Visual Equipment Given to County for Agriculture Use

Board of Supervisors of Hall County Soil Conservation District last week presented a film supply of tape recorder, a slide camera, one 16 and one 35 millimeter camera for use in the county's agricultural programs. County Agent Bonnie Hooser is custodian of the equipment which will be available for use to agricultural groups. Hooser received the equipment this week and has already loaned a film to several 4-H clubs and the veterans agricultural class. Supply of agricultural films will be available from Texas M. in addition to other film. Hooser and Guy Cawfield plan a grass seeding program in which the film projector will be used later this spring. It will also be used in the 7-step cotton program. "This is the best thing that has happened to insure a good agriculture program," County Agent Hooser said. "Members of the Board are certainly to be commended for their far-sightedness in our county program," Hooser continued. Board members at the county meeting last Friday were J. J. McDaniel, J. L. Brooks, R. B. Scott, Leon Lane and John Glover. Others attending were George Taylor of Childress, District Conservationist of Soil Conservation Service, Cawfield, Hooser and Assistant County Agent Glen Dunle.

Get Congress to Act Now

The tidelands fight has been defined as many things which it is not. It is high time to start describing what it really is. It is a fight for property rights that have existed since this government was born. It is a fight for the honesty and integrity of the pledged word of the National Government against specious phrase twisting to cover legalized chicanery. It is a fight for the honest returns of investment in risk and commercial venture against the sure thing speculators who would reap where others have sown. So far as Texas is concerned, it is a fight for the school funds and school future of the children of a state that voluntarily ceased to be an independent nation and cast its lot with a government whose word it believed it could trust. So far as Texas is concerned it is a fight to see that no false reasoning or time-serving pretense by an inept Federal Supreme Court shall set that word aside. In the striking series of nine articles by Allen Duckworth concluded in The News Monday, the case of Texas and the other tideland states has been made crystal clear. You have seen official conspiracy to seize these lands for the Federal Government in defiance of a concept of ownership that was born before the Constitution and endured with it. You have seen the evidence that this is a national grab to benefit private spoilsmen. What the tidelands issue has never been is either an effort to assure the naval oil reserve or to benefit the people of the United States. It has made no difference to those responsible that they have written on the books a Supreme Court opinion that places in jeopardy every square foot of privately owned or state-owned property in this country. For the court in its labored effort to justify its glossy unfair decision has asserted that the United States has the right in its own interest and regardless of it pledges to seize the tidelands without compensation. The tidelands today—your home, your business, your person tom-frow. An act of Congress can stay the progress of that unhallowed theory, fundamentally identical with the concepts of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. Get Congress to act.

No Left Turns To Be Permitted At Street Light

No left turns are to be permitted at Sixth and Noel streets, southeast corner of the square, now that the new traffic light has been installed, according to Chief of Police T. D. Weatherby. "This move to eliminate left turns at this corner, has been made by the police department in order to improve the traffic flow through Memphis and to eliminate danger at this intersection," Chief Weatherby stated. A policeman will be on duty at the intersection Saturday afternoon and night in order to direct traffic and instruct motorists and pedestrians. "The police department will act in an advisory capacity until April 1, then all traffic regulations will be enforced," Weatherby said. Signs will be painted on the streets telling drivers that there are to be no left turns at the Sixth and Noel streets intersection. A sign pertaining to this will be suspended under the traffic light as soon as it is completed. Inside lanes near the courthouse will be closed to the Sixth and Noel intersection. Drivers traveling west on the inside lane must turn north instead of entering the intersection at that corner. Right turns at the street light will be permitted at all times; however before a right turn may be made on a red light, the motorist must make a complete stop then proceed with the turn. Pedestrians have the right-of-way when a car is making a right turn against a red light.

AGRICULTURE EXPERIMENT FARM ESTABLISHED HERE FOR COUNTY

An agriculture experiment station will be established in Hall County as the result of combined efforts of the Vocational Agriculture class, the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and local tractor and implement dealers. The land, located just south of the football stadium, consists of several acres and has been donated by the Memphis Independent School District to be used by local vocational agriculture classes as a laboratory supplement. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to buy all seed for experiments. Equipment for farming the experiment plots will be donated for use by local dealers. Purpose of the project is to teach a teaching device and to determine new crop varieties and their adaptability to the type of farming in the soil, moisture and climatic conditions of Hall County. Practical farming methods will be demonstrated to agriculture students and the station will provide a core for common problems with situations close at hand for study and observation. The following projects will be started this year. Each year in addition to these projects, the type of work will be changed as necessary in experimenting with crops and tests for this county.

Oil Company Starts Drilling in County

The Honolulu Oil Company of Midland started surveying crews to work in Hall County Wednesday and began sending in equipment and crews this morning in preparation of drilling for oil. The crews are surveying nine miles southwest of the city on the east bank of the old Indian Creek on the property of Thos. E. Noel, president of the First National Bank. The Honolulu company owns leases on approximately 8000 acres of land in that area. About eight test wells have been drilled in Hall County but none have been producing wells. About two years ago, Humble Oil Company drilled two wells in the same area and went to 5600 feet before stopping after striking granite. However reports of the electric logs of the tests show some formation at 4200 and 4800 feet. These were the Weaver and Moss wells. The present drilling sight is about a half-mile southeast of the old Weaver well. Practically all of the land in Hall County south of the city of Memphis is held in lease by various oil companies except for a few isolated acres whose owners haven't signed leases. "A producing well would certainly supplement our county income in addition to cotton and livestock," Noel stated. However, nothing definite concerning the well can be counted until actual drilling is in progress.

Farm-to-Market Road Construction May Begin Soon

Hall County Commissioners will meet at 2 p. m. Saturday to decide whether they will join with Childress and Motley counties in the building of the Northfield road with Farm to Market funds. Previously Hall County had allocated their 1952-53 funds toward building a farm-to-market road to the Childress county line to join the road from Gilpen and Harrell, giving these communities a paved road to Memphis. Hall County Commissioners also had stated they would allocate their 1953-54 FM funds toward joining Childress and Motley counties in building the Northfield road. County Judge M. O. Goodpasture invited Childress county representatives to meet with the Hall County court Saturday afternoon.

Triangular Meet Slated Friday At Cyclone Field

A triangular track meet between Wellington, Shamrock and Memphis will be held Friday afternoon, starting at 3 p. m. Coach Chuck York said this week. This will be the second meet in which the Cyclones have participated in this year, after meeting Amarillo last Friday. "Cold weather hindered events last week in Amarillo," York said, "however some of our boys did look pretty good." All boys on the Cyclone squad are either sophomores or juniors except one senior. Good weather Tuesday enabled the boys to set some good time marks in the mile, half-mile, 440-yard dash and the mile relay. Boys expected to take part in the triangular meet Friday include millers Max Kennedy and Julius Stevens, half-milers Duane Miller and Scotty Grundy, 440-yard dash men Jim Morris and Mackey Allen, mile relayers Frank Norman, Clyde Tamplin, Vance Adams and Ronnie Smith and high jumpers Ronnie Smith and Charles Messer. Other field events also will be held though the Cyclones do not have entrants in all field events.

GARDEN PLOTS

Small garden plots will be made available to town boys, who lack such facilities. In addition to the work done on the above mentioned items, there are many other farm jobs and practices that will be observed, such as weed control, land leveling, use of farm level, care and operation of farm machinery measuring and surveying land, soil testing, keeping records. Of prime importance to Hall County farmers is that the experiments here will be for this county only and any tests necessary to the welfare of this county can be made. Weldon McCreary, high school agriculture teacher, will direct the experiments. He and Chamber of Commerce manager Clifford Farmer completed arrangements for the station this week. Work has already begun in preparation for planting this spring. A seed order is being made up and will be ordered this week.

Fire Record Assures Low Rates for '51

Word was received this week by Fire Marshal T. D. Weatherby from the office of Fire Insurance Division in Austin that the fire insurance premiums for 1950 in Memphis were $9,290.93 and the losses only $3,930. This means that the 25 per cent good fire record will continue throughout 1951.

Palo Duro Easter Services Slated

A Sunrise Easter Service will be held in Palo Duro State Park March 25. Rev. Leon Hill, famous evangelist and noted speaker, will deliver the Easter Sermon. He has originated several great Easter outdoor observances, and took the lead last year in reviving the Easter Sunrise Service at Palo Duro State Park.

License Tag Sales Lagging for 1951

"Approximately 800 vehicle owners in Hall County have purchased 1951 license tags," Tax Collector J. W. Coppedge said this morning. That leaves approximately 2500 yet to purchase tags. "Deadline for having 1951 tags on automobiles and trucks is April 1," Coppedge said. License sales this year are still running slow, about 200 or 300 sales behind the same time last year according to Coppedge. Owners need their 1950 license receipts and their Texas Title certificate when obtaining license.

SINGING

A Possible Defeat

On our side, the war in Korea has become a new kind of conflict. The classic goal of warfare is to capture or destroy important ground, cities, terminals, industrial districts, supply dumps, and to reduce the enemy's power to fight.

In the initial stages of the Korean war, when the UN forces were opposed by the North Korean forces only, this was our goal to a certain extent. But it is no longer. We are fighting the Chinese, but no one seriously envisions driving across the Manchurian border in an attempt to capture Chinese land. And our planes are not permitted to fight or bomb over Chinese territory.

Our current plan was clearly and succinctly stated by General Ridgway, the able UN ground commander in Korea. It is not to capture "real estate," most of which is of small value now. It is, instead, to kill a many Chinese soldiers as possible with minimum punishment to ourselves.

If we can hit and hold our ground, well and good. If that becomes too costly, the policy is to move out, conserving our human resources, and to hit again another day and in another place. The "we will stand here to the last man" idea is out.

Our casualties in Korea have been very heavy, they have passed the 50,000 mark, the great majority among the ground forces. In the early days of the war the only troops available were occupation forces from Japan, many with little or no experience in combat. They took terrific losses.

It was also necessary to commit units piece-meal, in pitifully small detachments, and this too swelled the grim toll of killed, injured and missing in action. Many of the replacements and reinforcements from the United States were half-trained peace-time soldiers, and they also lost heavily. As the casualty list hews, Korea is a far cry from a police action to those involved in it. It is a major war.

But our losses have diminished to a remarkable degree in late months, due to the Ridgway strategy, to the hard-won battle experience of the troops, and to the great flood of improved equipment we have sent to Korea. And the Chinese casualties are a...redibly high.

In a recent issue U.S. News & World Report said that China's best armies, totaling 900,000 men, were moved to Manchuria for use in Korea, and that about half that force has been committed. Of the last, one out of three has become a casualty, for a total of 185,000.

That means, the magazine pointed out, that if the present casualty rate continues, China will have lost two out of three men, totaling 370,000, of those she committed to Korea. And the best observers believe that no nation, no matter how vast her reserves of manpower, can go on indefinitely losing trained men at that terrible rate.

Moreover, American ground, air and sea forces seem to have been remarkably successful in preventing the movement of adequate supplies to the Chinese army in Korea. Gasoline, transport, heavy ammunition and weapons, everything is short.

We, on the other hand, have built up our firepower to an overwhelming degree.

We are staying on in Korea, then, because we can inflict enormous losses on the enemy while taking relatively small losses ourselves.

Some top military men believe that the Chinese—who are said to be disappointed by the small amount of aid given them by Russia—will eventually pull out of Korea and let the war die.

If that happens, it will be the first real defeat world communism has had to take.

SMOKE SCREEN

The indiscriminate use of the term "railroad-truck fight" in reference to the highway truck load limit controversy now before the Texas Legislature is nothing more than an attempt to throw up a smoke screen around the real issue.

A small group of the trucking industry in Texas, comprised of habitual speed and weight restriction law violators, is intent upon hiding the tax issue involved in this matter from the taxpayers of Texas."

This portion of the trucking industry is doing irreparable damage to the legitimate truckers of Texas, in addition to its destruction of Texas highways; more than an attempt to throw up a

Feeding Tests Show Best Slaughter Calves are Brahman Crossed

Carrying some Brahman blood, the calves continue to produce the slaughter calves for South Texas conditions in tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. And it appears that the cow, rather than the bull, should carry the Brahman blood.

Hereford or 3-4 Hereford-1-4 Brahman cows.

Hereford

Use of a Hereford bull on the crossbred cows gave better beef conformation and higher carcass grades. The 7-8 Hereford 1-8 Brahman calves out of 3-4 Hereford 1-4 Brahman cows and by a Hereford bull had better beef conformation and carcass grades than the 3-8 Hereford 5-8 Brahman calves resulting from the use of the Brahman bull.

Greater weight for age was obtained for the calves out of the crossbred cows and sired by the Hereford bull. Calves out of the Hereford cows were heavier at two weeks of age, but the calves from the crossbred cows gained faster after they were two weeks old. Gains were higher after two weeks for the 3-4, 7-8, 28, and 1-2 Hereford calves, in that order. At the Brazos River Valley Laboratory, College Station, Brahman cross heifers and grade Hereford heifers were bred to Angus bulls. These heifers were the results of breeding Brahman and Hereford bulls to "native" cows some of which had a high percentage of Hereford blood.

Calves from the Brahman cross cows were heavier for their age had a higher dressing percentage, produced higher grade carcasses and sold for $8.21 more per head than the calves from the grade Hereford cows.

Weight

At an average age of 240 days, calves from the Brahman cross cows weighed an average of 465 pounds. Their average dressing percentage, on warm carcass and slaughter weight basis, was 57.8 percent. The calves from the grade Hereford cows averaged 444 pounds at 235 days of age and dressed 55.3 percent.

Experiment Station beef cattle specialists point out that the Brahman cross cows apparently were better mothers during the summer, for their late calves were heavier and had higher carcass grades than the late calves of the grade Hereford cows.

The results of these two experiments follow the same general pattern of other tests conducted in slaughter calf production in the last few years, states J. H. Jones, professor of animal husbandry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

A good procedure in breeding for the production of slaughter calves in southern areas, Jones says, is to cross plain or native cows with Brahman bulls. Cows from this cross produce good slaughter calves when bred to Shorthorn, Angus, or Hereford bulls.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Standard Training Is Needed By Civil Defense Volunteers

By Walter A. Shear

(This is the fourth in a series of five articles on the civilian defense program.)

AUTHORITY in the line of command for the tremendous civil defense army needed in case of full scale war stems from the President, through Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell, to the 48 state civil defense directors and down the line to the appointed officers in cities, towns and counties throughout the nation.

National defense against atomic, biological and chemical warfare rests upon thorough training to start in a civil defense staff college to be established for top civil defense planners and administrators. The college will serve as a source of all latest information. Regional technical training centers are also planned where this information will be disseminated in the civil defense training programs in the states and local communities. The technical centers will be staffed by thoroughly trained men and women in all phases of the work and will provide means for standardization of the technical and special training necessary. Standardization is a prime factor for successful mutual aid and mobile support which require a force of uniformly trained civil defense workers.

Graduates of the federal technical training centers will train other civil defense workers and trainers within the states, who, in turn, will train the local volunteers. Under the program, two kinds of training will be provided—general and specialized. General training will consist of instruction in basic subjects to include fundamental principles of organization and operation, basic first aid and improvised rescue operations.

The American Red Cross, officials of the public health service and other organizations concerned with health services will conduct certain phases of specialized training such as first aid and nurses' aid training. Many medical officers of the military services, public health services, the veterans administration and other organizations have taken specialized courses in defenses against atomic warfare and these will be asked to assist in the training program.

Already, in the atomic warfare field, 148 physicians from 38 states have taken courses given by the atomic energy commission in cooperation with the national security resources board. Similar courses for nurses have been started. Other courses either federal, state or local, will be available for dentists, veterinarians and other professional and technical people working in health services. State health officials have taken courses in radiological monitoring which included many aspects of the civil defense program.

Similar training courses will be available for biological warfare against humans and animals, against chemical warfare and against biological warfare against crops. Courses in these subjects will have three prime aspects—detection, treatment of casualties, and methods of decontamination. Training will be available for nurses aids and home nurses, radiological monitors, auxiliary sanitary personnel and auxiliary laboratory workers.

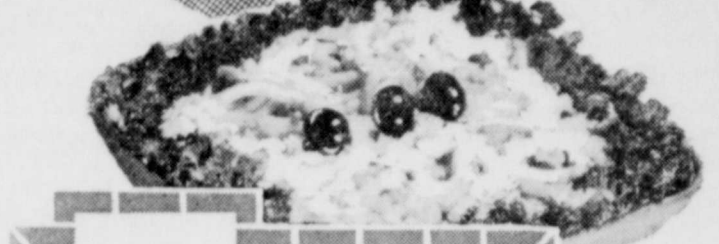

For large segments of the general public, the major type of training will be in the category of first aid—what to do first in any of the fields of civil defense. The goal is 20,000,000 trained first-aiders in a 22-hour course which will also include training in special weapons defense and in procedures for treating minor illnesses in time of emergency when physicians will be overburdened with casualties.

Every state will operate under a uniform system of organization, equipment and procedure. Establishment of control stations in strategic areas, of first aid stations and the implementation of all necessary ambulances, hospitalization, fire fighting equipment and a score of other defense mechanisms will be taught. It is estimated that approximately 33 per cent of surviving casualties in an atomic bomb burst would require transportation by litter to first-aid stations, hence the importance of first aid work. As an example, if there were 40,000 injured survivors, about 13,000 probably would have to be carried by litters. Another 27,000 could walk, or would be taken to first aid stations by other means. So the most important function is in first aid training, since even firefighters, rescue teams, police, engineering and other personnel, first to contact the injured, would be called upon for first aid to casualties.

So every individual should watch for announcement of establishment of regional training centers.

License number 100 is always reserved for the president's car, and largest city.

Letters from Readers

A Reader Gives Her Own Views About World Situation and U.S.

There are three factions under suspicion as probable suspects in the cas. The military men for whom the battlefield is a proving ground, a chance to put theory into practice, and an opportunity for personal advancement; The War Mongers, those most likely to succeed in being multi-millionaires from the profits of an expansive rearmament program; and the Bureaucrats and Lobbyists who hope thereby to gain votive approval from their "backers". I don't say these worthy gentlemen want war but they are liable to suspicion.

Those exonerated of all suspicion as the parents of eligible young men, wives of men who served their stint during World War

II, and the men themselves who have been there and know what they are returning to. These don't want war! Indeed, a preparedness program is of first importance. A nation the size of our should maintain a large, well equipped standing army. The hurried and complete demobilization which followed World War II; the junking of planes, ships, and motorized vehicles was wanton waste. But, without an actual eminence of attached, some tangible provocation for all this "re-armament stir", it seems a costly, useless business for which we have no heart. And somehow, we hear all this mobilization talk as if it emanated from another world and time. The threat of war seems unreal and we wonder if it is sufficiently urgent to justify the trail of broken homes and hearts left in its wake.

Does Stalin want war? Who can tell? Sure he picks off the countries nearby and easeasy. Further, more, his agents are working like ants to communize all who will lend an ear to their glorified propaganda. But has Stalin actually greedy designs on "our land of liberty?" Sure, we hear rumors that troops are massing near the Berring Sea—but who started these rumors—have they factual foundation? With us arming to the teeth, Stalin would be a careless despot in need to sit idly by with his defences down. He hasn't ruled Russia these many years for nothing. Isn't he clever enough to take careful stock of our potentialities, to observe our progress in Korea and wonder if we wouldn't make things hot for him if he threw his hat in the ring.

Not that Stalin doesn't view this country as a tasty morsel. Who wouldn't? We only guess at what he is doing and planning because he has the good judgment to keep quite as to his maneuverings. When Hitler headed into Russia in World War II, many predicted that the Russians would fold as the other victims had done but Russia had men under arms and equipment the like of which we had little dreamed possible. And Russia not only stood her ground but drove the Germans back whence they had come. It is quite probable that she is even better equipped today, that she has an A-bomb and could make a fair show on any battlefield. But the talk that Russia plans to take America is merely supposition and many a Russian would bite the dust before such a fantastic scheme were accomplished. Remember that, when some one with fear and trembling talks of Russia "taking America", if Stalin does carry "a long stick" he certainly keeps a poker face while we go bragging about the merits of the A and the H bomb, the most dastardly inventions of man's brain to date. Maybe he figures given enough rope, we may become entangled in the coils.

We must be ever on the alert we be caught napping and conscription service does to be the means for maintaining a standing army and navy. But is sending troops to Europe and Asia to do battle on foreign soil and thereby destroy the country and impoverish the people so we can then help to rehabilitate the wartorn countries, the solution? I am a democrat "wran and filling" but I am inclined toward Mr. Hoover's views as to our having our hands full at home. The peoples of Europe and Asia have fought for years and will continue to do so as long as there are starving hordes, despotic rulers, and suppression of right thinking and behavior. If we begin now to fight cently, "Love America or leave it!" I say, three rah's for Mr. Carillo!

And while we plot war games and play soldier, still other American freedoms are endangerer. From England comes the hue and cry of protest against socialized economy. The liberties of one of "the great democracies" are bound and shackled by government-controlled living conditions. Taxes are prohibitive and food supplies are slowed to a minimum. The Revolutionary War was fought that we might be freed from religious and social suppression and yet this beast rears its ugly head at our very door. While we sharpen our plow shares into swords, it threatens to swallow up our American way of life.

When Labor can lay down its tools despite the fact that Americans are dying in Korea—when millions are spent annually to keep the bureaucrats happy in their crafty scheming and government hundreds of employees on steady pay—when we are hoping to postpone inflation while it engulfs us, I should say our "home work" needs attention.

I have no son eighteen and my husband is of World War I age so I have no personal ax to grind except to awaken thinking Americans to the realization that even though, "The year is at the spring. The day is at the morn, and God is in His heaven", all is not right with the world. We should rise from our bed of complacency and awaken to things as they are. If we have up to now, been just "riding in the wagon" let's wrap the lines around our hands, set our feet against the dash board and steady the pace before the team runs away and spills us in a heap of chaos.

We can't practice isolationism. Modern transportation has inhibited distance and other countries are no longer foreigners but next door neighbors. "Man can not live by bread alone." There must be an exchange of spiritual food and fellowship—importation and exportation—international cooperation for the good of all concerned. This a government of the people, and by the people. We are the people, and as such, it is our duty to take stock of the situation to put our shoulders to the wheel and our minds to the task and see what can be done to stop this headlong drive into militarism, inflation and socialized economy. We, as a freedom-loving people, don't want war! Yes, God bless America and keep it the land of the free and the home of the brave! Jenny Harrell Rogers.

of legend and enchantment!
 The fires of enchantment are kindled by the songs and legends of the vagabond musicians and story tellers, descendants of the Irish bards and minstrels, who roam the country at will like
 "lost wisps of medieval times"
 beguiling their listeners with folklore and music in exchange for a night's lodging or a crust of bread. It is these "shanachie" who tell of the low mounds of earth where dwell "the little people", the leprocauns, and the people of Sidhe who leave fairy rings to pebbles to be discovered and wished upon; whose silver bullets cause people to disappear altogether like mischievous elves, these pixies, cast spells and their victims are said to be "pixilated".
 In fact, anyone behaving in an unusual manner, is thought to be under the spell of the "little people" and, while one doesn't always believe in such things—still it could be and who dares to deny it.

to writings but gathered youths
 about them for oral instruction.
 Often their meetings were held in oak groves as the oaks and mistletoe were sacred to this cult.
 Now Patrick's tasks were made difficult because the kings and nobles subscribed to this belief
 but he persevered and, in 432 A.
 D. was consecrated Bishop of Ireland.

Shamrocks, symbolic of Ireland and its patron saint, have a curious connection with St. Patricks. The plant, held in reverence before his time, was believed to be a cure for snake bites because snakes were never found in
 it. Thus the three-leaved shamrock made an understanding symbol for the Holy Trinity and, as such, they were first used by St.
 Patrick in a famous sermon to the Druid priests.

Thought Ireland's and daughters are scattered to the four corners of the earth today, they are ever ready and eager to think and talk of home—unable to, dispel the magic ties that bind their hearts to the Emerald Isle. In lilting brogue that distinguished the Irishborn the world over,
 they delight to tell of the beauties and wonders of the old country. Donegal's jagged hills rear toward the northern sky with quite lakes and meadows all the streams nestled in their bosoms, while, along the coast of Connemara, the west wind hoots against the rocks
 where merger fields and peat bogs huddle. From Galway Bay to the downs of Tipperary, this is a land of granite and green, of northern mist and brilliant southern sun. Ireland, land of paradise, where peasant's huts snuggle in the shade of massive castles.

 it is causing an unnecessary
 tax burden for highway maintenance and reconstruction.

Since only .003% (three out of every 1,000) of the total highway vehicle registration in Texas
 is for more than 40,000 pounds,
 it is apparent that there is no current need for any increase in truck load limits or trucks sizes.

 on this question write to them and commend them for it; if they are not doing so, write to them

 Texas highways be stopped.

Look what the Smart Money's buying

Now that the 1951 offerings of the motorcar industry have had a chance to strut their stuff, we ask you—can there be any doubt which is the really smart buy?

If you want a "new look"—Buick has it. That sturdy push-bar forefront says "1951" to all who see it—and provides unsurpassed front-end protection to boot.

If you want power that you can live with through many moons to come—Buick has that too. Years of expert engineering have made Buick's thrill-packed Fireball engine just about as dependable as a power plant can be.

If you want features that combine present pleasure with long-time durability, consider this:

Buick's level-going ride stems from coil springs
 on all four wheels which are virtually break-proof and never need servicing.

Buick's Dynaflo Drive* takes the strain out of every mile of driving—and pays off by eliminating any need for friction clutch repairs and replacements, by reducing engine and transmission upkeep, and lengthening life of tires.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

- No other car provides all this:
- DYNAFLOW DRIVE — saves strain on driver and car
  - FIREBALL POWER — high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
  - PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT — combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
  - WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS — greater clarity at night
  - 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING — cushions ride, saves servicing costs
  - TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE — steadies
  - ride, improves driving control
  - DUAL VENTILATION — outside air led separately to right or left of front compartment
  - SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES — hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
  - DREAMLINE STYLING — tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models
  - Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, StepOn parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher
- WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

If you want room and comfort and handling that make any trip a breeze—there's no simpler way to find them than to take over a '51 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—relax and enjoy yourself.

And if you want all this at a minimum outlay
 of dollars—one look at Buick prices will settle this point.

So the smartest thing you can do is get in touch with your Buick dealer. How about doing that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

The Texas senate redistricting sub-committee has changed its plan to take out the 18th Congressional district the counties of Hall, Childress, Motley and Cottle and Bailey, Lamb and Hale counties. Instead, under the new plan, Childress, Cottle and Motley counties would be added to Wichita Falls district, and add Hale and Floyd to the 18th district; leaving Hall county as is at present. Recently Ott Bevers and others from Hall County were in Austin and registered a protest over throwing Hall into another district claiming this section is entirely out of touch with Wichita Falls district.

The man for whom Hall County was named was Warren D. C. Hall of North Carolina in rebellion against Spain. Later he settled in Brazoria County and was made adjutant-general under President Burnet. He retired to private life and died on Galveston Island in 1868.—Laura V. Hamner.

Some of my readers might be interested in the Hall County 1880 census report—first federal census ever taken in the county—as released last week by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Total population of the 26 counties of the Panhandle, 1887—half of that was in Hemphill, Wheeler and Donley counties.—Hall county had 36 persons of whom 23 were adults and 7 children of the Anglo race and 6 Spanish. No inhabitants were reported from Dallam, Sherman, Moore, Carson, Farmer and Castro.

Wheeler County, 1875, accounting for much of the population of the Panhandle as there were some 150 soldiers listed in the census in 1880, and the necessary guides, freighters, etc.

Rev. Ira Wakefield, the first minister of the Gospel was in Hall County, and 3 other ministers were listed in other counties—no church buildings in all of the Panhandle—no schools—outside Army doctors at Mobeetie, only one other doctor was listed and he was at Tascosa—three lawyers—no public officers outside Mobeetie, but old court records show that several appointments were made at Tascosa.

Wheeler County officers had jurisdiction over 26 counties—Mobeetie serving the whole area. Residents of other counties participated in courts by jury service and witnesses.—Not many business men in area—Donley had 2 merchants, 1 clerk, 2 hotel keepers—Hartley 2 merchants, 1 hotel man—Deaf Smith, 1 merchant, 1 hotel man—Tascosa, 5 merchants, 1 hotel man, 1 saloon keeper—Hemphill, 1 merchant—Mobeetie, 3 merchants, 5 clerks, 3 hotel men, 3 saloon keepers.

Final Plans Made For City Revival

Final plans are being made for the simultaneous revival meetings that will be held in most of the churches in Memphis beginning Easter Sunday and continuing through Sunday, April 1.

A community wide sunrise Easter service will be held at the city park with all the Churches cooperating. If the weather is unfavorable, the services will be held at the First Methodist Church.

Most of the business houses are cooperating with this revival effort by closing between 9:45 a. m. to 11:00 a. m.

The ministers of the Memphis Ministerial alliance appreciates this cooperation very much," Rev. Roy Shahan said.

SPORTS AFIELD
By Ted Kestray
Does shooting have a future? You might as well hazard a guess as to the future of our latest breakfast food, claims Edwards Brown, noted arms authority. He says shooting won't end but it could develop to the point where it is no longer a sport.

Stop a moment and think. What has happened to our constitutional right to bear arms? It is no fantasy that a law-abiding man, in most parts of our country, is prohibited from having a gun in his care ready for the protection of his life.

If you are stopped by a bandit on the highway, of course you don't have to submit. Instead you can choose to be clubbed or shot to death. Naturally—and here's the irony—the bandit can have a

Tech to Offer Music Scholarships

A limited number of new music scholarships will be available at Texas Technological College this fall, according to Gene L. Hemmle, head of the Music Department at Tech.

Saint Paul's Episcopal Church of Lubbock has established a number of vocal scholarships for students who can qualify.

Instrumental scholarships are being offered by the Lubbock Symphony Association and the Lubbock Music Club.

gun because he isn't a law-abiding citizen!

Most of us are engaged in shooting because we're interested in it as a sport. A vast majority channel their enthusiasm into hunting because it gets them out in the open and they like the spirit of the chase. Killing game does not breed a lust to kill—most humans feel a pang of sympathy for game they have killed.

Many who are against hunting try to outlaw guns because they regard them as dangerous. But are they as dangerous as many household risks—steps, bathtubs and butcher knives? Accidents records indicate that they are not. Frankly, we'll never eliminate a few accidents with guns—but legislating against them isn't the answer.

If you love shooting, only you can do something about preserving its future. The answer to the firearms question is not narrow-minded gun legislation. The answer is education. Teach everyone—boys, young men, adults—how to use a gun. Then gun handling will be safe.
