Garment Factory Owner Inspects Buildings, Gathers Information Here Tuesday and Wednesday

Enjoys Barbecue Chicken Dinner, Confers With Chamber of Commerce

The possibility of a new garment factory in Memphis which would give employment to approximately 50 women, appeared a step closer to reality this week. This was made possible when Calvin Fraser, California manufacturer, made an inspection of the city Tuesday and Wednesday. Clifford Farmer, manager of the chamber of commerce stated today.

Bridges Completes 30 Years Service With Gas Company

T. J. Bridges, manager of the Lone Star Gas Company here, completed 30 years of service with the company this month.

In remembering back through the years, he recalls that his first job with the company was stringing pipe at Vernon. After this he read meters and collected for a number of years. From 1932 until 1942 Bridges was district storekeeper at the Vernon office. This was followed by a position as district foreman of the Vernon district.

Bridges took over here in April of 1952 as local manager, when his company purchased the interests of United Gas. Since that time he has been active in community rates, etc.

After conferring with the industrial committee and directors of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, Fraser surveyed available buildings here and looked over the city.

He told Farmer that he would reach a decision in a few days as to where he would locate his new Texas plant.

Fraser expressed appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation shown in Memphis and for the complete information with which he had been supplied by the chamber of commerce group.

Fraser is owner of the Form-O-Uth Brassiere Company of Gardena, Calif., and manufactures his garments under contract for Sears, Roebuck & Company. He is presently supplying all Sears stores in the Southwest from his California plant.

The new plant, to be located somewhere in Texas, would result in a great saving in transportation costs, he stated.

The Chamber of Commerce in Memphis has been in contact with Fraser since early March. Fraser had been in touch with the California manufacturer by letter and telephone, and through these mediums had supplied him with factual information regarding labor, buildings, transportation, utility rates, etc.

Fraser arrived Tuesday afternoon and spent several hours with chamber of commerce officials inspecting buildings and gathering additional information. After 5 o'clock, he interviewed a number of women who had applied for employment in order to get some idea of their willingness to work in the garment trade. He expressed himself as well pleased with the attitude of those he interviewed, and stated that he believed he would have no trouble in obtaining labor and in training the type of personnel available here.

Tuesday evening Fraser was entertained with a chicken barbecue dinner at the Memphis Country Club, attended by members of the reception committee, chamber directors, managers of the local utility companies and representatives from Lakeview, Hedley and Estelline, and officials from the railroad and motor freight lines.

One of the surprises of the evening for Mr. Fraser was a large banner at the end of the banquet hall, which read: "Form-O-Uth (Continued on Page Twelve)

Rains Thursday Help Hall County Crops

Rain varying from very slight to two inches fell on Hall County about 4:00 a. m. Thursday morning bringing relief from the hot weather and giving the crops much needed moisture.

The area just northwest of Memphis received the heaviest rainfall of about two inches. Here in Memphis the official amount, as recorded by J. J. McMickin, was 1.38 inches. The rain fell on an area from Claude to a point south of Childress.

Rainfall throughout the county varied greatly, even in the same community. Lakeview reported from seven tenths up to one inch and a quarter. In the Pliska area it varied from three tenths to one inch.

Estelline reported six tenths of an inch and the Webster community received about an inch. A strip near Lesley got about two inches and very little rainfall was reported at Turkey.

Reports indicate that the rainfall may have been heavier south of Hedley because Oaks creek was full of water from bank to bank this morning.

The temperatures here in Memphis have varied from a low of 64 to a high of 107 degrees last week. Temperatures for the past week are as follows: Thursday 64-101; Friday 75-101; Saturday 72-100; Sunday 74-107; Monday 78-102; Tuesday 74-88; Wednesday 67-97; and Thursday's was 66.

ELIGIBILITY OF FARMERS TO VOTE IN WHEAT REFERENDUM DISCUSSED

Farmers whose names are not on the County ASC registers are not necessarily ineligible to vote in the July 20 wheat marketing quota referendum, according to R. A. Eddleman, chairman of the Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Where the farmer's eligibility to vote cannot immediately be established, Eddleman explained, the regulations which govern the holding of the referendum provide that such a farmer may vote a "challenged" ballot. This merely means that the farmer's eligibility to vote will be determined by the local county committee before his ballot is tabulated as a "valid" ballot. Such a determination must be made within four days after the date of the referendum.

Farmers eligible to vote in the July 20 wheat quota referendum are those farmers who intend to harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain on the farm in 1957, Eddleman continued. Such farmers must also be entitled to share in the proceeds of such wheat crop as owner-operator, cash tenant, standing rent or fixed rent tenant, landlord of a share tenant, share tenant, or sharecropper.

In addition, if a person engages in the production of wheat as guardian, administrator executor, or trustee in such a manner as to qualify as a voter, he will be eligible to vote. In such cases, however, the persons for whom he is acting in a fiduciary capacity will not be eligible to vote.

County ASC committees are directed to make an investigation in each case of controversy or dispute regarding the eligibility of a voter to cast a ballot in the wheat referendum, Eddleman concluded.

Wheat Price Supports for 1957 Announced

will open at 8:00 Friday at 7:00 p. m. for farmers are eligible to vote in wheat marketing quota referendum. Lynn McKown, of manager of the Hall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced this week.

Wheat price supports have recently been set at an average of $2.00 a bushel for 1957 production, to be available for those who comply with farm allotments in all commercial wheat states if marketing quotas are approved in the July 20 referendum, Robert G. Shrawner, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced.

This announcement was followed by a statement that the "unit" rate for determining payments under the Wheat Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank had been set at 60 per cent of the national average price-support level.

The actual payments which farmers may earn for taking part in the 1957 Wheat Acreage Reserve will be determined by multiplying the base unit rate for the local county by a yield figure which will be established for the farm by the County ASC Committee, Shrawner said.

If quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the July 20 referendum the wheat unit rate under the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve in 1957 will be 60 per cent of the $2.00 national average, or $1.20 a bushel, as an approximate national average, with the usual differentials for local areas.

If quotas are disapproved by more than one-third of the growers, price support on 1957 wheat will drop to 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. In that case, the wheat unit rate under the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve (Continued on Page Twelve)

Swimming Pool Gets Good Report

The City Swimming Pool received a high commendation following an inspection the first part of this week by an official of the State Health Department, L. W. Stanford, member of the City Council announced.

V. T. Hancock Jr., engineer assistant from the Division of Sanitary Engineers of the Texas State Department of Health, was very pleased with the condition of the Memphis pool commenting that it was one of the best pools in this part of the state. He said that it was far above average in cleanliness and stated that the citizens of this town had a pool that they could be proud of from every standpoint.

Each Monday morning a sample of water from the pool is sent to Austin for analysis. The report has always returned stating that no bacteria was present in the water, Stanford said. This is part of the continued checking that goes on to insure that the pool is clean and pure, Stanford said. Once a year an engineer from the Health Department comes and inspects the pool to see that the facilities provided are being kept clean.

The filtering system at the pool makes a complete change of water every six hours, Stanford concluded.

Social Security News

By JOHN R. SANDERSON

In its report on the social security amendment of 1956 the Committee on Finance of the U. S. Senate describes old-age and survivors insurance as a program "designed to provide partial protection against loss of earned income upon the retirement or death of the worker."

The word "partial" in this description is significant. This earning related social insurance program is not intended to offset in whole the loss of wages or self-employment caused by the family breadwinner's old-age or death. It does, however, provide a continuing income, and with this assurance, individuals can plan to build up additional security through private arrangements and savings. For example a worker, knowing that the earnings credited to his social security account will entitle his dependents to a monthly income in case of his death, can better plan to supplement this with private life insurance protection for his wife and children. Also, a worker, forearmed with the knowledge that he will get regular monthly retirement payments in his old age, is in a better position to plan additional income in his later years through savings and investments during his working year.

While social security insurance payments are curtailed or withheld entirely if a beneficiary returns to or continues in employment or self-employment, payments are not affected by income derived from investments or savings or company pensions. A beneficiary, moreover, is permitted to engage in part-time work and have earnings of as much as $1,200 in a year without giving up any of the monthly payments to which he is eligible under old-age and survivors insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Howell returned Sunday from Estes Park after enjoying a week's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton, who accompanied them to Estes Park, went on to Yellow Stone National Park this week.

Lockjaw Causes Discussed By Dr. Henry A. Holle

AUSTIN—A disease 2000 years old is still with us, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of health. The disease is tetanus or lockjaw and is caused by bacteria found in earth, garden mold and manure. The bacteria are normally found in the intestines of animals, such as horses, cows, sheep and goats.

Tetanus bacteria thrive where there is no free air or oxygen. That is why a puncture wound such as that caused by nails, splinters, or gunshot is the most dangerous. Especially is this true when the injury occurs in a barn yard, cow pasture, or where field manure has been used.

All such wounds should be taken seriously. They should be opened, cleansed, and dressed by a physician.

If tetanus develops, such signs as restlessness, stiffness of the neck, a tight jaw and beginning stiffness of the arms and legs may be observed. Usually such symptoms develop about five to ten days after the injury. They may have convulsions and the victim may die.

It was not until late in the century that a preventive measure was developed. At first given sparingly, as years passed and research continued, a perfected vaccine or protective measure to protect the child early in life.

Now this protection is given the same time that immunization is given for diphtheria and whooping cough, and the combined is given to a child in the first year of life, or Booster doses should be given at intervals to keep up the protection and especially after any wound.

Texas Schools Receive $4,686,808 For Lunch Fund

Texas public schools will get about 22 percent more funds from the U. S. Department of Agriculture than last year to serve noon-day meals under the National School Lunch Program.

The increase of $853,453 brings the total to $4,686,808 for the coming school year.

This announcement was received today by Dr. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, Texas Education Agency.

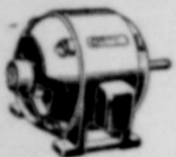

First quarter allocation of this money will be made to Texas this month, according to John J. Slaughter, chief, southwest food distribution division, Dallas.

This office of the Agricultural Marketing Service deals with the states in this region on the National School Lunch Program.

Slaughter explained that the 22 percent increase in the Texas allotment was the result of an increase of $16,700,000 over last year's appropriation by Congress.

Federal funds are shared by the states on the basis of the number of children between the ages of 5 to 17, inclusive, and the per capita income of the United States to that of the state.

Slaughter praised the Texas Educational Agency for the way it has developed and administered the school lunch program.

TCU Enrollment Expected to Rise

Another sharp increase in enrollment at Texas Christian University this fall was predicted by Registrar Calvin Cumbie.

He reported that as of July 1, applications have been received from 568 new students, an increase of 49 per cent over the same date in 1955.

He predicted an overall increase of between 10 and 15 per cent.

Of the new applications so far, 465 will be entering freshmen and 103 transfers. They include 332 girls and 236 boys.

Additional applications are expected, of course, before TCU opens its 84th session on September 17.

For all sessions of the 1955-56 school year, the enrollment was 6,556, an increase of 13 per cent over the previous year. For the fall semester of 1955, there was a gain of 544 to 4,616, also 13 per cent from the previous fall.

A new all-time record for a fall semester may be set this year. The present mark is 4,629 set in 1949. The spring enrollment record was set this year with 4,538.

Mrs. S. M. Wilborn of Alvord visited Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Funk Thursday through Sunday. Mrs. Wilborn is Mrs. Funk's sister.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyley Whitely were their granddaughter, Miss Doris Pritchett of Lubbock, and a friend, Johnny Rogers, who is a student at Texas Tech College.

AUSTIN — Reunions, Rodeos, fishing trips, from now until school starts, vacationing Texans will take to the highways by the thousands.

They are likely to find the roads more crowded than at any time in the state's history.

From year to year, total traffic volume has climbed steadily, Highway Department surveys show. In addition, vacation months bring a steep jump.

August especially is a headache for the Department of Public Safety. Accident rates climb sharply. During the past five years August accident rates have been from 3 to 27 per cent higher than in July.

"People try to over-drive on a long vacation trip," says Asst. Chief C. G. Connor of the Texas Highway Patrol. "Fatigue is a particular problem. Speed is another."

They can't do much about people who drive when they're too tired, Connor admits. But something can be done about speed.

"Installation of radar detection devices has a tremendous impact on driving practices," said Connor.

Studies made before and after radar use was begun on state and federal highways in November, 1954, show: (1) excessive speeding dropped from 21 to 15 per cent, (2) accidents dropped 3.4 per cent and (3) deaths dropped 1.9 per cent.

During the same period accidents on the non-radar-patrolled stretches — farm to market roads, city streets, etc. — climbed 13 per cent. A similar increase could have been expected on the state and federal highways, Connor believes, especially since total mileage increased also — nearly 5 per cent.

Had normal trends continued, 181 more lives would have been lost in 1955.

Grass Seed Harvest Seen Possible In Hall County Conservation Area

Recent rains in some parts of the Hall County Soil Conservation District may make a grass seed harvest possible, Charley B. Cape, SCS conservationist, announced this week.

Most native grass seed can be combined with an ordinary combine, Cape said. At the present time, Sideots Grama is selling for 75 cents to $1.00 per pound and Blue Grama at 30 to 40 cents a pound. It is easily possible to make up to 100 lbs. per acre, he continued.

On pastures with a good stand of these grasses, a seed harvest would be possible in the next three to four weeks, Cape said. "Seed fill will depend on the weather but possibilities appear to be good at this time," he continued.

Cape concluded by saying that the fall seed crop is usually the best and pastures that are deferred until now will have ample time to make a good seed crop.

Soil Conservation Service technicians at the local office can assist in planning and carrying out a seed harvest program.

a. m. and 1:30 p. m. that day. Smaller towns and rural areas also will participate in Operation Alert. Many have been designated as reception centers for evacuees from cities.

State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters in Austin has asked all mayors, county judges and other local civil defense officials to cooperate.

Strategic industrial centers, such as Beaumont-Port Arthur, will practice vacating plants and schools. Military bases will test their full-scale emergency measures.

Purpose of the drill is to show up any flaws in the plan whereby federal, state and local officials and trained volunteers would cooperate to cope with a major catastrophe.

Nationally, Operation Alert will presume 52 cities bombed. FCC has ordered all radio and TV stations off the air at 3:10 p. m. July 20. Special civil defense frequencies, 640 and 1240, will be used for test broadcasts of disaster instructions.

Physical Ed Teachers Reassured
Physical education teachers won't be out of jobs if proposed new high school graduation requirements are adopted.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar clarified the plan for alarmed teachers. Physical education and health courses are still required by state law, he said.

A State Board of Education study committee recommended they no longer be counted among the 16 units required for graduation. Committee suggestions were part of an overall effort to strengthen high school curricula academically, especially in scientific studies.

Vaccine for Adults Seen Soon
Texans over 20 may be able to get polio vaccinations within "a month or two."

But, said State Health Department officials, this is still "purely speculative." Actual timing will depend on when the vaccine supply exceeds that needed for youngsters and expectant mothers.

In Texas, polio takes its heaviest toll among tots under four years old. They have 51.2 per cent of all cases, 69.1 per cent of paralytic cases.

Persons over 20 account for only 17.4 per cent of total incidence, 6.8 per cent of paralytic cases. Forty-one new cases were reported in the state last week, bringing the '56 total to 440.

Worse and More of It
More and more Texans have less and less water. In its monthly report, the State Water Board listed these gloomy details:

Texas reservoirs were down 17 per cent, and observation wells and springs were at all-time lows. Storage in Trinity River Basin lakes was at 27 per cent of capacity; in Red River lakes, 55 per cent; in Lake Texoma, 51 per cent.

Famous Comal Springs near New Braunfels ceased to flow for the first time in history.

Ground water levels, below average in almost all areas, hit record lows in four areas.

No general area of the state could claim normal rainfall. State-wide precipitation was 46 per cent of normal.

Short Snorts
Texans had approximately 7 million acres of cotton under cultivation as of July 1, reported the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This was one per cent less than 1955, 20 per cent less than the 10-year average. . . . Through the primary election is not until July 28, thousands of Texans already have had their say on who goes into office next year. Absentee balloting began July 9, continues through July 24. . . . Texas will get a 22 per cent increase in funds this year for its public school lunch program, announced the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. . . . The state acted to make Duval and Jim Wells counties safer for voters on election day. Three rangers were stationed at Alice after boss George Parr stormed into the Duval county courthouse, armed with a rifle, in search of his political foe Tom Molina. He was disarmed and faces a misdemeanor charge.

Air Safety
Recent, tragic crash in the Grand Canyon of two of our largest commercial airliners has created a deafening demand for immediate action in the solution of this traffic problem. The long, heated debate as to what, if anything, should be done with regard to additional safety precautions in air travel, has now been turned into a searing flame with intensity comparable to that which engulfed these two airliners when they crashed in Grand Canyon.

at 21 thousand feet. At that time he was flying at the same altitude as the other plane.

These facts, however, would not indicate the definite conclusion that both planes continued to fly at the same altitude. The reason being that when they left the controlled airways they could fly at any altitude they might desire, so long as they maintained their authorized altitudes when crossing or traveling along controlled air areas and airways.

The evidence is about as conclusive as there could be that there was a collision so it must be concluded that the two airplanes did get at the same altitude at some point. It is, of course, impossible to tell at what altitude they were flying just prior to the collision. The point of wreckage was about 25 miles north of the route that one airliner would have expected to fly. It was almost directly on the route that the other was flying. The wreckage was about 20 miles west of where the evidence would indicate that the planes would have been in the absence of a collision. This poses a rather difficult problem because if the planes had been flying at 21 thousand feet and had been 20 miles east of the point of the wreckage, it would be almost inconceivable to me for them to have fallen in the place where the wreckage was found. It would have meant that the planes falling downward 4 miles would have been blown or glided some 20 miles horizontally. I just do not believe that such could have happened. In addition, it would have been necessary for the planes after having been blown or glided horizontally 20 miles to have reached a certain point and then dropped straight down. It would be conceivable that such a situation could have existed with regard to one plane but for both planes to have followed such a course is difficult to believe. The wreckage of both planes was within a distance of a mile and a half. One was in the bottom of the Canyon about 4 thousand feet from the top. The other was on a shelf about half way up the precipice. This leaves in my mind the big question among many of "Where were the planes when they collided?" and "Why were they at such points?" If the answers to these questions can be found, we will know whether or not any present rules were being violated. If no present rules were being violated, then some of the present rules must be changed and more added.

Are You Satisfied? The State of Texas Has Been Shocked By Two Great Scandals in Two Years

1. The Veterans Land Scandal!

- Was there graft and corruption in the Veterans Land Board and its administration of this program?
- Did the House of Representatives investigating committee actually expose or secure evidence of criminal intent during its expensive investigation?
- How much of your taxpayer's money has been recovered? Did the investigation uncover anything or merely "whitewash" many who might have been involved?
- Are you satisfied that ALL of the corruption has been uncovered?

2. The Insurance Scandal!

- Did the people of Texas lose millions of dollars due to faulty insurance companies and poor insurance regulations?
- How many convictions have been obtained as a result of this fraud of our Texas people? Why? Your present legislators passed 17 new insurance laws but FAILED TO ESTABLISH PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS UNDER THE LAW! 121 Insurance companies have been put out of business but they can't be prosecuted because your "special interest" legislature did not put penalties in the laws.

America Spends $15 to $50 a Mile To Clean Up Highways, Survey Reveals

It is costing the American public $15 to $50 a mile per year for the clean-up of refuse strewn along highways of our various states by messy motorists.

So serious has the problem become that 13 states have recently sharpened their penalties for this offense, according to a survey by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

The survey, conducted through the cooperation of highway departments of 44 states, found that penalties for "litterbugging" vary from practically none in Idaho, which reports "Law not very enforceable; litter increasing each year" to a maximum of $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment in Georgia, which reports "a noticeable reduction in this type of offense" since the new law was passed.

In fact, eight of the 13 states which have stepped up their penalties report that the slovenly type of motorist has become notably neater in his habits when faced with stiffened penalties for pig-sty behavior. A number of other highway departments declare in the survey that under existing conditions litterbugs are difficult to catch, even if caught, are usually left off with a small fine or a lecture, by local justices.

Yet South Carolina recently decided to do something about the defilers of its highways, and through close cooperation of highway maintenance and highway patrol departments, arrested 81 trash strewers and convicted 80 of them in the first 12 months of its clean highways program. "We are making some progress," says the South Carolina highway department.

Some half-a-dozen states report reduction in litter through extensive programs of motorist education by civic organizations combined in some areas with distribution of litter bags for use in cars, and litter cans along highways and at filling stations, to make it as easy as possible for motorists to "be decent."

Ohio has set up an outstanding example of effective coordination of intensive anti-litter education with tighter enforcement of anti-litter laws, reducing the costs of cleaning up Ohio's state highway system from $621,733 in 1953 to $442,258 in 1954 and to $344,452 in 1955.

California, where keeping the state highway system clean costs an estimated $750,000 annually, reports noticeable improvement through a Chamber of Commerce educational program coupled with a strengthened anti-litter law.

Oregon reports gratifying use by motorists of the litter bags so extensively distributed by civic and governmental organizations, and of the hundreds of litter barrels placed along the highways in 1955. One of the discouraging aspects of dealing with the human species, however, is illustrated by this observation in the Oregon report: "It has been necessary to relocate some of the barrels due to local residents filling them with garbage."

Nov. 3 Suggested as Opening Date For Duck, Geese by Game and Fish Com.

The Game and Fish Commission recommended that duck and goose seasons open simultaneously in Texas this fall and acknowledged a slight Federal Fish and Wildlife Service increase in the mourning dove season.

Meeting in Austin, the Commission implied an anticipated curb in waterfowl hunting this fall by stating a preference that if the Federal authorities do reduce shooting privileges that the season's length, rather than the bag limit of five and ten birds, be cut.

Last year, the duck season was increased from sixty to seventy-five days. The goose season was kept at sixty days and did not open until fifteen days after the duck harvest began. The Commission asked that zero hour for duck and geese be identical, with Friday, November 3, suggested as the preferable beginning date in Texas.

The Fish and Wildlife Service authorized continued zoning for Texas mourning dove hunting and permitted an additional five half days to be divided between the two zones which had forty-five days of shooting last fall.

The Commission also authorized antelope harvests in both the Panhandle and West of the Pecos and voted the usual seasons for the various state areas which, through the Legislature, granted the Commission permission to set harvest regulations according to current conditions.

Public hunts to reduce surplus game on four demonstration-experiment wildlife management areas in key state regions were authorized, and antlerless deer hunting to reduce deer overpopulation in Hill County areas was again sanctioned with the exception of Kerr County which was exempted by request of Commissioner Hal Peterson of Kerrville.

The Commission decided to keep the white wing dove season in the Rio Grande Valley closed for another year and approved purchase of the two hundred acre Longoria tract at $300 per acre as a nesting area to expedite the whitewing dove comeback.

Adopting its annual budget, the Commission recognized coastal sentiments by authorizing $150,000 for repairs to Rollover Pass, connecting East Galveston Bay with the Gulf. Tentative sanction was given another $300,000 for 1957-58. It reacted the closing of Galveston Bay to oyster power dredges and ordered shell dredges to begin belated conserving of fine shell.

A request by the city of Bowie in Montague County to close Amon Carter Lake to the use of nets and seines for taking fish was granted.

The Commission petitioned the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service to increase the limit of snow geese from five per day and five in possession since overpopulation of this species in the coastal marshes is reducing feed supplies ordinarily available to the more desirable species.

One change in regulations for the twenty-eight county Panhandle bracket requires plugging of shotguns to a limit of three shells for hunting quail and wild turkey.

Moderate Grazing More Profitable Research Shows

Moderate grazing of land in the Great Plains region is more profitable in the long run than either too-heavy or too-light grazing. Twenty years of research at the U. S. Range Livestock Experiment Station, Miles City, Montana, says A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, has furnished the proof.

On the heavily grazed land, 1 cow to 23 acres, 71 percent of the cows produced calves. These made an average daily gain of 1.6 pounds, and pounds of calf produced per cow at weaning averaged 268. This amounted to 11.6 pounds of calf per acre. Cows on moderately grazed range produced an 86 percent calf crop; gained 1.8 pounds daily and their calves averaged 428 pounds at weaning. Calf pounds produced per acre was 12.1. One cow to 31 acres was considered moderate grazing.

In the light grazing experiment, 93 percent of the cows produced calves; average daily gain was 1.9 pounds; calves weighed 438 lbs. at weaning which meant 10.5 pounds of calf produced per acre. Under light grazing one cow was run on 39 acres.

Heavy grazing not only resulted in smaller calf crops and lighter gains but also caused injury to the range over a long period. It also reduced the vigor of range plants, causing a shift from the better native tall grasses to the less productive short grasses and residue for soil cover and for maintaining soil structure and fertility.

Light grazing, through good for conserving soil resources, did not give the ranchman the most from his range. Moderate grazing is favored because of more profit in the long run and also because ranges remained in a more stable condition.

Walker points out that this research is highly significant because during the last 7 years breeding stock were used in the tests which had been produced from stock raised under each of the three grazing intensity patterns. Six lots of cows have been used in the experiments—two for each pattern.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my appreciation to the neighbors who rendered a helping hand following my accident by plowing the crop for me this week. The kindness was certainly appreciated.

Holland McMurry

More than 26,000,000 pounds of vetch and winter peas were planted in Texas in 1955. Tests conducted by the Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA show that hairy, Auburn wooly-pod, Oregon wooly-pod and Willamette vetch and Austrian winter peas produced the highest yields of dry forage. The highest yields, often doubled, were produced when harvesting was delayed from early March to April.

The above quote was taken from the July 16th issue of The Texas Spur, a newspaper in the town where Judge Chapman finished high school, where he served as County and District Attorney and for the last 19 years as District Judge.

The Privilege to Vote

Nine days from the time this paper goes to press there will be an election in Texas. It will be time for Texans to exercise their constitutional right at the polls and select the men who will make the laws and administer the laws that we all live under.

Much has been said about this being one of few countries on earth where men and women have so much freedom in selecting those who will rule them; but how many of us have ever thought about what a great responsibility rests on our shoulders when we put our pencil to the ballot. The fate of our county, our state, our nation and even of the world hangs in balance with only us to tip the scales one way or the other. With such a tremendous responsibility on our shoulders it is only right that we should give serious thought as to who we think is most capable of manning the wheel while we go down the road in these years of creeping socialism and cold war. It is indeed a great task to decide which man would be the best for each position. We owe it to ourselves to study the candidates. Learn what they have stood for in the past, where they came from, what kind of education they have. And, most important of all, what does each one of them believe. Will they honestly and sincerely strive to do the thing that will be the best for the people of this state? Do they believe that farmers should have as high an income as labor and get return on their investment in a comparable bracket with business and industry?

These are difficult questions to try to answer when most of the candidates are many miles away and we never have a chance to talk to them personally, but we should try to find out as much about them as we can from the newspapers, magazines, radio, and last, but by no means least, from our friends, many of whom may have had a chance to talk to some of these men.

If you don't go to the polls and vote, how can you complain about the way "they" are running the government?

QUALIFIED BY EXPERIENCE

Re-Elect
 JESSE JAMES
 State Treasurer
 • Proven Honesty
 • Proven Efficiency
 • Proven Ability

PROVEN HONESTY—Jesse James has handled over $8 Billion of the people's money without loss of so much as one cent. The State Auditor's annual report and continuous audit repeatedly verify this fact.

PROVEN EFFICIENCY—Jesse James, through efficient administration during a period of constantly rising prices, has reduced costs per dollar handled by 46.9%.

PROVEN ABILITY—Jesse James has increased income on depository interest earned on current State Funds by almost 2,000%. This income was $105,000 annually when Jesse James became Treasurer, and now is over seven times the cost of operating the State Treasury—resulting in a profit of almost $2 Million annually for the people of Texas. A $30 Million deficit in the General Fund existed when Jesse James became Treasurer. Today, there is no deficit.

PROVEN RESPONSIBILITY—Jesse James learned financing the hard way. When his father died, he helped his mother rear and educate nine brothers and sisters on a meager income. He worked first as a cotton farmer near Thorndale, then as a merchant in Cameron. He also worked his way through college where he studied business and finance. He was elected three times to the Texas Legislature, where he worked conscientiously to improve the financial condition of the State of Texas.

PROVEN RESULTS, NOT PROMISES—Jesse James made no elaborate promises when he first asked voters to elect him State Treasurer. ### Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Correct Diet
 Today's Health, a magazine for general readers, published by the American Medical Association, has printed an authoritative article on "Nutrition in the Aged," written by Dr. Max Millman. Inasmuch as the number of elderly people in the country is swiftly increasing, and a vast body of geriatric knowledge has been gained in recent times, a better mass understanding of this problem is a national need.

Some of the many points made in the article seen especially important, in order to do away with the old misconception that a "tea and toast" diet is right for grandfather. For instance, Dr. F. J. Stare of Harvard University's School of Public Health, is cited as favoring a high protein diet for the aged. The protein should be obtained from several sources, such as meat, fish, eggs, milk and cereal.

Dr. Millman observes that often there is an important economic factor involved in nutrition for older people. Many of them must live on very small incomes. Consequently, they may regard such desirable foods as meat, fruits, and vegetables as being too expensive, and substitute starches of various kinds. Dr. Millman states: "A better knowledge of food values and cost coupled with proper marketing and budgeting can insure an adequate diet on a modest or even meager income."

Finally, Dr. Millman emphasizes that good dietary habits should start early in life. To quote him again: "The young stenographer's lunch all too often consists of a jelly sandwich, Coke and cigarette. Diets of this type are not only detrimental to the immediate health; they lay a poor nutritional foundation, creating poor eating habits which may persist for a lifetime." — Stanton Reporter.

Unusual Ballot Likely
 The likelihood is that Texas Democratic primary voters will have an unusual ballot to cast this year. Although such has been provided for from year back in the election law the voters for the first time will pass on two or three matters of policy in addition to naming the nominees of the party for the various offices. This will be a novel experience for primary voters. It is probable the courts will have a chance to pass on the question since there is a strong minority (we assume minority) of opposition to putting the questions on the primary ballot. Of these one is on whether Texas authorities will pursue the course of interposition where the court tramples the rights of the people. The other two questions which the state committee ordered put on the ballot relate to laws of intermarriage of the races and enforced attendance at public schools where integration is enforced. The questions were petitioned on the ballot by more than 10 per cent of the voters expected to take part in the primaries. — Floyd County Hesperian, Floydada

Rain Maker
 The following advertisement, "WANTED — SOAKING RAIN. PLEASE RUSH CLIFF PERKINS.", appeared in the West Branch, Iowa Times — Herbert Hoover's birthplace — on April 26. The paper went into the mail about 8:00 in the morning. By supertime the rain came and brought an end to an 8-month dry spell.

It is estimated this advertisement was worth millions to the residents of Cedar County and the state of Iowa. You don't have to argue with Cliff Perkins and his friends on the power of the country press. — The Munday Times

Cotton and The Community

• "Howdy, neighbor! How's the cotton crop?"

This is the way we say good morning on the corner of Main Street in every community across the wide expanse of 19 Cotton Belt states during the season when the cotton crop is on the make.

Although the cotton farmer is the one most vitally interested, the butcher, the banker, and the man who runs the grocery store also have a high stake and keen interest in the number of bales that go to the gin. All are eager partners during the season of tending, watching and waiting until the crop is laid by and the stalk becomes heavy with bolls.

What many of cotton's citizens fail to realize is that the job is just begun when the bolls begin to open and the first army of pickers invades the field.

Our support must be given all the way to the retail sales counter, for unless the sheets and shirts made from last year's crop are moved from the shelf, we are not free to grow another crop without adding to our surplus.

The welfare of cotton's people is entirely dependent upon the sale and use of cotton products.

Buy cotton products. Build your own welfare.

Memories Turning Back Time

19 Years Ago
 October 29, 1937
1938 COTTON CROP TO BE CUT TWO-MILLION ACRES—A two-million-acre reduction in the cotton crop for 1938 is the plan announced by the AAA at Washington Monday. Secretary Wallace places the cotton acreage at 27,000,000 to 29,000,000. It had previously been placed at 28,000,000 to 31,000,000 acres.

The change was decided upon because of the unusually large cotton crop this year, officials of the agricultural administration said.

The acreage is to be divided by areas and individual farms, and growers required to limit their share of it in order to qualify for government benefit payments in the conservation program.

The rate of benefit payments was increased from 2 cents a lb. to 2.4 cents on the normal yield of each acre, to prevent the acreage cut from diminishing federal rewards for cooperating growers. The program is dependent upon congressional action, since the actual appropriation for next year's payments has not been made.

ANNUAL SHOW OF COLTS IS TO BE ON NOV. 4TH—A colt show will be held in Memphis next Thursday, November 4, according to R. E. L. Pattillo, county agent. This will be the second annual colt show, and it is expected that a number of spring horse mule colts will be shown.

The show will be conducted similar to that held last year. In divisions, and cash and other awards will be made in each division for the best animals.

Location of the colt show is the lot belonging to Harrison Hardware Co. directly behind the store on North Sixth street.

Judging will likely start immediately after lunch, and will be done by a competent judge.

WRECKED ENGINE PUTS LODGE GIN OUT OF RUNNING—The Lodge gin was put out of commission Monday night about 9:30 when the large fly wheel of the steam engine went to pieces, badly damaging the engine and engine house.

The accident was said to have been caused by the governor going "hay-wire," letting the engine spin so rapidly that it could not stand the terrific strain brought to bear upon it.

One half of the wheel went out through the top of the engine-room wall and the lower part of the roof, sailing into the air to a height of 100 feet, blowing and landed on top of a 100 yards away where it fell to the ground. This section wheel weighed about 100 lbs.

The other half broke into smaller pieces and went out the end of the building, doing considerable damage to the building. Fortunately the metal did not strike the steam lines.

It will be at least a week before repairs can be made on the engine and the building may be resumed, Arthur manager stated Tuesday.

Ever see an electric day bed?

You will soon. The first one is already on the market. One minute it's a sofa. Then press a button and it unfolds into a bed—automatically. Press the button again and it folds back into a sofa.

This is just one of many new ways that electricity will be working for you in the years to come. Electricity will heat your home in winter, cool it in summer... cook your food in seconds instead of hours... open your garage doors at the approach of your car.

You'll need plenty of power for this new electric age—and it will be waiting when you want it. Independent electric companies like this one build ahead of your needs so you will have plenty of electricity always!

when nobody at home has it for sale

So . . . whose fault is it when this unfortunate condition prevails?

Well, you might say it's everybody's.

SELLERS are to blame . . . who don't keep up with what's new in their lines . . . and who want to keep store just like they did before highways and automobiles rescued buyers from having to take whatever goods it pleased their home storekeepers to carry in stock.

BUYERS are to blame . . . who don't keep neighborhood sellers informed about their needs and wants by the simple process of shopping the home stores regularly . . . and whose wide-ranging buying habits cut down the financial ability of local sellers to keep better assortments of goods.

Many of us fall into both of these categories . . . and don't let our right hands know where our left hands have been shopping.

Shall we, then, EACH look inwardly . . . whether we are Buyer or Seller only . . . or a Buyer-Seller Blend . . . and consider what WE can do to better OURSELVES by enriching our home area's life blood . . . it's trade volume?

SEVEN VIEWS OF THE CHURCH

When the church is viewed as a body (Col. 1:8), Christians are members of the body (1 Cor. 12:12, 27), and Christ is the head (Col. 1:18; Eph. 1:23).

When the church is viewed as a building (1 Cor. 3:9), Christians are the building and Christ is the foundation (1 Cor. 3:11).

When the church is viewed as a kingdom (Mk. 1:14, 15; Gal. 3:26-27; Acts 8:12), Christians are the citizens (Gal. 3:13; Eph. 2:19), and Christ is the king (1 Tim. 6:15).

When the church is viewed as a bride (Eph. 5:23-32), Christians are the bride while Christ is the husband (Ill. 1:2).

When the church is viewed as a flock (Acts 20:28; 1 Pet. 2:25), Christians are the sheep (Acts 20:29-30), and Christ is the shepherd (Jno. 10:11; Heb. 13:20).

When the church is viewed as a family (Eph. 2:19), Christians are the children (1 Jno. 3:1) and joint-heirs with Christ (Rom. 8:16-17), and God is the Father.

When the church is viewed as a temple (1 Cor. 3:16; II Cor. 6:16), Christians are living stones in a spiritual building (I Pet. 2:5), and Christ is the high priest (Heb. 4:14-16).

All these views show us the intimate relationship between Christ and His church. When one says, "The church is not of His making," just get him to show one verse of scripture in the whole of the Bible to sustain this assertion.

Work Continues On Television Facilities Here

Work was completed last week on the installation of the antenna at the television tower west of Memphis, according to Bob Magness, one of the owners and operators of the television distributing system being conducted here.

Seventeen antennae have been placed on top of the 400-foot tower, Magness said. The small house at the bottom of the tower is called a "head-end" house and contains the amplifying, filtering and trapping equipment, he said.

Three channels can be received with the present arrangement of antennae, Magness said. More antennae will be added in the near future so that we will be able to pick up more channels, he continued.

The tower is mounted on a pyramid shaped block of concrete 8 feet square at the bottom and 2 feet square at the top. The block weighs four and one-half tons. The tower is square in design and is made of two and one-half by two and one-half by one-fourth inch angle iron, Magness continued.

Eight thousand feet of pre-stretched, one-half inch, steel cable was used on the 24 guy lines that brace the tower.

Work is now underway on the stringing of the co-axial cable which will connect the tower with the users. A steel cable is first placed on the poles and then the co-axial cable is lashed to the steel one, Magness said.

"We hope to have the system in operation on or before September 1," Magness said.

The Farmer's Best Market — Land During recent years agriculture has been a notoriously bad business to get into. Crop prices have dropped steadily and net farm income is now the lowest in our national economy.

Yet, in spite of this farm depression, the farmer's chief investment—the farm itself—has risen in cost to about the same extent that prices for commodities have dropped.

There are several reasons for the rapid rise in land prices. The most important has been the need of farmers for additional land to offset lower acreage allotments. Other farmers need more land to take full advantage of increased mechanical equipment and keep income up, despite falling prices, with added production.

Then too, business and professional men with plenty of money to spend have been investing in land. Some want a farm as a place to retire, and others buy small farms for homes and hobbies—and tax write-off. Farm land prices in suburban areas have gone up most.

But despite this strong demand and prices up nearly 30 percent since 1950, farm sales have continued at a very low level. Those who could have held onto their land, either because of stubbornness and determination to stay put or else for higher stakes.

However, for those who are buying land or for those who are holding out for all-time-high prices on that land they have for sale, a word of caution is advised.

Of course, it is sometimes hard to evaluate good land in terms of cash, considering what natural and human resources have gone into "making" a farm. But, practical matters considered, most current land prices are above levels that can be justified by present or prospective earning.

Farm operating costs are almost certain to go higher. Labor wages are on the upward trend, and so are transportation, machinery and other supplies. The cost-price squeeze shows little or no signs of easing. Refinancing credit is less plentiful, and interest rates are higher.

Also, there is no land shortage in sight, probably not for two generations, and even then per-acre farm output will have increased to such a level as to be more than plentiful for our population.

In short, unless there is a more rapid rise in farm commodity prices than now appears likely, it will take longer to pay out a farm on the present market than at any time in 40 years if the farmer relies solely on the sale of farm products. And that's about all they grow.

Hale and Martin Enter Jaycees' Golf Tournament

Two local boys, Richard Hale and Malcolm Martin, left Tuesday morning to compete in the annual Jaycees State Championship Golf Tournament, which will be held this year at Brownwood.

Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hale, is representing the local Jaycees. The sponsoring clubs pay such expenses such as entry fees and dormitory costs at Howard Payne College, where the boys are housed while in Brownwood.

Malcolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Martin, is being sponsored by the Bryan Jaycees. He attends Allen Military Academy located there, and represented them last year at the same tournament which was held in Abilene.

The tournament itself is for 18-year-olds or younger. Qualifying began Wednesday, and the 72-hole medalist play began today and concludes tomorrow. The top three medalists are to compete in the National Jaycees Golf tournament, held later this summer.

The two young golfers are expected back here either late Friday night or early Saturday.

"With most of agricultural prices down from a year ago and acreage allotments on a more restrictive basis, the need for getting the most for the least cost per unit is more urgent than ever before," says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist. Fertilizers may provide part of the answer on many farms and ranches.

New Publications Released by A&M

Three new publications, B-827, Farm Sheep Production in Texas; MP-167, Which Feed is the Best Buy? and L-291, Move Forward with Farm and Home Development, have been released by the offices of local county extension agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

The new sheep production bulletin is a handbook which presents or prospective farm sheep raisers should find very valuable. The authors, J. A. Gray and J. M. Jones, point out management and operational practices which have been found most practical under farm conditions for sheep raising. The main requirements for a successful sheepman are having a genuine interest in the animals and providing for them a suitable environment, say the authors.

R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman, in the publication on which feeds to buy has prepared tables showing the value of different feeds for dairy animals. Included are such feeds as concentrate mixture.

The leaflet on farm and home development is concise statement on what the unit approach to better farm family living can mean to cooperating families.

When you visit your local extension agents, ask them for other publications which can provide you with the latest information on farming, ranching and homemaking. The publications are free. Too, as representatives of the Texas A & M College System and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
