Childress Vs. Owls Tonight 8 O'clock

The Memphis Owls, who were tied with Wellington for first place in the Red River Amateur League, are scheduled to meet the Childress mittmen at 8 o'clock tonight at Estes park.

MANAGER—Burr Pruitt's Owls were tied for first place in the Red River Valley Amateur League with Wellington, each having won two games and dropped one. The Owls meet Wellington Sunday.

Last Saturday the Owls defeated the Childress nine 11 to 9 at Childress in a practice game as the Owls romped nine runs in the first three innings.

Sunday the Owls are scheduled to meet the Wellington team there and Radio Station KCTC of Childress, will broadcast the game at 3 p. m. Archie Gray of the Wellington substitution will describe field activities.

Last Sunday the Owls defeated the Quannah Chiefs 6 to 5 for their second league victory and put them in a first place tie with Wellington.

Tuesday night the Owls played the Quannah Chiefs again, but had several bad innings and the affair finally ended 25 to 2, Memphis on the short end.

"This week we are beginning three-league games a week," Manager Burr Pruitt said. "For a while there we were only playing two league games with one or more practice games during the week."

However most of the clubs are shaping up and so we are speeding up our league play.

"The Owls, especially are shaping up now," he said. "Without any difficulties we should have a pretty good team for Memphis."

About 25 players are on the Owl squad including several young college ball players home for the summer and high school graduates who are capable of playing a lot of good ball, according to Pruitt.

Tonight's game starts at 8 p. m. and Sunday's game at Wellington will be broadcast at 3 p. m.

It will be located in Memphis three days, July 6, 7 and 9 and will be open the same hours. These are the only two stops the unit will make in Hall County.

X-Rays will be free and will take only a small amount of trouble and no physical embarrassment as persons do not need to remove any clothing to be x-rayed.

The VFW Auxiliary and other civic clubs are sponsoring the drive. The unit is coming on invitation of the doctors in Hall County.

The unit is not a charity organization because the x-rays are paid for by tax payers of the state of Texas Hoover said. Results of the x-rays are held in confidence and information not available to anyone except medical personnel and the person x-rayed.

LAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

Hot! And how! May usually turns warm, but not so hot as the past few days. June usually is the hottest month of Summer. However, no one is kicking, because it is the very thing that is needed for getting cotton up and growing.

Jake Lamb of Friona renews for the Democrat and remarks that he enjoys reading this column. A lot of people are very forebearing and want to make life pleasant for the other fellow—else they wouldn't say nice things about Comments.

Reaching my complaint department this week, and I am passing it on to you: Some street signs have been hidden by the growth of trees and shrubs, and therefore, people who want to find their way around Memphis have difficulty in checking the streets. This should be checked because we all want Memphis to be the (Continued on Page 8)

POLICE TO START GIVING TICKETS TO VIOLATORS

Police Chief T. D. Weatherby warned motorists and pedestrians in Memphis this week that the department was going to start handing out tickets for stop sign violators and persons who walk against the streetlight.

"The police department appreciates all the cooperation we have had from the citizens and motorists, but there is still too much violation going on and we must halt it," Weatherby said.

Tenth street is the worst place for stop sign violations Weatherby added.

"Persons should remember that even though no one is approaching, you are required to stop at a stop sign," he continued.

Pedestrians should remember that the automobiles have the right of way and when they violate a street light the motorist cannot be held liable.

Local Beef Men Seek More Action Concerning OPS Price Regulations

Activities of local meat butchers, slaughterers and market men plus similar activities of other beef men throughout the country arising from impractical difficulties imposed on them by the recent government OPS beef rollback may result in further action in Congress concerning the beef rollback situation.

Congressman Walter Rogers by phone Wednesday told Chamber of Commerce Manager Clifford that he hoped to go before that body to ask that the OPS revise their regulations so that the small slaughterer and meat packer can continue to do their own beef grading, of course with proper qualifications.

Beef men in Memphis met in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday to discuss the local situation and all five meat men were in agreement that in addition to there not being enough meat graders to go around that the OPS regulations should be amended so that the slaughterers could do their own grading.

According to the present OPS regulations, no butcher or slaughterer can butcher meat and grade it above a commercial grade beef. There are no Department of Agriculture meat graders in this area, so the local butchers and slaughterers have qualified to grade their own meat, but OPS forbids them to grade anything above "commercial" cut.

In view of this, local beef men here must purchase the cattle they butcher at the existing market prices. For example, say the market price a man pays for a calf at a sales ring is 32c per pound or $32. per hundred, which is not at all out of line with present sales prices.

After butchering that animal, say that it dresses out to about 56 per cent, which is near normal. Then under OPS regulations, he can only grade that meat, regardless of how good it is, as commercial grade. OPS price ceiling for that meat then is $26.87 per hundred.

Now that is a loss of $5.13 per hundred pounds of meat, and you or no butcher is going to continue to stay in business under such conditions.

It is cases like this that is causing so much stir concerning the OPS beef rollback rule.

Another local factor to be considered is that one butcher here claims that at present he is getting

Average American Is Only 1941 Sedan

Where is the center of the American automobile "population"? How old is the average automobile?

To get the answers to these questions, the Chevrolet Motor Division checked the registration records of its more than 10,000,000 vehicles in service in the United States.

According to the company's calculations, the center is in the vicinity of Watsela, Ill., a town near the Indiana border and 80 miles south of Chicago.

The average passenger car is a 1941 sedan.

To illustrate the "typical automobile" the company next selected a 1941 Chevrolet sedan owned by Don Sobkowiak, an employee of the Iroquois Farm Bureau Service Station in Watsela. Sobkowiak bought the car thirdhand and its excellent condition little indication that it had traveled 107,000 miles.

In determining the center of the country, Chevrolet engineers discovered that California, splitting the Ohio states of Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania, had the highest number of registrations in half.

Similarly a line southward slightly east of Wisconsin border and Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee would balance eastern and western registrations.

These lines intersect at Watsela, Ill. The model year of the average car arrived at by averaging all Chevrolet registrations

POWER-CURVE / TRACTOR TIRES

SAVE YOU TIME AND MONEY!

Get behind the wheel of a tractor equipped with Power-Curve tires and feel those powerful cleats pull! The arrowhead nose of each cleat digs in and holds. Because it's curved, the cleat stands rigid to give you maximum traction, minimum slippage. You save on fuel bills, get your work done faster.

Power-Curve cleats are extra-high and tapered for deeper bite. You may get more than a year's extra wear from Power-Curve tires because there's more rubber in the tread. Cleats are parallel to form an unobstructed channel which allows natural cleaning. Clean tires give more traction, work faster. See the time-saving, money-saving Power-Curve tire today!

Each year or the breeding stock. Of the pintails banded at Rockport, 26 band returns have been received. Ten were killed within two miles or less of the original banding site; eight additional were killed elsewhere in Texas, three in Nebraska, two in California, and one each in Alaska, North Dakota and Oklahoma. "Thus" states the article, "we find about 38 per cent had returned to the same wintering site as occupied the year before. From a study of the additional band returns, we find that nearly all were traveling toward the Texas coast.

"An exception to this statement would be in those birds killed in Alaska, Nebraska and North Dakota. The two pintails killed in California fit into a recently developed theory of pintail migrations from their nesting grounds in the north central United States and Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, Canada southward into Montana and North Dakota, westward into California, south into Mexico, crossing to the Gulf coast, and northward again up the Central and Mississippi flyways. It is anticipated that additional bands from local pintails will be returned from California."

directions for a summer holiday. Many of the youth of our land have passed through the hallowed state of graduation while others have some distance yet to go before "commencing" a new phase of life in college, in the business or domestic world. Strange they should feel so learned when they know so little of life and while visions of "sugar-plum" plans dance in their heads, we of a more sober mind shake our knowing that only by trying their own wings will they learn to fly straight and true.

The time of learning is the length of life but the fundamentals of education belong to youth when this rudimentary diet can be most readily digested. Of educating people, John Ruskin had this to say, "It means training them into the perfect exercise and kindly continence of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual, and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise but above all, by example". So, if you have great hopes for your child, take stock of yourself as a pattern. Have you dreamed and made the most of your opportunities to realize those dreams? Have you striven to imbue your child with a thirst for knowledge and made available sources for slaking that thirst? Have you instilled in his thinking the fact that only applied knowledge can produce power, that it is the use we make of knowledge that makes it effective? Then, the design you've drawn is a worthy one.

It is said of Horace Mann the great educator that he was born with tow hungers—for food and for knowledge. But that was in the days before public schools,

School days, school days, Dear old golden rule days; reading, and writing, and arithmetic taught to the tune of the hickory stick! We've come a long way from the log school house of pioneer days with its puncheon benches and Indians "hollering" distance. Even the Little Red School House with its bell has been replaced by massive modern structures with hot and cold running water and inside plumbing listed among their lesser conveniences. Like fledglings quitting the nest, the "young hopefuls" are now scattering in all

HOW TO BAKE A CAKE FOR DAD

Nomi Mitty, ten-year-old starlet who has won high praise in the stage version of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn", first studies the recipe on the box of devil's food mix when she starts to prepare a cake for Father's Day dinner.

Cake baking is easy for a young cook using instant white cake or devil's food mix. Nomi had only to add milk, beat, and bake according to package directions. Her devil's food cake of fine, downy texture is now ready to frost.

Photos by Swani Down

Nomi swirls a white, creamy, seven-minute frosting between the two 8-inch layers of her devil's food cake, then frosts the sides and top. She will use chocolate frosting in a cake decorator to inscribe the top of the cake with a Father's Day greeting—"To Dad".

And now the masterpiece is done—a delicious last course for the special Father's Day dinner. Nomi's dad will proclaim the downy-light cake a melt-in-the-mouth success. And Nomi has proved that she is a good cook as well as a very talented young actress.

when the poor could either eat or learn, but not both. So the mind of Horace Mann, the poor farm boy, nibbled at a few borrowed books and went a-hungering for all the world's learning. But since he was one of the great ones, nothing could stop him and somehow he learned law. Though he entered politics and was elected to the Senate, the cause of the American children tugged at his heart strings and he went forth to plead their case.

He spoke to farmers and workmen, bankers and politicians, and his conviction was like a flame. Every child, he told them, must have a chance to develop the best that is in him—not only for his own sake but for America's. Thus began the public school movement. Horace Mann's words fell like seeds on the minds of Americans and where he spoke, schools sprang up. And out of these schools came the kind of America we want to have and keep.

For it is in the classrooms and schoolyards that Americans of every kind and station first learn to know each other's value—learn to be rivals and brothers at the same time. It is here that the future mechanic and the future man of business, the worker with tools and the worker with ideas, learn to strive together, each in his own way, for the good of all a formal and a liberal education go hand in hand for indeed an education consists of many more things than the multiplication tables and the A, B, C's or true "book larnin'."

A is for apple, B is for bear, C is for cat, of course; All simple things we learned when young. But they're the fount and source Of knowledge that comes after. When with Life's blocks we build, A stands for ability, B for benevolence, C for courage true, And D is for diligence In cherishing friends like you.

More Cotton Used In Feminine Frocks

The greatest amount of cotton in ten years went into women's dresses in 1950, the National Cotton Council reports. Eighteen thousand more bales were used in cotton dresses last year than during the previous year. The increasing number of women's cotton dresses is attributed chiefly to new fabric finishes and to cotton's rising popularity for high-fashion clothing both winter and summer.

Cass County Farmer Receives State Rural Achievement Award

N. Cash, Atlanta, Texas, whose neighbors testify he has contributed more to a better agrarian life in Texas in the last decade than any other farmer, received the Hoblitzelle Achievement Award for the Advance of Texas Rural Life this year. The award is a $5,000 cash and a gold medal.

Cash has taken a depleted 440-acre farm in Cass County, 15 miles southeast of Atlanta, and turned it back to productive life through conserving and rearing the soil, and on his own and at his own expense he has set out to show his neighbors they can do the same through diversified farming and soil management.

In this year for the first time the award was presented at an annual open house and banquet at the Texas Research Foundation, Renner, Karl Hoblitzelle, philanthropist and president of the Foundation, made the presentation. Its purpose is to honor personal accomplishment in the field of rural life. Cash was chosen more than 100 throughout the state who were nominated for the award.

per grading—factors which not only have increased his sales but have greatly improved his net income.

Cash believes the character of people depletes with the soil, and has gone out at his own expense through East Texas to preach the gospel of soil management. In the past two years he has talked his soil-building and cropping methods to more than 12,000 farmers and businessmen from East Texas and adjacent areas of Oklahoma and Louisiana. And in 1950, more than 2,000 visitors came to his farm to appraise first-hand the farming system which has transformed his sandy acres.

In addition, he has served as an instructor in vocational agriculture for veterans, community committeeman of the U.S.D.A.'s Production and Marketing Administration, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Marion-Cass Soil Conservation District, and has written widely about his agricultural philosophy and his production methods.

His farm is not a showplace. Building it up slowly, mostly through his own labors and without any outside source of revenue, he has pointed up what any small farmer through his own efforts can do to rebuild the soil and make a good living on the land.

Nominations for the award were received from 5 regions in Texas. Selection of the award winner was made by a committee of nationally known scientists and agriculturists. Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas, was chairman. Other members

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by State Medical Association of Texas

Many of the virus diseases seem to be "city slickers" creating epidemics in heavily-populated areas and spreading slowly if at all in rural communities. Sometimes that is good and sometimes it isn't; it wasn't good during the last war when so many young men from small towns and warming country got the mumps because they had never been exposed to them.

The mumps, like most of the childhood diseases, usually are a minor affair in healthy children. In adults, however, they become more serious and created a lot of suffering among the servicemen in camps during World War II.

The mumps cause a swelling in those glands that feed the saliva to the mouth, mainly those parotid glands right in front of the ear. Anything that makes the mouth water causes more congestion in those sore glands and any movement of the jaws seem to make them hurt worse. It's more of a hurting disease than a real sick disease in children; but in adults when it spreads to the sex organs it is a real sickness in addition to a lot of pain from the swelling.

You need rest in bed with the mumps and lots of liquids to drink. Hot or cold packs to the swollen area, will make the pain seem less; sometimes hot packs do the trick and sometimes cold packs seem to give most relief.

Poliomyelitis is another virus disease that seems to attack more often in cities than in country areas. How Polio spreads and how you can develop immunity to it are two of the biggest research problems under study now.

Much has been learned about polio from such research studies in the past. It is now known that many people get polio without ever knowing they have it. Since there are different kinds of polio, however, getting one kind doesn't mean you are immune to polio.

Polio is considered as contagious as the measles, but it doesn't show up as definitely as a sickness like the measles does. Many

SUNDAY SCHOOL IN THE CLOUDS . . . Pupils of the Grace Methodist church, Des Moines, Iowa, learn about God while riding in a plane. people may have an upset stomach or passing illness of some sort without realizing they did have polio.

Others become ill enough with the disease that it is recognized, but they have no crippling effects. Those who become crippled are a small percentage of the actual number of persons who do get the disease, knowingly or unknowingly, during an outbreak.

Many sources of spread of the polio germs are suspected but no one definite thing has been established as the cause. Psittacosis, however, another serious virus disease is known to spread from birds. Known as parrot fever, psittacosis also affects other birds and can spread to persons who breathe the virus into the lungs. It is believed that one person can give the germ to another, also, so that isolation of a person suffering from the disease must be part of the treatment.

Psittacosis is very much like virus pneumonia, also called primary atypical pneumonia. In fact, laboratory tests are frequently necessary to tell the difference

Cotton Farmers Urged to Use Green Tags

Texas cotton farmers are urged to market their 1951 cotton crop by the green tag method.

According to John L. McCollum, manager, PMA's southwest area cotton branch, U.S.D.A., Dallas, the green tag signifies that the bale has been classed by U. S. D. A. cotton classers and the tag carries the grade and staple length for the bale.

Demand promises to be strong for this year's crop, says McCollum and the grade and staple information will enable the farmer to get the best price for his cotton.

Last year 107,819 Texas farmers took advantage of the U.S.D.A.'s Smith-Doxey cotton classing program and marketed 1,389,150 bales under the green tag system. Farmers can get the same service again this year without cost by making application for it, says McCollum.

Requirements include membership in a group which has been organized to promote the improvement of cotton, adopting a variety filing an application, arranging for sampling and meeting other requirements.

In addition to the official classification, farmers will also receive a free market news service, which shows current prices at nearby markets. By checking the grade, staple length on the green tag against the price for the same kind of cotton listed on the market news sheet, the approximate price of each bale can be determined, points out McCollum.

Information may be obtained between the two diseases, they have so much the same effect upon you.

Though psittacosis and atypical pneumonia may frequently make you feel about the same way, there is a big difference in the diseases; atypical pneumonia rarely causes death while psittacosis may be fatal, especially in those over 40 years of age.

State Mule Deer Prove Tame After Moving

Chalk up a point for Mr. Mule Deer!

He is better behaved than the ordinary white-tailed deer; better behaved in captivity.

All of which brought relief to state trappers.

When they first contemplated trapping some of the West Texas beauties to stock new areas and to reduce overpopulation, the trappers were skeptical of how the ordinary woolen deer traps would withstand the impact of mule deer.

The West Texas deer are from fifty to one hundred pounds larger than the white-tailed variety.

But, as related in TEXAS GAME AND FISH, official publication of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, the big deer behaved perfectly after they had been lured into the small enclosure.

from your local county agricultural agent on the Smith-Doxey classification service.

Furthermore, according to the article, the mule deer also proved they can withstand hauling distances up to 500 miles without ill effect.

"During refueling at service stations," states the article, "as many as fifteen people sometimes peered into the truck from close range as the deer remained huddled together. Seemingly they feel protected for most of them never bothered to get up, if they had been lying down."

ROLLED BALE

Safe Deposit For Leaves

Reports from ROTO-BALER owners say that weather-resistant rolled bales contain more leaves. Livestock eat rolled hay better because it is soft, sweet and retains its natural color.

Here are some of the things farmers wanted to know:

Would rolled bales really shed showers? Would they handle and transport easily? Would livestock eat them without waste, fed whole or unrolled? Could straw for bedding be rolled out without shaking?

The ROTO-BALER has answered "yes" to each of these questions, satisfying farmers everywhere. Stop in and ask us for a free booklet on rolled bales and the ROTO-BALER.

WARRIORS OF NEW INFLATION... Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston tells annual meeting of U.S. chamber of commerce in Washington, D.C., that federal controls may be lifted in two years and warned a new wave of inflation will hit the country before Christmas.

Individuals Own Most Farm Land, Report Indicates

Who owns the farm lands in the Southwest?

This question was the basis of a recent study conducted by John H. Southern agricultural economist with the U.S.D.A. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, stationed at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The study covered five states—Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

Southern found that most of the farm land is owned by individuals. They owned four farm out of five—83 per cent of all farm lands.

Corporations, primarily land and cattle companies, held nearly 11 per cent of the land in 1946. Almost 16 per cent of the farm and in Texas is held in corporate ownership.

Only 3.6 per cent of the farm land was publically owned, and this was confined almost entirely to Texas and Oklahoma.

Of the individual land owners, the farm owner operators account for nearly 50 per cent of all the owners in the Southwest. However, they owned only 23 per cent of the farm land, with an average of 192 acres each—valued at $7,674.

Twenty-five percent of the owners in Texas held less than two percent of the land; on the

5. If auto is kept in a private garage, see that locks are strong and that door hasms cannot be taken off with a screw driver, or hinges recover from the outside.

6. Do not leave car registration or driver's license in car as thieves frequently escape arrest by presenting documents of the rightful owner when stopped by police officers. They may also submit the registration card and driver's license to prove ownership in successfully stolen vehicles.

7. Report suspicious tampering with autos to your local police. The securing of license numbers of cars near the scene of such activities may prove of value to the police in the event of theft.

Crime Upsweep Brings Warning From State Police

The Texas Crime Report for 1950, just released by the Texas Department of Public Safety, indicates that crime in general over the State is up 10.9% over 1949.

Among the seven major crimes tabulated in the report: Murder and Homicide, Rape, Robbery, Burglary, Aggravated Assault, Theft and Auto Theft, the greatest increase was reflected in the category of Auto Theft.

To stem the rise in the number of stolen motor vehicles and to assist you in protecting your investment in an increasingly hard to get commodity, Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, passes along these tips to car owners:

1. Keep unattended cars off streets, particularly at night.
2. If you use your auto at night, do not park on poorly lighted or little-used streets.
3. Lock car at all times—ignition, doors and rear deck.

By Ted Kesting

Plug casters have been told over and over to keep their reel handles up, not sidewise when casting, but I'll wager less than a tenth of those you see fishing do it. So let's stop and figure out why this is so important.

First, a casting reel spins much more smoothly and freely with the spool sort of balanced on the tail pivot. It just won't run right with the handles sidewise, the pillars and spool horizontal.

Then, with the reel handles sidewise, the guides are on top of the rod. As the line goes out, it slaps the rod and when wet, clings and jerks on it. But what happens with the guides on one side, as they must be with the reel handles up? Why the bow of the line downward between the guides can touch nothing but air. So it flows out smoothly, easily.

Now for the most important reason. What do you do when you cast with the spool horizontal? Why you're throwing the rod out with the thumb of your casting hand—you just can't help it. But has this ever occurred to you? How are you going to drive the rod out with your thumb and at the same time use that thumb to control the reel? You can't. To control the reel properly, and to be sensitive, the thumb must be relaxed, not tense and pushing; one job is all it can handle. So to push the rod forward use the lowest joint of the index finger where it joins the palm.

Now let's boil all this down to the essential sentence, which if you'll remember and follow, will soon make you a smooth, accurate and effortless caster.

Keep your reel handles and the knuckle of your first finger up, and push forward with the lower joint of that first finger—leaving your thumb relaxed free, with nothing to do but control the spool.

Here's something else that was brought to our attention by Angling Authority Jason Lucas. Fly casters are told to wait and feel the "pull of the line" on the backcast. Why has nobody ever advised the beginner at plug casting to wait to feel the pull of the plug? It's the main secret, next to that free thumb, of smooth plug casting.

A Soldier's Heroism Saves Estelline Youth

A 19-year old Estelline youth is still alive and fighting in Korea today after an extraordinary feat of heroism by his Kentucky buddy, Private Kenneth W. Sells, of Middleboro, Ky.

The Estelline youth Pfc. Matthew Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans of Estelline, was with four other GIs including Sells, who were leading King Company, 17th Buffalo Infantry Regiment, when they walked into a carefully laid ambush of the Chinese Reds.

What took place during the next few minutes, has caused the Captain of the Regiment, Albert D. Wedemeyer, to recommend the Kentucky soldier for the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The trap was sprung with a tossed hand grenade which landed at Sells' feet. He grabbed it to throw back at a Red machine gun nest which had opened fire.

But Sells wasn't quick enough. The grenade went off in his hand. It tore off his right hand and ripped off half his forearm but it saved the lives of the four GIs with him.

The young Kentuckian didn't fall. He didn't yell for a medic. He mumbled "I'm hit," grabbed his fallen rifle in his left hand and charged the gun emplacement.

But he didn't make it. A burst of machine gun fire stopped him with a slug in the side and knocked him down.

"Some fellows holler like mad for a stretcher when they get a little scratch," Evans said. "But not Sells. He just got up and asked which way was the aid station."

"Then, cradling the stump of his right arm in the crook of his left elbow, he dashed off dodging bullets on the way a doctor met him half way down."

"That guy sure has guts," Pfc. Reuben Kempf of Burlington, Vt., related. "He was bleeding badly when he left the hill and yet the doc had to make him lie down on a stretcher to take plasma."

Medical Sgt. Michael Riley of Coal Fork, W. Va., said he had seen "plenty of wounded men but never a cool customer like this one."

"I asked him if he wanted a cigaret," Riley said. "He said he had some and reached in his pocket with his good hand, pulled out a butt and lit it. Most men hit that had would have been out with shock."

"My veins are a little thirsty," the medic quoted Sells as saying "You better give me another shot of that plasma. It's pretty good."

Capt. Wedemeyer wrote a citation for the medal of honor that night from his foxhall. In a side note to Col. William W. (Buffalo Bill) Quinn, regimental commander, he added: "This fellow Sells is the bravest soldier I've ever seen."

Quinn endorsed the recommendation and requested its prompt forwarding to proper authority.

"It's men like Sells who make our army invincible," Quinn said.

In 60 minutes of combat Sells became one of the greatest heroes of the Korean war.

For that hour, in which he was seriously wounded and had to be flown out by helicopter, Sells received the combat infantryman's badge, the Purple Heart and was recommended for the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The story of how the tall, husky, 23-year-old blond came to be in the front lines is an unique as his battle record.

Sells didn't have to be there. He was a military policeman in a rear area—but he didn't like it.

During his five months in Korea he tried every recourse available for assignment to a fighting unit.

Finally in desperation he wrote to Col. Quinn. He begged for a rifleman's assignment with the "Buffalo" outfit because it was the adopted regiment of his home state.

Quinn arranged a transfer and placed Sells in "King" company under Capt. Wedemeyer, son of the general.

Local Beef— (Continued from Page 1) ting meat and selling it for 12 cents a pound, steak that is less than the ceiling price. Yet if he is made to adhere to the OPS regulation and cannot grade any meat better than Commercial he cannot continue to do this.

In explanation, OPS has listed prices along with meat grades. Top grade of meat is called prime and the maximum calculated price per hundred weight for live cattle will be $37.04 that a butcher can sell it for. Next comes Choice with a ceiling of $34.20, followed by Good at $31.02 and Commercial next at $26.87 on down to Utility and Canner.

One butcher here in Memphis was quoted as saying, "Housewives in Memphis are used to buying meat than they will get if we all have to start selling commercial grade beef."

Thus as evident by the numerous publicity which has been given to the beef situation, it does have a very close and uncomfortable local feeling.

Cattlemen, beefmen and packers and marketmen all over the country are riled up against the OPS and if this situation is true elsewhere as it is here in Memphis, they certainly have a right to be in arms against such regulations.

An AP dateline from New York says: "The administration wants to license all businesses so they can be put out of operation if they violate controls, according to the Price Stabilizer who says the administration will seek the provision when the price-control law comes up before Congress for renewal. The current price control law expires June 20." When and where will the administration stop trying to get control of everything. Already, we are suffering from too much government in our business and private lives. Should the licensing go into effect, it would take another army of government workers to check up on us. It is high time we all rear up on our hind legs and tell our representatives and senators to fergoshakes do something to stop this trend toward out and out socialism. Our boys have fought too many wars and many of them lost their lives in the effort to keep America free for the individuals. And, will their sacrifices have been in vain?

The United Business Committee sends out this warning: "As you know, advocates of controlled economy thrive on crises. They made their greatest gains during the depression and the last war. The Nation is in a crisis right now, endangered from within and without. Despite socialistic failures in Great Britain and more recently in Yugoslavia, our home-grown collectivists are still working toward socialism in our own country. For instance, they are using the back door to push through their ideological schemes that menace free enterprise and bring domestic spending to wasteful and inflationary highs. While our defenses are being brought to necessary strength, peace-time bureaucracies are being jockeyed into defense status. Manpower shortages and back-breaking taxes do not worry those who want socialism."

"We in Texas have cause to resent the pressure for nationalization. Take our tidelands problem, as an example, which was owned by our educational system

"The same holds true for tax-free Federal power enterprises, new demands for federal-aid-to-education, socialized medicine, government-owned plants, and continued interference in the fields of banking, lending and business. Thirty-five striking costumes made from cotton feed bags recently created a sensation when they were presented as a novel fashion show in the fabulous Blue Room of the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. Miss Charlotte Parks To Wed Robert E. Gillespie on June 7

Announcement was made this week of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Charlotte Parks, daughter of Mrs. C. Williams, to Robert E. Gillespie, son of Mrs. W. H. Smith of Dallas, Texas.

WHY AN EDITOR CALLS HIMSELF "WE"

Why does this paper use the word "WE" in writing our editorials?

Have you ever stopped to think of this? For a few paragraphs this week, let's talk about ourselves.

We of the Democrat publish this paper in deep respect and humility with each edition that rolls off the press. Why? Because not only do we put out this paper as a means of livelihood but we go to press each week with the knowledge imbedded within us that we . . . as publishers of this newspaper . . . are the voice of the people!

We of this paper strive to be the ever-awake-ears of this entire community to hear and catch all that goes on so that we may transform it into type in our paper that all our readers may know what is happening.

Take note of this, you, who would deny this paper and its representatives facts for stories that we are trying to report each week.

Reporters, editors or publishers do not make the news in a town. Neither do we make any of the news here in Memphis.

But we do report the news that is made!

We do not try to color our news so as to help form judgment by our news columns.

But we do reserve the right, as does every newspaper in the land, to get the complete news and present it to our readers.

As publishers of this news journal we consider ourselves the voice of the people. When something that is newsworthy is happening we intend to be in on it. We will not draw conclusions as to the right and wrong but will tell the story and let our readers draw their own conclusions.

Therefore, in our editorials we always use the pronoun "We" for country editors as we are proud to be—are men who read newspapers from all over the country, select miscellany news matter, write articles on all subjects, set type, read proof, fold papers, and sometimes carry them, print jobs, run errands, work in the garden, talk to all patrons who call, patiently receive blame for a thousand things that never were and never can be done, get little money, have scarce time and materials to satisfy our hunger, or to enjoy the quiet of nature's sweet restorer, sleep and esteem ourselves peculiarly happy if we are not assaulted and battered by some unprincipled demagogue who loves puppet shows and hires the rabble with a threat or treat of cider brandy to vote him into some pretty office.

Thus a person who does all or part of this and probably much more, not recorded, you will know must be a rather busy animal; and as we perform the work of so many different persons, we think we can well justify the use of the plural form as we are representatives of our readers and of this community, thus we take the indisputable right to speak as "We" on all occasions and in all places.

Remember, this is your newspaper as well as ours, and we are trying to do a job of service here that you not only can have a part of, but that you will be justly proud to call your "newspaper."

WANTED, A STRONG WEIGHT LIFTER

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Violating
 Some of our highly-placed public officials proclaim the benefits and blessings of democracy while deep in their hearts they nurture ideas of the police state. That fact was brought to light last week in the report that certain individuals within the inner circle of the administration had suggested denying firms the right to do business for a full year if found guilty of violating OPS regulations. Such punishment would not only penalize the owner of the offending business but idle innocent employees. This was Hitler's method. Stalin finds the system very rewarding from the standpoint of his own interests.

We are grateful to the Congressional committee which promptly rejected this unfair form of punishment. Firms and individuals which violate price regulations should be penalized, but not at the expense of justice.
 —The Clarksville Times

Never Before In All History
 The Jackson News stresses the fact that in 152 years—from 1780 to 1940—the Federal Government spent 167 billion dollars. Then in the four years, from 1946 to 1949 expenditures totaled 177 billions, and adds: "Never in all the history of the world has there been such spendiferous spending within so short a period."

 —The West Point Daily Times

Change of Sentiment
 It wasn't so long ago that Democratic Senators Douglas of Illinois, Fulbright of Arkansas and Kefauver of Tennessee were known among their party's professionals as the "Gold Dust Triplets."
 The idea was that they were just too darned upright and consequently were almost insufferable.

But when these efforts hit real pay dirt and the moral fiber of the Democratic administration was cast in question the professionals changed their attitude. Henceforth it may be proper to identify Douglas, Fulbright and Kefauver as the "three saviors." For that's what the regulars hope they will prove to be.

"Driving at all kinds of speeds, I've piled up 50,000 miles. I've used Conoco Super in my personal cars, and have had absolutely no engine trouble of any kind."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

Mr. DiSalle has made several references to beef producers engaging in a strike. This reference is not only unwarranted but it is definitely unfair. The beef producers of this country have never engaged in a strike and do not intend to. If they fail to produce beef, it will be because they have been put out of business by unreasonable and unwarranted Federal regulations, and I certainly intended to do all I can to prevent it.

The OPS is attempting to lead people to believe that this rollback order is going to help the consumer and that the cattle people are interested in doing away with it for a selfish reason. If such a statement was true, I would certainly not be condemning the actions of the Administrator. In the first place, the cattle people have done an outstanding job in the production of beef without Federal control and without Federal subsidy, and I take exception to any and all remarks reflecting upon the cattle people.

In the second instance, the consumer is not only going to pay higher prices for beef in the long run, but is going to be faced with a shortage of beef that would not have come about if the cattle business had been left alone. The housewives of this country decided in 1948 that beef was too high and broke the cattle market by merely refusing to eat beef. That same procedure of supply and demand could be employed again without any Federal interference and you wouldn't hear one cattleman complain. But when the Federal Government interferes in his business with unwarranted unreasonable and unsound regulations, you will hear him complain, and rightfully so. The program of the cattlemen anticipated an increase of the cattle population by 1955 to 95 million from the present population of approximately 84 million. The result of DiSalle's order will ultimately reduce the cattle population by several million and these animals will be poorer grade of beef than would have been the 95 million.

Red Cross Begins Clubmobile Units For Korean War

Red Cross clubmobile units, popular during World War II, are being reactivated for duty with the troops in Korea, at the request of the Department of Defense.

E. Roland Harriman, Red Cross President announced that 28 mobile canteens similar to those which carried snacks, songs, and smiles to millions of American servicemen in World War II are being readied for operation in Korea.

The Red Cross, he said, has been operating a large club and two small mobile canteen combinations in the Pusan area since last November. Military authorities said their request for extension of the service resulted from demands by combat troops. Mobile units were favored over permanent installations because of the fluid state of the war.

By mid-June, Harriman stated, 60 clubmobile girls will join the 28 club workers already in Korea to staff the rolling canteens which will operate at airfields and with ground units as close to front lines as possible. The new clubmobiles will provide servicemen with free coffee and doughnuts, recorded music, stationery, and reading material.

VET PROBLEMS AND ANSWERS

Q. May I change schools after the July 25 GI Bill training cut-off date, provided I do not change my course?
A. Yes. You will be permitted to change schools, so long as your new school is approved to offer training to veterans, and so long as you remain in the same course. In order to change courses, however, you must obtain prior VA approval, which is granted only under certain conditions.

Q. I signed up for a three-year enlistment in December 1945, under the Voluntary Recruitment Act. Does the July 25 GI training cut-off date apply to me?
A. No. You have four years from the end of your Voluntary Recruitment in which to start GI Bill training.

Q. Is it too late for me to obtain additional National Service Life Insurance? I had only $5,000 when I came out of service and I'd like to apply for $5,000 more.
A. You may no longer apply for new NSLI. The Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951, passed April 25, ended the issuance of new NSLI as well as new U. S. Government Life Insurance for World War I veterans.

Q. I am on active duty in the Army, and I have the $10,000 indemnity protection under the new law signed by the President late last year. I have heard that the new law is being rescinded. Is this true?

A. The President's order is not a rescission of the law. It is a clarification of the law. The law provides that if a veteran is on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps, he will be automatically covered by the new law. The President's order clarifies that this applies to all active-duty personnel, regardless of their branch of service.

I have gathered a lot of factual information on the subject which I expect to get to the House in a speech this week and which I hope will open the eyes of many of the Representatives who are no familiar with the cattle business nor its problems. Most of them think they are protecting their consumers by these price controls, but I intend to show them that they are following a false hope.

Marines Open Recruit Drive

Friday, June 1st will be the kick-off of "Operation Marine Recruit", by the Lubbock Marine Recruiting office.

"Operation Marine Recruit" is another way of putting the enlistment of between fifty and seventy-five south plains men to form the "South Plains Marine Recruit Platoon".

Applications for the platoon are being accepted at the Lubbock Marine Recruiting Office, and Marine Recruiters who make regular visit to surrounding towns. Applications will be accepted until June 19th.

Naval Enlistments Now Being Accepted

Enlistments are now being accepted at the Amarillo Navy Recruiting Station and all applicants are assured of immediate departure for the Naval Training Center, San Diego, California.

Motor Inspection Plans Underway For Auto Checks

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has announced that preliminary plans are under way for the administration of the State's new Motor Vehicle Inspection Act.

Recently passed by the 52nd Legislature and signed into law by Governor Allan Shivers, the act, which is designed to enhance traffic safety by removing unsafe motor vehicles from the highways will become effective 90 days after the adjournment of the 52nd Legislature.

According to Garrison, an additional period of about 60 days will be required to complete the organizational details of the inspection division which, by law, will fall under the supervision of the Public Safety Department.

Garrison stated that garage owners and other individuals interested in making application for official inspection stations in their areas may do so by writing directly to him at Austin.

The proper application blanks will be mailed to those making inquiry as soon as they are available. Those selected will be subject to a thorough examination of facilities and equipment and will be instructed in inspection standards.

Garrison further stated that no testing devices have yet been approved and that it was not advisable for applicants to purchase such equipment until his Department has set up the official standards for such devices.

Army Reservists To Camp Chaffee For Training

Army enlisted reservists who have had no prior military experience will go to Camp Chaffee, Ark., June 10-23 for basic training, Colonel C. M. Culp, Chief of the Texas Military District, announced today.

This includes all such reservists in the state except those assigned to units of the 90th Infantry Division who will train with their own organization.

Travel will be by commercial bus, except those reservists living in El Paso who will go by plane.

The special two-week training period planned for men without prior service is mandatory under present Department of the Army policy. Non prior service members of units ordered to this basic training camp are required to attend for the 15-day period. In addition, they may voluntarily attend training with the unit to which assigned at a later date. This will give them four weeks of intensive field training.

Schedules have been arranged and rendezvous points designated so that all the reservists ordered to Camp Chaffee will arrive there on the 10th. Following are the assembly points for reservists in the respective areas: Amarillo, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Houston, Galveston and El Paso.

State Building Drops During Last Two Months

Construction in Texas dropped sharply during April, continuing a downward trend, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Building permits issued in the state totaled only $53,178,000, a 21-per-cent decline from March and a 40-per-cent plunge from January. The Bureau explains the decline resulted from material shortages and federal restrictions.

However, the Bureau of Census reports Texans are better housed today than ever before. The number of dwelling units has increased 36 per cent since 1940 while the population seeking housing has advanced only 19 per cent.

A. E. Wells Named Superintendent Of Abilene Schools

A. E. Wells, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Guest, has been named superintendent of the Abilene public schools, effective July 1, according to an announcement by the Abilene School Board.

Wells has been director of curriculum and instruction since joining the Abilene system a year ago.

Wells, who was not an applicant for the position, said when informed of the decision, "This is one of the finest gestures ever extended me."

Trustees followed their announced policy of seeking the man desired. They made trips to Sonora and San Angelo, two of Wells' former locations to investigate him.

Wells is a brother-in-law to Mrs. Gip McMurry and Mrs. Myrtle Howard.

Great Cotton Damage Over $200,000 in '50

Insect damage in Texas amounted to $221,103,000 in 1950, according to a National Cotton Council report.

Bull weevil and other pests in 1950 reduced the full yield in Texas by approximately 19 per cent, as compared with a six per cent reduction in 1949.

The dollar value, losses to cotton insects in Texas in 1950 were $155,137,000 greater than in 1949. Damage in 1950 amounted to $221,103,000 as compared with $65,966,000 in 1949. Pests destroyed an estimated 948,712 bales of cotton and 396,746 tons of cottonseed in 1950, while 1949 losses amounted to 431,428 bales and 177,142 tons of seed.

Total insect losses for the 13 states in the "Boll Weevil Belt" in 1950 were the highest in history, amounting to an estimated $907,884,000 as compared with the previous record of $617,874,000 in 1949.

Pests in these 13 states reduced the full yield 26.9 per cent, the greatest reduction in 29 years and the second highest on record. This toll has been exceeded only once and that was in 1921 when the full yield was lowered an estimated 35.5 per cent.

Yield was reduced by the following percentages: Virginia, 64; North Carolina, 56; Oklahoma, 41; Alabama, 35; South Carolina, 34; Louisiana, 30; Georgia, 29; Arkansas, 29; Florida, 25; Mississippi, 25; Tennessee, 21; Texas, 19; Missouri, 7.

Estimated gross value of cotton and cottonseed destroyed was as follows: Texas $221,103,000; Arkansas, $124,233,000; Mississippi, $121,062,000; Alabama, $88,097,000; North Carolina, $78,273,000; South Carolina, $60,372,000; Oklahoma, $55,624,000; Georgia, $54,197,000; Louisiana, $52,093,000; Tennessee, $30,878,000; Missouri, $7,217,000; Virginia, $2,704,000; Florida, $1,150,000.

Cotton insect damage in 1950 was abnormally high, the Council points out because: (1) a large number of boll weevils entered hibernation in the fall of 1949 and lived through the mild winter; (2) the number of live weevils emerging in the spring of 1950 was at a record level; (3) frequent rains and below-average temperatures hindered the poisoning schedule; (4) maturity of the crop was delayed and heavy weevil damage continued even on grown bolls.

Legislature May Pass Control Bill On Barbiturates

Anticipated action in the House of Representatives this week to pass a bill placing strict controls on possession and distribution of barbiturates in Texas climaxes four months of concentrated effort by the state's druggists to secure policing of a situation which they want cleaned up, Lester Short, president of Texas Pharmaceutical Association and prominent Midland druggist, stated today.

Short's statement follows recent news from Denver reporting the sale of sleeping pills and "thrill jag" concoctions to teenagers. The report cited a federal investigation in Colorado and New Mexico which is being extended into parts of Texas.

The Bracewell bill provides for first time stringent penalties for the illegal possession of barbiturates and other habit-forming drugs, with prison terms for second offenders. It provides for legal possession of the drugs by licensed pharmacists, legal use of them by persons to whom a physician has written a prescription, and legal possession for his own use of drugs by a person having such a prescription.

Druggists throughout the state are urging the Legislature to give final approval before its pending adjournment," Short said. "They realize there is a fringe situation in the drug store industry, like every other. The druggists of Texas want the situation remedied. Our children and our adults alike deserve protection against the peddling of habit-forming drugs by persons who cannot now be restrained or adequately punished."

Farm Wage Rate May Take Jump To 95c An Hour

Wage rates for farm workers may go up to 95c an hour or the equivalent to that amount at piece rates without becoming the concern of the Wage Stabilization Board.

That is the gist of General Wage Regulation 11 which the Wage Stabilization Board in Washington unanimously adopted last week, it was said today by William J. Rogers, regional director of the Wage-Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor here. Wage-Hour offices of the Labor Department all over the country have been designated as field contact offices for the National Wage Stabilization Board.

Under Regulation 11, farm wage rates below 95c an hour or the piece rates pair for farm operations may be increased to 95c an hour or the equivalent monetary wage without approval of the Board. However, in those instances in which wage rates paid during the base period of 1950 were greater than 95c or the equivalent an hour they can be increased only 10% without Board approval.

The base rate is the wage rate paid during the applicable crop season of 1950. For example, if cotton is picked during September on a particular farm, then wages paid in September 1950 would be the base for any increases above 95c per hour.

Increases may also be given to regular farm workers paid by the month. Where only a cash wage is paid, the wage can be $225 a month. Where the year-round use of a house is given along with the usual incidentals, $195 a month can be paid. Where room and board is furnished, $175 a month is permissible. Where workers were being paid above these amounts in 1950, they would be limited to a 10% increase without approval of the Wage Stabilization Board. Questions regarding increases beyond these standards should be raised with the local Wage-Hour offices of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Agricultural labor, according to the regulation, follows the same definition as that contained in the Federal Labor Standards Act which the Department of Labor has administered since its enactment in 1938.

State Power Consumption Takes Jump

Electric power consumption of Texas industrial users increased 5 per cent from March to April the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Total Texas electricity consumption rose 3 per cent.

April power use this year was 21 per cent greater than in April, 1950, with industrial power use increasing 30 per cent.

The Bureau's index of power consumption, based on an average figure of 100 during 1935-39 showed an April high of 458, compared to 379 in April last year.

number of requests to help homeless and unwanted boys and boys who are in trouble. Beside housing a vocational school, larger grade and high school, and increased recreational facilities are planned.

The Ranch boys will do much of the work under qualified supervision and various labor unions have volunteered their help. Construction blueprints for the new units were drawn by O. L. Good Health Tips For Hot Weather Are Important

"Good health in hot weather may be largely a matter of personal choice," according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, as he called for Texans to take life as it comes in summer and live with it as comfortably as possible.

"These modern scientists can drop ice from airplanes to make rain, and they can forecast weather several days in advance, but nobody has figured out a way to keep the thermometer from rising sky high in a hot summer afternoon," Dr. Cox said.

"Therefore, Dr. Cox continued, a few common sense practices will help us to live with summer and like it. Texas summers are hot and the hottest part is still ahead, so one needs to remember certain things that are good hot weather practices.

"For example: drink plenty of cool (not ice) water; eat moderately of simple, but a wide variety of foods, exercise daily in the fresh air and have plenty of air in sleeping rooms; take a fair amount of salt to replace large losses through perspiration; avoid alcoholic drinks, get plenty of sleep; keep clean; don't worry. Don't overheat.

"One of the essentials of summer comfort is the daily bath to wash away perspiration and with it body wastes eliminated through the pores, and to relax tired muscles and strained nerves. There is nothing better than a leisurely bath followed by a short rest."

Because pigs, especially white ones, can get sunburned, agricultural authorities recommend the use of sunburn lotion on them.

Scientists Make Advance in Study On Brucellosis

University of Texas scientists have made another advance in the search for a cure of brucellosis—the disease now costing U. S. Livestockmen an estimated $100,000,000 annually.

They have found common sulphur is toxic to brucella organisms. Laboratory tests indicate colloidal sulphur is the toxic agent in certain amino acids and peptides, protein-derived chemicals which have been found effective in killing brucella organisms.

Brucellosis losses are particularly heavy in the dairy industry where both milk and calf production are greatly reduced. The disease sometimes infects humans who are constantly exposed to it.

World's Largest Steamship Stack

One of the two stacks for America's greatest liner, the SS United States, makes a background for 10 automobiles as it rests alongside the drydock in which the 990 foot superliner is under construction at Newport News, Virginia for the United States Lines. Each of these funnels is made of aluminum and is more than 60 feet long, and 55 feet high, and will be lifted aboard the vessel in two horizontal sections by means of giant cranes. The stacks have "Sampan" tops like the "America." The "United States," which will be launched June 23, is scheduled to join the SS America in the United States Lines' New York-Europe express service in the summer of 1932.

Farm Mechanization Reaches New Heights In Oil Driven Power

Texas agriculture moved into the second half of the 20th Century in the trail of clearly defined trends. According to Extension Director G. G. Gibson, mechanization on farms and adoption of labor saving equipment mounted to a level which materially reduced the need for manual labor in preparing the soil, cultivating staple crops and harvesting small grains in 1950.

An estimated 250,000 tractors turned 80 per cent of the soils on Texas farms, while more than 10,000 of these power units equipped with rotary hoeing equipment reduced the cost of hand labor in cotton fields by about 65 per cent.

At the same time, the engineering specialist of the A. & M. College Extension Service conducted field schools in maintenance as a long step toward economizing time and expense through teaching owners of this vast pool of machinery methods of home upkeep. Meanwhile, upbuilding of the soil expanded while other practices designed to improve the economic social welfare of rural families went forward during the year.

The progressive decline in the number of individual farms was an important factor in formulating visible trends. Texas farms counted in the 1950 Federal census numbered 331,494 compared with 418,002 enumerated in 1940. This does not indicate less land in agriculture but rather a steady movement toward combining small farms into larger ones and a steady decline in tenant farming.

Larger farms do not necessarily mean better farms, but the 1950 achievements in perspective suggest that they are sounder economic units and their operators receptive to advance practices in agricultural production.

Although climatic and related conditions were unfavorable to statewide high crop yields, Gibson points out that acreage production of cotton, grain, sorghums, rice, corn and peanuts were higher in each case than the 10-year average. This result is attributable in very large measure to adherence to demonstrational teaching in preparation and cultural methods by headquarters and field personnel of the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Cotton was an outstanding example of cooperation between grower and Extension. In a season of unfavorable weather which increased insect infestation and made control difficult, the yield average 205 pounds of lint an acre, or 35 pounds more than the previous 10 year average.

This result was obtained through systematic promotion of the national Seven-Step Cotton Program by Extension county agricultural agents and the cotton work specialist together with application of a record amount of insecticide to five and a quarter million acres of growing cotton.

Insect and parasite control directed by the Extension Service saved Texas farmers and ranchmen an estimated $10,000,000 in 1950.

Trends create changes, but around the farm home there is a basic routine which occupies the hands and affects household expenditures. Since there is a hard and an easy way to do housework the Extension headquarters home economic specialist and county home demonstration agents trained approximately 2,500 adult women and girls as leaders in demonstration methods of work simplifications.

In turn these leaders trained more than 29,000 club women in simpler ways of making a bed, washing dishes, laundering, ironing and other home duties.

Meanwhile, home economic specialists trained other groups in sewing arts, and aided still others in home landscaping and producing home gardens.

As a consequence of this help rural women made thousands of adult dresses and children's garments, representing a money saving of more than $16,000 over retail costs. In summarizing, Gibson says life for Texas rural families was more complete in 1950 than in preceding year. Since more than 80 per cent of the occupied farms now have central station electric service, families have the benefits of conveniences and equipment which were very distant a decade ago.

Just what you need FOR EASIER, FASTER HAY MAKING

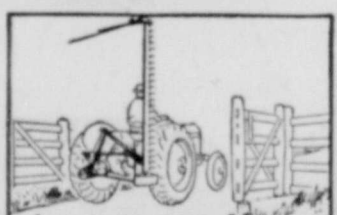

Every farmer likes to get his hay in while the weather is right... here is the mower to help him do it. This mower can be attached to the Ford Tractor in eight minutes and a lot of hay mowed by dinner time. Can be detached just as quickly for switching to other equipment.

The speed of the new Ford Tractor and the improved, short-turning brakes, make a big mowing job nothing to worry about. And this mower is built to stand the gaff... has a steel pitman and roller bearings.

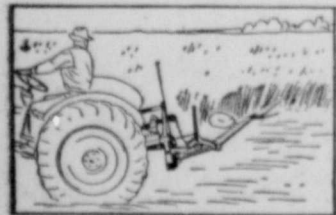

With Ford Hydraulic Touch Control you easily lift the cutter bar over stumps, stones or other obstructions... no pulling on mower levers or ropes. If an obstruction is hit, the bar swings to the rear. Backing the tractor resets the bar for use. Ask us for a demonstration.

Mower attached and power take-off connected in eight minutes.

Fast, safe transport. Good ground clearance.

If bar hits an obstruction, automatic release prevents damage.

No lever tugging. Hydraulic Touch Control lifts bar over
