In a double ring ceremony, Miss Lillian Jo Settles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Settles, of Quannah and Charlie Guynn Hickman of Memphis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guynn Hickman of Truscott, recited nuptial vows at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 16, in the First Methodist Church in Quannah. John Deaver is Guest Speaker at B&PW Luncheon

The Memphis B&PW Club met Thursday noon for their regular meeting. The Legislation Committee had charge of the program.

Mrs. Hester Bownds, Chairman of Program Coordination, presented John Deaver, an outstanding local attorney who spoke on the Need of Legislation and some of the Proposed Amendments to be voted on November 8. Mr. Deaver stated that the need of laws is for the same reason that sports such as football need rules. "People get what they demand—if we demand good law enforcement, we get good law enforcement." Concerning Jury service for women, Mr. Deaver said that the argument that woman's place is in the home has long whiskers.

Women are taking places of leadership today and much good is being accomplished thereby. He also insisted that it is not only our privilege to vote but our duty to "Get People out to Vote." That is important. Socialism gets in because thinking people did not vote.

Miss Maurine Ward of Amarillo was a guest and the following members were present: Meses. Aulis Ayers, Hester Bownds, Lucile Burnett, Mollie Carlos, Virginia Estes, Mary Foreman, Myrtle Gibson Ethel Hillhouse, Joyce Hoff, Ella Mae Kercheville, Marjorie Laender, Una Lord, Inez Mason, Betty McBea, Mazine Phillips, Connie Saye, Roselyn Williams, Mary Crabtree and Opal Duke.

Army, Washington 25, D. C. Air Force personnel should write the Deputy Chief of Staff Personnel, Attention Director of Military Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

All inquiries will be acknowledged, and subsequently each applicant will be advised whether he is eligible for increased retired pay. Because of numerous factors involved, it will be necessary to consider virtually each case on its individual merits.

Additional physical examination will not be required, as the determination as to whether retired personnel are entitled to increased retirement pay will be based on physical condition at the time of retirement.

Naval personnel previously retired for physical disability will be notified by the Navy as soon as possible of any change in their pay status, and have been specifically requested by the Navy Bureau of Supplies and Accounts not to write to the bureau concerning their individual cases. Personnel retired for other than physical reasons will automatically receive any increased pay due them under the Career Compensation Act, and have also been requested not to write to the bureau.

Section 411 of the Career Compensation Act provides that military personnel retired for physical disability may apply within five years from effective date of the act (October 1, 1949), to establish eligibility for increased retired pay.

Movies, Talks to Highlight Six Burlington Meets

"You are what you eat," according to the book Soil, Food and Health, published by Friends of the Land, Columbus, Ohio; and the thought provoking statement that "food is fabricated soil fertility" is made by O. E. Fink, M. A., in his article therein, based on the teachings of William A. Albrecht as illustrated by the film "On the Other Side of the Fence," produced by Phillips Chemical Company of Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Audiences at the six soil conservation meetings at centrally located West Texas and Panhandle points along the lines of Fort Worth and Denver City and Wichita Valley Railways, sponsored by Burlington Lines in cooperation with the Second National Bank of Houston, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and the Texas A & M Extension Service, will have an opportunity to see this sound and color movie, which will be shown and commented on by O. Dooley Dawson, vice president and manager of the Bank's agricultural department.

Dawson joined the staff of the Second National Bank of Houston in September 1945, at the inception of its new agricultural department. A graduate of Texas A&M in 1932 with a degree in agriculture, he spent 11 years with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas before joining the Bank. He had worked in every section of east and central Texas from the Red River to the Gulf, and thus acquired a practical knowledge of native soils before his Bank connection.

Each program will include talks and demonstrations by M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, and A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, both of Texas A&M College System, College Station, and the Cooke County range management team comprised of B. T. Haws, county agent, Gainesville, coach; Douglas Robison, and Billy Whitt.

A group of Burlington Lines Officers, and representatives of the Second National Bank of Houston, the Soil Conservation Service, and the A & M Extension Service will tour the towns and surrounding territory to attend these meetings and inspect important conservation projects now underway.

The first of this series of important meetings, to which the public is being invited and urged to attend, will be at 1:00 P. M. in the Community Building in Shamrock on Monday, November 14th.

Following the Shamrock meeting, the group will travel via special railroad cars to Childress for the second meeting in the High School Auditorium there at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday, November 15th.

The third meeting of the series will be at 2:30 P. M. in the Texan Theatre in Quanah on Wednesday November 16th. The special railroad cars then will move to Henrietta for the fourth stop and meeting in the Dorothy Theatre at 2:00 P. M. on Thursday, November 17th.

An overnight railroad trip from Henrietta to Spur and Stamford will put the official party in those towns on Friday, November 18th, for the final program. The fifth meeting of the series will be in Spur at 1:30 P. M. in the Spur Theater, and the sixth and final session will be in Stamford at 7:30 P. M. in the Round-Up Hall on Texas Cowboy Reunion Grounds, following which the official party will return to Fort Worth, College Station, and Houston.

Local arrangements committees are under the chairman of R. H. Forrester, Wheeler attorney, for Shamrock; V. E. Hafner, county agent, Childress; L. M. Boring, creameryman, Quanah; Ernest Lamb, president, Chamber of Commerce, Henrietta; Chas. A. Taylor, county agent, Spur; and Co-chairman Cecil Eager and A. J. Mills, Stamford.

Mesquite Control Tests Favorable

Mesquite, the invading weed tree, which has infested some 55 million acres of Texas range land...

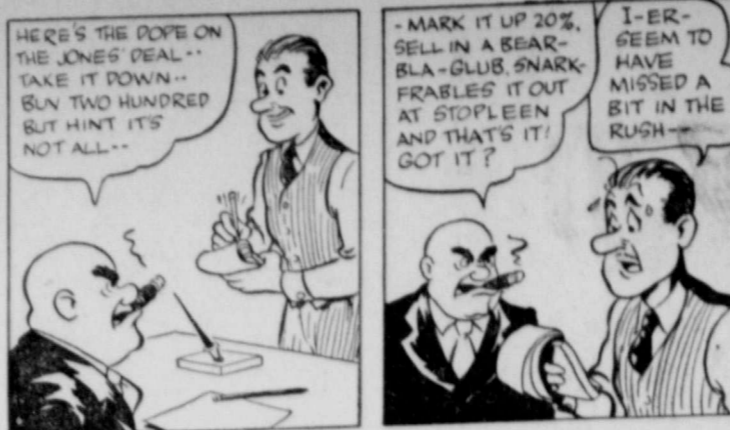

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's research work on mesquite control has been concentrated at the Spur station since 1938.

Kerosene, which works fairly well on sandy and porous soils but usually costs too much, and sodium arsenate which is cheaper but dangerous to both man and animals have been the chemicals...

most widely used and recommended in the past, says Walker.

Those attending the field day were told that 5,000 mixtures of various chemicals had been tested on mesquite at Spur during the past few years.

Results so far indicate that 2,4,5-T and formulations thereof are far superior to any formulations of 2,4-D for mesquite control or eradication.

should not run over $3.50 per acre.

Fisher says if you have only a few mesquite trees to kill, an application of pure 2,4-D amine applied with a paint brush to the cut stump should do the job.

Fisher and his co-workers do not expect to get a 100 per cent permanent kill, but are hoping they'll be able to recommend a chemical which will give low-cost control of the mesquite for 5 years.

Proper stocking to maintain a good cover of grass on the pastures will become even more important with mesquite control, says Walker.

DISTRICT 2-B Roundup

The Turkey Turks can take a step closer to a District 2-B championship tomorrow night if they can master the Silverton Owls at Turkey. The Turks are unbeaten after five games this season, and they have won three district victories. They're big chole will be trying to stop All-District Full-back Donald Rhea, the boy who tore the Lakeview Eagles' hopes last week. Rhea is fast for his size, and he is helped along considerably by little Darrell McWilliams. The Turks will have to score several times to beat the Owls.

The Lakeview Eagles matched the Owls in spirit last Thursday night, but they couldn't stand up to the weight disadvantage. It was the first league defeat for the Eagles in four games, so they aren't completely out of the picture yet. Lakeview plays Memphis "B" team tonight.

The Estelline Cubs have been having lots of hard luck this season. They have failed to win a game, but several of them have been close ones. They play the Clarendon "B" team this week.

WEST WARD P-T A TO SPONSOR HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL OCT. 31

The West Ward P-T-A is sponsoring a Halloween carnival in the High School building on Monday night, Oct. 31.

At 6 p. m. food will go on sale in the cafeteria. The Halloween queen will be crowned at 7:15 p. m. in the High School auditorium. After this event doors of the High School gym will be opened on the carnival proper. There will be bingo, a country store, picture shows, fish ponds, and a cake walk, just to mention a few of the attractions. No carnival would be complete without a fortune teller, so there will be one of those. At 9:45 the bicycles will be given away. The winners must be present.

Money derived from the carnival will be used to complete a lighting program started last year. More venetian blinds will be installed too as well as numerous other improvements to West Ward High School.

The P-T-A wishes to thank everyone who has in any way contributed towards making the carnival a success. Interest in the affair is at an all time high, and everyone has been most kind in helping wherever possible.

District P-T-A chairman from Amarillo, Mrs. Terry Alexander, Mrs. Frances Lightfoot, state chairman of councils for P-T-A from Beaumont, were here for an all day meeting last Wednesday.

Texas Retail Sales Show Slight Rise

Texas retail sales rose 6 per cent from August to September to an estimated $449,000,000, a 1-per-cent decline from September a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Cyclone Drops 35-20 Tilt For Second District Loss

INSIDE SPORTS Searchlight

By BILL REA

There really ISN'T any rest for the weary. After seven of some mighty hard-fought ball games, the Memphis Cyclone is licking its wounds—and at the same time eyeing one of the current high flyers—the McLean Tigers.

McLean is the team you will recall, which soundly beat Wellington—the team which showed the Cyclone a trick or two. The Tigers go in for the rowdy type football, and feature one of the state's top point makers, L. M. Watson. They must have a couple other guys who know what the game's all about, but stop Watson, and the Tigers will be held to a slow trot. He has scored 80 points this season, which means opposing teams haven't had too much luck applying the brakes to him.

But getting back to bumps and bruises. A certain number of injuries are expected in any given season. But it is unlikely any team in the district has been hurt as badly as the Cyclone. Any time a fullback on offense and a linebacking defensive star, the caliber of Andy Gardenhire is lost, but team can expect to become considerably less effective. We firmly believe that with Gardenhire, the Cyclone would have beaten Diamond Hill at least two touchdowns—maybe more; and that his absence was a big reason for the Wellington loss. Of course, that is more speculation—but we believe he actually meant that much to the team.

And then when his replacement, Raymond Clark, was hurt in the first part of the game Friday night, that was it. Clark did play, and he put up a courageous front, but his vaule was small. And then there was Bobby Crooks. He played, but probably shouldn't have. A pulled muscle kept him at much less than top speed. Tommy Messer started the game with a bruised elbow. He hurt it again during the game, and he will be favoring it tomorrow night—if he gets to play at all.

It got to the point that Coach York was having to send men into action who had never been in a game before! When it gets that far, you can't expect a group of kids to solve an experienced eleven's tactics. Mistakes are bound to crop up—and there's nothing that can be done to prepare the boys for all the possibilities.

Several weeks ago we were discussing the football outlook with a noted sports writer from Amarillo. He said, and we heartily agreed, that any single team in the district could stand injuries to key personnel better than Memphis. In those few short weeks, his statement has proved entirely correct. Injuries struck—and the team has suffered tremendously.

All this isn't intended to be an alibi for the licking the boys took from the Skyrockets' fine team last week. The visitors played a good ball game; they deserved to win. We're making an attempt to point out a few things that persons sometime overlook—especially when their team is not out there mowing everything down like so much mounded Johnson Grass. Memphis was playing Friday night against a team made up almost entirely of seniors—men who had played lots of football! At times there were no more than two Memphis seniors on the field, and lots of times as many as six men were out there who are playing their first year of football! Personally, we think they put up a gallant fight!

We came out with two losses and a tie out of nine guesses in last week's predictions, but with the galaxy of upsets both in high school and collegiate play, we're not moaning. There'll be some hot ones played again this week end, and we're likely to see one of them right here in Memphis. However, with the team in the shape it's in, I doubt if the Cyclone can stop the Tigers. My guess: Memphis 7, McLean 14. In the only other district game, it looks like Lefors, but not by a landslide, probably by about 20-7, over Clarendon.

MCCUTCHEON'S AERIALS GIVE SKYROCKETS UPSET VICTORY

"The Hasty Heart" Proves Successful; To Be Here Nov. 6

Three weeks after its opening finds Theatre-On-Tour's production of "The Hasty Heart" batting 1,000. Every critic who has reviewed the Broadway hit's comedy-drama has praised it.

Following the opening in Minneapolis September 30, critics of both the Minneapolis and St. Paul papers notified their public that "This is the real thing... done superlatively" (Minneapolis Tribune), "a good play, a first rate cast, excellent direction and an all around polished production. These are rosy adjectives but deserved." (Minneapolis Star).

And the Rochester Post-Bulletin said, "Ask anyone who saw it and they'll tell you not to miss it." Sioux Falls, South Dakota may not get as many big plays as other cities, but they get their share. The Angus-Leader (Oct. 8) frankly said "The Hasty Heart" was the best production to play there in the past ten years. "This is strictly a Broadway presentation. A first rate professional cast brings out every laugh provoking and heart tugging element."

In Omaha, the World-Herald headlined "HASTY HEART RICH IN HUMAN QUALITY." Other reviews are the same.

Produced with the cooperation of New York's Theatre Guild and the Theatre Guild on the Air radio program, the all-Broadway cast of "The Hasty Heart" are "enhancing the already enviable reputation of the Theatre Guild" to quote another critic.

All but two members of the company have played on "Theatre Guild on the Air," and the managing director of the company is John Rust, producer of this famous radio program.

"The Hasty Heart" will be seen in Memphis on the stage of the High School Auditorium, Nov. 6, presented by the Hall County Concert Association.

A 28-yard pass from Quarterback Bobby McCutcheon to Left Half Cameron Bean for a touchdown in the fourth quarter broke the backs of the already-crippled, but gallant fighting Memphis Cyclone Friday night at Cyclone Stadium, and the Wellington Skyrockets captured an important District 2-A game 35-20.

The scoring maneuver came after the Gold and Black had fought back into a 20-20 tie going into the fourth. Then, when it looked like the Cyclone was rolling, Wellington recovered a fumble on its own 47-yard line and moved the 53 yards on six plays. The payoff play was beautifully executed. McCutcheon, who was the game's top individual showman, took the snap, faded back quickly almost to mid-field, then passed to Bean in the left flat on the 20. A bevy of blockers was there to escort him across the double stripe.

Nine more points were scored by the Rockets, but they were extra-curricular activity. They came on a pass interception and 35-yard run by McCutcheon, an extra point kick by Jim Brock, and a safety when Roddy Stargel was dropped behind his goal-line trying to pass. Thus, Wellington remains in the district picture with two victories and a loss; and Memphis is out of the running with one triumph and two defeats.

Cyclone Scores First

Both teams had key men out with injuries, but the Cyclone missed the services of its star fullback, Andy Gardenhire, more than the Rockets missed their regular left half Lindel Norman. Bobby Crooks, Lee Bloom, Tommy Messer and R. A. Wells were all handicapped with injuries, and Raymond Clark played three quarters with a severe charity horse.

The Cyclone took a first-quarter 7-0 lead when Tommy Messer circled end for six yards and a touchdown, and Crooks kicked the extra point. The drive started when Memphis covered its own kickoff after the ball had traveled the necessary 10 yards. A key play was a fake-kick-and-run by Crooks on a fourth-down gamble with six yards needed for a first. The march required 10 plays.

The Skyrockets roared right back, and it was McCutcheon's dead-eye passing that was responsible for two second-quarter mark-ers. He passed 33 yards to Rogers Melton to culminate a five-play 55-yard march, and completed his third aerial in a row to Melton again, for seven paces and another tally. A recovered fumble on Memphis' 16-yard line set the visitors in business for that one. Brock converted after the second one, and the score stood 13-7 at half-time.

Memphis Fights Back

The Cyclone tied the score twice in the third quarter, 13-13 and 20-20. Stargel took the kickoff after the intermission and ran 70 yards to the Wellington 10 before being caught from behind by Doyle Ingram. On the second play, Stargel jump-passed to End Don Rasco for six points. Crooks' kick was low.

Wellington scored touchdown No. 3 when an exchange of punts gave the Rockets possession on Memphis' 34. Five running plays and an incomplete pass were mixed into the drive that saw Bean travel five yards for a counter. Brock kicked the point after. Stargel passed the Cyclone back into the game when he tossed to Bob Crooks on the five. Crooks went over, then kicked the extra point.

The hosts stymied Wellington's attempt to move after the kickoff, and moved the ball from their own 25 to three yards past midfield before a fumble gave the Rockets possession. It was here the red-clad Rockets started what resulted in the winning drive.

Wellington Scores Last

The action wasn't over! Memphis took the ensuing kickoff and went only 16 yards before another fumble gave the ball to the visitors on the 31. A Skyrocket fumble moments later, recovered in the end zone by the Cyclone, gave Memphis the ball on the 20, but a bad lateral set them back to the five, and on the next play, Stargel (Continued on Page 8)

They couldn't go to the State Fair, but the children at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas were treated to one of the Fair's attractions by the Joie Chitwood show, featuring clowns and auto daredevil stunts. Funnymen Happy and Slappy Roberts are displaying the stunt antics of their dogs for the children, while their partner, Whitey Harris, in policeman's garb, cracks a joke for the kids.

"The thousands of inquiries we have received," Giles continued, "and other necessary delays are making us later than we had anticipated. We ask veterans and land owners to bear with us until we have secured the money to complete transactions."

Giles also requested veterans considering making applications to "take cognizance of our regulations and policies relative to mineral rights."

The statute creating the Veterans Land Program prohibited purchases unless 50 per cent of the mineral rights were conveyed with the land. The Board, which is composed of the Governor, the Attorney General and Commissioner Giles, ruled at its first meeting that a six-month priority would be given applications which included all minerals or not more than one-sixteenth outstanding royalty reservation made before June 6, 1949.

"We are not aware of any actions in which the land is seeking to retain interest at the present time," Giles added. "Applications conform to this program by which the program is toward completion of applications."

Texas Vets' Land Purchases Delayed Until December

Baseom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the newly created Veterans Land Board, says that it is doubtful if any land purchases for Texas veterans will be completed before December 1.

"The first bonds were offered for sale on October 26," stated the Commissioner, "and there is no reason to anticipate that money will be available for our actual use for at least another thirty days."

I, the undersigned authority, Clerk of the County Court and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Commissioners Court of said County, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of an order passed by said Commissioners Court on the 12th day of September, 1949, and of the minutes pertaining to its adoption, as said order appears on record in Vol. 8 of the Minutes of said Court.

WITNESS MY HAND and the seal of the Commissioners Court, this 7th day of October, 1949. (SEAL)

AND 20 YEARS AGO October 11, 1929 BOND ISSUE CARRIES SATURDAY

A large majority of voters of Consolidated Road District No. 1 went to the polls Saturday and by their ballots show that they desire to keep Hall County in line with other progressive counties of the state by voting for the $1,220,000 road bond issue, which provides for the construction of a paved highway on the nearest practical route from Memphis to Mulberry Bridge by way of Lakeview; Memphis, Lakeview and Mulberry Bridge being the three control points on the highway, and for the further construction of lateral roads in the district.

The results show a total of 1,257 votes were cast in the nine voting boxes. Of this number 981 voted for the bond issue and 276 voted against the bond issue. The bonds carried by a majority of 429 votes.

Sweetest upland game bird for many men is the common bobwhite. In New England they call him a quail, and down south he is a partridge which is, ornithologically, a little closer to the facts. But famed naturalist Donald Culross Peattie thinks we should accept the bird's own name for himself: Bob-WHITE! Bob-bob-WHITE! Ah, bob-white.

Some scientists believe no other creature save man has so vast a vocabulary; that is, a meaningful vocabulary. I exclude the imitative powers of catbirds, parrots and mynas, and the gobbledgook of crows.

Students of the bobwhite list such phrases as the following: the food call given by the cock bird when bringing home the bacon; the screaming battle cry of the cock when another male takes too much interest in his mate; the flicker-like cackle of the male in pursuit of his love affairs; the note of the hen that invites the male; and a great deal of baby talk.

That is to say, the various notes of the chicks—the metallic piping of the lost chick, the childish chatter of youngsters keeping in touch with each other while feeding in the grass, and the curlew-like wail of the captured chick, a sound that brings down upon your head a demon of feathers—the parent bird.

All this is but a fraction of the bobwhite language, yet the sweetest note of all I haven't mentioned. It's that liquid, far-ranging ka-loo-ee-hee that sounds like some polynesian song of welcome. Ornithologists call it the scatter call, meaning what calls the scattered flock together. I would rather call it the all clear signal, given when danger is past. It is also the bobwhite's version of, "oh, what a beautiful morning."

Sometimes we might be lucky enough to hear the "whisper call" given when danger is near but not so close as to dictate retreat. It's like the cheery bob-bob-white, but so soft it carries only a few yards. And if you listen long enough and know what to listen for, you might detect the caterwauling note that Negroes translate as "walks dis way, walks dis way." Ornithologists say it is used for bluffing other males.

When danger is real you'll hear the old birds rapping out that mechanical message in code: to-ik-kick-kick over and over. Chick are absolutely responsive to this for it means that peril is right at hand. The birds, too, are right at hand—that's the baffling part of this kind of all ground birds. You hear them all about you, the alarm cry spattering like hail on a tin roof, but not a feather can you see.

Recommendations
Made for Armories
In State of Texas

The final report of the National Defense Reserve Facilities Board has been forwarded to Washington. Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, Starring Member of Board and Executive of the Texas Military District, announced this week. Although the exact figures are not available, the recommendations as forwarded call for the construction of armories in many Texas communities. At present, in the House of Representatives, there is a bill pending requesting 100 million dollars to initiate the Civilian Components armory program.

The Board was originally formed at the first of the year with the purpose to make a study of the types of facilities being used by the Regular and Reserve Components of all branches of the Armed Forces in the State of Texas and to coordinate and adjust the joint use of both the Federal and State owned accommodations as well as those rented.

The Board works directly under the Civilian Components Policy Board in the office of the Secretary of Defense. Representatives of the Navy, Army, Air Force and liaison representatives of the Texas National Guard form the committee. The working and research members are headed by Colonel Leonard M. Cowley, Engr-Res, real estate evaluation engineer in civilian life with residence in Dallas, and Major P. A. Washburn, Engr-Res, former petroleum engineer with the Humble Oil Company.

An interim report had been submitted by this Texas committee on June 28th wherein the status of all the facilities and their utilization at that time, with recommendations as to the temporary adjustments pending the study to be incorporated in the long-range report just forwarded.

Colonel Abbott stated that the committee, with the forwarding of this final report, will restudy the interim report as to the changes which have occurred since the report was forwarded to Washington, D. C.

The amount and type of equipment that each would be furnished, computations prepared in this final report estimated the amount of covered as well as open space which would be required to furnish accommodations for all the using service.

The over-all purpose of the committee is a preliminary for a presentation to Congress by the Secretary of Defense with a request for an appropriation to provide funds for the permanent construction of armories and other facilities on a nation-wide basis for the Armed Forces Civilian Components with a view toward economical occupation and joint utilization wherever possible.

SEA GIRL SCOUTS ARE SALTY SAILORS

AS SALTY as any sea-going sailor in bluejeans, are girl scout mariners of the ship "Water Witch" of Maplewood, N. J. Recently the girls set off in the training ship "Yankee" for a week's cruise in New England waters. With the exception of the engine room and galley detail, the distaff side ruled the 96 foot steel hulled vessel. The girls are members of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. and the cruise is one of the organization's annual projects.

Teen-age Mariner Scout Joanne Volz of Maplewood, N. J., is an old hand at the helm of the "Yankee." The sea scouts do all the crew duties aboard ship except engine room and galley details assigned to a five-man crew.

Getting set for the cruise, the first one available to them since Pearl Harbor, meant intensive training and preparation for the 16 teen-age mariners. At each meeting during the year the girls practiced their knot tying, whipping, splicing, first aid and charting. They learned how to play the horn pipe and they studied navigation aids and regulations.

The major project for the would-be mariners was earning the 60-dollar fee for the week's cruise. To take care of this problem the mariners set up a central job exchange. They hired themselves out as baby sitters, check room attendants at dances, clean-up squads for teas and did various money-making chores. By the time they were ready to sail, they were well equipped to chart their course, take the helm, handle sails, and of course, swab decks.

The "Yankee," skippered by Capt. Irving Johnson, had been a North Sea German pilot boat when she was captured by the British in World War II. Captain Johnson purchased the vessel and had her converted to a two-masted sailing ship. He renamed her "Yankee" for his former schooner on which many scout mariners had taken cruises before the war. During the training period the vessel put in at such ports as Martha's Vineyard, Nantucket, Wood's Hole, Block Island and Gloucester. The sea scouts also visited marine and whaling museums and other nautical points of interest in the various ports.

Tom Thumb Wedding Held in Auditorium

In a setting of autumn flowers on Oct. 20, 1949, "Jennie June," portrayed by Bobby Richards, was married to "Tom Thumb," portrayed by Bobby Gardner. The ceremony was read by the "minister," Swain McCauley. "Always" was sung by Betsy Godfrey, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Ona Rasco. The matron of honor was Deeda Hickey, attended by Bridesmaids Lou Carol Saied, Joann Durham and Linda Kaye Saye. Best man was Danny Gunstream, and ushers were Rodney Hawkins, Wayne Leslie, and Albert Don Bevers. Billy Edd Thompson was ring bearer and Flower Girls Cheryl Foster and Kay Wines preceded the bride who entered on the arm of her "father," Barry Phillips. Trainbearers were Mary Sue Scott, and Bucky Kulp.

bers of the Texas Congressional delegation to head their informal committee on imports, Congressman Gossett has been instrumental in pointing out to other members of Congress and the Executive Branch the disastrous effects of excessive oil imports on the nation and particularly Texas.

Among other bills authored by the Congressman is one to retain in the States title to tide-lands. He and Senator Lodge are joint authors of an amendment to abolish the electoral college in electing Presidents and to the apportionment of electoral votes of each state in the same ratio as the direct vote.

The Directors Meeting will be held in the Wooten Hotel in Abilene with French M. Robertson serving as general chairman. Homecoming to Be Celebrated This Weekend at Baylor
Baylor University alumni will return to their alma mater Friday and Saturday (Oct. 28-29) to honor a fighting 1949 football team and pay tribute to three Baylor athletic teams of the 1920's who took Southwest conference championships. Jack Dillard, secretary of the university's Ex-Student Association, said that members of the 1922 and 1924 football teams and the 1923 baseball teams—all conference champions—will be honored in a Homecoming reunion. The Homecoming celebration will center around the Baylor-T.C.U. football game Saturday afternoon in Waco's municipal stadium. A capacity crowd of 20,000 is expected for the game—and many more would be on hand if there were seating facilities for them. But activities will start on Friday night with a Roosevelt Hotel banquet by the "B" Association—those Baylor athletes who have won coveted letters. Members of the three championship teams will be honored throughout the banquet program. State Senator Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas is slated

Texas Christian Plans For Larger School of Religion

A planning committee to provide for "adequate buildings and facilities for a School of Religion" at TCU was authorized by the Brite College of the Bible board of trustees at their fall meeting Friday afternoon in President M. E. Sadler's office.

The trustees voted to authorize the committee upon recommendation of President Sadler, who pointed out that a School of Religion development program is necessary apart from the University's regular $10,000,000 "Total Building Program."

All support given the University by Christian Churches is diverted from the University's regular budget and used specifically for the training of Christian Church ministers and lay leaders, Dr. Sadler noted.

Brite College's growth, both in student body and faculty, was highlighted by Dean D. Ray Lindley in his report to the board.

The Seminary student body, with 101 persons enrolled, broke all previous records last year, Dean Lindley told the trustees. Another record was established by the 34 candidates who received degrees, 28 of them Bachelor of Divinity and six Master of Arts in religious education.

With 99 students enrolled this fall, Dean Lindley said, the 1949-50 total enrollment will probably exceed last year's 101, when next spring's students are added to the present total.

Even more significant, however, Dean Lindley said, is the fact that the Seminary students represent a wider geographical distribution than ever before in TCU history. The current 99 students took their bachelor's degrees from 35 different undergraduate colleges, including 14 of the 17 schools affiliated with the Disciples of Christ Board of Higher Education, three independent Disciple schools and 18 other colleges and universities. About half of the 99 students are TCU graduates, the other half being divided among the other 34 schools.

Coincident with the student body growth, Dean Lindley stated, has been the growth of the Brite faculty, with the addition of three of the country's outstanding Disciple scholars during the past year. They are Prof. Harry C. Munro, professor of religious education; Prof. Glenn C. Routt, in areology and doctrine; and Dr. A. T. DeGroot, dean of the graduate school. An outstanding authority on church history, Dean DeGroot teaches classes in that field in both Brite and the undergraduate department of religion in addition to the graduate school.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Strong and children and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Miller, all of Hollis, Okla., visited here Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Diekey and Mrs. J. E. Norman and daughters of Wellington visited here Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Combs.

War-Torn Shoe May Furnish Secret to Longer Cotton Life

A tattered canvas shoe found on a Bougainville beach after the bloody landing, ending the 1943 Solomons campaign, may prove some good can come from such terrible devastation.

For that shoe may hold a secret that will enable scientists to increase cotton fabric life by many years, Dr. Vernon L. Frampton, University of Texas cotton researcher, reports.

The foot-piece was sent to the Army Quartermaster Corps laboratory in Philadelphia because the shoe contained powerful fungi which excreted enzymes that were rapidly eating cotton fibers.

The Army sent a culture of the fungi to the University's cotton research laboratory for study. Scientists will try to find a way to counteract deterioration in cotton fabrics caused by fungi and bacteria by studying this particularly-destructive culture, and developing a resistance to it in the cotton fiber.

Another laboratory project is the study of the sun's part in degrading cotton materials. Old Sol's ultraviolet rays break up the molecular chain, or polymer, making up the cotton fiber, into grape sugar molecules.

University of Texas researchers are experimenting to determine just how, when, and why that degradation takes place. Then they will try to develop resistance in the cotton fiber to such action.

If they succeed in their experiments to thwart fungi, bacteria, and sun destructiveness to cotton, shirt or blouse will not rip with an elbow bend after three years—or six years—of wear.

The word "girl" appears twice in the King James version of the Bible.

HONEST ANSWER

Medical ethics are not something unique apart, but simply a direct application of the Golden Rule. They provide an answer to the question, "What is the patient's best interest?" As one physician put it for my patients what I would do for a member of my own family.

Pharmacists, we adhere to the same code. The best of our medicines and service is the best it is possible to give. You, the patient, are our first concern.

Housing—Memphis' Greatest Need

The score of Memphis citizens who turned out for two meetings to discuss the housing problem of the city last week showed they have interest—the most important factor in getting to the bottom of the situation.

It is definite that a number of dwellings is absolutely necessary in order to provide living quarters for the large demand, and it is generally agreed that the project will have to be handled locally.

But is this the time to enter into a big housing project? Are prices too high and material too scarce? That is something no one can answer, but if figures from throughout the United States can be used as a yardstick, then it shows that we are now in one of the biggest building booms since the war. According to the latest report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the month of September showed an increase of 20 per cent over the same period a year ago.

Local lumber yard owners have indicated that they will cooperate wholeheartedly in any project to alleviate the situation; Veterans have been given an assist through new provisions which provides for 100 percent loan value for new property; various men are looking into the details of setting the project in motion.

A fine start has been made. One of Memphis' greatest ills is in the process of being taken care of. But it will require the work of more than two or three men—it will require a community working together. After all, this is a community problem and should be handled as such.

Additional housing will bring to Memphis more than the monthly rental fee—it will lure thousands of dollars into the city from new people moving in.

The average business man stays out of politics, because of the fear that business might be lost, and then grumbles about what the politicians are doing.

A reading of magazine articles about various individuals, indicates that the radio-technique is affecting the authors of the blurbs.

Nobody, including the Russians, seems to know what the Russians want.

Maybe, after all, the so-called backward nations, with majority vote, will tell the advanced nations what they can do.

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. Olds Is Shown to Be Disqualified

In the wake of the Senate's decisive rejection of his nomination for a third term as federal power commissioner, the talk around Washington is that Leland Olds may be urged for another high federal appointment. Most frequent mention is made of him in connection with possible appointment to a special post with the National Security Resources Board, the agency concerned with coordination of the nation's industrial, military and civilian resources for war.

It is scarcely possible to imagine a man who would be more unsuitable for a responsible position with so vital an agency. If Mr. Olds was unfit for reason of his philosophy and outlook for continued service on the Federal Power Commission, as was patently the case, how much more would he be unfit for service with a board charged with preparing for the mobilization of the country's manpower and productive facilities in the event of war?

And if anyone doubts Mr. Olds' unfitness for any government job requiring a harmonious, effective working relationship with other federal officials and with industry, he has only to read the able speech of Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas which last week preceded the nominee's rejection. In an hour-long presentation of facts developed before the subcommittee over which he presided, the Texas junior senator drew a picture of Mr. Olds which makes his appointment to a key NSRB post as unthinkable as his return to the Federal Power Commission job.

Purely on the basis of the record, Senator Johnson showed Mr. Olds to be a man without experience in industry but strongly biased and hostile in his attitude toward it. He pictured him as being possessed of such a ruthless desire for power as to be willing to discredit his colleagues on the commission, to impugn the integrity and motives of FCC staff members, and to stretch the law to serve his own purposes in spite of the clear intent of Congress and the unmistakable interpretation of the U. S. Supreme Court.

In so doing he sought to overstep the delicate line that distinguishes properly regulated private ownership from totally regulated public ownership of industry.

How could a man who has shown himself to be highly prejudiced against private enterprise, unable to get along with those around him, insistent upon making the law what he wants it to be, ready to trample upon private rights and freedoms to have his way—how could such a man succeed in a post which requires the fullest co-operation with industry on the basis of mutual trust and confidence? This is a matter of more than ordinary public concern, since the safety of the nation in time of war may depend upon actions taken by the NSRB and its advisers.

By standing on the floor of the Senate and baring the character and philosophy of this nominee for high government office Senator Johnson has done the nation a genuine service. If the speech was condemnatory, it was because the facts themselves carried condemnation. In presenting them unflinchingly, the Texas senator revealed his courage and independence. The performance will do nothing to harm his standing in the Senate or to diminish his stature in the eyes of the public.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

National Conference Might Do A Lot for Civil Rights Issue
Democrat leaders in Congress have abandoned plans to push President Truman's civil rights program this year. They promise to do something about it starting next January.
There is no great surprise in this decision. Already in the tenth month of its current session, Congress is weary and in no mood to undertake what surely would be a bitter, long-drawn-out controversy.
It seems fair to suggest that if the program gets nowhere in 1950, then Administration forces should seek a new approach. For thus far the civil rights bills have been among the hardest non-blooming perennials ever nurtured in Congress. Year after year they are presented, but nothing definite happens.
The House several times has passed one or another of the civil rights measures. The Senate, however, has on no occasion followed suit.
Senate rules permitting opponents of legislation to filibuster have of course been the stumbling block in that chamber. Southern lawmakers invariably talk civil rights bills to death.

After a time-consuming debate early this year, the Senate modified its rules governing filibusters. It now requires a two-thirds majority vote to "invoke cloture"—shut off endless talk. The general view therefore is that the obstacles to Senate action are greater rather than smaller.

If this is so, there appears little ground for any confidence in Administration quarters that 1950 will tell a different civil rights story from previous years. All signs point to a complete Senate stalemate so long as those issues are at stake.

In that likely event, why should the Senate continue butting its head against a solid wall?
To be sure, history is full of instances where the dogged perseverance of men devoted to some legislative cause has brought triumph after innumerable failures. But it is questionable whether such persistence would ever pay off in a Senate where a tightly knit southern minority presents a virtually immovable barrier.

What alternative to this legislative program might be considered?
That problem would need careful exploring. One idea that might be productive of new specific proposals for wiping out racial discrimination is a national conference of distinguished leaders from all regions and all walks of life. The South, target of most criticism, would be well represented at such an assembly.

It is entirely possible that out of that meeting would emerge a program that, through emphasis upon measures of regional self-help rather than national control, would recommend itself to the nation as a whole and the South in particular.
Certainly some effort of this sort would hold out more than the futile performances we have been witnessing in Congress.—The Wichita Daily News.

This Week in WASHINGTON

ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS of the debate on the Anderson farm bill during the week, was the charge in the senate by Sen. George Aiken that the commodity credit corporation was just about out of money and would need out of farm prices were to be kept on the 90 per cent of parity basis for another year.

This is a reverberation on the Republican side of the fence of the measure offered previously in the house by Congressman Jesse Wolcott, Republican of Michigan, to give CCC another billion dollars in loan authority. Congressman Brent Spence of Kentucky immediately challenged Wolcott, declaring CCC had plenty of money for the purpose of carrying out the farm price support law.

Facts are that as of June 30 this year the commodity credit corporation had approximately two and a half billion in borrowing authority left out of its original 4.75 billion dollar authorization given about two years ago. This means that CCC has about two and a quarter billion tied up in loans and inventory out of which it may or may not realize a profit or a loss. Then out of this two and a half billion available, it must carry on its price support program the rest of this fiscal year until June 30, 1950.

Actually CCC has only lost approximately $250,000,000, all in 1948, and from its inauguration in 1933 to the beginning of 1948, has made an overall profit on its operations. Some profits during the war were on the fantastic side. It piled up profits of some $200,000,000 on its cotton inventory alone.

So officials of CCC are not anticipating they will run out of money unless the crops of next year are so tremendous that huge grain surpluses pile up. If the crops are normal or in short supply they may well make a profit on the commodities taken over under this year's loans.

This 81st congress has made a fairly good record on conservation of natural resources and kindred projects, the count being more than a score of bills which include measures earmarking approximately a billion dollars for flood control, river and harbor and reclamation projects.

The administration and others in favor of a Columbia authority or administrative hump on this kind of thing. A dozen bills have been introduced over the question in general, and house public works committees have held extensive and plan to hold hearings in the Columbia to get local interest. Whatever decision is made on the Columbia provide a blueprint for valley developments.

The first CVA bill introduced by Rep. Hugh H. Mitchell, Washington, Rep. J. A. C. Davis, Democrat, and 11 others, introduced an administrative bill. It has the approval of Interior Secretary Harold I. Green, and three directors of existing projects in and develops it into water control, reclamation and development program. Local participation provided for through boards and councils.

The administration provided for the activities of the bureau, the corps of engineers and the Bonneville reclamation in the Columbia. All other federal agencies, forest service, service, and fish and game, and ice work in independent.

Then the pulling began. Rep. Walter H. Reuther, Michigan, introduced a bill for creation of a basin commission and P. Cain, Republican, introduced a bill providing all development through a Columbia variation and another for similar development Columbia interstate.

Then Senators Cain and Reuther have introduced a bill for the construction of flood control works along the river.

 Statistically, the two teams were fairly even. Memphis made 10 first downs to 11 for Wellington, made 184 yards on the ground, but lost 41 for a net of 114, as compared to 153 minus 11 for 142 net for Wellington; Memphis completed four out of seven pass attempts for 42 yards and McCutcheon threw 13 times, completing seven for 89 paces.  Meanwhile the story of Eddie Wayne's very unusual disease—concerns extremely infrequently in children of this age and seldom ever is as malignant as in this case—was spread by newspapers to all corners of America.  "Any money received in excess of actual expenses will be turned over to cancer research organizations," said the parents.
 Eddie Wayne appeared some better after 10 days of x-ray treatment. Dr. C. G. Shellenberger said he hoped the x-ray would stop the growth that already had eaten away much of the boy's internal organs. But complete cure still seemed remote.
