S. E. Winkler Named New Comm. Fri.

S. E. Winkler was appointed Commissioner of Precinct No. 3 last Friday by County Judge Tracy Davis.

Winkler replaces Pete Davis, who resigned from the position last Monday.

Commissioner Winkler has been engaged in farming for the past 30 years in the Estelline community. His farm is located about three miles east of that community.

He was born in Cook County, Tex., and moved to Hall County in 1924 where he was employed by the First State Bank before taking up farming.

The new commissioner has served one the Estelline School Board and has two sons who have graduated from the school.

Winkler stated that there would be no drastic changes in policies regarding the precinct, but hoped to handle the affairs of that section of the county in an efficient, business-like manner.

The Commissioners' Court was also in session Friday in order to hear those persons who wanted to protest tax evaluations. Judge Davis stated that only a few persons were on hand to seek changes in the tax amounts.

Marketing Quota Penalty Rates Set for Cotton

Marketing quota penalty rates on excess cotton of the 1957 crop were announced this week by the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

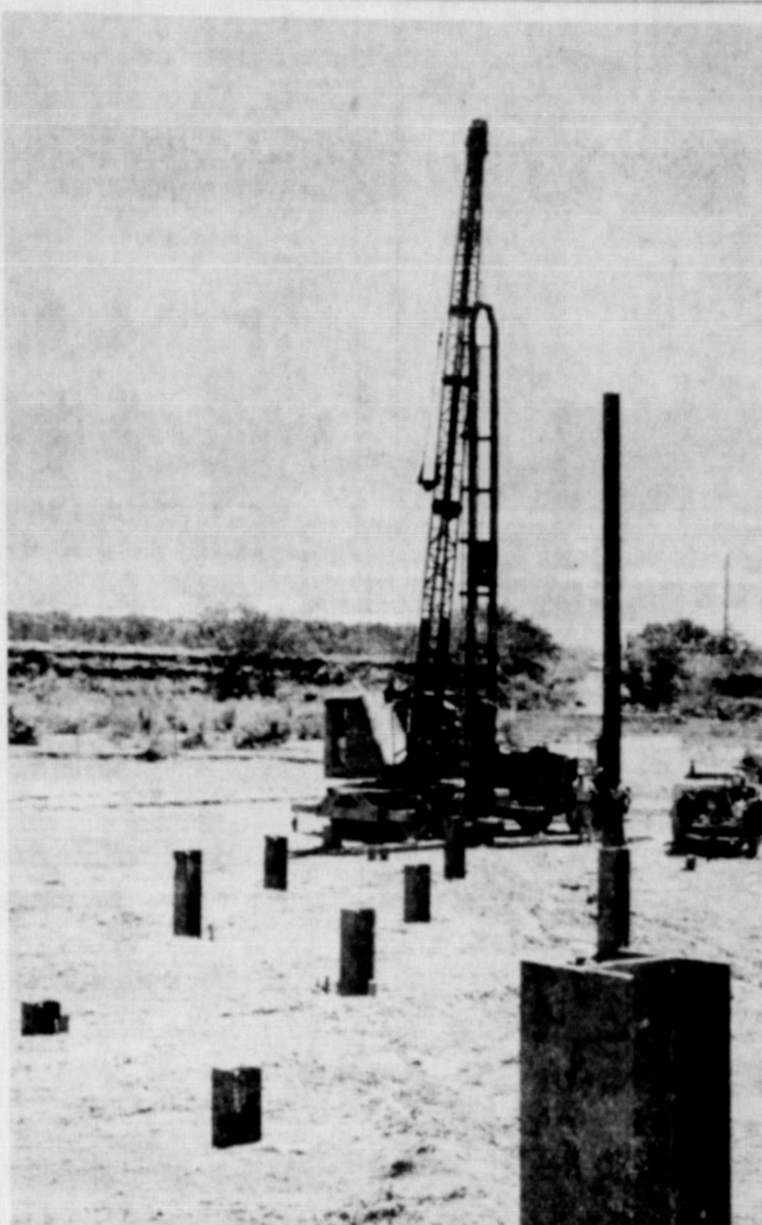

The penalty rate on upland cotton has been set at 18.5 cents per pound, Lynn McKown, office manager said. The farmer who has more than his allotted amount of cotton must also refund all of the payments for the year under the Soil Bank program, McKown stated.

This includes both those payments for Acreage Reserve and Conservation Reserve land, he explained.

McKown stated that farmers who are in excess of their allotment will be notified after the harvest has been completed measuring the farm. They then have 20 days in which to destroy the excess crop, he said.

The controlling legislation directs that the marketing quota penalty rate shall be 50 per cent of the parity price per pound of cotton as of June 15 of the calendar year in which such cotton is produced.

The office manager explained that the penalty rate was established by the average price for upland cotton and that it will actually be more than 50 per cent of the price for the type of cotton (Continued on Page Ten)

INDIAN CREEK BRIDGE—Construction began this week on the new Indian Creek Bridge which will be part of Farm-to-Market road extending west from Memphis. Crews, above are driving the steel piling which will serve as the supports for the new bridge, located about 100 yards north of the present wooden structure.

Construction of Farm-to-Market Road West of Memphis Gets Underway

Work was well underway this week on the new farm-to-market road extending west of Memphis from the corner of 16th and Grundy Streets.

Otho Ferrier, member of the firm Ferrier Bros., Bridge Contractors, reported that their work on the road was about one-third completed. The road, which will extend for approximately seven miles, will contain seven culverts and four bridges.

Ferrier explained that the bridge across Indian Creek will be the only long structure on the road. Work began this week on the bridge across this creek and the contractor reported that most of the pile driving would be completed by today, Thursday.

The bridge, when completed, will contain 13, 25-foot spans, Ferrier said, making the entire structure 325 feet long. The bridge is located about 100 yards north of the old wooden structure and will eliminate the curve of the road which has been on both sides of the bridge in the past.

The workmen this week drove the steel pilings, which will support the center sections of the bridge and, after today, will have to wait until the dirt work is completed on the ends before driving the pilings there.

S. F. Johnson Rites Conducted Today in Hedley

Services for S. F. Johnson, 80, of Hedley, were conducted from the Church of Christ there this afternoon, Thursday, at 5 p. m.

Mr. Johnson died at his home in Hedley Wednesday about 1:40 p. m. He was born on April 26, 1877, in Whitewright, Tex., and moved to Hedley about 30 years ago.

Burial was in the Rowe Cemetery in Hedley under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mr. Johnson was preceded in death by his wife on Oct. 7, 1948. One son and one daughter also preceded him in death.

Survivors include five sons, Alfred, Walter and Charles, all of Hedley, Louis of Amarillo and Clyde of Wheeler; three daughters, Mrs. T. C. Selby of Hedley and Mrs. E. O. Mays of Amarillo and (Continued on Page Ten)

Flood Control Survey Party Meets With Hall County Farmers Wednesday

A representative group of Hall County farmers and land owners heard members of a Soil Conservation Service flood control survey party explain details of a proposed Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention district at a meeting here Wednesday evening.

The flood control survey party is in the county this week gathering data from an area composed of farms and ranches along Bitter, John Mann, Polecat and Oaks Creeks. The group has been sent to the county to make the preliminary survey of damages caused by spring flood waters, when creeks and watersheds overflowed their historic boundaries.

In the party are James Green, SCS hydrologist, Jim Voss, SCS economist, and O. F. Armstrong, of the State Soil Conservation board.

In charge of the meeting was Charley Cape, work unit conservationist for this county. He briefly outlined the problems facing land owners of the area, stating that an application had been sent to state headquarters for engineers and experts to make preliminary survey.

James Green of Brownwood, hydrologist, told the farmers and ranchers that certain requirements must be met in order for the area to form its own district to prevent recurrence of tremendous damage from flood waters.

He explained certain features of Public Law 566, and amendments to it by Public Law 1027, which was the enabling legislation for districts such as that proposed for the northwestern part of Hall County and a section of the southern part of Donley County.

Green stated that, under the program, retention dams would be constructed on headwaters of the four creeks, and gave structural details of the dams whose main purpose would be to retard flood waters but by use of draw-down outlets permit it to flow through natural or artificial channels for an indefinite time after heavy rains. The hydrologist stated that, in all probability, channels and experts to make preliminary survey.

Other officers of the organization who will serve this year are John Fowler, vice president; W. V. Coursey, secretary-treasurer; Thomas Clayton, past president; John Fowler, director "A"; Jim Beeson, director "B"; Mills Roberts, director "C"; and Ralph Williams, director "D".

Voting On Bonds Will Be Held At Later Date

Saturday, Aug. 31, is the date the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority has set for the confirmation election, the next step toward securing a dam across Salt Fork River.

The August date was selected at a meeting held Thursday evening, July 11, in Childress, attended by representatives of the seven member cities, Memphis, Wellington, Childress, Paducah, Clarendon, Hedley and Quanah.

Memphis Mayor O. L. Helm stated this week that the City Council would request the Board of Water Engineers to call the election for that date at their next meeting.

Mayor Helm said that the election would actually be called by the Board of Water Engineers at the request of the Greenbelt organization and the cities involved.

The confirmation election is the actual organization of the water authority, giving it legal power to begin action. What is now called the "Authority" is actually a committee interested in seeing the project come about.

The confirmation election has nothing to do with the issuance of bonds or of voting a tax, Wendell Harrison, Memphis representative, pointed out. That will come in a later election. The Aug. 31 election will simply determine if each (Continued on Page Ten)

Local Civic Clubs Select Committees

LIONS CLUB
Memphis Lions Club President W. E. Leslie assigned committee positions this week to members of the club who will be responsible for carrying out the work of the organization throughout the year.

Other new officers who will guide the activities of the Lions Club this year are Lynn McKown, first vice president; H. E. Craig, second vice president; Herb Curry, third vice president; Adrian Combs, secretary; Billy E. Jones, treasurer; Doyle Fowler, tail twister; Bill Hall, Lion tamer.

The directors of the organization are B. O. Shankle, Bill Baten, Joyce Webster and Dr. H. R. Stevenson. Elmont Branigan is the retiring president of the group and serves as a member of the board. Committees appointed for the year are as follows (person named first is the chairman):

ROTARY CLUB
Dwight Kinard, new president of the Rotary Club for the coming year, recently named committees to carry out the work of the group during the coming months.

Other officers of the organization who will serve this year are John Fowler, vice president; W. V. Coursey, secretary-treasurer; Thomas Clayton, past president; John Fowler, director "A"; Jim Beeson, director "B"; Mills Roberts, director "C"; and Ralph Williams, director "D".

J. R. Mitchell, Jr. To Head Legion Here During Year

New officers who will serve the local American Legion Post for the coming year were installed last Thursday night with J. R. Mitchell, Jr., taking over as post commander.

The outgoing commander was Hubert Dennis. Wayne Lattimer of Hedley, District Post officer, was in charge of the installation.

Other officers installed at the meeting included the following: T. L. Robinson, vice commander; H. C. Pounds, adjutant; C. E. Lind sey, finance officer; Claude Ferrel, sergeant-at-arms; R. L. Guthrie, chaplain, and J. H. Vallance, service officer.

The new officers were elected at a meeting of the post last month.

Services Held for David Davidson at Estelline Today

Funeral services for David Allen Davidson, 18, were conducted from the First Methodist Church in Estelline today, Thursday, at 2 p. m. with Rev. E. H. Costen, pastor, officiating.

David passed away at a Memphis hospital Wednesday morning about 1 a. m. He had been suffering for several years from muscular dystrophy. He was born on Sept. 11, 1938 in Memphis and was 18 years, 10 months and 6 days of age at the time of his death.

Burial was in the Estelline Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Members of the family requested that friends make donations to the Panhandle Muscular Dystrophy Association in Amarillo instead of sending flowers to the services.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gob Davis; son; two brothers, Daniel Clavers and Michael Sloan, all of Estelline; grandmother, Mrs. Art Nance of Amarillo; grandfathers, Rev. Clarence Bounds of Margaret; great-grandmother, Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Sr., of Denver, Colo.; a great-aunt, Mrs. Lena Bell Martin of Denver, Colo.; and a number of aunts and uncles.

Serving as pall bearers were Frank Cooper, Don Leary, J. W. Coppedge, J. D. Cox, Clinton Kieburg and J. B. Rapp.

Little League All-Stars Defeat Wellington Friday

The Memphis Little League All-Stars defeated a team from Wellington last Friday night by a score of 6-3 in the first out-of-town competition for the youths.

The Wellington team was managed by Paul Spillman, while Hubert Jones and Charles Grice acted as managers of the Memphis group.

The Yankees continued to hold the lead in the league this week and now have a record of 12 wins and 3 losses, for .800 per cent.

The Braves are in second place with 11 wins and 5 losses for .688 per cent. The third place team is the Indians with 9 wins and 7 losses, .563 per cent.

In fourth place is the Giants with 7 wins and 11 losses, .399 per cent. The Tigers trail with 1 win and 14 losses, .067 per cent.

Present plans call for the Little League program to be completed Tuesday, July 30, with the team having the highest per cent of games won as the champion. This will leave the month of August open for parents and boys to vacation, O. L. Helm, acting coordinator for this week, stated.

Helm stated that plans were in the making for each boy to be presented with an individual award for their participation in the program. The winning team will probably be given a team trophy, he said.

Managers of the Little League teams announced this week that they were making arrangements to take their teams to Amarillo Sunday afternoon so that the youths could see the Gold Sox play.

The schedule for the coming week will include the following games (first game will be played at 8:30 p. m. and the second at 8:30 p. m.):

Thursday, July 18
Tigers vs. Giants
Indians vs. Braves

Monday, July 22

Firemen Answer False Alarm Monday

Memphis firemen Monday night answered an alarm to South 5th Street but returned to the station after discovering that it was only a trash barrel smoking.

Local firemen were in a meeting at the City Hall at the time the alarm was turned in and answered the call in record time.

Memphis Defeats Childress Nine Here Wednesday

The Memphis Teen-Age League All-Stars defeated Childress here Wednesday afternoon 6-0 in a game played at Estes Park.

Tomie Tucker, pitching for Memphis, allowed the visiting team only two hits during the game.

The Memphis team has two out-of-town games scheduled for next week. Monday afternoon they will play at Tulsa at 5:30 p. m. and will then journey to Childress Tuesday night. The Childress contest will begin at 8 p. m. at the Little League Park there, which is located near the football stadium.

Local fans were pleased over the win from Childress since that team has only one more game to win to be eligible to go to Austin for state competition.

Rev. H. J. Manley Dies At Sherman

Rev. H. J. Manley, brother of Mrs. H. B. Marks of 817 S. 6th Street, died on Sunday, July 7, at 2 a. m. in Sherman.

Rev. Manley graduated from Lane Seminar in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1918 and Trinity University in 1920. Before his retirement from activity as a Presbyterian minister, he served as pastor in New Carlisle, Ohio, and as a member of the Dallas Presbytery serving churches in Snyder, Rockwall, Canadian, Deport and Dallas.

He was united in marriage to Mrs. Anna Graham Lowry June 20, 1912, in Waxahachie while attending college there.

After retiring in 1950, he and his family moved to Sherman in 1951. He was 74 years and eight months old at the time of his death.

Survivors include his wife, one son, one daughter, three brothers and five sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roark of Fort Worth are visiting here this week with her mother, Mrs. Oren Jones and sisters, Mrs. Frank Foxhall and Mrs. Boyd Rogers and families.

Conditions Point To Good Quail Season This Year

Right now conditions point to the best quail season Texans have known for years, according to the assistant executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. He has just returned from a trip through East Texas, studying first hand the effects of the hatchery program now under way.

At the same time wardens all over Texas are reporting to the Austin office of the commission that the quail crop this year has been exceptionally good. Favorable weather conditions and improvement of habitat by land owners is given credit for the increased crop, according to the assistant executive secretary.

The commission hatchery at Tyler has some 19,000 quail on hand to be released by clubs or individuals. More than 11,000 birds already have been released this year.

"There are still some birds available to land owners with proper feed and cover," the assistant executive secretary said. These birds are sold at 50 cents each to land owners who can qualify. Applications should be sent to the Austin office of the commission. Wardens then will be sent to inspect the land area and conditions. After his approval the birds will be shipped out for release.

The state is producing three different types of quail this year. One is the North East Texas bird, for release in the East Texas area. The other is the Southwestern Bob, to be released in the more arid areas. The other is the Coturnix, the new Oriental quail that is now being introduced in the state on an experimental basis.

Mrs. E. C. Rice of Arlington visited Mrs. Chas. Oren a few days last week.

Summary of Texas Egg Law

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture

Next month the Texas Egg Law goes into effect, regulating handling and sale of eggs and providing for licensing of certain egg dealers and handlers.

Following is a summary of the law, its requirements, exceptions and the means of its enforcement:

- 1. All eggs offered for sale must be handled properly and in a sanitary manner. Inedible eggs, or those unfit for human consumption, must not be sold.
- 2. All eggs sold to consumers must be graded; or, if not graded, the word "ungraded" must appear on the carton.
- 3. An egg below Grade A quality cannot be sold or advertised as fresh, yard, selected, cage, or words of similar import.
- 4. Egg containers must:
 - a. Be accurately labeled as to size and grade, each bearing the name of the one for whom the eggs were graded.
 - b. Not advertise price without also designating size and grade of eggs contained therein.
 - c. Be labeled "cold storage eggs" if the eggs have been under refrigeration for more than 30 or more days.
- 5. Where eggs are uncartoned, a sign must be displayed showing size and grade.
- 6. The Commissioner of Agriculture, administrator of the law, and his agents, may take samples of eggs for inspection and may enforce a "stop sale" order on eggs held in violation of the act.
- 7. Licensing: Retailers, dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers must be licensed to buy and sell eggs. The retailer pays no fee. Dealers, wholesalers and processors pay fees according to their volume of business. Brokers' fee is $5. Producers, hatcheries, restaurants, hotels and food manufacturers are exempt from licensing.

8. Licenses must be kept on file for two years as record of an eggs purchased or sold, excluding retailers in purchases of less than case lots. Licensees also must deliver signed invoices with each transaction.

9. Violation constitutes a misdemeanor and carries penalties from $50 to $1,000 in fines.

10. The act creates a nine-member Egg Marketing Advisory Board appointed by the Governor with the Commissioner of Agriculture at Chairman.

Exemptions: Producers selling only the production of their flocks are exempt from the act unless they claim some kind of grade. If a grade is claimed, producers must conform fully with the act.

The Texas Egg Law becomes effective August 22. Deadline for obtaining licenses is Oct. 20. Actual enforcement of violations will begin after Feb. 17, 1958.

Openings Exist In September Nursing Classes

The Texas State Committee on Careers in Nursing announced this week that vacancies still exist in the September classes of professional schools of nursing in Texas.

Positions for nurses are open in hospitals, homes, schools, industry, Public Health agencies and in military services, Ellayne E. McAlpine, chairman of the committee stated.

Men and women interested in a career in nursing should write to the Texas State Committee on Careers in Nursing, c-o of the local postmaster.

Memphis Youth Center News

By Judy Lemons

The council of the Youth Center met Monday night at 7:00 in the Cyclone Drive-In. Those attending the meeting were Judy Lemons, John Lemmon, Ted Myers, Dorothy and Frank Smith.

The dancing lessons which were to be held Thursday nights will be stopped until a later date. There will be games and dancing on Thursday night as originally.

If the attendance at the Youth Center drops below 100 youth for the next two nights, the center will only open one night a week.

About 10 new records will be bought this week. These will include slow and medium-slow dance records.

The chaperones Thursday night were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Foard, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cudd, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Saled, Mr. and Mrs.

Buster Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clayton, Ted Myers and Frank Smith. There were 87 youth present.

The chaperones Saturday night were Mrs. Bill Baten, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Stilwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, and Ted Myers. There were 76 youth present Saturday night.

Mrs. Sam Alexander had as her visitors Sunday evening Mrs. Besie Curtis and daughter of Fort Worth; Mrs. Edna Fealand of Lelia Lake; Mrs. John Gilliam and daughter of Clarendon.

Girard case, as well as several others in recent months to which I referred in the early paragraphs of this letter, you may expect vigorous efforts on the part of many people and organizations to take whatever steps may be necessary, including amendments to the federal Constitution, in order to spell out and limit the powers of the Supreme Court.

Civil Rights

Many members of Congress were deeply disturbed by the news stories which came out of the conference between President Eisenhower and Senator Dick Russell of Georgia regarding the so-called Civil Rights Bill. It had been the feeling of several that the President did not realize the bill could be used as a weapon with which to punish the South. This feeling was brought about by the statement of the President in his press conference to the effect there were some things in the bill he did not clearly understand. However, it is now generally conceded everyone understands that, if this bill becomes law, it can be used as a whip or weapon to punish the Southern states. The discussion between the President and Senator Russell did not indicate any doubt on the part of the President that the law could be used for such purposes. The conference merely brought out that the President did not intend to use the law.

The test of a good law should not be whether or not the head of the government would use the same to abuse people, but whether or not he could use it.

Foreign Aid

The Washington papers recently carried a story about a $30 a day consultant in the Foreign Aid Department. It seemed she had been hired to put together detailed information in the nature of propaganda to sell the foreign aid program. She made the mistake of explaining her duties to the top foreign aid boss, John B. Hollister. Result: no more $30 a day consultant. Hollister decided such activities are an unnecessary expense on the taxpayer. Too bad he doesn't have time to find out about other activities in that Agency.

Visitors

It was a signal pleasure and a great honor this week to welcome some 170 Boy Scouts and their leaders from the 18th Congressional District. They represented the Adobe Walls, Llano Estacado, and South Plains Councils, and were en route to the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Some will go on to the World Jubilee in England, some have visited Canada, and all did themselves proud in the Nation's Capital.

MISS UNIVERSE ENTRANT... Evidently 13 was lucky number for Gertrude Daub, 19, of Hamburg, for she was chosen "Miss Germany of 1957."

Card of Thanks
I want to take this means of thanking my friends and neighbors for joining together and plowing my crop last week while I was in a Memphis hospital recovering from a severe hand injury. I shall never forget this, and hope to be able to repay you at some time in the future.

Cost of living went thataway...

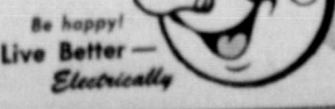

Price of electricity went thisaway

Actually in homes served by WTU, the average cost of a six-month-hour of electric service is 20% LESS than it was ten years ago!

In the last 25 years, the price of just about everything you buy has gone way up. Yet the price of electricity has gone down. Your bill may be higher, but that's because you put electricity to so many more uses. How have we been able to keep power prices down? Well, partly because we're always looking for the best ways to serve you.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

The Judge at Work
The judge has many duties in a trial.
He sees that it goes in an orderly way and according to the rules — in selecting the jury, presenting evidence, hearing the lawyers' arguments, instructing the jury, and bringing in the verdict.
Before the trial starts, the judge sees that the questions put to prospective jurors are proper. He excuses jurors. He must see to the proper conduct of the litigants, lawyers and witnesses. He must put down public disturbances.
The judge must see that the lawyers keep within due limits in questioning witnesses, in arguing to the jury, and in their attitudes toward each other and the judge.
The judge tells the jurors their duties and what questions of fact to decide. He instructs them on what law controls the rights of the parties. He sees that the verdict is in due form. He must decide any requests for rulings by lawyers.
For example, after the plaintiff's lawyer has made his opening statement or presented his evidence, the defendant's lawyer may move for a directed verdict.
This motion grants the plaintiff's facts but denies their cogency as a matter of law. If granted, the motion will not allow the plaintiff to recover judgment.
A directed verdict also ends the case before the jury can decide it. It is a decision by the court on a question of law. Either plaintiff or defendant may concede the facts, but deny, as a matter of law, their power to sustain the other party's case.

A judge may render a "judgment" notwithstanding the verdict" after the jury has brought in its verdict, when he should have granted, but mistakenly denied, a directed verdict.
The judge now and then may rule on the law and thereby take the suit out of the jury's hands. His ruling in no way reflects on the jury, but works to keep down needless litigation. When he does this he usually expresses the sincere thanks of the court for the time of the jury in standing ready to do its work.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

County Cotton To Be Classified Free Again in Fall

The Hall County Cotton Improvement Association, which includes every cotton farmer in the county, will receive free classification of each bale of cotton produced this fall, County Agent W. B. Hooser said this week.
This service is being furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under the Smith-Doxey Act and has been used by county farmers for several years in the past, the county agent explained.
"However, we have to make an application for the service each year and the one for 1957 was approved on July 15 and returned to the association this week," he continued.

In addition to the free classification service the farmers receive a free market news service. These news bulletins are sent to each gin in the county where they are placed on display.
The free cotton classification will result in a saving of 25 cents per bale for area farmers. If the county should make 40,000 bales this year, it would amount to a total saving of $10,000.

The samples submitted under this program are cut from both sides of the bale by a bonded sampler, Hooser stated.

Mrs. Ulysses Erwin of Nashville, Tenn., came on Tuesday for a visit with her father, Chas. Drake.

Number of Cattle Decrease
For the first time in seven years cattle numbers are down in the United States. The reduction is only 2 per cent and the widespread drought, now breaking, is John McHaney as the major cause. No reduction was noted in either the South or Midwest, but Texas showed a decline of 7 per cent.

Services Held For Mrs. J. T. Brown In Weiland Tues.

Funeral services for Mrs. J. T. Brown, 85, a former resident of the Newlin community, were conducted at the Church of Christ in Weiland at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday with Min. Cole Tidwell of Greenville officiating.

Mrs. Brown died at her home in Childress about 4:40 a. m. Sunday. She was born on Aug. 19, 1871, in Hunt County, and was 85 years, 10 months and 25 days old at the time of her death.

Miss Eliza Ella Babb was united in marriage to J. T. Brown in 1892 in Hunt County. The family moved to Childress County in 1925. Mr. Brown preceded her in death on July 12, 1947. She was also preceded in death by two sons.

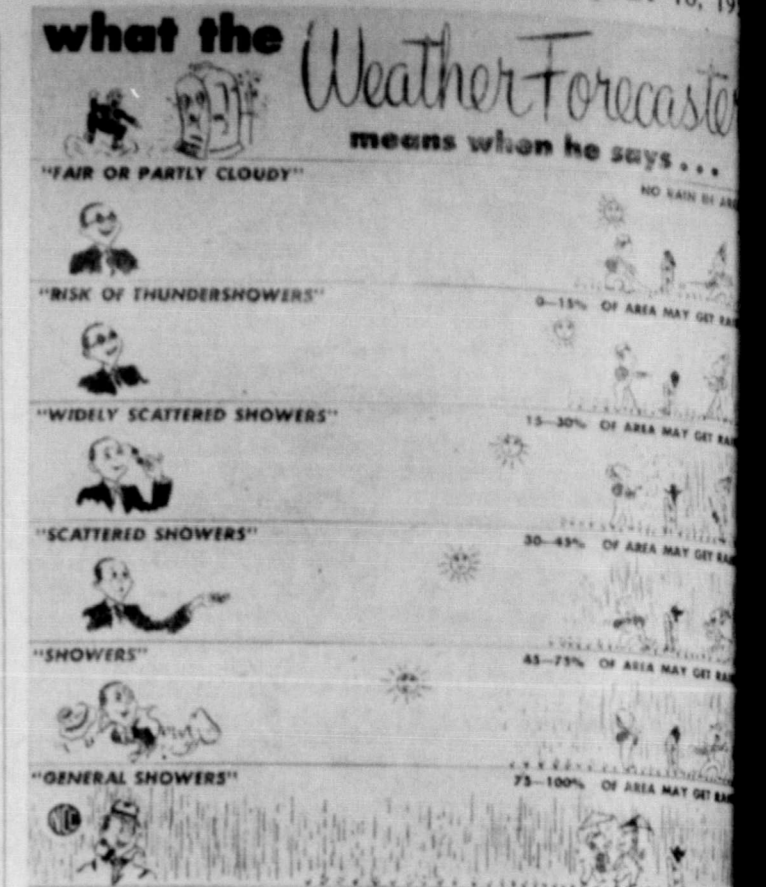

Burial was in Simmons Cemetery, near Weiland in Hunt County, under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mrs. Brown was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include one son, Ollie Brown of Childress; four daughters, Mrs. Onnie Robinson of Lyon, Kans., Mrs. Lillie Martin and Mrs. Opal Woodwards, both of Amarillo and Miss Sadie Brown of Childress; seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

pa Aug. 7-10.
All members of the band are former circus musicians and for the past several years the band has performed for all of the top rodeos in the nation, including Madison Square Garden.
Another musical feature of the show will be the appearance of Leon McAuliffe and his Cimarron Boys of Tulsa, Okla. This band is recognized as the leading western dance band in the nation. McAuliffe will be featured on the night-ly rodeo program and will then play for dancing following the the National Guard building the rodeo grounds.

Top rodeo hands in the Southwest will be competing for approximately $5000.00 prize money plus a number of appropriate special awards, including silver belt buckles, stetson hats, saddles and other trophies.

Game and Fish Commission Continues Underwater Study of Fish Habits

Underwater research has told biologists of the Texas Game and Fish Commission a great deal about the habits of bass, according to the annual report of diving activities just released by the Director of Inland Fisheries.

Most of the underwater operations were carried on in the lower part of Lake Travis. Other tests, for comparative purposes, also were made in Lake Buchanan, Granite Shoals and Lake Austin. According to John E. Tilton, assistant project leader, the tests were made in both summer and winter months at depths ranging to 50 feet.

Varying degrees of visibility were encountered, depending on the time of day and intensity of the light, according to the report.

"Although little measurable difference is noted between bottom and intermediate depths, fish and other objects were more easily seen on or near the bottom," the report says. This is because bottom material in the lower end of the lake is composed of light colored materials.

Fish counts are said to be extremely difficult, however, because of their rapid movement. They also dart in and out of hiding places.

The divers found that sunfish, bass and the Rio Grande perch are easily approached and show little fear of the divers. They saw many other species, such as carp, buffalo, river carpsuckers, fresh water drum, log perch, channel cats and white crappie. These fish are not approachable, however, and soon move out of sight.

The underwater boys work in pairs. This offers more safety and they are also able to use one another as yardsticks to measure distances.

Because of water magnification, they judge distance by the height of one another. They also are able to estimate the size or fishes by the size of equipment carried on their buddies.

The underwater work has many other disadvantages, too. For instance in the winter months it is difficult for the divers to stay down over a few minutes. Under the best conditions the diver is completely fatigued after two hours of work.

August Draft Quota Is 547 For Entire State

The state quota for Texas draft boards in August calls for 547 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said last week.

The state's August call of 547 compares with a quota of 661 for July and June and 662 for May. The August call is the state's share of a national call for 11,000 men. The national call was 13,000 in July.

At the same time he announced the August quota for induction, Colonel Schwartz also announced a call for 1,561 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations in August.

The men to be examined will come from approximately half the local boards. Those not receiving such a call in August will receive one in September.

Local board quotas for the August induction and pre-induction examination are scheduled to be mailed by state Selective Service headquarters Wednesday.

The August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Three Buildings Completed at TCU

Finishing touches to the grounds and interiors of three major new buildings on the Texas Christian University campus are underway.

To be ready for use well before the fall semester opens on Sept. 16 will be Dan D. Rogers Hall, the home of the school of business and the Department of Journalism, and two new residence halls.

The Milton E. Daniel Dormitory will house 318 boys and Colby D. Hall Dormitory will accommodate 302 girls. The largest residence halls on campus, they will be completely air-conditioned and will cost around $1,000,000 each.

Final inspection for Rogers Hall, named for the late Dallas banker who served as a TCU trustee for many years was held recently. The $825,000 structure has been specially planned and built for the study of business and journalism.

Grounds of all three buildings are being landscaped and new parking facilities added.

Meanwhile, the work of trip-

Texas' New Egg Law

Texas' new Egg Law, which will become effective next month, will have an immediate impact upon Texas citizens, especially those farmers who supplement their income with laying flocks.

From information which has come to us, regulations under the law will extend only to certain areas of the egg industry itself. But the effects of the law will be felt by Texas consumers. Both the producer and consumer, we predict will approve of the new law.

What the law actually will accomplish is this: It will stop misrepresentation of inferior eggs as quality merchandise. Arguments put forth during the recent session of the State Legislature pointed to Texas being a "dumping ground" for inferior quality eggs, because this state had no law to protect the consumers. Starting next month, emphasis will be placed upon accurate labeling of quality eggs, which the housewife will appreciate immediately.

How will the consumer get a better product? This will be accomplished through a system of egg grading which requires all eggs offered for sale to consumers through retail outlets to be accurately labeled according to size, grade, and condition of freshness.

In all the years gone by, labeling of eggs as to their grade and condition was at the discretion of the sellers. No recourse could be taken even in the most flagrant violations of existing laws. Under Texas' new Egg Law, new standards have been set which require that no egg below actual "A" quality be sold or advertised as fresh, selected, infertile, cage, or any other word of similar import be used.

Here is something for small producers to remember: Producers of eggs who sell only the production of their own flocks are EXEMPT from provisions of the Act unless they CLAIM SOME KIND OF GRADE. But, if the producers choose to claim a grade, their eggs must conform completely with provisions of the law.

From the standpoint of making money from a laying flock, it will definitely be advantageous to the poultrymen to claim a grade, tell the world their eggs are fresh, selected, infertile, or to use any other wording to designate their product to be of top quality. They must conform completely with the provisions of the new law. In so doing, it seems to us, they will start making more profit from their venture.

The new Egg Law will become effective Aug. 22, 1957. It has been pointed out by John C. White, Commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture, that the deadline for obtaining licenses is Oct. 20, 1957. Licenses will be available for retailers, dealers, wholesalers and processors.

Commissioner White has stated that actual enforcement of violations, which carry fines up to $1,000, will start Feb. 17, 1958.

Elsewhere in this issue is a summary of Texas' new Egg Law, which has been written by members of the Texas Department of Agriculture. It should be read carefully by all persons who sell eggs.

Mr. Dulles Looks At Press Freedom

When Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told his press conference that he was willing to let a "limited number" of responsible U. S. newsmen into Red China on a pool basis, the New York Times' Publisher Arthur Hays Sulzberger wrote him a "dear Foster" letter arguing that any such restriction would be "abridging the freedom of the press." Last week, in a "Dear Arthur" answer, Secretary Dulles gave a definition of press freedom that, if widely adopted, would deny newsmen access to every time-honored news source, from the local police station to the Pentagon to Capitol Hill. "The constitutional freedom of the press," wrote Dulles, "relates to publication, and not to the gathering of news."

From eminent Lawyer Dulles, this was an astonishing interpretation of the U. S. Constitution. Beyond stipulating that the "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press," the First Amendment draws no line between the gathering of news. In practice, as Judge Learned Hand wrote (U. S. v. Associated Press, 1943), by disseminating "news from as many different sources, and with as many different facets and colors as possible," newspapers serve the "most vital of all general interests." There have been many cases in U. S. History when, as Dulles noted, the press' search for news has been voluntarily curbed for reasons of national security, the most notable example being World War II censorship. But in accepting restrictions for the good of their country, publishers, editors and reporters have never accepted the notion that they have no right to seek the facts wherever they may be found.

Almost as startling as Secretary of Dulles' restrictive view was the lethargy with which journalism responded. One of the few papers to protest was the New York Times: "Surely Mr. Dulles must realize that the right to publish news depends on the prior right to have access to it. If access is arbitrarily limited, as in the present case, the right of publication is interfered with to exactly the same degree. Would Mr. Dulles contend that the freedom to produce a blank page is 'freedom of the press?'"—Time

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Farm vs. Retail Prices
Last Friday's daily papers carried an AP story under a Kansas City dateline written by one Leo Marks. The story concerned Kansas' decreased wheat crop brought about by devastating rains, hails, and windstorms.

"Kansas may produce 50 million bushels less than last year . . ." according to the story. "If so, the market price for wheat will go up and you can count on paying more for bread."

Now wait just a minute . . . hold everything! We have been told over and over of the "huge surpluses" of wheat now in storage. Some would have us believe we already have enough wheat for the next hundred years, more or less. Even though these surpluses have been exaggerated, still we must all admit that we have a sizeable quantity of wheat on hand. This being the case, why should a less-than-normal crop in the state of Kansas drive the price of bread up?

Of course we understand to a degree how the grain market works, but nevertheless, we cannot understand why the price of wheat should be driven upward more than a few cents as a result of a lean crop in Kansas—if, as we have been told, we have such huge surpluses, if—there is no longer much need for wheat and we have been "subsidizing" farmers to raise a crop which is rapidly passing out of the picture, if—our wheat acreage allotments have been too generous and Uncle Ezra has been going against his own best judgment when he didn't cut them still deeper.

But even if the price of wheat does advance a few pennies, what has that to do with the price of bread?

Our latest information is that about two cents worth of wheat goes into a loaf of bread. So if the price of wheat doubled, the price of a loaf of bread should not advance more than two cents. It might be recalled that during World War II when the price of wheat hit $3.80 a bushel, bread sold for less than it does now.

All of which emphasizes the fact that it is not the wheat farmer who is responsible for the high cost of a loaf of bread. Someone told us that the wax wrapper around a loaf of bread costs more than the wheat which goes into the loaf.

So why will the big city papers and news services insult our intelligence by inferring that a few pennies increase in the price of a bushel of wheat will necessitate an increase in the cost of a loaf of bread? We'll tell you why—it is part of the campaign being waged by Ezra Benson, the National Association of Manufacturers, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and the Administration to convince the city dweller that the farmer is responsible for the high cost of living.

It is recalled that the Suez crisis is used as a smoke screen so that the price of gasoline could be hiked. The steel industry increases its cost of labor $1, then hikes the price of steel $7. So has it been with the automobile industry.—Tullia Herald.

Views and Comments

I see where Hurricane Audrey's death toll is going to run somewhere between 350 and 400, and all the papers are saying it was a horrible carnage.

Tomorrow, and week after the hurricane, a four day holiday begins and the death toll from it is expected to be 500. All the papers will say it is a shame and most everyone else will pass it by. After all, that's the way we celebrate the anniversary of the founding of our nation.

Let's all jump into our cars and head out for the highways to get our share before someone beats us to it.—Claude News.

Woman's World

This didn't happen to me, but in a service station in New Mexico I talked with another tourist who seemed to be disgusted about something. He said that a few miles back down the highway he noticed a woman who had driven to the side and was standing looking helplessly at a flat tire, so he stopped to help her. "After I changed the tire," he said, "the woman whispered 'Please let the jack down easy; my husband is sleeping in the back seat.'"—Lake City (Iowa) Graphic.

Around and About by Helen Combs

Many of you have been nice enough to say you have missed our column the past few weeks...

Too, our second granddaughter, Debra Kay, has taken up many of our spare moments this summer.

Speaking of grandchildren, Mildred Williams was telling us that Ralph reminded her to be sure and pass on to a cute squib he noted in a recent magazine.

Long have we noted and marveled at the number of people who "eat out" in Memphis.

The adults who have made possible the Little League and Teenage League program this summer are to be commended.

We, who live in Memphis, know we have a nice city, but it's certainly flattering to have a compliment such as the above printed in another paper.

Newlin Club Meets In Walker Home

The president presided during the business session. An announcement was made that the Newlin Mothers' Club annual picnic will be held at the Memphis City Park on August 3 at 5:30 p. m.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Meses. D. W. Lawrence, Marie Messick, Laura Davis, R. V. Sweatt, Ruth Gardenhire, Ruth Misenhimer, Annie Hamilton and six guests, Aunt Rhoda Nelson, Louise Crow, Mike and Lannie Crow, Mike Kilgore, Jan Davis and the hostess, Miss Isabelle Walker.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. R. V. Sweatt.

Mrs. Byron Baldwin accompanied her grandson, Jimmy, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Baldwin, to his home in Dallas on Sunday. Jimmy has been visiting with the Baldwins for the past two weeks.

Lavurne Saunders and George Williams United In Marriage In Home Service

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Saunders, 1408 West Noel, was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Lavurne, to George Williams on Friday evening, June 21, at 8 o'clock.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. C. W. Kinslow, aunt of the groom; Mrs. J. W. Saunders, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Si Rice; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis and Danny of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Lemons, David and Camilla of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Saunders and De Nita of Childress; Mrs. Louise Baskerville, George and Dicia of Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, parents of the bride.

Mrs. Zeno Lemons, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore tangerine linen with a corsage of yellow gladioli.

Mrs. Williams chose for her wedding a street-length gown of ivory satin trimmed with self-material buttons. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Saunders, mother of the bride, was dressed in gray nylon and wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Louise Baskerville, sister of the groom, wore a pink carnation with her orchid linen dress.

Immediately following the marriage rites an informal reception was enjoyed. Mrs. Lyrel Davis, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. Lemons served punch and the yellow and green decorated wedding cake. The serving table, covered with lace, was beautiful with an artistic floral arrangement and the antique punch bowl which has been an heirloom in the Williams family for years.

For a wedding trip Mrs. Williams traveled in a navy chambray dress with white trimmings and accessories.

Upon their return Tuesday evening to their home in the Salisbury community, they found approximately 50 friends waiting to give them an old-fashioned "house warming."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams were members of the 1945 graduating class of the Memphis High School. During her high school career Mrs. Williams was active in the Spanish Club and in the Home Economics Club.

George, son of Charles Williams, during his high school days made a name for himself in the Future Farmers of America. Immediately after graduation he volunteered for service in the navy.

Hall County 4-H Club Youths Return From Three-Day Camp at Buffalo Gap

Eleven Hall County 4-H Club boys enjoyed a District 4-H Club Encampment held July 10-12, at Buffalo Gap, Texas, County Agent W. B. Hooser said this week.

Each boy won this trip by doing outstanding 4-H Club work in his respective club, Hooser stated. The boys had a wonderful time and learned much from the trip, the county agent added.

Those who attended the encampment were Carl Houston, Memphis; Mike Branigan, Memphis; Gordon Newton, Memphis; Gary Gentry, Memphis; Phil Howard, Memphis; Robert Mack Moss, Memphis; Billy Don Lane, Turkey; Roy Stephens, Turkey; Johnny Fuston, Turkey; Denny Fuston, Turkey; and Jerry Hooser, Memphis.

One hundred and fifty 4-H Club members from District 3 attended the encampment.

This group was divided into four groups and studied the following: safety; parliamentary procedure, which included how to hold a 4-H Club meeting, duties of the officers and committees; how to keep records; citizenship, vespers services; news reporting and outstanding talks.

Club members were honored by talks by the editor of the Abilene News and the president of Abilene Christian College.

neling improvements of creeks and an overall program of flood control would be established.

"This all depends upon final approval in Washington of your proposed organization," he said. "If our report is approved by the State Board, at some later date a survey party will be sent in to make a detailed study."

The detailed study, Green said, will be basis for additional approval of proposal. He estimated that approval or rejection of findings of the party here this week would be made within two or three months at state level.

He asked his audience if they thought that easements and right-of-way agreements could be obtained from land owners without too much difficulty.

Speaking for landowners, in discussing his question, were Joe Montgomery, T. H. Gattis, Doyle Hall, Del Wells and R. L. Salmon.

After the general discussion of what public sentiment might be, the speaker stated that the proposed organization would be "responsible for getting the program in effect."

"Engineers will make a detailed study of all factors, and will make their recommendations," Green pointed out. "Then it will be up to men like you to go to your neighbors and get their cooperation in the overall program."

J. L. Brooks, chairman of the board of the Hall County Soil Conservation District, told those present that his organization was ready to cooperate in any and every way.

Green emphasized fact that it would take money to get the program started.

"The sponsoring organization would make contracts, handle money, and manage the set-up," he pointed out. "Therefore, some means must be worked out to get primary funds at the beginning."

The speaker cited examples which have been taken by other flood control and prevention districts over the state in handling the primary fund-raising problem. "It will cost you money in the early stages of the operation of your organization," he said. "Later, federal funds will be available.

"Of course, all this will take place if you get approval on state and national level."

The speaker was asked about obtaining priority of Hall County's application.

"It is my understanding that these are approximately 50 applications in the state office of similar projects," Green said. "The amount of interest you manifest—just how much do you want your flood prevention organization—will determine the priority it will take. I am sure all of these factors will be considered by the state board in establishing priority of one area with that of the others."

O. F. Armstrong, who represents the State Board, told the group that all information gathered this week will be sent immediately to state headquarters.

"Your State Board will take into consideration all factors," he added. "Especially important is the willingness of your citizens to cooperate in setting up your organization. It's important that you do your work. You might start getting a report from each person living in your area as to his personal desire in this matter. If you indicate you desire to protect your land by establishment of the flood control and prevention organization, you will get full consideration."

It was announced that another meeting will be called, if the State city wants to come in the authority or stay out. It does not cost anything, Harrison said.

After the confirmation election, the cities in the authority will have a chance to look at the costs and other figures before any election is held on the issuance of bonds or levying a tax. Each city will know how much the cost will be and where the money will come from, he explained.

According to information from Austin, all qualified voters (those who have paid poll taxes or are exempt) may vote in the confirmation election. Only qualified property owners are eligible to vote on bond issues which would follow at a later date, however.

Representing Memphis at the meeting were Mayor Helm, Harrison, J. W. Coppedge, Herschel Combs and Clifford Farmer.

Board approves the findings of the flood control survey party. This will be an area-wide meeting, and all persons residing within the proposed district will be invited. Date of this will be announced later.

In addition to Hall County citizens attending the meeting, these men were registered: Chester Huffstetler, SCS, Childress; James Gould, SCS, Clarendon; James H. Miller, SCS engineer, Amarillo; Claude Thompson, SCS engineer, Haskell; Calvin Jackson, SCS engineer, Memphis; Jim Voss, SCS economist, Brownwood; Bill Swindle, SCS, Memphis; Lynn McKown, ASC office manager, Memphis; W. B. Hooser, county agent, Memphis; and these board members of the Hall County Soil Conservation District: Johnny Glover, Childress; G. R. Colvin, Turkey; and F. R. Gentry, Memphis.

M. D. Gunstream Named President Of Muleshoe Bank

M. D. Gunstream, former Memphis resident, was named president of the First National Bank of Muleshoe last week at board of directors meeting.

Mr. Gunstream has served the bank as vice president since it was organized in 1955. He was formerly employed by the First National Bank here.

The promotion to president came about when W. T. Andrews, former president, sold his stock to others members of the board. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gunstream and is a graduate of Memphis High School.

Totally Disabled

20 years the department's field workers will be required by law to determine the resources of relatives of persons who apply for aid.

The "permanency" and "totality" of the disability will be determined by a state reviewing physician after study of a complete physical or mental examination by the person's own private physician. Complete helplessness from a medical standpoint, rather than inability to work, is the criteria. The state will pay the private physician for his examination.

Funds for assistance payments will not be available until Sept. 1, 1957, but applications will be taken after July 15. If the helplessness individual is not able to leave home, the persons responsible for his care may come to the local welfare office and acquaint the department with his situation. A field worker will then call, as soon as possible, at the home to take the application.

The local office is located on the first floor of the court house. Miss Helen Boswell is the field worker for this unit and requests that applications be made on each Thursday.

which is grown in this county.

McKown urged farmers to be sure and comply with the allotments since they would have to refund their Soil Bank payments unless they comply with the cotton marketing quotas.

"Most of the farms which have been measured so far have been in compliance with the quotas," he stated, "but there are a few which are in excess."

He continued by saying that there were 18 men in the field working on cotton measuring, assisted by 6 ladies doing the office work.
