This area had about every kind of weather imaginable the past week. Wind and dust came Thursday afternoon and continued Friday, followed by cooler weather Saturday, and warming temperatures Sunday. ## Memphis Firemen Help In Controlling Clarendon Blaze

A 700-gallon pumper truck made the 27-mile dash from Memphis to Clarendon early Sunday morning to help firefighters of the latter city bring the most disastrous blaze in the community's history under control. The truck from the Memphis Fire Department was in charge of Fire Chief Thomas Clayton.

Memphis firemen were summoned when two 500-gallon Clarendon pumps could do no better than hold the fire. After the Memphis group arrived, the blaze was soon extinguished and only smoke curled above the burned out area by 5 a. m., after raging about four hours.

The estimated $125,000 fire destroyed the Leader Department Store, the American Legion Hall and injured two Clarendon firemen, Paul Schull and Bill Gerner. Damage to the store and merchandise was estimated at more than $75,000 by S. S. Degais, one of the firm's two partners.

The other partner, S. D. Saied, collapsed after learning of the fire. The Clarendon Press, a commercial printing shop, Chas. Business Service, George's Cleaners, and the J. Lee Department Store, all suffered extensive smoke and water damage.

'Cotton John' Is Emcee Of Program At Memphis High

Members of the Hall County Farm Bureau will kick off a county-wide membership drive at a meeting in the Memphis High School auditorium, Monday night, according to Joyce Webster, program chairman.

Cotton John Smith, farm editor of radio station KGNC at Amarillo, will be master of ceremonies at the session, which is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 o'clock.

The program will include a speech by Sam Allen of Hillsboro, state Farm Bureau field man, and music by members of the local high school band. Light refreshments are expected to be served.

Farmers and their families, and the general public, are invited to be present. Harold Hodges, president of the Hall County Farm Bureau, in a pre-membership drive statement declared that during the depression of the 1930's, the Farm Bureau was "primarily responsible for much of the farm legislation that benefited agriculture."

Hodges said that accomplishments in which the organization played a leading or important role were the first AAA program, the (Continued on Page 12)

Further plans had not been decided on Tuesday, Davis said.

Memphis Civic Leader Dies Here Last Thursday Night

Death last Thursday night claimed the life of Frank Neal Foxhall, Memphis community builder, business leader and churchman.

Mr. Foxhall, 86 years old, died about 10 p. m. at his home here shortly after suffering a heart attack. He had been a leader in all phases of community life since coming here from Jacksboro with his family, June 16, 1918.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church here. Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, pastor, was in charge. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, under direction of Murphy-Spicer Funeral Home.

Tall and of commanding appearance, Mr. Foxhall retained an active interest in affairs of Memphis and the world at large, to the last. After moving to Memphis, he became co-owner and president of the Memphis Cotton Oil Mill Company. The firm was sold to the Anderson-Clayton Company in 1945.

Mr. Foxhall was a past president of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association and took special pride in a silver loving cup awarded by the association, for producing the highest quality cottonseed cake in Texas. Although of a quiet nature, he was a friendly man and was personally acquainted with nearly all employees of the oil mill and its 22 cotton gins. While heading the company, he kept in daily touch with its operations by travel and by telephone. With the aid of telephone operators here, he was able to contact everyone of the 22 gins in as little as 30 minutes, on some occasions. His policy of forming partnerships between the oil mill and in-

The special session of the legislature, called for the purpose of upping teachers' salaries and upping taxes to pay the increase, is finding hard sledding. Numerous bills have been filed and committees have been studying them before submitting to the full house for approval or disapproval.

Various resources are under consideration for raising money by taxing. Among them being gas, and oil. Oil is already bearing a good share of the tax burden, while gas is bearing only a small percent of that borne by oil. A bill was introduced Tuesday to empower the railroad commission to set a fair price on gas as a means of equalizing the prices paid by pipeline companies to the royalty owners, and also as a means of conserving such valuable resource as gas. In the Panhandle field alone, many inequities exist. Royalty owners are getting various prices at the wells—less than 3 cents and not more than 9 cents per thousand cubic feet. Just over the line in Oklahoma the state has set 10 cents as a minimum. Result: Pipelines are taking most of their gas from Panhandle fields and saving the (Continued on Page 12)

Americans Getting Soft

More and more is being heard from various sources that Americans of all ages are getting increasingly soft, as a result of our modern, pampered life. Because of this, thoughtful people throughout the nation are becoming concerned about the effect this physical decline may have on the future of our country.

Gone are the days when many inhabitants of the United States worked long, hard hours. The strenuous work might leave them exhausted at the end of the day but the miles of walking and the physical labor which they did, strengthened their bodies.

People didn't have labor-saving devices back in those days but instead had to do much of their work by hand. And they didn't jump in a car whenever they wished to go somewhere, even if it were only a block or two away.

We're certainly not against modern American life and the conveniences that are a part of it, because we probably enjoy them and are glad to have them as much as anybody.

But, maybe it's time we should depend on and use them less and exercise our bodies more, in order that we, as a nation, can be stronger and healthier. The future of our nation may rest on our adjusting ourselves to a more strenuous life.

Some people may say, "We do all right in competition with other nations, so why change?"

That may have been true in the past but the situation appears to be changing, for communist Russia and its satellites are steadily assuming a more dominant role.

If this were true only of sports, it would not be too bad, although being human—and on top of that, Americans—we always like to win.

But we know that communist leaders' plans are to eventually spread their control over all the world. Superior strength and ability to withstand hardships and continue labors over a prolonged period could be the factors which determined the winner, if we and the communist world ever came to grips. If so, the communists likely would come out on top, because their way of life is certainly more demanding than ours.

An article in a recent United States News & World Report showed that youngsters of some European nations, although having fewer advantages of modern civilization, were stronger. Russia was not one of the nations included in the report but there is no reason that we can see, why youths of that country should differ greatly from others in Europe.

The article stated that the military services, the medical profession and school officials of the United States are all concerned over mental and physical weaknesses of American youths which have been detected in various tests.

The decline in physical strength has been blamed on two things—the growing luxury of American life and the lack of substitutes for the body-building exercise that work or harsher living conditions provided in former times.

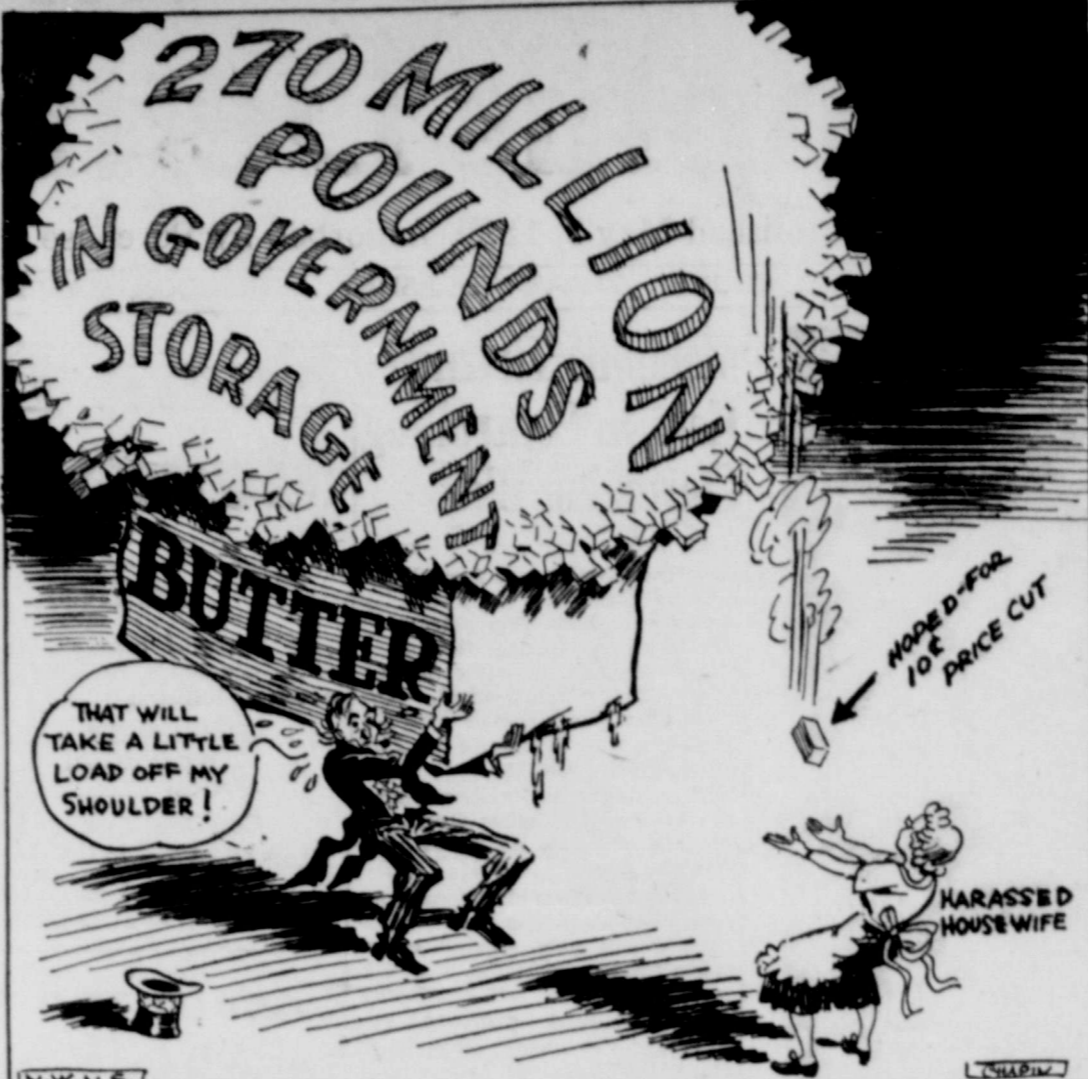

Military leaders of the United States question whether this country can afford to risk any further increase in physical defects among the young men upon which it must depend on as future fighters, when our sources of manpower already are much smaller than those of Russia and Red China.

In addition, doctors and school officials are disturbed by muscular decline of youngsters because they think this could lead to other physical troubles, and likely, to mental troubles, also.

If all this is true—and there should be little doubt that it is, since it is readily apparent that we ARE living easier lives today—than we had better start "toughening up" for our own sakes and for the good of our country.

OFFICIALS' MEETINGS

This is good government month in Texas. It is the month in which the responsibility of the individual citizen is stressed. His responsibility to his city, school district and county as well as to his state and nation. Some of the pertinent questions asked of the citizen in searching for his attitudes are: Have you ever been to city hall or attended a meeting of your city council? Have you ever been in a meeting of the commissioners court? The answer of most citizens is no. And therein lies some of the weakness of the kind of government we have. As a matter of fact the city's affairs are our affairs. So are the affairs of the school district and the county. We all know this. We all know it is our city school district, county and state. It is our government. We all know we are by right welcome at all of the meetings of these governing bodies. But the Hesperian takes up for the average citizen in this respect, that he would feel embarrassed walking in on a council meeting, on a school board in session, or barging in on the commissioners court unless he has something definite to say to them. Generally their gathering are around a consultation table and in conversational tones. No body gets up and makes a speech. There isn't any way for one to keep from feeling slightly embarrassed, as though he were butting in on the matter, possibly slowing down the wheels. So, if he goes once, he doesn't go again. He stays away. That may not be true of all citizens. Many of them may not care. But many of them do care, many of them are interested. More than the council, the school board or the commissioner court may realize.

DROUTH CHALLENGE MET

Although Hamlin area farmers and ranchers have felt some relief from the ravages of three years of drouth, the future outlook is none too bright with acreage controls, dips in the prices of livestock and high levels of labor costs.

But, typical of the type of farmer and rancher who has been noted for his ability to meet emergencies by changing his methods, increasing the fertility of the soil and otherwise purchasing equipment that provides for economics of production, the aver-sage area son of the soil has managed to find ways and means to cope with drouths and other discouraging circumstances. Even in this period of stress, he will meet the emergency and manage to come out on top.

Such resourcefulness of purpose and ability to meet the emergencies are the contributing factors that make this West Texas region such a stable one during periods of stress.

Gardeners Advised To Kill White Grubs Which Are Found In Large Quantities

Following is another in a series of garden hints to home gardeners on the Plains of Texas. The author is Dr. George F. Moseley, professor of horticulture at Texas Tech.

When spring vegetable gardens are being prepared, it is important to check for white grubs. If they are found in large quantities, they should be killed. This can be done by spraying the lawn area, or it can be done by hand-picking them. The author is Dr. George F. Moseley, professor of horticulture at Texas Tech.

One of the most nerve-racking problems the gardener faces in the spring is the turning of the soil. For, as certain night and day, he will find white grub wrigglers crawling back into the soil. This does damage to all crops. The grub, which hatched last year, is between three and one inch long. It has a head a large dark-gray spot on the upper surface of its abdomen. It is curled up in the soil. The larva stage of the grub beetle which bothered you last July while you sat in the shade under the back yard light.

In West Texas, 99 per cent of lawns and flower gardens have white grubs. Don't be surprised to find 30 to 40 per square foot in many samples taken at Texas Tech. In some places, grubs have run 75 per square foot. Grubs don't live long with a dense grub population. 10 to 15 per square foot is a cause for alarm.

Fortunately, we have insecticides to control the white grub. They are very effective and will stay in the soil for many months. The widely used chemical is DDT, available at any chemical supply house. Use at the rate of 10 pounds per acre. Stronger does no harm—but also won't do a better job.

At 40x50-foot lawn (2,000 sq. ft.) equals about one-tenth of an acre and will need about a pound of Aldrin. Aldrin is sold by the gallon. 2,000 square feet of lawn will need four-fifths of a gallon concentrate. Placed in a shallow trench, it will be carried to the roots of the plants.

Welch Gets Large From Services

Welch's mother, Mrs. Welch of Memphis, is also in California. A brief visit there, Mr. Welch will be at home in Memphis. Mr. Welch plans to attend to his business in the U. 400 pounds per acre. Getting back to the production of better home garden, here are a few reminders: (1) It is TOO LATE to plant garden peas for best quality and yields. (2) It is NOT too late to plant other hardy vegetables, but the longer you wait, the poorer the quality and yield. (3) Wait until April 1 if you plan to seed cucumbers, canteloupes or watermelons indoors for transplanting in your garden later. Growing transplants and transplanting this group of crop is a tricky operation but will enable earlier yields.

WEEDING OUT ACCIDENTS

Ever stop to think how much time a farmer spends in weeding operations? It's not just a question of getting rid of unwanted plant growths in the fields. It also involves weeding out inefficient farm methods, cutting down high production costs and eliminating unprofitable crops and livestock.

Right now, during the winter "slack season," another weeding job is in order. It is time to weed out accident hazards in the barnyard.

Many a farm barn is just one big Pandora's box full of accidents waiting to happen. When winter stops field work and the farmer spends most of his time attending to chores in the barn, these accidents begin to multiply. The newspapers report them every day.

The first job is to find these accident hazards. Some of them may have remained unnoticed for years. If so, then some housecleaning is necessary.

If alleyways or work areas are obstructed with feed, stools, carts or other obstacles, locate a safe place for them. A "barked" shin is painful, but misplaced implements can lead to more serious accidents. A storage rack should be constructed for pitchforks, scrapers and other barn cleaning tools.

Loft doors, feed chutes, ladders and stairways can be real booby traps for the unwary. Ladders or stairwells should never be used as hay chutes. A well-constructed, clean stairway with strong handrails provide the safest and easiest passage to hay mows. When it is necessary to use a ladder, see that it extends well above the loft floor and that it is kept in good condition.

Another good rule is "never work in the dark." Fumbling around in dimly lighted work areas is really asking for trouble. Good lights properly placed not only help prevent accidents but also speed up the work.

Finally, observe a "no smoking" rule around the barn. And always be on guard for fires.

Sufficient Sleep Important Part Of Healthy Living

AUSTIN—Sufficient sleep is an important part of healthy living. Adequate sleep helps you to feel well, and builds up your resistance to diseases declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. An occasional night of too little sleep will not hurt you. However, when you habitually go from day to day without enough sleep, damaging results are felt.

In addition to ruining your disposition, insufficient sleep plays havoc with your coordination and timing. Workers who are short of sleep and rest tend to be accident prone. Some men who try to hold an extra-time job to increase the family income, have paid a heavy penalty in damaged health and accidents.

Good sleeping habits take practice. It's like anything else you do. No one can learn to become an expert swimmer, just reading about various strokes. You have to spend many hours practicing to become a good swimmer.

Listening to the radio, watching television, or working on hobbies that persons are loathe to quit are sometimes causes of staying up too late. Late entertaining also cut out many hours of sleep. A regular time and routine for getting ready for bed will help put you in the mood for sleep. The routine may mean reading the evening newspaper or a light story after you are ready for bed. Or it may be listening to soft music just before you turn out the lights and snuggle under the covers.

A regular routine for getting children to bed also helps put them in the mood for sleep. It helps when mothers are relaxed and pleasant when it's the children's bedtime. After reading them a quiet, pleasant story, the children will probably be ready to turn out the light and fall asleep. This helps form good sleeping habits, which mean much to a child's health. Young children need lots of sleep—about twelve hours for the preschool youngsters, and nine to ten hours for older children.

Your Senator Reports

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

SAVE SOIL, WATER: Principal points of an upstream water control bill Congressman Bob Poage introduced in the House and I introduced in the Senate are included in legislation passed recently by the House.

It provides for Department of Agriculture cooperation with a state, or any political subdivision authorized by the state, in carrying out such flood prevention projects as correct treatment, gully plugs, detention dams, and the like. Object is to stop water close to the point where it falls—for use as needed.

This is an important water and soil conservation measure.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM: Administration's proposed legislative program is moving slowly.

The farm bill is still before House and Senate committees, as this is written, and so are proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act. Nothing at all has been done as yet about a foreign trade bill, a major Administration project. The bill to expand the Social Security program is scheduled for committee hearings. A factor throwing the timetable off balance has been the urgent demand for tax reduction. My mail from Texas reflects that demand.

AIR ACADEMY: Chances that the Air Academy will be located in Texas were improved when the Senate adopted our Amendment providing that if board members named to survey possible sites agree unanimously, their choice must be accepted. If members are divided, AF Secretary must select one of their three top choices.

POSTAL WORKERS: I met recently with a fine bunch of Texas postal workers—around 50 of them. They were here to discuss proposals that employees of the Post Office Department receive a pay raise. Their approach to the subject was notably fair and reasonable. They made me feel proud of our Government and its employees.

I hope and believe Congress can work out an equitable plan for a pay raise for the hard-working postal employees. They need it. They deserve it.

NO SURPRISE: Texans were not surprised that Bob Anderson of Vernon, Secretary of the Navy has been picked as Deputy Secretary of Defense, No. 2 position in the Defense Department. Secretary Anderson, although still a young man, has been doing big jobs in Texas for years—and doing them in top-flight fashion.

Winston Montgomery of Lubbock returned home Sunday after a visit here with his father, S. S. Montgomery, which began Friday. S. S. Montgomery had been in a local hospital several days but went home Saturday.

GREAT NEW GASOLINES

New Blending Formula

- 1 Adds Premium Qualities to NEW SHAMROCK TRAIL MASTER Giving Users of Regular Gasoline Extra Performance at No Extra Cost.
- 2 Makes NEW SHAMROCK CLOUD MASTER the Finest Premium Gasoline For Superior Performance in High Compression Engines

For All Motorists

The Shamrock station near you now has in its pumps two of the world's finest motor fuels. This means that regardless of the make or model of your car one of the new Shamrock gasolines will give you MORE POWER... BETTER PERFORMANCE... GREATER ECONOMY... and, for no more than you would pay for any other leading brand of gasoline. Vitally important to the performance of your car is controlled volatility. Shamrock controls the volatility of the new gasolines with a wide range of light and heavy fractions... fractions that assure quick starts... clean burning, plus more mileage, more power and better performance. This careful control means that these new Shamrock gasolines will meet the varying requirements of your car from season to season. As a bonus... Shamrock gives you truly outstanding anti-knock qualities. Shamrock anti-knock qualities are now raised far above the requirements of the most powerful engines put in today's cars.

New TRAIL MASTER

Shamrock's New Trail Master is the performance-plus motor fuel for users of regular gasoline. It costs no more than regular gasoline yet gives the anti-knock, extra-power features you expect only in a more expensive, premium gasoline. New Trail Master offers the drivers of cars with lower compression engines all the performance advantages of recent gasoline improvements without requiring that he pay for a full premium gasoline. If you want the most from your car, get the best gasoline for lower compression engines... Shamrock's New Trail Master... the new, budget-wise gasoline with premium qualities.

New CLOUD MASTER

Today's powerful, high compression automobile engines make strong demands on the gasoline they use. But as a result of Shamrock's new blending formula, New Shamrock Cloud Master not only meets these requirements but far exceeds them. Shamrock Cloud Master... octane rating high enough to positively eliminate even trace knock... octane rating high enough to ensure the quickest starts, fastest warm-up, the greatest power and the smoothest performance your car was designed to deliver. No matter what kind of car you drive, if the engine knocks when using Shamrock Cloud Master Premium, there is something wrong with your engine.

One of these new gasolines is exactly right for your car. A series of distillation tests carefully check the volatility of Shamrock, making certain that it meets the requirements of the new blending formula. Special knock-test engines establish definitely that the new gasoline is of such high octane rating that there is no chance of your engine knocking. Not only can an engine knock waste a portion of every tank of gasoline you use, but the effect of the knock can seriously damage the engine itself. Other tests prove the absence of gum forming copper and corrosive sulphur. These new gasolines are the result of the development of two new fuels, each to fill a specific need of the motoring public. If there is any doubt in your mind about which of the two new gasolines you should use, consult your nearby Shamrock dealer. He is there to help you get the most mileage and best performance possible from your car.

Game And Fish Personnel To Guard Whooping Cranes Northward Sweep

AUSTIN—Field personnel will help "convoy" the annual spring sweep northward of the small remaining flock of Whooping Cranes. Howard G. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, said.

Instructions emphasize maximum protection for the majestic cranes, which are the largest North American birds alive, and also stress accumulation of data as to route taken and any stopovers.

Scientists have been striving to chart the exact path used by the giant birds on their way to and from nesting grounds in the far north. The route they take has been narrowed to less than two hundred miles and leads almost straight northward from their ancestral wintering habitat on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast. The route apparently veers slightly to the west.

The executive secretary said recognition by national and international authorities has been given to the vast network of protectionists set up along the Whoopers' flyway. This vast lookout, stretching for hundreds of miles, was prompted by the gradual decrease in the Whooper population, partly from losses to firearms in the hands of unthinking hunters.

Down on the Coast, Julian Howard, refuge manager, and as such official winter keeper of the big birds, said he is ready to deliver back north all twenty-four of the Whoopers that arrived in November. The flock gained three new members last nesting season.

Takeoff time probably will be in late March, as a dramatic climax to Nature's annual birdlife migration.

Howard's staff has been occupied enforcing a new rule making the Whoopers' habitat out of bounds to the general public purely as a security measure. They also helped record some of the Whoopers' distinctive calls.

But Howard and his crew again failed in a high priority assignment. That is to determine that actual diet of the birds. They do feed in shallow water on small crustaceans such as crabs and fish. But they also feed on land. During the winter, some of the Whoopers spent considerable time in the brush, apparently eating berries or small mammals such as mice, toads and insects.

Before long the mammoth white birds, with bare red crown, black legs and yellow bill, will mysteriously disappear, along with their secrets, destined for another seven months in the far north.

Persons Past 65 Are Urged To File SSA Applications

Persons past 65 years of age who continue in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security Act often delay filing application for monthly payments until they actually retire from covered employment. Since they are still paying the social security tax they feel that they are increasing the amount of their eventual monthly payment by delaying the filing of an application.

According to J. R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, such a delay can possibly result in a decrease rather than an increase in a person's retirement pay. He points out that monthly payments are based on average monthly earnings. This average can decrease as well as increase after age 65. The average is figured as of only two dates: The time the person is 65 years of age and has minimum employment to be entitled to payments, and as of the time he finally files application.

Sanderson, therefore, advises anyone who is now past 65 and earning less than his average earnings have been for the past 3 years to contact his office. Anyone who is now at least 65 years of age and earned at least $3600 per year in 1951, 1952 and 1953 can file now and be entitled to maximum payments when he does retire. For such a person delay in filing cannot increase his payments, whereas such a delay can possibly result in a decrease.

Dr. O. R. Goodall and son, Lt. Sim Goodall who is here on leave, returned home Monday after visiting in Meridian, San Benito and Austin.

While in Austin Dr. Goodall attended a meeting of the Texas Private Hospital and Clinic Association held at the Texas Hotel on Saturday. He is a member of the Constitution and By Laws Committee. While there Sim visited with Sheldon Anisman, who is a student at Texas University.

In Meridian they visited with Dr. Goodall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Goodall and in San Benito with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Weaver.

Sensible Use Of Boats Is Urged By State Official

AUSTIN—The annual spring fishermen's rush to the state's lakes and streams calls for adherence to boat safety rules, Howard D. Dodgen, the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, says.

Dodgen said several reminders already have been reported in the form of fatal or near fatal aquatic accidents.

The executive secretary suggested that fishermen remember that a comparatively new cause of boating tragedies is in over-powering small craft. He said some persons use motors too large for their boat or else use two smaller motors which throw the craft out of balance.

Dodgen said concern has been expressed by authorities on the Gulf Coast over persons from inland points using their own equipment to fish in the Gulf. "This is perfectly safe where the fishermen know their boats and know their waters," he said, "but occasional trouble indicates that some fishermen are ill-equipped to meet conditions in the Gulf which can become more of a problem than those in the comparatively quiet fresh water areas."

He cited a recent case where four men from a distant place took off in Laguna Madre, south of Corpus Christi. Bad weather upset their 12 foot boat. One of the quartet perished in the cold water before help arrived.

The executive secretary suggested that "an improvement in motor boating manners can work to the advantage of many persons enjoying the water."

He said he particularly sought the indulgence of "folks just out for the ride." He asked them to remember that others on the water "are in the serious business of trying to catch a fish and therefore need privacy and quiet."

Dodgen said that many times the fishermen "not only are disturbed but their very lives are endangered by swift crafts cutting too close to their anchored boats."

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

Tax Fight In The House
The tax revision and reduction law, was considered on March 17 and 18, as it would be in last week's bill. The bill contained 820 pages (small print). The committee report on the bill was issued on March 9th. This is the first opportunity that Congress had to read this complex and intricate piece of legislation that has been debated and voted on in ten days after it was passed. If you want to appreciate the House which was faced with these bills, try reading and understanding a 1200 page bill in ten days, and doing all of the other work during that period. It is no small chore. And it is remembered that these bills will be the subject of legislation for years and years. There will be thousands of words and volumes of testimony and conclusions on single sections of this law.

be done in that manner. However, the bill as written gives the $100 deduction, and more, to those receiving their income from stock dividends, but does not give this relief to those earning their income. I have supported tax relief when possible, to be given to people, share and share alike. I do not feel that favoritism should be shown any particular group in granting tax relief. The tax bill contained many excellent provisions and many much needed revisions. It also contained a number of provisions that I think will prove very harmful some of which have been with us in the past and were continued in this bill. It is now in the Senate, and what will happen to it there is anybody's guess.

The Senate has put a new face on the excise tax reduction bill that may prove highly controversial when it comes back to the House. Whatever happens to either or both of these bills, I sincerely hope that out of all the fuss and furor will come a stimulation of our economy, an increased circulation of our medium of exchange that will result in our being able to balance the national budget and make appreciable payments on the principal of the national debt. If such results are not early indicated, the Congress and the Executive Department should lose no time in taking a new look to carry out this purpose.

Washington Investigations

The tragedy of the chaos, the confusion, the agitation, and the general hubbub growing out of present investigations lies not in the fact that one individual may be proved right or wrong. It lies in the fact that we in this country are engaging in an internal bickering and strife that is not helping us to achieve the goal to which all true Americans are dedicated. Internal bickering and strife, like wars between nations, do not solve the problems. It creates them. Political, economic and other problems are usually resolved by a cool, calculated and reasonable approach tempered with thought provoking discussion or debate, not with fanfare, trumpet blowing, name calling and vilification.

An Honors Day program will be held at 9:50 a. m. Saturday in Hog Auditorium. Dr. T. V. Smith of Syracuse University, a visiting professor of philosophy at the University of Texas, will be principal speaker at the program honoring scholarship and citizenship of outstanding students and organizations.

The Texas Cowboys, campus service organization, will hold their annual Round-Up banquet Sunday at 1 p. m. in the Austin Hotel.

Tips On Obtaining More Light Given By Home Expert

COLLEGE STATION—Thrifty minded families are finding that it's the "little things" around home that help trim the rough edges from their tightening budgets.

With this in mind, Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist, offers homemakers several tips on how to get more light from the same amount of electric power.

Mrs. Claytor points out that colored electric light bulbs absorb up to one-third of the light they produce and should not be used except for decorating purposes.

Replace dark or dingy lamp shades with white or some other light colored shade. Dark colors absorb light; light colors reflect.

Use one high-wattage bulb Mrs. Claytor says, instead of several smaller ones. For example, she adds, a 100-watt bulb furnishes 50 percent more light than four 25-watt bulbs, yet uses the same power.

She also recommends flared lamp shades over the drum type. Flared shades spread light over a larger area.

Lastly, the specialist says, keep the light source as near your work as possible. However, there should be no glare, direct or indirect, in the eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Herby Shahan of Abilene visited here over the weekend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Goodall. Mr. Shahan returned to Abilene Sunday while Mrs. Shahan remained for a longer visit.

Postal Receipts In February Above 1953

AUSTIN—February postal receipts at 122 Texas post offices were 5 per cent more than in the same period last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

February receipts were only 5 per cent less than January, the smallest month-to-month decline since last July-August. La Grange showed the greatest February gain 61 per cent, followed by Giddings 31 per cent. Largest declines were registered at Gilmer, 49 per cent; Cuero, 39 per cent; and Gatesville and Lampasas, both 37 per cent.

Killeen had the largest February-to-February gain, 64 per cent.

Mrs. W. R. Durham returned home Sunday after visiting for the past week in Amarillo with her daughter, Mrs. Bob Phipps and family and other relatives.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hightower were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hightower and baby of Fort Worth, Mrs. S. M. Reed and Mrs. H. M. Phillips of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Welch and Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Combs of Lubbock visited here over the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Combs. Mrs. Combs also visited with her grand mother, Mrs. W. R. Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. Exie Sweatt visited Sunday in Borger with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Galloway, and family.

Teaching Research Needs More Money

AUSTIN—Texas must spend more money for research on teaching methods if quality of instruction is to be improved, University of Texas Education Dean L. D. Haskew declared.

"We can't expect quality if we are not willing to pay the price of finding out how to get quality," he told a College of Education convocation commemorating the centennial of Texas public education.

Less than $100,000 per year is spent for research on Texas education, far less than is spent for research on grass, natural resources and other state commodities, Dean Haskew said.

Farm Bureau

REA, the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of 1936, the Marketing Agreements Act of 1937, and the Agricultural Act of 1938. The latter act established the parity principle in national farm legislation, Hodges explained.

The county Farm Bureau president continued that in 1941, the organization was able to get the parity level raised to 85 per cent, and during World War II secured legislation, guaranteeing parity prices for crops, on which production had been increased to meet war needs.

"In 1948," said Hodges, "the organization secured passage of a long range farm program, with a modernized parity formula, assuring farmers of realistic price supports. . . . Later, the Farm Bureau was responsible for the defeat of the Brannan Plan which sought to place farmers and ranchers squarely under government regimentation action."

On the state level, the Texas Farm Bureau has been representing agriculture at Austin since the 1930's, also and has been successful in securing a rural road program, Hodges said.

Other accomplishments have included defeat of several attempts to take away the tractor gas refund, as well as proposed increase of the gasoline sales tax.

Hodges said that Farm Bureau members are proud of their organization's record but are looking to the future. To this end, members want an organization that will be even better in the years to come, which explains why drives for new members, such as the one to be inaugurated Monday night, are made, Hodges declared.

word. He was a real Community Builder.

It is nice to know that when you help somebody up a hill you are a little nearer the top yourself.

My, but the scientists are continually coming up with new gadgets that are beneficial to mankind. Last week's LIFE announced a new medical measuring machine developed by doctors in the Baylor Hospital, Dallas. It has been named "Physiograph" and in the space of 10 minutes provide doctors with a complete record of nine body functions. The machine is particularly useful for the examination of sick people who cannot or shouldn't be moved about much. What a boon to the ailing people this machine should prove to be, if and when clinics all are provided with them. No more tedious waiting and coming back day after day to take another test, when all nine can be had in as many minutes!
