NORTHERN SECTION OF COUNTY HIT HARD WEDNESDAY BY RAIN, WIND, HAIL STORM

Fields that a month ago were dry and blowing looked like rice paddies after yesterday's rain, wind and hail storm.

Jim McMurphy, who lives north-morning that he received 3.5 inches of rain on his farm and that it was heavier farther north and west of his place.

Rainfall here in Memphis as measured by J. J. McMicken was 1.77 inches. Out at Lakeview, 2 inches fell and at the Ted Montgomery farm near Lesley they measured 2.5 inches, and reported hail stones as big as golf balls.

The report of between 5 and 7 inches of rain near Hedley was an error. This morning a report from there gave the rainfall as a little more than 2 inches, and south of there the farmers reported approximately 3 inches.

There was no official report from the Brice area, but estimates set the amount at between 3 and 4 inches.

Indian Creek, three miles west of Memphis, was at the highest point it has been in several years, many people said, and Oaks Creek near Lakeview was up to the highway bridge.

In Lakeview, water from a small creek that runs between the J. B. Duren store and Woodrow Mullin's home could not handle the run-off, and water was about one foot deep around the Mullin house. They had a row boat tied to the back porch to use for removing the furniture should the water rise higher.

Several inches of mud was deposited around the Duren store by the flood water.

Water went over Highway 256 in all the low places, and it was so deep at the west edge of Lakeview at the height of the run-off that traffic was stopped.

Two small concrete bridges were washed out on Highway 256 south of the Prairie Dog Fork of Red River. The water washed the dirt from around these two bridges and they dropped down, leaving gaps in the road about 20 feet across and 10 to 12 feet deep.

Many of the country roads were washed away farmers have reported, and several bridges are out on the dirt roads.

Here in Memphis many of the streets were small rivers with water up to the floorboards of cars in many places. The water was so deep on Noel between Sixth and Seventh Streets that it got up on the sidewalk in front of J. C. Penney's and the First State Bank.

On Main in front of the post office, the water was on the sidewalk.

At the height of the rain and wind storm, visibility was down to a half a block.

The damage to farm land and terraces has been heavy and all of the cotton that has been planted in the areas hard hit by the rain will have to be planted over.

The Hall County Electric Co-operative reported some poles washed out in the Brice area, and wires blown off poles along the Friendship road near the Tom Collins farm. J. W. Coppedge, manager, said.

Northeast of Memphis the company has some poles washed out in Buck Creek and the power is off in that area this morning.

A spokesman for the General Telephone Company said they had approximately 150 telephones out of order from the rain damage to cables and a few lines running from the cables to houses were blown down.

Yesterday's rains brings Memphis' total for the week to 2.49 inches according to the record of J. J. McMicken. He reported .72 of an inch Monday night.

The high and low temperatures for the past week are recorded by McMicken as follows: Friday, 87-61; Saturday, 95-57; Sunday, 81-56; Monday, 84-55; Tuesday, 90-64; Wednesday, 91-62; and Thursday, 90-63.

Mrs. Robert Clark's Mother Gravely Ill

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Clark and son, Bobby, left Monday night for Galveston to be at the bedside of Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. Gilbert W. Uebbersetzg, who is critically ill.

Mrs. Uebbersetzg suffered a heart attack Monday. Dr. Clark said Tuesday night in a telephone conversation with his mother, Mrs. R. E. Clark, that Mrs. Uebbersetzg's condition was considered critical, but that she was holding her own.

The Clark's baby, Billy, remained in Memphis with his grandmother. Dr. Clark plans to return to Memphis today.

It has been common talk that there are children a few years old who—up until lately—never saw a good rain. And up until yesterday, no one would have believed we have young men who had never seen a good rain. Now, here's proof that there is at least one such young fellow: Main and Noel streets in downtown right after the rain yesterday afternoon were running curb to curb with water, and motorists were leisurely traveling along taking care not to splash mud and water on the on-coming cars. This young fellow, who had never seen a good rain, who didn't give a continental darn for others, drove his car pell mell down Main, splashing cars and people all along the route. Had this young fellow ever seen it rains he would have known that rain (Continued on Page 10)

Selected For "Who's Who . . ."

Gilbert Adds Twirling Honor

Memphis' most outstanding baton twirler, Jackie Gilbert, has added another "first" to his long list of accomplishments with the whirling sticks.

This year he became the first drum major in the history of the Southwest Conference to be named in "Who's Who in Baton Twirling," as selected by officials of the National Baton Twirling Association, in conjunction with the editors of the nationally circulated "Drum Major" magazine.

These two organizations picked 747 outstanding young men and women in the twirling field out of more than 125,000 twirlers who are active in the United States today.

Gilbert's picture and biographical history will appear in a 288-page book along with the other stars of the twirling art. The book will be distributed to leading public and school libraries across the country.

The twirling ex-Cyclone was drum major of the Memphis High School Band in 1951-52, and was a featured twirler with the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band in 1952-53.

He has been drum major of the University of Texas Longhorn Band for the past two years. He is a junior at the university, and is majoring in radio and television.

He is a member of Kappa Kappa Psi (national honorary band fraternity), Radio-TV Guild, and the University Singers.

This summer Gilbert will conduct twirling schools in various towns and cities in Texas and Oklahoma.

Small Projects

On May 26 the House passed a bill known as the Small Projects Bill. This bill is designed to provide a means by which small communities can, through proper organizations, finance water projects costing not more than 10 million dollars by one of three methods:

1. Borrow up to 5 million dollars from the federal government.
 2. If the project costs more than 5 million dollars, the community can borrow up to 5 million dollars from the government if they can finance the difference between the 5 million dollars and the cost of the project up to 10 million dollars by private financing.

3. The projects can be privately financed. In that event, the community organization would be entitled to a grant from the federal government of the same amount that they would get for flood control, fish and wildlife and recreation, if the project were completely federally financed.

The third method of financing is the one that was proposed by me in an amendment that we adopted in committee. It provides the method of participation by a local community on a free enterprise basis that has been lacking in the past.

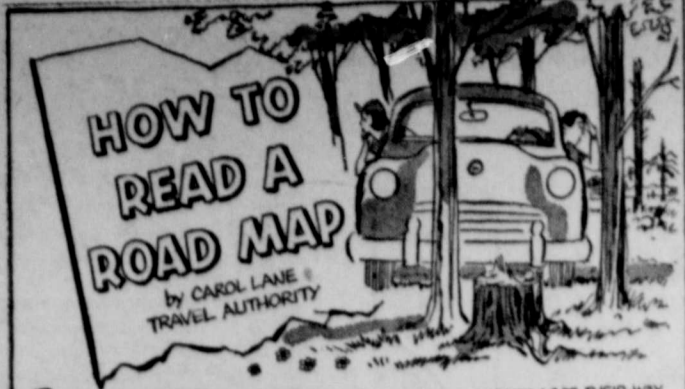

The bill is similar to the one that passed the House last year and died in the Senate. The former bill applied only to the 17 western reclamation states which are included under the jurisdiction of general reclamation laws. The present bill included all 48 states, plus Alaska and Hawaii. The program was to be administered by the Secretary of Interior, who has all of the tools to administer such a program most efficiently and with the least possible cost. However, some of the eastern states did not want to be under the Department of Interior and pushed through an amendment placing them under the Secretary of Agriculture. This amendment included Texas under the Department of Agriculture. I voted against this amendment because, from all accounts, Texas has had very little success in obtaining much consideration from the Secretary of Agriculture. In my opinion, the entire water program should be under one department. Which one that is does not make a great deal of difference, but I do not think that one program should be administered by two separate and distinct departments.

The bill is on its way to the Senate, and I hope will be speedily acted on there. It fills a much needed gap in the water projects legislation of this country.

EVERY YEAR, THOUSANDS OF OTHERWISE LITERATE MOTORISTS LOSE THEIR WAY BECAUSE THEY CAN'T READ ROAD MAPS. YOU'LL NEVER BE PUZZLED BY THE "ROAD MAP RIDDLE" IF YOU UNDERSTAND THE LEGEND. THESE IMPORTANT SYMBOLS WILL HELP YOU READ YOUR ROAD MAP ON YOUR NEXT HOLIDAY WEEK-END!

A properly-drawn will can be the means of short-cutting many legal formalities, and save a great deal of time in distributing the estate of a decedent among his rightful heirs. It may also serve to save many dollars in legal fees and court costs.

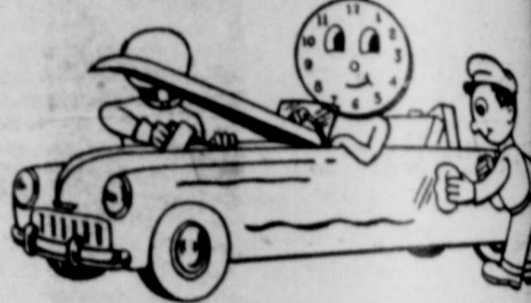

As an example, whenever a person dies without a will and it is necessary for the probate court to appoint an administrator of his estate, the person so appointed is required to post a bond. This bond is for the purpose of insuring the faithful performance of his duties. When signed by individuals, the amount thereof must be double the estimated value of the personal property of the estate plus a reasonable amount to cover prospective rents and other income from real estate involved.

When issued by a bonding company, the estimated value of the personal property need not be doubled. The administrator's bond must be kept in force until the estate is finally closed and he is discharged from his obligation by the court.

The same rule applies to an executor under a will, unless the testator has specified that no bond shall be required. This provision may be inserted or left out of the will at the option of the maker. Needless to say, there are situations in which the bond serves a real purpose. But when not needed, the statutory requirement may prove a distinct annoyance to the executor and a burden upon the estate in the form of annual premium payments. Another example: A court appointed administrator may not sell any property of an estate without an order of the court authorizing him to do so. He must make application to the court for approval of each sale. The court must be advised of and approve the sales price and the manner in which the same is to be collected. Similar provisions apply to the making of mineral leases and other transactions. These provisions apply equally to the executor of a will, unless the testator has freed him from such requirements. A single short paragraph inserted in a will designating him as an independent executor in appropriate phraseology may serve this purpose. Then he will have a free hand to dispose of property or notice whenever a forfeiture of legal formality. Since every application for paper filed with the court and every order from the court involves expenditure of attorney's preparation and court costs many dollars to be paid for the heirs by addition of a will. (This column, based on law, is written to inform and advise. No person should rely on the aid of an attorney for the facts because the law changes the application of law.)

ably be concluded within about ten days. The pressure is beginning to build up for and against the government having anything to do with the distribution or control of the vaccine. Some want the federal government to see that every child gets proper inoculation. Some take the position that it is none of the government's business and that government regulation is socialistic. Some say that this is definitely a government responsibility and that the vaccine should be furnished by the government, distributed by the government, and that every person should be required to be inoculated.

It presently appears that the general program will be a mixture of many suggestions. Legislation will provide government control, distribution will probably be through state health authorities, money will be appropriated to make the vaccine available to all, and no one will be compelled to be inoculated.

During the hearings one of the witnesses from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare testified that there would be no danger in the second and third shots to those children who have had the first shot. He also testified that there is no reaction from polio vaccination. Had I known this two weeks ago, it would really have alarmed me. Our Mary Catherine came down with a fever five days after receiving her first shot. We consoled ourselves on the ground that it was reaction to the shot. Fortunately, it was due to some other virus from which she quickly recovered. Since she has had her first shot, she will complete the series.

Editorial

Key To Paving

In a recent editorial column in the Vernon newspaper the writer used Memphis' street paving project as a stimulant to get that city to thinking about some "badly needed paving."

The writer said that even though Memphis and this area had been hard hit the last few years by drouth, the "city fathers" had found the funds to have some 200 blocks of paving done. It appeared to the writer of the column that if a smaller town that was sitting in a drouth area could do paving, Vernon should be able to do part of the paving they needed.

We sure did appreciate that nice pat on the back, for we feel pretty good about having so many paved streets now, but no one in Memphis found the money. It was secured by digging.

The "city fathers" had the money to pay for having the street prepared, but the funds for the topping was accumulated by men putting in an awful lot of leg work after working hours and on Sunday. No one "found any money," they got it by working, talking, and sometimes begging.

Vernon, this is the way to get your paving. Don't sit around and wait for it to be done. Get the idea before the "city fathers" and see what they will and can do, then find yourself 30 or 40 men who are to be busy to take on any extra jobs, but are tired driving on rough streets. Turn the fund gathering over to them, and before long you'll be riding on paved streets.

Of course, if you have trouble finding men to fit the description, we have some that we think are the best, and they might take the job just to see if they could break their record of signing up and collecting for around 200 blocks in less than two months.

Political Platform

It will be interesting to see what type of explanation the two political parties will make to the children who have polio this summer when they become voters in a few short years.

It is going to be hard to explain to men and women who are crippled from polio because they couldn't get Salk vaccine the reason this vaccine was not available.

Big promises and loud speech may cause voters to forget high taxes, communists in government, government wastefulness and unemployment, but it will take more than that to make a man forget a limp or limb encased in a steel brace.

Neither party can be saddled with entire blame for the "snafu" that has developed in the program. Both sides had used the red hot issue as a political football and have kicked it around for just about all the publicity mileage there is in it.

It is about time that they forgot the votes for a few minutes and thought about the kids who need the vaccine so they may have a better chance to get full mileage out of their arms and legs.

Safety and Health Month

The month of June has been designated by the Texas Safety Department as "Slow Down and Live" month, and the dairy industry has designated the month as "Dairy Month."

Since they are both wanting people to stay healthy with safe driving and dairy products, the two publicity departments should combine their efforts and make it real big safety and health month.

They might come up with some slogans like, "If you want to drink and drive, make it milk and get there healthy and alive," or "don't cry over spilt milk, but drive so as not to spill blood."

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Old Settlers
The Old Settlers meet again Saturday. And again it is to be a busy, busy day on many farms. As one gin man expressed it, you can see more cotton being planted on old settlers day than any other day in the year. Not meant exactly literally, of course. But the pioneers can't forget those other days—they don't want to forget them. They most nearly do so by associating with others who pine also for the glorious days of youth, when a man had little or no money, but viewed the future with visions as boundless as the prairie that surrounded him. Some will talk, some sing and some dance according each to his bent. Altogether it should be another happy occasion.—Floyd County Hesperian.

David Crockett
That six-foot, five-inch fabled Texan who "seen his duty clear," has just about claimed a completely new generation many long years since he was "king of the wild frontier."
Dave-e-e-e Crockett, with or without the coonskin cap, has gone commercial in a big way, more than three generations after his death.
And his main claim to fame is his freedom-stompin' land of Texas, where he is said to have been the last defender of the Alamo, though we have to go along with those who say he did just that—in spite of the fact that there were no survivors to clearly establish his claim to fame.
Actually, and we tread softly for fear of disturbing the minds of those younger readers who speak his name in idolizing reverence, Davy Crockett was nearly 50 when he set foot on Texas soil, and his famed life in Texas lasted only a few months. During that brief time he became Texas' most famed and legendary character. Therefore, we are convinced...
It pays to advertise.—Moore County News.

Another Rate Increase
This column has been frequently critical of the oversize rate increases and unsatisfactory service rendered by General Telephone Company. However, we have occasionally pointed out that the management is not entirely to blame because it is powerless to control its two large costs—labor and taxes. The lawmakers show little mercy on such an unpopular target as the telephone companies. And the unions show none at all. Both feel secure in their knowledge that the companies can and will pass these cost increases on to the telephone users and that our wrath will be directed against the management instead of against those who were most responsible for the higher cost of telephone service.

This week the news of extremely costly new CIO demands against General Telephone foretells big rate increases to come. No doubt the union will settle for something less than they ask, but they will get the balance next year.

We have a quarrel with people trying to improve their economic status. That is a legitimate aim. But when they create monopolies powerful enough to force us to give them whatever they ask, then they lose our sympathy. And when they go beyond that point even, and resort to violence and destruction, as this union has been doing in the Deep South lately, they become common criminals in our eyes.

At any rate when the next whopping rate increase is slapped on us, we will be less inclined to place the blame on the company management.—The Lamb County Leader.

FOXHALL IS CHAP. Quanah Country Club, May 29—Frank Foxhall of Memphis won the championship of the Greenbelt Golf Association, at 4:30 today when he defeated L. S. (City) Walker of Quanah 3 down and 2 to play. It is Foxhall's second successive year as champion. Had Walker won, the cup would have passed permanently into his ownership, since he was the victor in 1926 and 1927. The late nine holes of the match were played in a downpour of rain, but the Memphis golfer refused to allow his ardor to be dampened by the elements and he continued to shoot a wonderful game for a decisive victory.

HALL COUNTY LOSES CITIZENS IN PAST 10 YEARS That Hall County has lost 4,862 citizens during the ten years was revealed in a preliminary census count on Wednesday. The population of Hall County is 12,194, compared to 16,966 in 1930. Running with the loss in the number of citizens is a like decrease in the number of farms. The number of farms in the county is now 1,521 in comparison with 1,521 in 1930, showing a decrease of 713 farms in the ten years.

CENSUS GIVES CITY 4,252. The long-awaited report of the Fifteenth Census for Memphis was completed on Monday of this week, and shows that Memphis has a population of 4,252, as of April 1, 1930. On January 1, 1920, the census of this city was given as 2,839, showing that during a period of ten years, the city's population gained 1,413, or a percentage increase of 49.77.

MEMORIAL DAY IN MEMPHIS WILL BE OBSERVED WITH TWO SERVICES. Memphis will observe Memorial Day, May 30, by appropriate exercises at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning beginning at 11 o'clock, according to H. L. Nelson, post commander of the American Legion here. Mr. Nelson will preside at the service. Special seats will be reserved for ex-service men. Sunday afternoon, appropriate services will be held at Fairview cemetery. A firing squad of American Legion members will be on hand as final tribute to those former soldiers who lie in the local cemetery.

LONE STAR RATING FFA CHAPTER OF MEMPHIS. The Memphis chapter of the Future Farmers of America last week awarded the Lone Star certificate. Projects of the members are graded each year, and points given each, it was explained. To be given the Lone Star the chapter must score 800 points of a possible 1,000. The Memphis chapter scored 902 points.

Political Class
Meets In Home Of
E. Baskerville

Socialist Class met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. E. Baskerville with Mmes. H. Allie Caviness and Leonard as co-hostesses.

Meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Frank Ellis. Mrs. D. Kinard gave the devotional "That Is My Life."

Reports were given by Mrs. J. Fitzjarrald, and Mrs. H. Byrd.

Music was played and "Just a Closer Walk with Thee" and "Open My Heart." J. Bridges read "Gettin' Organ."

Offer was made by Mrs. E. Baskerville and the class song "The Good Book" was sung.

H. Byrd had charge of the hour.

Entertaining rooms were decorated with seasonal flowers. Table was centered with arrangement of pink roses and carnations. Tiny pink roses surrounded the punch bowl on a reflector.

Class colors of orchid and white were carried out in the refreshments. Allie Caviness served.

Sandra Kay Jones Leaves For Lions Camp At Kerrville

Sandra Kay Jones, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones of Memphis, will leave today for the Texas Lions Camp located in the Texas Hill country, three miles south of Kerrville, for two weeks of fun, recreation and rehabilitation.

Sandra Kay will be the first child to be sponsored at the camp by the Memphis Lions Club.

The camp is free to any boy or girl in the State of Texas who does not speak, hear, see, or any crippled child from the ages of 7 through 16. Applications are accepted only through local Lions clubs.

The Texas Lions Camp has 12 buildings of permanent construction on its 504 acres of rolling Hill Country land, and with its staff of approximately 60, this provides adequate facilities and camp staff to properly serve 100 boys and girls each session.

Having six sessions, the camp will be able to accommodate 600 campers during this summer.

Parents Warned

law in Texas requires that a person be over 14 before he or she can secure a "beginner's" license. No one under that age can legally operate a car.

Before a person who is 14 and under 16 can get a license, he or she must meet one of the following requirements: Present a certificate signed by the school superintendent stating that the applicant has passed an approved driver training course, or present authorization from the County Judge showing the necessity for driving. Also, if under 18, the applicant must have a statement signed by his or her father, mother or guardian stating that they will assume the responsibility for any negligence or misconduct on the part of the applicant.

The diamond is the hardest stone. Last year, 675,000 4-H members over the nation participated in safety activities. A few examples of their participation were conducting safety surveys on the farms and in the homes, eliminating hazards and learning to live with those which cannot be eliminated, and taking part in radio and television programs promoting safety.

Hooser Awarded Safety Citation

County Agriculture Agent W. B. Hooser was awarded a citation for meritorious service to safety at the district meeting of county agents in Paducah last week.

This was the third year that Hooser has won the National Safety Council award. The citation was to have been presented to him at the national meeting of the NSC in Houston two months ago, but he was unable to attend.

His Hall County 4-H members have won the state safety crown for the last nine years and there have been three national winners in 4-H safety contests.

The winners are decided by a study of the club and individual records on safety projects and general 4-H club work with safety.

Boxing Bouts

(Continued From Page One) will be featured in this fight night. There will be both white and Negro boxers taking part in a total of 18 bouts, Frank Smith, club sponsor, said.

Smith said efforts were being made to match Memphis' Paul Wilson against Richardson from Pampa. Richardson won the high school division of the Golden Gloves this year. Also, a Pampa boxer is being sought to fight Royce Young, another Memphis boxer.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. A section will be reserved for colored.

The money will be used by the Boys Club to buy equipment and pay for some already purchased.

Mrs. E. H. Stanford returned home Wednesday from Abilene where she has visited for the past 10 days with her daughters, Mrs. Raymond Thomason and family and Mrs. Helen McMurry and son, Stanley.

2 Offices Changed In Hall Courthouse

Two offices have been moved to new locations in the Hall County Courthouse, County Judge Tracy Davis announced this week.

The office of County Attorney Bill Teague is now located on the second floor, in the office formerly belonging to the Department of Public Welfare.

To make way for that move, the office of the Department of Public Welfare has been moved to the first floor. It is now located next to the County Superintendent's and the entrance is across from the ASC office.

Summer School To Open Monday

Superintendent W. C. Davis has announced that everyone in junior and senior high school who desires to attend summer school should be at the high school building at 9 o'clock Monday morning, June 6.

Davis said that practically all courses, except the laboratory science classes, will be offered this summer.

is water, and that water from a rain gathers silt and mud, and that the combination can be splashed upon others—which is deplored by those who have been taught politeness.

Some of the citizens are beginning to believe that the long drought has definitely been broken. So say we. Yet, the weather man promises more for this Thursday afternoon. Of course, if mere humans had the dispensing of rain, they would have spread it out over a long period of time, and probably made a mess of things. It has been frequently said that more crops are hurt by not enough rain than by too much.

The future looks bright for Hall County, following a four or five-year period of growth, hail damage, insect damage, etc. Evidently, the weather cycle has turned around and perhaps people can have a period of better times enabling them to recover from a local depression due to adverse weather conditions. Let's hope so.

It is now a real pleasure to drive leisurely over Memphis. Practically every street has been paved and the citizens along all these streets are beginning to do a little face lifting of their premises, giving the town a much nicer appearance than before the additional 200 blocks were paved. Let's hope that all citizens of the town will get the cleaning-up fever and do a real job of making Memphis one of the most beautiful and most attractive towns in the Panhandle. The new paving done this spring has received a lot of outside publicity. More publicity can be obtained if every property owner will do a little clean-up, paint-up and repair-up, if you get what we mean. The time to start is now, and the place to start is right where you are.

If Secretary Ezra Benson were to come to Hall County right now, he would have a hard time finding enough dry dust to sift through his fingers.

See where the U. S. Senate OKs an 8 per cent pay raise of a half million postal employees. Good for the half million. Glad they can now get more money for their work. Now, the clerks, the farm workers, the day laborers, and even the small business men and small property owners would

PFC Marion Posey Completes Course At Camp Gordon

CAMP GORDON, Ga. — PFC Marion E. Posey of Memphis completed the field radio course, one of the many offered at the Southeastern School, Camp Gordon, Ga.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Posey and is a graduate of Memphis High School and Texas State College in Austin. The Field Radio Repair course which is 25 weeks in length, selected enlisted personnel perform field and depot maintenance and repair of field radio equipment.

During his training, PFC Posey received a technical certificate worth thousands of dollars according to the army. He was assigned to an active duty position in the United States Army. The Southeastern Signal School is the largest communication college in the world, is located in Augusta, Ga. This installation furnishes trained signal technicians to Army units all over the world.

Dallas Man Fined $150 On DWI Charge

C. E. Roder of Dallas was arrested Monday by Sheriff Bill Baten and Deputy Elmer Neel and charged with driving while intoxicated.

He was arraigned in County Court before Judge Tracy Davis and fined $150 and court cost. The two law officers made the arrest five miles southeast of Memphis on U. S. Highway 287, after chasing Roder for almost a mile.

He was driving an automobile transport truck, and the sheriff said that he was weaving from one dirt shoulder of the road to the other before they stopped him.
