Heel Prints Lead To Man's Arrest As 'Window Peeper'

A pair of rubber heels landed Joe Garcia in the county jail Sunday afternoon, following a series of complaints from irate citizens about a "window peeper" through a large part of Saturday night.

About 9:30 p. m. Saturday, the first complaint was received by city police. A report came in that a man was seen prowling near a private residence. Calls such as this kept coming in until 4:00 o'clock Sunday morning, and included complaints from people living all over the south and southwest part of the city.

During these hours, three different persons fired at a man who appeared at their windows. Apparently these shots failed to discourage the "window peeper."

Sunday morning Sheriff E. S. Morrison and other officers, joined by private citizens, renewed the search for the mystery man. Morrison found clear heel prints at the scene of one of the complaints. Then word was received that a Mexican had been seen prowling.

The search led to the living quarters of migrant workers near the Tindall Gin, where similar heel prints were found. Morrison located Garcia, examined the heels of his shoes—and placed him under arrest.

He is still in the county jail and faces a charge of disturbing the peace.

Hutcherson was high point winner for the evening, gaining a total of 32 points for the Cyclones. Duane Miller and Julius Stevens also racked up high scores at the basket. The "B" squad of boys from Memphis also won their contest from Paducah. This game ended 57-41.

The high school girls sextet bowed before the Paducah team by a score of 49 to 44. Betty Claude Hickey was high pointer in this contest.

Their six-year-old daughter Thelma, was not hurt. The accident occurred about 5 a. m. The family, returning to Amarillo from a visit to Georgia, missed the turn on Highway 287 at Memphis, and drove instead on Highway 256.

Officers said Major Gunnels was driving, apparently fell asleep and drove off the road. The Gunnels were taken to Goodall Hospital, by a Murphy-Spicer Funeral Home ambulance and were transferred later in the day to the Amarillo Air Force Base hospital.

Christian Church Sunday School In Attendance Contest

The Sunday School of the First Christian Church of Memphis is engaged in a contest with the Sunday School of the Christian Church of Crowell, Rev. T. T. Posey, pastor, announced this week.

The contest is scored on attendance and will run through the first quarter of 1953, he explained. Both churches have about the same enrollment and much interest is being shown by members of the contesting schools. Bedford Smith, former pastor of the Memphis church, is now the pastor at Crowell.

The score after two Sunday-schools shows Memphis to be ahead by 10 points. Everyone who can and will be urged to attend and help keep the Memphis Sunday School on top, Rev. Posey stated.

Two Men Held Here On Forgery Charges

The tip by a local business man that check forgers might be operating in Memphis led to the arrest of two men Friday afternoon, who are wanted in several towns and cities over the state, according to Sheriff E. S. Morrison.

Thomas Harvey Scott, 25, and James Junior Tefteller, 18, are now in Hall County jail awaiting action by the grand jury.

The search started about 5 p. m. Friday when Louis Saied told county officers that his store had cashed a check which looked "suspicious" to him. The check carried the signature of a farmer residing in the Lakeview community, and was made payable to James Tefteller in the amount of $61.00.

After examining the check, Deputy Bill Baten drove to the farmer's home, where questioning revealed no check had been given to Tefteller.

Meanwhile, investigation here revealed that another business man had refused to cash a check presented to him. He noticed that two men, one of whom had the check, drove away in a tan colored Studebaker bearing California license plates. As soon as Baten returned to Memphis, he radioed Childress officers to be on the lookout for two men in the described car. He requested that the men be held for questioning. Sheriff Morrison and Constable Jack Peabody left immediately for Estelline to check with businessmen there for more "hot" checks.

Childress officers reported back to Deputy Baten within 20 minutes that they had arrested the wanted men, and were holding them for the Hall County officers. Baten immediately radioed Morrison at Estelline, and passed on the information. The two officers then drove to Childress, and picked up Scott and Tefteller.

Scott refused to talk when first questioned, officers reported. Tefteller told them his parents lived in Arkansas, but he had made his home at several places in this section of the state for the last few years. He signed a statement Morrison said.

Papers carried by Scott when he was arrested revealed the car to be owned by John L. Staley of Fresno, Calif.

Upon being contacted by telephone, California officers reported to Morrison that the car had (Continued on page 12)

Cue and Gurtain Club Will Present Annual Play Tonight

The club, under the direction of Mrs. Guthrie, has done some outstanding work in the past. The production chosen for tonight is well-known and many saw the movie when it showed here and will want to see the play again presented with local talent.

The theme of the play centers about a "charitable" habit of two dear, sweet, elderly ladies who think it is Christian to help old men out of their loneliness. The bodies in the cellar were increasingly satisfactory until Nephew Mortimer Brewster stumbled upon the plan. He could not be convinced that situation was as innocent as the other members of his family considered them.

Somehow the horror of the situation is obscured by the hilarious humor with which the play is produced. Imagine a family that includes not only the lovable, lethal old ladies, but a nephew Jonathan, who holds the title of America's most prolific murderer—until he arrives at his aunt's home to find they have equalled his record. And another nephew who imagines himself to be Teddy Roosevelt, whose project of digging the Panama Canal in the cellar provides the old ladies with their macabre (Continued on page 12)

Teen-Age Girls Being Held Here

Suspicious actions of two teenage girls late Tuesday afternoon led to their apprehension by Constable Jack Peabody.

It all started when he saw the two dodge behind a building as he approached in his car, which carried a red police blinker light. He drove around the block and saw them again as they watched him pass while trying to keep out of sight. The next time around he stopped his car, and called them over. When they approached, he asked them what they were doing, and they answered, "nothing."

"Yes you are," he told them. "You're the two girls who ran away from home."

When he said this, they admitted they had, and said they lived in Clovis, New Mexico. He carried them to the sheriff's office for further questioning.

Peabody, who did not reveal their names, said they were 15 and 16 years of age. They said they had decided to quit school and run away to "make their own way."

A telephone call to Clovis officers brought the information that the two girls had left their homes the previous day. Peabody was instructed to hold them until the arrival of officers from New Mexico. He placed them in the county jail.

Wednesday afternoon, Clovis officers again called Peabody, and told him they would be in Memphis some time today and get the girls, and return them to their parents.

ESTELLINE AND QUAIL SHARE HONORS IN LOCAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

The Estelline boys and Quail girls were winners of the Invitational Basketball Tournament, which ended Saturday night in the Memphis High School gymnasium, according to Coach George Childress.

Second places went to the Lakeview girls team, and to the boys team from Memphis. Kirkland won consolation honors with their girls sextet. The boys from Quail High School took home the consolation prize in their bracket.

At the conclusion of the tournament, two players were honored for their sportsmanship. Rayford Hutcherson of Memphis was top sport for boys, and Miss Cox from Alanreed was outstanding among the girl players.

Judges picked the following all-tournament team for boys: Orewit, Cooper and Russell of Estelline; Martin, Lakeview; Peoples and Price, Quail; Picker, Kirkland; and Miller and Frisbie, Memphis.

The all-tournament team of girls included: Sams, Hall and Kennard, Lakeview; Chaudoin, Estelline; White Neeley and Peoples, Quail; Nipper and Weightman, Kirkland; Sherrad, Alanreed; Wall, Paducah and Hickey of Memphis.

Each of the above players, who were placed on the all-tournament teams, were awarded gold basketballs as individual prizes.

Bank Assets Near 10 Million Mark

Assets of Hall County's four banks are slightly under the 10 million dollar mark, it was revealed last week with the publication of statements in compliance with calls from the Comptroller of the Currency and the State Banking Commissioner.

Although the figures are lower than they were a year ago, they indicate that Hall's financial standing compares favorably with that of other Panhandle counties. Combined assets of the four banks show a total of $9,866,262.04. This is approximately two million dollars under the figure which was reported in January, 1952.

Total deposits as shown by the statements stand at $9,120,914.65. This is down in the same proportion as total assets. Of the money on deposit, $7,584,123.73 was listed as demand deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations. Other money on deposit was made up of time deposits, deposits of the U. S. government, and state and political subdivisions.

Undivided profits as listed by the four banks amounted to $209,885.54.

Jersey Cow Gives 7,438 Quarts: Gets National Honors

TULIA—Enough milk to fill over 7,438 quart bottles is the recent production accomplishment of Commander's Pretty Sue, a four-year-old cow in the Victory Jersey Farm herd owned by J. Chester Elliff of Tulia.

At the completion of a 365-day record on official Register of Merit test, Sue's production totaled 15,992 pounds milk containing 1,025 pounds butterfat. It won 1,000 pounds butterfat during each of her first two lactations on less than four milkings a day.

The natural butterfat content is an indicator of the nutritional and taste values of milk. It is correlated with the amount of other food elements, such as protein, minerals, vitamins, etc., which milk contains.

On her last record this Texas Jersey produced 15,296 pounds milk containing 1,004 pounds butterfat. This production won her the title of national senior 2-year-old butterfat champion over all breeds on three-time-a-day milking.

Commander's Pretty Sue has been officially classified Very Good on breed type. She was on exhibit at the 1952 State Fair of Texas held at Dallas.

New Nash Cars For '53 On Display Friday

Motors new 1953 Ambassador and Statesman model, featuring original continental styling and original mechanical improvements will go on display Friday, Jan. 16, in the showroom at Hall County Farmers Supply in Memphis and in dealer showrooms over the state.

Shelton and Jimmy Anthony, local Nash dealers stated that the new 1953 Ambassador is powered by the new "Powerflyte" engine, and the new Statesman is powered by the new "Powerflyte" engine. The new Ambassador is offered in the Ambassador and Statesman models. The new Statesman is offered in the Ambassador and Statesman models.

optional extra cost equipment on the Ambassador model.

The new Nash engine is called the "LeMans Dual Jetfire," Doss said, after the LeMans, France, race considered to be the ultimate competitive test in engine performance and durability. Nash scored over all other American-built engines in the 1952 run.

The new six-cylinder overhead valve engine is equipped with an aluminum cylinder head and has a compression ratio of 8 to 1. It produces 140 horsepower at 4,000 rpm. Two side-draft carburetors work in conjunction with an oversized "Sealed-In Iso-Thermal" intake manifold. Along with the Super Jetfire engine, it has the only American-built seven-bearing, 100 per cent counterbalanced crankshaft.

Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive and automatic overdrive are available on all 1953 Nash Ambassador and Statesman models as optional equipment. Synchronesh transmission is standard on both cars.

The new Nash model have an advanced type of independent front-end suspension called "Airflex Suspension," providing greater riding comfort and handling ease. Extra long and flexible vertical coil springs are located above heavy steering knuckles which take direct vertical loads, resulting in reduction of unsprung weight. Four direct acting shock absorbers control low frequency spring action.

All 1953 Nash models feature Nash-pioneered "Airflyte" unitized body construction, used in modern trains and planes. Body-to-frame bolts are eliminated as the integrated body and frame are welded together to form a single unit, said by Nash engineers to be stronger and more rigid.

All-around visibility is a key feature of the new Nash models. The hood line is lower than the "Road Guide" front fenders affording greater vision of the road ahead.

The large air intake of the famous Nash Weather Eye conditioned air and heating system extends the full width of the hood. New chrome trim enhances the appearance of the air intake. Heater and defroster fans of the Weather Eye system are combined in a single blower unit. The entire Weather Eye system is thermostatically controlled and is operated with a single control knob.

NEW NASH—Shown above is the 1953 Nash Statesman "Country Club" custom hardtop convertible, which features original continental styling and mechanical advancements. The Statesman models are powered by the "Powerflyte" engine developing 100 horsepower. The new models will be displayed Friday at Hall County Farmers Supply.

A YEAR OF DECISION FOR AGRICULTURE

Although the New Year is only a couple of weeks old, it has already given some indication of its prospects for agriculture. There may be some big changes.

At the close of the 1952 crop year, we counted up some of the greatest crop profit losses since 1940. Two factors were involved—prices dropped to a lower point than at any time in the past four years, and we suffered a drouth which equaled, if not surpassed, the disastrous year of 1917.

Many agricultural areas of Texas are still in the drouth's death grip. No one can say that the dry spell has been broken for farmers in the Fort Stockton, Pecos and Big Spring regions. But as bad as 1952 was, this crop year of 1953 can be the most decisive that farmers and ranchers have ever faced.

Business, industrial and professional people have the brightest prospects in 1953. But during the last few months, the farmer has watched commodity prices slide downward with no immediate relief in sight. He sees small surpluses of several commodities and notes that production goals have been lowered on two or three of the major Texas crops, notably cotton. Livestock prices dropped one-third in a year's time and the outlook is still fairly dim.

Naturally, we do not anticipate a collapse for agriculture in Texas or anywhere else. It merely calls for harder efforts toward a better profit margin. Everything the farmer and rancher buys this year may cost a little more than previously—including the labor he must hire. The only answer is for higher production on a given unit—either a larger yield on an acre of land or a little extra meat on each head of livestock.

This year of "change" is nothing new for agriculture. It is constantly undergoing transition—and when big changes occur, opportunities spark up. Last year's vegetable crop, for example, brought $65,281,000, or twice what it did the previous season. There was a big opportunity for a farmer who was located in an area favorable for vegetable growing. We cannot afford to resist agricultural changes. Rather, the best idea is to keep an eye out for new or different crops which will return bigger profits or higher yields. Advancement in agricultural methods and practices help assure us of a strong and healthy economy for the farm and ranch people of Texas.

Q—I know of a woman who is drawing indemnity payments because of the death of her husband in service in Korea. She's the only living person eligible to receive the money; he had no children, living parents, brothers or sisters. What happens if his widow dies before receiving all the indemnity installments?

A—If she dies, and there is no other living person eligible to receive the installments, no payment of the unpaid installments may be made under the law.

Q—I'm getting a VA pension, and I'm now figuring out my income for the year to see whether it falls below the ceiling. I have a part-time job. Do I figure the actual amount of take-home pay that I get, or am I also supposed to include deductions for a retirement plan and for income tax?

A—In computing your yearly income, you must include the deductions as well as the take-home pay.

Q—How much may I borrow on my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy? Also, what's the interest rate charged on such loans?

A—You may borrow up to 94 percent of the reserve value of your insurance. Interest is charged at the rate of four percent per year. The VA office to which you pay premiums will be glad to tell you what the reserve value of your policy is.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
Congressman, 18th District

SOCIAL SECURITY PRO- Most of you will remem- at much attention was paid proposed expansion of the security program by both the Republican Party and the Democratic Party during this elec- tion. This proposed expan- sion is an increase in the amount of about 14 million per- cent. Keep in mind that this does not mean an increase in the amount of payments to each indi- vidual but is an increase in the number of people who will be on the social security rolls. Should the proposed expansion come to pass, the additional persons to be eligible for social security will come from the groups not included in the program. The groups are listed by the Social Security Agency as fol- lows:

Farm operators (owners, tenants and sharecroppers). Self-employed professional men. Self-employed people who have a net earning of less than $400 per year. Employees of state and local governments who have a separable retirement plan. Civilian employees of the Federal Government who are not in the military service. (There are exceptions to this.) Farm workers not regularly employed by the same farmer. Domestic workers not regularly employed in the same house- hold.

Certain groups of ordained ministers and employees of fraternal organizations, labor unions, and other organizations. In addition to the above groups, there are two groups with which social security coverage is optional.

State and local government employees. Non-profit organizations. Pursuant to the Act, small independent business men were not included in the coverage list. How- ever, they were included in Sep- tember, 1950, although a great many of them did not know it un- til they were called upon to make required payments. This bill was passed prior to my coming to Congress. I did not agree with the amendment as such for the simple reason that I have always felt that if social security is to be extended to the small independent business man, it should not be compulsory but should be a matter of election on the part of the individual business man. I am still of that opinion and would like very much to hear from these business men as to whether or not they want their social security status changed from compulsory to voluntary. It is entirely possible that this could be done in connection with the legislation designed to carry out the proposed expansion program. By the same token I would appreciate very much hearing from people in those groups not presently covered as to whether or not they desire to be covered, and if so, do they want compulsory coverage or voluntary? This is of great importance to the farmers and ranchers in the 18th District, and I sincerely hope that they will lose no time in expressing their views to me.

Much attention is being paid at the present time to the income limitation on those drawing social security. Prior to September, a person drawing social security was not allowed to earn more than $15.00 per month. In September, 1952, this was again changed so that such a person could earn up to $75.00 per month. In other words, if you draw social security and earn more than $75.00 per month, you must give up your social security or be in violation of the present law. When this matter was before the House in September, many members refused to vote for the bill because there was no increase in the income limitation. A large number of us were trying to get this income limitation removed, or at least increased to $125.00.

Although we were not satisfied with the $75.00 figure, many of us accepted it so that the bill could be passed because it was the same bill that gave an increase in the social security benefits of $5.00 per month. There will be several bills introduced this year to remove the income limitation or to increase it measurably. The limitation works many hardships. For instance, if a woman prior to September 1, 1950, lost her husband and was left with a child to rear, she would receive approximately $41.25 per month social security. She could supplement this amount by her own earnings only to the extent of $15.00 per month. Her total income would be $56.25 per month. Any elementary school child could tell you that a growing boy or girl could eat that much under the prevailing grocery prices. There are many other instances that could be cited, but I mention this one because it happened in Pampa, Texas, and the widow was virtually threatened with prosecution if she did not refund to the government approximately $160.00 that she had drawn from social security while earning the sweat of her brow in an effort to feed, clothe and house her child.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"I'd think your mother would be awfully easy to recognize in that outfit."

THE FEDERAL PAYROLL The General Accounting Office has a good argument against the contention by many that the federal payroll cannot be reduced. In April, 1946, the number of employees in the GAO reached a peak of 14,904. On January 1, 1953, this figure had been reduced to 6,204, a reduction of 8,700 or nearly 60 percent in the last seven years. The General Accounting Office is now headed by Honorable Lindsay Warren, Comptroller General of the United States, and a former member of Congress from North Carolina. I do not know what degree of efficiency was attained in 1946, but I do know from my own experience with the GAO during the past two years that it is presently operated on an excellent basis from the standpoint of efficiency. Other government agencies would do well to follow the example set by the GAO.

MORE COURTESY IN TAX

COLLECTIONS WOULD HELP: One of the best investments and the least costly in human relations is courtesy. It would do government departments well to give more attention to this rule. Especially is this true in the tax collection division of the Government. The Internal Revenue Department would do well to pursue such policy, and I am suggesting to it that certain forms in present use incidental to the collection of delinquent taxes be softened in language. The present form letter notifying a taxpayer of his failure to pay an installment on back taxes, when due, is so worded that many taxpayers receiving the same, undergo a violent reaction not alone because of having to pay such tremendously high taxes, but primarily because they feel that the wording of the letter is an indictment of them — an indictment that they deliberately, maliciously and fraudulently failed neglected and refused to make the payment when due. There are no doubt instances when such might be the case, but in my opinion the average American taxpayer is an honest, decent and law-abiding citizen, who wants to meet his obligations on time. However there are circumstances wholly beyond the control of the taxpayer that might prevent him from being as punctual as he would like. Paying exceedingly high taxes is distasteful at best, and there is no justification for adding insult to injury. I would suggest that the internal revenue service re-arrange the language of their communications to at least avoid the conveyance of the impression to the taxpayer that he is a suspicious character. This could easily be done with no additional expense to the government, and would, in my opinion, pay great dividends in the possible reduction of some administrative costs.

Which costs 1/2 as much in the long run?

Water heaters look alike.

Always find out about the tank inside when you buy. Automatic gas water heaters with corrosion-resistant tanks last two, three... even five times longer.

Remember two things when you buy.

First, buy an adequate size automatic gas water heater — at least 30 gallons capacity, which gives you reserve for the future such as additions to your family or addition of hot water consuming appliances.

Second, all top-quality corrosion-resistant tanks are guaranteed five years. Some, like Ruud Monel, are guaranteed 10 years. They cost a little more, but in the long run, cost only one-half as much as low-priced water heaters.

Only GAS

- heats water fast
- costs so little to run

A 30-gallon Gas water heater gives more hot water than an 80-gallon heater run by any other fuel. Yet, Gas water heaters cost less to buy, install and run.

J. O. Y. Circle Meets For Study

The J. O. Y. Circle of the First Christian Church met Jan. 13 in the Church Parlor with Vero Knight and Bernice McCoy as hostesses. The meeting began at 3:00 p. m.

Helen Godfrey was program leader. She led the entire group in a discussion of the 11th chapter of the Book of John.

During the social hour the members exchanged "Secret Pal" gifts. Delicious refreshments of pie and coffee were served to Mes. Faye Posey, Jo Moore, Dorothy Stargel, Faye Maddox, Helen Godfrey, Doris Hickey, Pinkie Godfrey, Inez Asprey, Vero Knight and Bernice McCoy. One guest, Dayna Hickey, was present.

The next meeting is scheduled for February 10 at 2:45 p. m. in the church parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Noel and Tommie returned to their home in Denton Saturday after spending several days in Memphis visiting relatives and friends.

Next time new potatoes are on your menu, instead of using a knife to peel them, rub off the skin with a new metal pot cleaner. It's just rough enough to rub off only the outer skin of potatoes.

When stirring or heating cakes, cookies, candy, pudding, etc., in metal bowls or pans, use a wooden spoon. The metal against metal gives food a gray color.

Austin PTA Meets In Regular Session

The Stephen F. Austin PTA held its regular monthly meeting January 13 at 7:30 p. m. in the school library. The second grade room presented a very informative play, "Enemy Playmates."

The president, Mrs. John W. Smith, presided over the business session. Mrs. Jess Roden, Mrs. Leslie Foxhall, Mrs. J. W. Hancock and Miss Zady Belle Walker were elected on the nominating committee. Mrs. Stilwell's room won the award for having the greatest number of parents present at the meeting.

Mrs. Henry Foster, study group chairman, reported a study group session was to be held Thursday January 15, from 9:30 to 11:00 in the Travis school lounge. There will be a session each Thursday for four weeks. Mrs. Edwin A. Smith, Jr., health chairman, will teach lessons in home nursing. All members of the Austin and Travis units are invited to attend these group meetings.

Guest speakers for the evening were Elizabeth Grundy, Peggy Evans, Cloyce Ray Orr and Kerry Moore of the high school speech class. They had as their topic, "My Home Town." Elizabeth introduced the other three speakers and each told of the good things our town has.

Cloyce Ray spoke on the churches and explained how, through the youth division, they were privileged to meet the youth of other towns. He praised highly the daily vacation Bible school.

Peggy spoke on the schools of Memphis. She stated there were 41 teachers in the school system and 12 had their master's degrees. The cooperation of the business men with the school has been good. They have been very kind to the system and the youth appreciate this very much. Statistics from the superintendent's office show that 50 per cent of the students who start in the first grade here finish the 12th grade.

Kerry spoke on the home as being a very important factor in the churches and in the school system. Since both elementary schools in Memphis have an active PTA, he suggested that it be carried on into the high school because the youth have a need for a PTA unit there.

Several recommendations were made for their home town in behalf of the youth. The are: interdenominational program where all youth could meet and have good Christian fellowship; a municipal swimming pool; a municipal golf course for youth; improvement of the city park, a supervised program every three months for the youth; and a guidance teacher in the school system.

Approximately 55 members attended the meeting. Announcement was made of the February meeting to be an afternoon meeting cooperating with the Travis unit in a Founders Day tea February 12 in the cafeteria at Travis School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Rouse and son, Don, and his wife turned to their home in Columbus, Miss., Saturday after spending the week in Memphis, Lakeland and in Eldorado, Okla., with relatives and friends.

UP TO "THE PEOPLE BACK HOME"

Taxpayer's Dollar, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, recently had this to say: "Economy in Washington is possible only if the people back home genuinely want it, and work for it. There are two ways in which the people in the cities and states of the nation can work for economy:

"First, they can see that no pressures are put on the government for more spending. Almost everybody wants economy, but almost everybody also has some pet projects on which he thinks federal money ought to be spent. An 80,000,000,000 budget is made up in large part of these pet projects—a million here and a million there. By refraining from such pressures, and by urging others to do the same, the people back home can ease the burden on the taxpayer.

"Second, they can urge action for economy on the government, both in the executive branch and in Congress. In a democracy, it is the right and duty of the citizen not only to vote, but to take an active and continuous interest in his government. Federal spending—and taxes—are certainly among the foremost concerns of every citizen."

In the long run, the people get the kind of government they want and deserve—whether it be economical, efficient government, or wasteful, corrupt government. One of the most indefensible practices of the last 20 years has been the way all kinds of local groups, including most chambers of commerce, have demanded government economy—and then demanded right along with it appropriations that would put tax money in their pockets. If we are to have economy, there can be no exceptions.

THE TREND OF "REAL PRICES"

As everybody knows the prices of goods have increased heavily in recent years. What most of us apparently don't know is that wages have increased much more percentage wise.

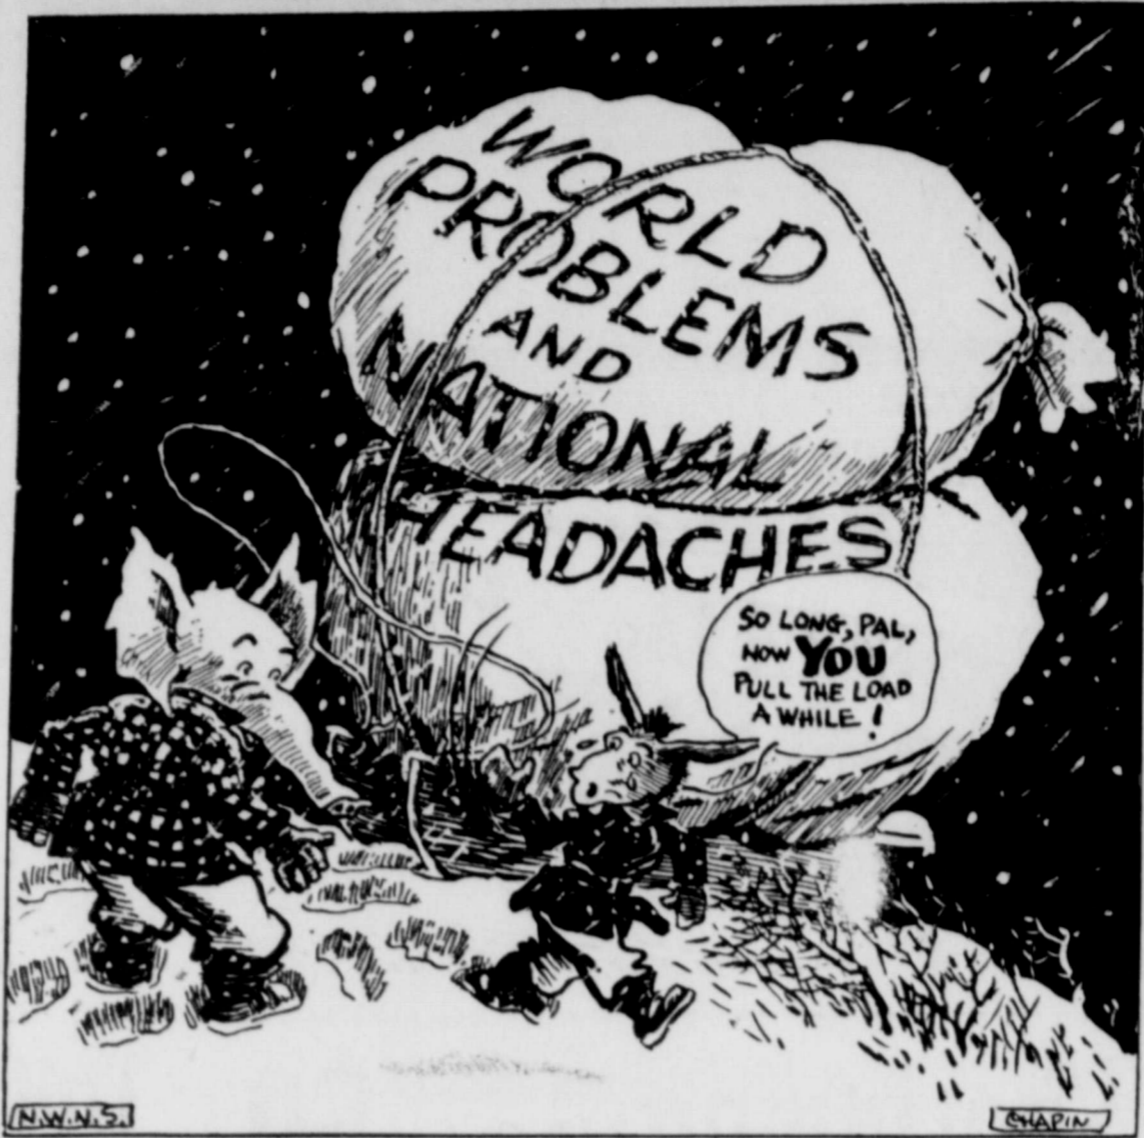

From 1939 through September, 1952, the consumer's price index, which is periodically released by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, increased 92 per cent. In the same period, average hourly earnings in manufacturing increased more than 167 per cent.

Going back farther, the difference becomes spectacular. From 1914 to 1952 the price index rose 165 per cent, while average hourly earnings in manufacturing jumped a whopping 660 per cent.

Various influences have contributed to holding down prices. One is competitive retailing. Competition forces all retailers to continually seek ways to reduce their overhead and pass the savings on to the consumer.

The result is that "real prices" which are price measured in the light of earnings—have tended to go down, rather than up. Every segment of American enterprise can take pride in this achievement at a time when inflation and over-growing taxes have cut deeply into incomes.

"PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW"

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

YOU CAN'T DO IT TWICE
Have you ever thought of that? You cannot step in the same river twice. You can never place your foot in the same place twice. For once you have removed your foot a change takes place. No matter that the change is slight, you can never put your foot in the same place.

Now in every day life you may think you are doing over and over again the same thing. But, are you? Isn't there a change, for good or bad, in the recipient of your giving? Isn't there a change in you when you put your foot in the same place twice, when you give the second, the third time? Think about this.

If you give a blind person, does he think about the time you are giving to him; that it is his desert that you should give to him? That you should deprive yourself of the fruits of your labors to help him? If he does he kills half of the benefit that he can receive from the gift. But if he determines in his own mind that he will benefit by your gift, that he will finally get to the place where he can make it with a lesser gift, or without any gift at all, he will mentally and physically benefit from your gift. Likewise you too will benefit from it. You too will come to the conclusion that you have done a good job. That you will give more freely in future than you have in the past. That you will give more wholeheartedly than you gave before.

You will find that you cannot put your foot twice in the same place.—The Hamlin Herald.

THOSE DANGEROUS CONTROLS

There is strong sentiment ever in Administration circles for total abandonment of price and wage controls, and the President has the power to order this at any time. However, it is reported that President Truman has decided against it on the grounds that the decision should be made by General Eisenhower after he takes office.

It is certainly to be hoped that President Eisenhower will issue the necessary order at the earliest possible time. The controls are unnecessary as well as exceeding costly, and are heavy burden on all, undermine the normal operation of the free, competitive economy which is a cornerstone of representative government itself.

Moreover, and above and beyond the question of whether the price level will rise or fall in the future, the controls are powerless to prevent inflation, and under certain conditions can actually the owners

Mrs. R. S. Greene Gives Book Review At 1913 Study Club

Mrs. R. S. Greene gave a most entertaining review of "The president's Lady" by Irvin Stone before members of the 1913 Study Club and several guests Wednesday afternoon at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Mae Tarver, 213 North Tenth.

In the review Mrs. Greene gave a vivid work-picture of Rachel Jackson who lived one of the most melodramatic lives that ever engulfed an American woman. "Her life as the wife of Lewis Robard was stormy, brief and bitter and with Jackson a poignant love story," Mrs. Greene said.

"She was the victim of unfortunate circumstances for which she was maligned all of her life. A beautiful tribute from her husband is carried on the slab that covers her grave."

Preceding the review, Mrs. Frank Foxhall gave a brief history of the author's life. Irving Stone was born in San Francisco in 1903. He holds a B. A. degree from the University of California and a M. A. from the University of Southern California and has served as instructor of economics at both of these colleges. He has been a biographer and novelist since 1926 and among some of the things he has written are "Lust for Life," "Sailor on Horseback," "They Also Ran," and "Immortal Wife." He was listed in "Who's Who of America" in 1944-45. "The President's Lady" is his latest novel.

Mrs. Ace Gailey, president, conducted the business session during which the following slate of officers for 1953-54 was submitted by the nominating committee and elected by club:

John Deere Day Program Features Shows And Lunch

John Deere Day in Memphis will be Monday, Jan. 19, according to Carl Harrison, who outlined the full program of activities for farm families.

Farm families will gather at noon at the Harrison Hardware Company implement building on Main street, where they will be served a free lunch. At the same time, they will inspect John Deere equipment which will be on display.

Then at 1:30 the crowd will go to the Ritz Theatre, where they will see a full program of entertaining and educational moving pictures, Harrison stated.

Buster Keaton, long famed a comedian of stage and screen stars in "Paradise for Buster," the feature film which highlights the entertainment program, according to the local dealer. The program which is free, includes a complete list of entertaining and educational pictures in full color.

Another picture, "Tom Gordon Goes Modern," tells the inside story of the new John Deere Models "50" and "60" tractors. In addition to "Paradise for Buster" and "Tom Gordon Goes Modern," several other films described by Harrison as certain to interest farmers and their families will be shown. Among these is "Oddities in Farming," a film program which will be by ticket only. As that reveals rare practices employed in specialized fields of farming seldom witnessed by most farmers. Some of these practices are so peculiar to a particular locale that they are applied only in the instances shown in this film, according to Mr. Harrison.

In his announcement, Mr. Harrison lists "What's New for 1953" as a continuation of series that always proves interesting to all farmers. This film presents a complete lineup of new John Deere

More Fertilizer Available In '53

The total tonnage of fertilizers available in 1953 is expected to be about 11 per cent higher than in 1952. The overall situation, says M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist for the Texas Extension Service, is good but seasonal shortages may develop because of transportation problems.

Farmers, says the chemist, should keep this fact in mind and plan to purchase early the fertilizers needed for the 1953 season. Nitrogen supplies for 1953 are expected to be about 11 per cent above those available in 1952. Phosphates 10 per cent higher and potash 17 per cent higher. Thornton says the demand for fertilizers is expected to be high. To make sure that the grades will be available when needed, he recommends they be purchased early and stored on the farm.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR CAPITOL

— VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

JUSTIN — Get tough with violators. That's Senator Ashley's suggestion for re-changes in the law that are necessary.

The state board of education is anticipating trouble as a result of the U. S. supreme court's decision on racial segregation.

Construction of more schools and the employment of more teachers will be necessary.

Thomas B. Ramey of Tyler has taken over as chairman of the board, succeeding R. B. Anderson of Vernon, who accepted appointment as Secretary of the Navy in the Eisenhower administration.

Some changing around among the state departments sees Jack Ross, secretary of state, moving in Feb. 1 as a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Missing from the Austin scene is Price Daniel, whom Shepperd replaced as attorney general. Daniel is now in Washington in the role of U. S. Senator, where he will take an active part in the campaign to restore the Texas tidelands to Texas.

In his most recent expression on the subject Daniel scored a reported plan of President Truman to set aside the continental shelf as a naval petroleum reserve.

Such a move, says the Senator, would be a flagrant violation of the law.

As of now the tidelands belong to the federal government under a decision of the supreme court. President-elect Eisenhower has indicated that he will support legislation to surrender the federal government's claim to the states.

The legislative committee of the Texas Press Association met Saturday in Austin to plan legislation calling for more detail in the reporting of public expenditures.

A long-range legislative program of public interest was thoroughly discussed and outlined.

The association takes the position that making public the record of tax money — how it comes in and how it goes out — makes for honesty in government and help the people understand more fully how the public agencies operate.

INAUGURAL MEDAL . . . Above are views of both sides of medal designed by sculptor Walter Hancock for inauguration of Dwight D. Eisenhower on Jan. 20. Medal was redesigned to correct "too grim" original profile.

More Planting Of Fruit Trees Is Recommended

The number of fruit trees in Texas is at an all-time low. That word comes from B. G. Hancock, assistant horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and he credits the unfavorable weather of the past few years as the major cause.

Moisture conditions, over much of the state, are now favorable for fruit tree planting and the specialist add, the future for fruit production looks good from either the home or commercial orchard standpoint.

Selecting the orchard site is of prime importance, says Hancock. He says avoid a site where the soil is infested with nematodes or land that has recently been cleared and old orchards. The land should be prepared before the trees are planted and if terraces are needed they should be constructed in advance of setting the trees.

Varieties should be chosen that have a cold requirement low enough to be satisfied by the over-age winter conditions in the area where they are to be grown. In the case of peaches, Hancock recommends that consideration be given to some of the newer varieties.

In Northeast, North Central and Northwest Texas, he says, the Dixired, Dixigem and Ranger have been tested at different experimental stations of the state and show much promise. Dixired ripens six weeks earlier than Elbertas. Its fruit is attractive, medium sized and yellow-fleshed clingstone. This variety has been thoroughly tested and is a prolific bearer of high quality fruit.

Dixigem ripens four and a half weeks earlier than Elbertas. Is the first high quality freestone peach to ripen and its fruit is medium-sized and firm. The flesh is yellow, fine textured and of high quality. It has been tested for several years and has produced regular crops of fruit.

and managers of enterprise. The government and the cost of running a business—and in the long run, the public-at-large pays all these costs. They substitute political judgment, which is often uninformed, for the judgment of the owners and managers of enterprise. They create a controlled marketplace, in which political expediency is frequently substituted for economic reality. They undermine the classic supply and demand system, on which our unequalled progress and abundance was built, and attempt to replace it with the kind of system which has created scarcity and economic collapse in nation after nation.

—Munday Times.

"The American Institute of Accountants proposes . . . that the government show more confidence in the integrity of the average taxpayer and spend more of its time and efforts in a real crack-down on returns obviously out of line. Moreover, the Institute thinks the public can help greatly if it can be educated to the idea that the chiseler is not merely a clever fellow, but is a despicable cheat who is stealing money out of his neighbor's pockets. Somebody must pay the tax. If it's not the chiseler, then it must be the rest

Ranger ripens about three and a half weeks before Elbertas. The fruit is fairly large and very attractive. It is a yellow-fleshed freestone type.

For more information on fruit production, Hancock suggests three copies of Orchard Management and Recommended Fruit Varieties be obtained from the local county agent.

"That higher prices are predicted by the government's stabilization chiefs, does not seem like an unusual forecast. Most of us could make such predictions with strike-enforced wage increase and resulting higher production costs forcing price increases. Back of it all government spending more than the taxpayer can pay, thus depreciating the value of the dollar and lowering its purchasing power. All the price control laws in the world won't hold the line against government policies that force production cost increases, promote inflation and devalue the dollar."

HALL COUNTY TEACHERS TO MEET AT LAKEVIEW MONDAY, JANUARY 19

The Hall County Unit of Texas State Teachers' Association will hold its second meeting of the year at Lakeview Monday, Jan. 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the new elementary building.

The program will begin in the auditorium of the Lakeview Grade School Guilding with the showing of a film entitled, "What Greater Gift." The film is a National Education Association production dramatizing the teacher as a professional person.

Immediately following the film the group will go to the cafeteria for a banquet. Music will be furnished by the Lakeview School.

An address will be given by an out-of-town speaker, Jess Whittington, Lakeview principal and president of the Hall County Unit.

Other officers of the county unit for this year are Miss Zady Belle Walker, principal of Austin Elementary, vice president; Miss Mary Foreman, Hall County superintendent, secretary and treasurer; Weldon McCreary, high school principal, program chairman.

1953 officers will be installed. The new C. of C. president was born and reared in Memphis. He is a graduate of Memphis High School with the class of 1929, and attended the University of Texas. Dunbar is a veteran of World War II, and served four years. Upon receiving his discharge in March, 1946, Dunbar held the rank of first lieutenant.

He is associated with his father, T. J. Dunbar, in the insurance and abstract business in Memphis. He entered the firm in 1937 by purchasing the interest of J. P. Watson.

Clifford Farmer, who has served the Chamber of Commerce as manager for the past five years was renominated to that position by the directors this morning.

Several matters highly important to the future of Memphis and Hall County are due to come before the Chamber of Commerce and County Board of Development this year, according to Farmer. He listed civic improvements which include paving and voting on a municipal swimming pool; state highway matters including widening of 287 through Memphis, closing the gap on Highway 256 west of Memphis by paving, securing U. S. Highway designation for the east-west road through the city and starting a new scenic highway project from Memphis through Palo Duro Canyon to Amarillo; efforts to locate an additional payroll for the city as well as continuation of activities to improve the agricultural economy of the Memphis trade territory.

been stolen from Staley at Modesto, Calif., on Dec. 18. They also stated that Scott had been picked up by Staley near Modesto. The two men decided to spend the night there, according to information passed on by the California officers. Some time during the night Staley's car and papers disappeared, and so did Scott.

Scott Wanted in California

Other information supplied by the California officials revealed that Scott had been charged with grand theft, and was wanted in that state. He had also served a stretch at the prison in San Quentin, and was out on parole at the time he was arrested in Childress.

Fingerprints of both men have been sent to Austin and to Washington, according to Morrison.

Since the pair were placed in jail here, a total of four checks, amounting to $186.00 have been located in Memphis. These four checks had been cashed in local businesses.

Saturday afternoon a hearing was held before Justice of the Peace J. S. Grimes, who set their bond at $2,000 on each of the four counts, making a total of $8,000.

Wednesday, Sheriff Morrison stated that forged checks had been reported to him from Henderson, Lamesa, Snyder and Lubbock. Officers from these cities have requested a "hold" order on the two men until further investigations can be made to determine if they passed the checks.

Teffeller and Scott will be held here for action by the grand jury which meets early in February Morrison added.

burial ground. And even poor Mortimer, who wants to marry beautiful Elaine, but realizes that "insanity practically gallops" in his family.

The part of Jonathan, who was originally played by Boris Karloff, is locally delineated by John Foster, a veteran of the high school stage. The plastic surgeon whom he brings along to disguise his features is portrayed by Cloyce Ray Orr. The mad Teddy is played by Jim Walker, a new student in Memphis High who has already won for himself a large circle of friends. Mortimer, the only sane member of the family is played by Don Moore. Lovely Elaine is portrayed by Gerete Graham.

The sweet aunts are Peggy Evans and Rita Hale.

The various officers of the law most of them puzzled or charmed by the actions of the gentle old ladies, are played by Billy Darre, Roden, Johnny Harrell, Lonnie Myers, and Duane Miller.

The Rev. Dr. Harper is played by Roy May. Vance Adams plays Mr. Gibbs, one of the old men who eludes the elderberry wine and Troy Taylor portrays Mr. Witherspoon, whose eventual fate as one of the poisoned, and whose death would place the old ladies' record above Jonathan's, is left a mystery by the fall of the final curtain.

The board notice stated that the call for physical examination for the month of February is for 43 registrants to leave Feb. 12, 1953.
