Work of renovating the interior and exterior of the courthouse was begun several weeks ago.

Blank application forms, for use in filing requests for allotments, are available at the county A. S. C. office in the basement of the courthouse in Memphis.

An estimated 10,000 acres is sown in wheat in Hall County this year, according to Lynn L. McKown, manager of the A. S. C. office.

Most, if not all cotton, had been planted by mid-week, and farmers were busy planting feed.

The hot winds and sand had taken a great deal of precious topsoil moisture from freshly plowed ground. However, there apparently was sufficient moisture left to germinate seed and bring them up in the territory, surrounding Memphis.

Grain producers who intend to take advantage of government price support loans on 1954 crops were warned again this week by County Agent W. B. Hooser...

The storage problem can become critical because of the huge surplus of grains already stored, and from increased planting, particularly of grain sorghums, in this area and over the state.

Current estimates place the shortage of space at 60 million bushels in the state. The deficit is likely to be even more if heavy grain sorghum producing areas continue to receive needed moisture.

HUMBLE OIL REITERATES DESIRE TO OPEN SERVICE STATION HERE

Local Wholesale Petroleum Dealers Say Move Could Halt Their Operations

Representatives of Humble Oil & Refining Company told members of the city council Tuesday night that their company still would like to establish a retail outlet here.

Mayor Carl Harrison replied in the negative when A. Y. Olds, Humble manager at Vernon, asked if anything had been done about the matter since the April meeting.

At the April 12 meeting, Humble representatives stated that a city ordinance, regulating certain practices of oil firms, would need to be changed, before the company would find it practicable to construct a service station here.

The ordinance restricts the amount of gasoline and other volatiles that can be delivered by a truck to Memphis service stations to 1,600 gallons or less.

City councilmen were told at the April session that Humble wanted to supply any station which might be built here, from a terminal station, since no local bulk plant was planned.

At this week's meeting, Humble men said their organization would like to have permission, a permit or a letter, showing they would be allowed to construct a station when they wanted it.

The representatives said that gasoline would be delivered from a terminal station but that if future business justified it, a bulk plant would be located here.

Weather turns hot and dry in Memphis area past week. Weather in this area made a drastic change the past week. Instead of rains, some of gully-washing proportions, there were high, hot winds which brought thick, blowing dust to numerous points several times during the period.

Some farmers were reporting that sand had drifted into their fields, covering up portions of their small, growing crops. Some damage was said to have been caused to tender cotton by the heat and the driving sand, although this was apparently only minor.

Most, if not all cotton, had been planted by mid-week, and farmers were busy planting feed.

The hot winds and sand had taken a great deal of precious topsoil moisture from freshly plowed ground. However, there apparently was sufficient moisture left to germinate seed and bring them up in the territory, surrounding Memphis.

This area was much more fortunate than sections north of here, both Tuesday and Wednesday nights. During the two-day period, localities which received beating rain or hail or both included Groom, Goodnight, Ashola and Happy. At Groom, precipitation was reported to have been six inches or more Wednesday night, following between one and two inches Tuesday evening.

Fall at the other points was said to have been four or five inches. Considerable damage resulted to wheat in the affected areas.

Hedley Nazarenes Announce Revival

The Church of the Nazarene in Hedley will open a revival Friday, according to an announcement by Mrs. Howard Kilgore, pastor.

The revival will continue through Sunday, June 20. Services will be at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Rev. Walter Patterson of Wauwauka, Okla., will bring the gospel message. Called "The Cowboy Preacher," Reverend Patterson is known in Hall and Donley counties, as he is a former resident of Hedley.

Reverend Kilgore will be in charge of music.

Members of the Hedley congregation extend a cordial invitation to all their friends in this area to visit them during the revival and while present, to inspect work on the interior of the church building which members have just completed.

Current estimates place the shortage of space at 60 million bushels in the state. The deficit is likely to be even more if heavy grain sorghum producing areas continue to receive needed moisture.

The answer for many farmers is to provide space on their land to take care of their own crops. Hooser says, adding that loans are available for building new facilities or remodeling existing structures.

Farmers are eligible to write off such construction on their federal income taxes over a five-year period.

Your Senator Reports

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

COMMUNIST PATTERN: It seems clear that the communist aggression in Indo-China and the shipment of Iron Curtain arms to Guatemala are pieces of a pattern—a pattern designed to keep the United States off balance in the months ahead.

More pieces of this sinister pattern will be revealed as the communists unravel the web they have spun. We have got to keep an alert eye on other "soft spots" in the world.

COURSE OF ACTION: Obviously, we cannot police the whole world. American soldiers cannot act as fire brigades rushing to stamp out flames spurring up at isolated corners of the globe.

That would be a fruitless undertaking. It would exhaust both our economic strength and our manpower.

We have to pick and choose. We must select the ground upon which we will stand—and know clearly just who will stand with us.

We do not want to abandon any unwilling people to communist tyranny—nor should we. We do not want to break relations with countries that are our friends and allies—nor should we.

Nevertheless, we must take a long, cool look at the realities of the world today.

HARD TASK: Our foreign policy is a complicated network of alliances, pacts and understandings which have been put together in the last few years. Some parts of that network have worked well. Some parts have been severely strained. Some may have failed altogether.

We must examine this network and determine the strength and the weaknesses. Perhaps some parts should be propped up. Perhaps others should be abandoned altogether.

It is not a job to be accomplished in a day or a week. It is a hard, plugging task that will take time—even though we cannot afford too much time.

But it must be done. And the first step in doing it must be the promotion of national unity.

The times call for a bipartisan review—in a nonpartisan spirit—of our whole foreign policy.

REASON TOGETHER: We need to recall and act upon the Biblical injunction from Isaiah: "Come now and let us reason together."

As Americans, we have our agreements and our disagreements. Regardless of that, I am convinced practically all Americans hold one objective in common.

That is peace and freedom for our country.

It is not an abstract objective. It means an opportunity to plan for the future. It means security for our children. It means liberty in thought and in deed for our posterity.

Most Americans, I am confident, want these things for themselves. I believe they also want them for their fellow-Americans.

We can attain them by uniting in mutual confidence and trust—in holding to a steadfast determination that the lamp of freedom shall ever burn brightly on this earth.

TEXAS TIN SMELTER: The Senate acted favorably on my two resolutions, expressing the sense of Congress that the Texas City tin smelter should remain in operation at least until June 30, 1955, and directing a congressional inquiry into the whole question of a domestic tin-smelting industry.

Texans have a double interest in this matter. First, the tin smelter is an important economic asset to the area in which it is located. Second—and more important —its continued operation is a potent force for the defense of our Nation against Communist aggression.

Some 65 per cent of the free world's tin comes from Southeast Asia. We cannot depend with confidence upon that source of supply. If we were cut off from Southeast Asia, we could turn to only one place for tin. That is the South American country of Bolivia.

Only one installation in the Western Hemisphere is capable of handling the low grade tin ores from Bolivia. That is the smelter at Texas City. Its continued operation is vitally important in the maintenance of the security of the United States against any possible enemy.

SOCIAL SECURITY: In revising the Social Security program, I certainly do not favor extending coverage on a compulsory basis to members of the medical profession.

The doctors have made it clear that they do not want to come into this program. They feel that the self-employed physician is capable of providing voluntarily for his old age. Another consideration is that the average self-employed physician does not retire until the age of 74 years.

As one Texas doctor wrote me, compulsory inclusion of this professional group in the Social Security program would be to the detriment of all doctors who have worked day and night for long years to establish a livable retirement fund of their own."

MILK MAIZE: Producers of milk-maize in South Texas face a serious storage problem. Out-of-State wheat, under Government loan, is using most of the existing storage facilities in Corpus Christi and the surrounding area.

The result is that the milk-maize producers have no place to warehouse their bumper crop. They are faced with the necessity of having to sell on the current market, which would cause them serious loss.

I am doing everything I can to get the Agriculture Department to move out the wheat—most of it from Oklahoma—so that our own farmers will not be penalized in this fashion.

Whooping Cranes Hide Nesting Sites

AUSTIN: Latest reports from the far north indicate that the scanty whooping crane population, which winters in Texas, has eluded the last bird watching outpost to reach their Arctic nesting grounds, according to Howard D. Dodge, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Fred G. Bard of Regina, director of the Saskatchewan Provincial Museum, has written the Commission that the last trace of the secretive feathered celebrities was early May.

But where the giant whoopers, now down to a mere 24, spend their summers still is one of wildlife's best-kept secrets.

Down on the Texas coast, where Julian Howard, manager of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, plays host to the whoopers during the winter months, reports still are coming in on the big birds' flight northward. Both Bard and Howard need authentic charting of the whoopers' movements.

Continental Introduces New Super Motor Oil

HOUSTON — Approximately 31,000 Conoco motor oil dealers from coast to coast and from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande this week are introducing Continental Oil Company's New Super Motor Oil, described as "America's first double-duty motor oil."

"New Conoco Super Motor oil is beyond question the finest motor oil Continental Oil Company ever has produced," Harry J. Kennedy, Conoco's vice president in charge of marketing, has declared.

"Conoco's new oil meets with margin to spare the exacting lubrication requirements of modern day high-compression engines in all types of service, especially the stop-and-go driving that accounts for the biggest part of car mileage," said Kennedy.

In a grueling stop-and-go road test, conducted last winter in sub-zero weather in the Colorado Rockies, New Conoco Super Motor Oil's performance surpassed by a wide margin that of other top-grade motor oils available on the market, the Continental marketing chief reported.

The new Conoco oil is being launched this week with the beginning of an intensive advertising program, including advertisements in The Democrat.

Mrs. A. E. Wells returned home Sunday after visiting here with her sisters, Mrs. Gip McMurtry and Mrs. Myrtle Howard and mother, Mrs. H. M. Guest. Mrs. Guest returned home with her and will visit in Abilene and also in Grapevine with her son, W. E. Guest and family.

Mrs. Anna Dickson, Mrs. Peter Bonds and Audrey Beth nett visited in Carlsbad, N. last week with relatives. Mrs. Dickson visited with her son, Sitton and family while Bonds visited her daughter, Andy DeWees.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Betts baby of Amarillo were week guests in the home of Mr. Mrs. Clifton Burnett.

Methodist Church Holds Family Night

The Wesley Class of the Methodist Church featured a luncheon meeting and installation service at the church on Thursday, June 3.

A tasty meal was served at the noon hour, after which a program was presented.

The menu consisted of white navy beans served from an old black dinner pot over 100 years old, turnips and greens, green onions in glass containers along the table, green beans, buttered potatoes, tossed vegetable salad, fried chicken and gravy, corn bread, hot rolls, and the dessert was old-fashioned egg custard.

In one room of the party suite was an array of old relics. The bed was adorned with a beautiful quilt and embroidered pillow shams which were embroidered with this motif, "I slept and dreamed that life was beauty. I woke and found that life was duty."

The club was organized in 1912. Only two charter members, Mrs. C. R. Webster and Mrs. R. H. Wherry, still reside in Memphis.

Enjoying this affair were Mes. J. W. Stokes, Brice Webster, J. L. Barnes, J. W. Fitzjarrald, D. A. Neeley, Bob Roberts, W. C. Dickey, R. C. Walker, Louie Goffinet, Lee Thornton, Myrtis Phelan, Bill Kesterson and hostesses, Mrs. Seth Palmeyer and Mrs. N. A. Hightower. Two guests, Mrs. Walter Hightower and Mrs. H. B. Methodist Church Holds Family Night

Approximately 210 members of the First Methodist Church observed Family Night with a pot luck dinner in the basement of the church Wednesday evening, June 2.

The dinner was served buffet style and each member found his place at a long white covered table centered with an arrangement of lovely summer flowers.

After the sumptuous feast, the film "This is Life" was enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. R. C. Lemons, supervisor of the vacation church school, gave a resume of the work just completed and invited the parents to view the displays of handicraft and Bible work of the various departments.

R. C. Lemons expressed appreciation to the Hamiltons for their service here and graciously invited the group to the ladies' parlor where Santa Claus' huge pack had been unloaded for Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton and Pat.

After viewing a complete service of eight Franciscan pottery in the Desert Rose pattern, many other lovely gifts were opened by the Hamiltons.

An impressive baptismal service was conducted by Rev. Hamilton as a closing service of his ministry of the church here.

J. O. Y. Circle Elects Officers At Tuesday Meet

The J. O. Y. Circle of the First Christian Church met in the church parlor for the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon, June 8.

A Bible study was conducted by Bernice McCoy with the entire troupe taking part. The lesson was a review of the book of John, which was the basis of a series of lessons just completed.

Health Department Says Getting Sun Tan Likely Not Worth Trouble

AUSTIN—The therapeutic value of a sun tan probably isn't worth the trouble and risk it takes to get one.

That's the word from the State Health Department. They say a tan is nothing more than a manifestation of a skin injury.

But these same health officials are first to admit that a sensible bask in the sun makes a fine mental pick-me-up. Overdoing it the first week of sunny weather is the thing that leads to trouble.

Sunshine in large doses can kill you. More than one "sunshine stoker" has succumbed to a hot sun when he wasn't accustomed to it. Even at best over-exposure can mean two or three miserable days and sleepless nights with a mere shirt is torture.

Some people are physically unable to tan. Known medically as "heliophobes," they could spend the entire summer in the sun and all they'd get would be blisters on the blisters. The reason is that their skin lacks the pigment necessary to produce the tan tint, and each new exposure means a new burn.

But if you simply have to have that golden sheen this summer, you can avoid disastrous complications by following these recommendations from Dr. Henry A. Holle, the state health officer.

Assuming you're a type who can tan—a "heliophilic," that is—do it by repeated exposures of, say 5 minutes for the first two or three days. Then increase exposure time to 15 minutes for a couple more days, and then 30 to 45 minutes until you're well done.

After that, you'll probably be safe as far as burning is concerned. But there is still the danger of sun stroke or heat prostration.

Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. What they apparently do not know is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the vitamins required simply by normal living.

Ever wondered about the source of freckles which sometimes spread so becomingly across an upturned female nose? Here's the answer: The color of everyone's skin is determined by the amount of pigment which is formed by the body as a defense against sun rays. Dark-complexioned people have considerable, blades very little, and albinos none at all. Sometimes, especially in children, pigment is unevenly manufactured and collects in spots. These spots are freckles.

Planting At Short Intervals Is Key To Fresh Vegetables During Summer

The following is the final in a series of garden hints to home gardeners on the Plains. The series, written by Dr. George Elle, an expert in horticulture at Texas A.M., is in the interest of better home gardens.

Successive plantings at short intervals is the key to a continuous supply of fresh ingredients for summer salads and fresh vegetables for the table.

A small plot of radishes planted now will mature in less than a week and will be ready soon after the early-planted crop is used. A few planted every two weeks until late July will supply radishes throughout the summer months. This is worthwhile because it takes only a few minutes and very few seeds.

Another crop, a member of the green family, is little known in this area, although it is a valuable asset to summer salads. It seldom is found on the market, but occasionally a near relative, water cress, is available.

The home gardener can have this "something different" on the menu of that special dinner or party by planting cress about three weeks ahead of the event. The crop is at its best shortly after reaching maturity.

Sweet corn also may be planted at two week intervals until about July 1. The crop planted around April 1 should have been ripe about June 1, but it will produce ears for the table only over the short period of one week. By making new plantings, the corn season will be extended to after Sept. 1.

Later plantings of corn are more subject to corn ear worm than those made earlier in the season. More and more seedmen are stocking a solution of DDT, one per cent in mineral oil, which should be applied to the silk immediately after it begins to dry. Several drops are applied to the silk of each ear, letting the solution run down the silk and penetrate around the tip to kill the worm larva.

Second plantings of the crops seeded in March and April (other than radishes, onions and some of the greens group) should not be made during the hot months, but may be made later. Some crops require cool weather to do their best. Second plantings of cool-season vegetables may be made in late July.

Leafy crops will do better if plantings are not made until the middle of August. This results in maturity in September and October when the nights are cool and the quality of the vegetables will be highest.

At Texas Tech, however, we have been pleasantly surprised with excellent yields and quality from August 1 plantings of cuflet they had been "lied to" by the cumpers and snap beans.

Charles Holmquest of Lubbock was a weekend visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Combs and family. Mr. Holmquest is a college friend of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Welch who are here visiting her parents.

SEN. ANDY ROGERS

Childress Man Asks Second Term As State Senator

Monday, The Democrat was authorized by Andy Rogers of Childress to announce his candidacy for a second term as state senator from this district. In a statement, accompanying the announcement, Rogers said:

"It was a deep satisfaction in 1951, as a State Representative to help create our new 30th Senatorial District and thereby give West Texas a fair share of representation in Austin.

"It has been an honor, a pleasure and a privilege to serve as the first Senator from that new District.

"In reviewing my record, I would be the first to insist that I have made mistakes. No doubt, I shall make others. These will always be honest mistakes.

"As your freshman Senator, I gained the following committees: Chairman of Stock and Stock Raising; Vice-Chairman of Agriculture; Vice-Chairman of Education, and member of Water and Irrigation, Veterans Affairs and Public Printing.

"Major legislation I introduced, and which is now law includes an amendment to the Gilmer-Akin school program which has saved our District $250,000.00 of your local tax money; Texas' first grain-warehouse and Grain Storage Law, and an act creating the Greenbelt Municipal Industrial Water Authority to build a dam on the Red River near Clarendon and Hedley.

"My bill to prohibit the sale, publication and distribution of lewd, lascivious and vulgar literature and pictures in Texas passed the Senate unanimously, but died in the House of Representatives.

"I consider water, its development and conservation, to be our most pressing State problem. I shall continue to do all within my power to keep the control of underground water resources in the hands of those who own the land.

"When you elected me two years ago at the age of 27, I was the youngest Senator ever to have had the honor of serving West Texas. This is my fourth occasion to ask to serve the people of West Texas—twice as State Representative, and now, for the second time as your State Senator.

"This is the second time I have been unopposed. For this—and for all of your kindness, help, encouragement, cooperation, friendship and understanding—I say, "thank you" from the bottom of my heart.

"I will appreciate your vote and support and pledge my best to the opportunity of serving you again. I shall approach the job humbly and prayerfully.

ANDY ROGERS."

Miss Patsy Hays, Bride-Elect, Honoree At Twilight Tea-Show

Miss Patsy Sue Hays, bride-elect of John Clark, was honored at a twilight tea-shower Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. C. C. Hodges, 202 North Tenth.

Mrs. H. J. Howell and Mrs. L. DeBerry greeted the guests who in turn presented them with gifts to the bride-elect, Mrs. Hays, and Mrs. Joe Weatherly, aunt of the prospective groom.

Music was provided by Mrs. Sue Miller and Jeannine Miller during the party hours.

A color scheme of pink and white, chosen by the bride-elect, was emphasized in the floral arrangements and corsages worn by the honoree and members of the party.

Bam, pennies and snapdragons accompanied by double wedding rings provided the center of interest for the beautifully silver crystal laid refreshment table, which was covered with a lovely white linen cut-work cloth. The bride-elect's brother, Mr. Lynn McKown and Mrs. L. C. Kinard alternated at the hostess service. Other hostesses in duties of serving delicious refreshments included Mrs. Sam Hamilton, Otis Jones, Mrs. Harvey Wines, Mrs. Edw. Byrd and Roy Goetz.

Mrs. Goodall and Mrs. H. Scott also entertained the guests while Mmes. Callin, Leon Randolph, Mary and directed the guests in serving the large array of shower gifts, including crystal, china, pottery, silver, linen and many other items dear to the heart of every girl.

Other hostesses not mentioned above included Mmes. R. H. Wherry, Herschel Combs, Ed Foxhall, T. J. Bridges, Emma Baskerville, W. McCreary, and Misses Laverne Rollins and Jeannine Miller.

Both Miss Hays and her fiance are graduates of Memphis High School and both have been attending Baylor University where Mr. Clark, son of Mrs. R. Ernest Clark and the late Dr. Clark, was graduated last week. The couple will be married in the First Baptist Church in Memphis Friday evening, June 12.

Waco Parties

Among the Waco parties complimented Miss Hays and her groom-elect was a miscellaneous shower and dinner party.

College friends of Miss Hays honored her with a miscellaneous shower in the Union Building. Hostesses for the affair were Angeline Smith, Katharine Henderson, Sylvia Floyd and Mary Ann Goit. Twenty-five friends of the honoree were included on the invitation list.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Eubank entertained with a dinner party at the Ridgewood Country Club honoring the engaged couple. Ten friends of the couple were included on the invitation list.

Members of the Winnie Davis Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met in the home of Mrs. L. G. DeBerry on Thursday, June 3, at noon to observe the birthday of Jefferson Davis, the only president of the confederacy.

For the luncheon, places were marked for officers and the District president, Mrs. M. G. Monaghan of Amarillo, at the dining table, which was covered with white linen and centered by a lovely arrangement of carnations in red and white, chapter flower and colors. Foursome tables were covered with white linen cloths and small containers held roses and verbenas in red and white.

After the delectable meal a most enjoyable program was presented, under the direction of the program chairman, Mrs. Bray Cook, who introduced the program by leading the group in the recitation of the ritual and pledge to the flags.

A. S. C. Office Making Support Loans On Wheat

Price support loans on 1954 wheat can now be obtained at the Hill County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here, Lynn L. McKown, manager, said Monday.

County loan rate for farm-stored grain is $2.21 a bushel, the A. S. C. officer manager said. A deduction of 13 cents per bushel will be made on wheat stored in commercial warehouses, to be used in paying storage costs through April 30, 1955, McKown explained. One-half cent is deducted for service charges.

For example, No. 1 hard wheat which is stored commercially, will net the producer $2.07 1/2 cents a bushel. Local elevators were offering $1.85 per bushel Monday, the office manager said.

At present, all loans are being made in the county A. S. C. office, with payment being made by way of drafts, drawn on the United States Treasurer.

In 1950 a total of 1,790,030 acres were committed in the U. S.

Corrupt Fairy Tales

We read in the daily press a few days ago where several well-known and beloved fairy tales had been described by English officials as a bad influence on youngsters.

Cinderella came in for censure because the wooing of the lowly little pantry maid allegedly puts ideas in modern misses' romantic young minds.

Boys, also, are said to be affected, having visions of beautiful, rich princesses, who are just waiting to swoon in their arms.

According to one critic, this expectation of meeting a dream lover and living "happily ever after" prevents children from realizing the difficulties and responsibilities of marriage.

Snow White became a casualty when a group of movie censors turned the picture down because some of the villains were felt to be too frightening.

And Little Red Riding Hood fell by the wayside several years ago when a national teachers' conference decided that the wolf masquerading in grandmother's clothing taught children to be deceitful.

The learned English officials could be right although we doubt it. We remember that we and other youngsters like us grew up on such fairy tales and we don't believe that many of us were affected adversely by them.

The way it seems to us, children whose minds are warped by such innocent tales, probably have lacked the right kind of parental training.

For, if children lack the perspective to evaluate the things around them properly, it likely is because their parents are themselves, deficient in this respect.

Women Not Always So Weak

It has frequently been said that "Woman is the weaker sex," but many of the ladies likely would question this and might even go so far as to say that this was propaganda, put out by men, in support of their vaunted superiority.

Whether it is altogether untrue or not, there at least have been numerous instances of woman's bravery which have put sizable dents in it. There was Joan of Arc, who chose death by burning rather than to forsake her beliefs, for instance.

Here in our region, there is a 54-year-old Wichita Falls woman, who not only would likely question the statement, but who could offer herself as proof that it isn't necessarily so.

She is Mrs. E. A. Loest, who foiled an attempted stickup of her husband's service station the other day.

Loest had just finished servicing a customer's car. When he stepped into the station, the man followed him, pulled a pistol and demanded his money.

Instead, Mrs. Loest jumped up, and with the gun no more than five inches from her, started shoving the bandit out the front door.

It would be our opinion that the would-be highjacker probably will be pretty careful about tangling with any members of "the weaker sex" in the future.

Review Sailor Among First 1954 Easter Celebrants

Lakeview sailor had the distinction of being one of the first to observe Easter this year.

Frankie D. Thompson, USN, was aboard the cruiser USS Manchester on the ship's Easter celebration. The ship is on route to the Gulf of Mexico to observe Easter in the UN and Mrs. Henry M. Thompson.

On the crossing of the line to the rolling forward of the ship, Saturday was eliminated Easter to occur on the morning of Good Friday.

At 4 p. m. Saturday in New Orleans, 11 a. m. in Tampa and 10 p. m. Saturday morning, when Easter services were held at the fairgrounds, the grounds, the official opening of the season was complete.

The five ships were only one Protestant and one Catholic. The chaplains were back and forth by the cutter's helicopter until they had services on each ship.

High Average for Anglers Rack Up Most Violations

AUSTIN—The surge of Texans to the state's far-flung fishing places is reflected in the latest monthly arrest report, showing that all but 48 of the 229 cases listed involved angling violations.

E. M. Spratt, director of law enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission said, "Seventy-eight prosecutions were based on lack of licenses, mainly individual fishing permits. Forty of the 171 fishing cases were for taking fish illegally."

This latter category included such as poisoning water to take fish; using electrical device to shock fish; and taking game fish with seines or nets.

Other charges included illegal transportation of minnows; exceeding bag limit on basis; fishing in sanctuaries; possession of undersized fish; and fishing after license suspended.

The director suggested fishermen in doubt about the more than 600 separate state fishing laws should consult a game and fish digest or contact their game warden or both.

New Variety of Wheat Anticipated For Plains Region

A new variety of hard red winter wheat which is adapted to Texas and Oklahoma is now in the increase stage, according to County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The new variety—Concho—is continuing to show fine prospects of being a medium-early maturing type of wide adaptation, excellent yielding ability, good test weight and good milling and baking properties.

The Texas and Oklahoma Experiment Stations are increasing the variety as quickly as possible and both states anticipate having sufficient seed on hand by the 1955 harvest to furnish foundation seed growers for further increase. Hooser said a limited quantity of the seed will be available to producers this year.

Concho will likely be the most popular variety of wheat in Texas and Oklahoma in a matter of a few years if present anticipations are realized, according to a joint bulletin from Texas A & M and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Other varieties of wheat are close to the increase stage, having qualities which are needed in the Texas area. One variety that is close to the increase stage is an early maturing type of good milling and baking properties that will be used to replace Wichita and Triumph varieties, now being used in this area for early maturing types, according to Hooser.

Deer Gradually Recovering From Drought Effects

AUSTIN—Reports from principal Texas deer areas indicate gradual slanting toward normalcy after the devastating drought, says Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Dodgen said the major big game range in the Edwards Plateau already is showing beneficial effects of rains which are counted on to be reflected in near average harvest conditions in the fall.

The executive secretary said similar reports have been received from deep South Texas and the Panhandle. Field studies indicate some doubt about parts of East Texas although prospects are good in many areas.

The observations were made as the fawning season was reported underway in some Central Texas areas.

Gene Walker and Bob Ramsey, wildlife biologists, assigned generally to the Edwards Plateau, have begun deer population studies preliminary to recommending extension of the limited experimental doe harvest launched last fall. They found that where surplus deer were hunted, the winter lie-off was negligible.

But in other areas, where overpopulation existed in the more severe drought areas, they found considerable loss from starvation. They noted deer losses in southwest Llano, northwest Gillespie, western Kerr and western Mason counties. The overgrazing and drought effects may affect the fawn crop in some areas.

Warden Supervisor Herbert Ward at Catarina said the rains have made present prospects better than last spring, and pointed out that some deep South Texas counties had a record deer harvest last fall.

"Our brush country deer are in pretty good shape now," he said.

Ernest G. Marsh, wildlife biologist assigned to the Derden Wildlife Management area in Anderson County, said the severe winter drought hit East Texas hard. Rains have sprouted the vital green stuff, and deer have begun to fatten up. But Marsh said more time will be needed to correctly appraise the situation.

The executive secretary surmised that indications now point to an average season next fall.

"Looks now that it could be very good in many areas, but a little lean in others," he said.

Mrs. Estelle Barber visited relatives in Lubbock over the weekend and attended the Cooke County reunion.

Judge Alan Haley of Wichita Falls, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stargel, visited in Memphis last week in behalf of his candidacy for judge of criminal appeals.

Chigger Control Measures Listed

COLLEGE STATION—This is chigger season and many Texans are in for a lot of misery before it's over.

Although it might not be economical to control the pests all season, entomologists say 50 to 75 cents worth of chlordane or toxaphene will kill the red bugs on the average home lawn for about seven days.

Such a plan is suggested to anyone planning an occasional summer picnic, party or other outdoor gathering. Or these insecticides may be applied to a smaller area where the family lounge or plays in the yard.

One pound of five per cent toxaphene or chlordane dust applied to 1,000 square feet is recommended by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These dusts are available from feed, drug and most grocery stores.

Sulphur dust has long been a popular chigger killer, but these treatments are more effective, the entomologists add.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jarrell and Patsy attended a family reunion in Childress Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McCreary and children left this week for Lubbock where Mr. McCreary will attend summer school at Texas Technological College. Mr. McCreary has his Master's degree but is taking some courses in administration. He is principal of the local high school.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers
 Congressman, 18th District

GAGGED AGAIN
 The Social Security Bill that recently passed the House of Representatives was passed under the "gag" rule. This was the second time this session that major legislation originating in the Ways and Means Committee was forced through the House of Representatives while Members stood handcuffed and gagged. The other time was when the voluminous tax revision bill was shoved through. One of the members of the Ways and Means Committee, appearing on television just before the tax bill came to the Congress, stated that the bill was being written by the Ways and Means Committee and that the House of Representatives would not be allowed to dot an i or cross a t. That is exactly what happened. The bill was printed on March 9, contained over 800 pages (small print) and was voted on March 18. This procedure simply means that sixteen members of the Ways and Means Committee can dominate and control 435 duly elected Members of Congress, insofar as legislation before that particular committee is concerned. The Social Security Bill wasn't even printed when the House began considering the rule to debate the bill. An attempt was made to open the bill for certain types of amendments, but this was soundly defeated by a vote of 270 to 76. The great majority of the 76 were Southern Democrats. Men who have always believed in the real democratic processes, and who realize that the "gag" rule practice is nothing less than steamroller politics, and that a slightly expanded use of this practice could do tremendous damage to the legislative processes so necessary in a democratic form of government. We sincerely hope that the Senate (where the "gag" rule does not apply) will remove some of the inequities of the bill.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S SPEECH AT PASADENA

I did not like the statement of the Attorney General to the effect that the recent segregation decision of the Supreme Court was a complete answer to Communist propaganda criticizing racial segregation in this country. The Communist propaganda agents could very easily say that such a statement was an admission on the part of the Attorney General that the United States of America had been guilty of something before the Supreme Court made this segregation ruling. We should spend our time telling the world about the shortcomings and viciousness of Communism, rather than trying to answer some false criticism thought up by some expert Communist propaganda spreader. We are all going to wake up some morning and find out that Communist criticism and condemnation can not be satisfied by sacrificing our basic rights that distinguish Americanism from Communism. If propaganda is the weapon that is going to be used, it is time that we got on the offensive with it, rather than being on the defensive.

Big-Car Luxury and Performance at the Lowest Price of all

The closer you compare values the more certain you'll see that Pontiac is the standard buy on automobile row. In size and weight alone Pontiac offers you more car per dollar than a like amount ever bought before. And that's important, because that long wheelbase is the reason for comfort, riding ease and roadability unapproached within hundreds of dollars of its modest price. And along with these big-car features you get remarkable savings. Operating and upkeep economy are, of course, exceptional. First cost is the least for any big, luxury automobile — within a few dollars of the lowest-priced cars. Our trade-in appraisals are notably large and Pontiac's resale value is among the highest in the industry. Come in for the facts about today's most startling value.
