County Cotton Allotment at 98,726.3 Acres

Cotton acreage allotted to Hall County is 98,726.3 acres, Lynn L. McKown, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced today.

Approximately 3,000 acres in this county received allotment for 1957, he said. Individual allotments have already been mailed to farmers in order that they may vote in the cotton referendum on Dec. 11, he continued.

The total allotment for the state is 17,585,463 acres. The share of this, the state, is 7,547,503 acres. The 1956 allotment for the state is 17,585,463 acres.

Hall County received allotment for 1957, Donley is 57,263, Briscoe 35,985, and other counties.

He explained that farmers receive their allotment on the basis of 42.3 per cent of farm land, not counting other land.

REVIEW A 50-YEAR FIGHT — Governor Allan Shivers and Dr. Z. T. Scott (right) of Austin review the nation's 50-year fight to control tuberculosis by medical and volunteer forces. Dr. Scott was a founder of the movement in Texas. Occasion was the proclaiming by the governor of "Christmas Seal Days" until December 24. Through the annual sales of the Seals, funds are provided for the year-round efforts to curb tuberculosis.

Local Red Cross Quota $211 For Hungarian Help

H. J. Howell, chairman of the Hall County Chapter of the American Red Cross, issued an appeal this week to area residents for funds to be used in the Hungarian Relief Campaign.

Hall County's quota for this special drive is $211, Howell said. Contributions should be mailed or carried to Howell at J. C. Penny Company, L. C. Martin at the First State Bank or to The Memphis Democrat.

The American National Red Cross has set the immediate fund needs at $5,000,000 to help the Hungarian people, Howell said.

In his recent statement concerning the present Hungarian need, President Eisenhower said: "I urge all Americans generously to support the special Red Cross disaster appeal for $5,000,000 to aid in emergency relief both in Hungary and to Hungarian refugees in Austria."

"The conditions of disaster and privation which require this emergency relief are continuing." (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

1957 COTTON REFERENDUM TO BE HELD TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11

Ground Observer Corps Organization Established Here

The organizational meeting of the Memphis post of the Ground Observer Corps was held Tuesday night in the Sunday School building of the First Methodist Church.

Hubert Dennis was elected supervisor of the post and John M. Wilker, assistant supervisor. Air Force T/Sgt. William E. Swope met with the group and helped them organize. Fire Chief Thomas Clayton also helped the unit get started, Dennis said.

The local unit will be used during times of national emergency to spot airplanes which fly so low that radar can not pick them up, Dennis said. The group may also be called upon to help keep track of tornadoes during extreme weather conditions.

A total of 17 persons signed up at the Tuesday meeting to organize the post, Dennis said. Eleven of this number are members of the local Explorer Scout unit, he added.

The first classes for the group will be held Jan. 10 and will consist of three, two-hour sessions, the supervisor explained.

Members of the post are W. E. Leslie, O. R. Saye, John Walker, Adrian Odum, R. A. Massey, Tommy Brewer, Thomas Clayton, Don Deaver, Tommy Winters, Tommy Tucker, Dick Morgan, George Stanley, Thomas Snowden, Swayne McCauley, Jerry Burnett and Ted Myers.

Anyone interested in helping with the post should contact Hubert Dennis.

Six Communities To Have Boxes

Tuesday, Dec. 11, will be the day when Hall County farmers, and farmers all over the nation, go to the polls and vote in the 1957 cotton referendum, Lynn L. McKown, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office said Wednesday.

Balloting will begin at 8 a. m. and polls will remain open until 7 p. m. on that date, McKown said. Hall County voting boxes will be placed in the six communities at the following places:

Letters To Santa Start Rolling In

Letters to Santa Claus have begun to come in to The Democrat but the publishers want to hear from a lot more boys and girls in the next few days.

The Democrat will begin work on the annual Christmas Edition next week; so, youngsters who wish their messages to jolly Old Santa to be included in that issue, should get busy and send or bring them in without delay.

As always, we will be happy to print them and also to see that Santa Claus hears about them, too.

The Christmas edition will go into the mails Thursday, Dec. 20, and letters should be in The Democrat office by Monday, Dec. 17, in order to be assured of publication.

We certainly hope that none of our little friends are left out because they failed to write to Santa in time.

When you've finished your letters, please put them in envelopes and address them to "Santa Claus," in care of The Democrat. We'll do the rest.

Local Men To Be On Program at Clarendon Meeting

R. D. Jones, John Myers and Kenneth Dale of Memphis will assist with the program when the Baptist Brotherhood of the churches in Hall and Donley counties meet Monday evening, Dec. 10, at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon. The announcement was made early this week by Johnny Leathers, president of the group.

A supper will be served by the host church at 6:45 p. m. and a program will begin in the church auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Harlan Harris, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the speaker. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Deputy Elmer Neel Attending Austin Investigation School

Elmer Neel, deputy sheriff, is in Austin this week attending a Department of Public Safety school on criminal investigation, Sheriff W. P. "Bill" Baten said Tuesday.

The course, designed to help officers become more efficient in investigative techniques, began Dec. 3, and will continue until Dec. 7.

Clifford Farmer Honored at FFA Banquet; Janet Long Named Sweetheart

Clifford Farmer, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, became an Honorary Member of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America at a district banquet held Monday night in Wellington.

Miss Janet Long, Estelline junior, was selected as District FFA Sweetheart. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Long of Parnell. Miss Long was chosen Farm Bureau Queen earlier this fall and appeared on an Amarillo TV station.

Farmer was presented with the honorary membership in recognition of his outstanding service to vocational agriculture and the Future Farmers of America.

Farmer received an Honorary Lone Star Farmer Degree signed by State President Royce Bodford, State Advisor George H. Hurt, and Executive Secretary E. C. Weekley. He also received a plaque making him an Honorary State Farmer.

Several members of the local FFA Chapter were on hand for the banquet and Oscar Maddox of Memphis, vice-president of the group, gave the invocation.

Annual Senior Play To Be Staged Friday Night

On Friday evening, Dec. 7, at 7:30 o'clock, in the high school auditorium, the senior class of Memphis High School will present its annual three-act play, "Time Out for Ginger." It is a timely, witty, nostalgic comedy, written by Ronald Alexander.

Second Merchants Gift Day Program Set For Dec. 12

The second Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development Merchants Gift Day program will be held Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 4 p. m. at the court house square, Dwight Kinard, president of the organization, said this week.

Other programs are also scheduled for Dec. 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21, he said.

Jimmy Dunn To Receive Eagle Scout Award at Wellington

Jimmy Dunn, son of Mrs. Ed Slough, will be awarded the Eagle Scout Award at the Comanche District Court of Honor-Friday night, Dec. 7, at the Wellington High School auditorium at 7 p. m., Ted Myers, scoutmaster, announced this week.

Jimmy is 13 years old and an eighth grade student. He is a member of the Junior High football and basketball teams, and completed his work toward the Eagle rank recently.

Other scouts of Troop 35 who have passed a Board of Review here will be awarded their achievement badges at the Wellington Court of Honor.

They are as follows: Second Class—John Guthrie, John Lavender, Ronnie George, Warren Graham, Buster Owen, Phyllis Duncan and Dale Kilgore.

First Class—Jerry Jeffries, R. E. Spruill, Allyn Harrison, and Dan Goffinett.

Life—Perry Wright, with merit badges in the following: citizenship, community, nature, home repairs, first aid, and fishing; John Guthrie, citizenship in home merit badge; Bob Alewine with gardening, reading, citizenship in ty and personal fitness.

Parents who want to take their cars to Wellington and help carry the scouts are asked to be at the Scout Hall at 6 p. m., Myers said.

There have been 15 scouts from Troop 35 who have earned the Eagle Scout Award during the past 14 years, Myers said. Jimmy will make number 16 and Charles Massey has completed his work and will probably receive his award before the Lions Club, on Dec. 19, Scoutmaster Myers continued. One other scout, Larry Craig, needs only one more merit badge to be eligible for the award and will probably have it completed by February, he said.

Although only a few houses scattered along the banks of Buck Creek in Donley County are left to mark the spot where Giles, Tex., once was, there is a story behind this community, Mrs. Rogers said.

The reader will ride with weather-beaten cowboys after stampeding cattle, dance all night to squeaky fiddle music, and be oared to in the shade of a brush arbor as he goes through the pages of the book.

Copies of "The Giles Chronicle" can be obtained from Mrs. Rogers.

Basketball Teams Win 2, Lose 2 During Week

The Memphis High School girls basketball team tucked two wins to their record Friday and Tuesday nights, while the boys lost both their games, according to announcements this week by Nolan Poteet, coach.

The girls, led by Beverly Crawford, won over Wellington Friday by the close score of 32-30. Then on Tuesday night they walloped the team from Turkey 60-45. The local boys team lost their Friday night's contest to Wellington 55-35. On Tuesday night, they again came out on the short end of the score against Turkey 38-33.

In Friday night's girls tussle with Wellington, Beverly Crawford hit the basket for a total of 20 points. Other scores were tallied by Peggy Shockley, 3; Trilby Townsend, 4; Helen Shackelford, 5. Scoring for Wellington were: Peggy Bounds, 9; Murphy, 8; Tompkins, 8; and Sanders, 5.

Tuesday night, in winning over Turkey, MHS girls made these scores: Crawford, 42; Shockley, 8; Guyvia Cawfield, 4; and Shackelford, 6. Jina Sue Bain led the Turkey team by racking up 25 points. Other scores were made by Chandler, 2; Wilson, 12; Mullin, 2; and Lusk, 4.

Leading for Wellington in the boys game here last Friday night was Raburn with 14 points. Other tallies recorded were: Elbert, 12; Woods, 10; Lee, 9; Lowrie, 4; Daves and Gibson, 2 each; Wilkins and Johnson, 1 each.

Don Townsend made 11 points for Memphis against Wellington followed by Jerry Hickey with 10. Allen Daugherty racked up 8, Dudley Gillespie made 5, and Robert Morris 1.

In the game at Turkey, Ronald Lacy led his teammates with 10 points. Other scores were made by: Winn, 8; Seymour, 6; Garner, 6; Hawkins, Blume, Phillips and Turner, 2 each.

Fall Is Time For Planting Texas Roses

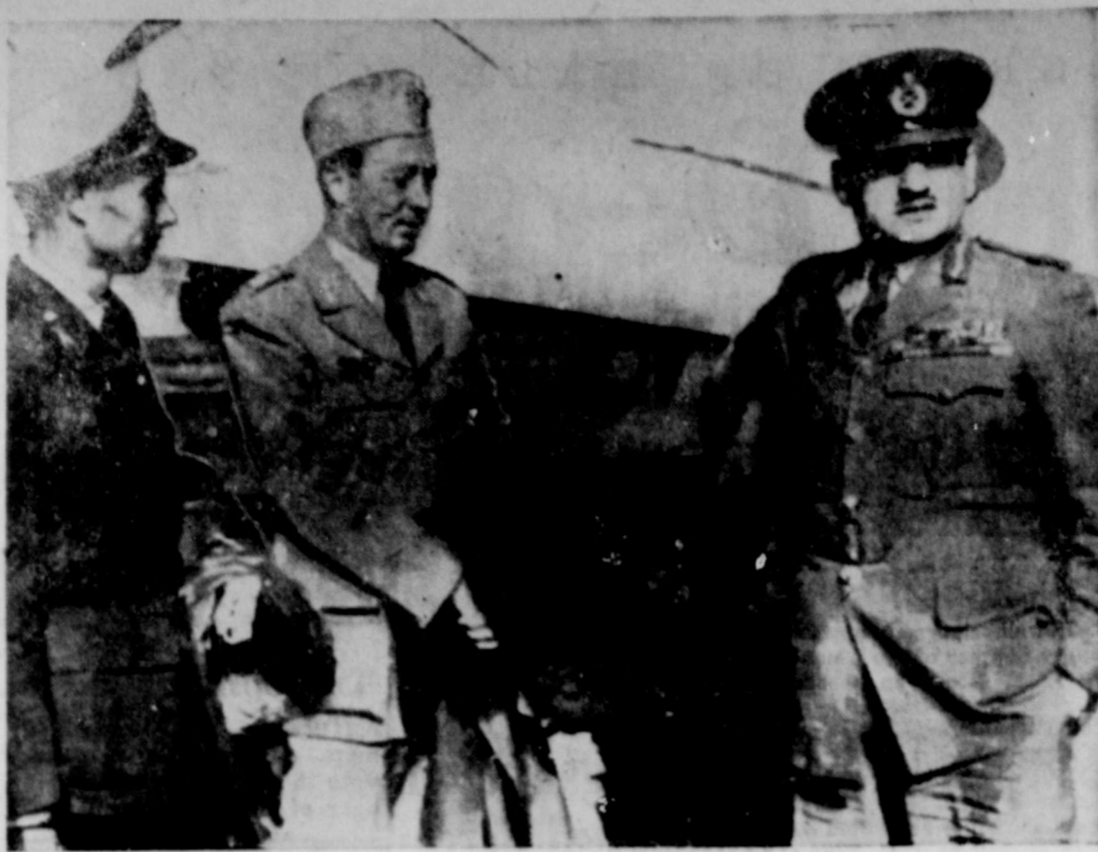

Anyone can grow roses, according to A. F. DeMerth, head, Department of Floriculture, Texas A & M College. They may be planted in the fall or spring. In Texas, fall planting is generally preferred.

Aim for quality and you may also get quantity, he advises. Many gardeners try to grow too many varieties or too many plants. Given careful attention, DeMerth says that 10 well chosen varieties will produce as many flowers and give far more pleasure than 50 poorly-tended plants.

Essentials for success with roses are: proper planting, a sunny location and well-drained soil. Start with No. 1 grade plants, and have the ground ready when the plants arrive. Make sure roots are never exposed to sunlight or drying winds.

Water plants thoroughly. Don't apply fertilizer to newly-planted bushes until the root system is well established, then feed at least twice a season. Never fertilize in late fall. Keep plants free of insects and disease with a regular spraying or dusting schedule.

For details on selection, soil preparation, pruning and care of roses, get a copy of TAP-1—"Roses for Texas"—from your agricultural agent's office.

The Egg Basket
The egg basket is on its way out. The once common sight of the farm boy using "egg wampum" as a means of bartering for groceries and, occasionally, "show money," is on the wane. The agricultural revolution of the last 20 years has taken its toll of this and other farm traditions as farming has become less diversified and more specialized. The common reason is that it simply is not worth the time, labor and feed involved to keep a few hens on the side and bring the fruits of their labors to town on Saturday.

Yet a great many Texas farmers may be missing a bet for supplemental income by overlooking the possibility of using egg production as a "specialized" sideline.

While the old "hen house" with a few old tottering birds is an unlikely profitmaker, modern facilities and improved handling operations can be made to turn in a nice profit. There is always a market for top-quality eggs, and Texas consumes several times more eggs than it produces.

Best way to get into a profitable egg business is to install an assembly line operation, providing for cooling, proper cleaning and regular marketing. Eggs from such a caged layer plant are not only in constant demand, but usually bring a nice premium in the market place.

For a great many of those Texas farmers who have gone out of the broiler business due to low prices, their empty houses might well be put to profitable use in egg production.

As added incentive for premium egg quality, on-the-farm grading and candling are certain to up the profit margin. Accurate grading facilities can be obtained at little cost, and free instruction on grading and candling processes will be given on request for the Texas Department of Agriculture or U. S. D. A. extension workers.

Egg producers who provide for adequate grading and standards now will also be getting in on the ground floor of the proposed Texas law which will make grading mandatory.

Texas is the only state which does not already have such a law, and its inauguration is certain to boost Texas' possibilities as a major egg producer.

Stamp collecting runs a premium on poor printing, since a blot, blur or misprint increases the value of a stamp to collectors.

DECEMBER Is the Month

FOR THE FARMER TO:

1. "Winterize" his machinery and store it properly until use next spring.
2. Use fallen leaves and other waste plant materials to form humus and fertilizer for next spring's garden.
3. Vaccinate cattle for Bang's disease.

For the Farm Homemaker to:

1. Be sure garden tools are not left to rust and deteriorate during the winter—a little oil applied to moving parts can save time and money.
2. Be sure the family's diet contains plenty of vitamin C and calcium—surveys show these are likely weak spots.
3. Remodel work space so that next year's canning and freezing operations will be easier.

The 1956 crop of Sudan grass seed is now forecast by the Crop Reporting Board at 50,715,000 pounds of clean seed. Although this is 43 per cent below last year's record crop, it is about a third larger than average. The sharpest decreases in production are showing up in Oklahoma and New Mexico.

HOLD WATER IS ADVICE

Normally, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist, enough rain falls on Texas to cover the state to a depth of 30 inches with water. Unfortunately, he adds, only about 14 per cent of this 30 inches is utilized, the other 86 per cent is lost to evaporation or runoff. Hold water where it falls for maximum benefit, he says.

Naval Reserve Opens Drive For Active Members

The Organized Mobilization which meets at the Naval Reserve Training Center, 2309 Line Ave., Amarillo, each Thursday night at 7:30 p. m., has started a recruiting drive, according to a recent announcement.

Any Volunteer Naval Reservists not associated with any other type unit are eligible to become members of the unit. Officers with line, medical, dental or supply designators, and enlisted personnel in the administrative and clerical, hospital corps, dental technician or boatswain's mate and many other enlisted ratings are wanted and are eligible for the program. Women reservists who fulfill the requirements may also join the mobilization team unit.

Those enrolling in the program will be allowed 48 paid drills per year and 14 days active duty for training purposes.

This activity will perform a crucial function in case of national emergency, the mobilization of inactive Naval personnel throughout the area. The program has been set up with the purpose of organizing on a permanent drill-pay basis a force of qualified officers and enlisted personnel trained in basic mobilization procedures, who will be immediately available to staff mobilization stations and effect speedy and efficient mobilization when and if the necessity should arise.

Texas University Receives $15,000 For Research

Lower prices for a variety of products, ranging from plastics to perfumes and dyes, may result from research being conducted by Dr. Philip S. Bailey, University of Texas associate chemistry professor.

The National Science Foundation has provided $15,000 to support Dr. Bailey's research on the ozonolysis reaction. The chemical reaction is a means of preparing aldehydes, ketones and organic acids by a reaction of certain hydrocarbons and their derivatives with ozone. Those products, in turn, have countless industrial uses, including the manufacture of plastics.

The reaction, though known for 100 years, only recently has gained the interest of industry. New equipment has reduced the cost of ozone used in the reaction and research studies have increased the yields of the final products.

Many industrial laboratories are engaged in applied research on the reaction, but much remains to be solved on the theoretical side, Dr. Bailey said. The University of Texas laboratory is the only academic group in the U. S. engaged in full-time research on the reaction.

"By a greater knowledge of the theory of the reaction, a higher yield of useful products can be obtained," Dr. Bailey said. "The reaction has not yet become important to industry, but I feel it will not be too many years before it is widely used."

Agriculture Dept To Sell Xmas Trees

The Memphis vocational agricultural department is selling Christmas trees this year, according to an announcement this week by Hershel Potts, advisor.

DO-IT-YOURSELF: GET THREE MEALS FROM ONE ECONOMY BEEF POT ROAST

If your family likes beef—and who doesn't—they will love this new design for living. Simply buy a full 6th and 7th rib pot roast, divide it, before cooking, into the several cuts illustrated above and prepare each in your family's favorite way. (1) Have your butcher saw through the rib bones above the eye of fat. Hold firmly to both ends to separate the rib-eye from the outside section. Cut rib bones free and trim lean meat off. Remove thin blade cartilage and backbone. (2) Then roll outside section, fat side out, into a pot roast and skewer or tie. Cook over low temperature with moisture for best results. (3) Slice the rib-eye into 1½ to 2-inch "country club" steaks which are tender enough to broil or, if preferred, swiss. Use bones for stock and lean meat for stew. Wrap or cover the steaks loosely if they are to be used within a few days; freeze them if longer storage is desired. At-home fabrication saves time and money, says the Texas Beef Council. It provides three or four distinctively different dinners

Whooping Crane Jumps for Joy After Safe Flight

A Whooping Crane dance of joy at surviving the long, hazardous flight from the far northland was described by Joshua J. Harman, assistant manager of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge recently.

Harman was checking in the majestic birds down on their Texas coast wintering grounds. Noticing the arrival of Number 21 of the apparent 28 whoopers alive, Harman wrote: "One of the whoopers began to bow and pick up things to offer the other bird. It began to pivot and whirl and then to leap into the air. (Mature whoopers are over four feet tall and have seven-foot wing spread.) In all, it made six to eight of these spectacular leaps. The other bird was not much interested and did very little bowing, and leaped only once. After this exhibition, the birds walked across the pond to where 23 sandhill cranes were standing, whereupon one of the sandhills did a short dance."

Harman surmised that any migrating bird would ignore its exhaustion and dance after getting by the countless hunters' guns lining the tortuous flyway.

Beef Animals Need Plenty of Room To Stay Healthy

By providing young beef animals with plenty of room, much of the risk of coccidiosis troubles in the herd can be avoided, the American Foundation for Animal Health said this week.

"Crowding the animals into small lots or pastures increases the contamination of the ground and the disease may quickly spread through all animals," Foundation spokesman warned. "Calves have much less coccidiosis infection when on the range where they have plenty of room."

Coccidiosis is caused by a tiny parasite similar to the one which infects chickens. But, the Foundation hastens to point out that the condition cannot be transmitted from cattle to chickens, nor can cattle get the disease from chickens.

Early signs of coccidiosis are weakness, bloody droppings, anemia, and loss of weight. Young animals, coming down with the disease, may also show a rough hair coat, droopy ears and sunken eyes.

Frequent cleaning of feedlots will help avoid coccidiosis trouble. Feed and water containers should be elevated to help avoid contamination, as the disease is usually spread by dirty feed and water.

Game Violations Cost Plenty

Helpful hints about how not to hunt are contained in the monthly arrest report for the Game and Fish Commission.

The director of law enforcement, E. M. Spratt, listed some of the more common infractions of the sportsmen's code as: no hunting license, 50 cases; taking game in closed season, 84 cases; hunting from car, 33 cases; shooting from public road, 7 cases; exceeding bag limit, 16 cases; shooting before or after legal hours, 21 cases.

These infractions occurred before the main waterfowl and big game seasons began, the director pointed out. He cited the following catalogued offenders as now having gained knowledge of how not to hunt. Two Odessa men paid $200 in fines plus costs for headlighting deer; and two Lone Star men paid $400 in fines plus costs for hunting deer with dogs and for possessing a deer carcass before the legal season opened.

HOW A TRUCK DRIVER BECOMES A HOBBS KNIGHT OF THE ROAD—More than 200 Texas truck drivers have been honored in the past two years by a state-wide program designed to recognize doers of good deeds on Texas highways, whether it be heroic action during a crisis or simple acts of consideration and courtesy.

Examples of these acts are giving first aid at highway accidents, clearing wreckage on the highway and directing congested traffic; helpful assistance to stranded motorists; heroic acts ranging from saving motorists caught in flash floods to rescuing a small child who wanders out into heavy traffic; highway courtesy such as pulling off the highway to let faster vehicles pass on a hill or in heavy traffic. The Hobbs Knight of the Road program is co-sponsored by Hobbs Trailers, the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety's license and weight division.

Local Postmaster Gives Xmas Mailing Tips

Postmaster J. H. Vallance said this week that while the post office still has a tremendous job ahead of it, efforts are being redoubled to deliver all mail on time and in good condition by Christmas Eve.

He points out that by taking a little extra care with Christmas mailings now, patrons will avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time.

He requested special cooperation to be sure that return addresses and the recipient's address are plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards.

"Use zone numbers, and it's a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages," he stated. "Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the post office to buy stamps."

The postmaster urged the use of three-cent postage on Christmas cards.

"This way," he said, "they will be delivered faster, and, more important, they will be forwarded or returned if necessary. This will also enable persons to include a handwritten message, thus making the greetings more personal. By including your name and address on each Christmas card envelope, both you and your friends can keep your mailing lists up-to-date."

The postmaster urged everyone to mail all out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately, and not later than Dec. 10. Christmas mail for local addresses should be started on its way at least a week before Christmas.

Grandson of Mrs. Oren Jones Gets DAR Award

Rob Lee Roark of Fort Worth, 21-year-old Marine Reserve sergeant, will receive the annual Daughters of the American Revolution platoon leaders class leadership award in ceremonies in Washington Friday, Pearl Harbor Day.

Roark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Roark of Fort Worth, and the grandson of Mrs. Oren Jones of Memphis. He is a nephew of Mrs. Boyd Rogers and Mrs. Frank Foxhall.

Roark's over-all grade average during two summers of Marine training is greater than that of any other Marine student in the country. He is being honored for his record in the senior platoon class at the Marine base at Quantico, Va. He ranked first in a class of 627.

Roark, now a senior in engineering at Colorado School of Mines, joined the Marine Reserve two years ago. He has lived in Fort Worth since he was an infant, graduating in 1952 from Arlington Heights High School.

Mrs. Frederic A. Groves of Cape Girardeau, Mo., president general of the DAR, will present Roark with an inscribed military wrist watch.

Marine Corps Commandant Gen. Randolph C. Mac Pate and Mrs. Pate will give a reception for Roark, his parents who plan to fly to Washington for the ceremony, and members of the DAR present for the ceremony.

The ceremony will include a musical program by the Marine Corps drum and bugle corps and the Marine band and a review by four Marine platoons at the Marine barracks.

Hunting, Fishing Big Business

Last year, 1955, about 25,000,000 American sportsmen fished and hunted and spent a healthy $3 billion in connection with their activities. Ed Cooper, extension specialist in wildlife conservation, says these figures are proof of the importance of fish and wildlife to the general welfare of the country.

In Texas last year, he says, the Game and Fish Commission reported that 1,625,000 Texans either hunted or fished or did both. The state's sportsmen spent $165,054,000 for equipment and all of the other things which go with hunting and fishing. Cooper said the average fisherman includes all fishermen over 12 years of age, spent almost $70 each while the average Texas hunter spent slightly over $59 in pursuit of their favorite game.

For the nation, the fishermen spent about $92 each. They devoted 19 days of their annual leisure time, at an average cost of about $5 a day, to the sport of fishing. Americans last year spent for fishing more than was expended on any of the following items: dental care, medical care and hospitalization insurance, personal legal service, higher education or even on funeral and burial expenses. But, comments Cooper, hunting and fishing are both mighty fine recreational activities. A few days spent in the woods or at a lake or beside a favorite stream or on the salt water can do things for sagging spirits or jangled nerves. He strongly recommends regular hunting and fishing outings.

In order to improve hunting and fishing in Texas, the specialist suggests to landowners that they join with their neighbors in wildlife conservation associations so their lands can be made more

Cattle Grubs Eat Up Livestock Profits Fast

Texas livestock producers can increase their income by several millions of dollars each year by controlling heel flies and their larva, the cattle grub. The real profit grabber is the larva which is now appearing as a lump under the hide in the backs of dairy and beef cattle.

The yearly loss, says C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist, comes from damaged hides, lowered meat quality and reduced milk production. The grubs are readily killed in the fall when they are emerging from the backs of cattle, and the recommended insecticide is rotenone.

Garner recommends 7 1/2 pounds of derris or cube powder containing 5 per cent rotenone in 100 gallons of water for sprayer use. A spray machine capable of producing 200 pounds pressure should be used.

For a dip, Garner says, add 10 pounds of wettable sulphur to the above formula. As the cattle go through the dipping vat, scrubbing their backs with a stiff, long-handled brush will insure a better kill of the grubs by knocking off scabs and permitting the insecticide to penetrate into the animal's skin.

A dust can be compounded from one pound of derris or cube powder containing five per cent rotenone and two pounds of a heavy non-alkaline dust such as talc, tri-pollitic earth or prophyllite. Ready prepared dusts should contain at least 1.67 per cent rotenone. Work about three ounces of the dust into the back of each animal.

The treatment, whether in the form of dust, spray or dip, should continue at 30-day intervals as long as the grubs continue to appear in the animal's back. Incidentally, says Garner, rotenone is also effective against lice and these troublesome parasites may also be controlled especially if application is made by spraying or dipping. Make the first application as soon as grubs begin to appear in numbers, says Garner.

productive. Wildlife conservation must be carried out on an area basis for best results; hence, the need for cooperative action.

Rains Show Value Of Ground Cover

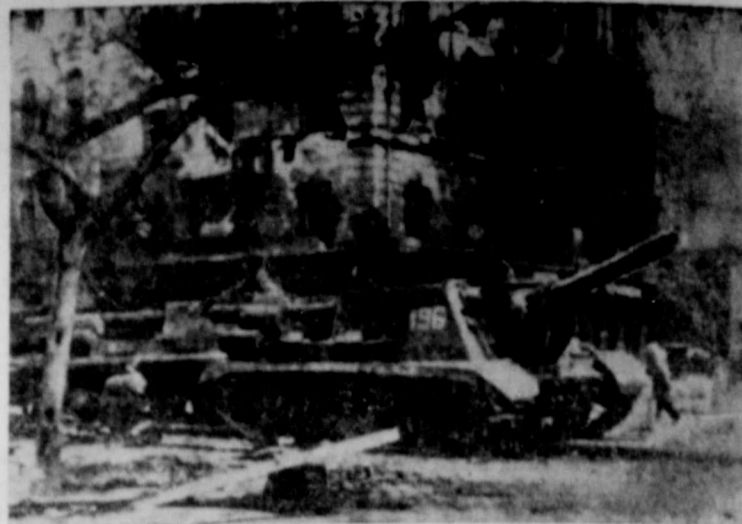

The depth to which recent rains penetrated into the dry rangeland of the state depended to a large measure upon the amount of cover on the ground. G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist at Texas A & M College, says a check made in West Texas after a slow five-inch rain showed that moisture penetrated only five inches deep on bare soil. On a nearby grassed area, which had been grazed rather short, the moisture penetrated to a depth of 15 inches.

Normally, he says, enough rain falls in Texas to cover the state to a depth of 30 inches with water. Unfortunately, he adds, only about 14 per cent of this 30 inches is utilized, the other 86 per cent is lost to runoff or evaporation. For most effective use, Hoffman emphasizes that the water must be held on the ground where it falls for a considerable period of time.

Recently made observations showed that pits on hard bare soil materially increased the amount of water stored in the soil; that net wire terraces held up lots of water and greener grass showed along these terraces; that fallen trees and brush also effectively slowed runoff and held enough moisture to germinate and start growth of native grasses and that this brush on the ground protected young seedlings, permitting them to become better established. Areas on which brush was controlled had four times more water available for grass growth than did areas still covered by brush, said Hoffman.

The specialist believes that a ton of plant material left on the ground per acre will materially retard runoff and increase water penetration. Too, he says, a ground cover in the summer holds down both evaporation and soil temperatures. Last summer temperatures were checked on grassed and bare soil areas. The difference was 40 degrees—cooler, that is, under the grass cover.

Hoffman recommends deferred rotation grazing, brush control, reseeding, good soil and water conservation and proper stocking

The decoration motif was the traditional Thespian blue and gold colors, and the tragedy and comedy masks. The punch table was centered with a bouquet of gold mums and blue carnations. The ceremonial table featured gold and blue candles used in the ceremony. Punch and "T" shaped cookies were enjoyed during the prom.

Homecoming At Estelline Set For December 23

Plans for the annual Homecoming for Estelline Public School were completed this week, according to an announcement by Clinton Richburg, president of the organization.

The event will be held at the Estelline High School on Sunday, Dec. 23. Registration will be held from 8:30 until 10 that morning with the first general session scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock in the auditorium.

Clinton Richburg will act as chairman of the first session and A. D. Britt, Jr. will give the invocation. The welcome address will be delivered by W. M. Roberts. The high school chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Raleigh Adams, will sing two selections. The address will be given by Leon Barham, minister of the Church of Christ at Quitaque, and Quinton Adams will give the benediction.

Lunch and visiting is scheduled from 11:30 a. m. until 2 p. m. The mothers of the 1957 senior class will have charge of the meal, which will be served in the cafeteria, Richburg said.

The second general session will be held in the high school auditorium from 2 until 3:30 p. m. Classes of 1915 through 1917 and all ex-teachers will be honored, he said. All other classes will be presented and the business session will be conducted.

Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Jr., will have charge of the Memorial Service and Arthur Eddleman will ask the benediction.

gency relief have been accurately described from day to day publicly by our news reporting media. Amidst all their trials the courage of the Hungarian people has been an inspiration to all freedom-loving peoples the world over.

"By contributing to the Red Cross emergency campaign each of us individually can express our sympathy and admiration of the brave Hungarian people."

Howell stated that funds from America were being sent on a day-by-day basis—as they are collected during the emergency drive. For this reason, he urged all persons who wished to make contributions, to do so without delay.

"In this special Hungarian Relief Fund Drive, no solicitors will canvass the area," the chairman explained. "We will depend on voluntary contributions, and send in that amount of money which our citizens wish to give."

Four Residents Attend Teachers State Convention

Supt. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, Miss Mary Foreman, and Miss Ethel Hillhouse attended the Texas State Teachers Association Convention held Nov. 29-Dec. 1 in the Sam Houston Coliseum and Exposition Hall in Houston.

First on the agenda for those present was a Vesper Service, Nov. 29, at 4 p. m., in the Music Hall of the Coliseum. This consisted mainly of music by various choirs and an address by Dr. R. J. Robinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Augusta, Georgia.

On the same day at 7:30 p. m., the first general session was conducted. The second and third general sessions were also held in the Coliseum during the next day.

Principal speakers for the sessions were: U. S. Senator Price Daniel, governor-elect of Texas; Edna McGuire Boyd, author and educator; Dr. Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, who spoke on "Building a Profession for Teachers"; Dr. Andrew Holt, vice president of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, whose topic was "How to Be a Cobalt Bomb"; Billie Davis, "I Believe in Our Schools."

Also, at various times between meetings, section assemblies were held at several places under the auspices of chairmen. Some of the subjects discussed were: arithmetic, audio-visual education, and English.

Supt. Davis, who is a delegate from District No. 8, attended the business meeting of the House of Delegates held on Saturday in the Coliseum. It was in this meeting that elections were held for officers of the association, and all other business was completed.

As an added attraction during the convention, the very large Houston parade was held. This featured, mainly, huge Walt Disney balloon figures which were rolled down the streets on wheels.

FREE-WHEELING SWITCHERS

Speedy switching operations, and easier, faster handling of freight is the result of the development of a free-wheeling, diesel-burning railroad switch engine. While conventional switchers must follow rails in moving from job to job, the "SwitchMobile," which runs on tires nearly as tall as a man, can take the shortest route across the yard without damaging railroad equipment. The new 18-ton rail car switcher can haul as many as eight loaded freight cars and do the work of an ordinary 50-ton switching locomotive.

Two Fires Inflict Damages Totaling $3,150 on House, Barn Last Week

Memphis firemen answered two calls last week which resulted in total losses of $3,150.

The first fire was at the home of T. C. Stevens, 1405 Weldon Street, and was discovered about 7:40 p. m. last Tuesday night. Stevens was in bed sick at the time the fire was discovered. His son and family, Donald, Nelda Fay and child, were staying with him that evening. Donald heard a roaring which sounded like fire but could not smell smoke, Mrs. Stevens said. Donald then ran outside and saw smoke coming out from between the shingles.

They called the fire department and soon the fire was under control.

The fire started in the bathroom wall and burned up into the ceiling and attic, Mrs. Stevens reported. Very little damage was inflicted on household goods but approximately $1,350 will be required to repair the house.

The other fire occurred Wednesday evening about dark, and completely destroyed a barn located on Bradford Street at the east edge of town. Mrs. Vesta Jeffries, owner of the structure, estimated the loss at $1800. The barn was about one-fourth full of hay belonging to Jim Franks at the time of the fire.

A neighbor saw the blaze and reported it to the fire department. By the time they arrived the entire structure was on fire and could not be saved. Jimmie Jeffries reported that some lumber stacked at the back of the barn was also destroyed.

Both fires were of undetermined origin.

Lakeview Teams Split Games With Quail Tues.

The Lakeview girls basketball team won its toughest game of the season Tuesday night, 39-36, in a tight defensive battle with Quail, while the boys team dropped their game 49-26.

The undefeated Lakeview girls team, riding on the crest of a seven-game winning streak, was extended for the first time in downing the veteran Quail squad in a game which featured outstanding play on the part of the guards of both squads.

Shirley Ariola, Brenda Brister and Patsy Neighbors handled the guarding chores for Lakeview while Laverne Sams, Rita Durrett and Martha Reed filled the forward positions.

In the rugged boys game both teams displayed a lot of hustle and spirit. The Lakeview boys, coached by Owen Robinson, have been hampered by inexperience and reserve strength but are showing steady improvement with each game played.

Young Airman Writes— LETTER TO SANTA

First letter to Santa Claus was received this week by the publishers of The Democrat. It was postmarked at Denver, Colo., and the writer did not sign his name.

Dear Santa:
I am a young airman, ?? years of age and have been in the Air Force for several months.

I would like for you to bring to me for Christmas a little thing called "World Peace." I'm sure, Santa, that if you brought that to me for Christmas I would be one of the happiest little boys in the world; and I'm sure that most of the people of Memphis would be satisfied for that one thing for Christmas.

I think, Santa, if the people of the U. S. would spend Christmas in prayer and praise God, we might receive this thing that I have asked for. So, don't forget, Santa, this is the one thing that would please me and "The People of the World" the most.

Thank you, Santa, and I hope to see you Christmas.
Sincerely,
A Young Airman
U. S. A. F.

Series E Savings Bonds During Oct.

October of this year, increased their purchase of Series E Savings Bonds, Mayor Helm, chairman of Hall Savings Bond committee, this week. Sales of the E bond increased 3.4 per cent the same month in 1955. Sales of Savings Bonds first ten months of this Hall County amounted to $1,000,000 while sales in Texas $1,000,000 for the same Chairman Helm continued.

"Our quota for this year is $260,000 for this county," he said. October sales amounted to $16,535. "During this season of giving, I would suggest a gift which keeps on giving—United States Savings Bonds. You can make gifts of Series E Savings Bonds with absolute assurance that they will continue to appreciate in value for a period of up to 19 years and 8 months, when they will be worth 80 per cent more than you paid for them. Meanwhile, they have a cash-in value of cost, plus accrued interest, at any time after the first 60 days," Mayor Helm advised.

TCU Designated As Center For Teacher Tests

Texas Christian University has been designated as a testing center for the nationwide administration of the National Teacher Examinations to be held in February.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers who plan to apply for positions in school systems which require or encourage these tests will be eligible, according to Dean Otto R. Neilson of the TCU School of Education. Approximately 10,000 teaching candidates throughout the country will take the tests on Feb. 9. During the one-day period, they will take the "Common Examination" which includes tests in professional information, general culture, English expression and non-verbal reasoning.

In addition, the candidates may take one or two of the "Optional Examinations" which are designed to show mastery in a chosen field.

Applications and a bulletin on the examinations may be obtained from Prof. Oscar S. Causey, School of Education, TCU. Those planning to take the tests should secure full information as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller and daughter, Linda, of Lubbock visited in the A. J. Fowler home from Friday until Sunday. Also visiting Saturday in the Fowler home were Mr. and Mrs. J. Leon Fowler and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Osdon of McKinney.

Christmas Seals Help Fight TB

Governor Allan Shivers this week reminded Texans that they are still being victimized by tuberculosis.

In a proclamation marking the period until December 24 as "Christmas Seal Days," the governor noted that "Tuberculosis as a killer is being curtailed by modern treatment. But tuberculosis is a communicable, widely prevalent, expensive and long-lasting disease is still very much with us."

"In Texas, the number of active cases is conservatively reckoned at 22,000. For every death, doctors estimate nine other people have been infected. Yet it is a preventable disease which can be eradicated."

The proclamation further states "The traditional Christmas Seal is the one annual appeal of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations, for funds to make possible their year-round efforts to curb this needless waste of human life and resources . . . I . . . urge all Texans to make a sound investment in health and happiness by buying and using Christmas Seals."

Dr. Z. T. Scott of Austin, on the occasion of the proclamation-signing, reviewed for the governor the advances made in controlling TB in the past half-century. Dr. Scott was a founder of the voluntary TB-control movement in Texas, one of a small group who formed the first voluntary health association in the state. It was originally called the Texas Anti-Tuberculosis Association, later became the Texas Tuberculosis Association.

Mrs. Robert Spicer Hostess to Members Of Pathfinders'

The Pathfinders' Council enjoyed its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Spicer on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 27. The program "Home and Church" centered around the statement of Frank Knox: "In this time of American crisis, the battle to make America strong must be fought in the home."

After the invocation given by Mrs. W. F. Ritchie and the roll call "Counting our Blessings," Mrs. J. J. McDaniel introduced the program. Mrs. A. Gidden read "The Model Church" by John Yates. Mrs. A. O. Gidden played a piano group: "My God and I," "Thank God, We'll Never Sin Again," and "There'll Be No Sorrow There." Mrs. Ernest Lee discussed "God and Your Child," in which she mentioned the fact that America is witnessing a great revival in religious interest, particularly among the young people.

She quoted noted scientists who believe that science and religion are working more closely today than ever before. She emphasized that the four most important ingredients of religion are: the child, his parents, his teachers, and materials. She quoted Dr. Robert McCracken of Riverside Church of New York City as saying that he believes more and more firmly in the personal example of adults as a guiding power in the religious growth of children.

During the business meeting a contribution to the Christmas Stocking Fund was made. This money will go to the learning of specific trades for Boys Ranch.

Thanksgiving Program Is Presented At Memphis High School November 28

A most interesting program was presented by the Student Council and student body members of the various Memphis churches, Nov. 28, in the High School Auditorium.

An impressive decoration adorning the stage was a stairway showing the program theme. On the first step was a sign saying "Life," and directly above on the next step was a loaf of bread and an open Bible. The next step held a sign saying "Liberty." Above that was the mythical horn of plenty with various fruits spilling out. The last sign was "The Pursuit of Happiness," and on the last step was a church.

The program was opened by Lola Robertson, mistress of ceremonies, with the question, "If the mythical horn of plenty flowed out to you, what would you ask for?" and the answer, "Wouldn't it be Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness?"

During the program, the student body and those on stage joined in two songs, "He Keeps Me Singing" and "Count Your Blessings," led by Pat Moore and accompanied by Brenda Duncan.

David Davis gave the opening prayer, and the scripture lessons John 6:30-36 and Psalms: 100 were read by Roger Crooks.

Then Miss Robertson introduced the speakers who chose for their topics, "Gifts From the Horn." Linda Leslie spoke on "The Bible is the Bread of Life." Jimmy Sexton chose to give his interpretation of "Liberty." In connection with Liberty is Patriotism. There Kay Ferrel gave the very timely poem entitled "Toast to the Flag." A very fine explanation of "The Pursuit of Happiness" was Bobbie Lemons' contribution.

Also a quartet composed of Barbara Allen, Mary Crawford, Jimmy Jeffries, and Duane Ellerd sang, "Fairest Lord Jesus." As a very impressive closing number, the auditorium was darkened with the exception of footlights, and George Archer sang from off stage the beautiful religious song, "It is No Secret."

Mr. and Mrs. John McMickin had as holiday visitors Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown and Lue Layne of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Cromartie of Brownwood and Mrs. Addison of Quanah. Mrs. Brown is a daughter of the McMickins and Mrs. Cromartie is their granddaughter.

MEMPHIS, TEXAS

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

Congress Under Pressure
On the 3rd of January, 1957, the 85th session of the Congress of the United States of America will convene. Political writers and experts in the East are predicting that, immediately after Congress convenes, the pressure will be on for the early passage of a legislative program that can be used as a base platform for the much advertised new Republicanism. It seems to be the opinion of the political experts that a speedy and all-out attack will be necessary to force the program through; that if the program is not passed in the first two years of the President's term, much of it will be doomed. The interesting and somewhat amusing feature is the nature of the program predicted by these political fortune tellers. It could easily be mistaken for the Roosevelt-Truman programs that were such hot issues for many years. For instance, the legislative "musts" program will include such items as (1) Civil Rights legislation. (2) A federal health insurance program. (3) Amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act. (4) Federal aid to education. (5) Expansion of Fair Labor Standards Act to include many more workers under minimum wage and maximum hour provisions. (6) Expansion of the social security system. (7) Foreign aid. Expansion of economic aid to underdeveloped countries. (8) Channeling of government contracts to thickly populated areas to avoid unemployment. (This means the additional expense to the taxpayer, because the determining factor is not the cost of the goods to be purchased but the economic situation in a particular area. This, of course, reduces the chance for industrial expansion of those sections of the country not presently industrialized.) (9) Liberalization of immigration laws. (There has long been a major effort to shift unused quotas from such countries as England, Sweden, etc., to other countries that have many people wanting to migrate to this country.) (10) Increased military spending. (11) Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, and voting rights for the District of Columbia. (12) Increased aid for hospital construction.

The failure of Roosevelt and Truman to obtain passage of much of this legislation was due to strong opposition from those who were violently opposed to the centralization of our government and a concentration of power in the hands of a few individuals in Washington. If the predictions of these political prognosticators are even partially correct, it would appear that the sessions of the 85th Congress will be most interesting.

Two items that are noticeable because of their absence in the list of political predictions, are small business legislation and legislation concerning the farmer and rancher. When these two items are mentioned, they usually appear at the bottom of the list and seem to be somewhat of a second thought. The disregard of these two items by many of the writers causes me concern for two reasons. In the first place, these two segments of our economy are in deep trouble and must have some assistance. In the second place, Eisenhower has mentioned both of these items several times as being of concern to him. The failure of the writers to treat these two matters as serious makes me wonder if they know something that the rest of the country has not been told.

America on Wheels
The hearings that have been held by the Committee on Traffic Safety, of which I am a Member, have certainly proven that America is truly a "nation on wheels." Everyone in this country seems to be going somewhere or coming back. I guess all Americans have a certain amount of gypsy blood. Several years after World War I, I had occasion to visit with a German Army officer who had come to this country to live. He defined an American as "a person who, regardless of where he was, wanted to go some other place, and when he arrived there he wished that he had stayed where he was at the beginning." In other words, he felt that Americans wanted to go some place just for the sake of going. This is certainly true in my household. Mrs. Rogers and I wanted to go to a football game the other day and our two youngest insisted that they go too, although they had no idea of where they were going. To save controversy, we took them. When the game was about one-fourth through, the little girl got my attention and asked the following question: "Is this baseball or football can I have another cup of hot chocolate?"

Billy Salmon of Hereford was a business visitor in Memphis Friday.

POPULI VOX DIE

The cry of the vast majority of religious communities today, its translation into English is: "The people is the voice of God." "Vox Populi Vox Dei" was the slogan of the Roman Senate when pagan Rome was the power of the world. This is completely a false slogan. The wise writer of old spoke, "There is a way that seems right unto man; but the end thereof are the ways of death." (Prov. 14:12) Some religious groups parade before the glib public their vast number of converts saying this great number of people couldn't be wrong. In the case of God would be a respecter of numbers. The security and security of a teaching would depend upon the number of people practicing it, but God is no respecter of persons (Acts 10:34). Whether there be a large group, or one individual following truth, truth is yet the same. The only ones acceptable unto God are those who love Him and work righteousness (Acts 10:35). The teaching of this theory those who fear God and work righteousness are usually in the minority. It was in the days of Noah. Had the voice of the people been the voice of God then, Noah and his family would have been destroyed and the rest of the world delivered. It was in the days of Lot and the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. The four righteous were delivered from the cities and the majority were lost. From these examples and many others in the scriptures we learn there is no number. Christ taught that the way to heaven is narrow (Matt. 7:13-14) and that the way of destruction is broad (Matt. 7:13-14). In order to obtain salvation we must do the will of God in the way he commanded them regarding the approbation or condemnation of other beings.

Texas State Fair Holds Position As Nation's Largest

The State Fair of Texas embellished its recognized position as the largest annual fair in America by running up a record-breaking 2,672,253 attendance for the 16 days of the 1956 exposition.

The gigantic total exceeded by 60,982 the national attendance record of 2,611,271, established by the fair last year in 16 days and 17 nights, one more evening than the 1956 fair included.

Another record was also set by the fair. Total proceeds of the important Junior Livestock and Poultry Auction Sales were the highest in history.

A total of $208,221.56 will go to the boys and girls from all over Texas who sold their steers, lambs, pigs, turkeys and broilers during the fair's auction sales. This is $35,558 more than the 1955 total of $172,663.

Only on two days of the 1956 fair, Oct. 15 and 16, did attendance fail to top attendance for the corresponding days last year.

On Saturday, Oct. 13, the 1956 fair also established a new world's record for a single day's attendance at any annual fair. Attendance on that one day was 325,741.

Only once in the ten years the fair has been in operation since World War II has the total attendance failed to exceed that of the year before. That was in 1953, when attendance lagged slightly behind 1952.

Each year the fair has set a new national attendance record and holds firmly to its No. 1 rank as the largest annual exposition in the U. S. in terms of attendance.

The State Fair crept a bit closer this year to the attendance of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, Canada, generally regarded as the world's largest. The Canadian fair's attendance this year was announced as 2,832,000.

V. L. Hawthorne Participates in Army Maneuvers

Specialist Second Class Vernon L. Hawthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hawthorne of Memphis, is participating in "Red Arrow," an Army maneuver with the 18th Infantry Regiment at Fort Riley, Kan.

Hawthorne, a cook in the regiment's Company L, entered the Army in 1949 and completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Research and practical on-the-ranch use of chemicals for controlling mesquite, post and black-jack oaks have proved the value of this practice.

Post Office Helps USDA Conduct Livestock Survey

Nearly 40,000 cards will be left at random in rural mail boxes throughout the state soon.

When filled out by farmers and ranchers and returned, these cards will help V. C. Childs, Texas Statistician, Agricultural Marketing Service, determine how many livestock are on Texas farms and ranches.

Childs lauded the U. S. Post Office and rural mail carriers for their cooperation in making this annual survey.

"With this help, we're able to get an accurate picture of our state livestock holdings," Childs said.

Every farmer or rancher who gets a card is urged to fill it out as accurately as possible and return it promptly.

"The more reports we get, the more reliable our estimates will be," Childs pointed out.

This survey is the basis for the state and national inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. It includes cattle, calves, milk cows, hogs, sheep, goats, horses, mules, chickens and turkeys.

Also, the survey provides the basic data for the estimates of pigs and sows farrowed during the June-December period and intentions to breed for January-June farrowings in 1957.

TAX TIPS

The Internal Revenue Service is diligently looking for 3,000 North Texans who have tax refund checks awaiting them.

The Dallas office has an employee who spends full time finding taxpayers due a refund check. A very large part of the taxpayers due a refund check have moved and failed to give Internal Revenue a forwarding address.

In quite a few cases, the taxpayers forgot to put their address on their tax return.

The checks ranged in size from a few dollars to some amounting to several thousand dollars.

A Dallas newspaper recently printed the names of 600 Dallas taxpayers and their addresses, who were due refund checks. Within three days, 400 of these taxpayers had claimed their checks. Others are claiming their checks daily.

Hall County taxpayers who are due a refund check should send their correct name and address to Miss Ronnie Reed, Claims Examiner, District Director of Internal Revenue, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas. Miss Reed is as glad to hear from the taxpayers who have refund checks in her file as the taxpayers are glad to get the checks.

A few taxpayers have been notified that their returns are being audited before their refund can be made. These taxpayers will be individually advised, concerning refunds due them. They should not contact Miss Reed.

Nothing complements a cotton dress in the summertime like a pair of sparkling white gloves. White cotton gloves will stay cleaner for a longer period of time if dipped in a thin solution of starch before they are hung up to dry.

Good temporary summer pastures just don't happen. They must be planned well in advance and the same care given to seed bed preparation, planting adapted grasses and fertilization as is used in connection with other cash crops.

Winter Hazards

When temperatures drop, all types of heating equipment are brought into use on the farm. With their use, the chances for farm fires go up. W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, says defective chimneys, carelessness with combustible materials or the misuse of petroleum products rank high as causes of farm fires. He suggests that needed repairs and replacements be made now before the winter season.

Wall Street in New York was so named because it follows the line of the palisaded wall or stockade built in 1652 across the southern end of Manhattan Island.

THE LAW

Persons feel that the "aforesaid," and verbiage used by lawyers is intended only to confuse and the layman.

It could be further from the truth in drafting legal documents. A lawyer attempts to do in such a way as to avoid ambiguity. In the eyes of a legal document at some court at some time shall declare that it is a consequence, it is his duty to his client to draft the instrument in a way that it can be understood.

Every paragraph of non-verbiage contains numerous words when a lawyer refers to "aforesaid," he is attempting to make clear beyond the deed he is referring to the deed mentioned in the portion of the instrument.

Likewise, when he precedes a document with a "whereas," he is stating pertinent facts for the benefit of the court to show the facts of the situation that lead to the execution of the instrument.

The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that to a trained analyst such language is susceptible to several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the draftman's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.

Another reason why lawyers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus most deeds declare that the grantor "by these presents does grant, sell, and convey" the land in question to the grantee. Each of the words recited has a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and consequently the lawyer knows in using them that their meaning is settled, and that they will operate to properly transfer the title. He would be inviting litigation for his client, if instead of using those words, he devised a new language to express the same purpose. He could say, "While I think the language that I have used will accomplish the purpose I cannot be sure of it."

As a consequence, the lawyer, in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time tested language instead of experimenting with new language.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Questions & Answers For Veterans

Q. I am in the military service, and I am covered by $10,000 free indemnity. I recently was married, and I want to change my beneficiary. Am I supposed to notify the VA?

A. No. Service personnel should not notify VA of changes in beneficiary. Instead, they should notify their branch of service, since that's where their records are kept. VA handles the records of veterans, and not, generally, of members of the armed forces.

Q. I am a disabled Korean veteran and I am planning to apply for vocational rehabilitation training under Public Law 894. Is there any limit on the amount of training I may receive?

A. You may train for as long as is necessary to rehabilitate you, up to a maximum of four years.

Q. I am eligible for VA outpatient medical treatment for my service-connected disability. May I simply go to my own doctor and tell him to bill the VA?

A. No. You must get VA's prior authorization for your doctor to provide the treatment at VA's expense.

Christmas Shopping

Christmas trees have already made their appearance outside of many Memphis stores, suddenly bringing us to the realization that Christmas is just around the corner. Each year about this time merchants advise us to "Buy early — and avoid the Christmas rush."

That is always good advice. And this year, it would seem, is better than ever. For many merchants are sponsoring pre-Christmas sales and have priced their merchandise to give the early shopper a real break. Merchants have done their best to stock a full line of merchandise so the buyer can find exactly what he or she needs.

Actually there are only 15 more shopping days until Christmas; so even if you shop today, you will not be very many days ahead of St. Nick. Of course, you still have time to take advantage of the complete stock on the shelves, if you hurry.

If you have friends or relatives, who live in distant states, you may be wondering how soon you should mail them their package of Christmas joy. The local postmaster, J. H. Vallance, said recently that packages going to distant states should be in the mails by Dec. 10, if they are to be assured of reaching their destination in time for Christmas.

Evaluating Political Advertising

Although the general election is a thing of the past, the leaders of both major parties are now taking account of many things which came to pass. One of the peculiar findings which is causing raised eyebrows is the effects of the huge sums of money that were expended for television advertising. As more samplings of public opinion come in, a more full report can be made.

At this time, most political leaders are agreed that they must take a new look at this newest of the advertising mediums — television — and determine its true value to the candidates of the future. In checking the conduct of the election, indication after indication points to a startling new fact: Most money spent in TV political advertising is wasted. Some observers say that it was worse than wasted, because viewers have registered disgust at the intrusion of politics into their leisure time.

The TV industry is now taking an accurate look at the situation, and its trade publications already have pointed out what has been happening.

Billboard, one of the industry's magazines, reports what happened to Trendex ratings when one of Adlai Stevenson's five minute programs appeared at the end of the feature, "Playhouse 90." "Climax," the program before Stevenson's appearance, received 47.2 per cent of the audience. "Playhouse 90," first to appear after the five-minute pitch, received 21.7 per cent. No network can afford this kind of a drop in viewing audience.

Basic problem with TV is that people consider it an entertainment, not a news medium. Politicians become intruders. Since the television stations over the nation have a limited amount of time to sell, future campaigns may find them anxious not to sell programs to politicians in order to hold audiences for later programs.

 Many of the problems of the present day religion would vanish if more men understood that its manifold blessings are invested on either side of eternity.

Teen-Agers Are Still Newspaper Readers

The idea is widely held that television has gained an unshakable hold on the young people of the country, to the detriment of other and older media of communication.

But apparently that idea needs some overhauling, as this item from Editor and Publisher demonstrates: "The study of the 'teen-age market' just released by the Bureau of Advertising completely destroys the television-created myth that the youth of America is a new race of TV viewers to the exclusion of printed media. TV ranked high with this group for its entertainment value, but research revealed the medium of 'most practical value' to teen-agers is the newspaper and 80 per cent of them are newspaper readers. This study should be a valuable new advertising sales tool for newspapers." —The Canadian Record

Saturday night burglars took the front door of Western Auto Store off its hinges, entered and stole two automatic pistols and ammunition to match. The crime was committed on Main Street, in full view of any passing traffic, with adequate night lights inside and equally adequate street lights outside. JUDGE GOODPASTURE IS SPEAKER AT MEETING IN SAN ANTONIO — Judge M. O. Goodpasture spoke before the County Judges and Commissioners Association Monday, when that body met for a three-day session at San Antonio. His subject was "Soil Conservation."

Wednesday afternoon he offered a resolution requesting the association to support a program for the state to aid in soil conservation practices. Pointing out that heretofore the burden of building up the soil had rested with the Federal government, Judge Goodpasture went on to say that he favored more effort on the part of private enterprise in this movement.

NEW STREET LIGHTS TO BE READY FOR USE ABOUT DECEMBER 14 — The new street lights in Memphis will be turned on around Dec. 14, according to E. M. Wilson, utilities manager. Two crews are working on the lights at present. While this date is not definite, it is believed that at least the lights around the court house square will be on by then.

Mr. Wilson has received a number of queries concerning the use of only one wire on the new lights. He explains that all series circuits require but one wire, and street lights are on series. However, this wire is often ground, he adds.

A sub-station crew are re-ramping and re-erecting the new sub station, Mr. Wilson said. The old sub station was done away with eventually.
