Shepperd Stresses Citizenship In Talk

John Ben Shepperd is going to check up on me to see if we are citizens, but the real test of character, is how far we go without being pushed, Tex-retary of State John Ben Shepperd told members of the Rotarians and Business and Professional Women's Clubs at a luncheon here Tuesday.

JOHN BEN SHEPPERD

Shepperd spoke in Memphis on "Challenge of Citizenship." He told Memphians that great government is always based on somebody's irresponsibility, waste, and socialistic tendencies. He said that government should not exist in government, but in the way we govern ourselves.

March Of Dimes Fund Here Shy Of County Goal

The March of Dimes for 1952 in Texas continues under a new cloud of gloom, unusually high for this time of year, and as the last week draws to a close the total of money contributed here in Hall County amounts to only a little more than $1,000.

Chairman R. C. Lemons pointed out that this is the smallest contribution for the county as a whole in all the years that polo has conducted its March of Dimes. Reports from other cities in Texas are that contributions are falling short and an extra effort is being made to solicit all the contributions that are available.

Local Man Is Selected By VFW

James M. Carroll of Estelline was selected Saturday as the Tri-State area's candidate for the $50,000 farm near Moses Lake, Wash., which is to be given to the nation's most worthy veteran through a project co-sponsored by the VFW.

Walter W. Brown, commander of Golding-Meadows Post No. 1475, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced Saturday that Carroll had been selected by a five-man committee which studied applications from 154 veterans in this area.

"Carroll was selected after the committee considered applications for four and one-half hours. He is a disabled veteran, has a family and was born and raised on a farm. We believe he'll rate high among the other 47 candidates from throughout the nation," Brown said.

The gift farm, which is located 120 miles southwest of Spokane, will be awarded during a celebration, May 22-June 1, when irrigated water is first delivered to the million-acre development from Grand Coulee Dam.

DOG CREDITED WITH SAVING TWO LIVES HERE

The devoted loyalty of a mongrel dog to his master was never more evident than it was here in Memphis Monday night as fire broke out in the Noble Speed home, 519 North Tenth Street.

Sport, a part Collie dog that the Speed boy, Larry, got soon after they moved to Memphis a few months ago, is credited with saving the lives of his master, Larry and Mrs. Noble Speed.

Fire broke out in the Speed home early Monday morning, somewhere around 4 a. m. Sport knew the fire was burning but his sleeping master and Mrs. Speed were unaware that fire had broken out.

Sport kept after Larry and Mrs. Speed until he succeeded in awaking them enough to where Mrs. Speed became aware of the fire in their home.

Mrs. Speed left Memphis on the midnight train, Sunday, for Dallas and since he was gone, Mrs. Speed let the boy sleep in the front bedroom with her, and they decided to let the dog remain inside the house that night.

Firemen say the house and furnishings are almost a total loss. The fire started in the kitchen, evidently, from faulty wiring and spread over the house.

After the fire broke out it burned and melted part of the refrigerator and created a heavy chemical gas which filled the house.

Tech. President To Speak Here At C. of C. Banquet Next Thursday

Negro Woman Killed With Shotgun Wed.

A 35-year-old Negro woman was shot to death in a cotton field about 12 miles southwest of here late yesterday afternoon.

Joe Vance Oliver, a 42-year-old Negro, admitted the shooting and offered no resistance to arresting officers Jack Peabody and Bill Baten.

The Negro woman was identified as Mrs. Cordella Perry. She was the mother of three children and is survived by her husband.

Sheriff E. S. Morrison said Oliver gave arresting officers a 12-gauge, single barrel shotgun with which he admitted the shooting.

Coroner J. S. Grimes entered a verdict of death by gunshot. The woman was shot in the head, above the eyes.

The shooting took place around 3 p. m. when Oliver was going rabbit hunting. He said he passed near a cotton field where Mrs. Perry was pulling bolls. She stopped.

Members Warns Against Truck Road Damage

with the State Highway Department behind him. In all of his experience, Nabers said he had never seen the highways take such a beating as they have taken in the last three years.

Of the 3,360,000 vehicles registered in Texas, passenger cars cause negligible damage to the highways. Steady passenger traffic tends to wear down the surface of highways, but it is a slow, almost unnoticed process.

The heavily loaded trucks — which have recently been allowed larger tonnage limits — work on the base of the highways.

It is the base of the highways which causes big problems. Highway work here in Hall county to be done during 1952 by the State Highway department includes the Mulberry bridge road to the river, and eventual construction of the bridge. Rehabilitation of highway 287, one mile north of Estelline and various other general repair and maintenance work.

Electronic Weather Eye Turns On Lights

Did you ever think the time would come when electronics would be used to turn the street lights on here in Memphis? Believe it or not, that time has already arrived.

A question on why the street lights did not come on a Sunday night or two ago led to the discovery of the new electronic "weather eye" that West Texas Utilities Company has installed here in Memphis.

Mac Wilson, local manager, took time off this week to explain how and why the device works. It is the same principal that is used to open doors to garages and in public buildings where you break an electronic beam—and a door opens.

This type of device was first used in 1933 at the Chicago Fair, Wilson explained. Since then it has been further developed and is now used practically all over the world.

By means of electronics, this weather eye, which is mounted in back of the West Texas Utilities plant here, is so set or adjusted that when the illumination surrounding it gets as low as 25,000 candlepower, it automatically releases a switch which turns on the street lights around town.

and the street lights come on all over town. Now, to this matter of street lights failing to be turned on a couple of Sundays back: Wilson explained that when light of any type, artificial or natural, is on the weather eye, to an extent of more than 25,000 candlepower—it will not operate to turn on the street lights.

It seems on that Sunday night someone at WTU left some office lights on and these illuminated the weather eye to such an extent that it never got dark enough around it to turn on the lights.

And, to show how sensitive the weather eye is, Wilson stated that sometimes when the moon is full and extra bright it furnishes sufficient illumination to the area around the weather eye to prevent the normal function of the device.

This same electronic system is used to turn on airplane beacon lights around the country, and to turn on runway lights at airports. The local manager stated that the weather eye has been in operation about four weeks and it has only failed to operate twice. Both times, artificial light kept it from throwing the switches which turn on the street lights.

"This is quite a streetlight system for a town as small as Memphis," Wilson added, "usually the cost and installation of such a system makes it too expensive for towns as small as this."

However, it is a labor-saving device, he added, and anything now-a-days that saves labor saves money. (Continued on Page 8)

Seventh, Eighth Grade Favorites Presented

The Journalism Class would like to present two more of the Class Presidents at this time. They are Lee Waddill, 8th grade, and Janice Smith, 7th grade.

Lee Waddill the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Waddill was born in Amarillo, Texas. The 5 ft. 5 inch blue eyed, brown haired boy is the president of the 8th grade.

Activities Lee participates in are baseball, basketball, and football. He plans to attend S. M. U. and become a building contractor after finishing school.

Lee's biggest thrill was when he lettered on the Pee Wee team.

Janice, the 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Smith, 1195 Montgomery was elected president of her seventh grade class this year.

Janice has brown hair and her hazel eyes are usually reflecting a smile.

When Janice isn't studying for her history class, she might be found in the kitchen preparing a delectable dish of fresh fish shrimp, quail or salad.

Another of her favorites is football, because of its roughness and excitement. A pastime that ranks high with Janice is watching John Barrymore Jr. or Jane Powell perform on the screen, or listen to a recording of "The Loveliest Night of the Year."

Janice certainly didn't lose out in receiving honors this year. She was also elected Halloween Queen Candidate for the 7th grade.

She is an accomplished musician and desires to be a concert pianist after majoring in music at TSCW.

These two were elected by secret ballot which placed six students in the run-off. They were Jo Anne Webster, Senior; Donna Webb, junior; Anne Shankle, Carl Lee, Senior; Max Kennedy, Senior; and Raymond Whitten.

This is a highly coveted honor as it is elected by the entire student body from the 7th through the 12th grades and is based on the student's personality and his friendliness to his fellow students.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Only about one third of one percent of the approximately 17 million hunters and gun lovers in America took part in registered target shoots during 1950. Why so few?

In an effort to dig out the reason Robert Uhl, prominent eastern sportsman, queried scores of hunters in various parts of the country. Some of the reasons they give for not taking up some Local target-shooting layouts are non-existent or too inaccessible. (This reason overshadowed all others.) They don't know how to get started. Not enough fun. Too expensive.

Now there are a great many advantages in stimulating interest in target shooting. It would make shooting a year-round sport. It would make better shots, because there isn't a better way for a hunter to improve his skill. Wildlife conservation is served because more skillful shooters means fewer cripples. Better observance of safety rules would result from shooting at target clubs, where good safety habits are instilled by instruction, example and practice.

What can be done to get more sportsmen interested in target shooting? Uhl suggests that first, we provide more shooting grounds. Why don't state and local governments provide public target-shooting grounds? Public golf courses and tennis courts are wide-spread. And there are over five times as many hunters as golfers.

To make target shooting more fun is a simple matter. There are a host of interesting variations now in use, but not widely adopted. These include grouse and quail walks, running deer, surprise targets at unknown ranges.

He is your newspaper publisher! He has as much privacy as a goldfish. His every act is subject to the closest scrutiny. He is continually before the people of his community. Leadership is his responsibility. It is his duty to direct, to guide, to inform.

His product reflects his community. His newspaper, YOUR NEWSPAPER, can be no better than the community wants it to be. A live newspaper reflects a live community. A well-patronized newspaper is indicative of an alert, aggressive community.

1952 Ford Trucks On Display Friday

New models of the 1952 Ford truck line will be placed on display at Foxhall Motor Company Friday, it was announced today by Eddie Foxhall, owner.

Five exclusive truck engines, most powerful in Ford history, drive the 275 power combinations in the new line, Foxhall said.

The wide choice of engines, which meet 97 per cent of all modern "speed hauling" needs includes three V-8 and two six-cylinder types. Horsepower ranges from 101 to 155, and torque ranges from 185 pounds feet to 284.

Three of the power units are completely new overhead valve engines, featuring high compression and low friction. They are the 101-horsepower "Cost Clipper Six," the "Cargo King" 145-horsepower V-8 and the "Cargo King" 155-horsepower V-8.

The other two are more powerful versions of the Ford truck engines—the 106-horsepower V-8 and the 112-horsepower Big Six—both L-head types.

They were developed by Ford engineers over a four-year period and have undergone the most grueling tests possible. In more than 1,500,000 miles of road testing, the new engines showed high performance and a fuel saving up to 14 per cent.

The Cost Clipper Six is manufactured at Ford's new and completely modern engine plant at Cleveland, Ohio, and the Cargo King V-8's are made in a big new plant at the Rouge in Dearborn.

"Our five great power units offer improvements and features exclusive with Ford," Foxhall said. "These include aluminum auto-thermic pistons, full-pressure lubrication, free-turn valves and the Ford Power Pilot carburetion-ignition system which gives the most power with the least gasoline consumption."

The compression ratio for the three new engines is 7-to-1, and for the 106-horsepower V-8 and the 112-horsepower Big Six, it is 6.8-to-1.

Ford truck engines boast an industry "first" in offering precision-molded improved cast alloy crankshafts, camshafts and exhaust valves. The Cost Clipper Six and two Cargo King V-8's also have integral valve guides, full-flow oil filters, timing chain drive and all-steel cylinder head gaskets.

Ford engineers designed new combustion chambers for the new engines and shortened the piston stroke approximately to equal the cylinder bore. Shortening of the stroke lowered the piston travel, thereby reducing friction between the pistons and cylinder walls and cutting thermal losses. The result was a marked increase in usable horsepower.

The new crankshafts and camshafts are lighter than forged parts and provide superior wearing surfaces. The new exhaust valves resist warping and bending under the high temperatures encountered in truck engine operation.

Engineers reported that use of the full-flow oil filter in nationwide road tests cut cylinder bore wear up to 40 per cent and ring wear up to 62 per cent.

The new V-8's have five main bearings with copper-lead surfaces which are machined to permit a precision selective fit that cuts normal tolerances in half.

NEW TRUCKS—The new 1952 Ford trucks will be on display Friday at Foxhall Motor Company. Above is pictured the new Ford Series F-1 pickup. Powered by the 106-horsepower V-8 engine or the 101-horsepower Clipper Six.

The cylinder block and crankcase of the new engines are cast in one piece and extend below the center of the crankshaft. This construction provides rigidity, facilitates oil pan removal and permits tight sealing of the pan and main bearings.

Series F-1 through F-5 trucks and the F-5 and F-6 school buses are powered either by the 106-horsepower V-8 or the Cost Clipper Six, at the customer's option.

Answer To Farmers Going To College

STATION — Ever since there has been an agricultural college, people have been asking these two questions: "Why go to college to learn to farm?" and "Why do agricultural graduates not go back to the farm?" The first time an attempt was made to find a reasonable answer. That answer is contained in a bulletin issued by the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.

Boys And Girls Jr. High Tournament

A Junior High Basketball Tournament of Memphis, coached by the Children, won first place in boys and girls division in their own Invitational Tournament held here last weekend. Memphis boys won over Wellington cage squad 35 to 20 in the final games. The consolation bracket, Essex won both divisions as both boys and girls won. The girls defeated the Kirkland Cagettes in a see-saw battle 19-18 and boys defeated Lakeview 43-20.

tural Graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas." Its author is Dean Charles N. Shepardson of the A and M School of Agriculture. To ferret out the facts and figures, Dean Shepardson mailed a questionnaire in April, 1950, to the 4,702 A and M agricultural graduates whose current addresses were available. By Sept. 1 replies had been received from 1,927 graduates—about 41 per cent of those to whom the questionnaire was mailed.

The replies seem to constitute the best answers available to the age-old questions. The answers are:

1. It is profitable to go to college to learn to farm. A and M graduates now engaged in full-time farming reported an average annual income of $8,450 as compared to the $2,800 average for all Texas farmers.

2. The majority do go back to the farm as owners or operators as soon as they can accumulate sufficient capital to make this possible. Of the group answering the questionnaire, 44.1 per cent are farm owners or operators. The percentage is lower in the group of recent graduates and increases to 68.2 per cent in the group who graduated before 1920.

Not taken into consideration in the figures, but possibly having some significance thereto, is the fact that several of the courses offered in the School of Agriculture are not designed primarily to prepare young men for farming. This is apparent from the list of courses offered: Agricultural administration, agricultural education, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal husbandry, poultry husbandry, entomology, floriculture and landscape architecture, horticulture, range and forestry and wildlife management. However, 78.5 per cent of those included in the study are engaged in some phase of agricultural work or related business. Of this group 18.6 per cent are engaged in full-time farming, 28.1 per cent in full or part-time farming. Forty-seven per cent are engaged in professional agriculture, 12.9 in business related to agriculture and 21.5 in fields of endeavor unrelated to agriculture, including those serving in the show somewhat lower percentage of farmers than those graduating in more prosperous years. Those graduates who now are farming appear to be farming better than those in other occupations. While the average income of all agricultural graduates is approximately $6,000 per year the average for the full-time farmers is $8,450. This compares with an average income of $2,800 for all Texas farmers; $7,650 for those graduates who are land owners, including the part-time farmers; $6,750 for those in non-related business; $5,900 for those in business related to agriculture, and $4,800 for those in professional agricultural work. The graduates report their greatest hindrances to progress as being lack of capital, lack of experience and inadequate training and vocational indecision, in that order. The greatest benefits received from their college training were listed as technical foundation, ability to find information, practical training and development of self-confidence. A large percentage of the agricultural graduates of A and M College continue in some phase of agricultural work, with more than two-thirds of them ultimately becoming farm or ranch owners or operators.

son for delay. Other reasons included military service and lack of experience. The interval since graduation and the economic conditions at time of graduation appeared to have an influence in whether a man is now engaged in farming or related business, or in professional work. In general the longer the interval since graduation the larger the percentage now engaged in farming. The depression groups of 1920-24 and 1930-34

the first week in Feb. and the second day of those versed in folklore steeped in superstition, as the disbelievers voice as to whether or not the important shadow of a certain rodent will be seen or not the talltale shadow on the snow means winter's end and spring time's show. If there's shadow on the snow, the cold will stay, the snow won't go.

elling it all down to plain language, according to legend, on the second day of each February little animal technically cataloged as "Marmota Monax" but known to us as the groundhog, peeked out of his hole, or whistled emerges from his winter sleeping quarters and surveys the weather situation. If the sky is overcast and he fails to see his shadow, winter is supposed to be over. If, however, he copies his ungainly silhouette to the ground, back to his sack he goes and winter continues for weeks longer.

Whether or not there's a ounce of truth to this folk tale, it lends a little spice to the otherwise dull and dreary weather forecast. It must be like a plum in the pudding of the weatherman who's food for thought is usually so prosaic. Maybe the unsuspecting little ground hog was the inspiration for the cliché, "Coming events, cast their shadows before"

While the shadow of the groundhog is important only one day each year, man's shadow, his influence for good or evil, has far reaching significance throughout the span of a life time. From the time man, as a toddler, stands in the sunshine of infancy with life stretching before him, his shadow is as great or as small as he is great or small.

As man grows from infancy into young manhood and maturity and the sun climbs toward the noontide of his life, each time he stretches his arms to lend a helping hand to some one in need, his shadow is increased as is his influence for good to his fellowman enlarged and magnified. At the noontime of his life, when the sunshine of successful achievement is directly overhead, his shadow lays strong and dark at his feet. Then it is that he stands straight and tall for the good things in life. He has arrived and his satisfaction in a job well done abides for the ensuing years of middle life.

Then, when, arm-chair directions begin to take the place of active participation and memories keep him company as he dreams before the fire, his shadow lengthens behind him as at eventide. But Isaiah tells us, "And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land."

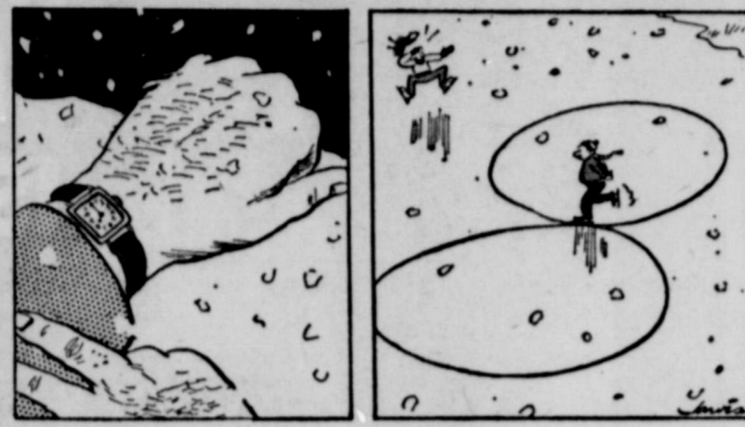

And, son, when man in his declining years is no longer able to stand in the sun that his shadow may be long, let him be fretful; remembering that along life's way his shadow of good influence has fallen across the paths of those who will follow after and carry on. Then it is that he can take comfort in the thought of a still greater shadow—the shadow of God's wings.

"How excellent is thy loving kindness, O'God! Therefore the children of men, put their trust under the shadow of thy wings". Ps. 36:7.

Olin Cooper, Candidate For Tax Office

Olin Cooper this week announced that he is a candidate for the office of tax-assessor-collector of this county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. In authorizing The Democrat to publish this announcement, he issued the following statement: "I respectfully submit my candidacy to the voters of Hall County for the office of tax assessor-collector subject to the July primaries. I was born and reared on a farm four miles west of Estelline, Tex. This is my first time to ask for any public office.

As you are fully aware, the office of tax assessor-collector is a most important one for the efficient function of county government. My training has been thorough and well founded. I have served as chief deputy tax assessor-collector here in Hall County under the past three officials. This is in addition to two years experience as tax collector of the Memphis Independent School District and four years of commercial banking. I am no stranger to the complex duties which comprise the efficient operation of this office. I shall employ only the best qualified and most courteous deputies.

"I shall greatly appreciate your support in the primaries this year and can only promise to operate this office in such a manner as to be of the greatest service to the people.

"I shall try to see all of the voters and ask that I receive your vote in the coming election. The support of every citizen of Hall County is sincerely solicited," he concluded.

Dear Friends:

John Deere Day will soon be here again; in fact, next Wednesday, Feb. 6. This is the day we look forward to having all our farmer friends here to be our guests and spend the day with us. There just isn't time to call on each of you personally. We have endeavored to mail invitations to each of you, but if you did not receive one, or have not been invited by one of our personnel, please consider this your personal invitation to attend. The picture show will start at 1:30 P.M. at the Ritz Theatre.

The feature picture, "Galahad Jones," starring Marjorie Lord, Richard Crane, Elizabeth Patterson and Jonathan Hale, is a top notch production—one which we are sure you will enjoy. We will also have several interesting and educational features on modern equipment and farming practices.

Don't forget the time—Free lunch at noon at our implement building, and the show at 1:30 at the Ritz Theatre. Come early! Bring the whole family and spend the day with us. Next Wednesday.

Mrs. John Andrews Entertains Members Of Wesleyan Guild

Mrs. John H. Andrews was hostess to members of the Wesleyan Guild on Thursday evening January 24, at her home, 221 N. 10th Street.

Mrs. Earl Hill gave another lesson of the series she is conducting on "The Family—A Christian Concern."

Members present were Meses A. Gidden, Perry Keyser, H. B. Bennett, Mable Lavender, D. D. Daffey, Rollo Davidson, W. P. Baten, Robert Spicer, John Fowler, Hester Bownds, David T. McVey, Earl Hill, Clinton Kulp, Andy DeWees and Misses Dean Gouddy and Dorothy Gowan.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening, January 31, in the home of Mrs. Ruby Compton, 1517 Main St., at 7:30 o'clock.

Atalantean Club Observes 24th Birthday With Breakfast In Pallmeyer Home Sat.

The S. B. Pallmeyer home was the scene of the Atalantean Club Birthday party Saturday morning, January 26th, 1952. On that gala occasion, the club celebrated its 24th anniversary. The L-shaped table was beautifully decorated with Spring flowers, bonnets and little white lambs with ribbons around their necks, to carry out the color scheme of yellow, blue, pink and violet. The two birthday cakes baked in the form of lambs were the center of attraction.

Following the invocation given by club president, Mrs. Edwin A. Smith Jr., members sang the club birthday song, which was written several years ago by Mrs. N. A. Hightower.

A most delicious breakfast was served by the social committee Mrs. Henry Foster, Mrs. H. J. Howell, Mrs. Earl Allen, Mrs. J. A. Odum, Mrs. N. A. Hightower and Mrs. J. W. Coppedge.

Mrs. O. I. Seale gave an inspiring talk on the topic "Dreams of Tomorrow" in which she stated that our dreams would be realized through our children. A beautiful tribute to our president was given by Mrs. Odum, which expressed the sentiments of the entire group.

All present were delighted with an unexpected visit from Miss Amy, famous teller from England. It was probably just coincidence that Mrs. C. R. Webster had been called out of the room a few minutes before Miss Amy arrived. She made character revelations and predictions of the future for members according to the month in which they were born.

Much to the surprise of the group, a tape-recording machine was uncovered. There can be many reminiscent scenes with the recording made of all the festivities.

The following members were present: Meses Earl Allen, J. W. Coppedge, Bill Cosby, W. C. Dickey, H. B. Estes, Henry Foster, John Fowler, N. A. Hightower, H. J. Howell, T. M. Isham, Claude Johnson, C. W. Kinslow, Ed Monzingo, J. H. Morris, J. H. Norman, J. A. Odum, Myrtis Phelan, S. B. Pallmeyer, O. I. Seale, Edwin A. Smith, Jr., Robert F. Spicer, C. R. Webster, D. A. Neeley, C. W. Broome, Misses Imogene King Gertrude Rasco.

Mrs. Byrdie Holland Hostess To Members Of Estelline Club

The Stitch and Clatter Club of Estelline met in the home of Mrs. Byrdie Holland Tuesday afternoon, January 22. Mrs. Clarence Morrison, president, presided.

During the business session Mrs. Holland reported the club had sent a box to Korea and also contributed $10.00 to the March of Dimes.

Refreshments were served to the following visitors, Mrs. Thelma Phillips and Mrs. Josie Hutchins and members: Meses Nellie Leary, Hattie Berryman, Clarine Morrison, Willie Richburg, Myrtle Butcher, Lura Eddleman, Jessie Orcutt, Gussie Mothershead, Gertrude Raley, Ruby Rapp, Zella Masterson, Myrtle Darby, Eula Adams, Edna Winkler, Ada Jones, Edna Power, Jewel Marcum, Mary Ellen Eddins, Beatrice Gardenhire, Erma Dean Nunley, Winnie Hutchins, and hostess, Mrs. Holland.

The next meeting is slated for February 12 in the home of Mrs. Winnie Hutchins.

Early Day Settler In Memphis Celebrates 80th Birthday Tues.

A. Baldwin, one of Memphis best known and loved early day settlers, celebrated his 80th birthday quietly at his home, 1223 Brice, Tuesday.

A Memphis resident for nearly half a century, Baldwin has contributed much to the growth and development of this community.

Born January 29, 1872 at Ramoth, Tex., to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Baldwin, he was one of seven sons and two daughters born to that family. At an early age he moved with his parents to Woods, Tex., and there grew to manhood.

On December 17, 1893, he was married to Miss Irene Walker. The newlyweds moved to Lagans-port, La., where Baldwin worked in the mercantile business. After 7 years, the young couple decided to return to Texas, choosing Tenaha as the location. In this new location, Baldwin continued in the mercantile business and also served as president of the bank in that city.

It was on July 5, 1907, that Baldwin with his family moved to Memphis. During the years he has lived here, he has had many interests and has been active in community affairs.

State Bank, assessed taxes for the city and county for six years, served as fuel administrator for Hall County for 2 years.

A Good Political Plank

From all the advance publicity already released about the forth-coming elections this year we haven't heard much said about the free-spending which has been going on the past several years.

We think that this would make a very good plank in some candidate's political platform.

It has been said that Russia never worries about the United States . . . they believe that they can destroy the United States by inducing us to spend ourselves to death.

People have laughed at this pretension, but, in the light of what has actually happened since the present administration has been in power, it isn't so funny.

We ARE spending ourselves to death.

We have given away almost 125 billion dollars worth of goods. This means 125 thousand million dollars, or the equivalent of two dollars for every second of time since Christ was born!

Or, in more modern terms, it means ten thousand dollars for every family in the United States living west of the Mississippi River.

The public debt of the United States is double that of all Europe. Think of it! The 150 million people of the United States have a government debt twice as large as that of all the governments of the 500 million people of Europe.

Now we are spending for politics. Quite apart from mink coats, freezers for free, favors through the R. F. C., and other gentle indications of executive leniency, is the planting of hundreds of thousands of federal employees in a number of states.

These thousands, with their families, helped elect Harry Truman in 1948, and they have more votes today than they had then. So the taxpayers' money is being spent to make sure that they continue to finance the creeping socialism that must eventually destroy our freedom.

Instead of fearing what Russia may or may not do, this country of ours should fear the whittling away of our own strength, the undermining of our own security by influence in authority of people friendly to Russian ideas who carry out the program of spending that Russia boasts will destroy us.

How futile it is fighting inflation by sitting on the lid of prices while we turn up the fire of inflationary causes underneath trying to control prices by edict while government spending continues to pour diluted dollars into the watered stream of purchasing power which has already stolen away more than half of our savings during the past ten years.

Among our citizens are those who still congenitally, short-sightedly laugh at the idea of the United States ever going down the drain, while the President boasts that the people will surely return him or his crowd to power.

But it is you and I, the taxpayers, the millions of workers who were encouraged to believe that only corporations and rich would pay the higher taxes, now know it is we who have to pay.

And worse, our children and children's children will be forced to labor for more than a hundred years to pay for the tune our piper now plays.

Well, it isn't funny when you know the facts. Perhaps it's time we changed the record.

RELIEF FOR
ASTHMA SUFFERERS
Quick relief usually comes from the first dose of this new formula which acts to relieve congestion. People who formerly suffered with frightening choking, coughing, wheezing asthma attacks speak of welcome relief after using ASMACOL.
ASMACOL costs $2.50, but considering the relief you will experience, the $2.50 it costs amounts to only a few pennies per dose.

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Throttling the Free Press
'It is scarcely news that President Truman hates the press. But it came as news to us that the Administration was within an inch of getting a throttling hold on the finances of a free press during the closing minutes of the last session of Congress. The legislative cause in question was contained in Senate 2170; it would have permitted the Administration to decide what constitutes 'reasonable' advertising expenses and to exclude from the 'cost of sales' any outlay deemed 'unreasonable.' The proposed legislation, tucked in an amendment' to an amendment, passed an absent-minded Senate by a 49 to 21 vote. It would have passed in the House of Representatives if John E. Lyle, Jr., of Corpus Christi, Texas hadn't spotted the danger in the legislation to the whole concept of free speech. Mr. Lyle, it seems to us, deserves an editorial garland in every newspaper and magazine in the land."

The greatest need of the government is men who can't be bought or sold. Take a look at Washington, then hold your nose.
—Pittsburg, Tex., Gaette

Never in history has the government of our country been so torn with corruption and crookedness. We expect men in high office to show some kind of decency and honesty. Instead, they might as well have come from skid row. They are crooks.

The most appalling thing about it is the failure of the President to make a public statement condemning the men who have betrayed their public trust.

Never, not once, has the President made a public remark against these men.

THE GREATEST CAR EVER BUILT IN THE LOW-PRICE

The big
1952 FORD

Out-rides them all!

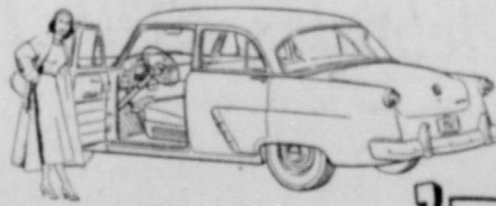

The '52 Ford gives you riding comfort such as you have never before experienced in a car in the low-price field. With front springs tailored to the weight of each model, longer rear springs and diagonally mounted shock absorbers, Ford's Automatic Ride Control gives you the smoothest, easiest ride of them all—a level ride on straightaways, an even keel on curves.

Out-sizes them all!

The '52 Ford has longer wheelbase, wider front tread and greater length. It's big outside and big inside, with spacious seating for six and the largest luggage locker of them all.

Full-Circle Visibility!

With narrower corner pillars, picture windows all around and a rear window that's 48% larger you have "all-direction" vision that adds to your enjoyment and your safety.

You can pay more but you can't buy newer or better!

Out-performs them all!

Ford's completely new 101-h.p. high-compression, low-revving Six, with free-turning overhead valves, is the new modern Six in the industry. And Ford's high-compression V-8, now 110 h.p., is the most powerful engine in the low-price field. Both are available with performance-proved Fordomatic Drive.

Exclusive Power Pilot Economy!

Both the new Ford Mileage Maker Six and the Standard V-8 have the exclusive Ford Automatic Power Pilot. This completely integrated carburetion-ignition-combustion system gives you high-compression "go" on "regular" gas.

New Coachcraft Bodies!

Ford's new Coachcraft Bodies are longer, stronger, distinctive in their modern beauty. They offer new built-tight construction which seals out dust, weather and noise. And Ford has more color and upholstery combinations than any other car in its field.

Out-values them all!

With such modern design and engineering features as new Flight-Style Control Panel, new Power-Pivot Clutch and Brake Pedals, new Center-Fill Fueling, and new counterbalanced hood and deck lid, Ford adds up to more dollars and cents value than any car in its price class!

"Out of thin air" comes the HIGHEST HORSEPOWER in Buick history

NOTE FROM YOUR BUICK DEALER:
 Presented here is the story of a great new engine development, as told by the men who did the job. We reprint the story here in its entirety — as we couldn't beat it if we tried.

No, we didn't have to build a new engine. We took Buick's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which makes the most of high compression. We drew on 12 patient years of Buick carburetion research.

And we came up with more might, more miles, from gas—right out of thin air, in more ways than one.

When you talk about "miles per gallon" you think of fuel, because that's what you buy. But air's free—and for every gallon of gasoline, a busy engine can gulp more than 8,000 gallons of air.

The problem is to deliver air in the right proportions, throughout the full range of speeds at which you drive.

A carburetor—big enough to supply the air needed at full throttle—can be wasteful in stop-and-go driving. A carburetor sized for thrift in city traffic literally smothers your engine when you really give it the gun.

So Buick engineers developed the Airpower carburetor — a four-barrel automatic — and here's how it works.

Loading along, two barrels are working, two stay closed. And you get a low-speed thrif and smoothness that's out of this world. As you pick up speed, the "stand-bys" come into play—feeding not just more gas, but more air too—so you keep getting maximum power from each drop of fuel.

You have 170 effortless horsepower when you need it—a tremendous reserve ready to go into instant action at the nudge of your toe.

You have the satisfaction of knowing that you get this power with a frugal use of gas. At 40 you use less gas than you formerly used at 30.

That's the story of Airpower carburetion in facts and figures straight from the factory. But statistics can't tell you the breath-taking joy of heading for new horizons in a great-powered new ROADMASTER.

When can you do that? Better come in soon. Lots of other folks are flocking into our showroom these days to see the greatest array of new Buicks we've had in years.

New 1952 Fords To Go On Display Here Fri.

Ford Division of Ford Motor Company today announced three completely new lines of Ford Passenger cars for 1952. Featuring Coachcraft bodies and more powerful engines, the new models are scheduled to go on display at Foxhall Motor Company Friday.

There are a total of 18 models in the three new lines—eight in the Mainline series, seven in the Customline series, and three in the Crestline series.

"Ford Mainline cars are for buyers chiefly interested in low-cost dependable transportation," explained Eddie Foxhall. "The Customline models incorporate many special refinements and conveniences, and the Crestline series features three luxurious body styles.

"These Fords for 1952—in every respect—are the finest cars we ever have had, and their advanced styling, engineering and quality features establish them as the leaders in the high-volume field," Foxhall said.

The new models are the result of Ford's far-reaching forward planning program, according to Foxhall.

Ford's styling identity is preserved in the low-wide lines of the hood and front-end of the new cars, centering around a triple-spinner, air-scoop grille arrangement. The new cars have curved one-piece windshields and rear windows, and their body lines sweep backward from extended headlights along the hood and higher fender line to the jet-tube taillight sections.

Among the 1952 models are three completely new utility passenger vehicles, one for each of the three lines of cars. The Ranch Wagon in the Mainline series is a two-door, six passenger unit, with all-steel body. In the Customline, there is the country Sedan, a four-door, eight passenger vehicle with all-steel body. In the

ON DISPLAY FRIDAY—The all-new 1952 Ford Customline Fordor Sedan features a completely new Ford Coachcraft body with new features and accessories. The 1952 models go on display Friday in the Foxhall Motor Company showroom.

Crestline is the Country Squire, another four-door, eight passenger model, with wood trim over the steel side panels.

All three of the utility units are quickly convertible for light hauling tasks. The rear seat of the Ranch Wagon folds into the floor, and in the two four door models, the center seat folds into the floor and the rearmost seat is removable.

Only Ford is the high-volume class offers both six-cylinder and V-8 engines, three transmissions, foam rubber padding on all passenger car seats, center fill gasoline fueling, suspended-type power pivot clutch and brake pedals and a dash-mounted master brake cylinder.

A greatly increased use of safety glass makes Fords much safer to drive, and all four-door models have rear-door safety locks as standard equipment.

The 1952 Fords are more maneuverable and have a more comfortable ride because of new "tailored-to-model" springs, a longer wheelbase, wider front tread, a more rigid frame and a new steering linkage with a higher turning ratio. The front tread is 58 inches and the wheelbase is 115 inches.

In addition, Ford is introducing the new 101-horsepower Ford Mileage Maker Six, a high-compression low-friction engine produced after four years of intensive research and testing.

Both Ford engines are designed to operate on regular gasolines and embody many features found only in more costly cars, such as aluminum autotermic pistons full-pressure lubrication, free-turning valves and weather-tight ignition.

Ford Coachcraft bodies feature weather-and-dust-tight all-steel construction, automatic posture control seats, curved front and rear glass, new insulation and sealing, curved flight-style instrument panels, and insulated body bolts which dampen noise and vibrations between chassis and the passenger area.

The luggage compartment contains more than 25 cubic feet of loading space. Counter-balancing springs help to raise the luggage compartment deck lid and the hood and to hold them open for servicing or loading. The deck lid hinges are side-mounted to prevent interference with luggage.

A range of 10 two-tone exterior body combinations is available for closed car models, and there are 12 single body colors, all with matching and harmonizing trim and upholstery, adding up to more than 80 combinations.

The curved instrument panel blends into the doors in the cockpit styling of the driver's compartment.

"The House of Better Values"

The Call of TEXAS HIGHWAY

Yours for the taking ----

Everything you buy—everything you sell—rolls on wheels over gravel, blacktop or concrete roads in a billion-dollar system which Texas has built in the last 35 years.

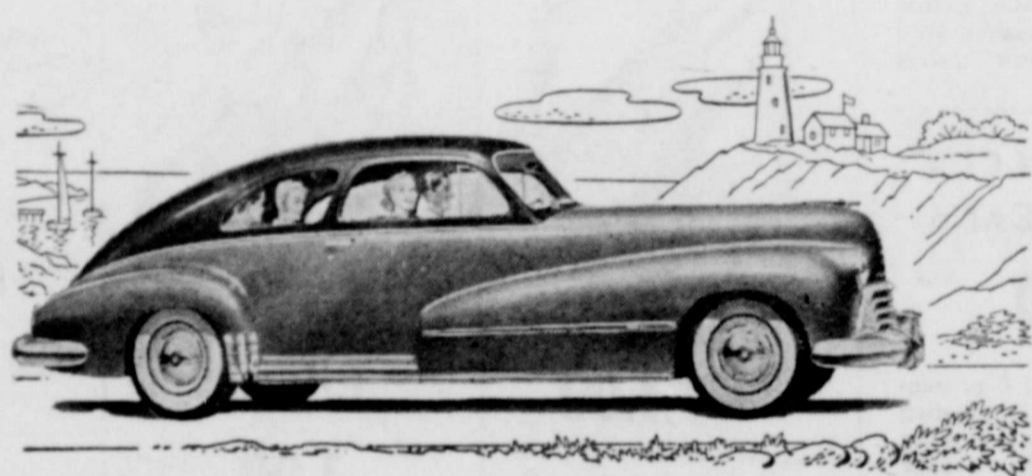

Our highways are like endless belts, which carry 89 per cent of all our food products to their first market. Eighty-five per cent of all the people who travel from city to city use these highways. School buses carry one child out of every four to and from school.

The Texas Highway Commission this year observes its 35th anniversary of integrated road building in the state. This group, which always has been headed by outstanding leaders in Texas, has done a remarkable job of building a billion-dollar system. Its established policies have given it an enviable record throughout the nation for its soundness and efficiency. It is a highway department any state can be proud of.

State
Highway
Week
Jan. 27-
Feb. 2

The job of building highways is not finished, however. We've come out of the mud, with a good road to every farm and ranch area of Texas, and with an arterial system to connect it with the main thoroughfares of the nation.

Our highway officials know what our problems are. In cooperation with county and city officials, engineers have been able to make traffic studies to show where the greatest needs exist. But they must have more money with which to carry on the work.

Today we are spending $119 million on highways, and one-fourth of it goes to maintenance. To get the job done, Texas needs another $100 million a year for building roads. They are your roads.

The rapid increase in the number of automobiles, trucks and buses, however, has brought greater demands for more and more improved roads—roads that are safe in width, modern in construction, and that will stand the wear and ear of the tremendous traffic load they must bear.

Highways are becoming congested and unsafe. They are wearing out every year. Texas must have a program that will eliminate the new hazards brought on by speed and tonnage. We must eliminate city bottlenecks, but at the same time we cannot neglect the roads that serve rural areas.

Work through your local officials and your Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee. Know what highway needs are, and then do something about them.

Notes-

out Memphis, Hall County

By C. L. L.

Another report on cotton! The number of bales ginned so far is still climbing—we may reach 50,000 yet. As of January 28, 1951, 48,971 bales had been ginned in Hall County. This may be a better year than any people figured.

Enjoyed a good speech Tuesday when we heard John Benner talk at the Rotary, Lions and B&PW clubs luncheon. He said one thing which impressed me very much—"We must rid the fallacious idea that ties is no life for a lady or a man, and put more ladies gentlemen in it!" He also added some good advice that we ought to stop getting onto government and starting into it. We'll probably hear a lot more of this young man in the days years to come.

Plans are progressing at the First Methodist church where the Board of Stewards and Church officials are making plans to construct an educational building. They have already met with architects.

Remember one week from tonight, the big Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development banquet. Tech President Dr. Wiggins will be the guest speaker.

Checked with Tax Collector Coppedge and the poll tax drive sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce seems to be helping. Coppedge reported about 2100 poll taxes had been sold as of Monday.

A reminder now is almost too late, for today, Thursday is the last day. If you haven't paid your yet, if you can get a letter in the post office with Jan. 31 post mark on it, you can still get the poll tax by mail. Be sure to include in the letter your age, years in county, state, home address, occupation, birthplace, race and your check for $1.75.

Of all forms of corruption, that in government is the worst. And there are many kinds of corruption which are so subtle as to be beyond the reach of the law. The only defense is the honor, integrity and moral standards of the men who we elect and appoint to office.

Well, the Mayor and Mac Wilson got me straightened out on the street light situation! It was real interesting too. West Texas Utilities Company installed a new Weather Eye which automatically turns the street lights on each night.

It makes a rather interesting story, you'll find a feature story about it elsewhere in this issue.

I'll be glad when they get the clock at the First National Bank to running again. I'm late half the time now because I look at it so much to see what time it is. You never know how much you get used to something until it doesn't work or someone takes it away.

Jake Hancock from out at Lakeview was to be in the calf scramble at the Houston Fat Stock Show this week. Hope he came out a winner. County Agent W. B. Hooser is also in Houston this week.

Noticed a sign over in the County Superintendent's office this week: "There is as much horse sense today as ever, but it is mostly horses that have it!"
That's pretty apropos this day and time.

Another sign of growth in our community, the Chamber of Commerce reports about 16 new memberships, more than they added during 1951.
It is always a good sign when new businesses open in a community.

Arthur Gidden Enters Race For County Judge

Arthur Gidden this week authorized The Memphis Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office of County Judge, subject to the action of the democratic primaries. Mr. Gidden's statement to county voters is as follows: "TO: THE CITIZENS OF HALL COUNTY, TEXAS.

"I take this method of announcing my candidacy for County Judge of Hall County, and soliciting your support in my behalf. "The office which I seek is certainly one of the most important offices to be filled in the coming primary, for the reason that it handles the business of the whole county and together with the Commissioners Court, directs the expenditure of large sums of Glenn Carlos reported that the sewer cleaning is making progress. Most of the old sewer lines in the business section have been cleaned and workmen will get to the residential sections this week.

The reported everything from sand, rocks, bottles and all, removed from the sewer lines.

One of the best jokes making the rounds lately comes from Herb Shrinier, on the tax scandals: "I know why they have to keep raising our taxes. The government ain't been gettin' the money."

"I have lived in the county for 45 years and to those who know me, there is little I can say regarding my qualifications, for the reason I have already made my record here. For the benefit of those I do not know, I will say that at all times I have tried to actively support all enterprises that appeared to be for the welfare of the county. My business experience for over 30 years related to the operation of the Plaska gin and my farm. The experience I have gained in business has taught me the value of the tax dollar and if elected to this office I will certainly try to see that the county gets a dollars worth of service or materials for each dollar of tax money I spend.

I promise you further, an honest administration which will sincerely try to cooperate with the other members of the Commissioners Court and with the law enforcement officers of the county. I will do everything in my power to merit your support to make our county a better place in which to live and raise our children.
"I sincerely solicit your vote and your influence.

Mrs. Pat Johnson, Recent Bride, Is Complimented With Shower Thursday

Mrs. Pat Johnson, who before her recent marriage was Miss Marice Laine Cottle, was honored last Thursday evening with a bridal shower. The affair was held in home of Mrs. Jay Petty, 417 11th St., and sharing hostess duties with Mrs. Petty were Meses Jerry Wright, Ted Graham, Bob Gillespie, Harold Smith, Kenneth Malone, Dick Jones, Lewis Lester, Horace Leggett, Harry Aspgren and Misses Grozella Hagin and Ima Joyce Evans.

The guests registered in the bride's book presided over by Miss Ima Joyce Evans. Mrs. Lewis Lester presented them with miniature wedding rings tied with blue and white ribbons, the bride's chosen colors.

The dining table was covered with a maderia cut-work cloth and centered with a beautiful floral arrangement of white and green.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a white gardenia corsage and pink carnation corsages were given Mrs. Cottle and Mrs. Johnson.

A program was presented consisting of a reading by Margaret Ann Massey, two accordion solos by Helen Kulp, and the concluding number was a clever skit led by Mrs. Harry Aspgren who selected four ladies from among those present to take part in a contest. The winner of this contest was judged by the applause of the audience and was elected "Homemaker Queen of the Evening." Consolation prizes were brought in by little Donna Petty and awarded to the "losers," Mrs. Kenneth Malone, Mrs. Jerry Wright and Mrs. Lewis Lester. Little Johnny Sommers then entered with the golden crown which he carried on a blue and white satin pillow. After Mrs. Johnson was crowned "Homemaker Queen" by Mrs. Aspgren, the french doors into an adjoining room were opened to disclose a long table, covered in blue, which held a large array of beautifully wrapped packages. A large blue ribbon banner was imprinted in gold with the words, "Marice Laine and Pat."

The honoree was assisted in opening her gifts by her mother, Mrs. A. J. Cottle and his mother, Mrs. J. W. Johnson. Among the gifts opened and displayed by the bride were a chest of silver, pottery dishes, electric mixer, automatic toaster and coffee maker and an electric iron with a steam attachment and crystal besides many other lovely and useful gifts.

Refreshments of angel cake and fruit punch were served by the hostesses to those attending.
