Varsity Team Defeats 'Golds' In Scrimmage

By FREDDY VINSON
The 1952 Cyclones battled Tuesday afternoon, May 6 in the first real scrimmage of the spring season. Duke Frisbie called the 9 in the High School Gymnasium. Jackie Boone called them for the "gold."

Frisbie behind the goal line for a safety for the "gold" squad. The "gold" team received the kickoff, and with Harvey Kennedy and Jimmie Morrison alternating in lugging the ball, the score soon stood at 13-8. A few plays later Davey Corley went 75 yards for the "whites" for another T. D. After that the "golds" were out of the race. In the fourth quarter the "whites" ran up a 54-8 lead as they scored at will. Julius Stevens and Davey Corley were the outstanding defensive players for the "whites." Jimmy Davis and Kenneth Cheek stood out for the "golds."

Frisbie's team consisted mostly of varsity players and they ran over the smaller and less experienced boys by a score of 54-8. Both teams were working without the help of the first and second string fullbacks, Duane Miller and Jimmy Jenkins, who are out of action due to injuries.

The white team scored quickly in the first quarter, and then again minutes later to take a two touchdown lead. Rayford Hutcherson passed to Julius Stevens for the extra point. Neither team scored in the second quarter and the score at the end of the first half was 13-0 in favor of the "whites."

Biography Given MHS by U. D. C.

"Giant in Gray", a biography of Wade Hampton of South Carolina by Manly Wellman, was presented to the Memphis High School Library by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

As a Confederate soldier, Mamp-ton was a man of tremendous attributes—great of body, great of heart, indomitable in spirit. When The War Between The States called him from his aristocratic life as a landed proprietor, he was already in his forties, a man who had no professional military training and who abhorred war. However he soon showed himself a born soldier, stalwart in command, with knightly courage. When the fighting ended he had been wounded three times, but he had saved many a situation, and he was still an unassailable tower of strength in the Southern cause.

Biology Class Enjoys Wiener Roast, Skating

The biology class of Memphis High School enjoyed a wiener roast at the City Park and a skating party afterwards at Wilson's Skating Rink, Tuesday evening, May 6.

Those present were Mackie Allen, Janice Anthony, Nancy Brewer, Joe Bob Browning, Bobby Don Burnett, Marthlyn Burnett, Denny Davis, Duke Frisbie, Jimmy Gibson, John Guthrie, Don Ivy, Harvey Kennedy, Roy May, Max McCoy, Johnnie McDaniel, Shirley Smith, Marvin Smith, Peggy Smith, Ronnie Mac Smith, Yvonne Sturdevant, Troy Taylor, Billy Vallance, Miss Neville Wrenn, sponsor, and Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Anthony, guest sponsors, and their daughter, Jamie Kay.

Miss Becerra New Student at MHS

A new student has been discovered in the halls of M.H.S. She is Sofia Becerra, a freshman from Raymondville, Texas. When she was asked what she thought about going to school in Memphis, she replied "I like it very much."

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Favors, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brister, Brenda and Bobby, Mrs. Pat Hillis spent Sunday with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. A. G. Smith.

The Fair Store To Have Formal Opening Friday

The Fair Store, on the southeast corner of the Square, will have a formal opening tomorrow May 16, after extensive remodeling, according to John Shadid, owner.

The store has dropped its line of men's wear, and is now an exclusive retail outlet for ladies' ready-to-wear apparel. The store also handles women's shoes, children's apparel besides a line of luggage, Shadid said.

The remodeling job has taken about one month, the owner said. Shadid opened his store here in September, 1943. He had formerly operated a store in Wellington, Texas. Salesladies in the store are C. B. Hickey, Mrs. Floyd Hickey and Mrs. W. D. Young who left during rush periods.

SPORTS IN THE FIELD

By Ted Kesteg

Business of breeding, buying and selling dogs is just as big as any other business. The vast majority of people who buy dogs are honest, respected citizens.

Some other man. These are only a few of the disadvantages of sight-unseen buying. It is always best to see the dog before you buy.

Quite often we must ask for a trial on ground that is strange to the dog. It is unsatisfactory to consider the seller and his problem.

Bear in mind that no dog is at his best in strange territory and under strange handling. A long trip may tire him or upset his nerves.

Henry P. Davis, noted expert of sporting dogs, suggests the prospective buyer do these things: Accept the dog on trial only for a definitely stated period.

aunts, and nearly all first cousins have passed over the river, and there is nothing more enjoyable than to have those remaining come to visit. Day and night we talked about this and that; about ancestors and where they came from; early day happenings, especially to our kin, and between times we took short trips over this part of the Panhandle, letting them see some of our finest farming land.

One trip in particular was to the Tomie M. Potts Hereford Farm at Hedley. These cousins had heard of fine fat cattle, but had never seen any to compare with Potts' herd. They were amazed when shown animals not much over a year old that weigh half a ton, and two-year-old bulls weighing nearly a whole ton. If these cousins enjoyed the visit as much as we Texans enjoyed it, they had to go some.

Several of my few readers have been kind enough to suggest they missed Comments last week. It's nice to have friends who believe in giving bouquets to the living.

Memphis and this section of the country lost one of its most useful and respected citizens last week in the death of Dr. Ernest Clark. The crowd attending the funeral rites attested to the esteem held for the deceased citizen. I have attended some touching funerals in the years past, but I can't recall any where it seemed that each and every eye was wet with tears.

For more than a quarter of a century, Dr. Clark gave his time, thought, energy, talent and heart to relieve the suffering in our midst. He gave up the comforts of home, the family life to a great extent, because his services were needed by the suffering, even beyond his strength, and which without a doubt shortened a useful life. Indeed, his life was a life of service and sacrifice. In the business and civic life, Dr. Clark took active part and interest. As a friend and sympathizer, he had few equals. Yes, people of this area have suffered an irreparable loss in the passing of God's Noblemen.

All alike consider this section has been particularly blessed in the past few weeks by the right kind of rains and sufficient to get crops off to the right kind of start, and with the usual spring and summer showers, this ought fect. The PMA will allocate a machine to any county having as many as 800 acres in castor beans.

This year's castor crop is expected to be much larger than the 1951 crop due to the scarcity of planting seed then. The Secretary of Agriculture has authorized a program, at the request of the Munitions Board, designed to increase the 1952 production.

The PMA guarantees a price of ten cents per pound. The beans are marketed through the Baker Castor Bean Corporation, the company selling the seeds.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Congressman, 18th District
By Walter Rogers

THE EFFECT OF THE TIDE-LANDS ISSUE ON DECENTRALIZING GOVERNMENT: On May 7th the Senate-House conference committee agreed on a tidelands bill. Both the House and Senate conferees made concessions in reaching the agreement. The result was a bill designed primarily to Quitclaim to the respective states the offshore lands. This quitclaim will involve three miles in most instances, 10 1/2 miles in Texas and parts of Florida. It is neither the Senate bill nor the House bill, but a combination of the two.

The important thing is that the agreed bill gives back to the states that which has always belonged to the states and settles definitely the question of ownership. The tidelands fight in the Congress has meant much more than the return of the lands to the various states. It was the fight that actually brought out into the open the dangers and pitfalls incident to over-centralization of government. It was this fight that opened the eyes of people all over this nation, in both coastal and inland states.

It spotlighted the Jeffersonian principles of states' rights that are indispensable to the strength and unity that this nation must maintain if our form of government is to survive. Few times in our history have the Congress and the people been so fully conscious of the rights and the authorities of the several states. This trend is evidenced daily by the remarks and speeches of Congressmen from all sections of this country, and is one of the healthiest signs that we could hope for. I sincerely hope that the President will sign this bill so that this issue can be settled, and settled right, once and for all. Should he fail to sign the bill, I firmly believe that the Congress will override the veto. There is little, if any, doubt that the House of Representatives will override the veto by a sizeable majority. The vote in the Senate on the Senate bill was much closer than the House vote, but it is the consensus of opinion in legislative circles here that the Senate will also override the veto. The enactment of this bill into law will mean that the people in all sections of this country, under the great leadership of Texas, Louisiana and California, have won a resounding victory against the forces bent on centralizing this government.

MORE ABOUT FOREIGN AID: The proposed 7.9 billion-dollar foreign aid bill is still one of the major topics of conversation in the Capitol. The committees in both the House and the Senate are recommending a cut of approximately one billion dollars. It is my opinion that this bill will be cut substantially more than one billion dollars before its final passage. Many of those who support and advocate the full 7.9 billion-dollar appropriation are military men. Their arguments are most convincing when they tell you that these countries need every dime of the proposed appropriation. However, there are two sides to the question, the other being, "How much can the American taxpayers afford?" There is no doubt but that every dime that is appropriated will be spent; I have never heard of any of this money being returned to the public treasury. Most military men seem to forget that this country is making great contributions to the economies of the foreign countries involved by various methods. For instance the testimony before the Merchant Marine Committee would indicate that many of these countries by virtue of ECA funds have been able to build up their merchant marine and have become strong competitors of the shipping companies of this country.

In addition to this, the United States has followed a policy of shipping a substantial amount of our products in foreign bottoms, that is foreign bottoms made possible by ECA funds. This means that the taxpayers of this country are called upon to subsidize American shipping interests. It adds up to this: The American taxpayer has made possible to many of these foreign countries the construction of merchant fleets that they made possible in the first place. Then because the American taxpayer made possible the foreign merchant fleets and then made use of the foreign fleets for shipping purposes, the shipping business of our own fleets was so curtailed that the American taxpayer is being called upon for subsidies to keep the American merchant fleet afloat. It all adds up to one answer, no matter how you view it, the American taxpayer ends up paying the entire bill. Remember that this situation is only one of the many aids going to foreign countries over and above the proposed 8 billion-dollar foreign aid program. I still ask the question "How much can the American taxpayers stand?" My answer is "Not that much by a long shot."

POLITICS: There is a scandalous plan afoot to try to ruin Senator Russell of Georgia by branding him as strictly a sectional candidate. Nothing could be further from the truth. His record as a public servant proves beyond any doubt that he is and American from stem to stern whose public record has been based upon Jeffersonian principles and who knows and understands the essentials of government of the people, by the people and for the people. Sectionalism is the only weapon they can find with which to try to destroy him.

Mental Perception Comes Through Functioning of 12 Cranial Nerves

Physical contact with the world is mainly through air you breathe and the food you eat. Your mental contact with the outside world is through five senses—smelling, tasting, hearing, and feeling. You can breathe and eat, maintain life, without any mental contact at all. It requires physical coordination of an automatic system to breathe and to eat, but to receive the outside world through the five senses is a more complex function of the body, one which combines the physical and mental functions, one which calls for a system of nerves of the body.

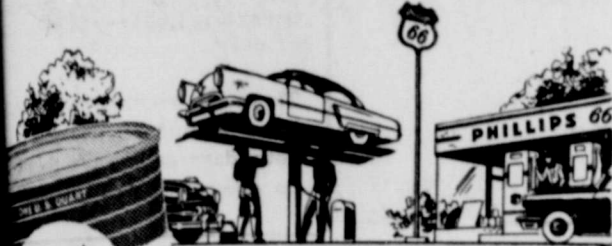

The olfactory nerves at the top of the nose pick up vapors that create odors, send them to the olfactory bulb at the front of the head where they are received in the olfactory tract and sprayed to the back topside of the brain. Since odors usually are created by oils in the air, the olfactory nerve can best be remembered as the "oil factory" of the body. This is the No. 1 cranial nerve.

No. 2 among the cranial nerves is the optic nerve which controls the sense of sight. Different parts of the eye pick up different substances, such as pigments, which are all jumbled together in the optic nerve behind the eyeball in the tube that makes the optic nerve. This tube goes out through the back of the eye socket to the middle of the brain and on out to the back of the brain.

"Harvest and sell your scrap. Your country needs it now." This is the appeal which farmers throughout the nation are heeding by collecting their scrap metal and sending it on its way to hungry steel mills. Shown above "harvesting" his scrap metal is William D. Smith of Clarkston, Mich. Scrap collected now means more steel later for vital farm equipment.

New, Improved "Lubri-tection"

This No. 2 nerve and Nos. 3, 4, and 6 fit together like a television set. In the first place, the "juice" has to be on, the brain has to be functioning. Then the "tube", the eyeball, has to get warmed up. When the eyeball starts receiving the picture (and all those other smaller tubes in the set aid in the reception), then you have to adjust the picture. No. 2 is the eyeball receiving the picture. No. 3 and 4 are the horizontal and vertical controls of the picture, the nerves that bring the picture into proper focus. And Cranial Nerve No. 6 is like the "brightness" knob on the television set, making the picture lighter or darker as needed.

Nerve No. 5 Is Voice

Nerve No. 5 called the trigeminal nerve, might be inserted here as the "voice" of the television set. It is connected with the action of the nose in breathing (which is essential to talking), it works the jaws, it flaps the front part of the tongue, it gives spice to conversation since it has to do with taste, and it branches out all over the brain like those wires to all the small tubes in the television set.

When you get all those gadgets functioning properly, you want action on your television set and cranial Nerve No. 7 is the action. That's the winks, the blinks, the smiles, the frowns of your face—the action in the picture when the set is adjusted to receive it. If all these gadgets in the set aren't working in harmony, then the action gets botched up. So it is with your facial nerve—it acts upon what it has received through all the other nerves. It is concerned with reaction, the look on your face when the other nerves tell you what's going on.

No. 8 is also a reaction nerve, the reception of the sound which has been sent out. In your television set the sound comes in through the air, gets collected into the set, and is thrown out to you so you can hear it. In your body you don't hear the sound come in; it gets collected in your ear, and then you hear it. That's what the eighth cranial nerve does for you, collects sound waves so you can perceive them, like the second nerve collects sight waves in a manner that you can perceive them.

From all this conglomeration of sight, sound, taste, hearing, and feeling, Cranial Nerve No. 9 sends messages into the mouth and throat to warn them what's coming, the mouth gets the saliva ready, the throat starts gurgling to swallow, and other such activities take place from the messages of the other cranial nerves.

Nerve No. 10 Signals Organs

Nerve No. 10 serves in the same manner for the organs of the body the lower throat (both windpipe and gullet), the heart, and all the organs of the chest and abdomen. They are told what's on the way by No. 10, so they can be ready, on the mark, when it gets there.

The muscles of the body receive their message from No. 11, which carries the messages to the spinal cord. Then they know what to expect and can be ready for whatever good or bad those other cranial nerves have detected en route.

The last of the cranial nerves, No. 12, is perhaps fittingly, tied to the tongue. The tongue doesn't take all this reaction lying down. Whatever message the cranial

Announcement Made Of Draft Call and Examination Dates

Texas Local Board No. 20 serving Hall, Childress, Cottle, Collingsworth and Briscoe counties received calls for induction and for physical examinations for June.

The call for induction is for June 4, 1952 and is for four registrants. Only registrants who have reached their twenty-first anniversary of the day of birth will be sent to fill this call.

The call for physical examination is for June 20, 1952 and is for thirty men. This call will be filled by sending those married men without children who have recently been reclassified into Class 1-A.

Mrs. Frances C. Starkey, clerk, states that a meeting of the board members will be held Tuesday evening, May 13, 1952, in the local board office to select these registrants.

Ellie Martin, registrar for Hall County, said that only one person has been registered here in the past month. Men reaching the age of 18 are required by law to register under Selective Service. A period of five days grace after the 18th birthday is granted for registering purposes.

First State Bank Also Contributor To 4-H Project

In the story about the purchase of the 4-H bull in last week's issue of The Democrat, the name of the First State Bank of Memphis was inadvertently omitted from the list of firms making contributions for purchase of the bull.

County Agent W. B. Hooser said this week that The First State Bank was one of the earliest and most enthusiastic backers of the junior program.

He said that the bank and the other contributing firms have taken a leading role in the project to help the 4-H members build their own herds for the future.

Mrs. Roy Coleman, who underwent major surgery in a local hospital last week, is reported to be recovering nicely.

She hopes to be able to return to her home the latter part of the week, her husband stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClure were Fort Worth visitors over the weekend.

If We Must Be Leaders, Let Us Be Wise Ones

How many people can look at a map of the world and pick out the country of Iran? The port of Singapore? Or the island of Madagascar? Or even Korea for that matter?

If you can point out all four locations without hesitation, then you are a rare individual—and probably a student of geography besides.

American college and public school students have come in for a lot of criticism lately for their poor spelling, but even more regrettable is the general public's lack of geographical knowledge. The government of this country is responsible to the American voter, and it is the duty of the administration in power to base its foreign policy on the wishes of the public. Yet, how can this be when the average cannot distinguish Formosa from Mindanao, or Burma from French Indo-China.

Knowing the location of a country or a city is not enough. One should have some knowledge of the inhabitants and their customs, traditions—their way of life. Just as important is knowing about the mineral resources, manufacturing industries, agricultural products and transportation facilities—the economic factors—of a given country or region.

Americans should know why Russia covets the Ruhr and prefers the Middle East over Libya.

If the voter has no adequate concept of the geographic facts, how can he vote intelligently in matters of foreign policy—or righteously complain when an administration blunders in the field of international relations.

The strength of a democracy is in an enlightened public. A more thorough understanding of world geography on the part of all American voters would go a long way toward giving us a purposeful foreign policy—and a stronger democracy.

Whether we like it or not, America—by virtue of its power and wealth, has been thrust into a position of world leadership. The rest of the free peoples of the world look to us for guidance. Let us hope that we will not let them down through ignorance of their lands—and their problems.

Yes sir, long distance service is faster when you call by number!

When time means money, alert businessmen save—and profit—by using long distance telephone service.

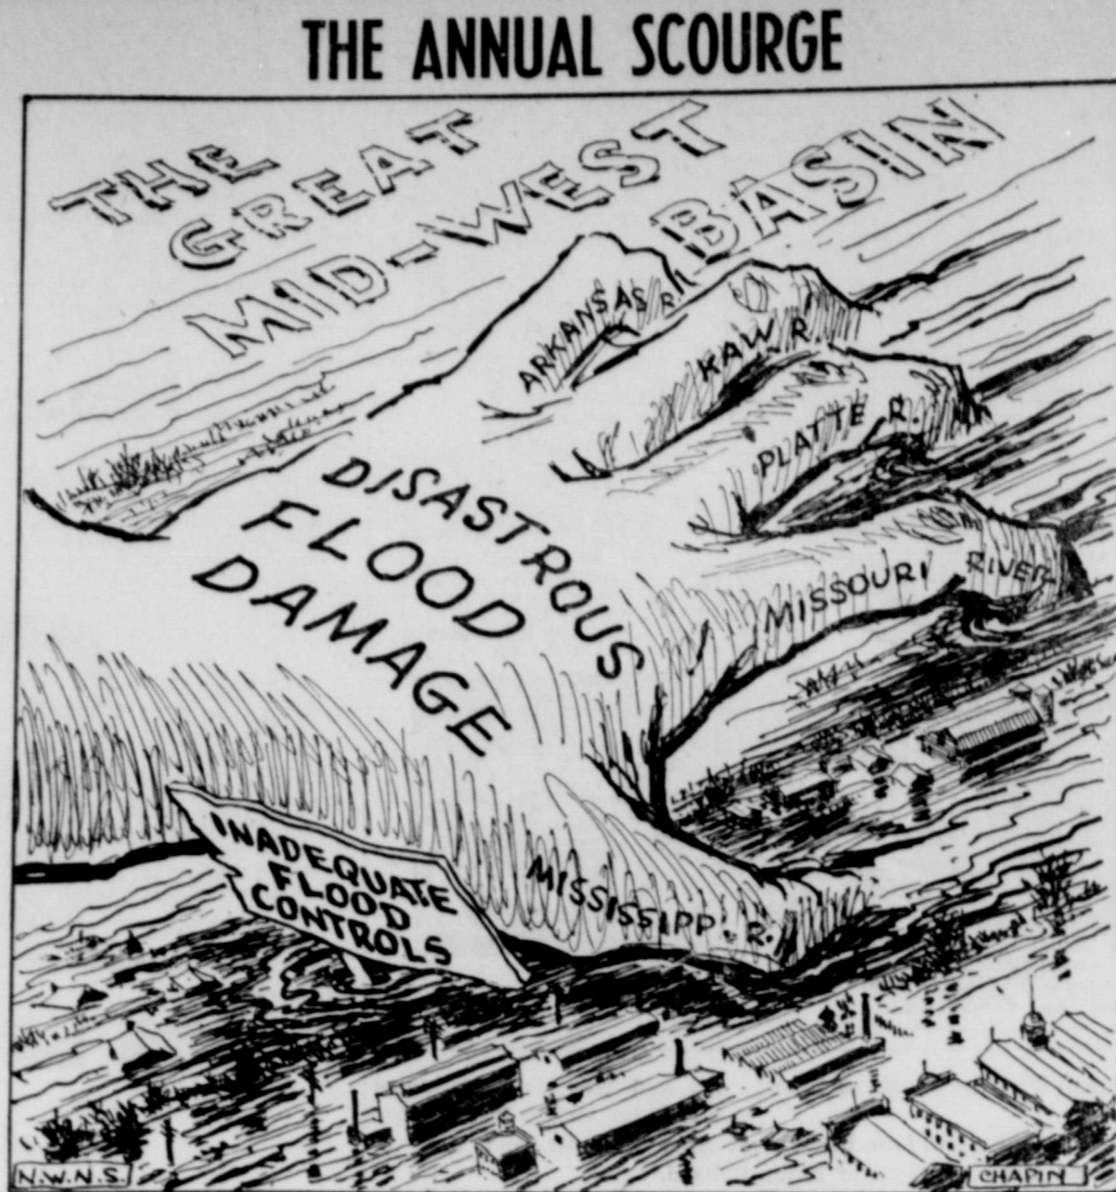

At home, long distance service shortens the miles separating families and loved ones—sometimes in emergency—more often on holidays, birthdays and anniversaries.

When time is important, long distance service saves time, adds a personal touch no other communication affords. And when you call by number, service is even faster—often twice as fast!

Keep a list of the out-of-town numbers you call most frequently. Place your long distance calls by number. It will pay you—in time.

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

TRAIL DUST
By DOUGLAS MEADOR
No man is bankrupt until fertility forecloses on its mortgages of his dreams.

Footprints of the bravest betray tremors when death's soundless shadow spreads across their paths. Fear of the unknown is instinctive and ignorance is mankind's oldest enemy, fighting a stubborn retreat from every foot of civilization's still insecure beachhead.

—Matador-Tribune
The Silent Type
And now again the well-known "Calculating Coke" Stevenson of Junction, Texas, is a meandering among various political groups, possibly with the intention of throwing his hat in the ring in 1954 if not this year.

Mr. Stevenson's picture alone has brought him lots and lots of votes in past elections no doubt, for there are those who hold that a pipe-smoking man is wise and just and thoughtful and deliberate! We had never understood just why this conclusion was drawn until last week when a friend came up with a very reasonable answer.

Said he, "Ya know, a fellow who knows enough to keep his mouth shut just wears a little better than the gabby sort, and with a pipe in one's mouth, ya can't open your mouth to spit, much less talk! In fact don't see how he breathes!"

—The Friona Star
Local Coverage
Vern Sanford, manager of the Texas Press Association, visited with us Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Sanford live in Austin, but were enroute from Lubbock to Pampa stopped off here. "Residents of small towns are most fortunate of all in getting news coverage," said Vern. "They get world news in the dailies and over the radio. The same news city folks get—plus local coverage." He is right too. People in Dimmitt, Friona, Vega, Canyon and Hereford do get a high rate of local news coverage through their home-town newspapers, whereas residents of Amarillo, Lubbock, Dallas and Fort Worth do not begin to get such complete coverage of local news, society items and the like. Westway, Summerfield and other small communities far outstrip the big towns when it comes to local news coverage.

- 2 Recondition all air and oil filters!
- 3 Fill the crankcase with great Conoco Super Motor Oil.

Now Lawyer Pace wins every case . . . thanks to one of the greatest services ever offered the motoring public—a service that helps engines last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

It's exactly the same service that kept test cars new in Conoco's spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous 50,000-mile test, with 1,000-mile drains and proper filter service, test car engines showed no wear of any consequence; in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.

Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's today!

GAMBLERS PLAY LOSING GAME—Sporting Fraternity In Hall County Had Hard Run Of Luck Last Week—The cotton farmers are not the only votary of chance who has hard luck; crapsshooters and card players to the number of half a hundred or more have lost this week in the game of hide-and-seek with the representatives of the law.

Six separate "hands" were made during the week, the largest catch netting thirteen finds.

Last Saturday night, Sheriff Pressley and deputies Harris and Wasson, "surrounded" a party of more than forty sports engaged in "galloping" the dominoes in the sand-hills near Estelline.

The meeting was provided with torch-lights and they were using cotton sacks for a table; the crowd was so large that the officers were unable to check the stampede and only a dozen were captured.

The noise was so great that a bunch of Negroes engaged in a coon-can game nearby were disturbed and adjourned the meeting before the officers could reach them.

Rules Are Explained for Soldier Voting

Rules governing absentee voting by servicemen of the Army, Navy, Air Forces or Marines.

Primary Set July 26

The Democratic Primary in Texas will be held July 26, the run-off August 23 and the General Election November 4th.

Details of how servicemen can determine whether they are eligible to vote without poll tax are as follows:

Armed services personnel who are qualified to vote in Texas and who are on extended active duty may vote during 1952 without paying their poll tax and without obtaining a poll tax "Exemption Certificate." Whether the poll tax is levied by the State or any political subdivision, the serviceman need not pay it to vote in any election.

Any person who, at the time of the election, or within 18 months prior to the date of election, was on extended active duty as a member of any of the reserve components of the armed forces, a selective service draftee, a member of the National Guard, the United States Maritime Service or the United States Merchant Marine, may vote even though he has not paid his poll tax or obtained a certificate of exemption. To vote without paying his poll tax, the serviceman must be on active duty and not merely on active duty; for example, a re-servant on active duty for a week-end or for several weeks during the summer must pay his poll tax to vote.

Tax Requirements Waived

The Constitution waives the requirement of payment of the poll tax as a condition precedent to the right to vote for these servicemen.

Servicemen's wives and dependents and civilians serving with the armed forces must either pay their poll taxes or obtain "Exemption Certificates," in order to vote. A poll tax receipt, "Exemption Certificate," or affidavit that the receipt of certificate has been lost or mislaid must accompany the application for absentee ballot made by these persons. Except that it has no space for persons may vote by absentee ballot if he is a member of the regular or permanent military establishment.

Shepherd's instructions also detailed how servicemen can make applications for ballots and the procedure for voting:

Servicemen may make application for absentee ballot at any time. Application should be made to the County Clerk of the county in which the serviceman has his residence. However, the Armed Forces, Air Mail "Application for Ballot" postcard will be accepted by the Secretary of State and will be forwarded promptly to the appropriate county Clerk. The postcard application for an absentee ballot seems satisfactory except that it has no space for the serviceman to indicate whether he is member of the regular or permanent military establishment.

Clerk Will Mail Ballots

As soon as the ballots are ready, the County Clerk may mail the absentee ballot to the qualified applicant who has made application. However, no absentee ballots may be mailed by the County Clerk later than three days prior to the day of the election. As a member of the regular military establishment is not qualified to vote and as the armed forces post card application has no space to indicate whether the applicant is a qualified serviceman or not, it seems advisable for County Clerks to take steps to obtain that information. It is suggested that the statement, "I'm not a member of the regular or permanent military or naval establishment of the United States," be added to the application for absentee ballot or to the statement which the serviceman makes under oath and returns with his completed ballot.

The ballot must be marked in the presence of a notary public or other person qualified under the law to take acknowledgments, and the affidavit on the ballot envelope must be filled out, signed, and sworn to by the voter and certified by the officer.

The ballot cannot be marked sooner than 20 days nor later than 3 days prior to the day of election, and the completed ballot must be received by the county clerk by 1 p. m. on the day of the election.
