Largest Since September 1958

Rainfall measuring about two inches fell Tuesday and Wednesday morning over Hall County and the surrounding area to give thirsty grain crops the first good moisture since planting.

Not only will the rain save the wheat and other crops, but it will also provide much-needed moisture for grassland and cultivated areas.

Predictions were that many farmers will now be able to begin work in the fields in getting the land ready for plantings.

Two inches were measured here in Memphis by John J. McMickin, official weather recorder, and about the same amount was reported from Turkey, Lakeview, Estelline, Brice and other areas.

The last rain of any size occurred on Sept. 11, 1958, when 1.25 inches were recorded. There was no rain in October and November saw only .39 of an inch. December followed the same pattern with .40 of an inch and January of 1959 with only .15 of an inch.

February was a little better with .67 of an inch, but March saw only .10 of an inch.

According to the Texas Almanac, normal rainfall for Memphis for the first three months of the year would be 2.23. To date the area has received 2.92 inches.

This is a gain of 50 students over last year's report of 1694 students in Hall County.

The county as a whole lost seven white students and gained 57 colored students over last year. There are 1568 white students as compared to 1465 last year. There are 286 colored students as compared to 229 last year.

In breaking these figures down into the school districts, there are: Memphis — this year, 872, 692

Ehrle Leads Rural Champions To 109-23 Victory For HJR 41

(Editor's Note: The following article appeared in Sunday's Austin American-Statesman concerning Representative Will Ehrle of Childress.)

A former Marine Corps Lieutenant with a penchant for James Madison became the personality of the week in state government when he generalised a combination of "country boys" and conservatives to a smashing 109-23 victory in the passage of HJR 41 in the House.

Will Ehrle, a 26-year-old bachelor from Childress, with a long line of military schools behind him managed to hold his forces intact as the House passed his proposed constitutional amendment that proponents say will keep Harris County from growing so great politically it could exercise veto power over the Legislature.

Ehrle was born in Childress County, one of the four he now represents. He earned a BA degree from McMurry College, the U.S. Naval Academy and the Marine Corps Officer Candidate School. He is now completing law studies at the University of Texas.

He was commission second lieutenant after Quantico, and officer of an artillery battery with the force troops, USMC.

While Ehrle does not shy away from legislative floor fights, his decision to "carry the ball" for HJR 41 came as a surprise. The speed and finesse with which he ushered HJR 41 through the House was impressive. His ability moved Houston's Representative Joe E. Winfree, veteran legislator and leader of the defeated forces, to take the floor and publically commend Ehrle.

Reduced to simple terms, HJR 41 provides that counties would be on an equal basis, so far as apportionment of representation in the House is concerned, until they are allotted nine members. Then after population of 900,000 is reached, the counties would be given one additional representative for each additional 400,000 in population.

Ehrle is somewhat philosophical about the future role of rural political power.

"We are going to fight a losing battle. All we can do is try to see that the political power ost by rural areas is evenly distributed over the state," he said.

In debate Ehrle drew heavily upon James Madison to drive home his point that representation should be based "in part on area and common interest" rather than completely upon population.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Maddox Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stevens and Bobby Jack Maddox went fishing at Lake Kemp over the weekend.

Mrs. Gene Corley and Claudia Maek visited Mrs. Corley's mother, Mrs. McEachern, who suffered a heart attack at her home in Lubbock last weekend. Mrs. McEachern is receiving treatment in Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

"RAIN WILL COME"—A. S. Beavers, of Lakeview, second from left in the above picture, said Monday morning that rain would come before planting time . . . and sure enough it began raining Tuesday morning. He said "I lived here since 1908 and it has always rained before planting time. Sometimes we don't get enough moisture to make a crop, but it always rained enough to plant." Others shown in the picture are his five sons. They are, left to right, Buford of Springfield, Mo.; Mr. Bevers; Berle of Amarillo; Ira of Anthony; Robert Zane of Midland and Keith of El Paso.

Will Writes from Austin

By WILL EHRLE
State Representative

Carr-Price Dainel fight on taxes.

The Speaker of the House, of course, is a powerful figure in Texas politics and particularly so as regards tax matters, because he appoints the revenue and tax committee.

Since tax bills must be initiated in the House, by constitutional provision, that means the speaker, if he so desires, can have and may exercise a great degree of control over this committee.

Odds and Even

Although the Governor perhaps has more influence and more power politically than the speaker, the odds in this case are about even. I believe this is so because of the speaker's influence over the tax committee.

Fight Smolders Below Surface
This particular power struggle is, at present, still smoldering below the surface. It actually has not yet broken out publicly or in the newspapers.

The speaker, this last, in assuming leadership for the tax bill in the House made reference to the "Demagogy" of persons who said that all broad-based taxes are sales taxes. This could be interpreted as a slap at the governor's past statement. And some did so interpret this reference.

However, the speaker wound up

First Clash Between Baseball Players, Umpire Took Place Way Back in 1846

Any baseball fan can tell you the number of home runs Mickey Mantle belted last year or the salary of Ted Williams. But can he tell you who wore the first baseball glove? Or what player was the first to catch a ball dropped from the Washington Monument?

Statistics will be flying thick and fast now that the baseball season is here. But for those who really want to impress their wives or girl friends, here are some of the baseball firsts, compiled by the research department of the World Book encyclopedia.

The first clash between a player and his arch-enemy — the umpire — occurred June 19, 1846, when the Knickerbocker Club of New York played the New York Baseball Club as Elysian Fields in Hoboken, N.J. A player named Davis was fined six cents for cussing. The umpire was Alexander Cartwright, a leading player for the Knicks, who had chosen to umpire instead.

That game was also the first instance of team baseball as we know it. The New York club won 23 to 1 after four innings.

The Knickerbocker Club, formed in 1845, was the first regular baseball organization. And in their third season, the members donned blue and white uniforms to become the first team uniformly outfitted. A breach of baseball etiquette made Al Reach the first paid player. In 1864, it was considered unethical for a player to "jump" from one team to another. Reach, however, deserted the Brooklyn Atlantics when he was offered money by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Five years later, the Cincinnati Red Socks turned professional and became the first salaried team.

In those days, baseball was far from the gentlemanly game the Knickerbockers had played. A player might leave the field bleeding or unconscious after stopping a fast ball, but he refused to baby himself by wearing protective equipment.

In 1875, however, Charles Wait, first baseman for Boston, put on a glove — flesh colored, so the fans wouldn't notice it. A. G. Spalding finally wore a dark brown glove, adding stuffing to it a little at a time.

The first catcher's mask was developed in 1878 for a Harvard player who preferred being called a sissy to have his fine Barrymore profile smashed.

Still wondering about the Washington Monument? Well, Billy "Pop" Servner of a Chicago ball club caught a ball dropped from the 500-foot level of the memorial in 1892.

Just a grandstander, but — that's baseball.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis spent Sunday visiting in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cuttrel and in Tulsa with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cuttrel.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. "Sparky" Barton and Roy visited Sunday in Altus with Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and other friends.

Combine Sesame Provides Feed For Game Birds

Research to develop a high yielding combine sesame at Texas Research Foundation has turned up a plant which is a natural self-feeder in providing birds with highly nutritious seed during the winter months.

"The new plant, Renner Combine Sesame No. 15, scatters its seed slowly during January and February, thereby benefitting all seed eating birds, especially game birds such as dove and quail," Dr. C. L. Lundell, Director of the Foundation, said.

A product of the Foundation's plant breeding program at Renner, the new sesame is a drought tolerant, high yielding variety which has been bred as a non-shattering type for machine harvesting.

In North Texas, sesame is planted with a vegetable planter or a grain drill in rows around June 15. The seed pods mature in October.

Dr. Lundell has observed dove and quail in sesame plantings over the past three years.

"We first noticed these game birds' preference in Northwest, North and West Texas," he said.

"Doves in particular will leave grain sorghum fields, heretofore one of their favorite feeding grounds, for sesame fields; and those birds which have fed on sesame prior to the hunting seasons are butter balls of yellow fat."

Dr. Lundell recommended sesame planting to landowners and sportsmen as an effective measure in wildlife conservation.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Congressional District
Representative, 18th

Spring in Washington
The Nation's Capital is certain to have a brilliant display of God's handiwork. The numerous and very colorful flowers are beginning to bloom, and the buds on the trees are beginning to open. By the time this letter reaches you, the famous cherry blossoms will be in full bloom. At the time these Japanese cherry trees were presented to the country by the Japanese government and placed around the Basin, an enterprising developer in the Washington area had upon certain Japanese trees and acquired a large number of these trees which he planted in an addition he was operating. We are very fortunate to have in a house in that area, when the cherry blossoms are in the spring, the beauty of the cherry blossoms is breathtaking for a period of several days. The trees overlap streets like a white canopy and a vivid contrast to the brilliant pink of the azalea bushes and flowering peach trees, and the bright yellow of the jonquils and daffodils. All of this is interspersed with deep purples, reds and other colors of the flowers, as well as the deep green of the early grass. Actually, I know little about growing flowers or the names of them. I have heard experts on the subject, and the words I have written above are a repeat of what was said. It makes little difference whether you know much about the flowers or not, it doesn't detract from the pleasure and enjoyment you can have from just viewing this beautiful handiwork of Nature. I wish all of you could see it here to see it.

Double Jeopardy
Changing from beauty to the serious, I do want to say a few words about a decision of the Supreme Court last week. The decision was in the case of Louis J. Abbatto and Michael Louis United States. These two criminals were undoubtedly guilty and should have been punished. The question before the Supreme Court was whether or not they should be punished twice for the same act. They had been convicted by the State of Illinois and subsequently indicted, tried and convicted by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi. The act with which they were charged was the same in both cases. The case and the complex legal arguments involved would require more space to discuss than is available in this letter. However, I did want to call to the attention of the people the great dangers that lie in not maintaining a constant vigilance against the continual undermining of the sovereign powers of the states under the Constitution. This situation is pointed up by the following paragraph that appeared in the liberal Washington paper, and I quote it as follows:

"For instance, the Justice Department has argued that if the federal conviction in the Abbatto case were reversed, it might frustrate the federal government's attempts to enforce civil rights. If the state conviction was held a bar to federal prosecution, Southern states might convict a person on a minor charge to avoid federal trial on a major charge," it said.
If the Justice Department did what this newspaper charges it with, it owes an apology to the people of this country and, especially to those people residing in the southern states. The party or parties responsible for such an argument should resign and, in the absence of that, should be discharged. If the Justice Department did not take the position as stated in that newspaper, then the Attorney General of the United States, and the President who appointed him, should promptly deny such charge and disavow it.
If the time has come in this country when the people, who are supposed to govern themselves, are looked upon by a group of bureaucrats residing in Washington as being a bunch of culprits under a cloud of suspicion who would want to resort to any tactics whatever, illegal or immoral, to thwart the ends of justice, then it is time for this entire country to take stock of itself and do some rearranging. The fact of the matter is that a great number of the so-called lawyers occupying the government positions in the Department of Justice have never had the experience of operating a business of their own or trying to make a payroll, and this includes the Attorney General himself. Yet, these people would argue that honest, law abiding citizens of the U.S., who pay their salaries every month of the world, cannot be trusted, and are not even entitled to the presumption of innocence accorded the defendant in a criminal case under the Constitution.
I realize that the South has been the whipping boy for a number of years under the controversial civil-rights issue that was designed by the advocates of centralized government under a false name. But, I would call to the attention of those people who reside in other states and are willing to cast stones at the South that, if such a policy as pronounced in the arguments in the Abbatto case is permitted to be adopted, this policy is a two-edged sword and would apply as well to the states in the

Those of you who come from those states may take the position you desire, but as for me, I deeply resent the attitude of any division of the federal government, whether it be of Cabinet status or otherwise, that would cast such a slur on the people of this country or any part of it.

The question of double jeopardy presented in the Abbatto case is a very serious thing, but it does not approach the seriousness of the attitude of those who would concentrate the powers of this government in the hands of a very few and subject us, under their ideas of regimentation, to the status of slavery, in fact if not name.

It Pays to Own a Dodge!

(It could save you hundreds of dollars!)

Okay, it's settled. You've thought about it and talked about it and now you've decided: A new car—and soon. Now for the jackpot question. Which '59 car will it be?

Unless you happen to be a Mr. Gotrocks, you'll probably think pretty carefully before you finally make the move. You'll do more shopping and compare more closely. And you'll ask yourself some basic questions. How much will it cost me to drive? What do I get for my money?

There is no mystery about new car prices

Until this year, it was hard to compare different makes of cars to find which offered the most value for the money. It was like comparing apples and bananas. But not any more. Not since all new cars are required to carry price labels. Now, for the first time, you can compare various makes and models and see exactly what you're getting for your money. It's like exposing the hole cards in a game of stud poker: You know exactly where you stand.

Why should you buy a Dodge?

No one has to tell you that there are a number of cars on the market that sell for less than a Dodge. No cigar on that count. You know it and we know it. But there are things you get in a Dodge that you simply can't get in these other smaller cars. And this is important. Dodge gives you all of these things—the bigness and roominess, the comfort and ride, the luxury and prestige—for less than other cars in its field.

It's not just a few dollars less, either; in many cases it's literally hundreds of dollars less. Some Dodge models are even priced lower than the so-called "low-priced cars." (We'll be happy to show you the actual suggested retail prices.)

All cars cost money to run—but how much?

It would be nice if you just bought a new car and that was that. It didn't burn gas. Didn't use oil. Never needed service. But that's wishful thinking. Cars do use gas and oil. They do need service occasionally. But that doesn't mean that all cars cost the same to drive and maintain. Not by a jugful. There's a big difference.

Dodge is designed to run for less

Dodge has always had a reputation for economical operation. People who have owned them have found it costs less to run a Dodge, and that a Dodge needs service less often.

Take gasoline economy. The new Dodge 326 cu. in. Red Ram V-8 engine, because of its design and efficiency, will take you miles farther on a gallon of gas than any other V-8 in the Dodge field. You save money every mile you drive.

But that's only part of the story. The way Dodge is engineered and built saves you money on such things as engine wear, brake relining, tune-ups, spark plug replacement. When you add them all up, they represent quite a saving. Another reason why it pays to own a Dodge.

What do you get for what you pay?

According to Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices, Dodge generally costs less, model for model, than other cars in its field. Fine and dandy. But while price is important, it isn't the only consideration. The real standard of value—whether you're buying a new car or a can of beans—is what you get for what you pay. It's the "extras" you get at no extra cost that really determine which car is the best buy.

Dodge gives you more for less

Talk is cheap. Anyone can make claims. So let's be specific about the extras you get in Dodge at no extra cost. Torsion-Aire Ride—conceded the finest suspension in the industry—standard equipment on all Dodge models. Total-Contact Brakes, Safety-Rim Wheels, Electric Windshield Wipers, Independent Parking Brake—all standard on Dodge. Of course, you can also choose from such Dodge options as Push-Button Driving, Full-Time Power Steering and Swing-Out Swivel Seats.

There's a big difference in comfort, too

Goodness knows, we certainly don't want to knock competition. But we feel obligated to point out the comfort and convenience of the '59 Dodge. If you've tried getting into some of the other '59 cars you know just what we mean. To say it is difficult would honestly be an understatement. That's why we hope you'll come in and compare the difference in Dodge. How much easier it is to get in and out of a Dodge. How much more comfortable it is to sit in a Dodge. How much more room you have to stretch out. Really, it pays to own a Dodge.

It doesn't cost a penny to get the facts

We don't expect you to rush in and plunk down your money for a new Dodge just on the basis of what you've read. But if what you've read seems to make sense, we do hope you'll stop in to see, to drive and to price a Dodge. We think it's a whole of a buy, but then maybe we're prejudiced. Why not drop in and judge for yourself. We'll be more than happy to give you all the facts. No obligation, of course.

Wild Turkeys Have Unusual Roost Habits

There are many reasons why the wild turkey is a very hard customer to plant, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration, Game and Fish Commission. One, and probably the most important, reason is their sensitive attitudes toward roosts.

Usually, the turkey picks special trees for roosting. He, along with his band will roost in these same trees each night. This is particularly true in all regions of the State except East Texas, where attempts have been made to plant the eastern turkey. They'll wander several miles each day, circling about in search of food, usually returning to the roost by night-fall. If while they are gone the roosting trees have been disturbed, the flock will abandon the roost, sometimes permanently.

Several examples were mentioned at the wildlife symposium held recently in Huntsville. As an example, a farmer didn't touch the trees in which the turkeys were roosting but cleared some of the cover and brush around them. The birds refused to roost in the trees again. Some of the authorities at the symposium believed there is a key tree around which most of the turkey activity is centered, and this tree should never be disturbed.

This bird, which is so proudly displayed each Thanksgiving day, likes acorns, about the most important food in the turkey range. Insects, weed seeds, grass seeds, and native fruits and berries. Cultivated crops such as oats, chaff, maize and corn are frequently taken when they are available. But the loss on one good acorn crop can cause the birds to move on.

Fence Climbers Still Head List Of Game Arrests

Trespassing continues the bane of game wardens. There were 59 persons arrested during February for trespassing on private property for their hunting, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

The monthly report showed a total of $8,184.78 paid in fines for game violations. Court costs amounted to $483 on the total of 258 arrests made by the wardens.

Night hunting was next high on the list of violations. There were 36 arrests for headlighting.

Fishermen without licenses also came in for 34 arrests, while 27 paid fines for hunting without licenses.

The director warned again about fishing without licenses.

"With the coming of warmer weather and more fishing, everyone should be careful about having his license," he said. "A license is required by all fishermen between 16 and 65 who fish outside of their home county, or fish with any kind of winding device anywhere, either in their home county or on the coast."

Mrs. Bill Greene, Jr., of Clarksville, sister of Mrs. Paul Montgomery and Mrs. Joe Montgomery of Memphis, was seriously injured in a two-vehicle collision near Wellington shortly after 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The collision occurred at the intersection of Farm Road 1035 and Highway 203. Driver of the other car, a pickup, was Earl Patterson, prominent young Wellington farmer, who suffered cuts and other injuries.

Mrs. Greene, who is receiving treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington, suffered a fractured skull as well as other injuries. According to relatives here she was improving satisfactorily late Wednesday.

Criminals Appeals Court Rules In Favor of Jim Oakley

The Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin this week reversed the findings of a court here in the case of the State of Texas vs. Jim Oakley.

The justices had affirmed the action of the court here on the first hearing but ruled in favor of the defendant in the second hearing.

Scouts Plan Cooking Contest Friday at Park

The scouts of Troop 35 will hold a cooking contest Friday at 5 p.m. in the City Park, according to Ted Myers, scoutmaster.

Each patrol will prepare a complete supper for eight scouts in one and a half hours. The patrol leader of each patrol will have a prepared menu to use for this practice test, Myers said.

The troop now has the cooking equipment for each patrol, he said, but each scout should bring his personal equipment to the park.

Also the scouts should bring the following food: one-third pound hamburger meat, two potatoes and one package grape kool-aid, Myers said.

Several members of the scout troop will be on hand to help the scouts with their cooking, he concluded.

John Fowler, president-elect of Memphis Rotary Club; G. M. Duran, secretary; and Thomas Clayton attended the District Rotary Conference the first of the week in Herford. They reported an enjoyable and most informational trip.

Peaceful Coexistence

Red China last week pointed out to the world what the Communist nations mean when they talk about peaceful coexistence. A couple of years ago they invaded the small country of Tibet, high in the mountains between China and India to "save" the people there from the influence of "Western Imperialism." However, they were not content to let the people continue living as they have since before the time of Christ but were bent on making them machines, or as the citizens of other communist nations. Things had not gone smoothly for the "saviors" of the tiny kingdom and they finally decided that they must do away with King-God ruler of the country in order to control the people.

This was promptly done, with the exception of the fact that he has now escaped to India and that small bands of natives are still fighting the communist "saviors" every chance they get. However, there is no way that the citizens of the nation can hope to win over the communists since they have no organization, few arms and little money with which to buy anything. But the point of the whole situation is that there was peaceful coexistence between the Tibet ruler and the Communists until the time when the Communists figured they could do away with the ruler and still control the people. They sent "peaceful" troops inside the country and now that they are in the right positions they take over and kick the government out. They could have probably taken the country in the first place by force but it would have cost them a lot more to fight their way through the mountain passes.

The rest of the free world can learn a valuable lesson at the expense of Tibet. Don't think for a minute that there can be a mild form of Communism in any country. It is all mixed by the same formula and controlled by the same group of men. In their minds there is no right or wrong, white or black, only Communist Red. They will do whatever they must to get among the flock, and once they have crept in, then the slaughter begins.

Town Howlers Can Chase Away Industry

All important to seekers of plant locations are the attitudes of the people of a community.

No man or corporation wants to invest money in a city where civic pride is low and residents go about in a gloomy state of mind grumbling about this or that.

Employers know that the contentment and efficiency of their workers depend in large degree on community pride and contentment.

The following editorialized account from the Winfield (Kansas) Daily Courier emphasizes the penalty a city may pay for the pessimism of its citizens:

"A group of men came into a small Iowa town, and started wandering around, talking to residents. These men did not seem to have anything particular on their minds, but were just visiting with people they met.

"As a result that Iowa town lost an industrial plant which would have employed 1200 persons the year around.

"Why? Just because a majority of the people these men talked to were running down the town. The people were pointing out the bad side of life and the things they don't like. It was a costly deflection of progress for every resident of that city—and only those who were residents of the city were to blame. The "howlers" brought it upon themselves.

"For these men visiting from a big Chicago industry which had selected this town as their best location (provided that town was one where people were happy to live.) It didn't measure up on the last and greatest need for the personnel of a large plant—at least the howlers gave that impression. The plant went to another Iowa town 40 miles away.

"This is a true story, and can be found in the records of a certain Chicago firm which used members of its board of directors to make the final survey—just visiting with the people of the town. They wanted no part of it after meeting the "town howlers." —Canadian Record

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Matador to Sell

Dream of half a century is coming true. It is now possible to buy a small ranch out of what was formerly the Matador Land and Cattle Company ranch empire. The Hornica and Bear Creek Corporations have been purchased for resale purposes. The tracts are located northeast of Matador and comprise 87,000 acres.

A group of Wichita Falls business men and two local ranchers, John V. Stevens and D. L. W. Birnie have purchased the two corporations. Space has been rented in the First State Bank Building and Birnie will be office manager. The organization will be known as The Hornica-Bear Creek Land Co.

A large amount of the Hornica and Bear Creek pastures is fertile agriculture land. All the property is top quality ranching land. All the cattle have been sold from the ranch formerly operated as the Red Lake Cattle Corporation, which was in fact the old Matador Ranch. —Matador Tribune

Sucker Season

It's Sucker Season in Quannah again. As sure as the wheat sprouts and the spring dusters blow, Quannah is plagued by a host of burlapures intent on parting local citizens with part of their hard earned pesos.

The latest scarpers to hit town were a pair of genuine looking paint contractors equipped with spray gun and authentic looking paint.

The pair contracted for a $65 paint job on a house and proceeded to spray. Someone got suspicious and called the Chamber of Commerce.

Manager Rex Felker and Mrs. E. G. Givens, manager of the Retail Merchants Association, took one look and notified the police. The paint, it seems would have lasted the owner until the first strong rain. The owner was advised to pay either nothing or not more than $25 for the "paint job." The painters took the $25 and left town. —Quannah Tribune-Chief

One Billion

Load each of 212 big trucks with five tons of dollar bills and you've got a billion bucks. Lay those bills end-to-end and they'd circle the earth four times, but we're sending it overseas faster than that.

The truck caravan is hauling only ONE billion dollars. We are spending ten times that much every year ABOVE what we take in.

To haul the entire Federal budget for one year in dollar bills would take 16,536 five-ton trucks loaded to capacity.

On a ton-mile basis, it would take around 1,654 gallons of gasoline to move this load one mile.

A dollar bill doesn't weigh much, but the Federal budget in dollars would weigh 82,680 tons, or 165,360,000 pounds. —Wheeler Times

No Cost

Recently we spoke of the cost of a $4 shirt, pointing out that if the farmer gave the cotton free that goes into one the price would still be nearer $4 than $3.75. It might also be mentioned that if the farmer donated the wheat that goes into a loaf of bread, the loaf would cost only three cents less. —Floyd County Hespan

Never knowing what took place,

The laws and rules of traffic I am sure we'd soon embrace

If everyone could meet the wife And children left behind,

And step into the darkened room Where once the sunlight shined,

And look upon the vacant chair Where Daddy used to sit,

I am sure that reckless drivers Would be forced to think a bit.

If everyone who takes the wheel Would say a little prayer,

And keep in mind those in the car Depending on his care,

And make a vow to pledge himself To never take a chance,

The great crusade for safety then Would suddenly advance!

Soil Conservation News

Terraces and livestock ponds recently completed in the Hall County Soil Conservation District with the help of TCP assistants are C. A. Hightower, Bill Montgomery, McAnear brothers, Billy Hancock, and the Davis sisters, all completing terraces on their farms.

Completing livestock ponds were H. P. Lambert, Don Smit's and Harry Barnhill. These conservation measures will greatly improve the production and the value of these places.

Farmers that planted cover crops last fall are now receiving the benefits of that cover crop in controlling wind erosion. George Bass, whose farm is south of Memphis and Leo Koeninger, whose farm is southeast of Memphis have good stands of rye that protected the soil during the last windstorms.

Installing underground pipe lines for the conservation of irrigating water are: Clyde Fowler, Otho Gardenhire, S. D. Posey, and C. L. Benson. This practice will assist in giving a uniform application of the required amounts of water without erosion, excess leaking or waste.

The Great Plains Program is now being used by farmers and ranchers in the Hall County Soil Conservation District. Recent Contracts were developed on the H. P. Lambert, Roland Salmon, W. S. Montgomery farms, and Lee Scribner ranch. The Great Plains Program is a program designed to help make the land use changes and establish the necessary conservation measures on a farm or ranch.

If you have a soil or water problem on your farm or ranch, your Soil Conservation District technicians will be glad to assist you with your problem.

morning. Assisting with this part of the project will be Mrs. Clifton Burnett, Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Brode Hoover, Tops Gilreath, Mrs. John Shadid, Mrs. David Aronofsky and Roselyn Williams.

ESTELLINE

At Estelline members of the Ophelia Club started their drive early in the week. Pamphlets on cancer were distributed through the school under the direction of the superintendent. On Tuesday evening a house to house canvass of homes in Estelline will be made by the club, Mrs. J. L. Helm, president, said Tuesday. The group will meet at Nelson Service Station and Cafe in Estelline at 7 p. m. The drive will be held from 7 to 9 p. m.

LAKEVIEW

Conducting the fund raising campaign in Lakeview will be Zip Durret, Chairman; Mrs. B. B. Gibson, president of the Lakeview Parent-Teacher Association and Jess Whittington, superintendent of the Lakeview School. Tracts, listing the seven dangers signals of cancer, will be distributed through the school. Person to person contacts will be made so that those who wish may donate to the cancer fund, Mr. Durret said.

TURKEY

Loran Denton, chairman of the Turkey drive, said Wednesday definite date had not been set for the drive in Turkey. However, it would be held during April with the assistance of members of the Senior Class of Turkey. Plans are to canvass the business district as well as to make a house-to-house canvass of the town, so that those who wish may have an opportunity to donate to the cancer fund.

"The crusade is not just a drive for funds," Mrs. Combs said. "The number one goal of the crusade is to save one out of two of those who develop cancer. This is the number who could be saved by broad application of present knowledge and skills instead of one out of three we are now saving."

"The second target of the Crusade is for funds urgently needed to step up the Society's nationwide research program which offers a promise of solving the cancer problem. That promise has never been as great as it is today. Until final goal is reached we must apply every bit of knowledge and skill to saving lives today," Mrs. Combs explained.

The Bloomin' News

We finally had to send all the way to New York to get them, but we have them now. Dahlia bulbs that is. And won't it be nice diggin' after this fine rain to put them out. The time is just right for them and those glad bulbs too.

Had pretty good response last week on the gimmick about the lily bulbs so I tell you what I'm gonna do this week. We have some shrubs that we bought two, three and four years ago which we would like to move or would like for you to move. Bring your shovel (we or one of the hired hands will help you dig them up) and we will sell them to you at a bargain. We have two or three arborvitae (cone shaped cedar) that we will sell for $2.00 — where they are — and they are worth about $5.00.

Also several of the spreading type for $1.50 each, same deal and a pyracantha that is really worth about $7.50 to $10.00 that we will sell you for $5.00 if you want to take a chance on moving it.

Believe you would be safe in setting out tomato and pepper plants now. We have them in several sizes and varieties.

I was really impressed with the fine new high school building in Shamrock when I visited there Tuesday. It is so new that even Kilroy hasn't been there and judging from the conduct of the students, he won't leave his mark when he does go there. Not a scratch, mar or mark on any of the walls, desks, furniture or any place. Seems to me our school would do well to conduct a counselling program each year similar to the one held in Shamrock Tuesday. I believe our high school students would derive a great deal of benefit from it.

It is our sincere desire to take care of all your floral needs all the time. One of the real satisfying activities we have is attending Sunday School and Church. Please place your floral orders and request deliveries at such times as will permit us to do this every Sunday.

Now that the elections are over for a while and it has rained, let's all pull together and make Memphis and Hall County the best place in the Panhandle to live.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

These are MY eyes . . .

Don't let this tragedy strike in your family. Protect yourself and your children against accidental blindness.

Since more accidental-blindness occurs in or near the home, move all acids and sharp-pointed objects out of the reach of youngsters. Be sure to shield your own eyesight while hammering nails, using a saw, or doing other work that may endanger your precious eyes.

Regular yearly vision examinations may also prevent blindness in you and your children.

DON'T LET YOUR HANDS BE YOUR EYES.
