Strung by J. H. R.

Prelude To Summer
How fitting it is that May the second should be designated as "Lei Day" in Hawaii. Spring begins in March, flourishes through April and reaches full flower in the merry, merry month of May. In the fields, the wheat is ripening and the clover is in full bloom. Wild flowers blanket the countryside, and the trees are heavy with foliage. Water lilies float idly on the surface of pools while the gentle breezes that ripple the water whisper that summer is coming.

Local Merchants Participating In Lake Childress Fish Derby

Ten Memphis firms are participating in the first annual Fishing Derby to be held from June 1 through July 31 at Lake Childress, according to Charles Keller, state game warden from Childress. The fishing event, which includes $200.00 in cash prizes and many others is sponsored by the Childress Chamber of Commerce.

Fish will be tagged with the merchants name on them, and the lucky angler hauling in one of the prize fish will receive whatever prize is offered by that merchant. The game warden said that more Memphis firms may participate if they desire. He said that a considerable number of the regular fishermen at the lake were Memphians.

Entrance fee in the Derby is $1.00 per person. This is not including the cost of a city permit.

Estelline 1932 Culture Club Honors Club Officers With Dinner Party

To conclude the year's work of the 1932 Culture Club of Estelline, Mrs. H. E. Clifton gave a dinner in her spacious country home west of Estelline honoring the officers of the year.

The menu included fried chicken, new potatoes, tossed garden salad, hot rolls, butter, strawberry short cake, and tea or coffee. The table was beautifully appointed with a floral arrangement of sweet peas. The lighted tapers were in silver candelabra.

Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson conducted the business session. The yearly reports of officers were made. The theme for next year "Shaping a New World" was accepted and the budget committee report was adopted. Mrs. H. E. Clifton was appointed social chairman and Mrs. J. R. Rapp was elected press reporter, upon the resignation of Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson. Mrs. E. F. Kennedy's request to be reinstated to membership was accepted and she was placed on the waiting list. The Historian's report for the year was made by Mrs. B. T. Jackson.

The retiring president, Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson, presented the club a press book into which had been pasted the clippings for the year and a matching leather guest register. She then installed the officers for the coming year in a most impressive and beautiful ceremony. First she noted the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the club and presented each active charter member with a corsage. Present were: Mesdames Albert Bailey, H. E. Clifton, D. T. Eddins, and Walter Whaley. Mrs. S. T. Hutchins was absent.

The installation table was beautifully arranged with an orchid and white floral arrangement, with candles, tied with orchid and white satin ribbon. A chain of orchid and white satin ribbon encircled the table. A badge of office was presented to each officer and after Mrs. Wilkinson read the charges to officers and appropriate quotations to carry out the theme, each officer lighted a taper. Each officer represented a quality a good clubwoman should have. Press Reporter, representing knowledge, Mrs. J. R. Rapp, Historian - unselfishness, Mrs. Frank Cooper; Treasurer duty, Mrs. Leon Phillips; Secretary - sowers, Mrs. Dave Waldron; Second vice-president - goals, Mrs. R. V. Wood; First vice-president - happiness, Mrs. C. O. Gregory; President - patience; Mrs. Ben Jackson were the officers installed.

After all tapers were lighted all members joined them and formed a circle with the chain of satin ribbon in their hands. Mrs. Wilkinson, who is moving away from Estelline, gave a tribute to the club and Mrs. Albert Bailey dismissed with prayer.

Attending were Mesdames: A. H. Bailey, J. A. Ballard, F. O. Cooper, W. B. Davidson, C. O. Gregory, B. T. Jackson, Don Leary, J. L. Phillips, L. E. Phillips, J. B. Rapp, D. C. Waldron, W. M. Whaley, R. V. Wood, C. E. Wilkinson, J. L. Mothershed and D. T. Eddins.

Mizpah Guild Meets Monday In Harrison Home

Mrs. Herbert Sisk was hostess to the Mizpah Guild in the home of Mrs. Carl Harrison Monday evening, May 19. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Clifford Farmer.

A devotional meditation on "The Word and Eternal Life" led by Mrs. Ira Foster opened the program. Taking her text from the book of John, Mrs. Foster used the story of Mary, Martha, and her brother, Lazarus, to point out the virtues of Christian living. Roll call was answered, as usual, with appropriate bits of verse and scripture.

Following the items of business pertinent to the membership, Mrs. Burr Morris brought a message of foreign missions in Brazil telling of the needs for Christian service there and the "Protestant Cooperation" demonstrated by the missionaries working in that field.

Eighteen members and one guest, Mrs. Allen Dunbar, enjoyed a delicious refreshment plate during the social interlude. The Guild adjourned to meet again June the second.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McMillan are visiting in Commerce and other points with relatives this week. They were joined in Commerce by their son, Lt. Dan McMillan, who is stationed at Bainbridge Air Force Base, Ga.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

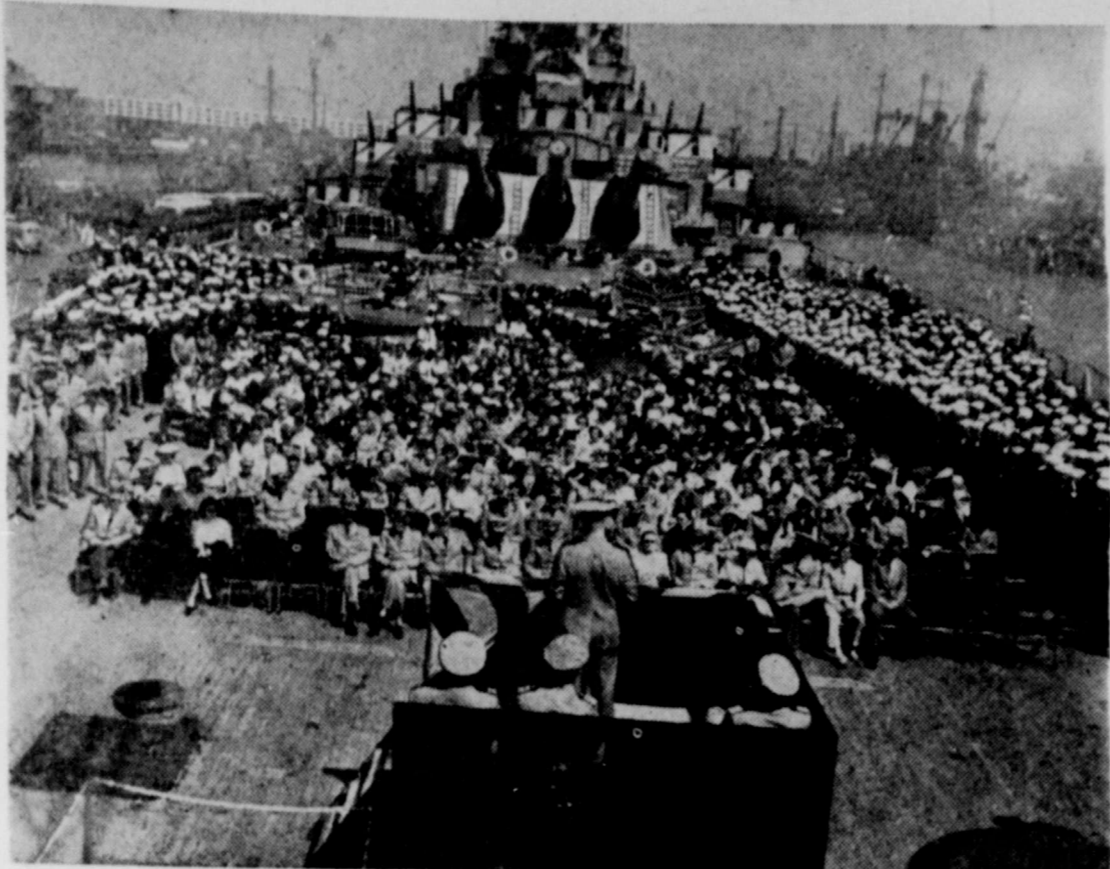

Congressman, 18th District
By Walter Rogers

The tidelands have been misrepresented. I first came to Congress, surprised at some of the things that were made to me concerning the question. Many of them were a complete misconception of the issue involved. I did my best to point out the mistakes that had been created by the members of the House of Representatives and appreciated enlightenment that was completely new to them.

When we gained a number by the work that was done by the members explaining the issue to those members of the House of Representatives. Many of them had been misled by stories and comments circulating around the House of Representatives. The big papers in the country came out with stories that made no mention of the issue involved or how it was handled. The stories merely stated that Congress was trying to GIVE OIL-RICH COASTAL LAND AND WATERS TO A FEW STATES. All of you know that nothing could be more from the truth.

In the first place, Congress was not undertaken to give anybody anything. It was merely trying to do its duty in correcting a grievous wrong that was committed by the Federal Government and the Supreme Court when these lands were stolen from the states by legalized larceny. In the second place, the use of the term "oil-rich" was a misleading half-truth and wild guess. There is no assurance whatever that the tidelands of Texas will produce oil. It is at most semi-wildcat territory. However, there is pretty good assurance of great oil production on the continental shelf off the coast of Texas, which is owned by the Federal Government and which does not belong to Texas and never was claimed by Texas. This continental shelf extends about 135 miles out into the ocean. The tidelands that are in dispute consists of a strip of land only 10 1/2 miles off the coast of Texas. So, you see the State of Texas only owns 10 1/2 miles, while the Federal Government owns approximately 125 miles, and if there is oil off the coast, the Federal Government would get about 12 1/2 times the potential production accruing to Texas, assuming that our 10 1/2-mile strip of tidelands is restored to us as it should be.

On the other states, with the exception of Florida, the tidelands strip is only three miles. But the people want the Federal Government to take over these lands are willing to mislead and misrepresent the actual truth and thereby lead the people to believe that if the tidelands are returned to the several states, the Federal Government will be knocked entirely out insofar as income from oil and gas production of the coast of the United States is concerned. Such tactics are nothing less than the use of bare-faced propaganda. It is our duty and we should never miss the opportunity to tell the truth about the tidelands to everyone we meet. If the people in this country knew the truth about the tidelands, we would have had them back long ago.

Ft. Worth & Denver Road Invites Bids On New Bond Issue

Stockholders of Fort Worth & Denver Railway Company at a meeting in Fort Worth Thursday, May 8th, authorized an invitation for bids on a new $17,000,000 bond issue, which would provide funds to be used in acquiring the stock and obligations of seven affiliated companies in Texas, all owned by Colorado and Southern Railway and constituting a part of that company's railway lines in Texas.

The refinancing plan, approval of which is being sought from Interstate Commerce Commission and Railroad Commission of Texas, would retire all outstanding indebtedness of Fort Worth and Denver Railway and Colorado and Southern Railway, now owing to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or represented by bonds in the hands of the public.

A Plan of Adjustment adopted in March, 1943, has resulted in these railroads reducing bonded indebtedness from more than $52,000,000 to $17,000,000, the amount now being sought.

Approval of this refinancing plan from the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Texas Railroad Commission will clear the way for all lines of railroad in Texas, usually referred to as Burlington Lines, to be owned and operated by Fort Worth and

'Round-Up' in Gulf Nets 15 Sea Horses

ROCKPORT—The Marine Laboratory operated by the Texas Game and Fish Commission at Rockport, has an unusually good supply of sea horses for the moment, according to Chief Marine Biologist Jack Baughman.

Fifteen of the odd shaped species were taken in two hauls of the shell dredge in the bay off Rockport.

The largest of these was only six inches long. Those taken off the Florida coast oftentimes reach twelve inches.

For what it is worth, sea horses relish daphnia (water fleas). When fed in their tanks, they snap their jaws very audibly over the delicacy.

Marine Biologist Howard T. Lee noted that the horse fish and the cow fish also don't look alike. The horse fish is a stringy looking thing with a long tail. The cow-fish is shaped much like a crappie and has a hard shell.

Roger Bacon invented the magnifying glass.

Retha Carol Mitchell Becomes Bride Of Robert D. Coon In Lakeview Rites

In a double ring ceremony performed Friday, May 23, at 6 p. m. in the Lakeview Baptist Church, Miss Retha Carol Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Mitchell of Lakeview, became the bride of Robert David Coon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beyer of Washington, D. C.

Rev. Guy Killian, pastor, read the marriage service before an archway of fern and white gladioli.

Mrs. Guy Killian, vocalist, sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Spear at the piano, who also played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a frock of navy blue sheer accented by white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. She carried a white Bible.

Miss Sheila Killian was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Sylvia Lee Weddel. They were attired in street-length dresses of blue and pink and both wore corsages of white carnations.

Roy Don Coleman served the groom as best man and ushers were Larry Gillispie and Bobby Jay Mitchell, brother of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. Guy Killian. A three-tiered wedding cake and punch was served from a lace covered table.

The bride was reared at Lakeview and is a graduate of the Lakeview High School with the spring graduating class.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Kramer High School, Washington, D. C. At the present time he is stationed at the Amarillo Air Force Base.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Coon will be at home in Amarillo. For traveling the bride chose a blue suit with white accessories.

Among the out-of-town wedding guests was Mrs. Clifford Beyer, mother of the groom.

Culture Club Holds Installation Service Wednesday

Officers of the Woman's Culture Club were installed in an impressive ceremony at the final meeting of the year last Wednesday. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Gene Chamberlain, 1401 Malifen, with Mrs. Clifford Farmer, president, presiding.

Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, who served as installing officer, used the flower motif as the theme of the installation service. The honey-suckle was used to represent the members at large and the red rose, the sign of love and loyalty, represented the president of the club.

The pink rose, the symbol of readiness, was used to represent the first and second vice presidents while the larkspur, blue flower of truth represented the secretary. The gold snapdragon, flower of constancy, represented the treasurer and the purple pansy, sign of royalty, represented the historian. As a bouquet needs ferns for completeness, so the club needs a reporter, Mrs. Phillips said as she installed the reporter. A white lily, the symbol of light, was used to represent the parliamentarian.

Officers installed were Alma Bruce, president; Mrs. C. D. Morris, first vice president; Mrs. R. E. Clark, second vice president; Mrs. Coy Beckham, secretary; Mrs. Burr Morris, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. Madden, historian; Mrs. Homer Tribble, reporter and Mrs. D. A. Grundy, reporter.

Sybil Gurley gave the afternoon's devotional entitled "Task Well Done," using as the text Paul's writings.

Miss Alma Bruce gave a report on the district TFWC convention and Mrs. C. D. Morris read the historian's report.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. W. E. Leslie, Lloyd Phillips, D. A. Grundy, Jeannette Irons, Clifford Farmer, Coy Beckham, Conley Ward, Robert Moss, Ward Gurley, Frank Ellis, C. D. Morris, Burr Morris, L. A. Stilwell and Misses Sybil Gurley, Mary Noel and Alma Bruce.

Pathfinders Meet In Davidson Home

The Pathfinders' Council met in the home of Mrs. Rollo Davidson Tuesday, May 13, with Mrs. Gene Chamberlain, president, presiding.

After Mrs. Davidson had led the opening prayer, Mrs. J. J. McDaniel, program leader, presented the afternoon program which was entitled "Music—a World Unifier," and was given by sons and daughters of the club members.

Appearing on the program were Gene Davidson who played a cornet solo accompanied by Inez Martin; Johnny McDaniel on the flute and Johnny Chamberlain on the trombone accompanied by Gene Davidson; and three piano solos by Marie Davidson, Betty Gidden and Morris Davidson. John Lemons gave a reading as the concluding number.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. Gene Chamberlain, W. H. Monzingo, W. D. Young, A. Gidden, Earl Pritchett, A. O. Gidden, Doyle Cassey, W. F. McElreath, J. J. McDaniel, Lee Brown, Robert Breedlove, and hostess, Mrs. Davidson.

The Salisbury Club met in the home of Mrs. H. L. Solomon on Tuesday afternoon.

The afternoon was spent embroidering tea towels for the hostess, Mrs. Lockhart, president, conducted a short business session.

The next meeting is slated for June 10 in the home of Mrs. W. B. McQueen, Sr., with Mrs. Ira McQueen as co-hostess.

Sandwiches and punch were served to the following members: Mmes. T. K. Wilton, D. C. Messick, E. L. McQueen, Ed Hutcherson, Neal Sweatt, Ira McQueen, G. W. Lockhart, Ted Barnes, Larry McQueen, Cecil Lockhart, C. A. Williams, Jr., and two visitors, Mrs. Tisha Wimberly of Boonesville, and Mrs. C. A. Williams, Sr., of Wichita Falls.

MEMORIAL DAY — A HOLIDAY?

Tomorrow is Memorial Day.
For most people it is a day of respite from the humdrum routine of work. It is a day for taking the family on a picnic or a drive in the country. Like Labor Day and the Fourth of July, it's a fine occasion for baseball crowds to enjoy a doubleheader. At Indianapolis scores of thousands will gather to watch a phenomenon of the automobile age—dare-devil drivers risking their necks in a 500-mile speedway race.

It will be a quite day for those for whom the day was set aside—the men who gave their lives that we might enjoy ours.
They lie there—by now a part of the earth from whence they sprang—in Shiloh, Chickamauga, Gettysburg, Vicksburg, Flanders fields, Anzio, Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima and Pusan; their ears are deaf to the beat of distance drums, the rattle of muke-try, the monotonous drone of an orator's eulogy; their eyes cannot see the bloody mass of flesh that was once a buddy, the filth of the foxhole and the trench, the rows of neat, white crosses that mark their final resting places.

Tomorrow is Memorial Day.
Officially, it is a day for honoring the dead of war. It is a day set apart each year, first by custom and later by statute, for the purpose of honoring the memory of the soldiers who fought in the Civil War. The custom of Decoration Day, as it is also called, originated in the South where flowers were strewn over the graves of the fallen heroes.

The custom has survived the test of time, and now the dead of our conflicts since the Civil War are also remembered on this day. In some localities, special memorial services are held at the graves of the dead who have been returned from battlefields over the world. These men are not forgotten by their loved ones. For those who survive, Memorial Day is not just a holiday from work, or an opportunity to take a trip over the long weekend. They cannot forget these men who made the supreme sacrifice.

Can you afford to?

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Errors in the paper are always, for its excellence. Not that ours regrettable, and many times can be of such excellence that it'll not fully be explained.
And our friends call our attention to error a lot more quickly than they'll brag on our sheet
more often than "you're right."

A few have been the times our customers have said to us "That was a nice ad we had in your paper. We couldn't find an error in it."

But more often—much more often—we've had them call up and say: "There was an error in a price in our ad. What are you gonna do about it?"

Then's when it's embarrassing
—but errors always are. When over 1700 copies have been printed and gone into the mails there isn't much we can do about an error except wait until next week and print a correction, or something.

And in case of an error in price, especially when the price is too low, the "horse of a different color" bobs up. There isn't much point in printing a correction
after shoppers have insisted on buying the article at the low price.

We strive for correctness—although our finished product doesn't look it sometimes.

We've glanced over our paper
on Thursday nights and wondered where we were, where the proofreader was, where the make-up man was while the thing was in the process of getting ready to be printed.

But there's so many chances of making an error that they're liable to happen when everyone is at his best.

Take the lowly local, for instance. This little item is what we often call the life-blood of a weekly paper.

That little local news item is juggled around nearly a dozen times before it's finally printed.

First, you give the item to a member of the staff, who types
it up on the typewriter.

Then it's read by another person, who takes it to the operator,
who places it in type.

The thing is proofed and read by the proofreader, who marks all errors that don't get by the weary eye.

The little local takes another turn back to the operator to have the errors corrected.

Another person comes along and picks up the proofsheets with the corrected lines and places the corrections in the proper places.

Sometimes they don't get in the proper places then when you pick up your paper and start to read the little local, you've got mess on your hands.

After being corrected, the local stands in the "galley" until the makeup man is ready for it.

If he is extremely lucky, he will get all his type in the form without any "pi" among it. If he isn't lucky, he may come out with some "pied" lines in the paper.

Then when you pick up your paper to read it, you've got another mess on your hands.

So when you consider all the rounds the little news item has
to take before it gets into print, you sometimes wonder how in the world it comes out correct, anyway.

We've often aspired to get out
a newspaper without a single error in it. We've just about given up hopes.

When we do, we think we'll retire for the remainder of our life, and rest on our laurels of having gone through one week
without a single error!

Mrs. Lynn McKown, president, opened the meeting with a prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. She presented the incoming president, Mrs. Gordon Gilliam, with a tree trunk which she placed in the soil. Other retiring officers in their order read reports of their year's work then presented, in turn, a green branch to the incoming officers to be placed in the tree trunk. At the conclusion, Mrs. McKown presented to the incoming president, Mrs. Gordon Gilliam, a small hand-made gavel and gavel as a gift to the club. This gavel of walnut was hand-carved by Mrs. McKown.
