Man Arrested After Liquor Found in Car

Sheriff W. P. Baten arrested L. E. Brooks of Memphis about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon after an inspection of the automobile Brooks was driving disclosed a large quantity of intoxicating liquors. The arrest was made on South Front Street, just south of Noel Street.

Confiscated were 122 pints of wine, three or four cases of beer, eight half-pints of whiskey, and three half-pints of gin, Baten said.

Brooks was arraigned Saturday afternoon before Judge Tracy Davis on a charge of possession of liquor for the purpose of sale in a dry area, according to the officer. The defendant pleaded not guilty and bond was set at $2,000.

E. J. Joke was released from county jail Monday afternoon, after making bail.

New Fire Siren Installed at City Hall Here

A new electrically-operated fire siren which, it is claimed, has a much greater carrying range than the old one was installed Saturday at the City Hall here.

According to Chief of Police Guy Wright, the siren is supposed to be heard as far away as 15 miles on a calm day, and about three miles against a strong wind. During tests since its installation, the device has been heard for a considerable distance, Wright said.

The siren, which is atop a utility pole at the northeast corner of the City Hall, is about 42 feet above the ground. This is some distance higher than the old siren, and this, in itself, is expected to expand the range of the new warning signal.

Farmers Busy Planting Crops In This Area

Fields in this area were a beehive of activity this week as farmers worked long hours to get crops planted or replanted. Some were replanting cotton for the second or third time, because of repeated rains or showers. There were reports that some farmers, south and east of Memphis, and around Estelline, could not plant some of their land even this week, because of heavy rains Friday night.

On the other hand, there were numerous reports that cotton was up to a stand, or was coming up, on many farms.

A large number of farmers have planted, or were in the process of planting, feed, and the remainder will do this, as soon as they finish cotton planting.

Rains Friday night ranged from a sprinkle in the Memphis area to a reported one to two inches or more in the southern and eastern sections of the county. Some more spotted showers fell Tuesday night, but only a trace was registered here, John McMickin, weather observer, said.

Mercury extremes the past week, according to McMickin, were: last Thursday 67-100 degrees; Friday 65-95; Saturday, 70-86; Sunday 66-99; Monday 60-88; Tuesday 66-98; and Wednesday 67-98. Minimum this morning was 68 degrees.

Few Insects Noted in County Cotton So Far

A few thrips in irrigated cotton is about the only insect infestation that has been found in Hall County so far, County Agent W. B. Hooser said Monday. The insects have been restricted to irrigated land, since cotton on dryland farms generally is small or non-existent at this point.

The county agent advised using toxaphene or chlordane whenever insects of any kind appear in appreciable numbers.

Hooser went on to say that surveys had indicated one of the greatest grasshopper infestations in the history of this area. He urges farmers to spray pasture bordering fields now, explaining the pests are easiest to kill when small.

He said toxaphene or chlordane (Continued on Page Twelve)

Citizens Attending Session Express Contrasting Views

City councilmen Tuesday night voted 5 to 1 to reject a proposal to put machinery in motion toward obtaining a federal low-rent housing project here. The action was taken near the close of a meeting of the council and a number of interested citizens at the City Hall.

Rejection of the proposal came one week after representatives of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce presented the matter at the regular monthly council meeting, with a request that the city body investigate the possibility of constructing public housing in Memphis.

Gene Lindsey was the only alderman voting for the housing. He explained his vote by saying that President Eisenhower recently approved a national public housing project, and in view of this, he felt Memphis might as well get its share.

Alderman Pete Shankle refrained from voting. After the meeting, he emphasized the fact that he did not vote on the motion, saying he was neutral, and needed more information before reaching a decision.

Individual Wheat Allotments Mailed

Individual wheat acreage allotments for 1957 were mailed out to county farmers the first part of this week, according to Lynn L. McKown, manager of the Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Memphis.

The allotments amount to a grand total of 14,384 acres on 352 farms, McKown said.

Another 553 acres was reserved to be used in correcting any errors which may have been made in individual calculations, the ASC official said. Corrections will be made by the county committee.

The 1957 allotments are based on 80 percent of the recent four-year history of the county, and the percentage is as high as that of any county in the state, McKown said.

Any farmer wanting a new grower wheat allotment for 1957 has until July 16 to make application for it at the ASC office here.

Three Parked Vehicles Damaged When Struck Here

Three parked vehicles on the north side of the courthouse square here were damaged early Sunday morning when struck by a pickup truck.

Driver of the truck was Ben Mendez, 20 years old, of Newlin, according to Chief of Police Guy Wright. Mendez was arrested by city policeman Ben Spear and was (Continued on Page Twelve)

Mrs. Lala Roberts Killed In Crash

Mrs. Lala Winn Roberts, former resident of the Parnell community was killed instantly Friday morning when the automobile she was driving smashed into the center post of an underpass on Third Avenue at Amarillo. She was 42 years old.

Yarborough To Be Here Wednesday

Judge Ralph Yarborough, candidate for governor, will speak in Memphis Wednesday, June 20, according to information received this morning. He will speak from the court house lawn beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The announcement was made by Chas. Drake, long-time resident of this area, who was contacted by telephone Wednesday evening from Austin. Drake stated that Yarborough is scheduled to speak in Childress at 2 p. m., and in Wellington at 4 p. m. Wednesday. From Wellington he will drive to Memphis, where he will bring his campaign to Hall County voters.

After the speaking, the candidate will spend the night in Memphis, where rooms have been reserved for him.

A man who witnessed the crash told officers that Mrs. Roberts, who was alone in the car, was slumped over just prior to the collision.

Mrs. Roberts, the former Lala Winn, was born at Parnell, Dec. 11, 1913.

She was married to Dr. Paul Roberts, July 15, 1939. The doctor preceded her in death, March 4, 1954.

Mrs. Roberts was living at 561 Philadelphia Street in Amarillo at the time of her death. She was the seventh traffic fatality recorded at Amarillo since the first of the year.

Surviving relatives include: five sisters, Mrs. Leroy Hutcherson of Parnell, Mrs. Fugh Thrasher of Amarillo, Mrs. Tom Weatherly of Fort Worth, Mrs. D. L. Gibson of Dallas, and Mrs. W. M. Tucker of Temple; and a brother, Lotus T. Winn of Parnell.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Parnell Community Church, with Rev. E. H. Costen, pastor of the Estelline Methodist Church, in charge.

Interment was in the family plot in Dreamland Cemetery at Turkey. Spicer Funeral Home directed arrangements.

Soon after the discussion got underway Tuesday night, Bill Boren, one of the Chamber of Commerce group who presented the proposal last week, was asked to answer a request by Glynn Thompson for more information.

Complying, Boren stated that the proposed low-rent housing project would not compete with any owner of standard rent property.

"I would not be for anything which would be detrimental to those persons who get revenue from good houses," he explained. "But the main thing to be considered is sub-standard rental houses in our town."

"I gathered information over in Wellington yesterday, where they have approved a project similar to that proposed for our town by a 5 to 1 vote. I found that they think the project will be good for their town. I'll be glad to pass this information on to anyone."

Raymond Ballew asked if Negroes would be permitted to move into the units. Mayor O. L. Helm replied by saying that Quanah had built 6 or 7 rental units specifically for Negro families.

Ballew then went on, "Since we have so many heavy taxpayers who own empty rent houses, why should we try to build something to compete with theirs?"

In connection with housing for Negroes, W. T. Hightower declared that in his opinion, there is more need for improvement in Morningside than in any other part of town.

Boren pointed out that anyone or any family making more than $39.20 a week could not rent one of the units.

In regard to empty property here, Thompson said he checked city tax records Friday and found that there were over 50 vacant rental units.

Wiley Whitley stated that his rental property even now did not give him a very large return on his investment, and that if federal low-rent housing were built, he would be hurt more.

Alderman L. W. Stanford remarked that there are numerous instances where citizens depend on rents to help make their livings. "I believe that federal housing would hurt these people."

Commenting on the federal housing in Quanah, Mayor Helm said, "Quanah is very well pleased with their housing project and that's one of the determining factors on which Wellington went into it. I think the Quanah units operate near, if not at, capacity."

In contrast, he read a letter from the city secretary at Paducah, which gave a pessimistic picture of the 30-apartment federal project there.

Dick Fowler followed with a comment that a friend of his was in on the Paducah city council had told him the principal trouble with the public housing was that it was too far from town for elderly people to walk the distance.

As to some inferior rent property now found here, Thompson said, "I don't believe there is an owner in town who would not improve such units, if a committee, appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, declares they are sub-standard. They would be glad to improve them, if they knew they could be rented."

Thompson said he believed there is enough Memphis money (Continued on Page Twelve)

Patrol Reports Traffic Deaths Decline in May

Six persons were killed and 50 were injured in rural traffic accidents investigated in May by the 27 highway patrolmen of the Amarillo district, according to Capt. J. W. Blackwell, commanding officer. This represents a decrease of almost half from the 11 deaths in April. Injuries in April totaled 70 persons. May property damage came to an estimated $56,899.00, compared to $59,930 the previous month.

A total of 69 of the May accidents occurred on state and federal highways, 10 on county roads, and nine each on farm-to-market roads and in small towns under 2,500 population. This made a grand total of 97 mishaps.

Leading causes of accidents in both April and May were speeding, driving while drinking, failure to grant right-of-way, and following too closely, in that order.

Traffic arrests in May amounted to 759, with 328 of these for speeding, and 25 for driving while intoxicated.

Patrolmen in the 26 counties of the district gave 1,225 hazardous warnings, served 19 safety responsibility police demand orders, and made three investigations in connection with the restoration of drivers licenses. In performing their duties, they traveled 77,355 miles.

Through May of this year, there have been 33 persons killed in the district, 283 injured, and estimated property damage has been $320,393.00. This compares with figures for the same period last year of 37 killed, 294 injured, and estimated property damage of $323,441.00.

In May, 1955, fatalities came to ten, with injuries amounting to 73. Property damage for the month was estimated at $95,138.00.

Cmdr. and Mrs. Neel C. Barnaby and daughter visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Monzingo, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hickey and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hickey and family. They were on their way from the naval air station at Grand Prairie, where Cmdr. Barnaby had been stationed four years, to a new assignment at Ogden, Utah.

Farmers Advised On Importance of Soil-Building Crops

Farmers in this area are urged by Hall County Soil Conservation District supervisors to consider planting a soil-improving crop of some kind this spring, according to Charlie Cape, SCS work unit conservationist for Hall County.

This is a particularly suitable time for planting such crops, in view of acreage controls, the announcement went on to explain.

Some of the soil building crops suggested by the supervisors include: guar; and cowpeas, such as blackeyes, brown crowders, Chinese Reds, New Era, and Brahams.

It is estimated that a good growth of cowpeas will put approximately 90 pounds of pure nitrogen per acre into soil.

Soil Conservation Service technicians also say that both cowpeas and guar help maintain vitally needed organic matter in the earth. In this connection, it is pointed out that land in this area is becoming deficient in this respect, some to the danger point. The soil builders have other attributes, also, such as aiding earth to absorb and to hold greater quantities of water, and to help prevent blowing and washing.

Guar, in addition to being a soil improver, is a good feed and cash crop, according to the supervisors. In planting, four to six pounds to the acre is advised, using an 8 to 10 hole maize plate. Protein content of guar seed is very high, and numerous farmers use the seed to provide their livestock with this essential mineral.

If further information is desired on the above crops, farmers may obtain it at the SCS office in the courthouse here.

The girls are selected on a basis of character and leadership from students in high school this year.

At the conclusion of the session, the girls are crowned Miss Bluebonnet Girls State. Crawford will be selected to attend the American Legion Auxiliary National Convention, to be held in Washington, D. C., in July.

Pretty Church Service in Lubbock Unites Miss Sledge and Max McCoy

Ford Memorial Chapel in Lubbock was the scene Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Pat Sledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sledge of Lubbock, and Max McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McCoy of Memphis.

The Rev. C. Melvin Patheal, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, read the single ring ceremony at 3:30 p. m. before a nuptial space decorated with white gladioli and palms.

Music for the wedding was provided by Mrs. Lola Walker, organist, and Mrs. Noel Bruce of Amarillo, soloist. Mrs. Bruce sang "My Wonderful One," and "Always."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly-type lace and net over satin. The frock was styled with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline and long-petal pointed sleeves. The ballerina length skirt was fashioned of pleated net over lace. Her finger-tip veil fell from a lace cap edged with iridescent sequins and she carried a single pink peony encircled with split white carnations and ribbon streamers atop a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Sledge attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. John L. Gordon, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. J. L. Lockler were bridesmaids. They wore pastel colored frocks styled similar to that of the bride with net stoles and matching gauntlets and headbands. They carried nosegays of white carnations.

Mrs. Sledge, mother of the bride, was attired in an aqua silk dress with matching hat. Her corsage was of red carnations. Mrs. McCoy, the bridegroom's mother, wore a frock of pink linen complemented with white accessories.

and a corsage of white carnations.

Roy Don Coleman of Memphis served as best man and ushers were Willard M. Sledge, III, brother of the bride, and John L. Gordon, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The attendants' bouquets formed a centerpiece for the table which was covered with white linen. Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Lockler served. Miss Barbara Sledge registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the bride chose a blue linen suit with white accessories and wore the flower from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a senior at Tom S. Lubbock High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Memphis High School and at the present time is employed at Furr's Supermarket in Lubbock.

The newlyweds will make their home at 501 E. Ave. V, Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Noel and Bruce and Keith Dale, Mrs. A. D. Walls, Mrs. Roy Marler, all of Amarillo, Mrs. Irby Pet-sick and Kay of Gatesville, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gordon of Slaton, Darrell McCoy of Melfay, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cheek and Paul Riley of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Derr and two sons of Fort Worth arrived here Saturday for a short visit with Mrs. Derr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Roberts. The Derrs left the boys with their grandparents, while they went on to Colorado for a week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Walker and children, Gail and Bobby, of Cleburne visited Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Greene and Mrs. R. C. Walker last weekend.

Motorists Advised To Include Safety In Vacation Plans

COLLEGE STATION — Take safety with you and enjoy your vacation. Toss caution to the winds and there may never be another vacation trip, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The Council offers a few suggestions for cutting the summer accident toll. Give the car a complete check-up before starting on the trip and watch for signs of trouble along the way.

Be prepared for emergencies. A first aid kit, maps, permits if needed, identification, a flashlight, a tool kit and maybe a few spare parts should be carried along.

Much of the responsibility for a safe trip rests with the driver. Fatigue greatly reduces his efficiency. Plan the trip, urges the Council, to allow for rest stops during the day and a good night's sleep each night.

Know the laws of the states in which you expect to travel for ignorance of the law is only an excuse. Use traffic signs as a guide for safe driving.

Traffic will be a problem during the vacation season in all parts of the country. Don't get in a hurry nor drive faster than conditions justify, warns the experts.

Be adaptable and fit your driving to the peculiarities and conditions that exist in the areas where you drive. Respect the rights of others and remember, if safety rides with you, your family and you can look forward to next year's vacation.

Veterans Urged To Cash WW II Leave Bonds

DALLAS — Thousands of World War II veterans in Texas are holding Armed Forces Leave Bonds that have drawn no interest for five years or longer.

Jesse L. Adams, Jr., state sales director of the U. S. Treasury's Savings Bonds Division, has an idea for these ex-GI's who apparently don't need the money right now.

In the country as a whole, 130,000 veterans hold Leave Bonds worth $26 million. It's all that's left of more than two billion dollars paid to members of the Armed Forces discharged between April, 1943 and October, 1946. The five-year bonds, carrying an interest rate of 2 1/2 per cent a year, were used to reimburse veterans for unused leave.

A special act of Congress in 1947 made the bonds redeemable after September 1 of that year. Some $1.5 billion were cashed in within the next few months; others were held to draw additional interest. However, the last of these matured on October 1, 1951, and have drawn no interest since that date.

"Now the Treasury would like to clear its books of this bond issue," Adams said, "and is calling on all veterans' organizations to help locate the 130,000 bond owners. Then when these bonds are cashed, I can think of no better place to put the money than in a safe, sure, indestructible investment — United States Savings Bonds."

"And if you don't have any Leave Bonds, Savings Bonds are still a good buy, Adams added.

United States Through Foreign Eyes

In order to get a true perspective of one's self, it is always important to find out what others think. Such opinions, in all probability, will include unflattering aspects, but if one is honest with himself, he can blend his opinion of himself with the opinions of others, and have a pretty fair idea of just what kind of person he really is. This practice can apply equally as well to nations.

A few days ago, we received a communication in which a Japanese merchant on a world tour, was quoted on some of the impressions he had gained during his trip. In general, they seemed pretty favorable where this country was concerned, although the visitor from Japan did point out instances where he thought there was room for improvement.

Our readers may differ with some or all of the foreigner's criticisms but we thought they still might find it interesting to see how we and our country looked to an outsider.

One remark which Kazuaki Fujikawa, the visiting tourist, made, clearly indicated his high regard for this nation. "Of the 22 countries we visited," he declared, "America is the most hospitable and the most friendly. Maybe because so many of your soldiers stayed in Japan—and they still remember. Sometimes they greet us in Japanese," he said with a smile.

"The Americans have been very receptive and very friendly," he repeated, "but"—then hesitated before going on, "you see, in primary school, we learn about your rivers, and lakes, and mountains, and cities. From primary school to university, the Japanese have opportunity to learn about American history and industry and many things.

"But in your country, on the contrary, there is not so much effort on your part—Americans don't care so much about Japan."

Changing his trend of thought, he voiced a warning. "The free western nations and Russia are competing strongly now, and throughout Asia this is felt very keenly. Russia is trying to separate Japan and America—just at the time when Japan and America should cooperate.

"We appeal to American leaders, not only for economic aid—but for understanding—to achieve cooperation."

He continued: "In India, I conferred with a very high Indian official, a former Secretary of Industry for Mysore, and he said the Indians are very sympathetic to Japan; they feel very sorry we are such a poor colony of America. The Indian people don't know—they only hear propaganda; and if misunderstanding exists, money spent is in vain. We should make utmost effort for mutual trust."

Fujikawa pointed out the deep sensitiveness of the newly independent nations of Asia, and how Russia takes advantage of this.

"When Russia is planning to take over a country, she sends in technicians. Not real technicians. They are all thoroughly trained politically . . ."

He contrasted the vast difference in United States' and soviet treatment of hard-pressed peoples. "If trouble happens, you Americans send aid. The Russians do not wait for trouble—" He stopped abruptly, but his meaning was crystal clear.

The import of Fujikawa's remarks seems to lend support to the demand that many Americans have been making for a reappraisal of our foreign aid program, in view of its frequent ineffectiveness in coping with the spread of communism.

This might include a striving for a better understanding of those we help, as the visitor suggested. But the recipients of our aid apparently also need to understand us better and to learn that we do not feel we are being unfair, if we expect them to be on our side wherever and whenever freedom is threatened.

WEARY CADDIE

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Eisenhower's Texas Visit
 President Eisenhower had a standing invitation from Baylor University, Waco, to make commencement addresses and receive an honorary degree.

A few weeks ago the Baylor administration and trustees were surprised when the White House notified President W. R. White that the president was ready to accept the administration's offer.

Coming at a time when the Democrats had just closed a state convention, some believe the visit was timed to offset some of the talk about Texas returning to the Democratic fold in 1956.

Despite the unpopularity of Democrat Adlai Stevenson, Eisenhower carried the state only by 100,000 in 1952. It won't take a big return of Democrats to the party to defeat Eisenhower in 1956 in this state.

The drift to Eisenhower could be more permanent than some Texans realize. Many will remember that a small county like Carson was carried by Eisenhower 1,471 to 1,071 in 1952.

Whether Ike can make his one visit carry him to victory in Texas in November remains to be seen.

Texas voters are becoming more independent. They voted for Eisenhower in 1952, but the State Democratic Convention rejected Gov. Allan Shivers as a 1956 leader primarily for his work in helping elect Ike. The voters seem to think it was all right for them to bolt a candidate, but didn't like Shivers doing the same thing.

The first Tuesday night in November, the votes will be counted and it will be seen whether Ike made any hay in Texas with his May visit to Baylor. — Panhandle Herald

Gossip

If halas much energy were spent in working for the betterment of the community and with young people as is spent on rumors and gossiping we would have a community that would spread influence around the world. This is true in all neighborhoods and communities.

There is a psychological quirk that causes us to want to participate in gossiping. Rumors are not so bad as they tend to "want to know" the fact. "Gossip tears down!"

"Gossip" is that malicious half truth that destroys another person's personality and good intentions. It is spread by the "inferior" mind that cannot build except on the ashes of destroyed characters. It is a cancerous sore that eats away the goodness inherent in people. It is the scourge that dashes the lofty hopes and ideals of a people into the mire of disillusion. It is the demented brain that feeds on the gore of life.

Christ admonishes us to preach only the "good news." — Claude News

Farmers Can Organize
 For many generations, it has been a generally accepted fact that the farmers of America would never be organized. The reasoning, folks said, was because they could never fully agree on what they wanted or stay together long enough to put the idea across.

The recent boost in the grain sorghum support price, however, pretty well throws a new light on measure to our new era of farming. The farmer of today faces many problems and, therefore, must be well trained in the use of chemicals, fertilizers and power equipment. He is, of necessity, a far cry from the tenant farmers or past decades.

As a result, it is entirely possible that the farmers of the future—instead of waiting to see what will happen—could easily provide one of the strongest and most powerful forces in the direction of our national government. Greater centralizing of governing power, in fact, indicates that the farmer of the future will actually be forced into this position, whether he likes it or not.—Hereford Brand

Annual Wages on Trial
 Auto and farm machinery workers, having priced themselves into a "bind," with prices higher than the public approves, are now wondering how their "guaranteed annual wage" contracts are going to work out. Public disapproval is slow to build up but it makes itself felt mightily when the time comes. However, the steel people have not seen the point as yet and are planning another round of raises. It is not necessary to argue the rights and wrongs of things of that kind. Common sense would tell one that you can get your prices too high and fall flat on your kisser when the public finally comes to the point it will not go along with you. — Floyd County Hesperian, Floydada

Go forth, young man

... we can't use you here

Is this the word to our young people - able and beloved - when they've finished school and are ready to start making their own living?

COPYRIGHT 1956 D. K. SCOTT

Too often it is, in the smaller communities like ours.

Why don't we have more job opportunities and more business opportunities right here, so that more of our sons and daughters can establish their homes and be happy and prosperous here at home?

It's partly circumstance. Partly the natural limitations of the economy of our area. Partly because we haven't been quite aggressive or enterprising enough to build and grow more.

But it's also partly because many of us have let ourselves get into the habit of spending too much of our money somewhere else.

Every dollar that we spend away from home is a dollar less to circulate among us and to account for 2 or 3 or more dollars of added trade volume as it moves from hand to hand.

Keeping more of this easily available trade volume at home is one way by which we could create and sustain more local opportunities for our young people. And for ourselves.

Insect Control Greatly Increases Cotton Production

COLLEGE STATION — Control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in gains of 310 to 602 pounds of seed cotton an acre in the High Plains area of Texas in 1953. Average gross value of the increased yields was $50.44 an acre, says H. L. Owen, Jr., Associate Entomologist, Texas A&M College.

Two or three applications of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor controlled thrips and cotton fleahoppers effectively on the High Plains when initial treatments were applied soon after cotton had reached the fruiting stage.

Three thrip and fleahopper control tests with spray formulations of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor were conducted. First insecticide applications were made soon after plants began to produce squares. Two applications were used in one test and three applications were used in the other two tests.

Treated cotton set fruit earlier and showed less growth than the plants in untreated plots. The increased number of forms set by plants in treated plots shed fruit excessively when insecticide applications were followed by too early or delayed irrigation, says Owen.

Toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor proved effective in control of thrips and fleahoppers. Although differences were not significant, toxaphene and dieldrin gave somewhat better control than heptachlor at the dosages used. Two applications held fleahopper infestations to low levels in one test. In the other tests, a third application was necessary to control rapidly increasing infestations of fleahoppers.

Control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in economical increases in yields in all three tests. Two applications of the materials produced gains of 310 to 370 pounds of seed cotton per acre, states Owen. Three treatments produced increased yields of 321 to 391 pounds of seed cotton per acre in one test and 565 to 602 pounds per acre in the other. Gross value of gains in production ranged from $36.62 to $71.32 per acre.

Egg Merchandising Methods Surveyed

COLLEGE STATION — Merchandising methods for most food products have undergone radical changes within the past few years, but in the case of eggs, F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says not many new approaches have been used to inform consumers about egg values at the retail level.

Price on a dozen basis has been the big sales appeal in selling eggs for many years. Beanblossom poses these questions: Why not tell the consumer about the food value in a dozen eggs which weigh one and a half pounds? Are consumers entirely familiar with the fact that eggs are one of the basic seven foods needed for maintaining good health? Are consumers familiar with grades and quality factors?

The specialist believes that advertising could supplement educational work by pointing out such facts that quality and size of eggs are not related. Small or medium eggs can be A or AA quality. Quality is based on factors such as condition of yolk and albumen along with the cleanliness, soundness and color of shell. The air cell in the egg may also be described as an indicator in determining egg quality. Eye appeal with respect to display and the eggs themselves may also be an aid in selling more eggs.

The specialist also points out that a lack of confidence in the quality and grade of eggs purchased may in many instances be the reason consumers buy eggs from sources other than retail outlets. Misleading labeling is cited as a major cause for this lack of confidence.

Weight is considered in grading eggs and is a definite factor in determining their value but quality cannot be determined by sight. Interior quality can be measured only by seeing the egg before a candling light and all eggs stamped with the official U. S. Standards for shell eggs have been candled for quality and sorted for size by a qualified egg grader.

Producers, retailers and consumers could all profit, believes Beanblossom, by giving more consideration to the value of the food contained in a pound and a half or two pounds of eggs. They are a top buy.

will be due and payable on or before April 15 of next year, plus 4 per cent interest per annum.

Commissioners voted to pay J. S. Grimes, justice of the peace of Precinct 1, an additional $25 per month, for taking care of justice of the peace duties in Precincts 2 and 3, such as performing inquests and presiding over justice court cases.

Monthly reports of Judge Davis, County Attorney William B. Teague, Mrs. Goodnight, Sheriff W. P. Baten, Jr., Tax Assessor-Collector Olin Cooper, Justice Grimes, and Guy Smith of Turkey, justice of the peace of Precinct 4, were approved.

Judge Davis presided at the session.

Others present were: Edwin Hutcherson of Memphis, commissioner Precinct 1; George Plew of Lakeview, commissioner Precinct 2; Clinton Richburg of Estelline, commissioner Precinct 3; and Leon Lane of Turkey, commissioner of Precinct 4; Mr. Teague, Mr. Baten, and Mrs. Goodnight.

to build additional rental properties, if they can be rented.

Frank Smith cited a two-block area, in which he said there are 11 houses that are sub-standard.

It was explained that a sub-standard rental unit will have to be condemned for every federal housing unit built.

Adrian Odum then declared, "To build 30 new houses and at the same time destroy 30 old houses, when with a little effort they can be made livable, just doesn't make sense to me."

In Homer Tucker's opinion, the proposed low-rent project is something Memphis needs, and which could be used to a good advantage.

Louis Saied stated that he believed a survey should be made here, to find out just what the housing situation is. He also said he felt the matter should be put before the people, to see what they want.

According to R. G. Patrick, private rental property here will be worth less, in competition with public housing.

Mayor Helm presided at the meeting.

Councilmen present, besides Stanford, Lindsey, and Shankle, were E. C. Rice, Grover Moss, E. E. Roberts, and Eddie Foxhall.

that it was difficult, if not impossible to hear the old siren, particularly when high winds were blowing the signal away from them. The new device should eliminate, or at least help, the situation.

The new acquisition is operated by a 10-horsepower electric motor and has seven megaphones, beaming sound in all directions, according to Wright.

Plans are to use the new siren as a storm warning, also, by employing a different signal.

The siren will be set off either at the City Hall or at the telephone exchange here, the police official said.

placed in county jail, on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Mendez was arraigned Monday morning in the court of County Judge Tracy Davis. He pleaded not guilty and was released after making $1,000 bond.

All of the damaged vehicles were parked toward the east end of the center section north of the courthouse, Wright said.

The pickup which Mendez was driving allegedly backed into a 1955 Ford car, belonging to D. C. Abrams of Memphis, then struck a late-model Chevrolet pickup truck, owned by Rev. Herbert Johnson of Memphis, knocking the truck against a Plymouth automobile, whose owner's name had not been learned Thursday morning, the officer said. The three vehicles all were damaged on the right side, he said.

The Chevrolet pickup that Mendez was driving, belonged to his father, Tom Mendez, of Newlin, according to the police chief. A hitch on the back of the vehicle caused the damage, he said. The Mendez truck was not damaged, he continued.

All of the damaged machines were left in operable condition, Wright said.

The accident occurred about 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

collected a hit in the bottom of the twelfth, to send the winning run across the plate.

Mike Cope and Rolf Wooten scored for Parnell, while Jimmy Winters, Tucker, and Don Deaver tallied for Memphis.

In another opening tilt, the Eagles defeated the Chiefs in a close one, 5-3. Perry Wright, Bunky Adeock, Robert Gardner, Jimmy Morris and Gordon Newton made runs for the victors, while Donnie Spicer, Allyn Harrison, and Henry Foster scored for the losers.

Winner of a wild-scoring, one-sided 20-2 victory over the Yankees were the Giants.

protected from blowing. Cape said, but will not dry out as quickly as bare ground, being shaded to some extent. Sometimes this is the difference between getting a good stand of grass and not getting anything, the SCS official went on to explain. Another reason for not disturbing the stubble is that the grass should be planted on a firm seed bed.

The Hall County Soil Conservation District has a grass seed drill that can be used to sow the grass seed, and district supervisors advise farmers interested in planting grass to start preparing a seed bed this year as those mentioned above are doing.

If additional information is wanted, farmers are asked to see technicians at the SCS office in the courthouse.

Interscholastic League Termed Educational Asset

AUSTIN — The University of Texas Interscholastic League is "ahead of the game" in the current U. S. search for exceptional, talented students, League Director R. J. Kidd asserts in an article published in the current Texas School Board Journal.

"Since its inception 15 years ago as a Texas high school debating society, the Interscholastic League has sought and rewarded the best students in a variety of academic and athletic contests," Kidd points out.

"Through its many controlled contests, the league controls the inherent competitive urge, the enthusiasm, the ability and the latent ability of Texas teachers and students. It turns these forces into educational channels and seeks, through competition, to develop the outstanding students who might otherwise go unrecognized," he writes.

"The Interscholastic League, dealing as it does with leaders of the future, is always toward tomorrow. It is a organization dedicated to providing opportunity for gifted students to develop through inter-competition their skills and to the fullest extent," plans.

The story of the Interscholastic League is set forth in a new book by Roy Bedinger, one of the pioneering organizers for more than 30 years of national competitions at the University of Texas Press.
