Seven Voters Cast Absentee Ballots

Seven citizens of Hall County had cast absentee ballots for the first Democratic primary election, according to a report this morning by Mrs. Ruby Goodnight, county clerk.

Absentee voting started on July 8. Due to the fact that date fell on Sunday, no ballots were marked until Monday.

Any eligible voter is allowed to cast an absentee ballot if he or she, for specific reasons, will not be able to vote on the regular first primary date. This year this falls on Saturday, July 28.

In 1954, approximately 100 voters cast absentee ballots prior to the first primary.

July 24 is the last day for voting absentee ballots.

Rattlesnake Visits Town

"When we moved into town, I thought my association with rattlesnakes would be over," said Mrs. Oran Adcock Thursday morning.

"But seems this was just wishful thinking. Because when I stepped out the back door late Wednesday afternoon, there to greet me was a large rattlesnake. The snake had six rattlers and a button."

Mrs. Adcock called her two sons, Butch and Bucky, and they killed the snake with the aid of the neighbors. The Adcocks live at 1120 Robertson.

"Now what's worrying me is where the other rattler is located. Through experience I have learned where there is one rattler, there is always another nearby." Mrs. Adcock concluded.

Vardeman, Wright Attend Fire School

Bill Vardeman, member of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department, and Police Chief Guy Wright are in College Station this week attending a Fireman's School.

The school is sponsored each year by Texas A & M College. Vardeman is studying a course in general fire fighting and Wright is taking a course for Fire Marshall's, which includes the investigation of fires and ends with a mock trial. The officers try to collect enough evidence to convict an arsonist.

Voting places in Hall County for the wheat marketing quota referendum to be held July 20 were designated this week by R. A. Eddleman, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The polling places are as follows:

Lesley—J. O. Adams Grocery.
Lakeview—Paymaster Gin Office.
Plaska—J & G Grocery.
Memphis—County ASC Office.
Estelline—Paymaster Gin Office.
Turkey—City Hall.

Growers eligible to vote in the wheat quota referendum are all those who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest on a farm in 1957. Eddleman said. These farmers have been notified of their wheat allotments. Quotas do not affect those farmers who harvest 15 acres or less of wheat for grain on a farm, Eddleman continued.

If quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the wheat referendum, the quotas will remain in effect for 1957, and price support will be available to farmers who have complied with their farm wheat allotments at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, he said. Those farmers who exceed the larger of the farm allotment or 15 acres will be subject to a penalty of 45 per cent of the parity price for wheat produced in excess.

If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove the quotas, they will not be in effect, and price support will be available to farmers who have complied with their farm wheat allotments at 50 per cent of parity, Eddleman concluded.

Wind and Hail Damages Crops

Hail, wind and rain lashed Hall County again this week with the area southwest of Lesley, and southeast of Estelline receiving the worst beating.

In the western part of the county rain was from one-half to three inches, and was accompanied by hail. This rain was in addition to what was received last week and caused considerable damage to terraces, according to reports received here.

The damage Sunday covered an area of about two miles long and three miles wide, located on and around the farms of Joe Montgomery, Leon Fowler, Paul Montgomery, and Sam Garrison. Inside this area crops were almost completely destroyed. The whole area southwest of Lesley damaged by storms during the last two weeks is about two miles wide and extends 10 miles from east to west. Some wind damage was also reported in this area Tuesday.

Estelline, and the area southeast along Highway 287, also took a beating from old man weather. High winds, and hail did extensive damage in the area directly southeast of Estelline. The Carey Community received heavy rains in addition to hail and wind. John McMickin reported that 21 telegraph poles were blown down near Carey. The winds also damaged several roofs in Estelline.

The only rain recorded in Memphis by John McMickin was .47 of an inch, which fell on July 5. Temperatures for the past week were as follows: Friday 68-101, Saturday 72-107, Sunday 72-101, Monday 69-93, Tuesday 69-89, Wednesday 69-103, and the low this morning was 68 degrees.

Man Fined For DWI After Wreck On North 10th

July 4th weekend was quiet as far as accidents were concerned with only one wreck being investigated by local officers.

This wreck involved Cleo Austin, negro, 32, and occurred on Highway 287 at the stop light on North 10th Street Thursday night. A gasoline truck was stopped for the light and the car Austin was driving struck the back of the truck, officers said. Damage to the car was extensive.

Austin later pled guilty to a charge of driving an automobile upon a public road and street in Memphis, Hall County, Texas while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

He was fined $100.00 and court costs of $27.30 in the County Court before Judge Tracy Davis. Austin was still in jail Wednesday pending payment of the fine.

Hundreds Participate In Annual Clean-Up Drive

Dozens of trash trucks swarmed over the city Wednesday afternoon climaxing several days of a concerted drive to clean up Memphis. Manned by civic-minded citizens, they hauled hundreds of loads to the dump grounds, and mowed weeds on vacant lots.

At noon Wednesday most business firms closed their doors to allow owners and employees to help in the clean-up drive. Workers gathered at the City Hall at 1 p. m. and were assigned different sections of the city.

Women's organizations furnished ice cold lemonade, and ice water was available to the workers. Hundreds of sandwiches were made and delivered to the headquarters by several women.

Heading the steering committee this year was Thomas Clayton. Assisting him were Ben Parks, Don Carmen, Dwight Kinard, Elmort Branigan, Joe Williams, H. J. Howell, Hubert Dennis, Melvin Blum and Cliff Farmer. These men represented the Memphis Junior Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Lions Club, American Legion and the chamber of commerce. Commissioner Edwin Hutchinson moved his equipment and crew into the city for the afternoon, and city employees and trucks were used.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kestrop

"He smashed my rod!" "He broke my line!" How often have you heard fishermen utter this with a groan. The fact is, a fish has never broken a rod yet. A fish can't break a rod. Nor can he break a line unless it's all run off the spool. It's the two-legged critter at the other end who does it.

Jason Lucas, angling editor of Sports Afield magazine proves this by an elementary law of physics: action and reaction are always equal. Therefore, a fish can't put one ounce more strain on his end than you put on yours; so if you keep the pressure below the breaking strain of rod and line, it's completely impossible for either to break.

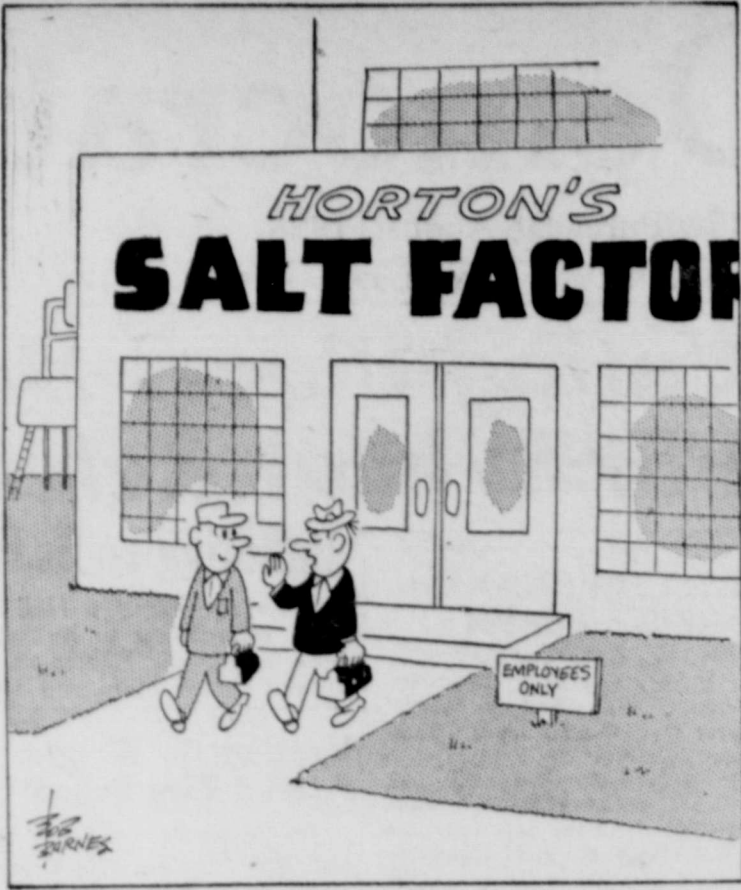

Probably 90 per cent of the rods broken in playing fish are smashed when the fish is close to the boat, or right up to an angler who is wading. The rod is straight up, or even pointing somewhat back. The fish pulls down parallel to the butt. So the tip is doubled back on itself and broken.

A swift surge down and under calls for quick wits and action. If an untired fish comes up to your boat, don't try to land him. Give him practically slack line, and hope he gets away from there soon. And be ready for that sudden surge under; sometimes it will be so fast that it's best to swivel your wrist around quickly, bringing the rod tip straight down in the water. When he's out there you have the advantage, and you can pass your line around under one end of the boat and bring the rod up again.

Remember in playing a very large fish never let him rest a moment if you can help it. If you do, you may be stuck there a long, long time.

Some fish, especially big musky, pike and Atlantic salmon, have a trick of stopping to sulk on the bottom. Don't let him. Try tapping on the rod, or plucking the taut line like a banjo string; try slackening and tightening in a series of very fast jerks. Tap the bottom of the boat hard; the vibrations may stir him up.

When you see a big fish heading into brush and you fear your line isn't strong enough to stop him, use the last desperate resort—give him the butt. This means the exact opposite of what some think it does; it means pointing the tip straight at him, giving him the butt to pull against. Jam your thumb hard against the spool of a casting reel, or stop your fly or spinning reel with a finger. Try to snub him short; that's all there is to "giving the fish the butt."

State Agency Eyes Chigger Situation

Whether you call them chiggers or harvest mites, they are just plain Eutrombidid mites, and you'll meet them this summer. Forewarned is forearmed.

The State Health Department, entomologists, has more than a share of the parasites, and with which anyone who has endured ceaseless spasms of misery from red bug bites will agree.

The chiggers — have an affinity for low, damp, covered with vegetation, grass lawns harbor them for some unexplainable reason they are not usually found on grass.

For the record, it's the chiggers which do the damage, at themselves with their mouthparts and sucking blood until they become engorged and they become itchy.

The severe itching is caused by an anti-coagulant which they inject into their host. The adult chiggers — which are red and velvety — are harmless to man, their bite is annoying. The entomologists say they do not spread disease entity in this manner, but their bites often cause secondary infections in the form of sores and boils.

Some people have an apparent immunity to chigger attacks, but the vast majority are fair game from about May until cold weather reduces the chigger ranks. Favorite spots to attach themselves for blood meals seems to be the hands, feet, and the stomach around the belt line.

They attack lizards, snakes, birds, and rodents with the same vigor and resourcefulness they display in attacking man. No distinction is drawn between humans and lesser animal species, which is hardly complimentary to us Homo sapiens.

Light applications of sulphur dust on lawns and low branches of shrubs have been used for years to successfully control chiggers. Nowadays, the newer organic insecticides such as chlordane and lindane will give better results. Just follow the directions on the label.

A word of caution: be sure to avoid unnecessary exposure to the insecticide. If you spill the concentrated material on your skin, wash it off immediately. And be sure to keep children and pets out of the yard until the spray dries.

If your favorite golf course or play ground has not been treated against chiggers, rub your legs and arms with a good commercial mosquito repellent. It will keep the chiggers at a distance.

ARAB PRISONERS . . . French troops guard 120 Arabs held for further questioning after raids in Maison Carre, suburb of Algiers, where hostile tribesmen are a continual problem.

To learn where chiggers are harboring, stand a piece of black cardboard on end where you suspect their presence. If after a few moments you see tiny yellowish or pinkish mites accumulating on the upper edge, it's time to check your supply of insecticide.

Social Security News

By JOHN R. SANDERSON

We who handle claims for social security benefits sometimes find cases where real hardship results because people who believe they are entitled to old-age and survivors insurance benefits are not able to prove their entitlement.

If you were to write the social security law and regulations, I believe you would require that certain conditions of entitlement be met before benefits would be paid. Many employed or self-employed people pay into the social security insurance fund and regulations must be observed to protect the fund from those who would not rightfully be entitled to benefits.

If it is a widow claiming benefits, it must be established that she is actually the widow. A marriage certificate is the logical proof to be expected. A birth certificate of a child will show his age and prove that he is a child of the person on whose social security record a claim for benefits is being filed. Since the law requires anyone claiming retirement benefits to have reached age 65, some evidence is needed to show that the person is actually that old.

While the social security office does have a responsibility of protecting the old-age and survivors insurance system against unjustified claims, the purpose is not to try to keep those rightfully entitled from getting their benefits. Our advice to the families of those working persons whose tax contributions go towards making up the social security trust fund is this: Obtain proofs that may be needed before they are needed. Find out if your marriage is actually on record and see if the births of your children are recorded. Get some evidence of your age. Be armed with this information when the time comes to file a claim for benefit payments under the old-age and survivors insurance program.

"INVISIBLE" PLATINUM WIRE
Crosshairs used in microscopes and telescopes are often made of platinum wire with a diameter as small as four one-hundred thousandths of an inch. Platinum is used for this wire, which is so fine that it is invisible to the naked eye, because it will withstand the drastic working operation to make it so fine. In its fabrication, a larger platinum wire, surrounded by a heavy silver jacket, is drawn to a small over-all diameter. The silver is then dissolved away, leaving the minute platinum wire core.

Tenderness in Meat May Be Inherited Studies at Texas A & M College Indicate

There is some evidence from research with rabbits and in studies of sheep and beef cattle that tenderness in meat is an inherited quality, according to R. W. Snyder, Texas A&M extension meats specialist.

To produce more lean meat of good quality and tenderness, we need a better understanding of what makes tenderness and desirable flavor, says Snyder.

Enough research has been done to show that there is no direct relation between tenderness in the meat and outside fat. But tenderness and flavor may be influenced by the particles of fat within the meat cells. It is also possible that there may be a relationship between tenderness and the size and elasticity of different muscle fibers.

Once the chemical nature of tenderness and good flavor are clearly understood, it may become possible to add these qualities to any meat.

JUMPING BASS AFFORDS CLUE

AUSTIN — High flying antics of two bass in the dead of the night prompted Kenneth Jurgens, Aquatic Biologist for the Game and Fish Commission, to suggest the black beauties may be biting better between dusk and dawn.

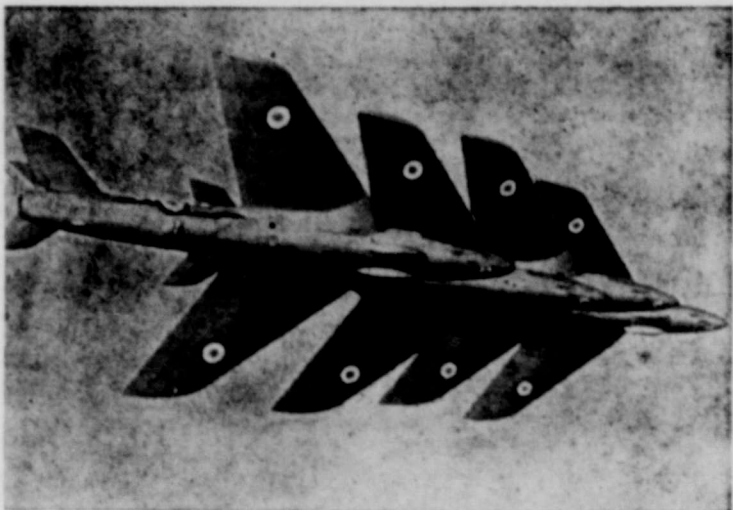

He reported to the Chief Aquatic Biologist that two men fishing in Inks Lake of the Highland Lakes chain had one bass jump into their boat while another simultaneously lunged against the side of their boat.

"This seems to be more than just another fish story," said Jurgens, who failed to find and hook or net marks on the black that landed in the boat. "Most likely these bass were madly chasing something on the surface when the incident happened."

The bass that startled the two men (who were running a trotline) by vaulting over the boat sides weighed four and three quarters pounds.

Farm Income Falls From Last Year

Texas farmers have watched their total cash income plunge 13 per cent from last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Farm marketings for the first five months of 1956 brought $483,638,000, as compared with $555,981,000 for January-May of 1955.

Only 7 of the major 17 commodities reported produced more income this January-May than last: peanuts up 37 per cent; corn 19 per cent; poultry 16 per cent; milk and milk products 12 per cent; fruit and vegetables 7 per cent; and sheep and lambs 7 per cent.

Cash income was lower from hogs, down 3 per cent; wool 6 per cent; calves 13 per cent; eggs 14 per cent; cattle 21 per cent; cotton 23 per cent; mohair 29 per cent; oats 44 per cent; wheat 70 per cent; and flaxseed 83 per cent. The two major Texas farm products, cattle and cotton, brought over $60 million less total cash income during January-May 1956 than in the same months of 1955.

livestock and related products gained one per cent in the May 1955-May 1956 comparison.

Only one farm commodity declined in price from April to May — food grains, up one per cent. Of the other ten commodities listed, fruit, truck crops and wool had changes of less than one half of one per cent. Gains were made by cotton, up one per cent; meat animals, one per cent; poultry and eggs, one per cent; feed grain and hay 2 per cent; oil-bearing crops 2 per cent; dairy products 3 per cent; and potatoes and sweet potatoes, 6 per cent.

May carload shipments of livestock were 10 per cent below April shipments and 11 per cent below May 1955 shipments. In the April-May comparison, hogs and sheep registered gains of 20 and 92 per cent respectively. But the decreases in calves, down 8 per cent, and cattle, down 21 per cent, brought the overall change down to minus 10 per cent. Carload shipments of fruit and vegetables on the other hand, were 15 per cent higher than they were in January-May than they did in the comparable period last year. Shipments of fruit increased 10 per cent and shipments of vegetables increased 11 per cent.

Many and varied are the stories Carnis has related to us since returning home from Japan . . . one of the humorous ones concerns a general's wife and a captain's wife. Had the president of the United States been boarding our ship, I doubt that he would have had a more glamorous send-off than did this general and his wife, Carnis said. They came dashing up to the ship in a staff car and boarded the ship amid official salutes and a profusion of beautiful flowers. Several days out to sea, the Captain's wife came rushing into the washroom, and said to me, "Oh dear, I've just committed a terrible error . . . one of mistaken identity." She went on to say that morning she was down in the laundry room when another woman came in to do her laundry . . . all the washers were taken so the woman had to wait . . . Seeing the woman later in the lounge she thought she would be nice and inquire about her laundry so she said, "Did you ever get a washer?" The woman looked at her with a surprised and dignified look and said "Washer?" About that time, the Captain's wife said, I looked to her left and there sat the General . . . then I realized I was talking not to the woman I had met that morning but to the General's wife!

Although we seldom take a trip ourselves, through our work our summer is one continuous vacation—by our friends returning home and sharing their vacation experiences with us. This week we got pleasure out of hearing Gus Ferguson give an account of his 10-day vacation in his old home town, Stamford . . . He said, you know my wife is 83 years old, but we went out to the rodeo grounds about 9 o'clock the 4th of July and stayed the entire day, and we attended all

This is the city where Billie Jean Stroeble's father and his family lived for many years. Reba and Billie Jean still maintain their summer home not far from this city and one of the houses belonging now to the Opera company was formerly owned by Reba. Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

AUSTIN — Income and expense reports of candidates show Daniel, Aikin and Wilson leading in both receipts and expenditures, in their respective fields.

U. S. Sen. Price Daniel was far out in front in financial support. He listed contributions totaling $112,849.

Other gubernatorial contenders' kitties stacked up thusly: Reuben Senterfitt, $31,772; Ralph Yarborough $23,865; W. Lee O'Daniel $1,770.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. led in the Lt. Governor's race with $19,657 in contributions, as compared with $8,125 for Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and $6,300 for John Lee Smith.

Will Wilson was far ahead of the pack in the attorney general's race, reporting financial support totaling $21,021.

On the expenditure side of the ledger the leaders held the same positions. In the Governor's race, Daniel spent $82,474; Senterfitt $32,081; Yarborough $25,826; and O'Daniel $20,589.

Among the candidates for Lt. Governor, Aikin reported expenses of $12,244.82; Ramsey $7,003; and Smith $8,583.05.

Wilson again outdistanced his competitors in the campaign for attorney general with a total expenditure of $10,962.

Shots Cut Polio
State Health Department officials believe Salk shots enabled Texans to avert a bad polio year.

Pre-season incidence of polio, they point out, was unusually high this year — 224 cases as compared to 167 in 1955. But as the season progressed, immunization was stepped up. Since April 28 there have been only 269 cases compared to 375 in the same period last year.

VISIT ROUNDUP . . . Girl Scouts from England, North Ireland, Denmark, Scotland and Norway arrive for National Senior Roundup at Milford, Mich., attended by 5,000 teen-agers from all over world.

"This would have been a major polio year," said one official. "Salk vaccine apparently is the answer to why it isn't."

Farm Income Off 13 Per Cent
Texas farm income thus far in 1956 has slid 13 per cent from last year.

Inadequate moisture was the major cause.

Prices were off only three per cent. Therefore, most of the drop came from smaller marketings. State officials took note of the farmers' worsening plight. Gov. Allan Shivers announced the U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved extension of the emergency ency drouth feed program for 64 counties.

A request for direct payments to enable drouth-hit farmers to purchase hay on the open market was turned over to the state defense and disaster relief office. It came from the Texas Farm Bureau president who said the present federal program is inadequate.

John White, state agriculture commissioner, said the state's rural economy, in many areas, is in the final stages of collapse. Ghost towns are in the making in the heart of some of our richest agricultural lands, he said.

Last week's widely scattered rain brought only temporary relief to some Southwest Texas areas, reported the Agricultural Extension Service. In most sections, said the service, drouth is spreading. Result: feed crops are being lost and livestock sold off in large numbers.

Creek Damming Complaints
Continued complaints of creek damming were reported by the State Water Board last week as evidence of Texas' mounting water troubles.

One of the most critical areas now is at Llano, said the board. Irrigators were asked to limit their withdrawals from the nearly dry Llano River.

Communities along the river have priority, said the board.

Some, such as Junction and Llano, have said they have only a 30 to 60-day supply.

Other areas from which complaints of damming were sent to the board included Wolf Creek and Groesbeck Creek on the Red River, Blanco River in Blanco County, Caney Creek near Bay City, and Elm Creek in Milam County.

Meanwhile, the Water Board had another problem. After a 12-day recess, hearings were to resume Tuesday in the Canyon Dam controversy. San Antonio's request for water from the proposed dam is vigorously opposed by nearby rural communities.

Diplomas Come Harder
If the State Board of Education adopts its study-committee's proposals, future diplomas will come a little harder for Texas high school students.

Suggestions included (1) two years, instead of one, of laboratory science, (2) a half unit more of government or history, (3) making physical education and health non-credit courses and (4) limiting athletic practice during school hours.

Bus Segregation Still Law
Texas citizens still have the right to file criminal complaints against anyone violating bus segregation laws.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has reiterated his official opinion that a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision did not invalidate Texas law in this area.

"Any citizen may file a complaint against any bus driver or other person failing to comply with these laws," said Shepperd. His statement came in response to a query from Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas. There, as in several other Texas cities, enforcement efforts have been virtually abandoned since the high court ruling.

Short Snorts
A warning to future holiday motorists came from the Department of Public Safety after Texas led the nation in July 4 fatalities. Col. Homer Garrison said heavy traffic and fast driving caused Texas highway deaths to soar to 15, more than double the predicted 6. . . Marketing of the 1956 Texas cotton crop could be delayed by a strike-caused shortage of steel bands used in baling. Texas stocks are critically low, according to the State Agriculture Department. . . Texas' August draft call is for 639 men, compared to 641 in July, says State Selective Service headquarters. Also in August draft boards will be called on for about 1,134 men to take physical and mental ex-

Conservation Story To Highlight 1956 Fair Ag Show

Many questions about the miracle of the modern farmer will be answered at the State Fair of Texas this fall. The full story of this miracle—how soil and water conservation farming systems are spurring Texas soils into producing a third more of all crops—will be presented in the huge Agricultural Show at the Fair, Oct. 6-21, at Dallas.

Featuring growing plants and live animals in exhibits staffed by specialists, the 1956 Agricultural Show will stress soil, water, plant and wildlife conservation.

Major divisions of the show will include an exhibit of 30 of the state's most important native grasses, an information center on how the state's 172 soil conservation districts function, miniature farms depicting the exploitation and misuse of cropland in the past and illustrating how correct conservation practices are bringing the land back into balance with the forces of nature, a model of a small watershed under proper soil and water conservation management and an exhibit of live deer, quail and fish to illustrate how wildlife fits into the conservation program.

Cooperating with the State Fair in producing the show are Texas A & M College System, Texas State Soil Conservation Board, Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home Administration, Agricultural Stabilization Committee and Texas Game and Fish Commission.

aminations for future draft quotas. . . State Capitol Columnist Raymond Brooks has received some much deserved recognition. The political writer for the Austin American won the State Bar's $250 award, given annually to the journalist contributing the most to the administration of justice. Presentation was made by Homa Hill, Fort Worth attorney and one-time newspaperboy at Sour Lake.

FAITH AND WORKS

There are many places in the scriptures that teach we must obey the Lord's commands. This means that we must have a faith that is strong enough to move obedience. James tells us that, "faith without works dead." (Jas. 2:26)

In saying this James did not mean to say that we expect salvation by good works that he does on his Salvation is the "free gift of God" (Rom. 6:23) a gift presented unto man, with man's only stipulation of acceptance (Eph. 2:8). This faith must be an "obedient faith" (Rom. 1:5). The word "work" is used in two different senses in the New Testament. In some places it is used to mean the works of God, and in others the works of man. Salvation is often attributed to the works of never to the works of man. The works of God are ordained by GOD FOR MAN TO DO, NOT WHICH GOD HIMSELF DOES. The works of man those devised by man.

Paul takes great pains to teach that one is not saved by his own works, or by the works of the (Rom. 10:3; Phil. 3:7-9; Gal. 5:4). Paul, like James, teaches that one must have a strong, obedient faith in Christ be pleasing unto Him. As you are thinking about teaching on obedience, study these scriptures, Matt. Heb. 5:9; II Thess. 1:7-9; Matt. 28:18-20; Mk. 16: Lu. 24:46ff. After studying these passages, why not mine to obey God in all things?

August Draft Call Set at 639 Men

AUSTIN—The August draft call for Texas asks for 639 men, compared to 641 for July...

Committees —

This is the state's share of a national call for 13,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, Colonel Schwartz announced an August call on approximately half the state's draft boards for 1,134 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations for future calls.

He said that the board not receiving a quota for these examinations in August already had been called to furnish men for examination in July.

Local board calls for August induction and pre-induction examination were mailed from state Selective Service headquarters on July 3.

Colonel Schwartz said he expected the August call to be filled with volunteers and men without children. He said delinquents are liable first, but the boards do not have many delinquent men.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis and son Dan of Amarillo visited in the Tracy Davis home over the weekend. They also visited in Turkey.

TCU Receives Ford Grant of $430,000.00

Checks totaling $430,000, representing half of the grant from the Ford Foundation, were received recently by Texas Christian University...

According to word from the Foundation officials, the second half will be transmitted on July 1, 1957.

One check for $275,000 covered the first half of the endowment grant. President Sadler said. The eventual total amount of $550,000 must be invested for ten years and the income used to raise teachers' salaries.

A second check for $155,000 represented half of the "achievement" bonus paid to certain schools for their previous efforts to increase teaching salaries.

This money may be used for any urgent need of the university, according to the Foundation plan.

"The Ford Foundation's action is one of the most significant in the history of higher education in our country," President Sadler said. "It underlines America's need for the independent, church-related university and the growing concern of business and industrial circles of the area of higher education.

"We are indeed grateful and sincerely hope this excellent contribution will stimulate other individuals and organizations to cooperate in the important work we are trying to do."

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

How to Change or Revoke a Will
Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used and the statutes were not followed.

Take the case of Mr. S. Some time ago he went into his lawyer's office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him about a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed, changes cannot be made legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, an entirely new will must be written and properly executed or an addition by way of codicil should be executed.

But suppose you want to revoke your will entirely. Here again, the surest and most effective method is to execute a new will or codicil.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted to a certain extent.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given certain ones, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors, may cause a person to want

Most Back Aches Called Unnecessary

Minneapolis—Does your back ache? Man, or woman, you are not alone, according to an announcement of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Orthopedic physicians report that close to 50 per cent of their cases consist of the enormous assortment of backaches to which humanity is subject.

Most back troubles, even the to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one. (This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

disabling ones, come from things people do to themselves; only a minority are the result of outside causes, says the insurance company's bulletin.

By far the number one cause of back trouble is posture, warn the insurance doctors - faulty posture while standing, sitting, working, lifting, driving. In fact, if good posture habits were drilled into school children it would save an enormous amount of misery and disability in later life, for most back troubles occur in men and women over 40.

Posture is so much more important than most people realize because the human spine is a pretty weak piece of engineering, the report says. It is a makeshift adaptation forced by that odd human habit of going around on two feet instead of on all fours. To hold the trunk upright the spine has to form an S-curve, which even a freshman engineering student will tell you is a pretty weak set-up. Posture which exaggerates that "S" curve invite strain and pain. So to avoid future miseries, watch yourself:

Stand with your chest lifted and your stomach in - it reduces that vulnerable swayback.

Sit the same way, your lower back against the chair back.

Don't sleep on your tummy - it exaggerates the swayback ach. Sleep on your side, with knees bent, or on your back, with a small pillow under the knees. Over-soft or sagging beds are enemies of the spine; orthopedists recommend a good firm mattress laid on a board or on a solid box spring as wise insurance for a healthy back.

Always do your lifting with your knees - keep the back as upright as possible.

Check your automobile seat, say the doctors. If it tends to "jackknife" you, it's bad for the future of your back. It's bad, too, if it's so low you have to stretch to see the road properly, or if you have to stretch your legs out straight to operate the pedals. The salesman who drives constantly often becomes a back patient; the doctor sometimes recommends that a body shop reconstruct the driver's seat, before he can hope to benefit the case.

A major contributor to the back troubles of middle age and later is degeneration of the muscle

Insect Control Will Increase Livestock Profits

COLLEGE STATION — Meat and milk production can be cut by insect pests which attack livestock during this time of the year, says C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist. The worst insect offenders are hornflies, spino-sea ticks, and stable flies. Unless controlled, they will rob Texas meat and milk producers of several million dollars, warns Garner.

These pests can be controlled by pesticides applied as smears, dips or sprays. But, points out the entomologist, chemicals alone are not enough. Breeding centers, such as manure piles, strawstack bottoms and the like should be eliminated. All water outlets and pools of accumulated water should be drained and low places in the lots filled with soil.

Garner says DDT should not be used for lice, tick or fly control on cows producing milk for human consumption. Neither this material be used for spraying the inside of dairy barns and buildings. He advises using only fibers, the muscle envelopes (fascia), the joints and the cartilages due to sedentary habits and the aging process. This can be postponed by proper and regular exercise.

If your own back is killing you by the time you've read this far, cheer up. In the next million years or so the human spine may evolve adequate structural strength for the upright position. Or it may simply jellyfy from disuse in a pushbutton world. In either case, there will then be very little backache.

County Farmers Obtain Loans Totalling $648,670 From FHA Last Year

Hall County obtains loans totaling $648,670 from the Farmers Home Administration during the year ending June 30, Claude Moore, the county supervisor said.

Moore said the county's share of the year's total of $603,000 in advanced credit for feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, and other operating items needed to operate an efficient operation on a family-type farm. It also includes funds for soil and water conservation purposes, and to meet emergency needs, he continued.

The local Farmers Home Administration committee must approve each loan application before it is advanced. The committee determines all loan applications and certifies to the Federal Government that the loans are to be used for the purposes for which they were made, Moore continued.

Moore said that the county is expected to receive its share of the loans as soon as they are in a position to do so. Moore concluded.

Strange Marine Note Says 'See Texas First'

ROCKPORT — The modern trend — see Texas first — was followed by a strange marine message which has proved to be a ship's "position report" that drifted 4,415 miles in eighteen and one half months.

The odd specimen, retrieved a month ago by Bob Kemp, of the Rockport Game and Fish Commission marine staff, has been identified by the U. S. Navy Hydrographic Office in Washington as coming from the S. S. Cabo De Buena Esperanza while on a voyage from Santos in Brazil to Santa Cruz de Tenerife, off the west Coast of Africa.

Thus the message, which Kemp picked up on Padre Island in the Gulf of Mexico while seeking marine specimens, followed roughly a westerly course. The "bottle paper" averaged 7.87 miles drift daily. It said nothing about how they were bitin'.

New Variety Cotton, Wheat Released By Texas Ag Experiment Station

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has announced that planting seed for Blightmaster, a disease-tolerant, stormproof cotton and Crockett, a new high-test weight, early maturing, good quality red winter wheat for Texas, will be available in 1957.

Available from the Agricultural Information Office are publications, L-292, Blightmaster and L-288, Crockett which describe these new and improved crop varieties for Texas.

Tests indicate that Blightmaster will yield as much under blight-free conditions as other stormproof varieties now grown in Texas, and greater yields may be expected under heavy blight conditions. Staple length is 15/16 to one inch. It is adapted to strip-harvesting; is medium in maturity; semi-spreading in growth habit and is recommended for areas of the state where a stormproof variety is desired.

The new hard red winter wheat for Texas has good disease resistance, early maturity, high yields, high test weight and high milling qualities to its credit. Crockett wheat is recommended for the Panhandle and South Plains wheat areas and also for the Rolling Plains and north-central Texas wheat areas. Individuals interested in producing certified seed of Crockett during the 1956-57 crop year may obtain foundation seed from the Foundation Seed Section, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station.

Farmers Entitled To Tax Refund On Gasoline Used

Farmers are entitled to claim a refund of the Federal tax on all gasoline bought and used for farming during the 6-month period January 1 through June 30, 1956, C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist reminds Texas producers.

Any owner, tenant, or farm operator who buys gasoline for use on a farm may file a claim, says Bates. A farmer may also request a refund of the tax on any gasoline used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting a crop.

Under the law enacted April 2, 1956, the amount claimable this year is 2 cents on each gallon of gasoline purchased and used on a farm for farming purposes during the first 6 months of 1956. In future years claims will be filed for a full 12-month period from July 1 through June 30.

Claims must be filed on Internal Revenue Service Form 2240 which may be obtained from county agents or District Directors of Internal Revenue. Date for filing for this year's refund is after June 30, but not later than October, 1956. The law does not permit payment of claims filed late.

Refund claims must not be made for gasoline used off the farm, according to the specialist, or for gasoline used for other than actual farming purposes, as described in Form 2240. This applies to gasoline used on the highway, for personal use such as mowing the lawn, or for processing, packaging, freezing, or canning operations. Sufficient records should be kept to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the refund claim.

Cotton's Future

Indications point to more interest in the competition which faces the cotton farmer and the processors of cotton by-products. More attention is being paid to the full meaning of synthetic fibers as they compete on the domestic market against cotton goods. Men and women alike are beginning to recognize that cotton is the world's natural fiber for clothing, and are turning again to this age-old product when they do their shopping.

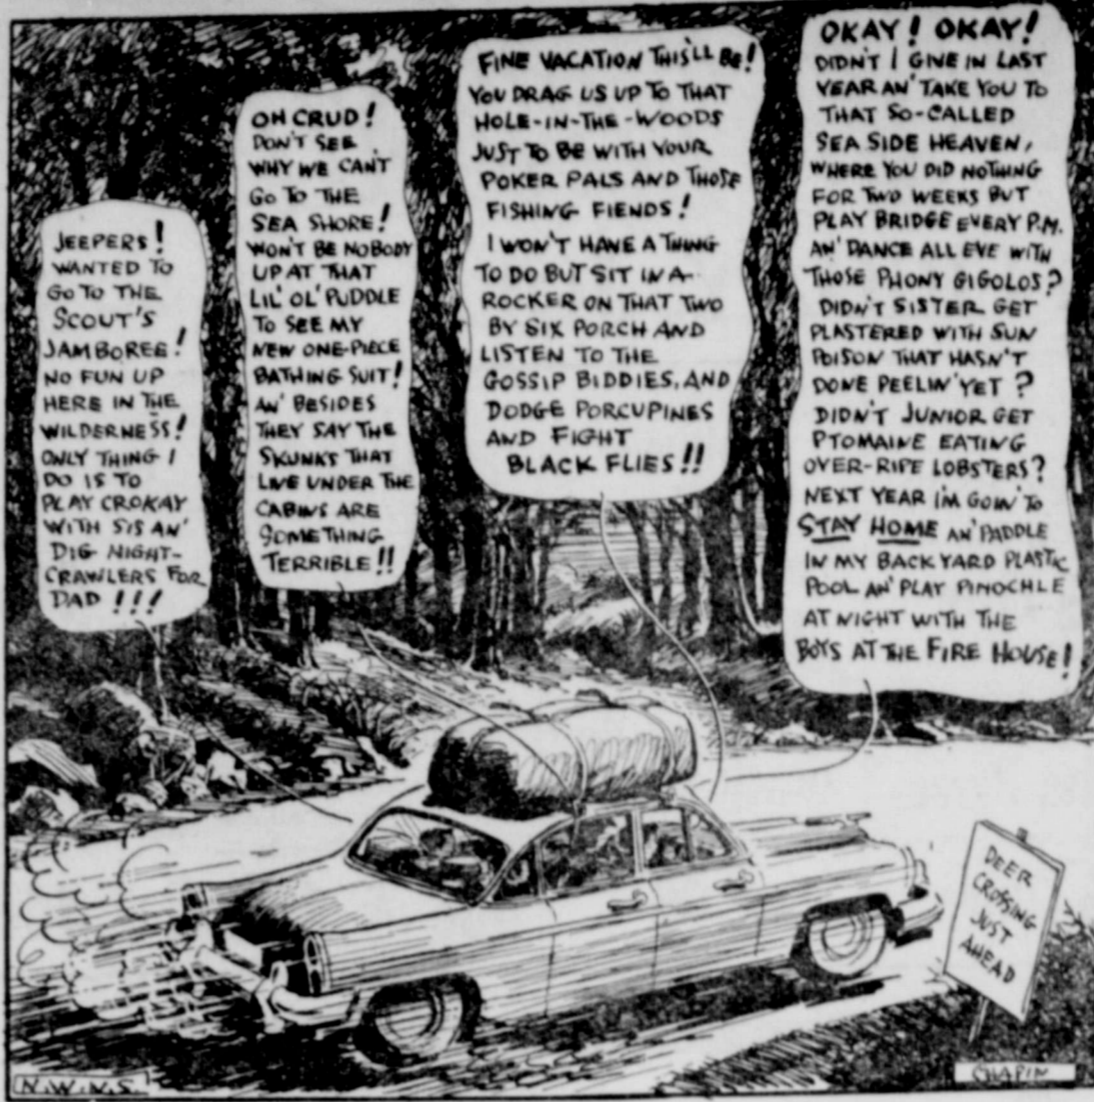

The synthetics have met with favorable reception in the buyers market. This is the history of all things new as far as citizens of this nation are concerned. They like to buy something new. They buy that which looks good to them. But the swing is beginning to go back to cotton goods, and the heat of summer has something to do with it.

The cotton seed has long been recognized for its high protein content as a livestock feed. This has kept it in demand, and trends show that it has an even brighter future. More and more uses are being found for cotton seed oil. Research and promotion are directly responsible for this.

Much criticism has been leveled at the cotton industry as a whole in the past for being too complacent. Fiber competitors have overcome obstacles, and are putting fine products on the market. The cord in tires is one instance where synthetic fiber has replaced cotton. But we predict that the future will see some improvements, and the heavy fiber industry will begin to use more and more cotton thread.

Competition must be met head-on if the Southern cotton industry is to improve. The researchers can—and will—find new uses and new customers for cotton fiber, and will find additional outlets for cotton seed oil. After all, they are dealing with the basic products which have an enviable record behind them.

Congressmen Can't Read Minds ... But They Do Read Their Mail
 An interesting booklet which came across our desk this week bears the following "dedication" on its cover page:

"To the generation that knows the source of atomic power, but does not know the location of its own government."

It's no joke, son.

If you want to test the truth of that, walk up and down Main street on any Saturday afternoon and ask the first twenty-five persons you meet to tell you (1) the name of his state senator; (2) his state representative; (3) his congressman and (4) U. S. Senators. If you get two correct answers out of the four, that's better than par for the course . . . and if you find out, correctly, which are in Washington and which are in Austin that's beating the odds a lot.

You'd better look up the answers yourself before you start asking. The Texas Almanac is a handy reference.

These men are the only direct contacts most citizens ever have with their state and national governments . . . and the only effective contacts you're likely to have. These are the men who help make the laws that govern us.

If you're an average citizen, you've cursed "the government" about something or other at least once this week. But if you're an average citizen, that's all you've done about it.

When have you written your Congressman or your U. S. Senators about problems of national government that affect you, or concern you, or worry you. Have you ever written your state senator, or your state representative, about goings-on in Austin that you don't like?

They are your representatives. They are elected to represent your views at the seats of government.

But how do you expect them to represent you if you never tell them what you're thinking or how you feel about things?

They're not mind readers . . . but they do read their mail. The reply you receive may be polite and non-committal . . . but you can bet your shirt that your representative in Washington or Austin will have read it, and will remember it . . . and that if enough of your friends and neighbors have written him voicing the same or similar opinions, it will have an effect on his vote.

Well-organized minorities are putting constant pressure on our lawmakers for legislation in which they are interested . . . but the voice of the vast unorganized majority is seldom heard because most of us never bother to write . . . we simply sit at home and complain.

Your representatives in Austin and Washington are as close to you as the nearest postage stamp. They aren't mind-readers . . . but they do read their mail. — Canadian Record

Court Control Bill Moves Li-
 Approval by the senate judiciary committee a few days ago of a bill providing that Federal legislation shall not nullify state legislation — in the same field — unless Congress so specifies, is a major achievement of the second session of the Eighty-Fourth Congress.

The bill was introduced in Feb-ure by a whopping 7-to-2 margin.

Those included among the seven voting for the bill were Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat of Wyoming; Jenner, Republican of Indiana; Watkins, Republican of Utah; Dirksen, Republican of Illinois; and Butler, Republican of Maryland.

So the bill did get bi-partisan and much more than sectional approval in the Senate Judiciary committee, where it has been studied closely in recent weeks and months. It would be a good thing for the country if the bill were approved by both Houses and signed by the President. — The Shamrock Texan

THOUSANDS HERE FOR SINGING CONVENTION — An estimated attendance of between four and five thousand singers and visitors, coming from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas, and Louisiana, attended the Ninth Annual Convention of the Northern Texas and Oklahoma District Singers Association in Memphis last Saturday and Sunday. The Memphis Baptist Church, headquarters for the convention, was jammed throughout the singing sessions Saturday and Sunday.

W. B. Scott, Memphis resident, stated that he counted 394 automobiles parked near the church for the singing convention Sunday afternoon.

MAKES MORE FROM MULES THAN COTTON — W. L. Nabers, farmer residing northwest of Plasko, states that he will make more clear money from four mules than he will from 100 acres of cotton. County Farm Agent R. E. L. Pattillo reported.

Mule colts are selling at a premium now, and his four cost him almost nothing to raise. He also worked the mothers of the colts in raising his crop this year.

Report From Washington

Congressman, 18th District

General Aid to Education... were to be used for school purposes. This amendment was adopted. The effect of adopting the "Gwinn Amendment" was to knock out the "Powell Amendment", because there was no limitation on the right of a state to retain the one per cent of its income taxes. However, the "Powell Amendment" was again offered to another section of the bill and was adopted. Then, on the final vote on all of the amendments, the "Powell Amendment", penalizing those states practicing segregation, was adopted. The "Gwinn Amendment", permitting the retention of one per cent of the federal income tax, was defeated. But, in the final analysis, all of the heated debate, all of the parliamentary maneuvering, and all of the high blood pressure went for naught, because on the final vote the entire bill was defeated. This means that there will be no federal aid to education during this Session of Congress.

Everyone agrees that every child should be given the opportunity for an education and should be required to avail himself or herself of that opportunity to the best of his or her ability. In this country these opportunities have always been afforded by the several states. The problem of financing schools has been one of the major headaches of all communities. Greater in some and less in others. Much of the argument for the bill hinged upon the proposition that, unless federal funds were made available, many of the poorer school districts could not provide facilities, and that, therefore, many children would be denied an education. No one doubts but that there are school districts in the United States that are in tragic financial distress; but these districts can be helped, either by the state in which they are located or by the federal government, without opening the door to federal control and the ultimate contribution to more centralization of government. The federal government now provides funds for those districts in which it has taken land off the tax rolls of the school districts. It also provides funds for those districts where a federal installation has caused an increase in the school enrollment by reason of the children of federal employees being brought into the school districts. These programs are fair and have worked well. Similar programs can be worked out to aid and assist the less fortunate school districts throughout this land. The right of a child to an education should not be measured on a dollars and cents basis. However, it must be remembered that the concentration of power in a centralized government can provide the authority in that central agency which could be used to tamper with the thought processes of

Refrigerate Eggs In Summertime, Specialist Advises

COLLEGE STATION — When daytime temperatures hit 90 degrees, egg quality will hit the skids unless egg producers make some changes in management practices, says Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist.

From now until cool weather in the fall, refrigeration is a must if high egg quality is to be maintained. Schlamb says that 55 degrees F. is the optimum temperature for maintaining proper egg environment. Too, eggs must be gathered more often during hot weather with three times a day gathering as a minimum.

Low egg quality as costly to producers selling on grade. "A" quality eggs of similar size normally bring 70c to six cents a dozen more than B quality eggs. Eggs can be properly cooled for as little as 10 cents a case.

Adequate cooling, points out the specialist, is no substitute for frequent marketings. Even with good refrigeration, eggs should be delivered to the grading station either twice or three times a week.

Good cooling, says Schlamb, means getting the animal heat out of the egg in the shortest possible time and at the lowest cost. A cooling unit containing a tray for holding wire baskets with space underneath for storing eggs in cases is the most desirable cooling equipment. Added egg income from the use of such a unit will soon retire its cost.

those to be educated. This is a possibility that should be guarded against with great vigilance because once the power to exercise thought control is vested in and one central power, a price far greater than the value of dollars and cents can be exacted from the populace.

Civil Air Traffic

The recent air tragedy that cost 128 lives has pointed up the great need for immediate action in the control of air traffic. This has been a troublesome problem because more people are traveling by air each day. Our research and development in air travel has provided safe and comfortable land installations. The problem that obviously has not received sufficient attention is the air traffic control problem. This problem has many facets and is one that is under the jurisdiction of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Subcommittee, of which I am a Member, authorized to make a thorough investigation of all of the facts surrounding the tragedy in Arizona and to work out legislation that will provide an up to date and effective air traffic control that will avoid a recurrence of what happened over the Grand Canyon. Let us all hope and pray that those 128 unfortunate souls did not die in vain.
