Prospects Are for High Yield

Although only about 15,000 acres—about half the normal crop—are planted to wheat in Hall County this year, prospects are good for the best per-acre yield in years, according to McKown. Local Business People in Cartoon Feature

A unique feature—to run every week for 13 weeks—begins in this issue of The Democrat. Although it is primarily a page of advertisements, the manner in which it is presented makes the cartoons, features informative and interesting.

This new feature will be found on page nine of The Democrat. Drawn by "Hut" Hutson. Drawn by H. H. "Hut" Hutson, one of the finest cartoonists in the West, the page is sponsored by 13 Memphis firms. Each of them will be prominently featured—one each week—until all have had a brief historical sketch published.

First business to be featured is the Hall County Dairy and the new owner, George Washko, who bought the concern June 1 from Ralph Stewart.

Different cartoon each week. Also on the page is a different cartoon each week revealing historical and other interesting facts about the great State of Texas. Artist Hutson, although a native Georgian, has studied his adopted state from top to bottom. And he comes up with some excellent material, depicted in an interesting manner.

Colorado Rivers and Peaks Are Summer Tourist Havens

The shining mountains and rippling rivers of Colorado have been a vacation haven for millions of Southwesterners for the last three quarters of a century, and their drawing power is sure to continue strong this summer.

There are many reasons for Colorado's vacation glamor:

It is so close to all parts of the Southwest—only about a day away.

It is geared to take care of every tourist need—thousands of finely appointed camps, dude ranches, and hotels set in glorious surroundings; some of America's finest eating places; excellent highways and transportation, and almost everywhere, skilled veterans who have made lifetime careers of showing tourists and vacationers how to have a good time.

It offers an amazing variety of scenic attractions—52 snow-capped peaks more than 14,000 feet in altitude plus hundreds of lesser mountain titans, hundreds of gem-like, trout-filled lakes in the high country, thousands of miles of ice-cold rippling rivers offering out-of-this-world trout fishing, and a wonderland of Nature beckoning to the hiker, the horseman, and the camera fan.

Most important of all, during the searing summer weeks which hit the Southwest, Colorado offers a cool, dry climate with brisk nights and sunny days—a haven for the heat-sufferer, the sinus victim, and the hayfever patient.

There are dozens of fascinating regions in Colorado, but those getting the most play are:

Colorado Springs, with fine food and hotels, Pike's Peak as a backdrop, the Garden of the Gods, the Will Rogers Memorial, and plenty of dude ranches, fishing, and scenery nearby.

Denver, the mile-high capital of the Rockies, with excellent museums, parks, historic spots, hotels, and eating places, and an abundance of scenic and historic spots nearby.

Rocky Mountain National Park, 70 miles northwest of Denver, draws over a million visitors a year, who come for sight-seeing, camping, resting, hiking, horseback riding, and travel over its fantastic Trail Ridge Road.

The Western Slope—the west side of the Rockies' front range—a fairland of sparsely-inhabited wilderness among soaring, snow-capped peaks, gorgeous deep blue lakes, fishing where men have never fished before, and travel by vehicle, foot, or horse into wooded fastness where people are scarce and breathtaking new vista awaits around every corner. This is the country that includes Grand, Winter Park, Grand Lake, Glenwood Springs, Aspen, Gun-

VET PROBLEMS AND ANSWERS

Q. I'm planning to switch schools under the GI Bill, without changing my course. My new school is located in another part of the country, and I'll have to take time off in order to transfer. Will this interruption be permitted, under VA regulations?

A. Yes, provided you file an application for a change of schools with VA. You must, however, start your course in the new school within a reasonable period of time.

Q. May I use a GI loan to buy residential property containing more than one family unit? I plan to live in one of the apartments.

A. Yes, but the total number of separate units cannot be more than four, if you are buying it alone.

Q. I'm a World War II veteran, back on active duty. I expect to get out sometime in 1952. Will I still be able to take advantage of my GI loan privilege, based on my World War II service?

A. Yes. You'll have plenty of time to obtain a GI loan, for the deadline for most veterans does not come until July 25, 1957.

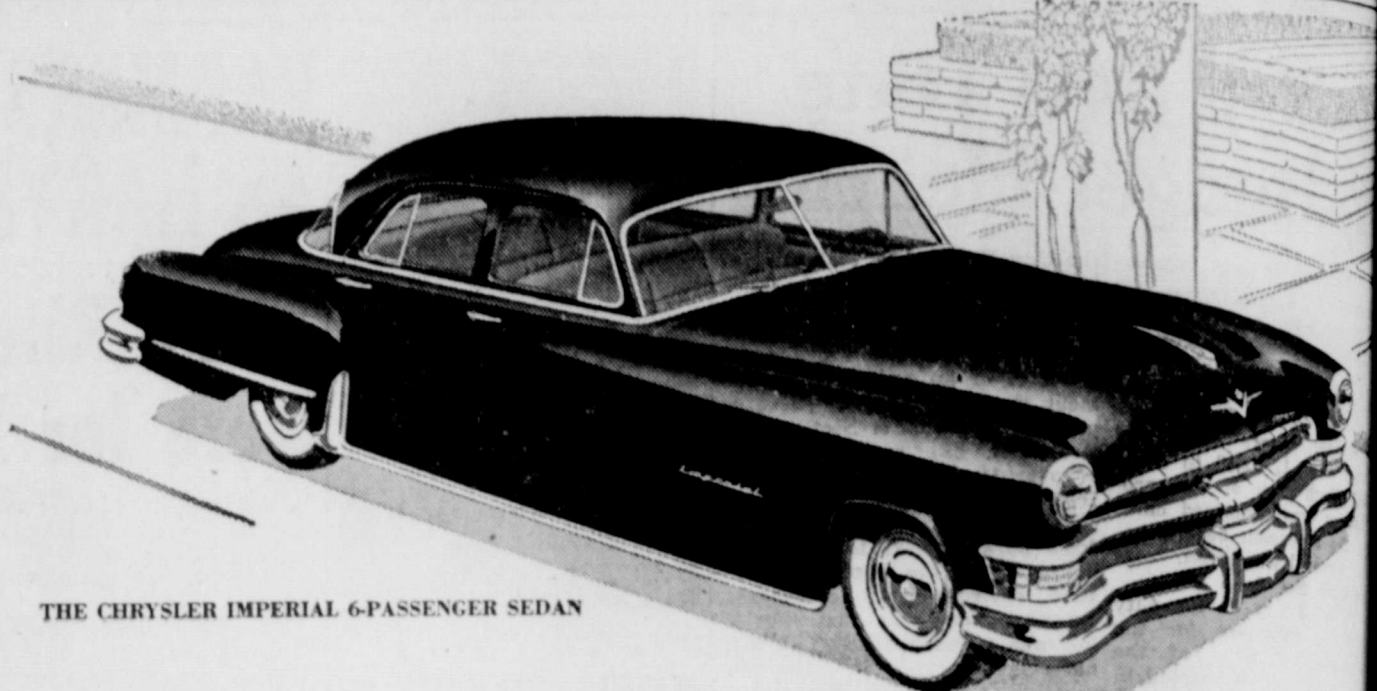

Q. I want to change the beneficiary of my National Service Life Insurance policy. How do I go about it?

A. You must notify the VA District Office that handles your insurance account, preferably on a form that may be obtained at any VA office. If you don't have such a form, any written notice so long as you sign it and include enough information so that we can identify your account.

THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!!

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave so many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial... and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We... and Imperial by Chrysler... are at your service, any time.

Cotton Planting Almost Finished
Lynn McKown, county PMA officer, said that almost all of Hall County's cotton would be in the ground by Saturday if the weather permits. Although some farmers are just now getting around to planting, many of the biggest planters have already finished. He said this year's acreage is about equal to that planted to cotton in 1951. More acreage for feed crops, with grain sorghum leading, has been planted this year, but there is less wheat in the county, he added.

Locals and Personals
Those spending the week end in the Herman Elkins home at Brook-hollow Lake were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nelson and children, Sarah Beth and George Robert of Amarillo, Mr. M. C. Nelson and daughter, Lavonne from Albuquerque, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nelson and son from Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Nelson and daughters Janet and Beverly of Memphis, and Miss Mary Ellen Harris from Amarillo.

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more — and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes. So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflo Drive* feeds the power — with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it — and you'll have a lot of fun.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Why are women's purses bigger than men's?

Remember all those cartoons you've seen of a wife going through her sleeping husband's trouser pockets? They may give you a clue why some women's purses are bigger.

But we're inclined to think that there are other and better reasons why more women than men own stock in so many of America's largest companies.

For one thing, women are practical, thrifty, and inclined to do something sensible about their future finances and those of the family. Forgive us, mister, but the facts speak for themselves:

Women have outnumbered men share owners of telephone stock since 1900. The big food companies have a predominance of women share owners. Ditto the country's largest auto maker. And, at last count, 116,800 women owned shares in General Electric as against 83,000 men.

Big business, as it turns out, is a woman.

About 2,100 of these women—and men—turned out this spring to attend the G-E annual meeting and eat a box lunch in one of our largest factory buildings. If you'd like a report of what was said and done, just let us know. A card asking for "Report of the Sixtieth Annual Meeting," Dept. 6B, General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y., will do the trick.

A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

One of the first things a newcomer notices about Memphis and all of Hall County for that matter, is the friendly, unselfish spirit of the people.

It is more than the neighborly greeting on the Square, or favors of next-door neighbors. Those small things add up, though, to make life much more pleasant. And they are intangible things that cannot be bought—or even found in the crowded cities where next-door neighbors rarely know each other's last names.

The progressive spirit of the various civic and social organizations in Memphis is something to be proud of, also. Seldom can there be found, especially in older sections of Texas, such constructive small town organizations as the local Lions, Rotary, I.O.O.F., Rebekahs, American Legion and V.F.W., and the various federated women's clubs. Not to be overlooked are the churches of Memphis that exert such a strong spiritual and moral influence.

Examples of the selfless attitude of the people are evident everywhere around us. When Joe Booth of Lesley was critically injured over two months ago, friends began soliciting contributions to help his widowed mother pay the costly expenses incurred in hospitalization and treatment. In the first fund campaign not one single person refused to give something when asked. By now over $3,200.00 has been given.

Another recent example of generosity was the help given Hall County 4-H boys in obtaining an expensive registered bull for improving and building the boys' herds for the future. Several firms donated enough money to make the purchase possible.

There are too many laudable acts and deeds to list them all. When one is sick there is always a neighbor or friend to sit up; when there is a death in the community, scores of friends are kind enough to prepare food or help the family in the hour of sorrow.

Such are the blessing of a smaller community, the everyday acts that make places like Memphis and Hall County a good place to live.

—By Deskins Wells

Byron Hollingsworth came by to tell a strange snake story the other day. While fishing on Elm Creek he saw a small sized King snake kill a rattler about four feet long; but the real story is that on May 16 he caught a blue cat fish and when he cleaned the fish he found a small rattlesnake in its stomach that was about half a foot long. Well, fish stories are fish stories and snake stories are snake stories. You can believe Byron Hollingsworth or Palo Cummings. I will report as the truth that I saw a Cardinal in my backyard last week besides the wood peckers, thrushes, and blue jays and the bats that fly around in the evening. —The Wellington Leader

Personally I desire but one thing out of Washington, My life would be simplified and less embarrassing through a national regulation forcing builders to make the doors of public buildings to swing but one direction. Invariably when I lunge against one of these inch-thick glass doors, I later observe the "pull" sign. If I pull and nothing happens, I find the "push" sign. The experience would be less bitter if I could make mistakes without an audience, but if I am alone at the portal, I always detect little echoes of escaping laughter.

Political promises made under the spell of an election moon, are like those made during a summer love affair. At some time in the future they may become embarrassing and ridiculous. —The Matador Tribune

Speeding

Have you ever seen your child hit by a speeding car? Have you known the paralyzing fear that grips your heart and chokes you? Have you stood and watched while she spun through the air and landed with a sickening thud on the pavement? I had that experience Saturday and it is my sincere hope that other parents in Lake Jackson are spared. We were indeed fortunate that she was not killed or seriously injured, maybe permanently crippled.

This accident was caused by a teen-ager, and while they are not our only traffic violators and reckless drivers, they figure in a large number of traffic accidents and cause many deaths.

Do you parents of teen-agers realize the seriousness of your child, yourself and the public when you hand the keys to your particular teen-age boy or girl? Most of you wouldn't hand your child a gun and turn him loose on the streets to have a good time, but the car is just as lethal a weapon. It's up to you, as a parent, to see that your child drives carefully and within the speed limit or have his driving privileges suspended.

It is the duty of every citizen to get the license number of any car figuring in reckless driving of any kind, whether driven by a teen-ager or a thoughtless grown up, and give it to your local officer of the law. In this way some of the tragedies can be averted and the potential killers behind the wheel can be slowed down or have their drivers' licenses suspended.

Washko Buys Hall County Dairy; Promises Same Excellent Service

George Washko, formerly in the hotel business in Berger, is the new owner-manager of the Hall County Dairy. He purchased the firm June 1 from Ralph Stewart who has been with the dairy since it was started here four years ago. Stewart has no definite plans for the future, except a Colorado vacation for himself, his wife, and two children, Bill, 4, and Mary Ann, 2. They still own a farm near here. The new owner is a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. He attended Pennsylvania State College, and has worked in the hotel business in New York, New Jersey, Kansas and Texas. During the last World War he served in the army for four years. He is 28.

Washko and his wife, Dorothy, live in the Odom Apartments. She is also from Wilkes-Barre. They have been married only five weeks. Washko announced that the dairy will be operated as in the past, with the same personnel and the same plan of operation.

Built "from scratch" since 1948, the Hall County Dairy's milk-shed covers a large area around Memphis. There are nine producers, all operating with state-inspected barns and herds, selling milk products to the company.

Producers for the dairy are: J. F. McIntosh, J. E. Murdock, Louis Richards, Orval Phillips, Charlie Williams, Stacey Waites, M. Srygley, O. A. Srygley and Charles Starkey.

The dairy now handles all milk products and ice cream. It sells only state-approved grade A products. The plant itself has the most modern milk-handling equipment. Four trucks are operated to deliver milk and milk products to Wellington, Memphis, Hedley, Estelline, Carey and Lakeview.

That the firm has added new wealth and a needed service to the area is illustrated by the fact that there was not a single grade A milk producer in the surrounding area when the dairy started here in April, 1948.

Employees at the Hall County Dairy include: Melvin Brawley, C. L. Arglin, J. W. Combs, C. V. Tamplin, J. T. Cooper, Burvine Downey and Jimmy Mitchell.

Lock Used for Normal Births

Originally conceived for the treatment of infants born by caesarean section, prematurely or during difficult deliveries, the air lock has been found so effective that in hospitals where it is available, physicians are using it for normal children as well as the less fortunate, the News reported.
 The principal virtue of the air lock is that handling of the infant during the first 15 minutes of its life, the period when most danger exists, is reduced to a minimum, the News said.
 Reporting on the manner in which the device works, the News article said:
 Pressure cyclizing reproduce the movements of birth, aspirate fluid from the throat and lungs, and stimulate normal breathing. Meanwhile, oxygen, which can be absorbed through the skin and the mucous membranes of the newborn, is introduced into the chamber where the infant lies. Some babies remain in the air lock less than an hour, others stay for several days. Immature babies are kept in it until normal breathing and normal skin color-

Signals Warn of Failure

As breathing becomes normal, the pressure within the chamber is reduced. At all times, a system of warning devices keeps the attendant informed as to any failure of the machine. The only manual operation required is the removal of fluids aspirated from the child's body.
 As nurses and physicians point out, the air lock, of benefit to every child born in a hospital, has a much wider application than the more publicized "iron lung" which is used in comparatively few cases.

Pressure Lock Arrives—Miss Dorothy Ray Kesterson, R. N., superintendent of nurses at the Odom Clinic Hospital, shows the new oxygen-air pressure lock which has been installed in the hospital's delivery room. The lock is proving a boon in the handling of all newborn children.

Texas University Library Will Get Millionth Volume

AUSTIN—A milestone in the history of Texas library's history will be reached when it acquires its one millionth volume at May 31 commencement exercises. The University of Texas Press publication of "Yellow Fever in Galveston" will be presented to President T. S. Palster by Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., of Dallas, Board of Regents chairman.
 Dr. Paintey will deliver the commencement address. More than 1,300 degrees, including more than 100 doctorates and more than 200 master's, will be awarded.
 Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, Galveston Medical Branch vice-president, edited "Yellow Fever in Galveston." The book includes an account of the 1839 epidemic by Dr. Ashbel Smith, former surgeon-general of the Texas army who was appointed in 1881 by Gov. O. M. Roberts to be first chairman of the University's Board of Regents. Dr. Smith owned one of the largest private libraries in Texas at his death in 1886.
 The library's millionth volume will be placed in the Texas History Center rare books section. The University's Texas Collection is by far the most complete in existence, containing extensive records of Texas and Texans. University Librarian Alexander Moffit said much of its growth is due to gifts from citizens of the state.
 The University library, one of the outstanding research libraries of the nation, is the largest south of a line reaching across the U.S. from Durham, N.C., to Palo Alto, Calif., and the largest within 1,000 miles of Austin. It

Texas School Children Face Inferior Education if More Money Is Not Spent

AUSTIN—Texans must spend more of their state tax dollars on public schools or see their children handicapped by receiving an inferior education.
 That blunt warning was issued here today by Miss Ruth Hillyer, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, who urged Texans to realize the seriousness of the situation.
 Heavy annual increased enrollment in elementary and high schools, which is expected to continue at least through 1959-60, plus many antiquated educational plants now in use are the main reasons for the need of more funds.
 The increased attendance makes necessary a minimum of 1,000 more teachers each year, and the same number of additional classrooms, Miss Hillyer said.
 That, plus the need to make it more attractive for teachers to keep them from going to better positions, makes it imperative that the next legislature provide additional funds, Miss Hillyer declared.
 Local school districts cannot raise even half of the millions of dollars needed, she said.
 The increase in the number of scholastic-age children in Texas is increasing by 50,000 annually and it is expected to continue to do so for several years. Of that number, at least 75 percent will enter the public schools through each year until 1959-60.
 "That means that even with teachers having classes of 30 pupils (the ideal proportion is 24 to one teacher), that an average of 1,000 additional teachers, and, of course, that many new classrooms must be added each year," Miss Hillyer pointed out.
 "Too, more adequate pay for teachers to keep them from leav-

Films and slides are being used to present the material to the students.

The final program will be on the night of June 13 in the church with the entire membership invited to see the work displays on exhibit in the basement. A 78-minute sound movie, "Second Chance," will be shown in the sanctuary. This is the film being contributed to the school by the Victory Sunday School class.

A Unique Feature—

has done several cartoon features on prominent citizens. A pipe—usually a grotesque-looking thing—is his trade mark. He is a connoisseur of pipes, having accumulated a huge assortment of them in his pipe-smoking career. As might be expected, he also knows his tobaccos. "Hut" without his pipe would be like Churchill without the long cigar.

"Hut" Is Free-Lancer

He is a free-lancer in his field, although most of his cartooning is done for his home-town Amarillo papers. Probably every paper in the Panhandle has carried his drawings, and almost every well-known personage in this area has been caricatured by him.

"Hut" was taught the cartooning trade by Dorman H. Smith, syndicated artist and dean of American political cartoonists. The Amarillo artist studied photo engraving at the famed Aurora, Mo. School of Engraving. Before he got into his present profession, "Hut" had been everything from a telegrapher to a truck driver. During World War II, he was in the air arm of the Navy.
