homefolk some idea of the romantic life, as it is in Gay Paree. Poetry lovers have not been forgotten, either, for Dr. Mortimer Callahan Green, has been engaged to expound some of his gems of rhyme.

Just to let the 106 readers of this column know that we are enjoying being in our home as much as we enjoyed the 6,000 mile trip to the northeastern part of U. S. It certainly was a grand homecoming for us one week ago. As we neared the Texas Panhandle we began to see water in the bar ditches and field terraces and that obtained all the way into Memphis.

Cyclones Rap White Deer In Conference Tilt 25-0

Good teamwork on both offense and defense earned the Memphis Cyclones a 25-0 victory over the White Deer Bucks Friday night in a game played in mud at White Deer. Four other Memphis touchdowns were called back because of penalties.

It was the Cyclones' third straight District IA-1 triumph, with three more conference tilts to be played, Memphis players now have a season record of five wins against two defeats.

The Cyclones meet the Clarendon Broncos, in a district contest at Clarendon Friday night. The game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

In last Friday night's game, Duke Frisbie, Jimmie Davis and Jim Walker, halfbacks, Clyde Tamplen, fullback, and Hayes Hammonds, guard, were among Cyclones who started offensively.

Outstanding defensive players for Memphis included Tamplen and Hammonds, Jack Moutgomery, end, and Kenneth Cheek, guard.

The contest got underway, with the Cyclones kicking off to White Deer. The White Deer player who took the kick, fumbled when Tamplen hit him and Tamplen covered on the White Deer 30.

After Memphis made a first down, the Cyclones were penalized to the Bucks' 35.

On the next play, good blocking broke Frisbie loose on a right end sweep for the Cyclones' first tally. Jackie Boone, guard, made the key block when he knocked a White Deer player out of the way, as he was reaching for Frisbie.

Later in the same quarter, Frisbie went around left end, with Leon Rogers, guard, leading the blocking, and crossed the Bucks' goal line. However, the play was nullified when Memphis was penalized five yards for backfield in motion. A 15-yard penalty followed and Memphis punted.

In the second quarter, the Cyclones put on a concentrated drive to the White Deer' 15, with Walker, Frisbie and Tamplen alternately packing the ball around the ends. Frisbie slipped down on the 15 but the Bucks were penalized to their one-yard line for unnecessary roughness. Memphis failed to go over the first two downs but on the third, Tamplen powered over, to make the score 12-0.

The Cyclones kicked off to White Deer. Memphis recovered a White Deer fumble and Frisbie scored around left end, aided by some fine blocking by the entire team. The run covered about 40 yards.

The Bucks took the kickoff but Carrol Gardenhire, Cyclone end, intercepted a pass and went about 40 yards to score. Rogers threw a block on a White Deer player to clear the way for him. Frisbie kicked the extra point, to make it a 25-0 contest.

Coach George Childress ran in frequent substitutions in the third and fourth quarters in order to give his reserves experience. The Cyclones crossed White Deer's goal line three times but penalties voided the tallies.

The Cyclones were penalized 230 yards. Infractions included illegal use of the hands, offsidess, and excessive time out or delaying the game.

New Hunting Law On Fire Hazards

AUSTIN—Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said the recent hunting season delay in Colorado from woods fire danger might serve as a reminder to Texans of the purpose of a new state law.

This law which was passed by the last Legislature authorizes closing of hunting seasons where the fire hazards is considered critical.

In Colorado the Game and Fish Commission, empowered in that state to administer this law, postponed opening of the big game hunting season because the wooded areas were too dry.

Many Texans were affected by the Colorado decree since they had planned vacations to conform to the October 15 opener on the western slope and the October 20 opener in eastern Colorado. The seasons were postponed to October 24 and November 9.

Dodgen said effects of the drought lingers in many Texas areas but he expressed the hope that "a proper amount of precaution by hunters will preclude any hunting season postponements."

Good Health And Appearance Based On Good Posture

AUSTIN—Guilty of pretzel posture? Does your body profile look like the bent part of a capital "D"?

Then harken to the words of State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox as he explains that good health and appearance have their starting point in good posture.

Here's how you, too, can obtain the stance of a Grecian god or goddess as the case may be:

Hold your head high and pull your chin in until your eye level is parallel to the ground. Pull your shoulders back and make the shoulder blades form as near a flat surface as possible. Raise your chest up and push it forward until the buttons strain. Draw your abdomen up and in, and when you breathe make sure it's your chest that rises and falls rather than the abdomen. Flatten the lower part of your back, tucking the buttocks as close under the hips as possible. Tip your back down. Hold your knees straight but not stiff. Put your feet parallel, with the weight evenly balanced.

A good posture can be had without stiffness or strain, so don't exaggerate.

Some people feel it is more comfortable to walk, stand, or sit in a slouchy position, dropped over like a wilted weed. In your vail attempt for more effort in daily activity, don't forget that the true secret of good posture is to keep the body well balanced throughout the day.

The old saying has it that "there's a place for everything," and Dr. Cox says that goes for the human body. Each organ has a specific space in which its function is performed. The vital organs — heart, lungs, abdomen, etc. — tend to be cramped when the body is slumped over.

Cramped lungs cannot deliver a full supply of oxygen; circulation is slowed up when the heart is cramped; and a cramped stomach impairs digestion.

"Remember," the doctor cautions, "true comfort and true relaxation comes with good posture."

In street parlance that means "straighten up, friend, you'll feel better."

Hunting Violations Listed In Report

AUSTIN—F. M. Cowsert, director of law enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission cited some items in the monthly arrest report "for the benefit of hunters when the main seasons open shortly."

One involved hunting from an automobile. The report gave a total of twenty-five prosecutions for this offense.

Another involved use of unplugged shotguns. Sixteen cases of this nature were shown in the report.

Forty-six persons were charged with shooting mourning doves out of season. Some of them dated back to the white-winged season and others to the South Zone mourning dove season which opened later than the North Zone.

Total cases for the month was 313 with $8,075.27 in fines and court costs compared to 389 cases and $10,188.90 for the same month in 1952.

Delphians Study Background For Christian Ethics

"Each person should have a code of ethics for living his life," said Mrs. C. D. Morris, when introducing the program "Background for Christian Ethics" at the Delphian Club meeting Tuesday, October 20, in the home of Mrs. J. W. Stokes.

Mrs. W. C. Dickey, in discussing "What Is Religion Doing To Our Conscience?" said, "If we are going to have a conscience we can trust, religion must play an important part. If our religion is to play an important part, we must follow Christ in thought and action; not just in emotion. This will help us to keep our conscience sensitive to that which is truly right." She brought out that if a man is to make a living by the use of his arms, he trains the muscles of his arms; if he is to make a living by using his voice, he exercises his lungs. Consequently, a man takes exercises which suit his needs, and uses it as the pulse of reason. Peace of conscience is not an accident. It is a very definite attainment.

"Then, what are these qualities of Christian Religion doing to our conscience?" asked Mrs. Dickey. "Surely, the answer of every Christian heart is that they sharpen our sense of moral goodness and deepen our obligation to do that which is good. Religion, then, is keeping our conscience alert to every passing hour; it is keeping our conscience clear that we may see and hear the will of God."

Mrs. Dickey added the quotation by George Washington, "Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience."

Mrs. W. C. Davis in her discussion of Presuppositions of Christian Ethics asked, "Why do Christians do more than others?" The answer being "because more is done for them than is done for others." Another reason why Christians do more than others is because they stand in a nearer relation to God than do others. She added, "As man was born to serve God, he had better never have been born than to refuse Him that service." Christians should do more than others because "Ye are the light of the world. Let your light so shine among men, that they may see your good works."

The Christian does more than others because he expects more than others. There is no gaining of admittance into the Kingdom of Heaven without passing through the straight gate of purity.

Mrs. Davis summed up twenty actions of good Christians by quoting from the Bible: "If ye be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God."

"If we wish to do more than others" she added, "we must deny ourselves more, pray more, resolve more, believe more and know more than others. It can only be done by gracious revelation of God to your mental powers."

After a brief social hour, the president, Mrs. Earl Hill adjourned the meeting by announcing the next meeting November 3 at the High School Building with Miss Eudora Harkins as guest speaker. The film, "The Traitor Within" will be shown also. Mrs. W. C. Davis will be hostess.

DISEASE DOLLAR LOSSES
An uncontrolled livestock disease can be just as destructive as an uncontrolled forest fire. Livestock diseases have been smoldering since long before the domestication of the animal. In these days of concentrated meat animal production, the threat of livestock disease grows more alarming—taking a big bite out of the growers' profits. The extent of this problem can be illustrated by a partial list of a few of the better known livestock diseases and their corresponding dollar loss.

Brucellosis, A disease which affects both animal and man, costs the industry in excess of $86 million annually. Mastitis presents an estimated yearly bill of $100 million and Hog Cholera costs livestock agriculture approximately $50 million. Not even conservative dollar loss estimates have been attempted with such diseases as Anthrax, Foot and Mouth, Pneumonia, Shipping Fever, Swine Erysipelas, X-Disease, Black Leg, Atrophic Rhinitis, Anaplasmosis and Ketosis, to name a few. If we could determine it accurately, the loss would be staggering. One agriculturist has hazarded a guess. Dr. L. M. Hutchings, of Purdue University, said, "Based on animal population figures and average values per head, animal agriculture failed to realize a potential gross income of $2,791,000,000 in 1951 as a result of death losses alone."

These figures point up the value of strict sanitation measures on the farm. Good sanitation is the first step in breaking the disease chain. Today's antibiotics, potent drugs, vaccines and improved feed supplements have accomplished a great deal. However, they have a steep up-hill battle if they are not used in conjunction with a sound farm sanitation program. A sound disease-presentive program should not be regarded as an expensive burden. Rather, it is an investment like that of a fence for livestock. This sanitary fence is a necessity for keeping diseases out and livestock in good health.

The Texas Department of Agriculture at Austin has prepared a chart of recommended disinfectants for combatting the prevalent diseases which affect livestock. A copy will be mailed upon request.

Anxious Producers Resume Cotton Harvest In Area

Cotton producers of this area, uncertain as to what the weather may do, were taking quick advantage of the return of the sun this week to resume the harvest of their crops. Some were using field hands, while others were preparing to use machines as soon as conditions will permit. The need for pullers remains serious, even though a large amount of cotton was destroyed or wasted by rain and hail a couple of weeks ago, and by rain which fell off and on through last Sunday.

County Agent W. B. Hooser said this morning that the principal reason for this, in his opinion, is that pullers who would normally have moved into this section, went elsewhere after the recent unsettled weather. Hooser said he does not think too many pullers have left here. Reports indicate that cotton is making much poorer turnouts, and grades and staples are lower than before the rains.

It still is a question as to how much of the cotton in the hail districts will be salvaged. Much of the fleece is buried in the ground and none of this probably will be gathered. Most of the remaining cotton is strung all over stalks. Whether this will be harvested—and if so, how much it will amount to—remains to be seen. Last Thursday and Thursday night, another 1.35 inches of rain was recorded here by Weatherman John McMicken, Sunday, .23

PHYSICAL THERAPY CAN IMPROVE MANY KINDS OF ACHES AND PAINS

Probably long before primitive man learned to make fire, he had discovered that some form of heat—such as the sunshine or a natural hot spring—eased muscles that had become stiff and sore from dwelling in a cold, moist cave. Heat and some of the other agents (such as cold, massage, and electricity) included in the specialty known as physical medicine are almost as old as man himself, but in recent years a great deal more has been learned about them. Special equipment for giving physical therapy has been developed, some of it elaborate and requiring an operator who has special training in its use, for example, a diathermy machine for applying heat to the inner organs of the body.

The doctor who specializes in physical medicine is known as a "physiatrist" (fiz-e-at-rist). A of an inch fell. Three miles southeast of here, the total Sunday was .45 of an inch, and reports were that Estelline and the Hulver-Parnell areas had even heavier downpours.

October's rainfall has totaled 5.95 inches here, all except .20 of this having fallen since the middle of the month. The .20 was recorded Saturday, Oct. 3. Total for the year here is 20.10 inches. Mercury extremes the past week were as follows: last Thursday 54-66 degrees; Friday 52-57; Saturday 51-64; Sunday 51-68; Monday 47-57; Tuesday 36-68; Wednesday 36-72. The low this morning was 46 degrees.

person skilled in giving this kind of treatment is a physical therapist. The therapist does not work alone but under the direction of a doctor. Not only physiatrists but other doctors may and do prescribe physical therapy. Physical therapy may relieve pain, promote early motion of the affected part of the body, prevent deformity, and reduce the recovery period, whether the patient has a disease like arthritis or an injury such as a broken bone. In arthritis, physical medicine was being used in combination with drugs with good results even before the days of ACTH and cortisone. Arthritis does not involve just one joint or one area of the body, it is a general disease. Treatment includes attention to a well balanced program of rest and exercise, diet, and other accepted methods of treatment.

Physical therapy for a broken bone can be started even before the bone is set; sometimes cold is used to keep swelling down and reduce pain. Perhaps the cast is split down one side and "hinged" so that the limb can be removed carefully and treated with heat and gentle massage. Later, when healing is sufficient, exercises may be given under the doctor's direction. For the treatment of arthritis and broken bones, as well as for other conditions, many different types of physical treatment are available. Examples are the following: (1) Heat: hot water bottle, diathermy machine. (2) Cold: ice bag, cold water bath. (3) Light: sunbathing, infra-red lamp. (4) Electricity: diathermy

Everyone Needs Certified Copy Of Birth Certificate

COLLEGE STATION—Do you have your birth certificate? Have you a certified copy in a safe place? Does it give accurate information as to sex, date of birth, and name of parents? If yours is in acceptable form how about those of your children? Many schools require a copy of the birth certificate for enrollment. Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests you check to see if your child's birth certificate is recorded correctly. Although everyone recognizes the importance of birth certificates, the specialist says a third of the nation's citizens have none. A person who can not produce a certificate or its legally acceptable equivalent, is stateless, ageless and often jobless as far as government and many business firms are concerned. In this day of widespread military service, wide travel and international youth exchange programs, a certificate is not only a convenience but a vital necessity and older people need proof of citizenship for payment of pensions, social security. This makes a certificate a most valuable of paper. Birth registration is standardized and compulsory in the United States. The records become permanent and accessible to those who may be interested. However, now errors occur which cause difficulties later. Parents are cautioned against those making sure the doctor names correctly and fill pertinent facts, including date of birth of the child. wise, too, for parents to file a certified copy of the certificate with other personal documents and papers. If you have no birth certificate write the county clerk in the city where you were born, health officer or state registrar of vital statistics for a copy. If none is registered, one of the best proofs is executed, notarized and from relatives and clergy who will swear to the date and your parent's names. A widely used proof is the general Census rolls for your record in the first census were born. Check your family files that every member has an one certified copy of this certificate.

A council of the American Medical Association offers a service in the appraisal of highly technical physical therapy equipment, and if a manufacturer wishes, he may submit a new apparatus for review. A good rating is an assurance of safety and efficiency. Frequently objects found around the house can be used to carry out physical therapy, for example, riding a bicycle may be suggested as a substitute for working the bicycle jigsaw found in an occupational therapy workshop.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

The subject of the budget received much discussion in the past several years. The budget has been lead to the farmers were re-estimated deficit financing in a large increase of the public policy of this belief is the actual facts are you have a box of headache powder near by. For the sake of brevity I will quote from two budget messages to the Congress. First, in the budget message from the President for the fiscal year 1951, the President stated:

"In the fiscal year 1951, operating subsidies alone are estimated to accrue in the amount of $63 millions, about five times the average annual level before the war."

Secondly, two years later in the budget message for 1953, the President stated:

"The Federal Maritime Board now has under review the subsidy determinations for postwar years and is developing improved procedures for determining such subsidy rates in the future. As these determinations are brought up to date, operating subsidy expenditures will reflect substantial retroactive payments for past years, as well as a more complete coverage of current obligations. Expenditures for this program are estimated at 60 million dollars for the fiscal year 1952 and 75 million dollars for 1953."

In the Post Office Department, it is interesting to notice that the deficit in 2nd Class mail has continuously increased. Beginning with the year 1946 we find a deficit of $138 million which increased each year and in 1951 was $188 million $567 thousand. This simply means that the deficit on 2nd Class mail in 6 years was as much as the over-all cost of the farm price support program for a period of 18 years.

There are many, many other subsidies. Interesting don't you think?

Forgery Suspects Are Being Held In Wilbarger County

Three persons were being held in the Wilbarger County jail at Vernon this week in connection with forgery offenses in Memphis, Vernon and Wichita Falls, according to Sheriff E. S. Morrison.

The group has made statements, admitting an offense, committed here, in which a check for less than $20 was given a local firm.

Held are: Vendell Winegart, Newt Michal and A. J. Hawkins, all of Amarillo. All were picked up last week at Seymour but had rented a house at Vernon a few days earlier.

According to the story told of officers, the woman wrote the check, Hawkins forged a Hall County man's name on it, and Michal passed it on to the merchant here.

Michal has been charged with passing a forged instrument and the others have been charged as accomplices, Morrison said.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dickey of Amarillo visited over the weekend in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dickey at Lakeview.

NOW'S THE TIME TO GET READY FOR WINTER, FARM EXPERT SAYS

COLLEGE STATION — The first cool snap of the season brings to mind maintenance and repair jobs that accumulate around the farmstead during the year. And, with winter knocking on the door W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, says these "stacked-up" chores should get attention within the next few weeks while the weather is favorable.

In winterizing the farm home the roof is a good place to begin, Allen says. Missing shingles should be replaced, loose shingles pushed back into place and rained and split shingles underlaid with tin or sheet metal.

Limbs that overhang and drag roofs should be removed. Trees that shade a portion of the roof cause dampness to prevent and deterioration of wooden shingles to occur more rapidly. Nails in metal roofs that become loosened during the summer should be re-nailed.

Check the drainage around all farm buildings, Allen says. Water that stands under structures can cause plenty of trouble, he points out. With hard winter freezes foundations or piers may shift under the force of ice.

Gutters and downspouts are good investments. Faster rotting of siding and framing member will take place if water is allowed to drip from roofs onto the sides of buildings, Allen points out. Gutters and downspouts that are cleared of dirt, trash, leaves and other debris will prevent this condition, he adds.

If the septic tank hasn't been cleaned lately, better look into that, too, for cleaning a tank is a disagreeable job at any time, but in freezing weather, it's double tough.

Another step in winterizing the farm home should be to get floor furnaces, heaters and fireplaces in top operating condition. Make sure there are no gas leaks and that all burners are adjusted properly to prevent the escaping of gas fumes.

Insulation adds comfort to any home, Allen says, not only in winter but in summer as well. If it's impractical to insulate the entire house, insulate the attic, the specialist suggests. About 25 per cent of the heat loss through a house goes through the roof. Loose fill or insulated bats in the attic makes the home cooler in summer and warmer in winter with less heating.

Also, to put a stop to the infiltration of cold air, install weather

Board of Development, who was one of the group appearing before the Commission, said the Commissioners were very receptive and courteous.

Once the gap, west of here, is finished, the amount of highway traffic is likely to jump, and be of great economic benefit to this area.

Besides Shelton and Farmer, those meeting with the Highway Commission, were Lyon and Jack Schwartz, manager of the Tulla Chamber of Commerce.

A delegation from Dimmitt was delayed by rain and failed to arrive at Austin in time for the meeting.

Carlos D. Speck To Talk At Local Church Of Christ

Carlos D. Speck, superintendent of Sunny Glen Home for children, will make a report on the home, its activities and its future program, at a meeting at the Church of Christ here, Friday night. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Speck was minister of the Church of Christ in Memphis about six years ago.

The Sunny Glen Home is located at San Benito, Tex., where it was moved from Jan. Juan, Tex., two years ago. It is under the supervision of the San Benito Church of Christ and is supported principally by Churches of Christ in Texas and Oklahoma.

Attendance Near Record At Recent Dallas State Fair

The State Fair of Texas closed its outstandingly successful 1953 exposition with a total attendance of 2,382,712 during the 16-day run of the fair, only 4,428 short of the alltime record at last year.

Rain over the state and threatening skies over Dallas for the last five days of the fair held down attendance during the final few days, and a heavy downpour on the last Sunday evening kept the fair from setting a new record.

However, said General Manager James H. Stewart, Texas needed the rain more than the state fair needed to break another attendance record.

The big Cotton Bowl Religious Festival was moved to the shelter of the Livestock Pavilion and went off as scheduled.

In spite of the rain, a big closing day crowd of 154,396 showed up.

"It's been an absolutely wonderful fair in almost every respect," Stewart said. "We had a tremendous attendance by any standard, and firmly re-established the fair's position as the nation's largest annual exposition."

About 78,500 people paid out more than $250,000 to see 24 performances of the Ethel Merman Show, Ice Cycles of 1954 was seen by 114,000 and the Aut Swenson Thrillride by 49,000. The unusual and beautiful Dancing Waters was admired by over 111,000 visitors and the show was signed up for both the 1954 and the 1955 state fairs.

The 1953 fair's biggest day was Saturday, Oct. 17, when attendance totaled 282,785, second biggest single day in the fair's history. The total was swelled by 97,500 Four-H, Future Farmer and Future Homemaker youngsters who made up the biggest Rural Youth Day crowd the exposition has ever had.

Stewart announced that dates of the 1954 state fair will be Oct. 9 thru 24. The Texas-Oklahoma football game again will be an opening day feature.

TROUBLE FOR SPEEDERS

Speeders of the future may be in for a peck of trouble, if a recent report out of Oklahoma City is any indication.

It seems that Oklahoma City police are using a hidden radar device which clocks the speeds of motorists as they pass. Since the machine is portable, drivers never know when they may break the electric-eye beam of the radar apparatus and be given a ticket.

The radar "traffic cop" cost only $643 but has been "worth a million bucks," for its psychological effect in keeping traffic moving within legal speed limits, according to Capt. John McManus and Sgt. Wayne Lawson of the Oklahoma City police department.

Sergeant Lawson says radar has reduced traffic fatalities, reduced traffic accidents, increased court revenues from speeders more than enough to pay for the machine, and the number of moving traffic violation arrests per motorcycle officer from 75.6 to 101.3 per month.

Lawson said the psychological effect of street signs, warning motorists of the radar speed check, is priceless.

"When they see the speeding signs with the word radar, they hit the brakes. It never happened before."

Motorists don't argue with radar, either, according to Lawson.

"They sometimes say the police officer lied in giving them a ticket. But when they see radar used they have no argument for the court, but pay off."

Drivers probably feel too frustrated to argue, after being "picked up" by a traffic cop to whom they can't talk back.

CONSTITUTIONAL IMMUNITY

Will the government of the United States someday be undermined and destroyed because of its Constitution—a Constitution which was established to safeguard and perpetuate this government?

Perhaps not but one cannot help wondering if something isn't wrong when certain persons and groups use the Constitution to keep from revealing whether they are enemies or would-be enemies of this nation.

We have in mind communists, fellow travelers, and other persons who because of their actions, utterances and associates, are believed to be communists.

People like these have hidden behind the Constitution many times in the past, and no doubt will continue to in the future, to avoid telling where they stand in relation to the government and the people of the United States, and/or to conceal subversive activities.

Something should be done—and quickly — to eliminate this situation, so that we may know as much as possible what these people believe, what their intentions are, and who are behind them.

At present, when such persons find themselves in danger of being exposed on the witness stand, they demand Constitutional immunity, including freedom of speech and the privilege of not testifying against themselves.

We have little or no knowledge of Constitutional law, so we do not know whether this protection can be taken away from enemies of this nation, without endangering the rights of good citizens.

However, if the constitution can be changed to give our government and our people better protection from our enemies, now and in the future, this should be done.

There is no question that such enemies would destroy our way of life without a qualm, if they could.

But there is no reason why we should let them, if we can prevent it.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Press Paragraphs—

IT'S UP TO YOU

"Life is too short to be little," Disraeli once said. We permit ourselves to be upset by little incidents not worth the time and energy we give to them. What if someone is ungrateful, or another has spoken unfairly of us; what if we have not received an expected reward? Shall we let such happenings spoil our day or any part of it?

And life is too short to "beat around the bush." Why try so hard to be clever, overcautious, deceitful, when eventually the truth must be out? Might it not be better to spread our cards on the table for all to see? Honesty and sincerity have nothing to fear or conceal. There may be times for little white lies, but rarely will any cause be better served by withholding or distorting the facts.

It's what you think and what you do that makes you what you are. Your thoughts and deeds can hold you down or hitch you to a star. —Hamlin Herald

BENSON IN HOT WATER

Secretary of Agriculture Benson is in hot water. As a matter of fact he has been in hot water ever since he was selected to head the farmers of the nation. Benson claims that he was given a mandate from the Democrats to carry out certain provisions. He claims that the greatest decline in farm prices came during the Truman administration.

His latest move is to reorganize PMA, and this is meeting with bitter opposition from farmers as well as their friends throughout the nation.

We don't know who is right, but we have a sneaking idea that although Benson may be right in his demand for reorganization that he is going to wreck the political chances of President Eisenhower if he continues his way.

We hold no brief for either Benson or his policies, but look with alarm upon the decline in farm prices.

Whether the Benson statement is correct in saying that the decline in farm prices may be laid to the Truman policy is just another way of defeating the President when the Democratic orators get through with him.

The only way for Eisenhower to win a majority of Congress in 1954, as we see it, is for quick action on his part which will restore farm prices to the point where farmers may make a profit rather than accept a continued loss on their products.

WIND BLOWS BOX CARS UP ON TRACK CAUSING WRECK AT ESTELLINE—A strong north wind Sunday evening blew a string of 10 box cars from a siding on to the main line at Estelline, where they were struck by southbound passenger train No. 8, partially derailing the passenger locomotive and smashing two box cars.

Passengers were shaken up slightly but none was injured.

The cars moved along the track for some 1,200 yards, stopping just beyond a sharp curve, south of the depot.

Engineer Caldwell said that the curve prevented his seeing the box cars until too late to avoid a collision.

A more serious accident probably was averted because the train was ahead of time and running at slow speed.

The derail safety device at the end of the switch was smashed when struck by the cars, and failed to work.

The Estelline Bear Cubs and Peperettes, wearing school colors of Kelly green and white, formed a circle about the group.

Jerry Jordan presented the queen with an arm bouquet of white mums tied with green satin ribbon. Alvis Bryant placed the helmet on her head and proclaimed her to be football queen of 1953. The assembled group gave appropriate yells and concluded with "Let Me Call you Sweetheart" and the Estelline school song.

FREEDOM OF PRESS
IMPORTANT TO ALL
National Newspaper Week, recently concluded, served to focus public attention upon the value of a free and uncensored press. Perhaps it would be well to stop for a moment and consider the fact that freedom of the press is no accident in this country.

Instead, it stems from a specific guarantee in the U. S. Constitution. The right of freedom of the press is secured by the first amendment to the Federal Constitution, which says, "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of . . . the press." The Constitutions of the several states likewise contain similar guarantees.

Why did the farmers of New England, the planters of the South and the small storekeepers of Philadelphia, New York, and Boston insist some 160 years ago that the original Constitution be amended so that the people would be specifically guaranteed freedom of the press?

It was because the founders of our country had an abiding faith that enlightened citizens could be entrusted with the job of governing themselves. If they could have an unfettered opportunity to read the history and to learn the lessons of the past, to understand the never-ending clash of ideas, to read about what forces are alive in the world, to check on their government as to its activities, its successes, its failures and its abuses, and to write and speak unimpeded — then they could not be made slaves.

The framers of the Constitution believed that freedom of the press would aid in enlightening the people. The competition of ideas would point out the choices of the people. With this freedom, they could decide their own problems better, with more resulting happiness to themselves, their families and their communities. The men who wrote the Constitution knew intimately of those countries across the seas whose governments controlled thought, censored information and made political economic and religious decisions for their subjects. They believed in the principle of competition and the value of permitting every citizen to develop himself to the limits of his abilities, and they insisted that this right of freedom of the press be recognized by the fundamental law of the land.

Of course, all rights entail correlative obligations and duties.

Freedom of the press is not unlimited. It does not permit license, libel, violation of the law nor interference with the orderly running of the government.

With but a few insignificant exceptions, the press of the free world has admirably justified the faith of the philosophy of the framers of the Constitution. From the Argentine northward through the Western Hemisphere, and in the free countries of the Old World, the "fourth estate" has fearlessly accepted its responsibility and has aided in preserving freedom and in checking tyranny and dictatorship.

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Our Sincere Congratulations

This institution is glad to say, "Congratulations" to N. W. Durham and his staff as they hold their Formal Opening here Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A visit to this new drug store will show that careful planning has been made throughout the building.

As we look back upon many years of pleasant business relations with this firm and its owner, we join other friends in extending our best wishes to Durham's Prescription Pharmacy. A modern drug store performs a worthwhile service to any community, and the public will see that kind of a store when they inspect the firm which is back in business this week.

Durham's Pharmacy Formal Opening Starts Today And Closes Saturday

The first of four Memphis business firms which were burned out by a disastrous fire last June, has moved back to its old location at 105 South Sixth Street on the west side of the square, and will hold a formal opening in its new and ultra-modern quarters today through Saturday.

The firm is Durham's Prescription Pharmacy, owned and operated by N. W. Durham.

Since the blaze, the company has been temporarily located at 615 Main Street, next to The Democrat.

The store is new throughout. This includes the interior, the fixtures, the merchandise, and the drugs and drug sundries.

As in the past, the firm will feature Dorothy Gray and Lenthic cosmetics, Sheaffer's fountain pens, Whitman's and Elmer's candies, and Greenbelt ice cream, Durham said.

Prompt and careful prescription service is assured, since a registered pharmacist is on duty at all times. Durham, himself, is a registered pharmacist, and so is Keener Hudson, who is associated with him.

An up-to-date soda fountain will provide soft drinks, sandwiches and confections.

Shopping is easy at the new store, with most merchandise departmentalized. Big easy-to-read signs above shelves make it even easier to locate items.

Durham, known to a wide collection of friends in this area and elsewhere as "Bull," was born at Lakeview.

He graduated from Lakeview High School and began his drug store career there. In 1928, he came to Memphis and went to work in a drug store. In 1934, the year after his graduation from a pharmacy school, he purchased an interest in the firm where he was employed. Six years later, he became sole owner of the company.

Durham has been active in civic, fraternal and political affairs here, in the Panhandle and in the state.

He has participated in many phases of Masonic work, has been a leader in the Lions Club, and has given much time to humanitarian organizations, such as the American Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, the Society for Crippled Children, and the Cancer Society.

A native of Cleburne County, Ark., Mrs. Griffin was born Nov. 26, 1903. She was a member of the Free-will Baptist Church at Center Point, Okla.

Survivors include, her husband, Sollie W. Griffin of Memphis; three sons, T. J. and Virgil Griffin, of Memphis, and Earl Griffin of Dumas; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys Morton and Mrs. Johnnie Baker, of Farris, Okla.; Mrs. Dalphonee Hardy, McAlester, Okla.; and Mrs. Birtie Endsley, of Cleburne County, Ark.; a half-sister, Clara Markham, Cleburne County; and three brothers, Voyd Cannon, Dumas, Loyd Cannon, Farris, and Omer Cannon, Atoka, Okla.

cities and towns have granted the asked for raises.

The gas company manager declared that residential and commercial rates charged by Lone Star generally have not been increased within the past 25 years.

The requested new rate is comparable with the standard rates in effect throughout the Lone Star system and will be applicable to all cities and towns in this area, including Childress, Chillicothe, Dodson, Electra, Quanah, Vernon, Wellington and Memphis, the release continued.

"Under the new rate," Bridges said, "over half of the increase per customer will go to various taxes, thus leaving less than two cents of the increase available to the company."

"The Lone Star Gas Company has taken a great deal of pride in the fact that we have been able to furnish a good, adequate and dependable fuel service to our customers at the lowest possible price conducive to good business and sufficient earnings. Our application for the rate revision here represented only economic conditions. We believe it highly conservative.

"The additional revenue is required to meet losses in net income due to increased taxes, costs of gas in the field, rising costs for gas exploration and development, wages and salaries, and numerous other items. We are confident that our customers as well as regulatory bodies understand the situation because all businesses—and individuals, too—have had to wrestle with the problem of rising costs."

The application for an increase in local gas rates was presented at the monthly meeting of the City Council, Tuesday night, Jan. 6 of this year. S. H. King, district manager for Lone Star, presented the petition.

Council members delayed action on the request in order to examine the matter thoroughly.
