Funeral Services In Dallas for Former Local Man

Funeral services for G. C. Posey, brother of Q. E. and S. D. Posey of Memphis, were held at the Oak Cliff Baptist Church in Dallas Tuesday afternoon.

Posey died in a Dallas hospital on Monday morning. He was well-known in Memphis, having lived here from 1914 until 1940. During the time Posey resided here he was engaged in farming.

Hall County farmers have 160,000 acres of cotton planted on the regular row crop land and about 5,000 additional acres have been planted on wheat land after the harvest, these statistics show.

But County Agent W. B. Hooser Wednesday added a note of pessimism to this report by pointing out that damage from fleahoppers has been unexpectedly great and that the county is suffering its worst plague in history from these insects.

Announcement was made this week that Leon Martin of Newlin, young Hall County 4-H Club leader, has been awarded first place in the 1949 Boar Demonstration Contest held in Districts 1, 2 and 3 and a part of the Sears Pig Program.

"Martin did very well, indeed," said Knox Parr, District Agent of the Extension Service. "He bred a good many gilts and his cash returns were very favorable."

Two other Hall County 4-H Club boys were among the winners announced in the Heavy Litter Contest, also a part of the Sears Program.

John Ira Foster of Memphis won ninth place and a prize of $10 and Harold Satterfield of Parnell followed Foster in 10th place, also winning a $10 award with his litter.

"All awards will be in the form of purchase certificates," Parr pointed out. "Only materials useful in furthering Club members' swine demonstration may be purchased with the awards."

Home of Mrs. Theodore Swift is Scene For Sodolitan Class Luncheon June 30

The spacious country home of Mrs. Theodore Swift was the scene for a 1:00 o'clock luncheon on June 30 for members of the Sodolitan Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion, featuring a patriotic theme in keeping with the Fourth of July holidays. Guests were seated at four round tables which were gaily decorated with flags to carry out the chosen motif. Preceding the meal, the blessing was offered by the pastor, Rev. Shahan.

Following the luncheon, members and guests assembled in the living room for the program and business session, with the president, Mrs. Henry Scott, presiding.

Introducing the program, the class members joined hands and sang the class song, "Blest be the Tie that Binds" and prayer was offered by Mrs. Shahan.

During the business hour, reports were given by officers and committeemen and the group voted to start a birthday box. Each month at the class party members who have a birthday falling in that month will be allowed to select a package from the birthday box.

Model of First Texas Train at FiestaCade Sat.

Authentic properties, including a specially built model of the first train engine which puffed into Fort Worth in 1876, a famous old stagecoach, and many other actual relics of pioneer days, will give the true-to-life touch to "Fiesta-Cade."

The huge outdoor spectacle, hailed as the "show of a lifetime," will be presented for eight nights in Farrington Field, opening Saturday night, July 16. Main event in Fort Worth's centennial celebration, Fiesta-Cade has a cast of 2,000, chorus of 300, and a 350-foot stage. In 20 episodes, all interspersed with music, dancing, and spectacular lighting effects, Fiesta-Cade will re-create the colorful and exciting highlights of Fort Worth's first century.

Among its scenes are the cattle trail days, coming of the first train, the "Gay Nineties" with their handlebar mustaches, bustles and tandem bicycles; the Spring Palace fire in 1890, discovery of oil in the Ranger-Burk Burnett area, and "The Night Is Young" scene from Casa Manana. A spectacular fireworks display will conclude the show each night.

In the oil scene, a derrick actually will gush forth "flowing gold." The Texas and Pacific, whose first train arrived in Fort Worth on July 19, 1876, is building an authentic model of that first engine.

Owls Blast Mangum

The Memphis Owls turned eight hits into six runs here Saturday night to blast Mangum 6-3 in an exhibition game at Estes Park.

The Owls amassed eight hits off Mangum hurler Abbott with Pruitt leading the batting parade with two safe singles in four official trips to the plate.

Metz LaFollette worked the entire nine innings on the hill for Memphis. The big right-hander limited the visitors to five scattered hits, striking out five. He issued two gratis bases.

Mangum took an early lead in the second inning when Murphy reached base on a double and was sent home on outfield flies by Dial and McCallister.

But the Owls took control of the game in the bottom of the third. Pruitt singled, Coppage reached base via the gratis route, LaFollette singled and Banks and Hambrick got doubles to spearhead the Memphis rally.

The Owls added their final score in the fourth when Farmer, on base on a single, was sent home by Coppage's safe hit.

Sanitation Is Important

Sanitation is the number one item in a successful fly control program. Insecticidal treatment is of little or no value unless a thorough job of cleaning up all fly breeding places is done, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

It is a known fact, adds Deer, that flies carry the germs of many diseases and with the increasing amount of polio in the state it is more important than ever to get rid of the flies and other insects that may be carriers of the disease.

Deer says, if DDT is not giving good results, try a 2 percent chlordane household spray. It should get the flies as well as other insects that are bothersome in and around the house.

Premises should be kept clean at all times. Keep garbage in covered containers and keep the lids on these containers. Clean up and destroy breeding places around the farmstead and don't expect the insecticides to do the entire job. They'll help, says Deer, but there is nothing that can be substituted for cleanliness, but he concludes, if you mix the two together in liberal proportions and use them, you can keep flies under control.

One treatment is not enough and if complete control is to be maintained, constant watch must be kept to see that the flies are kept in their place and the only good fly is a dead fly.

Former Memphian Now Officer in Music Association

R. E. Martin, Jr., formerly of Memphis has been elected treasurer of the Los Angeles Music Teachers Association, according to word received here by his friends.

Martin now resides in Los Angeles where he teaches music and is continuing his studies at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles Music Teachers' Association is a large organization with over 300 members on its roster. Officers carefully selected as their work must necessarily be planned carefully to meet the needs of the various levels of teachers.

Martin will attend the National Music Teachers Association convention in San Francisco beginning July 17, it was reported.

The talented young musician is well-known in Memphis as he lived here for a number of years with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Martin.

He is a graduate of Memphis High School and of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Young People Are Favored Under Social Security

"Social security is the first life insurance that most school boys and girls pay for out of their own earnings by summer employment," J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Administration field office in the Post Office Building, said today.

"Very few of them, and few of their parents realize they are acquiring insurance, because the social security card is still usually associated in the public mind with old age.

"The fact is that eligibility provisions in the Social Security Act favor young people. Until a person is twenty-four and a half years old, earnings of as little as $50 in as few as six different calendar quarters are sufficient credits in a social security account, to give the equivalent of $60.00 life insurance, minimum. The six calendar quarters do not need to be consecutive. And no matter how young a person may be when the sixth quarter is earned, the insurance remains in force until attainment of 24 and a half years of age, even if the boy or girl never does any more work in covered employment after the six necessary quarters are completed.

"The $60 minimum insurance protection under social security is a small sum in terms of life insurance, but it is only a beginning, and will increase to substantial amounts as employment becomes regular at larger wages, and when the boy or girl takes on the support of dependents."

NO WHEAT MARKETING QUOTAS

Hall County ACA Secretary Lynn McKown was notified no marketing quotas on the 1950 wheat crops. McKown said this change in policy was made due to the unexpected deterioration of the 1949 crop. He said allotments will be made out but that there will be no penalty for overplanting other than disqualifying those who do so from being eligible for the government loan.

and three-fourth inch surface casing by cementing in the new hole. Circulation was again lost in the underground river at 148 feet and it was drilled to 172 feet. Eight and five-eighths inch casing was then set and this was drilled out from under with circulation again being lost at 280 feet.

At this point the casing was pulled out and the hole was drilled to 485 feet and re-set with the eight and five-eighths inch casing. Circulation was again lost at 505, the casing was pulled and the crew drilled to a depth of 540 feet, lowest point reached.

The casing was reset Wednesday and cemented at 516 feet and drilling was proceeding. Vander Laan estimated that they would have no more circulation trouble as the bit cut deeper toward the 5,500-foot depth contracted for.

Three crews are working the rig and drilling continues 24 hours a day. Vander Laan will stay on the grounds until the well is completed whether it proves to be a dry hole or is developed into a producer, he said.

Hall Countians Mourn Death of Beauford Jester

Hall Countians joined with shocked citizens all over Texas and the nation this week in mourning the death of Governor Beauford Jester.

As last rites for the Texas political leader were held in Corsicana Wednesday, state and national officials were recalling that his administration would be remembered as one of the most efficient in the history of the state.

Senator Tom Connally brought the word of Jester's death to the United States Senate Monday and Congressional leaders from all sections of the nation mourned the loss of one of this state and country's outstanding political leaders and statesmen.

Governor Jester was found dead in his pullman berth at the Southern Pacific railroad station in Houston Monday morning at 7:30 p. m. A coroner's report said the Governor had died of coronary occlusion.

The body lay in state in the Senate chamber Tuesday and over 10,000 Texans filed past to pay their last respects to their Governor.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Corsicana, Governor Jester's hometown, at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

The late Governor entered public life in 1943 when he was elected to the railroad commission. He ran for governor in 1946 and was swept into office in the second primary, receiving 66 percent of the votes, the most decisive victory ever obtained in a gubernatorial run-off campaign in Texas.

His second victory in 1948 was even more decisive. Governor Jester was extremely popular in Hall County. In 1948 he received 1632 votes in the first primary. His nearest opponent was Roger Q. Evans who received 439 votes.

Referring to Governor Jester's work in office, Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice John Hickman said late Tuesday, "I believe historians will rank it with the outstanding administrations of our state's history."

Lt. Governor Allan Shivers will be sworn in as the new governor soon and has indicated that his home, Magnolia Hills, near Woodville may be the scene of the ceremonies.

Hooser gave the following formula for spraying of the fleahoppers: 20 percent toxaphene plus 40 percent sulphur or a mixture of three percent gamma benzene hexachloride, five percent DDT and 40 percent sulphur (3-4-40 mixture).

"The materials for this spray are available in large quantities now," Hooser said.

"It is vital to the prospects of good cotton crop this fall that Hall County farmers take immediate steps to check the fleahoppers," he re-assured.

McKown reported that the county is well equipped to process the 1949 cotton crop. He said the Memphis Compress Company will have storage for 45,000 bales of cotton and that the Western Cotton Oil Company's oil mill is capable of processing 150 tons of cotton seed every 24 hours.

Hooser and McKown jointly urged all Hall County farmers to take the above-mentioned preventive steps to check insect damage to the crop at once.

close Sept. 15.

Rules Given
All pictures should be mailed or handed in at the office of the chamber of commerce. The name of the photographer and his or her address should be written on the back of each picture.

It should be plainly stated on the back of each picture submitted, or on a separate sheet of paper, the subject matter contained.

The pictures must be of an interesting subject made in Memphis, the surrounding area, or some section of West Texas. No pictures are wanted of just people. For instance, a baby picture would not be acceptable in this contest, unless that baby was a part of the picture telling a story.

"Throughout the planting, growing and harvesting season, there are hundreds of interesting shots which amateur photographers should record on film," Carl Harrison stated in discussing the contest. "There are recreational scenes, street scenes, cowboy pictures, hunting pictures, farm and ranch life and hundreds of others that your imagination will find for you. It does not matter what the subject is—we want you to submit the pictures."

Enlarged glossy prints are not required, but may be requested later. If they are available, they are preferred and should be submitted.

"Remember the closing date will be September 15. Get your cameras now, and start recording interesting scenes of this area," Harrison added. "Hand them in at the local Chamber of Commerce office with the necessary data on the back or attached," Harrison said.

NON REPETAT.

The customer asked to have her prescription refilled. But as the pharmacist looked up the prescription in his file, he found that the physician had marked it "non repetat."—do not repeat. The pharmacist didn't refill this prescription.

It is the pharmacist's business to fill prescriptions and usually he will gladly refill them, but there are certain instances where ethics or the law do not allow him to do so. One of these is the prescription marked "non repetat." The physician here specifically indicates that he wishes the patient to take only the quantity of medicine originally prescribed.

The pharmacist will carry out this instruction just as painstakingly as he does any other contained in the prescription. By so doing, he is acting in the interest of your safety and your health.—Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.

Memphis City Park Nearing Tenth Anniversary

THE PANHANDLE'S FINEST

CALLED AREA'S LEADING RECREATIONAL LOCATION

The beautiful amphitheater, big feature of the Memphis City Park, is the finest meeting place of its kind in the area. In the past the amphitheater has been used for two Sunrise Easter Services. This summer the softball league is using the amphitheater for their diamond with the theater furnishing an excellent bleachers for the spectators. Entirely of concrete on a hill that was designed by nature just for that purpose, the amphitheater will seat 2000 people. It was the largest single project undertaken in the building of the City Park and has drawn endless praise from

"We hope everyone treats this park as his own back yard, feeling free to use it at any time. It is your property."

With these words the late Dr. W. C. Dickey keynoted the dedication services of the Memphis City Park on July 23, 1939. It was a red letter day in the recreational history of Memphis and Hall County—a day that successfully climaxed 20 years of interest and faith by civic-minded citizens and organizations to provide this area with an outstanding facility for outdoor activities.

Three Park Board Members Not Shown

On other pages in this section are pictured four of the members of the Memphis City Park Board. The Democrat regrets that pictures of Mrs. John Deaver, Mrs. Claud Johnson and Mrs. T. D. Weatherby were not available to be included in this group.

The work these ladies did to help make the park project successful has drawn undying praise from the other board members. They undoubtedly deserve a high place among the hardest working and most faithful supporters of the project.

Mrs. Pearl Massey and Mrs. T. J. Hampton and their sister, Mrs. Grady V. Barber and her daughter, Mrs. V. Griffith and Mary Linda, all of Oklahoma City, who are visiting here, went to Lovington, N. M., over the week end to visit with Mrs. Hampton's son, Hubert Maddox and family.

Mrs. Rachel Jones and daughter, Jane, spent the past week end in Clarendon visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ward Jones and children.

The years that have followed that speech of a decade ago are ample evidence that Dr. Dickey's wish has been fulfilled a thousandfold. For the Memphis City Park has become the back yard of picnic and party groups throughout the surrounding area.

Action Begins

Action on building this park actually began taking shape on January 26, 1939, when the City Council, Chamber of Commerce and various civic organizations met and discussed the project.

"If there is one man who should deserve extra credit for the building of the Memphis City Park is J. Claude Wells, mayor of Memphis at that time, who devoted years of effort to this project," points out present Mayor C. C. Hodges. "He is the real 'Father' of the park project," said Hodges, a man who played no small part in the project himself.

Jim King was president of the Chamber of Commerce at that time. Serving as directors were: George Cullin, O. V. Alexander, T. E. Noel, Matthew Allen, Byron Baldwin, W. C. Dickey, F. N. Foxhall, Roy Fultz, S. T. Harrison, Tomie Potts, E. E. Roberts and Claude Wells. Carroll Smyers was secretary of the organization.

PARK LEADER—Called the "Daddy of the Memphis City Park" by Mayor C. C. Hodges is J. Claude Wells, above, who was Mayor of Memphis at the time the project began and was a leader among the early park workers.

H. C. Loard, who has been attending A. & M. College, Fort Collins, Colo., arrived here recently to spend the remainder of the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Loard.

Visitors Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Loard were Mrs. Johnny Crawley and son and Mrs. Dean, all of Tyler. They were en route to Colorado on a vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Loard have as a guest this week, Mrs. Loard's sister, Mrs. T. A. Pool of Tyler.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its busy and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

I guess we have about as many different jobs on our 400-acre farm as any farmer in the country. I use 5 Ford Tractors in planting, harvesting and cultivating the 4 different crops we raise, which are alfalfa, wheat and milo. The first plowing of alfalfa and feed alone saves us many dollars in hoeing every year.

Texas 4-H Clubs Show Interest in Recreation Plans

The 1949 National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program—a newcomer in the field of sponsored 4-H activities—is well launched in Texas, according to the State Extension office of Texas A. & M. College.

Introduced only last year, the program has already chalked up an unusually good record which includes training 7,150 junior and 4,390 adult 4-H Club leaders in recreation. In addition 1,005 clubs in 44 states were awarded blue ribbons for outstanding performance; 350 counties won $25 each in cash toward buying recreational equipment; 21 states received $50 each for crafts premiums, while five boys and three girls were given educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

A total of $25,280 will again be awarded in the same manner by United States Rubber company, sponsors of the program. Awards are based on well-rounded recreational activities developed and carried out by local 4-H Clubs. The eight trips are provided for 4-H'ers who have excelled in recreational leadership.

Among the events designed for club groups are indoor and outdoor games; dances, festivals, tours and plays. For members there are numerous types of recreation such as leather, metal or wood craft; stage and set designing; sports and hobbies; singing or dancing leader, and serving as a committee member.

The following counties won the $25 cash award in the 1948 recreational and rural arts activity: Bastrop, Bexar, Castro, Dallas, Frio, Guadalupe, Somervell, Nacogdoches, Calhoun, Atascosa, Tom Green, Parker, Terry and Cooke. Gene Massey, Jr., of Moore was named outstanding 4-H'er.

The entire program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Top O' Texas Guests Must Watch Scalps

Yes, the Top O' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Association is giving this country back to the Indians during the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show to be held at Pampa on August 2-3-4-5-6.

Arrangements have been completed with the U. S. Indian Reservation Offices at Anadarko, Oklahoma, for the appearance of a group of Indians from the United States Indian Reservations to appear in this year's show. There will be three tribes represented in the delegation, the Kiwas, Comanches and Apaches. The oldest Indian, Frank Bosis, is a Kiowa and is 82 years old. George, who is Frank Bosis's son, is a descendant of Toohausan (signer of the Medicine Lodge Treaty). George's wife, Beauty Aspermy, is a Comanche, a descendant of Chief Quana Parker. The group of dancers will range in age from 9 to 90.

This group of dancers are nationally famous for their Indian War Dances, and will dance at each night's rodeo performance in full costume and ceremony. The costumes of the Indian girls are buck skin and beads valued up to $500.00, and are treasured very highly by them as it is almost impossible to obtain the materials to make these dresses. The War Bonnets and Head Dresses of the men are Eagle feathers and are also very expensive and hard to obtain. They will be equipped with tom-toms or war drums plus the colorful University Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band in the background.

These dancers are experts in their tribal dances and do such dances as the war dance, shield dance, Indian round dance, Indian step-dance, Eagle dance and many others.

Film Shooting Location at Palo Duro Now

Shooting location on the technicolor movie "Thunder in the Dust" moved to Palo Duro Canyon State Park Saturday for several days, according to Harry Templeton, assistant director of the film which stars Cathy Downs, Robert Preston, Robert Sterling, and John Barrymore, Jr.

Location for the battle scenes will be the Lighthouse Cliffs in Little Sunday Canyon. Palo Duro Canyon Park employees have opened a new road to the Lighthouse vicinity for convenience of those wishing to watch the filming of "Thunder in the Dust." It has been requested that the audience be cooperative while observing. Several hundred dollars can be lost because a noise not scheduled appears on the sound track.

"We are thrilled with the natural sounds our sound track has picked up," Templeton said. "In a highly dramatic scene, our camera got not only the tenseness portrayed by the actors but also the sounds of the windmill turning, locust, and a mocking bird singing. It all adds up to natural drama."

Also in Palo Duro Canyon State Park this week are Mr. and Mrs. James M. Davis of Hollywood, California, sent here on their honeymoon by the radio program "Bride and Groom." The couple, married July 5, are accompanying one of the stone and cedar Rim Cabins throughout their stay.

All persons interested in watching the filming of "Thunder in the Dust" will be welcome. No charge—other than the regular gate fees—will be made. Since filming will be made in Little Sunday Canyon—a newly opened section of the Park—it is advisable to bring sandwiches and a thermos of water.

Maybe the Extra Bedroom? FARMERS, GIVE YOUR COWS COMFORT TO GET MORE MILK PRODUCTION

If cow comforts could be put up in the form of a mixture and fed from a sack, many Texas dairy herds would increase their production.

A cow's production is influenced by the kind and amount of feed she eats but it's not generally recognized that providing conditions which make a cow comfortable and contented also have an effect on her daily milk flow. According to R. E. Burleson, assistant extension dairy husbandman of Texas, A. & M. College, this factor is most important during hot, dry weather.

The high producing cow, he says, is the result of many years of breeding and selection. She is a highly developed animal and like a delicate machine requires careful handling. She is a sensitive creature and must be given special attention during the hot summer if she is to produce at her best.

Here are some suggestions that may help keep "Bossy" contented and comfortable this summer. The herd, he says, should be protected from the sun during the hottest part of the day. The pasture without shade should be used at night.

Some dairymen are using brush arbors or a darkened shed to provide shade during the hottest hours of the day.

Burleson says two waterings a day are not enough. High producing cows need plenty of clean, cool water for digestion and milk production and they should have free access to water at all times.

Good green grazing, accessible during the cool of the day of night, is necessary for maintaining production during the summer months. Succulent silage, along with plenty of high quality hay, will do much toward maintaining high production when the pastures are poor. Supplement the roughage with a proper grain ration.

Cows, like humans, are not comfortable when they are annoyed by flies. Burleson recommends the use of suitable sprays along with the elimination of fly breeding places to solve this problem. Dairymen have reported good results from the use of a methoxy-chlor fly spray.

Last, he says, the cow must receive kind treatment. Hurrying the herd on a hot day is a costly day to save time. The failure to milk at regular hours not only affects the milk flow, but it also makes high producers restless.

A well-bred, high producing cow deserves good feeding, kind treatment and comfortable surroundings. Provide these essentials and she'll do her duty, concludes Burleson.

Our Park—A Symbol of Americanism

Elsewhere in this issue is a story noting that the Memphis City Park will soon celebrate its 10th anniversary. Reaction to this fact runs to two extremes.

Visitors to Memphis and to the City Park gaze in wonder and remark, "You mean it's only 10 years old?"

On the other hand, those of us who have lived here throughout the conception and completion of the project find it hard to believe we have had this fine park a decade.

The Memphis City Park is an outstanding project. It is the outstanding project of this area. In the words of the late Dr. W. C. Dickey, it has truly become the back yard to hundreds of people seeking a gathering and recreational location.

All Hall Counties should have a great deal of pride in the City Park. It is an undeniable mark of a progressive area and of progressive people.

The Memphis City Park is a symbol, as are other parks all over this country, of the great "American Way of Life." It stands for a love of beauty, a love of peace and a love of wholesome, enjoyable recreation and fellowship.

Yes, and it stands for accomplishment through hard work and undying faith. All these things are truly symbols of our way of life.

But perhaps the most important symbol of all is that the City Park belongs to the people, not to any individual or single group. It is a great example of democracy, where all share in the benefits and responsibilities.

And the Memphis City Park belongs to you. It is your back yard. Be proud that out-of-town visitors come to enjoy it and marvel at it. It is a wonderful thing that we are able to provide such a popular recreational facility to all who find pleasure in it, for this, too, is a part of "The American Way."

So take time during this great project's 10th birthday to renew your interest in the City Park. Remember, the accomplishments have been tremendous but the job ahead is a big one. Improvements must be made and care taken to insure that the Memphis City Park—your back yard—is an even more outstanding recreational spot on its 20th anniversary.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

THEY SHOULD KNOW—It is idleness, not labor, that degrades a person, business or nation. "Idle hands are the devil's tools," it has been said; idle minds then are surely Satan's workshop—a workshop where the employees manufacture gossiping tongues, lying words, self pity, ignorant criticism and slander, yes, even physical destruction.

To be of service benefits and dignifies every life. No service no matter how trite or lowly is ever disgraced. Activity is man's inheritance. The worthwhile use of its tends to prevent the destruction of mind and body.

The housemaid who does her work with willing hands and honest effort contributes more to the great plan of universe than the mistress of the house who spends her time in idle gossip.

The peanut vendor and the artist, laborer, and doctor, judge and yes, even the prisoner—all walk in dignity—in the nobility that graces any life when hands and mind contribute to a full measure of activity.

Idleness is a disgrace. It is gross waste of time, talent and life itself. You defeat yourself in idleness. Being human, we do the things we hope will bring us satisfaction and we should know that it is vain to hope for satisfaction from idleness. Those who have found any sort of lasting happiness in life

Six-Inch Sermon
 † REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

Songs of the Temple.
 Lesson for July 17: Psalms 84: 1-4; 95: 1-7b.
 Memory Selection: Psalms 24: 3-4.

The two Psalms of our text were evidently used in the temple worship. The 84th Psalm expresses the longing of the soul for God and joy in the experience of satisfying religion. The heart cries out for the living God. The Psalm also praises the beauty and glory of God's house. The temple was one of the finest buildings the world has known, and all its associations greatly affected the feelings of those who entered it.

The fact that Psalms were used in the temple indicates that music had a large part in the worship there. A number of musical instruments were used. In the 95th Psalm an exhortation is given the people to come into the temple with thanksgiving and song.

For the Lord is a "great God, and a great King above all gods." The quoted words do not recognize the existence of other gods—they evidently mean that God is above all beings, real or imagined, that claim the allegiance of men. The words are followed by a striking picture of God as the Creator of all things, and the people are exhorted to worship and bow down to the Lord, their Maker.

It would be good if the many did not find worship a burden and their Christian service hard. Let us learn to find joy and gladness in our religion. Let us rejoice to join in the service of praise in God's house. Inspiring indeed is the spirited singing of great hymns in public worship. Let us, like the ancient Psalmist, be happy in our religion.

Navy," she said.
 Josephus Daniels, father of Jonathan, was Secretary of the Navy under Woodrow Wilson. He did a fair to middling job, as we recall it, among other things introducing grape juice as service beverage. But young though our nation is as nations go, it takes more than one Daniels to make "an old tradition."
 It would be more interesting to know just what peculiar qualifications Jonathan Daniels had for this particular job.
 Mrs. Roosevelt raised the "old tradition" issue the same day Franklin Delano Roosevelt II was sworn in as a member of Congress. Perhaps that was sheer coincidence. But, be that as it may there will be some dissent to any proposal that certain jobs should be made family heirlooms.—The Ft. Worth Press

This Week in WASHINGTON

WHILE the American Medical association in national convention and otherwise continuing to bombard the administration's national health insurance program as socialized medicine, administration leaders in charge of the program took a new tack before house and senate committees by asserting that the national health insurance program would prevent, not cause, socialized or state medicine.

And the testimony of J. Donald Kingsley, assistant federal security administrator, speaking for Oscar Ewing, the administrator, who is ill, at least gives you something to think about in mulling over this much-debated subject. Here's what Kingsley told the committees.

The problems confronting the people insofar as the medical bill is concerned are not medical problems, but economic problems; that the first is the manpower or doctor shortage and the hospital or facility shortage; second, the manpower and facility distribution, in that hospitals and doctors are not distributed where they are needed and, third, that another economic question is one of inadequate medical purchasing power.

He declared the doctor is doing his part of the job of preventive and curative medicine magnificently and the results they achieve in those areas where they are given a chance are proof of that, but a common financial problem underlies, which is not the problem of the doctor, but for the economist and the statesman.

The thing that national health insurance is expected to cure, according to Kingsley, is the fact that today a substantial proportion of our population must depend upon public or private charity or go without the type of medical care that modern medicine knows how to provide.

And here are some statistics. The federal government is today providing medical care for some 24 million citizens; government owns and operates three-fourths of all hospital beds, government already employs directly thousands of American doctors and pays fees to many hundreds more, the taxpayers' money finances full medical care for all members of the armed forces and their dependents and for all disabled veterans.

City Park Grows Rapidly In Ten Years

Morgensen, G. L. Watson, W. J. Bragg, N. E. Burk, Barney Wattenbarger, Frank Foxhall, O. V. Alexander and G. H. Hattenbach. Following this meeting plans rapidly began taking shape. A town meeting on January 27 gave unanimous approval to the project and the City Council took official action on January 30 by appropriating $1,000 to the building fund of the park.

New Bridge
 The Works Progress Administration took up the project and in March plans were announced to build a road and bridge to reach the 30 acres selected as the park site which had long been known as Broome Park.

Every civic and religious organization in Memphis joined wholeheartedly in making the park a reality. But perhaps most important were the individuals, far too numerous to mention here, who quietly and efficiently joined in the job, no one sought or asked for praise. Successful completion of the park was considered more than ample reward by every individual and organization.

So they gathered at the new park site that day in 1939 to dedicate a 20-year-dream-come-true for the people of Memphis and the surrounding area. Music was played, speeches were made and congratulations were in order.

Park Board Named
 But the work had just begun. They were dedicating 30 acres of only slightly improved land and everyone realized that years of hard work and sacrifice were ahead before the dream would completely come true—the dream of a beautiful park, filled with recreational facilities, for the pleasure of all who cared to enjoy it. A City Park Board was appointed by Mayor Wells to direct the job of beautifying the new park. Headed by C. C. Hodges, the board included: Mrs. John Deaver, Roy Fultz, Olie Jones and Tomie Potts. Auxiliary members named to the board were Mrs. T. D. Weatherby and Mrs. Claude Johnson.

Those who today enjoy the facilities of the Memphis City Park owe an undying debt of gratitude to this board. Their job was no easy one but one has only to go through the park to see at a glance how devotedly and successfully they accomplished their task.

Wells, who recently suffered a heart attack, is at present recuperating in an Amarillo hotel. With this board leading the way work continued and progress was rapid. The Rotary Club started off the improvements when each Rotarian donated a tree to the park. Other clubs and individuals joined in and a WRA and NYA work project was secured whereby the creek's course was changed, turning the flood wats and making all the land in the site available for use.

Progress Rapid
 "We received some unexpected help from Mother Nature on this project," Hodges recalls, "when high waters cut out a new route for the creek bed. The funds that were earmarked for this costly work were then available for use in other improvements."

As the old cottonwood trees, familiar sights to youngsters who had made the area a playground for years, died they were replaced by Chinese Elms which dominate the park and furnish cooling shade for park visitors.

Individuals, clubs and local business firms began donating picnic units to the new park and its success was assured.

Outdoor Bowl
 In July of 1941 the biggest single project in the park was completed—the amphitheater. This concrete outdoor bowl, built on the west side of the park, is an object of wonder to all visitors.

It is 180 feet wide at the top and spans 108 feet at the bottom with 20 rows of seats and a seating capacity of 2,000. The fan-shaped concrete stage is 60 feet long and 30 feet wide in the center.

The amphitheater offers an ideal meeting place for any group or organization.

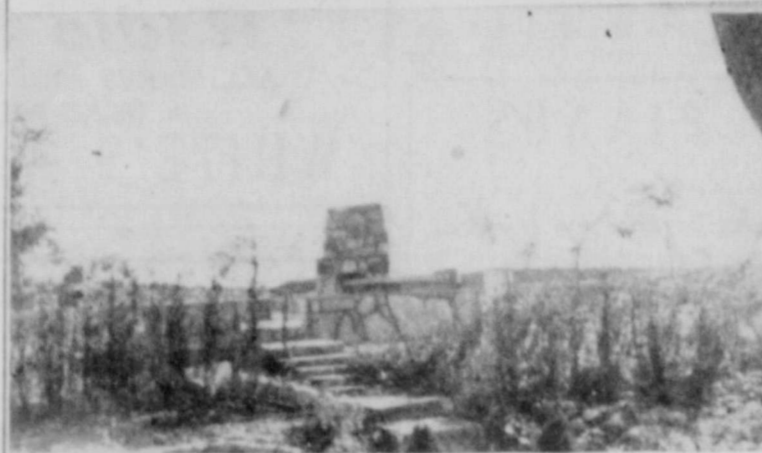

On September 25, 1941, the Memphis City Park was formally opened. Over 1,500 citizens and visitors gathered at the park and commented with justifiable pride on the progress that had been made since its dedication two years earlier.

And once again speeches were made, music was played and congratulations were in order.

Work Ahead
 And although the work had more than just begun, everyone knew that the job was far from finished. The park board continued to promote interest in the work and individuals and organizations continued to respond wholeheartedly.

So today, as the Memphis City Park stands on the brink of its 10th anniversary, it is the pride of Memphis and the surrounding area.

For it is the outstanding recreational facility of the six surrounding counties. It has mushroomed from those 30 acres of unimproved land into a beautiful bowl-shaped area with over 20

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A little real know-how in predicting weather can be the most valuable boating knowledge an outdoor boater has according to boating authority Willard Crandall.

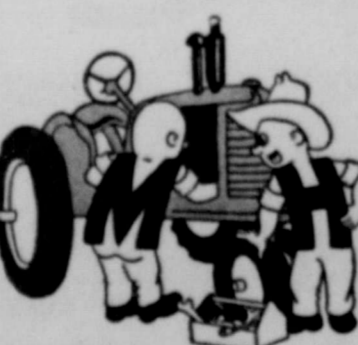

Cloud types and formation can give a pretty fair idea of coming weather. Unfortunately, most of these signs only point to rain, or the absence of it. They aren't too much help in predicting wind.

And while rain on the water can be unpleasant, the real concern of the boatman who thinks first of safety, is to predict wind.

Familiar to almost every sportsman, particularly in the Midwest, is the thunderstorm, heralded usually by the slow appearance above the horizon of a big, unbroken cloud of a deep blue-black. If you're on exposed water, in a small boat, it's time to head in picnic units, an outstanding amphitheater, extensive playground facilities and is daily attracting appreciative visitors from hundreds of miles around.

Now is the improvement work finished. Directed by Mayor Hodges, the job of repairing and adding new facilities goes on constantly. The Memphis City Park has developed rapidly in 10 years and citizens of this area are determined that it will continue to do so in the future.

When we tackle a repair job, you know it's done right!

as soon as the storm is definitely sighted.

Along the seacoasts, old-timers are wary of any black clouds, for they can always mean squall winds. However, inland where waters are usually less exposed, a big detached cloud with a dark center often means a shower without high winds.

Anyone who plans a really exposed-water trip should get a good barometer and learn how to use it. The weather bureau will always give a wind forecast if you inquire. If you are without either of these services, there are some rules for amateur forecasting of wind.

Remember that it takes hot, damp weather to make a thunder storm. If it is very dry, there won't be one. Remember that a storm isn't necessary to create a wind that will bother an outdoor boater; real blows for a small boat occur in perfectly clear weather.

On fair summer days, the wind is likely to rise late in the morning and reach a peak in the afternoon. If the wind rose the day before, with a stiff breeze in the afternoon, it's only plain sense to anticipate another such rise for the following afternoon if the fair, settled weather is continuing.

One interesting thing about predicting weather is that a lot of the old, scoffed-at weather superstitions aren't superstitions at all, but are actually pretty darn reliable. Red sunsets and rainbows late in the day do mean fair weather. A ring around the moon or a steady southwest wind often foretell wet weather. Rain-before-seven-clear-by-eleven is another reliable one if the rain is a quiet one.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnson visited in Plainview Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robertson and family. The Robertsons are former Memphis residents. The Robertson children, Kay, Don and Ann, returned to Memphis with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson to visit here this week.

The Republic of Bolivia has an area of 416,040 square miles.

In the Eyes of a Child

Your children are precious possessions. You would sacrifice all your worldly possessions to keep the smiles on those chubby cheeks, and the sparkle in those eyes, and the ringlets of curls on their heads. So much of our religion of today is wrapped around the blind devotion showed a Child of two thousand years ago as He lay in a manger and was attended by the Wise Men. Your child will have a life of happiness and thanksgiving if he learns the story of that other Child, and builds his life on His teachings. Attend the church of your choice—with your child—this week.

Texan Is Youngest Trustee In Medical Association Group

A Texas physician who recognized the medical needs of small town and rural areas and has made great strides towards meeting those requirements has been elected to share his know-how with the nation.

Dr. F. J. L. Blasingame of Wharton is the newest member of the nine-man board of trustees of the American Medical Association, elected by acclamation at the recent A. M. A. convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

The 42-year-old general practitioner and surgeon was born in Hot Springs, Ark., but moved to Hempstead when he was two years old, receiving his education there through high school. His mother, Mrs. Lillian W. Blasingame, still makes her home in Hempstead.

He is the youngest member of the board of trustees, governing body of the medical association, and is also a member of the board of trustees of the State Medical Association of Texas and chairman of the board of trustees of Wharton Junior College.

The father of five children, two boys and three girls ranging in ages from 2 to 14 years, Dr. Blasingame met his bride, the former Dorothy Rugeley of Wichita Falls, while they were both attending the University of Texas. Dr. Blasingame obtained his bachelor of arts degree from the University in 1929 and his medical degree from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston, where he has taught anatomy and now holds a lectureship in anatomy.

He interned at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Mich., and practiced briefly in Canyon, Texas, before moving to Wharton in 1937.
