Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY: Much pressure is on to force the Federal Government into action to help solve this problem. It is without question one of the number one domestic problems facing our nation today. Much work, and possibly some legislation, will come out of the next Congress concerning it. The Senate subcommittee headed by Senator Hendrickson is presently investigating the situation and has come up with some startling facts. Much space is being devoted daily in the Washington papers to individual cases and the overall problem. This has always been considered a local matter to be dealt with by local authorities, but it has obviously reached such sizable proportions that those who are charged with the responsibility of combating the menace feel that the Federal Government should step in either by grants in aid to the states or by direct legislation on the subject.

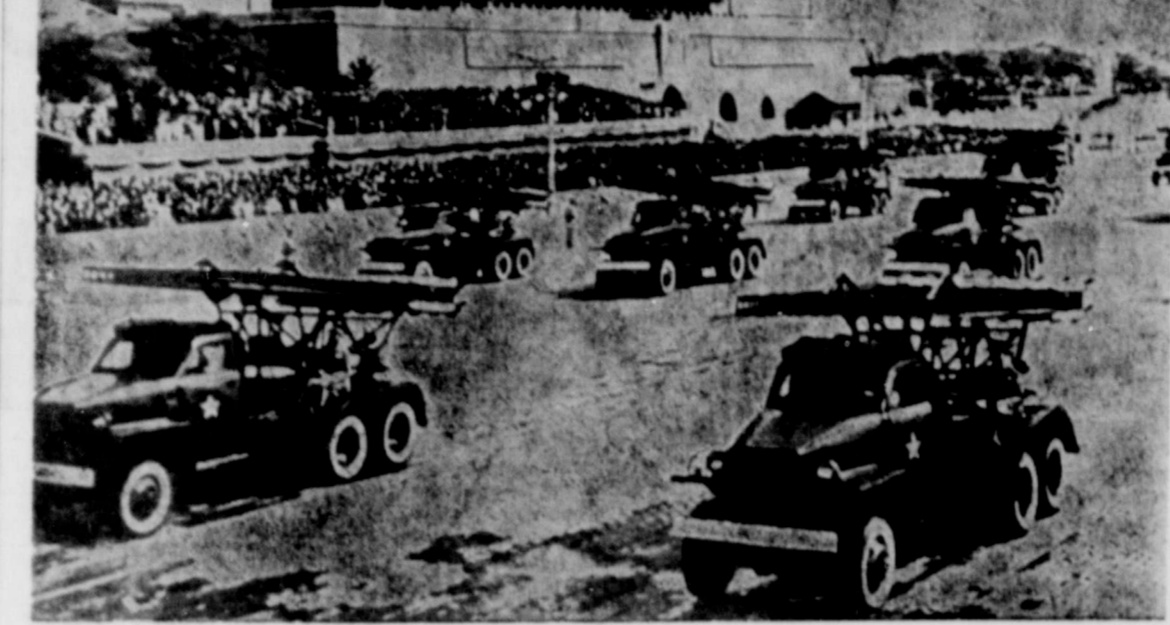

As for the Washington situation, much trouble seems to be brewing. In one recent disclosure it was allegedly developed that a protection racket was being worked in one of the schools. That is, a boy would be told that he must produce a certain amount of money by the time school was out in the afternoon, or he would be subjected to a physical beating. The allegations are that the racket was working very well because the boys were afraid to tell on the gang, and in some instances the parents of the victims were reluctant to report the situation for fear their children might be harmed. One boy did tell a policeman and was given a marked bill to deliver to the alleged extortionist. The boy was picked up by a policeman, and, as the story goes here, threw the bill out of the car while they were going to the station. In any event there was plenty of smoke and obviously much fire. Only a few days after the occurrence have related, a story developed that the boy who had told the policeman, together with three or four other young people, was accosted on a highway by three cars loaded with teen-age boys. The ones who were attacked tell the story that the attackers forced their car to the ditch and proceeded to do physical harm to the boy who had talked to the policeman, telling them that they were after the "Squealer." Needless to say, this has caused quite an uproar in Washington, and indignation meetings are being held in many quarters. This is only one of the cases that has come to the forefront in recent weeks.

The paper this morning carried a story to the effect that rivalry between different schools has ceased to be on the athletic field and has moved into the back alleys and other places where gangs from the schools fight it out with knives, sticks, rocks, or whatever they can get their hands on. It is also reported that in some of the cities the gangs are set up on a racial basis and wars are carried on between the different groups. This sort of thing must be stopped, and if it takes the federal government to put a stop to it, then the federal government should get into it and quick.

One local writer, talking about the great clamor that has arisen on the subject in recent weeks, quipped, "We have spent a lot of time trying to make these kids act like grown-ups, and then the minute they start doing it, we investigate them." His intention was, of course, to be humorous, but when we stop and think about the international situation and some of the other things that are going on in the world, he might have something.

WHAT PRICE EFFICIENCY? I have been doing a little digging around to find out how much it was costing the taxpayers for surveys and investigations of departments by private firms. Some recent information that has come to my office reflects that the Post Office Department has several of these investigations and surveys going on. These are the facts that were furnished me. On May 25 this year, the Alexander Grant Company, of Chicago, Illinois, was hired for a period of one year at a price of $15,000.00 a month, subject to some adjustment, under contract provisions, for more or less service. The purpose: "To investigate accounting and auditing systems of the PO Department; develop and recommend an approved accounting and auditing system for the department and the field service." Two contracts were entered into with Robert Heller and Associates, Inc. of Cleveland, "to investigate the organizational structure and operating policies of the PO Department; develop and recommend changes in organization and oper-rating policies and procedures." The first contract was for six months, dated from February 1st this year, and the price was $99,000.00. The second contract was on July 1st this year, for seven months, and the price was $188,700.00. Reed Research, Inc., of Washington, was hired for three months on August 3rd this year, at a price of $46,200.00 (estimated—a cost-plus contract). The purpose: "To assemble a refined operational laboratory model mail facing machine; to test and evaluate design elements." This company also has two other contracts under the same date, one for four months at a price of $57,200.00 (cost-plus). The purpose, to design final prototype. The other contract was for two months. The price was $28,200.00 (cost-plus). The purpose, complete fabrication for laboratory tests. The cost of those listed is $299,300.00. The department is presently negotiating another contract for a job classification and wage survey, but we could not obtain any more information on the matter at this particular time concerning this contract. We were advised that there are about ten independent consultants under contract for survey of various phases of the Post Office Department.

You have extra hours in every day—for your community, your children, yourself—when Reddy Kilowatt helps with the work. Just think for a moment how many tasks he lightens. He helps wash, dry and iron the clothes; cook the meals, do the dishes and cleaning.

He runs dozens of timesavers and conveniences—from deep freezer to bottle warmer—and does it all for pennies a day.

Reddy Kilowatt, your electric servant, is a friend indeed. He's always there when you need him and at a low, low cost. When you stop and think about it, you'll agree: Electric service is the biggest bargain in the family budget.

to make your bed as you should, you won't know how to take care of your own home properly when you get married." In the former, you are admitting that it's for you're asking, and you're not putting on an act that it's for your child. And basically your child will love and respect you far more for being honest than he will if he senses any sham.

Our teen-ager still wants love, and our love is still essential to him. But he is struggling to move, as he must, to a new place in the universe where we, his family are no longer the center. He must find a new center composed of himself and a partner, who together create a new family and a new world. He has a long trek to travel from early adolescence to reach this new world, and parents can help their teenagers do this more than they realize, as Dorothy Baruch points out in her book.

Dr. Baruch is the author of a number of other books for parents, among them NEW WAYS IN DISCIPLINE and ONE LITTLE BOY; several books for children; and many popular magazine articles and professional research reports.

Texas this year ranked 8th among the states in the number of eggs produced but 38th in price received by the producers. Only 64 percent as many chickens were produced in 1953 as during the 10 year period from 1942-51. Great opportunities for commercial producers in Texas seem to be in areas near the state's heavy population centers.

Three factors may hold the answer to how much time will be required to rebuild the depleted and drought started ranges of the state. Research done at the Sonora Experiment Station show the drain of past grazing, the kinds of grasses and the management practices used after rains finally broke the long dry spell to be of prime importance.

Mrs. O. I. Seale Is Guest Speaker At Atalantean Club

The Atalantean Club met Wednesday, November 18, at 3 p. m. in the home of Miss Imogene King. Mrs. Robert Sexauer gave the invocation and members responded to roll call with quotations from great poets. A short business session was held by the president, Mrs. Ed Monzingo. A former member, Mrs. O. I. Seale, was guest speaker for the day. She gave an informative talk on modern education. During the social hour, tasty refreshments were served to the following members: Meses, Earl Allen, J. H. Morris, C. W. Kinslow, Cecil McCollum, L. C. Martin, C. R. Webster, S. B. Palmeyer, Robert Sexauer, Ed Monzingo, Robert Spicer, J. H. Norman, Claud Johnson, Edwin Smith, N. A. Hightower, H. B. Estes, W. C. Dickey, J. A. Odom, T. M. Mrs. O. B. Quarles of Alvord, left for Amarillo Friday to visit a daughter, Mrs. William Hancock, and family. Mrs. Quarles had been here several weeks for a visit with a sister, Mrs. C. F. Stout, and family. John Paul Jones was once vice-admiral of the Russian fleet.

Mrs. Henry Hays Gives Book Review At Delphian Meet

"The Lady of Arlington" by Harnett Kane was reviewed by Mrs. Henry Hays when the Delphian Club met with Mrs. J. W. Stokes on Tuesday, November 17. The president, Mrs. Earl Hill, conducted the business session after the invocation by Mrs. Jack Boone. Mrs. A. Anisman gave a report on the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs convention at Austin to which she was a delegate. She told in particular of the luncheon at which Sue Miller received recognition for having written the winning essay. Mrs. Bill Miller and Mrs. Roy Guthrie also attended this luncheon. In introducing the program, Mrs. Hill brought out that the course of study "Building a Pyramid," could be made a reality through reading.

Mrs. Hays presented the review in a most interesting manner. She told of how Arlington was built by Washington Park Custis, the step-son of George Washington and how many of its furnishings came from the home of George and Martha Washington. "The Lady of Arlington" is a story of Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Mary Custis Lee, and the story of her husband as seen through her eyes. In a warm, sympathetic way, the author traces her life from childhood to marriage and then their lives together down through the years, through the terrible war between the states and on to Lee's presidency of Washington University, now known as Washington and Lee University. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Milam, served delicious refreshments carrying out the Thanksgiving motif to the following members: Meses, A. Anisman, Jack Boone, Henry Hays, Earl Hill, C. H. Prater, Sidney Baker, Hershel Potts, W. C. Dickey, R. H. Wherry, J. L. Barnes, J. S. McMurphy and Weldon McCreary.

Johnson Ranch Home Is Scene For Senior Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, who reside 17 miles west of Estelline, entertained the Estelline Seniors and several guests with a dinner at their ranch home on Saturday evening, November 14. The guests arrived at the ranch at 5 o'clock and enjoyed horseback riding and outdoor entertainment until dinner time. The delicious menu included barbecued weiners, ranch style beans, potato salad, pickles, onions, relish, hot rolls, cake, iced pops and coffee. Following the meal table games were enjoyed. Attending were Alvis Bryant, Sherman Cooper, Barbara Adams, Doris Chaudoin, Jimmy Davidson of Quitaque, Ted Fowler, Tommy Travis, Cozette Wasson, Jack Johnson, Lanny and Shirley Tucker, Mrs. E. F. Kennedy and Gerry, Mrs. John Chaudoin, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eddleman, Cherry and Gus Orcutt and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson and Jerry and Don.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McClure and son Billie, visited in Whiteface with their son and brother, Arvel McClure and family, over the weekend. Marilyn Unshaw, who is a student at Abilene Christian College, spent the weekend here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Dickson. Miss Virginia Estes visited in Matador last week with relatives. Miss Estes was enjoying a week's vacation. She is an employee of West Texas Utilities Co.

Tommy Wheeler, who is a student in Abilene Christian College, visited here Sunday evening with friends. Recent tests made on Central Texas dairy farms show that the costs of producing milk can be materially reduced, if legumes in a planned pasture program, are used. And where a legume and oat pasture followed a legume crop over more economical production was obtained. There is still time to plant winter legumes.

The weather holds a direct bearing on the future price outlook for beef cattle. With the exception of seasonal ups and downs, the markets should level off and prices become more stabilized unless drought conditions and other weather factors force marketings. People are drinking more milk. This upward trend started before World War II and is common in most of the important milk producing countries.

Spice Party Layers

Giving a new twist to her newest creation, Ann Pillsbury has given the old flavored spice cake a modern glamor role. Here's how she helps you prepare easily this tasty, different looking, party cake. Bake Spice Cake Mix as directed on package in two 8 or 9-inch layers. Cool. Whip 2 cups (1 pint) whipping cream with rotary beater until stiff. Blend in 1/4 cup sugar and 2 teaspoons vanilla with a few additional turns of the beater. Divide each cooled cake layer into two layers, way up side of cake layer. Gently pull thread back and forth in sawing motion to cut through cake. Spread top of each layer with one-fourth of the whipped cream. Then stack layers and decorate top with slivered pecans or other nuts if desired.

Holiday Breakfast Featured Tuesday In Weatherby Home

Mrs. T. D. Weatherby entertained members of the Needle Craft Club and several guests at a Thanksgiving breakfast on Tuesday morning at 8:30 a. m. Decorations in keeping with the holiday season were featured in the entertaining rooms. Four, some tables were laid with white linen cloths and centered with miniature turkeys. The menu consisted of orange juice, bacon and scrambled eggs, buttered toast, jelly and coffee. Mrs. Nat Bradley offered the invocation. Places were laid for three guests, Mrs. Jerry Wright, Mrs. Ernest Murphy and Mrs. Herschel Combs and the following members: Meses, Morgan Baker, Mary Lou Erwin, Nat Bradley, Henry Newman, Albert Gerlach, Robert Cummings, Henry Scott and hostess, Mrs. Weatherby.

Truth Seekers Class Meets With Mrs. A. Womack

Mrs. A. Womack, assisted by Mrs. Pearl Massey, entertained members of the Truth Seekers Sunday School Class on Thursday afternoon, November 12. The meeting was held in the Womack home and was the regular monthly social.

Mrs. C. E. Gowan, president, presided. The meeting opened with the class song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Mrs. A. B. Jones, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. W. I. Glosson brought the devotional using for the text Romans 5th Chapter. Mrs. Annu Dickson led in prayer and Mrs. Ella Johnson read a poem, "America."

Mrs. C. E. Hankins conducted the Bible lesson. The class sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." The meeting closed with the group repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Mrs. Henry McCanne was presented with a gift as she is leaving to spend the winter in Arizona. Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Jessie Baker, Mrs. C. Gerlach, Mrs. Anna H. Dickson, Mrs. J. W. Burks, Mrs. A. B. Jones, Mrs. W. I. Glosson, Mrs. Ella Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Gowan, Mrs. Henry McCanne, Mrs. C. E. Hankins, Mrs. Wm. Mrs. Sam Foxhall Entertains Members Of Baptist Class

Fall flowers in purple and gold and autumn leaves were combined to form attractive decorations for the party given on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Sam Foxhall for members of a newly organized class of the First Baptist Church.

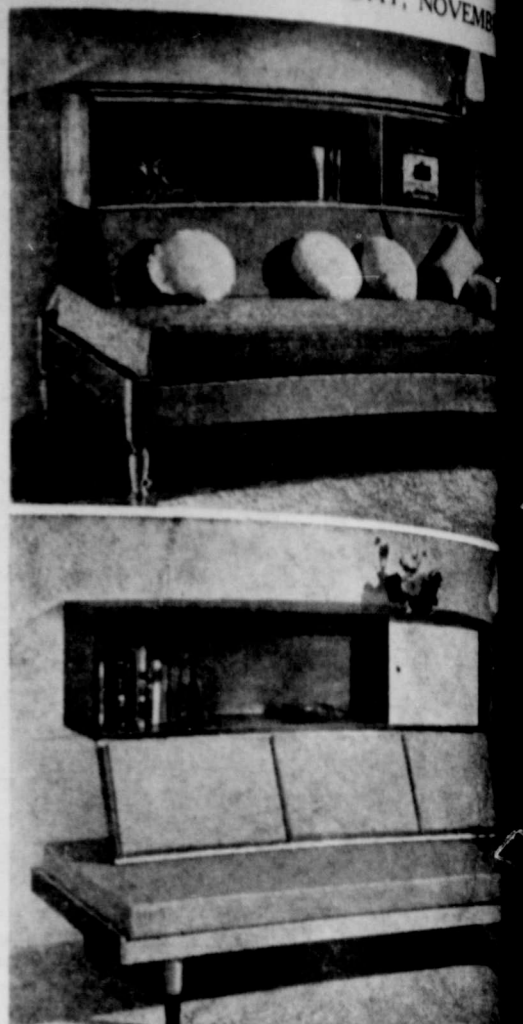

Mrs. Theodore Swift opened the meeting with prayer and the group sang the class song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Mrs. Frank Smith brought an inspirational devotional taken from the book of Psalms. Mrs. Lisa Anderson led in prayer. Mrs. Estelle Barber presided during the business session at which time the following officers were elected: Mrs. Estelle Barber, president; Mrs. Sam Foxhall, vice president; Mrs. Frank Smith, Sr., secretary and treasurer; Mrs. E. T. Prater, Mrs. Emma Baskerville and Mrs. W. T. Hightower, group leaders. The name Christine was chosen for the class after the teacher Mrs. Henry Hays.

After the business session, Mrs. Emma Baskerville gave a piano solo, "Largo" by Handel. The hostess served plum pudding with sauce and coffee or tea to 16 members and associates members. Those attending were Meses, Henry Hays, J. M. Saunders, J. M. McMurphy, Estelle Barber, W. T. Hightower, Frank Smith, George Cullin, Claud Johnson, Stella Jones, Butler Morrison, Henderson Smith, Theo. Swift, Mary Bownds, Lisa Anderson and Emma Baskerville.

Mrs. O. I. Seale Is Guest Speaker At Atalantean Club

The Atalantean Club met Wednesday, November 18, at 3 p. m. in the home of Miss Imogene King. Mrs. Robert Sexauer gave the invocation and members responded to roll call with quotations from great poets. A short business session was held by the president, Mrs. Ed Monzingo. A former member, Mrs. O. I. Seale, was guest speaker for the day. She gave an informative talk on modern education. During the social hour, tasty refreshments were served to the following members: Meses, Earl Allen, J. H. Morris, C. W. Kinslow, Cecil McCollum, L. C. Martin, C. R. Webster, S. B. Palmeyer, Robert Sexauer, Ed Monzingo, Robert Spicer, J. H. Norman, Claud Johnson, Edwin Smith, N. A. Hightower, H. B. Estes, W. C. Dickey, J. A. Odom, T. M. Isham, Myrtle Phelan and Miss Imogene King and Suzanne Sexauer.

Older Pedestrians Special Targets In Highway Accidents

"With pedestrians, death seems to play favorites," Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, made this observation today as he pointed out that safe walking odds apparently decrease with age.

"More than one-third of all pedestrians killed in 1952 were aged 65 or older," Col. Tilley said.

"Of a total of 8,600 pedestrian fatalities in traffic accidents last year, 3,000 were in this age group," he explained.

He said, "that several factors may be involved in the high traffic fatality rate among older pedestrians.

"Often older people have dimmed eyesight and hearing," he said. "Sometimes they can't see or hear approaching cars as readily as younger people.

"Reflexes are slower and the older people can't move as fast to get out of danger," Col. Tilley pointed out.

He observed that injuries to older people more often prove fatal. Broken bones mend more slowly and resistance to disease is slower in those of advanced age.

Col. Tilley urged older people to be especially careful to obey all safety rules when walking out-of-doors.

"Cross streets at intersections only," he cautioned. "Obey traffic lights, and be sure to look both ways and for turning traffic before stepping off the curb."

He urged elderly pedestrians to avoid, as much as possible, walking at night or venturing out in bad weather.

Tilley spoke in connection with the pedestrian safety program being conducted this month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety.

"SEES" PRESIDENT . . . Helen Keller, 73, blind and deaf since birth, "saw" Pres. Eisenhower for first time at White House. He is tenth president she has met, and she said: "I felt courage and thought in his face."

Big Melons Raised In Spite Of Drouth

Two melons which attained weights of 70 to 80 pounds in spite of having no moisture from the time they were planted until in October, were described by Mrs. Roland Salmon during a visit to The Democrat office last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Roland said the melons were of the Black Diamond variety and were the largest they have ever grown.

Quail Season In Texas Probably Will Be Short

AUSTIN—The coming quail harvest in Texas promises lean shooting generally but W. C. Glazener, director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission, hopes for an improved proportional return on quail wings for research.

This program, Glazener said, has been marked by increased cooperation by hunters in recent years. This fall it becomes more important than ever because of efforts to scientifically appraise quail population variations.

The quail season under the General Law runs from December 1 through January 16 but there are seasons in several areas.

The director of Wildlife Restoration asked hunters in areas where quail stocks permit some harvest to write the Commission headquarters in Austin for special containers for quail wings, as well as general instructions.

Hunters to forward any bands found on the birds' legs. He said these might come either from Texas private game breeders or from the states of Oklahoma and Kansas from which many of the pheasants probably originated. He said the Commission will provide hunters with case histories of birds from which bands are taken.

A. D. Britt Home Entered Recently

A table model radio and a vacuum sweeper were stolen recently from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Britt, west of Estelina, while the couple was away. Britt was in Silvertown on business and Mrs. Britt was performing her duties as a teacher in the Estelina schools. Mrs. Britt discovered the break-in when she arrived home.

No suspects have been arrested in connection with the burglary. Sheriff E. S. Morrison said Monday morning, but the vacuum sweeper was found at a second-hand store in Childress Saturday afternoon. The radio was still missing, Morrison said.

Reduced foreign exports contribute directly to many of the present day farm program problems. Agricultural exports from the United States have dropped from four billion dollars in 1951-52 to less than three billion dollars for 1952-53. A drop of 30 per cent.

Texas Retail Sales For Past 13 Years Tops US Average

AUSTIN—Texas retail buying figures for the last 13 years (1939-52) are far ahead of the national average and that buying power still is growing, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Texasans were able to buy two and one-fifth times as much in 1952 as they could in 1939, Bureau Statistician Richard C. Henshaw, Jr., declares. Basic reason for the buying power rise is the upswing in U. S. living standards despite inflation, Henshaw explains.

There is still time to plant winter legumes. They will help solve the feed shortage, provide needed cover for the soil, cut erosion losses and improve the soil when plowed under.

State University Issues Report On Extension Affairs

AUSTIN—"Serving Texas," the 44th annual report of the University of Texas Division of Extension, describes activities of the dean's office and the five extension bureaus.

The statistical review shows how the Division of Extension serves public and private schools, colleges and universities, homes and communities, business and industry, and varied adult groups. The report includes the following figures:

DEAN'S OFFICE—group instruction for 4,127 persons, including 2,999 in per cent education study groups and 1,128 attending conferences, seminars and similar meetings.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SERVICE BUREAU—Interscholastic League participants numbered approximately 500,000, 240 high school newspapers received aid; 12 student activities conferences and 14 choral-clinic workshops were held over the state.

EXTENSION TEACHING AND FIELD SERVICES BUREAU—8,902 registrations including 3,441 in correspondence courses and 5,461 enrolled in 471 organized study groups or committees.

INDUSTRIAL AND BUSINESS TRAINING BUREAU—organized course instruction for 11,511 persons, including 3,815 in industrial education, 5,209 in distributive education and 2,487 in petroleum extension courses. In addition, 2,082 students participated in Vocational Industrial Club activities.

PACKAGE LOAN LIBRARY BUREAU—31,790 package libraries borrowed by 13,212 individuals and 3,098 libraries.

VISUAL INSTRUCTION BUREAU—loans to 500 school districts, 48 University of Texas teaching departments, 53 colleges other than the University and 493 organizations. The library added 928 titles of audio-visual materials during the year.

PTA Holds Study Group Sessions; Another Planned For December 3

Members of the Stephen F. Austin and William B. Travis Elementary Parent Teacher Associations held two very interesting and instructive study group sessions during the past week. This study was based on the recently published booklet, "Regulations and Policies of the Board of Trustees of Memphis School District."

Mrs. Henry Foster led the study and participants in the discussions were Supt. W. C. Davis, A. L. Gailey, president of the board of trustees, and the three principals, Weldon McCreary, L. L. Thomas and R. J. Thomson. Interested parents asked many questions for a better understanding of problems and policies of the school. Approximately 25 people attended each session.

These two study group sessions were the first of a series planned for the year by the two Parent Teacher Associations as constructive steps in the action program and goal for the year—better homes, better schools and better communities.

In conclusion of the study session Tuesday night, Mr. Gailey pointed out some of the terrific expense of maintaining our local school system and explained some of the financial problems facing us in maintaining the plant. Then Mrs. O. I. Seale presented another great need of our schools and committees—that of a better understanding between parents and teachers in order that homes and schools may better fulfill their important task of training our boys and girls for citizenship.

Announcement was made of the third study group session to be held on December 3 in the Travis Cafeteria at 7 p. m. The theme is a timely one—"Christmas Decorations and Unusual Ideas."

The public is cordially invited to attend and to bring arrangements or displays. An interesting evening is promised in informal discussion and exchange of ideas.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson Hostess Members Of 1913 Study Club

"Sharing in World Affairs—War and Post War years—1914-1930" was the theme of the program presented Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the 1913 Study Club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

Mrs. Paul Montgomery introduced the program with "Peace and Pandemonium." Mrs. Allen Grundy recalled "The Roaring Twenties" and Mrs. T. J. Dunbar discussed "Social Rights and Reforms." Mrs. Joe Montgomery concluded the program with a paper entitled "The Crash."

Mrs. Frank Foxhall, president, conducted the business session. A most interesting report on the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs convention was given by Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, who was a delegate from the club.

During the social hour, delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Meses. T. J. Dunbar, R. C. Walker, Boyd Rogers, Brown Smith, Mills Roberts, Joe Montgomery, Allen Grundy, Bluford Walker, M. G. Tarver, Clyde Milan, Frank Foxhall, Herschel Combs, H. A. Finch, T. M. Harrison, L. G. DeBerry, Paul Montgomery and hostess Mrs. Wilson.

Local Club Hosts to Members Of Tech Speech Dept.

On Saturday, November 21, the Cue and Curtain Club entertained members of the Speech Department of Texas Technological College in an all-day program.

The guests were greeted at 11 o'clock and were assisted in their preparation of Jean Mollere's classic comedy, "The Miser." At noon a luncheon honoring the guests and members of the club was served in the high school cafeteria by members of the club members.

The tables, set for 56 people were arranged in the traditional "double T." Autumn colors prevailed. Copies of plays were artistically arranged along the table centers. A bouquet of chrysanthemums in a Thesopian bowl served as centerpiece for head table.

Marvin Smith, president of the Cue and Curtain Club, presided. After a bountiful meal of turkey, vegetables, salads and pumpkin pie, Elizabeth Grundy gave a humorous reading of a young bride's shopping experience; Betty Lou Wells pantomimed a recording of Spike Jones' "Wild Bill Hic-Up" and Ronald Shultz spoke of the fun of dramatic activities. Mr. Schultz insisted that the two great values derived from the study of drama are a true understanding of human nature and a development of the ability to get along with people.

The afternoon was spent in listening to radio programs, playing games and visiting. At five supper was served.

The drama, "The Miser" was acclaimed one of the finest fine arts productions ever witnessed by the people of Memphis.

Gas Heaters Need Careful Check For Carbon Monoxide

AUSTIN—There is no doubt that carbon monoxide—associated with gas heaters—is one of the most deadly and least publicized of all the poisonous gases, says Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. Carbon monoxide is formed when there is not enough oxygen mixed with the burning gas, or when the design and operation of the equipment is faulty.

With a toxicity comparable to the gases that have been used in warfare not enough attention has been given to the deadly effects of prolonged exposure to carbon monoxide. This gas claims far more than its share of accidental deaths in Texas.

Dr. Cox makes the following recommendations for use of gas heaters:

1. Make sure the heater is properly adjusted.
2. Use metal tubing for connecting stove to gas line and check for leaks.
3. Always ventilate a room when the heater is burning.
4. Do not use any artificial gas in a heater designed for natural gas.
5. Never let the stove burn all night.

Carbon monoxide from automobile exhausts is a big health hazard warns Dr. Cox. He said many motorists have wrecked their cars and been listed as a big real killer. Cars should run in garages with closed.

To The Voters of Hall County Next Year Is Election Year

Do you want the same kind of law enforcement that you have had for the last eight years or do you want a change?

Information I have carefully gathered during the past years are the basis for the following statements:

The CLIQUE that runs the LIQUOR business in Hall County have their plans made and intend to keep the LIQUOR JOINTS open.

Just a few days ago one of the LIQUOR men said "(Our organization is so strong that Raymond Ballew can't beat us.)" That statement is true. But the good people of Hall County can beat them if we will all vote together.

DON'T BE FOOLED AGAIN

Their plan is to split the vote of the Good people by having a man enter with a good reputation as they did before. And then if they can't get their first choice in then this man will be in and under obligation to them. At present they have a man picked and he has already been in conference with the CLIQUE.

I have been asked by many to run again but have not decided what to do. I would like for every one that wants law enforcement that will vote for me and help me to write me a card or letter which will be kept confidential and if I get enough response I will enter the SHERIFFS race again.

Remember it was close before so We THE People might win this time.

If I should be elected it will be because the good people are for me and want law enforcement. And if elected I promise you that I will do everything in my power to make you a good Sheriff like you want. I will try to enforce all laws but will work especially hard on the LIQUOR JOINTS some of which have never been raided in the last 8 years. I believe that this is even more important than when money was loose. Because there are so many men that spend their last dollar for Liquor when they have a family at home that needs food and clothes.

All that I ask is a chance and if I don't make good within one year just get a petition of 25% of the good voters (Not the Liquor Gang) and I will resign.

So please let me hear from you and I will abide by your wishes.

65 Years Of Age And Over Quadrupled In 20th Century

STATION—While population of the United States doubled since 1900, the number of persons 65 years of age and over has quadrupled as older people make up 14 per cent of the total population.

Management Specialists in Agricultural Extension says recent reports of the Senate subcommittee indicate a decline in the number of persons 65 years of age and over in the birth rate as in immigration, important causes of the increase in the proportion of older people in the population.

Every 10 persons 65 and over under 70 and seven under 75. The larger majority of these are urban residents, 64 per cent of them live on farms. More than 14 per cent of these live in their own homes, 25 per cent in houses of their own, and only six per cent in institutions, rooming houses or hotels. Forty-four per cent are married and living with their own spouse in their homes.

The income and assets of 10 million older persons, 65 years of age or over, were $1,000 in 1951 and $1,000 in 1951 and $1,000 in 1951 and $1,000 in 1951.

More than one of these received Social Security benefits, 38 per cent received survivors insurance, 28 per cent received veterans' benefits and pension programs, 20 per cent received assistance, according to the Social Security Administration. About 10 per cent of them received more than one of these sources of income.

More than one of these sources of income of these persons 65 years of age or over, 10 per cent of them received more than one of these sources of income.

H-SU Ex-Student Association Heads At Initial Retreat

Abilene—One of the largest groups of Hardin-Simmons University Ex-Student Association officers ever to attend a homecoming event met Friday and Saturday at the First Annual Retreat of the Association.

Thirty-eight officers and guests heard Association president Jim Jennings, 1931 graduate from Abilene, give the welcoming address at the opening meeting Friday afternoon at Mary Frances Hall.

C. Kenneth Hill, executive secretary of the Association, reported on the Association and outlined plans for future development. Hill said that — "the ultimate value in the next years program, and progress of the Association will prove the necessity of an annual meeting of this nature."

H-SU president Evan A. Reiff spoke to the Ex-Student officers at a dinner in the Home Economics dining room Friday evening describing the planned development of the University in physical and academic fields.

A Saturday morning breakfast in the H-SU dining hall continued the retreat. Mrs. Gladys Paradowski, president of the Houston Ex-Students Club, spoke on "Successful Club Projects."

LET'S BE THANKFUL

This has been a rough year—maybe one of the roughest we have ever had. Throughout the spring and summer, we were short on rainfall and long on wind, sand and dust, and withering heat. In spite of these set-backs, it looked like a good many farmers were going to make pretty fair crops, anyway. In fact, when crop harvesting got underway, producers found that they were getting better cotton turnouts than they expected.

But the weather was not through with us and in mid-October a hard-driving rain and hail storm destroyed or heavily damaged a large area of cotton in this section. Cotton crops were further hurt by rain which has continued to fall off and on since then.

All this, without doubt, has been discouraging to both country and town people.

But everyone who has lived here long, knows we've had times like this before and come back. There is no reason for thinking we won't do it this time.

Particularly encouraging is the fact that for the first time since 1950, we have good underground moisture. This certainly improves prospects for next year's crop.

As we said before, things right now are pretty rugged. But Americans have faced discouraging and disheartening troubles many times since the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, Mass., December 21, 1620, and have overcome them.

Americans have always been sturdy people, possessed with faith enough in the future to take blows which at the time, may have seemed almost more than human strength could endure.

The Pilgrims, for instance, must have had an unlimited amount of faith to be able to sail away from their native country to a faraway land, of which they knew nothing but where they hoped to be able to live as their consciences dictated, and not as some royal leader or some high church official directed.

The future must have continued to look foreboding when they sailed into Plymouth Harbor and stepped onto a continent, inhabited only by strange Indians and wild animals.

And they must have felt like giving up for certain when within a few months of their arrival, privation, exposure and ship fever killed about half of their number. But they didn't.

They stayed on and with the help of friendly Indians, led by the kindly and peace-loving Massasoit, were able to set up a permanent colony which served as the foundation for the great country we are today.

So in spite of the difficult times we may feel we are having now, we can and should be thankful for many things. Chief among these are our wise forefathers who established the framework for the freedom and the way of life with which we are blessed today.

For as long as we have freedom and the vision and courage to use it wisely, we will continue to be a great nation and a leader among peoples of the world.

(Dear Lord, help us to give thanks—not for what we want—but for what we have.)

It's a Pleasure to wish all our friends and customers . . .

A Happy Thanksgiving

Your kindness and friendship has meant so much to us individually and as a firm.

Come in to see us at any time. You are always welcome.

DECEMBER ANGELS

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Press Paragraphs—

WHO IS DELINQUENT?

Much has been written and said during the past war years about juvenile delinquents—the type of youth that has taken to stealing, destroying property, defying police officers, and apparently having no fear of discipline at home.

More lately, the phrase has swung to "there are no delinquent children, there are only delinquent parents." This may or may not be true, but this nation has been agers that are creating quite a problem to the schools, police officers, courts, churches and parents.

Fortunately, Perryton has less than its share of this type of delinquent, although this city hasn't entirely escaped the effects of teen-age vandalism.

We do feel fortunate, however in reading past-Halloween accounts of property damage in newspapers across the Panhandle where damage has run into the hundreds of dollars by youngsters intent on having their "fun." Property damage was negligible in Perryton, partly because of a better type of young men and women, and partly because of vigorous efforts at enforcement by city employees on Halloween night.

Today's youth, bored with a flood of magazines, picture shows, organized recreation, apparently has too much leisure time to think up new ways of keeping occupied. Most high school students today either have a car of their own or access to the family car and recent events here have indicated that too many teen agers have no definite hour at all for coming home at night.

We are inclined to throw it with Amarillo News editor Wee Izzard, who has long contended that the basic fault today is lack of chores for the youngsters. He contends that young people without chores to do are without the basic tools to take on responsibility and become valued members of society.

Is this the fault of the children or the parents?

FAILURE EVALUATED

A man's failure—when he has no confidence in himself or in his fellow man; when he is so burdened by his business that he finds no time for rest and recreation; when he envies others because they have more ability, talent or than humanity; when his friend wealth than he has; when he does like him for what he has more than what he is; when he lets a day go by without making some-thing he is prosperous; when he is so busy doing work that he has no time for smiles or cheerful words.

SCHOOL TAX INCREASE VOTED BY MAJORITY OF ALMOST 3 TO 1—Patrons of the Memphis Independent School District voted 323 to 115, almost 3 to 1, for increasing the school tax to the constitutional limit of one dollar on the hundred dollar valuation, at an election last Thursday.

This action will furnish sufficient money for school needs without the necessity of inflating property values for taxing purposes.

This brings the total of county school districts which have adopted the maximum tax to 16 out of 24. Of the remaining nine, all except two or three have an abundance of funds without increasing the tax.

MAYOR McGUP By John Jarvis

SPORTS AFIELD By Ted Kestwig

Make the first shot count. I think that statement should become a matter of principle with all hunters; then perhaps we can get rid of that everlasting feeling of being on the defensive in regard to hunting safety.

If we establish as a matter of principle never to shoot at game unless reasonably sure we are in a position to down it with one shot, we will remove the necessity for much of the present and contemplated legislation regulating types and uses of rifles for hunting.

If we are determined to make a one-shot kill without wounding, we cannot afford simply to shoot at the animal. We must shoot to hit what we can clearly identify as a vital area. A hunter can't determine this vital area on an animal unless he can at least identify that what he is shooting at is an animal. This practically eliminates the possibility of a hunter mistaking another hunter for a deer. Or of wounding a hunter beyond.

If we add up all the benefits from the one-shot principle, the sum is simply good shooting, good hunting, good sportsmanship. I believe the bulk of the hunters are good sportsmen.

However, there are certain influences on new hunters which may not be good. According to Pete Brown of the Sports Afield arms-and-ammunition staff, the trend in the Army has been to teach volume of fire theory and minimize the importance of precision fire. I am not going to argue the question of merit in the volume of fire technique in the military, but it is definitely contrary to the best interest of the hunting sport.

A soldier advancing through no man's land can be expected to shoot at a movement in the brush and later consider the necessity for his shots. On the other hand the hunter who is working his way through the brush in this state of mind is a menace.

Brown is worried because servicemen particularly seem to be

Questions & Answers

Q—I have an ordinary life policy under National Service Life Insurance. I want to change to a 20-payment endowment policy. I am not a disabled veteran. How can I go about making the change?

A—You should apply to the VA District Office that handles your account. In order to make the change, you will be required to pay the difference between the reserve value of the new policy and the reserve on the old policy.

Q—My daughter, who is past 18, is attending school. She has been receiving compensation payments from VA, based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. She plans to drop out of payments for several months, during which time, I understand, payments will stop. Will the payments start again once she resumes school?

A—They will, provided she sends VA evidence that she has resumed school. If VA gets the evidence within one year, the renewed payments will be effective as of the date she started class. Otherwise, the effective date will be the date VA receives the evidence.

Q—I've been taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill for eight months in automobile mechanics, but I want to change to a different job training course in television repair. When I change, will I receive the full beginning rate of GI allowance, or a reduced rate?

A—You will receive the full beginning rate of allowance in your new course, even though you have been training long enough in your old course for the rate to be reduced. Your first reduction in your new course will be made four months after you start it.

Q—I trained for 48 months under the World War II GI Bill, and then I went back on active duty. Am I eligible for additional training under the Korean GI Bill, now interested in getting semi-automatic big game rifles. Now we have no argument with anyone possessing a semi-automatic big game rifle, if he uses it as a sporting weapon. What we fear is that the semi-automatic will become a symbol of the military school of thought in the field of big game hunting. If this comes to pass the woods may become as dangerous as the highway. So make that first shot count.

that I've been released from service?

A—No. Under the law, veterans with 48 months of training under the World War II GI Bill may not be eligible for additional training under the new Korean GI Bill. Those with less than 48 months of World War II training, however, may be entitled to training under the new law.

Q—The VA has just awarded me disability compensation for an ailment I incurred in service. Can I count on receiving compensation checks, for the same amount, each month for the rest of my life?

A—Not necessarily. Your compensation payments may be subject to change, depending on your physical condition. If medical evidence shows your disability is improved, payments may be reduced or even stopped; or, if it shows the disability is worse, payments may be increased.

Q—In computing my income for VA pension purposes, am I supposed to include the gross salary that I receive on my job, or only my net take-home pay? Part of my pay is withheld for income tax and retirement.

A—You must include your gross salary—your take-home pay plus what is withheld for taxes, retirement or other reasons.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOU! State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has asked federal officials to take action against leaders of the striking Distributive, Processing, and Office Workers Union at Port Arthur.

Key people in the DPOWA "have repeatedly refused to deny under oath that they are Communists," Shepperd said after making an investigation of the strike.

His inquiries showed "that the leadership of DPOWA has a long record for supporting subversive causes."

Shepperd's report on the situation was sent to the U. S. attorney general, and to the National Labor Relations, as well as to union leaders, whom he asked to withdraw their support of the strike.

Others mentioned for the race are State Senator A. M. Aikin, Jr., champion of higher teacher pay, and Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Meanwhile, the political status of the Texas Young Democrats remained uncertain. Both liberal and conservative factions were denied seats at the national convention held recently in St. Paul, Minnesota.

The conservative group, recognized by the Texas Democratic Executive Committee, had been inactive since 1949. In view of this, the liberal group sought to gain recognition by default.

Action taken by the convention held that neither group met prescribed standards, and so the fight continues.

A possible compromise on the teacher pay problem will come before a committee appointed by the governor, at a meeting to be held later this month.

In seeking to resolve the issue of state and local sharing of school costs, a committee member recommends a $402 teacher pay raise, an 80-20 formula for state-local financing, and state aid on buildings.

Senator A. M. Aikin of Paris, opponent of a percentage formula in the past, says that helping the districts on their buildings is in line with his thinking.

But, as one committee member commented: "If there's no money available to pay a raise, it's love's labor lost . . ."

A commission on higher education by a close vote of 9 to 7 has included junior colleges in a survey being undertaken by the legislature.

Junior colleges became a state problem a few years ago when the state began giving them per capita grants of aid.

Purpose of the commission is to bring about a reorganization for higher education just as the Gilmer-Aikin law did for the public school system.

Representative Reagan Huffman of Marshall, member of the House appropriations committee, said that "two thirds of our trouble comes from junior colleges, and I can't decide if they are stepchildren, orphans or legitimate children of the state."

Battle lines were being drawn over a rule by the state optometry board to limit advertising for the profession.

Although the legislature this year killed a bill to empower the board to set up any code, the board proceeded to adopt the code of ethics of the American Optometric Association. One of the rules limits advertising to a professional card not larger than two by four inches in size.

Other groups also were involved in the licensing board's ruling. It said that use of advertising, other than the professional card, would be considered "soliciting patients," under provisions of the Penal Code, which would make the newspaper or radio station accepting advertising an "accomplice."

According to the board, the manager of an optometry shop whose address was given in any advertising would be held personally liable to fine.

Members of the Texas Association of Independent Optometrists, the group which generally uses advertising media, was planning to challenge the board's authority in court.

Government charges that a million dollar herd of rare Charolais cattle were smuggled through Texas were expected to come before a federal court here in January.

A quarantine has been slapped on the white, French-origin cattle on ranches in Louisiana. Cattle associations have expressed fear that the big animals may have brought the dread hoof and mouth disease from southern Mexico.

Indictments on charges of fraudulently importing the cattle were recently returned against Alpha A. Broussard, Lafayette, La., William L. Babb, El Paso, and Antonio Enrique Gilly, Atlix-co, Mexico.

A vast program to preserve Texas historical material is making progress. A committee authorized by the legislature is incorporating a non-profit Texas Historical Foundation and will accept donations to carry on many phases of the work.

Governor Shivers, in addressing the group, said:

"It is not merely another Texas brag to claim that we are richer in historical material than most of our sister states."

"It is certainly not a Texas brag to report that we have been sorely remiss in cataloging, conserving and making use of this material."

Calls for help already have come from Fort Davis, the historic West Texas site which will be 100 years old in 1954, and also for Zapata County to restore the first dwellings of Europeans on the Rio Grande.

The number of persons in U. S. 65 years of age or older has quadrupled since 1900 and the total population has doubled. This group now makes up about 8 per cent of the total population.

Plans Completed For Experimental Harvest Of Deer

AUSTIN—W. C. Glazener, the director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission said plans have been completed for the limited experimental harvest of doe in parts of Gillespie and Mason counties.

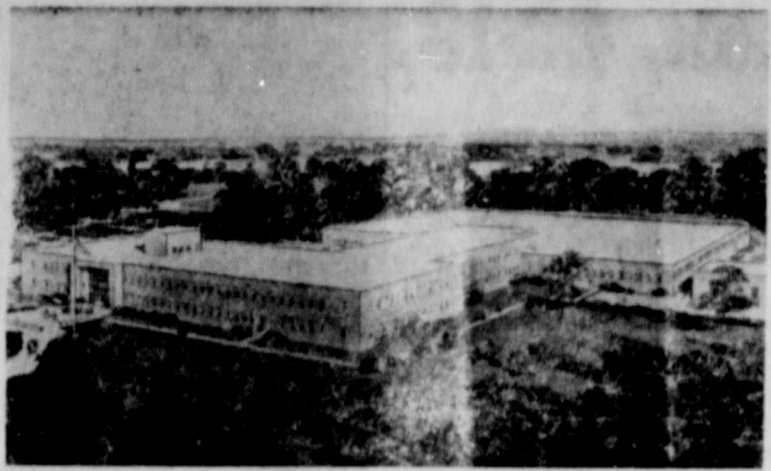

The season is from December 1 to 15, both dates inclusive. Between one thousand and eleven hundred antlerless deer have been earmarked for harvest in the two areas. The Commission in setting up the experiment allowed for taking of "antlerless deer" to cover unintentional shooting of young bucks whose antlers are not visible.

Glazener said persons interested in the harvest should contact the chambers of commerce in either Fredericksburg for Gillespie County, or Mason in Mason County, since final arrangements are strictly on the local level.

Permits which will be issued directly by land owners restrict the harvest to one antlerless deer per permit.

The census leading up to the special season was supervised by Eugene Walker, wildlife biologist with the Game and Fish Commission.

The director of Wildlife Restoration said the purpose of the entire project is primarily to reduce the overpopulation of deer in certain areas; to cut the herd losses from dieoff and to reduce damage to the ranges from overbrowsing.

SCOUTS BUILD OFFICE... Artist's sketch shows new air-conditioned two-story office and warehouse being built as national headquarters for Boy Scouts of America at North Brunswick Township, N. J.

He added that the program properly developed, could improve the quality of the deer herds and lead to a better sex ratio in affected cases.

The director said efforts have been made to conduct the experiment on a sound biological basis to provide the maximum benefits.

Fluoride In Water Aids Dental Health Of Texas Children

AUSTIN—Children in fifteen Texas cities are literally drinking their way to dental health through fluoridation of public water supplies, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Three other towns have approved the program and several other communities are seriously considering fluoridation.

The Texas State Department of Health approves fluoridation of public water supplies because it is the most practical and effective public health measure for partial prevention of tooth decay in children. Numerous studies have disclosed that one-half to two-thirds less dental decay is experienced by children who drink water containing one part fluoride to one million parts of water. Some cities in Texas have this amount naturally in their water supply.

It isn't known exactly just how fluoride acts in reducing tooth decay, but these ideas have been advanced. One is that fluoride makes the enamel of the teeth harder. Another is that fluoride reduces the growth of bacteria, or enzymes, and the acids that are believed to cause teeth to decay. But it will be some time before the final answer is found.

The most dramatic results from the use of fluoridation to prevent tooth decay are found among young children who begin drinking fluoridated water in babyhood and keep on drinking it until their adult teeth grow in. Therefore, it seems that the most important time for intake of fluoride is while the teeth are forming in the jaws.

Even though your child drinks from a fluoridated water supply, or even though his teeth have had topical applications of fluoride solution, he still may have some tooth decay. Fluoride does not prevent all decay, but rather reduces the amount of decay. Therefore, regular dental care is as necessary as it was before the value of the fluorides was discovered.

Here's why thousands of TEXAS motorists are switching to

New Conoco Super Gasoline

with TCP*

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Restores "new car" power! Increases spark-plug life up to 150%! Gives you extra gas mileage, too!

All over Conocoland the story is the same. Every day, thousands upon thousands of motorists are switching to new Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP. What's the reason for this big switch? Why are motorists leaving brands they've been loyal to for years? The reason is simple: New Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP is the greatest improvement in gasoline since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922!

Motorists tell us they can actually feel the difference in car performance after just two tankfuls. For new Conoco Super with TCP dramatically overcomes the greatest single cause of power and fuel waste affecting most of the cars on the road today.

Combustion deposits reduce power
When you drive your car, deposits constantly build up on spark plugs and in the combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power in two ways. First they short-circuit spark plugs—causing them to mis-fire. Second, deposits in the combustion chambers cause fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping."

*Trademark owned and patent applied for by Shell Oil Company

The combined effect of mis-firing and pre-ignition is loss of power, lack of "pep" and wasted gas.

How Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP works
Now Conoco Super with TCP—a cresyl compound—dramatically overcomes the loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP actually neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. With new Conoco Super Gasoline, your plugs spark as they should. Your fuel ignites as it should. You get and keep "new car" performance.

TCP helps your car—whether new or old

Whether your car is new or old, you can enjoy the benefits of TCP. If you have a new car, with a high-compression engine, it will keep on delivering its built-in power as long as you use Conoco Super Gasoline. If your car is an older one, Conoco Super will restore much of the power you have lost.

See what Conoco Super with TCP can do for your car—
Start the "TWO-TANK TEST" today!

1. When your gasoline tank is one-quarter full or less, fill it with Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP. Now, there will still be some ordinary gasoline mixed in with your Conoco Super, so...
2. Make sure your next tankful is Conoco Super, too. So rapidly does Conoco Super work that with this second tankful, chances are you'll feel as if your engine has had a tune-up. You'll feel a boost in power. Try it today. We're sure you'll stay with Conoco Super.

Cyclones Lose To McLean, 20-13, To End Regular Season Friday

The Memphis Cyclone lost a close, hard-fought football game to the McLean Tigers Friday night at McLean, 20-13, after running up a 13-0 lead at half-time. It was the final game of the regular season for both teams but the Cyclones, as champions of District 2-A, meet Springlake in a bi-district contest here today. The McLean tilt was played in Duncan Stadium.

County Receives Six Cars Drought Emergency Feeds

Six freight cars of feed have been received in Hall County so far under the present drought emergency program, Lynn L. McKown, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here, formerly known as the Production and Marketing Administration office, said this week.

same got underway. In Friday night's contest, the Cyclones got off to a fine start and appeared to have everything under control but after half-time the Tigers got the upper hand and scored three touchdowns and converted twice to come out on top.

There was no scoring in the first quarter but early in the second quarter, Quarterback Duke Frisbie sent an aerial to End Carol Gardenhire for a touchdown. Frisbie followed up by kicking the extra point.

Later on in the quarter, the Cyclones mounted a sustained drive from the Tigers' 41-yard stripe. A series of ground plays carried the ball to the McLean seven-yard line, from where Halfback Jimmie Davis banged through the right side of the line to add a second touchdown. Frisbie failed to kick the point, but Memphis seemed on the road to victory as the half ended.

However, a remarkable punt return to the Cyclone 18-yard line set the Tigers on the scoring road. Ricky Mantoath made the first McLean tally when he plunged over from the six-yard stripe and...

Don Haslam converted by kicking. The same quarter saw McLean make a 67-yard drive for their second counter, with Mantoath racing the final 45 yards to cross the Memphis goal line, after knifing through the left side of the line. Haslam again converted, to put the Tigers ahead.

Mantoath chalked up his third and final touchdown when he went through the left side of the line and scooted 23 yards into the Cyclone end zone. The try for extra point was not good.

The Cyclones led in first downs, 15-11. They made 167 yards rushing, compared with 204 for McLean, and were way ahead in gains by passing, 109 to 9. Memphis completed 3 of 7, and McLean, 1 of 3. No passes were intercepted by either side. Each team lost one fumble. Memphis punted five times for an average of 30 yards, while McLean punted the same number of times, for a 31-yard average.

Thanksgiving

Thursday, November 26, we celebrate a day established by our forefathers . . . a day set aside to give thanks for all the good things which have come our way. It is a special occasion when Christian people offer up their prayers to God as they turn their thoughts backward.

Along with Thanksgiving, there are bountiful feasts and gay hearts as relatives and friends gather, and the holiday air is felt everywhere. There are trips to visit distant relatives, and football games with all their excitement.

On this occasion, we pause and offer our special thanks to those persons who have given us their patronage during the past year. They have made our living possible, and helped us to fill our place in this community.

than the Cyclone, after their rough, bruising battle with McLean Friday evening. On the other hand, the layoff might tend to slow the reflexes of the Springlake players some, taking some of the sharpness from their play, to give the Cyclones just enough time to knock their opponents off balance and break their ball carrier into the open.

A number of Memphis business houses and offices are expected to be closed today and this should help swell the crowd at the game. George Childress and Nolan Poteet are coaches of the Memphis team and Colie Huffman and Ray Simmons coach the District 2-A Wolverines.

Officials, scheduled to officiate at the Memphis-Springlake contest, are: Bill Brown and Pete Wood, of the Childress Officials Association, and Paul Gardner and Sam Dameron, of the Lubbock Officials Association.
