Peanut Pierce Escapes Safely in Pacific Air Crash

Second Lieut. Aadron A. "Peanut" Pierce, Marine pilot and former Memphis resident, received only minor injuries Saturday when the attack bomber he was piloting crashed into the Pacific Ocean off the Hawaiian Island of Kauai.

News of the crash, which killed one crew member, was released by the Marine Corps Monday night.

Pierce, 23, graduated from the local high school in 1951 and was a two-year football letterman. He later attended West Texas State College in Canyon before entering the service.

O. E. Bevers Reappointed To Red River Board

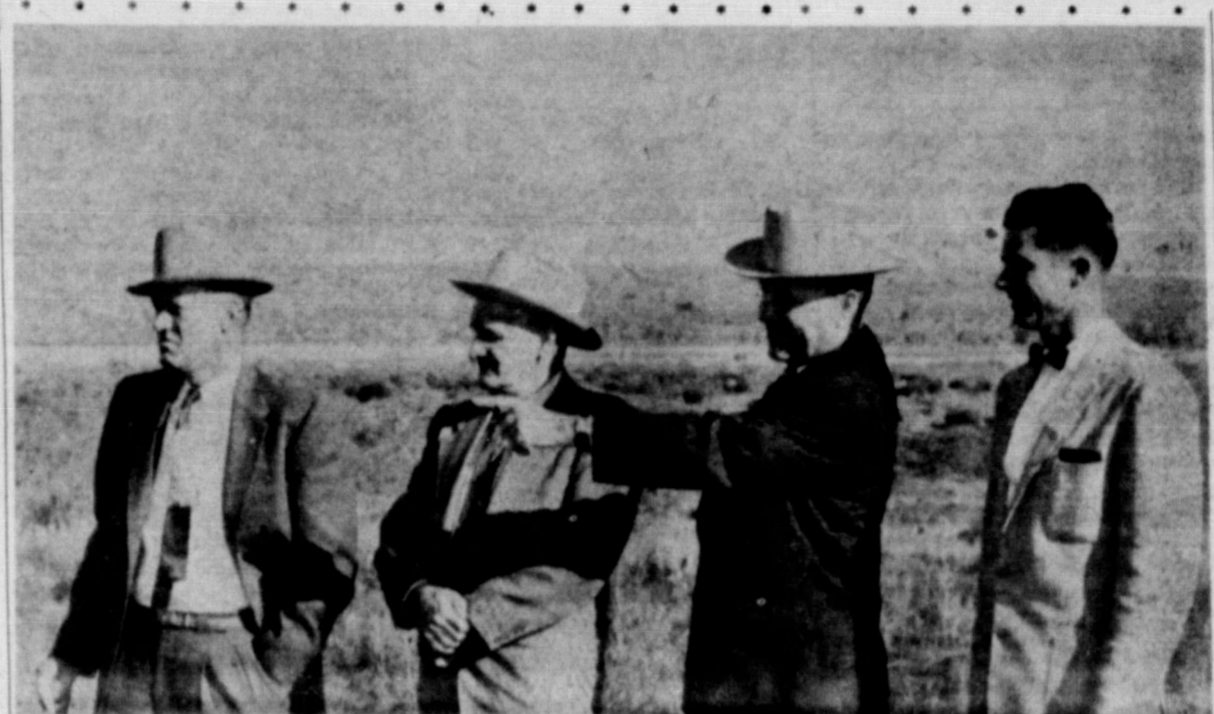

O. E. (Ott) Bevers of Lakeview was reappointed last week to the board of directors of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation District.

The announcement was made last Thursday afternoon by Gov. Price Daniel in a telephone conversation to The Democrat.

Bevers and Barr have served continuously on the board of directors since the district was organized in 1937. They have been reappointed by different governors of the state when their terms have expired.

Members of the board and interested citizens have been working for a dam across the Red River at a location near the Hall-Briscoe county line.

Area Dam Proposals Receive Support From Visiting National, State Officials

Visitors Inspect Greenbelt Fri., Red River Sat.

Two proposed dams of this area drew favorable comment and support last week from state and national officials who visited the sites and made speeches at Wellington, Hedley and Turkey.

U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Walter Rogers visited the site of the proposed Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Authority dam Friday before speaking at the Hedley Cotton Festival that afternoon.

State Senator Andy Rogers and Representative Will Ehrlie also toured the dam site and pledged their support of the proposed Greenbelt venture.

Saturday morning Senator Yarborough and the directors of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation Authority inspected two proposed sites for a dam on Red River in the western part of the county. Later the Senator pledged his support of the project in a speech at the Turkey High School auditorium.

State Sen. Rogers and Rep. Ehrlie also visited the Red River sites and gave the movement their wholehearted support.

Work was begun several years ago on the Red River dam movement, and has continued to the present time. Flood damages from the swollen stream last spring, in spite of Denison Dam, brought attention to the need for an upstream dam on the river. It has been pointed out by many persons that the spring floods did more damage downstream than a dam would have cost here, directors told the officials.

Flood Prevention Meeting To Be At Lakeview Tues.

Farmers and landowners of the Lakeview, Lesley and Brice area will meet Tuesday evening, Nov. 5, to form a temporary Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention District organization.

The meeting will be held in the Lakeview school cafeteria, and will begin at 7:30 p. m.

In making the announcement, Charley Cape, county work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, said that the meeting was of vital importance. The temporary organization will start handling details of the proposed flood control district, which is comprised of farms and ranches along Bitter, Pole Cat, John Mann and Oaks Creeks in Hall and Donley Counties.

L. W. Harvel, area conservationist, of Vernon, will meet with the group, as well as other SCS personnel. Additional details will be explained to those present. Cape said that all landowners and farmers who have been directly affected by flood waters of the four creeks are urged to attend the meeting.

Requirements which must be met in order that the affected area can form its own district will be outlined.

Under Public Law 566, landowners are authorized to form a district, within which retention dams and other structures will be constructed on the headwaters and flood areas of the four creeks. Other features under existing laws, both state and national, will be discussed.

A flood control survey party worked in the affected areas last July, and gathered data of damages from floods. Their findings will be reported upon at the session Tuesday.

Hall Farm Bureau Directors Select Committee Heads

Hall County Farm Bureau directors met Monday night in the office of the organization and selected men to serve on three of the committees for this year, the president, Brown Smith, announced this week.

Clee Parr and Jess Mitchell Jr. were named to the services and refreshment committee, and Arlie Shawhart to the membership committee. Robert Moss was appointed to the resolutions and policy execution committee.

The group announced that a program chairman will be appointed at a later date. The board voted to send a news letter to each farmer in Hall County every four months explaining the efforts of the Farm Bureau in their behalf, Smith said. The first letter will be mailed about Jan. 1, 1958.

Final Rites Held In Amarillo For Mrs. M. Eastwood

Mrs. Mary Sue Eastwood of Amarillo, relative of two local people, died in a hospital here early Friday morning.

A daughter, Mrs. Bill Prater, and one of three grandchildren, Mrs. Ruth Bice, are of Memphis. Other survivors include a son, John Eastwood of Amarillo; another daughter, Mrs. J. M. Wellman of Des Moines, N. M.; three grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren. One daughter predeceased her in death.

Services were held in Ennis Griggs and Son's Pioneer Chapel in Amarillo on Saturday. Interment was in Llano Cemetery there.

Morningside School Extends Closing For Cotton Harvest

The Morningside School, which was closed for cotton harvest Oct. 4, will not be open again until Nov. 11, Supt. W. C. Davis announced this week.

It was decided to extend the closing time two weeks longer than originally planned, in order to accommodate both harvesters and farmers. If necessary, school may not open until Nov. 18 though this depends on further harvesting developments, he said.

Season Opens — Ducks Set To Begin Ducking Shot Friday

The 1957 duck season will get underway Friday morning, Nov. 1, and continue until January 14, 1958, Game Warden Walter Hicks announced this week.

Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset with a bag limit of five ducks in the aggregate of all kinds, including in such limit not more than one wood duck and not more than one hooded merganser. Possession limit is 10 ducks.

Geese season also opens Friday and will close December 30 with shooting hours the same, the warden explained. Daily bag limit on geese and brant is six, provided such limit does not contain more than two Canada geese or its subspecies or one white-fronted goose, or one of each. Possession is one day's kill.

Game and Fish Commission proclamations governing the taking of migratory game birds provide that the birds may be taken during open seasons with a bow and arrow, or with a shotgun, not larger than a ten gauge. Shotguns must be plugged to three-shell capacity.

Birds may be taken from land or water with the aid of a dog and from a blind, a boat, or floating craft, except that they may not be taken from a sink box, power

Cyclone Meets Lefors There; B Squad, Jr. High Play Here

The Memphis Cyclone will journey to Lefors Friday night for the second conference game of the season. The Cyclone defeated McLean in the first conference tilt here last week by a score of 34-12.

Memphis fans will not be without football this weekend, however, for the Memphis B team will tangle with the Lakeview A squad here Saturday night at 7:30 p. m. Before the B squad game, the Memphis Junior High team will play Canadian at 6 p. m. The B squad coach is David Corley, and the Junior High group is coached by Hubert Dennis.

In a scrimmage earlier this year, Lakeview tied the B squad 6-6. Last week the Lefors eleven lost a conference game with Clarendon by a score of 14-7. However, the Clarendon club won only by intercepting a pass in the last few minutes of play and scoring with a few seconds left in the game. Up until this point, Lefors was ahead on first downs.

In their first week of conference play, the Lefors team defeated pre-season favorite Canadian 14-13. They also defeated Wellington 13-6, and Shamrock. Panhandle defeated Lefors 21-12 and they also lost to White Deer.

Coach John Jones said that the local squad would be ready for the game Friday. "We have recovered from the flu and the boys have been working hard this week with a lot of contact practice," he said.

"The scouts thought that Lefors had the best ball club that they had seen so far in our class. They are a little heavier than we are in the line, with one tackle weighing 210 and the other 180.

They also have one big back, their quarterback, who weighs 170. We have been working hard to prepare for the game and believe the boys are ready physically," the coach added.

None of the Memphis players were hurt in last week's game, however, some are still on the injured list. End James Davis suffered a torn ligament in his knee Tuesday at practice, and Halfback Billy Johnson is still out with a knee injury. The only other injured player is Don Deaver, who received a fractured shoulder bone in the Childress game.

In commenting on last week's game, Coach Jones stated that he thought the team played a real good game, especially on the defense. The McLean group made only one first down in the first half. A complete story of the game will be found on another page in this issue of The Democrat.

BUMPER GRAIN CROP—A. M. Sims, right above with County Agent W. B. Hooser, inspects his combine grain crop which is producing over 3,000 pounds per acre. A crew cut an acre of the land last week and collected 3,110 pounds of grain. The crop was planted about the first of July and is part of an 18-acre field. The Sims farm is located a mile north east of Newlin. Other crops over the county are reported to be the best in several years.

In a recent newsletter I reported some of the statistics and information concerning the communication media which has had considerable impact on the American scene. I refer to the television industry which has become so much a part of our daily lives.

One aspect of this giant industry which is receiving studied attention in all quarters is subscription television, or pay TV. Expressions are heard on all sides relative to the merits or demerits of initiating a nation wide system whereby the television viewer can put a coin in a slot in his own living room to see a program of his choice. Those who favor the initiation of subscription television contend it will make possible better and more elaborate programs. This group also maintains that pay TV will be a small facet of the programming in the over-all industry, and will supplement the vast around-the-clock system of today.

On the other hand, those opposed to pay TV advance the theory that the greatness of the American communications system has been achieved by virtue of its availability to anyone who possesses a television or radio receiver, and that the entire cost of transmitting should continue to be borne by advertisers, net works and local stations.

The Federal Communications Commission has recently announced a program of limited trial subscription television in certain cities throughout the United States and is currently receiving applications with the assurance that no action will be taken on the applications prior to March, 1958. The controversy surrounding subscription television undoubtedly will be brought to the Congress early in the next session since the FCC was established and its laws perfected through the legislative process.

Feed Grains Exports

It is interesting to note the disposition of some of our grain sorghum crops under the Agriculture Trade Development and Assistance Act which was enacted in 1954 and extended in the last session of Congress. You will recall this is the program where certain commodities are exported and sold in foreign countries in exchange for the local currency in that country rather than United States dollars. Since the beginning of the program through September 30, 1957, some 88,140,480 bushels of feed grains have been marketed in foreign countries. Of this amount 5,795,000 bushels were grain sorghums. These figures are estimates and there doubtless will be measurable disposition of grain sorghums in the balance of fiscal 1958. The aggregate value of feed grains marketed in foreign countries through September 30th was 113.2 million dollars.

Now is the time of the year to start thinking about farmstead windbreaks. Planting time will be on us soon (Mid-January through February) and we should keep in mind the location and start to prepare the place around the farmstead for the trees.

Two or three rows of trees should be used. The spacing between rows should be around 16 feet but could be a little more or a little less. Trees in the row should be about 10 feet apart and shrubs should be spaced about 4 feet apart. The outside row should be a shrub type of tree like the Desert Willow or Vitex. The inside row should be a tall growing tree. Do not prune the shrub-type but the tall growing trees can be pruned to a single upright stem.

The trees should be placed on the South and West sides of the farm home to protect from the blowing dust, but a lot of farm homes have a band of trees on the north side also.

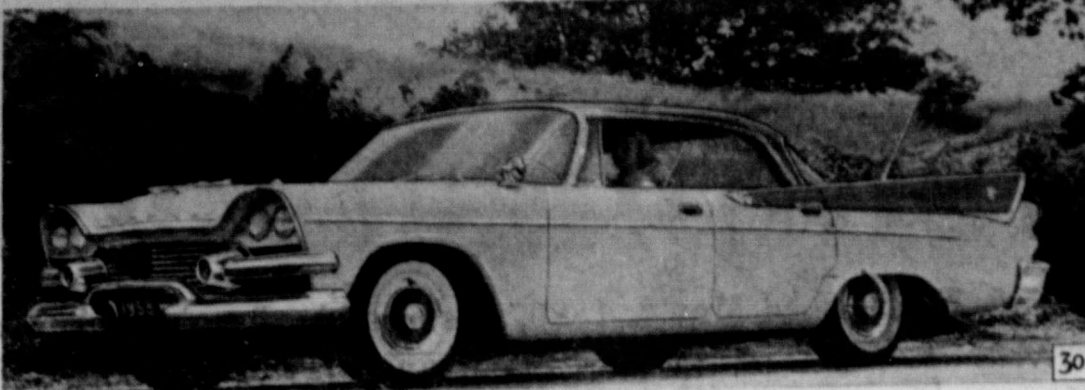

Windbreaks make the farm home a lot more attractive and a more pleasant place to live when the dust and north wind starts blowing.

A lot of farmsteads in the Hall County Soil Conservation District need farmstead windbreaks. The cost of the trees is small and the appearance of the farm home is helped a lot.

For more information on this matter contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.

NEW DODGE SHOWING—The 1958 Dodge, which will go on display Nov. 1 at Hickey Motor Co., will feature a complete group of safety advancements including power steering, power brakes, padded dashboard and sun visors. The Custom Royal Lancer, above, also features the compound picture windshield, standard on all hardtop and convertible models.

New Dodge To Make Debut Here Nov. 1 at Hickey Motor Company

Significant advances in safety engineering, fuel economy, and engine performance, plus dramatic "Swept-Wing" styling distinguish the 1958 Dodge passenger cars, which will make their debut on November 1, Gerald Hickey announced this week.

The all-new Ram Fire V-8 engine, designed for top economy and performance, as well as quiet operation heads a long list of important engineering features of Swept-Wing '58, he said. Among these is the "Sure-Grip" differential, which provides pulling power to the rear wheel with the most traction, eliminating wheel spinning on ice or snow, or in sand and mud.

Dual headlights, mounted side-by-side under fender hoods, provide greater safety for after-dark driving, and set the pace for Dodge swept-wing styling.

A strikingly different stainless steel grill complements the dual headlight styling.

Offered this year as a single safety package on the 1958 Dodge are the completely new, full-time Constant Control steering, Total Contact floating shoe power brakes, padded dashboard and padded sun visors. Other safety features include Life-Guard safety door latches and safety door handles, both designed to secure doors against accidental opening.

An added safety and comfort feature is Torsion-Aire suspension, regarded as the most modern of any American design. The torsion bar system, combined with an extremely low center of gravity, gives a smoother more controlled ride.

Torque-Flite automatic transmission is available on all Dodge V-8 models, while power-flite is offered on all 1958 Dodge Coronet models.

Automobiles Go On Display Today at Potts Chevrolet Co.

1958 Chevrolets went on display today at Potts Chevrolet Co. and in other showrooms throughout the nation.

Potts stated that the new Chevrolet was marked by new styling and outstanding engineering advancements.

The new public display for the 1958 Chevrolet is the 1958 Chevrolet.

The new Turbo-Thrust engine is still another high spot that illustrates the magnitude of the engineering job behind the 1958 Chevrolets.

The new engine is one of five V8's and a six-cylinder carried in the new line. Ramjet fuel injection which Chevrolet introduced last year, is again offered as an option on the 283-inch V8.

Like the design of the cars, the twin headlamps have utility in addition to appearance value. City and country driving light reflectors and beams can be focused for their specific responsibilities.

Billie Jean Stroehle, attending Texas Tech in Lubbock, spent the weekend here with her mother, Mrs. Reba Stroehle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen, Jr., of Amarillo visited this weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen.

Varied two-tone color patterns, a judicious use of chrome moldings and decorative panels give each series an individuality and supply the latest examples of the industry's new art of "sculpturamic" styling.

Literally, the weather is great for ducks.

A lot of Texans, you may be sure, have been thinking it over, inasmuch as the duck season opens November 1 and extends to December 30.

Big rains this year have broken the drought along the Gulf Coast, providing plenty of surface water for the birds.

There will be an excellent crop of such native waterfowl food as wild duck millet, smartweeds, duck potato, and pondweeds.

Among the lower coast, the duck prospects are also very good. October rain caused habitat conditions to improve rapidly.

Add to this the fact that the duck breeding season in the North was a successful one, and you have every indication of good duck hunting in Texas during the coming season.

Many varieties of ducks come to Texas with the cool winds of Fall.

Of various kinds, the mallard predominates. A grain-eater, the mallard's flesh has a mild flavor. Fish-eating ducks have a stronger taste.

Biggest of the ducks available to Texans is the American Merganser, which may go to four pounds. Smallest is the green-winged teal, averaging three-quarters of a pound.

A duck hunter must know his birds — bag limits vary with the species.

How To Do It

What's the secret of duck hunting — or any wing shooting? Well, it takes a steady hand, a clear eye, and good coordination, of course, but is also takes a gun that fits the shooter.

With time and money, you can do business with gun specialists who will fit the gun to your particular needs.

You'll get all kinds of tests, including some in the field. At the end of a year or so, you'll have your gun, which will fit you like an old shoe. It will cost you about two thousand dollars.

Most of us don't have that kind of moola. But we can take our time in selecting a weapon, try it out, borrow a gun from a friend, talk about it, and be sure, before we purchase, that the gun fits.

Then we can go duck hunting, and if all the factors are right we can get birds.

Practice Helps

It goes without saying that practice is one of the elements of accurate wing shooting. Some rounds of skeet, before the season opens, should serve to sharpen the eye.

Another item is distance. A beginner is likely to blast away at ducks from afar, but a more experienced shooter will wait until they come closer.

At 12 yards a duck looks bigger than a turkey. At 20 yards he shrinks to chicken size. At 30 yards, he's more like a pigeon, and at 40 yards, he's down to dove dimensions. Off there at 50 yards he's an English sparrow, and at 60 yards, he's a hummingbird.

Too Many Deer

Game management officials are in disagreement about reducing the deer population in some areas.

In Kerr County, for example, game commission biologists found that the land is overstocked and overgrazed. They recommend that hunters be permitted to kill does as well as buck deer this season.

Kerr County commissioners rejected this proposal, and the state commission held with the Kerr County group, so there will be no legal doe shooting in the county this year.

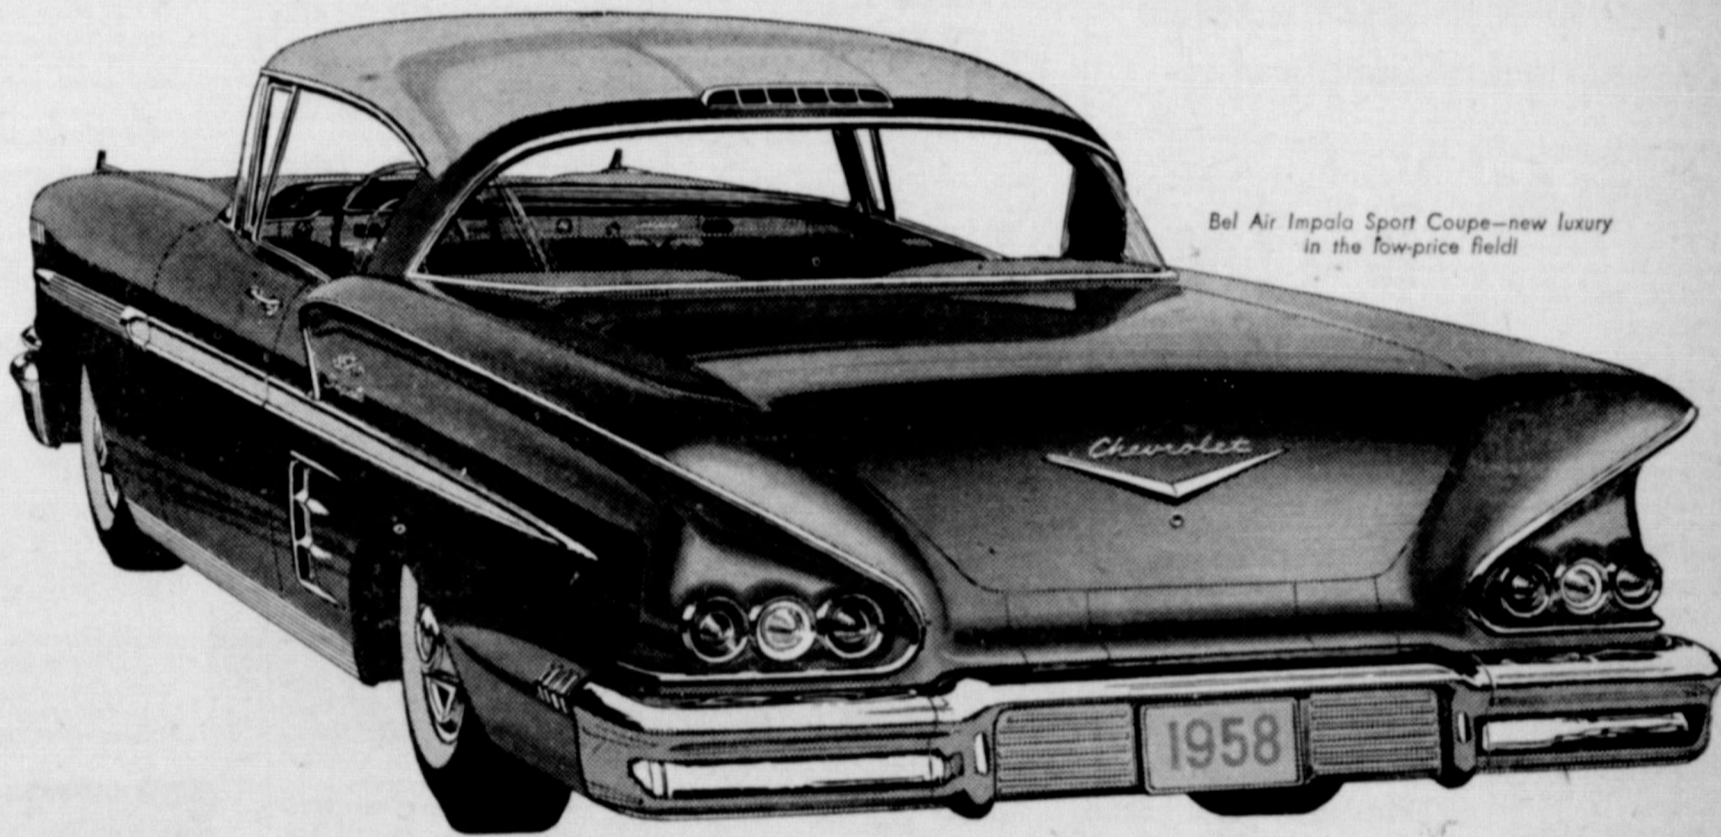

There is a strong likelihood, say the biologists, that many Kerr County deer will die of starvation this winter.

There is a different situation in the Engeling area of Anderson County where, on a block of land owned by the state commission, permits will be issued to kill 100 deer of either sex.

An excess of doe was discovered in the area.

Gal Wardens?

Maybe Texas is going to have female game wardens. The notion has been put forward by Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas.

YOUR Social Security

Do you know which members of your family would be eligible for social security benefits if anything should happen to you?

John R. Sanderson, district manager of the Amarillo social security office said that many questions received in the district office indicate that workers and their families do not understand the survivors benefits provided in the social security law. Consequently, families may lose benefits in the event of the death of the worker.

The law now permits widows to draw monthly benefits at age 62. Widows who are younger may draw monthly benefits if they have in their care a child of the deceased worker who is entitled to benefits. Sanderson said most people know that a child of a deceased worker is entitled to benefits until age 18. Many people, however, are not aware that a disabled son or daughter over 18 may qualify for a child's benefit if the disability began before age 18.

Under certain circumstances a widower who was dependent on his wife may qualify for monthly benefits. Dependent parents may qualify if the worker was not survived by a spouse or a child entitled to monthly benefits.

Mr. Sanderson pointed out that in almost every case a lump-sum death benefit can be paid to survivors. This payment is in addition to any monthly benefits the family may get. He emphasized that benefits are not paid automatically; families must make application for them.

The social security office recommended that every worker find out what payments may be due his family in the event of his death. Workers need this information to plan effectively for the financial security of their families.

"Your social security has a booklet entitled 'Your Social Security' which provides this information. You may write or telephone your social security office for a copy," Sanderson added.

CHANGE TO SHAMROCK 10 W-30 MOTOR OIL NOW AND PROTECT THE LIFE OF YOUR CAR'S ENGINE AND BATTERY

The development of Shamrock 10W-30 Motor Oil is based on the fact that the typical passenger car engine operates most of its useful life in the temperature zone between the cold start and normal operating temperatures.

All oils thicken as temperature decreases. The difference between Shamrock 10W-30 and conventional oil is that it thickens less at low temperature. The effect on your car's performance is important.

When you change to Shamrock 10W-30, the improvements you'll notice immediately are: (1) that even on the coldest mornings the engine will turn over quickly and easily, and (2) a marked increase in gasoline mileage.

These advantages are the most obvious, but not necessarily the most important. Frictional wear in the engine takes place at a very high rate during the first few strokes when starting an engine with little or no lubricant on the cylinder walls. 10W-30 reduces this wear, flowing quickly . . . replenishing the oil film. At high temperatures a thicker lubricant does a better job of keeping metal surfaces apart. Accordingly, 10W-30 being thick at high temperatures gives your engine full protection at this end of the temperature range.

With Shamrock 10W-30 in the crankcase, you will: (1) extend the life of your car's engine, (2) extend the life of your battery, (3) increase gasoline mileage and (4) reduce the octane requirement. We don't claim miracles for it, but probably will.

1958 PLYMOUTH—Hickey Motor Co. announced this week that the new Plymouth will go on display here Friday. The new line will feature Silver Dart styling with two-tone trim sweeping backward and up to the tip of the familiar fins. Six engine options and a new Constant power steering system are included in the new features this year.

New Plymouth To Go On Display Here Friday, Nov. 1, at Hickey Motor Co.

The 1958 Plymouth will go on display at Hickey Motor Co. here Friday, November 1, according to announcements this week.

Substantial styling advances in keeping with the trend-setting characteristics of the current Plymouth cars, plus a broad new line-up of six engine options and other important new engineering features will be seen in this new model, Gerald Hickey, owner of the firm stated.

"The new Plymouth is improved in appearance, performance, comfort and safety, yet retains many of the outstanding styling, handling and riding features that were so enthusiastically accepted by American car-buyers this year," he added.

Styling features of the new Plymouth include a bright new "Silver Dart" side moulding treatment, sweeping upward at the rear on Belvedere and Sport Suburban models to the tip of the Plymouth's familiar high-flung directional stabilizer fins, with optional dart inserts of silvery anodized aluminum or compatible colors.

Double header dual headlights are standard equipment on all new Plymouths, with the inner beams producing maximum long-range forward visibility and the outer pair providing supplemental fill-in light when used in combination, or efficient low-beam lighting when used alone. With filaments centered in all lamps, the new dual headlights produce the safest, most scientifically effective night lighting ever attained for automobiles.

New turn signals and parking lights are nestled in a triangular area above and between the headlights. Tail lights also are new, with circular reflectors lower in the fender and a silver-colored reflective wedge extending upward to the tip of the fin. The back-up light is centered beneath the rear bumper.

The lower front grille of the Plymouth for 1958 has been redesigned with a horizontal bar effect identical to the upper grille section.

Plymouth's new engine lineup offers six power options, including the new 350-cubic-inch Golden

New Publications Available On Irrigation Tips

Irrigation is a means of maintaining a continuous supply of available moisture in the plant root zone of the soil throughout the growing season. The irrigator should keep a careful check on soil moisture conditions, for irrigation must be started soon enough to arrive at the last portion of the field before its available water has been exhausted, says R. V. Thurmond, extension agricultural engineer.

A practical method for estimating the available soil moisture is to take a small amount of soil, squeeze it in the hand so as to Commando V-8 at extra cost, with a 10 to 1 compression ratio and a horsepower rating of 305. New fuel injection is available with this engine as a limited option.

Standard V-8 Plymouth engine for 1958 is the 318 cubic-inch Fury V-800 with dual carburetion, a compression ratio of 9 to 1 and rated at 225 horsepower. Super Pak, with four barrel carburetion, is available as extra equipment, and a Dual Fury V-800 engine with eight barrel carburetion is the standard power plant for the high performance Plymouth Fury car in 1958.

Torsion-Aire ride, Plymouth's top engineering advance of 1957 for non-sway riding comfort and dip-free starts and stops, is also an outstanding feature for Plymouth in 1958, as are the trouble-free push button automatic transmissions, TorqueFlite and Power Flite, and Plymouth's sure, safe Total contact brakes.

For added convenience and safety, the inside rear view mirror has been relocated, higher above the instrument panel and nearer to the eyes of the driver. In the new location it is less sensitive to changes in the driver's position and affords much improved rearward visibility.

form a ball; then refer to a chart that is given in a leaflet, L-355, "How to Estimate Soil Moisture by Feel," for a description of the feel and appearance of different textured soils for various moisture percentages.

Another leaflet that will be of interest to irrigators is L-358, "Irrigation Siphon Tubes." These tubes are used to divert water from a supply ditch to the land. They permit easy control of water and reduce labor and ditch maintenance.

The leaflet gives a description of the tubes and contains sections on the flow from siphon tubes and how to start siphons. It also contains a chart that is helpful in determining the rate of flow from siphons.

Both leaflets are available from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

Mrs. Bertha Wilburn and L. E. Thompson of Clarendon visited here Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baldwin and E. P. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fritchell of Amarillo were here over the weekend to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goffinet.

Mrs. Johnie Brewer visited this week in Dumas with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lawrence.

Questions & Answers For Veterans

Q. I am a Korean veteran. Would I be permitted to study dressmaking in France under the Korean GI Bill?

A. The law prohibits this. The only foreign training allowed is college-level work, approved by VA, offered by accredited institutions of higher learning.

Q. I was injured on the job, and doctors tell me I am totally disabled. I hold a World War II GI insurance policy. May I stop paying premiums and retain my coverage?

A. No. You should continue to pay your premiums. After you have been totally disabled for six months, apply to VA for a waiver of premiums. Continue to pay until VA informs you that a waiver has been granted. VA will refund all premiums paid during the period of total disability, but for not more than one year prior to filing your claim.

Q. I am a disabled Korean veteran and I have received vocational rehabilitation training under the Public Law 894. Would I now be eligible for further training under the Korean GI Bill?

A. You may be. Subtract the amount of vocational rehabilitation training received from 48 months. If there is a balance left over, that is the amount of training to which you might be entitled under the Korean GI Bill.

Q. Am I supposed to notify my GI insurance beneficiaries if I want to make a change in my beneficiary list?

A. No. You need merely notify VA of your new list of beneficiaries. You need not notify the beneficiaries themselves.

Q. My husband, a World War II veteran, bought a house with a GI loan. Shortly afterward, he died of a service-connected condition. As an unremarried widow, would I still be entitled to a GI loan, even though he used his benefit before his death?

A. Yes. The service-connected death of your husband would entitle you to a GI loan, even though he used his benefit before his death.

One-fourth the U. S. population today is troubled with water shortage, poor water, or both, reports the Soil Conservation Service of the USDA. The potential supply of water remains constant while the need, which is expected to double by 1975, increases with growing population. Industry and irrigation are by far the largest users.

Dew Seen As Important Water Source for Plants

Dew may be an important source of moisture for plants in some of the more humid areas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Tests have shown that accumulation of dew can total as much as 10 inches of water in a year and in some years may furnish up to 20 per cent of the total water supply for crops in some areas of the Midwest.

These studies were conducted in Ohio. Importance of dew as a moisture-source in other parts of the nation remains to be determined.

There is a widely held belief that dew gives little benefit to plants, says Brown. If the public swallows this perhaps we can't blame the police for using a ready-made out when unreasonable criticism is leveled at them.

Favoring antigun legislation makes it appear to people who don't know that something is being done, when in reality it probably provides the greatest assistance to the outlaw, concludes Brown.

because most of it is lost through evaporation by the morning sun.

However, USDA tests showed that it can be an important source of moisture for growing plants. An appreciable amount is absorbed directly by the plants, say the researchers, while some runs down the stalk into the ground.

This research indicates plants often draw less than usual amount of moisture from soil in the morning when being evaporated from the leaves. Evidently dew absorbed through leaves supplied the plants' requirements of time of day.

In the USDA tests, dew added for as much as 0.68 inch of water in a single day and provided a monthly water of 1 inch or more.

By January 1, 1958, the U. S. Laying flock is estimated to be down 6 to 8 per cent from January 1, 1957. Statistically, a 25 per cent decrease for the year. The reduction will be due to egg replacements with the greatest in small flocks.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A question raised recently by Pete Brown, Arms and Ammunition Editor of Sports Afield Magazine is this: Which group are the proponents of firearms legislation (or the administrators thereof) trying to make it difficult for, criminals or collectors and sportsmen? He claims that there is cause for speculation on this point, as it seems the antigun fanatics have had a particularly busy year trying to slip through all manner of ridiculous laws.

One of the particular points that Brown speaks out against is the registration of firearms. It is certainly wrong to require the registration of firearms in any form, he states, because it is a well-known fact that this information is valuable to any enemy attempting to overthrow this country. If this consideration seems out of place, then why all the fuss about Civil Defense? It is certainly wrong to make it difficult for a good citizen to purchase and possess a pistol.

Brown points out that a pistol is an excellent weapon for defense, but a poor weapon for crime. A gun furnishes a good clue to the criminal and provides a convincing bit of evidence. Not because it might be registered (which it more than likely would not be in the case of a criminal), but because the bullet which is left at the scene of a shooting can frequently be identified with the gun from which it was fired.

Brown asks, why have so many high police officials favored antigun legislation which works a hardship on the sportsman and the person who wants a pistol for self-defense? Officials faced with a crime wave often take a public stand in favor of antigun legislation to relieve public pressure. This is making the gun the whip-people, who reportedly had Kellan and three nice half hours and caught a pair of anglers, for 30 told Kellan just sightseeing and a minnow. Still another twosome who, according to the camp operator, caught limit strings, said they fished 11 hours and didn't get a bite.

There's no law against this tale telling, but it should come under the head of false advertising, and any camp operator guilty of it should be avoided.

But, when you find an honest operator—and there are many of them—stick with him.

A Few Warnings
A word of warning. Be sure you take your outboard motor off the boat now, that it is properly drained. Water left in the motor might freeze and crack the cylinder.

Also remember, it is getting dark earlier each evening and will continue to do so until mid-December. This means on your return to camp you should start early enough to get in before dark. Which reminds us that Justrite has made a new lantern, especially for fishermen. It is boxed in a container, which permits its being carried in the tackle box fully protected. It is a powerful beamed spotlight . . . something fishermen have been needing for a long time.

Shooting Preserves
More hunters each year are taking advantage of shooting preserves to get their quail and pheasants. Texas now has several of these preserves. They are stocked with pen raised birds. The landowners permit shooting for fees. Some of them charge by the day. Others by the birds killed. In either event the total cost of a hunt with the bag limit filled might be less in one of these places than you might expect.

Game wardens and in most instances the sporting goods stores, know where there is one of these preserves close to you. Check into it.

News Notes
Texas Open Championship Field Trials will be held at Camp Maxey, near Paris, from December 2 through December 10. This is the outstanding bird dog event of the south. Entries are from all over the United States. Information can be had from Mrs. H. B. Pittman, Box 454, Tyler, who is secretary. Carl Duffield of Abeline is president.

You who like to fish at Gavles-ton will be pleased to note that the T-Head of the Pleasure Pier is open for free fishing Mondays through Fridays of every week until March 1. Saturday and Sunday fishing is 50c per angler. Bring your own bait, however, as the concession stands are closed.

About 240 species of fish and shellfish appear on American dinner tables, according to the National Fisheries Institute. These fishery products vary as to content of protein, minerals and vitamins, but all are low in carbohydrates.

The Southern Diet
Nutritionally speaking, Texans and other southerners are eating better these days than they were twenty years ago.

Comparing the hang-over depression days of the thirties with present-day living conditions, people will not find this information too surprising. Still, foods need not be expensive to be nutritious, and the trend of southern families toward better-balanced diets is evidenced by a recent survey is most encouraging.

To illustrate, a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1936 showed about 40 per cent of southern diets to be "poor." Judging from the same standards used in that study, a similar survey conducted in 1955 indicates only about 20 per cent of southern family diets to be nutritionally deficient now.

This is not to say, however, that 20 per cent of southern families are actually undernourished since the levels of nutrients recommended provide for a safety margin over average needs.

The most common fault among diets studied was a shortage of vitamin C, calcium, vitamin A, and Riboflavin, in that order. About 80 per cent of southern families were getting two-thirds of the vitamin C recommended, 90 per cent had diets providing two-thirds of calcium and vitamin A recommendations, and other nutrients studied were being consumed at an even higher degree.

The most discouraging aspect of the study was the finding that southern diets, while greatly improved, are still below those of the United States as a whole, and that there is a more direct relationship between southern income level and nutritional quality of diets than in other regions of the country.

Tax Man — SAM SEZ

Some folks may think we ought to leave folks alone who move off and forget to tell the Internal Revenue Service where to mail their refund check. The Dallas District has accumulated about 40,000 checks over the years. There are several thousand for this year in the files now in spite of one newspaper printing all the names and helping to clear out thousands of them. The Tax Refund Lady gets old clippings from our comments on the checks. If you have a refund coming and have moved from your old address or forget to put your address on your tax return and you were notified that your return was selected for a pre-refund audit, you ought to look at your copy of your 1956 return and see if you did have a refund coming. If you were due a refund and are sure you haven't received it you should write to: Tax Refund Lady, Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas. Be sure and give full details.

Editorial

Brownell Sets The Stage

The resignation of Herbert Brownell Jr. as U. S. Attorney General last week brought much speculation as to his reasons for quitting, but most political observers seem to feel that he finished the job he was picked to do—break down the resistance being offered to the program designed to get the Negro vote for the Republicans. Reports have been coming out of Washington for some time which seem to indicate that a master plan was conceived several years ago to accomplish this purpose. The magazine, U. S. News and World Report, has commented along this line in several issues.

The first step in the plan, it has been pointed out, dealt with the appointment of Supreme Court Justices. Following this an attorney general was needed who would pursue the plan to win the Negro vote for Republicans in the key states. They began the program with the segregation question in schools and on public transportation and continued along this line in other fields. The attorney general then drew up a Civil Rights bill which they hoped to use to split the Democrats and be the clenching move in the integration question.

This fell short, though, after Congress cut most of the teeth out of the Civil Rights bill. However, during the Civil Rights debate President Eisenhower, on July 17, stated that he couldn't imagine any set of circumstances that would ever induce him to send federal troops into any area to enforce the orders of a federal court. Congress, feeling that more assurance than this was needed, went ahead and cut most of the Civil Rights legislation out and left only that part dealing with voting rights. They thought the question was disposed of for a while, but as soon as they adjourned, the Little Rock issue broke in full force and we saw troops move into position.

Much has been said as to where the power came from allowing the government to send in federal troops, but the fact remains that they were used. Many observers feel that this move was a big step toward an all-powerful central government. This may be the reason that Brownell is resigning. He has completed the set-up for the executive department to use to control the nation.

However, as one person close to the national scene put it, he may have left the sinking ship. Only time will tell if the American people believe in helping one segment of the economy while another falls by the wayside. If troops can be used in Little Rock with out the consent of the state government, then why can't they be used in other parts of the nation, not just for school integration, but for other purposes of establishing one man as a ruler instead of a servant of the people. Big business has proved time and time again that they will ride roughshod over the little man once they are in power.

This is what has been happening to the farm situation throughout the Republican rule. Big manufacturers have increased the prices they receive for their goods and given smaller prices for the raw materials they buy from the farmers. Where does this added profit go, surely not to the small merchant; he is caught as tight in the squeeze as is the farmer. It goes right to the top. This is the reason that Republicans rule has favored lower farm prices, so their friends can make more money. It is just as simple as that. Do you hear them asking that the tariffs on steel goods be reduced in order for the steel makers to compete on a free world market? It may be all right for steel to be protected but its a sin for the poor farmer to operate in a manner where he might be able to make enough money to live on a parallel plane with other segments of the population.

These things are causing millions of Americans to re-appraise many things and many issues today. It points to an interesting session when the National Congress re-convenes next January.

Three Constitutional Amendments

The Special Constitutional Amendment Election, which will be held Tuesday, Nov. 5, is not being discussed among citizens of Texas. This is due to lack of opposition to the three proposed amendments which appear on ballots. Because organized opposition is not being pushed, very little is known about the amendments. The fact remains that it is of utmost importance that the people be informed on all issues when they are asked to change the constitution of the state.

The following brief explanations should be considered:
Amendment No. 1, called "State Employees Retirement," will authorize the legislature to amend present state employee retirement system by taking off the $180 limit and providing the state to contribute an equal amount as that paid from income of employee. It relates to retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the State. No serious objection has been voiced to this amendment, and it will aid the state in retaining better employees.

Amendment No. 2, known as "Old Age Assistance," would increase present ceiling on old age assistance and assistance to needy children and needy blind, increase limit on maximum monthly payment from $20 to $25 per month with certain conditions. In view of increased cost of living and of Federal contribution to this fund, very little opposition has been voiced to this amendment.

Amendment No. 3, "Water Conservation," would create a Water Development Board with authority to issue $100 million in bonds, to bear no more than 4 per cent interest, and would permit Legislature to two-thirds vote of both Houses, to authorize the Board to issue an additional $100 million dollars in bonds. Proceeds from sale of these bonds would be lent on terms set by the Legislature to municipalities, water conservation districts, or authorities, to aid in the construction of reservoirs for water conservation. The bill limits to $5 million dollars a loan to any one water district.

The general opinion from both public officials and private citizens is that this is the first step toward a state water conservation program. Due to intense local interest in future development of water resources in this area, we see no reason why any one should vote against this amendment.

All qualified voters should take time off next Tuesday, and vote at the Special Election.

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Straight Talk

Somewhere behind Southern lines—All is quiet now in occupied Arkansas. Just as it is in Hungary. But there are many unknowns: What kind of post-war treatment will Arkansas get and for what duration? Will Arkansas be entitled to its share of the foreign aid money? Will Arkansas be reunited or kept divided, like Germany? Will the Arkansas problem finally have to be resolved by the United Nations? (Even the United Nations has not ordered forced integration of the Arabs and Israelites.) Since the reason the President took over Arkansas was discrediting democracy in the eyes of the world, it is only logical that Arkansas' fate be decided by the United Nations. After all, didn't we just get through joining our liberty-loving allies, the Russians, to make the world (Arkansas too) safe for democracy?

General Eisenhower and his advisers decided to take all of Little Rock by force. Too bad he picked Little Rock instead of Berlin. He's the same General who was a party to handing East Berlin to the Russians.

This second invasion of the south was prepared as carefully as the Normandy Landing. Nashville and Little Rock were considered soft spots. Pushovers. For Nashville is the Athens of the South. Seat of Culture. Home of many colleges, three of which are for Negroes. Little Rock, more mid-western than old-South, had a history of harmonious racial relations. The Army recently issued an order (and cancelled it because of furor) outlining plans for special training bases in riot control on a southwide basis. A preview of things to come? Brownell's Brownshirts will need more units trained in riot suppression when they retake Birmingham, Atlanta, Vicksburg. They ain't seen nothing yet.

Faubus Questionable

—Eisenhower Indefensible

Neither Eisenhower nor Faubus was, I believe, as interested in quelling disorder as in preventing or enforcing integration. Nobody should have called out any troops, unless and until there was actual rioting. Then Faubus could have called the Guard out, if the Little Rock police couldn't handle it. Whereas Faubus' actions were questionable, Eisenhower's were indefensible.

Eisenhower created a cruel and unconstitutional precedent reminiscent of and leading to a police state. Congress last summer passed a law denying use of federal troops in civil rights cases.

"In the name of God—in the name of decency—what is happening to America?" Faubus cries. "Is every right reserved to the states by the federal constitution now lost?" No, but they soon will be, unless the people soon rebel and re-take their government.

The 14th Amendment says that only Congress—not the Supreme Court nor federal troops—"shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article."

The Southern states were being occupied when they passed the 14th and 15th Amendments, relative to race relations. The South had the choice of agreeing to the amendments or being or being denied readmittance to the Union and remaining an occupied province (without Marshall plan). Nowhere does the constitution within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." Are separate-but-equal schools not equal protection of laws?"

Congress has never passed a law forbidding segregation in schools or anywhere else. Only the Supreme Court has passed such a law. And Supreme Courts can't pass laws according to the Constitution. So integration is not a law of the land. —Farm and Ranch

With rains and winds of winter just around the corner, farmers are reminded that cover crops can be extremely beneficial in preventing erosion. But cover crops do more than just protect the land, says R. J. Hodges, extension agronomist. These crops improve the soil itself, leading to increased yields. Grazing, hay, silage, or seed taken from the winter erop will also mean more profit.

Cyclone Defeats McLean in First Conference Tilt

Memphis Cyclone smashed their way through to the win of the year Friday when they downed the Tigers 34-12 in the conference game of the Cyclone stadium.

On the opening whistle the Cyclone went about the game with precision movements, opening holes in the McLean line and leading the visiting backs to the goal line.

McLean received the kick, were unable to gain 10 yards and punted to the Memphis 20-yard line. The Cyclone then drove down to the McLean 15-yard line and fumbled. From there on the game seasawed back and fourth for the rest of the first quarter and part of the second. About midway in the second quarter Memphis was in possession of the ball on the McLean 26-yard line. Quarterback Davis tossed a pass to end James Davis who went over the goal line for 6 points. The extra point attempt was no good, making the score 13-0.

In the closing minutes of the first half, the Cyclone scored again after intercepting a McLean pass on the McLean 25-yard line. Davis ran for 23 yards and then halfback Ted Wheeler carried the 2 yards needed for the score. Gillespie kicked the extra point, making the halftime score 20-0.

Memphis received the kick after the half and drove over the goal line 12 plays later with Davis picking up the needed 2 yards for the tally. Gillespie kicked the extra point making the score 27-0.

McLean scored late in the third quarter after beginning a drive on their own 12-yard line and going to the 43-yard line before losing possession to Memphis. The Cyclone fumbled on the first play and McLean recovered. On the second play Tiger halfback David Woods threw a pass to end Don Cash who went the 53 yards needed for the score. The extra point attempt was no good, leaving the score at 27-6.

Memphis again scored late in the last quarter when Bobby Scott intercepted a McLean pass and ran 28 yards to the 1-yard line. Davis carried the ball over for the score and Gillespie ran the extra point attempt, making the score, 34-6.

On the first play after the kick-off McLean half back Woods threw a pass to fullback David Crockett who completed the 65 yards needed for a touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good. Memphis had time for only one play before the game ended, with the final score, 34-12.

Mrs. Beatrice Currin of Garland and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Currin of Amarillo were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Currin.

Mr. and Mrs. D'Armon Peabody of Borger visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peabody.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

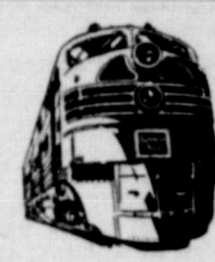

Lakes are full of lost hotspots. An angler will find an area where the fish are with certain regularity.

When he returns the next time this fish mine eludes him, Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine, has a trick that assures him of returning to good fishing spots.

Less experienced anglers may find why going back to a spot where the fish are is difficult. To him, it's simple; he'll anchor an anchor or jug there which, when he's out, he can see a mile off. But, this is precisely the wrong thing to do, for the fish will produce less and less as he is able to keep it.

Of course there's an answer. An angler can always use a little buoy about, say, 100 yards east of his good place. An experienced angler will mark around such a mark, finding the hot spot. The only way is to leave no mark at all on the water. Landmarks are the answer. But don't be misled by the "Go about 50 yards out from the white house" type of direction. It's entirely useless except as a basis from which to begin. It will be impossible to find a central line out from the house and nobody can correctly measure the distance on water.

It's the trick. There is but one way of returning to a spot; it's practically identical to a surveyor would use, a method of triangulation. Find two objects on shore, one in front of the other, one in line with it from the other. As nearly to right as possible, find two objects similarly in line. Anytime you get both marks lined up, you must be in the spot you are looking for. You can't possibly line up elsewhere.
