More Angus Cattle May Be Imported

Hall County livestock import program sponsored by Chamber of Commerce County Board of Deputies may take another step toward importation of livestock as new order for purchase of another carload of registered Angus from Canada to be imported, according to Clifford Farmer and County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Farmer added that any livestock men in the area who are interested in joining the program and would like any of these Angus cattle, or any 4-H Club boys who would like a yearling should contact him or Hooser.

The cattle will be shipped before winter, probably in September. The Chamber of Commerce will import the cattle at actual cost, duty free, for the livestock men.

This will make the third carload of registered Angus cattle imported here in Hall County from Canada. Estimates of Angus cattle in the county are around 400 head.

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

Since the nice rain Monday night the weather has been more bearable—although during the days the sun beams down like nobody's business. Most of the area had moisture. From Lakeview west, they are still waiting for a "cotton shower." Practically all the county south of the river had good rains. Hulver had about four inches, and very little apprehension of worms is felt since the weather did not stay damp and cloudy.

The water company must feel relieved that the rain gave the storage lines a chance to fill up. Residents would not kick at the proposed raise in rates, provided more water would be provided. But they are averse to paying more and still have to be cut short on the amount they use. Why is it the company refuses to meet the city in the matter? In the utility business, it is up to the company to furnish more water—even to the digging of more wells—what more do they want? For many years, it is "Cut down on the use of water," just when more is needed. If Memphis is ever to have the kind of attractiveness its citizens desire, more water must be furnished. A survey of the water supply was made a few years ago at considerable cost to the city. Plenty of water was found by the State Water Board. Since the cost of pumping from the wells to town is eliminated because of the gravity flow, cost of operating is not as high as in places where the extra work of pumping into the mains is necessary, and therefore an additional raise should not be as great. I believe the citizens of Memphis are not very eager to have more raise made than has been offered by the city officials. And the company is asking more.

A Memphis born and bred man, J. C. "Jake" Roberts, has been elevated to the post of Division Engineer of the Texas Highway Department, in the Abilene district, according to a note from J. B. Nabers, now division engineer at Wichita Falls to yours truly. Mr. Nabers was division engineer of this district when J. C. started work as instrumentman in 1930 and his first job was on the highway from Memphis to Mulberry. He has been with the department for 21 years, and assistant engineer for the last nine years in the Abilene district. My hat is off to the Memphis boys who make good in their chosen professions.

Senator Tom Connally, a wheel horse in the U. S. Senate for many years, still shows signs of being able to work for Texas any time something comes up that needs his attention. Tuesday, he

Controls Effective Against Insects

Use of insecticide sprays and dust has proved very effective in the fight against three crop destroying insects, the boll worm, fleahopper and leaf worm, according to County Agent W. B. Hooser.

"Hall County farmers are in pretty good shape now," Hooser continued. There is only a trace of these insects now.

But Hooser cautioned farmers to be on the watch for these insects and immediate spraying should be done if they are located.

Dry weather has aided farmers here in the insect battle and recent rains are warning to check cotton plants close, Hooser added.

Water Company Officials Refuse $1.75 Rate Hike

Football Boys Asked To Meet Fri. Night

Memphis' new high school football coach, John L. Hansard has called a meeting of all boys who would like to play football this coming year.

Hansard has asked that the boys meet at his home, 1414 Montgomery street at 8 p. m. Friday.

Coach Hansard added that the meeting would only be a few minutes but that he would like to get the names of boys interested in going out for the squad. This invitation is also extended to those boys who have never gone out for football before and those who were on the Cyclone squad last season.

Hansard starts with the Cyclone squad this year after coaching the Canadian team last year to an undefeated regular season and lost in the bi-district play-off only on penetrations. The Memphis team last year won seven games and lost three in their regular season.

All boys are invited to Friday nights meeting.

Railroad Signal Light Will Be Installed Soon

Fort Worth and Denver Railroad Agent John McMickin announced today that he had received word that the electrical equipment for installation of the signal light across the railroad tracks at Noel and Front streets is in Childress, and will be forwarded to Memphis in a few days.

Installation of the signal light, a flasher light, will commence on arrival of equipment, McMickin added.

A shortage of materials and the defense mobilization program has held up arrival of the materials, railroad officials reported.

RECEIVE CALL FOR INDUCTION OF SIX AREA MEN

Six young men from the Childress area, of which Memphis is a part, will receive notices within the next ten days to report for induction in the U. S. Army August 16, according to an announcement this week by Mrs. Frances Starkey, Clerk of the local board.

This is the first call for induction since May when 10 registrants were sent to Amarillo for induction.

The order was the result of the increase in the Texas induction call, which was raised from 485 to 772. The local board had previously reported that they would not send any men in August.

Inductees May Volunteer During Month of July

Sgt. J. C. Gaskill, U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Officer in Childress received information this week that pre-induction men who have received their pre-induction physical examination may still voluntarily enlist in either the regular army or the regular air force if they enlist before July 31.

The recruiting office is located in the Texas employment office in Childress.

Local Men Attend Fireman's School at A. & M.

Police Chief T. D. Weatherby who is Fire Marshal of Memphis and Driver Bill Vardeman attended the fire marshal's school at College Station at Texas A. & M. last week.

The two firemen received instruction in fire fighting and fire truck and hose maintenance, pump operation and maintenance and fire destruction salvage.

Weatherby added that the slogan of the school was, "Carelessness with fire is nine counts against you."

Weatherby and Vardeman returned last Saturday.

Temperatures Hit Season High Here Last Friday, Sat.

Memphis' highest temperature of the year was recorded this past week as the thermometer reached 109 degrees last Saturday afternoon.

Friday's temperature was 108 degrees and Sunday temperature reached 105 degrees.

Coolest day of the week was Tuesday when the high was only 88 degrees and Tuesday night's rainfall amounted to .93 of an inch, as recorded by John McMickin, local weather observer.

Claim Must Have $2 Minimum Rate From Local Area

Memphis' water situation, which the City Council thought and hoped was all settled after meetings held last week, blew up in their face this week as the Community Public Service Company's attorney John Deaver notified Mayor Carl Harrison that the water company would not be able to accept the $1.75 minimum rate.

This could mean higher water rates for Memphis citizens.

After meetings last week the City Council agreed to grant the water company an increase in rates from the present $1.50 minimum to a $1.75 minimum. The company originally asked for a $2.00 minimum rate.

Mayor Harrison said Wednesday no further action would develop in the water situation until after the next City Council meeting, August 7.

In explanation of why the water company refused to accept the terms agreed on last week, Deaver quoted company officials, that as they figured the increase in rates, it amounted only to 17 per cent overall hike. This amount of increase, according to water company figures would give them a 2.22 per cent return on the value of their capital invested here.

Company figures on the proposed increases in service here demanded by the City Council in granting the $1.75 hike, state that construction of two new wells, piping of 6 inch line to Morningstar and a 2 inch line to the City Park plus installation of Fire hydrants would amount to $51,000.

Deaver quoted company figures as saying the increase in rates asked for, that is the $2 rate, would allow the company a return here of 4.62 per cent.

Women Unhurt In Car Wrecks Near Memphis

Two accidents on Mulberry Bridge highway from Memphis this past week resulted in only minor injuries to two Oklahoma women and a Childress woman.

Monday afternoon, Mrs. Eddie Griffin of Childress escaped injury when her car plunged over a 30 foot embankment on the bridge three and a half miles west of Memphis.

The car hit standing water on the pavement and splashed the windshield and Mrs. Griffin lost control of the car, a 1950 Mercury.

Acne Pimples
Q.—Dear Peggy: Although my face breaks out in pimples occasionally I am most embarrassed at the acne condition on my back. I can't wear evening dresses of current fashions. My back is spotted with stubborn pimples. What do you recommend?—Mrs. R.L.C.
A.—Long standing conditions take a little time and patience but you can give quick help this way: use a lotion cleanser, without oil, but containing a fine skin antiseptic. Follow this immaculate cleansing with a greaseless antiseptic creaming to cover the skin area. This gives such surprisingly quick help for clearing the skin that you can see improvement usually in a few days. VELOCIA is the new cosmetic treatment for this special purpose. VELOCIA with both cleanser and cream only $2 plus tax at Fowlers Drug. (Ad.)

About Memphis, Hall County

Signs of the times: Influx of migratory workers, Mexicans, Negroes and others here for the cotton chopping season. Advertisements by merchants pushing straw hats and air conditioners and other summer merchandise. Stories in other papers about low hot it is in Memphis. Some of our women wisely carrying an umbrella when they come to town. These smart men that get up early in the morning to cut the lawn so as to beat the heat.

Have you noticed the many improvements in appearances of buildings and business firms around town. Potts Chevrolet has just about completed remodeling and now has a big glass front. There is still additional work to do on the inside but after all work is finished Tommie's and Homer's new cars should certainly shop up.

Wandered through the First National Bank last week and was amazed at how different their remodeling work has made the bank look. Also the air conditioning system is something that sure is nice. You can't see it, feel it or even know it's there, yet is so cool and pleasant inside the bank you know it's air conditioned.

That in alternative, plaintiff claims good perfect title thereto by virtue of the 5, 10 and 25 years statutes of limitations in that he and those under whom he claims title thereto have had and held under deeds duly registered in Hall County, Texas, and have had continuous, peaceable, open and notorious adverse possession thereof, using and enjoying, cultivating and paying all taxes due thereon as same became due for more than the 5, 10 and 25 years limitations, respectively, before the commencement of this suit.

Traffic Figures

An average of 33 American soldiers was killed daily in Korea during the first year of the war, while at home automobile deaths averaged 99 a day, a comparative study of war and traffic fatalities made by the Association of Casualty and Surety companies disclosed recently.

Close to 12,000 combat deaths have occurred among United forces in Korea since hostilities started June 25, 1950, according to Defense Department reports. The Association's accident prevention department estimated that the nation's traffic dead during the same 12-month period totals about 36,050, three times the U. S. death toll in Korea.

American military deaths in all of the nation's wars, including the year in the Korea conflict, have reached a total of 998,000 in 176 years and two months since the Battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775. In the 51 years and six months since the first U. S. automobile death occurred at the turn of the century, nearly 980,000 men, women and children have lost their lives in traffic accidents.

In a strange historic parallel, both "GI-X" and "Victim X", the millionth victims to be killed by U. S. wars and automobiles, may die only a few weeks apart if the war continues.

The unknown soldier who will become "GI X" if the Korean war continues apparently has been given a respite of several months more life as a result of far lighter casualties recently in light of the peace conferences.

Accident X in which the millionth automobile fatality will occur is expected next December, based on present accident trends, although an intensive traffic safety campaign may delay the death of "Victim X" until early in 1952.

Since the war started nearly 1,300,000 men, women and children have been killed or injured on the home front by automobiles, the Casualty Company estimated. The total of traffic-injured, nearly 1,262,000 is more than 25 times the number of U. S. soldiers wounded in Korea and nine times greater than all American battle and non-battle casualties, with deaths excluded, in the same period.

Since 1900, automobiles have injured more than 30,500,000 motorists and pedestrians. The total of 31,480,000 killed and injured in traffic since the advent of the automobile exceeds the entire pre-Civil War U. S. population of 31,443,331 in 1860 by nearly 40,000.

A 25 per cent reduction in the nation's traffic casualties from the 35,000 killed in 1950, as estimated by the National Safety Council, would save about 8,775 lives in a single year.

MENACING MONSTER

Similar reductions in injuries and traffic accidents would mean 300,000 fewer persons would be hurt and several million accidents would be prevented in the same 12-month period.

So remember that often quoted slogan: "The life you save may be your own."

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

To Much Stockpiling
We were wondering just what we would use for an editorial subject this week, when along came a news release from the West Texas chamber of commerce with some astounding figures which might be of interest to you.

You know, we like our form of government; we like our democracy of life; we like to think we are governing ourselves. For that reason, we do wish to halt extravagant government spending which is daily leading us further along the road to socialism.

That's why these figures are worth repeating. An informed public can do much to keep down spending if they will insist that their representatives in Washington run the government as our forefathers intended it to be run.

And wasteful extravagance—even veiled under the cloak of defense needs—is another way to lead us to a socialistic form of government.

Here are examples of what waste can be found:

Since the start of the Korean campaign a year ago, the government has purchased 68 million can openers—even if the army had four million men in service (which it doesn't) that would be 17 can openers per man.

Army ordnance recently purchased six million gallons of paint in quart and gallon cans—this was a full year's requirement, but the army sought delivery in 60 days.

The army set up a requirement of 4,636,000 web belts for 1951—for a present army of one-half million men, although only 1 web belt is issued per man per year. The 1951 requirement for combat boots was set up at 11,753,000 pairs, although the total

Our Peculiar Responsibility

From time to time, each business and professional man pauses in his every-day affairs, and looks at himself. This self-evaluation is important to our complex way of life. As we weigh the duties and responsibilities which rest upon the shoulders of a pharmacist, we arrive at the following conclusion:

We believe that ethical pharmacy offers a job big enough for any man, and the person so engaged should be prepared to forget self-interest when necessary. We know that our first responsibility is to the physician and the patient, rather than to the cash register. We realize that we are but practitioners of an ancient and honored profession on which health and life depend. Therefore, it cannot be commercialized.

Before a druggist attempts to conduct a prescription service, he should put himself in a position to make good with the physician and the public. He should have the best of equipment and materials and be thoroughly trained. A pharmacist should be intensely interested in his work and hold it in the respect it deserves.

In filling a prescription the druggist should imagine himself alternately in the role of a physician and patient. His duty to both demands accuracy use of the purest and most efficacious materials irrespective of cost. Prompt service enters the picture—since every minute counts in sickness or after injury. Carelessness and delays may impede or nullify the doctor's efforts and imperil the sick. Rigid inspections, an error-proof check system and speedy deliveries are important factors of prescription service.

We hold the above to be important as far as our profession is concerned, and pledge ourselves to recognize at all times our peculiar responsibility to this community.

Pearls of Wisdom

Walk Tall
When you recall the fable of the turtle and pig who were out for one fine day and came to a garden walled in by a high fence. Inside the garden was laden with ripe fruit. The little pig fretted because he could not reach over the fence and eat of the fruit and his size made such a feat impossible for him. However, the pig hunted until he found a hole in the wall and squeezed through into the garden where he could eat his fill. So, if you are tall or short, be as tall as you are. Don't waste time in lamenting, in trying to be something you are not.

or two.
You might just lift your eyes above the wall.
That seems to block tomorrow from your view.
Psychiatrists assure us that physical proportions have nothing to do with failure, success or happiness... unless you wish them to. Many successful people have been undersized as Napoleon and Julius Caesar; others have been successful though of ungainly physical proportions; still others, physically handicapped or deformed, have accomplished wonderful things in this life. Love, success, fame, health and prosperity come to the fat and the thin, the tall and short. No size or shape can lay claim to the lodestone of talent or luck.

Think tall. Regardless of your height... walk tall.
reaching for that extra inch

One writer has said to make one's peace with a mirror is both elegant and a gesture of mental hygiene but to free the mind from concern with the body is to the personality what the cutting of earbound cords is to the balloon, both can then soar freely in the upper air. It isn't one's stature but one's attitude that makes for happiness or discontent so, particularly if you are short of build.
Think tall. By stretching out your thoughts a bit.
You walk with freer stride.
Quite soon you'll find
Your shoulders squared unconsciously to fit
That larger suit you've tailored for your mind.

Press Paragraphs—

consumption was estimated at 4,800,000 pairs.
Last January the quartermaster service bought five million pounds of oleo at 25 1/2 cents per pound. At the very same time the department of agriculture was selling five and one-half million pounds of surplus butter to Italy at 15 cents per pound.

From December 31 of 1950 to April 30, 1951, civilian employees on the federal payroll had increased by 224,440—this means the government has been filing new positions at the rate of 1,870 per day, every day in the month. And recently an official of the new Defense Transportation Administration reported that that agency is "stockpiling stenographers against the needs of the future."

These figures are astounding, aren't they? And they must be accurate, for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce would not release them if they had not been checked.
Wasteful spending can get us into a terrible fix, unless we citizens do something about it. Private business cannot operate on such spending, and neither can the federal government.
The trouble is: It's so much easier to spend other people's money than it is our own.

Fill 'er Up!
Once more the country is in the midst of the vacation season. And this summer, according to the American Petroleum Institute, more than 1,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline will be consumed by American motorists in one of the greatest vacation travel spurges in history. The total of vacation travel by motor car for the three months of June, July and August alone is expected to reach 15,000,000,000 miles. And for the whole of 1951 the vacation speedometer will probably roll clear around to 30,000,000,000 miles an increase of almost 60 per cent since 1940.

This is good news for the country's 200,000 service stations, which are now enjoying their business period of the year. And when the motorist drives into one of those stations and says "Fill 'er up" he might give a brief moment's thought to the vast and complex organization which makes it possible for that order to be executed as a simple matter of routine. Keeping the service stations supplied with adequate amounts of gasoline and other oil products is a major problem for the oil industry in the summer-time. Demand skyrockets on regular highways, and increases many times above normal in mountain, seashore and woodland retreats. But to the oil industry, meeting and solving such problems is just part of the day's work. The gas and the lubricants are always there, to be delivered instantly when the customer drives in and asks for them.

It has been observed that "never before in history have Americans had such power at their fingertips, through the number of cars owned and the quantity of motor fuel available to them." Fill 'er Up!

criticism and truths can still be presented to the public. We take it for granted that this freedom will continue. But the present Presidential regime realizes the value of the press and its ability to mould and measure public opinion and reaction. Every day some new measures are introduced that would place newspapers under governmental censorship. So far these measures have been defeated or are amended to become worthless. A free press means a free people. We must remain alert to keep it so.

Texan Patrols Europe For "Care" Program

A former West Pointer from Texas, who missed out on his career as an army officer, is now directing what is perhaps the largest direct relief operation ever undertaken by a single American agency within an individual country.

He is Fredrick B. Cordova, Jr., 30, of 245 Beatrice Ave., San Antonio. His mother, Mrs. F. B. Cordova, resides at 2700 14th Street, Port Arthur. Fred Cordova is supervising the distribution of 36 million pounds of U. S. surplus foods among the people of Yugoslavia, to keep them going until their next crop can be harvested.

All six federated republics of Yugoslavia are suffering from near-famine as the result of an unprecedented drought last year which destroyed most of the country's food supplies.

Fred Cordova's job, in which he is assisted by a team of six CARE field observers who are touring the country in jeeps, is to see that these American surplus foods reach the people without any political, religious, or other consideration than that of actual need.

Special CARE ration cards have been issued, entitling each recipient, whose need has been ascertained jointly by Yugoslav welfare authorities and CARE Mission personnel, to two pounds of powdered milk and one pound of egg powder per month, the equivalent of eight quarts of fresh milk and three dozen eggs.

Hospitals, orphanages, children's homes, old-age homes, and expectant mothers, young children, invalids and people in especially hard hit communities are on the preferential list for these U. S. surplus foods. Currently, the recipients number well over two million people. Before this particular CARE operation ends it has been estimated by Cordova, an additional two millions will have benefited from this aid of the American people.

To make the continuation of this aid possible, CARE is appealing to the American public for contributions. A single donation of but $5.35 guarantees the delivery of 300 pounds of surplus food, providing supplementary CARE rations for a hundred people for a full month, to any part of Yugoslavia. Contributions may be sent to CARE, 20 Broad St.

FREDRIK B. CORDOVA

New York 5, or any CARE local office.

Cordova had considerable experience in CARE operations in other European countries to fall back on when he was transferred to Yugoslavia to tackle the gigantic undertaking there. He joined the CARE staff in 1946, shortly after graduating from West Point. A physical disability kept him from following the army career for which he had prepared himself. His first CARE assignment was as Mission chief in France. In 1947 he was transferred to Germany, as Mission chief for the British Zone, with headquarters in Bremen. Last February he was assigned to Yugoslavia, to administer the CARE surplus distribution there. "I think I have seen more willing cooperation by officials here than in any other European country I know," he said.

Cordova has also found the Yugoslav people "the warmest and friendliest I've ever met."

This impression is heightened by his frequent field trips to various parts of the country. "The instant they learn you are an American, they are all pressing their hospitality on you."

The reason for it all, Cordova believes, is that "the Yugoslav people are well aware that the U. S. surplus food which CARE is bringing them is a gift from the American people, a gift that comes without any strings attached. Nothing is asked in return for the food.

At first the people can barely believe that to be true. When they begin to understand, they literally brim over with gratitude and friendship. CARE is paving the way for a better understanding between the people."

Beeson Cleaners To Open Monday

Re-opening of Beeson Dry Cleaners has been scheduled Monday, according to owner Jim Beeson.

The Dry Cleaning establishment has been closed this month while remodeling operations have been in progress. The entire building was rebuilt. A plate glass front is now being installed. Next door to the cleaning shop in the same building will be a cafe.

Beeson has advised that opening day for the cleaning shop is also double stamp day for Gunn Bros. Thrift Stamps on all clothing brought into the shop.

In addition to the new front the cleaning shop has had all machinery installed by the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers and it has been arranged so as to permit maximum efficiency.

Abilene Football Star Establishes New Passing Mark

John (Model T) Ford, throwing quarterback star for the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys, superseded Sammy Baugh's major college record of 267 pass completions last season, the 1951 NCAA Football Guide reveals.

Ford's 111 completions last fall brought his four year total for the Cowboys to 281, not counting some post-season performances.

The Breckenridge, Texas, star, who signed to play with the Philadelphia Eagles, helped pass Warren B. Woodson's Cowboys to the number two position in the nation last year in pigskin throwing.

The Cowboys were listed second behind another Texas eleven Southern Methodist University.

Ford was second in overhead yardage in 1950 with 1,777 yards, which ranks as the third best passing figure of all time.

Ford's 111 completions last fall was the sixth best effort in the nation and enabled him fifth nationally in total offense with a mark of 1,720 yards.

The 23-year-old, 160-pound star completed 26 touchdown passes in the 1949 campaign, an achievement that surpasses anything on record. While at the Cowboy school, Ford pitched five touchdowns in three games, against Wichita, Loyola, (Los Angeles), and Trinity.

His best effort in single games was established against Arizona State of Tempe, 1950 top offensive team, when he completed 26 of 25 passes, and against Trinity University, 1949, when he passed for a total of 339 yards.

made a speech on the floor of the senate in which he accused the federal government, through the supreme court, of "robbery" in its effort to seize control of the oil-rich submerged lands and declared that the supreme court decision awarding tidelands to the national government casts a cloud over the private property of every citizen.

One of the things that should be taught to every car driver is that of courtesy. Following the shower Monday evening, I went out toward Lakeview with Jim Beeson. When we reached Indiar Creek, the bridge held a lot of water, and while crossing it slowly, we met another car coming "90-to-nothing." The driver did not attempt to slow, as all cautious drivers should do when crossing any bridge, whether it has water on it or not. When his car hit the water, a great shower was created, blinding our windshield. Had it not been that we were going along slowly, we might have hit the bridge and had trouble. Then, the same thing happens every time it rains in Memphis. Regardless of whether one is walking or driving a car he is spattered by the discourteous one's car. Wonder if such drivers are as careless around their homes, and just willy nilly enter their own homes or neighbors' homes with mud on their feet? Same thing as the way they drive!

Mrs. Joe T. Rasco, Miss Gertrude and June Rasco have returned home from a trip by train to the Northwest. Their route included Pueblo, Colo. through the Royal Gorge to Grand Junction where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Q. E. Posey, their daughter, Mrs. Teeter and son.

From Grand Junction to Salt Lake City they rode the California Zephyr which carries 5 vista dome cars and all seats are reserved on this train. From Salt Lake City they went to Pocatello, Ida., Pendleton, Ore., and Sunnyside, Wash., where they stopped to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rasco and Leslie Rasco, former residents of Memphis.

From Sunnyside they went to Portland Ore., then down the Shasta route to San Francisco, to Salt Lake City again and over the Union Pacific to Denver and home.

In Portland, San Francisco and Salt Lake City they took sight seeing tours of the cities, seeing many wonderful places in each city including the famous organ recital which is given every day in the Tabernacle in Temple Square in Salt Lake City.

They were gone three weeks and report a most enjoyable trip.
