Frankie Carle and Orchestra Appear at Childress Tues.

Childress, Tex. (Special) Frankie Carle, who claims to have sold more recordings than any other artist during the past ten years, will bring his famous orchestra to the Childress Airfield Officers Club on Tuesday night, September 16.

One of the top bands in the country, the Carle aggregation is currently setting box office records in theatres and ballrooms from coast to coast.

Although nearly everyone knows Frankie is the nation's most popular pianist-leader, few realize he has established equal success as a composer. His "Sunrise Serenade" which serves as a theme song for the band, is rated with the most popular American songs by ASCAP. "Lover's Lullaby," "Billie Leaves," "Oh What It Used to Be," "The Busiest in Home Town," are just a few of his many song hits.

His appearance in Childress is sponsored by the Childress posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Admission is $2.50 per person, tax included.

LETTERS FROM READERS

Box 494
Phillips, Texas

Dear Sir: Why isn't the by-pass road paved? I come through your little city pretty often and this is a puzzle to my friends and I.

It seems as if you don't want to get along with out-of-towners. They even put up stop signs for a while which made a lot of people angry at the city. Now you have a 15-mile speed limit which would be a safe 30-mile zone.

Maybe you just don't care what passersby think about your city. Anyway, I felt like I had to pop off a little.

Yours truly,
Buel Stott

Sim Goodall has returned home following a vacation trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gilmore and son, Jerry of Dallas are here visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Gene Lindsey and family.

Combat Badge Given To Billy Stewart

Pfc. Billy G. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Stewart, 1015 Main, has won the Combat Infantryman Badge symbol of the front line soldier, while serving in Korea with the 25th Infantry Division.

The badge, consisting of a miniature replica of a Revolutionary War flintlock rifle on a blue background, is awarded only to those who have come under enemy fire.

Private Stewart is an assistant squad leader in Headquarters Company of the 5th Infantry Regiment.

Tri-State Fair to Feature Ice Vogues

The all-new skating extravaganza, "Ice Vogues of 1952" has been scheduled to play at Sports Arena, during Tri-State Fair for a 7-day engagement beginning on September 22 thru 28. Performances each day at 2:30 and 8 p.m.

Appearance of the musical ice revue here will present an internationally noted cast of 75 figure skaters on a large surface of real ice. It is a full scale extravaganza comparable in costumes, settings and music to a major Broadway musical except that the entire two and one-half hour performance is presented on flashing silver blades, on real ice.

In its sixth season, "Ice Vogues" is one of six major ice shows which have shared an annual attendance of more than 15 million patrons. The production has recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe where the elaborate blade revue played to capacity audiences in seven countries. In many cases Vogues gave residents of the Continent their first taste of a topnotch American figure skating show. It held Ice Show fans spellbound for 1 month in Rome, Italy—3 weeks at the Pallas De Sports in Paris, France.

Hedley Soldier Remains in Army

Baumholder, Ger — Sergeant First Class Emit N. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ray, Hedley, Texas, recently re-enlisted in the Army for three years at Baumholder, Germany.

A food service specialist in the 2nd Armored Division Artillery, SFC Ray first entered the Army in 1942 and served in the Pacific and Europe during World War II. He holds the Combat Infantryman Badge in addition to various campaign ribbons.

His wife, Yreva Jene, is with him in Germany.

Teach Children Dental Habits

One-half of all children between three and nine have never been to a dentist, according to surveys, and the State Department of Health tags that as one reason why there are some 284 million cavities in the teeth of American kids between those ages.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, recommends these four rules as a method of getting children into sound dental habits:

1. A well-balanced diet with consumption of sweets kept to a minimum. Sugar in excessive quantities produces the destructive mouth acids that cause dental decay.
2. Proper tooth brushing, beginning at an early age. This means brushing the teeth within ten minutes after eating.

3. Early detection and care of dental defects. This will prevent larger troubles later. Neglect may produce serious dental problems which will continue throughout life.

4. Either access to drinking water from a community water system containing the proper amount of fluorides for tooth decay prevention or application of sodium fluoride to the teeth at periodic intervals. Children who drink flouridated water from birth have from one-half to two-thirds less tooth decay than those who drink fluoride-free water.

Americans as a whole are highly susceptible to tooth decay by virtue of their diet, the state health officer points out. As a matter of fact, dental authorities say, this country has often been called "a nation of dental cripples." They urge all parents to realize that so-called "baby teeth" are vital to good dental health in adulthood.

School Starts for Jimmy, Health Check Needed

Year-old Jimmy is bursting with pride. It's his first time to school, and for weeks he and his satchel are a box of crayons, ready for the big day. Packed in his satchel are a box of crayons, a ruler, and plenty of pencils with the biggest chasers he could find for the many mistakes he'll make. His brand new shoes have a shine—and their squeak is almost unnoticeable. All in all, he's one of the happiest boys in town.

Jimmy is lucky if his health equipment is in as good shape as his school equipment. Soon after Jimmy was born, the family doctor or a pediatrician (a specialist in the care of children) examined him, prescribed his diet, gave him the necessary shots, and saw him safely through the first year of life. Ideally, Jimmy should have been taken back to the doctor every six months or year until school time. However, because his parents do not allow enough in their budget for these important periodic check-ups, he may have been seen by the doctor only on rare occasions, such as when he had scarlet fever or when he stuck a nail in his foot. More than likely what he remembers is being in pain, feeling bad, and having to take nasty medicine, and unfortunately he may associate all those bad memories with the doctor.

It's no small wonder, then, that he balks like a mule when it's time for a preschool check-up. Some schools have round-ups for health examinations early enough in the summer to be of the most benefit. However, it may be easier for Jimmy's mother and father to give in and not take him until the last minute, when forced to do so by rules which require examination and vaccination before he can enter school. Perhaps they will follow the recommendation of the school officials or the doctor and see that he is protected against diphtheria, tetanus (lockjaw) and whooping cough as well.

MAN BURIED ALIVE . . . This dramatic plate was taken in San Francisco as Firemen Fred Schier (right) and Pat Maloney struggled in vain to save John Reid, 18, college student working at summer job. The youth had fallen into a tank containing some 14 tons of wet grain at a malt plant.

A school health examination has a two fold purpose: to advise school authorities of any physical or mental handicap which should be considered in the teaching program and to enable the parents to take care of any defect like bad eyesight, which can be remedied before it becomes a handicap.

What if Jimmy comes up short? He may need glasses or may be run-down and anemic. He may need to be sent to a dentist for work on his teeth such as filling cavities or straightening teeth. It's pretty late to do anything about these things without cutting into school schedule. In addition, if he needs more "boosters" or re vaccination, the larger doses of vaccine may make him ill. Wise parents have taken their children for examinations and injections earlier in the summer, but Jimmy's are learning the hard way. They promise that next year will be different.

If Jimmy hasn't been seeing the doctor and dentist all along, there are several ways his parents can help prepare him for his first visit. First, they should not tell him the doctor won't hurt. Needed immunizations are painful at least to a slight degree and part of the check-up, such as the throat examination, may not be very pleasant. If Jimmy wants to brag afterwards that "it didn't hurt a bit," that's okay, but to make false promises and then to violate his trust is to stir up bad feelings. Like a little elephant, he'll never forget.

Jimmy usually will cooperate better if his parents take him first into their confidence. They should let him know that some things which are to be done may hurt for a while but are necessary before he can go to school with the other kids, who are getting the same treatment. Then if he asks questions, he should receive simple, frank answers.

If Jimmy realizes that before long he will be on his own in school, away from his mother's apron strings, and is filled with the idea of independence, he might want to have a man to man talk with the doctor. Mother can give the doctor information about Jimmy's history, something needed badly, but there is little she can do during the actual examination and treatment. Therefore, unless Jimmy insists upon he being present, she could be most helpful in building up Jimmy's ego by staying out of the examining room.

In a way, a health examination for Jimmy just before he goes to school is a blessing. He isn't ill, so the doctor has a chance to impress him favorably. The good relationship which can be established at this time will last him all his life. It will awaken in him a consciousness of the need to stay in good health by going to the doctor and dentist regularly, and he will know that when he is sick he can count on the doctor as his friend.

What's the MOST SURPRISING THING about this BUICK?

2-door, 6-passenger Special Sedan.

WE'LL tell you the answer to that one—it's the figures on the price tag.

For some reason, lots of people just can't believe they can buy a Buick at a price so close to "the low-priced three."

Maybe it's because a Buick seems so much better and bigger.

Maybe it's because they think Buick has so much more power and room—which is true.

Maybe it is because so many distinguished people own Buicks—which is also a fact.

But the fact remains—if you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick—so let's see what you get.

You get the thrilling power of a Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head—as much power as you can get in cars costing $300 to $400 more.

You get as much room as you'll get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

You get a ride that cost an honest-to-goodness million dollars to develop.

You get the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive.*

You get big-car comfort, styling, durability.

Don't take our word for it. Come in and see for yourself why so many folks are stepping up to this great car this year.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Hall Countian—

Mrs. Lewis Foxhall, Mrs. Ed. Hillis, J. R. Mitchell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gibson, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Rev. Burr Morris, Mrs. Hattie Dem Thompson, Dr. O. R. Goodall, J. H. Morris and James Morris, Jr. These citizens were guests at the convention.

Durham, who is owner of Durham Pharmacy in Memphis, became identified with state Democratic party politics several years ago when he was elected a county delegate. He has attended six state conventions as a representative from Hall County, and has been aligned with various state and district personages who have sought public office in the past few years.

In an interview Wednesday, Durham said that he would seek harmony where party politics is concerned in his district.

Use Party Channels

"Every county in this new district has a common interest," the new State Committeeman said. "Ours is predominately a farming area, and the problems of those engaged in agricultural production will continue to dominate party thinking."

"It will be my aim to use the regular party channels where party matters are concerned," he added. "By this I mean that the wishes of each county Democratic chairman, combined with that of the precinct chairman, will determine my actions."

"The functions of our party start with the precinct conventions. It will be my aim to insist upon more advance publicity, and a large attendance at all these conventions. This is where the voice of the people will be heard, and this voice—or call it sentiment—is carried on into each county convention. And the delegates elected at these county conventions are the men and women who control the party in Texas."

The new committeeman stated that he was glad to see the large turn-out of Hall County citizens at the Amarillo convention.

"Many of these people attended their first state convention," he added. "They saw their party leaders in action, and have a better understanding of the workings of party machinery. This means that more interest is being paid to party matters in Hall County, and it is a healthy sign."

When asked what he thought about the resolution adopted by the Democrats at Amarillo, which called upon leaders to "vote" and "work" for the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower, Committeeman Durham said:

"This resolution was adopted, and is only a request. It was reported as being unanimously adopted by the daily papers. It is my understanding that some of the delegates did not go along with this thinking."

"My position at Amarillo can be summed up like this: Every person should have the privilege of voting for whom he or she thinks will be the best man for each office. We have the means to express our sentiment when we go to the ballot box next November," he concluded.

Governor Morris gave a report on progress of Lionism in District 2T-1, and outlined the crippled children's program. This program, built around a quarter-million-dollar layout near Kerrville, is receiving support from all Lion Clubs in Texas, he told the group.

Past District Governor Boyd Meador of McLean headed a delegation from that club to the meeting.

President Ben Wilson of the local club, who was in charge of arrangements for the zone meeting, stated that this was the largest turn-out of Lions to be registered in the district.

HERE ARE THE FACTS About Gas Supply

There is no shortage of butane-propane. There never has been a shortage. There will be no shortage in the foreseeable future. Butane and propane are among the most plentiful products in our national petroleum reserves. However, every winter many users go without fuel. This is ONLY BECAUSE OF TOO-SMALL STORAGE TANKS. Your butane dealer knows the amount of gas you need for the summer and winter. He has the right answer for your needs. He will give you fuel—not promises! Your tank may have been right when it was installed, for your family may have outgrown its original gas needs. To be safe you should KNOW what size tank you need to fill these needs.

voted to go along with Governor Shivers in his fight for states rights, especially in the tidelands question, and in his request that only one Democratic ticket be placed on the ballot for the November election. He, like a majority of the delegates, felt that with both a Republican and a Democrat column on the ticket, voters would not be deprived of voting their choice. It was pointed out that Hoover, a Republican, led the ticket in Texas in 1928, and that voters today are as intelligent now as they were then, and can split the ticket if they so desire.

The convention was an entirely different kind to those held in Texas for the past several years. Both the loyalists (Trumanites if you please) and the conservative forces headed by Governor Shivers were in agreement on the stand to have the regular tickets only.

Another feature of the Amarillo convention which made it stand out different to the others was that a majority of the delegates adopted a resolution calling for support of the state slate of Democratic candidates and to support the Republican candidates for president and vice-president. Truly, politics has taken a strange twist this year, all because the general public has been awakened to what is going on in the national government and earnestly desire to help remedy the situation.

It was my pleasure to attend as one of the reception committee, a steak fry on Palo Duro canyon Sunday night in honor of Governor Shivers and the State Executive Committee. This occasion served a two-fold purpose: To honor the leaders of the party in Texas and to give them an opportunity to see the Palo Duro State Park at its best. Many visitors had never seen our great canyon, and were deeply impressed with its grandeur and beauty. Doubtless, they will help to publicize the park and thus help to get it before others, which in time will bring about a highway the entire length of the canyon, and that leads to Memphis at the gateway.

The eastern end of the Panhandle has scored again. Two years ago the lower counties of the Panhandle returned this section to the Democratic ranks by giving Walter Rogers the majority needed to elect him. This week a Memphis man, N. W. "Bull" Durham, was chosen by the new 30th Senatorial District at the Amarillo convention as committeeman to serve as the district's leader the first term of its existence. Mrs. G. D. Anderson Jr. of Farwell was elected committeewoman.

A number of Memphians, delegates and guests, attended the convention, as well as others from various counties of the Panhandle. It was an opportunity to see Democracy in action. The first time a state convention had been held this far away from the center of the Lone Star State.

Well, dear readers, I hope a good rain will have fallen here by the time this is in print. If it does rain, it will be the end of the next to longest drouth in the Panhandle. The longest was the time it never did rain at the end of the drouth. H. J. Howell says it has been so dry here people have had to pin a postage stamp on the letter because they could not get moisture enough on their tongues to stick the stamp.

Consumer Again Takes Over

For the first time in nearly two years, retail trade as a whole shows signs of taking its old place in the economy picture. This relationship to the nation's overall economic activity is comparable to that prevailing before the last world war.

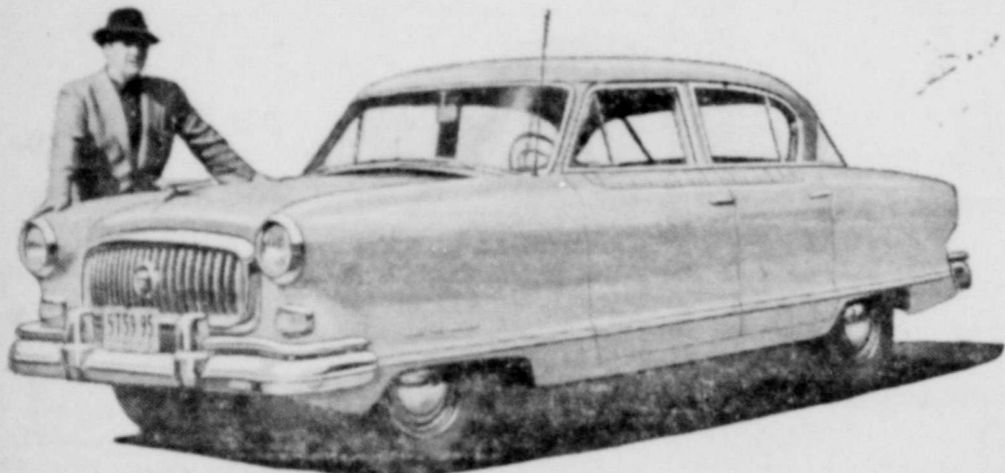

This is the gist of an analysis recently made by the Institute of Life Insurance, and was based on Department of Commerce statistics showing the direct relationship between the annual volume of retail store sales and the gross national product for the past 22 years.

The Institute said, "What these figures tend to confirm is what has been becoming apparent for some time—that the war-caused era of shortages has been replaced by a more normal type of demand in which prices and consumer decisions when and whether to buy are of primary importance. Barring unforeseen developments, the economy has reverted to its traditional competitive basis."

The consumer can now see plenty of evidence of that fact by checking stocks of merchandise displayed in stores and by reading the advertisements. During and for some time after the war a great many commodities were in very short supply. Some were almost non-existent. Anything was saleable, no matter how shoddy it might be. Today the situation is different. There is an abundance of practically all consumer goods, and in some lines supply is substantially greater than demand.

The result is that every merchant must fight for his trade. He must offer all possible inducements—better stocks, lower prices, more attractive services, and so on. The buyer again calls the tune.

Right here in Memphis this is being brought out. Businessmen are thinking about the kind of stocks they place on their shelves. They are lowering prices as much as possible, and special events, like Dollar Day are being established. All this means that normal times are here, and the buyer is getting more for his dollar than he has in a long time.

"The Finest Shock-Proof Ride In the World Today!" —says Tom McCahill

THIS IS THE VERDICT OF THE NATION'S LEADING IMPARTIAL MOTOR CAR EXPERT AS REPORTED IN MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE, SEPTEMBER, 1952, ISSUE

NEVER has an automobile received a finer tribute than that accorded the Nash Ambassador by MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED Magazine's Tom McCahill, outstanding car expert.

Tom McCahill tests all makes of cars—200 different models in the past six years. He puts them through back-breaking grinds and reports his impartial findings. He writes of Nash:

"The finest shock-proof ride in the world today... Undoubtedly the best bump-leveler we have."

"On an acre-per-dollar basis, the bargain of the year."

"Among the best performing cars made in America."

"In hill-climbing, it takes a back seat to none."

"This year's line is by far the best Nash has ever offered, and that's saying a lot."

Visit your Nash dealer. See and drive America's first cars styled by Pinin Farina, whom McCahill calls the "Rembrandt of automobile design"—the Golden Airlfites. One ride and you will agree with Tom McCahill.

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Parable

In the days of yore, the trees decided to select themselves a king. They first offered the crown to the olive tree. The olive felt that bearing its fruit was more worthy than bearing the cares of statecraft. He declined.

The fig tree was the next one asked. He refused on the grounds that producing sweet figs was better than serving a king.

Then the vine turned down the throne. His reason was that out of his grapes came new wine. That was more important to him. But the thorny bramble had no such conceit of his worth. He accepted. "If in truth ye anoint me king over you," he said, "then come and take refuge in my shade; and if not, let fire come out of the bramble, and devour the cedars of Lebanon."

The parable, which is recounted in the Book of Judges, does not tell whether the tall trees knuckled down to the bramble. Yet the presumption is that they did.

For in ordinary life, whenever able or talented people refuse to accept their governmental responsibility because for some reason or another they cannot "afford" to, somewhere along the line there is waiting a bramble, ready and willing. Once in power, he can crack the thorny whip over the talented and able people who scorned the job he accepted. And they deserve no better. —The Paducah Post

How Dumb Are We?

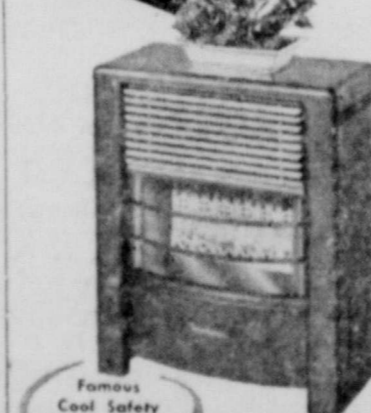

The question that is puzzling many voters today, is, if the federal government takes the Tidelands away from Texas, will Texas have any assurance that the federal government will cease its grabbing up of other valuable state possessions? President Truman's remark the other day will not be swallowed as a cream puff by the voters of Texas, rather they will swallow it as a bitter dose of quinine. He said to newsmen there are a lot of people in Texas who do not own oil lands and are not privileged citizens who he is certain will vote the Democratic ticket. To an individual who is a strong believer in state rights and fighting to the last ditch to keep all his state's valued possessions from being looted, and thus the revenue from these possessions being distributed into the hands of various states, thereby depriving our schools of revenue belonging to them, he safely predicts that Truman is wrong in his

MASS MEETING SELECTS CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR AND SIX FOR ALDERMAN—At a mass meeting called by Mayor Webster, which met at the court house Thursday afternoon, a ticket for city officers, to be elected next Thursday was named by a committee of five, appointed by the chairman, W. P. Dial. The selections which were ratified by a vote of the meeting are as follows:
For Mayor, Henry Baldwin; for alderman, ward one, Edwin Thompson and S. L. Seago; ward two, W. C. Dickey; ward three, F. N. Foxhall; ward four, J. F. Bradley and J. G. Gardner.
EAGLE PASS WANTS RANGERS WITHDRAWN AND KEPT AWAY UNTIL ASKED FOR BY PEOPLE—A request that Texas Rangers be withdrawn from Eagle Pass at once because "we consider them disturbing and a dangerous element," was wired Governor Neff Saturday by Mayor Sam Schwartz and J. D. Beck, president of the Eagle Chamber of Commerce.
OIL DEVELOPMENT REVIVED IN MEMPHIS RITORY—A promising prospect picked up at the Burk-Hart ten well east of Newlin. The sand has only been tested a little over two feet and are entertaining that it may be productive. The work will be resumed today. The well was at a depth a little less than 1,200 feet.

Production for Freedom Week—September 7-13

Electric Power

PRODUCTION FOR FREEDOM

America must produce more and more to stay free! And the key to that vital production is an abundance of electric power. With only six per cent of the world's population and only a small fraction of the world's natural resources, American workers... utilizing enormous quantities of electrical energy... produce nearly half the world's goods.

That abundance of electrical power is provided by the heavily taxed, privately owned electric companies financed directly or indirectly by the savings of private citizens. Since 1945 those privately owned companies have spent $10 billion to increase the nation's electric productive capacity 50 per cent; and in 1954 another $8 billion will step up generating capacity 100 per cent.

Here in West Texas, your electric service company by 1953 will have increased its capacity for production 151 per cent since 1945. Yes, the privately owned electric companies have proved their ability to provide more... and more... and more Electric Power for Production for Freedom.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Congressman, 18th District
By Walter Rogers

The big news in New York this section of the outside of politics, has around the companion- "cafe society" walks of life. Many of the col- have grabbed onto this and have talked about it daily in their columns. The good material for news columns is the conviction of the crime and the story usually ends with the offender being caught. Very little is said about the punishment meted out to the offender and the price that crime exacts.

VACATION HINT . . . Sardonic anti-Red French poster recom- mends a visit to Russia, "coun- try of liberty." Giant padlock with hammer and sickle stands between vacationers and free- dom.

LESS PATERNALISM—A Junior Chamber of Commerce in Virginia did an admirable thing the other day. They adopted a resolution condemning the practice of every community in the county calling upon the federal govern- ment for grants, gifts and other expenditures. The resolution re- cognized that the bills for these projects must come out of the taxpayers' pockets. It is indeed encouraging to know that the young people are vitally inter- ested in stopping federal expendi- tures for these purposes.

MAYOR McGUP By John Jarvis

the community, that an extreme emergency exists, and that every effort will be made to repay the funds obtained.

LESS MILITARY EXPENDI- TURES: The announcement by Secretary of Defense Lovett that military expenditures would level off in the next fiscal year and that our preparedness program could be supported on a sustain- ing basis is most heartening to those of us who have continually sought economy. America does not want cheap defense, but by the same token, every taxpayer wants value received for defense dollars and has the inherent right to expect it. Waste of tax dollars is inexcusable, regardless of the department in which it occurs.

GRASS: Did you know that in the State of Texas, according to the latest Census of Agriculture (1945), approximately 77% of all lands in farms is used for pasture (in the Panhandle areas about 63% is used for grazing purposes) that approximately 50 per cent of all feed requirements for domestic livestock in the United States is provided by pastures and ranges? John James Ingalls, in his book "Blue Grass", said, "It (grass) yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet, should its harvest fail for a single year, famine would depopulate the world."

McDaniel Implement Sponsor Contest, Home Freezer Demonstration Tuesday

A nationally-known home economist for the International Harvester Company, Mrs. Evelyn Altman, will be in Memphis Tuesday to give a free demonstration on "How to Make the Most Out of Your Home Freezer." Ira and J. J. McDaniel, owners of McDaniel Implement Co. announced this week. The demonstration will be held in the showroom at McDaniel Implement Co. Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Altman will show the best methods of using the home freezer. Along with this demonstration McDaniel Implement Co. is sponsoring a contest among Memphis school children of the first four grades. A $10.00 prize will be given to the school room that sends the most people to this demonstration, the owners stated. As each person enters the showroom they will designate which room should be credited with their attendance. The room that sends the largest number to the demonstration wins the $10.00 prize, they said. Ira and J. J. McDaniel extended a cordial invitation to everyone to attend this demonstration.

Crump, G.; Willie Ray McClendon, T. A. D. Britt and Charles Gardenhire are co-captains for the team.

had before, McKown pointed out. "These men are all local farm leaders living in the community in which they will work. As farmers and neighbors, they know at first-hand the soil conservation needs of their different communities," he added. The committeemen will be trained by the regular employees of the agricultural agencies in the county. These include the SCS technician, county agent, PMA personnel, etc. Full details for making the sign-up will be fully explained. When the farm sign-up gets underway early in October, both community committeemen and alternates to the committees will be employed. There will be 30 farmers working on the sign-up, five in each of the six communities. The chairman of each community will be responsible for getting the work completed in his community. The chairman of each community are as follows: Lesley—Johnnie W. Driver. Lakeview—Glen Verden. Plaska—Worth Howard. Memphis—Earnest Lee. Estelline—Hulen Clifton. Turkey—Bruce Gibson. No work can be done on the 1953 program for Hall County until the sign-up is completed, McKown explained, because every farmer must be contacted personally. "It will be a big job for everyone who has an interest in soil conservation in Hall County," he said. "Full cooperation is requested from every farmer in order to complete the program as soon as possible."
