Agent Reports On Control Of Fleas With Malathion

Malathion has proven to be highly effective for flea control in areas where fleas are known to be resistant to the chlorinated hydrocarbons, according to information received in the office of W. B. Hooser, county agricultural agent, this week.

To control fleas on dogs, dust the animal thoroughly with a 4 per cent malathion dust, or dip in a 0.5 per cent malathion water solution.

For controlling fleas on lawns and in garages, use 2 1/2 per cent malathion spray or 4 per cent malathion dust. For control of fleas in poultry houses, use malathion as a 4 per cent dust or as a 2 1/2 per cent spray on floors of infected house or ground. A 4 per cent malathion dust can be used for the control of poultry lice. The poultryman is told to dust the litter with 4 per cent malathion at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 square feet of floor space.

It was pointed out that poultry manure in cage-laying houses may be treated with 2 1/2 per cent malathion emulsion spray as needed for fly larval control. Sugar baits containing 1 or 2 per cent malathion or 1 per cent DDT or DDT or DDT or DDT in conjunction with larval control in cage-laying houses for adult fly control. Poultry houses may also be sprayed with a 2 1/2 per cent malathion emulsion spray for house fly control.

All persons handling the insecticides were cautioned against permitting it to get on feed, feed containers or in drinking water. Birds should be removed outside poultry houses before spray is applied.

Researchers Develop Methods For Predicting Cotton Fiber Properties

AUSTIN—University of Texas researchers have developed tests for predicting average fiber properties of cotton a month to six weeks before harvest.

The tests, based on relationships between weather and fiber properties, should bring better prices to producers and help lower merchandising costs, Research Scientist Joel Hembree of the University's Cotton Economic Research Division, said.

Use of the technique will give the cotton trade time to plan and carry out marketing and manufacturing activities which depend on annual crop results. Merchants and manufacturers will know earlier whether cotton with certain properties will be available nearby or hundreds of miles away.

The tests can be used to predict fiber properties of cotton in a general community but not cotton in specific bales or specific farms, Hembree emphasized.

Scientists long have known that larger amounts of moisture mean decreased fiber strength and coarser fibers, while smaller amounts mean stronger fibers with finer diameters. Research Scientist Bill Crumley of the Cotton

Economic Research Division compiled data which reveal more precisely the nature of those and other environment-fiber property relationships. He based the data on comparisons between weather reports and fiber-properties reports from all parts of Texas for six years.

The University project was supported with funds provided through the Texas Cotton Research Committee, composed of the heads of A & M, Texas Technological College and the University.

rendering service to both his company and the public in general.

Mrs. Virginia Rogers recently donated a buggy, which at one time was one of the classiest vehicles in this section of the country, to the Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon. Boone McClure, museum curator, and the museum's paleontologist (hope that is the correct word) made the trip to the Rogers ranch north of town recently, dismantled the buggy, and hauled it to Canyon in a pick-up.

Have you noticed pretty fern-looking plants coming up in your yard lately? We have been told they are mesquites—the kind of trees that grow away out from the busy metropolis centers. Well, we are not surprised very much. However, we did think Memphis still breathed and otherwise showed signs of life, even if most of us have become more or less satisfied with the way things now are, and leaving any town-pushing to George. Come to think of it, George is away on a vacation and no one knows when he will be back. During Ex-president Herbert Hoover's administration, some one made the remark that soon the grass would be growing in the streets of towns all over the country. He didn't say anything about mesquite trees growing in town, so it makes one wonder if the mesquite is a step toward the time when grass will grow on our streets. Hadn't we all better look at our hole-cards—take stock of conditions—do something constructive?

A lot of new specimens of vegetation are showing up in the lawns: such as spider grass, new forms of careless weeds, along with wild rye and goatheads to aggravate lovers of pretty yards.

Now, we have done gone and done it. When the weeds were written just now, it reminded us that Memphis has weeds. Do you have any nice little weed patches around your place? Does your neighbor have weeds? Do you cut the weeds on your property and in your alley? Does your neighbor cut the weeds on his property and in his alley? You do? He does? Then you are both doing your part to cut down on the population of mosquitoes, which makes life miserable for a lot of children, and exposes them to the germs of malaria, typhoid fever and perhaps POLIO. Also, you are doing your part in relieving the suffering of both young and old with hay fever. If your neighbor just goes along and waits for the Lions Club or other clean-town-minded citizens to toil in the hot sun cleaning up his place while he lolls in his easy chair under an air-conditioner, we will not say anything about that neighbor—maybe his conscience will talk to him.

Since last week's Comments several women have called us to tell what their neighbors are doing. It is heartening to know that Memphis has a lot of people who believe in considering neighbors in all their actions. Two or three reported their neighbors not only keep their alleys clean but are growing beautiful flowers there instead. Isn't that wonderful?

Other women told how they, because of hay fever, and their children, because of mosquitoes, are forced to stay indoors instead of out in the open—all because of the weeds being allowed to grow profusely on property surrounding or adjoining them. This condition prevails in many sections of town, according to a survey we made recently. It has rained so much nothing could be done about getting rid of weeds, you say. We can point to many homes in Memphis that have been kept clean of weeds and rubbish. The people did it at odd times. They burned the trash and weeds in small quantities at a time, and now they don't need to have their trash hauled away. More could be said, but we hope the readers now have the idea that Memphis should have a nice genteel sand-papery and scrubbing with hoe, rake and fire.

The women of Memphis and the civic-minded men could soon make short order of this clean-up business if they really get interested and go to work in earnest.

The present proposed clean-up is just a beginner. What Memphis needs is a program of continuity. As stated in a front-page editorial, "At one time Memphis was noted as the City Beautiful." It can be made so again if all the citizens will cooperate in a program to clean up, and then plan for further work toward beautifying Memphis month after month. It can be done, and we believe there are enough men and women in Memphis who would like to see it done to put the program over in a big way.

All citizens who desire that something be done and soon toward improving the looks of Memphis are urged to attend a meet-

4 Million Acres Being Irrigated On High Plains

More than 4,000,000 acres of land is being irrigated by 33,537 wells on the High Plains of Texas. This and other facts are presented in the annual irrigation survey by R. V. Thurmond and Ralph L. Jones of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The reports, made yearly since 1949, show the tremendous expansion of irrigation in the area. The first report showed that 12,478 wells were being used to irrigate 1,711,000 acres on 9,025 farms. By May, 1955, the number of irrigated farms stood at 17,099; the number of wells at 33,537 and the irrigated acreage at 4,017,530.

From May 1954 to May 1955, 5,554 wells were added and the acreage irrigated increased by 390,425. The greatest increase in the number of wells during the seven-year period was the 6,268 added from May 1952 to May 1953. The increase in the area irrigated rose by 598,094 acres.

Hale County with 3,700 wells is the leader in this category. These wells supply the water to irrigate 470,000 acres. The 3,000 wells in Swisher County supply the water for 480,000 acres. The report shows Hoekley County with 3,550 wells; Lubbock with 3,300 and Lamb County with 2,800 to rank high in the area.

Butane is used on 15,447 wells while natural gas powers another 11,881 pumping plants. A majority of the wells, 24,779, had a pumping lift of more than 125 feet and 17,592 were shown with a pumping capacity of under 700 gallons per minute.

Grain sorghum, cotton, wheat, alfalfa and sudan, most for pasture, were the principal crops irrigated. According to the report, grain sorghum lead cotton in 1955 by almost 400,000 acres.

Thurmond says the report is compiled from figures submitted from the county agricultural agents in the 43-county area.

More than 300,000 people have visited Texas Longhorn Cavern, near Burnet, since it was opened to the public in 1932. The 183-foot-long Main Room has had as many as 2,860 people in it at the same time.

Naptha Being Used On Johnson Grass

Farmers are having good luck controlling Johnson grass in their crops without hoeing, according to a report released this week by the Texas Beef Council information bureau.

Control is effectively achieved through the use of a common naptha preparation.

A squirt of the naptha solution at the base of the plant, repeated about three times, does the job.

Shamrock Duper Killed Memphis

Glenn Scott Thornton, 34, is being held in Wheeler county jail on charges of shooting and killing a man in Shamrock, Texas, on September 28, 1954. Thornton was held here on September 28, 1954, and held for investigation. Bill Baten stated today that Thornton was brought to the sheriff's office through here in August on a prescription from a local doctor and had it filled in a drug store. After getting the medicine, he told the pharmacist he had to go to the bank to get a check cashed to pay the pharmacist. Thornton didn't come back. Thornton came back to the doctor for some more medicine and the doctor called the sheriff. They arrested him and took him over to the sheriff's office. Baten said that at that time, the sheriff said Thornton wanted in Truth or Conscience, N. M., on a bad check but it was dropped when Thornton's parents made the check good.

County sheriff, Bus Thornton had been charged with an alleged swindle of Shamrock residents $115 and $120 in clothing and several useless ambulance rides. He was arrested in Shamrock early this week. Thornton, a man answering to the name of Pete Knight did not show up for a funeral arranged for a funeral home in Dallas and rode with the body to Wichita Falls as it was the body, Dorman said. Thornton left the ambulance in Dallas to fly on to Dallas. Thornton said he would have been at the First National bank there. He never did keep the money. Dorman added that Thornton tried some after hours work in Amarillo last week, but he failed when a store clerk took his check. Thornton was stated that Thornton was in jail in Clifton, about a week ago.

During the Civil War the Confederate Army used Texas Longhorn Cavern, near Burnet, as an arsenal to manufacture and store gunpowder. The explosive was made from the guano of bats which inhabit the vast cave.

Archers May Hunt Deer in Crockett

CROCKETT, Tex. — This picturesque East Texas town which has politely refrained from trying to capitalize on its namesake — Davey Crockett — has an idea with a sportsman's angle. It suggests that large scale bow and arrow hunting be initiated in Texas in the Davey Crockett National Forest where, through superb community cooperation, a deer restocking program launched in 1952, is proving tremendously successful. Jeff Davis, publisher of THE CROCKETT DEMOCRAT, and a staunch supporter of the big game restoration movement in East Texas, said he will make formal requests for the pioneering archery season before the area is reopened to deer shooting. Archery enthusiasts have made several futile attempts to legalize bow and arrow hunting in Texas. Davis pointed out that sanctioning archery could be granted by the Game and Fish Commission which was granted regulatory authority over the Crockett area by the Legislative act creating the restocking arrangement.

"I think it would be fitting to introduce full scale archery to Texas in the Davey Crockett National Forest," said Publisher Davis. "Before the original Davey Crockett got here with his now well-known flint lock, all the hunting was done by bow and arrow. Besides, there is a strong sentiment to permit modern archers to have a try at big game. This could be done without jeopardizing the new stocked areas since bow and arrow fans really do not take many deer; might get two or three from the area for an entire season.

"I believe the special season would be good conservation because the archers would be legalized before the regular gun season and would prowl around the woods alerting the deer about the pending armed invasion."

Make Farming Safer

The week of July 24-30 should be for every Texan on and off the farm a practice period in prevention of accidents. It is during this period, National Farm Safety Week, that special emphasis is placed upon preventing accidents to those individuals who make their livelihood on farms and ranches.

It is startling to find out that more fatal home accidents occurring on farms are those sustained by children under five years of age. The youngsters are not responsible for most of these fatalities; and the blame must rest upon the shoulders of their parents. Here are the cautions, which are handed down by national leaders:

1. Protect the children from burns, scalds, suffocation and other physical hazards. 2. Keep poisons, all medicines, chemicals, and kerosene away from children.

The two points are well taken. They are listed because records prove that they are more dangerous.

Tractor accidents have ranked high for the last thirty years.
Again we are surprised, according to the record, that one-third of all these fatal tractor accidents happen to children and young people under 20 years of age. Again the responsibility may rest squarely upon farm managers and supervisors.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee believes that accidents on farms do not occur because farmers and their families are more careless than other citizens. The committee cites excess work and fatigue as the determining factors. It is pointed out that these two cause neglect of the necessary precautions in working with power equipment and edged tools.
Farmers are advised to keep in good repair articles which are used frequently.

Prevention of accidents has a deeper importance than merely keeping people fit to do their work. The waste of human lives, the pain and sometime permanent crippling resulting from accidents, and the disruption of family life when a member is injured, are of even greater consequence.

The distressing thing is that so large a part of accidents which are happening daily could be avoided by caution and common sense safeguards.

Hazards to life and limb in homes and farm buildings are many and obvious, and have been talked about and written about for many years. But we must continue to think about them. A systematic check will reveal most of the hazards. Then the knowledge that they exist will create the urge to remove them.

The Texas Safety Committee says the time has arrived for farmers and their families to pool their efforts toward making their industry as safe as any other in the nation. The stand is well taken, and the theme for Safety Week—"Your Safety is in your hands"—is worth reconsideration.

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

A Day of Reckoning
How long can the strictly agriculture communities such as ours compete with the constant rising spiral of inflation brought about by the demands of labor who want more pay for doing less work?
The answer is we can't unless the farmers and other food producers learn how to go on strike themselves; and it is something that will take a colossal lot of doing and thinking. All the Roosevelt and Truman administrations did, as far as farming is concerned, was to make the big farmers bigger and put the small farmers out of existence. (Before the New Deal we had 14,000 people living in Collingsworth County—now we have 9,000). Eisenhower may have done wonders as far as the international scene is concerned, but he and Benson have not done a thing about the trend of the big farms getting bigger and the small farms going out of existence that Roosevelt started and Truman kept going. Perhaps this is a matter that the farm organizations should start thinking about seriously. — The Wellington Leader.

That Man Again
Tom Hudson, Editor of the Lake Elsinore Valley Sun, at Elsinore, Calif., made with an Uncle Claude quote this week.
He says:
"Jack Geyer asked this question in the Los Angeles Times recently:
'If Texas is so wonderful how come so many Texans are now living in Southern California?' Fellow by the name of Uncle Claude who publishes the Claude (Texas)
News, figures it out this way:
"A bunch of Texans went out looking for new land on which to squint. After building their shacks and filing their homesteads they discovered they had inadvertently squatted beyond the Texas border."
That is the truth, so help me, and I'll swear by it on a David Crockett Coonskin Cap. There are two other reasons that there seems to be so many Texans in California. People migrating toward the Pacific wanted to take a heritage with them so they detoured through Texas so they could ever after claim that they were from the rough and rugged life of the Lone Star State. Of course everyone knows that those who can't take this wonderful pioneer life out here move to the soft, easy living of California.
The other reason is the Texas Fifth Column. When we get enough voting strength we're going to vote California back into its mother state, Texas. Those Northern politicians in Washington were responsible for losing our West Forty pasture in the first place.
Best ever, Editor Hudson, and come on home after you get your sun-tan, or is California noted for something else?

Points To Reasons For Many Farm Accidents

Experience, as it relates to farm accidents is an expensive teacher. The cost of an arm, for example, is a high price to pay for a lesson in safety and can be justified by the returns. Don't forget, cautions W. B. Hooser, County Agent, that accidents can happen to you. Faulty equipment or hidden obstructions can do cause accident but accidents, not thinking and carelessness, take the heaviest toll. Causes are all man made and under the direct control of the individual concerned.

Hooser believes if farmers and their families would answer a simple question before beginning each day's work, many accidents just never would happen. The question is: "Is it possible to get hurt doing this job?" If the answer is "no," then change the method of doing the job or be more careful, he says.

Points to the high casualty rate among children under four years of age resulting from tractor accidents as an example. Fatalities among this group are almost as high as for the group between 21 and 25. "A ride on a tractor is fun for the youngsters but they love it but children don't know how to do as they are told and a fall may be the sad end to a fun ride."

National Farm Safety Week was observed across the nation, July 24-30, but year-long attention to preventing farm and home accidents is the only sure way to reduce their toll.

Agriculture is now rated as one of the most hazardous industries, says Hooser. "This rating will continue until rural residents, individually and collectively, make it their business to make that life in the country is as safe as in any other industry. It can be done," says Hooser, "if the farmer and ranch families become safety conscious every day of the year."

LETTERS FROM READERS

Printed in The Memphis Democrat, Thursday, July 14, were the words: "Samuel Butler said, 'The soul of women are small, that some believe they've got it all.'"

Editor, I'm sure you didn't get these lines believing them. I'm sure your many readers don't believe them. Of course, Butler was not an outstanding writer of his time and a few of his writings were liked because they were over-the-top and bitter.

Being a woman is something to be proud of. Being a mother is a wonderful privilege; and every woman does have a soul. We may be physically strong, but the strength of the woman can only be equalled. The woman has responsibility of growing children must have a soul and I'm afraid today that the soul of many means just the same to the soul of man. And God bless the man that thinks a woman not even have a soul.

Mrs. Billy Salmon Editor's note — We heartily thank you for the item referred to. It is one of many fillers furnished all newspapers, and are simply as space fillers, and are not our individual beliefs. Thank you for your defense of womankind—that God created none better.)

23,000 Texans Enter Services In Six Months

AUSTIN—A total of nearly 23,000 Texans entered the Armed Forces by enlistment and draft during the first half of 1955, with more than 34,000 residents of the Lone Star State being separated during the same period.

This was reflected Thursday in a statement issued by state Selective Service headquarters, based on monthly reports to national Selective Service headquarters.

Of the nearly 23,000 Texans entering the uniformed services, the big majority went in by enlistment. Nearly 19,000 were reported by the armed services as enlisting. Lieutenant Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state draft director said.

The state's draft board's ordered nearly 4,000 men into the Army during the first six months of the year. Colonel Schwartz said, and he added that many of these volunteered for induction, as authorized by Selective Service regulations.

Men going into service through the draft boards go into the Army. The figures for enlistment and separation include those of all the armed forces departments, such as Air Force and Marines.

During the first six months of 1955, Texas draft boards sent 2,958 men for physical-mental examinations prior to final consideration for military service. Of this number, 1,188 were turned down by Army examining authorities. Final acceptability of a draft registrant is decided by the Army.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Duren returned home last week from Springfield, Tenn., where they visited with their daughter, Mrs. Woodrow Martin and family.

Gaylynn visited Sunday in Wichita Falls with their daughter Sue.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

MR. DIXON ISN'T DOING SO BAD

The cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract by the Federal Government was no doubt a pretty stiff blow to the Dixon-Yates combine. One of the clouds had a silver lining for Mr. Dixon. There is a foundling home in Washington that was raffling off an automobile. Chances were being sold for one dollar each. Several Members of Congress who have adopted children from this home were helping to sell these chances. Someone sold a chance to Mr. Dixon, who was no doubt in town trying to defend his contract. On the day of gloom when the contract was cancelled, the drawing at the foundling home was held and the winner of the Mercury automobile turned out to be Mr. Dixon. One fellow told me that they had hoped Mr. Dixon would turn the car back to them so that they could raffle it off again. However, this was not the case according to this spokesman. Mr. Dixon traded his new Mercury in on a plush Lincoln, according to reports. We are glad that Mr. Dixon won the car, and certainly think he is entitled to keep it or trade it, as he might desire.

ANOTHER STORY THAT GREW OUT OF THE DIXON-YATES CONTROVERSY

The story is that the telephone in the office of Congressman Yates, of Illinois, rang and was answered by his secretary who said, "Mr. Yates office." There was a pause for a moment, and then the voice at the other end of the line said, "I'm sorry, I was trying to get hold of Congressman Dixon."

THE GAS BILL

The proposal to free producers and gatherers of natural gas from federal control continues as one of the hot issues on the Hill. Although the bill does not solve the problem in the same manner as I would have preferred, it nevertheless has my wholehearted and unqualified support. The bill frees the independent producer and gatherer from federal control. This is what I wanted to see done. Other provisions of the bill provide a somewhat indirect federal control that is intended to protect the consumer. I certainly do not object to the consumer being fully protected and therefore do not oppose these additional provisions. My personal feeling is that the best protection the consumer can have is the nonregulation of the producer and gatherer. This is undoubtedly true for the following reasons: There are three stages in the gas business. Number one is production and gathering, which has not been federally regulated. Number two is the interstate transmission, which is and has been under federal regulation. Number three is the distribution of gas to the consumer, which is and always has been regulated by a local government regulatory body. Take Washington, D. C. for instance. The consumer pays about $1.37 per thousand cubic feet. Out of this amount the Washington, D. C., distributor gets 69 cents; the interstate pipeline company gets 29 cents, and the producer gets 12 cents. The point is that the two segments of the industry who get the big chunk out of the consumer's dollar are regulated by government agencies and always have been. The one segment that has not been regulated up to date (the producer) gets

CIVILIZATION TOO MUCH FOR WILD ANIMALS

Recently an ocelot (wildcat weighing about 30 pounds) escaped from a Washington pet shop, killed two dogs, and disappeared in the tall timber of the Naval Observatory grounds. Everyone joined in the hunt, but no results. One fellow brought in his hounds, who picked up a scent, and charged off through the woods at full bay. The scent turned out to be that of an overripe halibut instead of the ocelot. Nothing further has been heard from the hunter nor the hounds. After several days' searching with no results, the ocelot meekly surrendered, weighing less than half its former weight and with one broken leg.

He has been properly hospitalized and is no doubt now reconciled to civilization.

Church Service Unites In Marriage Beryle Ann Davis, Burl McClellan

First Christian Church was the scene for the candlelight ceremony performed at 8 o'clock last evening to unite in marriage Beryle Ann Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, Memphis, and Burl G. McClellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan of Commerce.

The wedding service was read by the Rev. minister of the church, and the bride, before an improvised altar, wore a gown of white gladioli with white tapers in candlelight against a background of jade and greenery. White satin marked the bridal aisle.

Beryle Ann Davis of Plainville, Mo., wore a gown of "O Promise Me" and the groom wore a suit of "The Lord's Prayer" in the ceremony. Miss Wright of Memphis officiated at the traditional wedding and also accompanied the bride and groom.

"No Other Love" was softly sung during the exchange of vows.

Miss Spoon attended the bride and groom and other guests were Miss Betty Conner, N. M., Mrs. Shelton of Ashtola, Mrs. Stargel of Memphis, they wore length dresses of aqua and white with a touch of illusion fell from a crown of irredescents and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis sprinkled with silver and wore a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings, borrowed from Betty Conway. For something old, she wore her maternal grandmother's diamond engagement ring.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride, wore a pink linen dress with lace insets and white accessories. Her corsage was of white gladioli. Mrs. McClellan, the groom's mother, wore a lace dress of azure blue accented with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception at the Memphis Country Club. The dining table was laid with a white imported linen cloth and featured the three-tiered wedding cake flanked by crystal punch bowls. Aqua candles in crystal holders completed the table decoration.

Miss Mary Clem of Waco and Mrs. Zim Ekins of Beaumont, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Woody Clemmons of Houston, aunt of the groom, served the cake and punch.

Miss Adale Clem, another aunt of the bride, was in the receiving line.

Mrs. Bill Davis of Panhandle presided at the registry.

Others included in the house party were Miss Mary Foreman, Mrs. A. W. Howard, Mrs. Dick Spoon, Mrs. Clent Strygley, Mrs. Herchel Combs, Miss Esta McElrath, Mrs. Harry Aspreen, Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, Mrs. W. C. Dickey, Mrs. Henry Foster, Mrs. S. J. Her small black straw hat featured alternating bands of coral and white and her short gloves were of matching coral. She wore a corsage of white rosebuds from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School and West Texas State College. The bridegroom is a Commerce High School and East Texas State College graduate where he majored in journalism. He served 4 years in the U. S. Navy, returning to Memphis in February to join the staff of the Memphis Democrat as News Editor.

Engine Wear Reduced 40% with Trop-Artic Motor Oil

(THE DIFFERENCE IN WEIGHT IS A DIFFERENCE IN WEAR!)

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

The difference in piston ring wear illustrated above proves an important point about the performance of motor oils:

Most engine wear occurs when you first start your car or under stop-and-go driving conditions with an engine that hasn't warmed up. It takes a very special kind of oil to flow quickly and protect your motor when you start, and then to protect moving parts from sludge and varnish after the engine heats up. TROP-ARTIC All-Weather Motor Oil gives you this double protection. Compared to older types of oils, it can even double engine life.

In a motor oil it's performance that counts. And TROP-ARTIC gives super performance! You'll get easier starting... save gasoline... and you can save 15% to 45% on oil consumption. Get TROP-ARTIC from your Phillips 66 Dealer.

Rogers' Buggy Makes Last Trip On A Truck

While attending the annual meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society in Canyon in May, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Rogers visited the museum sponsored by the society, and found it to be most interesting. They saw that the various collections and items were worthwhile and the manner of display unique.

The Rogers were particularly interested in the early-day furniture, Colonel Goodnight's hack, the buggies, and other paraphernalia reminiscent of the turn of the century. On their tour of the museum, they met C. Boone McClure, curator, and asked if he would like another buggy—one with a top—to add to his collection of vehicles.

In answer to their question, Mr. McClure arrived at Cedar Hills Ranch the first week in July to "fetch" the buggy. Fortunately, he had brought along a buggy wrench to remove the wheels from the vehicle for loading into a pick-up truck.

Camera shots were made of the buggy before dismantling and after it was securely lashed to the bed of the pick-up and ready to ride.

The buggy is not an heirloom. And, so far, as Mrs. Rogers knows, has no particularly interesting history. It has been housed in a hay shed at the ranch for some 20 years.

Workers Ready For Lions Broom Sale Here July 27th

Final plans were drafted this week for the second annual "Broom Sale" of the Memphis Lions Club, which is scheduled for Wednesday, July 27.

H. E. (Tony) Craig, general chairman of the sale campaign, said Wednesday that a truck load of products will be in Memphis Wednesday. Lions Club members will be assisted in the sale by 20 Boy Scouts, and every home in the city will be canvassed.

In charge of the canvassing will be 10 Lions, while others will solicit sales within the business district.

The chairman explained that in addition to brooms, ironing board covers, pads, door mats and mops will be offered. These products are all manufactured by Texas blind workmen in blind shops or "lighthouses," which are non-profit organizations.

The local Lions Club will retain 25 per cent of all funds collected, Craig said. This money will be spent in sponsoring the different projects undertaken in this community.

Craig started the sale at the regular meeting of the club Wednesday, by selling each Lion a 75c broom. He announced that Bill Leslie will serve as team captain, and will be in charge of mapping the sales campaign.

Since such relics of transportation are fast disappearing from the American scene, the idea of giving it to the Panhandle-Plains Museum, where it would be preserved and displayed for posterity, seemed like a good one to Mr. and Mrs. Rogers.

Agent Urges —

stink bugs and thrips.

He suggested that each farmer should examine his cotton fields frequently to determine whether or not insecticides are needed. The farm manager must learn to make accurate accounts at the proper time in order to use the poisons in the most profitable manner.

The county agent offered the following suggestions to make accurate checks for different insects.

Fleahopper—Examine the mainstem terminal "bud" of 100 cotton plants (about 3 or 4 inches from the top of the cotton plant), recording the number of adult (with wings) and nymphs (young stage—without wings) which are found. These examinations should be made at several representative points in the field. Toxaphene, or 2-1 mixture, 3-4 lb. or DDT, 1-2 lb. per acre, 7 to 10 day intervals, are the recommended insecticides to combat fleahoppers.

Bollworm—Examine 100 plant terminals and if 4 or 5 young worms are found in small squares or on tender top leaves, infestation is high enough to start treatment. When they are first deposited on the plant, bollworm eggs are white and about the size of mustard seed.

Past experience has been shown that the use of DDT alone for bollworm control greatly increases the possibility of injurious aphid infestations, Hooser pointed out. Any grower who uses DDT alone should be prepared for a "knockout" control of aphids, 2-1 mixture, 3 lbs. per acre.

Enrin, a new insecticide, is used to kill bollworms, thrips, leaf-worms, fleahoppers, and lygus bugs. It will not control pink bollworms, aphids, and spider mites.

A "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects," booklet is available, and may be secured at the county agent's office.

Myers Says More Spectators Needed At Softball Games

Ted Myers, director of the summer softball program at the City Park in Memphis, this week announced that games are being played on Tuesday and Friday nights each week. He issued to the public an invitation to attend the games.

"Sometimes we find it necessary to postpone games on account of rains," Myers said. "But if it is at all possible to play, the boys will be on the field."

Game time for the Peevees is 7:30 p. m., and for the junior leaguers, 8:45 p. m.

"We are having good crowds to watch the boys in action. They are improving weekly, and always appreciate big crowds of spectators," he added.

In Peewee playing, the Giants beat the Yankees twice last week by a score of 12-11 and 20-16. In the junior league, the Rattlers and Eagles split a pair of games. In the first, the Eagles won 16-10, then the Rattlers came out on top 18-17.

In the first Peewee game, the Giants edged out the Yankees by a one-score lead. David May led the hitting for the Giants with three scores, followed by Buster McQueen and Don Craig with two each. Brad Josey, Jimmy Sturdivant, Hoot Jones, Harry Helm and Jerry Moss made one run each.

The Giants won the second 20-16, with Don Craig, Hoot Jones and David May racking up 3 runs each. Toby Crooks, John Ferrel and Jerry Moss made 2 runs each, and Larry Helm added another.

Hitting for the Yankees for 3 runs each were Jimmy Harrison and John Lemons, followed by Mike Simmons, Jack Stargel and Randy Brown with 2, and Gary

Roberts Elected C Of C President

Mills Roberts has been elected president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development to fill the unexpired term of Rufus W. Grisham, who resigned when his company transferred him to Lubbock.

The board of directors of the organization met at a breakfast recently and elected the new president, and also elected Dwight Kinard as vice president.

The Chamber of Commerce has not had a vice president since Bluford Walker resigned sometime ago.

These two officers will serve until new officers are elected in the early part of 1956.

Simmons with 1.

In junior league play, the Eagles downed the Rattlers in a wild contest 16-10. Larry Craig led the Eagles, hitting for 4 runs. Dan Goffinet and Ronald Ables made 2 each; Teddy Barnes, Bunky Adeock, Robert Moss, Perry Wright, Kenneth Allyson and Gordon Newton made a run each. Hitting for the Rattlers were Henry Foster, Kenny Hartman and Barry Phillips with 2 each; Simmons, Phil Howard, Donnie Spicer and Larry Combest with 1 run each.

On Friday night the Rattlers struck back and defeated the Eagles in an overtime game 18-17. The Eagles were coasting along until the sixth inning with a 10-point lead, when the Rattlers began a rally which continued on through the seventh and the final win. Heading the victorious Rattlers were Robert Gardner and Jimmy Fields with 3 runs each, followed by Allyn Harrison and Phil Howard with 2. Larry Combest and Gordon Newton made 1 each. Bunky Adeock led the Eagles with 4 runs, Reddy Barnes and Don Watts racked up 3 runs each; Kenneth Allyson made 2, and Dan Goffinet, Perry Wright, Robert Moss, Ronald Ables and Larry Craig added 1 each.

of a scenic highway up into Palo Duro Canyon.

Judge Vance Gilbreath of Motley County pledged his continued support for better roads.

Tracy Davis, county judge of Hall County, told the audience about his first trip up the Caprock in a wagon as a young man, and referred to scenery assets of the area.

State Representative Elbert Reeves of Matador and Igroy Saul of Kress, and State Senator Andy Rogers of Childress were introduced by Judge Lyons. He also recognized J. Claude Wells and Cliff Farmer of Memphis, Ott Bevers of Lakeview, and Orin Stark of Quitaque for "their accomplishments in helping to improve highways in this area through a period of over 25 years."

Palmer Massey of Childress, district highway engineer, gave a brief report of the engineering department's responsibilities in building and maintaining roads.

Fornby, member of the Texas Highway Commission, told the crowd that the commission was very proud of the completion of the two gaps in highways 256 and 70. He expressed the thanks of his colleagues for the fine cooperation which had been manifested by the citizens of the four counties.

"We are here in a scenic part of our great state," he said. "We must recognize our assets from the standpoint of tourists, and go forward in promoting them."

He reported that a check of traffic, since the two gaps of paving had been completed, showed a tremendous increase in the number of vehicles using both roads. Fornby said the completions "represented a cool million dollars worth of better roads for this area."

After the program, a basket dinner was spread upon the beds of several large wagons and picnic tables.

Mrs. L. C. Martin and son Malcolm left Monday morning for Normangee where they were to attend the funeral services of her uncle, B. Burns, who died there suddenly Monday morning. They will also visit in Huntsville with her parents before returning to Memphis.

Mrs. Nora Regan of Friona is visiting here this week with her daughter, Mrs. S. A. Ellis and family.

Lenin died Jan. 21, 1924.

Mrs. Coleman died Saturday at a hospital in Ft. Supply, Okla. She had been in poor health for several years and suffered a stroke on Tuesday. Mrs. Posey was with her mother at the time of her death.

Survivors, other than Mrs. Posey, include several other children.

Second Polio —

for the second inoculation as it did for the first, we expect only about 60 to 70 percent of our original allotment," the health officer stated. "We have no idea how many parents will authorize the second shots for their children, but we believe our supply will be adequate."

In the first inoculation, 341 first and second grade students were vaccinated in Hall County. On this basis, the health officer estimated some 250 shots will be available.

The vaccine which is now being distributed has been double checked and released by the Government, it was pointed out, and is being furnished Texas by the same company that supplied the state with its first supply.

"According to reports," Dr. Odom said, "Texas is experiencing one of its lightest years in the number of polio cases reported. The State Health Department called attention to the fact that we reach our peak polio season about August 1st and urged that the second shots be given before that date if possible. We have had no polio cases in this area this summer that I know of."

According to plans announced by the State Health Department this is the last shot that furnished free of charge. Odom said. A third shot given in the fall, has been promised. By that time, the officer predicts the vaccine be available to the public to be administered by the physician.
