Ginnings In County Total 16,223 Bales

A survey of Hall County gins this week disclosed that 16,223 bales of cotton had been ginned by Tuesday. The check was made by William M. Cross of Clarendon, farm placement interviewer for the Texas Employment Commission. The total a week earlier was 11,507 bales or a difference of 4,716.

Cross said that ginner south of Red River had estimated that more than half of the cotton in that area had been harvested, while those north of the river seemed to believe that less than half of the crop had been gathered. Around 80 per cent of the cotton was thought to be open on the south side of the river, but only 50 to 60 per cent on the north side, according to the ginner.

Scout Fund Drive Reset For Tuesday

A Boy Scout fund drive which had originally been scheduled for this week will be staged instead this coming Tuesday, Ace Gailey, community campaign chairman, reports. The drive had to be postponed because some needed materials failed to arrive in time for use this week, Gailey explained.

A kickoff breakfast will be held at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Afterwards, teams of workers will canvass the business and residential sections for contributions. Money collected will be used in financing Scout activities, so citizens are urged to be generous.

"Building tomorrow's better Texas" has been selected as the campaign slogan and this tells the story briefly of how today's Scouts will grow into tomorrow's men.

County Tax Office Collects $61,419.78 During October

A total of $61,419.78 of the 1955 county tax assessments for Hall County was collected in October, according to Olin Cooper, county tax assessor-collector. State tax collections amounted to $22,268.91 of the $33,361.28 assessed Hall County residents, and road tax collections came to $3,803.56 of the total assessment of $6,365.98. Total for these three categories in October was $87,492.25. This represented 63.46 per cent of the 1955 tax roll.

October tax collections, according to Cooper, were as follows: county, $65,624.62; state, $23,876.81; and road, $4,357.40. This was 68 per cent of the 1954 tax roll.

Cooper surmised collections this October might have been under those in 1954 because of the lateness of the 1955 crop.

Through October, 413 poll taxes were issued, compared with 341 last October, probably reflecting the fact that 1956 is an election year, in which national, state and county officials are to be named.

Dallas Official Replies To Local Mayor's Letter

Mayor O. L. Helm this week received a letter from Mayor R. L. Thornton of Dallas, replying to a message which the Memphis official had sent earlier, thanking Dallas officials and residents for kindnesses, following an accident at the state fair in which a Memphis girl was killed and two others injured. Killed was Cynthia Combest. The injured girls were Kay Leslie, who is still in a Dallas hospital, and Barbara Allen, who was treated and dismissed.

The Dallas mayor's letter reads as follows: "I am late in answering your letter of October 18 because I have been out of the city some of the time and tied up in numerous meetings, etc., but nonetheless grateful to you for your kind letter. The unfortunate accident to Cynthia Combest was a deep shock to all of us here, particularly to those of us who have children. We are glad that two of our patrolmen, Messrs. Huddleston and Chaney, went to Memphis for the funeral of Cynthia. We quite understand that this has been a great blow to your people. There is no explanation for it that I know of. It seems like tragedy must stalk our ways throughout life and we never know when it will come. The sympathy of the citizens of Dallas is extended to your City and your people and especially to Cynthia's relatives.

Out-of-Town Man Filed on for DWI

A Fort Worth man was filed on here Tuesday morning for driving while intoxicated after he was arrested on Highway 287 near the county line north of Memphis. He was coming toward Memphis, according to Elmer Neel, who made the arrest.

Neel started up the highway, looking for the man, after receiving a radio call on him. Just before the officer stopped the prisoner, the latter's car struck (Continued on page 12)

Pickup Order Out On Liquor Counts

A pickup order was out this week for an Austin man who is charged with the possession of and the sale of liquor in a dry area, in connection with the confiscation of a cache of intoxicants at the Lesley Schoolhouse early Saturday morning. This information came from Sheriff W. P. Baten.

Liquor taken by Baten and Deputy Elmer Neel consisted of 90 half-pints of whiskey, three cases of wine and two cases of beer, according to Neel.

A group, estimated at about 50 persons, was in and around the schoolhouse, Baten said, and in the excitement that followed the officers' appearance, the suspect escaped.

LIONS CLUB TO HONOR FACULTY AND BOARD MEMBERS TONIGHT

DR. JAMES P. CORNETTE

WTSC President To Deliver Main Address At Banquet

Principal speaker at the annual Lions Club banquet for Memphis faculty and school board members and their husbands or wives tonight (Thursday) will be Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College at Canyon. The dinner will be held in the Masonic Hall dining room, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Haskell Howell, who is in charge of program arrangements, will be master of ceremonies.

During the evening, Robert Sexauer, president of the school board, will present awards to a number of faculty members, in recognition of their years of service in the local school system.

The program also will include some special music by Mrs. Sexauer.

Dr. Cornette has been president of West Texas State since 1948, coming to WTSC from Baylor University, where he was dean of the college for three years. Before moving to Texas in 1945, Dr. Cornette was a professor at Western Kentucky State for 15 years.

President Cornette earned his A. B. degree at Kentucky Wesleyan College, his M. A. at the University of Virginia, and his Ph. D. from George Peabody College for Teachers. He is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association, National Educational Association, Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary education fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta, and Rotary International.

The Panhandle educator has written three books and a number of articles for various educational journals.

During his administration at WTSC, the student body and physical plant have expanded steadily. At least three major buildings, a $500,000 library, a $400,000 field house, and a student union building, plus three major dormitory additions, and a number of minor buildings have been constructed. Largest student body in the college's history was enrolled this fall.

M., and Mrs. Clyde Prater of Guymon, Okla.; and two brothers, Chester Rawlins of Teague, Tex., and E. J. Rawlins, Jr., of Lamarque, Tex.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Weather Aids Crop Harvest

Cotton and feed harvesting in Hall County continued at a fast pace the past week as weather continued relatively dry and fairly good. There were strong northerly winds and some dust over the weekend but this moderated Sunday afternoon. Another front Monday, accompanied by a trace of moisture, produced some more disagreeable weather but this dissipated Monday night. However, the Amarillo weather bureau Thursday morning was predicting much colder weather Friday night.

So far this year, Hall County has had 23.41 inches of moisture, 18.16 of this falling in the months of May and June, according to John McMickin, weather observer here. The 10-month total compares with the usual annual average of 21.32 inches, the figure found in the Texas Almanac.

Temperature extremes the past week, as furnished by McMickin, were: Last Thursday 25-62 degrees; Friday 23-76; Saturday 30-82; Sunday 36-59; Monday 30-51; Tuesday 29-55; and Wednesday 25-68. Low this morning was 34 degrees.

Cyclones Reported Ready For Panhandle Tilt Friday

Members of the Memphis High School football team were in pretty good shape for the game here Friday night with the Panhandle Panthers, Coach D. C. Andrews said Wednesday. The only boy not expected to see action, according to him, is Cleve Evans, who had an ankle re-injured in the Stinnett game last week. Until recently, Evans had been out of the lineup since the ankle was hurt early in the season. Andrews said he probably would see no more service this year.

The Panhandle contest will start at 7:30 Friday night in Cyclone Stadium, and will be the last home game of the season for the Memphis squad. They will close out the season Friday night of next week when they take on the Lefors Pirates at Lefors. Andrews announced one change in the probable starting lineup for the Panhandle tilt, that of Terry Monzingo in the fullback position.

The coach said that the boys had been showing up good in workouts this week and were displaying plenty of spirit.

Memphis has a conference record of three victories and three losses and over the season has won four and lost four. Panhandle's district record shows three wins, two defeats and one tie, the latter occurring Friday night when the Panthers held the strong Wellington Skyrockets to a 0-0 deadlock. So far this season, the Panthers have three victories, four losses and the tie.

Autumn colors were predominantly gorgeous last week-end in the Arkansas Ozarks, G. W. Sexauer and I found out by taking several tours in that area. The most outstanding landscape colors were in the Eureka Springs area. This tour was made in company with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beatty of Corpus Christi (formerly of Memphis). They usually make about four visits to the Ozarks during the year—that being his childhood home.

Mrs. Wells and I spent three weeks in the Ark. Ozarks last year waiting for the Autumn colors to get in full beauty, but a freeze turned the leaves black instead of variegated colors. This year, she preferred to stay at home.

Sexauer had never visited Northwest Arkansas, and on this trip he observed first hand a diversified section of country where the people all seem to be prosperous, and where the scenery is also diversified.

A man-made cave covering some four acres of land was visited near Fayetteville that was almost unbelievable. It was on a hillside of limestone rock. A capstone of rock was left for the roof, and pillars (Continued on Page 12)

Local Man Charged With Liquor Sales

Banta McClure of Memphis was arrested here Monday morning in connection with three alleged sales of liquor to a Liquor Control Board agent, Sheriff W. P. Baten said Monday afternoon. He was charged with the sale of whiskey in a dry area on each count.

County Judge Tracy Davis set a bond of $1,000 in each case. McClure was released from jail Tuesday, after the bonds were made.

BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN

It would be most difficult to express in words the feeling one has as he gets on an airplane in Helsinki, Finland, for conveyance to a point beyond the Iron Curtain. It can certainly be said that the entire operation is surrounded by the deepest mystery and this passenger felt somewhat like he was taking part in a foreign intrigue episode. In any event you are in a state of suspended animation not knowing what will happen next.

The airport at Helsinki is excellent and is served by several airlines connecting with the Western countries. Its only connection with Russia and the Eastern countries is by airline owned by the USSR and named Aeroflot. The Finnish Airlines are not allowed to go into Russia nor are any other airlines from the Western countries. You may fly any of the several airlines serving Helsinki from many points to Helsinki, but when you reach this destination you must change over to Aeroflot if you are authorized to go behind the Iron Curtain. We were scheduled to depart Helsinki at 3:35 p.m. for Leningrad. We were all waiting for the arrival of the Russian planes hoping to get some pictures. I had a movie camera and was all prepared to take pictures. Instead of one plane, there were three, all the same type. They all carried the Russian emblem and came in almost simultaneously. I began shooting pictures and discovered my camera wouldn't operate. I took a quick glance inside and discovered that I had done something wrong and the entire roll of film was a twisted mass and the camera had jammed. I began to hunt for a dark room where I could take the film out and save as much as possible. The only place I could find that was not brilliantly lighted was the men's room. I can testify without fear of successful contradiction that trying to remove twisted film from a jammed camera in a Finnish men's room is no pleasant task. I had the door locked and almost got into trouble with some of the other passengers. I finally got some of the other film out and tried to insert another roll but the camera had definitely jammed and I missed getting any pictures of the first Russian plane that I had seen. So I put the camera in the case and tried to forget it.

After approval of our papers we were admitted to a room from which we were later to depart for the airplane. This room was filled with many types of people who were travelling to or returning to the Soviet Union. After another round of processing we were led to the plane by a Russian hostess. One member of the party started around the front of the plane and the hostess with the speed of a quarterhorse herded him back to the fold and left no doubt in his mind that he was to proceed where she led. The plane was very similar to a DC-3 type of plane, that is two motored and about the same size. Some of these planes have tricycle landing gears and others have a tail wheel exactly like the ICE EXPERTS . . . Joan and Jean Pastor, 17-year-old twin ice follies skaters, operate a Jacobsen home power snow plow, exhibited at National Hardware Show on Chicago's Navy Pier.

DC-3. The furnishings inside of the plane were typically Russian in design, color, and texture. Much different from the furnishings of our planes. There were no seat belts which disturbed us to some extent. As soon as we were aboard the motors were started, and we took off without any further ado. There were no announcements or instructions of any kind, in fact we did not see anyone nor did we hear from anyone. We were quickly airborne and climbed to about 3 thousand feet. The trip was uneventful except that we undertook to determine exactly when we passed the Iron Curtain. We watched for the border but were unable to discern it due to a haze. However, we were able to approximate our crossing by time. There was nothing unusual about the countryside except that there were no cities or towns in sight and we did not see any for a long time.

As we approached Leningrad we noted many railroad tracks and many trains. Where they were going I do not know, but most of them appeared to be freight trains. We landed in Leningrad in due order where we were met by some Russian officials, both men and women. The airport building is about 200 yards from the landing field. The two are connected by a wide flower bordered concrete strip. We were escorted into the building and into a special room where our baggage was examined by customs officials and we were required to sign certain declarations as to what we were carrying. One of the officials spoke English very well and I asked him a number of questions. One was, "Where and how do you buy any articles that you might desire?" His answer was, "You buy anything you want anywhere at any time." As an afterthought he added the following question, "Not so in the United States?" to which I replied, "Oh, yes. There are so many things to buy and so many places to buy them in the United States that all you need is money." He grinned as though he thoroughly understood the problem.

This was our introduction to the mysteries behind the Iron Curtain and from that point many interesting things took place that I will try to outline in detail in subsequent newsletters.

U. S. Can Conquer Educational Crisis, Tech Prof. States

LUBBOCK — America can conquer its educational crisis if people from all walks of life will melt their special interests into a common concern for good schools, Dr. Morris S. Wallace, new head of Texas Tech's education department declares.

Dr. Wallace, a member of President Eisenhower's advisory committee on education, is helping prepare a report to the President on the nation's sagging school system.

"Today thousands of parents are worried about the basic grammar school and high school education of their children, and with good cause," Dr. Wallace said. "They watch them trot off to half-day sessions under 'emergency permit' teachers in temporary school rooms without instructional material to go around, he reminded.

"There is good reason to believe that America is and will be paying in the future for our failure to meet the educational needs of today," Dr. Wallace emphasized.

"Our problems may be common between communities but they must be solved locally," he said. "The thinking of the President's entire committee is based on one solid concept. We believe that when all people understand the school problems, they can and will solve them."

Home Ec House At Tech Boasts Many Comforts

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Home Management House has all the comforts of home — except for the whirr of the electric razor every morning.

It even has a baby, borrowed from 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. five days a week.

This is all part of the Home Economics Division plan to give homemaking majors a close look into the future, including all the responsibility and knowledge that go into making modern living a rather pleasant challenge.

Two groups of seniors live in the Home Management House each semester. For eight weeks the seven girls rotate a series of homemaking assignments ranging from whisking a broom to planning and cooking a full course meal or an afternoon tea. All this plus a full class schedule, studying, and the typical student round of dates and extracurricular activities.

But, the center of interest in Home Management House isn't a student. And you probably could not call her an activity.

She's a nine-weeks-old Linda Crites, who has the personality of a charmer and the appetite of a . . . baby. Not given much to extracurricular entertainments.

she mostly likes to eat and sleep. And bubble through her morning bath. But, she's the reason the four-day baby director assignment is the prize job at Home Management House. Linda is the daughter of Mrs. E. Crites, Route 4, Lubbock.

Miss Billie Wolfe, assistant professor of home economics, is director of the Tech Home Management House.

Wesleyan Service Guild Meets Mon.

The Wesleyan Service Guild met with 13 members present, Monday evening in the Church Annex.

Mrs. Mary Owens opened the meeting, bringing a devotional from the 13th chapter of Corinthians. Mrs. Sharp led in prayer, after which Mrs. Coursey gave a very informative talk on the early American Indian.

Mrs. Mildred Hutcherson told the high points from the books, "The Gift Is Rich" and "Doors Toward the Sunrise." The program was very informative and also very interesting, bringing to attention conditions which exist among the American Indians of which the general public is not aware. The program was closed with Mary Owens challenging us to do something about helping these people.

Texas Farm Income Now Last Year's

Texas cash farm income for the first nine months of this year is running 9 per cent below the same period last year. Income from 8 of the 10 major farm commodities is down over last year:

- Wheat, up 2 per cent.
- Corn, up 2 per cent.
- Sheep and lambs, up 14 per cent.
- Mohair, up 14 per cent.
- Poultry, 2 per cent.
- Milk and milk products, up 1 per cent.
- Fruit and nut products, up 13 per cent.
- Cotton, down 34 per cent.
- Cottonseed, 34 per cent.
- Wool, 31 per cent.
- Oats, 3 per cent.
- Flax, 3 per cent.
- Rice, 26 per cent.
- Calves, 29 per cent.
- Swine, 23 per cent.
- Wool, 23 per cent.

Prices for all farm products averaged 1 per cent below August and 3 per cent below September, 1954. The August price increase showed August compared with August of 1954, up 6 per cent. Feed crops, 8 per cent. Feed grains, down 3 per cent. Sweet potatoes, 30 per cent. Cotton, 3 per cent. and 11 per cent registered. While fruit made a heavy increase was made in the number of farms using irrigation (from 21,000 to 26,318) and in total acreage under irrigation (from 3,181,534 to 4,706,017). The rising standard of living was shown in the increase in farms that have electricity, telephones, T. V. sets, and home freezers.

The prospective cotton crop in Texas has been placed at more than 4 million bales by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The estimate, made October 1, is an increase of 150,000 bales over the month-earlier estimate but does not consider the damaging effects of heavy rains during the first days of October, which injured the amount and quality of the crop. The yield is expected to average 289 pounds an acre, the highest since 1866.

Increases in other crops were also predicted by the USDA. The corn production is placed at 50,196,000 bushels, as against 33,184,000 bushels in 1954. Peanut production is estimated at 237,250,000 pounds this year, as compared with 108,185,000 pounds in 1954. Grain sorghums will increase 21,038,000 bushels over last year to a total of 138,424,000 bushels.

Except for poultry farms, the number of farms devoted primarily to single major product decreased. Poultry farms increased from 7,850 in 1950 to 8,955 last year. On the other hand, the number of cotton farms in Texas shrank from 106,212 to 78,392.

The increasing mechanism of Texas farms showed up in the census, which reported that the state's farmers owned 276,893 tractors in 1954 (a gain of 43,812) and 153,379 motor trucks (a gain of 6,278), although the number of individual farm owners decreased. A heavy increase was made in the number of farms using irrigation (from 21,000 to 26,318) and in total acreage under irrigation (from 3,181,534 to 4,706,017). Fall Enrollment At Tech Reaches All-Time Record

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's fall enrollment is 7,154, a new all-time record high, an official Registrar's Office report reveals.

The previous all-time high was 6,257, set last fall.

Arts and Sciences is the largest of Tech's six academic Divisions, with 2,545 students. Next are Engineering, with 1,910; Business Administration, 1,505; Agriculture, 821; Graduate School, 384; and Home Economics, 373.

Women are outnumbered almost three to one by men in this year's student body but the girls are enrolled in all of the College's divisions except one.

Forty-nine are studying engineering, long considered primarily a men's field. Arts and Sciences attracted the largest number of women, 1,302, and Business Administration, 394.

Only Agriculture is an all-male domain at Tech this fall.

Also bucking educational traditions are seven men enrolled in Home Economics, and for good reason. Food demonstration is becoming a promising field for men, particularly in television, and more and more men are entering interior decoration, food management and food buying, Home Economics officials said.

Tech has the largest Freshman class in its history, 2,657, Sophomores number 1,699; juniors, 1,350, and seniors, 1,064.

Denver Railway Sponsoring Area Farm Day Program

Panhandle and Plains Kiwanians, Lions, Rotarians, Farmers, Ranchers and Agricultural Leaders will meet together at a series of Farm Day programs November 14 to 18, to hear a talk on "Conservation, Food, and Freedom" by Norris F. Schroeder of Fort Morgan, Colorado.

Cooperating with local service club and agricultural leaders, Fort Worth and Denver Railway is bringing Schroeder to Texas as a part of its continuing effort to preach the gospel of soil conservation and restoration throughout its territory.

Schroeder is a farmer, a former Conservation District Supervisor and member of the Nebraska Unicameral. He also has received the Skelly Award for agricultural achievement.

Monday, November 14, Schroeder and the railway group will be in Amarillo for the noon meeting of the Amarillo Kiwanis Club under the auspices of Lewis Dodson, president, and Art Bralley, chairman, Agricultural Committee. Joe Berg, Supervisor of the Carson Soil Conservation District and a past president of the Farmers Union, will take part in the program to explain the organization and functions of a Soil Conservation District.

At Vernon on Tuesday, Schroeder will speak at a combined meeting of Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. Fenton Dale will make an opening five-minute talk on Soil Conservation Districts. Arrangements at Vernon are being made by Garland Johnson and Robert L. Wright who respectively are presidents of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. John Riddle will emcee the program for the combined groups.

Wednesday will find the group in Childress where Schroeder will speak to the Rotary under sponsorship of Bob Ragsdale, president, and Morris Higley, program chairman. Vernon Hafner, County Agent, will discuss the organization and function of a Soil Conservation District briefly, and C. J. Lyons will present Schroeder to the meeting.

Moving to the South Plains, Schroeder will speak to the Lubbock Kiwanis Club on Thursday. George W. McCleskey, president, and Otis A. Green, chairman, Agricultural Committee for the Lubbock Kiwanis Club, will present the program.

On Friday, November 18th, the group will move to Memphis where Schroeder will speak to the members and guests of the Lions Club under the sponsorship of Gene Lindsey, president, and Lynn L. McCowan, program chairman. W. B. Hoosier, County Agent, will briefly discuss the local soil conservation organization in Hall County.

Representatives of Burlington Lines and Fort Worth and Denver Railway who will be in attendance at these meetings are A. K. Hepperly, General Agricultural Agent, Denver, and Macy K. Orman, Agricultural Agent, Fort Worth; W. M. McGray, General Agent, M. G. Monaghan, Assistant General Manager, and Kenneth B. Peckenpaugh, District Passenger Agent, Amarillo; W. C. Kuykendall, General Agent, and H. E. Moyer, Superintendent, Wichita Falls; and Guy C. Victory, Executive Assistant, and W. N. Verner, General Agent, Lubbock.

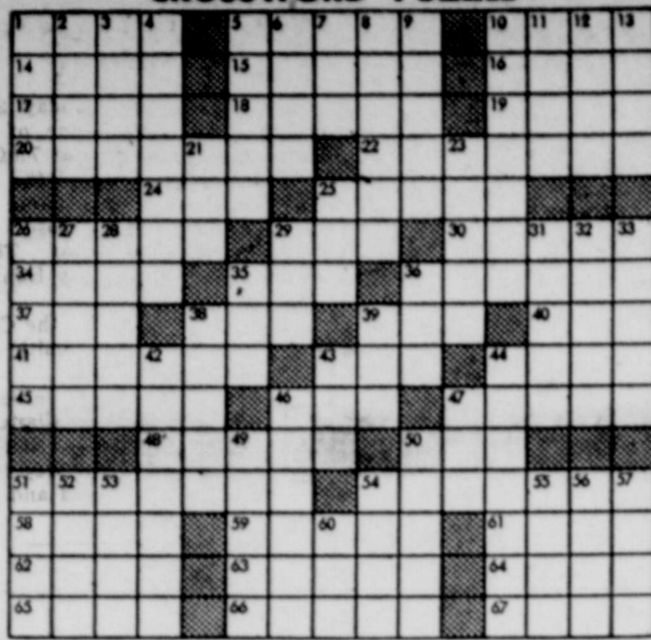

Officers, board members, and supervisors of all local Soil Conservation Districts, County Agents, farmers, ranchers and agricultural leaders are being invited to attend these meetings in each of the metropolitan areas to be visited by Schroeder.

Explaining the purpose of activities of this kind, R. Wright Armstrong, Vice-President, Fort Worth and Denver Railway, Fort Worth, said, "There is no substitute for a healthy agricultural industry throughout the territory served by a railroad. Our purpose is to continue to teach the philosophy of soil conservation and the restoration of soil fertility, believing that every dollar invested in restoring our land to its original fertility is just as good as a dollar in the bank and is worth just as much to the banker, the merchant, and the railroad operator as it is to the farmer."

Visiting Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Helm were Mrs. Alvin Roberson and three children of Littlefield, Mrs. E. W. Smallwood of Matador, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Ray Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Helm and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Dude Helm and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smallwood and children, Judy and Terry, of Liberal, Kan., and Marsha Lynn Helm.

Mrs. Haskell Howell plans to leave Friday for Bryan where she will spend the weekend visiting with her son, Don Paul Howell, who is a student at Allen Military Academy. Don Paul is a senior student this year and is serving as Lieutenant of his ROTC group. Mrs. Howell said the academy will have some extra activities this weekend, including precision drill marching by the ROTC unit.

Agriculture Leader Speaks Mind

Agriculture must be given a place in our economy equal to that of other segments if we are to prevent another depression, J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, warned in a speech at the organization's annual convention in Fort Worth this week. To help in achieving this goal, Hammond advocated the adoption of a soil fertility bank, which he said would alleviate the problem of surpluses and return farming and ranching to a sound basis.

The Farm Bureau president pointed out that this country is in a period of unparalleled prosperity, with industry and labor enjoying their richest blessings in history.

"But," he declared, "there is a notable exception to this story of riches. And that exception is agriculture. While labor and industry have been eating higher and higher on the hog,
the farmer has seen his income sliding further and further downhill."

Nevertheless, Hammond went on, too many people are saying that what happens to the farmer is of no consequence to this nation's economy. But, he stated, history has proven this to be a fallacy.

"All major depressions have been farm-led and farm-fed," Hammond observed. "We must put agriculture on a par with the rest of the economy if we are to avoid another depression."

The Texas farm leader blamed high fixed operating costs and the protective tariff for agriculture's loss of markets.

"If there were no protective tariffs and artificially high labor costs, the American farmer could compete with anybody in the world in selling his produce. But until the day that there is some semblance of sanity in our economy, the American farmer must continue to demand protection in the market place through price supports and other safeguards."

Singling out a law which requires that Commodity Credit Corporation stocks sent abroad be carried in American ships as one of the methods by which farmers are forced to indirectly subsidize other industries, he asked:

"Is there any sensible reason why a self-respecting, self-supporting farmer should be required by law to use his earnings to subsidize non-self-supporting industries, then go, hat in hand, to the government pleading for a handout to replace that which he has been forced to give away?" Hammond remarked that his philosophy is: "Let him who has no means of support do his own begging!"

Source of farmers' troubles, the Farm Bureau head declared, stems from the fact that they can produce more than they can sell at a fair price. He said labor and industry believe in an economy of scarcity while farmers try to operate in an economy of full production.

But if agriculture is to survive, he explained, it will have to operate under a system that limits production to demand.
Best way to achieve this, he said, is employment of the soil fertility bank idea.

Under this system, the percentage of acres that cause surpluses would be taken out of commercial production and the idle acres would be used for soil-building crops or practices.
If this were done, each farmer might have to cut acreage devoted to money crops about 10 per cent.

"Success of the plan would be dependent upon good administration," he stated. "Efficient operation would limit government regimentation to a minimum."

Whether one agrees with the Texas farm leader or not, at least it outlines his thinking on the agricultural problem and how he believes it can best be solved.

If representatives of the various shades of thought on the problem could come together to study all facts of the matter with open minds, perhaps a satisfactory answer to the dilemma could be found and farmers and ranchers could become full partners in the nation's current wave of prosperity.

CITIZENSHIP TESTS

Did you ever stop to think how few Americans could make a passing grade on the Citizenship tests which immigrants into this country must face to become citizens?

They would be few, indeed.
This, of course, is good business in view of the fact that all new citizens should have a working knowledge of our government, a background in our history and a passing acquaintance with our traditions.

On the other hand when the average American-born citizen attends public school classes for a period of 12 years, absorbs information from newspapers, radio and TV, it does seem logical that he should be in a position to sit down, take the tests and come out with flying colors at any given time.

Our experience with new citizens generally indicates that they take more pride, show greater interest and do far less complaining than the average native born American. Many of them have recently immigrated from lands of famine into a land of feast, which may account for some of their enthusiasm. All in all, though, we are inclined to think that perhaps they might have enticed through the actual accomplishment of passing the rigid citizenship test.

A similar citizenship test, if required before a citizen becomes eligible to vote, might serve the same purpose on a nationwide scale. It will never happen, of course, but it might lead to a more general observance of public duty.
Besides, it is something intriguing
upon which to speculate.

MARKETS CHANGING

This past week we had an opportunity to browse through several Midwestern newspapers. Some of the things they had to say about agricultural problems were quite revealing, and we thought that one quotation referring to markets was particularly significant not only for them, but also for our own Southwest as well.

"Population shifts are moving Wisconsin's and other Midwestern states' farm markets to the West Coast" Prof. W. P. Mortenson, University of Wisconsin agricultural economist said last weekend.

He pointed out that traditionally, farm products from the central states went to the East, but now marketing firms have to send their products twice the distance to get them on the Western markets, which are skyrocketing.

The Midwestern states, it should be remembered, produce half of the nation's milk and beef, and two-thirds of its wheat, pork, and eggs. Those producers are looking to the great Far West, where population increases have created lucrative markets for their commodities.

The thing which is significant for us here on the High Plains is that we are between the Midwest and most of its new-found customers in the West. That should, it seems to us, put the farmers in this part of the country at an advantage over the Midwest in serving this market, especially in Southern California, which is undergoing a population
"explosion" at the present time.

Elevator operators tell us that more and more calls are coming from West Coast feeders for our grain sorghums. This is heartening news, especially with the present price outlook for the commodity which we produce the most of.

We feel that the western market is one which we — more than anyone else — ought to be working hard for.

DIG THAT MATH

One report states the scientific manpower shortage in the United States will be a serious problem for many years unless drastic action is taken. With our local schools placing most of their emphasis on agriculture and home economics we do not look for any scientists coming out of Claude

High in the foreseeable future. And we are not in the minority in the least. Over half of the schools in the United States do not have a physics course. One of the major problems seems to be the shortage of science teachers. More good teachers are needed to inspire and help develop the nation's future scientists.

With a shortage of 65,000 engineers alone in this country by 1960 youngsters today would do well to plan a career in that field. But more science and math is needed for a good foundation if such courses are to be followed in college.

Strangely enough, the Russians play up the scientist instead of the sportsman as heroes to their

Memphis OES Entertains With Banquet Honoring Past Matrons And Patrons

Memphis Chapter No. 351, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained the past matrons and past patrons with a banquet on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1, at 6 o'clock. The tables were beautifully decorated with fall colors. Large cornucopias were used to center the tables with colorful fruits, fall leaves and yellow candles. DO YOU LIVE GOD?

A true test of one's love for God and Christ can be declared to prove who loves Christ. "If a man love he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, we will come unto him, make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me." (John 14:23-24) When one loves his father and mother he obey his parents explicitly. The Lord declared, "By fruits ye shall know them." (Matt 7:16) When we Christ we will bear the right kind of fruit, fruit of the spirit, the fruit of the love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, self-control; such there is no law." (Gal. 5:22-23)

LET US TRY THE TEST ON OURSELVES:
If I get drunk do I love Christ? (I Cor. 6:9-10)
If I curse and use God's name in vain do I love the Lord? (Jas. 5:12)
If I lie unto my fellow man do I love God? (Rev. 21:30)
If I refuse to confess Christ before men do I love Him? (Matt. 10:32-33)
If I will not be baptized (Immersed) into Christ, love Him? (Gal. 3:26-27; Rom. 6:3-4)
If I fail to assemble together with God's people, do I love the Lord? (Heb. 10:25)
If I fail to give of my means as I have prospered (because of an assessment) upon the first day of the week, love Christ? (I Cor. 16:1-2)
If I preach or teach any doctrine except that set forth in God's Holy Word, do I love the Lord? (Gal. 1:6-10)
If I do not try (test) the spirits (preachers) to see if they are from God, do I love Christ? (I John 4:1)
If I bid God-speed to a false teaching, do I love Him? (II John 9-11)

The case of the missing housewife

...a roast cooking to perfection in the electric range. Ice cream is being made — in the refrigerator. Coffee is percolating. The children's play things are being washed clean as new.

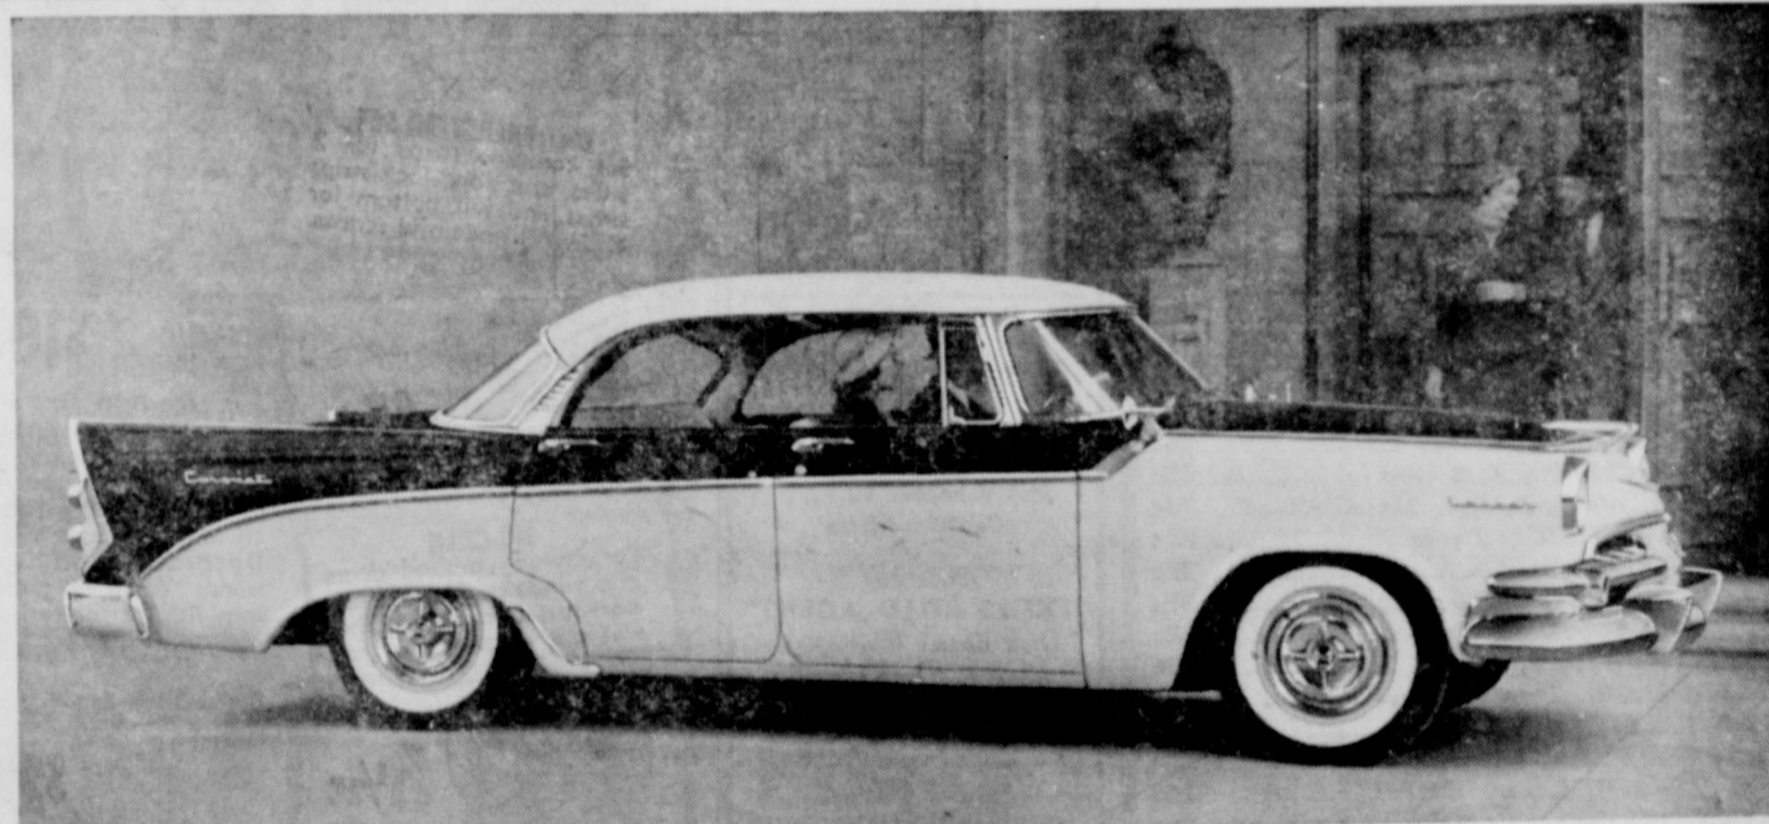

...there's no one in the kitchen!

...the clue solves the case — electricity. It works automatically — Mother doesn't have to stay in her kitchen. Right now, she's attending a P.T.A. meeting. And when she gets home, the dinner will be ready, the laundry done.

...another clue — electric servants work for low wages — only a few cents a day for the average family.

Scouts Open Annual Toy Drive Saturday

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts of Troop 35 will launch their annual toy drive Saturday morning starting at 9 o'clock, Scoutmaster Ted Myers announced Monday.

Cub Scouts from all six dens and Scouts of Troop 35 will work together on the drive this year.

The boys would like for every one with old toys to have them ready by Saturday morning. If possible, they would like to have them boxed up and setting on the front porch of the donors' homes. The youngsters will come along each street, pick up the toys and load them in a pickup or trailer. Cubmaster W. A. "Dub" Leigon has promised to have several pickups available for the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts to use Saturday morning.

Leigon and Myers are asking that toys be ready at that time, as the Scouts want plenty of toys to repair for distribution at Christmas time.

Myers said there are more than 80 Boy and Cub Scouts in both units and they plan to work on the playthings one night each week in order to have them ready by the time Santa Claus arrives.

Stinnett Takes Hotly Contested Tilt from Cyclone

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The powerful Stinnett Rattlers rolled over the Memphis Cyclone here Friday night to the tune of 19 to 6 to keep their conference standing in perfect shape. The Rattlers have nine seniors on their starting lineup, and have been picked to win the conference.

The Stinnett eleven won the toss, and Bobby Townsend took the kickoff to open the game. Mrs. Queen stopped the kickoff runback on the Stinnett 25-yard line. On their first play, Ralph Hicks, left Halfback for the Rattlers, raced 30 yards on a pitch-out play, being overhauled by Dean Sustaire. In the next five attempts to advance the ball, Stinnett racked up three first downs. On their seventh play, Fullback George Bodrey drove over for the score. The ball was rammed through the line for the extra point.

The Cyclones received the kickoff and ran it back to their 30-yard line. The Rattlers started moving again, racking up a first down, then a pass to David Rarden went to the Cyclone 20. Halfback Ralph Hicks charged through center for 18 yards and a touchdown. The attempt for the extra point failed.

In the third quarter, Jenkins in punt formation, ran for a fourth down attempt and made the first down. They continued their downhill movement to the Stinnett 14-yard line. Jimmy Jenkins circled left end for 14 yards and a touchdown. The attempt for the extra point failed.

In the fourth period, the Rattlers scored again when Yates went over from the one-yard line for the counter. The attempt for the extra point failed.

The Cyclone led in statistics, amassing 16 first downs to their opponents' 13, and gained more yards rushing.
