Editor: Patsy Connor; assistant editor: Cieta Fern Ferrel; sponsor: Mrs. Harris.

Senior News
The seniors have been busy getting started on this year's annual, or should we say getting things ready to start.

The Seniors had a clas meeting last Thursday and decided to sell some winged emblems with T. H. S. printed on them. They are to be worn on sweaters, or put on your cars, or what you want to put them on. Watch for further news about these emblems.

Speech Club News
The Speech Club met Wednesday, Sept. 28, for their regular session. The name chosen for the club was F. S. T., meaning Future Speakers of Turkey. The colors are aqua and white, the flower is the white rose, and the song is "Room Full of Roses." The club's motto is "Learning to Speak, Speaking to Inform, Informing to Make Better."

The Turkey Struts and Droops
The Turkey Struts: Extra big for winning the football game Friday night.

The Turkey Droops: To Jay Eudy for embarrassing Jeanette.

The Turkey Struts: To the annual staff for getting a good start on the annual.

The Turkey Droops: To the students who do not act orderly in the study hall.

The Turkey Struts: To Turkey for having such a good football team.

The Turkey Droops: To Joy Lee for not getting along with the teachers.

The Turkey Struts: To the pep squad girls for all the yelling at the games.

The Droops: Because Seniors are so dumb in biology.
The Turkey Struts: To the Freshmen for being so smart in Science.

The Turkey Droops: To Turkey for having so many students out with bad colds.
The Turkey Struts: To Turkey for having two nice football coaches.

Basketball News
The basketball girls met last Thursday in the Gym to elect the captian and co-captian. Doris McKay was elected captian, and Jean Lacy was named co-captian. Also, Coach Coker assigned the purple and white suits to the girls.

We are looking forward to having as good a team as last year. We are also looking forward to our first game which will be soon.

F. H. A.
Aspecial meeting was called to consult the members about plans to attend the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo Thursday. Plans were made to attend in a group. There are 26 paid members in the Turkey F. H. A. Chapter.

Junior News
The Juniors ordered their rings last Tuesday, and are they snazzy! (We think). The top is oblong shape and has a "T" in the middle. On each side of the oblong piece are the initials of the owner in white gold. Also on each side of this is 1951 with black background.

Some of the girls ordered necklaces, and most of the boys ordered bracelets.

Freshman News
Mrs. Harris has gone away to stay with her mother who underwent a major operation this week. Mr. Parmenter is taking her place. We all think he is a very nice substitute teacher.

The A and B basketball girls have a game Tuesday night Oct. 11, with Estelline.

Safety First
Safety first is not, as so many people seem to think, merely an empty phrase. It means putting safety ahead of anything—such as showing off when driving an automobile, acting silly on the stairs, etc. Actions such as these are not only childish, but they are extremely dangerous. If a person does something that endangers other persons' lives, he cannot expect others to refrain from doing the same things. It is a vicious circle; and the only way to break it is follow the axiom of refraining from doing to others what you would not have them to do to you.

Library News
We are proud to have Mrs. Burks and Mrs. Erwin help the students in the library. I think they found the library in a very bad condition, but if the students will cooperate, and help in every way possible, it will be a success.

Turkey Wins First District Game 32-0 Over Estelline

(Special to The Democrat)

The Turkey Turks defeated Estelline Friday night 32-0 in Estelline in the first District 2-B game for both clubs.

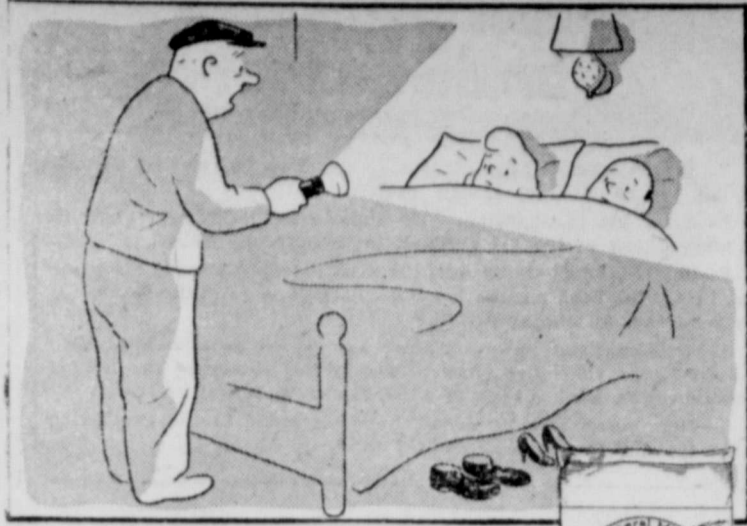

The Turks scored twice in the first quarter, two times in the third and one touchdown in the fourth. The Cubs threatened only once—in the second period, when they drove to their opponents' two-yard line before losing the ball on downs.

The first touchdown was made by Barnhill when he went off tackle and ran 15 yards to the goal line. Lane passes to Wiley for the extra point.

Touchdown No. 2 came late in the same quarter on a pass, Lane to Wiley. The point-after attempt failed.

Logan carried over for the third marker in the third period. The extra point try failed again. Later in the same stanza, Wheeler cut between the tackle and guard slots and went over for a counter. Lane's pass intended for Hawkins for the extra point was broken up.

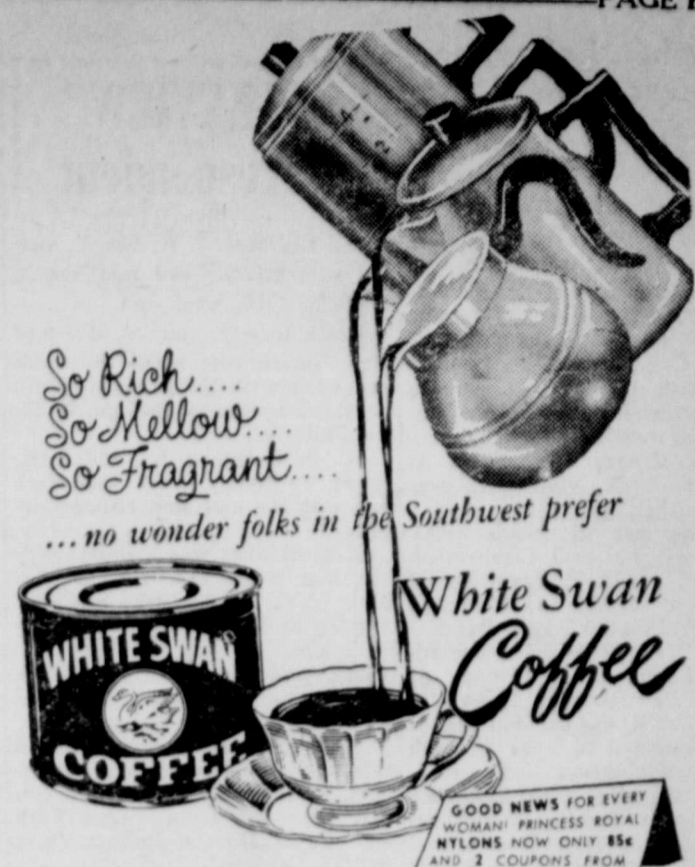

The finale was added in the fourth quarter when Barnhill broke through tackle and sped 85 yards through a broken field.

Farmers Advised to Put Good Quality Grain in Drills

In a short time, grain drills will be a common sight through much of the Texas wheat belt. Acreage planted will of course depend on the size of wheat acreage allotments. The importance of planting only good quality varieties cannot be overstressed.

E. A. Miller, extension agronomist of the Texas A. & M. College System, advises wheat growers to plant only those varieties that have good baking qualities as well as good yielding ability. Since the new improved varieties are good yielders, there is no longer any need for planting varieties with poor baking quality which are trouble makers on the market, he adds.

Most of the flour goes into commercial bakeries and they demand flour with which they can make the kind of bread that consumers desire.

The recommended varieties in the main wheat area of Texas are Westar and Comanche for bakers flour. Wichita and Triumph are best for family trade flour. Also, excellent quality varieties are Tenmarq and Turkey, but they are not as good yielders as Westar and Comanche. In central Texas, the Austin variety which is more rust resistant is well adapted, while in south Texas the new variety called Seabreeze has done well, especially for grazing. However, seed of the latter is still scarce, says Miller.

Texas formerly had a reputation for fine quality wheat which was in demand because it was nearly all of good baking varieties. Unfortunately, some varieties with poor baking quality, which were brought in from other states, have caused Texas to temporarily lose its good reputation for high quality wheat. This has resulted in some mills shipping in good quality wheat from the northern states to meet the keen competition and demand for good flour, says Miller.

The situation is now changing fast. Surveys made by the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Association show that approximately one and a quarter million more acres in Texas were planted to good quality wheat varieties for harvest in 1949 than in 1947. Texas, as a whole, showed a 25.7 percent improvement in acreage of the better varieties.

This, according to Miller, is indeed a fine showing and should bring dividends to the wheat growers of Texas in regaining their reputation for good quality wheat.

Combs Leads Pirates to 35-0 Victory Over Cyclone

LEFORS BEGINS TITLE DEFENSE

Tailback Joel Combs virtually took matters in his own hands Friday night as he led the defending titlists, the Lefors Pirates, to a stunning 35-0 defeat over the previously unbeaten Memphis Cyclones.

The Pirates were right! Everything they tried seemed to materialize. The Cyclones were off from the beginning, and everything backfired into more and more touchdowns for their opponents.

Six Memphis fumbles were registered in the tussle, and the Pirates made three of them count for their side in the form of touchdowns. The bobbles likely did not decide the issue, but they were the reasons for the tremendous score.

Combs put on as showy an exhibition of football as any of the 2000 fans at the game had ever seen. All he did was score three touchdowns with runs of 1, 25 and 94 yards; add three extra points; send a punt 45 yards out of bounds on the Cyclones' six, gain 247 yards rushing—more than half of the 455 yards his entire team amassed—intercept a Memphis pass that set up another touchdown, and engineer his team in a perfect manner. Certainly he was all-state material Friday night.

Crooks Makes Fine Runs

Bobby Crooks turned in several fine runs for the Cyclones. The fleet right halfback reeled off 41 and 19 yards, and picked up a total of 88 yards for the evening on nine times he carried the ball. In addition, he punted four times for a fine 44-yard average.

Andy Gardenhire, fullback, picked up 94 yards on 16 tries, and had 15 and 14-yard runs, but he fumbled on both occasions.

The Pirates committed the first fumble, but the compliment was returned a play later and Lefors carried through to their first touchdown midway in the first quarter. It all started when the Cyclone wouldn't move after receiving the opening kickoff, and Crooks punted dead on the Pirates' 35. 17 plays were required in the march that was interrupted by both teams fumbling and a 15-yard Lefors penalty before Friday Todd dodged across for a score. Combs crashed left guard for the extra point.

Crooks received the ensuing kickoff on his 10 and returned it to his 32. The Cyclones carried the ball 58 yards to their opponents' 10-yard line before a fumble put an end to the rush. After the Pirates were held, Combs punted to his 48. A second fumble gave Lefors the ball on their 43, and it required but two plays for the hosts to score again—with McIntyre going 39 yards around his left end for the marker. Combs added the extra point.

On the second play after the kickoff, Memphis again fumbled; Lefors again recovered—on their 47. In two plays, Combs was on the five yard line of Memphis, but a clipping penalty set them back to the 40. However, only five plays were needed for the third Lefors touchdown, with Combs making the last seven paces, and Todd plunging for the extra point.

The score stood 21-0 until after the half. Memphis had a fine opportunity in the third when a fourth-down fumble gave the Cyclones the ball on their opponents' 19. They went to the 11 before losing it on downs, and after the Pirates were penalized back to their six, Combs reeled off his spectacular 94-yard run. He broke through the Memphis right tackle, spun away from several would-be tacklers, headed for the boundary, and was never headed. Crooks, the safety man, was blocked on the outset of the play, and the ball carrier was at mid-field before he was able to give chase—and it was too late. Todd hit the line for the point after.

The finale of the touchdown parade came late in the fourth quarter, after Crooks punted to Combs who carried it back 17 yards to the Memphis 38. Four plays carried to the 25, from where Combs took off for his third counter. Todd again converted through the line.

Mrs. W. H. Moreman has recently returned from a two-months visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cagle, in Los Angeles.

Lakeview Beats Kress 7-6

(Special to The Democrat) The Lakeview Eagles opened their District 2-B football schedule Thursday night, with a 7-6 upset victory over the Kress Kangaroos.

The game-tying touchdown in the fourth quarter came on a pass from Wayne Adams to Kenneth Sams. The winning extra point was counted on another pass—from Adams to Wade Rice.

Lakeview opened the fourth quarter with a strong passing attack. A 40-yard heave from Adams to Jimmy Gowdy put the ball in scoring position.

The Kangaroos got off to a quick start in the first quarter when Grady Borum recovered a blocked Eagle punt in the end zone. The attempted extra point kick was blocked, and there was no more scoring until the last stanza. The Eagles made the most threatening gesture—going to their opponents' five-yard line before they lost the ball on downs in the second quarter.

The two teams battled on near even terms throughout the third period. Fumbles occurred quite frequently.

Adams and Sams played fine defensive and offensive ball for the Eagles, as did Sonny Byars. The outstanding back for the Kress team was Quarterback G. Freeman. Halfback Durrugho also turned in some nice runs.

The Lakeview club plays host to the Estelline Cubs tonight for their second district game.

Girlwind Defeats Lefors Junior High

Girlwind Junior High opened its contest with a 42-0 victory over Lefors Junior High last Thursday night at the stadium.

More than 8,000 former students of Texas Technological college are expected to make their annual pilgrimage to the campus Oct. 14-15 for a Homecoming celebration that includes a football game, parade, dance, luncheon and business meeting.

D. M. McElroy, secretary of the Ex-Students' association, said registration begins at 5 p.m., Oct. 14. A pep rally is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Tech gym.

On Saturday, open houses and coffee hours held by many organizations will honor returning alumni from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. The annual Homecoming parade begins at 10 a.m. in downtown Lubbock.

Annual Competitive Exams Announced by Naval ROTC Program

The Navy today announced annual competitive examinations to select approximately 2,000 students for government sponsored college educations under the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps program.

The tests will be held in 550 cities on Dec. 3 but applications must be filed before Nov. 12, the Navy said.

Men who are selected will attend one of the 52 major colleges and universities in the country where there are ROTC units.

Application blanks are available from high school principals, college deans, NROTC unit commanders, offices of Naval officer procurement and Navy recruiting stations, it was announced.

LOW INCOME CAUSES POOR HOUSING

Here is a dwelling on a "wash" farm. The house does not have a water system. The owner can obtain money to install modern conveniences on small-interest, long-term loans of new housing act.

(This is the second of two articles explaining the function of the Federal Home Administration.)

IF FARM HOUSING surveys are an indicator, a lot of Joe Johnsons will be knocking on Farmers Home Administration doors for credit in the weeks and months ahead. Sample studies by the bureau of agricultural economics two years ago indicated that new houses were under construction on 240,000 of the nation's 6,000,000 farms, and 23 per cent of the farmers interviewed reported some form of construction or repair to their buildings.

More than 67 per cent of the rural farm dwellings still lack running water, 80 per cent do not have a bath and flush toilet, 40 per cent are without electric lights, and 10 per cent are overcrowded.

Adequate shelter, along with food and clothing, have long been regarded as the three basic necessities of life. Roofs that leak, walls that let in cold air, and floors that are damp, of course, lead to sickness; houses without screens invite malaria and other insect-carried diseases; poor sanitary facilities lead to hookworm and typhoid fever.

A major reason for poor farm housing is that farm earnings have been too low in too many instances, despite higher farm prices. Joe Johnson is one of the estimated two million small farmers who have been by-passed by increased farm profits these days, because he doesn't produce enough to benefit much from higher prices.

Also like many other small farmers, he couldn't buy in large enough amounts to get bulk-purchase discounts, and he operated on too small a scale to use mechanized equipment efficiently.

Besides low-income, another reason for the current need to improve farm housing has been the inability of families to get materials, labor, or equipment for such construction during the war and immediate post-war years.

When funds are appropriated, the farm housing program will start operating in short order.

No new agencies are needed to run it.

District 2A Football

The Lefors Pirates hung out a big "Danger" sign to other District 2-A teams Friday night as they rambled to a 35-0 victory over the Memphis Cyclones. The defending champions gave no indications of needing a successor to the throne they occupied last season, and the veteran-studded outfit will be odds-on favorites to make it two in a row.

The district failed to register against outside opposition, but there were two good reasons—Phillips and Dalhart. The Shamrock Irish, however, were able to count three touchdowns against the power-laden Blackhaws.

Besides the Lefors-Memphis game, McLean defeated Clarendon 13-0 in another district game.

McLEAN 13, CLARENDON 0
Left half L. M. Watson wheel-horsed the McLean Tigers to touchdowns in the second and third quarters and kicked an extra point for a victory in an opening district game Friday night.

Watson also intercepted a pass in the fourth quarter to stem a last minute Clarendon rally.

McLean utilized a strong ground attack to register its victory over the Bronchos who were slight pre-game favorites.

SHAMROCK 18, PHILLIPS 41

The Shamrock Irishmen scored in the initial quarter but the Phillips Blackhaws went ahead in the second quarter with three markers, and went on from there to their third straight victory.

Shamrock added two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, but the Blackhaws already had the game in the bag. Melvin Eldridge, Arthur Cantrell and C. O. Cox made one touchdown each, and right half Tommy Moore led the parade of touchdowns with three.

WELLINGTON 6, DALHART 33
The Wellington Skyrockets were held to a single touchdown while the Dalhart Wolves maneuvered for five of them to remain undefeated with a 33-6 defeat over the Skyrockets.

The Wellington team was somewhat handicapped by the absence of their triple-threat halfback Lindel Norman who saw very limited action.

Bobby McCutcheon, ace passer for the Skyrockets, tossed to End Rogers Melton for their only touchdown—early in the third quarter.

Drilling Continues at Estelline Oil Test

The wildcat oil well, being drilled west of Estelline, was today reported as being cleaned out, and drilling was going ahead at a depth of 5,015 feet.

The driller, B. F. McFarland of Denver City, started last week to fish out several hundred feet of drill stem, which was removed from the hole Wednesday. It is estimated that drilling will progress to the contracted depth of 5,500 feet within a few days.

By BILL REA

Every single man on a team can dash across the goal-line, but if one of them doesn't have the ball, there'll be no touchdown! It has been that way ever since the game of football was begun; and it will be that way for some time.

The Memphis Cyclones apparently haven't quite mastered the idea. At least they haven't proven it in a single game this season. That inability, as much as any one thing, contributed to the 35-0 licking they received last Friday night.

The Cyclones probably would not have won the game if they could have held on to the ball—but the outcome might have been considerably different. Three of the first four Memphis bobbles led to Lefors touchdowns. True, the Pirates had to follow up with some fine playing of their own, but without the ball—no touchdowns. A large portion of the fumbles in any game don't happen—they're caused. It seems that Memphis' opponents are well on the way to establish a new record of causing them.

Lefors still has a long way to go before they can lay claim to the District 2-A title. But if they play anything like the type ball they did last week, if they controuncing. Both teams were ready, but the extreme edge of experience which the Pirates held was too much to cope with.

I'm just a newcomer to this area and haven't seen many of the other teams play. But if there's a better back in the district than that guy Joel Combs from Lefors—it would suit me if he didn't show up when his team meets Memphis. When a man can spin around broken-field style as he did, and then outrun a state 440-yard dash record holder—you can't call him simply good, it would have to be GREAT.

This column was handed to the make-up man a little late last week, consequently it was not printed. But after that hectic week of upsets, runaways and other things throughout the country it is probably a good thing that it wasn't in the paper. It wasn't enough that the Cyclones had to get beaten, no—my T. C. U. Frogs took it on the chin in about the same manner! Every year at this time it would suit every T. C. U. follower if Arkansas would join some other conference, for the Razorbacks always give them a sound thrashing. Even the 1938 national champion Frog team barely squeezed by them.

The holiday is over for the Texas Longhorns. After three games in which they haven't had to get worked up, they come face to face with one of the best in the country—the University of Oklahoma. I'll take the Ookies.

In District 2-A games, I'll take Wellington over Clarendon by a touchdown, Memphis to shade Shamrock (would settle for one point), McLean to defeat Perryton by about 20-7, and Lefors to beat Dumas by three touchdowns.

In college games: Baylor to defeat Arkansas (just because they have done it the past two years when I didn't think they could), Rice to come back and trounce New Mexico, T. C. U. to whip Indiana and Texas A. & M. to upset L. S. U.

tinue to cash in on the breaks like they did—then I can't see how any team can halt their drive to a second straight pennant. In fact, I don't believe many Class A teams in the state could have stopped them Friday night!

The Cyclones were definitely not at their best, however most of them played fine hard ball games. Bobby Crooks turned in a mighty fine exhibition, but his mates fell down on blocking assignments, and tackles were missed all too often when they had a better than fair chance at their man. Andy Gardenhire, previously the Cyclones' best bet for some extra yardage, was held to a slow trot. Only once or twice was he able to shake by the Lefors forward wall.

It all added up to a good sound

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this:

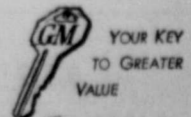

There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

SPORTS AFIELD
By Ted Kesting

Two years ago a couple of campers lost some wonderful pictures when rain ruined their film. These bitter men swore to find some kind of protective covering for their equipment, and out of that unhappy experience came a real idea for sportsmen.

One of those men was newspaper publisher Clelland Cole. When he returned from that trip, he went to see a plastics manufacturer. In a few weeks he delivered to Cole several small plastic bags specially tailored to fit his cameras.

The bags were not sewed—the seams were electronically bonded, and the top flaps were made long enough so they could be folded over several times. The result was a container from which moisture and dust could be shut out.

The lightness of the bags set Cole thinking. Why not make tents out of slightly heavier sheet plastic? There was another consultation with the plastic man, and in a few days he delivered two plastic tents, each slightly larger than a pair of shelter halves combined. Each tent made a package about the size of the morning paper. And even with plastic ground sheets, the tents were pounds under the weight of canvas tents of similar size.

The next summer Cole tried out his plastic tents and bags. They proved completely waterproof. And the tents had a cold-excluding quality as well. During brittle wilderness nights, they were cozy and warm. Given the normal care any tent should be given, these plastic tents filled all the campers' needs, and the advantage of less weight and bulk was pure gain. You can actually carry them in the glove compartment of your car.

Sheet plastic is, of course vulnerable to fire and heat, and a tent of this material would have to be more carefully guarded from campfire sparks than canvas. Punctures from the usual rough surroundings of a wilderness camp and the normal wear of camp making and breaking are also a hazard. But plastic manufacturers are now experimenting with various materials and you should be able to find plastic bags and tents on the market soon.

At a social function, the U. S. President enters the room ahead of his wife.

Time to Give Ourselves a Check

In two weeks, National Bible Week will be observed. It has been designated by the national government through the united efforts of a great many churches of practically every denomination.

The week is designed to again focus attention to those basic principles of Christianity by which much of the civilized world is supposed to live - - - and which are so widely and tragically violated. Here in the United States, to say nothing of other nations, we have little to pride ourselves upon as Christians. We have the highest rate of crime and delinquency in our history - - - three times as many people are incarcerated in penal institutions as are attending colleges and universities. Eleven out of 12 young people are not active church members. Over 8,000,000 people are under treatment for mental disorders.

Religion and morals are often openly ridiculed, and totalitarian principles, which are directly opposed to Christianity and all the other great religions as well, are advocated and taught. There has never been a time when so much cheap and tawdry entertainment - - - in books and magazines and other places - - - was offered for sale, and it has a huge audience. Racial and class hatreds are rampant.

Looking at the international scene, it is clear that the failure to live up to the basic ideals of Christianity has led to misery and despair to millions, to the enslavement of once-free peoples, to a cold war which is absorbing more and more of our thoughts, our energies and our resources.

The world is moving swiftly toward a cynical materialism which may destroy it unless the trend is checked.

Dr. A. F. Edwards, in a speech to the Memphis Lions Club recently, said that each and every one of us should stop occasionally and see just where we stand, not only financially - - - but also morally and in our religious convictions. National Bible Week has a vast significance.

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

This Amendment Is Not So Good

One of the constitutional amendments to be submitted to Texas voters on November 8 is drawing a lot of organized opposition and rightly so, the Herald believes. This amendment is one which would increase the salary of legislators to $3,600 per year and provide annual sessions.

At first glance, it would appear that an increase in salary would tend to attract better men in the legislature and thus insure better government. Upon examining the different aspects of the amendment, however, it doesn't look that way at all.

In the first place, the pay increase would go to the present members, those who voted for the amendment measure. This would mean an expenditure of more than two and one-half million dollars to come from the pockets of the people.

Texasans voted down an amendment in 1945 which would increase the salaries of the legislature members. The situation doesn't seem to have changed since then.

Apparently to get around public opposition to the amendment it is worded in a different way and contains both the salary increase and annual session questions in one. The form of the amendment says nothing specific about salaries or sessions, just let the voter mark for or against the "amendment relative to" the questions.

A salary of $3,600 per year is a substantial full-time salary. If members of the legislature are to receive this salary, one might reasonably expect that they would refrain from engaging in other pursuits, or at the very least, that they would refrain from engaging in private affairs in which they might use the power and prestige of their office. Yet at the very time that the legislature gave final approval to the proposed amendment, its members emphatically refused to surrender their practice before state boards and commissions.

On April 20, 1949, Senator Grady Hazelwood offered a provision whereby, in connection with the proposed annual sessions of the Legislature, members would be prohibited from practicing before the Pardon Board and other state agencies.

This provision was overwhelmingly defeated, and it is difficult to interpret such action as being other than indicative of a desire on the part of the legislature to preserve for the members fees which they derive from their private practice before public agencies. — The Ochiltree County Herald.

Progress in Housing

The entry of United States Steel into the low-cost housing field is a striking development in the direction of mass production of homes by the private enterprise system. Conventional building so far has promised no such relief for the low-income family.

The fact that an organization of the size and importance of United States Steel is forging farther into housing activity is evidence of the feasibility of industrial output as well as the inviting market. Operating through its subsidiary, Gun-nison Homes, Inc., "Big Steel" already is producing prefabricated dwellings for lower segments of the middle income group. The

This Week in WASHINGTON

HEADLINE NEWS this week caused members of congress to stop, look and listen and to attempt to gauge anew the economic condition of the country and what to do to meet those conditions.

Chief among the top news items which interested leaders were:

1—Statement of Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the federal reserve board, that retail prices are lagging too far behind wholesale price cuts.

2—Decision of the president's steel fact-finding board that a fourth-round wage increase for workers is economically unsound, but that a complete pension and welfare fund should be granted by management.

3—Warning of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that farm production is rapidly building up surpluses which under the price support law will force millions of dollars of government purchase.

4—Statement of the president's board of economic advisors that for the first time since October, 1948, industrial production arised for the month of August coupled with the census bureau report that civilian employment rose to 59,947,000 the same month, the highest for the year, but about 1,300,000 under the record high of a year ago.

Observers see in these somewhat conflicting reports the end of current deflation and a leveling off of the economic picture, but justification for the charge that prices must come down if wages are to remain at their present levels.

Probably the most important conference yet to be held on international affairs is the series of talks now going on between British, Canadian and United States officials over the crisis in the British economic situation. Isolationist newspapers and a handful of isolationists yet remaining in congress have made a lot of noise to the effect that this country is paying for operation of the British socialist government. All of which observers who are informed say is not true. These observers also point out that the people generally are not well informed over what collapse of the British government at this time would mean to our own economy.

They point out that economic technicians, both American and British, are agreed that unless there is prompt action British economic inevitable. Such would not only add our own economy virtually nullify the of the Marshall plan into the hands of government. "Will You Face The REAR Of The Car, Please?"

Dollar-shy Nations Are Discussed in Capital Conference

The World Bank and International Monetary Fund conference in Washington has again cast a floodlight on the plight of the dollar-short nations, with particular attention to Britain. The American representatives have made it clear that Marshall Plan aid will expire, as now scheduled in 1952. At the same time, Britain's dollar supply continues to run out, in spite of the utmost austerity at home, and is at the critical level.

Almost everyone who has discussed the dollar problem in its relation to Britain and European recovery has advanced a different solution. It is an extraordinarily complex problem, and nothing quite like it has ever been faced before. One very interesting discussion appears in the current issue of Foreign Affairs, under the authorship of John H. Williams, a leading American economist and an advisor to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Mr. Williams doubts whether the technique of the Marshall Plan, which provides for the allotment of goods under European supervision based on the dollar deficits of European countries, can be an effective approach for the "second phase" of European recovery. It creates in the United States an interest in disposal of surpluses at the taxpayers' expense, and in Europe it takes programs rather than reduction of costs. He observes, "The effect is to delay rather than hasten the closing of the dollar gap."

Mr. Williams does not agree with those who blame the British crisis on the policies of the labor government. But he does point out that the British budget and British taxes are so high that incentives are destroyed among workers, producers and investors. In his own words, "Gains in productivity, whether resulting from the Marshall Plan or otherwise, are put in constant danger of being swallowed up by expenditures for the welfare state."

Finally, Mr. Williams offered proposals as a solution for the immediate crisis. The most important of these was devaluation of the pound sterling which, at the time his article was published, was pegged at $4.03. On September 20 the British government, which had hitherto regarded sterling devaluation with an unfriendly eye, reduced the pound by about a third—to $2.80. A long list of other countries whose currencies are tied to the pound immediately followed suit.

The purpose of this is to lower the price of British export goods and so give her a better chance to compete in the world market. Some economists believed that still cheaper pound—say 2.25—may prove necessary. In any event, pound devaluation is the biggest step yet taken in the effort to get Britain back on her financial feet.

Cotton Producers Are Utilizing Free News Of Classing, Markets

Texas cotton producers, 111,000 strong, are members of organized groups that are cooperating with the Cotton Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, USDA.

This agency handles a free cotton classing and market news service as provided for by the Smith-Doxey Act, says F. E. Lichte, extension cotton gin specialist of Texas A. & M. College and chairman of the Smith-Doxey State Review Committee. Other members of the committee are Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist and E. A. Miller, extension agronomist.

Lichte says this committee in 1949 has processed and approved 1,151 applications from organized groups in 167 Texas counties. He adds that 1,563 gins are cooperating with the 111,000 producers who are growing one of the 16 approved varieties of cotton on 9,686,250 acres of land.

This free classing and market news service program has enjoyed a steady growth since its beginning in '938, says Lichte. Since 1946, 20 counties with 103 organized cotton producer groups have come into the program. Their membership today is 20,000 greater than in 1946 and 146 for gins are cooperating, says Lichte.

The applications processed by the Texas committee go to the Production and Marketing Administration, Cotton Branch, offices in Dallas and Bakersfield, California. The office in California handles that section of the states west of the Pecos River, says Lichte. Personnel from the PMA offices have cooperated and materially assisted in making possible the steady growth of the program, he adds. The actual classing of the members' cotton is done by the eight regional PMA offices in the state.

Texas Farmers Use Winter Legumes to Improve Their Soil

With acreage allotment definitely ahead for several cash crops many Texas farmers are turning to winter legumes for soil improvement on diverted acres. It is important that farmers plant legume varieties that are best adapted to their particular soil and climatic conditions, according to E. A. Miller, extension agronomist for the Texas A. & M. College System.

BENADRYL
 Most doctors will say that there is no cure for Hay Fever, but there are many drugs for the relief of its symptoms. Among the newest of such drugs is Benadryl, developed by Dr. George Rieveschl, Jr. While not a cure for Hay Fever, Benadryl does in some cases bring a relief from its distressing symptoms in as short a time as 30 minutes.

tions all over the State have proven that certain legumes give better results in certain areas. Harry vetch is the best adapted legume on all soil types in Northeast Texas and austrian winter peas and singletary peas give good results on the sandy loam or clay soils of this area, says Miller. In Southeast Texas timber region, hary vetch, common vetch and Wilamette vetch do well. Also, dixie wonder peas and austrian winter peas are adapted. Dixie crimson clover is another promising winter legume for the East Texas timber region.

In the Gulf Coast Prairie area, annual yellow glooming sweet clover is popular in addition to Wilamette, common and hary vetch and austrian winter and dixie wonder peas.

In the Blackland belt, hubam and madrid sweet clover continue to be the favorites. The new evergreen, a white blossom biennial, shows promise but seeds are still scarce. Miller says that hary vetch and winter peas are well adapted on Blackland soils but are not as effective in controlling cotton root rot as the sweet clovers. In the area. On subirrigated soils alfalfa does well. Miller says alfalfa under irrigation is the most satisfactory adapted legume for the High Plains, Pecos Valley and El Paso Valley. Biennial sweet clovers also do well under irrigation when planted in early fall. If you have plans for more soil improving crops this winter, Miller suggests that you see your county agricultural agent for the latest proven recommendations as to legume varieties, fertilizer requirements, seed inoculation and planting methods.

Boll Weevil Almost Eliminated in Lower Rio Grande Valley
 The boll weevil has practically been eliminated as a major pest of cotton in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, according to A. C. Gunter, associate extension entomologist for Texas A. & M. College.

The snow will be under the direction of Bill Latta of the Jerome H. Cargill Co. of New York. The Junior League helped organize the clinic, and now it helps to support its activities, according to Mrs. Stuart Browning, publicity chairman of the organization.

How? By early, thorough destruction of cotton stalks on farms in a group. Lower Rio Grande farmers estimate that the early clean-up program they follow on a community wide basis in connection with pink boll worm control gives them an average increase of one-fourth bale per acre. In 1947 Williamson county had almost a complete destruction of cotton stalks by September 30, according to a survey made by the Texas Extension Service. Surrounding counties had no organized program of stalk destruction. As a direct result Williamson county farmers had an average of less than 10 percent punctured squares throughout the 1948 season as compared to an average of 30 to 40 percent punctured squares in the bordering counties of Milam, Bell, Lee and Bastrop.

Plowing under cotton stalks early is the most dependable method for controlling boll weevils, says Gunter, and the recent large increase of this pest in many counties emphasizes the urgent need for cotton growers to plow under the cotton stalks as early as possible—not later than the first frost. Extension Service insect specialists give three excellent reasons why cotton should be harvested early and the stalks plowed under green: First, the added organic matter helps condition the soil so it will hold more moisture. Second, the early destruction of cotton stalks aids in controlling insects, especially the boll weevil. And third, as a direct result of improved soil and fewer insects, cotton yields and profits are increased. Gunter suggests a heavy roller-tine stalk cutter to cut the stalks low and into small pieces. A disk harrow attached behind the stalk cutter will further break up the field conditions and make it easier to bed—especially in the middle of the season—use a heavy roller-tine stalk cutter. If the ground is too hard to bed, a heavy roller-tine stalk cutter is to be used for normal bedding. A final suggestion is to apply fertilizer to winter legume crops to increase yields.
