should not be greater than the percentage that basic commodities are cut on the national level. Recommend that the Zoning Service of the United States Department of Agriculture place the Texas Panhandle in the same zone as Southern Oklahoma in the sales of alfalfa seed. At present, Oklahoma now is permitted to sell the seed for 10 cents more per pound than in the Panhandle, according to the national level.

gnum stored in commercial warehouses should net the producer $2.07 per hundred after Oct. 25. There are other things to consider on warehouse-stored grain: the location of the warehouse and the freight cost to the warehouse. The producer is reimbursed for freight through an increase in the loan rate. The basic loan rate is already set at $2.88 per hundred at Galveston. There was a reduction in freight rates of approximately 9 cents per hundred which should be reflected in the net return to the producers in all grain sorghums shipped by rail after Oct. 18.

Scales Fined $1,250 On Homicide Count In Woman's Death

Hurlis Eulis Scales of Amarillo was found guilty of negligent homicide by a county court jury here Friday, according to County Attorney Bill Teague. He was fined $1,250 by County Judge Tracy Davis.

The charge was placed against Scales, in connection with a two-car head-on crash on the Red River bridge near Estelline, Aug. 23, in which Mrs. George Thaten was killed and her husband was seriously injured. The Thatens' lived at Selma, Calif., but were former Childress residents. At the time of the collision, they were en route to Childress to visit two sons, Michie and Harry Thaten. Whereas, October 20 is the beginning of another fiscal year of the American Legion and

Whereas, November 11, since the close of World War I has been traditionally known as "Armistice Day" but by the act of the Texas Legislature and the Congress of the United States has now been designated as "Veterans Day" and

Banks Feel Initial Effect Of Harvest

Effects of the current crop harvest were just beginning to be felt when the four Hall County banks compiled reports of condition at the close of business, Oct. 7, in accordance with a call from the comptroller of the currency.

Deposits were below those of June 30 but loans and discounts were appreciably lower than on the previous call, indicating that a sizable amount of obligations already had been met.

Ginnings in Hall County are presently being estimated at 35-

600 bales and there are some who say the total will be even higher. This income, coupled with that from the large acreage of feed in the county, should mean a considerable boost in county bank deposits by the time the next call is issued.

The southwest part of the county and much of the west portion probably will share to a lesser extent in this, the brightest outlook in several years, since the above-named sections have been particularly hard hit by hot, dry weather this year.

At the close of business, Oct. 7, deposits of the four county banks totaled $6,749,847.83, while loans and discounts amounted to $3,135,209.67.

This compares with June 30 totals of $6,915,553.04 for deposits and $3,729,268.86 for loans and discounts.

On Sept. 30 of last year, total deposits were $7,124,364.79 while the total of loans and discounts was $3,368,972.16.

Totals listed are those of the First National and First State banks in Memphis, the First National Bank in Lakeview, and the Peoples State Bank in Turkey.

Counties To Seek Hike In Soil Funds

Two Hall County men were among a group of officials from six southeastern Panhandle counties who met in Amarillo last Thursday to make preliminary plans for obtaining more federal funds to finance soil conservation practices in this area. Attending from this county were George Blewer of Lakeview, commissioner of Precinct 2, and County Agent W. B. Hooser.

During the session, arrangements were made for a general meeting in the courthouse at Childress on Friday of this week. The Childress meeting has been called to draft a plan requesting the federal government to raise financial assistance on rebuilding of terraces and dams and for deep plowing in sandy areas of the six counties from 50 to 100 per cent of cost, Blewer said this week. Various officials in the area feel that this change is needed, declaring that many farmers are not able to assist in paying for this work because of prolonged drought.

The gathering at Childress will be open to county judges and commissioners, farmers, ranchers and businessmen.

Others to whom invitations have been extended include: Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Sen. Price Daniel, Congressmen Walter Rogers of Pampa and George Mahon of Lubbock, State Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress, and State Representative Elbert Reeves of Childress.

The session is scheduled to commence at 1:30 p. m. At Childress, delegates will be elected to go to Washington, D. C., where they will confer with federal officials on the proposed hike in soil conservation assistance. This was announced by Motley County Judge Vance Gilbreath at the Amarillo get-together. Gilbreath represented both Motley and Cottle counties.

Others participating in the Amarillo session were R. L. Templeton of Wellington, county judge of Collingsworth County, Louis Richards of Harrell Chapel, Childress County commissioner, and Sam McMurtry, Wheeler County commissioner.

Area Gins Hum As Harvest Of Cotton Helped By Weather

Approximately 15,000 bales of cotton had been ginned in Hall County through Tuesday, according to Bill Monroe, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office at Childress. Monroe said that the consensus of farmers and cotton men with whom he had talked was that somewhere around 35,000 bales would be harvested in the county this year.

Both Monroe and Marshall Fuller, TEC man who is aiding county farmers in obtaining cotton pullers, estimated that about 800 hands were needed, as of Wednesday.

Fuller said a number of farmers have begun using strippers and more will be utilizing this method next week. He said this would help ease the shortage of workers.

Monroe estimated that if the weather remained good for another month, 80 to 90 per cent of the cotton in Hall County would be gathered. He said that six (Continued on Page Seven)

Cyclones To Play White Deer Here Friday Evening

The Memphis Cyclones are scheduled to play the White Deer Bucks at Cyclone Stadium Friday night. Starting time of the contest in which is 7:30 p. m.

Last week, the local team lost to the Canadian Wildcats by a narrow 6-0 margin, in a contest on the opponent's field. Canadian's only tally came on a 92-yard drive in the second quarter.

White Deer banged the Clarendon Broncos, 28-12, in wild-running affair, in which the Bucks racked up 267 yards rushing and Clarendon accumulated 200 yards.

The Memphis-Canadian game was hard fought all the way, with both the Cyclones and the Wildcats chalking up 10 first downs. The Memphis line played a good defensive game and Coach George Childress expressed himself as well pleased with the team's spirit and fight.

Friday night's contest with White Deer has been designated as Dad's game. The fathers of Cyclone members will wear their son's number and will be seated on the sideline during the tilt.

Dads will assemble in the high school cafeteria at 6 p. m. Friday for refreshments and a get-together before the game.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 18. —Leaving Memphis Oct. 14, wife and I went east over what in time will be one of the leading transcontinental highways of America to Davis, Okla., where we stopped for a night's rest. The next day we traveled by way of Ada, McAlester to Fort Smith, Ark.

May we suggest to the highway committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce that work be done immediately toward getting the east and west highway designated as a continuous cross-country road, and also work toward same being a Federal highway.

When the short stretch near Scott's Gap is paved, then the road will be hard-surfaced from Coast to Coast. If the preliminary work is pushed now, a lot of next Spring's tourist traffic can be diverted to this new and scenic route. The right kind of work done now will pay big dividends next year as well as the years following 1955.

Back to our trip: After a night's rest in Fort Smith we crossed the Arkansas river into Van Buren. (Continued On Page 12)

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

United States Trust Territory Of The Pacific

Some time ago, I made a few remarks in a newsletter about the Trust Territory over which this country has jurisdiction and which lies in the far Pacific Ocean. These islands are in three groups, the Marshalls, the Carolines, and the Marianas, with the exception of Guam. Guam has been a United States possession since 1898. All of these islands together cover a space in the Pacific Ocean about the size of the United States. If all were lumped together, they would constitute a land mass less than half the size of Rhode Island. It is interesting to note that all of these islands, except Guam have been under the control of four separate powers, to wit, Spain, Germany, Japan, and the United States. This frequent change of authority has resulted in frequent changes in policy, as far as the Micronesians are concerned. Of course, when the United States occupied these islands in World War II, and then accepted them in trust subsequent to that war, we inherited all of the problems that have been accumulating through the years. It was my pleasure to have an extended visit with Judge Edward P. Furber, who is now serving as Chief Justice of this territory. We had a most interesting discussion concerning these problems and what Congress must do to solve some of them. One of the toughest will be the problem of land ownership. Many people in this country think that perhaps the method of handling land ownership is complex here, but you should see what happens when you have several systems mixed together. One man might claim under the Japanese title, another under Spanish, another under German title, and another under the tribal laws. The solution is going to be very, very interesting. In fact, it could be the source from which we might find a better method of handling land titles and ownership.

The Cost of Reclamation Projects

The Commissioner of Reclamation recently forwarded me information on 69 federal reclamation projects, or major divisions of projects, in operation during 1953. The total acres now served by full or supplemental irrigation is 7,147,000. The 1953 harvest established a record in production of 25.7 million tons of food, fiber, forage and pasture crops. This meant there was an increase of about 2.1 million tons over the 1952 harvest. The value of the 1953 crops from these projects totaled almost 786 million dollars. That would mean the third highest value production in reclamation history, despite some rather sharp declines in unit crop prices received by farmers. It was the eighth consecutive crop to exceed one-half billion dollars and brings the total of all harvests since 1904 from federal reclamation projects to 9.7 billion dollars. It is well to point out that this cumulative value of all the harvests, to wit, 9.7 billion dollars, is four times the cost, as of June 30, 1953, of all plant, property and equipment of all completed and uncompleted reclamation projects. It is also more than eight times the cost of works built and operated exclusively for irrigation. There have been many complaints registered against reclamation projects, and many of them have been called "socialistic" and a waste of government money. Although there have been some failures in these projects, the overall picture reflects that the leaders in this country, who founded the reclamation program more than five decades ago, knew what they were doing, and their work has paid great dividends.

A message from Fowlers, "Your Family Pharmacist"

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT REASONS why Congress voted against socialized medicine was that it would interfere with your selection of "The Physician of Your Choice." ANOTHER FREEDOM OF CHOICE is your right to select the Pharmacy you prefer. Physicians do not like to suggest that you go to a particular Drug Store, because their Code of Ethics does not permit them to regulate where you get your prescriptions. Volcano-Flavored Coffee Foreseen

AUSTIN—The flavor of your coffee may be affected by increasing activity of Central American volcanoes, a University of Texas volcanologist reports.

Dr. Fred M. Bullard says Santiago volcano in Nicaragua is pouring fumes over surrounding land which produces "mountain grown" coffee, a richly flavored bean used in several more-expensive blends.

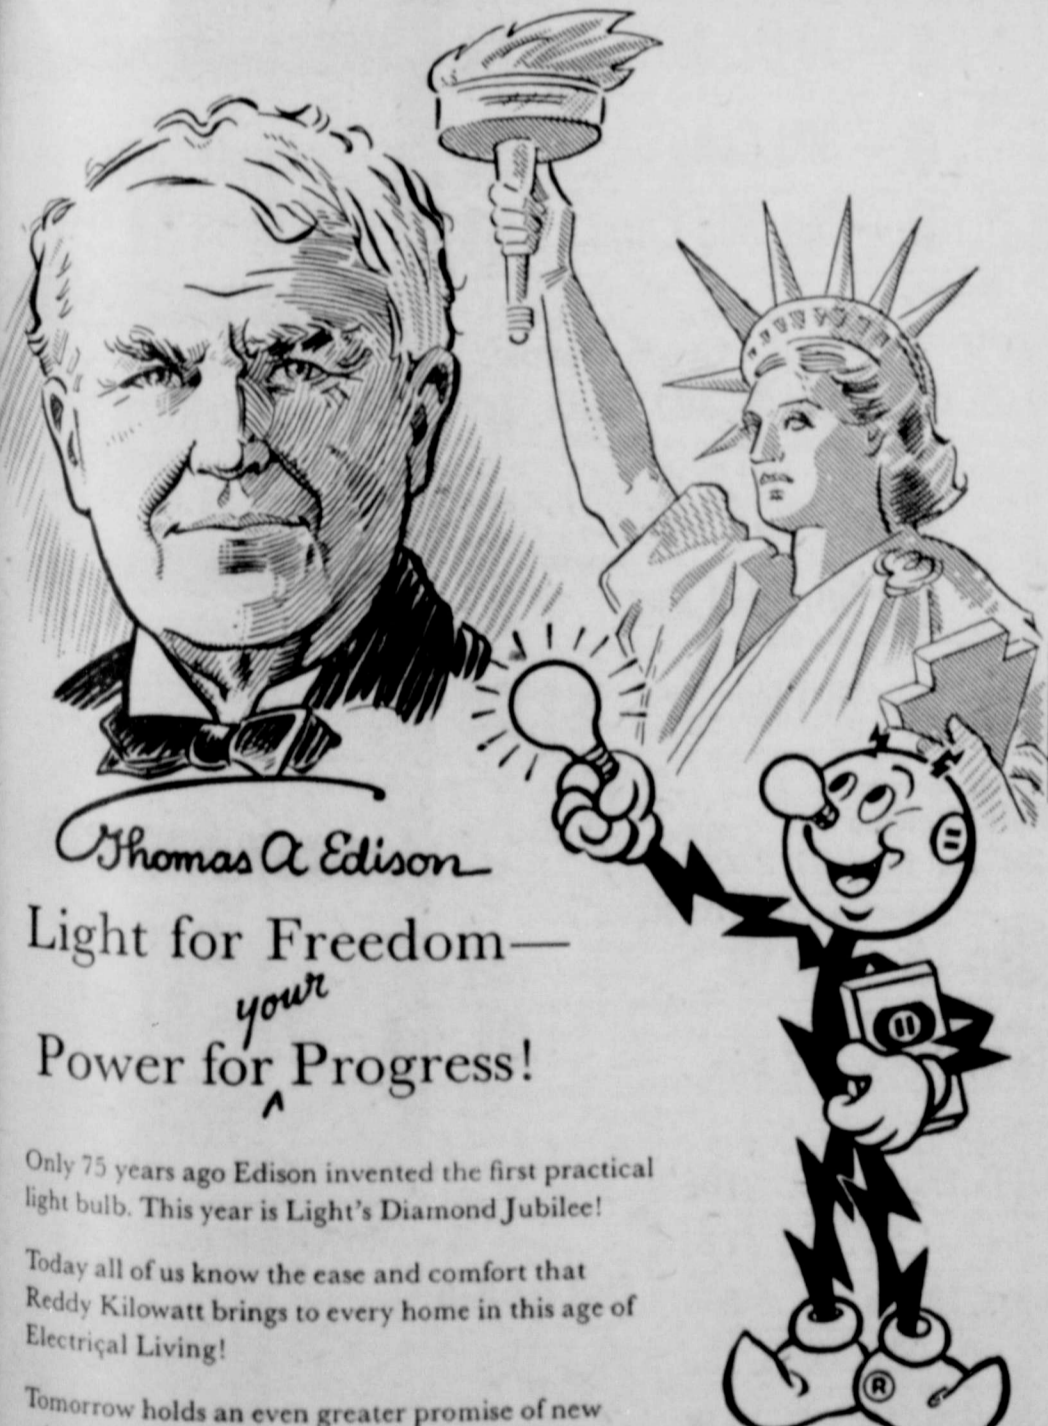

So far, farmers have not been able to grow the famed beans anywhere except on mountainsides in Nicaragua and Costa Rica. Dr. Bullard surveyed volcanoes in those two countries in a preliminary move to establish observation posts near more-active vents.

The Pan American Institute of Geography and History is sponsoring his work.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction ...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top... and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned... power-operated 4 windows roll up... by power, if you like. There is a tachometer... and a clock with sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

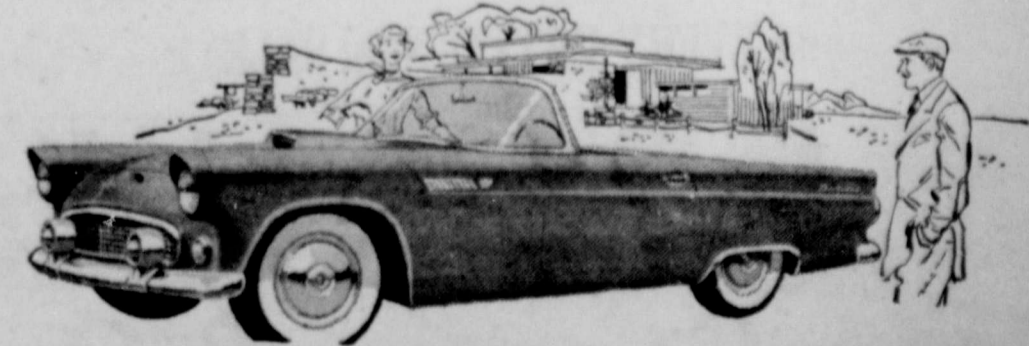

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response... fleet, liquid agility... backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering... the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

The girls are Pat and Kathy Goodpasture, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goodpasture of Dallas. Goodpasture, who formerly lived here, is the son of M. O. Goodpasture and the brother of Orville Goodpasture.

Mrs. Orville Goodpasture left Sunday to go to the bedside of the girls. Pat and Kathy, accompanied by their mother and a girl friend, were standing on a safety island on Buckner Boulevard when a car swerved and hit the three girls but only brushed Mrs. Goodpasture. The accident site was about three blocks from the Goodpasture home.

Pat has a broken leg while Kathy, who was knocked 18 feet, was bruised and lost four teeth.

No One Hurt In Estelline Mishap

No injuries resulted late Monday morning when an automobile and a truck were involved in a collision at the southwest corner of the square in Estelline, according to highway patrolmen.

Dr. Phillip Lee Vardy, 83 years old, of Estelline, was driving south on the west side of the square, as Paul Alois Meacham, 33, of Turkey, drove east onto the square from State Highway 86, at the time of the accident, officers explained. Vardy was in a 1942 Mercury sedan and Meacham was behind the wheel of a 1949 Ford truck, belonging to L. T. Winn, patrolman said.

The mishap occurred at 11:15 a. m. Monday.

Except for three or four days week before last, conditions have been ideal for gathering crops this fall.

Crops generally are good in the Memphis, Plaska and Lakeview areas, and around Hulver and Parnell. On the other hand, they are poor south of Estelline and in the southwestern part of the county, which includes the Turkey area.

Mrs. Anna Greer Reported Better

Mrs. Jim Anna Greer of Amarillo, injured seriously in a traffic accident which killed her husband, Howard Dean Greer, was reported to be showing steady improvement Wednesday afternoon but personnel of a local hospital stated it was not known when she would be dismissed.

Billy Dean Skaggs, eight-month-old grandson of the Greers, was dismissed from the hospital Saturday.

The Greers were riding in an automobile which was involved in a collision with a trailer, Oct. 9, on Highway 287, about a mile southeast of Hedley. Billy Dean and a brother, two-year-old Lyman Skaggs, were with their grandparents, who were en route to Memphis to visit the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Skaggs. Lyman was dismissed by the hospital after receiving emergency treatment.

The accident occurred when the trailer broke loose from a pickup truck and swerved into the path of the Greer car, according to Donley County Sheriff Truett Behrens.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hays left Wednesday morning for Waco to visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark.

Hoodlums On The Highways

Hoodlums are costing taxpayers of Texas an estimated $200,000 annually through their vandalism on and alongside highways of the state, according to information coming out of Austin.

Highway markers are being destroyed or damaged at a record rate, the report discloses. The vandalism includes scrawling on the signs with crayon or lipstick, shooting at them with rifles or shotguns, knocking them down with cars and bending them out of shape.

We don't know what the penalties for such hoodlumism is but they should be heavy because these markers are placed along the highways for motorists' convenience and safety. Their destruction possibly could result in serious injury or even loss of life in some instances. Catching one of the offenders likely is a difficult task but when one is apprehended, he should not soon forget it.

It seems that signs usually are adorned with crayon or lipstick in urban areas, particularly around schools.

On the other hand, destruction by shot and shell generally appears to be restricted to rural sections with low traffic counts. In these areas, signs are used for target practice. Other groups of vandals are fishermen who take bolts and nuts for sinkers, and farmers who use these items to repair machinery. Some followers of Samson bend the markers around posts to demonstrate their strength.

Adding to the toll are high school and college boys who collect signs as a hobby. "Soft Shoulders" and "No Passing" lead the list.

And then there are some motorists who back over the markers or break them off to use in getting across some mud.

The toll on taxpayers includes thousands of dollars spent every year in clearing trash, garbage and other debris left on Texas roads and highways by picnickers and passersby.

All this may be funny to the hoodlums but it is anything but a joke to already overburdened taxpayers.

A Boy And His Dog

Everything apparently is going to turn out all right for little Joe Cooper of Monroe, La., thanks to an aroused public that didn't like the treatment he got in city court there. Public indignation has won the 10-year-old underprivileged boy a new hearing and this time his elders are likely to listen to his story in a chastened and more understanding spirit.

Barefoot and shabbily dressed Joe was given an indefinite sentence in the Louisiana Training Institute after the youngster pointed a shotgun at two school officials who in the boy's words, "were going to kill my dog."

"My dog is the only thing I own," little Joe told City Judge Howell Heard. "But honest, I wouldn't have killed anybody. I couldn't even cock the gun. All I wanted was my dog."

Whether the judge never owned a dog when he was a boy or whether it had just been so long that he had forgotten, we don't know, but the love of a boy and his dog is proverbial. His Honor may be quite adept in matters of law but the boy-dog combination is a matter of the heart, not of the law. Certainly the judge, at least this once, was beyond his depth.

But if he was, the public wasn't. People besieged Monroe officials with protests until Judge Heard was forced to set a new hearing. In the meantime the judge had learned Joe had never been in trouble before and that his intelligence quotient is a high 119. The lad certainly is anything but dumb for he is a sixth grade student.

And the boy proved his contention that he had no intention of killing anyone when he handed his 16-gauge shotgun over to a police officer without a struggle.

Because Monroe citizens staunchly supported Joe's stand, the youngster and his part collie, Tillie, likely will soon be together again. Which is supremely important to the boy.

But more important—although Joe may not realize it now—is that even a penniless boy has his rights in this country. Let detractors of our way of life answer that if they can.

TOUR REVEALING

More than 50 vitally interested producers last Tuesday made the rounds of this immediate area on a Soil Conservation tour in which improved agricultural practices were observed and explained. Results from new varieties were also included in the well-rounded visit.

Since most of those who made the tour were already interested in conservation, they unquestionably gained much from the tour. On the other hand, sponsors might well find themselves in the position of the negro preacher who summed things up like this: "The folks as needs religion the most is the ones who don't never come to church."

Tours of this type are, after all, comparable to conventions and clinics which draw business men, professional people and educators on long and sometimes expensive trips for the same progress reports from their chosen field. A single new development or idea, they will tell you, often finances several such meetings.

These conservation experiments, sometimes partially financed with federal assistance, are supplemented with figures and reports. This year they also included "Questions and Answer" periods from the men who have been carrying on the experiments. Actually, they are the most practical manner in which the information can be distributed - and they do cover the neighboring areas in which the tests are made.

The only fault to be found, in fact, is lack of public interest. This is due, in a large measure, to lack of planning and to dull or "sermon type" presentations in past years. The planning committee this year carried out an interesting program, sparking with information. Material of this type is the one sure way to create general enthusiasm over future tours.

SPEAK UP

At the county Farm Bureau resolutions meetings are formulated the policies that will eventually go into the national Farm Bureau policy at the New York meeting in December.

But the chances are, the cotton country will be ill represented at New York. The reason is, it'll be ill represented at the state meetings and ill represented at the County meetings. Not enough farmers will show an interest by attending the meetings.

It's ironic, in a way. The very thing that makes farmers, the driving desire for independence, is the thing that is causing most of the woes out this way. They're being told what they can do and what they can't do because they won't get together and decide for themselves what the problems are and how they should be solved.

Basically, the farmer isn't so different from any other individual trying to make a living for himself and his family. He's traded off most of the independence he once could boast of. A handful of eggs a meal or two of fowl his wife has raised and a can or two of home grown vegetables are all that's left. And a good part of it is his own fault. When he can and should raise his voice, he doesn't. His failure to make known his views and beliefs and needs not only lets himself down but lets down his neighbors.

VOTER LETHARGY

A recent speaker at the Knife and Fork Club in Amarillo told of his pride in America when told of the heavy vote cast in the general election of 1952. Yet, he said, 40 out of every 100 qualified persons in America failed to go to the polls in 1952.

He quoted his native Hungary, where 96 per cent of the people voted in 1952; 85 per cent of them voting against the commies, in spite of the fact that the voters had to face guns at the polls.

The people of Hungary are frustrated by the antics of the commies, according to this speaker. They know and understand the dangers of this group, which seeks to destroy them.

Americans were advised that the dangers of communism in America was from within, and not from war. We are not teaching our children of the threats which confront the world if and when communism takes over the management of all nations, according to this speaker.

WORK ON COURTHOUSE MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

Work upon the new $150,000 Hall County courthouse is progressing nicely. The foundation is now complete and the forms for the basement have been about finished. The foundation was put down some 20 inches deeper than called for in original specifications after it was found that a solid strata could be reached at that depth.

Concrete is being heavily reinforced with steel throughout the building, which will be fireproof.

The outside of the building is to be faced with buff brick with white trimming and it will present a very handsome appearance when completed.

SANDSTORM AND FREEZE DOES SOME DAMAGE—A bad norther and sandstorm struck Memphis about 8 o'clock Saturday evening and those who lived any great distance from town had considerable trouble in getting home. Several car tops were blown off and light objects were shifted around.

Sunday morning was one of the coldest of the season and it is thought that most of the fruit in this section of the country was killed.

36,488 BALES OF COTTON ARE GINNED IN COUNTY

The 1929 cotton season is about over, a careful survey indicated. In making this statement it is taken for granted that it will be sporadic ginning from until the crop is completely ginned but the rush period is over for this season.

Here in Memphis, 18,791 had been ginned through Tuesday. In addition, 13 gins in other parts of the county had ginned 17,697 bales, making a total of 36,488. Ginners here and elsewhere in county appeared to believe from 80 to 85 per cent of year's crop had been harvested. This probably would result in final total of 45,000 to 50,000 bales as compared with 82,000 year.

Cotton this year has not been the high quality of last year because of heavy rains which drenched the staple.

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

Victim Of Fire On Nearby Farm Out Of Hospital

Thomas Lee McKinney, who was burned severely Oct. 6 while rescuing several children from a fire on the Worth Howard farm in the Plaska community, was dismissed from a local hospital last Thursday.

McKinney, 36 years old, suffered second degree burns on his back, left and right arms and right hip while showing four children through a window, after fire had erupted in the room in which the youngsters were sleeping. The children were in one room and McKinney and his wife were in the second room of a shack.

Rescued by McKinney were two of his children, Charles Edward, 3 years old, and Bobbie Ann, 6, and two nieces, Carol Ann and Barbara Ann Mitchell, 8 and 7 respectively. Six-year-old Betty, another daughter of the McKinneys, fled to safety when flames burst from a stove after she threw some gasoline into it to get a fire started. The stove was located in the room, occupied by the five youngsters.

While our car was being serviced the attendant told us the house next door belongs to Bob Burns, the noted radio humorist. His mother still lives in this two-story house on a hillside. His grandmother died there three weeks ago.

Going north from Van Buren, we traversed the scenic Boston Mountains—part of the Ozark range—with view after view of deep valleys, rivers and lakes appearing to the vision as the highway led us along the ridges of the interesting Boston range. It was over this road that the old stage coach business was conducted by John Butterfield, who had 100 coaches, 1,000 horses, and employed 800 men, making two trips weekly. The fare from St. Louis to San Francisco was $200 in gold.

All along the route from Van Buren to Fayetteville are historic markers that tell of momentous events and men, and here in Fayetteville which has a population of 18,000 people, are many historical points of interest and evidences that this is a city of culture as well as a progressive and manufacturing center. Here is the University of Arkansas, which this year has the leading Southwest Conference team known as the Razorbacks—victor over TCU and Texas U. the past two weeks.

It is difficult to describe Fayetteville, other than that it is located in beautiful wooded hills with pleasant streets lined with magnificent trees; that it has a progressive university perched high atop a hill commanding a majestic view of the Boston mountains; that it has a business district—spread all over town, imposing church buildings and peaceful residential districts.

The temperature here is equable—ideal for sight-seeing or idling around. The trees are just beginning to don their autumn colors. The first frost will bring about a great display of paintings by the Master Painter.

Will be here several days, and will visit various Ozark points of interest from here.

Maddox Attending Telephone School

C. E. Maddox, senior plantman for General Telephone Company in Memphis, is attending a company school in basic station installation and maintenance in San Angelo this week. He will be presented a Certificate of Award after completing the 40-hour course.

Lakeview Church Sets Special Day

The Lakeview Methodist Church will observe Laymen Day Sunday, Oct. 24, with Jack Davis of Elk City, Okla., filling the pulpit.

W. M. Gowdy, Jr., charge lay leader, will preside over the service, with Russell Payne assisting him. Ted Montgomery will give a three-minute Stewardship talk and Miss Rita Durrett will sing a special number.

"We are glad to have Jack Davis back in the community with us, since he is the lay leader at Elk City and spent his boyhood days here in Lakeview," commented Rev. H. E. Parmenter, pastor of the Lakeview church.

There is not as large a surplus of grain sorghums as there is in some other commodities and chances for increase in price are better, according to McKown.

County Farm

According to a Hall County agricultural spokesman.

In other business, a motion was carried to advise the Department of Agriculture of recent rainfall in this county, so that the county will be retained on the disaster drought list.

A committee was named to select delegates to the state Farm Bureau convention. Harold Hodges, president of the county Farm Bureau, is chairman of the committee.

The group recommended that the county farm organization cooperate with the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in matters of mutual interest to all.

Mr. Montague, 70 years old, apparently had been feeding some chickens when he was stricken. He operated a domino parlor on 5th Street, just north of Main Street.

A native of Tennessee, he was born Jan. 18, 1884. He lived in the Parnell community a number of years before coming to Memphis some years ago.

The body was sent to Jacksonville, Ark., for funeral services and burial. Spicer Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements here.
