Telephone Co. Refuses City's Rate Increase

Proposed rate increase in telephone service, smaller than asked for several weeks ago, was agreed on and passed by members of the Memphis City Council at a called meeting of the council members and the city Tuesday night.

However, Roy L. Brewer, district manager for the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co., said Tuesday that the company would not accept the proposed increase because it still would not permit the company a fair return on their capital investment here with the Memphis change.

The company originally asked for a 6.66 per cent return on their investment here. The increase granted by council members Tuesday night amounts to 12 per cent, Brewer said. The telephone company on the Memphis Exchange only made a 2 per cent return on their capital here during 1950," Brewer said. "And with the wage increases being granted by the station office and rising costs of materials, the telephone company cannot continue service at the present rates."

Under the laws of Texas, companies are permitted as much as a 6 per cent return on investments like ours, "Brewer continued. "But in our request we only asked for 6.66 per cent return."

Memphis City Council members at Tuesday afternoon telephone conferences with Council members of Wellington and Clarksville.

We feel that some increase in rates is justified for telephone service in Memphis due to increased cost of operation," members of the City Council stated during the meeting. "We do not think that the approximate 35 per cent increase requested is fully warranted at this time since rates were revamped upward in 1948 at the request of the company."

Brewer stated that the Clarksville Council had agreed to consider his proposal.

The proposed rates increased Tuesday by Memphis Council members were: Business residences: individual $6.50, two party line $8.00 and extensions, $1.00; residential: individual $4.00, two party line $5.00, four party line $6.00 and home extensions .75.

Present rates now in effect are: $5.75 for individual business line and $4.50 for two party line and $1.50 for extensions. Resident rates now are:

Two Hurt In Bicycle-Car Accident

Bobby Foster and Nancy Davidson were hospitalized about noon Monday after an automobile-bicycle collision on the Plaska-Memphis road shortly before noon.

Bobby and another youngster were riding south on their bicycles when a 1949 Mercury, driven by C. R. Guest of Commerce, also traveling south, started around the boys and in the mix-up the car struck the Foster youth's bicycle and as Guest swerved his automobile, it turned over.

According to Sheriff E. S. Morrison who investigated the accident, Guest and his two nieces, Nancy and Evelyn Davidson, were in the automobile.

According to all reports the accident was practically unavoidable. The boy on the bicycle was weaving in the middle of the road and after Guest honked, the boy failed to move until the last minute and he tried to swerve to the left while the other bicyclist was riding on the right hand side of the road. Guest said he tried to go between the boys, but was unable to make it.

The automobile turned over and landed upside down. Nancy was knocked unconscious, Evelyn and Guest were bruised and scratched but otherwise unharmed.

At Goodall hospital the boy and girl were x-rayed and hospitalized for observation. They were released Wednesday.

Guest and his family were on their vacation and had driven in Monday morning to visit the C. H. Davidsons. They planned to continue their vacation to New Mexico and Colorado before the accident.

21 Carloads of Wheat Shipped From Memphis

Grainmen and Elevators in Memphis have already shipped more than 20 carloads of wheat from Hall County farms and approximately 12 to 15 cars remain to be shipped before July 1, elevators told The Democrat this morning.

One elevator, the Omer Hill Elevator, has not shipped any carloads yet but has stored several thousand bushels in the elevator.

Milam Grain and Coal company reported about four cars already shipped with several more to be shipped.

Farmers Union Gin reported 300,000 bushels shipped or about 17 carloads so far this year and seven or eight additional cars to be shipped.

All grain men reported the wheat harvest was good this year but weeds are beginning to get bad in the grain. The average yield has been from five to ten bushels per acre and some of the wheat has tested as much as 60 per cent.

The price range on wheat in Hall County has averaged according to market trends from $2.05 up to $2.15 per bushel for the better wheat.

All grain men report that the wheat harvest is turning out better than most persons expected in Hall County. National reports the last few days also have indicated that the country-wide harvest will be better than anticipated.

Lack of rain on the wheat during the winter months caused the prediction of poor crops this year but beautiful rains during the spring have contributed to the present yield, farmers contend.

Spring rains have hampered and caused late harvest in some sections and the hail accompanying the rains caused some damage, estimated as high as 25 per cent in some sections of the county according to insurance agencies.

Fort Worth and Denver railroad officials reported that 21 carloads of wheat have been shipped from Memphis this month and at present six carloads are in the yards being loaded and awaiting shipment.

Grain men and railroad officials expect most of the wheat harvest here to wind up within the next two weeks, although some elevator stored grain will be shipped later.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

The water company is not putting out very much water on yards and lawns these days—rains are coming so often it is not necessary to use the facilities of the water company. Later the rains may not come every time a season is needed.

The flower show and the yard contest, both held the past few days, have created a lot of interest. Mrs. Baker Jones, who has a beautiful yard, remarked Tuesday that she has noticed more interest being taken in yards this year than ever before, and that many residents have become yard conscious and doing something about improving their surroundings, all of which makes for a City Beautiful.

"Most attractive outdoor living area" is the way the yard judges termed Mrs. Wells' back yard. Now, my readers know why we like to stay home evenings. (Continued on Page 8)

Only 10 yards were entered in the contest and Club members expressed hope that additional yards will be listed for the September judging and show, although they will not be eligible for prizes.

Judges also visited yards in the Morningside area and complimented several homes for their work there in connection with the city beautification program.

Other winners in the contest included Dr. C. B. Dryden, second in the new yard group; Mrs. Baker Jones, second in the old yard group; Mrs. N. M. Lindsey, third and honorable mention to the yards of Mrs. O. V. Alexander, Mrs. Al Burks, Mrs. Sam Hamilton and Mrs. Myrtis Phelan.

Mrs. J. E. Roper was second in the group of most attractive outdoor living areas.

Judges comments on the yards judged were:

"The profusion of flowering annuals, perennials and shrubs at the Whitley home were shown to advantage by the attractive background—a high rock fence. The outstanding feature is lovely mimosa tree in the rear garden area.

Though Mrs. Baker Jones' yard is in the process of being 'made over', the edgings of violets, large bed of perennial phlox and fine trees made this well-kept yard a pleasing picture.

Two large pyracanthas at the home of Mrs. Lindsey drew one's attention. Many climbing roses, shrubs, and colored plum tree were seen here and the neatness of lawn and beds attested to the loving care given this yard.

Lovely green euonymus, carefully clipped privet hedge, a well-cared for lawn were to be seen at the O. V. Alexander home. Also the Al Burks yard with its well kept lawn and evergreens made a pretty picture.

A most artistic and restful living area was found in the J. C. Wells back yard. The lily pool with water falling into it over the rocks above makes a delightfully cool setting for a hot June day.

At the Roper home, two large trees in the back yard with vinea at their feet made a welcome shade where one could sit and look off into a most colorful flower garden—petunias of every

Social Security Representative Here June 26

A representative of the Amarillo social security office will be in Memphis June 26 at the commissioners Court Room at 11:15 to conduct business with social security card holders in this area.

Household workers and farm employees who have been included in the social security program for the first time since January 1, 1951, must get a social security account number card by June 30, 1951. John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo social security office said today.

Wages earned by these people during April, May, and June, 1951 will be reported by their employers during July and the social security number of each worker must be included in the report.

If the individual has never had a social security number, an application can be secured at any post office, employment service office, or social security office. It should be completed in ink and mailed or brought to the social security office, 324 Post Office Building, Amarillo. A card bearing the applicant's name and social security number will be mailed immediately. The worker should then show the card to his employer so that a record can be made of the number, Sanderson said.

Workers who have had such cards, but who have lost them should file an application for a duplicate number. The application is made on the same form as for a new number, but the form contains a question which informs the social security office that a duplicate number is required.

College Students Must Request School Deferments

College students wanting draft deferments must make request in writing to the local board for occupational deferments before the board will consider the cases. Mrs. Francis C. Starkey, clerk of Local Board No. 29, said today.

"Many of the students don't realize they must make this written request," Mrs. Starkey said. "The students must also ask college officials to submit evidence of their class standing and evidence they are in school or accepted for the next class," she added.

The Childrens board has received forms for the college officials to fill out and sends forms for the students within a week. On the student forms are places to indicate whether they have taken the college student draft exemption test; if they expect to take the test; and if college officials will forward records. These forms will be mailed to the students Mrs. Starkey said.

Complete information regarding the student draft exemptions may be had at the draft board office, 2nd floor City Hall, Childress, Tex.

Take Sag Out of Door

DOORS on the farm sometimes develop a sag from excessive use. This sag can be cured very easily and the door put back into good working order for years to come.

For permanently repairing a sagging door, here is what you do:

Remove the door and place it on a bench or sawhorse.

Square up the sides, using a carpenter's square. Now place a panel of Masonite 3/16" Tempered Preswood on the door and trim it to fit. Then bevel the edges slightly.

The panel should be fastened securely with nails, screws or bolts. It may be applied either to the inside or outside of the door.

Rehang the door and paint it. If the door is exposed to the weather, give it a prime coat and two exterior coats of paint made by the same manufacturer.

If the door is so "saggy" that it won't stay square while the Tempered Preswood is attached, keep it in shape temporarily by nailing a triangular piece of the masonite to the opposite side.

Texas Motorists Hike Gas Tab By Millions

Impatience, negligence and incompetence—the three cardinal sins of the gasoline wastrel—are costing Texas motorists more than $222,500,000 annually or about $87 for each vehicle owner, according to a recently published study by one of America's top-flight automotive engineers.

After a series of controlled mileage tests lasting more than a year, Delmar G. Roos, former president of the society of Automotive Engineers, has concluded that the average motorist gets less than half the motoring miles he should out of a gallon of gasoline.

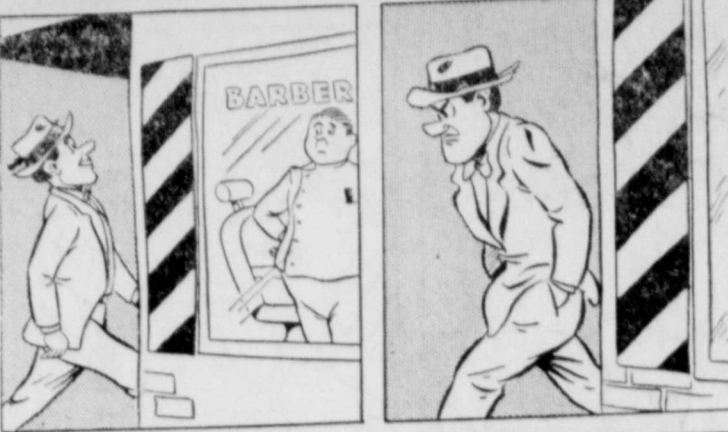

The primary causes of gasoline wastage says Roos, who is also vice-president of Willys-Overland Motors, are speed, mechanical negligence and sloppy driving habits.

"Speed alone cuts mileage in half," Roos says. "In rigidly controlled tests over a measured mile a Willys station wagon consistently averaged 31 miles per gallon at 30 miles an hour. However at 60 miles an hour, mileage cut considerably."

Heading a list of mechanical sins lumped in Roos' study under "negligence are faulty spark settings, cylinder compression and tire pressures. Each of these factors cuts gasoline efficiency between three and six per cent—and costs the motorist between one and two cents extra for each mile he drives."

Mrs. C. H. Compton who has been visiting in Los Angeles, Calif., for the past 10 days, has returned home.

THE MIDDLES By Bob Karp

"negligence are faulty spark settings, cylinder compression and tire pressures. Each of these factors cuts gasoline efficiency between three and six per cent—and costs the motorist between one and two cents extra for each mile he drives."

Other common mechanical faults affecting fuel mileage are dirty air filters, dragging brakes and improper wheel alignment.

"As for driving habits," Roos declares, "the two worst gas wasters—outside of habitual speeding—are jack rabbit starts and quick stops. Violent pressures on the accelerator squirt gasoline into the cylinders faster than it can be used efficiently, while sudden stops waste momentum already built up by expended fuel, in addition to wearing out break linings."

Roos' figures on gasoline wastage in Texas were based on current gasoline prices in the state, number of miles "got" per gallon of gas by the average motorist and the latest available statewide figures released by the National Safety Council.

Writers Start Sportsmanship Drive

through disclosures concerning paid amateur athletics and the basketball scandals.

Announcement of the committee was made by Carl Troester executive secretary of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and director of the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program.

Troester also announced the 1,000 high schools have been added to the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program, which was launched last year. Under the program individual medals are given to boys and girls who, in the opinion of their fellow students, make the greatest contributions to sportsmanship and fair play during the year. Two thousand students received awards last year and the figure has now been boosted to 4,000.

The awards are controlled by the National Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Awards Committee, composed of two representatives from the Babe Ruth Foundation and two representatives each from the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation and the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. The latter two groups are departments of the National Education Association.

Most of the sports writers felt that the program is an urgent one. Arch Ward, of the Chicago Tribune, said, "I can recall no other time in the history of our country when there was greater need for the basic principals of sportsmanship."

Another writer, Abe Chanin, of the Arizona Daily Star of Tucson voiced the same feeling: "... It is my belief that athletics in this country now stand at a crossroad. ... As sports editors we know that reaching athletes on a high school level with the emphasis on encouraging good sportsmanship is the quickest road to a great and respected athletic program in the United States."

Hal Middlesworth of the Washington Times Herald said: "It is especially timely for the sports editors of the country to do something about sportsmanship and fair play. The basketball scandals and the growing distaste for openly subsidized sports are signs of the times—and significant. It's a 'gimme' world, and that is bad. Anything anyone can do to counteract that spirit is valuable."

Whitney Martin of Associated Press New York City, had this to say: "Teaching our youth there is no substitute for honesty and integrity and a healthy attitude toward life in general will make for a better nation, a better government and a better world."

Participating schools in the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program this year are located in 38 states and Hawaii.

In commenting on the program Troester said: "We know that sportsmanship and good government go hand in hand. In politics as on athletic fields, interests clash, rights of others must be recognized—defeat and victory must be taken in stride. It is believed that a spirit of sportsmanship developed on our playing fields and among the spectators in our grandstands may be transferred, in some degree, to later adult activities in the community, the state, the nation, and even internationally. The Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Awards were organized to cultivate this spirit. "Sportsmanship in the program is stressed in its widest educational aspect—in the schoolroom, or the athletic field and playground, in the home, at church, and as part of the local community. All awards are made for sportsmanship—not competitive excellence popularity, number of athletic letters and such, except as they indicate achievement in the broader sense."

High Board Front Of Old Sheriff's Office Comes Down

What was once Hall County's sheriff's office is being torn down this week as workmen began ripping out the building formerly occupied by Beeson's Cleaners and the South Side Cafe.

The old high board front, covered on the outside with the stucco finish was above the cafe and was once the office of the law enforcement officer of the county. Jim Beeson, owner of the building said.

"As far as I know it is one of the last of the old time buildings to be removed in Memphis," Beeson said.

The buildings are being removed to make way for a new building to be constructed by Beeson. It will still house Beeson's Cleaners and a Cafe.

A new brick and plate-glass front is to be installed the plate glass will be set at an angle in the 25 foot front.

The rear of the building has been extended and a ceterex ceiling will be installed with tile floors.

Beeson said the National Institute of Cleaners and Dyers will be in charge of setting up the cleaning machinery in order to obtain maximum efficiency from floor arrangement.

In the cafe a horseshoe counter is being planned behind a large lobby.

Plans call for re-opening of the two businesses by August 1, Beeson stated.

These two seem to have a lot in common. Like the little penguin, this pert model goes "formal" for swimming. Her trim cotton swim suit by Juniorite in stark black and white pique has straight princess lines and a full-dress tucked white lab front with black tie. The National Cotton Council reports that pique is a favorite fabric for sports outfits this summer.

"Do You Have Any Three-Cent Stamps That Will Harmonize With Powder-Blue Envelopes?"

receive gifts that came from Jupiter. Now in her new home she found a box which she was forbidden to open. Disobeying the injunction she did open it and allowed all the evils of the world to escape all except hope which remained to solace mortals.

During World War I, there was a jaunty little tune, "Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile." Kit bag or Pandora's box, it's all the same; the bottom drawer or the trunk in the attic, just have some place to put away your troubles until time or some quite thinking can help you take care of them.

More often than not a little time patience, and faith will help to dissolve our anxieties and the seeming mountains will become mole hills. Furthermore, though "misery loves company", since we stack our troubles alongside our neighbor's we are quite content to gather our hopes and on our way rejoicing. One ingenious person had the idea of putting aside all the things that bothered her during the week until Saturday at which time she planned to give some serious thought to genuine "down-in-the-dumps" worrying. Of course, Saturday was always such a busy day that she somehow never got around to the business of worries and so they took care of themselves. Maybe she had an imaginary box for her troubles where one could

Hide there all thought of your failures, And each bitter cup that you guaff; Lock all your headaches within it Then sit on the lid and laugh. Do what you can to avoid complexities and to set things right. Above all, remember that everyone has troubles of his own without hearing yours so turn the key on your Pandora Box. Remember too that "mankind needs constant agitation to keep his soul from stagnating" and take comfort in this thought from Longfellow's pen:

The night shall be filled with music, And the cares, that infest the day, Shall fold their tents, like the Arabs, And as silently steal away.

Auto Fatalities Show Increase in Texas In '50

Texas established another "first" last year but it's one in which the State's citizens can find little to be proud.

The "first" was officially announced in the Texas Motor Vehicle Traffic Accidents Summary for 1950 just released today by Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Entitled "Their First Time—and Last", the annual booklet does an exceptionally fine job of breaking down the subject into every conceivable category from age to drivers and auto involved to the causative factors contributing to accidents.

The "first" was the all-time high of 2,410 lives lost in traffic accidents in the State last year. These represented the more gruesome aspect of the twelve month period which saw a total of 202,041 accidents and 68,801 personal injuries on the streets and highways of Texas. Total economic loss resulting from these accidents was reported in excess of $96 million.

Texans can find even less to boast about in the fact that N. K. Woerner, Chief of the Public Safety Department's Statistical Division, indicates that the all-time traffic fatality toll of last year is due to be replaced this year by an even higher figure.

"Precluding the adoption of a rationing program affecting gasoline and tires, and more rigid controls governing the manufacture of vehicles, all of which would result in a reduction of traffic accidents through the curtailment of vehicular travel," Woerner stated, "we estimate that traffic deaths in 1951 will exceed 2,500."

Nothing we like better than for friends to drop in and enjoy life with us and stay as long as you like. We are late go-to-bedders.

Several days ago The Democrat sent out a questionnaire to more than 200 men asking that ten citizens be named and the questionnaire be returned as soon as possible. A number have not been returned as requested. Surely there are ten citizens in Memphis who have contributed time and effort for the betterment of the community during the past 50 or 60 years. Those of you who have failed to return the questionnaire, please do so right away. The Democrat wishes to do honor to those selected by your vote. Several citizens have been recognized in the past by the chamber of commerce, and there are many others who have not received any public recognition, but have done much for the community. These latter we want to recognize.

Yesterday, MW (meaning my wife, or Mrs. Wells) and I drove to Amarillo and back. Guess we had better not try it any more, for we were not in Amarillo long before an earthquake hit the plains. We felt two distinct shocks. They felt as if a mighty power had suddenly pushed the house a bit and let it settle back. Then, pushed a second time. By the way I managed to outfumble by brother L. A. for our lunch.

We have never seen the plains more beautiful. Lakes every direction, grass luxuriantly green, cat-the fat as butter balls and in toto restful to the eyes. Armstrong and Potter counties had received more rains than history records for the same length of time. Some wheat will be made, but row crops are backward because the ground has been wet so long farmers were late in getting started. It's nice to see what neighbors are doing and still nicer to get back to an ideal area where rains have fallen just right and where God has been lifting His shining face upon his land and people.

W. V. (Bill to all of us) Coursey brought a nice lot of apricots to our home this morning. These were raised in Mrs. Coursey's back yard and are very delicious and about the largest I have ever seen. This section should have plenty of fruit this year—a thing that doesn't happen every year.

I understand our good friend W. H. Youngblood of Brice had to go to Dallas hospital recently and that he is now being wheeled around in a wheel chair feeling some better. His many friends wait his return to his usual place in Hall County life. . . . Another fine fellow, Tom Way of the First State Bank returned last night from a Wichita Falls clinic, and his friends will be glad to know he received an optimistic report.

A few of us on Main, between 6th and 7th, have been planning to try to get some redress from Tomie M. Potts who is working over the Chevrolet building front, which will almost force other front owners to do some improving also. The idea has been rejected since it has been learned Tomie's building front is going to cost him quite a bit, and it might work a hardship on him to do any redressing of other owners. Gradually and permanently, Memphis is putting on a more prosperous "front."

Received by the Complaint Department of this column: "A lot of us retired fellows who spent our lives on farms and wore ourselves out trying to wrest a living from the soil against the odds of drought, sandstorms, hail, rain wind and various other freaks of this old universe, have no place to go where we can converse with our neighbors and friends. A few manage to climb some long flights of stairs to play dominoes, while others of us who are not permitted physically to make such exertion, either must sit on the edge of the sidewalks or store steps (in other people's way) while we visit or stay at home idly watch folks go to and from their homes. If we go into a place of business there are no chairs for us to sit down. Our town has become so civilized, it might be very unbecoming to have seats on the sidewalks for the unwanted fellows who have been laid on the shelf. Some towns we know of provide shade, benches and games for the old folks, and Memphis could do something of the kind to show she is not hard-hearted. One of the Forgotten".

When I read the above I felt like 30 cents. It put me to wondering if we people who go about our daily work take time to consider what the other fellow has to keep up spirits and make life worth living. I am afraid we have all become callous and unthoughtful of others. We hear a lot of gush about the "ripe old age". I wonder if that hasn't been changed of late years to "tragic old age?"

Last night, the after-midnight sephyr gave two or three blasts like a howling cow as it rushed into town. What has become of the engineers who could play tunes on the steam-engine whistles? In fact, what has become of the people who could out-do mocking birds with their whistling as they passed along the streets? How often do you hear such whistling? Is whistling becoming a lost art along with enjoying life as we pass along the way?

And what has become of the old Sat'dy night washub bath? The modern bathroom needs, besides a non-skid bathtub, a complete set of non-breakable bottles to keep broken glass off the tile floor. Pewter or copper goblets in the bathroom might help to squirt mouth wash, liniment, hand lotion, et al when needed could be installed.

Bill Phlenger of West Main street: "I have a neighbor who waited for his children to grow up so it would be safe to redecorate his house. When he got his house fixed up all spick and span along came the grandchildren to play havoc with it again. . . . I hear the girl across the street from me looked up the financial condition of the fathers of all the boys she knows. Maybe the modern generation of girls are no so dumb after all."

color with rose plants here and there among them.

One noticed especially the pyracanthas at most of the homes—they seem to like the soil and climate. Also many handsome pecan and walnut trees to be seen.

The new yard at the Odum home showed much thought and care. The lawn was the main attraction here—so green and well groomed—also the planting in front of the house was well balanced and pleasing to the eye. The Dryden yard will be showing up by September—the edging of violets and the planter box were the main features here."

Results Received On College Test Of Registrants

The Texas Local Board No. 20 serving Childress, Cottle, Briscoe Hall and Collingsworth counties was notified today that no registrants from this area would be called for induction for the month of July.

The office received today the first results of the Selective Service College Qualification Test from Princeton, New Jersey. Grades were received for about ten registrants, all of them having taken the test May 26, 1951.

Nearly all scores of those registrants who took the test on May 26 are expected to be on the way to local boards by June 22. Scores of those who took the test on June 15 are expected to be in the hands of local boards before August 20. Scores of those taking the test on June 30 and July 17 are also expected to be at local boards before that date.

Men may be deferred to continue their college training either on the basis of high standing in class or by attaining required minimum score on the Selective Service College Qualification Test. Present regulations send that score at 70 for college freshmen sophomores, and juniors, and at 75 for college seniors expecting to report on to graduate school.

Reports of the class standings of registrants will not accompany the reports of the test scores. These will be mailed direct to local boards by the respective institutions upon request of the registrant.

Registrants who took this test may come to the local board of five and the score made will be given to the individuals, Mrs. Frances C. Starkey, clerk of draft board, said today.

These scores will not be mailed out to the registrants, Mrs. Starkey said.

Inflation

Inflation comes when all prices keep going up and up until folks can't buy what they really have to have and need.

Inflation is a greater menace to America than the atom bomb because it can destroy jobs, create hunger and want, and lead to socialism, communism or anarchy all over America.

Three things can cause inflation: Too many dollars, too few things for sale, and government price ceilings.

Too many dollars come from the Government printing presses when your Government spends more money than it takes in in taxes, and can't pay what they owe in any other way. The way to stop having the Government print too many dollars is to make sure that it spends no more than it takes in—except when the life of America is threatened.

Your own father, if he didn't have enough money would borrow some to pay for an operation to save your life. So your UNCLE SAM should borrow to protect America's life.

But your father wouldn't borrow dollars to buy all the neighbors a television set, just to make them like him. Neither should your UNCLE SAM borrow or print dollars to buy needless things or provide needless jobs just so the voters will like him or so other countries across the oceans will think we are a good country.

Too few things for sale comes when the farmers don't grow enough things and the factories don't make enough things. When there are not enough things to go around the people who want the things most pay more than the people are paying or can pay so as to be sure they get the things they want.

When everybody tries to do it, prices go up and up. The way to make farmers raise more things and factories make more things is to let all these people want to raise or make more things, because if they don't want to, they won't do it.

If farmers raise enough and workers produce enough things there no longer would be too few things for sale.

Government price fixing stops all kinds of folks from wanting to produce more, because they are afraid if they produce it the price ceiling will be lower than what it costs them to raise it or produce it.

If Government price fixing lasts long enough, folks will produce less and less. There will be fewer and fewer things for sale, and the prices will keep going up and up.

That of course, would be against the law, according to the price fixers, who made the law. But even the law of price fixers cannot change the law of nature—the law of self-preservation. So good, honest folks, would rather break the law of price fixers than starve or freeze to death.

It is had when honest folks, who believe laws should be obeyed, have to break them in order to live. It could mean an end of our Government, which would mean destruction of this country as we now and have known it for so many years.

It's as simple as that!

Why many people in Washington can't understand it is a mystery. Or maybe they understand it and don't want you to understand it for fear that you will cause them to lose their jobs?

Could be, you know!

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Where We Are Failing

It seems as if practically everybody has had something to say about the meat situation. Government officials say one thing. Representatives of the livestock producers and other elements of the meat industry say another. Spokesmen for consumer groups say still another.

Quite naturally, these statements are often in complete contradiction. So a large part of the public, interested as it is in the meat controversy, has lost sight of a few fundamental facts.

The government can set the legal price at which meat is sold at wholesale and retail. The government can issue orders rolling back price of meat by some arbitrary percentage. The government can threaten law violators with vigorous prosecution.

However, the government can't make anybody raise meat if he finds that controls and regulations and red-tape are taking the profit out of the business and just leaving him with the risk and, try as hard as enforcement officials will, they can't stop black markets when individuals see a chance to make a quick, easy profit. ### Six Anti-Crime Laws Passed by Legislature

AUSTIN — The crime-busting 52nd Legislature has adjourned but the laws it passed were being studied by law enforcement officials this past week and its House Committee to Investigate Organized Crime was preparing for another public hearing.

The House crime committee was studying records and getting set for the public hearing on the Massey gambling group in Galveston. The hearing is slated for June 25.

With the aid of Attorney General Price Daniel, Director of Public Safety Homer Garrison and State Auditor C. H. Cavness the five-man House Committee is assembling its evidence. The committee also has asked public officials of Galveston to testify at the hearing.

Six major crime-prevention laws were passed during the session and a dozen or more bills tightened court procedures bringing criminals to justice.

The new laws outlaw the mere possession of slot machines, punchboards, and policy or "numbers" games, and nitroglycerin used for safe-cracking and bombing. The Legislature placed a tighter clamp on "goof balls", the small barbiturate pill that results in emotional binges which frequently lead to criminal activities, and wrote a new and strong law against "hot checks."

The Texas House of Representatives' big club in the war against organized crime is the creation of the continuing crime committee to investigate local crime conditions in Texas and report back to the next session of the Legislature with recommendations for further laws curbing crime. The State Senate authorized its general investigating committee to do likewise.

Slot machines were a principal target of the Legislature. The new law gives owners or those possessing slot machines until September 7 to get rid of the one-arm bandits. After that possession of slot machines can mean two to four years in the penitentiary.

Punchboards were outlawed with penalties of $100 to $1,000 fines or 30 days to a year in jail or both, slated to be given violators for the possession of such devices. The policy games, or "numbers racket", were made illegal in the closing hours of the session. Violations of this law will result in fines of $100 to $1,000, or up to 90 days in jail, or both.

The new "hot check" law is aimed at the bad writer of such checks. It provides for fines of $200 to $10,000 or prison sentences of two to 10 years, or both, if the maker of a bad check does not make it good in 10 days after notice. The bill was written this way to protect a person who innocently writes a bad check.

People who illegally sell, manufacture or possess "goof balls" will be punished by a fine of $1,000 or jail sentence up to two years, or both.

Zephyr Held Up By Car Wreck Last Sat. Night

The Fort Worth and Denver Zephyr was held up several hours last Sunday morning after striking a stalled automobile about five miles East of Memphis.

No one was injured in the accident.

The automobile, an Oldsmobile, was driven by Marshal Ford, who was home on leave from the service. He reported the car stalled and unable to get it started Ford jumped from the automobile.

The train slowed down but still struck the car carrying it several feet along the track. It required torches to separate the train and the automobile.

Shield your home with insurance

Sure, you probably have fire insurance on your home. (Probably not enough.) But, to be completely protected in the modern sense, your home needs a lot of other insurance protection today.

There is now an America Fore COMBINED RESIDENCE POLICY which will protect a home owner against most of the losses that can happen to him as a home owner.

Ask about this policy which covers damage by water, steam, oil or other fluids — cost of repairs and replacements to plumbing and heating systems—automobile and aircraft property damage — explosion — replacement of fixed glass—windstorm—loss of rental value—public liability and property damage — hold-up and burglary — and theft on or away from premises ("mysterious disappearance" is now deemed to be theft.)

businesses would get any appreciable support in this congress. Certainly I am not going to vote to license all businesses and let them be controlled from a central focal point in Washington. That would be regimentation of the worst kind and would place in the hands of a few bureaucrats life and death powers over every small business in this country. I have already served notice on the powers that be that I am qualifiedly opposed to any such program and will fight it to the finish. ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY: Ground work is being laid to bring tremendous pressure to pass the St. Lawrence Seaway project legislation. This piece of legislation involves expenditure of approximately 800 million dollars of American money, and incidentally is being sponsored and pushed by several economy minded Republicans who are going to meet themselves coming back if they get this bill to the floor. One of the funny things here is that a lot of these people talk economy when it is in someone else's district but when some expenditure involving several hundred million dollars turns up in their district, it immediately becomes a defense project and all question of economy is forgotten.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON
By CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS

Lobbying: A number of inquiries have come into my office lately about different organizations seeking donations to help influence the passage or defeat of legislation. This is not a new game; it is as old as the hills. Several of these inquiries have asked my advice as to whether or not contributions should be made to these organizations. There are a great number of organizations in most state capitals, and especially in that true here in Washington, that hold themselves out as being for or against some particular special legislation or bill. Many of these organizations seek donations by personal contact, mail and sometimes by radio and newspaper advertising. It is most difficult to separate the good from the bad, and I would certainly not advise anyone to contribute to anything which they do not understand and in which they do not have the utmost confidence. If you receive requests from any source for donations to these fancy named organizations, you owe it to yourself to find out who the people are behind the organization, what their purpose is, and what service they can render you. Frankly, I do not pay any attention to these so-called lobbying or semi-lobbying organizations. I am interested in what the people of my district think, and expect to continue to follow that policy. I am sure that most of the other congressmen feel the same as I do and are not going to be misled by any such activities. There are many fine business, farm, civic, religious and other types of organizations that render services to their members, and these organizations also advise their members of pending legislation that might affect them. This is a fine service and a great help to the members. This type of organization is to be commended for the fine work it is doing in building and helping the communities and the State. However, there are many fly by night organizations that use high-sounding names that are probably sincere in what they are doing, but they are certainly ineffective, and money thrown into those channels is wasted by the taxpayers. If any of you have any questions about any pending legislation, all you have to do is write me and I will certainly furnish you with as much information as is available. Please do not permit yourself to be enticed into making donations that are unnecessary and then find out too late that you have been taken. TIDELANDS: You will of course be interested to know that the legislation for the return of the tidelands is beginning to progress, as I told you it would in a previous news letter. This should develop faster within the next few weeks, and unless something unforeseen takes place, it is my opinion that we will have the tidelands recovered by the end of this year.

Insecticide Tips and Instructions for Fly Control

Best controls applied now can save you much money later on, says W. B. Hooser, county agent. He says that flies and livestock men this season is here. Each fly affecting livestock cause losses to farmers. Beef producers lose from flies and insects during the summer season as much as an extra pound of weight a day, and dairy cattle protected will sometimes give as much as 15 per cent more milk.

Flies are also a prey upon fruits and vegetables. As a warning or precaution, all fruits and vegetables that have been treated with insect poisons should be washed thoroughly before they are consumed. Applications of organic insecticides such as DDT should not be made within two weeks of harvest. Materials that are highly flammable should not be stored in places where there is a fire hazard.

When sprays are used in the house or barn, one should not get any of the material in dishes, utensils or drinking or feeding troughs. Also, label insecticides stored in barns or other buildings as poison.

Different control measures are required for different types of livestock, Hooser continued. As a last warning, he stated that dairy cattle should not be sprayed with insecticides that may contaminate the cow's milk.

days is sufficient evidence of that. In normal times no one sets the price of meat. It is determined by the ever-changing conditions of a supply and demand market. Now the government is attempting to set the price and the troubles are setting in. For the truth is that these controls always lead to rationing, black markets, unsanitary practices, and less meat for most consumers.

One of the main ways to stabilize meat prices is to encourage production—to develop a sound balance supply and demand. And that's what present government policies are failing to do.

Unity to Clean House

The Ogee Deal politicians continue to plead for "unity" among the people of this country while we are engaged in a bitter struggle with enemies who threaten the very foundation of free government. There can be no argument on this point. But, the Trumanites can tolerate only one kind of unity—that is for everybody to support the administration's socialistic program, including continuation of the RPC with all its graft and corruption, extravagant non-defense spending, the tideland steal, centralized government and other policies advocated by Mr. Truman and his label loyalists. Yes, we need unity. The patriotic citizens of this country should unite in a nation-wide movement to "clean house" in Washington to forget politics and choose capable leaders who consider the welfare of the nation more important than who will win the next election. We believe that the rank and file of our people are about ready for this kind of unity.

—Lamar County Echo, Texas

EUFULA (Ala.) TRIBUNE
The Kemp News observes that it is reported on good authority that Ralph Trigg of the U. S. Department of Agriculture wants Texas and Oklahoma to produce 5,462,000 head of beef cattle and cows, one year and older, in 1951. Now if he can show'em how to make them older 'ban one year in twelve month he will have to be Houdini. They would have to have been born January 1 to be one year old, but we'll bet that expert would not know a cow from a bull if he met them in the road unless he was wearing one of Harry's shirts, which cause the bull to fight and the cow to flee. "Godey's Lady's Book" was the first women's magazine in this country.

The trucks that do the most for you—

NEW DODGE "Job-Rated" trucks

...with features you've always wanted

More power with thrifter performance

You'll get power to spare—with economy to boot! Eight Dodge truck engines—94 to 154 horsepower—give flashing performance with less fuel. For year-in, year-out economy you get 4-ring pistons with chrome-through 1 ton, heat-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts, 45-ampere generator, and moisture-proof ignition.

Better load protection...easier handling

Load and driver get the smoothest truck ride ever known! Revolutionary new "Oriflow" shock absorbers on 1/2-, 3/4-, and 1-ton models smooth out bumps and jolts on any road. And driving is made even safer with easy-acting, worm-and-roller steering gears on most models. To add to safe handling ease, you also get cross-steering, shorter wheelbase, wide front tread, and shorter turning diameter.

What "Job-Rated" means to you

A Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is engineered at the factory to fit a specific job . . . save you money . . . last longer.

Every unit from engine to rear axle is "Job-Rated"—factory-engineered to haul a specific load over the roads you travel and at the speeds you require.

Every unit that SUPPORTS the load—frame, axles, springs, wheels, tires, and others—is engineered right to provide the strength and capacity needed.

Every unit that MOVES the load—engine, clutch, transmission, propeller shaft, rear axle, and others—is engineered right to meet a particular operating condition.

Greater safety for both driver and load

Cyclebond brake lining on all models assures positive, smooth stops with long lining life—because there are no rivets! A brand-new development—Tapered Molded Cyclebond lining—is featured on all models, 1 1/2-ton and up, except air-brake models. It's extra-quiet, you the added safety of all-steel "Pilot-House" cabs—with super-sized windshield, lower hood line, and relocated windshield wipers for better visibility.
