

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

I saw an 1854 map of Texas this morning, and it was very interesting. At that time the entire Panhandle of Texas was a part of Bexar County. Bexar County is the county in which San Antonio is located. In 1854 it took in almost the entire western and northwestern part of the state. Immediately west of San Antonio where there was a large tract comprising Uvalde County. The counties in Northeast Texas were all pretty well fixed, although there were very few towns. The major railroad came in close to Texarkana and swung south. It came close to Quitman, Texas, and very near what was then Waco Village. It extended on in a westerly direction and in the vicinity of El Paso. There were hardly any towns mentioned on the map west of Waco Village. Just think of the tremendous change that has taken place in 100 years in our own backyard. This is just a few years over the average lifetime of our citizens. If one thinks we are not living in a changing world, he has but to take one of these maps and carry it with him on a trip to Texas.

Speaking of history, I was in Montgomery, Alabama, for a few hours the other day. You will remember that this was the first capital of the Confederacy. However, we know that the people there hold no grudges, because on top of the railroad station is a tremendous electric sign which reads, "Union Station." I am sure that this structure must have been built after the unpleasantness of the 1860s, as I doubt if it would have survived.

Uncle Sam, Trustee
Did you know that Uncle Sam was a trustee of a group of islands in the Pacific Ocean, spread out over a territory larger than the United States. If you took all of the islands, 2,141 of them, and combined them in one land mass, that mass would be smaller than half the size of the state of Rhode Island, the smallest state in the United States. These islands are in 96 distinct atolls or unit groups. These 96 groups are divided into three main groups, known as the Marshalls, the Carolines, and the Marianas. Guam is not included as a trust territory for the reason that it has been in the possession of the United States since 1898. Uncle Sam occupied various of these islands in World War II in our Pacific campaign. Many of you will remember much reference to the Marshalls, the Marianas and the Carolines and the sea battles that we had there with the Japanese. The United Nations created a trusteeship and confirmed the jurisdiction of the United States over these islands as trustee. This action of the United Nations and the trusteeship created was ratified by Congress in 1947. It costs the United States several million dollars a year to administer and govern these islands. This is easily understood when you appreciate the fact that it is like operating several hundred 40-acre farms scattered over an area the size of the United States and separated each from the other by several hundred miles of water. Most of these islands had been under the jurisdiction of Japan since 1920, when Japanese control was confirmed in the form of a mandate from the League of Nations. Japan took over most of the islands by military operations in 1914 from the control of Germany. Germany had purchased the Marianas and Carolines from Spain in about 1900. The importance was pointed up during World War II, and this country is very fortunate in having control of this territory. Actually, we took these islands by force of arms and could have kept them. However, in all fairness, we worked with the United Nations and the United Nations created the trusteeship referred to. The future status of the islands is now the subject of hearings before the Congress, and I thought the people might like to know what was meant when we speak of the Trust Islands of the Pacific. It is entirely possible that they may be in the news in a big way in the next few years.

What Has Happened To The States' Rights Crusade?

I had sincerely hoped that this Congress would not pass any legislation designed to further centralize the government of this country in Washington, and would relax some of the centralizing holds that have been engrained on the states. However, it seems that with each day I am in for more disappointments. Although much talk is indulged about states' right and what the states and the people should be allowed to do for themselves, the legislation being presented to Congress seems to be doing just the contrary. We are today discussing a bill that creates another advisory council to advise with the President. It seems that each day brings up a suggestion for some other type of council, board, bureau, agency, or committee to advise some department, agency, committee, board, bureau or council, and the confusion is increasing. It will not be long until there will have to be a separate investigating committee set up to determine who is to advise who as to what, who is to take the advice, and most important, who is to pay for it. We already know the answer to the last one of these items, that is, the one as to who is going to pay for it. Too bad we can't do away with all of the rest of the items, together with all of these proposed councils, committees, departments and agencies that furnish advice on subjects that have been covered from A to Z many times during your lifetime and mine.

Cotton Acreage Records For 1953 Are To Be Upped

ABILENE—State and county cotton acreage records for 1953 will be adjusted upward to compensate for acreage not planted to cotton because of abnormal weather conditions, including the drought, according to a letter to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

The regional chamber had called for the action after pointing out that 80 West Texas counties lost 1,916,717 acres in 1953 as compared with 1951 and 1,805,627 acres as compared with 1952.

A series of conference on the problem were conducted, beginning in August of last year, with representatives of the cotton industry, the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the Department of Agriculture and with U. S. congressmen.

Historical records of acres planted to cotton in 1953 will be used in determining cotton acreage quotas allotted under any control program which may be determined under any control program which may be declared within the next five to seven years, the WTCC pointed out.

Vast Wildlife Refuge Described In State Magazine

AUSTIN—The story of a vast new South Texas Wildlife refuge with an estimated private maintenance fund of half a million dollars a year is told in the May issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH Magazine.

The article is based on the unprecedented bequest of the late R. H. Welder, wealthy rancher and oil man of Sinton, who died last winter.

Mr. Welder set aside 7,999.24 acres of rich land for a wildlife refuge to be maintained from oil royalties and other projects with an estimated annual yield of $500,000.

The area, already being developed according to Mr. Welder's specifications, is known as the Rob and Bessie Welder Wildlife Refuge, with his wife being co-sponsor.

The refuge is well-stocked with deer, wild turkey and other species which have been maintained over the years as a part of the large Welder ranch.

A primary purpose of the undertaking is to perpetuate Mr. Welder's personal program to maintain a proper balance between domestic livestock and wildlife.

In his will, Mr. Welder stipulated in part: "It is my desire and my purpose to further the education of the people of Texas and elsewhere in wildlife conservation and in the knowledge of the breeding and living habits of our wild creatures and in the relationship of wildlife to domesticated livestock on our ranches and farms; to afford students and others interested in wildlife betterment and propagation . . . place for research . . . and to develop scientific methods of increasing the wildlife population . . ."

Precautions To Be Observed Around Water Are Outlined By Red Cross

WASHINGTON, D. C.—If you want to increase your chances of returning from your Memorial Day weekend alive and in good health, the Red Cross suggests a few common sense precautions or your holiday.

Last year 98 persons went out to enjoy a Memorial Day swim and never returned. It happens every year because many people are taking their first dip since the previous summer and over-estimate both their swimming ability and their physical condition.

Here are some precautions that may save your life: Don't try to show off abilities you don't possess. Remember, distances over water often are greater than they appear.

If you must go on a distance swim, have someone accompany you in a boat to give assistance if required. Better still, swim parallel to the shore where you can get to shallow water quickly.

Wait one and one-half hours after you eat before swimming. Enter the water gradually, especially if it is cold. If you dive in, make sure the water is deep enough and has no hidden rocks.

Swim in a safe place, preferably one supervised by life guards. Never swim alone. Be sure someone is near by who can help you if you get into trouble.

Stick to your boat if it upsets or swamps. A wooden canoe or boat, or metal ones with good air tanks, will float even when filled with water; so will a boat with the proper size outboard motor.

If you do get into trouble—keep calm, don't struggle. Keep your hands under water, kick your feet, and head for shore.

Get out of the water and rest as soon as you feel at all tired. Take your sun gradually—a few minutes the first day, then gradually increased exposure.

Of course, you should learn to swim if you are going to play around the water. You can't find a better sport to save your life. Ask your local Red Cross chapter how you can enroll for free courses in swimming, lifesaving, boating, canoeing, or sailing.

The life you save may be your own.

WTU Gets National Ad Recognition

Recognition of outstanding achievement in the field of utility advertising came to West Texas Utilities Company last week when it was named as winner of a first place national award in the 1954 Better Copy Contest sponsored by the Public Utilities Advertising Association.

The award was announced Friday afternoon at the annual convention of the Association in Boston, Massachusetts.

The First Place Award was achieved for the "Best Single Newspaper Advertisement Promoting the Use of Electric Service" and is the fourth such award received by the Company since 1949.

Memorial Weekend Traffic Toll Set At 380 Persons

New York—Excessive speed and alcohol will be responsible for 210 of the predicted 380 highway accident deaths in the country during the three-day Memorial Day weekend starting tomorrow night, according to the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies.

The Association's figures, released Wednesday, indicate that 126 persons will die in speeding accidents and 84 more, both motorists and pedestrians, will die because of excessive use of alcohol.

Other main causes contributing to the 380-victim total are expected to include: failure to keep to the right of the centerline, 38 victims; failure to observe the right of way, 27 victims, and over-fatigue or sleeping at the wheel, 24 victims.

Accidents caused by miscellaneous factors will kill the final 81 of the predicted total.

The predictions are based on "a conservative expansion of the accident rates of three-day Memorial Day holidays in the past," according to the Association's Accident Prevention Department.

Job-Holding Pupils During Vacation Need SSA Cards

Students who plan to take jobs this summer will need a social security account card, according to J. K. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

When students start to work employers will need to see these cards so they can copy names and social security account number into their records exactly as shown. Employers must have this information for quarterly social security reports of earnings.

Those who have lost their cards should contact the Amarillo office for duplicate ones. If students have never had cards, they should obtain them before reporting for work which is covered by the social security law.

Most jobs are included in the law, Sanderson said, an exception being summertime work on a farm.

Sanderson advises students who do not plan to obtain a vacation job this summer to defer getting cards until they need them.

A representative from the Amarillo social security office is scheduled to be in the commissioners' courtroom in the courthouse, at 10 a. m., Tuesday.

The largest decline also was 36 per cent, reported in Gonzales. Next largest decreases were at Llano, 32 per cent, and Alpine and Borger, each 30 per cent.

All five of Texas' biggest cities registered declines: Houston and Fort Worth, each 7 per cent; Austin and San Antonio, each 3 per cent; and Dallas, 1 per cent.

City-Wide Summer Sports Planning Meeting At City Park Friday Night

A meeting to plan a full summer program of softball, tennis and other games will be held at the City Park amphitheatre at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, according to Ted Myers, summer recreation program director. All young people of Memphis and their parents are urged to be present.

Mrs. R. E. Crooks will have charge of the tennis program and plans an active summer of tennis games and tournaments.

Frank Smith, Jr., will be the softball league coach. He plans to have a twilight pee-wee league for boys from 7 to 10 inclusive, junior league for boys 11 to 14 inclusive, and senior league for boys from 14 through 19.

In past seasons, there have been five teams in the junior league and five teams in the senior league. In addition, it is hoped that a pee-wee league can be started again this year. Myers said in his opinion there should be four pee-wee teams in Memphis.

Teams will play early in the evening, possibly from 6 to 7:30 o'clock.

Plans now are for the junior leagues to play Tuesday and Thursday evenings and the senior league to play Monday and Friday evenings.

The following teams were in the junior leagues last year: Red Devils, Bobcats, Bearcats, Wildcats and Blackhawk.

The senior league last year consisted of the Memphis Cardinals, Memphis Rebels, Memphis Tornados, Lakeview and Esteline. Plans are to add Hedley and a Negro team from Morningside this year.

The Park Recreation Committee will furnish the lights this year and the Chamber of Commerce will present trophies for the junior pee-wee and senior league tournament winners.

Games will be played during the evening at Friday night's planning session.

After teams have been re-activated, a softball schedule will be arranged and the softball season will begin the following Friday.

The field already has been put in good playing condition and a new backstop was to be installed this week.

Dr. Chas. Dryden Sells Interest In Local Hospital

Dr. Chas. Dryden announced this week that he had sold his interest in Odom Clinic Hospital in Memphis and would leave soon for Houston.

Dr. Dryden stated that he had accepted a three-year fellowship in urology in Houston, and would be located at the Veteran's Hospital in that city the first year of his residence.

The doctor and his wife and their three children, Carol, Steve and Julie, will leave here for Houston the latter part of June.

Dr. Dryden came here six years ago and became associated with Dr. J. A. Odom in operating the clinic.

While living here, the Drydens have been active in club and civic affairs of the community. Dr. Dryden is a past member of the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, was on the board of directors of the Lions Club for three years, and is a member of the Masonic Order, Chamber of Commerce, and the Memphis Country Club.

"The people of this city and area are wonderful," Dr. Dryden stated. "We have enjoyed our stay here, and Mrs. Dryden and I certainly hate to move from Memphis. However, I feel that if I make more progress in the practice of medicine, this step must be made, since at Houston, I shall receive more specialized training."

Troop 35 Scouts Getting Ready For Camping Excursion

Scouts of Troop 35 are getting ready for a week of camping at Camp Kiawah, at Lake Marvin, 18 miles east of Canadian. The Scouts will leave Memphis, Sunday morning, June 13 at 9 o'clock, according to Scoutmaster Ted Myers.

The Camp Kiawah program will start June 6 and conclude June 30.

More than 840 Scouts from the Adobe Walls Council will attend camp this year, the largest group to ever attend the camp in the history of the council.

A full program has been arranged by the council for this session of camping.

The camp site which Troop 35 will use this year will be the Cheyenne Camp.

Troop 35 Scouts who have already paid their reservations to go to camp are Thomas Snowden, Charles Massey, Donald Aaron, Garland Moore, Neal Foxhall, Marvin Middleton, Don Deaver, Dan Durham, Jerry Smith, Gayle Gilreath, Wayne Lesley, Jimmy Dunn and Bobby Murdock.

Other Scouts who plan to go to Camp Kiawah should pay their fee immediately, Myers said.

Some of the Scouts need part-time jobs to help them finance their camping trip and anyone who can give a helping hand is urged to do so by Myers, so the boys can make their own money for their camping program.

The boys will spend part of their time the next couple of weeks, getting their supplies ready for camp, according to Myers.

ATTEND CONFERENCE—Among the 36 persons attending the Chief Operators Conference of General Telephone Company of the Southwest in Memphis recently were, left to right: Mozelle Vandever, Northern Division Commercial Supervisor; Betty Whitfield, Central Division Traffic Supervisor; Peggy Riggs, Western Division Traffic Supervisor; Olga Moore, Northern Division Traffic Supervisor. Miss Moore and Miss Vandever both live in Memphis while Mrs. Whitfield is from San Angelo and Miss Riggs from Brownfield. Sessions for the conference were held in The Memphis Hotel.

Motor Vehicles Should Be Kept In Top Operating Condition, Expert Says

"Snappy on the outside, dead on the inside!"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association used this parody of the popular song "Laughing on the Outside, Crying on the Inside," to describe the condition of many of the automobiles now being driven on Texas streets and highways.

Col. Tilley spoke in connection with the state-wide vehicle maintenance program all official and non-official groups are conducting in Texas. This program is part of the annual vehicle maintenance program of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"Many car owners who keep their vehicles well washed and painted are not so particular about keeping them in safe operating condition," he said.

He pointed out that it would make better sense to spend less time shining up the fenders and more time investigating the condition of brakes, tires, headlights and other mechanical parts.

"You can lose only a little prestige if your car is a bit dingy," he said, "but you can lose your life if your car is mechanically unsafe."

"I certainly don't want to discourage automobile owners from keeping their cars spick and span," Col. Tilley said. "On the contrary, I think concern for the appearance of the vehicle speaks well for the owner. But I do want to impress upon them the importance of placing first things first, and safety should have priority on every driver's list."

Col. Tilley urged all motorists to take their cars in for a safety check. He said, "The important points to check are headlights, rear and stop lights, brakes, tires, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, muffler and exhaust system, window glass, horn, and rear-view mirror."

"Let's have a hundred per cent co-operation," he said. "Checking our cars is certainly a simple way to check accidents!"

Ways Of Treating Snake Bite Listed By Health Officer

AUSTIN—A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall, however, few of these result fatally.

Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out.

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about 5 seconds at a time.

If the proper antivenom serum is available, apply it according to directions, but most important of all is to remove as much of the poison as is possible so as to prevent its absorption.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment.

If one is bitten by a poisonous snake DO NOT run or get overheated and DO NOT take any alcoholic stimulants because circulation increased by alcohol or exercises serves to distribute the poison much more rapidly through the body.

DON'T injure the tissues by injecting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote.

DON'T depend upon home remedies or so-called snake bite cures, for they are of no value.

Open House Set At Cicero Smith

An "Open House" will begin at Cicero Smith Lumber Company here Saturday to give residents of Memphis and the surrounding area an opportunity to visit and see the firm's remodeled and expanded store. This announcement was made Wednesday by T. V. Wade, who recently became manager here. The event will continue for one week.

A number of free prizes will be awarded to some of the persons, who visit the store between Saturday and June 5.

One result of the remodeling program is a larger display room for showing off the bigger and more varied stock. The interior has been completely repainted and more floor stands have been installed so customers may more easily and quickly examine goods which the company has to offer.

The firm not only carries items, such as paints and nails, which the average person usually associates with a lumber company, but in addition has added several new departments, including hardware, household supplies and sporting goods.

Within a few days, the yard here will have a larger, more di-ersified stock of lumber sheds, as three carloads of materials are expected to arrive soon, according to Wade.

The new manager extends cordial invitation to everyone in this section to visit the new store during the "Open House."

Adrian Combs Tech Degree Candidate

hours Sunday night and early Monday morning. The southbound Zephyr reached here at 12:55 o'clock Monday morning and did not depart until 2:15, according to McMickin, who is station agent here.

The northbound Zephyr, which is due here shortly after 7 p. m., was held up by the high water and failed to reach here until 2 o'clock Monday morning.

McMickin said no track was washed out but that rushing waters swept away ballast.

A work train was on the scene Monday morning, ready to start track repairs.

Highway traffic was halted between here and Newlin for about three hours Sunday evening. Some traffic was detoured by way of State Highway 256 east of here and along the Childress-Wellington highway, officers here said.

A number of motors were drowned out by high water. One motorist, whose vehicle stalled, reported to officers that he made his way to safety through shoulder-deep water. Two or three vans had to be towed out of high water, according to authorities here.

Highway Department crews were busy Monday clearing rubbish, trash and even planks and fence posts from Highway 287, between here and Newlin, and moving dirt to rebuild damaged shoulders. Some highway guard rails were knocked down or pushed out of line by raging torrents in a draw at Salisbury.

Fields in the Salisbury, Newlin and Harrell Chapel communities were badly washed, with numerous instances where nothing remained except "hardpan." In at least one field, northwest of Newlin, silt washed in behind terraces until earth was level with their tops.

Ed Hutcherson said hail fell at his home in the Salisbury community for thirty or forty minutes. John Chaudoin, who lives northwest of Estelline, reported that hail fell at his place for about an hour. Chaudoin said rain varied from one to five inches in the Estelline area, with four inches or more on his farm.

Precipitation on a farm northwest of Newlin, totaled about nine inches Sunday evening, according to Mrs. Lee Thornton, owner of the land.

Hutcherson, who is commissioner of Precinct 1, said that 14 culverts and bridges on country roads were washed out or damaged. A 24-foot span of an 85-foot bridge across Jonah Creek, south of Harrell Chapel, was pushed out of line. Hutcherson said the same bridge was damaged during hard rains last fall. The commissioner said most of the culverts and bridges could be moved back into place, or salvaged and rebuilt. Crews already were at work early this week reconstructing approaches. Roadways also were badly washed at numerous points, according to Hutcherson.

General Telephone Company here said between 100 and 200 telephones were knocked out in Memphis. Crews began restoring them to normal operation Monday, according to H. E. Craig, district manager here.

Lightning burned out trunk lines to Lakeview and a power failure and wet cables interrupted service at Estelline. Estelline was isolated for about three hours, while service to Lakeview was not resumed until Monday morning.

Craig said the company did not have any poles down or lines broken.

West Texas Utilities had quite a bit of minor trouble, such as burned out transformer fuses, which kept linemen busy Sunday night and Monday putting lines to customer's homes back in service. However, no major trouble was caused by the storm, a spokesman said.

The Hall County Electric Co-op lost a pole at the Harrell Chapel ball field and another about 3 miles southeast of Memphis, according to J. W. Coppedge, manager. He said there were service disruptions at Estelline and Turkey but that repairs were made later in the night. Some trouble also was reported Monday morning on the Mill Iron Ranch, southwest of Estelline. A brief but hard shower fell here late Wednesday afternoon. Precipitation measured .13 of an inch, bringing the May total to 6.60 inches, and the year's total to 8.03 inches. There was some light hail which caused no reported damage.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson was called to San Antonio Wednesday afternoon by the death about noon of her mother, Mrs. W. P. Mahaffey. Mr. Wilson accompanied his wife to San Antonio.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mahaffey were to be held at 4 p. m. Friday in Porter-Loring Funeral Home in San Antonio.

This area now has the best top-to-bottom season that it has had in several years, and prospects for a good crop this fall look bright, provided showers come later this summer.

Calhoun county farmers like what they have seen of a new clover, Floranna, which was introduced to the county three years ago by the Experiment Station and Extension Service of the Texas A. and M. Opportunity Still Here

To listen to some quarters, it would appear that young people of today have no future and that opportunity is a thing of the past. It may even be true that all of us feel this way occasionally, especially when we've had a particularly trying day and are feeling sorry for ourselves.

Actually, however, our nation is still a land of opportunity for those who have energy and initiative. We have only to look around us to find plenty of proof of this.

Take Clinton Harbers of Fayette County, Tex., for instance. Harbers was broke eight years ago when he returned from fighting in the South Pacific. But he rolled up his sleeves and went to work. Neighbors may have thought he was wasting his time, may even have felt that he was crazy, because the opportunity he grabbed was a neglected Central Texas farm.

But if the neighbors took a dim view of his future then, they must have changed their minds, because today the farm has been developed into a capital investment of approximately $100,000, with an income of more than $20,000 a year.

Harbers' success was recognized recently when he was presented the Hoblitzelle Award for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life, which included $5,000 in cash and a gold medal. The presentation was made at an open house and field day of the Texas Research Foundation at Renner.

How was Harbers able to accomplish so much in so short a time? Principally, because he had initiative and the energy to put it into action.

To quote Dr. C. L. Landell, director of the Foundation: "Clinton Harbers has gone further than most men who farm the soil, and he has gone further than most scientists in seeing agriculture in its whole concept."

For instance, others have planted legumes for years to improve the soil, but Harbers planted them in his own way to achieve certain preconceived effects. He was not content to follow others. Out of his own experience he devised farm machinery to plant legumes in a way they had never been planted before, and today four of the major companies which build farm equipment have toolled up to produce adaptations of the Harbers machine. He has his own method of insect control, he has his own method of planting cotton, and his own method of doing almost everything. And what's more he has welded them all into a system—a program to produce more crops for less money and build back the land while producing more.

Landell said further that 32-year-old Harbers "has been restless in his search for information; he has understood the purpose of the research he has seen, and he has put it to work in a profitable way."

Under the Harbers system, land is chiseled and bedded after a crop is harvested. Legumes are planted on sides of the beds and fertilizer is deep placed in bands under the seed. One fourth of the land is planted to Hubam clover, the remainder to Williams vetch.

A week or two before the cash crop is planted in the spring, top growth of the legumes is cut from the beds with a row disc, leaving the roots undisturbed. After legumes have dried out enough to shatter and break up easily, they are harrowed into the furrows between the beds where they are left uncovered to decompose and at the same time serve as a mulch.

Cash, cotton or some other cash crop is immediately planted on the undisturbed and firm bed between the furrows. Pre-emergence weed control is used.

The mulch aids in controlling weeds, conserves moisture and protects the soil from compacting effects of rain. Legume roots remaining in the soil open up land for better moisture penetration. Insect control is carried on at regular intervals. Cotton is harvested mechanically.

Harbers' story is another in an unending series which have made this nation great and strong. As long as there are enough men like Harbers searching for better ways of doing things, there is a good chance the United States will continue that way.

Segregation in Schools

Segregation in the nation's schools was declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court last week but it is likely to take some time to put this ruling into effect. As a matter of fact, it may be that this will never be accomplished completely.

Here in Texas, J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, has advised public schools to make plans for continued segregation of white and Negro students through next year at least. In letters to all Texas superintendents, Edgar said that distribution of state funds will continue to be based on separation of white and Negro schools and that teachers should be employed on the same basis.

Certainly this is a situation where everyone involved should "make haste slowly." Before any decisions are made and any steps taken toward combining white and Negro schools, all facts relating to the matter should be gathered and studied carefully and dispassionately.

There will be a much better chance of reaching a solution that will be fair and equitable for everyone concerned, if discussions are conducted with a minimum of prejudice and a maximum of understanding.

MEMORIAL DAY

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Press Paragraphs—

Modernization A Necessity
If Floydada is to keep its place as a trading center in this west Texas area, a modern business section is not a luxury. It is a necessity.

We have already gone too many years and allowed the business section to deteriorate to a low state. At the same time, our neighbor towns, many much younger than Floydada, have grown up and prospered through the work, planning and building of progressive, forward-looking citizens who own business property but felt their responsibility of keeping their property modern and attractive and an asset to the community.

Floydada citizens are filled with pride at the business improvements which have recently taken place and they congratulate those property owners. Yet, there are business buildings in down-town Floydada that haven't had a drop of paint on them or possibly not touched by a hammer in twenty-five years. And now it is too late for paint.

The Floydada Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce are backing the annual clean-up campaign next week. They also hope to stimulate some more modernization activity.

These young men seem to feel that every store in Floydada that hasn't kept up with the times with a modern, attractive front and interior shows that someone in Floydada is not interested in their town. You can stand on any corner and point these buildings out.

The Lions say that it isn't a pleasant thing to do.

COUPLES MUST COOPERATE
It is to be noted that divorce courts are busy granting divorces to misfit persons who have assumed obligations: "So long as you shall live."

One authority says that drink has been at the bottom of most divorces.
Another says that money, or the lack of money, wrecks most homes.
Another claims that the influence of divorce among the movie stars has led to many divorces among lesser lights.

In a conversation with a noted preacher who has performed many marriages, only to see so many of them go on the rocks, he made this observation:
"Too many young persons enter marriage with no thought of the necessity of a give-and-take-life. Those who want their own way about everything will soon find that their marriage is a failure. The influence of fast living, drink, money and divorces among the movie stars is not to be compared with the spirit of fair play and moderation in thought, deed and action on the part of both parties to the marriage contract. After all, marriage is a partnership; and the young man or young woman who enters the partnership without the feeling of obligation that the contract must be made a success is bound to failure. One party cannot be untrue or unfair to the other partner and hope that their mutual bonds shall be binding."
Perhaps he is more right than wrong.

Board members and others interested in the matter are anxious for a representative meeting of Memphis citizens, in order that a wise decision on the problem may be reached.

A number of things will have to be considered before final plans for an expansion program can be made and the board wants the benefit of questions and advice from both patrons and taxpayers.

Latest Trend In Cotton Farming Toward Chemical-Control Of Weeds

COLLEGE STATION—Cotton farming continues to become more mechanized and the latest trend is toward chemical control of weeds and grasses. Machine harvested cotton must be clean to bring top market prices. It's only natural for farmers to turn toward chemical weed control.

County agents have additional information on this method of weed control. They also can supply bulletin C-320, Chemical Weed Control in Cotton.

Groundwork Laid For Recommending Waterfowl Rules

AUSTIN—The Game and Fish Commission, at a recent meeting in Austin, laid the groundwork for recommending regulations of the Texas waterfowl harvest for 1954.

The Commission, after deciding to postpone action on proposed increase in coastal shell prices, discussed how best to prevent Texas hunting preferences at coming conferences.

It was decided to advance the date of the regular quarterly meeting to July 9 to allow ample time to prepare the state's case before Federal authorities who determine harvest regulations.

The subject was brought up by Commissioner Herbert J. Frensey of Houston, who said reports received on northern nesting ground water conditions indicate a late hatching season and probably a late southern migration in the fall.

Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary, suggested the early July Commission meeting would be necessary in order to shape the state's preferences for the Washington meeting of the National Waterfowl Council in late July.

Meanwhile, the Commission approved a suggestion by the shell industry to inspect coastal shell operations June 3, and then set its October meeting as the time for final decision on raising the sale price from seven to 10 cents a cubic yard to help finance new Commission projects.

THE BAFFLES By Mahoney

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas' fast-flying governor returned from a vacation in Alabama, spent a few days in the state, and planned off to Korea, where he and other state executives will make an inspection tour at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

While in the capital, Governor Shivers was very busy doing these things:
Answering charges of disloyalty to the Democratic Party by saying that when he supported Mr. Eisenhower for president in 1952 he was really fighting to preserve the principles of the party of Jefferson and Jackson because he wants the Texas party and the national party to return to those principles in unity.

Announcing that the campaign manager in his race for re-election will be State Senator Otis Lock of Lufkin, and that campaign headquarters in Austin would be opened right away.

Answering Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National chairman, who said that he would deal with the Texas Democratic Advisory Council, rather than the state democratic executive committee.

Shivers told Mitchell: "I strongly suspect that your statement is announcement of your entry into the Texas governor's race. I welcome that challenge..."

Saying that Texas and other states would need years to work out compliance with the non-segregation rule.

Promising that as long as he is governor, there will be no state sales tax or income tax.

Naming Weldon Hart, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, as chairman of the newly-created Governor's Economic Advisory Commission.

Announcing that John VanCronkhite, his former aide under attack in an insurance court case, is not in his present re-election campaign.

Lloyd's Closed
After a nine-day hearing in 98th District Court here, Judge Charles O. Betts granted a temporary injunction, asked by the attorney general's department, forbidding the Lloyd's of North America Insurance Co. from doing business in Texas.

At one time, VanCronkhite was employed as public relations counsel for the company, he testified during the hearing.

Refunds Coming
Employers of Texas are going to get refunds amounting to several million dollars from the Texas Employment Commission.

Wets and Drys
Texas Rangers are investigating trouble between the wets and drys at Bandera.

More Vegetables
There will be a 20 per cent increase in acreage planted to commercial vegetables planted in Texas this year, according to a forecast of the Crop Reporting Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Burglar Trap
Austin police will be able to get the jump on burglars here, very soon now, thanks to a new piece of equipment devised by a local detective agency.

ANNOUNCING New Ownership

FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS

in Memphis

I am glad to announce that I have purchased the frozen food locker plant in Memphis from Floyd Sims, and will operate it in the future under the name of MEMPHIS FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS.

Immediately after buying this plant, we completely overhauled the Cooling Room. This included new floor and new walls, and other changes which make it possible for us to better cool carcasses of animals. The building has undergone other repairs, such as new roof, and we intend to decorate the front in the immediate future. Each cooling unit has undergone inspection, and where any repair was needed—it was done. Therefore, we can say that this plant is FIRST CLASS SHAPE throughout.

YOU CAN RENT A LOCKER BOX . . . AS LONG AS THEY ARE AVAILABLE

AN INVITATION

We invite every person interested in the operation of a locker plant to come in and inspect our layout. We intend to TAKE CARE OF THE NEEDS OF everyone in the area, and will do it to your complete satisfaction. Just let us know what you want.

Our Senator Reports

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

TEXAS: When I had the opportunity of spending a week recently, I was over-joyed to find that practically all of the State has now been freed from the first abundant rains in many years.

Each of these projects was conceived as part of an overall plan to benefit the entire river basin in which it is located. Harnessed floodwaters stored in these reservoirs will be made available for industrial, agricultural, and municipal use.

These reservoir projects form an important part of the long-range solution to the Texas water problem.

STATUS OF DAMS: Thirteen of the 20 authorized dams have been completed or are under construction. They include Addicks Dam and Barker Dam in the Buffalo Bayou Watershed; Belton Dam and Reservoir; Benbrook Dam, near Fort Worth; one dam of four authorized on the Neches and Angelina Rivers basin; Garza-Little Elm, between Dallas and Denton; Grapevine Dam; Hords Creek Dam and Reservoir, near Coleman; Lavon Dam, in North Texas, on the East Fork of the Trinity; San Angelo Dam; Texarkana Dam and Reservoir; Lake Texhoma; Whitney Dam and Reservoir.

These 13 projects, when all are complete, will have a total controlled water storage capacity of 14,474,500 acre-feet. Their drainage area is 77,172 square miles.

OTHER PROJECTS: Seven other reservoir projects in Texas have been authorized by Congress. Among them are three additional dams in the Neches-Angelina Rivers Watershed. The list also includes Canyon Dam and Reservoir, on the Guadalupe River; Lake Brownwood Dam and Reservoir; White Oaks Dam and Reservoir, near Houston; Ferrells Bridge Dam and Reservoir, in East Texas, near Jefferson.

Hardly a week goes by that I do not take some action which I hope will help get these authorized projects past the planning stage and construction started. I know how important they are not only to the areas immediately affected but to the State as a whole.

FUTURE PROJECTS: In addition, I am pressing for authorization of other needed flood control and water conservation projects in Texas.

A few days ago, for example, I appeared with several Waco citizens before the Flood Control Subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee to urge authorization of a dam on the Bosque River, near Waco. This is one of several recommended multiple-purpose reservoir projects for flood control and allied purposes on the Brazos River and its tributaries.

This project has been given Number One priority by the Corps of Engineers. I am hopeful that we can get authorization for it.

CANADIAN RIVER: For several years I have worked hard on behalf of the Canadian River project. We obtained authorization in 1950 for this project, which will supply municipal and industrial water to 11 cities in the High Plains region of Texas.

The State Legislature last year authorized formation of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. The Authority is exploring every possibility of obtaining private financing for construction of the project.

The proposed reservoir will cover 26,300 acres.

UPSTREAM WATER CONTROL: Little dams as well as big dams are necessary. I am continuing to seek action on legislation which would encourage the building of small, upstream dams.

These dams would trap water near where it falls. They would give protection against the flash floods which do so much damage and carry away so much of our valuable topsoil.

MANY-SIDED PROBLEM: The problem is one that has many angles. It is one to which I have given attention throughout my years as a public official.

One of the first things I did when I entered the Senate in 1949 was to ask the Bureau of Reclamation to make an appraisal of the overall water supply problem of Texas. The Bureau's report of its findings, released last year, helped to focus attention on the neces-

Frisbie Receives Tech Scholarship

Duke Frisbie, one of Memphis High School's star athletes, has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with Texas Tech at Lubbock, according to an announcement by DeWitt Weaver, head coach at the college.

A 170-pound, 6 foot 1 quarter-back for Coach George Childress' Cyclones last fall, Frisbie placed in state track competition this spring.

Frisbie won first place in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220 at both District 2A and regional one competition. At State he pulled a muscle while finishing first in his qualifying heats in the two dash events, but still managed a fourth place in the 100-yard dash finals.

He is also a basketball and baseball player.

"Duke has the quick start we like in our split-T backs," commented Coach Weaver.
