes—ten after the Amarillo cyclone had struck. I found it almost impossible to believe that a quarter of an hour ago I was playing bridge.

So many tragedies were taking place that everything was subordinated to the most important one—death. Mothers poured out their gratitude when they picked up bleeding, hurt children. Normally they would have been shocked and scared if they had seen their child covered with blood and rain-soaked mud. They would have cried out in shocked anguish. Now they were happy to see their little hurt-ones alive.

People were wondering around in a daze. Some, holding on to the object they had in their hand when the cyclone struck. Men and women gathered their families about them and looking at their smashed-up homes and wrecked cars gave thanks that all of them were alive.

Near the track a string of freight cars lay on their side. Stock cars loaded with baying cattle had been hit. Some of the animals had escaped from the broken freight cars and were milling about adding to the general confusion.

People from all over Amarillo were the first arrivals at the scene of the accident. Everyone volunteered their help. Some offered to take care of the victims over-night, others warm clothes and food to the uninjured, who were still on the spot.

In Quick Time

One hour and fifteen minutes was the driving time of the Spicer Murphy ambulance, driven by Bill Seal with Dr. C. B. Dryden, Minister Gray Carter, pastor of the Church of Christ, to the scene of the tragedy. Dr. Dryden checked in at the West Texas hospital and Minister Carter and Seal offered their help at the tragic spot.

In the hospitals of Amarillo, patients were quickly being treated for wounds, shock, bone breaks, and all the other bodily damages created by the twister.

Hedley Children Visit And Picnic In Memphis Park

Hedley first-graders and their younger guests were honored visitors in Memphis Thursday. Met at the depot by the mayor, fire department and the police department, they were driven around the town. That was followed by a picnic lunch in City Park.

By a sheer coincidence the Hedley youngsters ran into a herd of elephants parading through the town. It was circus day.

Twenty-eight first-graders and their four younger visitors were accompanied by 12 adults. They played in the city park and saw the afternoon circus show.

"My first-graders will always remember that day. That is the way they have expressed themselves to me," Mrs. C. L. Vaught, first grade teacher said.

Memphis Guests

The following Hedley children were Memphis visitors; girls: Cora Marie Brown, Vera Ann Holman, Cherry D. Thomas, Gloria Thomas, Ha Faye Tipton, Joy Nan Wood, Nelda Sue Stott, Joyce Edwards, Judy Pate, Priscilla Smith and Susan Cox.

The burning mill was not brought under control till 4 a. m. Chief Clayton estimated that the fire started about half an hour before it was seen. He based his estimate on the amount of headway the fire had made before the arrival of the firemen.

Relatives of Hall County residents while not injured by the Amarillo twister, suffered a great loss in the storm's wake.

Herschel Montgomery was a little more lucky. He worked late on Saturday, the day he was to take title to his house and for that reason put off that event till Monday. Sunday the house was destroyed, E. P. Thompson, his father-in-law reported.

The following Memphians' relatives suffered losses: R. C. Ellis, brother of Frank Ellis, home destroyed.

RODEO TO HAVE STELLAR ACTS

Teen-age trick riders, and a world-famous clown are part of the professional entertainment planned for the Hall County Rodeo on June 2, 3 and 4.

Plans mapped-out for the three day event include parades, decorating Memphis, wearing of western regalia by residents of Memphis, music by the High School Band, Homer Tucker, a member of the Rodeo Association stated.

He also pointed out that the Rodeo will have many events of special interest to the young as well as the old. Charley Schultz, his bucking car and trick mule, will be the clown for the event. The Walling Sisters, teen-age trick riders, will perform on their specially trained horses.

"Entries for the riding, calf roping and bulldogging contests are coming in at a good rate. We expect to have about the best event of this kind ever seen in this area," Mr. Tucker said.

Memphis will be decorated with flags and bunting for the event. The Lions Club will be in charge of that phase of the Rodeo. "No organization will receive any profit from the decorations," Mr. Tucker advised.

Western clothes by residents of Memphis will be a "must" for the duration of the Rodeo. All are expected to wear at least part of a western outfit.

Lush Pastures, Bumper Wheat, And Record Cotton Crop Is Expected Of Rain

Damage to buildings, terraces, trees, flooded and mired roads, by the rain, strong winds and baby twisters in Hall County could not be estimated at press time.

The rainfall for Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday morning in Memphis was 5.10 inches. Tuesday had the record with 1.33 of an inch reported. The temperature for the last 24 hours was low 62, high 74.

Any accurate damage report is still impossible to make because many farmers have not been able to go out on their fields and measure the destruction left by the many storms of the week.

Also many Hall County residents living in outlying sections have no phone and have been marooned on their places.

This much is known about the storm and wind damage to the county at press time:

On Tuesday at 11:30 A. M. on the Jess Roden place, southwest of Memphis, a chicken house was blown away. Also trees were uprooted. On that same day a barn, southwest of town, reported to be on land owned by Sam Foxhall, was also blown away.

The old cheese factory on Seventh and Robinson, in Memphis, had some damage done to it. Also windows in that building were blown in by the twister.

Many residents of Memphis reported that they also had their windows blown in.

Wind jerked off a window screen and frame from the home of Ira Lawrence at 1316 West Main. The frame was deposited upright against the house.

Wind tore the roof off a house on the John Deaver farm.

Other Storms

Tuesday evening, it was reported, trees were uprooted and some damage was done to farm buildings in the outlying sections southwest of Memphis. In the city

Hail Damage To Wheat Is 3 by 5 Miles

Week-end hail damage to wheat in a 15 square mile area was estimated to run from 10 to 100 per cent.

Damage to the area near Swearingen, in Childress and Collinsworth Counties was reported as running from light in the east section to heavy in the western part of the hailed acres. J. A. Odom, Jr., with the Memphis Production Credit Corp., reported.

"Some of the damage, he said, "cannot be estimated for at least a week. In damage where the hail did not beat down the wheat but broke off heads it will take a week to see the extent of the loss."

Damage took place during Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Odom stated that he could not estimate the total acreage of the damaged grain.

Hail damage in many places took place to the same places during the three days reported. Some of the wheat which was broken slightly may mature, Mr. Odom stated.

Hailed Farmers

Among the growers who suffered hail loss were:

George Roberts, 10 to 50 per cent; J. A. Odom, Jr., 30 to 100 per cent; C. Z. Adcock, 30 to 100 per cent; A. L. Adcock, 30 to 100 per cent; Ocie Scott, 25 per cent.

The following wheat growers had a 100 per cent loss of wheat: Swearingen: Sam Coleman, Jet Roberts, Newell Shields, Benton Shields.

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. These are spareribs.
Q. Where does the cut come from and how is it identified?
A. Spareribs are cut from the side of the pork carcass. They are the ends of the ribs which have been removed from the bacon strip. The spareribs have a flat, gently-ribbed appearance, with a coating of fat. The ends of the ribs which have been removed from the bacon strip, as is the lean meat between the ribs.
Q. How should this cut be prepared?
A. Spareribs may be braised or roasted. Complete cooking is important to bring out the fullest flavor of the meat, so they are always cooked to the well-done stage. To braise the meat, first brown it well in hot fat in a heavy utensil. Add a small amount of liquid, and cook slowly, covered, for 1 1/2 hours. To roast, place the "ribs" on a rack in an open roasting pan and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 2 1/2 hours. To barbecue, roast the spareribs, basting frequently with your favorite barbecue sauce. Spareribs are also delicious when stuffed with a bread or fruit stuffing and roasted.

PEEK at the STARS

By LYN CONNELLEY
NWSN Radio-Screen Editor

BOB HOPE has been hitting the jackpot with full houses and big grosses all along his personal appearance trail which so far has covered some 20 states.

Meanwhile pal Bing Crosby has announced his intention to switch to CBS next season, leaving ABC with all its "Bingsday" hoopla. Crosby's departure leaves ABC with only a handful of important shows, notably "Stop the Music," "Theatre Guild" and "Winchell." And already people are tiring of "Stop the Music."

Luther Heatwole, who sings with the Old Hickory singers on NBC's "Grand Ole Opry," is celebrating his 19th year in radio.

Hal Peary, who plays the title role in "The Great Gildersleeve," is honorary viceroy of Santa Cruz, Calif. The honor was conferred upon him by Santa Cruz officials in line with Gildy's being water commissioner of Summerfield.

Jack Carson has been signed for the role of "Al" in the film version of "My Friend Irma."

PLATTER CHATTER

Capitol: Lovers of real western range tunes are in for a treat when they discover Capitol's "Western Roundup" album featuring such stars as Tex Ritter, Tex Williams, Jimmy Wakely, Foy Willing, Merle Travis and Wesley Tuttle. All fellas are in fine fettle and the songs they sing, including "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Hang Your Head in Shame," "Detour" and "California Polka" are typical of their style.

Victor: Dennis Day's latest disc is the lovely lullaby, "Tarrs Ta-Larra Ta-Lar," sung in dreamy fashion. "Streets of Laredo," from the picture of the same name is on the reverse. The popular "One Has My Name" has been recorded by Victor's Jack Lathrop and he does well by it. A bright little ditty, "Don't Hang Around," is on the flip-over. Perry Como's latest is one of his best in months. From his picture "Words and Music," he offers "Blue Room" and "With a Song in My Heart" . . . both sides excellently presented.

THE immortal masterpieces authored by the greatest writers and playwrights of all time, with the brightest names in the entertainment world starred, is being recreated over Mutual in a new dramatic series, "Great Scenes from Great Plays," which premiered recently under the auspices of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Walter Hampden, veteran stage actor and weekly host for the series, gave the program a good send-off by starring in the first dramatization as the unfortunate lover, "Cyrano De Bergerac," a role which Hampden has created over 1,000 times in his years on the stage.

More than three years ago, Hampden said he would never do "Cyrano" again. He insisted, "I just don't want to work that hard. Cyrano is a terrific task, a five hour job, including the long make-up, not to mention the emotional drain on the actor." However, he was persuaded to give one more performance via the airwaves.

Capitol has a fine album coming out soon that will make a good Christmas gift. Cliffie Stone with his bull fiddle interpret some favorite American waltzes and a nice job he does. Songs include "Beautiful Ohio," "Missouri Waltz," "Moonlight on the River Colorado," and "Springtime in the Rockies." Bob Hope is so well associated with being a comedian that one forgets he is a pretty fair singer. He reminds you of that fact with his hitting Capitol arrangement of "Buttons and Bows," a winner all the way.

Capitol also offers these good singles: Jo Stafford's latest, a duet with Gordon MacRae on the beautiful new "My Darling, My Darling" coupled with "Girls Were Made to Take Care of Boys." Jack Smith, aided by the Clark sisters, in a fast-paced rendition of "Cuanto Le Gusta" backed by a novelty, "Cornbelt Symphony." Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, latest to be a big hit with cafe society, make an auspicious debut on wax with their recording of "That Certain Party" and "The Money Song."

Mrs. H. B. Estes and Miss Bonnie Jean Smith were Amarillo visitors Sunday. Mrs. Estes visited with her son, Benjy Estes, and family and Miss Smith visited with a friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Derral Hannon visited in Chillicothe Sunday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrison were business visitors in Muleshoe Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Myers were Amarillo visitors Friday of last week.

ways" was softly played during the ceremony.

Mrs. Denzil F. Miller, beautifully dressed in light blue with white accessories and a corsage of red roses, attended the bride as matron of honor.

Denzil F. Miller of Memphis served the groom as best man.

The bride was a picture in an all white palm beach suit with matching accessories. She carried a white prayer book which was topped with gardenias and long white streamers. For something old, she carried a linen handkerchief belonging to her grandmother and for something new, she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. The "something borrowed" was the prayer book which belonged to her cousin, Miss Gwen Fowler, for something blue, she wore a blue garin, and for good luck, she wore a coin in her shoe.

Mrs. Fowler chose for her daughter's wedding a light blue dress complimented with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Hickey, mother of the groom, wore a black dress accented by pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Miss Gwendolyn Fowler, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. She was attired in a shell pink suit with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of blue iris.

Both the bride and groom were popular graduates of the Memphis High School with the class of 1947. The groom attended Trinidad State Junior College, Trinidad, Colo., and at the present time is employed with the F. E. Monzingo Firm in Memphis. Mrs. Hickey is an employee of the Wilson Insurance Agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickey went to Oklahoma City on a short wedding trip and are now at home at 1221 1/2 West Montgomery Street.

Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hickey and family, Mrs. F. E. Monzingo and children, Mrs. E. A. Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Monzingo, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Evans, Don Monzingo, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hickey and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Fowler and family and Mrs. Claude Fowler and children.

Capt. and Mrs. W. W. McDaniel and daughter visited here last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. McDaniel of Plaska and in Memphis with his brothers, Ira and J. J. McDaniel and families. The McDaniels have recently returned from Newfoundland where Capt. McDaniel has been stationed for the past two years at St. Johns with the United States Army Air Corps. The McDaniels left Memphis Friday en route to Sacramento, Calif., to make their home.

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. These are spareribs.

Q. Where does the cut come from and how is it identified?

A. Spareribs are cut from the side of the pork carcass. They are the ends of the ribs which have been removed from the bacon strip. The spareribs have a flat, gently-ribbed appearance, with a coating of fat. The ends of the rib bones are visible, as is the lean meat between the ribs.

Q. How should this cut be prepared?

A. Spareribs may be braised or roasted. Complete cooking is important to bring out the fullest flavor of the meat, so they are always cooked to the well-done stage. To braise the meat, first brown it well in hot fat in a heavy utensil. Add a small amount of liquid, and cook slowly, covered, for 1 1/2 hours. To roast, place the "ribs" on a rack in an open roasting pan and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 2 1/2 hours. To barbecue, roast the spareribs, basting frequently with your favorite barbecue sauce. Spareribs are also delicious when stuffed with a bread or fruit stuffing and roasted.

PEEK at the STARS

By LYN CONNELLY NWNS Radio-Screen Editor

BOB HOPE has been hitting the jackpot with full houses and big grosses all along his personal appearance trail which so far has covered some 20 states.

Bob Hope

Meanwhile pal Bing Crosby has announced his intention to switch to CBS next season, leaving ABC with all its "Bingdays" hoopla. Crosby's departure leaves ABC with only a handful of important shows, notably "Stop the Music," "Theatre Guild" and "Winchell." And already people are tiring of "Stop the Music."

Luther Heatwole, who sings with the Old Hickory singers on NBC's "Grand Ole Opry," is celebrating his 19th year in radio. Hal Peary, who plays the title role in "The Great Gildersleeve," is honorary vice commissioner of Santa Cruz, Calif. The honor was conferred upon him by Santa Cruz officials in line with Giddy's being water commissioner of Summerfield. Jack Carson has been signed for the role of "Al" in the film version of "My Friend Irma."

PLATTER CHATTER

Capitol: Lovers of real western range tunes are in for a treat when they discover Capitol's "Western Roundup" album featuring such stars as Tex Ritter, Tex Williams, Jimmy Wakely, Foy Willing, Merle Travis and Wesley Tuttle. All fellas are in fine fettle and the songs they sing, including "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Hang Your Head in Shame," "Detour" and "California Polka" are typical of their style.

Victor: Dennis Day's latest disc is the lovely lullaby, "Tarra Ta-Larra Ta-Lar," sung in dreamy fashion. "Streets of Laredo," from the picture of the same name is on the reverse. The popular "One Has My Name" has been recorded by Victor's Jack Lathrop and he does well by it. A bright little ditty, "Don't Hang Around," is on the flip-over. Perry Como's latest is one of his best in months. From his picture "Words and Music," he offers "Blue Room" and "With a Song in My Heart," both sides excellently presented.

The immortal masterpieces authored by the greatest writers and playwrights of all time, with the brightest names in the entertainment world starred, is being recreated over Mutual in a new dramatic series, "Great Scenes from Great Plays," which premiered recently under the auspices of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Walter Hampden, veteran stage actor and weekly host for the series, gave the program a good send-off by starring in the first dramatization as the unfortunate lover, "Cyrano De Bergerac," a role which Hampden has created over 1,900 times in his years on the stage.

More than three years ago, Hampden said he would never do "Cyrano" again. He insisted, "I just don't want to work that hard. Cyrano is a terrific task, a five hour job, including the long make-up, not to mention the emotional drain on the actor." However, he was persuaded to give one more performance via the airwaves.

Capitol has a fine album coming out soon that will make a good Christmas gift. Chiffle Stone with his bull fiddle interpret some favorite American waltzes and a nice job he does. Songs include "Beautiful Ohio," "Missouri Waltz," "Moonlight on the River Colorado," and "Springtime in the Rockies," and Bob Hope is so well associated with being a comedian that one forgets he is a pretty fair singer. He reminds you of that fact with his hitting Capitol arrangement of "Buttons and Bows," a winner all the way.

Capitol also offers these good singles: Jo Stafford's latest, a duet with Gordon MacRae on the beautiful new "My Darling, My Darling" coupled with "Girls Were Made to Take Care of Boys"; Jack Smith, aided by rendition of "Cuanto Le Gusta" backed by a novelty, "Cornbelt Symphony"; Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, latest to be a big hit with cafe society, make an auspicious debut on wax with their recording of "That Certain Party" and "The Money Song."

Don't Hoe 'Em Electrocutation Will Do Trick

Byrle Elliston, the No. 1 booster of Deaf-Smith County, was in Dallas recently with a stock of new ideas about how to boost progress in the state of Texas, we are advised.

The ambassador from the town without a tooth ache—which some people know as Hereford—had just returned from the Pacific Northwest, where he has oil interests which help finance his self-assigned task of publicizing Texas in general and Deaf Smith County in particular.

His new interest was the product of Electrotration, Inc., of Marysville, Calif., and Seattle. It's an electric weed-killer, which Elliston says will save millions of dollars for Texas. Powered by a diesel electric generator, it sends something like 23,000 volts through rake-like fingers into the ground and simply electrocutes the weeds when the current reaches the roots.

It Works
 The "schok treatments" are given in the spring before planting. Several treatments may be required to eliminate completely the weeds, but Elliston claims it is a more economical and efficient method than poisoning.

Its effectiveness is not confined to any certain kind of weed or grass, and most any plot of ground can be cleaned for about $35 per acre, according to Elliston, who hopes to bring the first electrotrator to Texas within two months.

The Deaf Smith County real estate man said farmers in various parts of the county spend from $40 to $200 per acre for cleaning their land each year. And he predicted that the cost of electrotrating on any plot of ground would decrease as it is treated year after year because it would require fewer treatments to kill the weeds.

Expense A Problem
 Elliston said some farmers have refused to accept the "new fangled gadget" because they are adverse to the idea of spending more for killing weeds than the land cost.

He said the angle is not the cost of the land but the decrease in the cost of production which electrotration is capable of giving.

Being a primary booster of Deaf Smith County, Elliston hopes to bring an electrotrator first to the high plains area around Hereford. But it won't be much longer, he says, until he has one in the Dal-

Consumers' Prices

Houston consumers' prices in March were unchanged from the previous month and were only fractionally above a year earlier, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Prices of housefurnishings declined 2 per cent under February, and prices of clothing and miscellaneous items were slightly below a month earlier, while food prices increased 1 per cent.

In comparison with March 1948, food and clothing prices decreased 3 and 1 per cent, respectively. On the other hand, prices of housefurnishings rose 2 per cent; miscellaneous items, 3 per cent; and fuel, electricity, and ice, 5 per cent.

Non-Resident Truck Registration A Must For Hauling Wheat

The following letter from the Department of Public Safety in Austin by Homer Garrison Jr., director, is of interest to truck owners and operators:

The 51st Legislature recently passed Senate Bill No. 75 authorizing the State Highway Department to issue to a non-resident owner a 60-day temporary registration for any truck, truck-tractor, trailer or semi-trailer to be used in harvesting and marketing of wheat and similar grains produced in this State. The bill provides that such temporary registration may be issued for the movement of such grains from the place of production to market, storage, or rail head. The bill further provides that operators engaged in transporting wheat or other similar grains produced in this State between two or more incorporated cities or towns for hire must secure permits from the Texas Railroad Commission as provided by Texas statutes.

"The temporary registration license is to be issued for 60 days, by any County Tax Collector, and the fee will be one-sixth of the annual registration fee for the vehicle. No application for Texas title is necessary with this type of registration. In the case of a single vehicle, only one registration is to be issued, but in the case of a truck-tractor, semi-trailer combination, a license is to be issued for each vehicle.

These licenses are to be issued only to non-residents of Texas, and only when the vehicle is legally registered in the non-resident owner's home state for the current registration year. The license will remain valid only so long as the home state registration is valid; but in no event for more than 60 days from the date of issuance. The license is not renewable after the expiration of the license. If the license expires, then the vehicle must be registered in Texas before it can be used in Texas. No such license is to be issued for a vehicle in harvesting or other agricultural use in this State without first being registered in the home state. Maximum weight allowed in load limit of not to exceed 48,000 pounds with these vehicles holding commercial operator's front and rear view mirrors required to secure a commercial operator's license is 100 lbs. per square foot of area.

Oil Imports Called A Threat To Our National Security

Free Market Now Functioning In Trend On Prices

Remember when, not so long ago, some of the highest officials in the Federal government were saying that a reimposition of price controls and other such strait-jacket measures were necessary if runaway price inflation was to be prevented?

Do you remember that, at about the same time, the high officials were dolefully predicting that any cut in taxes would also give price inflation a new shot in the arm and send the indexes booming into the stratosphere?

We all know what happened. Luckily for the welfare of the nation, Congress refused to reimpose wartime controls. Congress also put a reduction in income taxes into effect.

For a considerable period of time the price level changed relatively little—by the inflationary trend that was forecast didn't appear. Then, a few months ago, prices started down. They are still going down. In some cases, the drops have been very substantial. Meat is the best example of this. Declines of 20 per cent, and more in meat prices have been registered since last year's peak.

This was the result of the traditional functioning of the free market. Instead of having a black market—which always flourishes under government controls—we have had a market which is responsive to the all-powerful forces of supply and demand. It is true that the tax cuts gave more people more money to spend. Along with that, producers in many fields increased their output. Prices found their proper level—as they will continue to do in the future. The advocates of a regimented economy offer interesting theories—but the hard facts just don't back them up.

Queen Of Speed In A Record Try On July Fourth

Speed Queen Dot Lemon, will attempt to bring the world's three-kilometer flight record to Texas and the United States filometer is five eighths of a mile.

Senior pilot Dot Lemon of Houston, who has logged 2,500 hours more than the 10,000 air hours required to be classified as a senior pilot is the only woman flyer to have that distinction.

The record smashing event is scheduled for July 4, at Hu-Port airport, Houston.

Noted for many years as one of the world's ace aviators, Mrs. Lemon has flown in many famous races. Last year she finished second in the Kendall Trophy race at the Cleveland air races. An expert meteorologist, she was cited by the government for bad-weather observation flying during the war.

She will pilot a converted Mustang fighter named the "Bogaine" in her record-breaking attempt. The present record is 469 miles an hour. It was made in 1939 by a German in a Messerschmitt 109. Efforts to break the mark in the past ten years have all been unsuccessful. The three-kilometer (9,842.501 feet) course has been the standard speed test of the world since it was established by the International Aeronautical Federation in Paris in 1905.

Mrs. Lemon said she chose to make the flight in Houston because she plans to live in Houston the rest of her life.

KINER AFTER BABE RUTH'S RUN RECORD

He doesn't talk much about it but the one big thing Ralph Kiner dreams about is breaking Babe Ruth's home run record, and if it ever is to happen this might be the year for it.

The handsome husky slugger of the Pittsburgh Pirates is blasting the ball with almost unbelievable force this year and along with his seven homers that tie him for the National League lead, he also has a .361 batting average, third high in the loop, and his 22 runs batted in are the fifth highest total in the majors.

In 1947 when he hit 51 homers to come within nine of Ruth's all-time high of 60 for a season set in 1927, Kiner had only three at this stage of the race. But the big thing to Rammin' Ralph is that he now has a long home stand coming up and it is in Pittsburgh's park with the inviting "Greenberg Gardens" in left field where he collects most of his route clouts. Last season, for example, he hit 31 of his 40 homers at home and only a niggardly nine on the road.

Last night he got another tremendous smash, a homer that cleared the left field scoreboards by 75 feet as the Pirates topped the Giants, 3 to 2. His previous homers also have been well whopped. In Brooklyn he soared one into the upper left center stands and in Boston he put one high over the scoreboard, tallest in the majors.

Ralph Branca of the Dodgers became the first big leaguer to win six games, beating the Cubs at Chicago, 8 to 5, when his mates scored six runs in the 12th, two on a homer by Roy Campanella. Branca had pitched shutout ball until "Smoky" Burgess hit a two-run homer to send the game into extra innings in the eighth, but he tired after Brooklyn's big inning and the Cubs got three runs on homers by Andy Pafko and Hank Edwards. Edwards got his off relief pitcher Bo Palica.

At Cincinnati, Ted Kluszewski drove in three runs with a double and single in a 5 to 4 victory which snapped the Braves' five-game winning streak. Warren Spahn lost for the first time since April 23.

The Phils pulled one out of the fire in 12 innings at St. Louis, topping the Cardinals 5 to 4 as Robin Roberts pitched three scoreless reliefs. Bill Nicholson hit a Philly homer to send the game into overtime and successive singles by Eddie Waitkus, Del Ennis and Andy Seminick won it.

The Yankees pummeled Gene Bearden for 16 hits but even so got only enough runs for a 4 to 3 victory over the Indians at New York. Tommy Henrich's homer gave the Yankees just enough margin to offset late homers by Larry Doby and Mickey Vernon. Lefty Ed Popat held Cleveland to seven hits for his fourth straight victory.

Pat Mullin and Johnny Ligon got back into the Detroit lineup and set off late inning rallies that produced a 4 to 2 victory at Washington. Mullin's single sent in the tying run and Ligon's single in the ninth put over two more runs. Relief pitcher Mary Grison was credited with his first big league triumph.

Relief pitcher Alex Kellner won his third game in four days with six scoreless frames in Philadelphia's 9 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Hank Majeski drove in five runs with three doubles to pace the attack.

Vern Stephens' ninth homer—tops for the majors—drove in the tying and winning runs for the Red Sox.

GOVERNOR STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF SOIL CARE FOR ALL GROUPS

Pointing out that Governor Buford Jester has proclaimed May 22 to 28 as soil conservation week, W. B. Hooser, county agent, said:

"Soil, our most prized possession is a sacred trust. It feeds us and clothes us. Without good soil we will become a poor country. Care of the soil is of the greatest importance to everyone in the land."

"Here in Hall County we have the greatest number of terraced acres in the state of Texas. Not only the farmers but all the public spirited business and professional men of Memphis are deeply concerned about keeping our soil as well as is possible."

Text Of Proclamation
Gov. Jester's text of the proclamation:

"The physical properties of a bountiful soil were created to sustain mankind, through the material blessings of food and feed.

"Annually tons of our topsoil are washed from our lands at each rainfall.

"It has been demonstrated that our soil can be stabilized and runoff of rainfall prevented by known soil conservation techniques and practices.

"The savings of our soils cannot be far removed from the saving of our souls, and in this respect it becomes a religious duty for every church, both county and urban, to observe the commands of God in Stewardship of the soil.

"It is fitting that religious groups should assume the initiative in carrying the message of the stewardship of the soil and that a Sunday be set aside, on which Sunday this message be carried in

I REMEMBER . . .

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Mrs. L. Molinee of Evansville, Ind.: "I remember when the Fletcher Castoria advertisement read like this: 'When baby was young we gave her Castoria. When she was a child she cried for Castoria. When she was grown up she clung to Castoria, and when she had children she gave them Castoria.'"

From Robert H. Sedgwick of Chicago: "Still green in the memory of this grey-haired old-timer are the mischievous boys of many years ago who wore blue blouses tied with a white cord in front. Bent on 'swiping' tomatoes from some truck gardener's field, we stuffed our blouses with tomatoes and would get shagged and take a flop while running—to find ourselves bespattered with our own brand of catsup!"

From Mrs. Mary Stewart to "D.R.": "Do you remember when women saved all their hair combings in a china jar called a 'hair receiver'? They saved enough to make switches and extra braids, or for watch chains for the men folks."

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †
With Jesus in the Upper Room.
Lesson for May 22: Mark 14:12-25.
Memory Selection: 1 Corinthians 11:24.

Jesus observed the religious customs of His people. On Thursday of Passion Week He sent two disciples to make ready for the eating of the Passover. Throughout the city and its environs pilgrims were preparing for the paschal meal. The house in which Jesus and His disciples met for the Passover feast was doubtless the home of Mark, the gospel writer. Even then the shadow of treachery fell in their midst. When Jesus had solemnly said that one of them should betray Him, and the disciples had said unto Him, one by one: "Lord, is it I?" Jesus replied that the man was he who dipped in the dish with Him. How it must have choked Judas to ask: "Is it I?" Jesus said to Judas: "What thou doest, do quickly." The traitor then left the upper room seemingly before the Sacrament was instituted. If so, the traitor was not included in the first sacred meal.

Jesus transformed the Jewish Passover into the Christian feast of the Lord's Supper. It is, first of all, a sacrament of remembrance of Him. Only as we look beyond the bread and the cup to the Lord himself does the Sacrament become life to our souls. The Holy Communion signifies our oneness with Christ and all Christians and brings the opportunity of pleading our continued need of the Saviour, while it gives us the privilege of declaring our discipleship to the world. In remembering Jesus, we must remember Him in the way we live. "The Holy Supper is kept indeed by what we share with another's need."

4H Contest Winners Get Pure Bred Pigs

Pure bred Duroc gilts were the prize of eight 4H contest winners. Six men also turned in winning essays to receive the coveted prize.

"Diversified Farming" was the subject of the essay contest which drew 150 entries. The contest, an annual event has done a lot to increase the number of Duroc swine in Hall County, W. B. Hooser, County Agent, stated.

He also explained that each winner must give the pick of the first letter to another winner. "You would be surprised how quickly we have brought good stock into the County. The origin of the contest had its start by the Sears Roebuck Foundation plan to increase pure bred livestock in this section.

Three business men, Doc Saye, N. W. Durham and J. B. Byars, and the Chamber of Commerce, contributed gifts to the plan.

List of Winners
Jack Fowler, Jerry Byars, Harold Robinson, Darrell Couch, Leon Morten, Duane Kennedy, Johnny Brimly and Tommie Martin were the 4H contest winners. The men whose essays were adjudged best were: John R. Foster, Gaye Salmon, Bobby Buchanan, John Wisenant and Jimmy Fowler.

W. B. Hooser and 4H leaders were judges in the contest. One of the winning essays on page one of the 2nd section.

Red Cross Funds For Amarillo Will Be Accepted Here

"Those who want to help the Red Cross aid the victims of the Amarillo cyclone can send funds to me at the First State Bank, or to N. W. Durham," Heydon Hensley, in charge of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, said.

"While there will be no official drive for those victims, people who feel that they want to aid them can do so through the Red Cross. I have been informed that the Red Cross on the night of the tragedy flew in 50 quarts of whole blood. They also worked at the scene of the cyclone's wake helping to take care of the homeless victims of that tragic event.

"I have been informed by the regional office that the Red Cross will do all in its power to help those people," Mr. Hensley said.

Colored Movies Of Prize Stock Produced By 4-H

Hall County 4-H prize Hereford calves and steers are the subject of a movie made in color by Relief Salmon.

Made at the Amarillo Stock Show and the Salmon farm in Lakeview, the movie depicts the outstanding steers raised and fattened by the young farmers of this county.

Shown in the movie is the steer which gave John Luther Byars took third place in the Fort Worth Show.

Two young Memphis brothers had their steers filmed. They are Fletcher Bowns, whose steer was reserve champion at Amarillo and Jimmy Bowns who had the Grand Champion at Hall County.

Also in the film is a calf which won in the Junior division at Hall County. "The Hereford, dropped in May gained as much as three pounds a day to catch up with the earlier dropped calves." W. B. Hooser, county agent, said.

Memphis Owls Play Mangum On Sat. And Sun.

Memphis Owls will play Mangum, Okla., at Mangum Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, C. L. Pierce, manager of the Red River Valley league team, stated that he expects his team to come home with both games under their belt.

He also added that rainy weather has played hob with the schedule and practice, but that since rainy days and nights were general in other league towns, it did not handicap the Owls to any great extent.

Last Friday the Owls beat Wellington 5-0 in a night game at Estes Park.

Deepening Interest To Spread Results Of Our Education

Fruits of education have been too private and personal," a University of Texas professor of the history and philosophy of education says.

Dr. Newton Edwards insists education in America has been individually centered in the past with too little raining for participation in democracy.

"A deliberate, conscious control of human affairs is both necessary and inescapable," he declares, pointing out that a deepening interest in democratic action together with a revolution in technology have made education more important today than ever before. Education must be improved to meet these changes, he asserts.

Experts Believe Lift of Blockade May Be Trick

Current comment of international experts interpret the agreement between the Soviet Union and the Western powers to lift the blockade of Berlin may prove another Soviet trick. It is generally conceded to be a major victory for the West in the "cold war."

It would be manifestly unwise to believe that the situation is susceptible to no other interpretation—the Kremlin has pulled many a clever trick in the past, and things are not always what they seem to be on the surface. However, the Russian blockade failed entirely to get the planned result, and the Soviet policy makers have apparently accepted that as a demonstrated fact and are embarked in a new tactical direction.

The Berlin blockade will make a colorful page in history if for only one reason—the way the air life broke it. No one, save a few American military experts—and they had their doubts—believed that a great city, war-torn and with few resources of its own, could be indefinitely supplied by air. But the air lift did the near impossible. Food, coal, and all the rest of the necessities same in by thousands of tons each day, weather notwithstanding. The British helped materially. Every possible plane was pressed into service and kept flying. The job was done without regard to cost or risk. At times planes arrived and departed from Tempelhof airfield at two-minute intervals day and night. Berlin was fed and sheltered.

The air lift was the weapon that made the blockade untenable. But, if Russia has really decided it is necessary to come to terms with the West, there must be other reasons back of it. It may be that the Bear has bit off all and perhaps more than he can chew for the time being. The job of consolidating the countries behind the iron curtain is incredibly difficult. It is no secret that millions of people in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and elsewhere are restive under Soviet dictation. Russia is making an all-out effort to increase her industrial production, particularly in the heavy-goods field. The drain of her military establishment on her resources is enormous. Under these circumstances, the Politburo may have understandably decided that a prolonged truce with the West, if not a real peace, is desirable.

No one should minimize the reverses the West has received in China. It will be a miracle if the Nationalist government survives as an effective influence. However, it is doubtful if the Chinese will do much for their Russian friends. Stalin is said to have compared Chinese communists to radish—redo outside and white inside. They have a job on their hands within China, without trying to help extend the Soviet ideology throughout the world.

Texas U. Plans To Measure Radio F.M. Signals in Austin

Measurements of radio signals received in Austin from FM stations in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Temple are to be made by the University of Texas Electrical Engineering Research Laboratory.

Under supervision of D. F. Metcalf, laboratory research scientist and radio engineer, continuous measurements of the signals, requested by the National Bureau of Standards' Central Radio Propagation Laboratory, will help in the allocation of FM and television broadcast channels in the Coastal region.

Dallas and Houston FM station signals are usually too weak to be heard, but certain meteorological conditions often permit satisfactory reception. Those conditions may result from the underrunning of warm Gulf air by a "norther," or the abnormal cooling of air close to the earth when heat waves rise rapidly at night.

Egg, Poultry

Egg shipments by rail from Texas stations amounted to 62 carloads in March, compared with 20 in February and 131 a year earlier, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Egg receipts at Texas stations totaled 13 carloads in March, 16 in February, and 12 in March 1948.

Twister Leaves—

(Continued from Page 1) with their loved ones were mingling with the cases which were hurt. Nurses, called to duty by the radio were applying dressing and following out the instructions of busy doctors.

In Ostropathic Hospital Mrs. Kadron Ward, a nurse, was working hard with her patients. Snatching a few minutes of time she tried to call her daughter, Mrs. Billy Thompson of Memphis, to assure her that she was unharmed. The operator told her the line was busy with hundreds of people trying to call their loved ones over the phone with the same sort of message. Only death calls received priority.

Treated Fast
In West Texas hospital the patients who were brought to the emergency room in the basement by ambulance, were given immediate attention, and sent to beds through the building. Nobody raised their voices in the hospital, doctors quietly told the nurses what to do. But speed, great speed, which was most necessary, was, what the staff were accomplishing.

All was quiet at the scene of the accident five hours after it happened. Still-stunned people were wandering about. The cattle had found each other and were huddled in a bunch. A strip of ground lighted by a car revealed a muddy doll and a cat with two kittens. Nearby an overturned bureau drawer had spilled out its contents of clothes. All over the place the property of people was scattered about.

It had stopped raining. When I looked into the sky and felt the soft air I could not imagine that nature could have been so cruel.

One restaurant owner ordered his guests to leave at 8:30 and closed his place for the evening. It looked very bad outside at that hour.

On Wednesday bad clouds gathered in the southeast and later in the southwest part of the town. That was about 3 p. m. At 5:45 the same day a heavy downpour, estimated to have brought over an inch of rain to Memphis in a quarter-hour, with a had wind breaking branches of trees in the town and the county.

Many other reports of damage could not be verified at press time.

Rain's Sunny Side

As a result of the heavy rains pastures are green and will stay that way till late in the season. Wheat, which up to press time had suffered no hail damage in Hall County, is expected to yield a bumper crop.

Cotton, in Hall County, can break the record of 82,000 bales produced in the early twenties. That possibility was expressed by W. B. Hooser, county agent, and several prominent authorities on the subject.

Green pastures, wheat and cotton, in great quantities along with the known prices should bring a great influx of added prosperity to the county.

Three Kinds of Barley Can Be Grown in Tex.

Three available types of barley may be grown successfully in Texas, according to J. E. Adams, head of the Texas A. & M. College department of agronomy.

Results of recent tests by Texas agriculture experiment stations in the northern part of the rolling plains indicate recommendations of fall seeding of the true-winter type varieties in that area and the Panhandle.

Those barley variety tests were conducted under the supervision of Superintendents J. Roy Quinby, of the Chillicothe substation; L. E. Brooks, of the Denton substation; and Dan I. Dudley and I. N. Atkins, of the Denton substation. Other tests were run at the Greenville substation, where D. I. Hooten is in charge.

The cold resistant true-winter type varieties recommended for the Rolling Plains and the Panhandle areas include Reno, Ward, Wisconsin Winter, Michigan Winter, and all strains of Tennessee Winter. None of these varieties is recommended for spring seeding, these substation superintendents say.

The fall habit growth of these strains is similar to that of the winter wheat with narrow, dark green leaves that lie flat on the ground, says Dr. Adams. For Texas conditions, Reno and Ward are the best varieties. At the Denton, Greenville, Iowa Park, Chillicothe and Stephenville substations, Reno yielded 24.5, 22.7, 40.3, 42.3 and 23.4 bushels per acre respectively. At these same stations, Ward yielded 27.2, 22.2, 42.8, 34.6 and 20.6 bushels respectively.

To Farm Well Essay Winner Stresses Need of Diversification

(Editors Note: This is the first of a series of winning essays of 4H members and business men. The winners received pure bred Duroc gilts. Story on Page 1.)

By ARCHIE MARTIN Diversified farming is farming on a variety basis. It is being more extensively used every day in the United States. Some farmers still use the "one crop" method of farming, but experiment has proven beyond all doubt that diversified farming pays off.

In practicing diversified farming, it is necessary to plant a variety of crops, so that if one crop fails another may make. There are many important factors observed in practicing diversified farming. First of all is the equipment. One should keep his farm implements in the best shape at all times. The next important thing is the care of the soil. The farmer should at all times cooperate with the farm conservation service. All land should be terraced so that when it comes a heavy rain, the terraces will check the speed of the water enough to prevent erosion. Next comes the selection of seed. Cotton seed should in most cases be delinted and treated. All grains should be treated also. It is most important to buy only the best seed obtainable.

The best practice to follow in planting is strip-farming. That is planting the different crops in strips. For instance, putting a strip of cotton and next to it, a strip of grain sorghum. After the seed comes up one should keep them worked well enough to keep the weeds from sapping the ground.

After the crop has been made and harvested it is a good idea to plant a green manure crop, such as Austrian winter peas. Such plants at this have on their roots a little bulb, called a nodule or nitrogen storage plant. When these plants are grown they should be turned under so that the nitrogen should be spread in the soil. Such plants as these have the ability to take nitrogen from the air and convert it into a farm useful to the soil.

The next important factor of diversified farming is to have enough cattle, swine, and poultry to furnish the farm home in milk, butter, meat, and eggs; and have enough left over to bring in a little steady check all year round. To have cattle one must have a good permanent pasture. It is also a good idea to keep two or three acres for hog pastures.

All summed up, diversified farming is farming on a variety basis enough to have a steady income the year round. The sooner the American farmers realize the importance of diversified farming, the better off they'll be.

SPORTS AFIELD By Ted Kesting

A human weasel is a shifty, slinking, chinless weakling who takes by unlawful craftiness what he cannot gain by intelligence, pluck, hard work and personal integrity.

There is nothing shifty about the weasel. He is as direct as a bullet. Yet you never hear anyone speak a kind word in his behalf. This small carnivore is always pictured as a vile satanic killer, sly, sneaky, without morals, scruples, or self respect.

But to Byron Dalrymple, once a trapper, the weasel has many characteristics of which humans could be very proud, if they had them to his degree. He is equipped with a high-speed metabolism which keeps him constantly restive, always on the move. Coupled with this tremendous energy are one of the most alert and agile intelligences in wildlife, matchless fearlessness and determination, lightning physical agility, and the most amazing strength per unit of weight you will find in mammals.

The weasel is one of the world's smallest carnivores, yet probably nature's most efficient killer. In his every daily act he is, next to the shrew, the most intense of all mammals. We call this intensity of movement and purpose ferocity, but from the weasel's viewpoint, it is nothing more than a superior development in relation to conditions of his environment.

His unusual strength, plus his other qualities, enable him to cope with creatures outweighing him 20 and more times. To muscular power he adds an expert surgeon's knowledge of the most deadly of movement and purpose ferocity, but from the weasel's viewpoint, it is nothing more than a superior development in relation to conditions of his environment.

His unusual strength, plus his other qualities, enable him to cope with creatures outweighing him 20 and more times. To muscular power he adds an expert surgeon's knowledge of the most deadly of movement and purpose ferocity, but from the weasel's viewpoint, it is nothing more than a superior development in relation to conditions of his environment.

So do not malign the weasel, even though his purpose and the human purpose are at odds. Consider well the perfection of his dynamic character. And if, in measuring your own wits against his, you can honestly say you can match him, then put aside all your personal worries. Your future is assured.

Cicero Milam, Here 60 Years; Leader of Championship Band, Tells of the "Good Old Days"

CICERO MILAM

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS By J. C. W.

After two weeks absence, I find the weeds, grass and other vegetation have grown to such an extent I am thinking of making my back yard a game preserve instead of doing so much hoeing and mowing. During dry years one would be led to think the country had worn out to the extent that crops and other vegetation would not do so much. But let there be plenty of moisture, the land will produce as only good soil will produce. This should be one of our best crop years.

People are jittery since the Amarillo storm. Tuesday morning, when the clouds grew dark and thunder rolled and lightning flashed, every business house in town was emptied of people. Even the proprietors and clerks all stepped out to see if a storm was approaching. I can rain easily—seemingly without effort—these days. Some are thinking there has been too much rain, while others, remembering the dry years, are willing for it to continue a while longer.

A number of former Hall County men had property in the storm area in Amarillo, and some lost their homes completely, while others had partial losses. There were many anxious relatives in Memphis for several hours Sunday night, and this anxiety was relieved only when they learned the Amarillo kin were OK.

Hall County is not the only part of Texas that can boast good crops. A trip south to Abilene, southeast to Temple, north to Dallas, and back to Memphis reveals bumper wheat and oat crops, and in the black land belt, knee-high corn. Hall and high winds are the things most dreaded by the farmers now, and will be until the grain crops are harvested.

Mrs. E. H. Stanford writes: "I came here in 1898 and am happy to be an old-timer. By all means, we want a reunion, but not during the rodeo. Let's have it by our-selves when we old-timers can visit and spend the day together." Would like to hear from other old-timers about a reunion this year.

Bill Phleuger of West Main street says that Matilda Upstart of West Noel street is a very systematic woman. She works on the theory that you can find whatever you want when you don't want it by looking where it wouldn't be if you did want it.

A pledge all drivers of automobiles should take, and better adhere to: "I will be a defensive driver. I will make allowance for the other fellow's carelessness, lack of skill and knowledge. I recognize that I have no control over the unpredictable actions of other drivers and pedestrians, nor over conditions of weather and roads; therefore, I will develop a defense against these hazards. I will concede my right-of-way and make other concessions to avoid collision. I will be careful to commit no driving errors myself and will be defensively alert to avoid all accidents."

Matilda Upstart of West Noel street told Bill Phleuger, "Keep your hands off of me", when he told her that everything he had been touching lately had gone wrong.

I wonder if the road to Fairview Cemetery can be hard-surfaced. Present conditions certainly justify action in the matter.

While out of town two weeks, Memphis lost two mighty fine people—Clifford Compton and Mrs. Horace Tarver. Both were neighborly and friendly, devoted to their families, public-spirited citizens who always had kind words of greeting and sympathy.

Cicero Milam, a resident of Memphis since 1889, leader in band work and civic activities, celebrated his 66th birthday on Friday, May 13.

Retired after 25 years of employment with the First National Bank, where he served as an assistant cashier, he is once again "on his feet" after a bad auto collision last January.

Leader of the former Memphis Gold Medal Band, which was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, he achieved fame when that 40-piece band captured the coveted honor of winning the first place award at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Plainview on May 16, 1935.

Letters and wires of congratulations poured into the home of Mr. Milam from all over the state. James V. Alfred, then governor of Texas, wrote a letter telling Mr. Milam that he enjoyed the band and hoped to see them again.

Upholding A Tradition "It was not just the prizes we won. We were just carrying on the traditions left to us by the late Paul James, who devoted his life to build up fine bands in this region."

"While I was the leader of the band from 1935 to 1936 it won the love and affection of every resident of the city. The members all played like they were inspired by Paul James. It was the spirit he left to us, which made the band a great one," Mr. Milam, modestly explained.

"While I remember bands back to the time I came to Memphis at the age of six in '89, it was not till 1910 that Paul James gave us a real one."

"I played a cornet in the band from 1901 on. I can remember a trip on May 4th, 1916 to Estelline by an old Model T brass front 1912 vintage with eight other members of the band. We musicians coming in the town and playing while the car was chugging around the community, created a sensation."

"During World War-I the band was used in Liberty Bond drives and for other patriotic purposes, Mr. Milam explained.

Memphis, A Musical Town "In the early days, before people could run around in their cars, home town music was much more important than it is now. When we wanted music we had to make it. We did not have radios to turn on. Memphis, was ever since I can remember, a musical town. On many a fine night the band would play in the square."

"Besides the men members of the band, Mrs. A. L. Gailey, the former Geraldine Kinard was a drum major in the band. Mrs. Jack T. Baldwin, the former Miss Ouida Reed, was the sweetheart of the band. Mrs. Gailey also led a fife and drum corps," he said.

"One of the things I am sure of is that music will always be liked. Everybody listens to it. Less people have to play music now because of radio. And I can turn on my radio, close my eyes and listen to Paul James play the cornet. He used to be Paul James Jr., he is now with Ted Fiorita's band. I have lived a full life. Memphis is where I would be if I had to do it all over again," he added.

Mr. Milam is a former cornet player of the First Christian Church of which he is a member. He belongs to the Masonic order of the Knights Templars.

City Gets New Truck Saturday

Latest piece of equipment to be placed in use by the City of Memphis is a new Chevrolet truck, which was delivered to the officials last Saturday. It has been equipped with hydraulic dump bed, and will be put to immediate use.

Employees of the city now have three trucks in which to handle trash hauling, garbage collection and gravel hauling. Tentative plans have been made to add several thousand yards of gravel to dirt streets in the city this year, officials announced.

Other new equipment which has been purchased by the city during the last four years include fire truck, street sweeper, dump truck, line marker and load packer for trash truck. All this equipment was paid for at time of delivery.

Memphis Soldier Instructing Army Men In Jap Camp

Pfc. Dorwyn Anglin of 415 North 5th street, Memphis, has recently been assigned as an instructor to the 31st Infantry regiment's NCO school at Camp Crawford, Japan, army authorities in Japan advise.

Pfc. Anglin enlisted in the Army in June 1947 at Dallas, Texas and completed his basic training at Fort Ord, California. In June 1948, Pfc. Anglin was sent overseas and assigned to the 32nd Infantry Regiment that was then stationed in Korea. Last December, he was sent to Japan to serve with the famed 31st Infantry Regiment which because it has never been stationed within the continental limits of the United States, has earned for itself the title of the "American Foreign Legion."

Last February when the 31st Infantry's NCO School was first organized, Pfc. Anglin was among the selected group to attend the first class. Because of his outstanding ability to lead and instruct men in the many technical and tactical phases of modern warfare, he was chosen to be an instructor at the school.

Prior to joining the Army, Pfc. Anglin attended Memphis High School, where he played on the High School football team.

Agronomist Says Treated Seed Will Give Better Yield

The theory that chemical seed treatment is good insurance for maximum cotton production has been advanced by E. A. Miller extension agronomist of Texas A. & M. College.

"There's often quite a difference in a cotton crop has been planted with chemically treated seed and a crop that wasn't," he stated. "Chemical treatment will give better stands and greater yields because the chemicals kill seed-borne germs and protect against molds and fungi in the soil.

Without seed treatment, it is harder to get a good stand for producing a good crop, according to the agronomist. Unprotected seed rots easily in the soil before it has a chance to germinate, especially if the ground is too cold or wet for quick germination. Even after the seed germinate, many young seedlings are killed by angular leaf spot, soreskin or bacterial boll rot.

"One of the worst cotton diseases is angular leaf spot. It often shows up first on the young seed leaves, and during damp weather after the seedlings come up, many of them will die unless they were treated with a chemical before planting. This same disease also destroys some of the early buds, and may prevent the growth of early fruiting branches. As the cotton plant grows, the disease shows up as angular spots on the leaves, and also as bacterial boll rot," Miller says.

Brown spots or cankers at the ground level or slightly below on a stem is a good sign of soreskin. Many plants will recover from this disease, but they are often late in developing.

Experiments have shown that seed treatment greatly reduces these troubles and helps to promote more vigorous seedlings, which often can be chopped and cultivated earlier.

Chemicals which have proved effective are ceresan M, common ceresan (2 percent), new improved ceresan (5 percent), Dow 9B and spergon.

Directions on the containers should be followed very closely, and the delinted as well as the fuzzy seeds should be treated. It is very important that the seeds are thoroughly and evenly covered with the dust in a container, such as a can on an axle that can be rotated, he concludes.

Snakes Get You Credits If You Are At College

Want to increase your credit rating?

College credits—that is, just catch snakes this summer on the annual University of Texas zoology field trip.

In a five-week study of animal life in the Trans-Pecos-Edwards plateau region, students will substitute guns for books and traps to collect as many specimens of wild life as possible.

Accompanied by Zoology Professor W. Frank Blair, 20 students will leave June 6 for the Blackstone Ranca, 15 miles south of Sheffield, and will continue their work through July 12.

Dr. Blair says specimens should be of particular interest because the area of study represents a change from the Trans-Pecos region wild life to that of the Edwards plateau.

Specimens will be brought to the University for addition to the zoology museum and plants as well as animals will be included.

They will be utilized in cataloguing the distribution and manner of life habits of animals and plants in the state.

Warns Diphtheria Immunity Is Not Permanent Event

Warning that parents sometimes are laboring under a false sense of security in regard to diphtheria immunization, Dr. E. R. Clark, Memphis physician, reiterated a warning made by Dr. George Cox, state health officer, urging Texas parents to have their children Schick tested to determine immunity against diphtheria.

Because of 14 reported cases of diphtheria within the past week, and a total of 397 cases reported in the first 19 weeks of this year, Dr. Cox said.

"There is a widespread belief that once immunity is established, it lasts forever. This is not always true. In some cases it diminishes and finally dies out, and reinoculation is necessary in order to protect the child.

"Every child who will enter school next term should be inoculated or Schick tested now, because it takes from three to nine months for immunity to be completely established after the injection is administered.

"As long as cases of diphtheria occur, a child is in danger unless protected by immunization. The germs throw off a powerful poison which goes all through the body. It is particularly harmful to the heart, blood vessels, nerves and kidneys, and serious complications often accompany the disease. Some of the more dangerous complications are broncho-pneumonia, to which the patient is particularly susceptible; paralysis, which may last for days or for as long as 3 or 4 months; or permanent injury to heart, nerves or kidneys.

"The best thing to do with diphtheria, is to stop it before it starts." When toxoid is injected under the skin, the system manufactures a disease-fighting antitoxin which can successfully resist the disease. Children of school age should be inoculated or Schick tested now, so that immunity will be established or nearly so, before the opening of the next school term."

Tomato Container Regulations Will Help Home Grower

"New tomato container regulations recently issued will give the Texas tomato industry a broader market outlet and larger consumption of Texas tomatoes," declared Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald.

"In recent years," McDonald explained, "practically all Texas tomatoes were shipped green wrapped in the standard 30-pound lug which did not lend itself well to grower packing, thereby channeling the tomato crop through dealer shipping establishments."

"The revised regulations," McDonald continued, "permit the shipment of tomatoes wrapped or unwrapped in single-section closed containers with net weight of not more than sixty pounds or in two-section closed containers with net weight not exceeding seventy-five pounds. These containers lend themselves well to grower packaging. The tomato industry is well protected under the new regulations because all tomatoes packed and offered for sale with grade below U. S. No. 2 must have marked on the containers the word 'culls'."

McDonald predicted that the new regulations would bring increased competition in buying Texas tomatoes and should give the grower a larger percent of the consumer's dollar with the overall result of maximum consumption of Texas tomatoes. "Many times in the past," McDonald stated, "the price of Texas tomatoes to the grower was so low that the farmer could hardly afford to harvest the tomatoes he had grown while halfway across the state tomatoes were selling so high in the stores that the consumer could hardly afford to buy them. The new tomato container

Unemployment Benefits Increased While Employer's Tax Is Reduced

Increase of unemployment benefits with a lower tax rate to effect by a bill passed by the 51st Texas Legislature, the Texas Employment Commission announced. The act which will increase the maximum benefits from $18 a week for a period of eighteen weeks to $20 a week for twenty-four weeks for the claimants for unemployment insurance, also cuts the tax rate the employer pays on unemployment compensation, as signed by Governor Beauford Jester, May 11.

Will Save Employers Millions
Under the old law, experience tax rates called for a minimum of five-tenths of one per cent on employer payrolls. The new law lowers the figure to one-tenth of one per cent. The maximum experience tax rate remains 2.7 per cent. This section, the Texas Unemployment Commission estimated, will save employers a sum calculated to be between six to ten million dollars.

Graduated tax table is in one-tenth of one per cent steps as opposed to the old table which was based on a raise on a five-tenth basis. This provides a more accurate measurement of employer experience tax rates. Further provisions of the new law is that an employer is entitled to an experience tax rate will not be charged with benefits paid to a worker who leaves the employer under new law was raised to $20 and the maximum duration extended 6 weeks. The minimum weekly payment was also raised from $5 to $7, TEC said.

A worker must have earned a minimum of $90 in covered employment to qualify for employment insurance under the old law, but this provision was amended to provide that workers must show real attachment to the labor market by requiring higher earnings during a longer period of time for benefit eligibility. It requires total earnings of $200 during the year, and that there must be earnings in at least two calendar quarters during the year.

Heretofore, under the old law, TEC added, any benefits paid to a claimant who was receiving an employer pension was reduced by the amount the claimant received under the plan. This provision was repealed on the ground that such pension plans usually represent an investment on the part of the worker as well as the employer, and that such investment should be treated in the same way that any other insurance investment is treated.

Another provision of the new act provides in effect that when the Trust Fund exceeds $200,000,000, every employer who is eligible for an experience rating shall receive an additional one-tenth of one per cent reduction in his tax rate for each $5,000,000 in the trust fund in excess of $200,000,000. Presently, there is over $206,000,000 in the trust

New Vet Housing Book Is Available

What the veteran should know when he buys his home is set forth in a new 24-page booklet titled "For the Home-Buying Veteran," now available. It was prepared by federal housing experts.

The booklet is intended to give the veteran an understanding of the powers and limitations of the government in assisting him with his housing problems. Its purpose also is to furnish him with some basic guidance in the exercise of his own responsibility. It affords a dual guide—(1) to government assistance on a home bought or built under GI-guaranteed loans, FHA-insured loans and Veterans' Emergency Housing Program priorities; and (2) to self-help and protection in any home purchase transaction.

Copies of this booklet may be obtained from the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., at a cost of five cents each.

For this provision to be effective there must likewise to an eight per cent ratio between the amount in the fund and the previous year's taxable wages. The present ratio is approximately eight per cent. The old law had no limit on the size of the trust fund, and no possible tax reductions could be made other than standard experience rating. TEC pointed out.

Miss Guthrie, Tech Student, Is Guest Speaker At Pathfinder's Tea Tuesday

Highlighting the spring activities of the Pathfinder's Council was a guest tea Tuesday afternoon, May 10, in the home of Mrs. Anna Dickson, 523 South 6th street.

Assisting hostesses were members of the social committee which is composed of Mrs. W. H. Monzingo, Mrs. Gene Chamberlain, Mrs. Robert Spicer, Mrs. Barney Burnett and Mrs. O. M. Gunstream.

Mrs. A. Gidden, president, welcomed the guests and Mrs. W. H. Monzingo introduced the guest speaker, Miss Sue Lynn Guthrie, a senior student in the Home Making Department at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, who spoke on "Home Is What You Make It."

Beginning her address, Miss Guthrie said she felt at home in the club because she knew personally every member; yet, she felt like a visitor because she was representing her college and her department and the home makers everywhere when she set forth philosophies and ideals.

Continuing Miss Guthrie stated that she believed home is the natural environment of every woman, and there is as much art in making a house into a home as there is in any other field of endeavor. Orderliness, sense of value, control of emotions, religion, acceptance of responsibilities and respect for the rights of others were listed as some of the important factors in the home by Miss Guthrie.

She traced the growth of the home making department in college and high school from its inception. It was first called "domestic art" and the teachers strove to do the unusual things; the next step was "domestic science," which was truly an effort to understand the cause and effect of every element of food, of expending every motion, of organizing the home into a smoothly running machine. This evolved into "home economics" and now we have "home making." "I believe," Miss Guthrie concluded, "the present phase of teaching is the most logical, and the most worthwhile of all stages."

Following the program, punch was served in the dining room. The attractively appointed serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink roses. Bouquets of roses and other seasonal flowers

1913 Study Club Enjoys Luncheon In Toney Home

Mrs. O. T. Toney was hostess to the 1913 Study Club Wednesday, May 4, when the annual covered dish luncheon was observed.

The home was decorated throughout with spring flowers. The dining table held an arrangement of roses falling gracefully from a horn of plenty. The four-square tables were centered with small vases of seasonal flowers. Places were marked with hand painted cards.

The social committee, Mesdames James Smith, A. L. Gailey, H. A. Finch, E. M. Wilson, Chas. B. Dryden and Don Wright, assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

The menu consisted of ham loaf, new potatoes, harvard beets, peach pickles, a variety of raw vegetables, hot rolls, iced tea and strawberry shortcake.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Toney conducted a short business session after which a sextette consisting of Mesdames Mac Tarver, T. J. Way, Carl Smith, A. L. Gailey, O. T. Toney, and Miss Mary Foreman sang "Vale of Touni" and "Perfect Day."

Mrs. A. L. Burks reviewed Joshua Loth Liebman's book, "Peace of Mind." In introducing the author, Mrs. Burks said that the book is timeless, but also timely; a book that may well prove to be a vital influence in American life.

It blends the great truths of religion with the most helpful insights of the comparatively new sciences of psychoanalysis, psychology, and psychiatry to guide people in understanding themselves and liberating themselves from life's complications. This book with its wisely optimistic outlook on life provides a bases that will help people to help themselves, Mrs. Burks stated.

Places were laid for the following members and guests: Mesdames Byron Baldwin, A. L. Burks, L. G. DeBerry, Chas. Dryden, Allen Dunbar, H. A. Finch, A. L. Gailey, Gayle Greene, R. S. Greene, T. M. Harrison, M. McNeely, James Smith, Horace Tarver, Mac Tarver, O. T. Toney, H. C. Walker, E. M. Wilson, R. C. Lemons, L. W. Stanford, Don Wright, T. J. Way, Carl Smith and Miss Mary Foreman.

Healthy Hens Are Better Layers
The healthy hen is a better layer. A happy hen is made so by being well cared for. A happy hen is contented and can go about her business of laying more eggs than a sick chicken.

Cleaning and disinfecting the poultry house and equipment makes for healthier disease-free birds. And it's one of the first important steps in getting maximum egg production. The five "S's" of laying house sanitation are scrape, sweep, scald, and spray, say the extension poultry specialists.

The new circular, officially known as C-260, Keep Hens Happy, also has information on disease and parasite control including coccidiosis, fowl pox vaccination, and the reduction of internal parasites by frequently moving the range shelters to clean areas.

Two other points brought out in the new circular are the separation of old hens from the younger pullets and the space needed per bird in the henhouse. Older birds are sometimes disease carriers of roup and range paralysis, and for this reason the old hens should be kept apart from the young pullets.

Each hen needs three to four feet of floor space, eight to ten inches of roosting space, three to four inches of feeder space and one nest for every five hens. And keep them supplied with plenty of clean water and feed, the specialists say.

RESOLUTIONS
We, the undersigned Committee on Resolutions wish to submit the following:
Whereas, on May 14, 1949, our beloved friend, Lois Tarver, member of the 1913 Study Club, departed from this earthly home, therefore be it resolved:
First, that we make this permanent record of our love and esteem for our departed member, and of our recognition that in her life she exemplified the aims and purposes of our club; that she was a faithful member, a true friend and a tireless worker of the 1913 Study Club. She has passed on to her reward, but her works will live on in the hearts of her co-workers, whose lives have been made richer by having her as a friend.
Second, that a copy of these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of the Club on a page set apart for this purpose.
Third, that a copy shall be sent to the surviving family as an expression of our sympathy in this hour of bereavement.

Fourth, that these resolutions be published in the Memphis Democrat.

Gently the door has opened
And she has entered there,
Free, at last, from all
Her burdens and her care,
No one hears the door that opens
When they pass beyond our call;
Soft as the dropping petals of the rose,
One by one our loved ones fall;
But the memory of each loved one,
Like the fragrance of the rose,
God sends to linger with us
Till our own life's door shall close.

Mrs. O. T. Toney, President
1913 Study Club.

Committee on Resolutions: Mrs. T. M. Harrison, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bowman were Mrs. Elmer Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowman and daughter and Junior Bowman, all of Portales, N. M.

Cotton Prices And Acreages

"Cotton's ultimate price, and cotton's ultimate acreage, depends inexorably on the volume of intensity of consumer demand."

The above words were spoken by an Arkansas cotton farmer, Harold A. Young, who is president of the National Cotton Council. It seems to sum up the situation in a few simple yet potent words.

Work of leaders in the cotton industry—producers and processors—during the past ten years have gone a long way toward building cotton's future markets. Research now in progress is serving to improve cotton's qualities and lower production costs.

Only recently, officials of the Cotton Council announced an intensive campaign to enlist the financial support of all members of the cotton industry in the research and promotion program which will solve most of cotton's problems in the years to come. It is sound business for cotton people to support such a program. A tremendous demand must be created through adequate sales and research efforts to consume the crops which fertile acres will produce.

Cotton has always been the number one cash crop of Hall County. It will remain that way, even as farmers turn more and more to grains, dairy cattle, poultry, and swine to supplement their income. The increased interest of producers and others in the cotton industry in what the national program may be is also a healthy condition. In the final analysis, cotton price supports and acreage allotments will be another determining factor where the dollar mark is concerned.

VACATION FOR WHOM?

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

LOSING FREEDOM—This country has had freedom for almost two centuries. That freedom has permitted our citizens to mold their own destinies. As a result we are not only blessed with a fruitful life but have developed into a nation which more than any other, follows the Golden Rule in the hope of helping others.

But like a blight that threatens the mightiest stand of timber, socialism has been introduced in the United States. This type of governmentalism leads people to believe that they will be relieved of much of the burden of making a living—that the government will be able to produce and care for them. But no mention is made of the increase in taxation caused by greater government spending. Paying the tax bill has placed a constantly greater demand upon the citizen's pocketbook.

Individual opportunity has receded from its crest in this country. Have the people lost sight of the great heritage left to them? Are they like the boy who was given full freedom in the candy store and consequently made himself sick by abusing it? The American people are headed for a stomach-ache as they swallow bigger and bigger doses of socialism now being fed them in sugar-coated form by Washington politicians.—Canyon News

WAR TAX PENALTIES—During the war, nearly eight years ago, a 15 percent tax was added to all train, bus and plane fares, principally to discourage civilian travel.

It was not the primary purpose of the tax to raise revenue. The original reason for imposing it has long since ceased to exist. Like all taxes, once they have been established, it is almost impossible to get rid of them.

Today this penalty on travel not only works a hardship on commercial carriers at a time when business is slowing up, but it is affecting vacation travel and all activities which benefit from tourist business. It is a burden on parents of students who are traveling to school; on people who must travel because of illness in the family, accidents and death; on individuals attending conferences and business meetings of various kinds and on traveling for health and recreation.

The tax has been repealed on travel to foreign countries receiving Marshall Plan aid. Several weeks ago Canada, which imposed a similar 15 percent tax during the war, dropped it.

Reasons for repealing the penalty tax on personal travel apply with equal force to the 3 percent tax on freight shipments. Such a tax is discriminatory to the common carriers who buy their own trucks and furnish their own transportation, escape it. It penalizes producers who must ship their products long distances to markets in competition with those situated closer to consumers.

It is high time the people begin to demand that wartime taxes and restrictions be eliminated in favor of peacetime policies that tend to encourage industry and payrolls. A good place to begin is to remove the wartime penalty tax on all such necessities as passenger and freight rates.—Munday Times.

This Week in WASHINGTON

HIGHLIGHT of the week in Washington was the dramatic defeat of the Truman administration on labor legislation and the possibility which now looms that there may be no replacement of the Taft-Hartley act. Administration leaders, in a face-saving device, did muster three more than enough votes to recommit the Woods bill, but that did not whitewash the enormity of the defeat on the one-measure most definitely promised by President Truman and the Democratic platform; namely, the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

There are all sorts of stories going around that in the meantime the administration will crack the whip on the recalcitrant southern Democrats who teamed up with Republicans in the house to scuttle the administration labor program. Observers, however, can see nothing that the president can do insofar as the southerners are concerned to discipline them either in the matter of patronage or purging.

In the meantime, Sen. Robert A. Taft, co-author of the controversial Taft-Hartley act, is bringing in a new labor bill of his own which is the Taft-Hartley act all over with some amendments that he admits are necessary to improve the law and make it more equitable, insofar as labor is concerned. Also in the meantime, the perennial or annual, coal strike to be called by John L. Lewis looms in the offing this summer and there promises to be a series of nation-wide strikes in the big unions as retaliation against their defeat at the hands of congress.

The other highlight of the week was the testimony before the agricultural committees of farm leaders on the program of Secretary Brannan for agriculture. None of the farm leaders—that is, except James G. Patton of the National Farmers Union—endorsed the Brannan plan. Patton told the house committee that the Brannan plan is "sound" and "statesman-like" and that it is "by far the best of the general alternatives before congress." He even said that in giving special consideration to the family-type farm as distinguished from "large farms" that it did not go far enough.

Allan Kline of the Farm Bureau federation and Albert Goss of the National Grange declared their opposition to the program. Kline was inclined to string along with the Hope-Aiken law books and Goss had own, proposing a board with authority later the act with single commodity. The Brannan approach.

TUNING IN ON AN Underground NETWORK

Beneath the surface on the average city street is a maze of gas mains, water lines and other pipes and cables of varying sizes. There are often many problems to be solved when a gas line is extended to new homes, stores or factories through this unseen network of metal. United Gas employs an ingenious electrical device known as a "pipe locator" to trace the underground pattern—to locate its own lines and to avoid damage to others.

This is one of many functions of the United Gas organization... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK
National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Trigger Control

Control of the trigger can make or break you as a shooter. The accepted movie hero technique of yanking at the trigger with hardly more than a glance at the target is bosh. You can't hit anything consistently that way.

When your sights are aligned on the target the only way to get off the shot is to squeeze the trigger with such a smooth and steady motion that you do not disturb that aim. The trigger is squeezed by a steady movement of the forefinger only.

Speed and smoothness in the trigger squeeze can be combined but it takes practice and the best way to practice is with an empty gun. Aim at a small bullseye across the room and carefully let-off each shot. Since the rifle does not actually fire you can see your mistakes.

Another thing—while squeezing the trigger stop breathing and relax. The rise and fall of the chest while breathing will throw your sights off the target. Relaxation will reduce your pulse beat, which is another disturbing factor in precision aiming.

One final hint — always follow through. By that I mean keep looking through the sights at the target even after the shot is fired. This prevents movement of the gun before the shot has left the muzzle and often enables you to see where your shot hit when you are shooting in the field.

(This instruction based on the booklet "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Be sure of your target!

Curtailed Budget Causes Cut Of VA Admin. Forces

Robert W. Sisson, Veterans Administration Regional Manager announced that a minimum number of lay-offs will be necessary in the West Texas VA region as a result of a nation-wide reduction in Veterans Administration employees.

VA will immediately issue reduction in force notices of dismissal to approximately 8000 employees in order to bring personnel within the provisions of the VA budget as submitted to the Congress for Fiscal Year 1950. One immediate effect of the reduction order will be the closing of 42 VA offices through the nation.

Sisson said that the curtailment would not mean closing any VA offices in this region; however, it would be necessary to stop all itinerate service effective June first. VA contact representatives will continue to make their regularly scheduled itinerate visits until June first. Other than the regional office at Lubbock, VA offices are located at Amarillo, Childress, Abilene, San Angelo, Big Spring, Odessa, and El Paso.

Veterans Administrations Central Office at Washington pointed out that this reduction in personnel does not take into consideration any further cuts that may be congress which may necessitate further reduction. The entire reduction is being borne by services other than medical and hospitals.

Despite the personnel cut of approximately 5 percent in the West Texas VA regional office, every infantry basic training at Fort McClellan, Alabama, he was sent to Japan during February 1947. Prior to joining the Army he attended Carey High School in Carey, Texas, and was employed by Magnolio Pet. Company in Estelline, Texas.

Fruits, Vegetables Show Gain In Sales

Rail shipments of fruits and vegetables in Texas gained 17 per cent from March to April, University of Texas bureau of business research reported.

Sizable increases over the previous month were registered by cabbage, lettuce, and onion movements, while sharp declines were presented by mixed vegetables, parsley, beets, and carrots.

Onion shipments dropped 70 per cent under April 1948 levels; cabbage, 63 per cent; beets, 62 per cent; parsley, 44 per cent; and vegetables, 30 per cent.

Texas Spring Retail Sales Almost Same As Last Year; Drop Is Small

Retail sales for April, exceeding $424 million, increased 1 per cent in April over the preceding month, but declined 1 per cent from a year earlier. University of Texas bureau of business research experts reported.

Because of a late Easter, nondurable goods store sales rose 7 per cent above March to lead durable goods, which usually dominate Texas retail sales.

Florist's sales in April, with a 28 per cent gain over March, showed the greatest increase among nondurable goods stores. Sales of men's and boys' clothing stores climbed 29 per cent; shoe stores, 22 per cent; and family clothing stores, 21 per cent.

Sales of grocery stores without meat and combination stores, rising 5 and 3 per cent, respectively, contributed to the 2-per-cent hike in the over-all food picture.

Although small gains over March were recorded by jewelry (1 per cent) and furniture and household stores (3 per cent), durable goods store sales declined 5 per cent from the previous month. Sales of lumber and building material dealers fell 10 per cent; farm implements, 9 per cent.

Auto Sales Gain
Over the April-to-April span wider fluctuations were registered by Texas retailers. Sales of motor vehicle dealers went up 19 per cent; and automotive stores, 14 per cent; while building material, lumber, and Retail sales of nondurable goods remained almost unchanged from a year earlier, with florist's sales jumping 42 per cent over the 12-month period. Next closest gains showed shoe stores rising 23 per cent, and women's specialty shops, 11 per cent.

Filling station sales dropped 16 per cent in April below April 1948 to show the deepest decline, being followed by country general stores, down 6 per cent, and men's and boys' clothing stores, both down 6 per cent.

Woman Economist Advises Men How To Fix Kitchens

If the man of the house is handy with carpenter tools, his wife can put him to work repairing the kitchen.

So says Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

"Often an improvement in storage facilities and work space of an old kitchen is just a matter of simple carpentry, requiring tools and materials familiar to a farm carpenter.

"Whether remodeling or building," she says, "plan on cabinets for food preparation utensils, materials and serving. Storage space for work clothes and cleaning supplies helps greatly in keeping the house more orderly."

"Cabinet units can be grouped or built individually between doors and windows that so often break up wall space in an old-fashioned kitchen. The most difficult construction in good cabinets may be the drawers; if the farm shop does not have a routing plane for cutting grooves for the drawers," Mrs. Claytor said. "This work usually can be done at a local lumber yard," she added.

"Sliding trays are more convenient for base cabinets than shelves. Such trays will save a great deal of tiresome stooping and reaching to the back of a space nearly two feet deep. Adjustable shelves are most essential if cabinets are to be of the service we expect them to be.

"Many families in Texas have the problem of remodeling old farmhouses, but the large number of new homes which are being built means that a great deal of thought needs to be given to the planning for new kitchens, too. Check your kitchen plans before the house is built to be sure that all time and work-saving features are included," Mrs. Claytor concluded.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its busy and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
