WORST DUSTER IN YEARS LASHES AREA FRIDAY

Young Student Missing About 3 Hours; Storm Causes Various Minor Damage

The first black duster in several years blanketed the area Friday and Friday night, turning day into semi-night, disrupting traffic, causing minor damage to buildings and communications, and leaving interiors of homes and business houses covered by varying depths of fine silt. The dust storm struck Memphis about mid-morning Friday.

Late in the afternoon, a young student of the Deep Lake School was lost near Lesley for about three hours, while officers and residents combed the area.

Lights had to be turned on in homes and business houses and on the streets and motorists were forced to drive with their vehicle lights on.

Typical of motorists' experiences was that of Harold Hodges of Plaska. Hodges said it took him about 45 minutes to drive from Lakeview to Memphis, a distance of about 12 miles. He said that part of the time he could barely see the front of the hood of his pickup truck.

Memphis lumbermen said this week they were doing a moderate business in repair items, such as shingles, tin and panes of glass. One lumber company manager said a number of people were purchasing weatherstripping, caulking and masking tape to be used in making their homes more weather tight, in case there are duststorms in the future.

Driving winds blew out a plate glass window at the Hall County Electric Co-op office here, and tore off the roof of a barn at the S. S. Montgomery home here. It also was reported that the roof of a house, occupied by Will Beaver, was blown off.

The missing youngster was Gerald Lewis Jones, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Jones, who live 3 1/2 miles west of Lakeview. The boy showed up at the Byron Martin home, about three hours after he vanished into the blinding duststorm, according to Deputy Sheriff Bill Baten, one of the officers who aided in the search for him. The Martin home is about 4 miles southwest of where he first disappeared.

The boy apparently became frightened when he fell as he stepped off a school bus, which was taking students home from the Deep Lake School. When he got up, instead of heading for his home, about a 100 yards north of State Highway 256, he ran in the opposite direction.

His 11-year-old sister, who had gotten off the bus at the same time, started after him and almost caught up with him, when he fell. However, the youngster jumped up and vanished into the duststorm.

The girl hurried home and told her parents and officers were notified soon afterwards. City police, (Continued on Page 10)

TAXES

The tax-writing Ways and Means Committee of Congress is moving along on the rewriting of the tax laws. Many changes are being made. Some of these will result in tax relief for particular groups. So far, there has been no across-the-board relief indicated for the lower income brackets.

An effort was made to increase the individual exemptions from $600.00 to $700.00, but this was defeated by a close margin. It will be brought up again on the House Floor, so watch for a fight. The tax bill can not be amended on the House Floor, but it can be sent back to the committee with instructions to increase the individual exemptions. If the motion to do this prevails, it will mean tax relief for the lower income brackets. The tax law includes practically all of the tax program of the United States government, and the Ways and Means Committee would not hold the bill in committee, as such action could cause much damage to the credit of this country.

was the appropriations for the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department for the fiscal year 1955, which begins on July 1, 1954. The Appropriations Sub-committee worked long and hard on this bill, but were unable to come up with any measurable cuts. The over-all appropriation recommended in the bill for both the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department was $3,333,241,600.00. The amount asked by the Administration was $3,338,783,000.00. This simply means that only $5,541,400.00 was cut off of a bill in excess of three billion dollars. This sum did not include the fixed charges of interest on the public debt. In 1954 the interest on the public debt was $6,525,000,000.00. Due to increases in the interest rate, as well as the issuance of some additional securities, the Treasurer estimates that the cost of interest for the coming fiscal year will be $6,800,000,000.00. This simply means that the American taxpayer will have to pay an additional $275,000,000.00 in interest during the 1955 fiscal year. This is approximately three quarters of a million dollars a day. This is, of course, in addition to the approximately $175,000,000.00 each day that is being paid by the American taxpayer to finance the public debt in interest charges alone.

A Visit With Mrs. Eisenhower
My better half, to wit, Jean, thinks that Mrs. Eisenhower is tops. She was with her at a luncheon recently and came home singing her praises. She was especially praising her excellent sense of humor and the complete ease with which she converses. I tried to find out what was talked about, but, as usual, was unsuccessful. I have often wondered what the conversation consisted of at these all-female luncheons, but have never been able to find out from the little lady. She doesn't talk in her sleep, so I am completely lost, unless an outsider will help me out.

Houston Authority Asks Full Support Of Traffic Laws

"A lot of Texas automobile drivers act as if they were driving down the Pennsylvania Turnpike with the whole road to themselves!"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, made this comment recently in discussing the need for the current Know and Obey Traffic Laws program sponsored by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Too many of the people driving cars today have practically no sense of responsibility," he said. "They drive as they please and expect everyone else on the road to look out for them. Unless they can be persuaded to change this irresponsible attitude, I see little hope of reducing the present heavy traffic accident toll."

Col. Tilley called upon all citizens to lend their full support to the Know and Obey Traffic Laws program. He asked the cooperation of women's clubs; civic, business, and fraternal organizations and churches. He also urged every individual to acquaint himself with local traffic laws and to obey them after he has learned them.

"If every driver and pedestrian would suddenly decide to observe traffic laws and regulations and to practice safe walking and driving rules," Col. Tilley said, "the local traffic picture would change over night. In fact, experts estimate that if such a change in conduct could be accomplished the annual traffic toll could be reduced 90 per cent."

Indigestion Treatment

Indigestion is so common that many persons hardly think of it as a disease. So-called indigestion may be caused by trouble in the digestive tract itself or by some other part of the body. The trouble elsewhere in the body is the cause of indigestion is that the digestive tract, and especially the stomach, is very sensitive to changes in other parts of the body. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns not to blame yourself because indigestion is due to so many causes that you are apt to be wrong, in seeing your doctor.

Indigestion appears in various forms. It is the kind that hits you suddenly, with pain, vomiting and takes the fight out of you. Then there is the kind that creeps up on you, manifesting itself in a feeling of fullness after eating, or a sensation of gnawing feeling hours after eating. Symptoms are excessive gas, bloating, diarrhea and a sour taste in the mouth.

Indigestion is a very dangerous, but you can miss enjoying your sleep and may make your stomach feel worse. Sometimes serious troubles begin with mild indigestion and that is the very reason a physician can do the best for you. Early diagnosis following proper treatment may prevent a serious illness, so do not see your doctor if you are continuing.

Some things that cause a feeling of well being are: Eat regular meals; Eat plenty of water; Relax and eat slowly; Companionship at meal; A little while before you are tired; Balance work and exercise; Do not overdo it; Get rest and sleep each day.

Firm Gives Shoe Couple at Service to obtain one of the shoes they inquired as to whether they could be purchased and shipped to the oil company. It was late and the firm was closed, the woman explained.

She said she was looking for information as to how to get the shoes. Cecil and Jack Boone, who work for the oil firm, were out of town, so they sent to the store which had sold them.

Monday arrived a few days later and the Muleshoe woman has the picture they had sent her to get.

Mrs. J. T. Baldwin, Gladys Leggett of Wellington and Mrs. A. Baldwin and other guests were here Sunday.

Banding Of Doves Will Be Concluded By End Of Year

AUSTIN—Banding of mourning doves in Texas will end this year, Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, has announced.

The program was inaugurated by the Commission five years ago and since then has been combined with that of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

The movement began with a few thousand birds being banded last year almost five thousand doves were banded. Game wardens and wildlife biologists have been the key personnel in the undertaking. They usually work with local groups, especially youngsters.

One warden, Charley Edmondson, organized a special force of boys to help band doves in his area centering around Cuero. They were called Junior Game Wardens.

Several other wardens distinguished themselves by their own personal efforts and by their recruiting program designed to interest youngsters and adults in this phase of wildlife study.

Doves have been banded in almost every Texas county. They have been banded in bushes and in trees and in assorted places. Down on the coast, wardens working out of Beaumont even found some doves nesting in old piling over the water and banded the young ones.

Dodgen said the studies will provide the basis for charting time of nesting periods; the peak nesting time; ratio of nesting successes; the migration pattern and the effect of weather on mourning doves generally. He said the material will be considered in setting open seasons and bag limits.

Field Men Speed Observations Of Ducks And Geese

AUSTIN—State and Federal men are stepping up official observations as the spring waterfowl migration gains momentum, Howard D. Dodgen, the executive director of the Game and Fish Commission, says.

Their work is coordinated under the expanded program managed jointly by the Flyway Council and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

The field men check regular stopping points of the northbound ducks and geese, compare numbers with previous springs, contrast current weather conditions with those in the past and generally keep tab on the big hop to the nesting areas.

Dodgen said the data compiled helps determine waterfowl population statistics and data on any pronounced changes in migration procedure. In the long run, he added, when these facts and other studies are reported, seasons and bag limits are set.

The executive secretary said Texas has a great responsibility in handling the waterfowl situation. "For one thing, Texas winters a large number of waterfowl which compares favorably with any other state in the Union," he explained.

This is attested to by "more than a few" prosecutions being reported, said the executive secretary. He suggested the safest way to keep out of trouble "is to keep that shotgun in the case until the next legal seasons come around."

Gardening On Texas Plains Different From That In Other Parts Of State

(The following is the beginning of a series of hints to home gardeners on the Plains of Texas, authored by Dr. George Elle, professor of horticulture at Texas Tech, in the interest of good home gardening.)

Gardening on the Plains of Texas is different from gardening in any other part of the state. Weathers, water, soil, and growing seasons make the general "rules-of-thumb" error on home gardening in our area.

This series of articles is designed to help home gardeners on the Plains in selecting seed better suited for our soil, in preparing our land for planting, in planting, and in applying our water to growing gardens.

To the mail-order seed buyer: Since our planting season started Feb. 1, you are almost too late if you haven't ordered your seed by now. You still have time to place an order and meet planting deadlines if you do so immediately. See the chart below for seed varieties, and check the second chart for planting times.

Check the germination percentage on any package you buy (bulk seed is usually good.) If the germination percentage is 80 per cent or above, you get your money's worth. Should it fall below 70 per cent, although it meets the state seed law requirements, you have been skinned.

The following seed varieties have proved suitable for the Plains soil. When buying seed, look for these varieties:

Asparagus: Mary Washington 500.

Beans: Bush Snap; (Green) Topcrop, Wade. (Yellow) Cherokee Wax, Round Pod, Kidney Wax, Bush Lima; (Large Seed-ed) Fordhook 242. (Small Seed-ed) Triumph.

Cowpeas: Dirie Sugar Crowder, Cream Crowder, Large White Blackeye.

Beet: Detroit Dark Red.

Cabbage: Copenhagen Red Acre Red.

Cantaloup: Rio Gold, Texas Resistant No. 1, Imperial No. 45.

Carrot: Imperator.

Collards: Georgia, Louisiana, Sweet, Vates.

Sweet Corn: Honey June, Golden Cross.

Cucumber: Slicing; Marketer. Pickling; National Pickling.

Lettuce: Leaf; Salad Bowl, Oak Leaf, Bibb, Sibolt. Head; Great Lakes.

Mustard: Southern Giant, Tender Green.

Okra: Clemson Spineless, white Velvet.

Onion: Sweet Spanish, Japanese Bunching.

Peas: Early types; Laxton

Progress, Early Alaska, Little Marvel, Later Types; Wando, Bliss Everbearing, Edible Pod, Mammoth Melting Sugar.

Pepper: Sweet; California Wonder, Ruby King, Pimento. Hot; Anaheim Chili, Tabasco, Hungarian Wax.

Potato: Irish; Cobbler, Bliss Triumph; Potato, Sweet; Maryland Golden.

Radish: Scarlet Globe, Cherry Belle, White Icicle.

Squash: Summer; Yankee Hybrid, Early Prolific Straight Neck, Zucchini, White Bush Scallop. Winter; Table Queen, Butternut, Buttercup Delicious.

Spinach: American, Long Standing Bloomsdale.

Tomato: Commercial Type; Rutgers, Queens, Marglobe, Stocksdale, Home Garden Heat Resistant; Firesteal, Red Chief, Porter Yellow Types; Sunray.

Turnip: Purples Top White Globe, Shogoin, Golden Ball, Seven Top.

Watermelon: Black Diamond Certified, Dixie Queen, Kleckley Sweet Improved.

Planting season is on us. Peas should be in the ground this month, and most others in March. The following is a schedule of planting times for the above vegetables:

Feb. 1 to March 1: Peas.

March 1: Leafy salad crops, greens crops, and root crops.

March 1: Deadline for seeding cabbage, tomatoes, pepper and eggplant for transplanting.

March 15 to April 1: Sweet corn.

April 1 to April 10: Irish potatoes.

April 15 to May 1: Snap bean, tomato, pepper.

May 1 to May 15: Tender vegetables and those which require warm weather for seed germination and growth.

(Further information on home gardening can be obtained by writing Dr. Elle in care of Texas Technological College.)

1954 Hall County Heart Fund Drive Will Close Sunday

The 1954 Heart Fund drive in Hall County will end Sunday, according to an announcement Tuesday by Ted Myers, county chairman. All Heart banks will be picked up Saturday and residents are asked to put their dimes, quarters or other contributions in the containers by then, in order that the county's part in helping heart research and treatment may be as large as possible. Checks should be sent to L. C. Martin, Dr. C. B. Dryden, or Myers.

The Memphis Rotary, Lions and Business & Professional Women's clubs passed around Hearts at their luncheon meetings last week and collected a total of $28.09.

Myers said it is hoped that the quota for Hall County can be raised this week. He said a merchant's scroll will be passed around the latter part of the week to collect donations from business firms.

The county chairman said he wished to thank everyone for their cooperation during the fund campaign.

Traffic Bullies

It's amazing what a transformation it makes in some people to get behind the wheel of an automobile. Normally gentle and courteous folks become overbearing, impatient bullies, who propel their juggernauts along the highways like madmen.

Why this is, is difficult to understand. It seems that persons who are courteous and considerate when afoot, would be even more so when driving, when a study of traffic records shows how hazardous failure to observe traffic laws and the rights of others on the highway, can be.

But let some people take the wheel of a car and they go screaming down streets and highways, weaving in and out of traffic, imperiling their lives and others—sometimes those of their own loved ones.

Other kinds of traffic mayhem these Jekylls and Hydes commit include unreasonable speed, driving on the wrong side of the road, improper passing and failure to signal.

But on second thought, we suppose that would be expecting too much. After all, if they don't have sense enough to value their own lives, why would there be any reason for them worrying about the destruction of their automobiles?

Perhaps traffic departments across the nation need to add corps of psychiatrists to their staffs. Maybe these specialists in mental quirks could find out why these bullies of the road act like they do and straighten them out.

The result could be much safer streets and highways for all of us.

A Youth Looks At Delinquency

In recent years, we have been hearing a great deal about juvenile delinquency. Most of our young people are all right but the number of youthful delinquents has shown a steady annual increase until it has become a matter of concern to all serious-minded persons.

Reams have been written and spoken on the causes of juvenile delinquency and what could be done to improve the situation. Much of the criticism and suggestions originates with adults, which is to be expected since they should have a more mature view of things in general and be in a better position to do something if they feel some improvement is needed.

However, we were browsing through some newspapers the other day and came across a little different slant on juvenile delinquency. We got it second hand, since the item we have in mind was picked up by the Claude News from the Amarillo High School paper.

Anyway, the item—an editorial—proved interesting to us and we thought maybe some of our readers would find it interesting, also.

After listing several crimes, committed by young boys, and some of the purported reasons for such occurrences, the editorial brought the matter closer to home by citing the case of a former student of Amarillo High. The article told of his picture appearing in the local newspaper, alongside big black headlines which declared he was in jail for robbery.

The editorial then quoted from a letter he had written to a friend. A portion of the letter follows:

"I don't know what got into me that night we messed up. I never had even thought of doing anything like that before but I just got with the wrong crowd and had to either go along or back out. I don't guess I had the guts to back out, anyway I didn't and that's what counts.

"I guess I messed up Mom and Dad and my little brother, let alone myself. I'm going back to school anyway even if no one talks to me. Maybe everything will turn out all right."

The young editorial writer commented that perhaps this gave "a glimpse into part of the problem. A young boy's life has a mark on it that will never be erased. Remember this letter when you are tempted by friends or that 'wrong crowd' to do something you know isn't the right thing to do."

The editorial concluded, "Will you have what it takes to say NO?"

The chances are that most of today's youthful offenders would never have become involved with the law if they had not gotten in with the "wrong crowd", or had broken away as soon as they found out what kind their associates were.

The growing number of juvenile delinquents attest to the folly of not pursuing such a course.

TOO MUCH TALK

We'd much rather not read so many statements from the big men on the American business scene and in government circles. WORK AND ACHIEVEMENT

The technical definition of work is "the accomplishment of motion or its equivalent against a resisting force." Work then is anything that we accomplish against any resisting force or means of motion due to expended energy.

The results of our work are directly proportioned by the amount of motion or energy we exert. Therefore, whether it be mental or physical energy, our accomplishments are equal to the amount of effort we are willing to put out. It is often said, "We get out of a project or thing what we are willing to put into it."

The things in which we have the maximum amount of interest will receive from us the maximum amount of our energy and effort. A job half done only received half the effort that could have been applied.

Every one of us sees people around us doing a job half way—just to get by. Then on the other hand, we see people who are wholeheartedly producing a job well done to their own entire satisfaction. You can do what you want to do, if you want to do it enough! That is, how much are you willing to do to accomplish the task you have?

FIRST AND SECOND BALES OF COTTON RECEIVED HERE
The first bale of cotton for Memphis this season was brought in last Friday by J. W. Burk of Newlin.

The bale weighed 510 pounds and sold for 2 1/2 cents a pound. Burk also received a premium of $45.50, which was contributed by Memphis businessmen.

The cotton was raised on the Cobb place near Newlin. Burk brought in the first bale last year from the same place.

The second bale, received here this season, was brought in Tuesday by L. Perez, who also lives in the Newlin community. It came from the J. H. Brunley farm. Perez was paid 23 1/2 cents per pound and was given a premium of $24.75.

The cotton opened prematurely because of the drought and heat and the staple was very short. This probably is the earliest a bale of cotton has ever been received.

'Americanism' Is Study Theme At Delphian Meeting

Americanism was the theme when the Delphian Club met in regular session Tuesday, February 16 at 4 p. m. in the home of Mrs. J. L. Barnes. The vice president, Mrs. Weldon McCreary presided.

Mrs. Jim McMurry gave the invocation. A memorial in honor of a beloved member, the late Mrs. H. Prater, was given by Mrs. Sidney Baker.

The story of Independence Hall was told by Mrs. J. L. Barnes. In this fine old building in Philadelphia, the Declaration of Independence was signed by the members of the Continental congress. Completed in the 1750's, it was used by the British as a prison and hospital during their occupation of Philadelphia. It was set aside as a shrine during the Independence Centennial of 1876, by the city of Philadelphia and finally, two years ago, the U. S. assumed custody of the hall. Mrs. Barnes brought out that people from other lands are usually more reverent when in Independence Hall, than are those who have always been free.

Mrs. A. Anisman, speaking on Americanism, brought out the same thought that many of our citizens take the American way of life for granted and at a time when democracy faces its greatest challenge—Communism.

Defining Americanism, she said it is love of country, loyalty to its ideals, determination to defend it against all enemies, pride in and love of our flag, and the desire to preserve our freedom for all our people. You don't have to be born American, but you have to think American to be one, Mrs. Anisman said.

"We are all faced with the fact that it is not too late to preserve our Democracy, if we only have the will to work to save our priceless heritage," she concluded.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members: Mmes. A. Anisman, Sidney Baker, Jack Boone, W. C. Dickey, Henry Hays, C. C. Hodges, Loretta Hutcherson, Hershel Potts, Weldon McCreary, J. S. McMurry, J. W. Stokes, R. H. Wherry, L. L. Thomas, Clyde Smith, Roscoe Brown.

At the meeting, policies of the Texas and American Farm Bureaus will be reviewed and ways and means of executing these policies will be discussed.

The Amarillo session is one of a series of district meetings which are being held all over the state.

Local Scouts Open Camping Program

Scouts of Troop 35 will start their camping program this year with an overnight trip Saturday to a spot somewhere south of Memphis. Scoutmaster Ted Myers announced this week. The Scout leader said he and the boys probably would camp out on Red River.

The Scouts will leave Scout Hall at 4:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon and will return to town by 8 o'clock Sunday morning, Myers said.

Scouts should bring their bedrolls and other camping equipment to the library at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, according to Myers.

The camping trip is being made in preparation for the group's annual camping week at Camp Kiowah. Scouts are now paying their entrance fee for the camp, which amounts to $3.50. They will pay the balance of $9.50 when they leave for Camp Kiowah in June, the Scoutmaster said.

All Scouts are urged to pay their entrance fee as soon as possible as Scouts in the Adobe Walls Council are signing up faster for the camp this year, Myers explained.

tion for the coming year, and Billy Holmes of Shamrock, was elected vice-president. A secretary will be named later.

Louis Saied, outgoing president, and O. M. Cosby, Jr., outgoing secretary, both of Memphis, attended Sunday's meeting, and were presented with trophies for their services to the association during the past year.

Other towns in the association which were represented, were Childress, Quanah, Shamrock, Electra, Vernon, Crowell, Paducah, Pampa and Borger. The Phillips, Frederick and Altus country clubs also are members of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ragsdale and Mrs. J. C. Ragsdale of Pampa were visitors last week end in the home of Mrs. Pearl Massey.

sheriff's officers and highway patrolmen went to the scene to help in the search. Many residents of the area also lent their efforts in trying to find the small boy, Baten said.

The child appeared at the Martin home, about 6:30 o'clock Friday evening, approximately three hours after his disappearance, according to Baten.

The thick dust caused a four-car collision on Highway 287, about 4 miles southeast of Memphis, Friday afternoon. No one was injured seriously according to Baten. All of the automobiles were headed toward Memphis.

The freak mishap was set off when Jonathan Jordan Simmons, of White Deer, slowed his car because of poor visibility. Within seconds, there were four cars piled up on the highway.

The second car was driven by Ernest Fowler of Memphis, the third was driven by Eugene Louis Marak of Pampa, and the fourth automobile was driven by Kirby Beckett of Dallas.

Fowler suffered a minor laceration on the chin, apparently the only injury, Baten said.

Simmons and Beckett were in 1953 Buicks, Fowler was in a 1950 Chevrolet, and Marak was driving a 1949 Mercury station wagon, according to the deputy sheriff.

Dust continued to saturate the air this week, although it was nothing like as thick as on Friday.

Downing's popularity as a speaker is proved by his numerous return engagements.

Tickets for the banquet are $2 per person and may be obtained from any director or at the Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall, according to Farmer.

Banquet guests will be introduced by Combs, and directors and officers will be introduced by Howell. Past presidents will be recognized by Galley.

Mrs. Richard Highfill will provide special music.

Panhandle Girls Basketball Champs

The Panhandle girls basketball team defeated the McLean sextet here Monday night, to win the championship of District 1A. The score was 57-52.

The tournament started Thursday morning in the Memphis High School gymnasium and was supposed to be finished Saturday night. However, Friday's dust-storm caused the schedule to be changed, the result being that play was not completed until Monday evening.

The Memphis boys wound up their season Tuesday night, with a 37-35 victory over the squad from Estelline.

Grover Moss Files For City Alderman

Jordan Bribery Suit Is Quashed

A bribery suit against Olden Jordan, former city policeman in the Morningside Addition, was dropped here last Thursday, on motion of Allen Harp of Childress, district attorney, according to Deputy Sheriff Bill Baten. The case was being tried in the 100th Judicial District Court, presided over by District Judge Luther Gribble of Wellington.

Jordan was charged with accepting a bribe from Ivory Boyd, after agreeing to permit Boyd to operate a gaming house in Morningside.

The suit was quashed when Boyd and Lula Tyler, operators of the place, admitted under questioning, that Jordan was a partner.

Jordan, 34 years old, had been out on a $2,500 bond. He is now reported to be living on the Plains.

Vincennes, first settled in 1727 is the oldest city in Indiana.

greeted by outstanding improvement. The second graphs showed the club members and farmers had made much progress.

The graphs from each of the five 4-H clubs in Hall County were collected from each community and a county graph was made for Hall County. The county graph showed the following achievements: 455 families reported that they had removed fire hazards; 322 families using information on preventing farm and home accidents; 45 more 4-H Club members reported installing first aid boxes in their homes; and 322 families reported using safety-first methods.

The three principles we used were as follows: recognize the hazard; remove the hazard; and use caution when hazards cannot be entirely removed.

At follow-up meetings, club members studied the safety program, fire hazards, and other hazards from the charts. Each farmer was pleased to hear about the safety project program, and many of them assisted the club members with the survey and corrected the hazards.

Fire Prevention Week was observed by club members throughout the county. The fire prevention and safety programs carried on in the 4-H Clubs and in the homes in Hall County this year
