County Is Allotted $35,400 For Wind Erosion Control

Hall County has been allotted $35,400 for emergency wind erosion control, according to Lynn L. McKown, manager of the Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here. This is the program which was recommended by the governors of five drought states and announced by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson on May 6.

The Emergency Wind Erosion Control Program will be administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee and all payments for participation in the program will be paid through the local ASC County Office. Anyone wishing to participate in the program should contact the local ASC Office and make application. Cost of wind erosion control will be shared only if the practice was started on or after March 31 of this year, and if cost sharing is requested before June 1, of this year, by the farm or ranch operator, or before the date on which performance of the practice is started.

Robert Hodges Star Farmer Of Greenbelt District

Robert Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodges of the Pliska community, recently was named District Star Farmer of the Greenbelt District of the Future Farmers of America. The district is comprised of 12 area communities.

The honor awarded to Hodges signifies that he has had the most outstanding or balanced supervised farming program among 455 boys, taking vocational agriculture in the district. In making the selection, records of all livestock and crop projects were compared with those of boys in other competing schools.

While in high school, Robert has had cotton, grain sorghum, beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine and poultry projects. He has kept all (Continued on page 12)

In making the request, telephone company representatives declared that higher rates are needed because revenues of the utility have not kept pace with expenses, because of rises in wages, taxes, materials and equipment, and as a consequence the Memphis exchange is being operated at a loss, amounting to $4,120.13 a year. Loss for the year, ending Sept. 30, 1953, was placed at $7,535.52.

Continuing, the representatives listed average increases as 150 per cent on materials and equipment, 170 per cent on wages, and 116 per cent on federal income tax. On the other hand, they said that since 1930, telephone rates (Continued on Page 12)

Contracts For 256 And 70 Gaps Slated

Contracts for completing highway gaps between Memphis and Silverton and Turkey and Silverton will be let at the July meeting of the Texas Highway Commission in Austin, according to Clifford Farmer, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and the Hall County Board of Development. Farmer was told this Saturday, during a conversation with Palmer Massey of Childress, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department.

Engineering has been completed on both stretches, Massey told Farmer. However, this work was finished too late for bids to be let before July.

One of the gaps is on State Highway 256, about 35 miles southwest of Memphis, and is about nine miles in length. The other is a short stretch on State Highway 70. The latter will link a section now under construction north from Turkey, to the Memphis-Silverton highway. Both of the gaps are in Briscoe County, just west of the Hall County line.

Massey said that work on contracts, let this time of the year, should begin with little delay and make speedy progress, since weather should prove no problem.

He explained that recent rains had permitted work on the highway north from Turkey to be speeded up, as earth was now

A good-sized crowd turned out here Monday night for the fifth annual presentation of the Junior Olympics of the Memphis public schools in Cyclone Stadium. The weather was just about right, competition was spirited and everyone apparently had a pleasure-packed evening.

FURNITURE BUILDER—Frankye Lynn Srygley, of Memphis, freshman at West Texas State College, points with pride at the beautiful mahogany buffet which she recently completed.

Local Girl Cited For Ability In Woodwork

A Memphis girl who is a freshman in West Texas State College at Canyon recently completed a piece of furniture which her instructor describes as comparable to better quality products sold in stores today.

The young lady is Frankye Lynn Srygley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clent Srygley. Working in a field of endeavor which usually is thought of primarily as a man's, Frankye Lynn made a buffet of Philippine Mahogany, trimmed with antique brass pulls. The buffet has been on display outside woodwork class rooms in the basement of the Administration Building at the college.

Miss Srygley enrolled in the beginner's course in woodworking last fall, and after obtaining her teacher's permission, started work on the buffet. Many hours of (Continued On Page 12)

At long last people of this area are back to normal. It's amazing how good rains change the whole outlook on life.

A note to Pinky Cagle and Mary Winston Montgomery Hirdler: Cagle's address is Box 17675, Los Angeles, 34, Calif., and Mary Winston's address is 2593 Armacost Avenue, Los Angeles, 64, Calif. The reason I am mentioning this is that both are readers of The Democrat and Mary Winston wants the address of Cagle, so she can include him when she issues invitations to Memphis folks living in California to attend get-together functions. She says the next party will be a steak fry July 11, and writes such parties are a lot of fun.

It will be a lot of fun to watch vegetation strut its stuff the next few weeks. Why not the whole town shut up shop for two weeks? Farmers will be busy at home and town folks could all take a vacation by visiting kinfolks somewhere else, and not have to buy any grub during that time.

WASHINGTON BOUND—Sandy Smith of Memphis, is shown as he boards plane at Amarillo Sunday to fly to Washington, D. C., where he competed today in the National Spelling Bee finals. Accompanying him for the week's stay in the nation's Capital was his father, Mrs. Paul Smith. Wishing Sandy luck in the national spelling contest is his father. Smith won the regional spelling bee at Amarillo the latter part of February. If he wins the national event, he will receive $500 in cash, a loving cup and an extra $100 for expenses on a weekend visit to New York City. While in Washington, he will see such points of interest as the White House, the Capitol, the Washington Monument and Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters.

Your Senator Reports

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

ONE BASIC ISSUE: More and more it becomes glaringly apparent that the age in which we live poses one basic question, and one only.

That question is whether free, representative government—the kind of government we have in the United States—can survive. Every other issue, whatever its nature, is secondary.

The manner in which this issue is settled will determine whether our young men must go again to war—whether our children will have a future of freedom or a future of slavery—whether we, as a Nation, are in the twilight of our destiny or at the threshold of a better tomorrow.

NO MEETING PLACE: There is no common ground for a meeting of minds between the adherents of communism and those who believe in the American system of freedom in government, freedom of enterprise, and individual freedom.

Communism stands for slavery. Americanism stands for liberty. Communists believe in an all-powerful state. Americans believe in the importance of the individual.

On all counts, the conflict between communism and Americanism is fundamental in nature. Recognition of that fact is, it seems to me, the beginning of wisdom in dealing with the menace of communism.

A STRONG AMERICA: The American policy toward communism should be—must be—based firmly upon our strengths, not waveringly upon our weaknesses.

Our strengths are many. They include an industrial capacity that is the envy of the world. They include a people who are bold, vigorous, and skilled in modern technology. They include a civilization which has the potential ability to lead the world to peace and freedom.

AN IDEA, AN IDEAL: These are indeed great points of strength. There is one other still greater.

That is the idea of liberty. The idea of liberty—the ideal of freedom—has a powerful appeal to the hearts of mankind. Surely, as a people we can make that appeal more compelling to all the world than the false promises of communism.

EVER VIGILANT: We must never cease to be alert to the threat of the communist ideology to all that we have come to consider typically American.

We must steadfastly refuse to coddle communists at home. We must strongly oppose the courting of communists abroad.

We must guard and protect the secrets of our atomic weapons in order that they may serve as a deterrent to aggression.

POWER OF PEACE: Theme of the observance of Armed Forces Day on Saturday, May 15, will be "The Power of Peace."

The world's hope for peace lies in the power of our armed forces and the strength of our trust in Divine Guidance. We must neglect neither.

PRAYER: Every day's session of the Senate is opened with a prayer. Only rarely is this prayer offered by a layman. But when Fred M. Lange of Dallas, distinguished welfare worker, vice president and executive director of the Dallas Community Chest, was in Washington recently, he was invited to offer the opening prayer.

This is the text of Mr. Lange's moving prayer: "O God, our Father, in these times of stress, when many minds are perplexed and many hearts are faint, we turn, in simple trust, to Thee, our strength and our Redeemer.

"We ask Thee for wisdom, that we may seek Thy will; for courage, that we may do it; and for faith, that we may walk with calm assurance.

"Guide the thoughts and purposes of these chosen leaders of our people, O Lord, that they may, above all else, say and do what is pleasing in Thy sight. And help us all to be true to our American heritage and faithful servants of the living God.

"In the name of Christ, our Saviour. Amen."

WIND EROSION: The Senate passed an amendment to H. R. 8541, supplemental appropriation bill, providing $15,000,000 to make payments to farmers who carry out emergency wind control measures under the 1954 agricultural conservation program.

I spoke in the Senate in favor of the amendment and voted for it.

A number of Texas counties have suffered severely from wind erosion. This damage is an immediate tragedy to the people living on the affected land. From a long-range viewpoint, it could easily become an immense tragedy for the United States.

BETTER HIGHWAYS: Texas will receive a larger amount of Federal road aid during the next two years than any other state, except New York. Total for Texas, under terms of the bill recently enacted by Congress, will be $52,200,000 per year for the two-year period.

Dewitt Greer, our able State Highway Engineer, recently wrote me as follows about this bill:

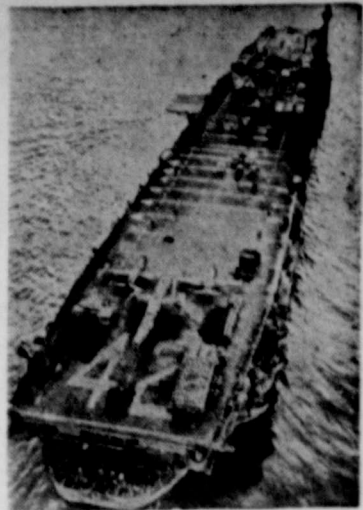

"I feel confident that the Federal Highway Aid Act of 1954 will be the most progressive step toward the improvement of the road system of this country that has yet been made and will accrue to the best interests of our people, and will be a credit to those of you who had so much to do with its passage."

PERSONAL: Perhaps it's because Spring is here—or because the rains have come—or maybe just because Texans are grand people. Whatever the reason, there has never been a time since I came to Washington that Lady Bird and I have received so many wonderful, heartwarming letters from people back home. We are grateful.

UT Engineers Build Wind-Tunnel Device

AUSTIN—University of Texas engineers have developed a new wind-tunnel device which permits tests of supersonic aircraft under conditions closely simulating actual flight.

The new device, a nozzle which pours wind into the tunnel, can vary velocities from two to four times the speed of sound with great rapidity, imitating acceleration in flight. Previously only constant supersonic speeds could be simulated accurately.

Dr. Milton J. Thompson of the University's Defense Research Laboratory supervised the project, expected to aid greatly the Air Force's continuing program to improve guided missiles and other high-speed aircraft.

red from state to county offices. The agency's emergency loan program was stressed at the meetings. State directors and their staffs were told to move into an area whenever a drought or a flood strikes and when the crisis has passed to move out again as quickly as possible.

None of the basic policies under which the agency operates are being changed. The same amount of emphasis is placed on helping farmers obtain adequate land and equipment resources, develop good systems of farming, and adopt proper farm and home management practices.

New Buses Shown Here Wednesday

Five new Continental Trailways buses were on display here for a short time Wednesday morning. They were parked on the east side of the square while on exhibition. The buses use a new-type of coach body suspension which employs air bellows instead of conventional metal springs. This system is reported to shield the passenger compartment of the buses from the major portion of road shock.

The buses will be placed in service on the company's Pikes Peak Route between Denver and Dallas. More are to be put into service later.

Other features of the buses include: elongated "picture" windows in the 41-passenger buses which give passengers a better view of the exterior; and individual air-conditioning vents, providing thermostat controlled temperature, for each set of seats throughout the coaches.

The buses were being driven from Denver to Dallas and were to be put into service soon after reaching the latter city.

L. G. Simon of Dallas, general traffic manager for Continental Trailways, is accompanying the buses on the display tour.

Sanitation Cited As Measure For Controlling Flies

AUSTIN—The Texas State Department of Health urges strict attention to sanitation as a fly control measure. The main sanitation problems responsible for fly production are neglected phases of community clean up, like garbage storage, disposal, animal shelters and insanitary disposal of decaying industrial wastes.

Now is a good time to clean up the unsanitary conditions around your town and home. Every time you destroy a breeding place, you stop whole colonies of flies before they can start. Insecticide spraying is effective only after a complete clean-up job and only if sanitary conditions are maintained throughout the year.

Proper garbage storage is one of the most important factors in good sanitation. Garbage should be stored in water tight, galvanized metal containers with a tight lid. Dispose of all cans, bottles and other rubbish. Proper disposal of garbage collected is equally important in the prevention of fly breeding areas.

Another measure in proper fly control is proper screening of homes. Each householder should check the screens on his house for holes that will allow flies to enter. Repairing of screens will help to protect food from contamination by fly borne disease organisms.

The importance of fly control can be realized when it is known that flies carry and spread such diseases as typhoid fever, the dysenteries, infant diarrhea and other diseases. Fly control is an individual and community duty. It is the job of every person and every locality and the results will benefit everyone.

Mr. And Mrs. M. W. Mosley Of Hedley Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Mosley of Hedley celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, May 2, with open house at their home. Their children, Mrs. Ruby Bromley of Clarendon and Winfield Mosley of Hedley, assisted in entertaining. Their other son, Raymond of Amarillo, was unable to attend because of illness.

Guests calling between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m. were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Mosley and son Rusty. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bromley mingled with the guests and visited with the many old friends of the family.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Mosley and the latter's sisters, Mrs. Cora Luttrell and Mrs. T. B. Morgan and her husband of Amarillo.

Mrs. Vesta Mosley and Mrs. Kathryn Rose of Pampa presided at the register.

The Mosley home was beautifully decorated with yellow roses, red roses, pink peonies and many other flowers sent by friends. On the buffet was a lovely bouquet of yellow gladioli.

In the dining room, the table was laid with a medallion cutwork cloth imported from Hong Kong, China, over a gold underlay. Centering the table was a bouquet of yellow roses with a standing heart decorated with bells, and flanked by double gold candle holders.

The cake was a single tier of white decorated with gold, and topped with a double horseshoe bearing a card reading "50 years." The punch and cake was served by nieces and granddaughters. They included Mrs. Louise Timms of Amarillo, Jane Mosley, Mrs. Margie Nollay of Amarillo, Mrs. Betty Garrett of Pampa, Mrs. Mary Ann Riley and Barbara Mosley of Amarillo.

Other members of the house party included Mrs. C. R. Hunsucker, Mrs. J. B. Masterson, Mrs. Bill Scales, Mrs. Herlie Moreman, Miss Ellen Faye Land, Don Wilson of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hill.

About 350 guests called during the afternoon.

M. W. (Milt) Mosley was born in Arkansas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mosley. He moved to North Carolina with his parents when very young. His mother was left a widow when he was 9 years old and he had to help support the family of four. At the age of 16 he came to Enloe, Texas and six months later sent for his mother, sister and brother.

Allie Craddock Mosley was born in Missouri, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Craddock. She came to Roxton, Texas with her parents at the age of 6 and lived there several years, then her father sold his farm and bought land at Enloe.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosley were married in Enloe in 1904. They moved to Midland in 1906 and in November, 1907, came to Hedley. Mr. Mosley is a farmer. He always farmed on a big scale, raising cotton, cattle, hogs, and among the finest mules and horses. In 1927 it was very dry and Mr. Mosley and sons decided to put in a grocery and market. Then he decided to run for sheriff and won over four other candidates without a runoff. After six years in office in Clarendon, he returned to stock farming, where they remained until Mrs. Mosley's health failed and they moved to Fort Worth. After staying in Fort Worth 6 months they returned to Hedley and bought a home and 15 acres adjoining town. They leased the farm and Mr. Mosley began truck farming.

The Mosleys are the parents of five children, two of whom are deceased. In addition to their own children they have reared several nieces and nephews, as well as a number of others who were not relations.

They have always been active in city and county affairs. They are both members of the First Baptist Church, and Mrs. Mosley taught the young people's class while her health permitted. She has held many offices in the church, and has been president of the Hedley P.T.A. Her hobby is raising flowers.

Mr. Mosley is a member of the Hedley Lions Club and of the Clarendon I. O. O. F. Lodge. His principal hobbies now are fishing, playing dominoes and talking politics.

Scientists believe human life has existed for more than 2,000,000 years.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

The Foreign Policy
The foreign policy troubles of the administration are not new and are not unusual. History will show that almost every administration, regardless of party, has had its share of foreign policy troubles. Whether the present troubles are better or worse than the ones that preceded them in other administrations is a matter of opinion. Frankly, I do not think they are a great deal different. Whether or not we agree upon the type of the policy, I am sure that we all agree that they can not be settled or resolved without a unified approach on the part of the American people. In order to win this international game, we must utilize the services of the players that we have available, whether they wear the color of the elephant or the donkey. We must have faith and confidence in our own plays and their own strategy. We must all join together and stand behind them to prevent the entire world a unified front on the part of our citizens. Do not over-stress the great need for faith and confidence in our own plays and their own strategy. We must all join together and stand behind them to prevent the entire world a unified front on the part of our citizens. Do not over-stress the great need for faith and confidence in our own plays and their own strategy. We must all join together and stand behind them to prevent the entire world a unified front on the part of our citizens.

Domestic Front Legislation of The Past Week

On Monday of last week a bill was presented to the House undertaking to expand the provisions of a present law with which I am not in full accord. This law in effect provides that a person who commits a crime in a foreign country or a country which is occupied by or under the control of the United States, if found in this country, may be taken to such foreign or occupied country and tried there under the laws applicable in that particular place. No one objects to a person being tried for a crime that he commits against society. If a citizen voluntarily goes into a foreign country, he runs the risk of being charged with a crime, just the same as a foreigner who visits the United States. However, the law includes GI's, many of whom are in foreign countries, not because they want to travel, but because they were drafted and sent into those foreign countries. They are soldiers of the United States who have been sent into those countries that were recently enemies of the United States. To say that a boy could be drafted into the Army, compelled to go into a foreign country to defend that country, and after he has served his time and returned to his own country, he forcibly returned to the foreign country and subjected to the jurisdiction of the courts of that country on some charge that could easily be frivolous, to be judged by those who only a few years ago were shooting real bullets at American soldiers, just doesn't make sense to me. The truth is the present law does not take care of this situation and I expect to offer an amendment to it as soon as I can get it drafted. Incidentally, this attempt to amend and enlarge and expand this law was defeated by striking the enacting clause of the proposed amendment.

Another bill that was defeated resoundingly in the House on Wednesday was a bill designed to amend the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The change sought to be brought about was to change the exemption provisions in the act from $300,000.00 to $500,000.00. This simply meant that if a group were selling stock in an amount that did not exceed $500,000.00, they would not have to comply with the requirements of the Securities Exchange Act. This exemption was originally $100,000.00, but was subsequently increased to $300,000.00. The House refused to chip another hole in this protective act. You will recall that before this act was passed this country was flooded with bogus stocks and bonds that were sold to an unsuspecting public as sure-fire get-rich-quick schemes. The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 put a stop to this vicious

Precipitation Off During Past Week

Skies in this area have been cloudy to partly cloudy much of the past week but the only precipitation occurring during the period was on Saturday night when .73 of an inch was recorded here. This measurement was furnished by Weatherman John McMickin.

Even Saturday night's fall did not appear to be evenly distributed. For instance, moisture was reported to be less at such points as Pliska and Lakeview, and also east of Memphis.

Farmers of this area have been busy this week putting cotton seed into the ground. However, the cold earth is slowing germination of the seed.

Precipitation in May now totals 4.45 inches and for the year, 5.78 inches.

Temperature ranges the past week, according to McMickin, were as follows: last Thursday 48-71 degrees; Friday 52-76; Saturday 51-84; Sunday 56-80; Monday 60-78; Tuesday 60-75; and Wednesday 57-85. Low this morning was 58 degrees.

Tornado Precautions

This is the tornado season in Texas as everyone who has lived here very long knows. We, in this particular section, have been exceedingly fortunate because no devastating tornado has ever struck. We have had twisters and that is all.

We can hope that we shall continue to be as fortunate. However, tornadoes apparently are extremely uncertain things. The science of tracking them is improving all the time but it still is a good thing to keep "a weather eye" out when atmospheric conditions are unsettled.

Just a couple of weeks ago, a series of tornadoes swept along a path, south and east of here, which included the Paducah and Vernon areas.

Whenever there is a heavy, blustery rain this time of the year, there is a possibility of tornadoes. Meteorologists say tornadoes can be created whenever warm, moist air comes into conflict with cold air. This combination sometimes becomes extremely turbulent and tornadoes result.

The national average is 153 tornadoes annually, according to information from State Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters at Austin. As we recall, Texas is near the top among states in the number of tornadoes.

One of these over-sized twisters is easily recognized by its funnel-shaped cloud which spins rapidly and extends toward the earth from the bottom of a thundercloud, accompanied by a terrifying and never-to-be forgotten roar, sounding like hundreds of airplanes, the defense organization bulletin goes on to say.

Tornadoes can come at any time of the day, although from 3 to 7 p. m. is the most dangerous period. They move at speeds which average from 25 to 40 miles an hour. Winds within tornadoes have been estimated as high as 500 miles per hour, which shows why they can be so deadly and destructive.

The only sure protection from menaces of this sort are caves, underground excavations or storm cellars. If one of these is available, prospective users are advised to have it equipped with a pick and shovel for emergencies.

If caught in the open, persons should move at right angles to the tornado's path. If there is no time to escape, get into the nearest depression—such as a ditch or a ravine—and lie flat on the ground.

Persons who are in business sections when tornadoes appear, should take cover in some building, preferably a steel reinforced structure, making certain to stay away from windows.

If at home, the southwest corner of the lower floor or the basement offers the greatest protection. However, residents of brick or stone houses should, if possible, find other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house.

Provided there is time, shut off electricity and fuel lines. Windows, opened on the north and east sides of buildings, may help reduce any damage that may result.

If caught at school, it is best to remain inside if buildings are of good steel reinforced construction. However, auditoriums and gymnasiums should be avoided. Should buildings not be of steel reinforced construction, children and teachers ought to get into ravines or ditches if no storm shelters are handy.

Everyone should read this advice carefully. It is to be hoped that it will never be necessary to follow it, but if that time should come, knowing the best way to cope with a tornado might be life-saving.

A Man That Boys Would Like

If boys are still like they were when we were that age, we'd guess that what a Buffalo, N. Y., doctor said recently will make a tremendous hit with them.

According to Dr. Earl D. Osborn, who is a skin specialist, Americans take too many baths!

Perhaps we shall have all the mothers around here angry with us, if their young sons hear of this, since they probably have enough trouble already, getting their boys to take more than token swipes at faces, ears and necks. And if the boys can tell their mothers that too much bathing is bad, because a doctor said so, no telling what the mothers may be in for.

Clean living is fine, Dr. Osborn told a session of the Oklahoma Medical Association convention, according to a news dispatch, but "daily bathing is the worst thing you can do to your skin, especially when you use soap."

The specialist said statistics show that nations where people seldom take baths have the least number of skin infections and diseases. He asserted that the alkali in soap often causes infection of sensitive areas of the skin.

If the doctor's statements get noised about enough, he is likely to replace Roy Rogers, Hopalong Cassidy and their like, as American boys' No. 1 Hero.

Should this come to pass, Dr. Osborn might well regret that his young admirers could not vote. For if they could, the doctor could take the political stump, using "Down with Bathing" as the main plank in his platform, and probably win nearly any office he desired.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Press Paragraphs—

NO EASY ROAD TO PEACE

Our most recent Knife and Fork Club speaker left behind him a very mixed reaction ranging from total agreement to violent disagreement. It must have been a good speech for the intent of such efforts like editorials, is to make one think.

Agreement or disagreement with speaker or editorial, is of small consequence so long as it causes one to think and study a situation.

Taking the hypothesis that a rebuilt balance of power is the best policy in handling Russian aggression, the speaker detailed the long hard road that must be trod before success can be obtained.

This, he said, involves calm acceptance of annoying and sacrificial, limited objective military operations like those experienced in Korea and probably coming up in Indo-China.

The speaker trod on some toes when he deplored political assassination on foreign policy involving Korea in the last campaign, said there was no difference in the foreign policy of the Eisenhower and Truman administrations and blamed political communists for abandoning Korea which in turn, paved the way for a greater sacrifice in Indo-China.

We thought the speaker about right once you accept his balance of power hypothesis. We know that in the so-called English years of peace there was hardly a time when English forces were not fighting somewhere around the globe.

It was an Indian uprising here, a Boer war there, the British navy girdled the world and limited objective actions were the order of the day.

Our real trouble is we don't like the hypothesis upon which the speaker built his case or rather we don't like the official acceptance of it years ago.

It's hard for us to know why we stopped American forces while Russia marched in to Berlin; why we accepted Russia as an ally against Japan when we had that war won; why we, with the largest fighting force ever assembled, at the close of World War II, permitted Russia to close her grip on everything she occupied.

Yet, would you or we have approved an ultimatum to Russia at the close of World War II that might have meant prolonging the struggle until we smashed the last of the dictators?

A great deal of our troubles lie in wanting to eat our cake and have it at the same time.

POLITICS IN HEARINGS

The congressional sub-committee hearing on the row between the Army and Senator McCarthy did not receive the audience this week that it was given last week.

Broadcasters said that business interests found it was not worth cutting out regular programs.

It makes you wonder how sincere some of these investigations are. Two years ago Senator Kefauver used a senate investigation to step out into the presidential race.

Already there is talk that Ray Jenkins, senate counsel, may run for U. S. senator in Tennessee this year against Senator Kefauver because of the recognition he has received in the hearing.

Senator McCarthy is charged with planning to use this hearing to obtain greater influence in the Republican party.

Others say that President Eisenhower and other high Republicans are hopeful that the hearing will help to clip the wings of Senator McCarthy.

Most persons want the Communists cleaned out of our government, but they do not want public affairs to be used for private political gain. The hearings can be handled so that public welfare is benefited or so that individuals will gain political prestige.

FARMERS AND LIVING COSTS

One thing for sure the consumer cannot say about the farmer in connection with increasing cost of living. If living cost continues to rise, then one must look elsewhere than to the farm for the cause of it. You can't think of anything the farmer has to sell that has not gone down in price over the last 18 months or two years. Some of the things have gone down ruinously—that is, gone in his marketing. Government price supports have been the only salvation for the man who had basic commodities on hand. The farmer would have gone down and taken the rest of the economy with him—and we would have been back at 1931, ready to start over again.

LEGION ARMISTICE CELEBRATION GREAT SUCCESS—
The Armistice Day celebration, cowboy round-up and rodeo, was a great success in every way, Legion members say. Attendance, which exceeded 7,500 for the three days, with around 5,000 Armistice Day, was up to the expectations of the most optimistic.

The entertainment each day was varied and all that could be desired, some of the rodeo features being exceptionally good. Members of the local post express themselves as being well pleased with the celebration in every way, saying that they plan to make the Armistice Day celebration a regular annual event.

ORANGE SQUASH MAKES TASTY, PRETTY DISH

Vegetables frequently are low-rated as "what's good for you" and are not given full credit for being "real tasty foods." With a little thought on the part of meal planners, an ordinary vegetable can be dressed up into a tasty, appetizing dish. This orange squash is an excellent example of a glamorized, tasty vegetable dish.

2 cups cooked Hubbard squash or 2 packages frozen squash
1/2 cup orange juice
3 tablespoons margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/2 cup slivered or chopped almonds
1/2 cup orange shells

Mash the hot squash. Add orange juice, margarine, salt, and pepper. Whip until light and fluffy, adding more orange juice if squash seems dry. Fill into orange shells. Sprinkle almonds on top. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) until lightly browned, about 15 minutes.

Keeping Dogs Up Now Is Called Aid To Texas Wildlife

AUSTIN—Texans can aid wildlife by keeping their dogs from running wild at this time of the year, according to Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Dodgen said the Animal Kingdom is now at a crucial spring period when birds are nesting and when mammals are bearing their young.

The Commission already has received complaints from scattered state areas that dogs have been chasing doe deer heavy with fawn. Some reports indicate canines have harassed newly-born fawn deer.

"This is not the dogs' fault," explained the executive secretary.

"A dog's instinct is to chase things. Any old hound likes nothing better than to take off in the brush after some living thing.

"Therefore, it is strictly up to the owners to restrain their dogs. Dogs in areas where wildlife abounds should be penned up or put on a leash during the current critical days. Later on, wildlife will be better able to take care of itself."

The executive secretary also emphasized the havoc wrought by wild house cats, most of which are turned loose by their city owners to get rid of them.

"This is another case where the pets are not to blame," he said. "Certainly, if a cat used to domesticity is turned loose in the wilds, it has to begin looking out for its own food. That means it begins preying on wild life.

"Right now inestimable damage results from cats raiding the young of game birds, particularly the ground nesting varieties, such as quail and wild turkey, and even wild ducks." Incidentally, the executive secretary quoted a biologist's report that roaming dogs do more damage to duck nests in the coastal marshes than any other predator.

Parents Are Urged To Teach Traffic Safety To Children By Own Conduct

"Have you ever seen a car jump the curb, run up into somebody's back yard and knock down a child who was playing there?"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, recently asked this strange question and then quickly supplied the answer.

"You probably haven't," he said, "and the chances are you never will. But every day many people see automobiles kill youngsters who are playing in the street."

Col. Tilley used this illustration to stress the importance of keeping children out of the street.

"When we allow our children to play in the street, we're throwing them right into danger's path," he told parents. "Twenty-three thousand children under 15 years old were injured or killed while playing in the roadway in 1952."

"Youngsters themselves don't realize the danger," he said. "They must be warned repeatedly until staying out of the street has become a habit. Even then," he reminded, "in the excitement of play they sometimes forget."

According to Col. Tilley, crossing the street in mid-block, darting out from behind parked cars, and crossing at intersections against signals are other practices that cost many youngsters their lives.

Pointing out that children are more likely to learn by example than by precept, Col. Tilley appealed to parents to teach traffic safety to their youngsters by their own safe behavior in traffic. He listed the following as rules that parents might well adopt.

1. Walking or driving, always set a good example for children by obeying all traffic signs and signals and observing safety rules.

2. Cooperate with schools and traffic officials in teaching children safe traffic attitudes and habits.

3. See that children play only in approved play areas.

4. Teach children safe use of bicycles and outdoor toys.

Provisions Of Farm Program As Proposed By Farm Bureau Outlined

Farm Bureau's proposed farm program—a compromise between two extremes in agricultural planning—has been introduced in Congress, according to H. A. Hodges of Alaska, president of the Hall County Farm Bureau.

Companion bills embodying specific proposals for improvements in price support and adjustment legislation were introduced recently by Reps. Martin (Rep.) of Iowa and Helms (Dem.) of Florida. The House Agriculture Committee, of which Congressman W. E. Poage of Waco and Clark Thompson of Galveston are members, is studying the bills now.

Provisions of the bills carry out the major policies on price supports and related legislation adopted by the official voting delegates to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention last December in Chicago.

Included in the proposed legislation are certain recommendations adopted by the voting delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau annual convention last November in Mineral Wells.

The bills call for the variable provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1949 to go into effect next year, but with several important amendments. At least two of the amendments were compromises on recommendations adopted by the Texas Farm Bureau.

One of these would make it mandatory for the government to pay 90 per cent supports for any basic commodity, except tobacco, the first year that marketing quotas are in effect on that crop after a year in which they were not in effect. This gives producers an extra year in which to bring supplies in line with demand before any changes may be made in the support level.

Another Texas Farm Bureau recommendation in the two bills is the provision establishing a soil fertility bank to alleviate the surplus problem and store up fertility in the soil. This is a compromise on the TFB acreage retirement plan. Under the provisions of the Farm Bureau-sponsored bills, the Secretary of Agriculture would be authorized to require producers to devote a percentage of their cropland to soil-building crops or practices as a condition of eligibility for conservation payments and price supports on commodities which are not under marketing quotas. The Secretary would be directed to require that a producer comply with all marketing quota programs in order to be eligible for conservation payments and price supports.

One proposed amendment to the 1949 Act provides that up to $2.5 billions worth of surplus commodities be set aside before computing support levels so that the crops in surplus now could start off under the variable system with supports at or near 90 per cent of parity. Farm surpluses in this "commodity set-aside" would be used to expand international trade and in foreign aid programs. However, the surpluses in the commodity set-aside would be used in figuring marketing quotas and acreage allotments.

Another proposed amendment would require the Secretary of Agriculture to provide for a marketing quota referendum for a crop when supplies reach a specified level. This guarantees producers the right to indicate how they feel about keeping supplies in line with demand. Had a referendum on quotas and allotments been called in 1952, the problem of unmanageable surpluses might not exist now. The amendment takes some of the politics out of national farm legislation.

The Farm Bureau-sponsored bills also provide for a gradual transition for the basic commodities from the old to modernized parity in steps of five percentage points per year until the change has been accomplished. These commodities would be affected beginning Jan. 1, 1956. Modernized parity supersedes the old formula which is based on 1910-1914 figures. It takes into account technological and economic changes since the 1910-1914 period. For all commodities except the basics the modernized formula is already in use.

Sgt. Daniel Archuleta of Mineral Wells visited Sunday with C. C. McMurry, who is in the Goodall hospital here. Mr. McMurry has been in the hospital nearly eight weeks and is reported to be showing some improvement.

Texans Are Urged Not To Make Pets Of Baby Wildlife

AUSTIN—Texans have a good opportunity to prove their real friendship for wildlife during the coming weeks by NOT trying to make pets of baby animals and birds, declares Howard O. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Dodgen said many persons still have the mistaken impression that newly born animals, such as fawn deer, are frequently abandoned by their mothers. This, he explained, usually leads to well-meant, but costly efforts, to adopt the little ones.

"Much of this misunderstanding compromises city folks," said the executive secretary. "On their outings to the country, they come upon fawns and other wildlife babies. They do not understand that the mothers of the 'abandoned' species usually are standing by just out of sight to reclaim their youngsters as soon as the visitors depart."

The executive secretary suggested those in doubt should check with their local game warden. The warden usually convinces the persons concerned that they are merely interfering with wildlife affairs. In any event, a permit is required to retain the game.

"If possession does seem reasonable," he said, "the animals ultimately make a nuisance of themselves and some of them actually become dangerous."

Yet, despite this potential menace, hundreds of persons each spring "adopt" wild animals. One medium-sized city in Texas had seven pet deer reported within a short period last year. The local game warden had great difficulty in convincing the well-intentioned benefactors that they were interfering with natural processes. "The best policy," cautioned the executive secretary "is to leave the young animals alone and let nature take its course."

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Galloway and children of Borger, arrived Tuesday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Galloway of Plaska, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Exie Sweatt of Lakeview, and other relatives.

Why fine car buyers are swinging to Ford

Worth more when you buy it... Worth more when you sell it!

A small price tag buys them one of America's truly fine cars. And here's how:

In the new '54 Ford, you get the same modern type of overhead-valve engine... the same road-hugging ride... the careful interior decorating... and the same optional* power assists you'd expect to find in cars costing hundreds of dollars more. So why pay more? This is the question smart car buyers are asking themselves. And that is why you'll often find two Fords proudly parked in driveways where there used to be but one costly car!

Take power:

Only Ford, among all low-priced cars, offers you a Y-block V-8 engine. Only Ford, in its field, offers an I-block Six. And both of these new deep-block engines are the most modern in the industry... with overhead valves, low-friction design, high-turbulence combustion chambers, and deep-block construction.

Take ride:

Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension is the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years. Your Ford not only steers easier, but will keep that "new car feel" far longer. And so many points of wear have been eliminated you have only 4 lubrication points in the entire front suspension system.

Take power assists:

Fordomatic Drive is the only "automatic" in its field to combine the smoothness of a fluid torque converter and the "Go" of an automatic intermediate gear. And you can have Ford Master-Guide Power Steering, Swift Sure Power Brakes, power lifts on all four side windows and a 4-Way Power Seat.

Take a Test Drive... and you'll want to drive it home!

Peru For You

Wick Fowler, secretary to Governor Allan Shivers, and longtime newspaperman, does his best to keep things from getting dull for people waiting to see the Governor.

Wick sent a waiting group into much laughter a few days ago when talking on the telephone to someone who wanted an official "letter" to take along on a trip out of the state. Such letters, written on the governor's stationery, are addressed to "To Whom it May Concern," state that the traveler is a good Texan and that any courtesies extended him in the foreign country will be appreciated. The official gubernatorial seal with red ribbons is affixed at the bottom.

After listening to the request of the caller in question, Wick asked, "Where did you say you were going—Nicaragua? Heck, you can't go there. You'll have to go to Peru—I can't spell Nicaragua."

Wick pulled a "Fowlerism" on Ed Gossett of Dallas recently that's been good for several repetitions in the Capital City. Ed, a former Texas congressman, now is general attorney for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Texas.

Wick told him to pass the word on to the telephone folks in Dallas that a small West Texas town had something new in phone ser-

T. E. Johnson, Well-Known Newsman, Dies Thursday Morning In Amarillo

T. E. Johnson, well-known Amarillo newspaperman and columnist, died about 6:30 a. m. today in Amarillo hospital, where he was taken after he was stricken approximately a month ago. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Johnson was the brother of Mrs. B. D. Frisbie of Memphis and was associated with The Memphis Democrat as news editor in 1944 and 1945.

His entire career was spent in the newspaper business. At the time of his death, he was managing editor of The Amarillo Globe-Times and wrote a front-page column almost daily for the publication, until stricken. He wrote one short column, even after going to the hospital, attesting his love for his chosen career.

The column primarily was devoted to comments on the passing scene and events in Amarillo and the High Plains, but also included his views on state, national and international happenings.

Mr. Johnson's initial newspaper experience was with a daily in Pueblo, Colo. Some time later, in 1921, he moved to Amarillo to begin an association with newspapers of that city that was to continue, except for brief intervals, until his death.

Amarillo papers, with which he was connected during the past 35 years were the Amarillo Globe-News and the Amarillo Times. When the Globe-News and the Times were merged several years ago, he became managing editor of The Globe-Times, the company's afternoon paper.

A native of Cooper, Tex., Mr. Johnson was born Sept. 24, 1887. The family later moved to Mississippi, then to Ballinger, Tex., for about a year, before coming to Giles in 1911.

Mr. Johnson lived at Giles until going to Pueblo, Colo., to commence his career in newspaper work.

He was a member of the Polk Street Methodist Church and was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include: his wife; a son, Tommy Johnson, who is in the U. S. Marines; three daughters, Mrs. Hampton Stennis, Mrs. Katherine Waddill and Miss Marianne Johnson, all of Amarillo; three brothers, Theo and Charles Johnson, both of Amarillo, and L. H. Johnson of Dallas; and three sisters, Mrs. Frisbie, Mrs. Radell Latimer of Amarillo, and Mrs. F. Scheneck of Lubbock; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Friday in Griggs Pioneer Chapel at Amarillo. Burial will be in Liano Cemetery.

Mrs. Frisbie will attend the services.

Three From County Degree Candidates In H-SU Exercises

Three Hall County young people will be among the 189 candidates for degrees, at commencement exercises of Hardin-Simmons University Monday morning, May 31. The exercises will be held at 10 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Abilene. Attorney General John Ben Shepperd will be the speaker.

The three degree candidates from this county are: Billy West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack West of Memphis; Bob R. Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hanna of Memphis; and Mrs. Clea Ferrel Cagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crump Ferrel of Estelina.

Mrs. Cagle and West will be awarded Bachelor of Science degrees, and Hanna will receive a Bachelor of Business Administration degree.

Baccalaureate services for the H-SU spring graduating class will be held at 11 o'clock, Sunday morning, May 30, in the First Baptist Church. Delivering the sermon will be Dr. Elwin Skiles, pastor of the church.

tra work were required in finishing the complicated project, after the Memphis girl had completed the course.

Frankye Lynn likely has inherited at least some of her ability for furniture-making from her mother, Mrs. Pansy Srygley, who has received both a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Arts degree from WTSC. Industrial Arts was her first minor in both degrees.

While attending West Texas Mrs. Srygley spent most of her spare time in the woodworking shop.

While she made numerous articles, her favorite was a "carved door" which she used as the front door of the Srygley home. The door was made of birch and has raised panels. The faces of the panels had western scenes carved on them.

Says Mrs. Srygley, "The carved door was my pride and joy until Frankye Lynn made her first article, and I can truly say I am even prouder of her first project, six raised panels. The faces of the which is saying a great deal."

Mrs. Srygley, who has taught in the Memphis schools for a number of years, persuaded Supt. W. C. Davis to introduce a course in crafts and is teaching the course. It has proved to be very popular.

Mrs. Srygley makes annual trips with her crafts class to the West Texas campus. A partial record of visits last year was that around 10 of the students decided to take their college work there.

At present, Mrs. Srygley is president of the Hall County West Texas Ex-Students Club.

Frankye Lynn's instructor at WTSC was John A. Gillis, head of the industrial arts department.

While carrying on these projects, Robert has gained other valuable knowledge, including worthwhile experience in banking and the importance of a good system of record keeping.

The young District Star Farmer has had a labor income of $1,623.30 above total expenses of $2,204, during his three years as an FFA member.

His records were judged the third best in Area I of FFA, which includes 92 schools and more than 4,000 FFA boys. His third-place Area Star Farmer award earned him $30 in prize money. The prize money will go to pay expenses to the state FFA convention at San Antonio in July.

An additional honor was given to Hodges earlier this month when he was elected treasurer of Area I of FFA.

Mrs. M. B. Smith, program chairman, has arranged a musical program and other entertainment, designed to please the entire family.

Many Farm Bureau members from surrounding counties plan to be present at the session, according to letters received by Robert L. Moss, second vice-president and publicity chairman.

Among these are State Representative Elbert Reeves of Mataro, who said he would bring others with him.

"Cotton John" Smith, farm editor of KGNC and KGNC-TV, has been invited to attend.

Band Concert At City Park Tonight

The Memphis High School band will appear in concert in the amphitheatre at City Park tonight at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Richard Highfill, director of music.

If weather is unsettled, the concert will be held in the high school auditorium.

There will be no admission charge and everyone is invited to attend.

The program will include: "Witch of Endor," "Hall of Fame March," "Blue Tango," and a repeat performance of "Si! Trocadero."

This will conclude activities of the band for 1953-54.

ry. We mentioned several pretty yards recently, and intended to keep mentioning more, but after a trip all over town we found so many yards worthy of note that we decided it would be a lot easier to mention only those that are not pretty. Never before, to my knowledge have roses been so beautiful and prolific. Heretofore, only a few roses to a bush or climber have been seen, but this year the plants are loaded with large and perfect blooms. To me, this indicates this is the year for citizens to make Memphis the Beautiful City.

try. She produces farm commodities more abundantly than other nation in the world shown by Secretary Benson speech recently. He said:

Let's suppose for a moment that we were to load on a train all of the wheat which Commodity Credit Corp. has under loan and in its storages. Such a train would all the way from San Francisco New York and then back to Louisiana—4,222 miles.

If we loaded all the corn up in CCC price support on a single train, the train would be in Los Angeles as locomotive in Newark, N. J. train would be 3,952 miles.

A train loaded with wheat, corn, flaxseed, soy and small grains in which CCC funds are today in would reach one-third of the around the world.

When it was announced Monday night that the McCarthy-Stevens hearing is postponed for a week, it made me so mad I wrecked the radio. Well, we can listen and read about the Supreme Court's ruling on segregation.

Texas is due much politics this year. The liberals and conservatives are already girding for supremacy, as has been the case in election years in the past. The liberals are being recognized by the National Democratic Executive Committee despite the fact that a majority of Texas vote and act conservatively. Governor Shivers is still the acknowledged head of Texas' Democratic Party, and heretofore has held that place against all comers. It will be interesting to watch political developments during this campaign.
