Representative Budget Is Presented Council

Next year's proposed budget for the City of Memphis was presented by City Secretary D. L. C. Kinard Tuesday night, at the regular monthly meeting of the councilmen. The session was held in the City Hall.

The tentative budget totals $68,331.67 and covers the period from Oct. 1 of this year through Sept. 30 of next year. The 1952-53 budget totaled $56,381.33, according to Kinard. The increase in 1953-54 was necessitated by new bond issues, Kinard said.

Council members set a public hearing of the budget for Tuesday afternoon, June 30, in the City Hall at 2 o'clock.

Tax collections for 1953-54 were estimated at $50,206.48. Other city income is expected to increase this figure to an estimated $68,598.80. The tax rate here is $1.50 per hundred dollar tax valuation.

Real estate and personal property values in the city have been set at $3,593,437 by the equalization board.

Tax payments are expected to run around 95 per cent of total assessments. Kinard said payments generally remain around this level year after year.

The council believes that by operating the city government on an economical, conservative basis this coming year, no increase in taxes will be necessary, even though bond issues have been voted for a municipal swimming pool and a street improvement program, Mayor Carl Harrison said today.

Major items in the tentative budget include: street department, $12,490.53; police department, $12,935.00; fire department, $11,300.75; City Park, $3,627.87; cemetery, $3,575.00; and general fund, $21,559.17.

Most of the money, allotted to the various city departments, will be used to pay employees' salaries, according to Harrison.

Included in general fund estimates are: street lighting, $3,138.60; and interest and sinking fund $11,141.25.

Other expenses include: health department, $930.00; Carnegie Library, $1,713.35.

Outstanding bond issues total $137,000, with interest in 1953-54 set at $6,016.25. A total of $5,547 set at $6,016.25. A total of $5,547 set at $6,016.25. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Memphis Receives First 1953 Wheat Saturday Morning

First load of Hall County wheat of the 1953 season was brought to Memphis Saturday morning by A. E. Ward of Estelline. The wheat was produced on land west of Estelline, belonging to Tomie Potts of Memphis. Potts is a well-known Hereford breeder and automobile dealer.

The load of wheat weighed 6,410 pounds. Tests showed it weighed 60 pounds to the bushel and had a moisture content of 11.25.

Omer Hill, Memphis grain dealer, purchased the wheat. Hill said wheat was $1.85 a bushel here Saturday, or would net $2.04 1/2 in the government loan.

The load was cut on an acreage, estimated at about 30 acres by Ward. There are 214 acres in all in the plot and Ward said yield should improve. He said the per acre yield should be around 6 or 7 bushels. Dry weather is principally to blame for low production.

Hill said this is about the time the initial load of wheat comes in each year, although he recalled shipping a carload of wheat the last week in May one year. He said he believed the first load last year came in the first week in June.

Ward said the wheat yield would have been higher the week before, as strong winds had blown down some of the grain since then.

Local Recreation Program To Open On Friday, June 19

The summer recreation program will open Friday night, June 19, at the City Park, with a softball game between the Cardinals and Rebels. Both are city teams.

Teams are now being lined up by team captains and rosters have not been completed, according to Ted Myers, who is supervising the program.

Myers said a more complete schedule is expected by June 15. Plans are underway for a second game June 19, between two junior teams, possibly the Red Devils and the Wildcats.

Matters are being worked out in which Estelline and Lakeview teams would meet teams from Memphis.

Other activities are being planned for the City Park program, Myers said.

Additional information is scheduled for announcement by June 15.

Davis Is Appointed County Judge After Russell Tenders Resignation

A new county judge for Hall County was named Saturday morning, after the incumbent, John Russell, tendered his resignation Thursday because of ill health.

The new judge is Tracy Davis, who has farmed near Lakeview for a long time and has been Case dealer here for a number of years.

Davis took office Monday, the date Russell requested that his resignation become effective.

Russell had been county judge since Jan. 1. He was appointed to the office after the county judge-elect, Arthur Gidden, Sr. of Plaska, died Nov. 7, following a heart attack.

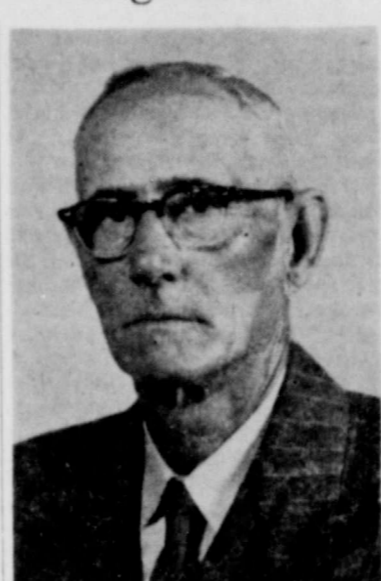

Russell had previously served an elective term as county judge in 1947-48. He has farmed for many years in the Hulver community, west of Estelline. He has been receiving medical treatment in a Wichita Falls hospital recently.

Before appointing Davis, members of the Hall County commissioners court interviewed half a dozen persons, G. W. Blewer, Lakeview, commissioner in precinct 2, said. Blewer served as temporary chairman of the commissioners court while naming of a successor to Russell was being considered.

The other commissioners who took part in appointing a new judge are: Ed Hutcherson, Memphis, precinct 1; Clinton Richburg, Estelline, precinct 3; and J. B. Bush, Turkey, precinct 4.

The new judge served two terms as commissioner in precinct 2 from January, 1939, to January, 1953.

He and Mrs. Davis live at 915 South Seventh Street.

Greenbelt Golf Plans Nearly Set

Plans for the annual Greenbelt Golf Tournament, which will start here next Thursday, were nearing completion this week, Ben Parks, president of the host Memphis Country Club, said today.

More than 100 entrants are expected to compete in the tournament, which will run through Sunday, June 14. Country clubs, other than Memphis, expected to be represented are those at Childress, Vernon, Electra, Shamrock, Pampa, Quanah, Phillips, Paducah, Crowell, and Frederick and Altus, Okla.

Prizes, totaling more than $1,000, have been provided for winners.

Approximately 50 members of the local club likely will play in different flights of the tourney, Rufus Grisham, tournament committee chairman, has estimated. Golfing members of the club are being signed up this week.

It is predicted that approximately 70 out-of-town golfers will be here for the competition, swelling the grand total to well above the 100 mark.

Dody Cole, Frederick, is the defending champion. He has won the title the past two years and has taken the championship three times altogether. However, he should meet some strong competition this year.

Qualifying rounds will get underway next Thursday, with final matches scheduled for Sunday.

A barbecue will be held at the club next Thursday evening, with a crowd of more than 200 expected. M. C. Allen is in charge of this phase of the tournament, and W. D. Young is chairman of the committee who will serve the food.

Registration for the tourney is being handled by D. L. C. Kinard (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Members of the Childrens Country Club defeated Memphis Country Club players here Sunday, 4 1/2 points to 3 1/2 points.

Thirty-one golfers from each club took part in the inter-city competition.

The Childrens group requested the matches, in order to familiarize themselves with the local course, in preparation for Greenbelt play.

McClendon lost it on the court-house square here while shopping. Miss Neighbors saw the ad but was unable to get word to Mrs. McClendon. She came to The Democrat office but members of the staff were unable to help her.

So matters remained until Monday afternoon when Mrs. McClendon appeared at the newspaper office.

After she identified herself, she was quickly informed that a ring had been found, a ring that might be hers.

Miss Neighbors was contacted at the local bus station, where she is employed, and said she had the ring with her. She was told that Mrs. McClendon would get there as fast as possible.

Mrs. McClendon did and to her joy, found that it was indeed her coveted keepsake.

RECOMMENDED TREATMENT FOR DIFFERENT EMERGENCIES LISTED

"Lay that whiskey down, babe" if you've got it in mind for snake bite. Whiskey speeds the flow of blood, increasing the spread of poisons through the body, and depresses the part of the brain already slowed down by the venom.

If there are only surface scratches and no swelling, discoloration, or general reaction, the snake probably was nonpoisonous, and the bite should be treated like a scratch. But—if there are fang marks (puncture points), pain, swelling, and a purple color, pain, faintness or other general disturbance, call a doctor and give first aid as follows:

Sterilize a knife or razor blade. Apply a band just above the bite. Apply alcohol to the region around it, and make a cross cut about one-fourth inch deep in the skin over each fang mark. Withdraw the venom with a suction cup, or meter of from 1½ to 2 inches in the following manner: Moisten the bite area with water, cold cream or petroleum jelly. Light a small scrap of paper, drop it into the bottom of a glass, and allow it to burn a moment, then dump the burning paper into a pan of water. Press the mouth of the glass over the bite area until the cooling air starts suction; leave it in place a few minutes, while preparing another glass to replace it. Continue suction until considerable fluid has been recovered or until the doctor arrives.

Once rabies develops in man, it is fatal. Too many people still fail to realize the possible seriousness of dog bite, or the bites of other animals like cats, squirrels, and skunks. Because the animal may be rabid, it should be captured and penned up for a ten day observation period, if at all possible. The wound should be washed with soap and water to remove all saliva, and the doctor called immediately. He will decide what further steps should be taken.

Victims of the heat require quick treatment. With heat stroke (or sunstroke) the patient has a hot, dry skin; high fever; and a strong, rapid pulse. He may complain of headache. The patient with heat exhaustion has a moist cool skin; pale face; and a temperature more nearly normal. He may faint. The victim of heat cramps, in addition to painful cramping of the abdomen or limbs, may have symptoms similar to heat exhaustion.

Treatment of heat conditions requires that the patient be removed to cooler surroundings and a doctor called immediately if the patient seems gravely ill. The heat stroke victim will need to be cooled off rapidly with cold packs, a cold bath, or wet sheets.

With a heart attack the patient may complain of pain, may seem to faint, or may have a hard time breathing. Pain under the breastbone may extend into the neck, the back, or either or both arms, or it may be felt only in the abdomen. Pain as a symptom of heart disease is seen almost altogether in people older than 35 years of age; in those younger, it usually can be traced to something else.

If the patient with suspected heart trouble feels better with his head propped up or sitting, keep him in that position. He should be encouraged to remain quiet. However, if he feels better walking, he probably isn't having a heart attack. Pain and fear of suffocating may make the heart victim nervous and apprehensive and you should do what you can to calm him down. If he has medicine for an attack, give it to him.

A stroke is caused by a blood vessel in the brain breaking. High blood pressure probably is present. The patient is likely to be unconscious and paralyzed on one side with mouth drawn to one side. One pupil may be larger than the other. The patient's pulse will be strong and slow, but breathing may be difficult. He should be laid on his back with head raised a little and kept warm. If he must be moved, great care should be taken to see that he doesn't exert himself.

With either a heart attack or a stroke, it is important to call a doctor right away.

ATTORNEY GEN. EXPLAINS VALUE OF CONTINENTAL SHELF TO TEXANS

(First of a series of three articles by John Ben Shepperd, Attorney General of Texas).

The recent action returning Texas' tidelands within her 3-league or 10½ mile historic boundaries was a happy event for all Texans.

Through the years since the "big grab" of our off-shore submerged lands by the federal government, Texas officials backed by the people of Texas, have battled for the return of what has always been rightfully ours.

There is danger, however, that although the area within our historic boundaries has been returned to us, we may have thus won a battle and lost a war.

Congress will now begin considering what to do with the "Continental Shelf" which lies outside of the tidelands just returned to us.

Unless we now convince the federal government that any development of the Continental Shelf should be a joint State-Federal development, the federal government may achieve by mechanical means what they could not accomplish through political means.

That is, Federal wells on the "Continental Shelf" can drain reservoirs within our historic State boundaries.

The first question which will occur to most of us is—What is the Continental Shelf? Strictly speaking, it is merely the underwater extension of the land mass which is our North American continent.

The outline of the United States as pictured in our geography books actually does not correctly show our borders.

Beyond the depths of the ocean are encountered off-shore a gradually sloping underwater plain extends out into the ocean. This too, is part of the continent, part of the United States, part of the States and part of the Countries.

If we could see this underwater plain, we would observe a steep drop into the depths of the ocean at approximately 600 feet beneath the surface of the ocean or the Gulf of Mexico.

This depth of 600 feet underwater has been chosen by experts as the average edge of the "Shelf," which is an extension of our country.

Here in Texas we have a large Shelf off our coast because the Gulf of Mexico is rather shallow as compared to the ocean itself.

However, some of the Eastern States—Massachusetts in particular—have a much broader Shelf even than our own. Rhode Island, New Jersey and Maine have sections of the Shelf larger than their present State limits.

Many nations—and our own among them—have assumed con-rol of the Continental Shelf off the coast, even though it is underwater.

Due to the huge value of the oil and other reserves under the Continental Shelf, a wise administration of these reserves is vitally important—not only to the Nation—but also to the State. The total value of these reserves has been estimated at $100 billion.

A wasteful use of these Continental Shelf reserves could drain fields within our historic boundaries.

PEOPLE SHOULD BE CAREFUL WHEN ENGAGING IN OUTDOOR ACTIVITY

Spring ushers in birds and flowers, picnics and swimmin' holes—and, with the greater emphasis on outdoor life, a few other things not quite so desirable, like poison ivy and ticks.

Caution is the password for the wise outdoorsman. He avoids picnic spots with underbrush, and if he must go into the fields or forests he dresses to protect himself from annoying plants or insects. Nevertheless, many others are exposed to poison ivy, oak or sumac. Bathing with plenty of soap and hot water immediately after exposure taking care not to let clothes which have been in contact with the plants touch the skin, and applying rubbing alcohol or a soothing lotion may prove helpful; however, severe cases are likely to require a doctor's care.

Certain ticks may carry Rocky Mountain spotted fever, a disease marked by spots on the skin, chills, and fever, sometimes ending in death. Since a tick bite may be so dangerous, the following method of removal is recommended: Apply ether, chloroform, or acetone to the insect to try to make it drop off. If it doesn't tweezers should be used, grasping the tick as close as possible to the point of attachment and pulling gently to keep from leaving the mouth parts embedded in the skin. Every effort should be made to keep from crushing the insect and getting its contents into the bite. Use soap and water where the tick was attached.

After a bee or wasp "stinger" has been removed, a paste of baking soda and water can be applied. Not many black widow spider bites are fatal, but small children have died from them. Any one who may have received a bite should be taken to the doctor if he complains of pain in the abdomen.

With warmer weather coming on, fainting may claim a greater number of victims. The patient should be laid flat or told to sit with his head between his knees or kneel as if tying a shoelace, his shoulders being braced to keep him from falling. Tight clothing should be loosened, the face rubbed with cold water, and spritzes of ammonia or smelling salts held under his nose. After consciousness returns, he may be given a glass of cold water.

Convulsions may have any number of causes, ranging from serious conditions like epilepsy to temporary ones like high fever in a child. The patient should be laid down and kept from hurting himself. A feverish child may be given a lukewarm bath or wrapped in sheets wrung from lukewarm water. An enema of lukewarm water also may be given. With fainting or convulsions which are unexplained or often repeated, a doctor should be consulted.

Nosebleed, too, may be of little importance or may point to a serious condition, such as high blood pressure. The patient should be told to sit, hold his head back, and keep from blowing his nose. Cold compresses may be applied to the back of the neck and over the nose (swallowing a little blood is harmless), and the patient should remain in this position until bleeding checks. Anyone with excessive or long lasting bleeding or repeated attacks should have medical examination and treatment.

Among causes of earache may be a boil in the ear canal, infection of the middle ear, or injury of the skull. A hot water bottle to the ear may relieve the pain of a simple earache, as may a few drops of warmed oil placed in the affected ear canal. Aspirin also may be given.

For toothache, a toothpick covered with a piece of cotton dipped into oil of cloves may be applied if a cavity can be seen. If not, a hot water bottle over the cheek or jaw may give relief. A dentist should be consulted.

Removing a bean, chicken or fish bone from the air or food passages may prove troublesome. A slap on the back may dislodge something that "doesn't belong," but it sometimes takes special instruments to remove these foreign objects. Some things children swallow are harmless and pass on through the food tube unaided. It would be safest, however to call the doctor and follow his advice. No time should be lost in calling him if breathing is cut off. Water shouldn't be used to try to wash a bean or pea from the nose or ear because it may swell, making removal difficult, nor should much digging be done in these structures for fear of injuring the delicate tissue lining them.

BRIEF SHOWER FALLS HERE THURSDAY NOON

Driving rain fell briefly in Memphis at noon today. Precipitation slowed to a drizzle within a few minutes and skies appeared to be lighting up shortly after 12:30 p. m. It was the first moisture to fall here in approximately 10 days.

The shower cooled air, which had been superheated for the past two weeks or so. Temperatures most days have climbed above the 100 degree mark, records of weatherman John McMicken show.

During the past week, readings have been as follows: last Thursday, 70-95; Friday, 70-100; Saturday, 69-100; Sunday, 74-104 Monday, 69-103; Tuesday, 68-102; and Wednesday, 66-102. Low today was 68.

Among those attending the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church last week in Abilene were: Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lemons and Bobby and Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown; Mrs. Del Rich; Mesta June Saye; Frank Norman; Caroline Collins; Audrey Beth Burnett; and Addie Lou Wells.

WORK BEGUN ON SCENIC RAILWAY IN PALO DURO CANYON STATE PARK

Work is underway on the right-of-way for a narrow gauge scenic railway in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Tentative name is Palo Duro Canyon, Burlington and Texas Western Railroad. More than 60 tons of rails, ties and other equipment has been received and more is to follow.

The scenic railroad will have a capacity of 72 adults. Powered by a big Chrysler engine, the locomotive is mocked up as Casey Jones's Famous Old No. 97. The route starts near Triassic Peak and winds up toward El Coronado Lodge giving views not hitherto available except by long hikes or horseback of the Sad Monkey Spanish Skirts, Catrino Cave, Mesa Mecca, Christmas Tree Canyon and the old Goodnight entrance route into the Canyon.

The railroad is being installed and operated by Harold E. Grear and associate, James M. Bailey of Herrin, Illinois. The train, one of

L. McCarty in April.

It is believed the scenic ride will be a big factor in further increasing the attendance at the "World's Most Colorful Canyon" which in the past two years drew more out of state cars and more paid attendance than any other State or National park in Texas.

"Undoubtedly, there will be no scenic ride in America that can compare with this route in beauty and color", said Grear. "The public acceptance of this gorgeous ride will attract national attention."

Tommy Davis, who is employed in Carlsbad, N. M., spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. Thelma Davis, and other relatives.

LEGAL ADVISOR GIVES ADVICE TO MINORS WILL HAVE VACATION JOBS

For the million of American boys and girls who are to take vacation jobs this summer, the Department of Labor has a word of caution and advice.

19 million will need such certificates if they work for firms doing government contracts, he says.

In Texas, such certificates of age are issued, as a public service, by the Texas Employment Commission. Birth certificates, church records, or insurance policies may be needed to establish proof of age.

Further information about legal minimum ages for employment in various jobs may be obtained from the Wage-Hour Division, U. S. Department of Labor, Dallas, Texas.

An evening of fun and informality was enjoyed by the Westminster group and guests.

ADVICE GIVEN ON THREE COMMON PROBLEMS FACING MEDICINE TODAY

Three common problems facing medicine today are overweight headaches, and hardening of the arteries.

Overweight (or obesity) plagues an estimated 15,000,000 Americans. The chief cause—regardless of alibis—is that the person affected takes in more food than his body can spend in energy. Even if the "glands" are to blame the patient usually overeats to make things worse. People should control their weight to keep from dying young and to avoid diseases of middle and later life, such as high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, or kidney disease.

To reduce, the patient must give his wholehearted cooperation to the doctor. A diet is of little help unless it is followed. However more liberal diets are recommended now than formerly, and the medically supervised diet often allows the patient more food than one he might draw up for himself. Reducing pills to curb the appetite may be considered helpful by the doctor. Too, the physician can help the patient develop healthful attitudes toward eating and life in general so that he is not so badly tempted to overeat. The chief value of exercise is to keep the muscles in tone.

The causes of headaches may be almost without number; however, one of the most common types is the "migrains" or sick headache. Although the brain is not sensitive to pain, other structures inside or near the head are for example, the blood vessels and nerves, the covering of the brain called the "dura," the muscles of the scalp and neck, and the eyes nose, or teeth. In migraine headache, it is believed that the blood vessels become swollen, twisted, or stretched, setting off the pain reaction.

The headache victim often is able to find relief through lying in a quiet, dark room with cold applied to the head. However, if headaches are frequent, he would be wise to see a doctor. Physical examination and treatment not only may make life more bearable; they also may reveal serious trouble, such as a brain tumor, in-

Miss Kay Wines, sister of the bride, and Clifford Hogue, Jr. nephew of the groom, lighted the candles. Miss Wines wore a colonial styled dress of white organdy and wristlet of daisies.

Jim Wines, brother of the bride, ring bearer, carried the rings atop a satin lace trimmed pillow.

Miss Monta Ann Hitt, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She carried a white satin basket filled with daisy petals. Her dress was of white organdy, was fashioned after that of the bride.

Clark Hitt of Lancaster served his brother as best man. Ushers were Bowling Hitt of Seminole and Benny Hitt of Big Springs brothers of the groom, and Clifford Hogue of Midland.

Mrs. Wines, mother of the bride wore an aqua lace dress with pink accessories while the groom's mother, Mrs. Hitt, was attired in a grey orlon dress with pink accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. The refreshment table was laid with white satin and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake with a musical motif and topped with a wedding bell. The house party included Miss Leota Wines, cousin of the bride who registered the guests, Miss LaVerne Rollins, Mrs. Earl Newell, Mrs. Wayland Marcum of Amarrillo, Miss Betty Ann Goodall and Miss Patsy Sue Hays.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, Mrs. Hitt traveled in a suit of Navy and white with navy and white reptile accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and Howard Payne College, where she was a member of Rho Alpha and Jacket Coeds. She has taught music here since January.

The groom is a graduate of Lancaster High School and Howard Payne College. At the present time he is stationed at Fort Hood.

time for the patient to be helped most.

Hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis), which usually isn't especially dangerous, may lead to trouble if deposits on the inside of blood vessels cut off the blood supply to an essential organ like the brain or heart. The danger of a blood vessel bursting is slight unless syphilis or some other serious disease weaken the wall. Patients with hardening of the arteries often have trouble with their legs and feet; the slowed down circulation may lead to pain, ulcers, or gangrene.

Arteriosclerosis is considered a natural part of aging. However, it has been found to be present in infants and children and almost absent in some aged persons. Those who develop the condition early in life are likely to pass the trait on to their children. Hardening of the arteries often is associated with diabetes and high blood pressure.

Medical science can sometimes slow down the development of arteriosclerosis. However, much remains to be learned about its cause and treatment.

The USDA has available 100 million pounds of nonfat dry milk solids for donation to school lunch rooms, welfare organizations in the U. S. and its territories and to private welfare organizations assisting needy persons in foreign countries. Details are available from USDA's PMA's food distribution branch, Dallas or State Department of Public Welfare, Austin.

In a twilight ceremony performed Tuesday in the First Baptist Church in Memphis, Miss Lois Wines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wines, became the bride of Bill Hitt, son of Chaplain and Mrs. C. O. Hitt of Big Spring.

Chaplain Hitt, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. Harold Hitt, brother of the groom, read the vows before an arch against a background of greenery, lighted tapers in branched candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Howard Scott of Clarendon, organist, played a prelude of "Poem" by Fibich, "Dedication" written as a wedding gift to his wife by Robert Schumann, "The Years Make you Dearer" by Schaum, "Etude in E" op. 10 No. 3, by Chopin, "Andante Cantabile" op. 60 by Tchaikowsky, "Song Without Words" by Mendelssohn, and "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell. She played the traditional wedding march from Lohengrin by Wagner and the Wedding March by Mendelssohn. Mrs. Scott also accompanied Bety Jean Stewart who sang "Through the Years" by Youmans, and J. Hoes Are Time And Money For Texas Cotton Growers

COLLEGE STATION—Texas cotton pickers last year equipped with rotary hoes as many as four times as many as in 1948, says the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The number jumped from 148,000 in 1948 to 594,000 in 1952, according to Fred C. Elliott, agricultural extension specialist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The popularity of this type of hoe is due to its labor-saving qualities.

From many of the 133 rotary hoes which were used last year, savings of 25 to 30 per cent were made on hoeing bills. In the state, Elliott says, the use of rotary hoes has saved one-fourth of the labor required to produce a crop of cotton. He says that the use of rotary hoes will reduce the heavy hoeing bill after harvest.

Elliott, for controlling weeds, but the hoe must be properly adjusted. The tractor operated at a speed of 4 to 5 miles an hour. An operator, under favorable conditions, can do a good

Precautions For Lessening Dangers From Electrical Storms Are Listed

COLLEGE STATION—Lightning kills 400 people and injures 1,000 others every year in the United States. And reports the National Safety Council, 90 per cent of these fatalities occur in rural areas. In addition, lightning is a major cause of farm fires—about 20 million dollars worth of warm property is destroyed annually.

According to W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, here's about what happens in an electrical storm. As summer storm clouds gather on hot humid afternoons, electrical energy builds up in them. When the electrical potential becomes strong enough to break through the insulating layer of air, a giant spark—lightning—is produced.

Allen says lightning flashes may occur within a cloud, between clouds or between a cloud and the earth or projecting objects. The heated air along the zigzagging path of the lightning expands rapidly and the resulting rolling sound waves make thunder. Allen explains that sound travels 1,100 feet per second in air, so if there is a 10 second wait between the time you see the flash and hear the thunder, it means the lightning is about two miles away. And for what it's worth, he says if you are struck by lightning you'll neither hear the thunder or see the flash.

With millions of volts and thousands of amperes spent in a fraction of a second, lightning has tremendous power and will destroy or damage any object which tends to resist or obstruct its passage.

In areas where thunderstorms are frequent and intense, Allen says all important farm buildings should be protected against lightning.

In every case, it is best to stay away from open doors or windows, fireplaces, stoves, piping or other metal objects. Do not go outside nor remain out during thunderstorms unless necessary, says Allen. If caught in a thunderstorm, stay away from small sheds and shelters in exposed locations, isolated trees, wire fences and hilltops and large open spaces.

STATE HEALTH OFFICIAL CAUTIONS HOUSEWIVES ABOUT DETERGENTS

There are detergents advertised on today's market for practically any cleaning job—from stubborn grease on a mechanic's hands, to discouraging fleas or the family pool.

They work too, in most instances, but State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has this word of warning: "Make sure you follow the directions to the letter." Otherwise you could end up with a disconcerting case of "housewives eczema."

They so-called "soapless" products have found wide favor with housewives for washing clothes and dishes. No doubt a good bit of their popularity is due to high powered advertising, including the decorative boxes featuring happy ladies hanging the washing or putting up dishes which the product has cleaned all by itself.

Dr. Cox identifies the active ingredients of these products as chemical compounds which act to lower surface tension of water making it more penetrating and able to get through grease and dirt to break it up and keep it from resetting.

Many brands contain special purpose ingredients, such as ammonium salt, which make the compound bactericidal.

A duck is supposed to sink like a rock in water containing some of these detergents, probably because the "wetter" water gets through the oil in the duck's feathers—which is the reason a duck is ordinarily water proof and able to float.

It stands to reason, Dr. Cox points out, that if these compounds will cut through grease and film, and there is no doubt that some of them will—they will also penetrate the natural oils of the skin and cause irritation and discomfort if the condition is neglected.

The health officer's recommendation? Keep some hand lotion within easy reach and apply it liberally after using detergents for household cleaning or laundry.

Tentative Budget

125 is budgeted for the sinking fund.

Considerable dirt is being moved at the City Park site of the municipal swimming pool, Mayor Carl Harrison told the council. It is hoped to complete the pool around the first of September.

Approval was given for three members of the Memphis fire department to attend the annual Texas Association of Firefighters convention in Austin next week.

Dwight Kinard was appointed assistant city secretary and treasurer without salary. He will serve in his father's place, when the latter is absent.

Paving Of 256

numbering of the highway between Oklahoma City and Clovis.

Farmer said Greer told him at that time that when paving was completed, the highway would be given a continuous number through Texas.

At present, the road is Highway 62 from the Oklahoma line to where it intersects the Childress-Wellington highway. At that point it becomes 256 and remains so until reaching Silverton. From there until joining U. S. Highway 69 at Bovina it is 86.

letter concerning my newspaper career, etc. Being just a little bit modest, I am not quoting the letter. It is refreshing indeed to receive compliments from readers and it is an uncommon occurrence to file it with My Memoirs, so that later, when things are not going so well, I can refer to these nice things and get the blues chased away.

KGNC announces the erection of the 830-foot high TV tower and antenna. People all over the Panhandle await with interest the starting of broadcasts from this high antenna and with stepped-up power. Engineers as yet have not fully decided if the TV waves will bend over the caprock sufficient for good reception in the lower Panhandle. Memphis is only 71 air miles from Amarillo, and if the caprock does not interfere, we should be able to get good reception.

This is vacation time, and a lot of people will be picnicking at City Park and spending a lot of time resting and recruiting after a hot and strenuous day. In the natural setting, the park is an ideal spot. Plenty of shade, picnic units, tables, children's play equipment and such like, with a swimming pool being added. I notice the City has some funds set aside for the park. Wouldn't it be a good idea to use some of the funds to beautify, grow grass, keep it mowed often, and thus add to the beauty as well as lower the temperature so this playground will be more inviting. A visit to the park any day in the week and all day on Sunday will reveal that a lot of people are taking advantage of the surroundings to entertain themselves and friends. Many more would do likewise if it were made more inviting. Too much money was spent in developing the park to let it go to pot for want of a little care. Memphis has few advantages, but in this park, we have a natural. By all means, the park commissioners should take the matter under advisement and do something about it. Do my 113 readers agree?

Lovely Miscellaneous Shower Honors Miss Peggy Davenport, Bride-Elect

Miss Peggy Davenport, bride-elect of Buddy Lane, was honored with a pretty shower Thursday evening, May 28, at the home of Mrs. Carthie Dunn in Lakeview. Entertaining rooms were decorated with arrangements of flowers carrying out the bride's chosen colors of pink and white.

Mrs. Lance Leggett met the guests and directed them to the serving table. The table, laid with a cut work linen cloth, had an attractive centerpiece of pink and white daisies and satin ribbon with the names "Buddy and Peggy" inscribed in gold. Mrs. Paul Thompson and Mrs. E. J. McKnight served punch, decorated cookies, mints and nuts.

Mrs. Ed. Hillhouse registered guests. Miss Sherry Denton entertained with piano selection throughout the serving hour.

A clever program composed and directed by Mrs. Clyde Reed recited numerous stars in Peggy's life. She was first represented by Mrs. Leon Robertson and her baby Kay. Peggy, at six, playing her first piano solo was Sandra Gatlin dressed in Peggy's blue crocheted dress. Peggy's first beau was represented by Connie Mack Moore who read "When Apples Grow on Lilac Trees." Edna Earle Gardenhire, accompanied by Mrs. Lyman Davenport, read "To Marry or Not to Marry." Rita Durrett and Sharon Brown sang "Sentimental Journey" and "Peg O' Heart" accompanied by Martha Joy Reed. Martha played "Whispering" and Rita played strains from the wedding march. Depicting Peggy fifteen years hence, all the persons taking part marched in noisily to represent her large family, ending the program on a hilarious note. Each of the above then made a presentation of a gift.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Mrs. Ott Bevers, Mrs. Lee Blanks Mrs. O. L. Favors, Mrs. Ted Montgomery, Mrs. James Skinner, Mrs. Joe Durham, Mrs. Paul Smith Mrs. Lance Leggett, Mrs. Paul Thompson, Mrs. Burl Bevers, Mrs. Lorain Denton, Mrs. Bernice Davis, Mrs. Tom Luttrell, Mrs. E. J. McKnight, Mrs. Clyde Reed Mrs. Carthie Dunn and Mrs. Ed Hillhouse.

Approximately 125 friends attended or sent gifts.

More men than women are color blind.

Mrs. R. V. Wood is President Of Estelline Club

The 1932 Culture Club of Estelline met Monday, May 18, in the home of Mrs. Lillie Cooper with Mrs. F. O. Cooper as hostess. The meeting opened with a prayer offered by Mrs. A. H. Bailey, spiritual chairman. Following the prayer, the pledge of allegiance to the flag was repeated in unison by the club members.

Mrs. B. T. Jackson conducted the business session. The yearly reports of officers were made. The theme for next year's course of study, "An Informed and Responsible Womanhood" was accepted and the budget committee report adopted.

Mrs. F. O. Cooper, civic chairman, stated that the gifts for the most outstanding Home economic girl and FFA boy had been bought. This award had been made each year since the organization of the club. The Historical report was given by Mrs. Cooper.

Mrs. B. T. Jackson, retiring president, expressed her appreciation to the members for their loyalty and co-operation throughout the year. Mrs. Jackson then gave the club an American flag mounted on a beautiful hand carved base.

The following officers were installed for the 1953-54 club year with Mrs. A. H. Bailey serving as installing officer: Mrs. R. V. Wood, president; Mrs. J. B. Rapp, first vice president; Mrs. J. S. Mothershead, second vice president; Mrs. A. H. Bailey, historian; Mrs. J. B. Rapp, parliamentarian; Mrs. S. T. Hutchins, press reporter.

Mrs. B. T. Jackson was presented with a gift from the club. Mrs. D. T. Eddins, first president of the 1932 Culture Club, made the presentation.

The new president, Mrs. R. V. Wood, discussed various phases of work for the coming year.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mmes. J. A. Ballard, Joe Eddins, Don Leary, R. V. Wood, B. T. Jackson, J. R. Rapp, S. E. Phillips, J. L. Phillips, A. H. Bailey, S. T. Hutchins, D. T. Eddins, H. E. Clifton, J. S. Mothershead, D. C. Waldron, W. B. Davidson and Lillie Cooper.

Mrs. Reba Stroehle and Billie Jean left Tuesday for Canyon where Mrs. Stroehle will attend West Texas State College this Summer.

Mizpah Guild Meets In Home Of Mrs. W. E. Leslie

The Mizpah Guild of the First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. W. E. Leslie on June 1. She was assisted in her role as hostess by her daughter, Bettye.

After the meeting was called to order, Mrs. Herbert Sisk told an interesting and inspirational story entitled, "I Dream Senorita," which served both as a devotional and missionary study for it well proved what sacrifice and real interest in the welfare of others can do in furthering God's kingdom, and in bringing health and happiness into lives less fortunate than ours.

Fifteen members responded to roll call with verses of scripture or some worthwhile thought. The club was happy to welcome a former member, Elizabeth Ricker of Kansas City Mo., as a guest.

During the business session, conducted by the President, Wilma Leslie, reports of the treasurer and of several committees were given.

Recently a band concert was given at the church by the Presbyterian Children's Home of Amarillo. This was followed by a spiritual program given for the regular church hour of worship. A fellowship dinner was served 26 guests and the local church members and Memphis friends. During the committee reports several letters of thanks and appreciation were read that were written by Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm who manage the Home and from the girl graduate of Amarillo H. S. who has earned a scholarship to WTSC, Canyon.

Pearle Ward gave the Bible lesson, using for her text and thoughtful remarks, Colossians 2:16-23. The meeting closed with prayer offered by Awanda Morris, and the Mizpah benediction was given in unison.

Scottish Rite's Memorial Services At Dallas, June 7

A little child will place a wreath of flowers before the statue at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas Sunday afternoon, to symbolize the gratitude of hundreds of little patients to the men and women, now dead, who made their treatment and care possible.

The occasion will be the sixteenth annual memorial services of the hospital, honoring nearly 200 benefactors who left bequests to the institution in their wills and testaments.

Masons will come from all parts of the state to attend the ceremonies, James E. Temple, president of the hospital's board of trustees, said.

Placing of the wreath at the foot of the statue by one of the patients is traditionally a dramatic climax to the services. The symbolic statue, showing a nurse giving comfort to a crippled child surmounts a base which is inscribed with the names of the men and women who have bequeathed gifts to the hospital.

Temple explained that the hospital, which treats crippled children from all parts of Texas without regard to race, creed or color,

Some Farm Workers In Social Security

Some farm employees are now included in the program of old-age and survivors insurance, the Social Security Administration advises farmers.

To qualify as a regular farm worker under the Social Security Act, an agricultural employe must work for one employer for a full three-month calendar quarter. However, social security taxes will not be paid on wages earned during this quarter.

Further information on farm coverage may be obtained from the Amarillo social security office.

A representative from the Amarillo office will be in the commissioners court here, Tuesday, starting at 11:15 o'clock.

THE PORK BARREL BILL. The House moved with rapid speed last week on the appropriations bill for civil functions of the Department of the Army. This is the appropriation bill that has been commonly referred to for a number of years as the "pork barrel" bill. This name finds its source in the fact that moneys appropriated for many of the items in this bill are expenditures providing many benefits to localities and states that are not repaid to the federal government by the respective states or by the particular project constructed. The greatest expenditures in the bill are for rivers and harbors. The entire ap-

House allowed $253,000,000. All other reductions from the Eisenhower budget were less than $1,000,000 except in the general investigations item, where the cut was slightly more than $1,000,000. General investigations are primarily tied in with construction. Many attempts were made in the House to include projects that were cut out when the committee reduced the Eisenhower budget figure. However, only one of these amendments was approved, the one for $400,000 for work on the New York Harbor. Most everyone is anxious to get projects in this bill, for the reason that I stated above. The money spent is not repayable to the federal government. The money that has been sought for the construction of the Canadian Dam would not come in this appropriation bill, for the reason that approximately $79,000,000 of the required $85,000,000 for the Canadian Dam project must be repaid to the government. Only about $6,000,000 in that project could be chargeable to flood control and not repayable to the federal government. The reason that the Canadian Dam funds could not be included in this appropriation bill is because the army engineers would not be authorized under the law to construct a project that could not be justified for flood control or purposes incidental thereto.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION CUTS: The people of this country are evidencing great concern over the possible reduction of hospital and medical services to veterans. They are exactly correct in their righteous indignation about some attempts to deny hospitalization and medical services to these veterans who met their responsibilities with such great courage. The subject is too involved to undertake an extended discussion in this newsletter, but I can tell you that it is my opinion that this Congress will meet its responsibilities in seeing that these veterans are not subjected to a denial of these services. I sincerely appreciate the many letters that I have received on the subject, and assure all of you that you have an outstanding group in Congress on your side.

AMENDMENT TO THE AGRICULTURAL ACT OF 1949: I am introducing a bill amending the Agricultural Act of 1949 to permit the Commodity Credit Corporation to sell stored corn at a price determined by the Secretary of Agriculture with the approval of the Board of Directors of the Commodity Credit Corporation, plus reasonable carrying charges. The purpose of this amendment is to provide a source of feed for the cattle people. Under the present law, the sale of stored commodities is limited to a price of not less than 5 per cent above the current support price of the particular commodity. There is an exception that provides for the sale of commodities that have substantially deteriorated in quality. It is well known that stored corn does deteriorate. It occurs to me that if much of this stored corn could be sold for use by cattlemen before it deteriorates, at a price in keeping with the going price of livestock, it would not only help to protect the cattlemen, but would substantially avoid a greater loss in the commodity after it has deteriorated. My amendment places the price fixing in the discretion of the Secretary with the approval of the Commodity Credit Corporation so that when the price of cattle drops far below the comparable price of feedstuff that is protected by support prices, there will be a means by which the Secretary of Agriculture can stabilize and protect the cattlemen. Otherwise, we can expect bankruptcy of many small cattle people and a resulting decrease in our cattle population. These tragic results would not only affect our section of the country, but would be highly detrimental to the economy of the entire nation.

HOME PURCHASE INVOLVES SERIOUS LEGAL PROBLEMS
Thinking of buying a house? Before you sign anything, be sure you know the effects of your action. Many legal problems are involved in such a transaction. This column, and those to follow on this subject, will attempt to point out and explain some of the legal angles connected with your purchase.
For the average person, the buying of a home is the largest single transaction of his life. It is also, in most instances, the most permanent or longest term investment he will ever make. Whether or not he bought wisely will be determined by his ability to resell without difficulty, or to enjoy the use of the premises without annoyance or interruption.
Possibly the first legal problem you will meet will be when you are asked by the seller or his agent to sign a contract of sale or earnest money contract. In connection with the latter, you will be asked to deposit a sum of money which would be forfeited to the seller and agent for damages in event you do not fulfill the contract. Although no forfeit money may be required with the former, you may still be legally liable for damages if you renege. Be sure, therefore, that you know exactly what your obligations are.
The next legal problem would probably be to determine the status of the title to the property. Many persons become confused during this stage, thinking that securing possession of an Abstract or Title Insurance Policy will afford them complete protection against title defects. This is not necessarily true in either case.

Keep in mind that an abstract is merely an outline of public records on the tract. Any person may purchase an abstract covering any piece of land, whether he owns it or not. A Title Insurance Policy indemnifies you only up to a certain maximum sum of money, and contains exceptions to the specified coverage.

Following this would be the problem of transferring the title from the legal owner to you, as purchaser, in such manner that no legal question might later arise concerning your sole and exclusive ownership.

Incidental to your title problems is that of ascertaining what restrictions exist upon the lot you are buying and upon the neighborhood generally. Municipal zoning ordinances and restrictive covenants placed upon the tract by previous owners or developers of the subdivision may prove a protection or a hindrance, according to the plans you may have for future use or improvement of your property.

Other legal questions may arise in arranging the method of payment for the house. The fact that most people need years in which to complete such payment makes this a matter to be considered carefully.

These are some of the major legal problems you are likely to encounter in purchasing a home.

Of course, a number of others may arise in some cases due to peculiar individual circumstances. Subsequent columns on this subject will seek to explain these and other interwoven legal considerations.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law).

Warns Of Food Poisoning In Hot Weather

AUSTIN—The coming of warm weather brings a warning from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, for all persons to be on the alert regarding food poisoning. Most cases investigated by the State Department of Health disclosed that improper food handling was responsible for the illness. Food poisoning is commonly caused by bacteria in food. In general there are two types, food poisoning and food infection. Food poisoning is caused by bacteria in the food that produce a poison and usually the symptoms appear within a few hours. In food infection, the bacteria do not produce a poison, but attack the body. This takes longer so symptoms usually do not appear for 12 to 24 hours after eating.

In both kinds of illness the symptoms may be similar; nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain and fever may all occur. In food poisoning nausea and vomiting may predominate while in food infection diarrhea may be the prominent symptom. As a prevention Dr. Cox suggests that all food be protected against flies and other pests. Refrigerate all perishable foods including meats, poultry and cream-filled pastries. Many outbreaks of food infection are caused by leaving food out of the refrigerator. Also, avoid handling food if you have a sore or an infection on your hands or if you are sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Thompson had as week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thompson of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Maryn Heath of Tulsa, Okla.

SELLING THE AMERICAN WAY

It is a well-known tenet of salesmanship that before a salesman can sell others, he must first know and believe in the goods he is trying to sell.

There is no question about most citizens of the United States being sold on the American way of life.

But why shouldn't they be?

It has brought them more miles of improved highways, more automobiles, telephones, well-furnished homes and apartments, and other items, which help make a better life, than any other country in the world. And because of unique American mass-production methods, they have gotten them for less.

Could it be possible, however, that these good things have been so much a part of Americans' daily lives that the conveniences have lost some of their meaning as symbols of our way of life?

Further, it is possible that this trend has progressed to the point that we are less aggressive and articulate about our way of life than communists are about theirs? And thereby are doing a better job of selling their way to other peoples, because they have been thoroughly indoctrinated with communism?

These questions may be open to debate, but statements made recently by a noted Texas educator, are worth considering.

Speaking at a church meeting, Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University, declared that American students don't know enough about the benefits of their own form of government.

Dr. Sadler said American students know far less about accomplishments of democracy than students of some European countries know about the claims of communism.

The Fort Worth educator said that on a tour of Europe he asked students about communism and they immediately answered with "all the promises and generalities it claims."

But when he asked the same questions about democracy in this country, he said he was appalled to learn how vague students' concepts were.

"When a way of life in conflict with ours is basing its claims on promises, we owe it to the people of the world to let them know the actual and honest achievements of our way," Dr. Sadler said.

Democracy's idea of freedom for the individual is based on Christianity, he observed.

"If the fires of religion burn out, the heart of democracy will cease to be," he said.

The basic idea of democracy—that the masses have the capacity to govern themselves—is so simple it would appeal to people everywhere if they knew of it, Dr. Sadler declared.

There probably are few people in this country who would disagree with Dr. Sadler on democracy's appeal.

But it would seem, in view of the lukewarm support other United Nations' members are giving the fight against communism, that democracy and the American Way are not being gotten across to other peoples as they should. This is so, in spite of all the aid we have given them during and following two World Wars.

We should check to find out why.

FARMERS FEEL PINCH

The Department of Agriculture recently reported that farmers will realize net income of a billion dollars less this year than in 1952. Estimated total net income was 14.3 billion dollars. Last year's record was over fifteen billion.

The reduction in net income is caused by falling prices, prices which are dropping faster than the costs of farming—which are slowly declining also. Despite the fact that economic activity and industrial production is at a record rate, the farmer is likely to feel the worst pinch he has experienced since 1941, according to the Department of Agriculture estimate.

"The purchasing power of this income (the farmer's net income) would be the lowest since 1941," the Agriculture Department announcement stated. The effect of the billion dollar net income reduction will be felt more than one would estimate—looking at the total estimated figure of 14.3 billion.

When one billion dollars is taken off the total net income, that means a large percentage of the profit margin in farming is being wiped out. This means that buying power (the money left over after the farmer pays costs for producing his crops) will be reduced by a much greater percentage than one billion is to 15.3.

Despite this loss of income, the Department of Agriculture expects demand from American consumers, for farm products, to remain high, demand from foreign countries to change very little and expects U. S. farmers to market about the same quantity of total products this year as last year. It is apparent from Agriculture Department estimates that until farmers' costs decrease faster than prices received, the farmers are going to experience a continuing economic pinch, although few of them are expected to meet with disaster or total failure.

TAKE IT EASIER

In spite of the fact that Americans are privileged to have a higher standard of living than any other country in the world, and have more items which are symbols of ease and luxury at their disposal than all the nearly two billion other people on earth, the typical middle-class American citizen is a victim of frustration, hypertension, and nervous fatigue. Ours is the age of the aspirin.

The unlimited opportunities which bless the American scene breed the fiercest kind of competition, which in turn makes for a dog-eat-dog business philosophy in the ever pressing urge to keep up or get ahead of the Joneses.

Not that we should have it any other way, mind you. Examination of the many economic systems of the world will disclose that ours has its faults just as do all the others. There seems to be no perfect formula for a sane and stable economy. Perhaps there never shall be.

But the way of free enterprise and open competition is the way of great peoples. Aggressive and enterprising men and women who unashamedly went out after the

Memphis Compress Company Is An Important Cog In Economic Life

The Memphis Compress Company has been an important cog in the economic life of this area for a good many years, as an employer, a taxpayer, and a supporter of community activities.

Its role has been a vital one, in a section which is predominantly devoted to the raising of cotton. Its facilities have prepared hundreds of thousands of cotton bales for shipment to factories in this country or for export to foreign lands.

Throughout the years, buildings and equipment have been constantly improved and expanded, to give cotton producers and cotton men faster and better service.

When Matthew Allen, part owner of the firm, came here about 1926, the company consisted chiefly of the press section. Allen's father, the late W. P. Allen of Terrell, had just bought an interest in the company.

Since then, storage capacity has been tripled and now approximately 47,500 bales of cotton can be protected from the weather.

For fire protection, the five warehouses have a sprinkler system of 4,000 or more sprinkler heads, spotted throughout them. In addition, 35 fire hydrants are scattered around the 125 acres owned by the company.

The press has been overhauled and a rolling bale attachment installed. Now, the press can turn out standard-sized bales in one operation by compressing the cotton on four sides. In the past cotton could be compressed on only two sides.

Before the rolling bale attachment was put into operation, considerable trouble was encountered from bales rolling in the press. When this occurred, bales had to be torn down and restacked before compressing could be completed.

Approximately 125 bales of cotton an hour can be processed where formerly only about 60 bales an hour could be compressed if many big bales or if many rolling bales were encountered.

The press is also used for high-density work. Bales, processed this way, are for export and come off the press much more compact than standard-sized ones.

Cotton bales, whose surface has become dirty, are cleaned with the aid of an air compressor, which was put into operation in 1938.

Unless cotton is extremely dirty or damaged, bales can be cleaned as fast as they can be compressed, Allen says. Previously, this phase was much slower.

The company formerly operated compresses at Hedley and Turkey but now uses these only as warehouses, doing all compress work here.

During fall and winter months, about 80 men are employed by the company, while in the summer there are about 35 employees.

Greatest number of bales ever compressed by the company was 153,700 bales in 1949, according to Allen. The average is about (Continued on Page Eight)

Memphis - Working for Your PROSPERITY

By Vern Stanford Texas Press Association AUSTIN, Tex.—Before leaving Austin, the legislators said to each other, "Good-bye, see you at the special session."

It is expected that Governor Shivers will call them back when the courts make a final decision on the natural gas tax.

If the tax is upheld, the state will have available the money that has been piling up since the tax was passed by the previous legislature, plus a monthly return of some $1 million.

Governor Shivers has predicted that the court test will come to an end in the Fall.

Reviewing the session, Governor Shivers commended the legislators as a hard-working lot who had put through about 75 to 85 per cent of the program he requested.

He thus revised upward a previous estimate that only a small fraction of his program was completed.

Lawmakers deserve praise, the governor said, for passing some legislation and for defeating other bills.

It was well, he thought, that no new taxes were passed, no expensive state services were inaugurated, and no measures were taken against either labor or management.

As to legislation passed, the governor thought these measures were good:

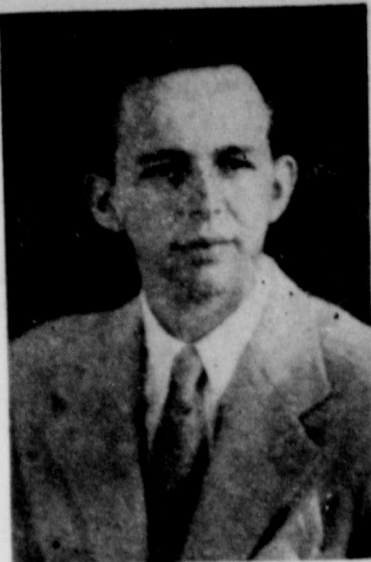

Authorizing new tuberculosis hospitals at San Antonio and Harlingen; setting up a stronger water conservation program; establishing a state toll road authority; increasing the pay of state employees $180 per year; toning down the auto safety inspection law; providing three-day jail sentences for driving while intoxicated; and taking steps to study and deal with alcoholism.

The chief executive also thought favorably of these proposed constitutional amendments, to be voted on by the people in November next year:

Permitting Texans in the armed services to vote; authorizing use of a surplus in the Confederate Pension fund for state buildings; boosting the ceiling on state welfare expenditures from $35 million to $42 million; and permitting women to serve on juries.

There were several of the governor's proposals that the legislature failed to put into effect, including:

Revising the election code; congressional and judicial redistricting; raising the money for road building; financing new buildings at Southwestern Medical School; at Dallas, the University of Texas cancer research hospital and dental school, the deaf school and the prison system; and providing public school teachers a salary raise.

Increasing the teachers' pay was the hottest and most controversial issue of the session.

Teachers asked for $600 per year additional salary — they got nothing, although a compromise had they accepted it, would have given them $306.

"It wasn't so much the money," the teachers' spokesmen complained. "It was the principle of the thing."

They said that administration leaders never considered any way of financing the pay increase except by hiking local property taxes.

School people also balked at the administration's insistence that state payments to school supervisors and counselors be eliminated.

A statement was issued by the Texas State Teachers Association to the effect that it "should not be and has not been in the position of being willing to cripple or sacrifice its school program for the conditional promise of a small salary increase when the principles involved were so far-reaching."

The association said it would continue its fight for salary raises at the next session and pointed out that a special session could be called to deal specifically with this problem.

In addition to the proposed constitutional amendments listed above, these additional ones were passed by the Legislature and will be submitted to the people:

Increasing the pay of elected state officials, including members of the Legislature; giving precinct county, and district officials four year terms instead of two-year terms; permitting teacher retirement system and state employee retirement system credits to be transferred; forbidding the state to assume any debt on bonds issued to build toll roads; allowing state and local government workers to go under the federal social security plan; and authorizing counties under 10,000 population to keep separate tax assessor-collectors by local option.

Some of these issues are controversial — you'll be hearing more about them as election time approaches.

As the session ended, Governor Shivers' desk piled up with bills passed and sent to him for his signature. He signed 25 of them in one day. These included provisions to:

Permit courts to order compulsory hospitalization of those who use narcotics except under a doctor's order.

Give the University of Texas regents power to lease land on the Southwestern Medical School campus to private research agencies.

Hike from $150 to $200 per month the Confederate pension of Walter W. Williams and his wife who live near Franklin. Williams is one of the only two Confederate veterans living in Texas.

Set aside $30,000 to prosecute the Rio Grande water fuss with New Mexico.

Give state and local government workers 15 days annual military leave for National Guard or reserve training without loss of vacation time or salary. Members of the Legislature are excepted.

If Governor Shivers and Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey should both leave the state at the same time, the acting governor will be Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton.

Phillips was elected president pro tempore ad interim of the Senate. That means he is the presiding officer of the Senate for the time between sessions.

The president pro tem is second in line, behind the lieutenant governor, to fill the governor's shoes in his absence.

Phillips holds the modern filibustering record. Two years ago he spoke for 17 hours and 55 minutes against a bill that would have abolished the state hospital board.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd wants to oust from Texas the "communist-dominated" International Fur and Leather Workers Union of the U. S. and Canada.

Shepperd asked for an injunction against the union and its agent Emanuel Coutlakis, on the grounds that they had not registered with the Texas secretary of state.

Coutlakis, the attorney general said, has been attempting to organize the workers of a tanning company of San Antonio.

In line with Shepperd's request, District Judge Charles O. Betts issued a temporary restraining order.

SHORT SNORTS: Frank D. Quinn, chairman of the state parks board said in a speech here that the tourist business can be the state's biggest — but it is handicapped by a rule against state advertising. . . . Want a job? The Texas Highway Patrol is looking for new recruits. . . . Draft quota for Texas in July is 1,268 men, smallest since September. . . . You can have a television set in your car. . . . A bill preventing same was found to be unconstitutional.
