3 INJURED IN WRECK TUES. NITE

Three persons were injured, one of them critically, in a car-tractor accident about 7:30 p. m. Tuesday five and a half miles west of Lakeview on Highway 256.

Booth Injured
Joe Eldridge Booth, 17, of Lesley, suffered a brain concussion when the car driven by Lane Spear, 42, of Lakeview plowed into the rear of the tractor the youth was driving. Miss Evelyn Blanche Haney, 31, of Memphis who was riding in the 1950 Ford with Spear, suffered a broken right leg. Spear received chest injuries.

Murphy-Spicer ambulance rushed the trio to a local hospital. Booth was operated on later that night by an Amarillo brain specialist. This morning his special nurse said that some improvement could be seen in Booth's condition. She said he had about a 50-50 chance to live.

Spear Taken to Amarillo
Spear was taken yesterday to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo where he will undergo treatment for his chest injuries. Miss Haney was much improved this morning, personnel at the hospital said.

THE ANTON SCHEDLS—Are somewhat perplexed, but manage smiles for the photographer as they are welcomed to their new home by Clifford Farmer, right, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. Anton Schedl, left, 49; little Erika, 3; Roslina, 41; Stefanie, 15; and young Anton, 9, are the first displaced persons to find placement in this vicinity. The German farm family, who fled before the Russians in 1945 and wound up finally in a D. P. camp, will make their home on the J. F. McIntosh dairy farm about 12 miles north of Memphis. They arrived by bus from New Orleans.

GERMAN FAMILY ARRIVES HERE TO START LIFE ANEW ON FARM

The first displaced persons to find placement in the Memphis area arrived about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by bus from the port of New Orleans. Anton Schedl, his wife, Rosina, and their three children will start life all over again on the J. F. McIntosh dairy farm about 12 miles north of Memphis.

Owned Farm
A decade ago Schedl and his family never dreamed that they would cross an ocean and travel many thousand miles to set up housekeeping in West Texas. They tended their six milk cows and cultivated their small farm near Namsau in Eastern Germany with their two draft horses.

They lived a peaceful life—these hardy people from Silesia—even though their countryside had been the scene of many battles of many wars. The district had been owned by Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia at various times. After World War I, most of it was given to the latter two countries. Then Hitler came through the area in 1939, defeated the Poles, and annexed half of the country, including Silesia.

Checks should be sent to Alvir Massey, Box 421, Memphis, Tex. The banquet was decided on recently. It was November during Homecoming festivities when the MHS exes first organized. For the past three years at Homecoming time the ex-students have been invited to a luncheon by the high school.

Officers elected last year were: President, Alvir Massey; vice-president, Talmadge Pounds; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Gene Lindsey; and reporter, Mrs. Jeanette Irens.

Jack Hightower, who received his diploma from here in 1944, will be the featured speaker at the dinner. Other graduates and ex-students will provide musical entertainment.

WHALEY NAMED VICE-PRESIDENT OF STATE BANK

T. Elmo Whaley has been named assistant vice-president of the First State Bank, it was announced last week after a meeting of the board of directors. Whaley, in the banking business for about 25 years, has been with the First State Bank two years.

His promotion in the bank has been rapid. Employed two years ago as teller, he was promoted to the position of assistant cashier before being made assistant vice-president.

Born in Bowie, Whaley moved to Memphis in 1925. He has lived at Estelline and Shamrock also. He and his wife have one daughter, Mrs. A. G. Kesterson, Jr.

Davis Again Urges Parents List Names Of Children On Rolls

W. C. Davis, superintendent of the Memphis schools, again this week emphasized the importance of parents contacting the school census taker and listing names of their children who will be six by Sept. 1. He said that the short news item reminding parents of this in last week's Democrat had brought in "quite a few persons who had forgotten to enroll their children or else had just moved to town."

The Memphis schools receive approximately $60 for every child or student enrolled. If a child is not listed in time, the school will lose this sum.

Miss Ira Hammond, teacher, is census taker for the local schools. Her telephone number is Memphis 685.

Men Who Have Helped in Building Hall County

D. H. Davenport, County Pioneer, Honored as 'Community Builder'

D. H. Davenport Sr. was presented with a certificate naming him a Community Builder Tuesday evening at a meeting of Lions Club members, ladies and visitors at Lakeview by J. Claude Wells for The Memphis Democrat. Mr. Davenport was selected as one of the top men of the county in a poll taken by The Democrat a few months ago as to community leaders meriting such recognition.

Mrs. Davenport, who has also been identified with the Lakeview community along with Mr. Davenport, was not able to be present for the presentation Tuesday evening, but a corsage was sent her in appreciation for the many fine things she has done for the community.

A short resume of the more than 60 years of life in Hall County by the Davenports, during which time countless things done by them for the community, neighbors and friends, is given below. Probably more than any other man still living in this county, D. H. Davenport deserves the title, "Community Builder." He has often been referred to as the Father of Lakeview, and not without ample reason. Responsible for Location He was not only one of the founders of the town, but was directly responsible for its present location.

That was almost a half century ago—back in 1906—when the region was just awakening to the unusual fertility, not only for growing grass and grains, but also highly suitable for cultivation of cotton. With the gradual depletion of the soil in the eastern half of the Cotton Belt and the advent of the dreaded boll weevil, and spurred on by an ever-increasing demand for the fiber, King Cotton was marching slowly westward. Out here in the west, rains were springing up where cattle once grazed.

Site Formerly Near Plaska
Lakeview at that time was located near Plaska, a few miles to the south of its present location. The town had been set up there—with Davenport one of the founders—in the county seat fight with Memphis. The founders (Continued on Page 8)

GIVEN THREE-YEAR CONTRACTS—The Memphis school board gave these men, shown above, a vote of confidence last week when they presented them all with three-year contracts. W. C. Davis, superintendent of the Memphis schools, left, was retained as head of the local school system. George Childress, center, was elected as new coach and athletic director, replacing John Hansard who resigned prior to the board meeting. Replacing Childress as new principal of the high school is Weldon McCreary, right. He is vocational agriculture teacher at the school.

DROUTH AND LIVESTOCK NUMBERS WILL DEMAND BIGGER FEED CROP

COLLEGE STATION, March 27—Livestock numbers, except cattle and chickens, on Texas farms and ranches at the beginning of 1952 were lower than a year ago. For the entire cattle numbers were 7 per cent larger than on January 1, 1951, while for Texas the increase was only 2 per cent. The severe drouth over the state has seriously hampered livestock production and has hit hardest the sheep and goat producing sections, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Stock sheep numbers in Texas showed a slight upturn in 1950 but were down 10 per cent on January 1, 1952 compared to a year earlier. There was 6 per cent fewer goats than a year ago and 5 per cent fewer hogs.

This means that livestock numbers have been kept relatively low, during a period of favorable returns, because of reduced feed supplies. Even now, Texas farms and ranches have almost 9 million cattle, over 6 million stock sheep and 1.6 million hogs. Also, at the start of 1952, Texas farms had about 23 million chickens and half million turkeys, which is an increase over the year before. In specialized broiler areas, Texas growers raise about 50 million broilers annually, says Bates.

Feed reserves have been depleted because of abnormally heavy feeding during the past few months and feed supplies per animal unit are now the lowest since 1947, points out Bates. Unless the weather becomes extremely favorable for the production of large feed crops this year, reserves are likely to drop still further, he adds. So it looks like higher feed costs are ahead, unless stockmen plan wisely and get a better break on the weather.

With moisture conditions in some areas improved by recent rains, farmers should plan to produce adequate feed crops this season. The highest yielding varieties should be planted. Plant for a good stand and use fertilizers whenever possible to produce the maximum yields, says the specialist.

Another important item is to plan for increased feed storage on the farm. Prices of feed grains and hay tend to drop at harvest time and with proper storage, the surplus can be held until the temporary "glut" is relieved. If plans for storage bins are needed, farmers should see their local county agent for blueprints. The local Production and Marketing Administration provides financial aid on constructing storage facilities.

And finally, Bates suggests that all livestock producers put into operation a complete forage production and storage program. This will include supplemental pastures, improving the permanent ones and storing enough forage and grain to take care of such situations as now exist. Forage, says Bates, can be stored for years in a silo and he recommends that silage crops be included in this year's production program.

Band Brings Home Another Trophy From Shamrock

The MHS band brought home another gold trophy when it copied first prize in its division at the Shamrock St. Patrick's Day celebration, March 17. The band, directed by Perry Keyser, and drum-majored by Jacky Gilbert, was described as one of the best bands in the state by the radio announcer who described the day's activities.

The 25 bands and numerous floats assembled at the school house and marched the length of the business district and back down another street. The MHS band alternated playing "Legionnaires on Parade," "College Medley" and "Indiana."

After the parade, all band members were invited to lunch in the school cafeteria. Then they were allowed to enjoy the carnival and other activities until 3:30 p. m. when the entire celebration centered in the Legion Hall.

There the Irish Colleens were elected and band trophies were awarded.

I want to announce to you that I am running for County Clerk. I was reared in Hardeman County, Texas. After graduation from High School I attended T.S.C.W., and then school in Hardeman County. I have lived in Memphis for the past 15 years, spending most of my life as a farm wife. During the past few years I have become acquainted with most people in our county.

My husband passed away in 1934. Since that time I have been attempting to operate a business in the Eli community. I am the mother of three daughters, two of whom are entirely dependent upon me for their support. I have the responsibility of my family and have no time to meet this obligation, work, I earnestly and solicited your vote.

Experience received in my work and my knowledge of the county, its people and its needs, qualify me fully for the position of County Clerk.

I am elected to this office and I promise to devote my full time to this job. I expect to receive your votes as possible before the first primary. I will help in this campaign and my name will be on the ballot. RUBY COLLINS.

Farmers Warned About Poisonous Livestock Feeds

Austin—Due to shortages of quality feed in some areas, farmers were cautioned this week for a possible increase in digestive upsets and even fatal poisonings in cattle, swine and other livestock this spring.

"The feed situation is tighter this year because much of last year's hay crop was rained on and a lot of wet, immature corn was harvested," the American Foundation for Animal Health said this week.

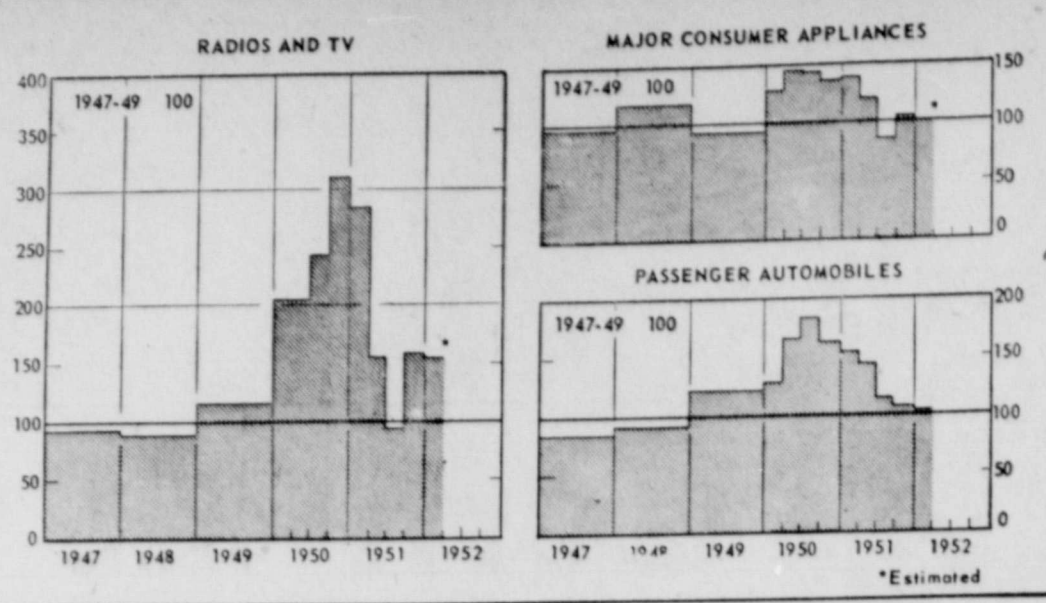

"Feeding of moldy grain, hay, and silage can be dangerous to all farm animals. Horses may get a disease similar to sleeping sickness. Another type of feed fungus can cause lumpy-jaw in cattle. Moldy sweet clover hay may be responsible for a disease, which causes the blood of cattle to lose its clotting ability. Ergot poisoning can be another problem when grain grown in wet seasons is fed. A grain fungus is responsible for one type of pneumonia in poultry and calves. Several skin diseases of animals are also due to grain fungi.

"If moldy or inferior feed has to be fed to livestock, keep a sharp lookout for poisoning symptoms, and at the first sign of trouble get a diagnosis. Sometimes the symptoms are easily confused with those of contagious diseases, and proper treatment will depend on correct and early identification of the exact trouble," the Foundation advised.

Jimmie Don Adams was chosen on all-tournament team. Donalene Williams, Virginia Bryant and Tommye Travis of Estelline made the all-tournament girls team.

Following through with the year's mission study of the Latin American countries, Mrs. Howard Finch read a most enlightening paper telling of "Brazil, Our Largest Neighbor."

Twenty members answered roll call with bits of timely news poetry, and scripture; and later during the social interlude, enjoyed a delicious refreshment plate.

OVER THE ROAD or OVER THE ROUGH

-you can't beat a GMC!

KNOW why, more and more, GMC's are becoming first choice of so many cost-watching truck operators in every type of hauling?

One of the big reasons, they will tell you, is they can always get a GMC that's exactly "engine" for their particular kind of work.

There is no need for a GMC owner to strain away with an underpowered truck—or lose profit to a gas eater unsuited to its job.

That's because GMC builds the widest range of truck engines in the industry—valve-in-head gas engines from 100 to 200 H.P.—exclusive 2-cycle Diesels from 110 to 225 H.P.

And it's the kind of power you don't have to pamper!

Each GMC engine is specially lubricated against wear, specially ventilated against acid-forming fumes even when idling—specially designed for truck duty!

Why not let us recommend the GMC truck, tractor or six-wheeler perfectly powered for your job? It will be a real truck all the way—exactly the right combination of engine, axle, transmission and frame blended by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles!

D. H. Davenport

thought that a central location would give them the seat of government in the county. Back in those days, it was thought impossible to run the boiler of a gin on the hard gyp water found in the western part of the county. Then, soft water was discovered on Davenport's land where the town of Lakeview is now situated, and he donated the well so that a gin might be built there. He helped raise $750.00 as a bonus for the gin's construction. The gin was built by a man named S. E. Lewis in July of 1907. In September of that year, Davenport and his wife moved to the site and opened a mercantile business. They had previously operated a store and post office in their home near the town's first location.

Davenport sold deeds to the land around the gin, and the present city of Lakeview was born. As the "Father of Lakeview," he has seen the town grow, fall, rise again, bid for a railroad, burn and then prosper again. Three times in its short history, the community has suffered disastrous fires, fourteen businesses houses being destroyed in the worst of these conflagrations.

Davenport holds a number of "firsts" in the tumultuous history of the town. He was the first postmaster in the present location, the first storekeeper, the first president of the bank which he helped organize, and the first mayor of the town after it was incorporated.

School District Leader The "Father of Lakeview" has tended his "child" well. Besides his numerous other civic interests he was a leader in the movement to secure an independent school district for the community. The efforts of many years have finally paid off handsomely as the district now comprises 154 sections.

Davenport is a charter and life member of the local Lions Club. He is affiliated with the Texas and Panhandle Bankers Association, and the Lakeview Masonic Lodge, Scottist and York rites. He is a member of the Lakeview Baptist Church.

60th Wedding Anniversary If D. H. Davenport is the "Father of Lakeview," then his wife, who has been by his side through the years that have seen a wilderness transformed into a settled and prosperous empire of farms and ranches, must logically be called the "Mother of Lakeview."

They were married shortly after Hall County was organized, when Memphis was still in its infancy and Lakeview was still a plot of grass. The couple celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage on March 6.

Davenport has been in what is now Hall County three years when he met and married his wife. He came here 14 months before the county was organized. The date was 1889—the year Oklahoma was opened up and the great land rush began. The man who was later to build a community pushed on west and set tied about a mile and half south of where his present home in Lakeview is now located. He was then a strapping young man of 22, far from his birthplace in Illinois.

Father Traded for Land

Three years after Davenport had staked a claim on a section of land, lost it, then leased from the government, and finally obtained full title to it, he met the girl who was to be his wife. Miss Loveless was born Aug. 12, 1871, at Temple in Bell County. Her father had traded some calves for land in this county. He was also a horse trader. He and his daughter, who was a true pioneer and a good horsewoman to boot, became acquainted with Davenport. This was when the latter was trying to wring a bare living from the soil and badly in need of draft animals.

Davenport borrowed some horses from his new-found friends to cultivate his crops. Soon his friendship with Miss Loveless blossomed into romance. They were married March 6, 1892. To celebrate this occasion, Davenport built a two-room frame house and departed forever from the dug-out that had been his home for three years.

Drouth Hit County

Early in the history of the county a prolonged drouth threatened to make a desert of the whole region. These were lean years, and the settlers left in droves. But the young couple stayed. Miraculously, there followed seven years of plenty, and the Davenports began to prosper. His small general store grew into a lucrative enterprise that handled everything from coffins to harness.

Today Davenport owns around 2,800 acres in this vicinity—he's not sure how many—and has placed in trust for his children more than 10,000 acres in New Mexico. For 40 years he has raised fine Whiteface cattle, and he and his wife have many ribbons to show for the prizes won by their registered Herefords.

Davenport Still Active

At 86, Davenport is still physically alert and mentally alert. He can still handle a horse, but most of his outdoor activity is confined to driving a tractor in the fields. Just recently he completed a financial transaction involving more than $100,000.00. His wife doesn't ride anymore, but she is quick to say she can. Household duties take up most of her time now when she's not entertaining friends who stop by to visit.

There are no more frontiers to conquer—not in these parts anyway—but the Davenports can look back proudly on their life together and remember the golden past when they were helping to create a new land.

German Family

citizens around Namslau. The Germans were being mauled in the east and in the west by the Russians and by the Allies. Then the roof fell in. As the Russians advanced ever nearer, the people were warned to vacate their homes. In two hours after this proclamation had been decreed, over a thousand men, women and children of the village had fled to the west, most of them never to return again.

The Schedls never saw a Russian soldier. They, like their fellow countrymen, were afraid of being taken captive. They had heard that they would be sent to Siberia if the Russians ever caught them. When they left Namslau and their farm, they carried with them only the clothes they were wearing.

Moved to Austria

Anton and his family made their temporary home in Germany, and then moved to near Linz, Austria, birthplace of Hitler, where they had relatives. Anton got a job in a factory where sugar and molasses were manufactured. Rosina found work on a truck farm. Stefanie and young Anton attended school. Stefanie graduated from her grade school before she came to America. Had she gone to high school there she would have had to pay.

Eight months ago the Schedl family got on the roll of displaced persons, spent long months of waiting in various D. P. camps, and finally boarded a ship at Bremen for the long-awaited trip to America.

Mrs. Mueller Interprets

Mrs. Stefanie, 15, speaks any words of English and she cannot make conversation in the language. After Mayor Carl Harrison and Clifford Farmer, Chamber of Commerce manager, had welcomed the family to Memphis Sunday, Mrs. H. C. Mueller, whose parents were born in Germany, acted as interpreter.

The Schedls were a little disappointed with their new home land the first night. Sand had been blowing the week before and had piled high in the yard. McIntosh and his wife had provided enough furniture in the house for the newcomers to get started on. This week the Chamber of Commerce and various civic clubs and organizations have sent out many articles of household usefulness.

Among the pieces sent out to make the home more livable were a dresser, studio couch, bedding springs, kitchen cabinet, dining chairs, linoleum rug, an electric iron, and a bed. Farmer said that his organization had the promise of a breakfast set for the family. A committee from the Lions Club will make a survey this week to find out just what the family needs. Local churches are helping also.

The manager of the Chamber of Commerce said today that the family is already liking it better here. They are surprised that so many people are concerned about their welfare.

"They don't know how to say 'thanks' in English," Farmer said. "But you can see it in their eyes."

Easter Seals

every one will have an opportunity to contribute to the rehabilitation of the physically handicapped. Durham said that contributions may also be handed to the organization's county treasurer, E. A. "Pete" Smith at the First State Bank in Memphis.

The chairman stated that the Easter Seal campaign will continue for about another month. "There is no set goal for the county, but every dollar could be put to good use. Sixty per cent of the total solicited will stay in the county. The remainder will be sent to the parent state and national organizations," Durham added.

Flexible in Operation

Unlike most other relief and rehabilitation agencies, the Society for Crippled Children is highly flexible in operation, with emphasis being placed on local rehabilitation. The agency will handle almost any case where the economic condition prevent necessary one from obtaining necessary medical or vocational help. The Society aids not only children but also handicapped adults.

In the case of handicapped children, the local agency will help secure medical treatment, and pay expenses and maintenance while the patient is undergoing treatment. The Hall County organization does not pay for complete hospitalization, but acts as a contracting agent and takes care of incidental expenses.

Palsy Victims Aided

The state and national societies operate clinics for the treatment and rehabilitation of cerebral palsy victims, besides providing vocational training for other handicapped persons. Many thousands of children and older persons are given a new chance in life by the contributions that make these programs possible.

There are many ways in which the local Society for Crippled Children helps persons unable to pay for their own medical and orthopedic treatment. Each year the agency buys about a dozen pairs of glasses for school children in the county who otherwise would not be financially able to wear them. Crutches, wheelchairs, and braces are among the many items supplied directly by the local society.

Operations Provided

With the co-operation of local physicians, the agency provides for numerous operations such as tonsilectomies and removal of adenoids. The doctors donate their services, and the only cost to the local society is for hospital care.

Besides Durham and Smith, the other officers in the local Society for Crippled Children are H. J. Howell, vice-chairman; and Herschel Combs, director of publicity.

Members of the county committee include, W. B. Wilson, W. B. Hooser, Lloyd Phillips, Heydon Hensley, Robert Spicer, Ace Gailen, Homer Tucker and Ben Wilson, Jr., Memphis; John Russell, Estelline; B. E. Davenport, Lakeview; and Alga Turner, Turkey.

R. L. Duncan was re-elected as bus foreman. Drivers chosen again were J. H. Rex, Roy Spruill, O. M. Gunstream, and Elzie Kennedy. Kennedy was also re-elected to his job as janitor.

Luther Byars, Tomie Mortin, Jimmy Bownds, and J. W. Lindley, all from Lakeview; Bennie and Lloyd West, Memphis; and Bobby Adams and Daniel and Mike Davidson, Estelline.

At the meeting the 4-H members will elect officers and appoint a committee to buy a bull. This committee will have full responsibility in selecting the bull for use of all the members of the bull circle. The county agent said that A. L. Smith, of the extension animal husbandry department of Texas A. and M., has offered the services of his office and his staff in helping to select the bull.

The boys will buy either a Larry Domina, Proud Mixer, or an animal from one of the more important blood lines, Hooser said.

As of now the 4-H members have a pledged total of about $2,000.00 toward the purchase of a bull. The boys themselves have pledged $100.00 each, while the two banks of Memphis are planning to donate $500.00 apiece. More is expected to come in later.

Three Procedures Of Transference Of Property After Death Listed

Too few people know what would happen to their property in case of death. Confusion can be avoided by thinking through plans for settlement of the property and disposing of it by a will.

The owner of any kind of real or personal property has three choices under Texas laws for transfer of property to heirs. He may let the estate be distributed to those specified by law, make a will or arrange for joint or single ownership of real or personal property.

Inheritance Without Will
One procedure is to let property pass to heirs without making a will. This is called intestacy. Four things can happen to community property when no will is made.

If a man or woman dies leaving no children, all the property goes to the spouse. If a man or woman dies leaving a spouse and children, one half goes to the spouse and the remainder to the children. The law provides that the homestead shall not be divided among the heirs during the lifetime of the surviving husband or wife so long as the survivor elects to use or occupy it as a homestead.

If a widow or widower is survived by children, the property is divided equally among them. If a single person, a widow or a widower dies without children, the property is divided equally between the parents. If only one parent is alive one half goes to him and one half goes to brothers and sisters, and so on down to the next of kin.

Wills Under Texas Laws
Another choice offered by law in the transfer of property to heirs is by a will. A will, to be valid in Texas, must be written and witnessed. To prevent possible delays and expenses in the settlement of estates, an attorney should be consulted before a will is made. The attorney can assist in the wording of the will so that it states plainly what disposition the testator desires for the property.

A third option in disposing of property is through joint ownership. There are three methods of owning property jointly. Joint tenancy is when two or more persons own any kind of property as "joint tenants" on the deed or bill of sale transferring property. Secondly there is "tenancy by the entirety" which is possible only for a wife and husband and applies only to real property.

Then there is tenancy in common where two or more persons hold any kind of property as "tenants in common." The deed or bill of sale carries all the names and makes no reference to survivorship. Each of the three joint ownership of property options carries its own method of disposing of the property which should be thoroughly understood.

Each property owner has a choice of any of the three methods of disposing of property.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: R. L. Rawlins and wife, Mrs. R. L. Rawlins, if living, and if dead, their heirs and unknown heirs and legal representatives, their heirs and unknown heirs, and legal representatives, defendants in the hereinafter styled and numbered cause:

You and each of you are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Hall County, Texas, to be held at the courthouse of said county in the City of Memphis, Hall County, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance hereof, the same being the 14th day of April A. D. 1952, then and there to answer plaintiff's petition filed in said court on the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1951, filed in this cause, numbered 3405 on the docket of said court and styled Joe Weathersbee as plaintiff, and the following persons are defendants:

R. L. Rawlins and wife, Mrs. R. L. Rawlins, if living, and if dead, their heirs and unknown heirs and legal representatives, their heirs and unknown heirs and legal representatives, and the nature of said plaintiff's petition and motion, respectively, are as follows:

Suit in statutory trespass to try title as well as for damages to lots 7 and 8 and 9 in Block

No. 3 of Brumley's Addition to the town of Memphis, Hall County, Texas, and that on 12 day of May, 1951 while plaintiff was lawfully possessed and seized of the same, the defendants unlawfully entered and ejected plaintiff therefrom to his damages in the sum of $500.00; that in the alternative plaintiff claims good and perfect title thereto by virtue of having peaceable, continuous and adverse possession thereof, using, enjoying, cultivating and paying taxes thereon before due date under deeds duly registered in Hall County, Texas, for more than 5, 10 and 25 years limitations respectively, before the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiff's motion to set aside and hold for naught judgement heretofore entered in this cause by the court on November 28th, 1951 upon grounds that same is void on face of record and without jurisdiction, in that defendants were cited in citation by publication to answer to a wholly different and separate tract of land than that described in plaintiff's petition and in the said judgement.

As is more fully shown by plaintiff's Petition and Motion on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Memphis, Texas, this the 27th day of February A. D. 1952.

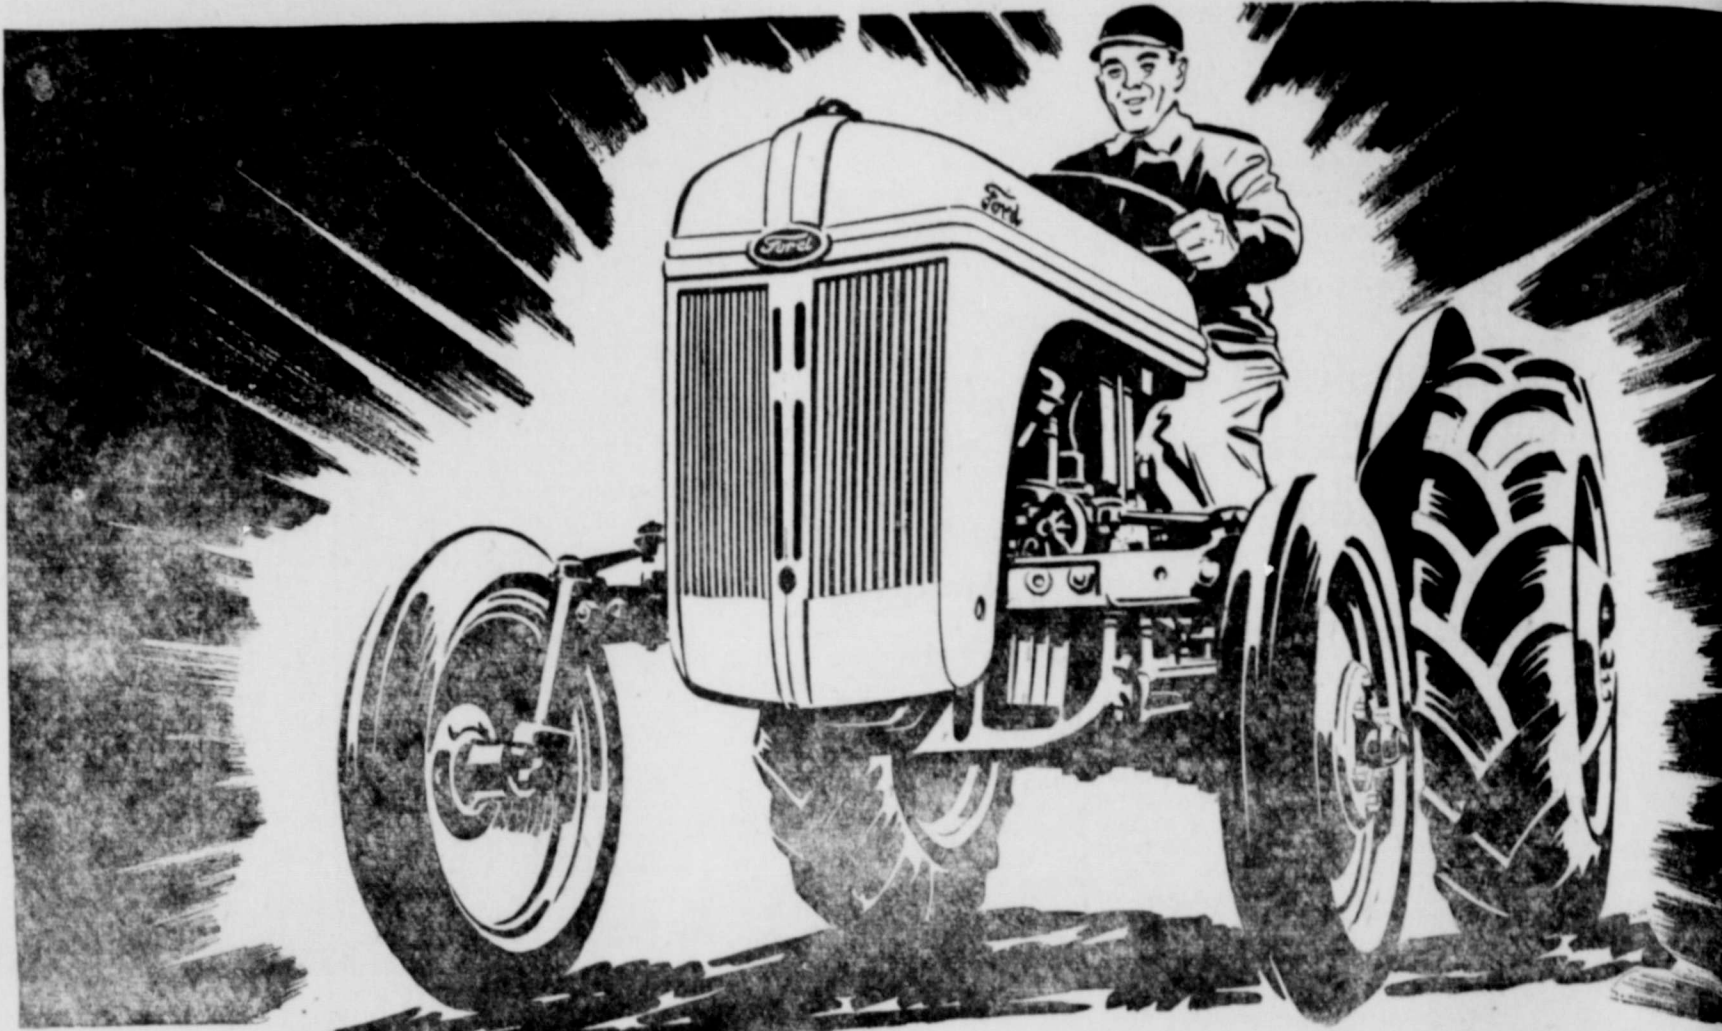

Attest: Isabell Cypert
Clerk, District Court
Hall County, Texas.

Teachers' Salaries Best In History Report Reveals

Average salary of American elementary and secondary teachers passed the $3,000 mark for the first time in the history of reports of the National Education Association. The average salary for elementary teachers was $3,140 and for secondary teachers $3,200. This was a 14 per cent increase over the average salary of $2,750 in 1940. The increase was greater in 1949 than in any other year during the same period.

The gains were accomplished by material aid to education from the federal government. An increased amount of money for education came from state and local revenues.

The average salary also increased with average earnings of $2,968 that year. The average weekly wage reported by the Department of Labor in California received an average increase of 1.8 per cent. The District of Columbia received an average increase of 1.9 per cent. The lowest average salary was in Mississippi at $2,100.

The committee, when it met in St. Louis, showed that the average expenditure per pupil (based on average daily attendance) rose to $221.45 in 1950, compared with $180 two years earlier and $88 a decade earlier.

In these figures, Mississippi again was lowest with an average expenditure of $79.69. The highest was Delaware, which averaged $327.05. The next was New York which spent an average of $322.36 on each pupil.

Total spending for public education in the United States, including interest and bond retirement, was $4,934,815,350 in the 1949-50 school year. Only about one percent of this came from taxpayers via the federal government, was $4,934,815,350 in the 1949-50 school year. Only about one percent of this came from taxpayers via the federal government, was $4,934,815,350 in the 1949-50 school year.

The committee noted that the number of school districts was 33,276 in the 1949-50 school year, a sharp reduction from the 94,117 in 1948 and 116,999 in 1940. This reduction in districts, long advocated by the National Chamber, resulted in more effective use of taxpayers' money through larger schools attracting better qualified teachers; broader curricula; increased vocational training facilities, and better school facilities.

Tribute to a neighbor

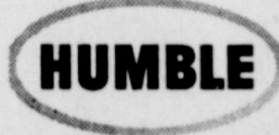

We'd like you to meet a neighbor on whom both of us depend.

He's the man who operates the service station in your neighborhood.

You depend on him to take care of your car, to supply you with products of high quality at reasonable prices. You expect, and get, from him more free service than from any other merchant with whom you do business: whatever you spend, he cheerfully cleans your windshield, checks your oil and tires, furnishes you with free battery water, and renders special services as you need them.

The oil companies depend on him as the independent merchant who distributes their products. He demands, and receives, continuously improved products with which to compete with his business rivals. He insists on reasonable prices that will move his merchandise in volume. His progressive attitude is one of the chief reasons why the oil industry has supplied you with better products at about the same prices over a long period of years.

It's a pleasure to pay this tribute to a neighbor, to thank him publicly for being such a friendly, dependable contact between the oil industry and its millions of customers. He is not on our payroll, but we couldn't do business without him.

7,000 MILES OF LINES ADDED TO THE UNITED GAS SYSTEM

Anything that helps build the Gulf South... helps YOU

Dependable natural gas service is one of the most important factors in the growth and development of the Gulf South. To assure dependable service to United Gas customers, our company has built some 7,000 miles of lines since 1941—to gather gas in the fields, to transport it to markets, and to distribute it within those markets. That's a lot of pipe... and every foot of it was laid right here in the Gulf South.

Our company's expansion is a reflection of the growth of the Gulf South, and it is our desire, like that of every good citizen of this progressive area, to accept the responsibilities which are logically ours to help assure a continuation of this growth.

Think Before Saying "NO"

"RED CROSS DRIVE LAGS; $477.50 IN" That's the way the headline in last week's Democrat read. Farther down in the column is another figure: $2,487.00. The latter sum represents the Hall County goal in the current Red Cross fund-raising drive.

There's a whale of difference in the two figures. And there's a reason, too, for the big difference. It's not merely because the drive is just getting under way. The campaign is old enough now to have netted much more than the paltry sum of $477.50.

It's not because the local drive has no leadership. To the contrary, the men and women who have sacrificed their valuable time for work in this charitable organization have accomplished much. That they—working almost by themselves—have done so well as they have, is a marvel in itself.

The fact is: citizens of this county are not doing their part in the drive. It is not enough that one gives a dollar or two and hopes the canvassers for the next fund-raising "scheme" will miss him. Of course the money is important—indeed, it is the object of the drive—but what is of utmost importance is the fact that some people, not very busy people, at that will not pitch in and help with the soliciting and the thousand and one other odds-and-ends so necessary to conduct a successful drive.

If Hall County is to achieve the goal which has been set, more people will have to show more interest in the welfare of the community than has been shown to date. The drive leaders have been hard pressed to find someone to help raise money, and because of this the goal may not be realized.

There are in Hall County some 11,000 souls. If each and every one gave a quarter, the quota for the county could easily be met. That is, if anyone came round knocking on doors to solicit the coins.

People seem to forget that the Red Cross is an organization of mercy. If disaster strikes, it moves swiftly and surely to alleviate the suffering. If a person is hungry, the Red Cross will provide him with sustenance.

When you give your time or money to the Red Cross you are giving something that may be returned a thousand-fold. Think it over the next time you say "No" to the Red Cross.

"HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN SOMETHING?"

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Doing Something About The Weather

Blowing sand of the last few days brings farmers closer than before to the realization of the need for co-operation on an area wide basis in combatting conditions that, while they are not likely to bring about a return to the dust bowl, would nevertheless lead to loss of much valuable soil. The fine co-operation of nine counties in the Southwestern Oklahoma and Southeastern Panhandle in their moisture increasing project is bringing results that all concerned with it believe will be most profitable. Already a movement is under way to increase the area to include Hardeman, Foard, Cottle, Motley and King counties. That the counties in the two states must operate as separate units is due to technicalities involving laws of Texas and Oklahoma. For all practical purposes, it will be one organization. The Texas organization, the Red River Weather Improvement Association came into being Saturday at Memphis, when the charter was drawn up. All counties now collecting the money to defray their expenses report almost no opposition and little indifference to the plan. True to the spirit of this area, these farmers are ready to go ahead.

Over and over, those concerned with the movement warn that miracles are not to be expected. The moisture improvement program cannot bring down rain if there is no moisture in the atmosphere. What it can do, and the only thing it can do, is to get more moisture on the ground than would ordinarily fall when conditions are favorable. Such a project is already in operation in the Gaymon, Okla., area, and its operators are pleased with their success. During the week end, that section, with the silver iodide generators in operation, received a greater amount of moisture than outside areas where weather conditions were similar. This is heartening to the people of this area who believe that now there will be times when something can be done about the weather.—Wellington Leader.

3 I'll Fill the Crankcase With Conoco Super Motor Oil! Conoco Super Motor Oil is fortified with additives that curb the dangerous accumulation of dirt and contamination—protect metal surfaces from corrosive combustion acids—fight rust—and OIL-PLATE a film of lubricant right to metal surfaces.

We Conoco Mileage Merchants are now trained and ready to give your car exactly the same service that helped keep test engines new in the spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous test, six brand-new cars were each driven 50,000 killing miles, to prove the wear-fighting ability of Conoco Super Motor Oil.

Thanks to Conoco's 3-point "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, those engines showed no wear of any consequence, in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

Now you can get Conoco's great "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service to help your engine last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

The Pink Bollworm - 1

Problems in Texas Agriculture to us across the Rio Grande, the "wetback" and the Pink Bollworm.

The Pink Bollworm, a pest of cotton, has this in common with the "wetback": things look different from one side of the border to the other. It will cross the border on trucks and on anything else that carries cotton products in Mexico. It will cross the border on anything else that carries cotton products in Mexico.

The first Pink Bollworm was found in Texas near an oil well in Robinson County in 1917. Since then, it has become the most serious pest of cotton in the state, with 193 counties under quarantine.

The worm comes from an egg laid by the moth on the cotton plant. The larva burrows into the fruit, square or boll and reaches maturity in 10 or 15 days. It pupates, and in about 30 days from the time the egg is laid it has developed into a moth. After mating, the female moth deposits eggs for another generation.

The worm grows to about one-half inch in length, it's made up of segments, like the tail of a crayfish. Each segment is ringed by a pink line.

The moth is less than an inch long, brown in color, and shy—hiding from the light of day under stones or brush and flying in the late evening. It can make long-distance flights of hundreds of miles, at an altitude of 2,000 or 3,000 feet—for example, from the Laguna district of Mexico to as far away as Arizona, New Mexico, and the Plains of Texas, which is a rather respectable performance.

These little moths live only two or three weeks. But as many as five and six generations appear in one season. That means if every egg laid by one female moth should develop into an adult moth in five generations one moth would have produced more than 10,000,000,000 hungry Pink Bollworms.

Multiply that my millions of moths on thousands of acres of cotton, and we get a rough idea of what we're up against.

in population of this country in the next 25 years will affect the farmer. "The 5th Plate" represents the extra population that American farmers will have to feed by then.

The letter of commendation from College Station reads, in part: "We thank you for your report of the results of your meetings on 'The 5th Plate' chart. If every county in Texas did as well as you, a lot of people would have a different opinion of the farm programs and the job that faces the farmers."

McKown's report was included in the Weekly Newsletter that goes out to county offices throughout the state, and was forwarded to the director of the Southwest Area of the P.M.A.

A total of 359 Hall Countians were present at the four meetings at which the charts were explained. These included a barbecue at Turkey, attended by 206, meetings of the Lions Club and Rotary Club of Memphis, and the Esteline Lions Club.

McKown said the Department of Agriculture's survey on the country's probable population 25 years from now means a better deal for the farmers. For the past few decades, he explained, the farmer's greatest problem has been one of surplus production. With surpluses, the farmer found that his produce would not com-
