Many of the acts which will be presented here were used during the European tour of the group last December.

Marion B. McClure, director of the Hardin-Simmons University Cowgirl band, has been associated with H-SU bands as member and director for more than two decades. During that time, he has been with the band in Europe on two occasions. His bands have also appeared at three presidential inaugurations.

Jackrabbit With Horns Killed By Lakeview Man

Jackrabbits grow horns in Hall County. This was an unknown fact until Monday, and was discovered when B. E. Durrett of the Lakeview community picked up one he had killed. Sure enough, the rabbit had horns; not two—but four.

The freak animal was brought to The Democrat office Tuesday afternoon by Supt. Loren Denton of the Lakeview Schools. Four horns protruded from its head. Two were located in front of the ears, and the other pair were in a line above the tip of the nose, similar to those of a rhinoceros. And three of the four measured approximately two inches in length.

Booster Club To Start Annual Membership Drive On Tuesday

The annual membership drive of the Memphis Cyclone Booster Club will get underway here Wednesday, February 18, according to Louis Saied, president, who outlined plans this week.

A meeting of club officers and board members has been called for Tuesday night, Feb. 17. Full details of the drive will be worked out at this session for the coming year. The board members will meet in the office of Dwight Kinard, secretary, at 7:30 p. m. the president stated.

"We want to urge all persons in this community to become members of the booster club," Saied stated. "The club exists for one purpose only; namely to support the athletic program of the local schools. All money we take in will be spent on sports. Last year the club purchased the electric score board, which was erected at Cyclone Stadium. It spent several hundred dollars to defray other expenses which school athletes had incurred."

The president said that annual membership dues in the club are $5.00 per year, and requested civic-minded persons to contact one of the officers and take out memberships. In addition to Saied and Kinard, these officers and directors will attend the Tuesday evening meeting: Arlis McBee, James Arthur Anthony, Alvin Massey, Bluford Wajker and E. S. (Peck) Morrison.

Bert Sheen, high school senior, is this year's winner of the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal for achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during his high school course. The announcement was made by Weldon McCreary, principal of Memphis High School.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sheen of this city. Sheen is eligible to compete for scholarships sponsored by the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. at the University of Rochester. Three scholarships are provided, with a value of $3,200 each.

The Science Award Medal will be presented upon graduation. The choice of the winner is based upon scholastic achievement in science subjects, with incidental consideration of records in other subjects, qualities of leadership, and extra-curricular activities.

Property Owners Urged To Rush Petition Signups

The City of Memphis this week published advertisements, calling for sealed bids on paving of streets, Mayor Carl Harrison announced early this week. The construction proposals will be received at the office of D. L. C. Kinard, city secretary, until 7:30 p. m. March 3.

At the next regular meeting of the council, the bids will be publicly opened and considered. Commissioner Bill Leslie has issued an appeal for property owners to continue their work in getting petitions signed for street paving. Several additional blocks have been signed up during the past week, and this work needs to be completed as soon as possible, he added.

"The more streets we have signed up, the lower bid we can get," J. W. Coppedge, chamber of commerce president, said today. "Our organization is working with the city council in this project, and petitions can be obtained at the C. of C. office. Since bids will be opened March 3, these petitions should be completed as soon as possible."

A bonding company representative told the paving committee of the city council Friday night that he felt sure that procedure and sale of bonds would be completed within 60 days. Leslie estimated that street paving work should start about May 1.

The City of Memphis will spend up to $65,000 to pay its part of the street improvements, Leslie added. This amount should make possible the paving of 50 to 60 blocks. To date, approximately one-half of this number of blocks has been signed up by property owners.

During the next two weeks, contractors will be examining plans and specifications which have been drawn up by the Hatfield Engineering Co. of Amarillo, which are on file at the city secretary's office.

Aldermen J. M. Ferrel, Jr. and H. J. Howell are serving on the street paving committee with Leslie.

Sandy Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, has been named Outstanding Scout of the year of Troop 35 according to information released this week by Ted Myers, local scoutmaster. The selection was made by fellow troop members. Scout Bobby Scott was listed as runner-up.

"These two fine boys have worked hard toward achievement," Myers said. "They will receive special awards at the Lions Club meeting next Wednesday." At the same meeting, nine Scouts will receive perfect attendance awards. Scouts will hold a court of honor program for advancements.

The scoutmaster said that Life Scout Dan Durham will entertain the Lions and guests with an exhibition of knot tying and rope variations. Scouts who will receive advancements are: Sandy Smith, Dan Durham, Dudley Gillespie, Neal Foxhall, Marvin Middleton, Bobby Scott, Jackie Don Hawkins, Dwight Hawkins, Leroy Hodges and George Frelan.

Other Boy Scout Week activities include the annual Birthday Party Thursday night, and an over-night camping trip Friday night. On this trip, the Scouts will study cooking, first aid, wildlife, etc. Then on Sunday, all Scouts will attend church services. "This year's theme in Scouting is Home and Family," Myers added. "We would like for several boys to become Scouts. So, if you want to join the troop, see one of the Scouts of Troop 35, and they will bring you to the meeting."

Farm Cash Income Drops 14 Per Cent From 1951 Total

AUSTIN, TEX.—Farm cash income in Texas during 1952 was $1,847,708,000 — a 14-per cent drop from the '51 total, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Most severe reverses came to producers of cotton (down $188,000,000), cattle (down $95,000,100), and calves (down $44,000,000.) Wool, sheep and hog revenues each were $12,000,000 less than in 1951.

Most of the total reduction resulted from price declines, the Bureau says.

Thousands Of Members Learn To Do By Doing

COLLEGE STATION — It was after the first demonstration was established at the beginning of the century that Extension workers realized farm youth were important to extend its value. According to Floyd Lynch, 4-H Leader for the Texas Extension Service, the boys' club was organized in 1908, and the girls' club was in Milan in 1912. Since that time thousands of club members have been demonstrated, benefited and have taken their Extension to homes and communities. A phase of the Extension program, Mr. Lynch says 4-H club offers opportunities to all young people between the ages of nine and 21 to "learn to do by doing" and aids their growth and development for abundant living to "help them help themselves."

The 1952 Texas club work in 4-H aimed at four-square development of its 117,000 members through the training and use of the head, heart, hands and health. By the mental, spiritual, physical and social growth of these members, 4-H club work produces useful citizens through the coordinated efforts of the 4-H team. This team is composed of 4-H parents, local adult leaders, county Extension agents and interested 4-H club members. Donors and sponsors of the 76 4-H award programs support the team.

Through demonstrations in agriculture, homemaking and related subjects, 4-H club members are learning to become the citizens of tomorrow. Believing, however, that life's greatest principle is sharing—"Our most valuable possessions are those which can be shared without lessening"—those which when shared multiply," each of the 117,000 4-H club members has more than tripled his efforts. Since 4-H club work is based on the developmental needs and interests of 4-H club members as well as the needs of the community to which they belong, members have a useful part of the world's work to do and, in doing it, they grow mentally, socially, and spiritually. They feel that they are an integral part of the community or county Extension organization and have definite responsibilities in improving their communities.

Increased membership is hardly a criteria of work well done. Enrolling more and more 4-H members is, of course, desirable but what happens to the 4-H club member is more important. More important also, are 4-H club members with ideals and aspirations.

Organized efforts are important in furthering 4-H club work. The individual club offers each member opportunity to grow in a democratic organization; the county, district and State 4-H Council are demonstrations in What every girl should know about COOKING...

It's so easy to bake, roast or broil with an Electric Range... no flame, less shrinkage of roasts, cleaner cooking, and a cleaner kitchen.

You can plug in the coffee-maker the night before, set the automatic clock timer, and coffee's ready when you get up in the morning — you can plug in the toaster or other appliances, too.

The deep-well cooker has many uses, not only for meals — but many other things — to make large quantities of coffee or cocoa at party time, to sterilize baby's bottles — and even to pop corn!

DID YOU KNOW with an Electric Range you can:

Keep foods warm for long periods on low, gentle heat of surface units... prepare jams and preserves under broiler unit... use controlled, measured heat to cook frozen vegetables and fish without water, in aluminum foil on surface units... "prove" yeast dough in warming oven... freshen rolls by wrapping in aluminum foil and placing on surface unit on low heat for a few minutes?

"Yes, Judy, an Electric Range takes the guess work out of cooking and practically does the job itself. You can call it 'cooking without looking' because you put a meal in the oven, set the automatic controls, and forget it while you're doing something else.

"Another thing I like is the way you can cook on the surface units. Set the switch for the heat you want and you get it.

"Cook cheaper cuts of meat in the deep-well cooker, and you get delicious meals. Cakes and pies come out right every time. Broiling's a delight. You cook vegetables with so little water they retain both their flavor and their healthful vitamins."

"You're sort of fond of your Electric Range, Mom — and I understand why!"

MOTHER KNOWS BEST...

1913 Study Club And Guests Enjoy Fine Arts Program

Mrs. Lewis Foxhall was hostess to the 1913 Study Club Wednesday, February 7 in the home of Mrs. R. S. Greene. Twenty members and five guests enjoyed an unusually interesting fine arts program.

In line with the year's theme of study, "Our American Heritage," the program dealt with American arts and crafts. Mrs. Boyd Rogers, aided by a pictorial display, told of the beginning and development of art appreciation in America giving due credit to the museums and galleries as well as places of exhibit and sales, as well as havens of safe-keeping for these art treasures.

Mrs. Clyde Milam, next on the program, told of the early American itinerant painter and the struggles of his successors to foster an interest in and appreciation of painting in early-day America. Her manner of presentation was pleasing to her audience.

Since she pursues the hobby of collecting old glass, Mrs. D. C. L. Kinard took special delight in her subject concerning the romance in china and glass. As case history for the ceramics industry in America, Mrs. Kinard told of the Bone china of England and Haviland china of France and their influence on American designers and manufacturers, citing Syracuse and Lenox as two of the outstanding firms in America today. Her talk on old glass was equally as interesting and informative to her listeners.

As chairman of the last portion of the afternoon's entertainment, Mrs. Frank Foxhall assisted by Mrs. Greene, presented "Living Pictures," a series of tableaux with live models depicting famous paintings of American artists. Mrs. Foxhall prefaced each picture with a brief sketch of the artist's life and characteristics of his work.

Several posed for the tableaux. Mrs. R. C. Walker in costume as Whistler's Mother; Mrs. Gayle Greene and her two little girls, Carol and Ginger, represented a painting by Thayer titled "Char-

'Training Youth' Is Program Topic At Delphian Meet

Don Gailey was "The Boy With The Torn Hat" by Thomas Sully; Miss Mary Foreman with her violin and Mrs. Ace Gailey with a flute posed as "Rehearsal" by Taubes. Mrs. Buster Helm was Whistler's "The Little White Girl," Leslie Helm was "Lady Jean" as painted by her father, George Bellows; as the final, Mrs. Greene and young Dwight Kinard depicted the two weary prospective patients in "The Doctor's Office" by a German artist, Soyer.

The refreshment table, centered with white tapers and red carnations in keeping with the Valentine season, offered a dainty assortment of sweets to the guests following the conclusion of the program. Mrs. Ace Gailey, Club President, poured tea and all present were profuse in expressing their enjoyment of the afternoon's festivities.

The club was pleased to have as guests: Mrs. Jack Baldwin, Mrs. Aren Jones, and Mrs. Richard Highfill of Memphis; Mrs. Emery Sager, mother of Mrs. Lewis Foxhall, and Mrs. Bess Barnes of Childress.

"Training our Youth" was the subject of the program presented by local seniors to members of the Delphian Club Tuesday afternoon. The program was inspired by a desire of the members to encourage Memphis youth in accepting the challenges of living in America.

Believing with Aristotle that "All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of Youth," the Delphian Club chose as one of its projects this year to reward a high school senior for a winning essay on "My America." The winning essay was written by Roberta Nelson. She was presented a check by Mrs. Gordon Gilliam, president.

Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, teacher of English and Speech in the Memphis High School, accompanied the seniors who presented the following program under the leadership of Don Moore.

Devotional, Rita Jo Hale; "Together," Donna Webb and Nancy Brewer accompanied by Roberta Nelson; "Deep Purple," piano solo by Barbara Kulp; "Faith," reading by Gereta Graham; "Old Man River," by Don Moore accompanied by Roberta Nelson and "Our America," winning essay written by Roberta Nelson.

Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Henry Hays with Mrs. Ben Wilson as co-hostess.

Tasty refreshments were served to the following members and guests: J. L. Barnes, Jack Boone Rasco Brown, W. C. Davis, W. C. Dickey, Gordon Gilliam, M. D. Gunstream, Henry Hays, Earl Hill, C. C. Hodges, Wayne Hutcheron, Bill Kesterson, J. S. McMurry, C. D. Morris, R. H. Wherry, Ben Wilson, Roy L. Guthrie and Rita Jo Hale, Donna Webb, Nancy Brewer, Barbara Kulp, Gereta Graham, Roberta Nelson and Don Moore.

The meeting closed with a short business session conducted by Mrs. Gordon Gilliam president.

Mr. and Mrs. Jude Gable of Lakeview visited from Monday through Friday in Sunray with her mother, Mrs. Nora Painter, and in Amarillo with their daughter, Mrs. James Lott, and husband.

EXTENSION SERVICE 50 YEARS OLD

Fifty years ago this month, the Agricultural Extension Service had its beginning in Texas. A farm demonstration was started on the farm of a Mr. Walter Porter near Terrell in Kaufman County, under the direction of Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, representing the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

That first farm demonstration was established to combat an insect invaded from Mexico, the cotton boll weevil, which was threatening ruin to the most important crop in Texas. Through the use of improved methods of farming and management, Dr. Knapp showed that the boll weevil could be controlled.

This successful demonstration set the pattern on which the Agricultural Extension work throughout the nation was developed.

Today this extension work has grown into a large educational organization, sponsored financially by federal, state and local governments. The extension programs are conducted for better family living, and are prepared with the help of local people.

Last year, 4422 demonstrations were carried out in Texas. They were supervised by 730 county agents. A check of the record shows other impressive figures:

A total of 217,609 farms in Texas made changes because of the agricultural extension program conducted by agents. Over 91,000 rural and urban families had more than 117,000 young people enrolled in 4-H Club work each carrying on one or more improved farm or home practice demonstrations. Working with this group of young people were 66,921 voluntary local leaders, most of whom were adults.

The figures are impressive today. The extension Service can be credited with much of the progress of agriculture during the last 50 years. The record shows that the teaching methods of the agents—built around demonstrations—has paid off. It has paid off because the latest research information from the experiment stations and the demonstrations have shown the practical application of the findings on the farms and ranches.

Obstacles still face the average farm family. They are challenges to the Extension Service, which are being accepted. The educational methods which were used to overcome farming problems during the last half-century will continue to pay off in the years to come.

DIFFICULT BALANCING ACT

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

IN ANY LANGUAGE
Some time ago the head of the American Medical Association said "We begin to hear that the government's compulsory health insurance plans are not socialized medicine. That's ridiculous. Any plan supported by taxation of the people in which the rules are written by government bureaucrats who also determine the fees is socialized medicine in any intelligent person's language."

It's the old story of the camel who stuck his nose under the side of the tent. Before long he worked his whole body into the tent and took up all the room. That's the way socialism works. Attractive phrases may be used in an effort to camouflage it, but the result is always the same—more and more political domination of our lives, and much less freedom and opportunity and incentive to the individual.

In the case of medicine, more over socialization, as we have witnessed it abroad, has in many cases resulted in every serious decline in the standards of medical care. Regimented doctors, bound to follow the rules laid down in a politically-written book, aren't progressive doctors. And the cost of to the taxpayers have been staggeringly high.

The last election was a victory for those who believe in freedom and it was a setback for the socialists in and out of government.

General Eisenhower opposed socialization of medicine. But that doesn't mean the issue is dead. It will keep on arising, in one guise or another. The socialist came never stops trying to get his nose under the tent.

Report From Washington

Congressman, 18th District

FORMOSA QUESTION: As to possible or probable military movements of the UN forces. Certainly the Red Chinese would lose no time in setting up a formidable defense against a possible invasion force if they are given advance notice as to the general locality in which such invasion might be attempted. The setting up of such defenses would require less manpower and less withdrawal of troops from Korea than would be necessary if the Reds were forced to defend against surprise attack. If the Reds are going to be informed in advance of the possible or probable strikes of the UN forces, their need for espionage service will be reduced to a minimum. There have been suspicions that the Red forces have been obtaining vital information on troop movements through their member of the P.N. towit, Russia. The recent uncovering of personnel in the UN with definite Red leanings would indicate that there might be some basis for some of the suspicions.

BAKE-OFF . . . General view of the grand ball room of the Waldorf Astoria in New York as some 200 contestants in the Pillsbury grand national bake-off compete for prizes.

I recently called upon the State Department for an explanation of certain charges made in a magazine article to the effect that troop movements in Korea were being cleared through a division of the UN in which one Constantine Zinchenko, a Soviet citizen, occupied an important desk. The State Department advised me that such was not the case and that the United States is in control of the actual conduct of operation in Korea in accordance with the general United Nations' principal and objectives; and further that the United States Government has not cleared and does not clear any proposed military movement of any directions to the troops with any organ of the United Nations or any person on its Secretariat. My question to the State Department and the State Department's answer received wide publicity and headlines in a number of Eastern papers. The matter was also treated in a Paris, France newspaper, a clipping of which was recently forwarded to me by some friends of mine in the Canary Islands.

THE TWO BILLS THAT PASSED THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ON FEBRUARY 10: As most of you know, the House passed and sent to the Senate the bill extending the Reorganization Act and giving President Eisenhower the same powers of reorganization that were held by the former President. These were the powers requested by the President and about which I wrote in the newsletter last week. After much wrangling on the Floor between the two factions on the Republican side of the Aisle, the several amendments were offered and defeated. The bill was then passed in the form requested by President Eisenhower by an overwhelming majority, as it should have been. Although I question the basic constitutionality of permitting the Executive Branch to legislate, as I pointed out last week, the new President is entitled to have the full support and cooperation of the Congress in carrying out the wishes of the American people.

The other bill that passed the House was requested by Secretary of State Dulles. It creates a new Under Secretary of State at a salary of 17,500 per year. The new Congressman at Large from Texas, the Honorable Martin Dies, offered an amendment to this bill reducing the salary to the same figure as the salary received by Senators and Congressmen. He made a very able presentation of this amendment and pointed out, among many things, a very pertinent item. He called to the attention of the House the fact that many of our problems and troubles have been caused by so-called "brain trusters" that have been put into the Executive Branch of the Government at a salary substantially higher than that received by the elected representatives of the people, to say nothing of the fact that these executive officers have in many instances a car and chauffeur furnished by the Government and expense accounts that are amply sufficient. In fact, one of these jobs at $17,500 per year with the other emoluments of the office actually gives to the holder of that office an overall income of between $25,000 and $30,000 per year, on much of which he is not required to pay income taxes. It is also well to remember that there has been much criticism during the past several years about the vast number of employees in the State Department and the fact that it is over-staffed especially in the foreign offices. I supported Mr. Dies' amendment and voted against the bill on final passage for the reason that I do not believe that you can cut federal payroll by creating additional jobs, which will in turn require the assignment of additional employees to that particular field.

Methodist Pastors Attend Meet At SMU Last Week

Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, pastor of the Memphis Methodist church and Rev. Bernard F. Seay, pastor of the Lakeview Methodist Church, were among the 1200 Methodist preachers who attended the annual Ministers Week on the campus of Southern Methodist University, Feb. 2-5. Ministers were present from the 18 conferences in the eight-state Southern Central Jurisdiction.

Highlighting the program was three series of lectures delivered by prominent churchmen.

The Fendren lectures, established by the late W. W. Fendren of Houston and Mrs. Fendren, were given by Bishop Arthur J. Moore of Atlanta on "The World Task of the Church." Bishop Moore has served in all parts of the world as a missionary bishop since his election in 1930.

Dr. R. B. Y. Scott of the Divinity School of McGill University, Montreal, Canada, gave the Jackson Lectures under the title "The Old Testament and Ourselves." This foundation was established by the children of Robert Malone Jackson of Tennessee Colony, near Palestine.

The Peyton lectures were brought by Dr. Albert C. Outler of the Perkins School of Theology of SMU. His subject was "Psychotherapy and the Christian Evangel." The lecturing was set up by Mrs. George Peyton of Mexico.

In addition to lectures were banquets, receptions, dinners and numerous group meetings.

direction of numerous theatrical productions, and hundreds of appearances before the microphone Joe Callaway is not only one of the most experienced young actors, directors and lecturers today, he is also one of America's leading radio educators. But in spite of impressive training and academic position, he thinks of himself primarily as an entertainer.

A recent supplement of "Who's Who in America" reveals that Callaway directed a professional stock company at Miami Beach founded the Marquette (Mich.) summer theatre and directed for four successful seasons, has directed more than 150 radio plays and acted in many NBC and CBS productions, and was featured in sixteen plays of Shakespeare with the famous Globe Theatre company. Callaway is now an associate professor at Michigan State College, where his duties allow him to continue his professional activities as lecturer and director.

Callaway's career combines two widely separated fields, the academic and professional. Most actors have not been educated in such leading institutions as the University of Oklahoma, the Goodman Theatre, Northwestern University of Southern California.

In commenting on Joe Callaway the Wichita Daily Times stated "Callaway is the first artist ever requested by the Criterion Club to give a repeat performance. Those who heard him before renewed their praise and those hearing him for the first time echoed new praises."

Other press releases from leading dailies gave Callaway such ovations as "Callaway's talent for characterizations shook the audience with laughter. For more than an hour he held his audience spellbound with his witty observations," Daily Barometer, Oregon State College.

'Week Of Dedication' Will Be Observed By Lakeview Church

Rev. Bernard F. Seay announced this week that the Lakeview Methodist Church is joining with other Methodist Churches throughout the nation in observance of Week of Dedication, February 15-22.

On Sunday, February 15, Rev. W. E. Hamilton, district Superintendent of Children's district, will be guest speaker at the Lakeview church at both morning and evening services.

A service of prayer, worship and dedication will be held on Wednesday, February 18, at 7:15 p. m. under the direction of J. W. Longshore, who is the lay leader of the church.

A service of Dedication will be held Sunday, February 22 with Rev. Seay, pastor, doing the preaching. The morning worship begins at 11 a. m. and Sunday School at 10 a. m.

"The Week of Dedication comes at the beginning of Lent which is the 40 day period before Easter which marks the period of suffering and death of Jesus. It has become a bond of prayer and Christian Fellowship among Methodists around the world," Rev. Seay said.

Visiting in the Frank Goffinet home Sunday were Johnnie Richardson, Mrs. J. T. Long and Miss Janie Richardson, all of Amarillo.

Jimmie Nell and Bill Hayes of Estelline, Pat Goodnight and Joanna Davis of Memphis visited in Altus, Okla. and Quanaah Sunday.

Gov. Milt Morris Visits Lions Club

Milton Morris, governor of Lions International District 2T-1, was speaker before the Memphis club Wednesday. This was the governor's official visit with local Lions, and included a meeting with the board of directors following the regular noon luncheon.

In his talk, Gov. Morris gave a brief history of Lionism, explaining that the organization was represented in 40 nations, and included nearly one-half million members.

"We do not keep our nation strong by carrying a brief case to Austin or Washington, and asking for help," he said. "Instead we should give more time and money to our community. Then the need for handouts would not exist."

He told his listeners that they needed to devote more time in serving of local boards and supporting worthwhile efforts. "Man should be more than just a breadwinner," he added. "He must see that things outside his immediate scope are carried out."

Gov. Morris explained the functions of the Texas Lions Crippled Children's program, which is being supported by the local club.

the married couples in our community. It's going to be a lot of fun for everybody."

On the front of the calendar will be a picture of the new Lakeview grade school, Robertson added. Other information to be printed on the calendar will be 18 advertisements from business firms, and meeting dates of local clubs and organizations. Church and school affairs, programs and community social events will be listed on the dates they will appear.

"The Lions Club is asking each person to pay 25 cents to have his or her name listed on the calendar. It will be printed on the date of your birthday. Each family may buy a calendar for 50 cents, and extra calendars may be obtained. All proceeds taken in on this project, with the exception of the actual cost of printing, will be used in helping to build a better community," Robertson added.

The secretary stated that within the next few days a member of the Lakeview Lions Club will call at each home in the above-named communities to secure names and birthdays of all family members.
